

GEORGIA

*Where the Cherokee Roses and Dogwood bloom.
Where Purple Wisteria beads as Wine
And Honeysuckle banish gloom
With a fragrant aroma of perfume divine.*

*Down where the stately Pine Tree reaches
Its mighty strong arms up to the Sky;
Where acres and acres of Cotton and Peaches
Nod to me as I pass them by.*

*Where frisky Squirrel and wise ole Possum
On seeing me, very quickly retreat.
Where grows the lovely Magnolia Blossom,
Where the Brown Thrasher's song is sweet.*

*Down where the luscious Scuppernongs grow
Where the fleet winged Mocking Bird whistles
his song,
Down where Southern Breezes blow
GEORGIA! Where happy people throng!*

CHEROKEE ROSE
