Juniors Are All Set for Musical Comedy "Shame on Bunny"

Big Musical Comedy Will Be Produced Next Week

"Shame on Bunny," the Musical Comedy to be given by the Junior Section, Women's Community Club, next Friday and Saturday, April 7th and 8th is already a finished production, and the forth-coming week will hold just enough rehearsals to add those "super-fine" touches which make all Junior shows perfection in every detail.

There will be no hesitation in Narberth next week-end in deciding how best to fill with attractive "dates" the hours of pleasure-seeking always allotted to Friday and Saturday evenings. The usually well-patronized "theatre-train" had best speed on its way without hesitation at Narberth, for its majority of followers will be trending in just the opposite direction School-bound, to see the biggest musical success of the year.

Come, then, and follow the crowd or lead the procession if you haven't reserved seats, for the old Auditorium is going to be filled to the creaking point—and you want to see, and hear all that goes on—for none of it is missable. At the School Auditorium, on April 7th and 8th, at 8.15 exactly, for the sum of $7.50 or $10.00 will be held the most attractive, charming, altogether enjoyable bit of entertainment that you have marveled at since—last year's Junior Show. Seeing, you know, is believing. So come!

OPEN AIR CONCERT FRIDAY JUNE 2

The Community Club chorus can now announce the date of the spring concert. It has been contemplating for several months making this an open air affair, but could not announce the exact nature of the evening's entertainment.

The chorus will be in costume, and it will be held on the lawn of Mrs. H. A. Jacobs. The porch will serve as the stage, and the lawn as the parquet floor. The galleries are already reserved, so do not fail to make reservation for your seat at an early date.

CURRENT EVENTS COURSE

Mrs. George Bean, who is so well known to the regular attendants of the club, will give the third and last talk on Current Events, next Tuesday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A.

For the benefit of those who have not heard Mrs. Bean, will say she is recognized as being among the ablest speakers near Philadelphia on the subject of Current Events. She is never hard to follow and makes plain some of these world problems, on which many find it difficult to keep posted through the papers.

One of the workers from the Industrial Art School may give a short talk. The Legislative Department will have a report of the Monday Conference; the Music Department will provide some entertainment; and the Hospitality Department will be on hand to welcome the strangers and provide a cup of tea during the closing hour.

TENNIS MEMBERSHIP OPEN

Membership application blanks for the Narberth Tennis Association have been printed, and Secretary Bailey has placed a quantity of them at Howard's Drug Store, where they may be had by members who have candidates to propose for membership, or by prospective members themselves.

The membership in the Association is open for the time being, and those desiring to join the Association are urged to make their applications promptly.

Jesse S. Harris has been named chairman of the Entertainment Committee by the Board of Government. Mr. Harris succeeds C. B. Metzger, under whose direction the Association has had a successful social year. Mr. Harris' recognized ability and popularity assure a continuation of Mr. Metzger's good work, so that members of the Association and their friends may look forward to a social season next Fall and Winter that will make even more secure the Tennis Association's well deserved reputation along this line.

President Evans this week announced the appointment of the following Auditing Committee: Frank Baer, chairman, Roy Williams, and William Boyer.

Interesting Topic at Thursday's Meeting

Prof. Oldham Addresses Home and School Meeting

"Vocational Guidance" was under discussion at the March meeting of the Home and School Association, which was held in the High School Auditorium. Professor S. R. Oldham, Principal of the West Chester High School spoke on the subject, and presented numerous exhibits showing how this particular phase of high school work is being conducted at West Chester.

Owing to the fact that Professor Oldham was compelled to leave at an early hour in order to make train connections for his home, it was necessary for him to deliver his lecture, and immediately depart. The members of the Association, however, thereupon took up the consideration of the subject, and with the use of charts and circulars which Professor Oldham had left behind, a "round-table" discussion was indulged in, much to the delight and edification of those who took part.

Professor George H. Wilson, of the Narberth Schools, told of the manner in which this subject is being followed in the local high school. While, as he said, the matter is yet in a more or less experimental stage, nevertheless, Narberth Schools were alive to the possibilities and were giving great consideration to it.

Professor Oldham reminded his hearers that "Vocational Guidance" originated in Scotland in 1907, and that it was brought about by the realization that so many pupils were dropping out of school before they had finished their course.

In an effort to convince parents and children of the importance of remaining longer in the schools, an organization was perfected to co-operate with the homes and to show how the school can fit the boy or girl for life work.

This spread to America and was first put into operation in Boston. In 1909 the idea began to be taken up in the schools throughout the country, and since that time it has been gaining in favor.

Throughout the evening, music was furnished by a part of the Ardmore Melody Club Ensemble, in charge of Mr. Wm. P. Nash. Among the selections were "The Patriot" march; "The Rose Buds;" "Butterfly Waltz;" "Magnolia Serenade;" and "The Twilight Hour."

Mrs. R. F. Wood, of Woodbine and Forrest Avenues, read very entertainingly a number of collected poems from "The Songs of Childhood," and "Peacock Pie," by de la Mare.

The President appointed a nominating committee, with instructions to submit at the April meeting a list of officers to be voted for at the annual election of the Association which will be held in the month of May. These will be the Association's nominations, in accordance with the By-Laws. Other nominations can, of course, be made in accordance with the provisions of the regulations of the Association.

The April meeting of the Home and School Association will be held on the regular stated meeting night—the fourth Thursday of the month, which will be April 27th.

NARBERTH EXPRESS DAMAGED

In rounding the curve leading from Merion to Narberth station last Wednesday evening, the 5.40 Narberth express struck a broken place in the overhead wire, which crippled several of the trolley poles.

Three of the pantographs were broken before the motorman noticed the trouble and pulled them down. The train was travelling at a good speed when the accident occurred, so was able to coast into the station without power.

The 5.45 train, meanwhile, was sent out on the inside track, and the passengers for up the line transferred. The stalled train lay in the station for an hour and a half, when an engine was sent down from Paoli to haul the cars away.

An electric train without power is like a flivver without gas, so it is fortunate that these little escapades are few and far between.

LEGION AUXILIARY

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Post 356, will be held at the home of Mrs. Flora Mueller, 117 Forrest Avenue, on Tuesday, April 4th, at 8 o'clock.

Spring Concert of Choral Society was a Musical Triumph

Local Society with Penba Pleases Large Audience

The Spring Concert of the Narberth Choral Society which took place in the High School Auditorium on Friday evening, March 24, was another tribute to the leadership of Prof. Clarence C. Nice and the members of his chorus. Under his direction the chorus gave a varied and delightful program with a finish rarely attained by singers of non-professional rank. That the audience which filled the hall to capacity appreciated the merit of the work was apparent by the enthusiasm with which the program was received.

Opening with a group of three songs contrasting the ensemble work called for in Gilechrist's Hunting Song with the lighter vein of Van der Stucken's Laughing Song, the chorus at once demonstrated its versatility and balance. Its transition from the heavier passages of the former where tone is the prime requisite to the abandon of the Laughing Song and the pianissimo passages of the Boat Song by Cowen that ended the first group was in all cases well done.

Perhaps the outstanding feature of the voice work was that Highwayman given as the closing number. An essentially dramatic piece, offering unlimited possibilities and exacting carefully controlled chorus work, this musical setting of Alfred Noyes' poem would undoubtedly have been spoiled by a less carefully drilled ensemble. But the difficulties of the piece, its demands for dramatic effect were admirably met by the chorus.

Three numbers on the program called for solo work, and while each was well done, it was a source of satisfaction to many that of the four soloists, two were residents of Narberth. Mrs. Jeanette Borgh sang the soprano lead in the Legend of the Bells, from the Chimes of Normandy. Her voice was clear and well in control at all times added to which was an admirable stage presence too little seen in amateur recitals. Mrs. William T. Taylor who sang the soprano lead in the Highwayman, has the pleasing quality of truthness in all her work. Her tones are well sustained and always correctly

Milk Protection

As stated in the recent report of the March Council meeting, the matter of co-operation with adjacent townships in the inspection of milk was left for consideration at a later date.

Considering the number of protesting letters received at this office, it appears that not only have many readers gotten the erroneous idea that the matter has been "killed," but there seems to be a definite public sentiment in favor of the project.

A meeting of the Finance and Police and Health Committees of Borough Council, together with the local Board of Health and the head of the Lower Merion Board of Health, was held in Council Chamber last Thursday. At this meeting the matter was taken up in detail and the full facts brought out.

The proposed co-operative plan will include the townships of Lower Merion and Haverford, and the Borough of Narberth. The tentative date set for the beginning of the plan is July 1st. The plan will be submitted to Council or consideration in the next regular meeting, Monday night, April 10th.

A member of Council, in talking this over with the editor, referred to a letter in last week's paper, in which a correspondent feels that Narberth should give her own unemployed work, in preference to making use of the Lower Merion police.

At the time when Lower Merion increased her force, some weeks ago, the call for applicants was well advertised throughout this vicinity. For the 17 vacancies, 56 men applied. These applicants were from all parts of the county, from Philadelphia, and one from Narberth. It appears from this, therefore, that the Narberth unemployed, such as there are, have had an opportunity to enter into this work. It is also true that, in view of the rigid restrictions of physical condition and build, only a small proportion of those unemployed at the present time would be available for police service.

The FIRESIDE

A very unusual entertainment is one up at the School on the evening of April 27th. Watch "Our Town" for further details.

Some new houses are being erected on Dudley Avenue, near Windsor, by Chas. L. Jenkins.

Quite a number of Narberth people receive weekly shipments of eggs by parcel post.

Walter Nevin, formerly of Narberth, is now a member of Squadron C, N. Y. National Guard.

The Reading Circle of the Women's Community Club met last Monday afternoon with Mrs. Franklyn Dunlop, of Dudley Ave. It was the last meeting of the series which began in January, and the members of the group expressed their enjoyment of the meetings by the contribution of a sum of money to the library for the purchase of books of poetry. Selected poems of Alfred Noyes were read and enjoyed as well as further incidents in "Here, There, and Everywhere," by Lor Frederic Hamilton. The Circle decided to meet informally for further reading at the invitation of members to porch and lawn parties during the summer.

Mrs. Madeline B. Young, well known to many Narberth folk, will leave for China in April.

Mrs. A. G. Miller, of Conway Ave., and her son "Billie" Miller, have returned from several months travel to China, Japan, and the Philippine Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burrell and daughter, Miss Margaret Burrell, spent Sunday in Atlantic City.

Miss Agnes Rose, of Woodside Ave., was home from Linden, N. J., over last weekend. Miss Rose had as her guest Miss Jean Justice, formerly of Narberth.

Mr. Donald Hoffman, Mr. Dick Odiorne, and Mr. Don Murphy are home from Haverford School for the spring vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Lee, of Brooklyn, N. Y., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Wood, of Forrest Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, of Narberth Avenue, spent last week in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Herve C. Keim, of Dudley Ave., are on an eight-day trip to Arkansas.

Mr. Joseph C. Graham, and Mr. J. Cooper Graham, Jr., returned on Thursday from Texas City, Texas, where they have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. Frederick Raker. Mrs. Raker was formerly Miss Mildred Kennedy Graham.

Miss Marion Graham, of Merion Ave., entertained two tables of bridge at her home on Thursday evening, March 23rd.

Mrs. T. Noel Butler, of Essex Ave., entertained three tables of bridge at her home on Saturday evening, March 24th.

Miss Gertrude D. Ross is home for a week from Mt. Holyoke for the spring vacation.

Community Library Proves Splendid Organization

Care in Selection of Books, Purchase of Latest Novels, and Efficiency of Service Reasons for Success

From a window-sill collection of 18 books in February of last year, the Narberth Community Library has grown with such rapidity that it now numbers over 540 volumes.

The Library has undoubtedly experienced the steepest and greatest growth of any Narberth organization in the past year. It was formed by several members of the Narberth Women's Community Club as a little distributing center for the popular recent novels.

At its beginning there were six patrons and but eighteen volumes. The books were kept in a private home, and only circulated among the six members of the Community Club.

It was then decided to extend the scope of the library, and to make the books available to all Narberth residents. Accordingly, the books were moved to the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. building and a section of shelves reserved for the current fiction. Several interested residents presented the library with dozens of the newer works of fiction, which were added to the nucleus already on hand. The rentals from these soon enabled the organization to purchase additional books as they were issued.

The library, in its new home, under the direction of Mrs. Robert F. Wood has been open every Friday, from 2 to 5.30 in the afternoon, and from 7 to 8.30 in the evening. The original six patrons has grown to 250, and the average weekly attendance is well over 100. Many of these are children who make use of the department reserved for them. These shelves contain a great many children's books, which are distributed free of charge. In addition to the 540 books in the current fiction department, there are available about 300 volumes from the old Y. M. C. A. library. This number contains many standard, excellent works.

The older books from the Y. M. C. A. collection are distributed free of charge. A nominal rental of 10 cents per week is charged on new books, many of which cannot be gotten from the city libraries.

The Literature Department of the Club, under whose direction the Library is carried on, has just completed a very interesting series of Reading Circle Meetings, at which Lytton Strachey's "Queen Victoria" was read. An excellent collection of current magazines is maintained on the reading table in the Y. M. C. A. lobby, and a special lot of magazines is kept for the youngsters who are among the Libraries most enthusiastic patrons.

The considerable local interest which is shown in subjects of Natural History is helped by the library, both by the possession of books on the subject, and by the maintenance of a seasonal bulletin board of local birds. On this board are fastened pictures of all birds which may be expected to arrive during the month. A collection of nests of local birds is also being formed.

The Community Library is not altogether fiction as would seem at first glance; not all May Sinclair, J. S. Fletcher, Archibald Marshall and Zane Books, such as this one, and the other occupants of "The Top Shelf," are for discriminating readers, and the library aims to keep such readers in mind when making new purchases; and while acknowledging with gratitude the gifts already received, solicits, for the good of the community, which it hopes to serve, still further assistance.

Those who are tired of the usual kind of entertainment are invited to the operetta "On Mid-summer's Day," to be given in the school auditorium on Friday, April 7th, at 2.00 o'clock.

Here tiny sunbonnet babies, overall boys, dancing fairies and mischievous brownies, together with summer's loveliest flowers, and the Queen of Fairyland, will entertain you.

The parents and friends of the children taking part in this event are all cordially invited to be present. The children are working hard to make this affair a success, so let us do our part by being present and giving them a large audience.

Mrs. John Van Ness, of Hampden Ave., entertained the Thimble Club on Thursday afternoon, March 23rd.

CONCERNING THE HYLIA

Spring sure did arrive in our midst this past week, and certainly among the most conspicuous "arrivers," her adds, harbingers—call them what you will, were the well, and favorably known Tree Frogs.

This spring, as usual, these little creatures are the storm center of considerable discussion, and for that reason "Our Town" takes great pleasure in reprinting the following short article from our esteemed contemporary—The New York World:

"Sweet, sweet, oh sweet!" piped clear, mystic notes along Bronx River in the soft dusk last night. Hikers walked softly in the lanes, listening. To them the shrill notes of the hylas, or spring peepers, were not other than those blown from the reed pipes of the little woodland god Pan sitting among the cat tails and making beseeching music to entice fairies from the wooded uplands, water nymphs from under the falls by the old mill and gnomes from last year's woodchuck holes, all to dance by the river's lip.

Some believe "Great Pan is dead," that he died in the Paxos Isles when Tiberius ruled at Rome—but not the hikers when they hear the hylas at dusk along the marshes.

The spring peeper is a tree frog an inch long, brown, green or yellow, who swims in the chilly pools in March, lays eggs there in April, rooms the woods to hunt insects later, sleeps under dead leaves the first of winter and emerges early to make divine music.

Communications

To the Editor of Our Town:

I am addressing this communication to you for the simple reason that while I realize that it concerns one of your contributors, I prefer not to have any direct dealings with said party.

What I want to know is, why in the name of common sense does "Collum Righter" spoil his otherwise fairly good American-English with a lot of Latin, which is probably all right in its place but has no place in "Our Town." What does he do, sit up there in his Tower, with a Latin Dictionary in one hand and a copy of Bartlett's Familiar—and Unfamiliar Quotations in the other, and then deliberately and maliciously conceit and hurl down on our innocent heads, his malevolent dittums.

"Bubble" is right, all right, but he might at least have the goodness to soak us in plain, understandable English. If he doesn't know how to use an ordinary dictionary, tell him to read H. L. Mencken's "The American Language."

"Americus."

To the Editor of Our Town:

We are to spend $6,000 for imported policemen, but we have no money for health protection. So says the first issue of the refurbished "Our Town." There is apparently no helping it, as the authority is vested in Councils and your report indicates that they intend to proceed forthwith to obligate the town for the extraordinary expenditure, but do you not think that some public statement, specific in its details is in order, something that will justify this obvious violation of the spirit of Borough Government, the disbursement of double the amount which seems to be necessary for the purpose. When comes our newly found wealth and why the change of base of those adherents who have so consistently proclaimed our financial plight, those men who have felt obliged to hold aloof from the support of progressive things because, as they said, of our limited poverty. Let the Solons speak.

Home Rule.

HO, HUM!

To the Editor of Our Town:

So, "He Comes Up Smiling" is not one of the appellations of the Tower of Babbler! Well, well, my hebetude, my hebetude mistake! Pardon me, my hebetude, my hebetude, my hebetude.

I just can't bore any brave reader with a long line to sit with a dictionary at his side, "even as Bab and I!" Hence, anything that isn't good old United States common law warrants a little transfer on or amendment, hold on.

But the tower, says Old Turret, but I say, "How about bad grammar?" Study he did not mean last week that "Hesperus" had the qualities of a fowl can be suggested to him to "dig up" any awake at night, did he? And "To our knowledge," we never received a better example of poor composition, and rhetoric, and worst grammar, "Oh, Babbler! Ma'ud! Yea, you at that must be said, laudamus et errate eto etis homo!"

Whoops, indeed! If I don't look at I shall be contaminated with Babbler's ophthalmia and xerophthalmia. "Father words, I too am liable to catch the 'pink eye' by consulting the dictionary too often!" I'll tell you, Babbler and Choral Member swap diets. What'da say? Then perhaps we could bring some syncretism out of his redoubtable and persiflage! Teach him the difference between sarcasm and humor.

So I'm a "she," eh? Well, I've been called many, many names, but—however, let him have it his own way. I can see there's no use of arguing with him.

Choral Member will surely retain membership and interest in the Choral. It is one of the best live wire organizations Narberth will ever have. Vice laudamus Narberth and Choral!

As to the admonition "not to sass 'her' elders and betters," well, I shall frankly admit the former (I'm dead sure the Old Top hasn't the youthful outlook on life that I have), but there "ain't no such animals" as "betters." I take issue with him there! Not in this democratic U. S. of A! He must belong to the "reles." Now, now, that will never do, Gollyum Would Be Right it! Not if you continue to live among is up-to-date advocates of Narberthian democracy! No siree! We're all humbly, common, shoulder-to-shoulder advocates here, and the quicker you abate that, the better.

Enough of this out-oplexy—which may be literally translated "says he" a shock that will cause paralysis."

We are sure he means well, Old Tower, and we think most of his literature is snappy and clever. We'll just take the rest cum grano salis (with a grain of salt). Now see what he went and done (bad grammar purposely, you know!) Got me all intermixed with this would-be Latin, which sounds as if we were honest-to-goodness literary geniuses—Tower and Chorale (not Colorite! Now! Beat you to it, Tower!) Well, we can't fool 'em all the time, you know, Lenning Pisa!

Now here's to the Tower of Babbler, Who in satire loves to dabble. Then, too, there's his Latin, Mabel! Teach him some tattin! And keep his poor old head from crackin' in!

Here's to our entente cordials—Babbler!

Choral Member.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Righter

We stirred up such a tepid tempest not so long ago by our commentary on the ponderous list of Executives chosen to guard and guide the destiny of the Choral Society that we feel the urge to say something fitting (but well chosen) against the Junior Community Club. If we should do so, perhaps a threat of two tickets to "Shame on Burety" would forlornly. It's about the cheapest way to get in that we know of.

The meeting of the Hon. Dem. Club must have been held as scheduled. Though a casual glance while passing headquarters last Saturday evening revealed nothing more exciting than closely drawn blinds, one Buick roadster, three sections of terra cotta pipe and the usual mud flat. Evidently Narberth is safe. From Democracy.

The Column has ventured the state opinion before, that bold, unbridled gossip holds forth at each meeting of the Women's Community Club, last week. It declared that "our feathered" neighbors were the main subject of the program. What further evidence is necessary.

And right here we will say that there is a strong temptation on the part of the Column to make a reservation at "Bear Bush" for the summer. We have frequently been called a "bird" and then again, free rent, baths and food hold a marvelous attraction for us at this particular period in our young life. There would be no use for Mrs. Grison's brush pile, however, as far as we personally are concerned.

But with it all, that meeting must have been replete with many other things than mere gossip. There was a certain punch to it withal. Mrs. Sprague sang coming home, sayeth the notice. Yes, it is a fact. However, read for yourselves. Don't take our sayso for it. We too, have imbibed punch oftentimes, but we were always able to conduct ourselves home in an orderly manner. The question is—what were the ingredients?

The Tennis Association guarantees that "everything necessary to the conduct of tennis players is included in the grounds and equipment." If this is the case and they will only live up to it, a large season is hereby predicted at Haverford and Montgomery Avenues. We mind the time when one of the things very necessary to a tennis player's comfort looked something like cold tea. But it didn't taste anything like it.

In an effort to appease the wrath of Camolen as manifested in his last week's letter to Hon. Editor, we have isolated the germ of mental reasoning that prompted the Rt. Hon. B. Council to put police protection first and baby protection second. You see, dear Camolen, babies are prone to disturb people's slumbers. Hence, heck with 'em. But policemen! Well, you know, Asley on the beat and all that sort of thing.

Speaking of the Civic Association, the Main Line League will no doubt have a large chance to make a name for itself this season with Hon. Ed. Bolgar at its head. Yes, a large chance. In fact a swell chance.

Which recalls a little couplet that goes, "All that you do, do with your might. Things done by halves are never done right." Oh, nobody in particular. If the shoe pinches, try socking it a while.

For the special benefit of Hon. Canfel, the unemployment situation in Narberth (of which he hurbled) is once and for all settled and adjusted. The man has a job now. Yes, he has a job. And he wouldn't have made a good cop anyway.

The Columa was instrumental in urging a member of the Choral Society to rise up on her hind legs and defend the Organization. It was an advertising scheme of exquisite subtlety. At the same time, halieutie savants affirm that female fish bite more readily than do the opposite variety. But Mr. Penno never wrote us a letter of congratulations, approbations and what not. That is,—he hasn't yet.

That letter from Chicago knocks the props from under some of our sedate townsmen who bray forth that nobody ever reads the Column. We'd like nothing better than to answer the communication in kind, and defend Hon. Editor. But we are a bit leery about so doing. We once received a check from Chicago. It was signed by one Johnson. And the Lake Michigan Johnsons are all related. Fame may be nation-wide and all that, but we have never met a store-keeper who would receipt a bill on the strength of it. Not on your daggerrentype!

It's all settled. Hon. Metzger has definitely decided on Avalon for the summer. We hope he will bring some pressure to bear so that gobs-watted poultry wire back-net will be fixed up. We know a fellow who "come nigh gittin' hit 'n 'e eye" by a wild shot tennis ball that came right through it. "Grounds for suit?" "Grounds for nawthin'."

A realtor recently imparted the Column to become interested in the possible purchase of a corner house—claiming for it many advantages over one located in the middle of a block. His arguments rang true. He was sure in all of them. But according to our humble judgment, he overlooked entirely the main reason why the corner house would be the more advisable of the two. The main reason of his is the fact that when one lives on the corner one has the advantage of long ones creditors coming in from directions.

The Column suggests that the Community Library places upon its shelves "Ten Nights in a Trench House" by Samuel Johnson Wylie. A recent review states that "this is a most intoxicating narrative of auto-luxury in the present age," while Ezra Riplett of the New York Whited declares "there is a suggestion of originality in the story by Wylie, although it may be said that it reeks of the best efforts."

We have not read the book. Further, more, we do not intend to. It will no doubt be largely read. But we will follow the biblical injunction ancient liquor and apply it to this book—we will not look upon it while it is read. And there you are.

CHILDREN'S DRESSES

At the Community Club meeting next Tuesday one of the members will have on sale some very attractive summer dresses for the kiddies. The sizes range from four to ten years. Some are hand smoked, others have Irish lace trimmings, and they are all of good quality. They are being sold for less than they could be purchased in Philadelphia. Some are to be sold for three dollars and a half. There are only twelve dresses, one of which is silk. They will be on display before the meeting for the early arrivals, and at the close of the meeting for any others interested in buying a fine dress for your kiddie or for some other kiddie. Orders can be given if the size is not correct.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT and what it means to you have purchased the coal and building material business at Haverford and Narberth Avenues, Narberth, Pa., formerly conducted by C. P. Cook. We believe the fortunate location of this yard answers a very definite need of the coal users and prospective home builders in this community.

COAL AND COKE

"Coal that really heats" has been the dominant thought in selecting the grades of coal we propose to handle. Every ton will weigh 2240 lbs., delivered with promptness and careful consideration of your lawn, garden and driveway.

BUILDING MATERIALS

Builders will be interested to know that we propose to carry and represent the most nationally advertised products used in building construction.

SERVICE

Our greatest satisfaction will come as a result of developing permanent, satisfied customers through friendly and pleasant business relations. The Narberth Coal & Building Material Company was organized by Mr. Ralph S. Dunne of Narberth, and the business will be under his constant supervision. Mr. Dunne has been a sales executive for many years and enjoys a keen appreciation that an order is a definite opportunity to serve.

We hope you will feel drawn to this kind of an organization and will frequently pass under our sign and through our door to see us.

Many of our clergy in the mission field and in small parishes lack opportunity to read good books and magazines, because of poverty or of isolation, and it has occurred to us that there are a number of our parishioners who would enjoy passing on their periodicals each month as they finish reading them. If so, will you kindly phone or write Miss Mary Hudson, 3 Cleveland Avenue, Narberth, designating the titles of your contributions? She will then send you the name of a worthy and needy man who will look forward with pleasure to your package each month, but please do not take a name unless we may depend upon your attending to the little detail of mailing the magazines regularly.

Church Notes

A series of Cottage prayer meetings will be held April 3-14 at 8 P. M. The general theme of these meetings will be "What Jesus Means to Me." A detailed schedule of sub-topics and places of meeting will be posted on the bulletin boards.
Palm Sunday and Easter Day will be observed with appropriate services. The Church Quartet composed of Mrs. Trovbridge, Miss Felis, Mr. Taitt and Mr. Easley, directed by Mrs. Kempf, is a guarantee of music of unusual merit. We most cordially invite all readers of Our Town who do not regularly attend Church services elsewhere to worship with us. We shall earnestly endeavor to make our services pleasing and helpful to all.

LEST YOU FORGET

In order to have a successful Building and Loan Association, two kinds of stockholders are necessary. First, those stockholders who become members with the idea of paying in a certain sum of money each month in order that they may, when the stock matures, receive a sum of money all in a lump for one of the several purposes for which they save. Second, those who become stockholders with the idea of immediately becoming borrowers in order to build a home or to purchase a property for a home.
It is just as necessary to have free shares in order to get money to loan as it is to have borrowers to loan money to.
The Narberth Building and Loan Association has stockholders of each class, and at the present time has funds available for investments in good mortgages each month of about $12,000.
The new Thirty-third Series in both long term, or a payment of $1.00 each month per share, and the short term, or a payment of $2.00 a month per share, were opened at the March meeting and over 700 dollars a month were issued in new stock. The next meeting of the Association will be held Thursday evening, April 6th, from 7 until 9 at Elm Hall, when another opportunity will be offered our residents to become members of this Association and take stock in the new Thirty-third Series, by the payment of March and April dues. Fines are not charged on the new series on account of taking out shares in the second month after the series opens. It is only necessary to pay the March and April dues amounting to $1.00 a month or $2.50 for the two months, plus twenty-five cents a share entrance fee, or $2.25 a share in the long term series; and $2.00 a month for March and April dues, plus twenty-five cents a share entrance fee, or $4.25 a share in the short term.
It is not necessary for the stockholders to personally attend the meeting each month as arrangements can be made to mail their check covering their Building and Loan payment to the Secretary, which should be attended to on the first day of each month, in pitched. The other soloists were Charles E. Wilson, tenor, and George De... both of Philadelphia.

It is seldom that a community of the size of Narberth has the privilege of hearing an artist such as Michel Penha, the solo cellist of the Philadelphia Orchestra, at close range.

Those not technically familiar with the cello probably failed to realize the demands made upon a performer of that instrument by such numbers as Arensky's Capricio or Saint-Saens' Allegro Appassionato.

Throughout the program of both voice and cello numbers, Erl Beatty, the accompanist, was taxed by a wide range of demands made upon him.

Undoubtedly Prof. Niece has demonstrated his ability to produce music in Narberth. In so doing he has brought a factor into the community which is one of its greatest assets.

Wynnewood Pony and Dog Show

PREPARATIONS UNDER WAY FOR BIG EVENT TO BE HELD IN MAY

Here comes the Pony Show again! And with it comes a glorious day for everyone, because the Tenth Annual Pony and Dog Show which will be held on May 17th on the grounds of William J. Clothier's estate at Wynnewood, will be bigger, more elaborate, more fascinating than ever.

The managers want to give all the children a long time to make new dresses for their dolls and get their baby brothers and sisters all fattened up for the baby show, and their puppies and ponies washed and brushed so that everyone will win at least one of the hundreds of prizes.

The Pony Show has been recognized for years as the principal out-door Main Line Society event of the Spring Season and is a gorgeous, colorful affair from which no recognized leader of Philadelphia Society is ever absent.

The proceeds of the Show this year will be given to the Emergency Fund of the Welfare Federation which the managers of the Pony Show say has been doing wonderful work all winter in distributing clothing and money to the families whose workers are among the thousands of unemployed.

The Executive Committee includes: Mrs. William J. Clothier, Mrs. Herbert L. Clark, Mrs. Alexander C. Yamall, Associate Chairman; Mrs. Pierce Archer, Treasurer; Miss Letitia L. McKim, Secretary; Mrs. Victor C. Mather, Pony Show; Mrs. E. F. Rivinus, Dog Show; Mrs. Thomas J. Dolan; Mrs. Edward B. Krumhaar; Mrs. Clarence Warden; Mrs. Thomas G. Ashton.

The first thing of importance in connection with the Show is a Rummage Sale which will be held in Ardmore the last week of March. This will give everyone a chance to get rid of their old winter clothes and the white elephants of moving time.

RUMMAGE SALE

If you are looking for a picket fence to put around that new chicken house you are building this Spring be sure to go to the Rummage Sale at Ardmore, which is being held in the first week of April in connection with the Wynnewood Pony and Dog Show.

Mrs. Sumner Rulon-Miller, Chairman of the Committee, says this is just one of the thousands of unusual and useful articles that will be on sale. For the new baby in the family there is the baby carriage that was too expensive to buy in the stores, and people furnishing houses will find a wonderful selection of china and pictures.

The Committee in charge includes: Mrs. Edward H. LeBoutillier, Mrs. J. E. Caldwell, Miss Eleanor Gamble, Mrs. W. Logan MacGoy, Mrs. Harland C. Nicholson, Mrs. Ernest Searing, Mrs. Stanley D. Smith, Mrs. Fletcher Stites, Mrs. W. P. Wattles, Mrs. Richard G. Wood, Mrs. Pierre Archer.

PROMINENT CITIZEN ELECTED TO DIRECTORSHIP IN B. & L. ASSOCIATION

Mr. John B. Wine, 12 Shirley Road, Narberth, Pa., was elected to the Board of Directors of the Narberth American Legion B. & L. Association.

Mr. Wine has been with the H. O. Willour & Sons Chocolate Company for many years, and has held an enviable record of salesmanship with that concern.

The Directors of the Association are very glad to have a man of this type added to strengthen the Board.

The Association was started by members of the Harold D. Speakman, Post 356, American Legion, and has added a number of prominent men to fill the vacancies which have occurred, owing to the removal from Narberth of several of the directors.

Hon. Fletcher W. Stites, Mr. I. A. Miller and Mr. Harry A. Jacobs are now serving on the Board.

The Seventh Series will be opened on Tuesday evening, June 6th, at the Log Cabin, corner of Narberth and Haverford Avenues.

You may subscribe to double or single shares. We invite your subscription.

BRIDGE AUCTION

Auxiliary No. 3 of the Seamen's Church Institute will hold an auction bridge at the home of Mrs. Walter H. Lippincott, Cherry Lane, Wynnewood, on the afternoon of April 19th, 2 P. M. Tickets are $1.25 or $5.00 for a table. The Committee in charge promises a most delightful afternoon for all. Tickets may be secured in Narberth from Mrs. Fletcher Stites, Mrs. Romaine C. Hoffman or Mrs. John Bickford Brooks. As Auxiliary No. 3 includes all towns from Overbrook to Ardmore, it is earnestly hoped that many women from Narberth will enjoy the afternoon with their friends at this bridge.

Mrs. A. L. Campbell, of Stuart Ave., held a "wear-over" aluminum party at her home on Tuesday evening.

Paint Demonstration Saturday April 8th

Expert Paint Man will demonstrate the difference between the celebrated Sherwin-Williams Paints and Varnishes and cheaper brands. This will be both instructive and entertaining.

When you paint your house, durability is considered as much as finish. This can only be obtained, however, with pure paint. In buying paint, look for the analysis by weight on the label and check up the ingredients. The presence of Magnesium Silicate or Barities indicates an unnecessary addition to the pigment content. The pigment of Outside White, for instance, should contain lead and zinc and nothing more! Bergner Hardware Company
