Summon Cabinet Members In Daugherty Probe

MELLON AND WEEKS ARE CALLED TO TESTIFY

Senate Committee Seeks Evidence on Aircraft, And Liquor Plots

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, March 18.—Investigation of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty took another sensational turn when it was announced by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, that subpoenas have been issued for two members of President Coolidge's cabinet—Secretary of War John W. Weeks and Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon. The committee is understood to want to question Weeks in connection with the Standard Aircraft case, in which Gaston B. Means has testified he received $100,000 in thousand dollar bills from a mysterious "Jap" and turned the money over to Jesse W. Smith.

Inquiry Proceeds
Mellon is to be questioned, it is said, concerning liquor withdrawal permits. Means having testified last week that he investigated the Secretary of the Treasury for President Harding and "got him."
The committee today started to dig deeper into the alleged conspiracy to transport and exhibit the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films, calling William A. Orr, former secretary to Governor Whitman of New York, as the first witness. Orr testified he owned 20 per cent of the picture rights.
The committee at the same time announced it had also subpoenaed Major Roy Haynes, chief of the prohibition unit; David Black, head of the Internal Revenue Bureau; H. H. Votaw, brother-in-law of the late President Harding and superintendent of federal prisons; Elmer Dover, former assistant.

MOTHERS TO HEAR DEBATE ON DRESS

Watch With Interest Result Of Vote Conducted by Girls' League

While the girls of the Glendale Union High school are debating the subject of uniform dress, their mothers are "listening in" on the debate and interested in the vote of the Girls' League that will decide the dress problem.
But the mothers have not been ignored, for yesterday at the meeting of the executive board of the Parent-Teacher Association at the home of the secretary, Mrs. J. L. Wernette at 225 South Central avenue, Gwen Warner, president of the Girls' League, was present and discussed the uniform dress problem.
Then on Wednesday afternoon at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher association at the Harvard High school Charlotte Busby and Bonnie Jean Lockwood, High school girls, will debate the dress subject pro and con.
Routine business matters were acted upon at the board meeting, and at the Parent-Teacher association meeting tomorrow at 7:30 o'clock Mrs. C. H. Whitney, president, will preside.
In addition to the debate tomorrow afternoon Mrs. H. V. Henry, chairman of the Mutual Reading circle, will conduct a round table on important subjects pertaining to education.

Whiskey Permits Bring Big Sums, Witness Claims

WASHINGTON, March 18.—In a stormy session, frequently marked by shouting and charges of evasion, the Daugherty investigating committee drew from William A. Orr of New York today a highly picturesque story of how thousands of dollars changed hands among friends of Attorney-General Daugherty for their efforts in getting "whiskey permits" through the prohibition bureau.
As has been the case with most of previous testimony, the attorney-general himself was not directly accused or connected with these various "deals" but always the testimony involved the men around him, who accounted themselves "close."
Howard Manning, who, with prominent members of the administration, received large sums of money for things their supposed influence in Washington did, it was brought out in Orr's testimony. Orr said he could not remember how much he personally had paid to Manning, but estimated it at $6,000—a figure that Senator Wheeler asked if it were not $600,000, but in answer Orr said he did not know.

PLAN OPENING OF NEW S. P. STATION

Ceremonies Will Be Staged March 27; Executives Will Take Part

The date for the formal opening of the new Southern Pacific depot has been set for Thursday, March 27, according to plans that have been completed by the officials of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce in conference with representatives of the railroad, and the tentative program that has been drawn up for the occasion will bring to Glendale a group of the leading executives of the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric to share in the ceremonies.
William Sproule, president, and Paul Shoup, vice-president of the Southern Pacific, have stated that they hope to be present, as has T. H. Williams, assistant general manager of the system, with offices in Los Angeles. Invitations have also been issued to the residents of the San Fernando valley cities, as well as to other cities that will be served by the Glendale depot, to send delegations to the formal ceremonies that will mark the opening of the new station that will constitute such an advantage to the traveling public of this region.
A. J. Rehoid traveling passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, with offices in Glendale, has cooperated with Secretary E. F. Sanders of the Chamber of Commerce in preparing the program and in securing the attendance of the road's executives.

Hewitt to Preside
The ceremonies will be held at 7:30 p. m. and the guests will be welcomed by Mayor Spencer Robinson. President W. E. Hewitt of the Chamber of Commerce will preside, and music will be furnished by a band that will be brought here for the occasion. It is also hoped to have a number of moving picture stars on hand to entertain the guests and the people of Glendale.

A platform will be erected in the rear of the depot and the people will gather on the west and south sides of the station, where a large space will afford plenty of room for them to observe the various numbers on the program.

LONDON, March 18.—A Rome dispatch to the Daily Express today said that Pope Pius XI is suffering from arterio sclerosis. The pope, however, is able to attend to his official duties.

RAIN, SNOW BENEFIT TO RANCHERS

More Moisture Is Due In Southern California, Says Forecaster

The rain in Glendale that started at 8 o'clock last night and continued intermittently until dawn added .34 of an inch to the season's precipitation, bringing the total up to 4.48 inches, as compared with 9.53 inches this time last year, according to figures furnished by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett of 333 West Broadway, who have been measuring the rainfall for a number of years.
While comparatively little rain fell, it was equivalent in value to a much heavier downpour, inasmuch as it fell gently and was at once absorbed into the ground, practically none running away. As a consequence, no local damage has been reported from floods or washouts, as was the case in the early March rains.

Both Rain and Snow
LOS ANGELES, March 18.—Coming as a great relief to ranchers throughout the Southland, rain that varied from merrily drizzles to heavy downpours continued to fall today throughout Southern California.

Colonel H. B. Hersey, in charge of the United States weather bureau here, said Southern California might expect rain all day and into tonight.
Heavy snowfall was reported from the mountains in several sections, particularly at Lake Arrowhead, where it was stated eight inches of snow fell. The snowfall will greatly aid water shortage and will replenish the artesian basins in the valley, it was declared. Snow and hail were reported in Victorville and Antelope Valley.

Ventura and Santa Barbara counties were also reported to have received a generous downpour.

Fills Watersheds
SAN DIEGO, March 18.—Southernmost California was rejoicing today over a generous, soaking rain which fell intermittently yesterday, last night and today. Heavy snows were reported in the mountains. While San Diego city received but a quarter of an inch, some sections of the county were given as much as two and a half inches.

The rain broke a long drought which threatened to stunt orchards, kill pasturage and cause a setback to this section which would reach into millions of dollars in damage. The downpour just over has been dubbed the "nickel a drop rainstorm."
"The underground supplies, the watersheds and the springs are now undoubtedly full," Weather

TWO BILLIONS FOR AID OF VETERANS

Measure Makes Provision For Insurance Policies In Lieu of Cash

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Defying President Coolidge and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the House of Representatives this afternoon passed the new soldiers' bonus bill and sent it along to the Senate.

The vote was 355 to 54, a two-thirds majority being required to pass the bill under the suspension rule then in force.

Only forty minutes was permitted for debate on the bill before the final vote was taken, but in that short time the measure was upheld by ex-service men in the House as "the best adjusted compensation legislation that has been presented to Congress," and attacked by friends of the administration on the ground that "tax reduction was more important now than the bonus."

Insurance Policies
Unlike the bonus bill vetoed by President Harding in 1921, the new measure did not provide for extensive cash payments to the veterans, but made provision for the issuance of 20-year endowment paid-up insurance policies in lieu of cash.

Veterans whose service would not net them more than $50 at the rate of $1 a day for domestic service and $1.25 a day for overseas service will be the only ones who will receive cash under the bill as passed by the House.

The insurance policies to be issued to the others will have an average value of $960, and they will be taken as collateral for loans two years after issuance.
The estimated cost of the bill is a little over two billion dollars.

Summon Doheny In Harbor Lease Probe

LOS ANGELES, March 18.—E. L. Doheny, oil magnate and central figure in the oil scandal investigation, was scheduled to appear before the county grand jury here today in its investigation of the Los Angeles harbor leases and affairs.

It was expected Doheny would be interrogated concerning the lease granted the Pan-American Oil company at the harbor, who was granted shortly after Edgar McKee, ousted by Mayor Cryer as president of the harbor commission, was guest on Doheny's private yacht on a trip to Honolulu.

A WORSE HATCH-OUT IS HARD TO IMAGINE

POLICE SEEKING KIN OF PIONEER

Nephew of '49-er Vanishes On Motorcycle Trip; All Clues Are Fruitless

Glendale police are at a loss to explain their continued failure to locate James W. Marshall, nephew of James Wilson Marshall, discoverer of gold in California in 1848, and one of the most picturesque figures in California's early history.
In the early part of February the police picked up a motorcycle which had been standing on San Fernando road for three days. It was taken to the city garage. A search of the property contained in a small suit case strapped to the machine led them to believe that it was the property of Marshall, who, from the letters he was carrying around with him in the suit case, evidently was making a tour of the points of historical interest in California.

No one has ever claimed the motorcycle and although several letters have been written to addresses indicated by the correspondence he had in his suit case, no reply has been received.

Desk Sergeant John D. Cole this morning wrote the chief of police of Trenton, N. J., where Marshall is supposed to have started his return from, in an effort to clear up the mystery.

He had in the suit case pictures of his uncle's monument, and the cabin where he lived during the wild scenes enacted during the "gold rush" of '49.
Marshall has never been heard from, and whether he was riding the motor at the time it was abandoned or it had been stolen from him is another matter that the police are trying to clear up.

Reports Outlook For Agriculture In 1924 Is Good

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The general agricultural outlook for 1924 indicates that farmers are undertaking a normal production program, the department of agriculture announced this afternoon.

It is apparent, however, that agricultural production this year will still be attended by the difficulties arising from high wages and other costs, a loss of farm workers and the general disparity between prices of farm and urban products, the department stated.

JAPANESE RULER GROWING WEAKER

Emperor's Mental Condition Causes Grave Concern To Physicians

LONDON, March 18.—An official bulletin issued at Tokio states that the mental faculties of the Japanese emperor are gradually weakening, and hope for his recovery is slight, according to a Central News dispatch from Tokio this afternoon. The dispatch adds that the attending physicians fear an immediate turn for the worse.

Crown Prince Hirohito, who was married last year, is acting as regent.
The emperor is in his forty-fifth year. He has been ailing since he ascended the throne in 1915.

MYSTIC SHRINERS TO JOIN CARAVAN

Novices to Face Hot Sands Ordeal at Ceremonial In Seaside Park

Arrangements are now complete for the local caravan, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, to meet the delegations from Pasadena and Alhambra at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, March 22, directly in front of the Elks' lodge on East Colorado street, states President Percy J. Hayselden of the Glendale Shrine club.
One giant caravan will then proceed north to Seaside park, Ventura, where they will attend the Spring Ceremonial, partake of an old-fashioned barbecue at noon and in the afternoon assist Novices in "crossing the hot sands," according to Mr. Hayselden.

Many nobles residing in and around Glendale, numbers of whom are affiliated with the local Shrine club, will join the pilgrimage.

Mr. Hayselden also calls attention to the approaching Shriner's dinner dance, to be given by the Glendale Shrine club Thursday night, April 10, at the Oakmont Country club.

U. S. Court Dismisses German Ship Claims

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The United States court of claims today dismissed a suit by the Hamburg-American, North German Lloyd and other German shipping companies against this government to recover $350,000,000 on account of German vessels seized in American ports at the outbreak of the war.
Twenty-nine corporations were parties to the suit, which was thrown out by the court in sustaining the government's demurrer.

AIRMEN QUIT CALIFORNIA IN DARING NORTHERN JOURNEY

Brave Mountain Peaks to Reach Eugene, Oregon, This Afternoon

BULLETIN
CLOVER FIELD, Santa Monica, Cal., March 18.—Lieutenant Erik Nelson, piloting the fourth around-the-world plane, landed here at 9:25 today, coming from San Diego, where he left at 7:52 a. m. He expected to overtake the three other world cruisers, which left here yesterday, at Seattle.

By CLEM WHITAKER
For International News Service
MATHER FIELD, Sacramento, March 18.—Launched on the second heat of the greatest distance event in modern times, three giant trail-breakers of the United States army air service rose over Mather Field shortly after 9 o'clock, circled California's state capitol as they tried their "magic sails," and pointed northward toward Eugene, Ore., a jump of 550 miles.
Plane No. 1, piloted by Major Martin, flight commander, acted as pace-maker as the ships sped off toward the Oregon line, the crafts of Lieutenant Smith and Wade following him some distance in the rear.

Change in Plans
Barring inclement weather or mishaps, the globe-circling airmen should run the air way over the Sacramento valley and the peaks of Northern California and Southern Oregon by mid-afternoon, reaching Eugene between 3 and 4 o'clock.

A last-minute change in plans which altered the second day's objective from Portland to Eugene cut between 175 and 200 miles from the schedule, turning a tiresome and hazardous flight into a comparatively easy trip, though a longer one than that of yesterday.

FUND FOR FLOOD CONTROL SOUGHT

Request for $1,250,000 Is Submitted to Board Of Supervisors

City Manager V. B. Stone, who spent the entire afternoon yesterday conferring with members of the board of county supervisors and the county flood control commission, regarding the flood control work to be done in Glendale and vicinity, stated this morning that he was unable to say just what action would be taken by the two bodies.

Supervisor Henry Wright, who is looking after Glendale's interest in the allocation of funds, is asking that enough be appropriated to allow the completion of the Verdugo wash and Sycamore canyon projects. He is opposed by other members of the board, said Mr. Stone, who wants large appropriations for the part of the county at the expense of the Glendale district.

Asks $1,250,000
"I shot high in the request," said Mr. Stone this morning. "I asked for a total appropriation of $1,250,000. One million dollars of this would be spent on the Verdugo wash in placing concrete sides and bottom on the roadway so that it would be available for heavy traffic over eleven months of the year. Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars of this I asked for the Sycamore canyon project, which, in addition to what (Continued on page 4)

ERIN'S SAINT IS HONORED BY ELKS
St. Patrick's Day Frolic Is Staged at Celebration Held in Lodge

Memories of "Good Saint Pat" was wrenched in smoke last night at the gathering of over 400 elks at the clubhouse on East Colorado street. Every Elk attending the meeting received as favors an old-fashioned clay pipe and a package of tobacco tied with green ribbon, and when every one filled his pipe and struck a light a toast to Ireland's saint was given while clouds of smoke rolled from the clubhouse windows.

Another Irish feature of the evening was a program of old Irish ballads, beautifully played by the club orchestra under the capable direction of J. E. Becker. Later in the evening Irish songs and dances were given by professional entertainers.

ASK THOUSANDS TO BE PRESENT FOR CEREMONIES

Glendale Sanitarium Heads Invite Many to Attend Opening Sunday

Practically every civic and patriotic organization in Glendale has been invited to send representatives to the formal opening exercises of the new Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital next Sunday afternoon. Seats will be reserved on the speakers' rostrum for these representatives. Personal invitations have been sent to Mayor Spencer Robinson, the members of the City Council, bankers, brokers, lawyers and other business and professional men. It has been the aim of the management of the institution to invite representatives from all classes of men and women, and on the invitation attention has been called to the fact that the buildings will be opened for inspection for all who care to go through at the close of the exercises. It may be that some organizations have been missed in these invitations, and the management wishes to extend a cordial invitation to all Glendadians and whoever else is in the city on that day to not only attend the exercises but inspect the buildings.

Veterans to Attend
Among the patriotic bodies that have been asked to send representatives are the American Legion, its auxiliary, the American War Mothers, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, Daughters of the American Revolution, Daughters of Veterans, the Spanish War Veterans, Sons of Veterans, and others.

The improvement organizations that have been invited include the Glendale Foothill Improvement association, the Realty Board, the Brand Boulevard, Central Avenue, Colorado, Verdugo Woodlands, West Broadway and other similar bodies.

Besides the Elks' band that will dispense music during the afternoon, the Glendale Music Club and other musical organizations have been invited. It is expected that temperance societies such as the Women's Christian Temperance Union, will be represented, as well as the Ministerial Union and the Y. M. C. A. All the chapters of the Parent-Teacher Association, as well as the federated body, have been asked to send representatives, and so has the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle, together with its different chapters.

Invite Civic Clubs
Other organizations that have been asked to have men and women attend the ceremonies include the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club, the Unity chapter, Royal Arch Masons, the Tuesday Afternoon club, the Thursday Afternoon club, the Knights of Columbus, the Builders' Exchange, the Exchange club—in all, more than sixty different organizations that operate in Glendale.

C. E. Kimlin, manager of the sanitarium, has gone to Fresno to extend a personal invitation to all the delegates attending the quadrennial convention of the Pacific Union Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists to come here for the opening. The convention in Fresno will close Thursday, and it is expected that a large number of the clergymen present from all parts of California, Utah, Arizona and Nevada will spend three days or more here until the exercises are held.

While the people of Glendale have been thought of in the list of invitations that have gone out, the management has also sent personal cards to clergymen, surgeons, ministers of the gospel, and other business and professional men throughout Los Angeles and other cities in Southern California. The clubs in Los Angeles have been invited, and so has Mayor Cryer, together with other dignitaries in the metropolis of the Pacific coast.

Patients and Nurses
All the patients in the old sanitarium have received cards, the former patients for a number of years back have been asked to attend, and also the members of the nurses' alumni association. Practically every leading clergyman of the Seventh-Day Adventist denomination throughout North America has had cards sent to him, among these being the members of the executive committee of the General Conference, the Union Conference presidents, and also the local conference presidents. Men in Europe and other foreign countries have also been included, so that at the very beginning the fame of the institution will reach out over a wide field.

Sanitariums and hospitals have also been invited, so that the management is expecting an unusually large attendance from professional men and women in hospital work, as well as others who appreciate the value of such an institution in their midst.

Every man, no matter how able, at some time meets his Waterloo.

MRS. KIRK TO BE BURIED THURSDAY

Final Plans for Interment Completed by Friends of Family Here

Mrs. W. B. Kirk's funeral will be at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Central Christian church at the corner of South Louise and East Colorado street. It was announced this morning by her brother, Charles E. Ragland of Los Angeles, who is making arrangements for the services pending the arrival from New York of Mr. Kirk and his daughter with Mrs. Kirk's body.

Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of the church, will officiate. Pallbearers will be three close friends in the church and three friends and associates of Mr. Kirk in the Pasadena Board of Education company.

Following the services, Mrs. Kirk's body will probably be placed in a vault in Forest Lawn Memorial park until definite plans for permanent interment are made.

George Herald Hurt In Fire Engine Test

George H. Herald, 118 West Windsor road, who was seriously injured in Altadena yesterday afternoon, passed a fairly easy night at the Pasadena hospital and was reported this morning as getting along as well as could be expected.

Mr. Herald's injuries resulted from an accident in which W. S. Grasse, 2045 Mar Vista avenue, Pasadena, former president of the Pasadena Board of Education, was killed, and three others were injured, when a fire engine which was being tested for the newly organized Altadena fire district, overturned as it was going around a curve on Mariposa street and collided with a trolley pole.

Mary Belle Williams, Noted Artist, Is Guest

Mary Belle Williams of San Diego, California artist, is finding Glendale a most delightful place for a rest, as a guest of Dr. Caroline Lester Paine, at 515 North Kenwood.

Miss Williams has won wide recognition for her work in oils, water colors, pastels, and in the field of miniatures.

During recent years she has produced some splendid things in oils and water colors and has also done fine portraits and miniatures, both in California and in the East.

While in Glendale she has been making some special tree studies in Griffith Park and has also been painting in Sunset Canyon and Verdugo Canyon.

Miss Williams now has a big exhibit of her work hung in the Darby Hotel on West Adams street, Los Angeles.

DUSE CALM IN FIRE

By JOHN T. LEWING, JR.
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, March 18.—A few weeks ago only a few names were mentioned as Democratic presidential possibilities. Today more than a score of men are considered as having a chance of winning the nomination in the convention in New York three months hence.

The field is wide open. Every state has a dark horse prancing in Democratic political stalls. If the winner is a Democrat and he provides jobs for all of his defeated opponents, there aren't going to be any for anybody else.

"If only McAdoo hadn't," they will tell you around the capitol, he would have been the next President. The Democrats believe that all they've got to do is nominate a man who doesn't own any oil stock and has sense enough not to buy any before the election. That done, they figure it's all over but the election of the ambassador to Peru and the Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

That's the Democratic view. The Republicans are going to stand pat with Coolidge, it looks like. They figure that this is no time to be changing horses, since the President seems to be doing as much as a President could do under the circumstances.

Here are the men believed to have some sort of a chance to capture the support of the Democrats:

William G. McAdoo of California. Once the strongest contender, now greatly weakened by former connection with Dohney oil interests.

John W. Davis of West Virginia. He preceded George Harvey as ambassador to Great Britain. Happens to be an attorney for the Morgans.

John Barton Payne of Illinois. Secretary of the Interior in the Wilson Cabinet. Sent by Coolidge to Mexico as a peace commissioner.

Josephus Daniels of North Carolina. Secretary of the Navy in the Wilson Cabinet. Considered an able man, but the Democrats are shy about picking candidates from the South.

Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama. The most experienced politically of all of them. But the Solid South doesn't provide candidates these days.

Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana. Considered one of the strongest possibilities. The chief thing against him is his advanced years.

Al Smith of New York. Undoubtedly strong, but chances are hindered by the bigotry of certain elements within the party, and in the electorate.

David H. Houston of New York. Secretary of Agriculture and Secretary of the Treasury in the Wilson Cabinet. Was a university professor before he entered the Cabinet. Now he is in the securities business.

John H. Clarke of Ohio. Resigned from the Supreme Court of the United States to devote himself to advocacy of the League of Nations.

James M. Cox of Ohio. The defeated candidate in 1920.

Newton D. Baker of Ohio. Secretary of War in the Wilson Cabinet. A remote possibility.

Royal S. Copeland of New York. His qualifications for the office include experience as a physician and health officer and as conductor of a medical column in the Hearst newspapers.

James A. Reed of Missouri. Foe of Wilson and the man who called McAdoo a "professional son-in-law." Commended by Hearst.

BROWN IS NAMED COMALT CO. HEAD

Reorganization of Board Is Carried Out at Meet of Directorate

S. W. Brown was named president of the Comalt Company, Inc., at a reorganization of the directorate, held last night in the offices of the plant, 463 West Los Feliz road.

This is the second time Mr. Brown has headed the Comalt Company, Inc. In addition to being the originator of the famous drink "Comalt," he is known as a practical man and the directors feel the destiny of the institution is in hands that will bring it to great success.

Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, well-known in Glendale and with Mr. Brown a heavy stockholder in the company, was elected a director at last night's meeting. The board now comprises:

S. W. Brown, president; Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, H. D. MacKinnin, John A. Logan, O. M. Clinton, H. M. Brooks and A. D. Logan, the latter secretary-treasurer. The position of vice-president is still open, it is stated.

Plan for Expansion
Mr. Brown expressed himself this morning as well pleased with the new directorate and stated Company, Inc., would be one of expansion, both locally and nationally. He declared he was happy to have associated with him such a capable board, pointing out that the company would go far with such partners as John A. Logan, cashier of the First National Bank in Glendale, and H. D. MacKinnin, vice-president and general manager of the Braum Chemical Company of Los Angeles.

Added investments in the near future and an increased pay roll were intimated by Mr. Brown as a part of the local program of expansion that will be launched by the Comalt Company, Inc.

Builders' Exchange Indorses Oratorio

Added indorsement of the presentation next Tuesday night in the Broadway High school auditorium of Mendelssohn's oratorio "Elijah" by the oratorio section of the Glendale Music club, comes from the Builders' Exchange of Glendale and Glendale Camp, No. 12886, Modern Woodmen of America.

Names that have been added to the list of those buying patron tickets are Mrs. Estelle M. Dyke, Mrs. Irene McReynolds, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, William P. MacMullen, Mrs. W. W. Hamilton, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward and Mrs. Dora L. Gibson.

Realtors to Lunch at Presbyterian Church

The Glendale Realty Board will hold its regular weekly luncheon tomorrow at the Presbyterian church, according to plans that have been completed by the luncheon committee. Entrance to the dining room will be from the Louise street side of the church.

Tomorrow's meeting will be in the nature of an open forum, when the members will be asked to submit suggestions for the improvement of the work of the board and for the holding of meetings that will, if possible, prove of greater interest to the members.

Present Drury Lane theatre is the fourth to be built, the first one opened in 1893 and the present completed in 1912.

L. A. DISTRICT LEADS U. S. IN TAX PAYMENTS

Collector Estimates Mail Not Opened Contains Four Millions

That the Los Angeles district led every federal collection district in the United States in percentage of increase in receipts of income taxes from March 1 to 15, was indicated by a special report which was wired to Washington today by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell.

Collector Goodcell reported that a revision of figures showed that the total income collections from March 1 to 15 were $8,828,710.84, compared with $6,113,909.81 for the same period of 1923, a gain of $2,714,801.03, or 44.4 per cent.

In addition to this total of $8,828,710, it is estimated that there is four million dollars in the unopened mail which has accumulated in the Revenue office.

Quarterly Basis
"This increase is a remarkable one," said Collector Goodcell, "in view of the fact that owing to the contemplated tax reduction of 25 per cent the great majority of the returns were paid on a quarterly basis instead of one-half or the full tax being paid as in previous years."

An outstanding feature of the collector's report was that tax collections on current returns (1923 income only) from January 1 to March 15, was $10,323,994.15, as against $7,154,691.51 for the same period of 1923, an increase of $3,169,302.64 or 44.3 per cent.

Saves on Property
One of Los Angeles's most prominent business men who made a lucky turn in the sale of property saved $174,413 on his income tax bill owing to the enactment of the 12 1/2 per cent provision of the 1921 Revenue Act which permits taxpayers in reporting the sale of property that has been held two years or more, to pay the regular normal and surtax rates or a flat rate of 12 1/2 per cent.

Collector Goodcell said that the taxpayer in question made a profit of $447,500 on the sale of property. Under the regular normal and surtax rates he would have paid a tax of $230,350, while under the 12 1/2 per cent provision he was taxed only $55,937.50, making a net saving of $174,412.50.

Accountant Tells Committee Congressmen Dealt In Oil Stocks

By KENNETH CLARK
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, March 18.—Eight federal officials, including a cabinet member, two senators and C. Bascom Slemm, secretary to President Coolidge, were found to have dealt in oil stocks, their names being discovered on the books of brokerage concerns in Washington, Cleveland and New York. It was disclosed today in the Senate oil committee by Lewis D. Bond, chief accountant for the Federal Trade Commission, who for a month has been going over the books of various brokers.

The names reported to the committee by Bond were:

Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty.

Secretary C. Bascom Slemm.

Senator Davis Elkins, Republican, of West Virginia.

Senator Charles Curtis, Republican, of Kansas.

Representative Arthur B. Rouse, Republican, Kentucky.

Representative Thomas J. Ryan, Republican, New York.

Representative Wells Goody Kuntz, Republican, West Virginia.

Representative Joseph H. Hines, Republican, of Ohio.

The last three named retired from Congress last session.

Find Daugherty's Name
Slemm's transactions took place before he became secretary to President Coolidge, Bond said, and while he was still a member of Congress from Virginia.

Daugherty dealt both in his own name and in the account of W. M. Spaid, a partner of William Hibbs of Hibbs & Co., Washington. Bond reported. He said indications were that Spaid's account was that of Jesse W. Smith.

Smith's name, however, did not appear on the books.

Daugherty's profits in Sinclair Consolidated were negligible, Bond testified, and in all of the attorney general's deals, he did not handle more than 1100 shares.

Deals Discovered
Some of the dealings were reported by Bond as follows:

On February 23, 1922, Senator Curtis bought 100 shares of Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation stock.

Daugherty realized a profit on 100 shares of stock of the Pan-American Petroleum company, owned by E. L. Doheny, lessee of Elk Hills reserve.

On June 22, 1922, Slemm bought and sold 1000 shares of Mexican Seaboard, a Sinclair subsidiary, realizing a profit of $1434. He also made a profit of $581 on Mexican Petroleum.

Elkins Heavy Buyer
Elkins had extensive stock dealings from March 16, 1922, to April 9, 1923, through J. P. Benard & Co., New York. He bought 9800 shares for $277,924 and took 1000 shares for delivery on May 24, 1922. He lost in deals in Sinclair Consolidated through Harriman & Co. from May, 1922, to November 24, 1922.

Bond said he had not found an account in the name of "Will Hays" on the books of Ungerleider & Co., Cleveland, through John L. Edwards & Co.

On December 26, 1922, Representative Arthur B. Rouse bought 100 shares of Pan-American Petroleum and sold 87 shares for $8715.

Daugherty Defense
Continuing his defense against charges that he participated in a conspiracy to exhibit prize fight pictures in the United States, Attorney-General Daugherty made public a letter indicating his intention to imprison anyone who tried to transport or exhibit pictures of the Dempsey-Firpo fight.

The letter was from John P. Harris, a theatre operator of Pittsburgh, who had planned to show the Dempsey-Firpo pictures until blocked by the Department of Justice.

TUJUNGA OPPOSE PLAN TO VOTE ON MERGER

All Southern California will join in the rufning of a special train leaving Los Angeles April 6 for New Orleans, thence by Southern Pacific boat "Creole" to New York. The special will be known as the "Southern California Message of Welcome Special."

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and all other chambers of commerce throughout Southern California have signified that they will take an active interest in the making of the special a success.

The special will be run for the purpose of extending to Easterners an invitation to come and visit Southern California. Everyone who is contemplating a trip or vacation in the East are being urged to be members of the delegation aboard the special and represent their respective cities.

Reservations on the special will be limited, making it necessary to allot reservations to each city throughout Southern California. Those who are interested in making the trip, which will in a large degree mark the opening of the summer tourist season by the creation of new interest in Southern California, are being requested to at once get in touch with their chamber of commerce or a Southern Pacific agent, who will furnish data regarding the trip.

Those who are unable to be present aboard the special are requested to write invitations to their Eastern relatives and friends extending to them a cordial invitation to come and visit Southern California. These messages of welcome should be handed to the secretary of the chamber of commerce, who will see that they are placed aboard the special so delivery will be made near the same time that the special reaches New York.

The special will go through New Mexico, Arizona, Texas, Louisiana, then by boat to New York. The trip from Los Angeles to New York will take ten days, leaving Los Angeles on April 6, arriving in New York on April 14.

The Southern Pacific Company in order to make the tour pleasant for the many travelers who are expected to make the trip will assign crews aboard the dining car who have proven their ability in the preparation of tempting dishes, as well as trainmen and boat crews, who have shown exceptional ability in their respective lines of work.

California fruits which so well represent this section of the country will be in abundance aboard the train and boat.

At every stop arrangements will be made to impress Easterners with the facts regarding Southern California and invitations extended insuring them a hearty welcome in this region.

REALTY FIRM IN LARGER QUARTERS

Ripley-Jacke Company Plan Formal Opening of New Home Tomorrow

The Ripley-Jacke company, realty dealers of 200 West Broadway, announce their removal tomorrow, Wednesday, March 19, to their new and commodious quarters at 617 South Brand boulevard, in the building they recently purchased.

E. R. Ripley and Walter Jacke, partners in the business, invite the public to drop in tomorrow and inspect their new quarters. Souvenirs for the women and cigars for the men are promised.

In announcing their removal to the new location, Messrs. Ripley and Jacke report several additions to their sales force, which now numbers the following:

New Salesmen
J. H. Burris, well known local property owner; W. H. Richards, resident and property owner; Clark Johnson, long-time resident and widely experienced in Glendale values; Leland Abbott, a banker from North Dakota, and W. M. Winger, insurance expert and experienced realty salesman.

The firm will be open for business on Wednesday at the South Brand boulevard address. Mr. Ripley states, calling attention to the greatly increased and varied service they will be able to render with the above personnel.

"We have combined large resources for the intensive development of properties in Glendale," says Mr. Ripley, "and when we recommend a piece of property, it means we would be willing to buy it ourselves."

The Ripley-Jacke company will deal in real estate; loans, insurance and exchanges.

REALTY FIRM IN LARGER QUARTERS

Several weeks ago a petition was presented to the supervisors asking them to call an election to vote on uniting the whole valley from eastern Tujunga to the west boundary of Sunland. Following the presentation of this petition several of the original signers were seized with a change of heart, and much opposition developed, with the result that petitions asking for the elimination of certain portions of the territory were signed. The supervisors took the case under advisement, and called for maps showing the exact territory. When these were presented the anti protested vigorously against the larger limits, and asked that they be revised.

Revision was made by the supervisors, and the result proved so unsatisfactory to another group of property owners that the counter-petition was started. The boundaries as outlined by the supervisors would exclude the Tujunga postoffice, the community church, the $50,000 school just being completed and several of the oldest business houses in the town, while it would include considerable undeveloped hill property and a remote residence suburb. Several properties would be divided, part of them being in the proposed city and part remaining outside the limits. One man's house would be so divided as to place his head in the city and his feet in the country while sleeping.

The latest petition will be presented to the county supervisors next Monday morning, when the case comes up for another hearing. Late developments have led men well posted on local affairs to predict that the election will be a failure if called, owing to the dissatisfaction that has been created by the several changes asked. Considerable uncertainty exists in the minds of many of the residents as to just what it is to accomplish, if anything.

DIVORCE DRAWS BITTER ATTACK FROM PREACHER

Rev. Wm. Evans Raps Laxity In Marriage Relation In Modern Life

An unusual crowd from a numerical standpoint turned out to hear Dr. William Evans at the Presbyterian church last night in the face of the threatening weather. His subject was one in which everyone today is interested. He treated it in his usual masterful way. Excerpts from the message are as follows:

"May the marriage bond, under any circumstances, be severed? Does the Christian view of marriage sanction divorce? If so, under what circumstances and conditions? There is no question pertinent to the subject we are now considering that is more vital in its answer and issue than this. No graver question confronts our national life than this one. We are told by statisticians that for every four marriages that take place in some of our cities and states, there is one divorce. This is appalling. No nation can long allow such conditions to exist and not fall into the moral decay and corruption of Rome of olden days.

Quotest Statistics
"There were from 80,000 to 100,000 divorces in the United States in 1910. It is claimed that half of the couples married will be divorced. Satan has always tried to deceive the people on the question of marriage and divorce. In the first place, he tries to get a Christian to marry an unbeliever; then he tries to get a backslider to marry an unbeliever under the pretense that he himself is not a Christian anyway; and, lastly, by trying to induce one of the married parties to leave the other and marry some one else."

Here is Scripture teaching on the subject: Matthew, 5:32, 19:3-2; Mark, 10:2-12; Luke, 16:18; Romans, 7:1-3; First Corinthians, 7:10, 11, 39. We make the following deductions from these verses:

"First, that the divine purpose in marriage is that it is an indissoluble bond, one that nothing but death can sever. So long as husband and wife are living they are 'one flesh.' Some claim that 'desertion' is a ground for divorce, as seen in First Corinthians, 7:11. We leave the reader to judge if this particular passage teaches it.

"Second, that divorce may be granted for one reason only. For the Christian, there is therefore no ground. Regardless of the teaching of the Old Testament concerning other grounds for divorce, the Master made it clear that in the Christian dispensation, there is only one ground.

Scholars' Ruling
"Third, that only death gives either party permission to remarry. It is a commonly accepted truth of interpretation among Bible scholars that if there is only one passage to brace a certain idea and there are as many as three other passages showing the contrary view, by all means to accept the strength of numbers bearing on the subject."

Every afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Dr. Evans is speaking on the Gospel according to John. Tonight at 7:30 o'clock he speaks on "The Christian and the Problem of Amusements."

Herbert G. Tovey is giving splendid service in the matter of music. His voice is rich and touching and his resonance carries the shaded tones out to the audience with equal force to that of the open ones. As a conductor of congregational singing he is considered one of the best.

GIRLS FLOCK TO HEAR TESTIMONY

Story of Romance Between Clarke and Mrs. Schick Attracts Crowd

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 18.—A courtroom, jammed to the doors with bobbed-haired girls in their teens and a goodly sprinkling of women of mature years were waiting eagerly this morning to hear the story of the romance between E. Drew Clarke and Mrs. Sarah Margaret Schick which has culminated in Clarke being tried for the murder of E. Schick, her husband.

Intimate details of the whirlwind courtship of the attractive Mrs. Schick, pressed by Clarke while her husband was occupied with business; of stormy scenes between husband and wife; of love-making by Clarke morning, noon and night, and finally how she yielded to his ardent wooing, and eventually became the mother of a baby girl of which he admits being the father—all of these things proved the magnet which drew the largest crowd ever assembled in a San Diego courtroom.

FIRST ENGINE PILOT... Funeral services are being held in afternoon in the C. F. Lamb Co. mortuary at Eagle Rock for Glen O. Richardson, said to have driven the first Southern Pacific locomotive to enter Los Angeles. He died yesterday, March 17, 1924, at his home, 44 Ridgeway avenue, at the age of 74 years.

Rain and Snow Are Big Aid to Ranchers... (Continued from page 1) Forecaster Blake said today. "The storm means that all pastures, horticulture, etc., will be saved. The winter had been exceeded in dryness to date only by three seasons in the weather bureau's records—the last of which was fifteen years ago. Some large ranches had recently begun to feed their stock straw stored years ago.

THEATRES... THE GLENDALE... "Richard the Lion-Hearted," Associated Authors' version of "The Talsman," continues at the Glendale Theatre, with Wallace Beery in the part he created for "Robin Hood," supported by a cast including Tully Marshall, Marguerite de la Motte and Cathleen Clifford.

THE GATEWAY... "Sporting Youth," with Reginald Denny and Laura La Plante, shows for the last time today at the Gateway Theatre, a Universal attraction based on a fast moving yarn by Byron Morgan, author of the famous "roaring road" stories published in the Saturday Evening Post, several of which were later filmed, starring the late Wallace Reid.

Slayer's Confession Solves Trunk Murder... DENVER, March 18.—Denver's murder trunk mystery was solved late last night when Fred Janssen, suspected of murdering his wife and placing her body in a trunk, which was later opened at Ogden, Utah, where its gruesome contents were discovered, confessed to police.

Burglars Smash Door, Take Gems... LOS ANGELES, March 18.—Crashing through a glass door, burglars entered the Montgomery brothers' jewelry store in West Seventh street early today and stole diamonds valued at $15,000. The thieves were in ten trays in a show case. It was estimated in the police report of the robbery, that fifteen rings of value were taken. Entrance to the store is said to have been gained by breaking the heavy glass of the front door with a felt-covered hammer which was left on the sidewalk.

Puritan Spirit Is Needed Today... Judge Advocates Respect for Law as Preventative of Juvenile Crime... "The old-style Puritanism we used to make fun of is what is needed today to put a stop to the large amount of crime," Judge Hahn of the Superior court of Los Angeles county told members of the Exchange club at the weekly meeting today noon at the Egyptian Village.

Knights Templar Dine, Attend Commandery... There were fifty-five Knights Templar who gathered for dinner last night and later attended the meeting of Glendale commandery No. 53 at the Masonic temple on South Brand boulevard.

Draft Dodger Ready To Serve Jail Term... NEW YORK, March 18.—Low in funds, willing to do his bit to prison as a slacker and ready to expose those who aided his sensational escape, Grover Cleveland Bergdoll is preparing to return to the United States, Norman Haggard, editor of Hearst's International magazine, declared today, following receipt of a cablegram from a representative in Berlin.

Youthful Prisoners... The warden at San Quentin tells me that of the more than 3,000 prisoners there, 82 per cent of them are under 25 years old, and 37 per cent are under 21 years. The moral barriers of the country seem to have been let down. Correction of youth and more important than punishment. "The officers of the law alone can not put a stop to the great amount of crime today. It needs the co-operation of the community and particularly the help of parents, who seem to think the law is no concern of theirs, until their son's daughter is arrested.

Father and Son Banquet... Rex Kelly, of the Glendale Y. M. C. A., outlined the purpose of the father and son banquet to be held next Tuesday night and asked the co-operation of the Exchange club. W. H. Daniels was appointed by President R. E. Johnston to arrange an Exchange club table at the banquet and to see that number of fatherless boys would be taken care of by the members.

TUJUNGA PASS BOND ISSUE FOR NEW SCHOOL

New Building Inadequate as Enrollments Increase; Space Is Needed... Electors of the Tujunga district voted in favor of a $10,500 school bond issue by a two-thirds majority Saturday. The vote was light, compared with the number of registrations in the district.

Fire Razes House... Fire of an undetermined origin destroyed the residence of C. L. Cuppet in the Hillhaven tract, south of the Tujunga business district, Sunday morning about 2 o'clock. The loss is estimated at $1,000, part of which was covered by insurance.

Name Fire Committee... A committee with authority to represent the Tujunga-Sunland fire protection district has been chosen from a list of names submitted by the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce, Valley Center Improvement League and the Sunland Chamber of Commerce.

To Attend Play... "Verdugo Hills Night" at the Mission Play, San Gabriel, will be observed Wednesday, March 26, John Steven McGroarty, author of "The California historic play, who lives in Tujunga, has set aside that date for observing the annual event for his neighbors in the Green Verdugo Hills.

YOUTHFUL PRISONERS... The warden at San Quentin tells me that of the more than 3,000 prisoners there, 82 per cent of them are under 25 years old, and 37 per cent are under 21 years. The moral barriers of the country seem to have been let down.

LARGER SHAPES FEATURED IN SEASON'S MODES WIDER BRIMS AND DROOPING TRIMMING ARE SEEN ON MILADY'S HATS

By MME. LISBETH... With the shops showing almost all small clothes or off-the-face hats or turbans it is interesting to note that there will be a few of the wider brimmed hats worn, especially later in the season, and it will cheer up the woman who feels that these wider shapes are more becoming to her than the small hat.

their trimming, floating ribbons and dangling fruit hanging from the brims. On the upper left is a hair straw model trimmed with wide black satin ribbons which is embroidered with "dove birds" in gray, rose and black. The crown is banded with the ribbon with a bird in front, and the long streamers have a birdie near each end.

On the lower left is another wide shape, the brim of which has a slight upward curve. White crimoline straw is used to fashion it and a gay red ribbon circles the crown and streamers of the same

ADVENTIST ELDER SEES BLUE LAWS PLAN UNDER WAY TO LAUNCH SUNDAY CLOSING MOVE, MARTIN DECLARES

By W. L. BURGAN... For Adventist News Bureau... FRESNO, March 18.—Urging the delegates attending the quadrennial convention of the Pacific Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists to begin a campaign of vigorous opposition to the plan of so-called reformers to secure a national Sunday closing law, Elder W. F. Martin, of Glendale, who goes up and down the Pacific coast as secretary of the Religious Liberty association, declared today that there is a movement on foot to unite 50,000 preachers and 40,000,000 church members into a political league to demand the election of a president of the United States who will give to the Sunday-keeping churches the religious legislation which they demand.

He told the delegates, who are meeting in the Fresno Adventist church at Mariposa and O streets, that in this movement, "there lurks a very great danger. We need to begin a systematic campaign of education. Our neighbors, friends and relatives need to be warned. Men, who like to enjoy their liberties on Sunday as well as other days of the week, need to arouse themselves. They need to appreciate how their liberties would be entirely muzzled if such a plan were allowed to go through. Not only would one town, or one state be blue on Sunday, but the whole nation would suffer with a puritanism that would know no justice or mercy."

Old Measure Beaten... Elder Martin said that much good has been accomplished through the campaigns of opposition to Sunday legislation his association has been conducting, and declared that men in high stations of life have been converted to the high ideals of civil and religious liberty as the result of such campaigns. He told of appearing before the California legislature a few years ago, and with others succeeded in defeating a Sunday closing measure that had been introduced for this state. He said his association was instrumental in securing the signatures of 140,000 liberty-loving citizens of California, whose influence did much toward defeating the measure. These signatures were placed on petitions that were sent to the law-making body asking that the measure be defeated.

By means of these petitions and through the system of our work of education on American principles, the men composing the legislature were led to see the dangers of such proposed legislation, and the Sunday bill was defeated by a substantial majority. Many friends were won for the cause of liberty.

Elder Martin also told of the defeat of a Sunday closing measure that was introduced into the San Francisco City Council, and said that not only did the bill fail to pass "but staunch friends were again made for true American principles. The gentleman who introduced and fostered the bill, voted against it, and stated that he would never introduce or lend his influence again for such a bill."

Predicts Conflict... Elder Martin says he has been informed the Sunday law reformers are now making preparations for the introduction of Sunday bills in the California legislature in the near future. He urged the delegates to join with him in a vigorous protest against the passage of any legislation that would deny the foundation principles of the American government, and declared that he feared there would be a great conflict real soon between the so-called reformers and those who are defenders of the American ideals of civil and religious liberty.

"I agree with one great writer, who evidently had prophetic insight when these words were penned, 'While men are sleeping, Satan is actively arranging matters so that the Lord's people may not have mercy or justice. The Sunday movement is now making its ways in darkness. The leaders are concealing the issue, and many who unite in the movement do not themselves see whether the under-current is tending. Its professions are mild, and apparently Christian, but when it shall speak, it will reveal the spirit of the dragon.'"

Elder Martin also spoke with emphasis concerning the compulsory educational propaganda that is being spread in California, and told his audience that this great state will soon be similarly saturated with Oregon if protests were not made against such movements and an educational work done constantly against such measures.

He declared that there is a movement now on foot to close all church schools, and as the Seventh-day Adventists have quite a large number on the Pacific coast, such a move would be a stroke right at the very foundation of their work as a church organization.

California Is Next... "The success of this movement in Oregon," he declared, "has led its propagandists to hope for success in other fields. Openly and boldly it has been asserted that it will not be long till such a law will be on the statute books of California, and all the other states of the union. Initiative petitions have been prepared and are probably now in circulation calling for an election with the end in view to secure such a law. To effect this, to set forth the evils of such legislation, and to set forth the virtues of church schools, we need to carry on a strenuous campaign of education. We must not delay in this, for allow the enemy to steal a march on us."

He urged the scattering of literature, and declared that everybody must stand solidly in opposition to such a move, and said that the Adventist churches must conduct mass-meetings against this kind of work. He was assured by the delegates that they favored his plan to oppose the reformers, and the compulsory educational advocates, and that some definite action would be taken before the convention closed calling upon the adherents of the church throughout the Pacific Union conference to rally around all moves that were made to protect the church schools, as long as they met the required standards of the state educational authorities.

WIDERS WATCHING... FARGO, N. D., March 18.—North Dakota claimed the attention of the nation today as its voters furnished an index to mid-western sentiment and the first Republican contest with their ballots in the presidential primary election.

President Coolidge and Senator Hiram Johnson appeared on the Republican ballots with the contest admittedly tightened by the determination of supporters of Senator Robert La Follette to keep their leader in the returns, despite his request, supported by supreme court decree, that his name be left off the ticket.

There is no presidential dispute in the Democratic ranks. The state Democratic committee has split and two state slates are offered, but each has been pledge to support William Gibbs McAdoo.

Jury Hears Evidence In Dry Agent's Case... LOS ANGELES, March 18.—The presentation of evidence against Harold H. Dolley, chief field agent of the prohibition forces, to the United States grand jury, charging irregularity in office and "wire-tapping," was continued today.

Today's session was a special one, called by United States Attorney Joe Burke, in an effort to speed up the taking of testimony. It is reported Dolley engaged in "wire-tapping" to trap liquor law violators.

State Prohibition Director Samuel F. Rutter testified at today's session. Dolley was also scheduled to be called as a witness. Alf Ottel, chief intelligence officer for the internal revenue department, continued his departmental investigation in the Dolley matter.

U. S. Solon Held for Grand Jury's Action... ARLINGTON, Va., March 18.—Congressman Harold Knutson of Minnesota, charged with a grave moral offense committed on a lonely country road near Washington in company with Leroy Hull, a government clerk, was held for action by the county grand jury. Both the congressman and Hull pleaded not guilty.

A number of congressmen attended the trial of their colleague, two of them, Representative Larson and Newton of Minnesota, being among Knutson's counsel.

Ex-Actress Beaten In Political Race... CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, March 18.—This city has lost a chance to have a woman mayor, and has won the opportunity of hearing and seeing Miss Effie Cherry in action again on the vaudeville boards this spring.

Miss Cherry, one of the famous Cherry sisters of twenty-five years ago, after staging a whirlwind campaign in a beautiful dress of many decades ago, received 801 votes out of 7,218 cast and ran third.

NOTED DOMESTIC SCIENCE EXPERT TO HOLD SCHOOL

Mrs. Rose Konover to Teach
Glendale Women How to Cook on Range

Announcement that Mrs. Rose Konover, national domestic science expert, will conduct a cooking school at the Jewel City Plumbing company, 526 East Broadway, offers Glendale women an unusual opportunity to learn some of the latest developments in cookery, according to F. R. Bruner and G. L. Bergman, proprietors of the store.

Mrs. Konover will conduct free classes at the store two times daily, at 11 and at 3 o'clock, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, when each day she will demonstrate how a complete meal may be placed on the range at the same time and uniformly cooked so that each article will be ready to serve at a stipulated time.

The range used by Mrs. Konover in the demonstrations is the Sanico, which is being introduced in Glendale by the Jewel City Plumbing company. It is by means of the Sanistat heat regulator that the uniform results are obtained, the proprietors state.

Claim Can't Rust
E. A. Campbell, vice-president of the American Range & Foundry company of Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Louis, is in Glendale personally co-operating with Messrs. Bruner and Bergman in establishing the product of this concern, which carries a twenty-five-year guarantee against rust, baked into the porcelain, and has been advertised in the Curtis publications and other national magazines.

"The Sanico range is as easy to clean as a china dish," said Mr. Campbell, commenting on the excellence of his product. "We are living in a porcelain age. Rust is uneconomic, unnecessary, unhealthy, unaesthetic. Particularly in the Southern California climate, which encourages rust, the Sanico range is proving a revelation."

Mrs. Rose Konover, who will conduct the cooking school at the Jewel City Plumbing company for the balance of the week, starting tomorrow, will show how with the Sanico range and the Sanistat heat regulator, cooking is raised from arduous labor to a delightful science.

FURNITURE MADE IN NEW DESIGNS

Exclusive Patterns, Styles
Feature Articles From
De Luxe Company

Several new and exclusive designs in high-grade upholstered and overstuffed furniture have been added to the stock of the De Luxe Upholstering company, 273 Broadway, Eagle Rock. Products of this firm are to be found in many Glendale homes, where their pleasing construction, delightful designs and reasonable price, make them articles eagerly sought by persons who know the value of good furniture.

Every piece of furniture that leaves the factory is passed upon by expert inspectors, after skilled artisans who have devoted their lives to furniture building, have put their best work into each article. Men who are authorities on interior decorations and the value of the right kind of furniture to a home, are always to be found at the factory and office, and willing to give homeowners the value of their long experience.

One of the principal parts of the industry is the repairing and making over of old furniture which appears to have outworn its usefulness in the home. Repair work is called for and delivered and the firm maintains a delivery service that serves its customers in Eagle Rock, Glendale and neighboring territory. Their telephone number is Gar. 5139.

Offers $150 Reward
For Thieves' Capture

C. D. Wolfe, 340 Verdugo road, Burbank, offers a reward of $150 for the apprehension of the two men who stole his Hudson roadster, after looting his residence during his absence. The theft was reported to the local police yesterday.

Their loot from the residence was one cameo ring, a string of pearls with platinum clasp, and two suits of clothes. After robbing the house, they broke the lock on the garage and stole Mr. Wolfe's car. The roadster was painted dull blue and had new Kelly-Springfield tires all around.

Woman Injured When Automobiles Collide

Mrs. Nettie V. Pedlowe, 905 Maple street, was slightly injured Sunday when her car collided with another machine driven by Fred Smith, 200 Broadwick drive, Los Angeles.

The collision occurred at the intersection of Central and Wilson avenues. Her injuries were not serious and she was able to proceed to her home.

COMMENT That's All

More Rain for Ranchers
Prosperity Is Here
World Flight Progress
Democracy and Exploiters

By Gil A. Cowan

More rain of immense value to the ranchers has fallen in Southern California during the last twenty-four hours, giving hope of increased prosperity in this favored clime.

It is difficult to comment on rain, other than to echo the thought, "It is good, it is life."

Much easier it is to talk about prosperity, which is abundant here, if we but look for it. Pity the person who has no work, for, in a measure, it is his or her own fault.

A youth was glancing through The Glendale Evening News' classified columns. He didn't find the job he was looking for—because he wasn't looking for work. In fact, he was dodging anything that looked dirty, although he was none too clean.

Perhaps some of these young fellows, and older ones, too, who are looking for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow instead of the realities of life, have been shouting pessimism. It is the class of ne'er-do-wells who always see the clouds, and not their silver lining.

Prosperity is here, according to statistics. Prosperity is here, according to those who are up and doing. Prosperity is here for those who believe it. Prosperity is here, for a fact, and it is going to stay, regardless of the croakers.

However, it is this class who put us all on guard to continue preaching the progress and prosperity of this land.

Glendale soon will christen its new Southern Pacific railway station, the most exclusive of its kind on the system. Architecturally a gem, there is nothing to compare with the city's depot facilities, it is said by those who are "in the know."

Great interest is evidenced in the world flight now under way on the part of United States army fliers. Hopping off in the face of adverse weather conditions, the first three made the first leg of their journey, and today they are en route to Vancouver barracks in Washington.

How different flying conditions are today over twelve years ago; the flying circus of Sunday at Santa Monica as compared with the first air meets in Chicago and New York, when aviation was in its infancy.

It is easy to predict that in another decade the air lanes will be as much traveled as those of the ocean, and it will be the custom of New York and Chicago financiers to commute to California for their week-ends.

You may smile at the assertion, yet Nicola Tesla assures the world he can broadcast power. That will enable lighter-than-air machines to travel as rapidly as electric motors may propel them. There will be no need for heavy gasoline tanks. Neither will there be necessity for flying between Los Angeles and New York cut to eighteen or twenty hours, more assurances may be had on weather conditions. Yes, aviation is in its infancy, but it is a lusty youngster.

Sometimes we wonder who is to blame for conditions which permit of graft and corruption in high office. Is it the puppets of politics or the people who permit the system to continue? The Hollywood Citizen has a common-sense editorial on the subject, which says:

"A prominent minister, while condemning the immediate offenders in the scandals now being aired at Washington, tells the public some rather harsh truths. He is not greatly impressed with the superior virtues of citizens who are content to point a scornful finger at the culprits. It is the aggregate of virtuous citizens, he insists, who are really responsible, and he continues:

"We are too busy making money to bother much about government. We are resentful of government interference, and we are content not to interfere in government ourselves, so that the high privilege and grave responsibility of guarding and saving the lives of 100,000,000 people are left in the hands of professional politicians—as a rule, very ordinary people, who are in politics only for gain.

"We blame failure of democracy upon the bosses and the party machines. We thus absolve ourselves. We forget that this is a democracy and that these men are in power as long as we permit them to remain. As long as we shall be content to seek absolution by pointing the finger of condemnation, we shall continue to be betrayed.

"We the gifted and competent among the people shun office, and when the whole people is indifferent to all except the spectacular, then democracy must fall in the hands of the exploiter and the marauder."

"We can all afford to do a little thinking over this."

Child, Struck by Car, Is Slightly Injured

Edward Wales, 5, was slightly injured yesterday when he was knocked down by a car driven by Roy Johnston of 1133 South San Fernando road.

Johnson was in his own driveway at the time of the accident. The child ran out from a gate at the ball park and dashed in front of the car. Johnsson swerved as far as possible but was unable to avoid hitting the boy. His injuries are not serious.

STUDENT STRUCK BY TRUCK AFTER LEAVING SCHOOL

Verdugo City Girl Is Injured
When Dragged 30 Feet;
Ran Into Road

Struck by a heavy truck and dragged along the pavement for a distance of 30 feet, as she was returning to her home after attending school, Leoma Crowell, 11 years old, of Verdugo City, today lies in a serious condition as the result of an accident yesterday afternoon.

The child suffered a broken collar bone, her face was badly scratched and bruised, and the left ear was nearly severed from the head. Physicians who are attending her have not been able to determine whether she is injured internally.

Dashes Into Road
According to eye-witnesses, the little girl was accompanied by Eileen Karr, a school chum. When about half a block from the Karr home, Leoma is said to have run but into the road after a stone she had thrown, stepping directly in the path of the truck.

John F. Lewis, 614 Acacia avenue, driver of the truck which belonged to Peter L. Ferry, contractor, attempted to stop, it is said, but was unable to do so, the truck skidding about 60 feet. The child's body was caught and dragged in such a manner that her hair was ground into the pavement, witnesses said.

The girl was carried to the Karr home, where Dr. Karr and Dr. E. L. Wemple worked over her for two and one-half hours attending to her injuries.

Speaks on "Safety"
H. N. Wier, president of the Verdugo City association, today spoke to the students at the La Crescenta school on "Safety." The address was delivered at the request of Principal Blanford.

After the accident, Mr. Lewis is said to have stated the brakes on the truck proved defective when he attempted to stop it as he saw the little girl run out into the road. He made an effort to check the speed of the truck's wheels, he used the reverse pedal, finally bringing the machine to a stop, but too late to prevent the accident.

MAN'S MAIN NEED IS SELF-DENIAL

Rev. Millikan Points Road to Moral Greatness In Sunday Sermon

"Greatness in the Kingdom" was the subject of the morning sermon by the pastor Rev. L. J. Millikan, at the Broadway Methodist church Sunday. Selecting Matthew 5:19 for the Scripture topic, he said, in part:

"The words of this text show us just how we may really attain to greatness, which is a worthy and commendable ambition. We must strive, and strive under the conditions that regulate greatness, not necessarily in the eyes of men, but great in the record God keeps in heaven.

"Dividing the clauses of these words of Jesus a simple punctuation mark tells a man how to start upward or downward—self-denial is the beginning that leads to greatness, but, unless we practice it daily, we know nothing about self-denial. We have a most perfect example of self-denial in your Lord and my Lord when we follow him to the Garden of Gethsemane, and see Him agonizing under the weight of the sins of the whole world.

Official Corruption
"Selfishness and self-indulgence in today making such inroads into the lives of some of our officials—men holding high positions of honor and trust—as to threaten the very existence of the nation. That official who will sell his honor, and thereby double-cross his government, is unworthy of public trust and should be speedily removed."

"Self-control is the next essential to greatness, and directly follows self-denial. He that masters himself is greater than he that ruleth a city." We are to be masters of ourselves, striving to serve others, but this can only be done by our following the example of the Savior.

"Why will men continue to strive after the vain glory of the world? I must prefer to think of the time that lies just ahead, when God will say, 'This enough—you are tired now. Enter into the joy of thy Lord.'"

Evangelistic Sermon
At the night service the subject discussed was "An Awful Exposure," and the pastor delivered an unusually strong sermon along evangelistic lines. With a kindly warning he urged his congregation to "Put your house in order."

The usual song service, preceding the evening sermon, and led by Will J. Myers, was much enjoyed.

REGENT BRINGS REPORT OF MEET HELD BY D. A. R.

Organization Demands Rights for Veterans, Indians, in Resolutions

"America's World War veterans and the American Indians are always near the hearts of the Daughters of the American Revolution," said Mrs. C. W. Houston, regent of the General Richard Gridley chapter of Glendale, in telling of the two resolutions formulated and adopted by California Daughters of the Revolution meeting last week in Pasadena for their sixteenth annual conference.

A resolution demanding the establishment of the United States Veterans' bureau and the establishment in its stead of a state commission in every state in the Union to care for disabled war veterans and to disburse funds appropriated by the federal government for their care was unanimously adopted by the conference.

"This resolution was wonderfully presented by Mrs. Maynard Force Thayer after a stirring address by Mrs. George C. Squires of Minneapolis, Minn., author of the resolution for five years state regent of the state of Minnesota and one of America's gold star mothers," says Mrs. Houston. Her plea was most eloquent as she asked for sweeping and effective changes in the methods of administering to the needs of damaged men who are entitled to more faithful and more decent treatment.

Appalling Figures
The figures she presented were most appalling. She said the Veterans' bureau has failed to function because it has not pursued the right line of action. More than $900,000,000 have passed through the bureau since this government undertook to provide for the men who came back maimed and broken from the fields of France. What has become of the $250,000,000 of that money, which has not been properly and satisfactorily accounted for? That is a question which those who have had charge of those funds are being asked. Something like $316,000,000 has been spent for hospitalization work, yet, notwithstanding all these enormous expenditures, the disabled men have not been protected.

"I advocate that the administration of these funds be taken (Continued on page 6)

Kirk Letter, Held Up In Mail, Describes Beauties Of Mediterranean Cities

Readers of The Glendale Evening News who are regretting the conclusion of the interesting travel letters by W. B. Kirk, will be pleased to know that one of Mr. Kirk's letters, written February 19, at Marseilles, France, was delayed in the mails, arriving at the News office Saturday. It is printed herewith and will be greatly enjoyed by those following the Kirks' foreign travels. It reads:

"Although we received considerable mail at Nice, only one person thought to tell us that Glendale won first prize again at the Rose Tournament. The genius of Mr. Chobe seems to be inexhaustible. Glendale is certainly fortunate in having him as a citizen, because these floats are a great advertisement for the town.

"We enjoyed our visit to Nice, but are glad to be getting a little nearer home. While we have had a marvelous trip, I confess I am beginning to have enough of it for a while, and am ready to settle down again.

"We have decided to abandon our intention of returning via Panama, largely because of the fact that we want the wife to spend at least part of the spring in the mountainous region of North Carolina, at Asheville. So we will embark to New York from a French port, and take a fast train south as quickly as possible.

Abandon Havana Trip
"After settling the family there I expect to go on home arriving there about March 25 to 30. I had expected to sail to Havana and go up through Florida but the boats that way are few, and since our robbery I have felt too poor to take on any extra expense and I know that Florida is expensive.

"We arrived here tonight, will see the sights tomorrow and perhaps stop at Avignon on the way to Paris, where we will remain ten days to two weeks before taking ship.

"Continuing my travel story, there are two or three things I intended to say about the wonderful country in Genoa. One is to mention a very handsome black sarcophagus which we saw there and which is the most beautiful jet black piece of marble in the world. Oh! how black it is! One other thing is, that we have the official book containing fine pictures of the best of this statuary which we will be glad to let you see.

Magic Enters the Kitchen
ALADDIN rubbed a magic lamp and received everything he wanted. But—that's only a fairy story. Modern woman touches a magic red wheel and receives from her gas oven perfectly cooked food—every time. And this is actual fact.

Thousands and thousands of American housewives know the joy of owning this magic red wheel. It works for them every day in their kitchens. And it works like a charm.

No Oven-Watching, No Bad Luck, No Failures
Every cook knows what it means to have to stand watch over her oven. Every cook, even the best cook, knows the meaning of "unlucky" results. Every cook knows how hard it is to duplicate each time the best bread or cake or pie ever baked, or the best dinner she ever served.

Fancy then owning a magic wheel that forever ends gas oven-watching, forever banishes "unlucky" days from the kitchen, and gives you such accuracy in cooking that you equal your very best results every time, perhaps even excel them.

The magic wheel does all this—the magic red wheel whose name is Lorain.

Good Cooking Made Easy
Lorain measures and controls gas oven heats. All you do is to put

DIRECT ACTION Gas Ranges
Direct Action oven linings and oven bottoms will not rust out—because there are none. Examination of any Direct Action oven will show you there are no side flue walls or solid oven bottom. The upkeep of your range accordingly will be small, practically nothing, as you never have to replace rusted linings. This open construction of Direct Action ovens reduces condensation to a minimum, thus preventing the gathering of moisture to eat the body wall.

SCIENTISTS WILL EXPLORE ALASKA RESERVE OF OIL

Geological Survey Party to Visit Unknown Region for Five Months

A telegram was received at the Department of the Interior at Washington from Dr. Philip S. Smith, head of the geological survey party that is exploring naval petroleum reserve No. 4 in Northern Alaska, announcing that he and his party of a dozen or more men and 140 Eskimo dogs have made their "hop-off" from the last outpost of civilization and will for the next five months be entirely on their own resources and beyond communication.

Naval petroleum reserve No. 4 includes a great area of some 35,000 square miles in the extreme northwestern part of North America, in one of the most inaccessible parts of Alaska. Last year the Geological Survey explored its coastal part and found enough evidence of the presence of oil to justify its further survey. The inland part of the reserve can be reached only by a winter journey, and this expedition is therefore now on its way.

Will Cross Ranges
Dr. Smith is a geologist and an experienced Alaskan explorer. The party includes another geologist, Dr. J. E. Mertz, and two engineers, R. K. Lynt and Gerald Fitzgerald. All three of these men were selected because of their proved ability to endure hardships met in traversing an unknown region and to combat the rigors of an Arctic winter.

The region to be explored lies north of the Arctic mountain system, a series of high ranges that stretch athwart Northern Alaska. South of these ranges lie the drainage basins of the great Yukon and Kuskowim rivers, where vegetation is abundant and there are tillable and pasture lands, so that the country is assured of settlement by white men. The winters are cold but not so severe as to forbid habitation, and the growing season of seventy to one hundred days permits many food crops to ripen.

The country north of the Arctic mountains is the only truly polar part of the United States, comprising less than 20 per cent of the total area of Alaska. In polar tasks there are less than forty days in the year without killing frost; all timber is absent, and such vegetation as can grow is stunted. In sheltered places back from the coast the traveler will find low willows, but in much of the region not even these are available for fuel. Unless the explorers find coal or residue from petroleum seepage, their cooking must be done with kerosene, which must form a part of their heavy equipment, just as it does for explorers who cross the Arctic ice caps.

Light Rainfall
This region may well be described as a polar desert, for it is semi-arid, having less than ten inches of annual precipitation. As none of the snow melts until the summer thaw, however, Dr. Smith expects to find enough for sledding. Most people gain their conception of polar exploration from the well-known photographs of (Continued on page 6)

SCOT SAYS NEWS HAS THRILLS IN ITS OPTIMISM

David L. Rae Writes His Brother Here From Glasgow, Scotland

"Anyone who cannot get a thrill out of reading The Glendale Evening News New Year number about California is a DUD."

That is the way David L. Rae of Glasgow, Scotland, writes his brother, James L. Rae, 126 North Louise street. Incidentally, he sends copies of the Daily Record of Glasgow, which is a good newspaper, but lacks the optimism found in southern California columns.

Mr. Rae, who visited here seventeen years ago, is greatly impressed with the way this country is forging ahead and if his health would permit he would be in the sunny southland.

Brother James and his wife, Hazel W. Rae, who is associated with J. E. Barney in the real estate business at 131 North Brand boulevard, plan to make a trip to Scotland late in the summer.

Sensational Story
Mrs. Rae says that few people in America realize that the Scotch and English distillers are reaping a rich harvest through the activities of international rum runners and she provides the following clipping from the Glasgow Record:

"Remarkable disclosures are made regarding the existence in London of a secret organization for the smuggling of whisky into America."

"At the head of this 'bootleggers' organization is a mysterious figure known only as 'Captain Candid,' whose secret headquarters are situated in Limehouse, the Chinese quarters in London."

"The agreement recently signed between Great Britain and the United States has entirely altered the rum-running business, as revenue cutters have authority to search all vessels within one hour's steam or sail off the coast of America."

All About Rum Ring
The reply of the rum-runners to the new agreement is the establishment of secret headquarters in London, while the capture by the American Excise men of the ringleader of a gang of rum-runners also made it necessary to abandon the base at the Bahamas, for he had in his possession many documents from which the American detectives were able to compile a 'Rum-runners' Who's Who.'

"The rum ring is said to have a huge capital and the profits on some cargo ranges in amount from £5000 to £10,000."

"In a Limehouse public-house, famous as a rendezvous for sailors from every part of the world, 'Captain Candid,' it is said, signs on his crews for the 'Rum-runners' Armada,' as the fleet of steamers which carries thousands of gallons of liquor from this country every week is known."

Shadowy Ships
Once signed on, the men are sent to whatever port it has been decided to re-victual the old tramp steamers which are now in commission as the new London-American rum fleet.

"These vessels patrol the 14,000 miles of the coast of the United States, getting rid of their liquor cargo quietly, and eventually arrive with an innocent air at Vladivostok in ballast."

"During the whole of this time they are in wireless communication with the heads of the rum ring."

"Whisky and brandy are not so much favored for the traffic as rum and gin. These fetch higher prices, and there are unlimited stocks."

Daring Leader
"Captain Candid" is a past master in disguising cargoes and veiling their destination.

"British by birth, he has spent much of his time in the United States."

The profits made are so enormous (says the Sunday Express) that the captain can afford to pay his subordinates well.

His daring and resource have so far completely outwitted the American detectives now in London, who have received instructions from Washington that at all costs they must get to the heart of the organization and smash it.

Verdugo Hills Legion Meeting Is Scheduled

The regular meeting of Verdugo Hills Post No. 288 of the American Legion at Montrose tomorrow night will be known as "post commanders' night." Commander E. L. Sullivan is in charge of the program and will also be called upon to furnish the "eats."

A report of the executive committee on a building site will be presented, and arrangements made for the reception to be accorded Department Commander James P. Collins when he makes his visit in April.

Rainfall Brings Joy To Thirsty Vegetation That Grows On Nearby Hills

"In the spring a young man's fancy Fondly turns to thoughts of rain."—California Version.

Last night's rain, while amounting to but .34 inches, according to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett of 333 West Broadway, who for a number of years have been keeping tabs on old Jupiter Pluvius, was literally worth its weight in gold—and "a good time was had by all" the little rootlets and shootlets. The season's downfall now measures 4.48 inches, as compared with 9.58 inches last year.

Now, while rainy-looking clouds continue to loiter above the erstwhile green Verdugo hills, playing hide-and-seek with the sunbeams, the burning question is: Will it rain some more? And if so, how much more? If not, why?

Vegetables Worried
Ah, 'tis a soliloquy as grave as Hamlet's "To be or not to be," for many a poor little vegetable! The Bartletts have been accustomed to study the clouds and the fullness thereof. While they refuse to join the ranks of the prophets, they are able to offer certain deductions, from the figures they have kept for over a decade.

The following tabulation, arranged from their records, and giving in inches the amounts of precipitation in March, April and May, the past four years, forms a basis for the fondest speculation:

MARCH
1920	6.14
1921	4.25
1922	2.70
1923	.59
Total	13.68

APRIL
1920	.18
1921	.25
1922	1.33
1923	2.64
Total	4.40

MAY
1920	.03
1921	4.99
1922	1.15
1923	none
Total	6.17

From the above table, it would appear that the chances for rain in March are far better than in April or May; and that of the three, April is the poorest bet, with the chances nearly half as good in May as they are in March.

Rain Makers Busy
With the famous rain-making Hatfield brothers, Paul and Charles, working against time in Coalinga, on a contract to produce two inches of the precious fluid before April 15, with $8000 in cold cash staring them in the face if success crowns their efforts, and with the aforesaid Jupiter Pluvius still flitting around the tipmost of the tops of the topmost tips of the (as remarked) erstwhile green Verdugo hills, after last night's flurry, it is to be hoped by several billion thirsty roots that in one way or another a few more much-needed drops will be shaken loose ere long from the reluctant clouds.

FILM AND STAGE STARS GIVE AID FOR DISABLED

Thirty Acts Listed on Big Benefit Program at Broadway High

"A program that will, in every sense, be worthy of its cause," is how Joseph A. Wilson, commander of Glendale post, No. 127, American Legion, characterizes the entertainment to be presented tomorrow night at the Broadway High School auditorium for the benefit of the disabled veterans of the world war and the local post's building fund.

A glance at the stars on the program seems to amply justify his conviction. The following artists, whose names are synonymous with the acme of delight in things theatrical, will positively appear, according to L. D. Fish, who, through Miss Virginia Pearson, secured their co-operation:

The Might of the Mite

Says "Common Cent":

"The strength of the wolf is in the pack; but the strength of the pack is the wolf." "How small, how powerless a single drop of water seems." "A myriad of drops rushing over a precipice make the might Niagara. Here is untold energy. Harness it and it drives your street cars, lights your cities, turns the wheels of industry." "I, too, am little. But with my brothers, 'Common Cents,' I can work wonders. I am power, wealth, attainment to those who know me, use me right and put my energy to work."

Probably you have often said to yourself: "I am going to start saving!" Then again you've thought: "Oh, well, what's the use? I cannot spare enough to really count." Then it's the time for you to "think again." No matter how small the bit you can afford to put aside out of your earnings, do not make the mistake to despise it. Resolve NOW to save it. You'll find it easy. And, after ever so short a time, you will be surprised to find out how rapidly your reserve is mounting up.

Right now while the thought is in your mind drop in and talk things over with us. We will gladly help you map out a "savings program."

DENVER, March 18.—Denver the queen city of the plains, and the mecca of sportsmen in the Rocky Mountain region, is going to have a new athletic stadium. Sport followers in the mountain country have frequently denied the privilege of witnessing athletic contests between the best collegiate, amateur and professional performers of this section and outstanding Eastern aggregations because of lack of facilities for accommodating large outdoor assemblages.

To remedy the situation, Mayor Stapleton has appointed a committee of 21 business and professional men of the city to secure an athletic stadium for Denver. The committee is headed by Col. A. E. Humphreys, millionaire oil operator, nationally known philanthropist and a man keenly interested in the development of young manhood through wholesome outdoor activities.

Financing of the proposed structure is expected to be through public subscription, after which the committee, in full charge of details, will select the site, the type of stadium, and work of construction will follow rapidly. Appointment by the mayor of a stadium committee means, according to enthusiastic supporters of the project, that Denver's dream, long cherished, is finally to be transformed into a reality.

Enlarging the travel movement into Colorado so that it will eventually bring tourists and prospective settlers into the state all the year round, was the idea behind the campaign of the Denver Tourist Bureau to raise $150,000 for this year's propaganda work.

Outside committees of Colorado not only agree with Denver leaders that this all-the-year trade is a possibility, but are enthusiastic over the success of winter sports, encouraged for the first time this season.

Ten years ago, July and August were considered the vacation months in the Colorado Rockies, but several ski meets and winter sports carnivals this year have attracted thousands of outsiders to the mountain region during the last two months.

QUITS SMART SET FOR STAGE Viscountess to Play Under Name of Byng

Viscountess Torrington

London society was quite shocked when it learned that the "Miss Norah Byng" who has been playing a minor role in George Arliss' "The Green Goddess," in the British capital, is really the Viscountess Torrington. The Torrington family name is Byng. The Viscountess has long had an ambition to become an actress and appeared many times in amateur plays sponsored by society. Now it is announced she has definitely taken up the stage as a career.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

SELF-CONSCIOUS
Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a woman about 25 years of age and feel that I am the most self-conscious person living. Please advise me how to overcome this. I am also very timid which makes life most uncomfortable and makes one lose the best of life's opportunities. SELF-CONSCIOUS.

ill-at-ease you feel. In reality others are too deeply interested in themselves to pay much attention to you. You could benefit yourself and at the same time enjoy yourself if you studied others and tried to decide what makes them act as ease. Charm of manner is very often developed through observation. To be timid is really a great handicap, and less easily overcome than the feeling of self-consciousness. Reason is the only thing that will help you. Study the situation in the light of reason and it will relieve you a great deal to know that your fears are without foundation.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

Well-known druggists say it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.—Advertisement.

THE CORRECT WAY

Dear Mrs. Thompson: When a family has moved to another city, and a card is sent by them with only the words, "Greetings to all," and their address, should I send a card and thank them, or am I expected to write a letter?

When some one says, "I am glad to meet you," what should the answer be? THANK YOU. The card was doubtless sent, inviting you to write a letter. If you care to further the friendship, reply with a letter. Otherwise, merely send a card, thanking them for their card and saying you hope they are happily located. Reply, "Thank you. I am glad to meet you, too."

UNHAPPY WIFE AND MOTHER—Your letter has brought forth letters from various people who are interested in your case and would gladly help you out in regard to the children. Perhaps you will want to send me your name and address.

MISS E. E.—I will keep your letter in case I hear from UNHAPPY WIFE AND MOTHER.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE CURTAIN

In Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow were windows. Nurse Jane Fuzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, had long lace curtains, with holes in, over the windows. The holes in the lace curtains did no harm, you understand. They were not moth holes. They were more like holes in a piece of Swiss cheese—they belonged in the lace curtains—the holes did.

Besides the lace curtains there were also shade rollers, or spring curtains over the windows. These curtains rolled up and down. If Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow had been in England the roller curtains would be called blinds.

"But, no matter what you call that one, it is no good," cried Nurse Jane one evening, when she was pulling down the window shades after the lamp had been lighted. "That one roller curtain is no good at all."

"Why do you say that?" asked Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose.

"Because it isn't any good," went on Nurse Jane. "Every time I pull it down, and expect it to stay, it rolls itself up again. Look."

Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy pulled this shade—it was on a dining room window—down.

"Zip!" it flew up again as quick as lightning.

"There—you see!" cried Nurse Jane, turning to the bunny rabbit gentleman.

"Try it again," suggested Uncle Wiggily. "The spring didn't quite catch that time."

So Nurse Jane pulled the shade (in England blind) down once more, shutting out the black night from the bungalow. The curtain seemed quiet enough and well behaved.

"There you are!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "It's all right."

But, hardly had he spoken than, all of a sudden, there was a zipping whizz, and the shade rolled itself up tightly on the stick and sprang all the way to the top of the window.

"There you are!" cried Nurse Jane. "I never know when it will do that. It flies up at all hours of the day or night. Sometimes when I pull it down it stays—other times it flies up again. It needs fixing, Uncle Wiggily!"

"I'll fix that window shade!" cried the rabbit. He hopped across the room, stood on a chair, reached for the ring in the bottom stick of the shade and pulled it down hard.

"Bang!" The roller curtain jumped out of the fixtures at the top of the window. Down fell the shade (blind in England), and it whacked Uncle Wiggily hard on his head.

"Ouch!" cried the bunny rabbit.

"There you are!" laughed Nurse Jane.

"Yes, but I would much rather not be here!" cried the rabbit. "Oh, what a bang! I certainly must get a new window shade tomorrow."

"Well, put that one back in place for tonight," suggested Nurse Jane. "Perhaps it will stay where you want it if you put it back on the fixtures."

Uncle Wiggily carefully replaced the shade roller at the top of the window. Slowly and carefully he pulled it down, held it a moment and then let go of the bottom stick. The curtain remained where it belonged.

"Hush!" whispered Nurse Jane. "Don't make any noise and don't jiggle the floor, and perhaps it may stay down."

So the bunny gentleman and Nurse Jane walked around very carefully and spoke softly, and the shade didn't spring up. Uncle Wiggily had his supper, and he was sitting at the dining room table, reading the paper, waiting for Nurse Jane to finish washing the dishes, when, all of a sudden, the door softly opened, and in came the Wolf!

"Ah, ha!" roared the Wolf. "This is a nice, quiet evening for nibbling ears! Ah, ha!" And he spoke so loudly that the queer window shade suddenly rolled itself up to the top, so that anyone could look in the window from outside.

"Oh!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "See what you've done! Please pull the window shade down, Mr. Wolf. If you don't some one may see you nibble my ears! Pull the shade down!"

"Yes, I'll do that!" barked the Wolf. "The Fox is outside and I don't want him to see me taking your ears or he'd want some himself."

Quickly and roughly the Wolf stepped on a chair and reached the window shade. He pulled it down hard, and then—all of a sudden—the heavy window curtain (in England blind) dropped from its fixtures, and, falling down, banged the Wolf hard on his head.

"Oh, me! Oh, my! Oh, what a whack!" howled the bad chap. "I didn't know you had a policeman dog here to club me, Uncle Wiggily!"

"I'll go away! I'll be good!" And out of the bungalow he ran, not nibbling any ears at all.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny gentleman, twinkling his pink nose. "It's a good thing to have a falling window curtain sometimes!"

So if the eye of the needle doesn't wink at the spool of thread and make it hide inside the thimble, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the bread and sugar.

Oh, what a whack! howled the bad chap.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.—Advertisement.

LA CRESCENTA PICTURES SHOWN IN SCHOOL ROOM

Movie Program Given Under Auspices of P.-T. A. Is Enjoyed by Pupils

This afternoon the first picture show of the season was given in the La Crescenta school auditorium. "The Clodhopper" with Charles Ray was the feature, while "Knights of the Saddle," and "Felix Comedy" finished out the bill.

The children were charged 10 cents each and of course there was a full house. It has generally been felt the average child would enjoy a good, clean picture once a week and as these shows are given under the supervision of the Parent-Teacher association, parents are assured their children will see only clean pictures of the better type.

A great surprise to the entire valley is the news of Charles H. Easton, well known bachelor and realty dealer, joining the ranks of the Benedictines yesterday morning. Mr. Easton took as his bride Mrs. C. Hawley mother of Mr. Hawley, proprietor of the lunch stand in the Montrose market.

MONTROSE SWAN-STOCKTON NUPTIALS ARE SOLEMNIZED AT HOME OF GROOM'S PARENTS

A PRETTY HOME WEDDING WAS CELEBRATED AT 8 O'CLOCK SATURDAY NIGHT

A pretty home wedding was celebrated at 8 o'clock Saturday night, March 15, at 635 Waltonia drive, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Swan, Sr., in which Miss Ynez Erlene Stockton was united in marriage to Arthur Swan, Jr., by Rev. Geo. L. Durr, pastor of the Montrose Community church.

The bride was in her apple blossom taffeta wedding gown, carrying a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Masher of Tulunga, was dressed in blue charmeuse and Spanish lace. The groom was attended by Leland Stanford of Paloma, who acted as his best man.

After the ceremony a delicious wedding supper was served. The guests, the bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts of silver, cut glass and china. After the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Swan, Jr., will be at home at 807 Beaver street.

Plans Are Delayed Unforeseen obstacles have arisen in the plans of the Montrose Amusement company which will necessitate the delay of construction of the new playground.

BALDNESS—No. V.
Alopecia Areata.

Did you find a lot of loose hair on your pillow this morning, and on looking in the glass find you had a bald spot on your head the size of a dime or a dollar? My word, but I'll wager it gave you a creepy sensation. But don't despair. You are suffering from Alopecia Areata. Alopecia Areata usually comes suddenly like that and in many cases without any preliminary symptoms. It is not an uncommon disease and it afflicts men, women and children.

There is a question as to whether Alopecia Areata is of a nervous or microbial (germ) origin. Some investigators believe that it is caused by a germ of some character, and that it is contagious. The French observers have reported numbers of cases appearing in barracks or schools, and from there spreading through and other towns. In England and in our country similar apparent epidemics have been reported. Those who believe that the disease is contagious think that it is transmitted most often by barber's utensils which have not been sterilized.

Those who often believe it is of nervous origin cite the fact that it is often met with in association with various nervous diseases. One investigator believes that decayed teeth and eye strain have been the causes in some cases.

Alopecia areata may affect the head or other hairy regions of the body. Sometimes ringworm—a fungus growth—or pediculi (lice) and other local diseases of the scalp, and a certain serious systematic disease will produce bald spots, but in these cases the cause is easily discovered.

There may be but one bald patch or there may be a dozen. The spots are usually more or less circular in shape and sharply defined by the surrounding hair.

Usually the hair comes in again, but it may be from three months to several years. First there is a fine down upon the patch; this falls out, being replaced by heavier hair, which in turn falls out and the normal hair grows. This may come in white at first.

Treatment: First, the general health must be attended to. The proper nutrition, especially, is important. We know that the nutrition of the scalp is affected where the general nutrition is affected.

There should be a thorough physical examination and any defects corrected. The eyes and the teeth should not be overlooked. Children should be taken out of school as there is a big possibility of the condition being contagious; and in the home care should be taken that a separate comb, towel and brush are used, and separate bed.

The local treatment is based upon the stimulation of the part by massage, and the use of anti-parasitic or germ-destroying medications. One authority, Jackson, states that the loose hair around the patch should be pulled out for about one-quarter of an inch, and every few days any loose hairs should be removed.

Many remedies are suggested for this condition. Among the simpler is strong ammonia water. This is to be dabbed on the scalp with a swab several times a day, being careful of the eyes. Another remedy is one part of iodine to two parts of colloidion painted on the spots every day or so. Another simple remedy that is given is acetic acid. This is painted on the spot until it whitens and then is sponged off with cold water, such applications to be made every three or four days.

However, if you are suffering from Alopecia areata, you should be under the personal supervision of a skin specialist, if possible, and you must have great patience because it may be some time before the hair grows. The skin specialist may use electricity or some of their special electric lamps.

With the next paper we'll finish these bald articles.

Tomorrow—Alopecia Senilis.

Economical Housekeeper—"My floor matting is badly stained and faded. Yet it is not much worn. Can it be painted in any way?"
Answer—Yes, it can be made quite presentable by receiving two coats of high-grade floor paint. First wash the matting with strong soda water to remove grease and let dry thoroughly before applying the paint. Grass and fibre rugs can be treated in the same way except that they need to be washed with soapsuds and a very little ammonia (in the water) instead of the soda solution. Stretch and tack firmly to the floor before painting.

E—"For a large number of people, such as one sees at church suppers, one can save time and strength by mashing potatoes in a bread mixer. I thought this hint might help other women."
Answer—I am sure it will, and I want to thank you for it.

EDNA KENT FORBES

ANSWERED LETTERS

Helen—Massage with a good skin food every day.

To improve the coloring of your hair, massage the scalp vigorously or have it treated for a time. It is possible that there is poor circulation in the muscles of the scalp, which would be a reasonable cause for the color fading from the hair. You can tint the spots where it has become too light by using henna when you shampoo. Be careful not to overdo this, however, or it will not suit your natural shade. From three to five minutes will be a safe experiment in handling the henna treatment at first.

Miss N.—Consult the doctor about the dark circles around the eyes, and when you are relieved of whatever ailment is causing them, your skin will become firm again. Massage with a good cream every day and give your skin an astringent treatment once a week.

Billy—In the mixture of oatmeal and shaved soap for the little bags to be used when bathing the face, oatmeal of the old-fashioned sort is best because it is finer. There is no reason for soaking the meal; and since you only have a good-sized teaspoonful in the bag, the only necessary soaking will be the few minutes that the bag is in the wash water before you begin to use it. You will find that the water will begin to soften at once. I will mail you the formula for a cleansing cream if you request it and send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for forwarding.

Cloudy—Cold hands may indicate poor circulation, and this may also account for the condition of your skin. Take a good tonic, and there is nothing better than cod liver oil for people as much underweight as you are. Continue with your skin treatment, and for the redness of your hands during the cold months, use any of the honey and almond preparations.

S. L., A. L. E.—I will mail you a formula for the lashes if you send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for forwarding. Massage with a nourishing cream to help rid your skin of the lines.

Blue Eyes, Red Head—With auburn hair you can easily color your white lashes and brows with henna. This would be the natural shade for them while the walnut color would not be; also the walnut stain is apt to get on the skin when touching the brows and stain that too.

Pearl W.—Try cucumber juice on the freckles, but it will not remove them entirely, any more than lemon juice or any other skin bleach. So long as freckles are natural to you you will be forming new ones. All that you can do is bleach them slightly. The soap you are using is very good.

Tomorrow—Face Massage

"Oh, no let me buy them."
"But I insist. It's my turn."
"No, you paid the last time."
"I am sure you are mistaken."
"However, I shall buy them."
"I shall be very angry if you do."
"Now, don't be foolish."
"You bought them last time."
"No, I am certain I didn't."
"Yes, you did. I remember."
"No, you are certainly mistaken."
"You had to break a $10 bill."
"No, never carry a $10 bill."
"But I saw you haul it out."
"My dear, don't be ridiculous."
"Now listen! It's my turn."
"I shall be angry if you insist."
"However, I shall insist."
"Please don't be foolish, dear."
"Why shouldn't I buy them?"
"Because it is my turn."
And so on.

Is Your Back Giving Out?

Are you miserable with an aching back? Do you get up lame and stiff—lag through the day, tired, weak and worn out? Do you wonder why you are so run down? Many times this condition is due to weak kidneys. Winter colds and chills are hard on the kidneys. The kidneys are apt to slow up in their work of filtering body-poisons from the blood. These poisons accumulate. Then comes backache, with rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and kidney irregularities.

Don't risk serious kidney trouble! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's have helped thousands. They are recommended by many Glendale people. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Glendale Folks

Harry Woods, shoemaker, 214 W. Stocker St., says: "I have had attacks of kidney complaint and have taken Doan's Pills. I have found them a first class remedy for backache and pain across the small of my back that came on after working at the bench. A few Doan's Pills have always given me prompt relief and I am glad to speak a good word for them."

Mrs. C. W. Campbell, 1816 E. 41st St., Los Angeles, Cal., says: "An attack of kidney trouble came on suddenly, and dull, pulling pains remained in my back for long periods. The bearing down misery affected me, so I got around only through great difficulty, and the weakness in my back prevented me from doing much work. My kidneys became disordered. A quick turn or move brought on dizziness. I tried Doan's Pills and they cured me of the attack thoroughly."

Each month has been won by the timely swatting of the Sox. Thornton U. S. C. hurler, was in hot water several times last Sunday, but his teammates rallied to his support in the eighth inning and drove out enough runs—six—to tie up the game.

FANS GIVE MORE SUPPORT TO TEAM

Glendale fans are beginning to sit up and take notice of the doings of the White Sox, and at last believe that they have a team now that is inclined to fight for the decision.

Lack of effort on the part of the leaguers who wore White Sox uniforms during the winter seemed to put a damper on the contests. Time and again the Sox got away in the lead, only to lose it in the latter part of the game through their apparent nonchalant attitude.

Teams Well Balanced

Eighty-three ball games have been played between Stanford and California in past years. Stanford has won thirty-seven of these, and is out to even up the total this season.

Good Base Stealer

"Shorty" Roberts, the smallest man on the team, is the most persistent base-stealer that Stanford has had for a long time. He carries a horseshoe in both hands and at times out of ten he makes his bag. "Shorty" plays second.

Woodward, the newly elected captain of the team, is holding out at first sack, and has been bettering his hitting stride in the past few games.

Behind the plate the Stanford mainstay is proving to be Jim Lawson, captain-elect of the football team.

Tigers Meet Trojans in Initial Ball Game

Coach Wilkie Clark's Occidental varsity baseball team will make its debut Wednesday afternoon when it meets the University of Southern California baseball nine in a practice game on the Oxy diamond.

FIGHT RESULTS

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 18.—Frankie Schnell, Buffalo, defeated Ed Egan, Boston, (10); Bert Schneider, Montreal, defeated Paul Scarborough, Columbus, (6); PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, March 18.—Gene Larue, Canadian flyweight champion, knocked out Eddie Grant Portsmouth, third round.

SCIENTISTS WILL VIEW OIL FIELD

Geological Survey Party to Penetrate Into Alaska's
Petroleum Region

Arctic expeditions crossing the ice pack, with its irregular hummocky surface, but most of the land in the Arctic region is relatively smooth. Dr. Smith starts with five tons of supplies and four canoes to be transported some 460 miles from Nenana, on the Alaska railroad, across the Arctic mountains into the upper waters of the Colville, a mighty river that flows northward to the Polar sea. This journey, it is expected, will be made in less than two months, and the party will probably reach Colville river in April. They will then have about two months more of good sledding to explore the south end of the petroleum reserve. On reaching the field of work the party will be subdivided into two, in order to cover as much ground as possible in the time available.

Take Lots of Dogs
This long journey to the field of operations is the most difficult part of the explorers' work. Their freight will be dragged by ninety dogs. As each dog eats several pounds of dried salmon a day, the supplying of dog food is not the least of their tasks. In addition to the dogs of the freight team, fifty more will be used for the technical party.

Before the June thaw comes the dogs and sleds will take the back trail to their starting point, and with them will go all the men but the eight or ten who form the two exploration parties. When the rivers that those parties will launch their canoes and trace the unknown course of two of the largest rivers to the Polar sea.

This journey is not made for adventure, but for geologic and topographical surveys to obtain definite information about the presence or absence of great oil fields in this distant region. All the details of equipment and personnel have been planned with great care by members of the Geological Survey who have had long years of experience in Alaska. The provisions have been carefully chosen, but experience has shown that the most suitable food is that used by Alaskans themselves in their arduous journeys. Practically all of the provisions and much of the equipment have been obtained in Alaska. Only the canoes were carried into the country. They are of the Peterboro type and were built in Canada according to specifications long ago adopted by the Geological Survey.

Plenty of Deer
In this northern region there is much coal and probably at least some petroleum. Of other resources, the extensive reindeer pastures are perhaps the most valuable. The wild reindeer or caribou are also sources of food, but the members of an exploration party cannot afford to depend on game for food, although they will gladly take such as comes their way. To rely on hunting is likely to retard progress and prevent the party from carrying out systematic plans for surveys. The explorer who has a definite task to perform can leave nothing to chance; if he does, his main purpose may be frustrated and he will have to return with only a picturesque account of wild adventures.

Dr. Smith and his colleagues will not only be able to determine much of the possible oil resources of this northwest end of America, but will explore the largest unknown area in Alaska.

Legion Show Slated for Tomorrow Night

Harry Tighe, Loomis twins, Benny Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Edwards, Priscilla Dean, Cosmo Morgan, Buster Keaton, and "Wolf" the historic war-dog.

The demand for seats has been so great that over two thirds of the reserved section was sold out during the week end. Not content with proffering their services without monetary remuneration, the artists appearing on the program turned back a block of 150 of the choicest seats in the center of the house which had been reserved for them and their friends so that the disabled "buddies" fund might reap the full harvest of dollars.

March Credit Is Due
"In undertaking this show the members of the Legion took upon themselves a tremendous task," said Adjutant E. E. McWain, this morning. "These stars who are going to appear for us are continually besieged with applications for their appearance at benefits, but we met with a whole-hearted response. Miss Pearson, who works unceasingly for the benefit of the ex-service man, took it upon herself to get their consent, and that she succeeded is evidenced by the list of those going to be here.

"At the present time in Glendale there are numerous cases of service men, totally and partially disabled through their wounds in the world war, whose compensation is not sufficient to support in the manner that they are entitled to. Almost daily I have requests from deserving cases for assistance, and as our fund is sadly depleted, many of these I am unable to take care of properly.

Response Wonderful
"The response of the people of Glendale has been wonderful. We are presenting this show, which I feel safe in saying is the equal if not the superior of anything of its kind ever attempted in this section of the state, for the small price of one dollar. We wanted to place it within the reach of every one's pocketbook, and there is not an act booked on the program that is not worth the price of admission."

Rollin Edwards is directly in charge of the stage, and while it is expected that the show will consume at least three hours, it is arranged that the acts so that there will be no delays. Arrangements are being completed today for the appearance of an augmented orchestra to assist the entertainers.

Stars Well Known
To single out any one act would do the others an injustice, said Mr. Fish, yet Will Rogers, who appeared on the fire benefit show last October is well known to Glendale people. Sheldon Lewis' work in extracts from "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" was pronounced by New York critics to be the best ever presented on the metropolitan stage. Molly Midran as an impersonator of international characters has an enviable reputation, and Miss Pearson is one of the cleverest readers ever appearing on the American stage.

"Wolf" the historic war dog, wounded in action and decorated for his fine work under fire by General Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied armies, also is on the program.

Kirk Letter Describes Mediterranean Scenes

tend to the sea the entire distance, the scenery is fine, on one side the blue Mediterranean and on the other the picturesquely located towns with their houses extending up the hillsides and covering every jutting headland.
"Numerous short tunnels interfered with the sight seeing somewhat. As we drew near to Nice we had a fine view of Mentone, Monaco and smaller villages between. They constitute almost one continuous city and the winding of the road compelled slow running.
"We reached Nice about 6 p. m. We had written to the Hotel Suisse of our coming or we would surely have been out of luck, as every hotel in the city is crowded. It has a beautiful location, the finest in town, I think, on a point of rock, which extends into the sea far enough to give a setting to the hotel from which the entire bay front is seen, and with the breakers dashing against the rocks below and only the width of the street between.

Breakers Roll In
"I said bay. It is a bay, quiet, with only ripples lapping the shore sometimes, but at others the breakers come in high and strong and dash with fury on the shore. On the other side of the point, the city has a small harbor protected by a short sea wall.
"One morning I was standing close to the iron fence, which runs around the edge of the rock opposite the hotel, when a huge comber began to break. Realizing its size I beat it hurriedly. It threw the water away into the street wetting several people severely, especially a lady wearing a beautiful white costume, who was drenched. She was surely a good sport as she saw the ludicrousness of it and began to laugh and blush and refused to leave for dryer clothes.
"My folks are crazy over the color of this water, nearly always a beautiful turquoise shading into jade. Both the water and the foam appear shiny and satiny, the latter having the sheen which appears in beaten whites of eggs.

"Nice is the center of the Riviera, which as you know, is a rival of our section for tourist trade and from what we have seen of it is worthy. In many things we are reminded of home, the climate being not dissimilar (though not so good) and the vegetation practically the same including palms, century plants, magnolias, peppers, figs, camphors, acacias, oranges and lemons.
"The yellow blooms of the ordinary acacias seem to be regarded as quite beautiful here as they are on sale at the flower stands along with roses, carnations, stock violets, pansies etc. Nice is quite a large town having a population of 150,000 residents and a tourist population of about 100,000. Their carnival season begins on Thursday of this week and lasts several weeks.
See Monte Carlo
"We were glad to be through there before the big crowd arrived. On Friday we took an auto bus to Monaco and Monte Carlo. It is some fifteen or twenty miles east and the road winds around the hills above the railroads, always along the sea and gives fine views.
"Monaco is a principality within itself, the smallest in Europe, and as it derives its entire upkeep from the profits of the gambling and didn't have to furnish its quota of men for the army it is not very well liked by its neighbors.
"Monte Carlo rises on the hills with a very stiff grade. Of course 'The Casino' is the principal attraction of the town and is its center and we wanted to see it,

Luther Burbank is still working on a nonsquirt grapefruit.—Chicago Herald-Examiner.

Aged Gamblers
"I was surprised to see the number of middle aged old people playing the same game and the large number of women. Every body was quiet, there was no evident excitement but intense interest. As I watched these people risking their money, many their hard-earned savings, which they needed for the care and protection of old age, I realized the extreme weakness of human nature and the frantic desire of people to 'reap where they have not sown' and to get something for nothing.
"How can intelligent people chance their money and souls on the turn of a dice? How glad we were that our country had put all this kind of stuff out of business years ago!
"We had a fine lunch at the Paris cafe, nearby. These French surely know how to cook! But you can't tell what it is by the bill of fare. I would advise all of you younger folks to learn French. If you ever expect to make a trip over here you ought to do so.
Everyone Speaks French
"Even in countries like Egypt, Palestine, Syria, Turkey, Greece, the natives can speak or understand some French, when they don't know a word of English. It seems strange how the French have gotten such a hold on other countries with their language. And French should be learned from a native born Frenchman. Its pronunciation is very difficult for an American. I am told that teachers of the French language in America come over here, who are absolutely unable to make themselves understood by French people!
"To anyone who has studied Latin it is not so hard to gather a little of the meaning, when seeing the language in print, but when you hear it read or spoken you can't catch any of its meaning." A word which I see so frequently is occasion and am pleased to say that I have learned that it means 'special,' 'sale' or 'bargain.' How that word has bothered me!
"And say, strictly American things are not cheap on an 'occasion' in Europe. The Saturday Evening Post cost forty-five cents in Italy and Ivory soap, small size, runs from thirty to fifty cents in price."

from the hands of men who have proved their utter unfitness and placed in the hands of a state commission in every state, with the governor of each state acting as chairman, and six other members, three of the six to be women.
Protect Indians
"Another resolution that was adopted demands the Joint Congressional committee to report out a bill aimed to protect the Indians." This was offered after Mrs. Stella M. Atwood of Riverside, chairman of the Indian affairs committee of the General Federation of Women's clubs had told the delegates of the long struggle which had been made to obtain justice and governmental protection for the Indians of the southwest.
Added interest to Mrs. Houston's account of the conference, is her commendation of Miss Ida D. Myers, who in addition to being vice-regent of General Richard Gridley chapter, is also state chairman of conservation and thrift.
At the national congress last year Miss Myers' report was praised by the national president general. Friday morning in Pasadena, she was lauded again, when in eight minutes she gave a clever report in chronicle form.
On Saturday Mrs. Houston served as chairman of the election tellers.
American Christmas
Those at the conference were most interested in Mrs. Houston's report on activities of the General Richard Gridley chapter. One of the features of every year for the chapter is providing an American Christmas for the 100 or more Mexican children at the Albion school in Los Angeles, and is a philanthropic interest that stands out uniquely in that kind of work done by the Daughters in California.
In speaking of the election of Mrs. H. J. Mannhart to the regency of California, Mrs. Houston says, "California Daughters are delighted with their new leader, and as regent of Glendale chapter, let me pledge our loyalty and co-operation to her."
Mrs. Lyman B. Stookey, the retiring regent, was a most capable and inspiring leader and it is with regret that we joined with the other California Daughters in bidding her farewell.

STONE-TILE
GERMAN CONSTRUCTION

A Name to Remember

STONE-TILE is a "wet-mix poured" concrete hollow tile. The name is easy to remember and easy to say.
The name is for your convenience and correctly represents a standard, uniform product with the good qualities of stone and the added advantages of tile as a building material.
STONE-TILE is produced in these sizes: 3 1/2 x 8 x 12 and 3 1/2 x 6 x 12 inches, the most convenient sizes for rapid construction work. It can be laid in the wall for a quarter of the cost of ordinary masonry and about the same cost as inferior frame construction.
