ARGENTINA DEMANDS SATISFACTION; NOTE CABLED TO GERMANY

Will Tolerate No Delay on Part of Germany in Making Amends for Sinking of Sailing Ship; Ready to Arm Ships Against U Boats; Spanish Cabinet

Buenos Ayres, April 21.—The Government has cabled to Germany an energetic note demanding complete satisfaction for the sinking of the Argentine sailing ship Monte Protegido. The Argentinan Minister is expected to break off relations immediately if Germany should attempt to evade responsibility for the loss of the vessel.

The instructions sent to the Minister are that Argentina will per mit no evasion or delay on the part of Germany. He has been told to instruct the Berlin Government that if prompt satisfaction is not granted Argentina will follow the course of the United States and Brazil and will arm its ships against German submarines.

It was announced officially on April 13 that the Monte Protegido

"Thus all the German plans for the economic and political subjugation of Austria in a Middle Europe' are in danger of going by the board before the urgent necessity for peace. The Germans intended that Galicia should be made autonomous and be unrepresented in the Reichsrath. This would have given them a clear majority and a free hand, but the Polish members for Galicia will now appear in full force and the German party will be in Washington, April 21 .- Heads of raiload-owned and other coastwise lines have been asked to come to Washington on Monday for a conference with proposal to divert large numbers of vessels from the coastwise trade to the trans-Atlantic service.

The increasing activity of the German submarines has spurred the offi cials in speeding up Government machinery to put every ton of shipping possible on the Atlantic. Work on the damaged German and Austrian ships in American ports is being hurried to the utmost, and the Government is raking the country for labor to build its great fleet of wooden ships. Legislation will be asked by the Shipping Board to empower It to take over ships beiding in American yards for for-

In order to allow this to be done with great rapidity, it is essential to secure the services of every doctor that can possibly be spared from the United Kingdom."

THE BATTLE OF YPRES.

Two years ago Canada's troops wer subjected to one of the fiercest tests that ever tried the mettle of soldiers on the battlefield. It was the las desperate attempt of the enemy to force his way to Calais, launched after elaborate preparation, with the accompaniment of asphyxiating gas, which was used there for the first time. Th attack was directed at the part of the Flanders front held by the Canadian First Division and French colonials covering Ypres on the northeast, the expectation of the German Chief Comnd being that the citizen soldier of Canada would be overpowered before assistance could be rushed to them. That expectation certainly was not without substantial basis. The enemy yastly out-numbered the holdfore assistance could be rushed to ers of the line. In artillery he had an overwhelming superiority, while he was entitled to look for far-reaching results from the deadly asphyxiating gas which heralded his onslaught. Thus he had all' the elements which make for a victorious stroke-superi ority in men and material and sur prise. We doubt if in all this war the Germans ever embarked upon a single enterprise with more reasonable hope

But the enemy General Staff overlocked a factor which turned our to take into account the galresourcefulness after all, was not surprising. The German High Command always had be-Heved the soldiers from Overseas to be negligible as a military quantity. Its experts for years had advised it to Tigris eighty miles north of Bagdad. that effect. Von Bernhardi dismissed the Overseas troops as unworthy of consideration in his estimate of the Germans had constructed from fusion" of an "item" with "something i pire might be involved. THE STRIKE IN GERMANY.

The strike in Germany appears to ve assumed a serious aspect, calling or the intervention of von Hindenurg. At Magdeburg, the scene of trouble a short time ago, there was nother clash between workers and troops yesterday. The original issue between the strikers and the authorirefused to accept the twenty-five per ent. reduction of their bread ratio ordered to commence last Sunday They say they cannot subsist on the ew allowance, as decided by the prosorial food scientists behind Herr Batocki and that the extra ration of meat is no substitute. On the other and if the Government restores the old ration Germany cannot bridge the gap between now and the mext har est. She must throw up her hands this coming summer.

the original issue has not been kept confined to one-item. It naturally clears the way for a whole flood of grievances just as the food question n Russia opened the door to a ting revolution. Thus the strike in Germany is pregnant with far-react sibilities. The authorities ma settle this one, but another will take its place. Indeed, next month will b marked by one industrial upheava after another. As the internal situation alway governs Germany's outside policy w may look for some desperate effort t divert the public mind elsewhere. This may take the form of a big counterto break into the Atlantic. One of these adventures is bound to be embarked upon if for no other reaso than to unify German sentiment an avert the threat which Wilhelm al ways has mortally feared.

TURKS BEATEN AGAIN.

The Turks have suffered another severe defeat at the hands of the British army beyond Bagdad, General Maude having forced a passage of the Shatt-el-Adhem and attacked the main fatal to its plans. It did positions on which the enemy was bent upon making a determined stand, com pletely routing the hostile forces. More and determination of the troops than 1,200 Turks were taken prisoner sed to the German veterans. This, and they no doubt have suffered substantial material losses as well. The scene of General Maude's latest victory is Istabulat, eleven miles southeast of Samarra, a town on the Samarra was the railhead of the section of Bagdad railroad which the ground of any "error" or the "conat Mosul the construction operations coming from the west and teached Nisibin, 125 miles northwest of Mosul. to permit Mr. Cowper to amend charge the websyck ugain on Tuesday. That charge which affects the future caree of the minister against t was made, was deliberate and abso lute. On this all the press reports of the incident agree. The junior mem ber for Vancouver declared he had been "instructed" that as late as September 14 "the sum of $25,000 was paid out in cash to one of the candidate the money coming from the C. N. P. Mr. Oliver asked if he understood the The sum of $25,000 was paid out to a andidate," and Mr. Cowper answered n the affirmative. The Minister of Agriculture then requested that the member's words be officially taken down, On April 18 Mr. Cowper read Mr. Oliver's version of his charge o the day before and stated that it was correct, observing at the same time, 'I have no desire to evade any of the responsibility for my words uttered esterday." Thus the charge was not only made on Tuesday but was repeated and emphasized by the member for Vancouver on the next day, permitting a lapse of twenty-four hours for sec nd thought.

Yesterday Mr. Cowper requested permission to amend the charge. He wanted the $25,000 named by him reduced to $15,000. The first figure, h said, was mentioned in "error," had confused the "item" with another. It is true that while Mr. Macdonald would not be helped or Mr. Cowper hurt if it were found that the sum of $15,000 or any other amount that $25,060 was taken, no variation in the charge laid with such circumstantiality on Tuesday and Wednesday should be night be more attempts at amendment. MILITARY Y.M.G.A.

Women's Canadian Club Has Charge of Collection for Men at Front

Monday of next week will witness he holding of a tag day for the support of the Y. M. C. A. military worl at the front, chiefly in France and Belgium. The organization and arrangements for the covering of the kindly consented some months ago, a of the Y. M. C. A., to undertake the Victorians should need no urging in the matter of giving liberally to this cause. The Y. M. C. A. is carrying on noble work on the battlefields of France, a statement which is borne ample evidence to by the letters which are daily received from the boys in which they express their appreciation of the comforts which are supplied by the Association

Last year the Y. M. C. A. of Canada spent $400,000 in defraying the ex-penses of the military work alone, and the budget for the current year is fixed at a sum far in excess of that, namely, $600,000. The purposes to which this sum is to be devoted are many. It is necessary to build huts and to furnish them even though it may be in a very rough manner. Tents must also be bought where the erection of permanent huts would be impracticable. It is also the endeavor tion of permanent huts would be im-practicable. It is also the endeavor of the organization to supply as much entertainment to the boys as the cir-cumstances will permit, and to this end they have already twenty pianos and eighty-five grampilenes in the huts of France, and for the latter machines no less than a million needles have been sent to the conti-ment.

Large sums are devoted to the purchase of writing paper and envelopes, which at all times are in great demand by the troops. Nor is the fact that the Canadian boys are lovers of sport forgotten. The National Council of the Y. M. C. A. of Canada has sent to France 400 footballs, besides innumerable collections of other equipment for games that the troops may be enabled to indulge in sport while stationed behind the lines in billets.

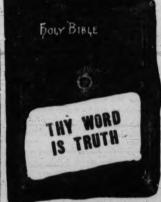

The great needs which these various demands represent should appeal strongly to all residents of this city and it is fully expected that a ready response will meet the ladies who will have charge of the tagging on Monday. The badges will be in the form of a maple leaf and the day will be observed as a continuance of the Ypres celebration.

LEGISLATION GETS CAREFUL SCRUTINY

Several Bills Considered in Committee of the Whole; Would Alter Charge

Legislative Press Gallery, April 20.

Another day of quiet and uneventful work was spent by the House to day, several bills being taken up in nittee and substantial progress made with the consideration of these. Section by section these bills were taken up and carefully scrutinized, and where it was felt that amendment would improve them this was made with the cordial co-operation of the minister in charge of the particu-

General nor any other minister could be asked to answer question respecting this board, since the Act establishing it did not make any minister responsible for it or give any power to compel the board to give answers.

Mr. Bowser argued that because the Attorney-General had answered a question about this board recently he had put himself, out of court. The honorable gentleman stated that the board was showing a want of attention to men who were hurt, and he gave an instance of a man hurt in the Wallace Shipyards in January who had received no compensation yet.

Contagious Diseases Act.

In committee on the Contagious Diseases (Animais) Act amendments, C.
F. Nelson (Slocan) in the chair, some time was spent on an amendment by Dr. McIntosh calling for the subjection to the tuberculin test of all cattle imported into the province within three months of their admission. The honorable centlemen scoke of the great rable gentleman spoke of the great alence of bovine tuberculosis and menace to humans.

the menace to humans.

The Minister of Agriculture held that as a large proportion of the cattle imported were not for dairy purposes but for slaughter the expense would make it prohibitive to have all tested. Dairy cattle had to be tested. The Minister reminded the third member for Vancouver that sheep, pigs and poultry were also affected by tuberculosis, poultry out of all proportion to any other animals. If this section was, to be incorporated in the Act the House would have to vastly increase the grant for carrying on the work and grant for carrying on the work angiving compensation.

E. D. Barrow (Chilliwack) desired to prevent the impression getting abroad that there was any letting down of the bars as against diseased cattle. No practical dairyman, he said, would take any chances in importing dairy cattle unless sure they were free from disease, and he would never neglect to have them tested as early as he could. This bill was amending legislation which had never been put into operation, having been adopted, like too much legislation, without an understanding of the conditions to be dealt with. The City No Letting Down Bars. conditions to be dealt with. The City Council of Victoria not long ago would have passed by-laws which would have prevented any milk from being brought into the city. Only Dairy Cattle. Dr. McIntosh amended his propos section to apply only to dairy cattle

The honorable gentleman also sought to have it made an offence to "plug" animals, punishable by a fine of $100. This so-calling "plugging" is done by dosing cattle to such an extent that they do not react to the tuber-culin act.

The Minister of Agriculture observed that in British Columbia the results of so-called "plugging" seemed to last for a good deal longer than three months. This amendment was rejected but one proposed by the Minister, making it at offence to do anything which would prevent reaction, was adopted. The penalty for offences under the Act run to a maximum of $50, Mineral Act.

The Mineral Act was taken up in ommittee with John Keen (Kaslo) in

The honorable gentleman explained, as did the member for Richmond later, that the allegation that Mr. Cotsworth had so acted was made by the late Premier in a speech in Vancouver during the campaign. Mr. Howser claimed that Mr. Cotsworth, then chairman of the civil service grading commission, had made a trip to Quatsino to regrade one of "my constables" getting $30 a month the excuse for travelling to inspect his own and family's lands.

Arising out of that pamphlet Mr. Lucas had sought the aid of the courts, and Mr. Cotsworth had the same recourse against himself (Mr. Bowser) if he thought he was injured, by anything that had been said. Mr. Bowser humorously suggested that a man ought not to be held responsible for everything he said duying a cam-paign, and that as the other side had won and he had lost they might let by-gones be by-gones. gones be by-gones.

1. Since November 24th, 1916, have any representations, requests or sug-gestions been made to the Hon. the Attorney-General or to any member of the Government that Police Magistrate H. C. Shaw, of Vancouver, or Deputy Police Magistrate C. J. South, or either of them or both of them, be asked for their resignations?

2. Has the Hon, the Attorney-General or any member of the Government been asked to suggest to the Police whom were they made?

4. What reasons for dismissal were contained in such suggestions or requests for such action?

Hon. Mr. Macdouald replied:

1. No. With the qualification that some parties not satisfied with decisions complained and suggested dismissals.

considered. Even as far back as the time of the Greeks and Romans the fundamentals of the French "jeu de Paume," which without doubt is the direct ancestor of the modern game of tennis are seen. The exact derivation of the name "Tennis" is, however nown, although several sugges tions have been made they are for the most part very unsatisfactory.

In England tennis, or some form of it, was well-known in the time of Chaucer, and a pastime which has termed handball, which may have been either tenuls or cricket, was proscribed by Edward III. in 1365. In France the game was prohibited to priests, and in 1427 reference is made to several players whose forchanded and backhanded strokes were very much to be commended, which statement leads to the inference that the resident had be the inference that the racket had at that time been introduced.

Patronized by Royalty.

The play was at this period very much patronized by French royalty. It was played in a crude form about the old castles, and in records of the game old castes, and in records of the game we heard that Henry II. was one of the best players in France. In the reign of Henri IV. it had, become so popular that it was said that there were "more tonnis players in Paris than drunkards in England."

Returning to England we find that during the time of the Tudors, tennis was played throughout the whole counwas played throughout the whole country. Henry VII. was himself an ardent fellower of the sport, and he was respectively. The special property of the revocation of the celiets which had made it an unlawful pastime. The game continued to flourish down through the years till in the nineteenth century it lost a considerable amount of its popularity, due to the fact that the demolition of many of the courts were brought about by a great increase in buildings.

There is something about Uncle Sam's national pastime which endears it alike to the hearts of the Ty Cobbs and youthful street arabs, to the governor of states and the homeless hope, to the rich and popularity that baseball to-day enjoys. It is, however, extremely difficult if not impossible to determine any definite rules which if adhered to will guarantee the future of any sport. There are, of course, certain attributes which its success as a nation-wide sport will depend. The spirit of struggle for view for y holds a pastime.

It is futile, however, to attempt more han to merely suggest a few influences which are brought to bear upon a came and upon which, to a great exent, its future will depend. It is large ly on the few which are here mentioned that baseball, the summer sport, is based as a successful pastime both na-tionally and internationally.

A great deal of Interest is centring around the eight-round bout for the welterweight championship of the province, which will take place this evening between "Scotty" McKay and Petty Officer Curson at the Willows. The work which the former has done is well-known in the city. Additional curiosity is, entertained from tional curiosity is entertained from the fact that he recently returned from France, where he was wounded rather severely, but in spite of this fact the fans are confident that he will put up a very game fight.

depend. The spirit of struggle for victory holds a very prominent place. The enthusiasm with which the public will follow the course of a rugby, soccerice hockey or baseball match is caused and stimulated to a great extent by the supreme effort of the opposing teams, which is absolutely necessary in order to gain the victory.

Mere physical exertion would, if isolated from all other efforts, be used in vain as a successful attribute of a game. The pleasure which the individual experiences in either performing!

The tournament will start at 8.36 sharp and two preliminaries before the main events are scheduled. These contests will be between naval and military boxers. Elimination of championship titles in amateur sports during the war in order to do away with the attraction such games would have for athletes is very probable to-day, following the adoption of resolutions by representatives of four bodies controlling the treading big league parks than from any other club.

New York has three former Tigers doing duty for its American League club. Hugh High, Pipp and Baumann never had a real chance to perform for Jennings, due to the presence of Ty Cobb and a few others like him. Baumann hasn't yet been able to tie down a regular job in New York.

Deal and Archer of the Cubs are former Tigers, but no one has yet been able to figure Deal a real star. Bill Louden and Clarence Mitchell of the Reds once drew Detroit pay-cheques. And, if Jennings had been able to see Mitchell's possibility as a pitcher he undoubtedly still would be doing duty well in a Detroit upiform this year, following his excellent mound work.

Claude Williams would look mighty well in a Detroit upiform this year, following his excellent mound work at summer for the White Sox.

Bradley Kocher of the Glants and the balance of Jennings cast-offs who still are kicking big league dust, and one lither-of these gents is a regular.

Jennings has been trying and trying to decide who can pitch and who can't, but he hasn't so far been able to pin his decision down to a cinch.

Pitchers are pitchers to him, apparently. Stars in the minors quickly lose their brilliance when they tie up with what is otherwise one of the received herschill matches were find.

The pennant would probably have to be divided into two sections to satisfy the rest of the league.

Jennings has promised a reverse English twist to his usual order of things this year. His young pitchers, he boasts, will be there or thereabouts most of the time.

QUIET SEASON AMONG LOCAL FISHERMEN

Two factors seem to be instrumental in bringing about the quiet season which is so noticeable in the fishing world. The first is that many, in fact the majority, of the local fishermen are now fighting in France or Belgium, and secondly, the weather condition which have so prevailed of late that few are venturing to any of the numer-ous fishing grounds over the extent of the island. It is true that a number of anglers are seen each week on the Saanich Arm in the vicinity of Brent-wood, but the luck with which they are meeting is not equal to that which has characterized similar efforts of

The entrance of the United States into the war creates a large consuming public which will no longer be producing, and all of which will be withdrawn from productive industry. The Americans are taking up this question with singular unanimity of purpose, and all kinds of organizations are being called into being to work for the common welfare. The upward trend of foodstuffs in the past few weeks should enforce the lesson in every home. All economists unite in declaring that the conditions must be even more acute yet. There are many ways in which foodstuffs can be raised at home, and the easiest and most effective of all is in the garden, where nature's increase is prodigal.

Increased Production Campaign

The attention of the public is urgently drawn to the almost certain world wide shortage of food stuffs which will occur next winter. The highest and best informed authorities in Great Britain, Canada and the United States have issued warning after warning that increased efforts must be made to produce food.

A food famine would be a "worse disaster to the Empire and her Allies than reverses in the Field."

The City of Victoria is assisting in various ways, those desirous of cultivating vacant areas, namely, by securing for applicants the use of vacant lots, by ploughing and harrowing at cost, by reduced water rates, and in other ways. Full particulars are available from J. B. Tighe, Secretary of Increased Production Canpaign, City Engineer's Department, City Hail.

Already this Spring something over one bundred acres of idle land, within the City limits, have been placed under cultivations.

Campaign. City Engineer's Department. City Hall.
Already this Spring something over one hundred acres of idle land, within the City limits, have been placed under cuitvation. There are, however, hundreds of fertile vacant lots still available. Or ganizations and individuals are urged to cultivate some or all of these. Secretary Tighe can secure the use of practically any particular piece of land any individuals cultivator desires and the public are invited to consult with him.

Those desirous of having vacant areas ploughed and harrowed should get their orders in to Secretary Tighe without delay, as work of this kind should be finished by the end of April.

Every man, woman, or child having available a few feet of vacant ground, by quitivating it and raising a crop of food stuffs, no matter how amail, is assisting in the following:

officials of the B. C. Salvage Com-pany are looking for the arrival of the damaged vessel here by to-morrow night or early Monday morning. The Prince Rupert is coming down on her tank tops, and is under her own steam, but convoyed by the steamer Salvor. According to reports received here the damage to the steamer is very exten-sive and it is estimated that the necessary repairs will occupy a period of

Just as soon as the ship is safely in the graving basin a large force of men will be put basin a large force of men will be put to work and will remain on the job until the contract is completed.

The salving of the Prince Rupert was carried out under most difficult con-ditions, and the fact that the vessel was hauled from her perilous position without sustaining further damage, 'is a great tribute to the salvage company, and also to Capt. T. Thompson, who is in command of the Salvor. A. P. Mc-Farland, of the London Salvage Association; Capt. C. H. Nicholson, manager of G.T.P. coast steamships, and A. L. Brownlee, superintendent engineer, were also on the scene during the salvage operations.

The Prince Rupert was so firmly wedged on the reef that great pinnacies of rocks were forced through the steel plates. When opportunity occurred and with the assistance of the rising and with the assistance of the rising tides; the salvage men shored up the stern, after which the pinnacles of rock-holding the vessel forward were blasted away, the apertures being patched up from the inside. Several unsuccessful attempts were made to haul the Rupert affoat during the early part of the operations, but the tides then began to drop, effectually putting a stop to further efforts for the time being.

Heavy timbers built under the ship

Heavy timbers built under the ship aft materially assisted in the salvage work, taking much of the strain off the vessel as she slid off the reefs into deep water.

It is just under a month since the Prince Rupert went ashore on Genn Island, she having piled up on March 23 while on her southbound trip from Prince Rupert to Victoria.

PRINCESS PATRICIA HERE FOR REPAIRS

C. P. R. Turbiner Damaged Propellers by Contact With Submerged Obstacle

When passing through the Vancou-ver First Narrows yesterday the Prin-cess Patricia's propeters came in con-tact with a partly submerged log with the result that she has been temporar-ily placed out of commission.

The Patricia arrived in the Inner

Harbor early this morning in tow two tugs to undergo repairs at the plant of the Victoria Machinery Depot. The propeller blades suffered consid-erably when they churned over the obstacle and it is also thought that the shaft will be in need of attention. The announcement was made this morning at the offices of the B. C. Coast Steam-

PERMISSION GRANTED TO CHANGE REGISTRY

ated to California Under British Flag

The United States Shipping Board has granted permission to the Pacific Lime Company, of Blubber Bay, to change the registry of the steamer Iwalani, which vessel was recently purchased from the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company of Honolulu, and she will fly the British flag as soon as she enters the service of her British Columbia owners. The Iwalani reached Puget Sound about eighteen months ago from Hawaii, and was moored in Eagle Harbor up to the time of her purchase a few days ago by the Pacific Lime Company. The steamer is of 239 tons register and was built in San Francisco in 1881 for the Hawaiian coasting trade. Hawaiian coasting trade.

His first words were, Hello, fellows! Gee, isn't this ohe h— of a night?" Some looked up scowling, not wanting to be disturbed, and he began joking with one or two others. After a little he noticed the piano and he made for it, sat down and began playing nothing in particular. Then he played some rag-time in which some of the boys joined, singing and whisting. Then he passed on to some of those old-time songs—you know that kind that we sing in our homes and in our camps.

"Gradually the fellows stopped writing, some bit their nails, others wallowed hard, and others resting their chins on their hands gazed into space, thinking of home. As I stood there! Confess that a tear stood in my eye and my heart rose to my mouth as the

ROYAL PROGRAMME BY VICTORIA FILM MAN

Lieut, Dwyer Gave Command Exhibition at Windsor Castle Before Their Majesties

It is not generally known that a Victorian had the honor of being com-manded by Their Majesties the King and Queen in September last to show to them on the screen, among other to them on the screen, among other things, a kinematograph reproduction of British Columbia's soldiers leaving this city en route for England. It is a proud fact, too, that a Victorian was privileged and authorized to take the first and only film depicting British transports, with their attendant armed escorts, ploughing their way across the Atlantic to the Motherland. Lieut. D. J. Dwyer, who arrived back in the city on Thursday afternoon last, gave a kinematograph film programme, representing scenes from Canada's presenting scenes from Canada's Fighting Forces, before the King and Queen, Princes Mary, Prince John, Prince Henry, Princes Marie of Schleswig Holstein and other members of the Royal Family, while son two hundred other notables were al

Old and New.

The old Waterloo Hall at Windsor Castle, redolent with the past glories of British arms, was a fitting mise-en-scene for the pictorial representation of modern Canada's rally to the old flag. The programme was divided into two sections commencing with the scenes in Victoria as the troops marched away in the early days of the AMES BAY METHODIST—"Ypres Anniversary Services." Morning subject, "Heroce," by the pastor, Rev. S. Cook, soloist, Mr. J. M. Thomas; evening, 7.30, pastor will preach. Special patriotic hymns. Welcome to all, a?! board snip. There followed the June of Connaight's inspection at Ottawa, scenes on board transport in mid-Atlantic, reviews in England by His Majesty, and inspections by famous generals whose names ring out in every corner of the earth.

Victorians Training. Other sections of the film depict Canadian pilots at a scaplane station undergoing their training, which Lter earned for them such warm praise from Sir William Robertson; exhibifrom Sir William Robertson; exhibitions from the Dominion's skilled airmen at a great war base, the locality of which nothing would persuade Lieut. Dwyer to disclose; several visits of the King to Canadian hospitals, which show His Majesty in happy pose, were portrayed upon the screen. Another interesting subject showed the Victorians receiving their course of Instruction at the Royal Naval College at Greenwich. Since His Maof instruction at the Royal Naval Col-lege at Greenwich. Since His Ma-Jesty is so intimately acquainted with the ways of the sea, Lleut. Dwyer stated that the King evinced a good deal of interest in this part of the programme. It was a happy choice, for it showed to advantage and in perfect detail the many tasks, in which the boys from this city were required to become proficient, 'ere they were allocated to that new branch of the great silent fleet, known as the motor-boat patrol. All those boys who went from Esquimait on August 3, 1914, soon obtained commissions, says Lieut. Dwyer, and are now scattered round the British Isles re-moving dangers from the steamship lanes.

Presented to King and Queen. At the conclusion of the proceedings in Waterloo Hall Lieut. Dwyer was presented to the King and Queen by the Hon. Sir Derek W. Keppel. His Majesty desired the Canadlan people to be assured of his deep appreciation and gratitude for the part the Do-minion was playing in the Empire's fight against Prussian militarism. Both the King and Queen expressed their delight at the magnificent ple-tures, His Majesty showing keen in-

That way, and that way only, can we build up a civilization that will last and keep us forever free from a repetition of the present horrors.

To anyone who fears that this process will drag us all down to a "dead level" let me ask whether the level the men at the front have attained is "down" or "up"? Does not the standard they have set make us at home ashamed of ourselves? Possible a scarcity of food is again crusing the island panthers to become bold. Recently at the Jordan River district an incident occurred testifying to this effect.

Mr. Arnold, who is a line-man throughout the section, was disturbed late one afternoon recently while sitting in his log cabin. A commotion in the woods close by was followed by his dog rushing through the open door and through the window on the opposite side of the house. After him came a medium-sized panther. A fight instantly ensued between the two heasts and Mr. Arnold was able to see that the dog was getting the worst of the encounter. He therefore attempted to attack the pauther with an axe, but such was the fury of the beast that he was unable to get within close enough.

IRON ORE DEPOSITS OF VANCOUVER ISLAND

Valuable Report Made by W. M. Brewer to the Minister of Mines

> Legislative Press Gallery, April 21.

In a document which was laid on the of the House yesterday by the Miffister of Mines as a bulletin of his department a valuable report is made on the iron-ore deposits of Vancouver Island and Rexada Island by W. M. Brewer, M.E., who made a survey of the deposits last year.

His 'examinations were undertaken principally for the purpose of bringing the information regarding the iron ores already in the possession of the Bureau of Mines up to date, and regarding there he says:

During the summer the writer was Horing the summer the writer was, heavily handicapped, owing to the fact that because there has been no movement to create a demand for either from one mines or the ore, the prospectors and other owners of deposits that had been staked several years ago had suspended development work after having acquired Crown grants for their claims.

Trails Neglected

"Owing to this fact the trails to the workings and outcroppings have been neglected; 'the underbrush, devil'sclub, huckleberry, salmon-berry, and salal bushes have reached such great growth that the old trails were mostly-found to be impassable, dumps of ore, as well as outcroppings, were covered me well as outcroppings, were covered up, and the entrances to tunnels were only found with great difficulty; conse-quently, considerably more time was occupied in making the examinations than otherwise would have been the than otherwise would nave been the case. In addition to such difficulties, the absence of the owners from most of the properties examined often presented such an obstacle as to seriously impede the work of examination. Writing on the deposits Mr. Brewe est notable points along the west coast of Vancouver Island where west coast of vancourer island where such deposits occur are the Gordon Pleton Bugaboo Creek, Barkley Sound, Alberni Canal, Henderson Lake, Ken-nedy Iake, and Nootka and Quarsino Sounds. Near the east coast of Vancouver Island deposits are found on the Upper Quinsam Lake and on Klaanch River. On the west coast of Texada Island the deposits occur be-tween three and four miles north of Gillies Bay.

Magnetite.

Magnetite.

"Magnetite is the most usual iron ore occurring at the several points referred to. This ore is usually found at or near the contact between crystalline limestone and eruptive rocks belonging to the Vancouver series, as classified by the late Dr. Dawson. The percentage of iron carried by the ore is usually between 55 and 70 per cent, with the percentage of phosphorus quite low and generally considerably below the Bessemer limit.

quite low and generally considerably below the Bessemer' limit.

"In some of the deposits the centent of sulphur is more than 1 per cent, but usually it is less than that. The higher sulphur content is accounted for by the fact that there is sometimes a variable quantity of pyrrhotite and fron pyrites more or less closely associated with the magnetite, and generally when this is the case some of the ire also carries a low percentage. the ire also carries a low percentage

"In many cases the magnetite deposits have been found to carry a per-centage of copper sufficiently high to cause such deposit to possess a greater commercial value for the copper concommercial value for the copper con-tent, and therefore no value for iron-making. Many of the occurences of copper ore on the islands reterred to are closely associated with magnetite, and such ore is sometimes attractive to smelters on account of the fluxing to smelters on account of the fluxing qualities. None of such occurrences of copper ore are described in this report, which is confined to a description of such deposits only as apparently possess commercial value as Iron-ore mines for the production of pig-iron.

"Haematite has been reported our on the islands referred to or on the islands referred to in take report, but the writer fadled to find any deposits of this variety of iron ore during his examinations. As to tonnage he writes:

"So far as quantity of ore available for mining is concerned, it is only pos-sible to make a very rough estimate. Under the present conditions even that estimate can only be made on theory, estimate can only be made on theory, and much more development much be done to prove the figures, which may be considerably increased, given in the following report. The developmentwork is not sufficient in any instance. to determine the conditions beyond a shallow depth, as regards the con-linuity of the magnetite-deposits to deep levels. The same statement ap-plies to the question of the superficial show that the ore-body is still strong Tonnage Available. "The writer has attempted to make an estimate of tonnage of ore available by dividing it into three classes, as

Cotsworth May Discuss Cost of Living at City Hall Meeting

Industrial development and pro perity of a city are largely determined by the cost of living therein. The cost of living in Seattle has advanced till it is practically the same as in Victoria while the relative advance in Tacom quence of which Tacoma is growin faster relatively, and drawing popula cost of living in Vancouve than they were in the corresponding period of last year. New Westminster, which in 1910 had the lowest rate, is now higher than Vancouver or Victoria.

Those were some of the observations of Moses B. Cotsworth, in appealing to a committee of the City Council gesterday afternoon for an opportunity to terday afternoon for an opportunity to address a public meeting in the City Hall during the course of the next few days. He proposed to explain some suggestions to combat the increasing cost of commodities and declared that it was due to the result of a public meeting held in Victoria in January. 1910, at his suggestion, that the mi dealers were prevented from raising dealers were prevented from raising the price of milk to the community. Mr. Cotsworth conveyed the impres-sion that generally speaking, in all coast cities there has been an advance in staple commodities. He thinks the cost can be brought down, pending any undulating district abounding in natural grass. There the domestic stock rub shoulders with the wayward types of the hills. Mountain sheep, wild all trace of civilized usage are occasionally to be seen mingling with the stock of the pastoralists. Back away in the hills the wolf and the panther forey on the calves and lambs, and occasionally the golden eagle sweeps down from his lofty aerie to carry off the young of the flock.

C. W. Mage, of the Empire Valley Development Company, an organization which is operating in the section about that country. Lack of road fa-cilities have held back development, and left the land to the stockmen which in the lower alluvial valley of the Fraser should be used for fruit and small produce. He says the road dong the Fraser should be built to onnect Pavillon with Soda Creek aportant settlements would be built up. The lower valleys would then be worth irrigating, and there is an abundance of natural water power. The stockmen would then retreat to the hills, where the ranges afford valuable railway, so that the flocks and herds will not greatly increase until transportation is provided. The second largest cattle breeders in British Columbia are located there, and there are several other important ranchers.

The wild animals of the country cause the stockmen a considerable amount of trouble, the panthers being known to destroy the horses, as well as weaker animals. Coyotes have also given a great deal of trouble. Predatory eagles attack the young stock, and carry them off to their aeries in the steep cliffs or the tops of trees for consumption. There are a considerconsumption. There are a considerable number of mountain sheep, Mr. Magee says, which at times become quite tame, but the number of mule deer is decreasing.

Mr. Magee told an interesting stor with regard to the vicious attacks He was riding, he states, one day Before he reached it, however, the eagle struck him twice again, the fur eagle struck nim twice again, the far flying ten feet in either direction as the bird descended on the animal's back. The eagle withdrew defeated when the deer reached cover. On an-other occasion he saw a cow attacked, the object being to reach the calf the object being to reach the can trotting at her side, and in running for shelter the cow kept the calf be-tween her front legs while the eagle was swooping over her back. These birds capture more young lambs than fawns, since the deer are safer in the timber than the sheep are upon the hills.
