INSURGENTS IN SENATE VOTE FOR REGULARS

Party Leaders Gain Points In Organizing; Chairmanship Still Deadlocked

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Republican leaders in the senate gained an additional step today in organizing the senate by rejecting their candidates for sergeant-at-arms, secretary of the senate, chaplain and other minor officials, while the deadlock over the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee continued.

The insurgent revolt was temporarily laid aside to permit the balloting with all progressives voting for the regular slate. The officers elected included George A. Sanderson of Illinois as secretary; David N. Barry of Michigan as sergeant-at-arms and Rev. J. J. Muir of Washington, D. C., as chaplain.

After two weeks of inactivity resulting from a revolt of Republican "Progressives," the house of representatives was finally organized for the business of the sixty-eighth congress.

Committees were elected as in compromise effected between Representatives Longworth, the Republican leader, and Representative John M. Nelson, leader of the "Progressives," and the house made ready for the legislative grind of the session.

Russia Again Attempts To Get U. S. Recognition

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Russia's new bid for American recognition and resumption of good relations with this government was placed before President Coolidge and Secretary of State Hughes today.

Within an hour after the receipt here of Foreign Minister Tchitcherin's note, proposing, in effect, a joint conference to adjust differences between Moscow and Washington, Secretary Hughes conferred with President Coolidge concerning it.

RUSH OF PARCEL MAIL CARED FOR

With the opening today of the Glendale Union High school gymnasium as a receiving station for the parcel post mail that always reaches high tide at the Christmas season, the Glendale office officials are in a position to cope with the rush of business that started in earnest today with two hundred sacks of parcel post mail in the first delivery, according to Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson.

Bonus Measure Will Pass Congress, Says Senator Reed Smoot

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, the Republican chairman of the senate finance committee, made the flat prediction today that a soldiers' bonus bill would be enacted by Congress despite a veto by President Coolidge.

Smoot said that the administration would lack two votes in the Senate to keep the vetoed bill from being passed a second time, while the situation in the House was more favorable than in the Senate to ultimate enactment of the compensation bill.

J. T. STEWART IS BACK FROM TRIP

Makes 8000 Mile Motor Trip Accompanied By Wife And Daughter

"If you aren't satisfied in Glendale, nothing will satisfy you!" is the way J. T. Stewart, owner of the C. & S. cafeteria and residing at 316 West Doran, expresses it, after returning last night with his wife and daughter Betty Jane, via the Southern Pacific "Sunset Limited" from an 8000-mile motor-and-train trip on which they left September 28 in their new Special Six Studebaker sedan.

"We toured through Wyoming, Kansas, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Oklahoma and Texas," says Mr. Stewart, "making a number of visits, until finally at Granger, Texas, we had to leave the car to be shipped home, and finish the journey by train, owing to impassable roads."

Glendale Is Best

"We had a wonderful time on the trip, but of all places visited, Glendale is the best. Business is better here, opportunities are greater and living conditions far superior."

The party went from Glendale via the Lincoln Highway to Cheyenne, Wyo., then north to Torrington, Wyo., where they visited Mrs. Stewart's aunt. From there they went to Denver, Colo., then through Kansas to St. Joseph, Mo., and north to Virginia, Minn., just fifty miles south of the Canadian line, where they visited Mr. Stewart's grandmother whom he had not seen in ten years.

Battle With Mud

Leaving there, they went through Wisconsin via Milwaukee to Chicago, Ill., and around Lake Michigan to Hart, Mich., where Mrs. Stewart lived during her school days. They then returned to St. Joseph, Mo., leaving December 3 for California, going south via Kansas City into Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

It was after leaving Kansas City states Mr. Stewart, that the trouble began. Due to the snow of Thanksgiving day, and the subsequent rains, the roads soon became terrible and the run from Kansas City to Granger, Texas, was a grueling four-day battle with lakes of mud. Arrived at Granger, they gave it up and entered for San Antonio, Texas, where after visiting for a few days with Mr. Stewart's aunt they left for home.

MEXICO CITY THREATENED BY REBELS

Civilian Army Reported at Gateway Prepared to Seize Arsenals

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Widely contradictory claims, some of which have the appearance of propaganda, came out of Vera Cruz and Mexico City today regarding the course of events in turbulent Mexico.

It was reported that General Angel Flores and Raoul Madera, brother of the assassinated president, were preparing to launch separate revolts against both the Obregon government and Huertista rebels.

A civilian rebel army numbering about 8,000 was said to have gathered at the gateway to Mexico City, awaiting orders to seize government arsenals and public buildings. Mexico City is defended by 2,000 loyal soldiers and their commander, General Gomez, said he would fight to the last ditch.

Fears Class Struggle

Fears are felt in some quarters in Mexico City that a class struggle may develop which will precipitate a civil war and probably Bolshevism.

Foreign residents are leaving Mexico City.

The rebels claim a victory near Acapulco, state of Guerrero, where the federal forces were said to have been captured. They claim, furthermore, that order prevails in all districts held by the revolutionaries.

Loyal supporters of President Obregon claim that dissensions have broken out among the rebel leaders and that violence and anarchy are rife in the rebel headquarters.

Quiet in Oil Fields

A battle is imminent near Atlix where President Obregon renounced his quiet. General Calles is said to be preparing to raise a loyal army to protect the Tampico oil fields from rebel invasion.

SEVEN DEAD IN TRAFFIC CRASHES

Four More Persons Dying And Nearly Score Hurt Through Accidents

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—The toll of death in a crash between two automobiles near El Segundo yesterday, when Hayron Harris of Venice died from his injuries.

Added to other casualties, the three deaths in this accident brought the week-end traffic toll to seven dead, four dying and nearly a score of persons injured. Four men are in jail as the result of various crashes.

The dead: Hayron Harris, Arthur Thomas, Clem Mause, Matthew McDonough, Mrs. Josephine Tynan Tattersall of San Francisco, Wallace Black and Mrs. Loretta Ogilvie.

Four Near Death

Those believed to be dying are Robert M. Newell, Miss Florence Buttgenback of San Francisco, Virginia Hobson and R. Kelly.

Mrs. Tattersall, who is the daughter of Joseph L. Tynan, vice-president of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding company of San Francisco, was killed, and Miss Buttgenback was perhaps fatally injured in a crash near Santa Ana. Miss Buttgenback suffered a fractured skull, physicians said, and her mother, Mrs. Bertha Buttgenback, was also hurt. Tames Tattersall, husband of the dead woman, is also in a hospital.

Witnesses of the crash told the police the machine was traveling approximately seventy-five miles an hour when it suddenly swerved and plunged into a ditch.

Man May Be Arrested For Wife's Death In Crash

SANTA ANA, Dec. 17.—A manslaughter charge may be filed against James L. Tattersall, prominent in business and social circles of San Francisco, as the result of an automobile accident near Irvine in which his wife was killed, according to District Attorney A. P. Nelson.

A coroner's inquest was held here today over the body of the young woman, Mrs. Josephine Tynan Tattersall, who is the daughter of Joseph L. Tynan, head of the Bethlehem Steel company in San Francisco. The coroner's jury returned a verdict declaring Mrs. Tattersall's death was due to excessive speed of the automobile in which she was riding.

District Attorney Nelson said he would confer with Coroner Brown before taking any action against Tattersall.

Mr. and Mrs. Tattersall were married a year ago in San Francisco, their wedding being a great social event.

REBELS AT GATE OF MEXICO CITY

Federal Troops Reported To Have Quit Obregon For Insurrectos

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 17.—A civilian rebel army numbering more than 8000 was posted today at the gateway to Mexico City, awaiting orders from the revolutionary leaders to seize government arsenals and public buildings. This city is defended by only about 2000 federal soldiers. Foreigners are leaving the city on every train. Some of the foreign colonies are nearly deserted.

Five thousand federal troops that left here Friday under command of General Macotte to join the federal army concentrated in the region of Esperanza are reported to have joined General Guadalupe Sanchez' rebel army.

General Macotte was well supplied with ammunition and possessed forty new machine guns which the federal government had received only last week.

General Gomez, commander of the loyal troops in the federal district, announced that the capital would be defended if attacked.

Believe Sixteen Die In Wreck of Steamer

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 17.—At least sixteen men perished in the sinking of the Norwegian steamer Runa off Frying Pan shoals, on the treacherous North Carolina coast, Saturday, according to the guard headquarters here. Five survivors picked up in a lifeboat by the tanker W. W. Mills are already on their way to Sabine, Texas.

American Arms and Ammunition Moving Across Mexican Line

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—American arms and ammunition are now moving across the Mexican border and through the gulf ports in considerable volume, according to confidential advisers reaching Washington.

Present regulations permit the unrestricted movement of war implements from the United States to Mexico and as far as the administration is concerned, there is no intention of placing embargo restrictions on these shipments, it was said today in official quarters.

ADVENTISTS HEAR CHOIR ON RADIO

Dr. Harrower's Receiving Set Reproduces Music In Glendale Church

The Choral Society of the Glendale Seventh Day Adventist church entertained Southern California 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon over KJL, offering the cantata, "David, the Shepherd Boy," under the direction of Clarence H. Jones.

Seventy voices participated, among them: Mrs. Retta Nelson, Mrs. D. A. Ochs, Miss Rita Hartog, Miss Lillian Munson, Mrs. H. Maurer, Mrs. James E. Moore, Dr. C. A. Brandstater, A. V. Foster, A. E. P. Billington, C. M. Christy and H. F. Taylor. Mrs. Belle Johnson and Mrs. C. Swartfager were the accompanists.

A special feature of the broad-casting of the cantata was that the congregation of the Glendale Adventist church heard every note over Dr. Henry R. Harrower's powerful radio receiving set, said to be the largest in the city and made by Henry L. Transtrom of 136 South Isabel street, an electrical engineer.

The feature was capably broadcast and went out with splendid modulation and harmony, being much enjoyed by the large congregation on hand to hear it, especially in view of its appropriateness for the Yuletide season.

Halt All Immigration Till 1929, Bill Urges

SPEAKERS TO GIVE FACTS ON VITAL QUESTION

Gathering to Take Place At High School on Tuesday Night

Every detail in connection with the installation and the cost of the proposed sewer system to be built in Glendale from the proceeds of the $1,600,000 bond issue that is to be submitted to the voters of the city at the election on January 8, 1924, will be explained in the mass meeting that has been called by the citizens of Glendale at the auditorium of the Glendale Union High school on East Harvard street Tuesday night, December 18, at 7:30 o'clock.

The meeting will be an educational one, and men who have studied the plans of the proposed system from the date of their inauguration will be present to explain the subject to the men and women who are to be asked to tax themselves that Glendale may take its proper place among the progressive cities of the country.

To Explain Contract

Mayor Spencer Robinson and Councilman Sam Davis will take up the contract entered into between Glendale and the city of Los Angeles and will explain every angle of it, giving the audience an opportunity to ask any questions regarding the cost and construction of the sewers that they may wish to put to them.

Chester A. Smith, representing Burns & McDonnell, the engineers who have made the survey for the system and who have drawn the plans for it, will explain the construction of the sewers and the plans for handling the sewage discharge from Glendale into the main Los Angeles sewers.

Councilman Asa Hall will take up the question of the issuance of the bonds, their sale, the rate of interest and the effect that the issue of bonds for $1,600,000 will have on taxation in Glendale during the life of the bonds.

Everybody Invited

Other speakers who are in touch with the situation will be on hand to discuss the matter of the sewers and to stress the need that exists today for a modern system in Glendale. If the city is to progress in the future as it has in the past.

"This matter," says Lyman P. Clark, publicity manager for the Chamber of Commerce campaign committee, "is of vital importance to every man and woman in Glendale, and it is essential that they turn out and learn accurate facts regarding the sewer system that will, it is hoped, become an accomplished fact in this city in the immediate future."

Verdugo Association In Hearty Support of Bonds

City officials and members of the sewer committee of the Chamber of Commerce are gratified with the official sanction of the proposed sewer bond issue, which was voted unanimously Saturday night at Palm Pavilion, Hermosillo Drive and Ramona avenue, by the Verdugo Woodlands Improvement Association.

The meeting had been called by H. A. Graves, president of the association, for the purpose of discussing the bond issue, inasmuch as the district is already indebted to the sum of $50,000 for sewer mains which were installed some time ago. The point was brought out that if the bonds carried, without provision being made for the city of Glendale to take over the district bonds already issued, the residents of this part of the city would be paying interest on two issues.

No Legal Way Out

Mayor Spencer Robinson, Councilman Sam Davis, W. E. Hewitt, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Chester A. Smith, engineer in charge of the work, addressed the meeting. City Attorney Ray L. Morrow handled the legal phase of the question, and explained that at the present time there was no legal way in which the city could take over the bonds issued by the Verdugo association. The benefits accruing to the Verdugo (Continued on Page 3)

SOCIAL EVENTS

Pupils' Program
An interesting event of the holiday season was the Christmas party which the pupils of the Grand View school entertained their parents and friends last Friday afternoon.
The following program was presented by the pupils: A group of songs by the kindergarten department; "Christmas Clock" and "Christmas Dolls," by the first-year pupils; song and recitations by the first grade; recitation, "The Night Before Christmas," by Myrtle Cowper; whistling solo, "Joy to the World," by Mary Ellen Fittinger; "How We Caught Santa," by Violet Stevenson, James Person and Paul McClain; song by the third grade; song, "Oh Christmas Night," Virginia Ogle, chorus by fourth grade; "Silent Night," by fourth grade pupils; piano solo, Vene Smith; recitation by Junior Fitch, "A Plan That Failed"; George Person and Leonard Davis; "Jolly Old Santa Claus," by the sixth grade pupils and "Christmas," solo by Rhode Covert.

After the program a short business session of the Parent-Teacher association was held, after which refreshments of chocolate and waters were served and "Krazy Kat" and "Ignatz," two boys sent by Santa Claus, entertained the children and distributed candy canes to them.

Altogether this proved to be one of the most enjoyable social affairs given by the pupils during the school year.

Describes Museum
In order to accommodate the many Glendaleans who have signified their intention of joining with Tuesday Afternoon club members in hearing Miss Winnifred Rouze, Bible student and lecturer, the first and third Tuesday mornings from 1:15 to 1:30 o'clock, Mrs. Charles Temple, curator of the Bible Section, has secured the clubhouse auditorium for these meetings.
Tomorrow morning Miss Rouze will speak on "The British Museum," which she visited on her recent world tour. Miss Rouze declared that in the museum one can find convincing evidence of the history and authenticity of the Scriptures, and it is this feature she will stress in her address.
Because of Miss Rouze's splendid lectures the Bible Section is proving one of the most enterprising units of the club organization.

The Bible Section is one department of the club open to the public and Mrs. Temple extends a cordial invitation to all Glendaleans to attend.

Shower Hostess
One of the charmingly appointed affairs in the realm of the younger social set was given recently by Miss Louise Hoyt, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hoyt, 128 North Adams street, when she entertained with a surprise miscellaneous shelter complimenting Miss Margaret Hathaway Jackson of Long Beach who will be an event of the very near future.

The evening was devoted to the playing of games and a musical program. Late in the evening a two course luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. A. H. Hoyt.

At this time two huge baskets artistically decorated were presented to Miss West, laden with many useful gifts for her new home.

Those present included, Misses Margaret Fife, Anne Fuelscher, Mary Simpson, Helen Hesse, Phyllis Baker, Inez Harrison, Martha Eilers, Margaret West and the hostess Louise Hoyt.

Extends Courtesy
One of the delightful features of the recent installation affair of Glen Eyrich chapter, order of Eastern Star, was the courtesy paid past matrons and patrons by Mrs. Jennie A. Phillips, newly-installed worthy matron.

Each past matron was presented with a specially made basket, containing sweetmeats and maiden hair fern, and each past patron was the recipient of a boutonniere.

It was Mrs. Cora Hickman Stearns, "mother of the chapter," who thanked Mrs. Phillips for the honor conferred on the past leaders.

Hold Open House

EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK HAS BUILDING RALLY

Fire Department Will Make $10,000 Addition to Its Present Quarters

Eagle Rock is rallying from the building slump of November. Last week a total of twenty-four permits contributed $50,875 to the month's start, and they keep coming in fast, is the report from the building department.

Among the surprise permits was one of $10,000 from the fire department, for the addition to quarter the local sluicers. The plans call for a two-story addition, 24.8x51.61-2 feet, on the northeast corner of the present City Hall.

The foundation will be of concrete, with brick walls and wood floors, tile roof and hose-tower. While not strictly fire-proof, the boys feel that any possible blaze there wouldn't stand the chance of the proverbial snowball.

Says Lieutenant E. W. Welby of the new structure: "When completed it will house a full company and new equipment will be available by them, so that Eagle Rock may be assured greatly improved fire protection in the near future."

Who is Owner?

It now appears certain that Eagle Rock is to be fought for her flagpole corner at Colorado boulevard and Eagle Rock avenue. The question of whether the city or the Los Angeles Railway owns it was brought up before the recent council of the Chamber of Commerce with the result that a transportation wrangle was precipitated, before the transportation committee had even a chance to report.

When H. H. Maxson, chairman of this committee, finally made his report, it was to show that all organizations of the section are cooperating to get better service. The next open forum of the local chamber will be held about the middle of January, probably at Occidental college, states Donald G. Montgomery, secretary.

Longer Vacation

An important announcement from the Board of Education, calculated to bring further joy to school children, states that school will remain closed until Tuesday, January 2. Therefore the Christmas vacation which began December 14 continues straight through, without the interruption of December 31, as previously announced.

The children have their teachers to thank for this added day, which really offers a straight stretch of nearly three weeks. The teachers requested the board in view of the fact that they did not get off on Armistice day.

MONTROSE

CHRISTMAS SEAL-DRIVE LAUNCHED

Verdugo School Children to Help Raise Tubercular Relief Fund

School children of the Verdugo hills district, including Montrose, La Crescenta, Tujunga and Sunland, have started the drive for funds for tubercular relief through the sale of Christmas seals. This year the schools have been offered half the amount of the sales to apply on dental work for the children. Through an arrangement with the county health department the county will pay half the expenses of children's dental work if the schools accept the plan.

Misses Winona and Marjorie Neilson of Montrose entertained recently with a dancing party. Among the guests were Misses Sarah Conlin, Janet Culberson, Mary Belanger, Messrs. Joseph Belanger, Herbert Eagle, Walter Naugle and George Jewitt.

Miss Helen Leest of Los Angeles was a week-end guest at the home of Miss Mary Belanger in Sparr Heights. They were school-mates and graduated from St. Mary's academy together. Horseback riding over the Verdugo hills was enjoyed during the visit.

The Montecito Social club postponed the scheduled meeting last Monday until next Monday, December 17, at the Sparr Heights community house. A Christmas dance has been arranged by the entertainment committee composed of Leroy Miller, A. Craft, Mr. Palmer, C. Jennings Young and T. O. Potts, for the evening of Friday, December 21. The community house will be specially decorated for the occasion in Christmas colors and confetti, and serpentine will be distributed.

All F. & A. M. members in the Verdugo hills are requested to send their names and addresses to the secretary of the Acacia club of Tujunga, California.

MUSICAL COMEDY TO HELP KIDDIES

Funds From Performance of "Oh-Ho" to Be Expended By Exchange Club

On Saturday night Santa Claus will hold forth in Glendale. For that one night, Santa will be engaged in the musical comedy business, in that "Oh-Ho," Glendale's finest local talent musical show, will be presented, that Santa may have the funds to do full duty toward all the children of this city.

The money that will be made on the "Oh-Ho" show, through this presentation Saturday night, will be spent to buy presents to fill the stockings of the boys and girls of Glendale. Everyone knows that every boy and girl hangs up his or her stocking on Christmas eve, and is well aware of the fact that many of these stockings would be just as limp and empty on Christmas morning if some one did not fill them, for the poor children, as well as the children of the rich, hang up their stockings.

"Oh-Ho" is to be presented at the new high school auditorium. The board of education has made possible the staging of Glendale's best show at Christmas eve, in the new auditorium, where it can be seen by more than 2000 people.

Reserved seats for "Oh-Ho" for Saturday night will be on sale about Thursday. All plans for the production are being handled by a committee from the Exchange club, of which D. Ripley Jackson is president, and Dr. H. R. Harrower is chairman.

Santa Claus is going to visit Glendale this Christmas, and Santa is not going to miss a boy or girl in this whole city. Every one to be had today has an opportunity of "playing Santa" in supporting the "Oh-Ho" show, and the better the support of the show, the fuller will be the stockings on Christmas morning.

Rev. Louis Tinning's Overcoat Is Stolen

Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, is fully convinced that winter is here, for his overcoat disappeared last night during the evening service in the new church building, and today he was shivering in the chill December weather.

Just before the service last night Rev. Tinning hung his coat in the secretary's room in the new building and later when he went to get it it was gone.

INDIANA STATE SOCIETY

The regular monthly entertainment and dance of the Indiana state society is announced for Tuesday night, December 18, at the Fraternal Brotherhood building, 845 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles, it is announced, and all Hoosiers and friends are cordially invited.

Whose Fault Is It That Modern City of Glendale Lacks Sewer Facilities?

If, while you are away from your home town, someone should ask you if your home-town had a complete modern sewer system and you had to answer "No," how would you answer the next most obvious question—"Whose Fault Is It?"

If a committee of manufacturers were to come to your home-town looking for a site for a factory or a large institution employing help, and after looking to reject the offer of a site by your home-town or by your real estate dealers because you did not have a modern sanitary sewer system—whose fault would it be?

If the retired farmer, health seeker, retired business man or resident from any other town is looking for a location and a home where his children may find good schools, and he goes to another town because it offers better sanitary living conditions than in your home-town—whose fault is it?

It is not the fault of your state government, for the enactment of the state legislature has made it possible for any town to surround itself with every such convenience. It is not the fault of the State Board of Health, for they do all in their power to promote the health of a community—which is done by promoting sewer improvements.

In Glendale it will not be the fault of the City Officials, for they have already recognized the need of the sanitary conditions, and are making it possible for the citizens to avail themselves of modern conveniences.

Most of the inconveniences of life can be avoided. Certainly we can provide the necessary conveniences, such as running hot and cold water in our homes, with proper sewage collection and disposal. These two health promoting conveniences are becoming as necessary to the homes in many communities as are the roofs or floors of the houses. Progressive citizens need no argument to convince them a city is not modern until it has provided sewer facilities for every residence of the city.

ELKS WILL HOLD ATHLETIC JINKS

Boxing Bouts and Vaudeville To Entertain Guests at Annual Program

A record crowd is anticipated at the weekly gathering of Glendale Elks tonight, for it is to be the annual athletic jinks, free to all Elks.

According to Willis M. Kimball, secretary, the first event will be a brief business meeting, beginning at 7:30 o'clock and closing at 8:30 o'clock. Then the fun will begin, and a live, snappy athletic program, arranged by Ray Galvin and Harry McCartney, will entertain until a late hour, when the usual "feed" will be served.

Six boxing bouts and four professional vaudeville acts are promised as entertainment, it is announced by Mr. Galvin and Mr. McCartney. This will be the last meeting of the Glendale lodge until January 7, when James E. McFarland, grand exalted ruler of the United States, will pay an official visit. Members of Monrovia and Alhambra lodges will join with the Glendale Elks in greeting Mr. McFarland.

C. of C. Directors to Change Meeting Date

The regular weekly meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock, as the members of the board have all planned to attend the mass meeting that is to be held tomorrow, Tuesday, night, in the auditorium of the Glendale Union High school on East Harvard street.

GAS COMPANY TO SELL

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—The Southern Counties Gas company of California has applied to the state railroad commission for permission to sell to the city of Long Beach its plants and properties for the distribution of gas in the city of Long Beach with the exception of through transmission lines, and that property used in supplying natural gas for fuel to Southern California Edison company's plant in Long Beach, for the sum of $2,625,000, at the amount agreed upon by the city and the company. The city of Long Beach recently voted $3,000,000 in bonds for the purpose of acquiring and operating a municipal gas system.

It is announced that members of the "Hallelujah Chorus" are asked to bring books.

TUJUNGA

FIRE PROTECTION PLANS LAUNCHED

Action of Supervisors Will Guide Tujunga Chamber in Levying Costs

The Tujunga Chamber of Commerce will meet in special session tonight at Legion hall to consider the question of fire protection and take steps to obtain it in efficient form. Action will depend on the outcome of the hearing before the county supervisors for the formation of a fire district for Tujunga and Sunland, which was held this morning at Los Angeles. It is possible a report of this hearing will be made at the meeting of the chamber tonight.

Among the subjects scheduled for discussion in connection with fire protection are those of equipment and the amount in taxes the people of the district are willing to pay to maintain it. Any sum that the property owners agree on can be levied, as there is no limit specified by law. Different types of fire engines will come in for discussion.

Experience at the McGroarty fire showed the ineffectiveness of chemicals in fires that have gained considerable headway. The engine and crew from Van Nuys that responded to the call Sunday morning controlled the fire by using water from a four-inch main. The fire was too far advanced to save the house, but it was confined to the premises, and the gravity pressure of the Haines Canyon Water company's mains was equal to the task. It was also noted that the pressure on other lines was not materially affected while the engine was drawing on the force.

May Appoint Chief

If the county supervisors pass favorably on the fire district question, the first move at tonight's Chamber of Commerce meeting will be to appoint a fire chief and two men to act in an advisory capacity in administering the affairs of the district. Recommendations will be made by the chamber, but appointments will be made by the supervisors from the recommendations.

These subjects were discussed at the last meeting of the chamber, but it was decided to postpone action until the result of the application for a fire district is known. The importance of the question called for a special meeting, and a large attendance is expected as this is a matter that affects every resident of the district. Judge Breidt, retiring president of the chamber, called the last meeting, and presented L. H. Fisher, who succeeds him. The keynote of the chamber's brief speech was that factionalism must be eliminated from community affairs, if progress of any kind is to be made. He said that a new flood control committee had been appointed with the reorganization of the board of directors. As chairman, Mr. Fisher interviewed Mr. Reagan of the flood control office, and was assured that $11,000 remaining from the original appropriation of $25,000 assigned to the Tujunga district several years ago would be spent in flood control work in Tujunga in the near future.

Pick Site for Dam
Mr. Fisher was with the representatives of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of San Fernando Valley, and reported that their interview with William Mulholland resulted in their being informed that the city of Los Angeles has no intention of building a reservoir in Big Tujunga canyon. A site has been found in San Francisco to canyon, where a reservoir can be built much cheaper. Secretary John O'B. Bodkin, of the lighting committee, reported that the new lights requested for Tujunga streets would be in service in about six weeks.

Mr. Bodkin and Judge Breidt interviewed Supervisor Wright on the plan to improve Monte Vista. They believe that Mr. Wright favors the plan as furnishing the best route into Big Tujunga canyon from the state highway. Judge Breidt said that the county planning commission is already committed to this plan.

A communication from the Associated Chambers of Commerce was read, inviting Tujunga members to attend the annual election of officers and high jinks at Girard, Wednesday night, December 19.

Survivors Flee Wrecked Vessel

Seven Men Brave Rough Sea in Lifeboat; Believe Nine Drowned

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Jan. 17.—Chance won for the seven men left on board the steamer C. A. Smith, ashore at the jetty here. The chance was taken by the men at daylight today when they lowered a lifeboat and safely made their way to the tug Oregon, which was standing by.

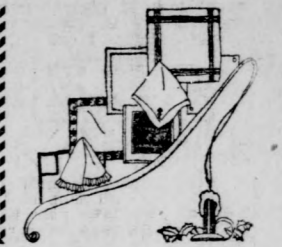

With these men in safety, the survivors number fourteen. Nine others remain unaccounted for and probably were drowned. These with C. N. Prescott, mate of the Oregon, drowned in a rescue attempt, make the death list ten. The bar was much smoother this morning.

BURBANK CHRISTMAS TREE PLANS COMPLETE

Kiwanis Club is Sponsoring Big Demonstration to Be Given Here

The Community Christmas tree will be at the corner of Olive and Third street, opposite the City Hall, it is announced by President H. W. Lewis, of the Kiwanis club, which organization is sponsoring the big demonstration.

A total of 500 Christmas stockings for the tree are being made by the domestic science girls of the high school, and in other ways the whole community is behind the thing.

The members of the Kiwanis club have voluntarily raised the price of their weekly luncheons from 75 cents to $1, so that the Women's club, where they eat, would have a larger margin of profit, particularly in view of the fact that they contemplate erecting a new club building in the near future, on the location recently selected.

The John Muir school has now joined the ranks with a Parent-Teacher association, putting Mrs. W. E. Hutchinson in the chair, with the following assisting officers: Mrs. T. B. Young, vice-president Miss Emily Brown, secretary; Mrs. H. W. Lewis, treasurer; Mrs. J. W. Cox, auditor, and Rev. L. G. Parker, historian.

Pleasing musical numbers were on the program, including two selections by the orchestra of the grammar grades, under the direction of Miss Boughton, and a vocal solo by Mildred Ferguson, with a pleasing reading by Connie Young. Cecelia Mae Fischer was delightful in a piano solo.

BUNGALOW COURT PERMIT GRANTED

Total Building for Year is Nearing Goal of Ten Million Dollars

The granting of a permit by H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent, to S. C. Parr for the construction of a bungalow court at 818 South Glendale avenue, was the only feature of an otherwise quiet half day in the building line, Saturday.

A total of $436,894 in permits has been issued during December, with the mark for the year at $9,659,053.

The following permits were issued: S. C. Parr, bungalow court, $21,000; Ray E. Pemberton, 5 rooms and garage, 729 West Wilson, 3,000; A. D. Hartley, 3 rooms, 455 "A" Hawthorne, 1,500; Ben Kelly, garage, 628 East Maple, 300; Henry A. Green, garage, 250; 2019 Glenwood, 1900; C. H. Little, garage, 1900; Glenwood, 150.

Gregg, as his friends will undoubtedly call him henceforth. In that man's army of 1917-18, S. O. L. was interpreted in its more refined translation to mean sure out of luck—and that is what Gregg was a Friday night or so back, when in an effort to avert collision with a succession of three cars, he finally succeeded in crashing two.

The victims belonged to the Nicholson garage and were standing peacefully at the curb, minding their own business, when violently set upon by the Gregg machine.

Three Small Fires Cause Little Damage

Three small fires were reported during the week-end, but in each case they were extinguished without any considerable damage being done.

The residence of Mrs. S. P. Braddish, 911 East Lomita avenue, was damaged to the extent of $50 from a fire caused by a defective heater at 9:30 o'clock Saturday night.

Verdugo Association In Favor of Bonds

(Continued from page 1) section through supporting the bonds to a successful issue were pointed out by the other speakers. Several of the residents spoke, and when the question was put by H. A. Graves, president, the vote was unanimously in favor of supporting the bonds and the ratification of the agreement between Glendale and Los Angeles which allows the former city to connect with the outfall sewer.

REVEALS FAMILY SECRET

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Dec. 17.—Skeletons were dragged from the closet of the world-famous Steinmetz family, when Miss Clara W. Steinmetz of New York, half-sister of the deceased electrical wizard, arrived here to contest his will, claiming that the other three half-sisters mentioned among the beneficiaries are natural children of the Steinmetz family house-keeper in Germany.

In Dr. Charles Proteus Steinmetz's will, Margerethe Machs, Breslau, Germany, was named as a half-sister, to receive $1000, which, in case of her death, was to be divided equally between the other half-sisters.

THORNTON PEEVED
AT POST OFFICE

Failure to Receive Mail Is Cause of Democratic Chieftain's Ire

Colonel Tom C. Thornton of 715 Kenneth road, is nursing a full-sized pique at the Glendale postoffice.

Some few months ago Colonel Thornton, who has been a resident of Glendale for the past twenty years, bought the Dr. Black residence on Kenneth road, partly because he liked the view across the valley that could be seen from his front porch, and partly because he could be close to that other militant Democrat, Mattison D. Jones.

Col. Thornton intimates, in language that leaves no doubt of his sincerity, that a lot of the tape that surrounds the delivery of mail in Glendale should be cut, and he comes right out with the warning that William Gibbs McAdoo has a large list of postmaster candidates on his waiting list who will be perfectly willing to inform themselves where the president of the Democratic club of Glendale lives and who would see that he gets his mail.

When asked what free delivery route his home was on, Col. Thornton stated that he had never been informed that it was on any particular route, and the address at 715 Kenneth road was the only address he knew, but he believed that that should be sufficient to enable any intelligent postoffice employe to deliver his mail to him.

MIND CAN GRASP
HIDDEN MYSTERY

Material Things Have Place In Scheme of God, Says Rev. A. A. Moore

Rev. Arthur A. Moore of the Occult Science of Christ church, 113 South Orange street, took "The Hidden Wisdom" as the subject of his sermon last evening.

Rev. Moore, basing his remarks on 2 Timothy, 1:7, and 1 Corinthians 2:3-16, said in part: "The highest conception of man's inheritance is a freedom from fear. Master minds have throughout the ages prepared the way for many who required symbols, rituals, rites, and illustrative ceremonies in their attempt to know the hidden things of life."

"The hidden mystery of life is not that which receives expression in our circumscribed personal lives, but rather it is that which lies within to receive expression, manifestation, as we grow in strength, and realization."

There is nothing hidden to the mind to one who is determined to understand realities. Beyond desire, leath knowledge, knowledge is power, and by power of will man applies simple laws that govern the desire that is built into a reality of material shape and form. Symbols are but keys to open the door of vibration and prove one's ability to master the working of the mind.

"Desires grows into a mental picture built by concentration upon the thought-image."

"The wisdom that all material things have a place in the great scheme or plan of God, for God has such a scheme, encourages the seeker to build constructive thought-pictures, and to gain the mastery over his material environment."

"The path of attainment is well lighted when the seeker for truth can still his mind, set aside the objects of this our visible world, and meditate on the true self within. God's reflection in man. The pages of God's book of remembrance are open to be read by those who have prepared themselves by a humble meditation on His Being. This is but a fragment of the Hidden Wisdom of the ages, and its understanding requires perseverance, faith, and a willingness to be in the world but not of it."

Sermon Excerpts And News
Notes From Local Churches

CHRIST'S CREEDS
TEXT OF SERMON

This is World of Doubt and Faith, Error and Truth, Says Dr. Rasmus

Taking for his topic "The Two Creeds of Christ," Dr. H. I. Rasmus, pastor of First Methodist Episcopal church, preached a doctrinal sermon yesterday. "No more important message have I delivered since I have occupied the pulpit," said Dr. Rasmus.

Basing it upon two passages of the Bible, first, that famous passage found in the old testament, "Even as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so must the son of man be lifted up."

The second verse is found in John 3:16: "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

"How well we all like to live," the speaker said. "It is well that we should, in a world where we can square life for both time and eternity. But this is a world where doubt and faith, where error and truth, are to be found side by side. Where those exist who even resent the word 'creed.'"

Christian Creed
"The Christian creed has been the butt and ridicule of bitter antagonists in the past. Voltaire, Hume, Tom Paine and Robert G. Ingersoll attacked from the outside. But more insidious and dangerous are those from the inside, called 'modern thinkers,' who, under the name of scholarship, are teaching the falsehoods of infidelity of the past, trying to undermine the faith of the centuries that men have died for."

"Where are these objections to creed? Nations have creeds. All governments are founded on creeds. The Declaration of Independence is our national creed. And only as the newcomers to our shores believe in it are they good citizens."

"Social creeds are an absolute essential, and this is equally true of commercial and political creeds—scientific creeds. And none are more necessary than religious creeds—our views of God as revealed to us in His word and man's relation to His Creator."

"There is only one class of men that need no creed and that would be a society of idolaters. Evils arise from their creeds, and none more automatic than they. The creeds of evangelical churches have ever been the target for attack and misrepresentation. True, they have each destructive features and I would not destroy one single creed of truth among men. A creed which is not at all desirable. It would be like the heavens without a star, or a desert without water."

Jesus' Creed
"Had Jesus no creed? He had an unperishable one. 'For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. Faith and life were His creeds. Life is moulded by a man's belief. As a man thinketh, so he is. Faith and trust are as indispensable in religion as in one's country, as in one's parents.'"

"Believe" is found all through the Bible. Matthew, Mark, Luke, John, sounded its praises; Paul declared, 'I know in whom I have believed.' In the synagogue Christ declared His creed as He quoted from the prophet Isaiah."

Seven Parts
Seven parts to his creed: "First—The spirit of the Lord is on me. "Second—Send me to preach the gospel to the poor. "Third—Send me to heal the broken hearted. "Fourth—Send me to preach deliverance to the captives. "Fifth—Recovery of sight to the blind. "Sixth—To set at liberty those that are bruised. "Seventh—To preach the acceptable word of the Lord."

"The second creed of Christ is expressed in the word 'Do.' In the last day before a vast assembly, when the Son of man shall come in all His glory and all the Holy angels with Him, He shall say to those who first believe and then do, come, ye blessed of My Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world, 'For I was a hungry and ye gave Me meat, I was thirsty and ye gave Me drink, I was a stranger and ye took Me in, naked and ye clothed Me; I was sick and ye visited Me, I was in prison and ye came unto Me. 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, My children, ye have done it unto Me.'"

"This is the great humanitarian creed of the Christ. For doubt never built a hospital, never visited the sick, never gave a cup of cold water. But the church is doing this work. The church of faith is God's agency on earth, is His providence among men, and underneath all of these benefactions, is the name Jesus."

Paul Before Agrippa
Is Theme of Sermon

At the Casa Verdugo Methodist church Rev. John D. Davison, D. D. delivered the sermon at the morning service, taking as his subject the story of Paul before Agrippa, as given in the twenty-sixth chapter of the book of Acts.

Mrs. Robert D. Jones sang a soprano solo.

"The Cost of Unbelief" was the subject of the sermon at the evening service by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Livingston.

CAIN'S FAMILY IS
TOPIC OF STUDY

Identity of Outcast's Wife Explained to Members of Bible Class

The time-worn query, Where did Cain get his wife? came up in the Presbyterian brotherhood Bible class Sunday at the City Hall, when Keith L. Brooks, the teacher, explained the 4th chapter of Genesis. "No married woman who ever lived ever had the distinction of having so many men interested in her as Cain's wife," said Mr. Brooks.

God told Eve that He would greatly multiply her conception. By the time Cain took his leave of the family, Eve no doubt already had numerous offsprings. The marriage of brothers and sisters was inevitable in the case of the children of the first man if the race was to descend from single pair. The text assumes that Cain got his wife in the land of Nod but that he knew her there and she brought forth a son.

The natural result of Cain's false worship was that he should get out of the presence of the Lord and lose himself in the world and its pursuits. Cain's line brought forth the world's decorators. They set about making the world a more comfortable place to live in and they are spoken of as the inventors of arts and science while at the same time they served the lusts of the flesh. They may reach the highest point of material civilization and the lowest point of social demoralization at the same time. Ungodly people may be splendidly endowed. It is a sad fact today, just as in Cain's time, that the fastest civilization advances the more goddess it becomes. The regenerate man invents ways to sin and avoid the consequences, having lost sight of all the profound truths revealed by God.

Ancients Lived Long
The fifth chapter gives us the principal generations of Adam and we note that early man had a much longer span of life than we now have. Out of the nine whose ages are recorded here, the lowest is 895 years while one reaches 969. Critics tell us that such longevity is impossible and that not individuals but tribes are meant. Is it not logical, however, that early man should live long? It took time for the ground to develop the effect of the curse. There were superior climatic conditions and man's perfect physical condition in Eden was not immediately exhausted. If the world was to be peopled from a single pair, immense duration of the lives of primeval generations was necessary. The population went on as rapidly as if God had placed many pairs on earth. Furthermore, it was necessary to worship God in the earth since there was no revelation. Adam was alive to tell the story of Eden and the fall and to repeat the promise he had heard from God until the very eve of the deluge.

The great longevity accounts for the great progress in mechanical arts of which we read in these chapters. They became proficient in the result of continued practice and were encouraged to make big plans, and some of the remains of those early times are still puzzling our scientists, who can not figure out how some of their great enterprises were accomplished. On the other hand, long life lent itself to evil purposes and the rare occurrence of death encouraged men in evil ways and fostered the progress of corruption. It is no wonder that the whole earth had to be soon judged by a flood. Adam witnessed the beginnings of this universal corruption and in his declining years, as he saw the progress of sin, he must have realized the enormity of his fall and the justice of the sentence pronounced, and how dear to him must have been the promise of the coming Redeemer.

Driver Injured When Car Is Turned Over

Ernest Grigg, 219 West Wilson street, was slightly injured Saturday afternoon when his car turned over, following a collision with another machine driven by J. C. Reinhart, at the corner of Wilson and Central avenues.

His injuries consisted of bruising on the left leg and a general shaking up. His car was seriously damaged.

JAIL MINISTER'S SON

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 17.—Neal Dow Henry, 25, son of a prominent Methodist minister of Syracuse, is being held in jail here awaiting the arrival of officers who were reported en route to return him to Syracuse, from which city he is alleged to have driven an expensive automobile across the continent without permission of the legal owner. It is rumored in police circles that young Henry, who gave his name as Neal Emby, when first arrested, had attempted to sell the car here.

The city of New York has more Hungarian inhabitants than any state in the union, excepting New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

COMPARES JESUS
WITH ALEXANDER

Jerusalem's Greeting At Entry of King and Savior Form Contrast

A vivid picture of the scenes enacted when Jesus entered Jerusalem, as in contrast to those of three hundred years previous when King Alexander the Great stood before the city gates, was drawn by Rev. Henry O. Kringle in his address at the Zion Lutheran church yesterday morning. He took for his theme, "Jesus Enters Jerusalem," from Matthew 21:1-9.

"About three hundred years before the event occurred which is recorded in our Gospel of Matthew 21:1-9—Christ entering the city of Jerusalem—there was an occurrence of a similar nature at the gates of that city," said Rev. Kringle. "A great king, in command of a formidable army, and surrounded with military splendor, halted his fiery steed before the walls and demanded of the sentinels that were stationed in the towers an unconditional surrender. There was consternation among the inhabitants. The gates were opened and the priests surrendered unto the great king the city. That king was Alexander the Great."

Contrasts Entries
"What a difference between the great monarch coming to Jerusalem in military attire, followed by grim warriors, and Jesus coming, meek and lowly, surrounded by the joyful throng of his followers shouting as they moved along. 'Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is He that cometh in the Name of the Lord: Hosanna in the Highest.'"

"Alexander was not a welcome guest. He was feared by all the Jews. But what cause did the inhabitants to fear Jesus, with whom the prophecy of Zachariah was being fulfilled. 'Tell ye the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy cometh unto Thee.' Gladly could all the inhabitants of Jerusalem welcome Him in their midst."

"That King comes to this day. He comes invisibly in His word, and in His holy sacraments. Everywhere, every city, every hamlet, every home where the Gospel of Christ has found a place, is Jerusalem, and there is the promise being fulfilled: 'Behold, thy King cometh unto Thee.'"

And now, when the Lord, our Heavenly King, comes to us in His word and sacraments, He offers, gives and imparts to each and every believer forgiveness of sins and eternal life, procured with the high price of His own blood. Wherever His word is, there is Christ himself, and the purpose of His coming to us is to bring joy and happiness to our hearts, and to fill our souls with the hope of eternal life.

America Praised As Missionary Nation

The Sunday morning session of the Men's Bible Study class at the First Methodist Episcopal church was devoted to consideration of the position of America in the world's missionary work at home and abroad. The class teacher is the Rev. Edward Hosking of Glendale. Following are a few of the many features of the lesson brought out by the teacher:

"The world owes its adherence to a belief in 'only one true and living God' to the Jews, and the worldwide missionary work now being prosecuted by all other religious denominations takes its missionary spirit from those ancient Jews who, from the time of Abraham, have followed the command of Jehovah in their efforts to Christianize the whole world. From Abraham to Jesus there was an unbroken line of missionary enthusiasts. After Jesus came Peter and Paul and other followers of the Christ, until today we have hundreds of thousands of devoted disciples of Jesus spreading His gospel of love and compassion through all nations of the earth."

In passing Rev. Hosking paid a glowing tribute to the women of all churches who have done so much for the missionary cause. Special reference was made to the mother of John Wesley, founder of the Methodist Episcopal church, and others such as she.

America was lauded as the "only missionary nation" on earth. The teacher declared his belief that from the churches of this nation would go forth the spiritual power which shall evangelize the whole world.

Under-Estimate Bid
Surprises Officials

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 17.—A pleasing innovation in the matter of submitting bids for highway construction was revealed when Frederickson & Shannon, Fresno contractors, submitted a bid for paving a main highway unit, ten miles in length and north of Redding, for $16,000 less than the estimates provided.

The Fresno firm offered to do the work for $395,432.40, or more than $16,000 less than the commission's official estimate of $412,189.

A beggar seldom admits that he has enough pennies or the rich man that he has enough dollars.

RURAL TEACHERS
FACE HARDSHIPS

Minister to Youngsters in Dire Need Then Suffer Many Privations

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Young teachers of the remote rural districts of the North Central States are suffering almost unbelievable hardships in their effort to carry the message of physical fitness to the handicapped children of those communities, according to a report by Clifford Goldsmith, of the American Child Health Association, who has just returned to the New York headquarters after an extensive tour in that section.

Most of the teachers are quite young, recent graduates of high schools, and the story of their self-abnegation and determination to strike off the shackles of intolerance, ignorance and suspicion from their boy and girl pupils is worthy of attention from colleagues in educational work, it is declared.

"I talked with one young man in North Dakota during my travels," Goldsmith said, "who was graduated from high school last year. He has chosen teaching as his life work and the fact that a remote school was all he could get has not affected his enthusiasm."

"Lives With Farmer"
"His school is eighteen miles from the nearest village and he lives with a farmer. They do all their own housekeeping. The teacher rides horseback three miles to school and teaches thirty-seven pupils. In order to keep them all advancing as they should he is compelled to hold thirty-five recitations a day."

"Being the product of a modern school, this young man has learned the value of luncheons for children, so, for lack of assistance, he takes the trouble himself each day to prepare a steaming midday meal for his boys and girls, some of the most satisfying events of his life, he told me is the obvious improvement in the condition of a tubercular boy whose parents at first frowned on 'this new-fangled nonsense.'"

One would think this youth's efforts for his charges would end here, but they do not. He told Goldsmith that he had declared a one-man war on the prairie itch, a disagreeable affliction with which all the pupils suffered.

Bathes Pupils
"And when I asked him what he could do about it," Goldsmith said, "he told me every time he bathed each of the pupils and doctored them. He makes a salve himself with ingredients purchased at the distant village and gives the pupils some of it to take home so that the other members of their families may use it."

This young man's devotion to the ideal of good health is typical of virtually all other young teachers in these districts, according to Goldsmith. The women are at times find it exceedingly difficult to obtain living quarters and are compelled to put up with make-shift accommodations. But they are as enthusiastic as their more fortunate colleagues in the cities are. Headed by Herbert Hoover, the American Child Health Association is studying the field largely for the purpose of aiding such idealists as these.

Sagacious Hen Wins Many Prize Ribbons

DEFIANCE, Ohio, Dec. 17.—Actions which border on human intelligence is claimed to have won for "Biddy," a white Wyandotte hen, a position as a household pet in the home of its owner, Mrs. W. L. Manahan, East Main street.

But the fact that this chicken is unusually obedient for a fowl and always looks to the right and left before crossing the highway—a thing other chickens seldom do—is not its chief virtue.

"Biddy" is noted more for her remarkable four-year egg-laying record. To date she has produced 817 eggs in four years. Mrs. Manahan anticipates that, if nothing occurs to mar prospects during the next four years, "Biddy" will establish a new eight-year record. In the eleven shows in which she has participated "Biddy" has not failed to win a ribbon, it is claimed.

Appeal Ruling Saves Army of Bootleggers

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 17.—Geo. G. Redcliff, chairman of the State Board of Control, rejoices over the ruling by the Third District Court of Appeal that persons convicted of a second offense in selling liquor cannot be sentenced to the state prison under the Wright Act.

The state official declares that the taxpayers have been paying large sums for the maintenance of an "army of bootleggers" in penitentiaries and that the decision will "materially aid the administration's policy of economy."

REQUEST FROM GERMANY

PARIS, Dec. 17.—Re-establishment of civil administration by Germany of the occupied areas of the Ruhr and Rhineland was asked of France and Belgium in a written memorandum submitted to the foreign office, it has been learned by International News Service. Herr Von Hoesch, German representative, submitted the memorandum after a conference with Premier Poincare who asked that the envoy's propositions be put in writing.

Polo in its earliest form consisted of exhibition feats of horsemanship involving skill with stick and ball.

RADIO OPENS NEW AVENUES

Fans Of U. S., France, England Are United

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The recent feat of officers of the American Radio Relay league in talking direct with radio enthusiasts in England and France opens a new avenue of interest to radio operators throughout these three countries and, indirectly, the world.

It has been the hope of the amateur radio "fans" ever since the invention of the scientific device to span oceans and make foreign folks neighbors by radio, so to speak.

At the same time Maxim, in East Hartford, received "Hello America" from the British Isles. For the information of radio enthusiasts Schnell used one audio and one detector with his own hookup, a three circuit regenerative with a short range of 95-115 meters. The French station used 100 meters.

SEEKS TO CURB POWERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—A long threatened move to curb the powers of the United States supreme court was launched by Senator William E. Borah, Republican of Idaho.

Simplified Form to Aid Salaried Man in Filing Returns on Income Tax

Inaugurating the most progressive and important step it has taken since the initiation of the income tax laws, the Internal Revenue Bureau, after months of research work, has developed a simplified income tax form.

It is almost as simple as drawing a check, and will meet with nation-wide favor," the Collector exclaimed.

Statistics of the internal revenue bureau indicate that 68 per cent of the returns filed show net incomes of $5,000 or less, derived chiefly from salaries and wages.

Income Up to $5000

The new Form 1040-A will be used exclusively by taxpayers whose individual net income is $5,000 or less, coming principally from salaries and wages, and was designed to meet the almost universal criticism that the income blanks were so complicated that it required the services of a lawyer or an accountant to fill one out.

During the evening there will be the marching song, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," by the audience; "cello solo," "Bereuse" from "Jocelyn" (Godeard), Herbert E. Baines, accompanied by Mrs. E. Baines; vocal solos, "Ava Maria" (with "cello obbligato") (Schubert), "Holy City" (with violin and "cello obbligato") (Sullivan), Mrs. P. Markus Custer, accompanied by Mrs. Baines; "Ballet Dance," Blossom Moore; reading, "The Silver Wedding," by Miss Kathryn Garnett; community song, "America," led by Sir Francis J. W. Henry.

The final event will be the presentation of a jewel to retiring Eminent Commander Sir Roy V. Hogue by Past Commander Sir Mattison B. Jones.

SANTA CLAUS TO VISIT TRAVELERS

Limited Trains Will Receive Visit from Yuleside's Patron Saint

Santa Claus will board Southern Pacific limited trains Christmas Eve.

This was announced today by J. H. R. Parsons, passenger traffic manager for the Southern Pacific Company, who stated that, in order to gladden the hearts of children and also grown-ups, who may be traveling on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, the railroad will place elaborately decorated Christmas trees on all its limited trains and distribute candy to the kiddies.

Silver tipped fir from the highest peaks of the Sierra Nevada mountains are being obtained for the occasion, Parsons stated.

Plan Festivities

The dining car stewards on the limited trains will represent Santa Claus and immediately after dinner on Christmas Eve all the children on the trains, both old and young, will gather around the tree in the observation car for the festivities.

The trees will be placed on Southern Pacific's limited trains operating between Portland, Oregon and El Paso on Christmas Day.

Hundreds of pounds of candy, done up in ornately decorated boxes, will be distributed to the children.

Not only is the company making special arrangements for Christmas Day but it is making plans to carry out the spirit of the season on all its limited trains during the holidays, Parsons said.

Holiday Fares

Special holiday fares will be in effect on all company's lines so that as many people as possible may spend the holidays at home.

A special Christmas dinner with "all the fixings" will be served on the Southern Pacific dining cars Christmas Day, he stated.

Christmas on U. P.

In order that patrons in its territory may enjoy a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year visiting with friends, the Union Pacific is making extensive preparations for travelers on its lines during the holiday period.

FINAL SPURT IN RACE FOR PRIZES

$1,500 Campaign Will End On Dec. 20; Struggle Is Growing Keener

By J. A. MALCOLM

Salesmanship Club Manager Rushing through the last few days of the final efforts for supremacy, club members in The Glendale Evening News $10,500 salesmanship campaign are racing swiftly and determinedly toward the goal as the treasure chest, filled to overflowing, comes in sight.

Three more days in which to secure enough credits to make sure of the prizes for which you have been working during the past several weeks.

A striking feature of the past few days is the personal pride that has become manifest. Several of the leading club members have voiced the determination to win at all hazards.

One says that she owes it to her friends to win if at all possible, in view of the fact that they have helped her so loyally. She says she is going to do everything possible to win and leave nothing undone that would help her chances.

So, as a basis of civic and individual pride, and for the reason that the cash difference between the first grand prize and the fourth grand prize is more than double, you can expect to see a desperate struggle on all sides before the big prizes are awarded at the close of the campaign on Tuesday night, December 20.

Final Struggle

The several club members in the race have made a big showing and are in line for one of the grand capital prizes, hence the struggle for supremacy will be fought out during the next few days and may the hardest workers be the big winners. It is a known fact that the results of the campaign depend almost entirely on the results obtained for the club members during the coming few days, and which one of the prizes they will eventually win.

You can gain on your competitor by making every moment of the three remaining days count in your favor. More than one big prize has been lost because club members did not realize that the last period was just as important as either of the other two periods. It's not what you have done in the past that will make you a winner as much as what you do between now and the end of the campaign, Thursday, December 20.

You still have time enough to get out and get a few more clubs of subscriptions and make you a big winner. Don't wait for the last day to arrive, call upon those who have promised to subscribe later but get them right away and make them give you that subscription right now before it is too late.

Snow Capped Hills Give Foretaste of Christmas On Kirk's European Tour

One phase of the immigration situation facing foreigners desiring to come to the United States is told in W. B. Kirk's travel letter today.

W. B. KIRK

While he has been put off in Vienna for the purpose, and has written many letters. Finally, he has received word from the consul that he can receive his visa in February, just a year from the time of his application!

"Monday was a holiday in Innsbruck for some reason of church celebration, which I couldn't get exactly straight. The principal feature of the day was a parade by the military, headed by a band which was followed by infantry, cavalry, bicycle brigade and artillery drawn by large auto trucks.

"Between Salzburg and Innsbruck we went through snow and winter, most of the way. The sight of the pine trees laden with snow gave us a foretaste of Christmas, and the little chalets with their red roofs and the sides of the mountains in their covering of snow were pictures in reality.

"Those chalets are more like our imagination of them than even those in Switzerland. The mountain and valley scenes are almost as picturesque too, although the country is not kept so beautifully. The Tyrolese are a picturesque people. Many of you older folks remember the 'Tyrolean Alps' in Chicago and have had a desire to see and hear them on their native heath.

"From Innsbruck here we climbed up into snow again at a slow pace, for about two hours, to the frontier at Brenner, where we had another inspection of passports, visas and baggage, into Italy. Extended as it was perfectly satisfactorily with us, apparently. Then we came down again with beautiful snow-covered mountains and scenery all the way till darkness shut us in, as we did not reach Meran till 7:30.

"We stopped at the Excelsior (formerly Kaiserhof) hotel near the station. It is one of the largest and best in the city and their rates are much lower than those in Germany or Austria. They have treated us well, but the scythes and other farm implements. (Continued on page 5)

LOW PERCENTAGE OF CRIMES HERE

Chief of Police Points Out Law-Abiding Character of City.

Although complete records are not available, it is a generally recognized fact that there is probably no city of the same size as Glendale in the United States which has a lighter police docket.

The absence of major crime in this city is a source of never-ending amazement to persons from the east who arrive in Glendale for a visit, or with an idea of making this their future home.

In commenting on this subject, Chief of Police John D. Fraser attributes the absence of the criminal element in Glendale to the fact that this city has no "undesirable quarter" or slum.

"Glendale has built wisely," he said. "In most every city in the United States with a population of 50,000 there is the apparently inevitable 'tenement' district, which is regarded as the abode of persons with criminal inclinations. I say 'apparently inevitable,' advisedly. Glendale has no such quarter. This is essentially a residential city, and one district is as good as another, in regard to its law abiding qualities.

"Percentage of Arrests 'Recently I have been conducting for my own personal information an investigation regarding the relative number of arrests per capita in Glendale as compared with other cities in California. I find that in almost every case the arrests in Glendale are but 25 per cent of those in other cities, taking into consideration the ratio of population.

"There are cities of five or six thousand population in Southern California which have more cases of major crime than Glendale. We are to be congratulated in this respect.

"It has been the policy of the police department to invite the report of private citizens regarding suspicious characters. In every case we conduct an investigation. It is no secret that through the channels of communication in the underworld the word gets out that Glendale does not tolerate the presence of any person without visible means of support.

Halt Liqueur Traffic

In substantiation of this we have only to look at the sudden cessation of arrests on San Fernando road for the transportation of liquor. Several months ago the prohibition squad, under the direction of Lieutenant Louis Nunn, frequently made arrests on this charge, and truck loads of liquor ranging in value from $3,000 to $5,000 were seized. The Junction of KENNETH ROAD and GRAND VIEW BUSINESS DISTRICT

Attracted Your Attention Again Yesterday

You possibly had known there was to be something of the sort at some future time. But when you see the paving being laid and sidewalks and curbs being put in and noticed what a traffic there was at this point you again said to yourself:

"It does look like something may be doing here to make some money"

And when the streets are all finished and new houses are started in the immediate vicinity, and fine, artistic business buildings have been erected on some of these lots you will realize what an opportunity slipped by. BECAUSE THE PRESENT PRICE OF THESE HIGH CLASS, HIGHLY RESTRICTED LOTS IN THE SEMI-FIRE PROOF BUSINESS ZONE, LOTS ARE OFFERED AT ONLY ONE-FIFTH OF THEIR ACTUAL WORTH—FROM $50 TO $100 PER FRONT FOOT.

Just think of it for a moment! Less than residence lots are bringing right there that should in the very near future sell for five times as much.

Because there are only 33 business lots at the ridiculously low price of $50 to $100 per front foot, subject to street assessments. They range in size from an 83 foot corner on Sonora to a 25 foot inside lot. We have only two corners for sale, but we have three 25 foot lots that face Grand View that are sure winners. "CAP" STUBBS—It's a Lonesome Job!

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE DISHPAN "Goodness me! It's all running out!" cried Nurse Fanny Fuzzy Wuzzy in the hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"What is running out?" asked Uncle Wiggily. The rabbit gentleman was getting ready to go look for an adventure.

"No, you don't!" cried Uncle Wiggily. He steered his sled into the bad chap, barking him kerbango, and the Fox ran away.

Then Uncle Wiggily coasted again in the dish pan before he took it to Nurse Jane.

"Oh, no, nothing like that, I'm thankful to say," answered Nurse Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"Then I'll get you a new one," offered Uncle Wiggily.

"A new hole?" asked Nurse Jane. "Thank you but—"

"No, I mean a new dish pan!" laughed the bunny uncle.

"Are you sure there are no holes in and then the water won't run out?"

"Thank you, it will be very kind," said Nurse Jane. So she emptied the water from the leaking pan and sat down to mend the stockings instead of washing the dishes.

"I'll hop off now and get the new pan," offered Uncle Wiggily. "It will be a little adventure for me."

The rabbit gentleman hopped to the twenty-six and twenty-seven cent store, where they sold new tin dish pans as shiny as looking glasses, and there he bought a fine large one for Nurse Jane.

"Are you sure there are no holes in this dish pan?" asked Uncle Wiggily of the little mouse clerk who waited on him.

"Oh no, ma'am—I mean no sir," she answered. "There isn't a hole in it, except the big hole at the top, but that has to be there to put the water in and so you can wash the dishes."

"Yes, I suppose so," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Well, I'll take this." Nurse Jane can give all the dishes their bath at once now. It's a larger pan than she had before.

There had been a little snow that morning—just a light fall of white flakes which covered the ground to get it ready for Christmas. Little as the snow was, some of the animal boys and girls had brought out their sleds and were coasting down hill.

"Oh what fun this is!" cried Sammie Littletail, the rabbit boy, as he coasted down.

"Jolly good fun!" bleated Billie Wagtail, the goat.

"Here comes Uncle Wiggily!" chattered Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boy.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Why don't you coast down hill?" asked Betty Ringtail, the little raccoon girl, in her warm coat of fur.

"Coast down hill? Why I have no sled, for one thing," said the bunny uncle, as he stopped to watch the animal children, at the same time twinking his pink nose.

"And, for another reason," he went on, "I'm too old to slide down hill."

"Oh, no you aren't!" laughed Sammie, who had come up from the bottom of the hill so he could coast down again. "You aren't too old."

"Thank you for the compliment—perhaps I'm not quite too old," said Uncle Wiggily. "But, anyhow, I have no sled, and I do not want to take any of yours, for I might—"

"Oh you can take any of our sleds you want to," said Jackie Bow Wow. "But you don't need to. Uncle Wiggily. You have there, as good a sled as you need to coast down hill."

"I have a sled—what do you mean?" asked the bunny gentleman.

"The dish pan," barked Jackie.

"You can sit in it and coast down hill just as we do on our sleds."

"That's right," said Susie Littletail. "Once when I hadn't any sled I coasted in my mother's dish pan."

Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose again and said: "All right, I'll try it." So he put on the shiny tin dish pan down on the snow-covered ground at the top of the hill. Then he sat in the dish pan, curling his paws under him. Sammie gave him a push, and the rabbit gentleman coasted down as nicely as you please. "Hurray! This is fun!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. He got out at the bottom of the hill, put the dish pan on his head, walked to the top and coasted down again.

This he did two or three times, while the animal children coasted on their sleds. And once, when Uncle Wiggily was going down the hill, the Fuzzy Fox stuck his nose out from the bushes and tried to bite the bunny.

"No, you don't!" cried Uncle Wiggily. He steered his sled into the bad chap, barking him kerbango, and the Fox ran away.

Then Uncle Wiggily coasted again in the dish pan before he took it to Nurse Jane.

"Oh, Wiggily! They gave you a leaky pan! This one has holes in it like the old one. The water is leaking all over the stove!"

"Oh, is that so?" asked the bunny. "Well, that's my fault. The pan had no holes in it when I bought it, but I must have worn them in sliding down hill. I'll get you another new pan, Nurse Jane, without any holes in, and I'll keep this one for sliding down hill. And he did."

And if the dusting brush does not tickle the gas stove with an icicle and make the phonograph laugh, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily on roller skates.

Brown's mythical Big Ten eleven. At top, Fullback Taft. Below him, the other three backfield members, Martineau (left), Workman (center) and Grange (right). In past years I have broadened the scope of the mythical eleven by including in it such players outside the Big Ten conference as I believed from reports deserved what honor may go with being named on such a body. Obviously, however, I relied upon the opinions of coaches and close followers of the game in various sections, being unable to size up the Pacific coast players and far western stars while keeping tab on the conference teams and the easterners as well. They aided me materially.

There is seldom any real basis for comparison of these outside grid stars with the conference players, however, which means that injustices can be done unintentionally. This year, therefore, the western team is chosen from the conference elevens with this thought in mind.

It so happens this season, that the conference teams proved themselves the class of the west. Let me cite the case of Illinois. The Illini licked Nebraska, which trounced Notre Dame, believed by many to be the strongest team in the west. These two teams stand out as the strongest teams in the west outside the conference.

Were there some real basis of comparison Miller of Notre Dame, Don Nichols, University of California captain; Capt. Art Quinlan of Colorado and one or two others of the far western clubs might demand places on this eleven. This is merely polemical, however.

The choice of Hoge Workman of Ohio State as quarter of this mythical "wonder eleven" will draw much discussion. There is no doubt but what Uteritz, main-spring of the Michigan team, appeared to better advantage in the two conference games in which he played. Consider this, though. Workman played his way to fame behind a mediocre team that won but one conference game.

Around Uteritz, Yost had built a great combination. Uteritz had the advantage of a stirring defense and a brilliant offense. In addition to this Workman played in five conference games against but two for the Wolverine star.

The other men chosen are selected not because they star in one branch of the game but because they have the range of ability needed for their positions. The linemen chosen would, in my opinion, give a coach a perfect line of men, brilliant in boxing the offense and opening holes on the offense and in breaking up interference and covering punts on defense.

The backfield men have the driving power and the versatility needed in this day and age.

Other players deserving honorable mention are: Ed Hanzcock and Romey of Iowa; Dickson of Chicago, Wellman of Purdue.

Tackles—Pateoff of O. S. U., Crawford and Hall of Illinois; Guards—Beiberstein of Wisconsin, Miller of Illinois, Fleckenstein of Iowa.

Centers—Claypool of Purdue, King of Chicago, Griffin of Iowa.

Quarterback—Fry of Iowa.

Other backfield stars — J. Thomas of Chicago, Parkin of Iowa, Pyott of Chicago, Steger of Michigan, Miller of Iowa, Marks of Indiana and Klee of Ohio State.

One of the interesting facts brought to light by the recently published official statistics of the Big shows is the fact that the record for home runs in a single season in the National league was broken last season. When the sluggers rang up 529 in 1922 the old circuit fans were amazed. But in 1923 the circuit clouters added nine to this total. The improvements made in the home park of the Chicago Cubs is probably responsible for this new record. In that park alone 48 were hung up—much more than equals the difference between the two records by many homers. The change in the park seating arrangements shortened the leftfield fence. What used to be long outfield flies dropped into the new stands last season.

Sammy Mandel now looms up as a real contender for the junior lightweight title held by Jack Bernstein of New York. Mandell, as he is now, lacks but one thing to scare Bernstein into the north woods. That is the wallop. Sammy hits accurately, times his blows perfectly, starts them with a deceptive move, and gets them over. But he hasn't the steam.

Ray Pearson, veteran sport scribe and admiral of Packer McFarland, calls Mandell a replica of the old master. Sam checks an opponent's best blows by catching them before they start, as Packer did. Backed into a corner he has the elusiveness of the former Stockyards King. Mandell may need a few fights yet but he's due to arrive before another year is gone.

Jerry Monahan, from Ireland and proud of it, has arrived in New York by the round about way of the Philippine Islands. Jerry carries with him the usual jaunty air, a delightful brogue

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Jack Kearns, manager of the world's champion, Jack Dempsey, was quoted today as declaring that Harry Wills would prove a softer mark for the champion than did Fred Fulton, who was knocked out by Dempsey in eighteen seconds some years ago.

"It is only in the east that Wills is regarded as a real contender," Kearns said. "In the west, where they have seen him on the floor, they tell me they regard a Dempsey-Wills bout as a joke."

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The world's professional 18.2 ball line billiard championship, a diamond and ruby medal, $10,000 purse and the net gate receipts were at stake tonight when the first block of 500 points in their 1500 point match was shot by Willie Hoppe and Walker Cochran, the latter of San Francisco.

The match is an epilogue of the third international tournament in New York last month, when both Hoppe and Cochran won four matches and lost one, disposing of Jake Shaefer, former world's champion, Elouard Horemans, champion of Belgium; Eric Hagenlacher, champion of Germany, and Roger Conti, former French champion. Hoppe was a 5 to 7 choice in the betting today.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Building up of Louis Vincenzi, Chilean lightweight, for a bout with Benny Leonard, for the title, hopefully demoralized by the South American's loss to Joe Shugue, a fair lightweight who has been out of the ring for a year.

The American outpunched his hard hitting rival and took the judge's decision, which was questioned in some quarters. Vincenzi was a 2 to 1 favorite in the betting.

GOLF IMPROVING, VETERAN, CLAIMS

Recalls Old Days When Game Was In Its Infancy In United States

In every line of sport, with one exception, the Old Timers are always cheering the "good old days."

That one exception is golf. So we hunted up an Old Timer, Harry Carson—old time pro at the Westport Country club, up in Connecticut. Harry has been in the game since the good old beery days of the early 90's, when whiskers and sideburns bloomed at their best. This was even before the knicker age in golf.

"In those days," goes on Harry, "wooden clubs were made from one piece of wood, with a very long face. You took a loose wide, free swing at the ball, putting everything you had into it."

"The fellow who could get a drive of 150 or 175 yards was a phenom. We used those old solid core balls and a 'six' was a mighty low score on an average hole. The fairways were like a cow pasture, and they greens no better than the average fairway is on our courses today."

"There was a ball called the Haskell Flier and a hard ball called Ocabo. The course had very few traps. Then we had a club with a concave face for getting out of trouble. The driving iron was used by most players on the tee shots. We called it a 'cram.' The putters had a six-inch face on them. Then there was a club called the 'baffle,' and there were the old 'lofters,' and we used a 'spoon' a great deal, too. The 'brassie' came after the fairway got better."

"I can remember when there were mighty few courses. Englewood, Weeburn and Shinnecock were about all I remember. Perhaps there were ten altogether. George Love, John Black, Willie Smith, Anderson, George Sargent and Willie Dunn were the leading players."

"The players wore the old style square or round caps and a short tailed jacket that buttoned high around the neck, with pants. That was before the age of knickers. Flaid bags from Scotland with not over four clubs were used for a time."

"The old game is played the same, but with the developing of better courses, with more traps and faster greens, more clubs have been added to improve the player's game. These improvements have made a better game of golf, and that's why perhaps you seldom hear an Old Timer squawking about the 'good old days'—there wasn't any."

Kirk Sees Beauty Snow-Capped Hills

on to Verona tomorrow, Saturday. It has rained here till today, since we have been here.

"Meran is much like Lugano, which I described to you very minutely. It has two real cable railways, instead of funicular, the cars going to the top of the mountains suspended on a big cable. With all of these mountain railways over here why can't we have one in Southern California? It seems a strange to me."

"A pretty, swift little river rushes down through the middle of the town with fine promenade walks, refreshment places and hotels extending a long distance. Trees, vines, ivy and shrubbery all along make it beautiful indeed. The houses and hotels rise on the hillsides, a picturesque old castle and an old church are in the center, and very narrow and crooked streets constitute the business center. Postcards, souvenirs and fancy goods are the chief articles of merchandise."

Arrives In Verona
"Verona, November 18: With clear weather again we left Meran yesterday stopping in Bolzano for two hours, then having time to take in the business section of another quaint town, mostly Italian. On the way here we passed through the Tyrolean to the real Italian character of country, and the scenery changed."

"The high, snow-covered mountains all around Meran, covered with trees and vegetation, gave way to rugged, rocky, barren ones, and before we reached here they dwindled to hills and the valley widened almost into a plain. Vineyards were the principal cultivation all the way."

"We reached after five so decided to spend the night and part of today here, going on to Venice this afternoon. It is only some two hours' ride."

"By the time this letter reaches you I am afraid it will be pretty late to address us at Jerusalem, so please change our next address to Constantinople and send mail up to December 20 in care of the American Express company."

Mr. Kirk's first letter from Venice will appear at an early date in The Glendale Evening News.

"A pretty, swift little river rushes down through the middle of the town with fine promenade walks, refreshment places and hotels extending a long distance. Trees, vines, ivy and shrubbery all along make it beautiful indeed. The houses and hotels rise on the hillsides, a picturesque old castle and an old church are in the center, and very narrow and crooked streets constitute the business center. Postcards, souvenirs and fancy goods are the chief articles of merchandise."

Arrives In Verona
"Verona, November 18: With clear weather again we left Meran yesterday stopping in Bolzano for two hours, then having time to take in the business section of another quaint town, mostly Italian. On the way here we passed through the Tyrolean to the real Italian character of country, and the scenery changed."

"The high, snow-covered mountains all around Meran, covered with trees and vegetation, gave way to rugged, rocky, barren ones, and before we reached here they dwindled to hills and the valley widened almost into a plain. Vineyards were the principal cultivation all the way."

"We reached after five so decided to spend the night and part of today here, going on to Venice this afternoon. It is only some two hours' ride."

"By the time this letter reaches you I am afraid it will be pretty late to address us at Jerusalem, so please change our next address to Constantinople and send mail up to December 20 in care of the American Express company."

Mr. Kirk's first letter from Venice will appear at an early date in The Glendale Evening News.

UNION TOOL NINE BEAT WHITE SOX

Visitors Overcome Locals' Lead in Furious Rally in Ninth Inning

Union Tool nine today defeated the White Sox in a game that was a real test of skill. The Sox led in the first half, but the visitors rallied in the ninth to win 6 to 4.

Glendale's rejuvenated White Sox dropped another game yesterday afternoon to Union Tool. Score, 6 to 4.

After the visitors had pushed one run across in their half of the second, the locals scored a pair, and by adding one in the fourth and one in the fifth, seemed to have a comfortable lead. But in the last frame, three hits, a walk and an error by Bill Doran let four runs cross the plate, taking the afternoon's pastime. It was a hard game for Collard to lose, as he had pitched good ball, and had control of the game until the ninth inning. He also again led the club, in hitting, getting two snuffs, one a triple, out of the six that Priests allowed the White Sox. He issued eleven hits, but kept them well scattered with the exception of the last frame.

A pass to Washburn, followed by hits by Hirigoyen and Wolf scored Union Tool's first run in the second. Washburn led off the sixth with a double, but was forced at third, after File had walked, when Widener tapped to Collard. During the excitement File slipped home. Priests started the ninth with a fluke hit to right field, then Bill Doran let Bouett's grounder go through him. Stanley doubled to center, scoring Priests and sending Bouett to third. He scored a moment later on Scanlon's sacrifice fly to center. Washburn struck out. File was passed intentionally, but Widener connected for a single, his second of the day, scoring Stanley and File, who had stolen second. Hirigoyen ended the agony by flying out to Perry O'Brien in center.

With two down in the second, Slade singled and scored when Sawyer sent a slashing double to center. Edwards then delivered a hit scoring Slade. Hirigoyen's error gave O'Brien life in the fourth. He went to third on Sawyer's sacrifice and scored on Slade's sacrifice fly to center. Collard led off the fifth with a triple, and scored on Coleman's long fly to left field. This ended Glendale's efforts for the afternoon.

The presence of Carl Sawyer, Vernon comedian, who has been signed by Glendale, added to the fans' enjoyment. He backed up his own antics by playing a good game of ball. Doc Crandall performed at first with Doran going back to third, Samis taking Herman's place in the outfield.

Caseys and Veterans Play 3-3 Tie Game

The Glendale K. C.'s and Post No. 8 of Los Angeles staged a thrilling game yesterday afternoon, darkness halting the contest at the end of the ninth with the score 3 all.

Roberts, for the Legion team, and Powers, for the Caseys, both twirled good ball. Fruhring on third base for Glendale was the star of the day in the field. The score:

Dundee, Bernstein In Charity Contest

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—With charity the beneficiary, Johnny Dundee and Jack Bernstein met tonight in a fifteen round bout with the junior lightweight title at stake. The proceeds of the show will be turned over to the New York American's Christmas fund.

Dundee is featherweight champion but his title is safe in tonight's bout. The men will weigh in at 130 pounds. Bernstein took the junior lightweight title from Dundee last summer.

Sammy Mandell, sensational western featherweight, and Sid Tervis of New York will meet in a ten round bout.

Bakersfield Defeats Long Beach Squad

Bakersfield mopped up with Long Beach Saturday at the old city in the football game for the championship of southern California. The score was 20 to 0. But that doesn't tell all of the story, for Bakersfield had everything its own way, and made the Long Beach squad look silly. In fact, the beach team was only able to make one down. Bakersfield now meets Lick-Wilderning for the championship of the state. The odds are in favor of the oil drillers.

Harry Wills Would Be 'Easy for Jack'

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Jack Kearns, manager of the world's champion, Jack Dempsey, was quoted today as declaring that Harry Wills would prove a softer mark for the champion than did Fred Fulton, who was knocked out by Dempsey in eighteen seconds some years ago.

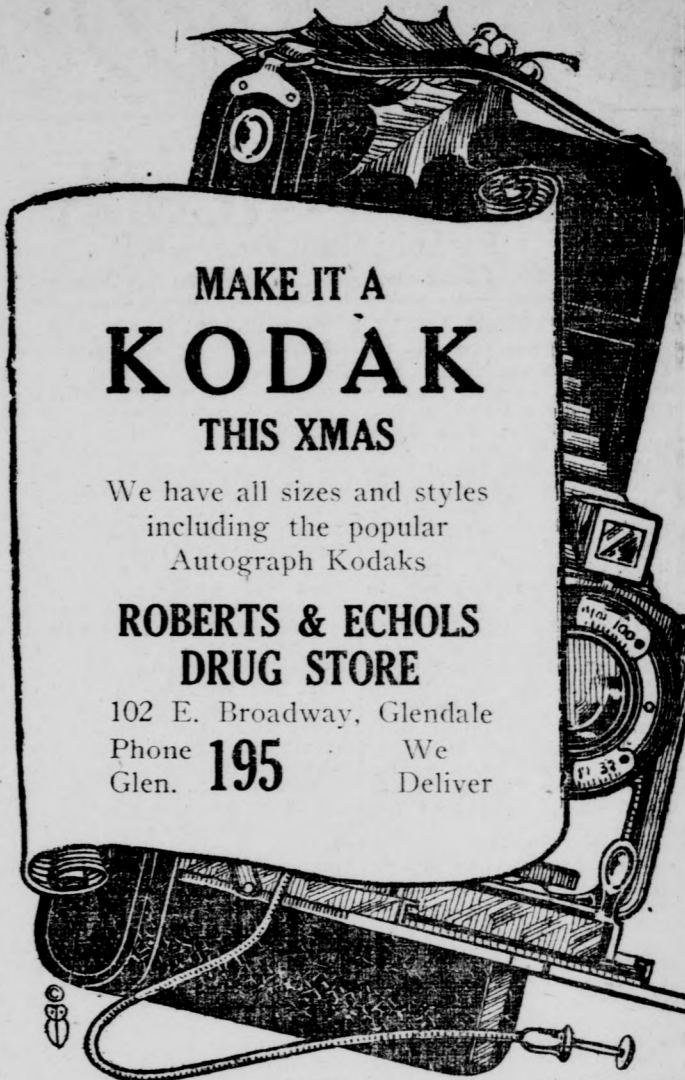

"It is only in the east that Wills is regarded as a real contender," Kearns said. "In the west, where they have seen him on the floor, they tell me they regard a Dempsey-Wills bout as a joke."

Chilean Lightweights Makes Poor Showing

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Building up of Louis Vincenzi, Chilean lightweight, for a bout with Benny Leonard, for the title, hopefully demoralized by the South American's loss to Joe Shugue, a fair lightweight who has been out of the ring for a year.

The American outpunched his hard hitting rival and took the judge's decision, which was questioned in some quarters. Vincenzi was a 2 to 1 favorite in the betting.

A pump with valves and plungers 2,263 years old was found on the site of the ancient city of Vesuvius.

THE GLENDALE

In "Six-Cylinder Love," now showing at the Glendale Theatre, Ernest Truex, diminutive but popular star, is offered one of the best vehicles of his career. He is also given adequate support, including Florence Eldridge, eminent Broadway actress.

Truex played this role for two years on the stage and is even funnier in the film version, which was produced for William Fox by Elmer Clifton, who made "Down to the Sea in Ships."

The story of "Six-Cylinder Love" is taken from the play by William Anthony McGuire, that ran so long at a New York theatre it almost broke the record. The story concerns the experiences of a young man who buys a powerful car,

FRESH AIR IN TUBERCULOSIS

Last week in our talks on tuberculosis I told you that of the factors that go to cure tuberculosis, rest, fresh air and an adequate and suitable diet stand highest, and that the medication is secondary. I told you the importance of an early diagnosis and early treatment of tuberculosis because the earlier it is recognized and treated, the greater the chances are for recovery. In fact, the percentage of recovery in early tuberculosis is very high.

I told you the importance of being under the care of a specialist, and to avoid the quack "specialist," those who advertise to the layman. Many general practitioners do not take tuberculosis cases, but if you go to a reputable general practitioner he will refer you to some one who specializes in that disease, if he does not himself.

In this paper I am going to speak of fresh air in tuberculosis. You all know that fresh air is very important to a person of normal health. To a person suffering with tuberculosis, it is of supreme importance.

Pottenger in his book, "Tuberculosis and How to Combat it," writing of fresh air, states: "Individuals who live in badly ventilated rooms with their bodies surrounded by stale air, lack nerve and mental stability as well as physical tone. They fail to digest and assimilate their food properly and consequently suffer from low state of vitality. Other conditions being equal, the converse is true of those who live in the open. Their cellular activity is stimulative and their nerve and physical tone are greatly improved. Open air should surround the patient with tuberculosis for a large portion of each day, if his reacting powers are sufficient to stand it; if they are not, he should be sheltered somewhat, but still be supplied with moving air."

If one who has lived in closed apartments is to be placed in the open in winter, he must be prepared for it by suitable clothing, hot bottles, and other devices, and should be subjected to the more stimulating conditions gradually.

Webb and Ryder, in their book, "Recovery Record for Use in Tuberculosis," state: "The best general rule about fresh air is the old formula—To be taken externally, internally and eternally."

You should be out of doors nearly all the time, and should never be in the stagnant air of an unventilated room. Even out of doors stagnant air is bad, and all porches should be open on two sides in all but the most stormy weather. The southwestern corner is the best, giving cross-ventilation without too much exposure to wind.

PARIS FAVORS THIS MODEL

The floating panel, with its unusual arrangement of plaits and irregular lower edge, makes this frock of dark brown satin of unusual interest. The blouse and skirt are separate, the blouse being closed at the left side. The two-piece gathered skirt is laid in plaits on either side of the back. If desired, one of the novelty motifs so much in vogue may be added to the front of the dress for a quaint touch of decoration. Medium size requires 4 3/4 yards of 20-inch satin and 1 1/2 yard of lace or Georgette banding for the collar.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1709. Sizes, 18 and 20 years, and 34 to 44 inches bust. Price, 45 cents.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl in my teens and have been keeping company with a boy for seven months he seems to think quite a lot of me, but somehow we just can't agree.

I had a birthday several months ago and he got me a watch as a gift. I thought that was very nice. Last night he called on me and wanted me to go to a show. I had a cold and thought it best to stay in. I was writing a letter to my sister when he came in and was nearly through and so I thought I would finish it. He told me I shouldn't write and asked me to stop, which I did. Do you think it was wrong of him to ask that of me?

I have only been in his house once. His parents seem to think a lot of me, but somehow my friend never invites me to his home. I passed his house one night and he was on the porch and I spoke and went to the door to say a few words to him. It seemed to me I was not welcome. He said his mother was not home and he would rather not have me come in. I told him I wasn't intending to as I had to hurry home. He insisted that he should see me home, but I was angry and refused.

I love this boy, but I think he wants to be humored. I don't think it is right for him to call on me often and never invite me to his home. Do you think he is ashamed of me?

He wants to get me a diamond ring for Christmas. Should I accept it under the circumstances?

BROWN EYES.

Surely if you had explained to the young man that you merely wanted to end a letter to your sister, he would have shown more consideration and would have told you to take your time. Perhaps you have a high-and-mighty air of which you are unconscious which irritates him. It always pays to be courteous and to try to please. When you are thoughtful do not feel that you are humoring unnecessarily and unwisely.

The boy is not ashamed of you, but he feels embarrassed when you go to his home. It is not considered in good taste for a girl to call on a young man unless she is invited by his mother. To all appearances you are running after him when you seek invitations to his home. He probably feels that his mother would consider you too forward and he wants to spare you in her eyes.

Accept the ring as an engagement present if you are sure of your love and feel the existing difficulties can be harmoniously adjusted. But not to accept jewelry unless you are betrothed.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I used to have a boy friend who was very good to me. I treated him meanly sometimes, but still he was good to me. One day I made him mad and he has never been the same since. Now I am sorry but it

It is slow moving, hard to change. On the surface is the flying spray, sometimes, as in such a period as we are going through, a seemingly purposeless welter," says Miss Kirkman.

BEAUTY CHATS

THE COMPLEXION IN WINTER

I have been talking quite a bit recently about the various skin treatments suitable for winter weather. A great many letters have reached me within the last few days complaining of rough and ugly skin. The sharp, cold weather does it. Winter fogs and frosts are always hard on the complexion until the skin is acclimated.

Hot milk on retiring is very easily assimilated and conducive to sleep, all of which will help to build up your health and add to your weight.

Alice—To increase the apparent

Here is an ideal cold cream for winter use. It is a little heavier than most of the creams you buy, which, after all, are nothing more than cleansers. This one contains vegetable oil which is readily absorbed by the skin and will protect it against winter winds.

Fine Cold Cream
Rose Water 4 ounces
Almond Oil 4 ounces
Spermaceti 1 ounce
White Wax 1 ounce
Benzoin 1 drachm
Borax 30 grains

As this formula has been printed before I have no doubt that many of my readers are already familiar with it. I prefer this one made with almond oil, but if you must be very economical use olive oil which is almost as good. This cream is made like any other. The wax and spermaceti are melted in the oil until they are just dissolved, then the rose water, borax and benzoin (a little more than luke warm) are added slowly, and the whole is stirred and beaten until it begins to congeal. It is then poured off into small jars.

As you are going out in very cold weather a little of this cream should be rubbed well into the skin, wiped off with a soft cloth or a bit of cotton and the face powdered. Every day when you are about to wash the face, rub first with a little of this cream, and then wash with warm water and soap. Or use as a massage at night.

Blanches—Pimples are often the result of a run-down condition of health, and since you are so much underweight, it is possible this is your trouble. An excellent thing for you would be cod liver oil, taken pure if you can, or in an emulsion. This will nourish you and build up your health so the blood will be of a richer quality.

ter of two primary needs—first, the individual need of satisfaction, which makes possible "the pursuit of happiness," and second the social need of providing a breeding place for citizenship.

"The new conceptions of government are closely related to the problem of the home. Government has invaded its once isolated sanctity, and in return the home must invade government with its ideals and its needs. Its demands that all the forces that play upon the home shall be such as contribute to these two primary needs, individual and the organic.

"For the new conceptions of government women have a peculiar genius. They have the quality that makes for adjustment at this stage of things. They have the conservative mind that demands cosmos instead of chaos. They have the training and the instinct that will correlate this unit, the home, with individual and order creating energies."

COMMUNITY LOYALTY

Wise Glendalians Save Money, Time and Strength by Doing Holiday Buying at Home

Citizens Endorse a Movement to Foster Community Loyalty and Sanction a Practical Business Co-operation Between Buyer and Seller In the Building of a Bigger, Better Glendale Merchandising Center

Every Dollar Spent in Glendale Stores Makes Glendale One Dollar Richer

Without analyzing the matter, one might think the larger the city, the better the stores and the more reasonable the prices. Up to a certain point this is true. The village general store cannot carry the merchandise or offer the shopping facilities of the city department store. Where the population is too small to support them, splendid stores cannot exist.

Glendale, today, has reached the point where her population can and does support business, professions and trades of all kinds as good as the best.

Glendale has come into her own as a big city and a shopping center in such a short time that her people might be excused if they had not yet awakened to the fact that they need not go out of Glendale to do their trading. We should overlook the matter, also, if some of our newer residents take it for granted that they can buy to better advantage in larger cities.

Glendale people, generally speaking, have risen to the occasion and have given their support whole-heartedly to the local stores, professions and trades, helping to create a business center that is the envy of larger cities.

The advertisers listed on this page have banded together to promote Community Loyalty. They ask only a chance to prove to the few who still deem it necessary to trade out of town that they can do their buying in Glendale as advantageously and with far less time and friction than in any near-by city.

The holiday season should be a good time to try out Glendale Business. The cars are overcrowded, traffic conditions are abominable and the big city streets and stores are jammed. Save money, time, strength and shoe leather and convince yourself that you can do as well in Glendale stores as anywhere.

You will not only better yourself by acquiring the habit of trading in Glendale, but you will be helping to build a Greater Glendale, for every dollar spent here makes our city that much richer.

THIS page appears in The Glendale Evening News once a week. On another page is a classified index which explains the location of the cards on this page. The building of a greater community sentiment is the purpose of this page. Co-operation between the merchant and the buyer put into actual practice is a community builder.

TUJUNGA ELECT OFFICERS OF LEGION POST

Veterans to Hold Christmas Turkey Shoot at Begue Ranch, Dec. 23

At the annual election of officers held by the American Legion post 250 at Legion hall, Tujunga, Arthur J. Scribner was elected to succeed Charles H. Kellar as commander. Other officers elected are: First vice-commander, Charles H. Kellar, retiring commander; second vice-commander, Bert Begue; sergeant-at-arms, Peter J. Desjardins; treasurer, Fred W. Axe; chaplain, M. E. Hill; historian, George Aiken; executive committee, M. E. Hill, Robert Walker and W. B. Anderson; trustees, G. L. Aiken, Fred W. Axe and W. B. Anderson. Post 250 will hold another turkey shoot at the Begue ranch on Michigan avenue east of Tujunga Sunday, December 23. The committee that had charge of the auxiliary toy sale at Legion hall reports excellent returns. Miss Flora Tarpley prepared the luncheon and Mrs. Marjory Peterson assisted. Pastry was from the Bake Shoppe on Michigan avenue, near Marshall. Mrs. W. B. Anderson has charge of the sale of grab bags, which contained articles presented to the auxiliary by Tujunga merchants. Ernest Gilmer donated wooden toys made by himself and his mother, Mrs. M. F. Gilmer, made animals of cloth, including the rabbit, for the sale. Aprons were contributed by Mrs. W. H. Gale and quilts were made by Misses Flora and Anna Tarpley and Mrs. William Hamilton. Mrs. C. H. Kellar and Mrs. A. J. Scribner sold tickets.

Merchants Contribute
The grab bags were popular with both young children and those not so young. All articles contained in the grabs were contributed by the following Tujunga merchants: Rheinhardt market, Patterson's grocery, Gray & Gray, Tujunga Drug company, Postmaster Nona Halferty, Valley garage, Tujunga garage, Day and Night garage; Baughman hardware store, Bloore's dry goods store, Sweet Shop, Tujunga Valley theatre, Record-Ledger, Kinder's paint shop, Meyers Brothers hardware store, De Witt's station, Midget lunch stand, Varzell's grocery, Metcha bakery, Bixby bakery, Rowe furniture store, Live Oak shoe shop, Haines Canyon Water company, Dean hardware store, Gilbert Gift shop, Brunner jewelry store, James Blaine, insurance, Independent Lumber company, Wright's shop, Caldwell Feed and Supply company, Rhoetter's market, shop, A. J. Scribner, Mr. Smedley of the Southern California Edison company, Tujunga sanitarium, Munson Land company, Grant grocery, Sauset Fair, Tujunga Paint company, Warnick barber shop, Moe's billiard parlor, Mrs. Nick and Mr. Lowe.

B. Johnson, senior member of the firm of Johnson & Sons of Tujunga, has been appointed by Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools, to succeed J. A. Jenkins, resigned, on the Tujunga board of school trustees. School children of the district are busy selling Christmas seals. Half of the money will go to the fund for the aid of tuberculars and the other half to providing dental work for the children, providing the schools accept the offer made. By a co-operative arrangement the county board of health will pay part of the expense of dental work for children from the county funds.

Pupils of the Tujunga school are collecting magazines and papers under the direction of Miss Stella Wieman, school nurse, which they will sell in Los Angeles. The Tujunga Valley really board elected the following officers at the last meeting: President, P. J. Blake; vice-president, Leo Smith; secretary, C. D. Buck.

Warn of Fire Hazards
James Blaine, deputy fire warden, is in receipt of the following self-explanatory letter from the county fire warden, S. J. Flintham:

"The continuance of the dry weather, combined with the prevalence of dry north winds, has created the most menacing fire condition seen in this country for several years. In order that the fire hazard may be reduced as far as possible to a minimum, I am hereby advising you that, effective this date, no fire permits whatsoever are to be issued in your district, this order to remain in force until further notified by this office."
"However, in the case of property owners whose land under the act of 1921 has been declared a fire menace by this office, and who have been ordered to abate this condition, a permit may be issued, should the weather be favorable and under such instructions as you see fit to impose. Let me further call your attention to the fact that, under Los Angeles county ordinance No. 712, it is necessary to obtain a burning permit up to January 15, 1924, for any burning that is to be done."

MOTIVE FOR SHOOTING
ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 17.—Factional strife and dissension within the walls of the Ku Klux Klan is given by state attorneys as additional motives which prompted Phil E. Fox, Klan editor, to shoot and kill W. S. Coburn here on November 5. The charge, brought out on the fourth day of Fox's trial, came during cross-examination of N. Goodson, mechanical foreman of "The Night Hawk," official publication of the Klan, edited by Fox.

COMMENT That's All

Thirty Planes In Flight Financed From Outside? Sayings of Noted Sleuth High Respect For the Law
—By Gil A. Cowan—

Hot stuff in the headlines. "Rebels take Tabasco." Nothing more nor less than the latest development in Mexico at the hour this is written. The southern republic once again is beset by its enemies on the eve of effecting a treaty with the United States. While it would take a diplomat to find the reason why there seem to be a disturbing influence in Mexico which profits from the turmoil caused by an unruly and unreliable army. Just how these sinister influences prosper is problematical, yet there is no doubt but what Mexican revolutions are financed by some source—and likely it is no unknown to the United States secret investigators. It is often stated that Mexico will not be peaceful until the United States intervenes. We would rather say that Mexico will be peaceful if foreign influences allowed our Latin-Americans to work out their own salvation. Of course, we know that certain concessionaires would either rule or ruin. President Obregon has been altogether too successful, no doubt, in stabilizing conditions and in bringing the Mexican into his own. And there are always those traitors who for the dollars of today are willing to sacrifice the happiness of their own people in the future.

Glendale in the midst of its Christmas shopping, however, refuses to be worried by a Mexican revolution. Indeed, it took but casual interest in a fire which endangered the cabin land back of Burbank the fore part of the week.

However, we do not consider the citizens apathetic. They are simply too busy in the ordinary pursuits of life to go out of their way for a thrill. What the majority of the residents are most interested in now, other than the yuletide and gift giving, is the $10,000,000 year building total being amassed by "the fastest growing city in America." Also, all loyal boosters are interested in seeing the sewer bond election successful and work commenced on this most necessary sanitary improvement.

"Start the New Year Right—Vote the Sewer Bonds."
The death of William Allan Pinkerton, famed detective son of America's most famous sleuth, calls to the mind of the Hartford Sentinel editorial writer some personal reminiscences which are worthy of retelling.

"Many a story has been written of the exploits of the Pinkertons," says the commentary, "and of these 'Bill' was frequently the unnamed hero. He was always courteous and obliging to newspaper men, and they never overlooked an opportunity to repay him within their power for his consideration."
"Bill," once said: "The trained newspaper man is the best detective in the world. I like to have his good graces, for he can be both helpful and negative, according to the way he is treated. I would hate to have one of them on my trail if I were not absolutely right."
"Bill" was "absolutely right," concludes the writer.

Yes, newspaper men are the best detectives, the writer learned in army secret service work. The reporter who is sent after information knows better than to return without it. And the party who thinks he can get a newspaper man to betray his trust to his editor will find the exception to the rule.

Such standards have given The Glendale Evening News a loyal and efficient staff. Betrayal of trust means immediate dismissal from the payroll.
"Under the caption, 'Worth Repeating,' The 'Hollywood Daily Citizen' says:
Probably no part of President Coolidge's message to Congress has been repeated and quoted as much as his two pithy sentences concerning respect for law. And it is indeed worth while that they be repeated until we are all at least familiar with their meaning.
"Free government," declares our president, "has no greater menace than disrespect for authority and continual violation of law. It is the duty of a citizen not only to observe the law but to let it be known that he is opposed to its violation."
In our humble opinion, and in the opinion of many others, there never was a time in the country's history when free government was more menaced than it is today by the widespread prevalence of disrespect for law.
The majority of the citizens of our country today are lacking in respect for law.
Great organizations that ought to champion respect for law are found championing its violation. The enforcement of particular laws may be championed while others stand for the violation of those laws.
The violation of other laws we may encourage while there are others who insist that those laws shall be upheld.
The spirit of the day is to violate. The spirit of the day is to ask for the respect of those laws the disrespect for which we do not like.

Free government, as we all know, can exist only when the great majority will show respect for established law regardless of whether it is pleasing or displeasing.
And, once we stop to think about it, respect for law doesn't hurt any of us very much.
Some of us would have to go

SUNLAND PLAN TO SECURE GAS AND LIGHTS

Petitions are Circulated to Extend Utilities Into Sunland District

At the mass meeting called by the publicity committee of the Sunland Chamber of Commerce the sentiment was unanimously in favor of a campaign to secure gas and more street lights for Sunland. The meeting was held in the auditorium of the Monte Vista school and was one of the largest ever held in the district. Mr. Creighton, principal of the school, presided over the meeting with C. C. Campbell as secretary. A committee was appointed to circulate petitions for gas among the Sunland residents and work with other committees in the valley on the same project. Members of the committee are: Homer Rice, chairman, and Mrs. Mears, Mrs. Dunbar, Mrs. Tenny and Mrs. Schutte.
A committee was also appointed to secure signatures to a petition for an extension of the Tujunga lighting districts to cover Sunland streets. Messrs. Marsh, chairman, and Henry McDonald, Bailey, Nicholson, J. Q. Adams and Kevane form this committee. Reports of the committees are to be made known at another mass meeting called for January 19 at the Monte Vista schoolhouse.

Asks Co-operation
In the absence of President Mears, C. C. Campbell, vice-president, addressed the meeting and appealed to those present and every resident of Sunland who had a desire to further the interests of his town to join the Chamber of Commerce and co-operate with it in all civic improvement plans. Ten new applications were made as a result of the talk.

Mr. Henry reported on his interview with a state highway official and of the plans of the highway commission to widen Michigan road to join the Chamber of Commerce and co-operate with it in all civic improvement plans. Reports of the committees are to be made known at another mass meeting called for January 19 at the Monte Vista schoolhouse.

A Santa Claus will be on hand to greet the youngsters at 8 o'clock. Mrs. C. M. Buck, Mrs. E. Miller, Mrs. Hazel Pector, Mrs. Smith, R. Henry and Mrs. Marsh are on the committee in charge of arrangements.

Low Percentage of Crime in Glendale

000 to $8,000 were confiscated. For the last six weeks there have been no arrests. The reason is that the violators of the law are bringing their cargoes through Glendale, using another route to reach their destination.
The police force under Col. Frasier is functioning in a very efficient, though quiet manner, and is another feature that makes Glendale the best residential city in Southern California.

without our booze if we respected the law, but that wouldn't do us any harm.
Surely the maintenance of a free government is worth the sacrifice, strengthening of which we ought to welcome.
Memorize and remember and give heed to what the president has told us:
"Free government has no greater menace than disrespect for authority and continual violation of law. It is the duty of a citizen not only to observe the law but to let it be known that he is opposed to its violation."
