NOTICES OF

The Parish Church of Thorington, Suffolk.

A full representation of Church and coloured plate of Chartulary; List of Rectors; Registers of Births, Marriages, and Deaths, with Autographs; Monumental Inscriptions, etc. To which is added a large folding Pedigree of the Family of Bence, with Registers and Monumental Inscriptions, etc.

BY REV. T. S. HILL, RECTOR.

Mr. Hill has laid all those who value accurate knowledge of the past under a deep debt of obligation. The parish register of which he is the legal custodian seems to have been well kept and carefully preserved, and he has edited it in a manner which, for all practical purposes, renders access to the original needless. Not content with this, which must have been a serious labour, he has added a series of notes which will convey much new knowledge to most persons concerned with the laws relating to marriage. . . . The Thorington registers bear testimony to the fact that double Christian names have been uncommon until quite recent times. The Editor notes at the first instance that occurs in these records is in 1770.—Notes and Queries, Jan. 17. 1885.

De Nova Villa:

OR THE

HOUSE OF NEVILL IN SUNSHINE AND SHADE.

By HENRY J. SWALLOW.

"This book, according to the Preface, is an 'attempt to produce a record of the Nevill family, which may be of interest both to the antiquary and the general reader.' That the Author has succeeded in his attempt a cursory glance at the volume will convince the reader."—Antiquarian Magazine, August, 1885.

"Inasmuch as no other continuous account of the family exists, we feel sure that the reading public, especially those who take an interest in genealogy, will gladly welcome Mr. Swallow's Work. It is marked by very wide reading and research, and compiled in a very graceful and agreeable manner."—Vide Review by Sir John Maclean in Transactions of the Bristol and Gloucestershire Archaeological Society, vol. ix., part. i.

"The Author has devoted a very considerable amount of research to his subject, and the Work throughout evinces painstaking care to gather up all that may be gleaned from ancient chronicles and State papers respecting a house whose members were famed, almost without exception, for military prowess and ability, or for political importance, throughout the mediæval history of England. Richard Nevill, the Kingmaker, his fortunes and his fate; the beautiful and unhappy Lady Anne Nevill; Raby Castle, its noble architecture and its noble owners; Sheriff Hutton Castle; Bamborough Castle, scene of many a stubborn conflict; and Middleham Castle, majestic in decay,—all furnish eloquent themes, and the Author has not been slow to put on record the interesting aspects under which they are to be studied by the archaeologist who is desirous of knowing the history of one of England's noblest lineages. When these stories are told in the attractive manner in which Mr. Swallow has told them, they acquire a greater hold on our memory, and possess a deeper fascination over our feelings."—Journal of the British Archaeological Association, vol. xli., part ii.

"Books about famous old families, if well written, are among the most entertaining of the byways of literature, and we are glad to say we can welcome this volume with every kind of pleasure and frankness into the number of such, and give it an honoured niche in our library. It is executed with taste and judgment, and is thoroughly good reading."—Newcastle Daily Journal.

"The Work bears on every page the evidence of very great care, and the results of scholarly inquiry. The narrative is as complete as it is ever likely to be made."—Newcastle Courant.

"It presents a very striking picture of the state of the country during the Wars of the Roses. Its production has been costly, and several of the plates are extremely valuable. The portrait and seal of the Kingmaker are alone well worth the price of the book."—Warwick Advertiser.

"The historical part of the Work is as accurate and minute as it is picturesque and instructive. The criticisms of the men, manners, and movements of the several eras embraced are often humorous, and always racy. Traditions are skilfully traced and charmingly recorded, and legends are reproduced in the most felicitous manner. It is only with regret that the reader finds himself face to face with the last page of the volume, for the Work is most captivating from beginning to end. The portraits and full-page engravings are all fine works of art, and greatly add to the worth of this most attractively got up volume. The Author spent several years examining original records. He has now conferred a great boon on students of history, and enriched our literature most substantially by this really great Work."—Oldham Chronicle.

NOTES ON HARVEY INSCRIPTIONS.

<sup>1</sup> The Harvey Chapel is a plain rectangular building of brick with high pitched tile roof, on the north side of Hempstead Church, adjoining and communicating with the chancel, and lighted by three large windows; and appears to have been erected about 1655 by Eliab Harvey, the merchant of London, together with the "outer" vault beneath, as a place of sepulture for his family. It is externally from north to south about 19 ft. 10 in. and from east to west 28 ft. 9 in., and divided by a wall into two apartments, one of which, on the east, was formerly used as a school, but now as a vestry room, and the westeru is the mortuary chapel proper. This latter, until lately enclosed with a chestnut screen and kept under lock and key, is, with a portion extending into the chancel, about 21 ft. 6 in. by 10 ft. 9 in., having the floor 2 ft. above that of the nave. The "outer" and original vault, which was formerly entered by stairs from the recess (8 ft. by 6 ft.) between Dr. and Capt. Edw. Harvey's monuments, but now, from outside of the church, is 24 ft. 6 in. by 17 ft., and 7 ft. 4 in. high; the "inner" one, built (as appears by an inscription cut in stone over the entrance) by Eliab Harvey of Claybury, in 1766, being 17 ft. 10 in. by 15 ft. 6 in., of similar height and arched with brick. They contain in all fifty-one coffins (including Dr. Harvey's, removed in 1883 to the sarcophagus in chapel above), fourteen of which are of lead, and mostly very curious, resembling Egyptian mummy cases in shape, and having raised letters, and masks of the features thereon. That of Eliz. Harvey, 1696, and all the subsequent coffins were of lead enclosed in wood, and are very similar to those of the present day.

<sup>4</sup> The immortal discoverer of the circulation of the blood. Eldest son of Thos. and Joane. B. at Folkestone, co. Kent, 1 April 1578; bur. in "outer" vault 26 June 1657; re-interred in sarcophagus, provided by the College of Physicians, London, in Harvey Chapel above, 18 Oct. 1883.

<sup>5</sup> Fifth son of Thos. and Joane. B. 26 Feb. 1589-90; mar. Mary, daughter of Fras. West of London, at St. Laurence Pountncy, 15 Feb. 1624-5. Built the Harvey Chapel with "outer" vault beneath. (See note 1).

<sup>7</sup> Daughter of Fras. West of London. Bur. 18 Jan. 1673-4. This is the first Harvey burial entered in Hempstead Burial Register, as the same does not commence until April 1665.

<sup>8</sup> Fourth son of Danl. Harvey of London, Merchant, and of Combe, co. Surrey, and Eliz. Bapt. at St. Laurence Pountney 10 Nov. 1631; mar. Eliz., daughter of Edward, Lord Montagu; knighted at Canterbury 26 May 1660; Ambassador to the Porte, where he died c. April 1672, but not bur. here until 1 Oct. 1674. He had a Grant of Arms from Sir Wm. Segar: Or, on a chief indented sable three crescents arg. What is believed to be his coffin is of lead, but in a most ruinous condition.

<sup>9</sup> Fourth daughter of Sir Eliab and Dorothy. Bapt. at All Hallow's Staining, London, 25 March 1673; bur. 29 Nov. 1677.

<sup>10</sup> Eldest son (but not eventual heir) of Sir Eliab and Dorothy. Bapt. at St. Peter le Poor 2 Nov. 1659; mar. there Dorothy, sole daughter and heiress of Sir Robert Dicer of Uphall in Braughing, co. Hertf., 23 Nov. 1680, and who was then only twelve years of age. Upon his death she mar. his brother William. Bur. 10 June 1681. (See also note 22.)

<sup>11</sup> Third daughter of Sir Eliab and Dorothy. Bapt. at All Hallow's Staining 27 Nov. 1671; bur. 15 Nov. 1686.

<sup>12</sup> Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Edward Harvey of Combe and Eliz. Bapt. at Kingston-on-Thames 20 Feb. 1681-2; bur. 22 Nov. 1686.

<sup>13</sup> Second daughter of Edward Harvey of Combe and Eliz. B. 6, and bapt. at Kingston-on-Thames 13 Nov. 1684; bur. 5 Dec. 1691 according to the Parish Register, but this must be an error, as she did not die until 1 Jan. following.

<sup>15</sup> Martha, sixth daughter of Edward Harvey of Combe and Eliz. B. 20 April, bapt. at Kingston-on-Thames 2 May 1691; bur. 8 April 1695. Not entered in Hempstead Register, but at Kingston-on-Thames as buried there.

<sup>17</sup> Eldest son of Eliab and Mary. Bapt. at St. Laurence Pountncy 3 June 1635; mar. Dorothy, daughter of Sir Thos. Whitmore of Apley, co. Salop, at St. Giles in the Fields, co. Midd., Dec. 1658; knighted at Canterbury 16 May 1660; M.P., J.P., and D.L. co. Essex; entered in Burial Register St. Giles in the Fields as "carried away" 2 March 1698-9, and in that of Hempstead as bur. 14 following. The date 1695 is therefore incorrect.

<sup>18</sup> Entered in Parish Register St. Giles in the Fields as bur. there 28, and at Hempstead 29 Nov. 1701.

<sup>22</sup> Relict of her husband's brother Eliab, within five weeks of whose burial she obtained a licence (Bp. Lond. 14 July 1681) to re-marry the brother William, being described therein as "Dorothy Dicer alias Harvey, aged about 13 years and a widow," and the marriage took place at St. Martin Outwich, London, 1 Sept. following; bur. 10 July 1711. Monument in Harvey Chapel states in error that she married 2 Sept., and died aged 48. This and note 10 settle the vexed question as to her parentage, age, and marriage.

<sup>23</sup> Eldest daughter of Wm. Harvey of Winchlow Hall, Hempstead, and of Chigwell, and Mary; ob. an infant; bur. 23 May 1715.

<sup>27</sup> Seventh daughter of Edward Harvey of Combe and Elizabeth. B. 24 Nov.; bapt. at Kingston-on-Thames 4 Dec. 1692; bur. 10 June 1729.

<sup>28</sup> Second and, by death of his brother Eliab, became eldest son and heir of Sir Eliab. Bapt. at St. Peter le Poor 18 Dec. 1663; mar. Dorothy, sole daughter and heir of Sir Robert Dicer (see notes 10 and 22), M.P. for Essex 1722; bur. 7 Nov. 1731.

<sup>29</sup> Eldest son of Sir Daniel and Elizabeth. Bapt. at St. Giles in the Fields 31 March 1658; mar. SANDBACH.—Information is desired concerning the ancestry and connections of Francis Sandbach of the Inner Temple, Lord of the Manor of Orkesden, co. Kent. He is mentioned in Hasted's 'Kent,' vol. i., p. 308. He and his mother, Joane or Johane Sandbach, occur also in Chancery Proceedings, temp. Q. Elizabeth. Mr. Crazebrook's 'Heraldry of Worcestershire' contains an interesting article on the Sandbachs of Broadway, Child's Wickham, and Snowhill in the sixteenth, seventeenth, and eighteenth centuries. Amongst their alliances were Canning, Purefoy, Jobilday, and Kempston. In Collins's 'Peerage' (vol. ix., p. 7, ed. 1812) Sir William Sandbach is said to have been Attorney-General of Ireland in the seventeenth century. Further information will be gratefully received.

NOTES.

<sup>53</sup> Forms a niche in which is placed a well-executed bust in bastard statuary marble of Dr. Harvey, evidently taken from a cast of the features after death. No name of the sculptor appears.

<sup>65</sup> This was executed by G. Maile and Son of Euston Road, London, at the expense of the London College of Physicians, and erected by permission of the family in the centre of the Harvey Chapel (being placed due north and south) for the reception of Dr. Harvey's remains, which were removed with due solemnity from the vault below and placed therein on St. Luke's Day, 18 Oct. 1883, in the presence of the representatives of the family and of the College. It is massive but plain, and measures at base about 8 feet 5 $\frac{1}{4}$  inches long by 4 feet wide and 3 feet 8 inches high.

<sup>66</sup> The Register dates from 1664, but the earliest burial entry therein is dated 9 April 1665.
