Printed by Mr. THOMAS RUDDIMAN for the Publisher, at his Shop, near the Cross. M.DCC.XXIV.

To His GRACE

JAMES

Duke of HAMILTON, &c.

Captain General,

And the rest of the Honourable
MEMBERS of the

Royal COMPANY of ARCHERS.

My LORDS and GENTLEMEN,

WHEN the more eminent Concerns of Life, or the agreeable Diversion of the BOW, do not employ your leisure

leasure Time, the following OLD BARDS present you with an Intertainment that can never be disagreeable to any SCOTS Man, who despises the Fopery of admiring nothing but what is either new or foreign, and is a Lover of his Country. Such the Royal Company of ARCHERS are, and such every good Man should strive to be.

THE Spirit of Freedom that shines through both the serious and comick Performances of our old Poets, appears of a Piece with that Love of Liberty that our antient Heroes contended for, and maintained Sword in Hand. From you then, My Lords and Gentlemen, who take Pleasure to represent our brave Ancestors, these POETS claim Regard and Patronage; they now make a Demand for that Immortal
Fame

Fame that tuned their Souls some Hundred Years ago, which is in your Power, by countenancing to bestow. They do not address you with an indigent Face, and a Thousand pityful Apologies, to bribe the good Will of the Criticks. No! 'tis long since they were superiour to the Spleen of these four Gentlemen.

EVERY one who has Generosity, and is not byassed with a mistaken Prejudice, will allow, that good Sense, sharp Satyre, and witty Mirth, may be express'd with a true Spirit, altho' in antiquated Words and Phrases: When one bestows but a very small Pains to enter into the Authors Manner, then 'tis not to be doubted but the ROYAL COMPANY will receive and approve of these valuable Remains, and have a due Regard to the Memory of these

these meritorious Authors, and accept this Dedication from,

My LORDS and GENTLEMEN,

Their faithful Publisher,

And your most humble

And devoted Servant,

ALLAN RAMSAY.

P R E F A C E.

I Have observed that Readers of the best and most exquisite Discernment frequently complain of our modern Writings, as filled with affected Delicacies and studied Refinements, which they would gladly exchange for that natural Strength of Thought and Simplicity of Stile our Forefathers practised: To such, I hope, the following Collection of Poems will not be displeasing.

When these good old Bards wrote, we had not yet made Use of imported Trimming upon our Cloaths, nor of foreign Embroidery in our Writings. Their Poetry is the Produēt of their own Country, not pilfered and spoiled in the Transportation from abroad: Their Images are native, and their Landskips domestick

tick; copied from those Fields and Meadows we every Day behold.

The Morning rises (in the Poets Description) as she does in the Scottish Horizon. We are not carried to Greece or Italy for a Shade, a Stream or a Breeze. The Groves rise in our own Valleys; the Rivers flow from our own Fountains, and the Winds blow upon our own Hills. I find not Fault with those Things, as they are in Greece or Italy: But with a Northern Poet for fetching his Materials from these Places, in a Poem, of which his own Country is the Scene; as our Hymners to the Spring and Makers of Pastorals frequently do.

This Miscellany will likewise recommend itself, by the Diversity of Subjects and Humour it contains. The grave Description and the wanton Story, the Moral Saying and the mirthful Jest, will illustrate and alternately relieve each other.

The Reader whose Temper is spleen'd with the Vices and Follies now in Fashion, may gratifie his Humour with the Satyres he will here find upon the Follies and Vices that were uppermost two or three

Hun-

Hundred Years ago. The Man, whose Inclinations are turned to Mirth, will be pleased to know how the good Fellow of a former Age told his jovial Tale; and the Lover may divert himself with the old fashioned Sonnet of an amorous Poet in Q. Margaret and Q. Mary's Days. In a Word, the following Collection will be such another Prospect to the Eye of the Mind, as to the outward Eye is the various Meadow, where Flowers of different Hue and Smell are mingled together in a beautiful Irregularity.

I hope also the Reader, when he dips into these Poems, will not be displeas'd with this Reflection, That he is stepping back into the Times that are past, and that exist no more. Thus the Manners and Customs then in Vogue, as he will find them here described, will have all the Air and Charm of Novelty; and that seldom fails of exciting Attention and pleasing the Mind. Besides, the Numbers, in which these Images are convey'd, as they are not now commonly practis'd, will appear new and amusing.

The different Stanza and varied Cadence will likewise much sooth and engage the Ear, which in

Poetry

Poetry<sup>1</sup> especially must be always flattered. However, I do not expect that these Poems should please every Body, nay the critical Reader must needs find several Faults; for I own that there will be found in these Volumes two or three Pieces, whose Antiquity is their greatest Value; yet still I am perswaded there are many more that shall merit Approbation and Applause than Censure and Blame. The best Works are but a Kind of Miscellany, and the cleanest Corn is not without some Chaff, no not after often Winnowing: Besides, Dispraise is the easiest Part of Learning, and but at best the Offspring of uncharitable Wit. Every Clown can see that the Furrow is crooked, but where is the Man that will plow me one straight?

There is nothing can be heard more silly than one's expressing his Ignorance of his native Language; yet such there are, who can vaunt of acquiring a tolerable Perfection in the French or Italian Tongues, if they have been a Fortnight in Paris or a Month in Rome: But shew them the most elegant Thoughts in a Scots Dress, they as disdainfully as stupidly condemn demn it as barbarous. But the true Reason is obvious: Every one that is born never so little superior to the Vulgar, would fain distinguish themselves from them by some Manner or other, and such, it would appear, cannot arrive at a better Method. But this affected Class of Fops give no Uneasiness, not being numerous; for the most part of our Gentlemen, who are generally Masters of the most useful and politest Languages, can take Pleasure (for a Change) to speak and read their own.

It was intended that an Account of the Authors of the following Collection should be given; but not being furnished with such distinct Information as could be wished for that End at present, the Design is delayed, until the publishing of a Third or Fourth succeeding Volume, wherein the Curious shall be satisfied, in as far as can be gathered, with Relation to their Lives and Characters, and the Time wherein they flourished. The Names of the Authors, as we find them in our Copies, are marked before or after their Poems.

I cannot finish this Preface, without grateful Acknow-

Acknowledgements to the Honourable Mr. WILLIAM CARMICHAEL, Advocate, Brother to the Earl of Hyndford, who, with an easy Beneficence, that is inseparable from a superior Mind, assisted me in this Undertaking with a valuable Number of Poems in a large Manuscript-book in Folio, collected and wrote by Mr. George Bannytine in Anno 1568; from which MS. the most of the following are gathered: And if they prove acceptable to the World, they may have the Pleasure of expecting a great many more, and shall very soon be gratified.

NOTES.

Because we strictly observe the old Orthography, for the more Conveniency of the Readers, we shall note some general Rules at the Bottom of the Page, as they occur, wherein the old Spelling differs from the present, in Words that have nothing else of the Antique, or Difference from the English: But shall refer you to the Glossary at the End of the second Vol. for the Explanation of all of that kind in particular, and of those that are more peculiar to this Nation,

Rule I. Grene, Sene, Clene, &c., Green, Seen, Clean. The double ee is supplied in such Words, commonly with one e before, and another after the Consonant.

B

As was of Wowers, as I wene,
 At Chrysts-Kirk on a Day;
 Thair came our Kitties washen clene
 In new Kirtills of Gray,
 Full gay,
 At Chryst-Kirk of the Grene that Day.

II.

To danfs thir Damysfells them dicht,
 Thir Laffes licht of Laits :
 Thair Gluvis war of the Raffell richt,
 Thair Shune war of the Straits ;
 Thair Kirtills war of Lincome licht,
 Weil preft with mony Plaits :
 They war fae nyfs when Men them nicht,
 They squeilt lyke ony Gaits,
 Sae loud, at, &c. that Day.

III. OF

Danfs, Fens, Glanfs, Dance, Fence, Glance. The fs us'd for the ce often in such Words.

Dicht, Licht, Richt, &c., Dight, Light, Right. The ch in such Words always us'd in Place of the gh.

Gluvis, Lufe, Haif, &c., Gloves, Love, Have. The f and v indifferently made use of in those and the like Words.

Shune, Mune, Sune, &c., Shoon (or Shoes), Moon, Soon, the double oo never found in such Words. Sometimes they are spell'd, Sone, Mone; but in those, as in many others, we have endeavour'd to fix the Orthography to the most frequent Manner.

III.

OF all thir Maidens myld as meid,
Was nane fae jimp as Gillie :
As ony Rose her Rude was reid,
Her Lyre was lyke the Lillie.
Fow zellow, zellow was her Heid ;
But scho of Lufe fae filly,
Thocht all hir Kin had sworn hir Deid,
Scho wald haif but fweit Willie
Alane, at Chryst-Kirk, &c. that Day.

IV.

SCHO skornit Jok and skrapit at him,
And murgeont him with Mokks,
He wald haif luvit, scho wald not lat him,
For all his zellow Lokks.

He

---

Weil, Deid, Heid, Meid, &c., Well, Dead, Head, Mead. The Diphthong ei us'd in many such Words as now require e, ea and ee.

Sae, Wae, Mae, Nane, Wald, &c., So, Wo, Moe, None, Would. The a and ae in Place of o and oe, except in those Words, Ony, Mony, which are the reverse.

Nyfs, Wyfs, Byt, Hyd, Myld, Lyk, &c., Nice, Wife, Bite, Hide, Mild, Like. Our not founding the i as the Englisch do, accounts very well for our Elders spelling all words with a y of such a Sound.

He chereift hir, scho bad gae chat him,
 Scho compt him not twa Clokks:
 Sae schamefully his schort Goun fet him,
 His Limms wer lyk twa Rokks,
 Scho said at, &c. that Day.

V.

THOM LUTAR was thair Menstral meit,
 O Lord! as he could lanfs:
 He playt fae schill, and sang fae sweet,
 Quhyle Towse tuke a Trans.
 Auld Lightfute thair he did forleit,
 And counterfittet Frans;
 He us'd himself as Man discreit,
 And up tuke Moreis Danfs,
 Full loud, at, &c. that Day.

VI. THEN

Sang, Lang, Band, Thrang, &c., Song, Long, Bond, Throng. The a is us'd in place of o.

Tuke, Blude, Gude, Luke, Fule, Shute, &c., Took, Blood, Good, Look, Fool, Shoot.

Quhyle, Quhat, Quho, Quhyt, &c., While, What, Who, White. The qu is always us'd for the German w, when an h immediately follows. See Mr. Ruddiman's Glossary to Gavin Douglas's Virgil.

Auld, Bauld, &c., Old, Bold: Here in many such Words the Scots spell with au in Place of the Englisb o.

VI.

THEN Steven came stepand in with Stends,
Nae Rynk nicht him arreift :
Plateflute he bobbit up with Bends,
For Mald he maid Requeift.
He lap till he lay on his Lends ;
But ryfand was fae preift,
Quhyle that he hoiftit at baith Ends,
For honour of the Feift,
And danft, at, &c. that Day.

VII. SYNE

---

Stepand, Ryfand, &c., Stepping, Rifing; and is frequently the Sign of the Participle of the Prefent Tense; fometimes an and in instead of the modern ing.

Stevin, Stepand, Stends, as before, Laffes licht of Laits, and generally through all, our antient Bards endeavour to add a delicate and artful Smoothnefs to their Verfe, by a Flow of Words that begin with the fame initial Letters. No Poets of any Language ever purfued that Manner fo clofe, or fucceeded fo well. Dryden and Waller, and fome others of our beft Moderns, in their Verfication, feem to admire that Beauty.

When Man on many multiply'd his Kind. Dryd.

And, Oh! how I long my tender Limbs to lay. Wal.

One cannot help fmiling to hear the Writer of Mr. Waller's Life fay, That this Way of throwing off a Verfe eafily was firft introduced by him.

VII.

SYNE Robene Roy begoud to revell,
 And Dawny to him druggit.
 Let be, quoth Jok, and cawd him Jevell,
 And be the Tail him tuggit.
 The Kenfie cleikit to a cavell;
 But, Lord, than how they luggit.
 Thay partit manly with a Nevell;
 I trow that Hair was ruggit
 Betwix them, at, &c. that Day.

VIII.

ANE bent a Bow, sic Sturt coud fteir him,
 Grit Skayth wafd to haif skard him:
 He cheift a Flane as did affeir him;
 The toder said, Dirdum, dardum:

Throw

Begoud, Beuk, Clam, Keist, &c., Began, or did begin, did bake, did climb, did cast. Our old Authors have a great many of such Preterites of Verbs, most of which continue amongst us still.

Toder, Fader, Bruder, Moder, Hider, &c., That other, Father, Brother, Mother, Hither. The d is frequently us'd for th in such Words.

Throw baith the Cheiks he thocht to cheir him,
Or throw the Erfs haif chard him.
Be ane Akerbraid it came not neir him,
I can not tell quhat mard him
Thair at, &c. that Day.

IX.

WITH that a Freynd of his cry'd fy,
And up an Arrow drew;
He forgit it fae furiously,
The Bow in Flenders flew:
Sae was the Will of God, trow I;
For had the Tree been trew,
Men said that kend his Archery,
He wald haif slain enow
At Chryst-Kirk on the Grene that Day.

X.

ANE hafty Hensure callit Hary,
Quha was an Archer heynd,
Tytt up a Taikle withouten tary,
That torment fae him teynd.

I wat

I wat not qubidder his Hand coud vary,
 Or the Man was his Freynd;
 For he eschapit throw Michts of Mary,
 As Man that nae Ill meind,
 But Gude, at Chryst-Kirk on the Grene that Day.

XI.

THAN Lowry lyk a Lyon lap,
 And fone a Flane can fedder;
 He hecht to perfe him at the Pap,
 Thereon to wed a Weddir.
 He hit him on the Wame a Wap,

 But fwa his Fortune was and Hap,
 His Doublet made of Ledder,

A Myle bezond a Myre.
Then Bow and Bag frae him he keist,
And fled as ferfs as Fyre
Frae Flint, at, &c. that Day.

XIII.

With Forks and Flails, thay lent grit Flaps,
And flang togidder lyk Friggs:
With Bowgars of Barns thay beft blew Kapps,
Quhyle thay of Berns maid Briggs.
The Reird raife rudely with the Rapps,
Quhen Rungs war laid on Riggs:
The Wyfis came forth with Crys and Clapps,
Lo, quhair my Lyking liggs,
Quoth thay, at, &c. that Day.

XIV.

Thay girnit and lute gird with Grains,
Ilk Goffip uder greivt:
Sum strak with Stings, fum gaddert Stains,
Sum fled and ill mischevt.

The Menftral wan within twa Wains,
 That Day full weil he preivt:
 For he came hame with unbirs'd Bains,
 Quhair Fechtairs war mifcheivt,
 For evir, at, &c. that Day.

XV.

HEICH Hutchon with a Hiffil Ryfs,
 To red'can throw them rummill;
 He muddillt them down lyk ony Myfs,
 He was nae Baity bummill.
 Thocht he was wicht, he was nocht wyfs,
 With fic Jangleurs to jummill;
 For frae his Thoume they dang a Sklyfs,
 Quhyle he cry'd Barlafummill,
 I am flain, at, &c. this Day.

XVI.

QUHEN that he faw his blude fae reid,
 To fle might nae Man let him,
 He weind it had been for auld feid,
 He thocht ane cry'd, Haif at him.

He gart his Feit defend his Heid,
The far fairer it fet him;
Quhyl he was past out of all pleid,
They fould bene swift that gat him
Throw Speid, at, &c. that Day.

XVII.

THE Town-Soutar in Grief was bowdin,
His Wyfe hang at his Wait;
His Body was in Blude all browdin,
He graint lyk ony Ghaift.
Her Glitterand Hair that was fae gowden,
Sae hard in Lufe him laift,
That for her Saik he was not zowden,
Seven Myle that he was chaift,
And mair, &c. that Day.

XVIII.

THE Millar was of manly Mak,
To meit him was nae Mows,
There durst not Ten cum him to tak,
Sae noytit he thair Pows.

The Bufchment hale about him brak,
 And bikkert him with Bows,
 Syne traytorly behind his Bak,
 They hewt him on the Hows,
 Behind, at, &c. that Day.

XIX.

TWA that war Herdmen of the Herd,
 On udder ran lyk Rams,
 Then followit Feymen, richt unaffeird,
 Bet on with Barrow trams,
 But quhair thair Gobs thay war ungeird,
 They gat upon the Gams;
 Quhyl bludy berkit war thair Baird,
 As they had worriet Lamms,
 Maift lyk, at, &c. that Day.

XX. THE

Hewt him on the Hows, Hew'd or cut him down, by striking him behind on the Houghs or Hams.

Cum, Sum, &c., Come, Some. The u in Place of o.

Lamms, Thorwme, Dum, &c., Lambs, Thumb, Dumb. The b feldom made Use of in such Words.

XX.

THE Wyves keift up a hideous Zell,
Quhen all thir Zounkers zokkit,
Als ferfs as ony Fyre-flauchts fell;
Freiks to the Feilds they flokit.
The Carlis with Clubs did uder quell,
Quhyl Blude at Breifts out bokit;
Sae rudely rang the common Bell,
That all the Steipill rokkit
For reid, at Chrysts-Kirk on the Grene that Day.

XXI.

QUHEN thay had beirt lyk baitit Bulls,
And branewod brynt in Bails,
They wer as meik as ony Mulis,
That mangit ar with Mails.

For

Mulis, Mules. In several Words like this, where an i goes between an l and another Consonant, we are to pronounce short, as Mules, not Mulis.

Mangit ar with Mails, Maim'd with Burdens.

Flawochtir Fails, Turf that Country People flea for covering Houfes.

Haild the Dulis, is a Phrase us'd at Foot Ball, or such Games, where the Party that gains the Dule or Goal is said to hail it, or win the Game.

For Faintnes thae forfochtin Fulis,
 Fell down lyk flauchtir Fails:

 For he durft ding nane udder,
 For Feir, at Chryst-Kirk of the Grene that Day.

Finis quod King JAMES I.

---

Fudder, properly a Load, relating to Lead. It is 1600 Pound Weight: in our old Authors it often metaphorically means a great many.

*The THISTLE and the ROSE,
O'er Flowers and Herbage green,
By Lady Nature chose,
Brave King and lovely Queen.*

QUHEN Merch with variand Winds was overpast,
And fweit Apryle had with his Silver Showers
Tane Leif of Nature, with an orient Blaff,
And lufly May, that Mudder is of Flowrs,
Had maid the Birds begin be tymous Hours;
Amang the tendir Odours reid and quhyt,
Quhois Harmony to heir was grit Delyt.

II. IN

---

Lufly May, Defireable May. Lufly, through thefe Poems, is an Epithet frequently us'd in this Senfe; alfo in our Language it expreffes Youthful, Blooming, Large, Jolly.

II.

IN Bed at Morrow, sleiping as I lay,
 Methocht Aurora with her Rubie Ene,
 In at my Window lukit by the Day,
 And halfit me, with Vifage pale and grene,
 Upon her Hand a Lark fang frae the Splene,
 Luvers, awake out of your Slumbering,
 Se how the luffy Morning dois upspring.

III.

METHOCHT fresh May before my Bed upstooed,
 In Weid depainted of ilk diverse Hew,
 Sober, benyng, and full of Mensfuetude,
 In Bright Atyre of Flours, all forget new,
 Of heavenly Colour quhyt, reid, brown and blew,
 Balmit in Dew, and gilt with Phebus Beims,
 Quhyle all the House ilumynt with her Leims.

IV.

SLUGART, scho said, awake annon, for Schame,
 And in my Honour sumthing thou gae wryte;
 The Lark has done, the merry Day proclaim,
 Luvers to rais with Comfort and Delyte,
 Will nocht increase thy Courage to indyt;

Quhase

Lukit by the Day, Looked in at my Window by Day or the Dawning. Halfit, Hail'd or Saluted.

Mensfuetude, Mildness, or good Humour.

Quhase Heart somtyme has glad and blifsful bene,
Sangs oft to mak under the Brenches grene.

V.

QUHERTO, quoth I, fall I upryse at Morrow,
For in thy Month few Birds haif I hard sing,
Thay haif mair Cause to weip and plein their Sorrow:
Thy Air it is not holsum nor benyng,
Lord Eolus dois in thy Season ring,
Sae bousteous ar the blasts of his fhill horn,
Amang thy Bews to walk I haif forborn.

VI.

WITH that the Lady soberly did smyle,
And said, Upryse and do thy Observance:
Thou did promist in Mayis lusty quhyle,
Then to discryve the ROSE of most Plesance.
Go see the Birdis how they sing and dance,
And how the Skyes iluminat ar bricht,
Enamylt richly with new azure Licht.

Do thy Observance, Perform thy Duty or Respects. Here 'tis proper we take notice of the Cadency of such Words; many in that Age being pronounced long that now are expressed short: But our Union with France, and French Auxiliaries so often in Scotland at that Time, can easily account for that Manner of Pronunciation.

VII.

QUHEN this was said, away then went the Quene,
 And entert in a lusty Garden gent ;
 And then methocht, full haastylic befene,
 In Sark and Mantle after her I went
 Into this Garth most dulce and redolent,
 Of Herb and Flowir, and tender Plants most sweit,
 And grene Leivs doing of Dew doun fleit.

VIII.

THE pourpour Sun, with tender Rayis reid,
 In orient bricht as Angel did appeir,
 Throu golden Skys advancing up his Heid,
 Whose gildet Treffes schone fae wonder cleir,
 That all the Warld tuke Comfort far and neir,
 To luke upon his fresh and blifsful Face,
 Doing all fable frae the Heavenis chace.

IX.

AND as the blifsful Sun drave up the Sky,
 All Nature sang throu Comfort of the Licht ;
 The Minstrells wingd with open Voyces cry,
 O Luvers now is fled the dully Nicht,
 Come welcome Day that comforts every Wicht.

Hail

Hail May, hail Flora, hail Aurora shene,
Hail Princess Nature, hail Luves hartfome Quene.

X.

DAME Nature gave an Inhibition ther
To Neptune ferfs and Eolus the bauld,
Not to perturb the Water nor the Air,
That nowther blafhy Shower, nor Blasts mair
cauld
Suld Flowirs effray nor Fowles upon the Fauld.
Scho bad eik Juno Goddes of the Sky,
That scho the Heaven suld keep amene and dry.

XI.

ALS scho ordaind that every Bird and Beift
Before her Hienefs suld annone compeir,
And every Flowir of Virtue maift and leift,
And every Herb in fair Feild far and neir,
As they had wont in May frae Yeir to Yeir :
To hir thair Quene to mak Obediens,
Full law inclynand with dew Reverens.

---

Obediens and Reverens, as observed before in the Words Observance and Plefance, must be accented long.

XII.

WITH that annone scho sent the swift fute Roe,
 To bring in alkind Beift frae Dale and Doun,
 The restles Swallow ordert scho to go,
 And fetch all Fowl of small and grit Renown,
 And to gar Flowirs appeir of all Fassoun:
 Fully craftely conjurit she the Yarrow.

XIII.

ALL brocht in were, in twynkling of an Ee,
 Baith Beift and Bird and Flowir before the Quene,
 And first the Lyon greateft of Degre
 Was fummond ther, and he, fair to be fene,
 With a full hardy Countenance and kene,
 Before Dam Nature came, and did inclyne,
 With Visage bauld, and Courage Leonyne.

Courage Leonyne. This perhaps may be smil'd at, but there's as much Reason to laugh at the modern Phraze of one's looking like himself.

XIV.

THIS awful Beift was terrible of Cheir,
Perfing of Luke, and ftout of Countenance,
Right ftiong of Corps, of Faffon fair, bot feir,
Lufty of Shape, licht of Deliverance,
Reid of his Colour, as the Ruby Glance:
In Feild of Gold he ftude full rampantly,
With Flowr-de-Lyces circlet plesantly.

XV.

THIS Lady liftit up his Cluves fae cleir,
And lute him lifllie lein upon hir Knee,
And crownit him with Diadem full deir,
Of radyous Stanes maift ryall there to fee,
Saying, The King of all Beifts mak I thee,

If one were to comment and illustrate every poetical Beauty that strikes our Imaginations fo agreeably, and come fo frequent, he would fwell the Notes too much, and rob the Reader of a Pleasure which is his own Property; wherefore fuch Annotations fhall be declined. When Folks are ravifhed with any Pleasure tho' it be obvious to every By-ftander, yet they cannot help expreffing what delights them many Times over, when there is not the leaft Occafion for Information. This was juft my Cafe, on reading this excellent Defcription of the Lyon and the Scots Arms, never fo happily blazoned.

And the Protector cheif in Wodes and Schaws,
Go furth, and to thy Leiges keip the Laws.

JUSTICE exerce, with Mercy and Consciens,
And let nae small Beift suffir Skaith nor Skorns,
Of greiter Beifts that bein of more Pufiance.
Do Law alyke to Apes and Unicorns,
And lat na Bowgle with his bousteous Horns
Opprefs the meik Pluch-Ox, for all his Pryd,
But in the Yok go quietly him befyd.

XVII.

WHEN this was said, with Noyse and Sound of Joy,
All Kynd of Quadrupeds in thair Degree,
Attains cry'd, Laud, and then, Vive le Roy;
Syne at his Feit fell with Humility;
To him they all made Homage and Feiltie;
And he did tham refaif with princely Laits,
Whose noble Yre his Greitnefs mitigates.

XVIII.

SYNE crownit scho the Eagle King of Fowls;
And sharp as Darts of Steil scho made his Penns,
And bade him be as juft to Whawps and Owls,

As

As unto Peakoks, Papingos, or Crans,
And mak ane Law for wicht Fowls and for Wrens,
And let nae Fowl of Rapine do affray,
Nor Birds devore but his own proper Prey.

XIX.

THEN callt scho all the Flowirs grew in the Feild,
Discryving all thair Fassons and Effeirs,
Upon the awfull THISTLE she beheld,
And saw him guarded with a Bush of Speirs,
Confiddering him sae able for the Weirs,
A radiant Crown of Rubies scho him gaif,
And said, in Feild go forth, and fend the laif.

XX.

AND sen thou art a King, be thou descreit,
Herb without Value hald not of sic Pryce,
As Herb of Vertew and of Odour sweet,
And let no Nettle vyle and full of Vyce
Hir fallow with the gudly Flowr-de-Lyce,
Nor let no wyld Weid, full of Churlishness,
Compare hir to the Lillys Nobilness.

XXI. NOR

XXI.

NOR hald nane other Flowir in sic denty

 Sae full of Plesans, Vertew and Delyte,
 Sae full of blifsful Angellyke Bewtie,
 Imperial Birth, Honour and Dignitie.

XXII.

THEN to the ROSE scho did her Visage turn,
 And said, O lusty Dochter most benyng,
 Abofe the Lilly thou art ilusterous born,
 Frae Ryal Linage ryfing fresh and yung,
 But ony Spot or Macull doing sprung :
 Cum Blume of Joy with richeft Jems be crownd,
 For owre the laif thy Bewtie is renound.

XXIV.

THEN all the Birds thay fang with Voice on hicht,
Whose mirthfull Sound was marvellous to heir;
The Mavys fang, Hail ROSE most rich and richt,
That does upflurifs under Phebus Sphere,
Hail Plant of Youth, Hail Princes Dochter deir,
Hail Blofome breking out of Blude Ryal,
Quhois precious Vertew is Imperial.

THEN all the Confort fang with sic a Shout,
 That I anone awakent quhair I lay,
 And with a Braid I turnit me about
 To fe this Court, but all wer gone away;
 Then up I leint me, halfings in affray,

 To fing the Ryal THISTLE and the ROSE.

Address to

JAMES V. King of SCOTS,

By the famous and renown'd Clerk,

Mr. JOHN BELLENTYNE,

Arch-Dean of Murray.

—oo—

I.

QUHEN Silver Diane full of Beims bricht,
 Frae dark Eclips was past this uther Nicht,
 And to the Crab hir proper Mansion gane ;
Artophilax contending with his Micht
 In the grit Eist to set his Visage richt ;
 I mene the Leider of the Charle-wane :
 Aboif our Heid then was the Urfs twain,
 Quhen Starris small obscure grew to our Sicht,
 And Lucifer left twinkling him alane.

II. THE

II.

THE frosty Nicht with her prolixit Hours,
 Her Mantle quhyt spred on the tender Flours;
 When ardent Labour has addressit me,
 Tranflate the Tale of our Progenitours,
 Thair greit Manheid, Wifdom and hie Honours,
 Quhair we may cleir, as in a Mirroure, see
 The furious End somtymes of Tyranie;
 Somtymes the Gloir of prudent Governours,
 Ilk State appryfit in thair Facultie.

III.

My weary Spreit desiring to repress
 My emptive Pen of frutelefs Biffiness,
 Awalkit forth to tak the recent Air,
 When Priapus with stormy Weid oppress,
 Requeistit me, in his maist Tenderness,
 To rest a while amids his Gardens bare.
 But I no maner coud my Mynd prepare
 To set asyde unplefant Havyness
 On this and that contemplating Solitare.

IV. AND

Priapus, who presides over Gardens.

IV.

AND first occurrt to my remembering,
How that I was in Service with the King,
Put to his Grace in Zeirs tendereft,
Clerk of his Compts, althocht I was inding,
With Heart and Hand, and evry uther thing,
That micht him pleise in ony manner best,
While Envy grit me from his Service keft,
By them that had the Court in governing,
As Bird bot Plumes is herryt of her Nest.

V.

OUR Lyfe, our Gyding, and our Aventuris,
Dependance have on thir celest Creaturis,
Apperandly by some Neceffitie;
For thocht a Man wald set his biffy curis,
Sae far as Labour and his Wisdom furis,
To flie hard Chance of Infortunitie,
Tho he eschew it with Difficultie,
The curfid Weird yet ithandly enduris,
Gien to him first in his Nativitie.

VI.

OF eardlie State bewailing thus the Chance
 Of Fortune gude I had nae Esperance,
 Sae lang I had fwomt in hir Seis fae deip,
 That sad Avysing with her thochtfull Lance
 Coud find nae Port to anker her Firmance,
 Till Morpheus the dreiry God of Sleip,
 For very Rewth did on my Cures weip,
 And fet his Slewth and deidly Countenance,
 With snorand Vains to throw my Body creip.

VII.

METHOCHT I was into a plefand Meid,
 Quhair Flora made the tender Bluims to spreid
 Throw kindly Dew, and Humours nutrative,
 Quhen golden Titan with his Flamis fae reid,
 Aboif the Seis upraift his glorious Heid,
 Defounding down his Heit restorative
 To evry Fruit that Nature maid to live,
 Whilk was afore into the Winter deid,
 With Stormis cauld, and Har-frost penetrive.

VIII. A

VIII.

A Silver Fountain sprang with Watir cleir
Into that Place, quhair I approchit neir;
    Quhair I did fone espy a fellon Reird
Of courtly Gallants in thair gayest Weir,
Rejoycing them in Season of the Zeir,
    As it had bene of Mayis fweit Day the Feird,
    Their gudelie Havings made me nocht affeird;
With them I saw a crownit King appeir,
    With tender Downs arrising on his Beird.

IX.

THIR courtly Gallants fettand thair Intents
To sing and play on divers Instruments;
    According to this PRINCIS Appetyte,
Twa Ladyis fair came pransand owre the Bents,
Thair costly Cleathing shawd their mighty Rents;
    Quhat Heart nicht wish, they wanted not a Myte,
    The Rubies shone upon thair Fingers quhyt:
And finaly I knew by thair Consents
    This VERTUE was, that uther hecht Delyte.

X. THIR

X.

THIR Goddeffes arrayt in this fine Ways,
 As Reverence and Honour list devyfe,
     Afore this PRINCE fell down upon thair Kneis,
 Syne drest themfells into thair best Avyfe,
 Sae far as Wisdom in thair Powir lyes,
     To do the Thing that micht him best appleife,
     Quhair he rejoyced in his heavenly Gleis,
 And him desyret that for his Emperysf,
     Ane of them twa unto his Lady cheis.

XI.

AND first Delyte unto the PRINCE said thus,
 Maist valiant Knycht, in ACTIONS amorous,
     And lustyest that evir Nature wrocht,
 Quha in the Flour of Zouth mellyfluos,
 With Notes sweit, and sang mellodious,
     Awalketh heir amang the Flowirs soft,
     Thou has nae Game, but in thy mirry Thocht,
 My heavenly Blifs is so delicious,
     All Wealth in Eard bot it availeth nocht.

XII. THO

XII.

THO thou had France, and all beyont the Po,
Spain, Ingland, Pole, with uther Kingdoms moe,
And reign oure them in State moft glorious,
Thy puffiant Empyre is not worth a Stro,
Gif it unto thy Pleifurs is a Foe,
Or pains thy Mind with Cares are dolourus ;
Ther is nathing may be fae odious
To Man, as leif in Mifery and Woe,
Defrauding God of Nature Genius.

XIII.

DRESS thee thairfor with all thy biffy Cure,
That thou in Joy and Pleifure may endure ;
Be Sicht of thir four Bodyis elementar,
Twa grofs and heavy, twa are licht and pure,
Thir Elements be working of Nature,
In uther change ; and tho they be richt far
Frae uther twind, with Qualitys contrair,
Of them are made all Creatures Eard eir bure,
And finaly in them refolvit ar.

XIV. THE

XIV.

THE Fyre in Air, the Air in Watter cleir,
 In Eard the Watter turns withouten Weir,
     The Eard in Watter it turns ower again;
 Sae furth in Order nochts consumed heir,
 And Man new born begins sone to appear
     Ane uther Figure than afore was tanè,
     Quhen he is deid, the Matter does remain,
 Tho it refolve into sum new Manner,
     Naething is new, nocht but the Form is gane.

XV.

THUS naething is in Eard but fugitive,
 Passand and command spreiding successeive;
     And as a Beist, so is a Man confave
 Of Seid infusd in Members genitive,
 And furth his Tyme in Plesoure does out dryve
     As Chance him leids, till he be laid in Grave:
     Thairfor thy Hevin and Plesour now refave,
 Quhile thou art heir into this present Lyve,
     For after Death thou fall no Plesour haif.

XVI. THE

XVI.

THE Rose, the Lilly, and the Violet,
Unpult, fone wither, and with winds owrefet,
Wallout falls down bot ony Fruit, I wifs,
Thairfore I fay, Sen that naething may let,
But thy bricht Hew maun be with Zeirs all fret,
(For every Thing but for a Season is)
Thou may not haif a mair excellent Blifs
Than ly all Nicht into my Arms plet,
To hals and brais with mony a lusty Kifs.

XVII.

AND haif my tender Body by thy Syde,
So proper fet, quhilk Nature has provyde
With every Plefour, that thou mayft divyne,
Ay quhile my tender Zeirs be overslyde;
Then gif thou pleis that I thy Brydel gyde,
Thou maun allways from agit men declyne,
Syne drefs thy Hairt, thy Courage and Ingyne,
To suffer nane fall in thy Houfe abyde,
But gif thay will unto thy Luft inclyne.

XVIII. GIF

XVIII.

GIF thou desyres into the Seis to fleit
 Of hevinly Blifs, than me thy Lady treit;
 For it is said by Clerks of fair Renown,
 Thair is nae Pleafour in this Eard so grit,
 As quhen a Luver dois his Lady meit,
 To raife his Lyf frae mony a deidlie Soun,
 As hiest plefour but Comparifoun.
 I fall the geif in thy Zeirs zoung and fweit,
 A lufy Halk with mony Plumes full broun.

XIX.

QUHILK fall be found fae joyous and Plesant,
 Gif thou into her mirry Flichts fall hant,
 Of evry Blifs that may in Eard appeir,
 As Hairt will think thou fall nae Plenty want,
 Quhile Zeirs fwift with Quheils properant,
 Confume thy Strenth, and all thy Bewtie cleir.
 And quhen Delyt had said on this Maner,
 As Rage of Zowtheid thocht maift relivant;
 Then Vertew spake, as after ye fall heir.

XX. MY

XX.

My Lands full braid with mony a plenteous Shyre,
Sall give thy Hienefs, (gif thou list difyre)

Triumphant Glore, hie Honour, Fame divyne,
With sic Puiffance, that them nae furious Yre,
Nor weirand Age, nor Flames of birnand Fyre,
Nor bitter Death may bring unto Rewyne,
But thou maun first enfuffer meikle Pyne,
Abune thy felf, that thou may haif Empyre,
Then fall thy Fame and Honour haif no Fyne.

XXI.

AMANG my Faes my Realms fet ar all,
Quhilk haif with me a Weir continual,
And ever ftill dois on my Border ly:
And tho' thay may nae Ways me overthrowl,
Thay ly in wait, gif ony Chance may fall,
Of me sumtyme to get the Victory.
Thus is my Lyfe an ithand Chevalry,
And Labour halds me ftrong as ony Wall,
And nathing breks me but vyl Slugardy.

XXII. NAE

XXII.

NAE Fortune may against me ocht avail,
Tho scho with cloudy storms me aft affail.

I brek the Streim of sharp adversity,
In Wedder lown, and maist tempestous Hail,
Bot any Dreid I beir an equal Sail:

My Ships fae strong, that I may never die,
Wit, Reason, Manheid governs me fae hie,
Nae influence of Starns can eir prevail
To rigne owre me with Infortunitie.

XXIII.

THE Rage of Zouth can never dantit be,
Bot grit Distress and sharp Adversity,

As be this Reason is experience;
The fynest Gold or Silver that we se,
May not be wrocht to our Utility,
Without kein Flames and bitter Violence;
The mair Distress, the mair Intelligence.

Quha eir sails lang in hie Prosperity,
Ar fune owrefet, gainst storms have nae Defence.

XXIV. THIS

XXIV.

THIS fragill Lyfe, as Moment induring,
Bot doubt fall thee and all the Warld bring
    To sicker Blifs, or then eternal Wae.
Gif thou by honest Labour dois a Thing,
Thy Labour vanieſis but tarrying;
    Howbeit thy honest Warks they do not fae.
Gif thou does ocht of Luſt be Nicht or Day,
The ſhameful Deid, without diſſevering,
    Continues ſtill when Pleſſour is away.

XXV.

As Carvell ticht, faſt tending throw the Sie,
Leives nae imprent among the Wallis hie.
    As fwifteſt Birds with mony a biſſy Plume
Perfis the Air, and wates not quhair thay flie,
Sicklyks our Lyfe without Activitie;
    It giſſes na Fruit, howbeit a Shadow blume.
Quha dois thair Lyfe in Ydlenefs confume,
Bot Vertews Deids, thair Fame and Memorie
    Sall vaniſe ſoner than the reiky Fume.

XXVI. As

XXVI.

As Watter purges and maks Bodys fair,
 As Fyre ascends be Nature in the Air,
 And purefies with Heit thats vehement:
 As Flowir does smell, as Fruit is nurifare:
 As precious Balmes reverts the Things ar fair,
 And maks them of the Rot impatient.
 As Spyce maift sweit, and Rose maift redolent;
 As stern of Day by Motion circular,
 Chaifes the Nicht with Beims resplendent.

XXVII.

SICKLYKE my Warks they perfytt every Wicht,
 In fervent Luve of maift excellent Licht,
 And maks a Man into this Eard bot Peir,
 And does the Saul frae all Disorder dicht,
 With Odour dulce, and maks it still mair bricht
 Than Diane full, or zet Apollo cleir,
 Syn raifes it into the hieft Sphere,
 Immortally to shine in GODS awin Sicht,
 His chosen Creature, and as Spous maift deir.

XXVIII. THIS

Because nae Wit nor Reaason is perfyte
Quhair she is Gyde, but Skaith thats infinyt;
    With Dolour, Shame, and urgent Povertie;
    For scho sprang frae the licht Froth of the Se.
Quhilk signifies hir Plesour venomit,

XXIX.

DUKE Hannibal, as mony Authors wrait,

    To Italy in Furor bellical,
Brak down hie Walls, and hieft Mountains slait,
And to his Army made an open Gait,
    And Victories had on the Romans all.
    At Capua by Plesour sensual,
The Duke was made fae fast and delicate,
    That by his Faes he was sone overthrawll.

XXX.

OF ferfs Achill the weirly Deids fprang,
 In Troy and Greice, quhyle he in VERTUE rang,
 How Luft him flew it is but Rewth to heir:
 Siclyk the Trojans with thair Knichts ftrang,
 The valiant Greiks furth frae thair Ruins dang,
 Victoriously exercit mony a Zeir;
 That Nicht they went to thair Luft and Plesour,
 The fatal Horfs did throw thair Walls fang,
 Quhais pregnant Sydes wer full of Men of Weir.

XXXI.

SARDANAPALL, that Prince efeminat,
 Frae Deids of Knichts basely degenerat,
 Twynand the Threid of whyt or purpour Lint,
 With Fingers faft among the Ladyis fat,
 And with his Luft couth not be fatiate,
 Till frae his Faes came laft the bitter Dint.
 Quhat nobil Men and Ladyis haif bene tint,
 Quhen they with Luft have bene intoxicat,
 To schaw at lenth my Tung wald nevir ftint.

XXXII. BUT

XXXII.

BUT brave Camil the valiant Chevalier,
(When he the Gauls had dantint be his Weir)
Of Heritage wald haif nae Recompence;
For gif his Bairns, his Kin and Friends maift deir
Were verteous, they could not fail ilk Zeir
To haif enough, be Roman Providence.
Gif they wer given to Vyce and Infolence,
It was not neidfull he fould conquaifs Geir,
To be the Cause of thair Incontinence.

XXXIII.

SUM nobil Men, as Poets list declair,
Were Deifeit, sum made Gods of the Air,
Sum of the Heaven, as Eolus, Vulcan,
Apollo, Saturn, Hermes, Jupiter,
Mars, Hercules, and uther Men preclair,
That Fame imortall in this Warld wan:
Quhy wer thir People called Gods than?
Because they had a VERTUE singlar,
Excellent hie abune the Ingyne of Man.

 Becauſe they were but Shrews maift vicious

Thairfor the Mule is of a langer Lyfe
Than the ftaind Horfe; alfo the barrand Wyfe

    Or haif ane Moment Senfualitie

XXXVIII.

PHEBUS be this his fyrie Cart did wry,
 Frae South to West declynand bifflyly
 To dip his Steids into the Westlin Main;
 When ryfing Damps owrefaild his Visage dry
 With Vapours thick, and cluddet all the Sky,
 And Notus brym, the Wind meridian,
 With Wings donk, and Fedders full of Rain,
 Awakent me, that I could not espy
 Quhilk of the twa was for his Lady tane.

XXXIX.

 That he in VERTUE micht his Lyfe decore;
 Then Warks he did of maift excellent Glore;

*A Bytand BALLAT on warlo Wives,
That gar thair Men live pinging Lives.*

I.

BE merry, Brethrene, ane and all,
 And fet all Sturt aside;
 And every ane togither call
 To GOD to be our Gyd;
 For as lang lives the mirry Man,
 As dois the Wretch for ocht he can,
 When Deid him strakes, he wats na whan,
 And charges him to byde.

II.

THE Rich then fall not spared be,
 Thocht they haif Gold and Land,
 Nor zit the Fair, for their Bewty,
 Cannot that Charge gainstand.

Tho

Tho Wicht or Weak wald flee away,
 Nae Doubt but all maun Ransom pay,
 Quhat Place or quhare can nae Man say,
 Be Se or zit be Land.

III.

THE mirryest Man that leives on Lyfe,
 He fails upon the Se;
 For he knaws neither Sturt nor Stryfe,
 But blyth and glad is he:
 But he that has an evil Wyfe,
 Has Sour and Sorrow all his Lyfe,
 And that Man quilk leives ay in Stryf,
 How can he mirry be?

IV.

ANE evil Wyfe is the warft aught
 That ony Man can haif;
 For he may nevir fit in Saught,
 Unless he be her Slaif:

But

But of that Sort I knaw nane uther,

A Menftrell neir coud dairthful be,
    Thair Mirth if he coud beit.

VI.

BUT of that Sort whilk I report,
    I knaw nane in this Ring:
But we may all baith grit and small,
    Gladly baith dance and fing,

Quha

Sunt Lairds. Here is spelled with an S, as it ought, and not with a C, as many of the English do.

Quha lifts not here to make gude Cheir,
 Perchance his Guids an uthir Yeir
 Be spent, quhen he is brought to Beir,
     Quhen his Wyfe taks the Fling.

VII.

It has been fene, that wyfe Women,
     After their Husband's Deid,
 Has gotten Men has gart them ken,
     If they could bear a Laid.
 With a grene Sting, hes gart them bring
 The Geir that won was by a Dring;
 And fyne gart all the Bairnies fing,

VIII.

THEN wad scho fay, Alake this Day,
     For him that wan this Geir,
 Quhen I him had, I skairfly said,
     My Heart anes mak gude Cheir.
 Or I had letten him spend a Plak,
 I lure haif witten him brake his Bak,
 Or els his Craig had gotten a Crak,
     Ower the Hicht of the Stair.

IX.

ZE Niggarts then Example tak,
And leir to spend your awn,
And with gude Freynds ay mirry mak,
That it may well be knawn,
That thou art he quha wan this Geir;
And for thy Wyfe fe thou nocht spair,
With blyth Freynds ay to make Repair,

But keip my Sheip undir yon Wod,

Or quhat is Luve, or to be lude?
Fain wald I leir that Law.

VI.

 May be my Sheip may gang besyde,

Wedderis, Weather's. It is to be noticed, that our Elders never apostrophised, yet by this one may judge that in every like Cafe they pronounced, as if such Vowels were cut off with an Apostrophe: Without allowing this, many of their Lines will not be Numbers.

But maugre haif I, gif I byde,
Frae thay begin to fteir,
Quhat lyes on Heart I will nocht hyd,
Then Makyn mak gude Cheir.

VII.

VIII.

ROBIN I stand in sic a Style,

Makyne I have been heir this quyle,
At hame I wish I were.
Robin, my Hinny, talk and smyle,

IX.

SYNE Robin on his Ways he went,
 As light as Leif on Tree:
 But Makyne murnt and made Lament,
 Scho trow'd him neir to see.
Robin he brayd attowre the Bent.
 Then Makyne cryd on hie,
 Now may thou sing, for I am shent!
 Quhat can ail Luve at me?

X.

MAKYNE went hame withouten fail,
 And weirylic could weip;
 Then Robin in a full fair Dale
 Affemblit all his Sheip,
 Be that somepart of Makyns Ail,
 Outthrow his Heart coud creip,
 Hir fast he followt to affail,
 And till her tuke gude keip.

XI. ABYD

Brayd attowre the Bent, hasted over the Field. Tuke gude Keip, kept a close Eye upon her.

XI.

ABYD, abyd, thou fair Makyne,

For all my Luve it fall be thyne,
Withoutten departing,
All hale thy Heart for till have myne,

XII.

ROBIN, thou has heard fung and fay,

Sall have nocht when he wald.
I pray to Heaven baith Nicht and Day,
Be eikd their Cares fae cauld,

XIII.

And the grene Wod richt neir hand by
To walk attowre all where:

There

There may nae Janglers us espy,
 That is to Luve contrair,

XIV.

ROBIN, that Warld is now away,
 And quyt brocht till an End,
 And neir again thereto perfay,
 Sall it be as thou wend;
 For of my Pain thou made but Play,
 I Words in vain did spend;
 As thou has done fae fall I fay,

XV.

MAKYNE, the Hope of all my Heal,
 My Heart on thee is fet;
 I'll evermair to thee be leil,
 Quhile I may live but lett,
 Never to fail as uthers feil,

COMPLAINT.

An EPISTLE to his Mistress on the Force of LUVE.

I.

QUHAIR Luve is kendlit comfortless,
Ther is nae Fever half fae fell,
Frae Cupid keist his Dart begets,
I had nae Hap to saif my fell,
Lyk as my wofull Heart can tell,
My inwart Pains and Siching fair;
For weil I wat the Pains of Hell
Unto my Pain can nocht compar.

II. FOR

II.

FOR ony Malledy, ze ken,
Except peuir Luve, or than fark Deid,
Help may be had frae Hands of Men,
Throw Medicines to mak Remeid:
For Harms of Body, Hands or Heid,
The Pottingars will purge the Pains;
But all the Members are at Feid,
Quhair that the Law of Luve remains.

III.

As Tantalus in Watter stands,
To stanche his thrifty Appetyte,
Bewailing Body, Heid and Hands,
The River fleis him in Dispyte;
Sae does my lusty Lady qwhyte,
She fleis the Place where I repair:
To hungry Men is smal Delyte
To twitch the Meit, and eit nae mair.

IV.

THE nar the Flame, the hetter Fyre,
The mair I pyne, zet I perfew,
The mair enkindlis my Difyre,
Frae I behald her heavenly Hew;

Pure Piramus himself he flew,
 Made Saul and Body to difflaver,
 He diet but anes, farwel, adiew,
 I daylie die, and zet dies never.

V.

ZIT Jafon did enjoy Medea,
 And Thefeus gat his Adriane,
Dido difflaved was with Enea,
 And Demophoy his Lady wan;
 Gif Women trowd sic Traytors than,
 For till enjoy the Fruits of Luve,
 Quhy wald ze flay zour faikles Man,
 Quha never mynds for to remuve.

VI.

THOCHT ferfs Achil, that worthie Knicht,
 Was flain for Luve, the Sutte to fay,
Leander on a stormy Nicht
 Diet fleitand on the Billous gray;
 Thocht Troyalus he langourt ay,
 Still waitand for his Luves Return,
 Had not sic Pyne (thairs was but Play)
 As daylie does my Body burn.

VII. As

VII.

As Pol to Pylatts does appeir
Far brichtar than the Stars about,
Sae does zour Vifage shine as cleir
As Rose amang the rafkal Rout ;
War Paris leivand now, bot Dout,
And had the Golden Ball to ferve,
I wate he wald fune wail zou out,
And leif baith Venus and Minerwe.

VIII.

Now Paper pas, and at her fpeir,
Gif pleife her Prudence to imprint it?
My faithfull Heart I fend it heir,
In Signe of Paper I present it ;
Wad GOD my Body war fornent it,
That I micht ferve hir Grace bot Glammer,
To be hir Knaif I am contentit,
Or fmalleft Varlet of hir Chammer.

Quod King HENRY STEWART.

Blindnes and Injustice.*

I.

Q<sub>U</sub>HOMÉ fould I wyt for my Mifchance,
But Cupid King of Variance,

Quhen I it knew,
Or evir made the Obſervance,

II.

THOU_ and thy Law ar Inſtruments
Of divers Inconveniments;
Thy Service mony fair repents,
Knawing the Quarrell,
Quhen Body, Fame and Subſtance fhents,
And Saul in Perel.

III. QUHAT

III.

QUHAT is thy Manrent but Mischeif,
Sturt, Anger, Grunching, Yre and Greif,
Ill Lyfe, and Langour bot Releife,
Of wounds sae wan,
Displifour, Pain, and hie Repreife
Of GOD and Man.

IV.

THOU luves all them that loudest leis,
And follows fastest them that fleis;
Thou lichtlies all trew Properties
Of Luve exprefs,
And marks quhen neir a Styme thou feis,
And hits begets.

V.

BLIND Buk! but at the Bound thou shutes,
And them forbeirs that thee rebutes;
Thou ryves thair Hearts ay frae the Rutes,
Quilk ar thy awin,
And cures them that cares not three Cutes
To be misknawn.

VI. THOU

VI.

 And banniefts them with thee abyds:
 Thou hes thy Horn ay in thair Syds

Quhen he had rumblit a full lang Hour,
The Sorrow crap of Butter he gat;
Albeit nae Butter he could get,
Zit he was cummert with the Kirn,
And fyne he het the Milk fae het,
That ill a Spark of it wad zyrne.

XII.

THEN ben thair cam a greidy Sow,
I trow he cund hir litle Thank:
For in scho shot hir mekle Mow,
And ay scho winkit, and ay scho drank.
He tuke the Kirnstaff be the Schank,
And thocht to reik the Sow a Rout,
The twa left Gaislings gat a Clank,
That Straik dang baith thair Harns out.

XIII.

THEN he bure Kendling to the Kill,
But scho start all up in a Low,
Quhat eir he heard what eir he saw,
That Day he had nae Will to * *
Then he zied to take up the Bairns,
Thocht to have fund them fair and clene;
The first that he gat in his Arms,
Was a bedirtin to the Ene.

XIV.

THE first it smelt fae fappylie,
To touch the lave he did not grein:
The Deil cut aff thair Hands, quoth he,
That cramd zour Kytes fae strute zefrein.
He traild the foul Sheits down the Gate,
Thocht to haif wush them on a Stane,
The Burn was risen grit of Spait,
Away frae him the Sheits has tane.

XV.

THEN up he gat on a Know-heid,
On hir to cry, on hir to schout:
Scho hard him, and scho hard him not,
But stoutly steird the Stots about.

Scho

Scho draif the Day unto the Nicht,
Scho lowft the Plewch, and fyne cam hame;
Scho fand all wrang that fould bene richt,
I trow the Man thocht mekle Schame.

XVI.

Quoth he, my Office I forfake,
For all the hale Days of my Lyfe;
For I wald put a Houfe to Wraik,
Had I been twenty Days Gudewyfe.
Quoth scho, weil mot ze bruke your Place,
For truely I fall neir accept it;
Quoth he, Feynd fa the Lyars Face,
But zit ze may be blyth to get it.

XVII.

Then up scho gat a mekle Rung;
And the Gudeman made to the Dore,
Quoth he, Dame, I fall hald my Tung,
For and we fecht I'll get the war:
Quoth he, when I forfuke my Plewch,
I trow I but forfuke my Skill:
Then I will to my Plewch again;
For I and this Houfe will nevir do weil.

Quod MOFFAT.

THE

The Borrowstoun Mous, and the Landwart Mous.

I.

EASOP relates a Tale weil worth Renown,
 Of twa wie Myce, and they war Sisters deir,
 Of quhom the Elder dwelt in Borrowstoun,
 The Zunger scho wond upon Land weil neir,
 Richt solitair beneth the Busf and Breir,
 Quhyle on the Corns and Wraith of labouring Men,
 As Outlaws do, scho maid an eafy Fen.

II.

THE Rural Mous, unto the Winter-tyde,
 Thold Cauld and Hunger aft, and grit Distrefs:
 The uther Mous that in the Burgh can byde,
 Was Gilt-bruther, and made a frie Burges,
 Tol frie, and without Custom mair or less,
 And Freedom had to gae quhair eir scho list,
 Amang the Cheis and Meil in Ark or Kist.

III. ANE

III.

ANE Tyme when scho was full, and on Fute fair,
Scho tuke in Mynd her Sifter up-on-Land,
And langt to ken her Weilfair and her Cheir,
And se quhat Lyf scho led under the Wand:
Bare-fute alane, with Pykstaff in her Hand,
As Pilgrim pure scho past out of the Toun
To seik her Sifter, baith in Dale and Doun.

IV.

THROW mony wilsum Ways then couth scho walk,
Throw Mure and Mofs, throwout Bank, Busk
and Breir,
Frae Fur to Fur, cryand frae Balk to Balk,
Cum furth to me, my awin fweit Sifter deir,
Cry, peip anes,—with that the Mous couth heir,
And knew her Voce, as kindly Kinsmen will,
Scho hard with Joy, and furth scho came her till.

V.

THAIR hearty Cheir was plesand to be sene,
Quhen thir twa Sisters kind with Blythness met,
Quhilk aften Syfs was shawin them twa betwein;
For quhyls they leuch, and quhyls for Joy they grat,
Quhyls sweitly kist, and quhyls in Arms they plet:
And

And thus they fure, till fobirt was thair Meid,
Syne Fute for Fute they to thair Chalmer zeid.

VI.

As I hard fay, it was a femple Wane
Of Fog and Fern, full fecklesly was maid,
A filly Sheil, under a Eard-faft Stane,
Of quhilk the Entrie was not hie nor braid ;
Into the fame they went bot mair abaid,
Withouten Fyre or Candle birnand bricht,
For commonly sic Pykers laves not Licht.

VII.

QUHEN thus wer lugit thir twa filly Myce,
The zungest Sifter to her Butrie hyed,
And brocht furth Nuts and Peis insteid of Spyce,
And sic plain Cheir as scho had her besyde:
The Burges Mous fae dynk and full of Pryde,
Sayd, Sifter myne, Is this zour daylie Fude?
Quhy not, quod scho, think ze this Mefs not gude?

VIII.

NA, be my Saul, methink it but a Scorn ;
Madame, quod scho, ye be the mair to blame :
My Moder faid, afir that we wer born,

That

That ze and I lay baith within her Wame;
I keip the richt auld Custom of my Dame
And of my Syre,—livand in Povertie,
For Lands and Rents nane is our Propertie.

IX.

My Sifter fair, quod scho, haif me excuft,
This Dyet rude and I can neir accord;
With tender Meit my Stomock still is uft,
For quhy, I fair as weil as ony Lord:
Thir withert Nuts and Peis, or they be bord,
Will brek my Chafts, and mak my Teith full
    sklender,
Quhilk has bein uft before to Meit mair tender.

X.

WEIL Sifter, weil then, quoth the rural Mous,
Gif that ze pleis sic Things as ze se heir,
Baith Meit and Drink, and Herbouray and Hous,
Sall be zour awin, will ze remain all Zeir,
Ze fall it haif with blyth and hairtly Cheir,
And that fould mak the Messes that ar rude,
Still amang Freinds richt tender, fweit and gude.

XI. QUHAT

XI.

QUHAT Plefans is in Feifts mair dilicate,
 The quhilk ar given with a gloumand Brow;
 A gentle Heart is better recreate
 With Ufage blyth, than feith to him a Cow;
 Ane Modicum is better, zeill allow,
 Sae that Gude-will be Carver at the Defs,
 Than a thrawn Vult, and mony a spycie Mefs.

XII.

FOR all this moral Doctrine, ticht and soun,
 The Burges Mous had little Will to fing,
 But hevely scho keft her Visage doun,
 For all the Daintys scho couth till her bring;
 Zit at the last scho said, half in hie thing,
 Sifter this Vittell and zour Royal Feift
 May weil fuffice for sic a rural Beift.

XIII.

LET be this Hole, and cum unto my Place,
 I fall zou schaw, by gude Experience,
 That my Gude-Frydays better than zour Pafe,
 And a Dish licking worth zour hale Expençe;
 Houfes I haif enow of grit Defence,
 Of Cat, nor Fall, nor Trap, I haif nae Dreid:
 This said,—that was convinced,—and furth they zeid.

XIV. IN

XIV.

IN Skugry ay throw rankest Gras and Corn,
And Wonder flie full prively they creip;
The eldest was the Gyde, and went befor,
The zunger to her Futesteps tuke gude keip;
On Nicht they ran, and on the Day did sleip,
Till on a Morning, or the Lavrock fang,
They fand the Toun, and blythly in couth gang.

XV.

NOT far frae thyne, on till a worthy Wane,
This Burges brocht them sune quhair they sould be,
Without God-speid,—thair Herboury was tane
Intill a Spence, wher Vittell was Plenty,
Baith Cheis and Butter on lang Skelfs richt hie,
With Fish and Flesh enough baith fresh and falt,
And Pokks full of Grots, Barlie, Meil and Malt.

XVI.

QUHEN afterwart they wer disposd to dyne,
Withouten Grace they wush and went to meit,
On every Dish that Cuikmen can divyne,
Muttone and Beif cut out in Telzies grit,
Ane Erles Fair thus can they counterfitt,
Exept ane Thing,—they drank the Watter cleir
Insteid of Wyne, but zit they made gude Cheir.

XVII. WITH

XVII.

WITH blyth Upcast and merry Countenance,
 The elder Sister then speird at her Gest,
 Gif that scho thocht be Refon Differance
 Betwixt that Chalmer and her fary Nest;
 Zea Dame, quoth scho? but how lang will this left?
 For evermair I wate, and langer to;
 Gif that be trew, ze ar at Eife, quoth scho.

XVIII.

To eik the Cheir, in Plenty furth scho brocht
 A Plate of Grots, and a large Dish of Meil,
 A Threfe of Caiks, I trow scho spairt them nocht,
 Abundantlie about her did scho deil;
 Furnage full fyne scho brocht instead of Geil,
 A Candle quhyte out of a Coffe staw,
 Insteid of Spyce, to creish thair Teith with a.

XIX.

THUS made they mirry, quhyle they nicht nae mair,
 And hail Zule! hail! they all cryt up on hie;
 But after Joy ther aftentymes comes Cair,
 And Trouble after grit Prosperitie:
 Thus as they fat in all thair Solitie,
 The Spens came on them with Keis in his Hand,
 Apent the Dore, and them at Dinner fand.

XX. THEY

XX.

THEY tarriet not to wash, ze may suppose,
But aff they ran, quha nicht the foremost win;
The Burges had a Hole, and in scho gaes,
Her Sifter had nae Place to hyde her in,
To see that filly Mous it was grit Sin,
Sae difalait and will of all gude reid,
For very Feir scho fell in Swoun, neir deid.

XXI.

BUT as Jove wald, it fell a happy Cafe,
The Spensar had nae Laifar lang to byde,
Nowthir to force, to feik, nor skar, nor chese,
But on he went, and keft the Dore upwyde;
This Burges then his Pasage weil has spyd,
Out of her Hole scho came, and cryt on hie,
How! Sifter fair, cry, peip, quhair eir thou be.

XXII.

THE Landwart Mous lay flatlings on the Ground,
And for the Deid scho was full fair dreidand,
For to her Heart strak mony a waefull Stound,
As in a Fever trymbelit scho Fute and Hand;
And when her Sifter in sic Plicht her fand,
For very Pitie scho began to greit;
Syne Comfort gaif, with Words as Huny sweit.

XXIII. QUHY

XXIII.

QUHY ly ze thus? Ryse up my Sifter deir,
 Cum to zour Meit, this Perell is owre-paft;
 The uther anfwert, with a hevy Cheir,
 I may nocht eit, fae fair I am agaft:
 I lever had this fourtie lang Days fast,
 With Watter Kail, and gnaw dry Beins and Peis,
 Then haif zour Feist with this Dreid and Waneife.

XXIV.

WITH Tretie fair, at laft, scho gart her ryse,
 To Burde they went, and down together fat;
 But skantly had they drunken anes or twyce,
 Quhen in came Hunter Gib, the joly Cat,
 And bad God-speid.—The Burges up scho gat,
 And till her Hole scho fled lyk Fyre frae Flint;
 But Badrans be the Back the uther hint.

XXV.

FRAE Fute to Fute he keft her to and frae,
 Quhyls up, quhyls down, als tait as ony Kid;
 Quhyls wald he let her ryn beneth the Strae,
 Quhyls wald he wink and play with her Buk-hid:
 Thus to the silly Mous grit Harm he did;
 Till at the laft, throw fair Fortune and Hap,
 Betwixt the Dreffour and the Wall scho crap.

XXVI. SYNE

XXVI.

SYNE up in hafte behind the Pannaling,
Sae hie scho clam, that Gibby might not get her,
And be the Cluks sae craftylie can hing,
Till he was gane, her Cheir was all the better.
Syne down scho lap, quhen ther was nane to let her.
Then on the Burges Mous alloud did cry,
Sifter fairweil, heir I thy Feist defy.

XXVII.

WER I anes in the Cot that I cam frae,
For Weil nor Wae I fould neir cum again.
With that scho tuke her Leif, and furth can gae,
Quhyles throw the Riggs of Corn, quhyles owre
the Plain,
Quhen scho was furth and frie, her Heart was fain,
And merrylie scho linkit owre the Mure,
Needles to tell how afterwart scho fure.

XXVIII.

BUR this in schort scho reikt her eisy Den,
As warm as on suppose it was not grit,
Full beinly stufit it was baith butt and ben,
With Peis, and Nuts, and Beins, and Ry and Quheit,
When eir scho lykt scho had eneuch of Meit,

In

In Eife and Quiet, withouten Sturt and Dreid,
But till her Sifter's Feift nae mair scho zeid.

The MORALITIE.

XXIX.

HEIR ze may find, my Freinds, gif ze tak Heid
Unto this Fable a gude Moralitie,
As Fitches minglit ar with noble Seid,
Sae interwoven is Adverfitie
With eardly Joy, so that nae State is free,
Withouten Trouble and aft grit Vexation,
And namelie thay that wrestle up maift hie,
And not contentit ar of small Possession.

XXX.

BLISSIT be sымple Lyfe, withouten Dreid,
Bliffit be sober Feift in Quietie;
Quha has eneuch of nae mair has he Neid,
Thocht it be litle into Quantitie,
Aboundance grit and blind Prosperitie
Maks aftentyms a very ill Conclusion:
The sweitest Lyfe therefore in this Countrie
Is Sickernefs and Peace with small Possession.

XXXI. O

XXXI.

O wanton Man, quhilk ufes ay to feid
Thy Wame, and maks it maist thy God to be,
Luke to thy felf I warn thee weil on Deid;
For the Cat cums, and to the Mous has Ee,
Quhat does avail thy Feist and Ryelty,
With dreidfull Hairt, and endless Tribulation:
Therefore best Thing on Eard, I fay for me,
It is a merry Mynd and fmall Poffefion.

XXXII.

FREIND, thy awin Fyre, thocht it be but ane Gleid,
Will warm thee weil, and is worth Gold to thee;
And Salamon the Sage, fays, (gif ze reid,)
Under the Hevin I can nocht better fe,
Than ay be blyth, and leif in Honeftie.
Quhairfore I may conclude me with this Reason,
Of Eardly Blifs it beirs the best Degree,
Blythnefs of Hairt in Peace with fmall Poffefion.

Quod Mr. R. HENRYSON.

ADVICE to his young KING.

I.

PRECELAND Prince, haiffing Prerogatyve,
 Of Royal Richt in this Region to ring,
 I thee beseik against thy Lust to stryve,
 And lue thy GOD aboif all uther Thing,
 And him implore now in thy Zeirs zing
 To grant thee Grace thy Subjects to defend,
 Quhilk he has given to thee in governing
 In Peice and Honour to thy Lyves End.

II.

AND sen thou stands in sic a tender Age,
 That Nature zit to thee Wisdome denys;
 Therefore submit unto thy Council sage,
 And in all Manner work as thay devyse:

But

But ower all Things keip thee frae Covetyse,
To princely Honour gif thou wald pretend,
Be liberal ay, then fall thy Fame upryse,
And win thee Honour to thy Lyves End.

III.

GIF that thou gives dilyver quhen thou hechts,
And nevir let thy Hand thy Hecht delay;
For then thy Hecht and thy Diliverance fechts,
Far bettir war thy Hecht had biden away;
He awis me nocht that schortly fays me nay;
But he that hechts, and caufes me attend,
Syne gives me not, I may repute him ay,
Ane untrue Dettor to my Lyves End.

IV.

BETTER is the Gut in Feit, than Cramp in Hands,
The Falt of Feit with Horfe thou may support;
But quhen thy Hands are bundin up with Bands,
Nae Surrigiane may cure them, nor Comfort;
But thou them open payntit as a Port,
And freily give sic Gudes as GOD dois fend,
Then may thay mend within a Season schort,
And win the Honour to thy Lyves End.

V. GIVE

V.

GIVE every Man aftir his Faculty,
And with Discretion still dispone thy Geir:
Give not to Fules, and cunning Men ower flie,
Tho Fules fould roun and flattir in thine Eir,
Give not to them that dois thy Saws fweir,
Give to them that are true and constant kend;
Then ower all quhair thy Fame they fall forth beir,
And win the Honour to thy Lyves last End.

VI.

SEN thou art Heid, thy Leiges Members all,
Given by GOD unto thy Governace,
Luke that thou rule the Rute originall, [vance.
That throw thy Falt no Limb make other Gri-
For quha cannot himself gyde and advance?
Quhy fould a Provence upon him depend,
To gyde himself that has nae Purveance,
With Peice and Honour to his Lyves last End?

VII.

DREID GOD, do Council, of thy Leiges leil
Reward gude Deid, punish all Wrang and Vyce,
Thoch that thy Saw be ficker as thy Seil,
Fleme Frawd and be Deffender of Justice.

Honour

Honour all Time thy noble Genterice,
Obey the Kirk; gif thou dois mis, amend,
Sae fall thou win a Place in Paradyce,
And mak on Eard an honourable End.

Quod HEN. STEWART.

ON CONSCIENS.

I.

WHEN Doctors preicht to win the Joy eternal,
Into the Heavens, aftir our LORDS Ascens
They Justice taught bot Bud or Favour carnal,
And cauft be punisht fleshly vyl Offens,
Gave Benifice to Clerks of CONSCIENS;
And fae the Feynd had sic Envy thereon.
Away he gart frae Consciens scrape the Con,
And then behind was only left Sciens.

II. THEN

II.

THEN were all Clerks for Sciens fune promovit,
 And them that wald to Study maist apply:
 But zit the Feynd at Sciens was comuvit,
 And gart frae Sciens scrape away the Sci.
 Sae only Ens was left by his flie Envy,
 Quhilk ay fould be for Gold and Geir expont,
 Quhairby Benifices are now dispont
 But Consciens or Sciens to fell and buy.

III.

O SOVRAIGN LORD, and maist excellent King,
 Gar put the Con and Sci again to Ens,
 And rule thy Realm with Justice in thy Ring;
 Give Benifice to Clerks of Consciens,
 With Truth and Honour to stand thy Defens:
 Sae in thy Court that Consciens be clene,
 For vyle Corruption or thy Days has bene,
 Against Justice, with uthir great Offens.

Quod STEWART.

On the CREATION, and PARADYCE lost.

I.

GOD by His Word His Wark began,
 To form this Erth and Hevin for Man,
 The Sie and Watter deip;
 The Sun, the Mune and Stars sae bricht,
 The Day devydit from the Nicht,
 Thair Courses just to keip;
 The Beifts that on the Grund do muve,
 And Fishes in the Sie;
 Fowls in the Air to flie abuve,
 Of ilk Kind formed HE:
 Sum creiping, sum fleiting,
 Sum fleing in the Air,
 Sae heichly, sae lichtly,
 In muing heir and thair.

II. THIR

II.

THIR Warks of gret Magnificence,
 Perfytit by His Providence,
     According to His Will:
 Nixt He made Man; To gife him Glore,
 Did with His Image him decore,
     Gaife Paradyce him till;
 Into that Garden hevinly wrocht,
     With Pleasures mony a one,
 The Beifts of every Kynd wer brocht,
     Thair Names he fuld expone;
     These kenning and nameing,
     As them he list to call,
     For eifing and pleifing
     Of Man, subdued them all.

III.

IN heavenly Joy Man fae poffeft,
 To be alane GOD thocht not beft,
     Made Eve to be his Maik;
 Bad them increafs and multiplie,
 And of the Fruit frae every Tree
     Thair Pleasure they fuld take,

Except

Except the Tree of Gude and Ill
That in the Midft dois stand,
Forbad that they fuld cum thertill,
Or twitch it with thair Hand;
Left lukiſg and plucking,
Baith they and all thair Seid,
Seveirly, awfteirly,
Suld die without Remeid.

IV.

Now Adam and his luſty Wyfe
In Paradyce leidand thair Lyfe,
With Pleaſures infinite;
Wanting nae thing fuld do them Eaſe,
The Beifts obeying them to pleiſe,
As they could wiſh in Spreit:
Behald the Serpent fullenie
Envyand Mans Eſtate,
With wicket Craft and Subtiltie
Eve temptit with Deſait;
Nocht feiring, but ſpeiring,
Quhy ſcho tuke not her till,
In uſing and chuſing
The Fruit of Gude and Ill?

V.

COMMANDIT us, scho said, the LORD,
 Noways therto we fuld accord,
     Undir eternall Pain;
 But grantit us full Libertie
 To eit the Fruit of every Tree,
     Except that Tree in plain.
 No, no, nocht fae, the Serpent said,
     Thou art defaifet therin;
 Eit ze therof, ze fall be made
     In Knowledge lyke to Him,
     In feiming and deiming
     Of every thing aricht,
     As dewlie, as trewly,
     As ze wer Gods of Micht.

VI.

EVE thus with these fals Words allurit,
 Eit of the Fruit, and fyne procurit
     Adam the fame to play:
 Behald, said scho, how precious,
 Sae dilicate and delicious,
     Befyde Knowledge for ay:

Adam

Adam puft up in worldly Glore,
Ambition and high Pryd,
Eit of the Fruit; allace therfore,
And fae they baith did flyd;
Neglecting, forzetting
The eternall Gods Command,
Quha fcurged and purged
Them quyt out of that Land.

VII.

QUHEN they had eiten of that Fruit,
Of Joy then war they deftitute,
And faw thair Bodys bare.
Annon they paf with all thair Speid,
Of Leives to mak themselves a Weid,
To cleith them, was thair Care:
During the Tyme of Innocence,
Nae Sin or Schame they knew,
Frae Tyme they gat Experience,
Unto ane Bufs they drew,
Abyding and hyding,
As GOD fuld not them fee,
Quha fpyed, and cryed,
Adam, quhy hydys thou thee?

VIII.

I being naikit, LORD, throu Feir,
 For Schame I durft not to compeir,
     And fae I did refuse:
Had thou not eiten of the Tree,
That Knowledge had not bein in thee,
     Nor zit nae sic Excuse;
 The Helper, LORD, thou gaife to me,
     Has cawfit me to transgress,
Sayd scho, the Serpent subtillie,
     Persuadit me nae lefs,
     Intreiting, be eiting,
     That we suld be perfyte,
     Me fylit, begylit;
     In him lyes all the Wyte.

IX.

JEHOVE that evir juged richt,
 Bringing His Justice to the Licht,
     The Serpent first did jüge:
 Because the Woman thou begylt,
 For evir thou fall be exylt,
     Said He, without Refuge;

Betwixt her Seid and thy Offspring
Nae Peace nor Rest fall be,
And hir Seid fall thy Heid down thring,
For all thy Subtiltie;
Abhorred, deformed,
Thou on thy Breift fall gang,
In feiding and leiding
Thy Lyfe the Beifts amang.

X.

THE Woman nixt, for her Offence,
Did of the LORD refave Sentence,
Her Sorrow fuld encrease,
With Wae and Pain her Childrene beir,
Subdewt to Man, under his Feir,
No Libertie poffefs:
For Adams Falt he curfd the Erth,
That barrane it fuld be,
Without Labour fuld zield nae Birth
Of Corns, nor Herb, nor Tree;
Bot working and irking
For evir fuld remain,
And being in deing,
In Erth returnd again.

XI.

O cruel Serpent venemous,
 Dispytfull and seditious,
     The Grund of all our Care;
 Thou fals-bound Slave unto the Devill,
 Thou first Inventar of this Evill
     Of Blifs, quhilk made us bare;
 O devlish Slave, did thou believe,
     Or hou had thou sic Grace,
 Therby for evir thou nicht live

O dainty Dame, with Eirs bent
 That harkent to that fals Serpent,
     Thy Bains we may fair ban;
 Without Excuse thou art to blame,
 Thou justly has obtaint that Name,
     The very Wo of Man:

With Teirs we may bewail and greit

Quhen Adam was obligit to sleip,
And thou tane off his Syde.

And them subdewt to thee,
Sae all that they culd mein or fay,
Suld not have moved thee
To brecking, abjecting
That hie Command of Lyfe
Quhilk gydid, provydit

BEHALD the State that Man was in,
 And als how it he tynt throw Sin,
     And loft the fame for ay;
 Zet GOD His Promise dois perform,

     Our Ransome deir to pay.
 To that great GOD let us give Glore,

HIS Goun was of a Claith as quhyte as Milk,
 His Chymers wer of Chamelet Purpure broun,
 His Hude of Scarlet, borderit round with Silk

 Of the auld Fassoun was his Bonnat roun,
 His Heid was quhyt, his Een was grene and gray,
 With lokar Hair, quhilk owre his Shulder lay.

Thus was he gudely grathit in his Geir,
Of Stature large, and with a feirfull Face,
To quher I lay he came with fturdy Pace.

VII.

AND fayd, God-fpeid, my Son, and I was fain
Of that couth Word, and of his Company;
With Reverence I falutet him again,
Welcome Fader, and he fat down by me;
Displeis zou not, my gude Master, tho I

VIII.

MY Son, he fayd, I am of gentle Blude,

IX.

O Maister Esope, Poet and Laureat,
 God wate ze are full deir welcome to me;
 Are ze not he that all thir Fables wrat,
 Quhilk in Effect, altho they fenziēt be,
 Are full of Prudence and Moralitie?
 Fair Son, he sayd, I am the famyne Man;
 My slichterand Heart I wate grēw mirry than.

X.

ESOPE, said I, my Maister venerable,
 I heartilie zou beseik, for Cheritie,
 Ze wald dedene to tell a pritty Fable,
 Concludand with a gude Moralitie;
 Schekand his Heid, he sayd, My Son let be,
 For quhat ist worth to tell a fenziēt Tale,
 Quhen hale preiching may naithing now avail?

XI.

Now in this Warld methinks richt few or nane
 To haly Scripture has the leift Regaird;
 The Eir is deif, the Hairt is hard as Stane,
 They nevir mynd Punitiōn or Rewaird,
 Thair Lukes inclynand allways to the Eard;
 Sac roufēt is the Warld with Canker black,
 That all my Tales may little Succour mak.

XII. ZIT

XII.

ZIT gentle Sr, fayd I, for my Requiest,
Not to displeis zour Fatherheid I pray,
Undir the Figure of fum brutal Beift,
A moral Fable ze wald grant to fay;
Quha kens nor I may leir and beir away
Sumthing therby, hereaftir may avail:
I grant, quoth he, and thus began his Tale.

XIII.

A Lyon at his Prey weiry forrun,
To recreate his Limbs and tak his Rest,
Beikand his Breift and Bellie at the Sun,
Undir a Tree lay in the fair Forest;
Then came a Trip of Myce out of thair Nest,
Richt tait and trig, all danfand in a Gyfs,
And owre the Lyon lanfit twyfs or thryfs.

XIV.

HE lay fae still, the Myce was not affeird,
But to and frae atowre him tuke thair Trace;
Sum tirlt at the Whiskers of his Beird,
Sum did not spare to claw him on the Face:
Merry and glade thus danfit they a Space,
Till at the last the nobil Lyon wouk,
And with his Paw the Maister Mous he tuke.

XV. HE

XV.

HE gaif a Cry, and all the laif agaft,
Their Danfing left, and hid them heir and thair;
He that was tane cryit out and weipit faft,
And fayd, Allace for now and evermair!
Now am I tane a wofull Prifoner,
And for my Gilt believes incontinent
Jugement to thole, and unto Death be fent.

XVI.

THEN fpak the Lyon to that carefull Mous,
Thou catyve Wretch, and vyle unwordy Thing,
Owre malapert and owre prefumpteous,
Thou was to mak atowre me thy Tripping;
Know thou not weil I was baith Lord and King
Of all the Beifts?—This (quod the Mous) I know,
But I mifknew, becaufe ze lay fae law.

XVII.

LORD, I befiek thy Princely Ryaltie,
Heir quhat I fay, and tak in Patience;
Confidder firft my fimple Povertie,
And fyne thy mighty high Magnificence;
Se als how Things that is done by negligence,
Not frae malicious Thocht, or ill defynd,
Sould gain Remiffion frae a Kingly Mynd.

XVIII. WITH

XVIII.

WITH gret Aboundance we wer all repliet
Of alkynd Fude, sic as to us affeird,
And us to dans, provokit the Season fweit,
And mak sic Mirth as Nature to us laird;
Ze lay fae still and law upon the Eard,
That be my Saul we weind ze had bein deid,
Ells wald we not haif danfit owre zour Heid.

XIX.

THY false Excuse, the Lyon sayd again,
Sall not avail a Myt, I undertae;
I put the Cafe, had I bene deid or slain,
And syne my Skin bene stapit full of Strae,
Thocht thou had found my Figure lyand fae,
Because it bare the Prent of my Perfoun,
Thou sould for Dreid on Kneis haif falen doun.

XX.

Now for thy Cryme thou can mak nae Defence,
My Ryal Perfon thus to vylipend,
Nowther by Forfs nor thyne oun Negligence,
For till Excuse thou can nae Cause prettend;
Therefore thou suffer fall a schamefull End,
And Deid, sic as to Treffon is decreit,
To be hung on a Gallows be the Fiet.

XXI.

O Mercy, Lord! at thy Gentrice I afs,
 As thou art King of all Beifts coronat,
 Sobir thy Wrath, and let thyn Yre owrepafs,
 And mak thy Mynd to Mercy inclynat;
 I grant Offens is done to thy Eftate,
 Therefore I wirdy am to fuffir Deid,
 But gif thy Kingly Mercy reik Remeid.

XXII.

IN evry Juge Mercy and Rewth fuld be,
 As Affeffors and collaterall;
 Without Mercy, Justice is Crewelltie,
 As faid is in the Law fpirituall:
 When Rigour fits upon the hygh Tribunall,
 The Equitie of Law quha may fufftain?
 Richt few or nane bot Mercy gae betwein.

XXIII.

BESYDS ze knaw the Honour Triumphs zeild,
 To every Victor, on the Strength depends
 Of his Compeir, quhilk manly in the Feild,
 Throw Jepordy of Arms he lang deffends;
 Quhat Pryce or Lowding, quhen the Battle ends,
 Is fayd of him that overcomes a Man;
 Him to deffend that nowther dow nor can.

XXIV. A

XXIV.

A Thousand Myce to murder and devore,
Is litle Manheid in a Lyon strang;
Full litle Worship can ze win thairfore,
To quhose vast Strenth is nae Compareson:
It will degrad sum Part of zour Renown
To flay a Mous that can mak nae Deffence,
But askand Mercy at zour Excellence.

XXV.

Also it not becomes zour Celfitude,
That uses daylie Meit delicious,
To fyle zour Lipps or Grinders with my Blude,
Quhilk to zour Stomak is contagious;
Unhalefom Melteth is a fairy Mous,
And namely to a nobil Lyon strang,
Wont to be fed with gentil Venison.

XXVI.

MY Lyfe is litle, and my Deid far lefs;
Zit, gif I live, I may peraventure
Supplie zour Highnes being in Distrefs:
For aft is sene a Man of small Stature
Reskewed has a Lord of hygh Honnour,
Kept that has bene in Poynt to be owre-thrawn,
Throu Fortunes Falt; sic Cafe me be zour awn.

XXVII. QUHEN

XXVII.

QUHEN this was sayd, the generous Lyon paufit,
 And thocht this arguing did not Reason want;
 His Yre affwageit, and his kynd Mercy caufit
 Him to the Mous a full Remiffion grant,
 Opent his Paw; He on his Kneis down bent,
 And baith his Hands unto the Heaven upheild,
 Cryand, Almichty Jove give zou lang Eild.

XXVIII.

QUHEN he was gane, the Lyon zeid to hunt,
 For he had nocht, but livd upon his Prey,
 And flew baith tame and wyld, as he was wont,
 And in the Countrie made a grit Deray;
 Till at the laft the People fand the Way
 This crewell Lyon with a Girn to tak,
 Of hempin Cords richt ffrang Netts coud they mak.

XXIX.

AND in a Road quhair he was wont to rin,
 With Raips rude frae Trie to Trie it band,
 Syne cuft a Raing on Raw the Wod within,
 With Blafts of Horns and Cauts faft calland;
 The Lyon fled, and throu the Rone rinnand
 Fell in the Net, and hankit Fute and Heid,
 For all his Strenth he coud mak nae Remeid.

XXX. ROLAND

XXX.

ROLAND about with hydious Rowmiffing,
Quhyles to quhyles frae, gif he nicht Succor get;
But all in vain, that velziet him naething,
The mair he flang, the fafter he was knit:
The Raips rude about him fae was plet
On every Syde, that Succor saw he nane,
But still lyand, thus murnand maid his Mane.

XXXI.

O fair lameit Lyon, liggand heir fae law,
Quhair is the Micht of thy Magnificence,
Of quhom all brutal Beift in Eard ftand Aw,
And dreid to luke on thy gret Excellence;
Bot Hope or Help, bot Succor or Defence,
In strang Hemp-bands heir maun I ly, allace!
Till I be flain, I fe nae uther Grace.

XXXII.

THER is nae Joy that will my Harms wraik,
Nor Creature to do Comfort to my Crown,
Quha fall me bute? Quha fall thir Bands brek?
Quha fall me put frae Pain of this Prifon?
Be that he had his Lamentation done,
Perchance the litle pardond Mous came neir,
And of the Lyon hard the pityous Beir.

XXXIII.

AND suddainly it came intill his Mynd
That it fuld be the Lyon did him Grace,
And fayd, Now wer I fals and richt unkynd,
Bot gif I quit sum Part thy Gentilnefs
Thou did to me, — and on with that he gaes
To all his Maiks, and on them fast did cry,
Cum help, cum help; and they came all on hy.

XXXIV.

Lo, quoth the Mous, this is our Ryal Lord,
Quha gaif me Grace quhen I was by him tane,
And now is fast heir fanklet in a Cord,
Wrekand his Hurt with Murning fair and Mane,
Bot we him help, of Suplie kens he nane;
Cum help to quyt ane gude Turn with annither,
Sae beit, cryd all; fyn fell to Wark together.

XXXV.

THEY tuke nae Knyf, thair Teith wer sberp enewgh;

How that they ran amang the Halters tewgh,

And schure the Raips with the maift eifs in Sunder,

XXXVI. Now

XXXVI.

Now dois the Lyon frie of Danger skour,
Lowse, and delivert till his Libertie,
By litle Animals of smallest Power,
As ze haif hard, because he had Pitie:
Quoth I, Maister, is ther Moralitie
Into this Fable? — Son, sayd he, richt gude;
I pray zou gieft, quoth I, or ze conclude.

The MORALITIE.

XXXVII.

WE may suppose this Lyon of Renoun
May signifie ane Emperour or King,
Or ony Potestate that weirs a Crown,
That fould be wakryfe in his governing,
But of his Peple taks slicht noticeing,
To rule and steir the Land, and Justice keip,
But lazy lyes in lustie Slouth and Sleip.

XXXVIII.

THE Forest fair with Blossoms lown and lie,
The singand Birds and Flowirs sae ferly sweit,
Ar but this Warld, and his Prosperitie,
As Pleisands fals mingillit with Care repleit,
Richt, as the Rose with Frost and Winter weit,
Wallous; sae dois the Warld and them defaif
That Confidence in lusty Pleasures haif.

XXXIX. THIR

XXXIX.

THIR litle Myce ar Comonalitie,
 Wanton, unwyfe, without Corection due;
 Sic Lords and Princes, quhen they chans to fe
 That execute, the richteous Laws on few,
 They dreid naithing, but with rebellious Brow
 Dar difobey; for quhy? they stand nae Aw,
 That maks them aft thair Soverains to misknaw.

XL.

AND be this Fable, Lords of prudent Sence
 Confidder may the Virtue of Pitie,
 And fuld remit sumtyme a grit Offence,
 And Mercy metigate with Crueltie;
 Aftymes is fene a Man of small Degree
 Has quit a Common baith for Gude and Ill,
 As Lords has Rigour done, or Grace him till.

XLI.

QUHA wates how fune a Lord of grit Renoun,
 Rowand in warldly Luft and vain Pleifance,
 May be owrthrawin, distroyed, or put down
 Throu Fortune fals, that of all Variance
 Is hale Mistres, and Leader of the Dance
 To lusty Men, and binds them up sae soir,
 That they nae Perell can provyd befor.

XLII. THIR

XLII.

THIR crewell Men that stentit has the Net
In quhilk the Lyon suddenlie was tane,
Waited allway that they a Mendis nicht get;
For Hurt, Men wryts with Steil in Marble-stane,
Mair till expone, as now, I let alane:
But King and Lord may weil wate what I mein,
The Figure hereof aftymes has bein sene.

XLIII.

QUHEN this was sayd, quoth Esoþ, My fair Chyld,
Persuade the Kirkmen eydentlie to pray,
That Treason off this Countrie be exyld,
That Justice ring, and Nobles keip their Fay
Unto thair Soverain Lord baith Nicht and Day:
And with that Word he vaneist, and I woke,
Syne throu the Schaw my Journey hamewart tuke.

TOD and the LAMB,
 OR,
Follows the Wowing of the King when he was at Dumfermeling.

I.

THIS hinder Nicht in Dumfermeling,
 To me was tald a wonder Thing,
 That late a Tod was with a Lamb,
 And with hir playd, and made gude Game;
 Syne to his Breift did hir imbrace,
 And wald haif ridden hir lyk a Ram,
 And that methocht a ferly Cafe.

II.

HE braift hir bonny Bodie sweit,
 And halft hir with his forder Feit,
 Syne schuke his Tail with Whindge and Zelp;
 And todlit with hir lyke a Quhelp,
 Then lourit on growf, and asked Grace;
 And ay the Lamb cryd, Lady help,
 And that methocht a ferly Cafe.

III. THE

III.

THE Tod was nowthir lein nor scowry,
He was a lufty reid-haired Lowry,
Ane lang taid Beift and grit withall;
The silly Lamb was all to small,
    With sic a Tribble to hald a Bafe:
Scho fled him not, fair mot her fall,

IV.

THE Tod was reid, the Lamb was quhyte,
Scho was a Morfell of Delyte;
He luvit nae Ews auld teuch and Sklender,
Because this Lamb was zung and tender.
    He ran upon her with a Race,
And scho schup nevir to defend hir,
    And this methocht a ferly Cafe.

V.

HE gripit her about the Waift,
And handilt her as gif in Haste;
This Inocent that neir trespast,
Tuke Heart that scho was handilt fast,
    And lute him kifs her lufty Face:
His girnand Gams hir nocht agast,
    And that methocht a ferly Cafe.

VI. HE

VI.

HE held hir till him be the Hals,
 And spake full fair thocht he was fals;
 Syne said and swore to hir in Mode,
 That he fuld not twitch hir Prein-cod.

The silly Thing trow'd him, allace!
 The Lamb gaif Creddance to the Tod,
 And that methocht a ferly Cafe.

VII.

I will nae Leifings put in Verse,
 Lyke as sum Janglers do reherse;
 But be quhat Manner they wer mard,
 Quhen Licht was out and Dores were bard:

I wate not gif he gaif hir Grace;
 But Winnocks all were stappit hard,
 And that methocht a ferly Cafe.

VIII.

QUHEN Folk do fleit in Joy maist far,
 Thair fune cums Wae or they be War,
 Quhen carpand wer thir twa maist crouse,
 The Wolf he umbeset the House,

Upon the Tod to make a Chace:
 The Lamb scho cheipit lyke a Moufe,
 And that methocht a ferly Cafe.

IX. THROW

IX.

THROW hydious Howling of the Wowf,
This wylie Tod plait doun on Growf;
And in the filly wie Lambs Skin,
He crap as far as he micht win,
    And hid him thair a gay lang Space;
The Ews befyde they made nae Din,
    And that methocht a ferly Cafe.

X.

QUHEN of the Tod was heerd nae Peip,
The Wowf wont all had bene asleip;
And quhyle the Tod had striken Ten,
The Wowf he drest him to his Den,
    Protestand for the second Place:
And this Report I with my Pen,
    How at Dumfermling fell the Cafe.

For any Craft they can,
Sae weil they ken, what Time and quhen,

II.

WITH little Noy they can convoy
A Matter finally,
Richt myld and Moy, and keip it coy,
On Evens sae quietly;

II.

IN Clouks they cum full braw quhyte cled,

 Of just Proportions, large;
 A various Rain-bow colourt Plaid

 And then I saw baith Heaven and Hell,
 Methocht among the Feynds fell

 Of Shrewis that wer nevir schreivin
 Against the Feist of Fasterns Evin,
 To mak thair Observance;

LET see, quod he, now quha begins :
With that the foull seven deadly Sins
    Begouth to leip attains ;
And first of all the Daunce was Pryde,
With Hair wyld back, Bonnet on Syde,
    Lyk to mak vaistie Wains ;
And round about him as a Quheil,
Hang all in Rumples to his Heil
    His Kethat for the Nains :
Mony proud Trumpour with him trippit
Throw skaldan Fyre, ay as they skipit

Till Preifts came with bare schaven Necks,
Then all the Feynds leuch and made Gecks,

IV. THEN

IV.

THEN Yre came in with Sturt and Stryfe,
His Hand was ay upon his Knyfe,

Boafters, Braggers and Barganers
Aftir him pafsd all in be Pairs,
    All boddin in Feir of Weir;
In Jacks, Stripps, and Bonnets of Steil,
Thair Leggs wer chenziet to the Heil,

With Brands fum on uther beft,
Sum jagit uthers to the Heft
    With Knives that Scheip coud fcheir.

NEXT followd in the Daunce, Envy,
Filld full of Feid and Fellony,
    Hid Malyce and Difpyt;
For privy Hate that Traytor trembled,
Him followd mony Freik, diffembled
    With fenziend Words quhyte,

And

And Flatterers into Mens Faces,
And Back-byters of fundry Races,
    To lie that had Delyte,
With Rownars vyle of false Leifings;
Allace! that Courts of nobil Kings
    Of fic can neer be quyte.

VI.

NIXT him in Daunce came Covetyce,
Rute of all Ill, and Grund of Vyce,
    That neir could be content;
Catyvs, Wretches and Ockerars,
Hud Pykes, Hurders and Gatherers,
    All with that Warlo went:
Out of thair Throts they shot on uther,
Het moltin Gold methocht a Futher,
    As Fyre-flaucht maift fervent;
Ay as they tuimt themfells of Schot,
Feynds filld them weil up to the Throt
    With Gold of all kynd Prent.

VII.

SYNE Sweirnes at the second Bidding
Came lyk a Sow out of a Midding,

Mony sweir bumbard Belly-huddron,
 Mony Slut, Daw, and fleipy Duddron,
     Him ferved ay with Sounzie:
 He drew them furth intill a Chenzie,
 And Belial with a Bridall Renzie
     Ay lashit them on the Lunzie.
 In Daunce they wer fae flaw of Feit,
 They gaif them in the Fyre a Heit,
     Made them quicker of Cunzie.

VIII.

THEN Lechery, that laithly Corfs,
 Berand lyk to a bagit Horfs,
     And Ydlenefs did him leid;
 Ther was with him ane ugly Sort,
 And mony a ftynkand foull Tramort
     That had in Sin bene deid:
 Quhen they wer enterit in the Daunce,
 They wer full frange of Countenance,

 All led they uther by the —
 Suppose they fyket with thair —

THEN the foull Monster, Gluttony,
With Wame unfatiate and greidy,
    To daunce syn did him drefs;
Him followit mony a foull Drunkart
With Can and Colep, Cop and Quart,
    In Surfet and Excefs;
Full mony a waiftlefs wally Drag,
With Wames unwyldy did forth wag
    In Creifh, that did increfs;
Drink, ay they cryd, with mony a Gaip,
The Feynds gave them het Lead to laip,
    Thair Loverly was nae lefs.

X.

NAE Minftralls playd to them bot Dout,
For Glie-men ther war haldin out
    Be Day and eik by Nicht;
Except a Minftrall that flew a Man,
Sae till his Heritage he wan,
    Entert be Breif of Richt.

XI.

THEN cryd Mahoun for a Earse Padzean,
Syn ran a Feynd to fetch Makfadzean,
    Far Northwart in a Nuke;
Be he the Correnoch did schout,
Earse Men so gatherit him about,
    In Hell grit Rume they tuke:
That Tarmagants with Tag and Tatter,
Full loud in Earse begoud to clatter
    And rowp lyk Ravin and Rowk;
The Deil fae deivt was with thair Yell,
That in the deipest Pot of Hell
    He smorit them all with Smuke.

Follows

Follows the Tournament between the Soutar and Tailzior.

I.

NIXT that a Tournament was cryd,
 That lang before in Hell was tryd,
 In Prefence of Mahoun,
 Betwifch a Tailzior and a Soutar,
 A Prick-Loufe and a Hobell-Clouter,
 The Barrefs was made boun;
 The Tailzior baith with Speir and Sheild,
 Convoyit was into the Feild,
 With mony a Lymmar-Loun,
 Of Seme-byters and Beift-knappers,
 Of Stomok-ftealers and Claith-takers,
 A graceles Garrifoun.

II.

HIS Banner was born him before,
Quherin was Clouts a hundred Score,
    Ilk ane of diverse Heu,
And all stown out of findry Webs,
For quhyle the Greik Se flows and ebs,
    Tailziors will neir be trew:
The Tailzior on the Barrows blent,
Allace! he tint all Hardyment,
    For Feir he changit Hew:
Mahoun came forth and maid him Knicht,
Nae Ferlie thocht his Heart was licht,
    That to sic Honour grew.

III.

THE Tailzior hecht before Mahoun,
That he fuld ding the Soutar doun,
    Wer he strang as a Maft;
But quhen he on the Barrous blenkit,
His clouted Courage fairly schrinkit,
    His Heart did all owre-caft:

Quhen

Quhen to the Soutar he did cum,
Of all sic Words he was quyte dum,
    Sae fair he was agaft.
In Heart he tuke fae great a Scunder,
A Rak of Farts lyke ony Thunder,
    Flew frae him Blaft for Blaft.

IV.

THE Soutar to the Feild him drest,
He was convoyid out of the West,
    As an Deffender stout.
Suppose he had nae lusty Varlet,
He had full mony a lousy Harlot,
    Round ryding him about.
His Banner was of barkit Hyd,
Quherin Saint Girnega did glyd,
    Before that Rebald Rout:
Full Soutar lyke he was of Laits;
For ay betwifh his Harnes Plaits,
    The Uly burffit out.

V.

QUHEN on the Tailzior he did luke,
His Heart a litle Dwaming tuke,
    He nicht not richt upfit,

Into his Stommok was fic a Steir,
 Of all his Denner quhilk he coft deir,
     His Breast held Deil a Bit:
 To comfort him or he raid furder,
 The Deil of Knichthude gaif him Order,
     Fou fair fyne did he spit;
 And he about the Devils Neck,
 Did spew again a Quart of Blek,
     Thus knichtly he him quit.

VI.

THEN Fourty Times the Feynd cryd, Fy,
 The Soutar richt afearedly,
     Unto the Feild he focht:
 Quhen they were served with their Speirs,
 Folk had a Feil be their Effeirs,
     Their Hearts were baith on Flocht,
 They spurd their Horfs on either Syde,
 Syne they outowre the Grund coud glyd,
     And them togither brocht.
 The Tailzior that was nocht weil fitten,
 He left his Sadle all befhitten,
     And to the Grund he focht.

VII. His

VII.

HIS Harnes brak and made a Brattle,
The Soutars Horfs lap with a Ratle,
    And round about coud reil:
The Beift that frayed was richt evil,
Ran with the Soutar to the Devil,
    Him he rewardit weil:
Sumthing frae him the Feynd eshewd,
He wont again to bein bespewd,
    So stern he was in Steil:
He thocht again he wald debate him,
He turnd his Erfe, and all bedret him,
    Ein quyte frae Neck to Heil.

VIII.

HE lowfit it aff with sic a Reird;
He dang baith Horfs and Man till Eard,
    He fartit with sic Feir.
Now haif I quit thee, quoth Mahoun,
Thir new made Knights lay baith in Swoun,
    And did all Arms menfweir;

The Deil gart them to Dungeon dryve,
And them of Knichthude could depryve,
Discharging them of Weir,
And made them Harlots baith for evir,
Quhilk still to keip they had far levir
Nor ony Arms to beir.

IX.

I had mair of their Warks written,
Had not the Soutar bein beshitten,
With Belials Erfs unblift.
But that fae gude a Bourd methocht,
Sic Solace to my Heart it brocht,
For Lauchter neir I brift :
Quherthrow I wakenit frae my Trance,
To put this in Rememberance,
Micht no Man me refist ;
For this said Justing it befell,
Befoir Mahoun the Air of Hell,
Now trew this gif ze list.

QUHA is then cum heir, but I
 A bauld and bowfsteous Bellomy,
 Amang zou all to cry a Cry
 With a maist mighty Soun?
 I generit am of Gyans kynd,
 Frae hardy Hercules be Strynd,
 Of all the Occident and Ynd,
 My Elders woir the Croun.

III. My

III.

MY fore Grandfyre heicht Fynmackoull,
Quha dang the Deil, and gart him zoul,
The Skyes rained Fludes quhen he wald skoul,
He trublit all the Air.

He gat my Gudfyre Gog Magog,
He, when he daunft, the Warld wald fchog,
Then Thousand Ells zied in his Frog
Of Highland Plaids, and mair.

IV.

SIC was he quhen of tendir Zouth,
But aftir he grew mair at Fouth,
Elevin Myle wyde mett was his Mouth,
His Teith was ten Myles squair:
He wald upon his Tais upftand,
And tak the Starns doun with his Hand,
And fet them in a Gold Garland,
Abuve his Wyfes Hair.

V.

HIS Wyfe fcho mekle was of Clift,
Her Heid wan heicher than the Lift,
The Hevin reirdit quhen fcho did rift,
The Lafs was naithing sklender:

Scho spat Loch-lowmond with hir Lips,
 Thunder and Fyre flew frae hir Hips,
 Quhen scho was crabbit, the Sun thold Clips;
 The Feynd durst nocht offend hir.

VI.

FOR Cauld scho tuke the Fever Tartane,
 For all the Claith in France and Bartane
 Wald not be to hir Leg a Gartane,
 Thocht scho was zung and tendir:
 Upon a Nicht heir in the North,
 Scho tuke the Gravel, and staild Craig-gorth,
 And pifcht the grit Watter of Forth,
 Sic Tyd ran aftirhind hir.

VII.

ANE Thing written of hir I find,
 In Yrland quhen scho blew behind,
 On Norway Coist scho raist the Wind,
 And grit Schips drownit thair:
 Then scho fischt all the Spainzie Seis,
 With hir Sark Lap betwix hir Theyis,
 And thre Days sailing tween hir Kneis
 It was esteemd and mair.

VIII. THE

VIII.

THE hingan Braes on Adir Syde
Scho powtert with hir Lymms fae wyde;
Laffes nicht lair at hir to ftryde,

Wald gae to Luvairs lair.

Scho markit to the Land with Mirth,
Scho quhirrd fyve Quhails into the Firth,
Had croppin on hir **Geig* for Girth,
Walterand amang the Wair.

IX.

MY Fader mekle Gow Macmorne,
Out of his Moders Wame was schorne,
For Littlenes scho was forlorn,

Sican a Kemp to beir :

Or he of Age was Zeirs thre,
He wald stap owre the Ocean Se,
The Mone sprang neir abune his Knie,
The Heavens had of him Feir.

* A Kind of an old fashioned Net used now for catching of Spouts.

X.

ANE thousand Ziers ar past frae Mynd,
 Sen I was generit of his Kynd,
 Far furth in Defarts of the Ynd,
     Amang Lyon and Beir:
 Worthy King Arthur and Gowane,
 And mony a bauld Bairn of Bartane.
 Ar deid, and in the Wars are slain,
     Sen I could weild a Speir.

XI.

THE Sophie and the Sowdown frang,
 With Battles that haif lastit lang,
 Out of thair Bounds has maid me gang,
     And turn to Turkie tye.
 The King of Francis grit Armie
 Has brocht a Derth in Lombardie,
 That in the Countrie I and he
     Can nocht dwell baith perfyte.

XII.

Swadrick, Danmark, and Noraway,
 Nor in the Steids I dar not gae,
 For ther is nocht but burn and flae,
     Cut Thropples and mak quyte.

Yrland for ay I haif refufit,
All wyfe Men will hald me excufit;
For neir in Land wher Earse is ufyt,
To dwell had I delyt.

XIII.

I haif bene foremost ay in Feild,
And now fae lang haif born the Scheild,
That I am crynit in for Eild
    This litle, as ze may fe:
I haif bene banift undir the Lynd
This lang Tyme, that nane could me fynd,
Quhyle now with this laft Eiftin Wynd,
    I am cum heir perdie.

XIV.

MY Name is Welth, therefore be blyth,
I am cum Comfort zou to kyth,
Suppose ilk Wretch fuld wail and wryth,
    All Derth I fall gar die:
For certainly the Truth to tell,
I cum amang ze now to dwell,
Far frae the Sound of Curphour Bell,
    To live I neir fall drie.

XV. Now

XV.

Now fen I am sic Quantitie
 Of Gyans cum, as ze may fe,
 Quhair will be gotten a Wyfe for me,
     Of ficlyk Breid and Hicht?
 In all this Bour is not a Bryde
 Ane Hour I wate dar me abyde,
 Zet trow ze ony Heir befyde
     Micht suffer me all Nicht.

XVI.

ADEW a quhyle, for now I gae,
 But I will not lang byde ze frae,
 I wisch ze be conserft from Wae,
     Baith Maiden, Wyfe and Man:
 God blefs them and the haly Rude,
 Gif me a Drink, fe it be gude,
 And quha trows best that I do lude,
     Skink first to me the Kan.

FINIS. The Droichs Part of a Play.

Auld Kyndness quite forzet quhen ane grows pure.

I.

THIS Warld is all but fenziel fair,
 And as unftable as the Wind,
 And Faith is flemit I wat not quhair,
 Treft Fallowfhip is ill to find,
 Gude Confciencces is all made blind,
 And Charity thairs nane to get;
 Leil Luve and Lawty lys behind,
 And auld Kyndness is quite forzet.

II.

QUHYLE I had ony Thing to fpend,
 And ftuffit weil with Warlds Wrack,
 Amang my Friends I was weil kend;
 Quhen I was proud and had a Pack,
 They wad me be the Oxter tak;
 And at the hich Buird I was fet,
 But now they let me ftand aback,
 Sen auld Kyndness is quite forzet.

III. Now

III.

Now I can find but Friends few,
Sen I was prized to be pure,
They hald me now but for a Shrew;
Of me they tak but little Cure;
All that I do is but Injure:
Thocht I be bair I may not bett,
They let me stand upon the Flure,
Sen auld Kyndness is quite forzet.

IV.

SUPPOSE I mein I am nocht mendit,
Sen I held part with Povertie,
Away sen that my Pack was spendit,
Adieu all Liberality.
The Proverb now is trew I see,
Quha may not give will little get;
Therefore to say the Verity,
Now auld Kyndness is quite forzet.

V.

THEY wald me hals with Hude and Hat,
Quhyle I was rich and had enouch,
About me Friends enow I gat;
Right blythly then on me they leuch,
But now they mak it wonder teuch,
And lets me stand before the Zet;
Therfoir this Warld is very freuch,
And auld Kyndness is quite forzet. VI. As

VI.

As lang as my ain Cap ftude even,
I zied but feindle myne allane,
I squyrit was with Sax or Sevin,
Ay quhyle I gave them twa for ane;
But fuddenly frae that was gane,
They pafsd me by with Hands plett,
With puirtith frae I was oertane,
Then auld Kyndnefs was quite forzet.

VII.

INTO this Warld fuld nae Man trow,
Thou may weil fee the Reafon quhy;
For ay but gif thy Hand be fou,
Thou art but little fetten by,
Thou art not tane in Company,
Bot ther be fund Fifh in thy Net:
Therefore this falfe Warld I defy,
Sen auld Kyndnefs is quite forzet.

VIII.

SEN that nae Kyndnefs kepit is,
Into this Warld that is present,
Gif thou wald cum to Heavins Blifs,
Thyself appleift with fober Rent,
Live weil and give with gude Intent,
To every Man his proper Debt,
Quhat eir God fend hald thee content,
Sen auld Kyndnefs is quite forzet. AD-

ADVICE to be Liberal and Blyth.

I.

I MAKE it kend, he that will spend,
 And luvè GOD late and Air,
 He will him mend, and Grace him send,
 Quhyle Catives shall have Care:
 But Praife weil pend, fall him comend,
 That of his Rowth can spare;
 We know the End, that all maun wend
 Away nakit and bare,
 With an O and an I,
 And a Wretch fall haif nae mair,
 But a fchort Sheit at Heid and Feit,
 For all his Wrak and Ware.

II. FOR

II.

FOR all the Wrak a Wretch can pack,
And in his Bags embrace,
Zit Deid fall tak him be the Back,
And gar him cry Alace!
Then fall he fwak, away with Lak,
And wate not to what Place,
Then will they mak, at him a Knack,
That maift of his Geir hes;
With ane O and an I,
Quhyle we haif Tyme and Space,
Mak we gude Cheir, quhyle we are heir,
And thankful be for Grace.

III.

WERE there a King to rax and ring,
Amang Gude-fallows crownd,
Wretches wad wring, and mak Murning,
For Dule they fould be drownd.
Quha finds a Dring, or auld or zing,
Gar hoy him out and hound.

Now

Now let us sing, our Cares to ding,
And mak a gladsome Sound,
With an O and ane I:
Now are we further bound,
Drink thou to me, and I to thee,
And let the Cap go round.

IV.

QUHA understude, suld have his Gude,
Or he were clofd in Clay,
Sum in thair Mude they wald ga wid,
And die lang or thair Day;
Not worth a Hude, or an auld Snude
Thou shall bear hence away;
Wretch be the Rude, now to conclude,
Full few fall for thee pray,
With an O and ane I,
Gude Fallows as langs we may,
Be merry and free, fyne blyth let us be,
And sing on tway and tway.
