The DOMEI-TSUSHIN-SHA(The Domei Press Agency)

DOMEI-TSUSHIN-SHA(The DOMEI Press Agency) was established as a joint stock company in 1947 at Fujimicho, Chiyodaku, Tokyo and its president is KUWAMURA Motohiko(a Korean). Being requested to remove from the office at Fujimicho in September , 1950 on account of the non-payment of rent, it has come to the present address, No. 2, Daikancho, Chiyodaku. The name of its publisher is TANAKA Heiichiro but on the name-cards used by the publisher himself is printed "TANAKA Ichiro". The chief of Management Section is TAKAKI Tatsuya and there are 18 pressmen. The Compilation Section has Chief AOYAGI Kineo and 5 others. The Editorial Section has Chief KONISHI Keijiro and 4 others, who live in the SHICHOSON-KAIKAN in Shiba, Minato Ward. The major business is the publication of press and subscribed publication of books. In the middle part of January, this year, some trouble took place as to the booking of subscribed publication with SHIBATO Kazuo who was in the Management Section at that time. SHIBATO, accompanying his company, created another DOMEI-TSUSHIN-SHA at 173, Azabu-Kogaicho. This Office is publishing DOMEI-SOKUHO. Chief of General Affair Section is is TSUBOUCHI Shigeru (age 28) and Chief of Investigation Section is TERUI Eiji(age 28). Others are OKIISHI Takeshi, EGAMI Funaichi,and so on. Beside them, many female clerks have been employed recently.The reason why the name of DOMEI is used by both agencies seems due to the fact that the predecessor of the present KYODO-TSUSHIN-SHA ~~which~~ had reputation in the past. Accordingly, they have not any connection with the DOMEI-TSUSHIN-SHA which has.dissolved. But as DOMEI-TSUSHIN-SHA is an organization applied to G item, the utilization of this defunct organization may be justified from commercial point of view, though the use of that name should naturally be avoided. There is no juridical ground on which the use of that name can not be allowed for the reason that it is the name of an organization for speech and information which was applied to G item of the Ordinance No. 1 of 1947, or on which the officials who use that name are designated as purgees. There is no evidence that both angencies are Lefts in thoughts. They are rather Rights, judging from the articles in that paper. The details are now under investigation.

Summary of the Appeal filed with the Appeals Committee of the Public-Office-Holder Qualification Committee.

Under date of Sept.25,1947, the Prime Minister notified me that it was decided to designate me as falling within the purview of the provisions of the Paragraph 4 of the Clause 5 in the Note attached to the Section 7 of the Annex 1 of the Cabinet and Home Ministry Ordinance No. 1 of 1947, on account of my being Chief Editor of the Domei News Service from Oct.6,1939 to Feb.21,1943.

As I firmly believe that I have acted, during the whole of my past career not excepting the term of Chief Editorship of Domei, as a progressive liberal, and have always taken a critical attitude towards every attempt of military aggression, I feel I cannot possibly accept the decision of the Prime Minister, which purports that I be classified as one of the militarists or ultra-nationalists. Therefore I hereby file an appeal asking for a reexamination of my case.

This Appeal accompanies eight Affidavits given by six of my life-long friends, Prof. Yasaka Takagi, Prof. Kesazo Ichimura, Mr. Tooru Shobara, Mr. Noofu Kuribayashi, Mr. Kiyoshi Iwamoto and Mr. Tomohiko Ushiba, all being recognized liberals, none of them purgees, and by Mr. Naotake Sato and Mr. Shigeru Kawagoye. All these affidavits testyfy that I have been a progressive liberal throughout my past life and give, in support of their statements, concrete evidences out of their personal experiences which they shared with me.

The followings are the highlights of factual evidences which I cited to support my case.

1. As an attempt to enlighten public opinion on public affairs before the out break of the so-called Manchurian Incident, I established, together with Mr. Masamichi Royama, Mr. Kesazo Ichimura and others, the Tokio Institute of Political and Economic Research in the spring of 1930, and published a series of "Political and Economic Yearbooks". The whole of the Institute publications were intended to give objective accounts of international and internal affairs from a liberal point of view and to serve the reading public a strong warning against militaristic and Fascistic domination and aggression (Ref. Affidavit by Mr. K. Ichimura)

2. After the so-called Manchurian Incident broke out, I took an anti-militaristic stand in a speech delivered at the Shanghai-Hanchow Conference of the Institute of the Pacific Relations, Oct.1931.(Ref. "The Pacific Relations Affairs", Jan.1932, pp.31-32.)

3. I collaborated in the preparation of a "Memorandam on Manchurian Question", presented by a group of the members of the Tokio Institute of Political and Economic Reserch to Lord Lyttons's Commission. The Memorandum advocated a local autonomy formula based on the recognition of Chinese sovereignty over Manchuria and opposed to the establishment of a puppet "independent state like that of "Manchukuo." (Ref. Supplementary document No. 3 of my Appeal)

4. As a news correspondent in Shanghai(1932-1938) for Rengo and subsequently for Domei News Service, I consistently favored ordinary diplomatic methods as opposed to military pressure in settling Sino-Japanese disputes, and did my best in trying to warn our own people against threatening military aggressions and their possible tragic outcome. This attitude of mine is testified by the cables which were filed either by myself or by my office under my supervision during these six years.(Ref. Affidavits by Mr. N. Sato and by Mr. T, Shobara)

5. The article entitled as"An Interim Report on the Sian Incident", appearing in the "Kaizo", Feb.1937, was one of my attempts to report at some length the Chinese attitude towards Japan which became suddenly stiffened through the Sian Incident and to give a grave warning against an imminent crash of two nations.

6. Immediately after the so-called "China Incident" broke out on July 7, 1937, I made all my efforts to resist the expansion of fighting area, especially in and arround Shanghai. I collaborated with Ambassador Kawagoye in an effort to bring about an agreement for a local truce with Britsh Envoy Hugh-Gessen as a go-between. (Ref. Affidavit given by Mr. S. Kawagoye)

7. During the term of my Chief Editorship of Domei, from Oct.6,1939 to Feb,21,1943, my chief concern was to so manage the whole news services of Domei as to live up to the traditional principles of liberalism and internationalism handed down by Mr. Iwanaga, the liberal founder of Rengo and Domei. My task was not an easy one in view of the ever increasing pressure of censorship. One of my efforts to calm down current anti-foreign feelings and opinions was quoted with compliments by Ex-Ambassador Grew in his "Ten Years in Japan".(Ref. Affidavits given by Mr. N. Kuribayashi and Mr. Iwamoto.)

8. In January 1941, I contributed an article with the title of "Reconstructing Sino-Japanese Mutual Trust" to the "Koron," Jan.1941, in which I pointed out the complete lack of mutual trust which made impossible any diplomatic approach from either side and appealed for the immediate abolition of "dual-diplomacy."

9. In Sept.1941, I served, for eighteen days, at the secretariat for the New Order Preparation Committee, because I entirely agreed with Prince Konoye in believing the necessity of moulding up a new political organization,built upon a popular basis, which would be strong enough to counteract any irresponsible attempt at dictatorship or aggression on the part of the military group.(Ref. Affidavit by Mr. Ushiba)

10. My article "American-Japanese Problems and American World Policy" in the"Chuo-Koron", Feb.1941, was written in order to give a cool objective account of the critical status of the relations of these two countries and to make an appeal for a peaceful solution.

11. While the American-Japanese Negotiation was conducted by the 2nd Kpnoye Cabinet, I made sustained efforts to keep the entire organization of Domei mobilized in its support. Domei's Washington bureau was enlarged, and Mr. Masuo Kato was sent as a special correspondent to help Ambassador Nomura. I arranged for the best use in Tokio of the despatches sent from Kato. I gave relevant news to Prince Konoye as fully and as quickly as possible and also my personal counsels whenever he asked me to do so.(Ref. Affidavits by Mr. T. Ushiba and by Mr. K Iwamoto)

12. On account of these efforts, my health began decling and I was in bed from April 1943 to Oct. 1945, suffering from a serious case of pleurisy and a chest trouble and naturally taking no part in the war-time activities of Domei during that period.

13. From Dec.1,1945 to March31,1947, I was associated with the newspaper "The Minpo," in the capacity of a director at first, and then of the President and the chief Editor. My editorial policy was one of making "Mimpo" a progressive-liberal paper catering to intellectuals and to the working population. My personal attitude is evidenced by a score of editorials and news comments written by myself.

I believe that the evidences enumerated above and the Affidavits by my friends serve as testimonies on my past career and make it clear that I have never been either a militarist or a ultra-nationalist, but a progressive liberal through and through.
