ANTI-GOUTY ELIXIR

OF

HIPPOLYTE BRIEUGNE,

INVENTOR OF THE ANTI-RHEUMATISM

Tropical Balm.

TELL now all medical science has had no power over the gout, this cruel disease which has never made an many victims all over the earth, and still tears daily no many thousands from their once palmiest days to the gloomy depths of suffering. It is oneless to recall to our minds the symptoms of this disease too well known to the numerous sufferers. It suffices to name them to appreciate the value of such a remedy against their return. Such is the effect of the ANTI-GOUTY ELIXIR, which is the result of the laborious searches of M. Hippolyte Brieugne, already known by the discovery of the TROPICAL BALM, that has now been put down to this day no great a success. The ANTI-GOUTY ELIXIR, using that Balm as a principle of the gout, possesses a power no less great, warranted by a long and personal experience of Mr. Brieugne, of the most certain results upon the gouty victims.

The ANTI-GOUTY ELIXIR is easy to take, and perfectly safe on account of its vegetable composition. It can be taken pure or mixed with tea or three spoonfuls of tea or coffee—a wine-glass before dinner, before breakfast will be the infallible cure of the fit. In twelve hours most the evil cause disappear, and at its sympto be vanish away.

For sale wholesale and retail, at New Orleans, at the principal depot of the Universal Agency, 21 and 101 Chartres street.

And in the principal depots of the United States and Europe.
