PREFACE

The records of the First Reformed Church of Chatham are in the custody of the Rev. Roscoe Conkling Wright, Ph.D., Kinderhook Street, Chatham. There are three volumes, two of which are thin, old, flat books, and the third a modern church record book bound in calfskin. Evidently none of the ministers took any particular interest in the records beyond entering various statistics, until the Rev. William James Leggett, Ph.D. became pastor. He did much to bring the records up to date, and verified some by the village records, which date from 1882. It was he who started the new church register, which is very well kept.

The following extracts were made in August, 1921. The records were loaned by Dr Wright on Aug. 30 and returned to him Sept. 1.

The original building of the Reformed Church stands on the east side of Main Street, near the Tracy Memorial Village Hall. It was saved by the strenuous efforts of the village fire department and various citizens when all the buildings on that side of the street were destroyed by fire, 5 April 1869. It was abandoned in 1901 for the present edifice on Kinderhook Street; around 1908 the building was altered to its present form, and it is now occupied by a grocery store.

Attention is called to the loose use of the term Chatham. The original settlement of this village was in the town of Chatham, and was called Chatham Four Corners (although there were always five corners) and when the village was incorporated, 15 Feb. 1869, it became Chatham Village, to distinguish it from the village of Chatham, now Old Chatham. The name Chatham Village was dropt in 1901, and this village became Chatham.

REV. ELBERT S. PORTER ON CHATHAM FOUR CORNERS

[from the records of the Dutch Church]

On the first of September, 1843, I came to Chatham 4 Corners to commence my labors in the Ministry. At that time there were but 11 or 12 houses in the village, of which number three were taverns. one dry goods and grocery store, one wheelwright and blacksmith shop. The moral condition of the place was sad in the extreme. Intemperance and litigation to a surprising extent --- total disregard of the sabbath were some of the most prominent indications of the moral disease of the community.

THE BEGINNINGS OF THE REFORMED DUTCH CHURCH IN CHATHAM, N. Y.

[from the Consistorial Records]

In the Spring of 1842, the Rev. Richard Sluyter of Claverack addressed a communication to the reverend classis of Rensselaer at their Spring session, on the subject of establishing a missionary station at Chatham 4 Corners, Columbia County. After a full discussion of the matter, the classis appointed a committee, of which Mr Sluyter was chairman, to visit the ground and report concerning the feasibility of the plan. Having examined into the probabilities of success, the committee reported favorably and the classis resolved to procure a preacher to occupy the ground. Mr E. S. Porter having been recently licensed was prevailed upon to accept the appointment. He accordingly came to Chatham 4 Corners and commenced preaching here on the first of September, 1842. A district school-house was used for the purpose. On the 24th of October, 1842, Mr Porter was ordained as an evangelist and continued his labors though no church was instituted. But it pleased God that His cause should be here established, and a small number of believers were found willing to come forward and be united in a distinct flock. Accordingly on the 22nd day of January, 1843, the Rev. Mr C. Van Der Voort of Mellenville as one of the committee of classis appointed for the purpose, came and organized a church by the appointment and ordination of Martin Mesick and Peter Gardinier, Elders; and Mr S. Wilkinson, Deacon. And this church was organized under the style and title of the First Reformed Protestant Dutch Church of Chatham. The contract for building the church was formed, 12 March 1843.
