Business is again becoming active, and all things considred, we may anticipate a busy season. The city has reumed its wonted gay appearance, and the bright hise of enterprise has taken the place of "the pale and sickly cas of melancholy" that, but a few days ago, was to be seen or the countenances of most of our citizens. Eight vessels, laden with the riches of, perhaps, nearly every quarter of the globe, arrived yesterday, and the visits of those prodigies of art, steamboats, with the vast and important products of the valley of the Mississippi, increase daily. On the whole we may observe, that appearances are flattering

In addition to come ercial activity, we may shortly to be still more enlivened by amusements. The American Theatre has undergone thorough repairs, and may be put on a par as to beauty of arrangement and tastefulness of decoration, with any similar establishment in the union. The company of actors may weekly be expected, accompanied by one or two "stars" by way of commencement, who minate by their attractive presence our hitherto cheerless meridian. This, together with the Orleans Theatre and the Balls, with smiling industry and prosperous speculation, will compensate, in part, for the disagreeable and unpleasant summer cumpaign which we have had.

The new ship Mississippi, belonging to the New-York and Louisiana Line of packets, arrived at our port yesterday. She is pronounced by competent judges to be a most splendid specimen of naval architecture. Her furniture is of a new kind, and is said to be both beautiful and

We have also to notice the arrival of the new ship Aur terlitz, from Boston. She is also a creditable specimen of architecture, and may compare, with but little disparagement, to any of the new built vessels, which Boston and New-York daily endeavor to rival each other with.

the entire the gressional delegation from South Carolina with one exception, will vote in favor of rechartering the United States bank. This statement is somewhat strengthened by the fact that Dr. Cooper of Columbia, has just published in pamphlet form, a series of Nos. in favor of the renewal, which originally appeared in the Columbia Telescope, and of which he is the author." We are not at all surprised at this! All the gentlem with the exception of Mr. Blatr, the individual to whom the above has reference as being opposed to the bank, are nullificers. That nullification and the United States bank should go hand in hand is nothing surprising, for "birds of a foother will flock together !"

The fall of the house of representatives of the nation legislature has been unde going repairs, the floor has been raised; and a handsome gallery erected over the lobby which was formerly behind the speaker, whose chair now stands at the north entrance; thus reversing the position of the members seats. The hall has also been repainted, and newly carpeted; and several improvements made in the effices attached to the house.

We perceive with regret that faction and discontent are still rife in that quarter of the continent. The following letter from the capital of New Granada, from an American gentleman of respectability, shows that a serious conspiracy had been found to annihilate the present government, but that it had been effectually suppressed. Great Abolition Meeting in Boston. It appears by a let-ter received by the editor of the Commercial Advertiser from Boston, that the cause of abolition and Garrisonism. A correspondent, over the signature of "An Observer," calls our attention to the evasion of the law of our legislations prohibiting the importation of slaves, except under certain restrictions. He says that it is openly and flagrantly violated, and that it is, at present, nothing more than a dead letter, and remains a monument of powerless legislation.

We agree perfectly with him as to the necessity of entering the law so long as it continues in force; but we are not altogether of opinion that such a statute, even if rigidity executed, which we regard as next to an impossibility, would be productive of any beneficial result to the state.—

On the contrary, as thisses at present stand, we should remaking a quorum, the meeting ajourned.

The elections in some of the counties show a most decided change in public opinion. In Frembell and Portage, two of the strongent holds of the anti-Jackson party, and which have invariably given large majorities to their ficket, Mesers. Walter Johasen, Thomas Robinson and Ross Clark, steadfast friends to the present national administration, have been elected to the state legislature.
