A royal palace of France brought across the ocean and set up on the banks of the Hudson is the newest surprise produced by a New York multimillionaire. That is the carefully concealed plan that Fred W. Vanderbilt in now carrying out. On his commanding site in Hyde Park on the Hudson he is going to set up the Malmaison palace of Napoleon.

In half a dozen shops of New York the almost priceless decorations of the old French palace are being regilded, burnished, and retouched and made ready to put together again.

Up in the great stone pile overlooking the Hudson are now being placed in position the marble column, the moseries, the mural decorations that the armies of Napoleon once plundered Rurope, Asia and Africa to get for their master.

The outer walls of his great house now stand revealed in their massive completeness. A perfect model of an old world royal palace, it extends for nearly 800 feet along the crest of the hill, and rises in a massive colonnade three lofty stories in height. In carrying out this great scheme Mr. Vanderbilt, while on his present trip abroad, secently negotiated for and purchased Napoleon's former chateau of Malmaimon, near Paris. Then began the work of taking down all the interior decorations, the costly stucco ceilings, the wall tapestries, the marble mantels, columns and pilasters, the mosaics, and the almost priceless woodwork.

RECONCENTRADO MASCOT.

Little Cuban Boy Comes Into the Possession of C. L. Wilson, of the Manhattan Club.

A small boy, black and happy, whose aliases conferred upon him by others, is now a guest of C. L. Wilson, of the Manhattan club, New York. The lad is a Cuban and was brought to New York from Santiago by Mr. Wilson and Lieut. Col. Worth, of the Thirteenth infantry.

The junior reconcentrado is as black as coal, speaks only Spanish, and is nine years old. He will be converted into a good American, citizen. He was first known aboard the transport City of Washington as Santiago Buck. Later on he was called "Wilson's ward." Chaplain Deavitt, of the army, is responsible for the boy's discovery. Both his parents are dead. Mr. Wilson paid over to the lad's uncle ten dollars in American money, signed a queer Cuban document, and the boy was his.

Mr. Wilson will send the little fellow to school, and his original name, Verrames y Pellro, will probably be changed to Fourth of Wilcon or something equally patriotic, for it was on the nation's birthday that Mr. Wilson presented the Manhattan club flag to Col. Downes at Siboney. The boy will be the Manhattan club's mascot.

FLORISTS MADE A MISTAKE.

Another Bridal Couple Enjoyed the Benefit of Their Fragrant Decorations.

Accidents and mistakes are always liable to happen at a wedding, and many brides and grooms have learned to their cost that it pays to supervise the arrangements for their marriage themselves. An amusing thing happened to a very smart wedding not far from London recently. The bride's parents sent to some fashionable city horists to decorate the chancel of the parish church, but when the bridal party arrived not a flower was visible, and the place was as bare as a burn. Indignation and surprise consumed all concerned, and violent inquiries were sent by wire to the fashsionable florists to learn why they had failed to obey instructions. The anwwer came in due time with the bill. and on inquiry it was discovered that the small two o'clock nuptials had been preceded by another earlier wedding. The florists had arrived just before and profusely adorned the church, but as soon as the ceremony was over, supposing it to be "the" wedding for which they were engaged, they carefully removed all the decorations and bundled them off to town! The moral of which is: Don't leave bridal arrangements to hirelings.

WILL ENTER A CONVENT.

Ex-Salvation Army Brigadier, Miss Smale F. Swift, Decides to Take the Vetl.

Miss Susie F. Swift, formerly a brigadier in the Salvation Army, whose conversion to the Roman Catholic faith a year and a half ago caused a commotion in the army, is about to enter a convent.

Miss Swift is the daughter of a lawver in Poughkeepsie and a graduate from Vassar college. She taught English and higher mathematics in a girls' school at Morristown, N. J. On account of illness she went abroad.

In England she became interested in the work of the Salvation Army. She will enter the convent in August as a mostulant for a novitiate of one year. at the end of which she will take the white veil. The black veil will be taken at the end of the second year. Then will follow a period of five years in the life of the convent, at the end of which perpetual nows are taken.

FUELING WARSHIPS.

How Commodore Bradford Keens the Bunkers of Our Great Ocean Fighters Full of Coal.

One of the greatest triumphs of the partment in furnishing supplies and in a recent interview, their duties have fleet in Cuban waters or the harbor executive ability the ships might have been helpless for the lack of fuel, ammunition and food. The superiority of our naval organization and the ability of our bureau chiefs has been demonstrated in a striking manner. One of the most remarkable has been furnished by the bureau of equipment in the distribution of coal. No matter how frequently or suddenly the scene of naval activity is changed, the vessels must have fuel, and it has been Commodore Bradford's business to see that loaded colliers were on hand when they were wanted. Without the employment of an extra clerk and without the slightest parade he has succeeded in keeping the bunkers of every vessel in the navy full of coal from the beginning of hostilities, no matter whether they were on the North Atlantic coast or in the Caribbean sea, or in the ports of the Pacific or the Philippine islands. At the same time he has been able to furnish fuel for the army transports in both oceans without allowing his coal piles at the source of supply to be diminished.

Some idea of the magnitude of this task is suggested by the fact that within the last four months 150,000 tons of coal have been delivered to the ships of the United States navy in various parts of the world, at a cost of nearly $1,000,600. Over 80,000 tons have chief possessions are a number of been distributed from Key West alone and 20,000 tons from Honolulu.

AN ANCIENT BOOK.

It is a Mammoth Volume 350 Years Old and Is Owned by a Massachusetts Man.

One of the recent additions made by George Walter Vincent Smith to his collection at the art museum is of unusual interest. It is an immense book or missal dating back to 1539, in which are inscribed the words and music of the Gregorian chants of the old Catholic churches, says the Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

The work in this book is beautifully done, and its great antiquity is evident from the first sight. The words are inscribed by hand in Latin, and the music is written out in some obsolete kind of notation. The pages are of parchment, and in an almost perfect state of preservation. The initial letters are beautifully illuminated.

A single page is nearly four feet long by about two feet wide, and one man can hardly handle the wood. It is bound with boards of wood, covered with leather, somewhat worn, and the brass which is used for trimmings is corroded. The book was evidently intended for use on some kind of a stand in some fine old cathedral.

It is said to have come from Seville, Spain, some time ago, and to have h sold because of the poverty of the parish in order to make repairs on the building. There is said to be but one other such book in this country, and that is at Detroit.

HOW CHINESE RISE.

The Feat of Cutting Off a Man's Head Brought One Mongolian a Fortune.

A correspondent supplies us with the biography of a high Chinese official, who is now one of the leading authorities on foreign affairs. This man, it seems, was born in Fatshan, and received a good education. He inherited some money, which he squandered, and, being regarded by his family as a bad character, he was turned out. He then came to Hong-Kong and set up as a fortune teller in Talpinshan, where anyone could have his destiny told him for a few cents. Finding he could not make much in this line, he again returned to Fatshan, where he started an opium divan. When his friends discovered this they again tried to get rid of him, and he agreed to go away for good if he was paid 100 taels. The money was found and the ex-fortune teller started for Shanghai. When a clansman with whom he had ingratiated himself was promoted to the grade of futal, he received an order from the throne to behead a certain eunuch, who was in disgrace, but as the eunuch was a favorite of the empress dowager, no one dare undertake the execution of the order until the subject of this biography undertook the task. He afterward met Li Hung Chang, and his promotion was then rapid. The Color Was Immaterial. Here is a story about Commodore Scaley that is told in Washington: About the time that he was looking for a fleet the question of painting the ships of the navy a war color was under solemn consideration by some of the precise officers of the big building. Assistant Secretary Roosevelt was bothered daily by the question of tinta submitted to him by a board on warhe did not care what color his ships were painted so long as he had ships. "Paint them red if you like," said he, "or paint them black, but let me have them. Color is immaterial."

PAIR PLAY IN THE THEATER

How a Little Woman Silenced a Ve while Neighber Who Twied to Annoy Her.

It was only a by-play at the theater war which has been hidden from pub- the other evening, but it was enterlic observation has been the work of taining to a limited portion of the authe several bureaus of the navy de- dience, says the Detroit Free Press. Behind the little lady with a dimin-equipments for the troops, says a utive hat that had its chief beauty in Washington dispatch in the Chicago its daintainess, sat a member of the Record. As Secretary Long remarked sex with Amazonian proportions and voluble tongue. In a brief interminbeen quite as valuable as those of the sion of chattering to those about her she happened to look down and capy of Manila. But for their foresight and i the pretty headgear which was a clear foot below her range of vision with the stage. But it was a tempting opportunity.

"Will you kindly remove your hat?" asked the one in the rear, as she leaned forward and spoke in a noisy whisper.

"Certainly," answered the one in front, as she made rather a vicious plunge for the anchoring pin. "I will kindly' take off my hat. Will you kindly stop your talking and permit us to hear this play?"

For full five minutes there was unbroken silence. But it was a greater self-restraint than the large woman could endure and her annoying whisperings again began, Suddenly the one in front stuck the little has upon the very summit of her head and pinned it there. It seemed to have grown taller and of greater circumference and looked just like a defiant challenge worked into artistic millinery.

The large woman was too mad to talk and there was suppressed tittering while those around beamed on the little woman and were sore tempted to give her a hand by way of applause.

KEEPING PRISONERS.

The Novel Way in Which the Germans Prevented Their Captives from Running Away.

"It has been suggested that when Santiago falls we shall have from 10,-000 to 20,000 Spanish prisoners to look after," said a well-known German citizen to the New York Tribune, before the surrender.

"Of course, the question of what to do with them is sure to arise, and with further campaigning necessary it will probably develop into a serious proposition.

"It recalls to my mind an incident of the German revolution of 1848. We were short of men and had a large number of prisoners to look after. That did not worry us as long as we were not moving, but one day we had to make a forced march. The country through which we were to pass was hostile, and extreme watchfulness was necessary. We had few enough men as it was, and we knew that those prisoners were ready to make a dead run at the first opening.

"Finally a young officer made a brilliant suggestion and it was promptly carried out. We ripped the suspender buttons from the prisoners' trousers, took away their belts and knew we had them. Their hands were busy after that, and fast running was out of the question. We made the march safely, and I do not believe that even Yankee ingenuity could have invented a simpler solution."

TOUGHEST HORSES

Buffalo Bill Says That the Day Color Is a Good Shade to Stand Long Marches.

"Dun colored borses are not the prettiest by any means, but my experience has been," said Col. William F. Cody. when in Washington recently, says the Washinton Star, "that they are the toughest of the horse kingdom. An ordinary dun horse will wear out three other horses. Put as much work on him as you may, he never looks as well or as tidy in appearance as a bay, a chestnut, black, gray or white, but as far as service is concerned he will run the others to a standstill. This is my experience on the plains, in the cavalry service, and is my experience in the show business, where I have nearly 500 horses.

"Dun horses are somewhat rare, but when they can be picked up I would advise that they be bought, especially when the question of wear and tear is considered. They are, as I said before. not strong as far as looks are involved. but for cavalrymen looks have to take a back seat alongside of wear, The cavelrymen who are soon, I hope, to ride over Cuba, will find that my indorsement of dun horses is of some value."

HOTEL CLOCKS ALWAYS TRUE But the Most of the Family Mantel Timepleces Are Conscienceless

Prevaricators.

When I am traveling I never put the slightest confidence in a household clock, write Robert J. Burdette, of "Tongueless Liars," in Ladies' Home Journal. A hotel clock I can depend upon. There are too many watches in hotel—good watches, watches whose absolute correstness means money to the commercial men who regulate the traveling life of this country. A lying clock would be spotted in a quarter of a second, and the unhappy clerk scourged with pitiless saroasms therefor. In the course of my wanderings up and down this part of the globe I missed a few trains and lecture enship color, when Schley remarked that | gagements by depending upon clocks in the homes of my friends. Having thus paid for my lesson-$15,000 or $20,000, I think-by my own computation of the value of my lectures (set shead a little bit, you know, it may be a trifle fast; I haven't time to look up the exact figures). I withdrew all my trust from mantel clocks, especially the highly ornamented marble-andescapes through a valve at the top of could not subsequently marry a wom-the helmet.
