PARISIAN DYEING ESTABLISHMENT.
34 Carondelet, between Poydras and Gravilliers streets.
MR. HERD has the honor to inform the public in general and ladies in particular, that he has established at the above place, an establishment of M. Bonnet. The large scale on which the numerous improvements which have been added, and worked with a steam engine of a new model by Messrs. Bonnet & Co., will enable the undersigned to execute orders with a promptitude and perfection hitherto entirely unknown. By the considerable sale now experienced by him for the last two years, he is enabled to offer his customers prices which will defy competition, and which do not preclude the possibility of keeping up the goods entrusted to his care in the present perfect state. The promptness with which Mr. Herd has introduced the new steam system, of which he is the sole possessor, inspires him with the confidence that he will furnish his customers with their goods at the shortest notice and punctually, and at prices which will defy competition. Those having furniture or carpets to dye would do well to call at the Parisian Establishment, where they will always find a report of the day's business. The charges will be most reasonable.

Architecture, Civil Engineering and Surveying.
HAVING changed my office to Banks' Arcade, on Magazine street, between Gravier and Perdido, I respectfully state that I continue to tender my professional services in every branch of Architecture, Civil Engineering and Surveying, as heretofore. Plans and specifications for the public buildings of every kind, dwellings, churches, &c., in the Italian, Gothic, and all the various styles of architecture, will be executed with strict regard to solidity, comfort and beauty, accompanied with specifications and estimates, based on the local average prices of materials and labor.
Plans and estimates of greater internal improvements and public works, canals, railroads, waterworks, docks, bridges, &c., will be executed with accuracy and despatch. Having a corps of assistants, I am prepared to undertake the survey of large tracts of land, and to attend to business at a distance from New Orleans, at short notice. Any important enough, and to execute all orders with which I may be favored with promptness and fidelity.
Having had a considerable experience in the erection of works of the greatest magnitude, and in the valuation of real estate, topography of land, plans, specifications and estimates for machinery, plans, specifications and estimates for private residences, dwelling houses, warehouses, &c., I trust that I may be made acquainted with the nature of the duties required of me, and that I shall have been considered sufficiently competent to undertake the superintendence of the execution of such works as may be entrusted to my care.
Letters addressed to me either in the English, French or German languages.

During the morning session a resolution was submitted by an Illinois delegate, declaring that the Convention should limit its demand upon the Federal Government for aid, to such subjects as both parties may think are constitutionally within the range of its action. This resolution was adopted. After a hour taking occasion to repeat his views in relation to the powers of the General Government over subjects of internal improvement.

At the evening session John F. Butler, of Pennsylvania, and General Gaines, were elected Vice-Presidents. The latter to represent the Convention at large. The Committee on the Military Road between Vandalia and Arkansas, made their report, and submitted a resolution providing that Congress should be memorialized to appropriate $250,000 at its next session for the completion of the road. The report and resolutions were referred to the Committee on Forts and Defences

Judge Woodruff and E. Prescott, Esq. from New Orleans, arrived and took their seats this afternoon.

The following were the remarks of Mr. Calhoun, referred to by our Correspondent.

"I wish it to be very distinctly understood that the power of the General Government to construct roads, &c., is limited to purposes of defence of the confederated States. There is an error in the common understanding of the words "National power" and "general welfare." The words are frequently misapplied. There is no "national power," as applied to the General Government, beyond what is expressed in the Constitution. We are, in our confederation, a congregation of nations, of sovereign states, and on that feature our system depends. When you say an object is of national importance, you mean it is of Constitutional importance. If we had no constitution to bind us in one compact, there would not be what is commonly called the "general welfare."—Now these things all come back on the one grand feature, that we are several nations congregated in one compact.

The General Government cannot grant appropriations for local purposes not connected with national defence.—But the Mississippi River and its navigable branches are peculiarly an object within the range of their Constitutional aid. It washes several of these sovereign States—and in that view it may truly be considered as much an inland Sea as either the Chesapeake or Delaware Bays.

Local appropriations, it is true, gentlemen, are always abused by what is commonly called "log rolling," and the result thereof is to be seen in the fact which I stated yesterday, that the entire value of the works thus far completed by the General Government in that manner at the expense of nearly seventeen millions of dollars, is now reduced to about a million of dollars.

I take the liberty of making these remarks, that I may not be misunderstood."

Postscript.

ADJOURNMENT OF THE CONVENTION.

By the arrival of the steamer Maria, yesterday afternoon, we received the proceedings of the Convention on the day of its adjournment, which for want of space, we are compelled to furnish our readers in a condensed form.

During the morning session of the Convention, on Saturday the 15th, Gov. Jones, of Tennessee, introduced a resolution, that a Committee of one member from each of the States represented in that body, should be appointed by the chair, to whom should be referred all of the reports and resolutions of the Committees appointed by the July and present Convention, with instructions to report in a series of resolutions, embodying the sense of all the reports and resolutions, of all the different committees. Upon the adoption of this resolution by the Convention, the following named gentlemen were appointed by the President as members of the general Committee.

Gov. Jones, of Tennessee, James Guthrie, of Ky., A. T. Ellis. Ind., H. T. Reed, Iowa, T. B. Craighead, Ark., Judge Woodruff, La., J. H. Lucas, Mo., Elwood Fisher, Ohio, G. C. Clay, Ala., C. K. Clifton, Miss., T. J. Bigham, Pa., Col. Gadsden, S. C., R. B. Minor, Va., R. Sneed, N. C., and Judge Scates, Ill.

In the afternoon session, a number of resolutions were adopted, and several reports from the Special Committees were referred to the consideration of the general Committee. On motion of Mr. Myers, of Arkansas, the thanks of the Convention were tendered to the Hon. John C. Calhoun, for the dignified and impartial manner in which he had presided over their deliberations; to which Mr. Calhoun responded in his usual happy and felicitous manner. The Convention then adjourned until 9 o'clock, P. M.

When, Mr. Calhoun having retired from the chair, the Hon. C. C. Clay, of Alabama, was unanimously called upon to preside.

CITY Intelligence.

CRIMINAL COURT.—Pepit [illegible] and battery with intent to [illegible], discharged from custody.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—The Charleston Courier of the 16th says:—We learn that a requisition was received by Gov Aikin, on Wednesday evening last, from the Governor of Alabama, for the arrest of John H. Peters, Esq., formerly a practising lawyer in that State, but recently residing in this city, (whence he had emigrated,) to answer a bill of indictment found against him for forgery. We understand that Mr. Peters was executor of the will of Wm. Bryant, Esq., of Tallapoosa county, Ala., deceased; and that the alleged forgery has some connexion with the testator's will, or a note given for purchase at the sale of his estate, (or both,) involving an endorsement of the estate's money. The accused was arrested yesterday, by Deputy Sheriff Solomon Moses, and delivered to Messrs. Jno. M. Pierson, and Needham Bryant, (the alteration of whose note is said to be part of the offence charged,) the agents of the Governor of Alabama—who leave with their prisoner for Alabama, this morning.

STORMS ON THE LAKES.—The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser gives the following particulars account of the recent storm on the lakes:

The brig St. Louis 1st, which cleared in ballast, on Sunday morning, under the charge of the master, Mr. Keeler, is ashore beyond Long Point, on the Canada shore; and the brig Roboreo, Captain Allen, with a full cargo of flour, ice from Detroit, is beached above Point Abino. The steamer Bunker Hill has gone to their assistance. The schr. Dolphin, Tilton, is also reported ashore on the south side of the lake. We expect to hear of other disasters.

The large sloop Helen Kent, loaded with merchandise for Cornwall, passed this place on Sunday evening, and has not since been heard from. The schr. Clay St. Rose, master, announced as being ashore at Erie, has been got off, with her cargo in a damaged condition. We learn from the Erie Gazette, that, after the subsidence of the gale, the beach at that place was strewed with wheat, and that fears are entertained of the sinking of some vessel.

The storm has entirely passed, and a fleet of steamers left this morning west ward—one only for the upper lakes, the St. Louis. The Madison is announced to follow immediately. Sail vessels are waiting a wind.
