AMUNDSEN RELIEF EXPEDITION DISCUSSED

THREE GIRLS ARE ACCUSED OF MURDER

Toronto Jail Matron was Slain; Jennie McMinn Appeared in Police Court

Two Girls Arrested Later; Three Men in Court on Charge of Aiding

Toronto, May 26.—Isabel Prouse and Bessie Carroll, sought by the police on a charge of murder arising out of the death of Mrs. Margaret Mick, matron of the Toronto Municipal Jail Farm for Women, as a result of injuries received when assaulted by the girls and a companion, Jennie McMinn, after which they made their escape from the institution, were arrested by Ottawa authorities today.

They were taken to the police station, where they were handed over to Major W. J. Morrison, superintendent of the jail farm, who brought them back to Toronto.

Jennie McMinn was arrested yesterday and together with three young men appeared in police court this morning and was remanded for a week.

Toronto, May 26.—Jennie McMinn, sixteen, today was remanded for one week when she appeared in the women's court here to answer a charge of murdering Mrs. Margaret Mick, night matron at the Toronto Municipal Jail Farm. No evidence was heard. When she appeared in court the police were looking for Isabel Prouse, alias Ruby Smith, twenty-one, and Bessie Carroll, twenty-one, both of whom face similar charges.

The three girls escaped from the jail farm on Sunday night after Mrs. Mick had been choked and left tied to waterpipes.

Glady Palmer, another prisoner at the farm, was to have joined in the escape, but apparently lost her nerve. She told the police she heard the other girls attack the matron, but she had been frightened into silence and gave no alarm. She said she heard Mrs. Mick moaning after the girls had left, but death had occurred some time before the day staff discovered the body.

Three men, Leonard Swales, William M. Norton and James Norton, were taken into custody last night on charges with aiding and abetting the escape of the girls. They also were remanded when they appeared in court this morning.

IF NO WORDS FROM AMUNDSEN COMES YOUNG B.C. MAN HOPES TO TAKE SUPPLIES TO PARTY

Algarsson Says Polar Problems All Changed by Lack of Reports From Amundsen and His Companions; Race Between His Party and D. B. MacMillan's; Confidence in Amundsen Still Exists in Norway.

London, May 26.—Gretir Algarsson, the young British Columbian who planned to race Captain Roald Amundsen's expedition to the North Pole, using a "blimp" or non-rigid airship, is quoted by The London Daily Express to-day as saying the Polar question had been entirely changed by Amundsen's continued absence. It is not a question of who was to be the first to reach the Pole by air, but who would be the first to reach Amundsen.

The competitors in this race, he said, would be the United States explorer, Commander Donalid B. MacMillan, and himself. He confirmed the report from Liverpool that his supply ship, the Iceland, might leave Liverpool for Spitzbergen, without the blimp within two weeks, with the idea of reaching the archipelago in time to be of possible assistance to Amundsen. When his airship is ready Algarsson is to fly from Liverpool to Spitzbergen and stay ten days.

Algarsson's plan would be to make straight for the Pole from Spitzbergen and thence to Cape Columbia, keeping a lookout for Amundsen's vessel. He does not believe he would be able to pick up the explorers if he should find them, but he could supply them with food and other stores.

BIG CELEBRATION HELD AT NANAIMO ON VICTORIA DAY

War Canoe Races by Indians and Fireworks Display

Nanaimo, May 26.—Nanaimo was in gala yesterday in celebration of Victoria day. Holiday crowds brought by boat and train swelled the throng of citizens in one of the merriest festivities in the history of the city.
A firework display lasting three hours, war canoe races by Indian tribesmen, and a circus added variety to a well-arranged series of field and track events. From a float in the harbor after dark cluster-rocket in myriad colors kept up a steady bombardment of the sky over the city.
Upwards of 1,000 Indians including 700 visiting tribesmen from Gulf Island points, assembled to watch and take part in canoe events. The huge eleven-paddle war canoes formed a pretty sight, cleaving the waters of the harbor into a white foam as they sped trippingly, but friendly, combat.
A clear sky and just enough breeze to lessen the ardor of the sun made an ideal day for the annual celebration. On the circus lot a merry-go-round, ferris wheel, and slideshow did a roaring trade. "Hot dogs" competed successfully alongside ice cream stands for the patronage of a good-natured public out to "make a day of it." At the close of a gaily moving festival, home rockets made an official farewell to the holiday period, close on midnight.

LUMBER OUTLOOK NOW IMPROVING

American Loggers Planning Complete Shut-down by June 1
Seattle, May 26.—While the improvement in the future lumber demand is not yet on the books of the mills, there has been sufficient change for the better to cause mills to begin to doubt the wisdom of expediency of closing down for a month, as had been generally discussed. When the subject of trying to get from under a losing price and volume was broached on the West Coast early this month it was seized with apparent delight. The mills felt that since the market had been steadily falling since the start of the year, the idling summer market in a month would give the Fall demand sufficient push to add money to the current market. Since that time, however, Los Angeles buyers have stated they will begin operations at once on an improvement in the local demand, and Atlantic buyers believe they may get a better inquiry for June and July than at first surmised.
During the current dull period there has been various attempts to get the country rail market lower. So far the mills have been able to resist this feat, and the rail market, barring one desperate bid, has held steady for ninety days. In some rare instances common dimension has accumulated in the hands of the mill-owners. Occasional Los Angeles buyers found that it is willing to cut prices. Some of the operators predict that the market may decline slightly before it gets to a sustained footing, but this is in the future.
GERMANY NEW BUYER
Vertical grain shingles are firm, with the mills shifting slowly but persistently away from cutting stars. The transit list is scanty owing to strong prices which have forced the large number of wholesalers who formerly merchandised in this way to quit the practice. The mills are accumulating business for future delivery.
Oriental freights are steady, with a slight rising tendency due to the movement of other commodities. Some little stock has accumulated for Japanese account and mills that hold it are inclined to shade prices in order to unload. British Columbia mills have been cutting prices on export merch and are taking the market for business offerings. China has bought a little of the Chinese speculators but has not followed up the purchase. Germany is in the market for a cutting Japan is very dull.
Loggers are proceeding with plans to be 100 per cent inactive on June 1. The volume of logs in the waterways and loggers will neither confirm nor deny the estimates made by the mills. The market is practically steady all along the West Coast forest products territory. The forests are very dry, and a soaking rain that will thoroughly drench the foliage and the soil is needed to make conditions safe. Buckers and fallers have been leaving the woods since May 1; and donkeys and other equipment is being taken to a place of safety.

JUST AFTER DINNER FAVORITE HOUR FOR LOS ANGELES THEFTS

Los Angeles, May 26.—That a clock in the evening is "burglary hour" instead of after midnight, as hitherto has been the popular belief, is revealed in statistics compiled by the Los Angeles police department. From 7 to 8 p.m. more houses and stores are entered, more loot taken, and more getaways made than in any corresponding period of all the twenty-four hours.
Strangely, too, the report says, the two hours immediately following midnight, when persons appear to have the greatest fear of burglars, are when fewer night robberies are committed.
During October, November and December last, 2,299 burglaries were reported in Los Angeles at 6 p.m. When most families were eating dinner, burglary business picked up. By 7 o'clock it was well under way and at 8 it was floodtide. Then it receded slowly until 3 a.m. when store robberies began to make up for the slump in the residential districts. In the three months, ninety residence robberies were reported at 6 p.m., 113 at 7, and 233 at 8. By 9 p.m. the number had dropped to 145, and at 10, when people are returning from the first movie show, the number had diminished to 70.
MILKMEN ARE GUARDED
At 1 a.m. when practically the entire city was sleeping, only twenty-eight night burglar visits were recorded, and at 2 a.m. only thirty. Most of these were in the business districts. At 3 the number, as a result of raids on stores, had increased to 70, but at 4, when the milkmen and early risers began to move about, there were only 37.
Of the 2,299 robberies, 242 occurred at an unknown hour of the day and 609 at an unknown hour of the night.
Private residences appear to yield the richest harvest. The statistics show that during the three-month period, 974, or a little less than one-half of the total burglaries, were committed in residences. There were 594 in apartment houses and hotels, 501 in business places, eighty-nine in offices, thirty-five in public buildings, and six on vessels at anchor in the harbor. The remainder of the robberies were of miscellaneous character.
THROUGH FRONT DOOR
The favorite mode of entrance is through the front door, the report says. Out of the 2,299 robberies, entrance to 760 homes was gained through doors whose locks were picked, while 1,517 occurred where persons had unintentionally left doors or windows unlocked and the burglars entered without meeting any obstacle. Two hundred and forty-six were robbed through holly entrance and 309 doors and windows were "jimmied."
A home is seldom robbed while its tenants are in it. Burglars do most of their work in the night, but at hours when families are away or so engrossed in their radio or work that they do not hear the robbers.

STEFANSON'S OPINION

New York, May 26.—Even if the world should be without news of the Amundsen expedition for several months, it would be premature to consider the explorer and his companions lost for at least a year, in the opinion of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, noted Canadian Arctic explorer.
"Of the frequency of aeroplane accidents even now in overland flying, it must be considered that whatever course Amundsen took was a very dangerous one," he said. "In admiration for his courage and a desire for substantial achievement, we must all hope fervently he is safe."
"I shall consider his chance of ultimate safety at least even until we can get news from Point Barrow, the northernmost point of Alaska, probably between July 1 and 15. If the party is not heard from then, I should say they still have about one chance in four of being able to walk to Alaska, or some other land, from wherever they may be forced to leave their planes."
"I lived for months on game in the region north of Alaska, and there is no reason why this party cannot be doing the same."
"The experience of my own expeditions has shown that seals may be expected under the ice anywhere in the Arctic sea."
"On landing in Northern Alaska or anywhere else in the Arctic," Mr. Stefansson said, "an aviator who seems to me, would have about a fifty-fifty chance of damaging his machine so it could not rise again. With no damage we might, according

Nanaimo, May 26.—Nanaimo was in gala yesterday in celebration of Victoria day. Holiday crowds brought by boat and train swelled the throng of citizens in one of the merriest festivities in the history of the city.

JUST AFTER DINNER FAVORITE HOUR FOR LOS ANGELES THEFTS

Los Angeles, May 26.—That a clock in the evening is "burglary hour" instead of after midnight, as hitherto has been the popular belief, is revealed in statistics compiled by the Los Angeles police department. From 7 to 8 p.m. more houses and stores are entered, more loot taken, and more getaways made than in any corresponding period of all the twenty-four hours.

MILKMEN ARE GUARDED

At 1 a.m. when practically the entire city was sleeping, only twenty-eight night burglar visits were recorded, and at 2 a.m. only thirty. Most of these were in the business districts.

THROUGH FRONT DOOR

The favorite mode of entrance is through the front door, the report says. Out of the 2,299 robberies, entrance to 760 homes was gained through doors whose locks were picked, while 1,517 occurred where persons had unintentionally left doors or windows unlocked and the burglars entered without meeting any obstacle.

NORTH POLE FLIGHT

ALASKA THEORY

Seattle, May 26.—Capt. Roald Amundsen may already have landed on the northern coast before the world will know, persons familiar with the climate and terrain of that region pointed out here today.

STEFANSON'S OPINION

New York, May 26.—Even if the world should be without news of the Amundsen expedition for several months, it would be premature to consider the explorer and his companions lost for at least a year, in the opinion of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, noted Canadian Arctic explorer.

AEROPLANE USED BUT DEATH ENSUED

Mining Engineer Rushed to City of Winnipeg Died in Hospital

Winnipeg, May 25.—After a thrilling race against time in which an aeroplane, wireless and telephone were used, N. H. Emmons, a prominent mining engineer, died in a hospital here last night. He had been in charge of mining camps in the Long Lake district.

Major D. Cuthbert of the Wad Syndicate received word last Friday night that Mr. Emmons was in a critical state and isolated from the medical attention. The word came by telephone.

The Canadian Air Force offered its co-operation and a plane in charge of Captain H. Edwards was sent out from the Victoria Beach station.

Wireless station CKY broadcast a message asking that Mr. Emmons be brought to Long Lake and when the aeroplane arrived he was immediately placed on board and the return trip begun.

He is survived by a widow in Framingham, Mass.

INCOME TAX ACT CHANGES PLANNED

Ottawa, May 25.—The Government has under consideration amendments to the Income Tax Act which would exempt the assets of a taxpayer so as to afford greater security to the purchaser of land in good faith. It was stated in the House yesterday afternoon by Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Acting Minister of Customs, in answer to a question.

The same answer was given to a question as to the possibility of providing greater security for consorts married under the separation of property clause, who were not now on an equal footing with the Quebec provincial laws with consorts married under the community of property laws.

MONEY VOTED FOR B.C. COAST ELEVATOR

Commons Provides $500,000 For Structure on Harbor at Prince Rupert

Ottawa, May 25.—A vote of $500,000 for the Prince Rupert grain elevator was approved by the House of Commons in committee of supply last night.

Sir Henry Drayton, Conservative, West York, Ont., asked what use there was in the Government creating competition for the two Western railway terminals, Vancouver and Prince Rupert. The mileage from Edmonton to Vancouver was 765 miles and the distance from Edmonton to Prince Rupert was 954 miles.

"If we are in the railway business for fun, if we like railway deficits, let us carry our grain farther than we need to," he said.

What really would happen, said Sir Henry, was that the elevator at Prince Rupert would not be used.

TRADE INCREASING
Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, defended the project on grounds that the Vancouver grain accommodation was already taxed and that further elevators were needed owing to the increasing Oriental trade.

W. G. McQuarrie, Conservative, New Westminster, asked why the Government had passed the Fraser River and chosen Prince Rupert as a point at which to erect a grain elevator.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative, Vancouver, said that if it was the desire of the Government to develop the hinterland of British Columbia, it might have erected an elevator costing about one-half the cost of that at Prince Rupert. The rest of the money could have been expended in the establishment of experimental stations at points in Northern British Columbia.

RAILWAY SERVICE
D. M. Kennedy, Progressive, Edmonton, West, thought the elevator would be worthless unless there were proper railway connections with the Peace River country.

J. W. Ward, Progressive, Dauphin, Manitoba, said the grain growers of the prairie had had the Vancouver elevator, the Welland Canal and now a Prince Rupert elevator forced upon them, while they had been asking for a "Hudson" railway for thirty years and could not get it.

TOO MANY PONIES AT INDIAN RESERVES

Calgary, May 25.—Congestion of saddle ponies at the Indian Reserves on the prairies has created such a problem that W. M. Graham, Indian Commissioner, has been approached in an effort to ease the situation.

The chief problem is lack of pasture and in some of the affected districts there is an acute lack of fodder. Mr. Graham tried to dispose of a few thousand of the animals, but an unfavorable market has precluded such a move.

Some of the ponies are first class polo ponies, while the great proportion are better than average saddle mounts.

Mr. Graham, who has spent a lifetime in dealing with Indian affairs, recalls that a few carloads of ponies were brought to Regina thirty years ago and sold on an average for seven dollars. Ponies can be bought today on the reserves for a few dollars more.

Most of the ponies are on reserves in southern Alberta and it is probable some of them will be moved to reserves in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

EVAPORATED MILK SALES INCREASING
Chicago, May 25.—Sales of evaporated milk in the United States reached a total value of $117,372,585 in 1924, according to the annual report of the industry issued here by Herbert C. Hooks, secretary of the Evaporated Milk Association.

Export sales last year totaled 2,959,256 cases, a gain of 107,437 cases over 1923. While European countries were the principal buyers, an extensive market for the product is being built up in Central and South America, said the report.

Alberni News

Special to The Times
Alberni, May 25.—On Friday afternoon at the home of Commissioner Mrs. Hodgson the First Princess Mary-Girl-Guides held a most delightful garden party from 4.30 until 9.30. During the afternoon the guides gave a demonstration of their work for the benefit of those who attended, and this proved to be an eye opener to many as they had not realized the many useful things taught the girls. Commissioner Mrs. Hodgson gave a short talk to the guides on the objects and aims of the guide movement, and presented a number of proficiency badges and service stars, and the guides gave a demonstration of physical drill in a way that reflected great credit on their leaders. Two recruits were also initiated. The guides served afternoon tea and supper to all who desired them, and a very enjoyable afternoon and evening was brought to a close with a splendid camp fire.

INDIAN RELICS ARE HUNTED ON PRAIRIE

Regina, May 25.—Professor A. McLean of the Royal Ontario Museum expects to find the greatest concentration of Indian relics and bones of extinct mammals ever discovered in Canada, at the bottom of the Saskatchewan bog located near Dundurn in which important discoveries were made last year.

Last Summer Prof. W. A. Parks, head of the paleontology department, visited the bog and found sundry treasures hidden beneath the water. "The discovery was more important than ordinary finds of Indian remains, because among the bones recovered were those of an extinct animal related to the antelope. This led scientists to believe that here might be some of the earliest traces of Indian life in North America."

In a recent statement made by Prof. Parks, he declared Prof. McLean was not going back to Alberta to hunt for more dinosaurs. "This discovery is in Saskatchewan, south of Saskatoon. It is on the property of Dr. J. J. Finn, a friend of mine, who was anxious to find what was at the bottom of the bog."

"Dr. Finn started some exploring himself, and brought up bones which he thought would interest our department," Prof. Parks asserted.

Prof. Parks found besides the extinct mammal bones, more than 150 pieces of Indian workmanship.

"The bog once was probably a spring, he explained. "Indications point to the existence of a village there many years ago. There may be some wonderful articles buried there. But they all lie at present under ten feet of water. It may be possible that some way of draining the bog will be found, which will greatly aid us in work of research," Prof. Parks concluded.

OUR ANNUAL CELEBRATION

WEATHER CONDITIONS around May 24 are not always as good as they have been this year, but notwithstanding the uncertainty, this city should stick to its ancient custom of celebrating Victoria Day in an impressive way. Next year we should revert to the old order of a well-filled programme featured by a parade, regatta, field sports and the like, thereby, as in the past, keeping our own people in the city and providing for the entertainment of visitors.

A DEPRESSING BUSINESS

ALTHOUGH THEY SEEM to be taking a rest from their conflict over Mr. Meighen's leadership, notwithstanding the fact that a serious divergence of opinion still persists, some of the prominent Conservative journals apparently find it impossible to agree on conditions throughout the country. One of the most suggestive differences is between The Montreal Gazette and The Toronto Mail and Empire on the subject of the Dominion's trade in general, and more especially in respect of the interchange between ourselves and the neighboring republic.

OUR GROWTH

NEWSPAPERS OF BE-tween forty and fifty years ago contain interesting items in connection with Canada's growth which become still more interesting when compared with corresponding items of the present day. A recent issue of The Canadian Gazette of London, for instance, contains this note in its "37 Years Ago" section: Sir Charles Tupper, in his Budget Speech in Parliament last Friday, estimated the total revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30 at $36,000,000, the expenditure being $37,000,000. He thought that the revenue for next year would be $36,900,000, and that there would be a surplus of $1,000,000.

WHO'S WHO IN HISTORY TO-DAY

THE VENERABLE BEDE Noted English monk, reputed to have been one of the most learned scholars of his time, and whose "Ecclesiastical History of English People" is a rare classic, died on May 26, 735. He was ordained a deacon in his nineteenth year, and became a priest in his thirtieth. EDMUND I. King of the West Saxons and Mercians, was stabbed to death while keeping the feast of St. Augustine of Canterbury at Puck-lechurch, Gloucester, on May 26, 946. A robber had entered the hall unbidden, and the king ordered a cup-bearer to remove him, later going to the latter's assistance. In a struggle that ensued Edmund was killed. LADY MARY WORTLEY MONTAGU English writer and court figure, known chiefly for her "Letters," was born on May 26, 1689. She accompanied her husband, Edward Wortley Montagu, to Constantinople, where he was an ambassador to the Porte, and wrote interesting of the Near East. For a time she was extremely friendly with Alexander Pope, but quarrelled with him and became the object of his malignity. ALEXANDER PUSHKIN Celebrated Russian poet and dramatist, of negro descent, was born at Moscow on May 26, 1799. He wrote his "The Sentiments" and was repeatedly employed in the administrative service of the government. He was mortally wounded in a duel, among his works are "Eugene Onegin," "Priglasenie of the Caucasus" and the tragedy, "Boris Godunoff."

FRIENDLY GESTURES

OF INTEREST TO THE Empire as a whole is the decision on the part of the British miners to suspend their demand for a new wage scale for the time being. The first result of this under-taking is naturally a sigh of relief from industry generally and an upward movement in the price of stocks and shares by reason of the more hopeful industrial outlook which it presents. The Empire's interest lies in the condition of British capital and trade.

Economic uneasiness in the Old Country, which has become more acute during the last few months by reason of several trade union pronouncements in respect of new wage scales, limits the attention which the Government and men of vision desire to give to important problems of Empire concern. For it is true that the question of settling the Dominion is more intimately bound up with industrial conditions in Britain than appears possible at first sight.

Every friendly gesture between capital and labor undoubtedly brings nearer the day when the unemployment dole will give place to some more economic form of relief. At that point the importance of sending some of the surplus population of the United Kingdom to the vacant spaces of the Empire overseas will become a more lively issue than it can ever hope to become while the suspicion and uncertainty reign in the industrial field.

SASKATCHEWAN'S VOTE

ALTHOUGH ELECTION day is only one week distant, no particularly lively issue seems to have been developed by the electors of Saskatchewan or by the candidates who are seeking their suffrage. Premier Dunning's election manifesto announced his Government's intention of inaugurating a policy of electric power development. Apart from this, however, the people will base their judgment at the polls almost solely upon the Administration's record. In this case it is hardly likely that the handsome majority which Mr. Dunning could command in the last Legislature will be seriously disturbed in the next. The Government's tenure of office—decidedly Liberal ever since the formation of the Province twenty years ago—has been comparatively tranquil.

WORDS OF WISE MEN

It is almost as difficult to make a man unlearn his errors as his knowledge.—Colton. Little-minded, named and subdued by misfortune, but great minds rise above it.—Washington Irving. Our part is to see out the most deserving objects and the most likely to answer the ends of our charity, and when this is done all is done that lies in our power.—Atterbury. The ambitious person must rise early and sit up late, and purgative his design with a constant, indefatigable attendance.—South. If anger is not restrained, it is frequently more hurtful to us than the injury that it provides.—Seneca. When you have nothing to say, say nothing. A weak defence strengthens your opponent, and silence is less injurious than a weak reply.—Colton. When the mind has brought itself to attention it will be able to cope with difficulties and master them, and then it may go on roundly.—Locke. Pure reason or intuition holds a similar relation to the understanding that perception holds to sensation.—Morell. Every one has his flaws and weaknesses, nay, the greatest geniuses are often found in the most abiding characters. But what an absurd thing it is to pass over all the valuable parts of a man and fix our attention on his infirmities.—Addison.

DR. FRANK CRANE On Are We Living Too Fast?

A BUNCH of German experts came over the other day on a steamer Kootenay. Showers and Professor Emil Kraepelin in an interview expressed himself as believing that people are living too fast in this country. He said that young men are going ahead one hundred years here in the same time that they are advancing a quarter of a century in Europe. He held that this would work havoc with the nervous system, and yet, after all, it might be a good thing. It may be found out that speed in living, as we have here, is advantageous for race development instead of destructive. Those who have traveled in Europe have remarked upon the apparent slowness of life. People appear to have plenty of time—time to work, time to play, time to rest, and time to enjoy themselves. Here we are going fast all the time. The trouble is that the American ideal is different from the European. According to the American notion, a man is born to achieve something, while according to the European notion he is born to enjoy something. In America enjoyment only comes through achievement. It is the reward of the doing. Secretary Mellon, seventy years of age, is still a busy man. He has taken a job the salary for which he does not need, but he is a very rich man, and apparently taken it in order to be busy about something worth while. Every day is full of activity. He is the type of the American man who is not happy unless he is doing something. With us a man who stops work stops life. More people are killed from resting than from any other cause, with us. In Europe it is different. There orders of nobility, for instance, are all founded upon leisure class. A man is noble in proportion as he can go far enough back to find an ancestor who worked for his salt. There it is considered a disgrace to be in trade. With us if a man is doing nothing he is disgraced. It is all the way you look at it, and who knows whether our point of view is not sounder than the European? As for our increasing activity and invention. We are not satisfied with things as they are ever, but we must be going on. This explains perhaps America's pre-eminence in the world.

Artificial Light Therapy Article 2 Sunlight consists of a mixture of the various groups of rays previously mentioned, but the rays of greatest therapeutic value predominate. It was found that artificially a light could be produced that consisted of a much larger proportion of the rays of greatest value. The reason for this is that the artificial light is always on hand, it is very largely used. The infra red rays so far as known are chiefly concerned in the production of warmth. This property is gradually lost, as the waves grow shorter, until by the time the ultra violet rays are reached, they have waves that produce no heat. The ultra violet rays have little or no therapeutic value. The ultra violet rays possess several valuable therapeutic properties. One of the most important of them is the antiseptic or germicidal action. These rays are used in the treatment of skin diseases, such as eczema, psoriasis, and other conditions. They are also used in the treatment of rheumatism, and other conditions. The rays are produced by means of special lamps. These are commonly called quartz lamps, because the quartz is made of quartz or rock crystal. This artificial light is administered in two main ways. Generally, when the whole body is exposed to them, and locally when a part of the body is treated. The general exposures have some value in the treatment of tubercular conditions, but must not be regarded too highly in this respect. The chief value appears at present in the results of local treatments. AESCULAPIUS.

The Carnival Spirit

The Spirit of Carnival was wafted on the wings of a sunbeam into the drab office of Victoria's Chief Magistrate. "Well, have I no welcome?" he exclaimed, pointingly, as Mayor Penland continued abstractedly to dwell on possible solutions of the city's manifold problems, chiefly, no doubt, relating to practical methods of reducing municipal taxation.

Slavin Tells Gyros About His Great go With Peter Jackson

Frank Slavin, one of the leading heavyweight fighters of thirty years ago, told the Gyros about his historic encounter with Peter Jackson, the colored battler, in London on May 30, 1892. Frank was the guest of the clubmen at their luncheon today and he lived over the old scenes which occurred in what has been termed one of the greatest heavyweight battles ever seen.

Spoilers Mangle Shrine's Flowers

For the second time in two years the memorial shrine, outside the home of Mrs. P. A. Irving, erected in memory of soldiers of Victoria, who were killed overseas, has been despoiled. Thoughtless passersby have twice on the May 24 celebration day taken flowers from the little shrine, which is a hallowed place to many. Flowers placed there by relatives in tender memory of departed sons, husbands, fathers or brothers, have been torn away, cast upon the ground and trampled under foot, or carried away to bedeck some less worthy place. The act has aroused the resentment of the whole neighborhood.

COAST LEAGUE BATTING

San Francisco, May 26.—Paul Waner, of the San Francisco club, forged to the top of the batting list of the Pacific Coast League during the past week's play and is now batting an average of .422, unofficial figures show. These figures include Saturday's games. Frank Brantliff, slugging third baseman for Seattle, who has set the pace for the last several weeks, dropped into second place with about .400 average. Oscar Vitt, left fielder, is showing the way for his club with an average of .386. In the Portland outfield High tops the list with .352. Louie Guisto leads the Oakes with .376. Hemingway leads the Vernon tigers with .355; Jacobs the Angels with .322 and Kopp the Senators with .320.

Kentucky to Have June Celebration

Lexington, Ky., May 26.—Beginnings of Kentucky's history 160 years ago, with the glimmer cast upon it by memories of Daniel Boone, the pioneer American, whose bones are now being overhauled in the Kentucky River, will be celebrated the first week of June. "The Battle of Lexington," to put an extra link to notice of the Lexington centennial celebration, the stamps were issued by the Government in commemoration of the battle in Massachusetts, the "shot heard round the world." Echoed by a great celebration in the Blue Grass of Kentucky during the entire week of June 1, the battle will be revived in a pilgrimage to Boone's last resting place, a trip to Boonsboro, his farm, a ceremony at Transylvania University, where Lafayette visited in May, 1825, and services in memory of Boone in pagant, addresses and dedication of labels. Boone, who blazed the way from the Atlantic Coast through the wilderness to Kentucky, will be the central figure commemorated. Governor W. J. Fields invited 5,000 members of the Boone Family Association, scattered over the nation, to hold its first family reunion at Boone's birthplace—Boonesburg, Washington, D.C., acting president, accepted Kentucky's cordiality. The ceremonies will open with registration of Boone's, a visit to the pioneer's grave and other spots, continue with historical pageants at the University of Kentucky stadium, and close with a grand parade through the streets of the churches on June 1, the date when Boone first reached Kentucky in 1769.

GOLF ARCHITECT DEAD

Edinburgh, Scotland, May 26.—Willie Park, professional golfer, who laid out more courses in the British Isles, Canada and the United States than any other man, died Saturday. Park won the British open championship in 1887 and 1889. As Mayor Hendry relapsed in his chair he heard a silvery whisper carried to his ears along a sunbeam: "Remember, June 26 to July 1."

FUN AND FROLIC AT LAST NIGHT'S BALL

Lieut.-Governor Presented Gymkhana Prizes Last Night; Princesses Present

All the fun of the fair was in evidence at the frolic and dance held at the Armouries last evening as the grand finale to the Maytime celebrations, and the big crowd in attendance entered with enthusiasm into the carnival spirit of the occasion. The arrangements for the affair were in the hands of the Victoria Day celebration committee.

At 10 o'clock His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, accompanied by Mr. H. J. S. Musket, arrived at the hall and was welcomed by the reception committee, which included Miss Lettie Bowron, representing the Kumtuku Club; Mr. Robert W. Mayhew, Rotary; Mr. George Gardiner, Army and Navy Veterans; Major L. M. Hughes, Army and Navy; Mr. J. H. Beatty, chairman of the general carnival committee; Mr. H. Buterla, Gyre Club; Mr. John Harvey, Dr. Howard Miller, Kiwanis.

His Honor then presented the prizes awarded at the gymkhana in the afternoon. Among the many guests at the affair were the Princesses of the Crystal Garden Carnival.

Hunt's fourteen-piece orchestra played an excellent programme for the dancing, and between dances the crowd found amusing diversion in the many games of chance arranged for their entertainment.

Fresh as the air. Those bright-coloured slip-ons, pull-overs and blouses are loveliest if you keep them "fresh as the air." But they must be laundered so carefully. Harsh bar soaps break down the weave of almost any garment. Particles of it cling to the fabric and rot it. But the mild, foamy Lux suds pressed through and through the soiled parts will make a garment clean and fresh, without harming it in the least. Remember, if your pretty things are safe in pure water, you need have no fear of them in the mild Lux suds. Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto.

As a Woman and a housewife you are interested in saving money and effort in laundering. Years of experience and successful service to Victoria women qualify us to serve your needs. 4 out of 5 Dental statisticians say that four out of every five over 40—and thousands younger, too—are victims of grinded Pyorrhoea. Will you escape? Pyorrhoea is a disease of the gums—not the teeth. You may take good care of your teeth and still get Pyorrhoea. Once Pyorrhoea secures a firm hold, pus pockets form, gums become weak and flabby, the teeth loosen and fall out no matter how white and sound they may be. Forhan's means healthy gums. It contains the right proportion of Forhan's Astrigent, as used by the dental profession in treating Pyorrhoea. Forhan's protects the gums, keeps them in a firm, healthy condition, and leaves the mouth sweet, fresh and wholesome. If you don't care to discontinue your regular tooth paste, at least brush your teeth and gums once a day with Forhan's. Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhoea. MISERABLE AND ALWAYS IN PAIN

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Dependable Help to Mothers

Port Greville, N.S.—"I took your medicine for a terrible pain in my side and for weakness and headaches. I seemed to block all over, too, and my feet and hands were the worst. I am the mother of four children and I am nursing my baby—the first one of four I could nurse. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before the baby's birth, so you can see how much it helped me. I cannot praise it too highly for what it has done for me. I took all kinds of medicine, but the Vegetable Compound is the only one that has helped me for any length of time. I recommend it to any one with troubles like mine and you may use my letter for a testimonial."—Mrs. ROBERT McCULLY, Port Greville, Nova Scotia.

Before and after childbirth the mother will find Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a blessing.

Many, many letters are received giving the same sort of experience as is given in this letter. Not only is the mother benefited, but these good results pass on to the child.

No harmful drugs are used in the preparation of this medicine—just roots and herbs—and it can be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

98 out of every 100 women reported benefit from its use in a recent canvass among women users of this medicine.

TRAFFIC COURT CALLS ARE HEAVY ORDEALS

Congestion in N.Y. Costly to Many Summoned For Auto Offences

New York, May 26.—New York's growing toll of motor violators has reached such proportions that the Traffic Court presents almost the worst traffic problem motorists have to face.

After-day-the three courtrooms, seating 120 persons each, are called upon to accommodate a calendar of from 500 to 700 cases, with 1,490 cases the high water mark during a recent parking crusade.

But the court itself is sometimes the fear of the warring of the traffic violator. Street vandals often steal his car or pilfer all its movable parts while he is waiting in court.

Business men report that the inevitable delays are costly to them, one Wall Street broker asserting he lost $18,000 during his enforced absence from the stock ticker.

stigma "first offender" attached to their names than to add to delays by protesting innocence. Court attendants quote them as saying they want to get it over with as quickly as possible.

The parking space in front of the courthouse has become a thieves' paradise, court attaches say. Police reports show the loot taken by youths who frequent the place includes twelve taxicabs, as many touring cars, a wagonload of pies, a truckload of eggs, thousands of dollars' worth of merchandise, motor robes, headlights, spare tires and anything that can be detached. One fruit merchant, summoned for speeding, found his truck denuded of seventy stems of bananas while he was in court.

The crowds in the building, waiting for their cases to be called, are often the prey of pickpockets. One banker reported his pocket was picked of $300. A woman about to pay a $10 fine for speeding found her purse empty when she opened it. Prospects of ten days in jail caused her to faint, but the court suspended sentence when it was learned she had been robbed.

Business men report that the inevitable delays are costly to them, one Wall Street broker asserting he lost $18,000 during his enforced absence from the stock ticker.

So full of terror is the ordeal for traffic offenders that court records show more than ninety-nine per cent. plead guilty, preferring to have the

Grant Hall, Vice-President C.P.R., on Tour in West; is Expected Here

Lake Louise, Alta., May 25.—The crop outlook in Western Canada has never been better in the history of the country, according to Grant Hall, first vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and Charles Murphy, general manager of western lines who arrived here yesterday aboard their special train after a survey of the grain belt of Southern Saskatchewan and Alberta. If nothing happens to mar the present excellent condition of grain in the ground, 1925 should be a landmark year for the farmers of the West, they state.

Mr. Hall is on a tour of the West and is expected to arrive in Victoria shortly.

With him at Lake Louise were R. Y. Eaton, Toronto, president of the T. Eaton Company, who accompanied the party from Banff to Lake Louise; Andrew Kelly, president of the Western Canada Flour Mills; Montague Black, of Black and Armstrong, Winnipeg; Charles Temple, superintendent of motive power, C.P.R., and J. N. Cameron, general superintendent of the Calgary division. The party formed the first group of guests to be entertained at the new $2,000,000 Chateau Lake Louise, which will be formally opened more than a mile above the sea next Monday. After luncheon Mr. Hall inspected the new hotel and pressed on his special to the coast. Mr. Eaton with H. M. Tucker, manager of the T. Eaton Company, Winnipeg, and J. S. Webster, manager of the Regina stores, returned to Banff, where they are spending several days at Banff Springs Hotel.

ADMIRAL LINER TO DOCK THURSDAY

President Jefferson Will Arrive at Quarantine Station at 7.30 a.m.

Carries Large List of Passengers and Big Cargo; 150 Tons of Local

According to wireless advices from the skipper the big steamer President Jefferson of the Admiral Oriental Mail Line, will steam into the Royal Roads and anchor off the quarantine station at 7.30 o'clock Thursday morning. This message was received here late yesterday. The liner has had a good passage and is making excellent time across the Pacific. It was originally stated that the ship would not arrive until Friday morning or Thursday night. But the present indications are that she will make an exceptionally fast trip and be here well on time. The vessel left Yokohama a day ahead of her schedule, for her operators are anxious to have her in Seattle for the annual survey which takes place soon after her arrival.

With a passenger list totalling nearly 400 in all, the ship will allow a considerable number to disembark here. There will be about fifty passengers leaving the ship here altogether. It is expected that the ship's cargo, valued at over $5,000,000, includes a heavy consignment of raw silk, which is to be shipped overland. This freight is being prepared for in Seattle, and the usual special train awaits its arrival. There are 150 tons of general freight on the ship to be discharged here, including tea, porcelain, and general manufactures. MCKINLEY TO SAIL.—The President McKinley will sail from this port to-morrow afternoon at about 5.30 o'clock, according to the C.P.R. timetable. The vessel, which reached W. M. Allan, Admiral Line agent here to-day. The vessel carries a full cargo and a good passenger list. She picks up mail and freight here.

COMING IN FOR ANNUAL SURVEY

Ss. PRESIDENT JEFFERSON Due to arrive in this port Thursday morning from the Far East, one day ahead of schedule, with a good passenger list and heavy cargo for coast ports.

Vancouver, May 25.—Word has been received by David Brown, general manager of the Union Steamship company, that the company's new coastal liner Ss. Catala will run her trials to-day and on Wednesday will leave the Clyde River bound for this port. She is expected here the first week in July sailing under the command of Captain J. Findlay of Ss. She will be operated in joint service with the Cardena on her arrival here.

ROUND-THE-WORLD SMALL BOAT VOYAGE

Two Young Men Plan to Leave Buffalo, N.Y., in Twenty-foot Craft

Buffalo, N.Y., May 25.—H. Rohrer and J. Langenbach, sailors of the Great Lakes freighter Loomis, operating out of Buffalo, plan a trip around the world in a twenty-foot canoe, equipped with sails, gasoline motor and radio, starting September 1. From Buffalo they plan to follow the Great Lakes to Chicago, then go by canal to the Mississippi River, down the river to New Orleans, to Cuba, thence through the Panama Canal to Chile, from Chile South through the Straits of Magellan, up the South American coast to Buenos Ayres, and from there to Pernambuco. The Atlantic will be crossed from Pernambuco, with stops at St. Paul Island and the Cape Verde Islands. They expect to touch Africa at Dakar, having covered 1,400 miles in the trans-Atlantic voyage. From Dakar they will proceed to Paris and London and then to Germany, sailing up the Rhine to a canal connecting with the Danube, from Danube to the Black Sea and Constantinople. Beyond Constantinople the route is uncharted. The voyagers expect to spend two years and a half in their circumnavigation of the globe. They are expert sailors and say they look forward to no great difficulties in making the trip. Each speaks several languages.

MARKETS BRIGHTER

Timbermen here state that there is every indication of a pick-up in the trade within a short time. Logging operations are going on at a good rate of speed on the island and on the mainland. Markets are slightly better than they were. But there is still a depression in the lumber and milling business generally which it is difficult to overcome with any degree of success, they state.

SHE FELT BETTER AFTER THE FIRST BOX

New Brunswick Lady is Now Enthusiastic About Dodd's Kidney Pills

Madame A. Godin suffered with her kidneys and urinary trouble. St. Jeanne D'Arc, N.B., May 25.—(Special)—"Pardon me for not writing to you before about your Dodd's Kidney Pills, but when one enjoys good health one is always busy. Some time ago I was suffering with my kidneys and weakness of the bladder. I read in your Almanac that Dodd's Kidney Pills were good for this trouble and decided to try them. I had not a great deal of confidence in pills because I had tried so many other kinds without good results. To my surprise after I had taken the first box, I began to feel better. I continued taking them and am now completely relieved of my trouble. I advise all those who suffer with their kidneys to use them. It gives me pleasure to tell all my friends to use them." This statement, which speaks for itself, is sent to us by Madame A. Godin, well-known in this place. (Adv.)

PLAN INSPECTION OF IMMIGRANTS ON FOREIGN SOIL

Step May Lead Eventually to Abandonment of Ellis Island Station

Washington, May 25.—Officials of the State Treasury and Labor Department sailed on the Leviathan for Europe Saturday to lay plans for the inspection abroad of intending American immigrants. The system, which first will be placed in operation in the American consulates in the Irish Free State, is the result of months of study by the immigration service, the state department and the public health service. In the opinion of Secretary Davis, the officials charged with pioneering the work abroad are Court DuBois, chief of the visa office of the state department; Robt. Carl White, assistant secretary of labor, and Dr. W. W. Kerr, assistant chief of the public health service. The first work of the three officials will be to attach to the American consulates in the Irish free state, American immigration inspectors and public health officers to make the inspections necessary under the law before immigration visas can be granted. These inspections are designed to supplement those now made by the American consuls and are intended to be so thorough that another inspection will not be necessary when the alien lands in this country. The system is being installed in the Irish Free State by consent of that government, and it will operate there as an experiment and as a demonstration to the other nations of the world of the desirability of such a system which American officials hold will eliminate much of the uncertainty and hardships connected with the immigrant's trip to this country.

STEAMSHIP VOTES MADE IN OTTAWA

$340,666 For Subsidy For Canada-West Indies-South America Service

Ottawa, May 25 (Canadian Press)—A vote of $340,666 for the subsidizing of a steamship service between Canada, the West Indies and South America came before the House of Commons last evening. An amendment to reduce the item to $250,000 was offered by J. S. Woodsworth, Labor Minister, who declared it was "utterly vicious" to subsidize a line which was working in opposition to the Canadian Government Merchant Marine. On division the amendment was lost. Thirteen Progressives voted for it and fifty-six Government and Conservative members united in opposition. The vote was then carried. A few minutes later a vote of $100,000 for the subsidizing of a service between Canada and South Africa was passed and the House rose.

Capt. Tom Lee, negro boatman, who while the Norman was listing approached the vessel and took a boatload of struggling survivors to shore. Again and again he returned, making four trips in all and saving more than twenty people.

Four boys, paddling in choppy waters near Mary Tod Island yesterday in a home-made canoe, capsized and narrowly escaped death by drowning, being picked up by two small boats which put out from shore and brought them safely into land. The boys were badly frightened and one was near exhaustion when dragged from the chilly water. This, police officials say, is another warning to inexperienced people to stay away from the tide-rips on the coast with which they are not familiar.

During the holiday hundreds of cars crossed the Malahat drive which is again open for automobiles, following the laying of an additional fifteen miles of paving, both tar and asphalt. The asphalt has been put down in the vicinity of Mill Bay, and the tar in the hills of the Malahat proper. The road is said to be in excellent condition and better for motoring than it has ever been before. The Malahat will not be closed again this summer. Already foreign cars are pouring over the island highway and up into the upper country where fishing and camping parties are numerous now.

When F. Hines was riding to work this morning and passing the Yates and Blanshard Street crossing, a motor car driven by Capt. Thompson blocked his way. The automobile had slowed down almost to a standstill to allow another machine, with the right of way, to pass. The cyclist, according to a report received by the police, rammed the rear wheel of the car with some force, sent himself crashing to the pavement, sustaining a cut over the eye and being knocked into unconsciousness. The Cameron & Caldwell ambulance was rushed to the scene of the mishap. Hines was taken to the St. Joseph's Hospital, where his hurts were attended to, and he was back on the street again within the space of a few hours.

NOMINATION DAY IN SASKATCHEWAN

Regina, May 26.—The formal nomination of candidates for the Saskatchewan provincial general election to be held June 2, is taking place this afternoon following three weeks of campaigning, the quietest in the history of the province. Farmers have been actively engaged in land operations, and public meetings have been mostly attended in most districts. The chief interest centres in the number of associations, but these will not be definitely known until the nomination lists close this afternoon. Official statements from various party leaders during the campaign indicated that to-day there would be fifty-nine Liberals, thirty-nine Progressives and nineteen Conservatives nominated. From semi-official sources it was learned that probably two Conservatives would withdraw, endorsing the Progressive candidates in their constituencies, which left seventeen Conservatives as certainities to be nominated.

BODY FOUND

Fernie, May 26.—The body of Dennis Fleming, traveling salesman of Blairmore, Alta., who has been missing since he was thrown from an automobile, "Jack" Creek, last Thursday afternoon, was found last night about a mile and a half downstream from the scene of the accident. An inquest will be held.

Twenty-five million dollars invested in timber in the Cowichan district will be represented by the Cowichan Bay Booming Association, now being organized by Leo A. Grogan. The organization is preparing for the start of timber shipping over the new Deerholme-Cowichan Bay line of the Canadian National and the general opening up of the timber operations in the Cowichan area on a still greater scale. Starting in August, 500,000 a day will be shipped over the new line and boomed in Cowichan Bay. The timber interests will decide the locations of the booming pockets in Cowichan Bay and arrange for the lease of the booming grounds, for the trestles and forshore rights. Work will also start at once on the construction of buildings to house the permanent crew of men who will be employed at Cowichan, Bay to handle the daily shipment of logs.

An elderly man had been delivering himself of certain forcible horse truths when lecturing to his nephew. "Wonderful chap, your uncle," observed a friend, when the old gentleman had disappeared. "So well preserved." "I don't know so much about his being well preserved," growled the offended nephew, "but he is unpleasantly candid."

Victoria in Victoria

By DONALD A. FRASER

She came 'not' in her days of flesh, but now
Her spirit's here in lasting bronze to bide
In this fair city by the sunset tide,
To which in youth her name she did allow;
That diadem of bronze that crowns her brow;
That queenly sceptre sloped against her side,
Shall into crumbs and primal dust divide,
Before that name shall to oblivion bow.

Those quiet eyes that seem to watch in hope
This city namesake, still in coy amaze
Before grand portals that the morrows ope,
Dreaming the radiant dreams of dawning days,
Shall they behold these visions brought to view?
Yes, yes, they shall, if we to trust are true.

Saanich Reeve PROTESTS AGAINST INCREASED CHARGES

Presents Saanich Views on Proposed Increase in Price of Water

Reeve Robert Macneil of Saanich interviewed Mayor Carl Pendray this afternoon and protested against the announced intention of the City Council to raise the charges for water supplied Saanich from the present rate of six cents per thousand gallons to ten cents, from the expiry of the present contract on May 31, until a definite agreement is entered upon.

Reeve Macneil was accompanied by Councillor Kirkham, Clerk Sewell and Accountant Buckle of the Saanich staff, who made a thorough examination into the city's water costs at the time the city auditors inquired into the Saanich situation regarding alleged profits being earned by Saanich on waterworks account.

After half an hour of discussion in his office, Mayor Pendray introduced the delegation to the finance committee of the City Council, where further discussion took place. The Saanich representatives are endeavoring to secure modification of the proposals of the works committee before they are finally ratified at a formal session of the council this evening.

ADVENTUROUS BOYS NAVIGATE NARROWS

On Frail Raft Scorn Assistance of Yachtsmen

Vancouver, May 26.—Two youths seeking a thrill by navigating from West Vancouver through First Narrows on a frail raft of duck-Monroe's night caused considerable excitement for the police and passengers of craft entering the harbor.

An intensive search for both water and shore following a report that two lads were in difficulties on board a raft in First Narrows, resulted in the raft being located a few yards away from the Stanley Park shore near Brockton Point. Its passengers had vanished, apparently having made shore successfully and turned their craft loose again.

Yachting parties returning from English Bay and Howe Sound points encountered the raft and its passengers, but offers of aid were refused. There was a near fatality when the C.P.R. vessel Princess Patricia steamed through the Narrows and came to a sudden stop a few feet from the raft which was bearing no lights.

The Argentine started from Amsterdam last July 27, but halted in Japan when the advance of Winter made flying across the North Pacific Ocean impracticable. He again started his flight from Osaka May 14, but his airplane was wrecked in the takeoff.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

THE WAITRESS IN KNICKERS
Do you suppose that the time will come when the conventional costume for the waitress will possess knickers or breeches in place of the time-honored skirt?
Recently a restaurant manager decreed that the waitresses in his employ should wear knickers and they took up with the idea eagerly. The knicker costume they found comfortable and not unbecoming. From the employer's point of view it has the advantage of making possible greater speed and more efficiency.

Some time before that waitresses at one of the large London restaurants had "gone into knickers." In that instance a smart uniform was adopted, consisting of the rather full breeches, a fimsy blouse with a jaunty tie and a sort of sailor's cap posed rakishly at the side.

Now quite a stir has been raised in Paris since the proprietors of several of the Montmartre restaurants have established uniforms of breeches and blouse. To keep the effect from being in the least masculine, a becoming lace cap goes with a colored stripe down one side.

The fact that a few restaurants provide the novelty of waitresses in breeches is not especially significant in itself. But the question is raised in real earnest, whether or not the fashion will spread until the usual costume for the waitress will be of this sort.

Braid Has Fashion Possibilities That Appeal to Dressmakers and Milliners

Every once in so often the use of braid for trimming women's clothes comes into fashion. Such things seem to come in cycles. If we used braid trimming all the time we should become used to it and grow weary of braid-trimmed frocks and wraps and hats. It is several seasons now since we have used much braid. During the war there was a persistent effort to launch braid, the feeling being undoubtedly that war conditions would make military fashions popular—and braid, like gold buttons, has long been associated with military uniforms. But women apparently didn't want to show their patriotism and loyalty that way. The boom in military fashions fell flat.

New, however, braid has come back into favor with apparently no reason. Tolman of Paris has used it lavishly this spring. But as in other present-day revivals of old modes, it is used in an original manner. Never before has braid been used so profusely on a single garment. On one of Tolman's frocks, for example, braid almost entirely covers it. On others the entire wide, broad, turn-back cuffs and rolling collar are covered with it.

The sketch shows a frock of natural kasha trimmed with rose and violet braid. The kasha frock or wrap lends itself well indeed to braid trimming. Georgette, too, is sometimes trimmed with braid. In one instance the coat of an ensemble costume is made of beige georgette made more substantial by the use of military braid upon it.

Milliners have not been unaware of the possibilities of braid. In the collection of sport clothes shown by Martial et Armand of Paris at the present time there are interesting little sleeveless jackets made of several tones of military braid woven together, and to go with them are little sports hats made in the same way.

Do you think young men that you could give my daughter all she asks for?
"I think so, sir," murmured the lover, bashfully. "She says she wants only me."

EPSOM DERBY IS AROUSING GREAT INTEREST

No Outstanding Pony As Race Draws Nigh

Cross Bow, Owned by Lord Astor, and Manna Are Both Strongly Fancied, With Ptolemy, Runnymede and Conquistador Well Supported; Elaborate Traffic Arrangements Made by Police to Handle Million People That Will Gather on Downs

Latest Odds on Great Race

London, May 26—In the latest betting for the Derby to be run on Wednesday: Cross Bow 5-1 against, a slight favorite over Manna, 11-2 against; Conquistador 9-1 against, Solaris 100-8 against, Ptolemy 100-7 against, St. Bees 15-1 against, Runnymede 15-1 against, Zionist 20-1 against, Dignity 25-1 against, Buccias 33-1 against, Pansainorium 33-1 against offered and 40-1 taken, Vicot 40-1 against, War Minister 40-1 against, Sunderland 45-1 against, Priory Park 50-1 against, Sparus 50-1 taken and offered.

London, May 26—To-morrow is Derby Day and tens of thousands are eagerly canvassing the probable results of the mile and a half race over the historic course at Epsom Down. There is little enough to guide their choice. It is generally admitted that the horses this year are below the highest standard and there is no strongly outstanding favorite. The betting, however, favors Lord Astor's Cross Bow which has many supporters among the professional tipsters.

Lord Astor has thus far been unfortunate in his efforts to win the Derby, his horses having run second five times within the last seven years, in the face of this persistent ill luck which some people term a hoodoo, the gambling does not support Cross Bow, nevertheless the figures were steadily in the horse's favor last night at 5-1 against.

H. E. Morris' Manna comes next at 11-2, but when he will be ridden by the popular Steve Donoghue, plenty prefer to bet on Cross Bow. The latter's jockey is Frank Bullock, of Australia, who also has a great reputation.

The French horse, Ptolemy II, which disappointed his backers in the 2,000 Guineas, has made a good impression on experts who have plenty work at Epsom since his arrival in the country. He is generally better than he did at Longchamps. KING'S HORSE HAS A CHANCE

For the first time in a number of years one of the King's horses, Runnymede, is conceded more than an outside chance of winning. He is quoted at 100-5, he has been figured by a number of experts to place at least.

The Derby's Conquistador is another much favored horse by the experts and their opinion is backed by many. All the horses are reported in excellent condition. The Epsom course has been in first-rate condition. The Downs has taken on its familiar Derby Day appearance.

Elaborate traffic arrangements have been made by the police. In co-operation with the leading automobile associations, with a view to prevent congestion on the numerous roads leading to the course, the streams of vehicles will be directed from fourteen police points, connected by radio and telegraph, replacing the control from aeroplanes which has been a feature of recent years.

Numerous motor patrols will patrole the Epsom roads, and elaborate arrangements are being made for the assistance of motorists, overtaken by troubles.

COACHES HAVE PASSED The total time Derby goes, whose job was to drive the Epsom coaches behind spanking teams have been almost eliminated by the advance in mechanical traffic and the fact that these will be seen this year.

London, May 26 (Canadian Press Cable)—The following are the probable starters and jockeys for the running of the 143rd renewal of the Oaks Stakes at Epsom Downs on Friday next: Lord Astor's Miss Gadabout (Brennan); Lord Astor's Saucy Sue (Bullock); Anthony de Rothschild's Riding Light (Donoghue); T. H. Ratcliffe's Blue Fairy (Jolly); Lady Chesterfield's Serdella (McClachlan); Asa Khan's Brise Bise (Carruthers); Sol Joel's Applause (Wraggs); A. K. Macomber's Sen-spray II (Neill); Lord Rosebery's Swastika (Elliott); M. H. Barclay's Vera (Kilgobbin); Lord Sefton's Rylaw (Beary); Sir A. Bailey's Doorstep (Cox); R. H. Lawrence's Hurry Back (Jones).

New Rifle Match at Bisley This Year London, May 26 (Canadian Press Cable)—It is the intention of the National Rifle Association to institute a minor match in connection with the shooting for the Kellogg Cup at this year's Bisley meeting, consisting of teams of four for the benefit of the smaller overseas teams who are unable to raise the regulation team of eight.

The meeting promises to be truly imperial and will revive interest in Canada, Rhodesia, Nigeria, the Gold Coast, Nyasaland, India, the Channel Islands and Malaya.

Conditions for the King's Prize, the Prince of Wales' Prize and other principal matches are unchanged.

C.P.R. Broke Even With Port Angeles In Double-header

Visitors Won Morning Game 7-1, While Locals Took Afternoon Tilt by 8-4

Staging a comeback in the afternoon game and winning out by an 8-4 score, the C.P.R. ball team broke even with Port Angeles after dropping the morning battle by the score of 7-1. Heavy hitting featured both tilts and the largest crowds of the season were on hand.

Jack Irvin, who took the mound for the visitors, pitched a fair brand of ball, but his teammates let him down no less than five misuses. He allowed five scattered hits, while he fanned seven batters. At no time did he get into any trouble and went the whole nine innings with ease.

Port Angeles scored in the first inning when a walk, an error, a sacrifice and a scratch hit drove in two runs. The C.P.R. got one of the runs back in their half of the first—a walk, a stolen base and hit being responsible.

Close finishes were seen in the horse races and in one event three bang-tails finished with their noses even at the wire. The two and a half-mile steeplechase was won by Dad Quick with Monro by Flick. Ama-Rue with Carley up second while Judy with Major Hyndman up was third.

Nurmi, Running Last Race in States, Has Tough Man to Beat

New York, May 26.—Paavo Nurmi will run his farewell race in America to-night at the Yankee Stadium, which is considered the hardest task of his five months' campaign.

He will compete in a special half-mile event against his chief rival, Alan Helfrich, Penn State star, and will try to improve up on the nine-year-old record of Ted Meredith, of 1:52 2-5. Most critics favor Helfrich to win.

A large crowd witnessed the symphony at the Willow oval yesterday afternoon, staged under auspices of the army and navy. The events were keenly competed and provided plenty of excitement and thrills.

The feature event of the programme was the field gun competition between the Patricia and the R. F. naval barracks which was won by the latter. In the Vickers machine gun corps practice the Vancouver team carried off the honours by their fast work.

Mainland Cricket Eleven Is Bady Beaten By Locals

Victoria Cricketers Trounce Visitors by Innings and 116 Runs

Douglas Fletcher celebrated the holiday yesterday in great style and was mainly responsible for sending the picked cricket eleven from the Wednesday Cricket League of Vancouver back to the Mainland with a very heavy defeat charged against them. The local Wednesday Leaguers ran up the highest score made in cricket in British Columbia this season, declaring when they had put on 247 runs for seven wickets.

Vancouver failed to get going in front of the bowling of Victoria and in their first innings put on 122, while in their second knock they were all-out for 79. This gave Victoria a win by an innings and 116 runs. The match was played at Beacon Hill before the largest crowd of the season.

Fletcher's day work included an innings of 132, at which point he was tired. This is the best done by any batsman on local grounds this season. Fletcher arrived at the wicket in time to halt a rout. The Vancouver bowlers, the Cornes brothers, were trundling in fine style and four were out for thirty-seven. Fletcher got his eye in and began smashing the ball high and hard. The Vancouver bowling faltered and, when Percy Payne joined Fletcher, they stayed together until 170 runs had been scored.

Inspired by the stand of Fletcher and Payne the rest of the Victoria side stood up to the Vancouver bowling and the remaining five averaged twenty runs apiece.

LOCAL BOWLERS STRONG Vancouver won the first and second innings yesterday. After their spectacular innings Victoria proceeded to mow down the visiting batsmen in great style and once again a Victoria team was in the lead. He took five wickets for thirty-four runs in the first innings, while he did not bowl in the second. Norman made the best of the visitors, getting forty-four before Fletcher sent him back to the pavilion. The side was all out for 122. In the second innings, Vancouver bowled the visitors out for 79. The four taking three wickets for three runs, while the latter had an average of four for thirty-five.

POLO NEGRI SCORES SUCCESS IN COMEDY PICTURE AT CAPITOL

Pola Negri came to the screen at the Capitol Theatre yesterday in her first comedy role in the Sidney Olcott-Faramont production, "The Charmer," based on Henry Beerli's novel, "Mariposa," which was adapted to the screen by Sada Cowan.

"The Charmer," a story of the Spanish dancing girl, Mariposa, tells how she and her father, uncouth though affectionate mother come to try their fortune in New York under the wing of a kindly theatrical manager. Her success is instantaneous. Two men fall in love with her—a prominent man-about-town and his chauffeur, played by Wallace Mac Donald and Robert Frazer, respectively.

MacDonald, in the role of Ralph Bayne, immediately falls for Mariposa's beauty and wants to marry her until her mother, through a clever little plan of hers, reveals the girl in her real light—an uneducated country girl entirely out of place with the set Bayne is accustomed to associate with. Still he is unwilling to give her up and invites her to visit him in his "study." Despite repeated warnings from the chauffeur, who sincerely loves her, that he has driven many girls there before her, Mariposa goes. Bertha Sedgwick, a foolish young married woman, infatuated with Bayne, also arrives at the apartment, closely followed by her suspicious husband. Mariposa's quick

"Anna Christie," adapted by Thomas H. Ince from Eugene O'Neill's stage drama, which was a sensation on two continents, and won the 1922 Pulitzer prize for the best American drama of the year, stands out boldly as the most unconventional heroine ever brought to the silver screen. This First National release was shown at the Playhouse Theatre last night.

The picture is an undoubted artistic triumph. It tells one of the most gripping stories conceived by genius and screened by a veteran master of showmanship. It is one of these pictures that is talked about in every feminine gathering and discussed in the candle glow of formal dinners. One simply is out of the running who hasn't seen it.

As the stage attraction, Frank Morton and his company offered "The Follies of Frisco," replete with good comedy and catchy songs.

LIFE-LIKE PLAYERS AID JACK PICKFORD IN "THE HILL BILLY"

Never has there been a cast more characteristic of the types involved in the story than the one engaged by Jack Pickford for his new picture, "The Hill Billy," an Allied Producers' and Distributors' Corporation release at the Columbia Theatre.

Jack carefully chose the players. Each member of the cast was given tests before a final decision was rendered by Jack and his director, George Hill.

It was Jack's aim to have the players life-like and genuine on the screen. He wanted to get away from the usual types that smack of too much make-up in order to resemble the parts.

Lucille Ricksen, Hollywood's favorite leading lady, is portraying the role of the wistful country sweetheart. Frank Leigh, well-known English actor, who secured a tremendous hit in Ethel Barrymore's

MOST TRAGIC EYES IN WORLD—Harriet Hammond, movie actress has the most tragic eyes in the world, says Elinor Glyn, writer. Harriet was working as an "extra" until Madame Glyn paid tribute to her eyes. Now many producers are bidding for her services.

"Life's Whirlpool" is enacting the role of "the heavy," James Keckley, who has probably played more mother parts than any other actress, is playing the part of Jack's mother in the picture. Ralph Yearsley plays the part of a stupid and repulsive country boy.

HOME FOR CHRISTMAS APPEALING THEME OF COLISEUM PICTURE

Christmas with its holly and fir trees, Salvation Army Santa Claus on the corner, turkeys feasting in the windows, crisp snow crinkling under hurrying feet, and the hustle and bustle of last-minute preparations in the usual types that smack of too much make-up in order to resemble the parts.

The action centres around the Ingals household on Christmas eve when the children arrive home for the holidays. The earlier scenes show a family in which the parents are indulgent and the children wilful. The father revolts—and as one result, the family faces the prospect of poverty.

It is then Granny, the strong-minded grandmother, takes the initiative and proceeds with a quiet little scheme for her own. How it works out, how the real Yuletide spirit blooms again on the ashes of despair, constitutes the charming climax of the story.

Into this skeleton plot, Cruise has instilled all his genius, all his cleverness at shaping situations, and as a result, the picture has delightful little human quirks in which every spectator will see visions of his own home.

Walter Woods and Anthony Colde wrote the screen play from the original stage version by Lewis Beach. The cast was carefully chosen and includes such featured players as Constance Bennett, Myrtle Stedman, Esther Ralston, George Irving and Edward Peil, Jr.

Last night at the Coliseum Theatre, Reginald Hincks and his company played their initial bow in their new venture of Gilbert and Sullivan

COLLECTING GUNS FORD'S NEW HOBBY TO AID HISTORY

Motor Manufacturer is Now Restoring Old Inns Making Them Into Museums

Dearborn, Mich., May 26.—Henry Ford has a new hobby. He is collecting historic guns—flintlocks, muzzle-loaders, side-arms, pistols and other weapons of war.

Some were used in the American Revolution, others in the War of 1812, the Mexican and Civil Wars, still others in foreign conflicts, and a few were the trusted guns of famous characters in history.

Although Ford began his collection only a short time ago, more than 200 of the old guns are now stored in the home here of William Ford, his brother.

The most prized gun of the collection is the first type used by "Buffalo Bill" Cody, famous plainsman of the pioneer days of the West. Another in the collection is believed to have been used by Napoleon.

Other guns in the collection include: An old Arabian flint-lock, date unknown, but very old. English flint-lock fowling piece, at least 100 years old. Several Revolutionary muskets. The first American breech-loading rifle, made in 1811.

An American flint-lock musket, bearing the date 1837. An old Kentucky percussion lock rifle. A double-barreled shotgun and rifle, with one trigger serving both the rifle and gun barrels.

Nineteen guns of Civil War days, including almost every type used by the Union and Confederate armies. One weapon in this group is a sharp-shooter's rifle, with a false muzzle, weighing forty-three pounds. A French chassepot army rifle, of the Franco-Prussian War of 1871.

Guns used in England, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, Spain and Austria fifty years ago or more. The gun hobby is a new wrinkle in Ford's latest pastime of establishing unique museums, which will preserve for posterity the picturesque pioneer days of America.

The Ford museums will not be great modern buildings, full of curios and antiques of all sorts, but old inns, which Ford is reconstructing.

He is making them as nearly as possible like the way a century ago, in order to portray the exact manner in which people lived in those days.

THEORY OF HISTORY

Ford has a theory that history that you can see is of far more value than history written in books, and he hopes to have thousands of children visit these museums.

He wishes above all to have the children understand the history of their country than many books, Ford says.

One of these museums is the Old Wayside Inn, at South Sudbury, Mass., made famous by Longfellow. He has just reconstructed the old Botsford Inn, at Clarenceville, Mich., a structure more than seventy-five years old.

Washington, May 26.—Recent increase in the flood of questionable matter offered for transmission through the United States mails has led to further tightening of the routine safeguards employed in the postal service for keeping it out and for prosecution of those violating the federal statutes in this regard.

Thousands of complaints have come to the office of the Postmaster-General from parents and associations asking that the department augment its efforts to protect children from obscene literature and pictures.

The close surveillance exercised over the character of matter passing through the mails, officials believe, has affected a material decrease in the number of dealers in pornographic matter. Federal courts have discouraged the efforts of such dealers by upholding the Post Office Department in each instance where rulings excluding obscene matter from the mails have been challenged.

Foreign dealers, especially since the war and the return of United States soldiers from Europe, have been active in endeavoring to dispose of their products in this country. In many instances foreign consignments are intercepted at custom-houses. The trade of these offenders has been crippled by the postal authorities returning to senders letters addressed to all known dealers in obscene matter, by confiscating great quantities of unmarketable advertising circulars and the materials as well, and by acquainting those attempting to import such matters with their responsibility and liability to prosecution under the penal provisions of the laws.

The numerous small magazines depending for their popularity on the pornographic material in them are the source of continual complaint from the exclusion of many of them from the mails curtails to a considerable extent their widespread circulation. These publications have been responsible for increasing the work of the Post Office Department's legal force. The magazines when excluded from the mails find their way to newstands through other channels.

CANADIAN MOVIES NOW SOLD IN U.S.

Ottawa, May 26 (Canadian Press)—Motion pictures taken by the motion picture bureau of the Department of Trade and Commerce of Canada are now being sold to a large number of companies in the United States. The revenue derived from the sale of these pictures during the first ten months of the last year was $21,159. This information was given to the House last night by Hon. T. A. Low, Minister of Trade and Commerce, when a vote for $25,000 to cover expenses in connection with the motion picture bureau was under consideration.

Some of the most beautiful districts in Canada have been filmed.

QUEENS OF MOVIES OFTEN FAIL TO GET ROLES THEY DESIRE

Hollywood, Cal., May 26.—One of the greatest problems with which motion picture directors are confronted is casting in suitable parts the feminine stars of filmdom. Many of the actresses have beauty and personality adapted to many roles, while others film well only in certain parts. The director's problem is the more difficult because of the desire of the majority of the actresses to enact roles contrary, in the director's opinion, to their personalities. Sometimes it becomes necessary to use compulsion to select the players needed.

A director noted these requests for parts contrary to those he had selected:

One actress wanted to play the part of a girl in tattered garments, the heroine of romantic poverty. Her assignment necessitated fourteen changes of elaborate apparel.

A second who desired the role of a vampire was cast in the part of an amiable wife, while one who aspired to be a sweet housewife character acted the part of a fascinating and beautifully roved heroine.

One who had visions of making masculine hearted flatter became an unsophisticated flapper, while a star whose aim was the farm girl's role, with all the simple calico features, received a vampire's assignment.

Perhaps the greatest disappointment of all was suffered by a young actress who desired to be screened as a dashing heroine of a thrill epic. Instead, she took care of a baby and darned her husband's socks.

PENALTIES FOR SMUGGLING

Ottawa, May 26.—A bill to provide more drastic penalties for the smuggling into Canada of goods valued at more than $200 was given first reading in the House yesterday. It provides for the confiscation of the goods and for a fine or imprisonment, or both, for those found guilty of attempting to smuggle.

YOUR GRANDPARENTS RELIED ON ENO

Years before the C.P.R. spanned Canada, ENO's "Fruit Salt" had found its way across the continent. As years have sped, its sterling merits have become more and more widely acknowledged. Now there is not a corner of the civilized world where the morning 'dash' of ENO is not part and parcel of life as it should be lived.

ENO excels because it is the one simple, pleasant and, above all, natural way to ensure internal cleanliness. You never wish you hadn't taken ENO, as perhaps you have wished with other laxatives. It doesn't do good to-day to leave you worse to-morrow.

It excels, too, because of its purity, its unchanging high quality, its freedom from purgative mineral salts and sugar and flavouring matter.

The rule of our grandparents—ENO's "Fruit Salt" first thing every morning—is as sound to-day as ever it was.

BEDTIME STORY
Uncle Wiggly and the Tadpole

Copyright, 1925, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

(By Howard R. Garia)

Swimming about in a little puddle of water, not far from Uncle Wiggly's hollow stump-bungalow, lived a tadpole. Now a tadpole, as you all know, is a baby frog before it has its legs. When the baby frog comes out of the egg it has nothing much but a head and a tail, and thus it swims around until it grows to be a big frog.

"Heigh! Ho! Hum! This is a lovely day to go adventuring!" cried Uncle Wiggly one day as he hopped past the little puddle of water. And the rabbit gentleman was quite surprised when a voice called to him, saying: "Please take me adventuring with you! I am tired of staying in this same little puddle all the while. Take me with you adventuring, please, Uncle Wiggly."

"Who are you?" asked the burry.

"Who are you?" asked the burry, answer, and looking into the puddle, Mr. Longears saw the little fellow who was all head and tail.

"I should like to take you with me," said the kind and polite rabbit, "but you have no legs to walk on the ground, or hop as I do, and I have no fins, and gills and no tail that would help me to swim in the water. You cannot yet live on land, and I cannot live in the water, so I fear we cannot go adventuring together. I am sorry!"

The little tadpole was sorry also, and he would have cried tears, but tears don't show when you're under water all the time. However, as Uncle Wiggly hopped away over the fields and through the woods, the tadpole's mother comforted him by saying:

"Never mind, my dear. Some day you will be a frog with legs, and then you can hop along with Uncle Wiggly!"

"Oh, will I really have hopping legs like Bally and Bowli? No! Tail, the boy frogs" asked, the little tadpole.

"Yes," answered his mother. "Some day, soon."

"How glad I am!" sang the little tadpole. "I am going to be good and grow as fast as I can." So he swam about in the puddle of water, and one morning he noticed that two little legs were sprouting out from under his skin beneath his chin. "Hurrah!" cried the tadpole. "Now I can go hopping with Uncle Wiggly!"

And when the bunny gentleman passed the puddle later in the day, on his way to seek an adventure, the tadpole cried:

"I have legs to hop on land now, Mr. Longears! Please take me with you adventuring!"

But when Uncle Wiggly looked in the puddle he said: "You have only two legs, dear Tadpole. You need four to hop with me. Wait a little longer and I will take you."

Little Tadpole was sad, but still he made up his mind to swim harder and eat more and grow into a big frog with four legs. And surely enough he did. One morning he awakened and he found he had four legs. And lo and behold, his tail had gone! It had been changed into his hind legs.

"Now I can hop over the fields and through the woods with Uncle Wiggly!" croaked the frog, who was no longer a tadpole.

"Yes, but you cannot live for ever out of water," his mother told him. "You must hop back into a puddle many times a day, and the new little frog boy promised to do so."

Sooh Uncle Wiggly again passed near the puddle, and, just as he reached it, out of the bushes sprang the Fuzzy Fox, who wanted to nibble the bunny's ears, not having tried to do so for some time. But, as the Fox sprang for the bunny, a voice from the bushes cried:

"Here! You Let Uncle Wiggly alone!"

"Pooh! I'm not afraid of you!" snarled the Fox. "You are only a tadpole living in the puddle. You have no legs! You can't even hop out on the dry land!"

"Can't I? Well, I'll show you!" cried the voice. And out hopped the frog who used to be a tadpole. And the Fox threw sand in the eyes of the frog and made the bad chap sneeze so he couldn't see to nibble Uncle Wiggly's ears.

"Oh, I didn't know you would ever have legs to come out of the water with!" howled the Fox, as he ran back to his den. And then the bunny thanked the tadpole frog and took him adventuring over the fields and through the woods. But at night the frog hopped back to his puddle. So this teaches us that you can change a dollar bill into 100 pennies if you wish. And if the pussy cat will flip the end of her tail in the ink bottle and draw the picture of a wagon on the white horse, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and the thorn.

FINANCE BILL IN BRITAIN ADVANCED

London, May 25.—In the House of Commons last night Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, secured second reading of the Finance Bill embodying his budget proposals. Closure was applied and Philip Snowden's motion to reject the bill was defeated, 231 to 139. Application for closure provoked angry protests from the opposition.

The Chancellor had again to submit to much criticism from Mr. Snowden, Ramsay MacDonald, Lloyd George and others, but would not be stirred from the conviction of the value of his proposals. He maintained that, with the modifications he had already proposed, the silk duties would form a permanent part of the country's revenue.

The Chancellor further declared the Government had no intention of postponing the pensions scheme, but he promised a statement in due course which would reduce to very small proportions the fears that the scheme could be a burden on industry.

NO MENACE NOW

Lloyd George made an interesting contribution, arguing the Chancellor ought to cut down expenditures on armaments, since there was no longer any menace to British territory. He remarked that since the earthquake Japan could contemplate no schemes of aggression, and he characterized the Singapore naval base plan as "sheer madness."

Winding up the debate, Premier Baldwin denied the imposition of the McKenna duties or the silk tax was protectionist. They were purely revenue duties. He declared Britain had traveled a long way towards its rehabilitation as the financial centre of the world. The first step was the balanced budget of 1919; the second was the funding of the United States debt; the third was a provision in the budget introduced by himself when Chancellor of the Exchequer, that a sum of not less than £20,000,000 be allotted yearly to the reduction of the debt.

By restoring the gold standard, he said, Mr. Churchill had put the coping stone to the edifice. He was proud of having been associated with these steps and he could not help feeling a malicious joy that the very critics who had blamed him for the liberation of the country from "American shackles" by funding the debt were those who accused Mr. Churchill of riveting the same shackles on Britain by returning to the gold standard.

ONTARIO DEATH

Hamilton, Ont., May 25.—Martin Malone, a prominent lawyer, formerly of Montreal, aged forty-eight, died here yesterday.

VEGETABLE ACT

Ottawa, May 25.—A bill to amend the Root and Vegetable Act was given second reading in the House yesterday afternoon without discussion and referred to the committee on Agriculture and Colonization.

Healthy Babies are the Result of Proper Feeding

The early care of the baby lays the foundation for its later life.

About the sixth month baby needs additional nourishment to make teeth and build the bone and muscle needed for the approaching sitting up, creeping and walking period.

It is at that time, too, that breast milk begins to fail.

To supply the strength needed for this period of activeness, physicians prescribe cereal foods.

The simplest, safest way is to use Nestlé's Milk Food. Nestlé's is a perfect blend of both milk and cereals, a proven strength-building food. The finest cow's milk is dried to a powder and to this are added wheat biscuit, wheat malt, and cane sugar. To prepare, just add water and boil one minute.

In tests on thousands of infants Nestlé's Milk Food was found to agree with 93%.

If You Do Not Nurse Baby use Nestlé's Milk Food entirely. A splendid substitute when for any reason mother's milk is not available.

WAS JUST ICE MAN, NOW MILLIONAIRE

New York, May 25.—Another New York success story to attract ambitious youths from afar; Samuel Rubel has just completed a merger of ice and coal companies in Brooklyn, involving property valued between $30,000,000 and $50,000,000.

Eighteen years ago he was working sixteen hours a day peddling ice from his wagon. He came from Russia in steerage in 1905. He was twenty-one then.

His only advice is "work hard and don't depend too much on outsiders."

ANTI-NOISE LAW IN BERKELEY, CAL.

Berkeley, Cal., May 25.—The much-advertised anti-noise ordinance in this college city is construed by City Attorney Earl J. Sinclair as excluding piano practice at late hours in the evening. Running of scales and other such trying modes of perfecting one's technique should come before 9 p.m., the city attorney has stated in reply to complaints of neighbors about a music student's nocturnal practice.

Roosters and canaries have been legally silenced in previous interpretations of the ordinance. So have cats and unneededly used motor horns. Nevertheless the air of Berkeley is not always quiet throughout the night.

TIMES CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

There's a large collection of two-letter words in this puzzle to-day. Some used to be unknown until this crossword puzzle craze brought them into prominence. Do you know them?

Answer to Cross-word Puzzle 2322

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above, the word is vertical. The same number may begin both as a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill the form are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved the puzzle correctly, it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions. The correct solution of to-day's puzzle will be printed in the next issue of The Times

NEW SERIAL STORY

"The Steadfast Heart"

By Clarence Budington Kelland

"I drove past your house one day when you were chopping wood. I'm the minister. I asked you to come to Sunday school? Don't you remember now?"

Angus nodded. "My boy, when I was at your house I heard your mother groaning. She was sick. . . Maybe you thought she was merely complaining, but she was sick."

"She didn't have her black pills," Angus said apathetically. "She will never want her black pills again," Trueman said gently.

The boy looked up again, and a vague effort to understand passed shadow-like across his face, but he did not understand.

"Your mother died last night," said Trueman baldly. "If the pastor expected or hoped to witness a change in the boy's expression, he was disappointed. The hiding seemed not to affect Angus at all—it was as if the words had no meaning for him."

"She is dead," repeated Trueman. Again Angus nodded. After a fashion he understood death, but still he manifested no sorrow. He had not loved his mother, there had been no mother to love, only a woman who was one of the hardshins, which made up the narrow circle of his life, a part of the day's work. She had been there, and he accepted her as a fact. Now she would not be there, and this was another fact to be accepted. . . He had no imagination.

Alvin Trueman was shocked at the boy's indifference, his seeming callousness, for he was accustomed to seeing people act in a different fashion on the occasion of the death of a dear one. . . He began to fear that in so abnormal a child there might smoulder the distorted soul of one born contrary to the intention of God and Nature for the uses of crime.

"Aren't you sorry?" he demanded sharply. "The minister scrutinized the boy's head, he saw, was well formed, with plenty of arch behind the ears; the eyes were grey and might be clear. They were level-set and not unmanly. The two halves of the face balanced, that is to say, the right half looked as though it belonged to the left half and the whole did not seem to be made up of two halves which had strayed from their rightful mates and joined by accident. This sign of degeneracy was lacking. No, the face was normal. A twinkle in the apathetic eye would have made it pleasant and boyish, but there was no twinkle. Angus's eyes were like basement windows—or better, the windows of a vacant house. Altogether, it was the face of a child whose life had been monotonous, dullness, in whom apathy had erected itself as a protective armor against cruelty and hardship. Here was a boy who had developed physically because the labor of a family was exacted from him, but whose whose mental development had been arrested, made static because no stimulus had ever been given to it. . . It was a face in the balance; a turn of the hand might move it upward or downward. The boy was ten-years-old. At eleven minister marks might appear; at twenty the whole aspect might become that of a slug-witted criminal of the lowest order. . . Trueman was concerned and curious, moved by his concern to question.

"Why aren't you sorry your mother is dead?" "I don't know," Angus answered. Then, "It don't make no difference—not if anybody is dead." You see he was struggling to express himself, to put into thought and word some dim, struggling idea, some shadow of an idea.

"Angus," said Trueman taking another tack, "this is a serious business, an awful business. You are locked in a jail. You understand that. Because you are accused of killing a man—the sheriff of this county. . . Do you know what they'll do with you?"

Angus shook his head and fright enlarged his eyes. "No one will hurt you," "Lick me," he said. "Trueman was amazed, but even in his amazement he was quick to see the terror his question had aroused. "You mustn't be frightened," he said. "No one will hurt you. . . Did you kill Sheriff Bates, Angus?" "Yes," said the boy stolidly. "Trueman was shocked. The boy seemed brazen—to have no appreciation of the enormity of the act of depriving a human being of life. "Why did you shoot him? How came you to do such a thing?" "He was a robber," Angus said, and as the memory of these terrible hours returned to him his face became ghastly and color left his lips. "He was a robber and he come after Dad's money, and he shot me and I shot."

"What's that?" "What's that?" Angus made an effort to explain, but his vagueness, the impossibility of his explanation only confused Trueman. "Your mother told you to shoot?" he asked. "Why did she do that?" "The robber come to the door and pounded like that," Angus illustrated and trembled.

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

THE EDUCATED DOG

"What robber? What have robbers to do with it?" "The robber I shot. . . Mother heard him comin'. He was maybe Jesse James. He wa'n't goin' to leave nobody alive to tell the tale."

"Didn't you know it was Sheriff Bates?" "It was a robber. He come after Dad's money." Trueman was nonplussed. He could make nothing of it, yet he knew something lay beneath the surface which it was his duty to reach, and he determined to have it.

By dint of question and answer he drew from the boy the history of that evening—the arrival of his father with the black pills and the mysterious roll of money—the money which had sent Sheriff Bates to apprehend Titus Burke—the departure of Burke and the son of Mrs. Burke famous repeated version of the terrifying stories of hideous crimes, the terror, the woman's gruesome reveling in fear. So Trueman saw the picture and understood. . . Here was no crime, no occasion for the right hand of justice to descend in punishment. Here, rather, was a child upon whom the pity of the world might well be lavished—guiltless in thought and act.

By his mind Trueman acquitted Angus. Death had come by the boy's hand—as a sort of inevitable accident, an act of God working in His mysterious way. . . Even the best of men make strange accusations against their God. . . Presently Alvin Trueman emerged from Angus Burke's cell and ascended to the corridor above. At the top of the stairs he nodded to a tall, thin, coatless individual, who slouched against the wall for support and puffed uninterestedly on a corncob pipe. From the mop of uncombed hair to the feet in Congress gaiters the man was a model of indolence. He exhaled an air of laziness. Yet, despite his carelessness of dress and of manner, and sometimes of the niceties of language, you gained a feeling that you were in the presence of a first-class man and a gentleman—a first-class man, who through some crochets of fate or some minor defect of character remained a first-class man in a tiny sphere and was more or less contented that it should be so.

His eyes were grey and very bright and interested—though there was also a weary look to them. His head was unusually fine. . . Dress the man, comb him, eliminate the slouch from his shoulders so that his six feet and an inch of slender height became visible, and there were few assemblages he would not dominate.

IN BULGARIA DEATH SENTENCES CONFIRMED

Sofia, May 25.—King Boris of Bulgaria, an enemy of capital punishment, yesterday confirmed the death sentences of three men who took part in the Svetitski Cathedral bombing, in which 160 persons were killed. These are the first death sentences King Boris ever approved. He declared the plot justified the court martial's extreme judgment. The three men sentenced to death are Peter Zadgoriski, sacristan of the cathedral; Marco Friedmann and George Koef.

Now that King Boris has broken his rule of never sanctioning the death penalty, the state prosecutors hope he will approve other death sentences given Bolshevik plotters who have sought to upset the throne.

Answer to Cross-word Puzzle 2322

A little girl was taught to clope her evening prayer during the temporary absence of her father with: "And please watch over my daddy." It sounded very sweet, but the mother's amusement may be imagined when the child added: "And you'd better keep an eye on mummy, too."

TORONTO OPENS GIANT STATION

Dominion Battery Co. Equip Factory With Powerful Marconi Transmitter

Toronto has entered one more high-powered competitor in the contest for the favor of Eastern fans, the Dominion Battery Company having this month opened their new station CKCL with a special programme, heard in all parts of the continent. The wave length assigned is 337 metres.

Station CKCL is equipped with a Marconi installation and classes as a super-station. It is equipped with towers 120 feet high, constructed upon the roof of the Company's factory, while the studios are located in the Prince George Hotel, and connected with the operating room by remote control.

Until permanent arrangements for nightly programmes can be made, Station CKCL will be on the air at irregular intervals, due to the radio congestion on Eastern centres. It is expected that this will be to the advantage of Pacific Coast DX hunters, as the new station is understood to be preparing a number of early morning feature programmes, which will be received on the Coast in the prime of the late evening.

SIMPLE EDUCATION IS AFRICA'S NEED

Commission Issues Report in New York

New York, May 25.—The natives of Africa are at present on the sidelines, watching European and Asiatic settlers play football with the future of a continent rich in natural resources and the great question-mark in international peace and prosperity. Says the report of the Educational Commission to East Africa, issued here by the Phelps-Stokes Fund.

The commission spent six months in the field, traveling from French Somaliland to Capetown, and supplemented the work of a similar group which studied West and South Africa in 1920. The report was presented to the Educational Commission to East Africa, which was founded in 1908 to promote education in the Southern United States and in Africa. In the African studies the United States and British Governments and the missionary societies of Great Britain and North America co-operated by lending experts to serve on the commissions, and the British Government tendered Dr. Jones an official dinner at Lancaster House, London, on his way back from Africa.

MAN AND SON WERE DROWNED IN STREAM

Nelson, B.C., May 25.—David Gavrilik, master mechanic of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. at Trail, and his six-year-old son Joe, were drowned in Sheep Creek yesterday afternoon, and his wife and an associate, Joe Domidoff, of Trail, had narrow escapes when their car went through the rail of the Salmon bridge and plunged into the swollen stream.

Mrs. Gavrilik and Mr. Domidoff crawled out of the car and the river, but the bodies of the others remained in the submerged car.

Mr. Gavrilik during the war was in charge of the railway car shops at Port Arthur, Russia.

modifying them and directing them into the proper channels.

DIRECTORS NEEDED

The report also recommends that a director of education be included in every territorial administration, and that the pioneer and continuing importance of the missionary schools be recognized by grants-in-aid. However degraded her status in any tribe, the African woman wields great power over the health and the home life of her family, and education is therefore every bit as important for the girls as it is for the boys. Hand in hand with such development of education of the masses should go adequate provision for the thorough training of a native leadership which is becoming increasingly essential to a peaceful working-out of European responsibilities in Africa.

J. BROWN LAFFERTY DIED IN VANCOUVER

Represented Canada Life Assurance Company Many Years in Seattle

Vancouver, May 25.—Thomas Brown Lafferty, well known in business circles of Seattle and Vancouver for the past two decades, died here to-day following an attack of pneumonia.

Mr. Lafferty, who was sixty-three years of age, had been in ill-health for several months.

He was connected with the Canada Life Assurance Company for twenty-one years, as its agent in Seattle. After relinquishing that appointment he came to British Columbia, establishing himself in Vancouver four years ago.

Mr. Lafferty was born in Perth, Ont., but he had spent the last quarter of a century on the Pacific Coast.

False Billing Soon Is to be Checked

Ottawa, May 25.—Introducing amendments to the railway act yesterday, the Minister of Railways, Hon. G. P. Graham, explained that it was intended to "deal drastically with those found guilty of false billing on railways."

The new bill is aimed chiefly to prevent liquor being smuggled across the border in railway cars traveling to the United States—connections of the Canadian National Railways.

The bill was given first reading.

Fruit Outlook in B.C. is Promising

Winnipeg, May 25.—A crop report just issued by the Canadian Pacific railway reports wheat seedling finished in the four Western Provinces, with abundant sub-soil moisture in almost every section. The demand for farm help is reported to have fallen off.

A summary of the British Columbia report follows:

On Vancouver Island conditions are good. Apples and sour cherries give promise of much larger crops than last year. Conditions of plums, pears and sweet cherries at present also are good. In the vegetable and fruit crops the outlook is looking well and moisture conditions are excellent.

Sydney, N.S., May 25.—That the miners of Nova Scotia were now in a position to stand strike conditions for three months longer, and with additional assistance expected when the $100,000 loan voted by the recent convention is successfully floated, this period could be extended indefinitely, was the declaration last night of John W. McLeod, president of District No. 26, of the United Mine Workers of America at Glace Bay.

Further donations of relief supplies had been received Saturday and Sunday, he added.

BOTHERED WITH ECZEMA IN RASH

Face Was Disfigured. Healed by Cuticura.

"Some time ago I was bothered with eczema which broke out on my face in a rash. I took no notice of it at first until the trouble began to spread and the irritation caused me to scratch. My face was disfigured and the trouble lasted about three months.

"I tried different remedies but none seemed to do any good. I heard about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed."
