

EFFECT OF LECTURE

PROF. SCHUFELD'S TEACHING IS BEARING FRUIT IN GREAT BACK YARD ACTIVITY

The stereopticon lecture given last Thursday evening has brought both friends and members to the Glendale Garden Society. After the meeting one couple came up to the president with outstretched hands. "Mrs. Woods," they said, "we had no idea the Garden society was doing such splendid work, we will certainly join it and back it up to the best of our abilities." A lady, wife of a Glendale doctor, asked eagerly: "When can we have the privilege of joining the Garden society? We think it one of the best things we ever heard of." A little fellow of ten was asked on the way home from the meeting: "How did you like it, sonny?" And the answer came promptly: "Gee, I could sit and hear it all over again."

The president heard of a family of six children and their parents who live in a comfortable home in Glendale; they have a large back yard, but it has always remained a derelict waste. Some members of this family on Thursday attended the stereopticon talk by Professor Schufeldt. On Saturday morning their neighbor was amazed to see the whole family digging in the back yard. Upon inquiring, she was told they were going to plant radishes first and other things afterwards.

One of our Garden society's enthusiastic adherents gave a copy of our Flower Show circular to a neighbor, whose yard is not conspicuous for its beauty. A few days later, the neighbor was seen on her knees in her front yard. "You look as though you were busy," remarked our friend. "Yes," she replied, "that circular you gave me stirred me up, and I feel as though I ought to be planting something, and making my place look nice." Small happenings, perhaps, but indicative of much good.

For the information of several people who lately enquired about the right time and right way to sow and plant vegetables a few seasonal hints are herewith offered: Beets can be sown now, and any day in the year. Sow the seeds one inch deep. The best kinds for local growing are Groschys, Egyptian and Mangel. Sow thickly, then thin to two inches apart.

Beans may be planted after the 15th of February, or later if weather be cold. Ventura Wonder, Canadian Wonder, or Wax beans are the best for this climate, and season. Plant about six dozen beans of each kind, if you wish. Beans need light soil and little moisture. It is interesting to make a kind of wigwam out of tall, light poles, and train the beans over the wigwam. This makes a shady playhouse for the children. Boys could play Indians, and at the same time have the satisfaction of knowing that they were producing something for the family to eat.

Seeds of carrot should be planted now, one-half inch deep. French Forcing and Oxheart are the recommended varieties. When the little plants are big enough, thin out to one inch apart. Carrots grow easily, and children could make good pocket money selling carrots to neighbors. The tops make fine greens for poultry. Carrots make good rabbit food, and are fine for cows.

Lettuce makes a good crop. Sow the seed one-half inch deep, when plants are 3 inches high transplant to 8 inches apart. The New York Special, and Wonderful, do well here.

Onion sets can be put in now, one and one-half inches deep. Plant about a quart for an average family. Whenever an onion is taken out for use, plant another bulb.

Parsley is an indispensable item to housekeepers who like to make their dishes look pretty; while parsley sauce is a real delicacy, evidently somewhat unknown, yet so easily and quickly made, and withal so economical, that no family should be without it. Plant seeds one-half inch deep, and thin out just as you do carrots. Parsley takes long to germinate; some people recommend soaking the seed first in warm water for several hours. But when it comes up, so much comes that you won't know what to do with it all. It makes the prettiest border or edging for either flower or vegetable beds. When thinning out the parsley, you will have to throw out a lot of plants. But don't throw them out; offer them to somebody else. Offer all the young plants of any vegetables or flowers you may have to somebody; any child would be delighted to have them, if so be that your grown-up neighbors don't want them. Or notify Mrs. Nanno Woods, at Headquarters, 1111 W. Broadway, Sunset Glendale 1357, and she will find some one glad to have them.

A few nickels spent now in seeds will reap you a harvest worth while. Dig up that neglected patch in your

DEATHS AND BIRTHS

GROWTH OF NECROLOGICAL STATISTICS SINCE 1906—NEW BIRTH LAW

Records of deaths in Glendale have been kept by the city clerk since the incorporation of the city in 1906. Since that time the death rate has been steadily growing, although there was a slight decline in 1914 and 1915 as compared with 1913. In 1906 when only part of a year was registered the number of deaths on the books was only 3. The year 1907 showed that the ordinary death rate of that year would have been somewhere over 20 as 1906 itself registered 26 deaths.

It is significant of the city's growth that in 1908 the number of deaths should have crept up to 34. This was exceeded in 1909 by one death, the number being 35. In 1910 there was a considerable increase. That year the rate advanced to 45, an increase of 10.

There must have been a great growth of population between 1910 and 1911 for an increase to 66 is recorded. This growth appears to have continued in 1912 for a further advance of 22 deaths is recorded, the number being 89. A further increase of 25 deaths is noted for the year 1913, which had the unprecedentedly large record of 113. This dropped to 100 in 1914; while last year—1915—gave 108. It may be noted further that January, 1916, had the largest monthly record of deaths in the history of the city—13.

Since Aug. 8, 1915, the law has required the city clerk to register not only deaths but also births. The number of births in Glendale since that date was 63. The same law places on physicians, nurses or midwives the responsibility of promptly registering each birth they may attend. It is the duty of undertakers to register deaths. They have to do so in order to get a permit for burial.

All the original certificates in connection with these vital statistics are sent to Sacramento and there placed on file by the State Bureau of Statistics. A copy of each certificate is kept in the Glendale file by the city clerk.

In addition to keeping the register of the deaths and births in the city of Glendale the city clerk has the duty of registering all deaths and births in the county outside of the incorporated cities in San Fernando Valley. These statistics are reported to the County Recorder in Los Angeles, who receives the original certificates and keeps them on file. A copy of each is kept in Glendale.

TOOK PART IN BANK RECEPTION
Among those who took part in the reception at the opening of the Glendale Savings bank, Saturday, was Mr. J. H. Flower, one of the directors. Mr. Flower's name was omitted from the account of the opening in the Glendale Evening News yesterday by mistake. Mr. Flower is a very active member of the bank directorate and takes a deep interest in the welfare and progress of that institution. He has been specially useful in getting the arrangements made for housing the bank in its new home and was actively engaged all Saturday receiving and making welcome the guests of the bank.

THEFT OF CHICKENS
During the small hours of Monday morning some watchful and experienced chicken thief entered the chicken corral belonging to Mrs. C. E. Frank of Eagle Rock road. Six chickens were stolen and the theft was done so quietly that no suspicion of what had occurred was entertained until this morning after breakfast, when the traces of the forcible entry were visible. The police department of Glendale was notified and Captain Herald is investigating the affair.

back yard, and sow at least some carrots and parsley. Then, too, you can have the pleasure of entering your carrots, or bunch of parsley, or pods of beans for competition at the Flower Show to be held in April. Don't keep putting off your gardening operations. Get right to work and plant something. Help your youngsters to grow something, too, and encourage them to exhibit their flowers or vegetables at the April show.

Through Miss White of the Agricultural Dept. of the Glendale Grammar Schools, great work is being done in stimulating the pupils; but the parents at home must back up that work and do their part to help the children. If father will only get out and dig alongside his son, we would have the finest vegetable exhibit in the April Show that anyone could wish to see.

CITY TRUSTEES MEET

ORDER REASSESSMENT IN CASE OF CANADA BOULEVARD IMPROVEMENT

The regular meeting of the Board of Trustees was held in the City Hall Monday evening, Feb. 7, 1916. Present, O. A. Lane, president of the board of trustees; Chas. Grist, J. S. Thompson, A. W. Tower and Geo. Williams. Also present: T. W. Watson, city manager; J. C. Sherer, city clerk; W. E. Evans, city attorney; H. B. Lynch, manager of the Public Service Dept.; Edw. M. Lynch, city engineer; A. H. Lankford, fire marshal.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

Reports were received and ordered filed from the city clerk, city recorder, building inspector and health officer.

The city manager made a report in regard to the request of Mrs. Barnett, who wishes to remove one of the large eucalyptus trees on Lomita avenue. On motion, the request was denied.

The city manager recommended the transfer from the General Fund to the Street Fund the sum of 12,514.25 to cover the deficit shown by the clerk's report, also a transfer from the General Fund to the Lot Cleaning Fund of the sum of $104.73 to cover the deficit. Upon motion, both of these transfers were ordered to be made.

The city engineer having been in attendance at the trial of the case of Elizabeth Kenyon against the City of Glendale during the greater part of the past week, was granted another week's time in which to check up and report upon the Sycamore Canyon road protests.

Final action on the proposed new tax ordinance was deferred until the matter can be further looked into by the city attorney.

The manager of the Public Service department reported that final transfer of the Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir Company's lot on Verdugo Road had been completed and satisfactory certificate of title has been furnished by the company. He also requested permission to make a loan of the sum of $1505.00 from the Public Service Fund to Ornamental Street Lighting Fund No. 9. Upon motion, it was so ordered.

The city attorney made reference to a communication from Peter L. Ferry requesting a reassessment in the case of Canada Boulevard improvement, and Mr. Ferry being present he recommended that a hearing of the matter be taken up at once. On motion, the recommendation was adopted, and Mr. Ferry addressed the board giving his reasons why the reassessment is made necessary. He presented a resolution drawn up by his attorneys covering the matter. Upon motion of Trustee Tower, the resolution was ordered to be read, and upon being read was adopted as Resolution Number 886, "Resolution of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale ordering a reassessment upon Canada Boulevard in said city, for a portion of the work described in Resolution of Intention No. 746 of this board, adopted September 28th, 1914, reference to which is hereby made for further and complete description of the work described and the district to be assessed."

Mr. Reid asks that the voters of Glendale look up his record and give him a chance with other candidates on election day, next April 10.

BACK TO WHITE PAPER

F. W. GRIGGS TELLS HOW WAR HAS AFFECTED COLORS FOR PAPER AND PRICES

"Before long it is possible that the greater proportion of all the paper manufactured in the United States will be plain white," said Mr. F. W. Griggs, of the Sierra Paper company. "Dyestuffs for coloring paper are becoming scarcer every day. The war has tied up Germany so tight that scarcely a pound of dyestuff gets through to this country. The stocks held here before the war are practically exhausted. This has caused the gradual elimination from the market of many shades of paper.

"The Butler Paper company of Chicago, with which the Sierra Paper company is closely connected, recently informed us that we must be exceedingly careful in handling orders for stock of special colors. A great portion of the special lines of stock have been dropped and it looks as though the country would need to go back, for a time at least, to plain white.

"It is true that scientific men in the United States laboratories have been working on the problem of producing the coal-tar dyes and that they are succeeding in some particulars. I noticed not long ago that one investigator had found out the secret of fast black dye. That, however, while interesting to manufacturers of dress goods and socks, does not relieve the difficulties of the paper manufacturer.

"All this has naturally forced up the prices of paper. In colored papers there has been, as might have been expected, a very considerable advance. It is impossible to fill orders for papers of particular colors without great difficulty. If patrons want to get specially colored paper they must be prepared to wait while a search of the market is made and be ready to pay very much increased prices.

"If the war continues these conditions will become much worse. Colored papers of all kinds will probably be dropped and no attempt made to supply them.

"Prices of stocks of all kinds have also been steadily rising on account of the scarcity of wood pulp. Recently one of the large Eastern firms sold 20,000 tons of wood pulp to European manufacturers. The war has made it difficult to obtain wood pulp and the manufacturers there are ready to take all that can be supplied them without haggling as to the price. It can be imagined what effect this is having and will continue to have on the market.

"With the exportation of wood pulp from the United States the home manufacturers will find it difficult to get all they want and for what they do get they must pay increased prices. The first effect of this has been to send wood pulp prices up from 35 to 45 per cent, with a proportionate rise in prices of manufactured paper.

"Even the bleaching stuffs used for giving to the manufactured paper its dazzling whiteness have advanced in price on account of the war. This item has also contributed to the rise in the prices of paper. Until these conditions change there will be no lowering of prices and with a long war the conditions may become quite serious."

RESISTING AN OFFICER

Dick Royce, who has been running a shoe shining establishment beside the Pacific Electric depot, was arrested Monday by Patrolman Hollenbeck on a charge of misdemeanor and resisting an officer. The alleged offense took place when Royce was checked by the officer for exploding firecrackers in bottles. The patrolman explained to Royce that there was a city ordinance against the exploding of firecrackers within the city limits but Royce is said to have despised the warning and finally to have run off. When he returned to his stand the officer arrested him and then it was that Royce is alleged to have committed the second offense, that of resisting an officer. Arraigned before Judge Whomes, Royce was held in bail of $100 and his trial set for Wednesday at 2 p. m.

BICYCLE ACCIDENT

As Laurence Cook of 205 Orange Grove avenue was riding along Brand boulevard Saturday he came into contact with a car driven by G. Guittard, 1624 Patterson. The result was that Laurence's bicycle looked as though it had been taken from the trenches in Europe. It was difficult to apportion the blame for the accident; but Mr. Guittard has sent the wheel to be repaired at his expense.

PROPOSED DRY LEGISLATION

Should Senator Sheppard's bill for making Washington, D. C., dry go through and become a law the legislators of the nation will have a chance of putting to the test of personal experience the provisions of the most sweeping prohibition bill that has yet been devised. Not only must the saloons go; but even the aristocratic bar must take its departure and visitors from other lands will have to content themselves with water as a beverage. All the private lockers in the private apartments of the senators at the Capitol will be useless for any other purpose than that of the most innocent of cupboards. The numerous stores of private stocks that are kept there must vanish and the Capitol will perforce become as dry as the Sahara.

This bill affects the whole of the District of Columbia. There is no local option in the matter. The dryness of the territory is to be enforced without regard to the wishes of the inhabitants and without giving them a chance to protest. The lid is to be clamped down and riveted. Congress is to be the sole judge and arbitrator in this matter. The bill prohibits the manufacture, sale or giving away of liquor. It also provides that the mere possession of liquor shall be deemed sufficient evidence to convict a person of selling it.

It is made possible to search any premises on an informal complaint. Discovery of liquor on the premises will void the lease and give the owner the right to evict the occupant. Common carriers are prohibited from bringing alcoholic liquors into the district. Any scheme or device to get the better of the law will be regarded as an offense similar in degree to that of selling liquor and punishable in similar fashion. Persons in whose possession liquor is found may be restrained as common nuisances.

This restraint is also to be extended to all other forms of alcohol apart from that used as a beverage. Only five wholesale druggists are to be allowed to sell wood, grain or denatured alcohol. Anyone purchasing alcohol of this nature must make affidavit that he is twenty-one, not of intemperate habits and not addicted to the use of narcotic drugs.

Senator Sheppard's measure goes even farther than this, for it places extraordinary restrictions on the use of wine for sacramental purposes. In order to obtain wine for sacramental purposes priests and ministers are required to make application to the District Commissioners, specifying for what sacramental purposes the wine is necessary and how long the quantity applied for will last. Such a permit will cost 25 cents and before the commissioners will allow the wine to be imported they must be satisfied that all these facts are correct. The wine must be delivered at the church between 6 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Further, the sale of any liquor containing one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol is forbidden and subject to all the other restrictions of the bill. This will take in all perfumery, flavoring extracts, proprietary medicines, prescriptions and similar preparations containing more than this small amount of alcohol. The opponents of the measure are hoping that some of its clauses will bring about its defeat.

PROSPERITY OF PETROLEUM BUSINESS

One business in the United States is enjoying unprecedented prosperity that does not depend on the war, entirely. That is the oil business. Never was gasoline in greater demand than at the present moment. The recent great merger of California oil companies is indicative of the necessity these companies felt of pooling their interests so as to control the situation to some extent. The year 1916 is going to be a record year for oil men.

It is certain that the period between the date of the Standard Oil dissolution and 1913 was more profitable than any previous time in the oil industry. Early in 1914 a most wonderful high grade oil pool was discovered in Oklahoma, at Cushing. This pool increased its output until it reached a maximum of 300,000 barrels a day. That meant that 100,000,000 barrels a year had been added to the company's supply. The result was that crude oil went tumbling in price. Oklahoma oil dropped from $1.05 to 40 cents a barrel.

This year the situation is entirely changed. Instead of a flood of oil there is almost a scarcity. At least the supply and demand have become more equalized. Consumption is running so close to the stock in hand and the production that the prices of crude oil and in turn of refined oil have greatly increased. Next year it is feared the output may not equal the demand and that prices will rise enormously.

With the constant increase in the number of autos in use the demand for gasoline is becoming very much greater than it ever has been. Consumption is now running about a billion and a half gallons of gasoline a year. Next year the consumption will be close to two billion gallons.

To prepare for this expected enormous business the Standard Oil companies are rushing additions and alterations to their plants. The Solar Refining company is building a million-dollar addition at Lima, Ohio, and that is only a two-million dollar concern. Standard Oil of Indiana is increasing its capacity and when the improvements now under way are completed they will have cost several millions. The Standard Oil of Kansas is also extending its works. In fact, all the oil companies are preparing for a boom this year.

As already pointed out in these columns the merger of the Mexican Petroleum, the Producers' Agency, Union Oil and Associated Oil companies is significant of the campaign that is expected. By combining their interests these companies will have an enormously strong organization. Should Mexico be pacified soon there will be an immense development of the oil areas of that country. They are enormously rich and are in the hands of foreign companies almost entirely. Standard Oil, the English company, the Mexican Petroleum and some others will be able to secure the vast treasures of oil in that part of the continent and will probably clear millions out of the sale of their product. As is seen the prosperity of this business does not depend on the war. The domestic demand is large enough to make a dozen fortunes.

THE RETURN OF BUCKLES

Buckles have come into their own again, appearing on hats, on shot tips, in varied and novel materials. Most beautiful are those of enamel and steel, in subdued colorings, or with a touch of scarlet; touches of brilliant Chinese red, a red which has much yellow in it, are seen on many smart things. Quite as effective are the buckles of carved wood, often in the natural wood without other decoration, or with a touch of vivid red or green. A most exquisite buckle is of carved ivory, touched up with ocher to resemble an antique; this will lend distinction to any costume, however simple. Most of these carved buckles are oblong or oval, while those of enamel and tinted metal follow the shapes of beetles, butterflies, and birds, much conventionalized.

Buckles are also seen in cut and burnished steel, in copper, covered with leather or with ribbon. They are worn at the back or front of the costume, or even at the side to hold a sash; while on the hats, the buckles are placed at the knot of loops of ribbon, or at the place of attachment, generally appearing at the front or on top of the crown, for often the loops only decorate the top of the hat.

A COUNTRY SCENE

"And a neat pretty cottage it was, with clipped yew hedges all around the garden, and yews inside, too, cut into peacocks and trumpets and teapots and all kinds of queer shapes. And out of the open door came a noise like that of the frogs . . . when they know that it is going to be . . . hot tomorrow. . . ."

"And there sat by the empty fireplace, which was filled with a pot of sweet herbs, the nicest old woman that ever was seen, in her red petticoat, short dimity bedgown, and clean white cap with a black silk handkerchief over it, tied under her chin. At her feet sat the grandfather of all cats; and opposite her sat, on two benches, twelve or fourteen neat, rosy, chubby little children, learning their Chris-cross-row; and gabble enough they made about it."

"Such a pleasant cottage it was, with a shiny clean stone floor, and curious old prints on the walls, and an old black oak sideboard full of bright pewter and brass dishes, and a cuckoo clock in the corner, which began shouting as soon as Tom appeared; not that it was frightened at Tom, but that it was just 11 o'clock." —Written by Ian Oliphant, aged 10.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 8.—The San Francisco Federal Grand Jury today indicted German Consul Frank Bopp of San Francisco, Turkish Consul Holl and German Vice-Consul Von Shack for participation in illegal plots. FOR MISS WALLACE

With St. Valentine's day so near at hand many hostesses are using the suggestion in carrying out decorations for various affairs. Music, games and toasts speeded the hours before midnight, when a delicious light repast was served.

ST. VALENTINE PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Hunchberger gave a delightfully pleasant function in their Central avenue home not long ago, honoring Mrs. Ben F. Logan, wintering here, from Kentucky. Sixteen bidden guests were present and the rooms were brilliant in garlands of red hearts, cupids and showery arrangements of scarlet carnations and ferns. During the evening a musical program, games, readings and college songs were enjoyed.

At a late hour a course supper was served, at the oval board, beautifully decorated with the same bright blossom used in the room decorations, the cover favors being nut baskets of red upon the handles of which wee cupids sat. Mrs. Logan, the honoree, was presented with an exquisite Japanese work basket as a memento of the happy occasion.

By special request Mrs. Hunchberger gave a reading entitled, "Announcements," and graciously responded to the encore with, "What Is It?"

CAFETERIA LUNCHEON

Miss Elizabeth Bohannon of 1421 Myrtle street entertained a large party at luncheon, Friday last. The luncheon was unique in the particular of having been given in the C. & S. cafeteria, on Brand boulevard. A long table had been arranged in the cafeteria and there amid beautiful decorations of white and pink carnations the thirty guests sat down to a most enjoyable repast. The place cards for the guests were in the form of valentines. Mrs. W. W. McElroy was the guest of honor on this occasion, it being her birthday and the anniversary of her wedding. In honor of her birthday she was presented with a bouquet of red roses and in recognition of her wedding anniversary she received a very handsome cut-glass dish.

After a few speeches and a very pleasant time the luncheon guests adjourned to Miss Bohannon's residence, where the rest of the evening was spent in sewing and fancy work. Following are the guests: Miss Bohannon, Mrs. McElroy, Mrs. James Hoffman, Mrs. J. E. Bright, Mrs. G. H. Rowe, Miss A. F. Goff, Mrs. C. E. Reed, Mrs. Siple, Mrs. F. A. Field, Mrs. W. AN UNUSUAL EVENT

BY MISS BUTTON'S CLASS

Thirty-five covers were laid for the 6:30 o'clock banquet prepared and served by the girl members of Miss Rosemary Button's Sunday School class of the First Congregational church in the hall of the church Monday evening, as a courtesy to the officers and young set of the church. The long banquet tables were artistically arranged with red carnations and feathery ferns as centerpiece, the same sweet scented blossoms being scattered over the snowy cloth.

Conversation and talks in interest of the Sunday School followed.

TROTH PLIGHTED

Among the pretty weddings of recent date in Glendale was that of Miss Zetie McLaughlin of Los Angeles and John W. Music of Glendale, which was solemnized in the home of the groom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Music, at 435 South Louise street, last Saturday evening, and unbeknown to the young couple, the date was the 25th wedding anniversary of the E. D. Musics.

Rev. C. Irving Mills of St. Mark's Episcopal church performed the ceremony in the presence of thirty relatives and intimate friends.

The bride was gowned in a tailored suit of midnight blue with accessories to match, and was attended by Miss Beatrice Hampton of Los Angeles, a cousin of the groom, and Mr. Axel Schmidt acted as best man. While the marriage lines were being spoken the couple stood in the living room, which had been prettily transformed with the use of ferns, white carnations and tulle, and in the rooms where the wedding supper was served upon small tables the same decorative motif prevailed.

Following a short bridal tour Mr. and Mrs. Music will reside in Hollywood.

Among those present at the wedding were Mrs. E. A. Bedell, mother of the bride; Mrs. I. A. Music, grandmother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Knowles and daughter of San Bernardino; Mrs. R. C. Combes and two little daughters, Mrs. Bertha Hampton and Mr. Rex Hampton, Mrs. F. G. Bean, Mr. Fred Bean, Mrs. Royce McLaughlin and Mr. Lee Hampton, all from Los Angeles; Mrs. Katherine Shuy with son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Music and two children, Miss Charlotte Knowles, Miss Ruth Music and Mr. Robert Bultman, Jr., from Monrovia.

TROPICO

Three vacant chairs were silent tributes to the memory of three beloved comrades of N. P. Banks Post, Comrade J. H. Bates, Comrade Albert Chadwick and Comrade H. M. Goss, who answered "Taps" during the past year, and for whom memorial services were held at G. A. R. hall Sunday afternoon. The program consisted of singing, "Nearer My God to Thee," by the audience; several patriotic airs by Rev. J. H. Henry and one of his own compositions, "The Little Bronze Button." Past Post Commander T. D. Kanouse gave a splendid eulogy to the memory of his three departed comrades.

Rev. Snudden of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Glendale gave a most interesting address, after which the program closed with the beautiful ritualistic memorial services of the soldier dead. A large audience assembled at the hall to participate in the afternoon's exercises.

Mrs. Eustace Benton Moore, president of the Tropic Parent-Teacher association, announces that Miss Emma Lee Weiler, a talented and popular reader, who but recently came from Tennessee, will delight the guests with several readings at the tea to be given by Mrs. Charles A. Barker at her home on South Glendale avenue, Wednesday afternoon, February 9. This tea will be a very delightful event given by the P. T. A. and each lady is invited to bring her needlework, darning, patching, crocheting or tatting, as the program is to be very informal. Music will also add to the afternoon's pleasures.

Dr. and Mrs. Slaybough of Oklahoma were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Gaither of East Cypress street Sunday.

Members of N. P. Banks Post, of the Grand Army of the Republic, have been invited by the Parent-Teacher association to attend the lecture to be given Friday evening, February 11, in the Glendale Union High school auditorium. Rev. Mottern has taken for his subject, "Gettysburg," which he will illustrate with a number of stereopticon views. As the veterans are to be the guests of the evening their ticket of admission will be simply their little bronze buttons which these comrades wear in their coat lapels.

Mrs. A. E. Hawn of Sacramento is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Thomas E. Gaither of East Cypress street. Mrs. Hawn is a frequent guest at the home of her sister and has a number of friends in Tropic who are delighted to welcome Mrs. Hawn's return to the Southland. Another charming house guest at the Gaithers last week was Miss Helen Dyno of Los Angeles.

USELESSNESS OF WAR

The Rev. R. W. Mottern, pastor of the First English Lutheran church in Glendale, will deliver his well-known and interesting lecture on "The Battle of Gettysburg," in Glendale High School auditorium, Friday evening, Feb. 11, under the auspices of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations.

In presenting this lecture it is the wish of the committee to present the historical side of the Battle of Gettysburg, and to impress upon the people the uselessness and extravagance of war. This is the time when all minds are turning to the consideration of military training with the thought that at some future time this country may be engaged in war.

While there will be but few pictures of actual battle scenes there will be many showing the dedication of this ground by the government as a national park and the results of the vast expenditures of money for its beautification, in magnificent statuary, etc.

Rev. Mottern has spent a number of years in the vicinity of Gettysburg and is unusually well prepared to speak upon the beauties and wonders of nature having botanized in and about the field. Having been present at the time of the great peace jubilee will enable him to tell of the beautiful spirit which now exists between the wearers of the Blue and the Gray.

The program will be opened with patriotic numbers rendered by the High School orchestra. Mr. Mottern will present the picture of Lincoln to the room of school children which succeeds in the ticket-selling contest, the picture to be accepted for the school by the pupil selling the greatest number of tickets. The Star Spangled Banner will be given as a soprano solo and will be illustrated by the stereopticon. The lecture will follow and "America," also illustrated, will be sung by the audience as the concluding number.

AT ST. CECELIA CLUB

Quite an honor was paid Mr. Julius Kranz, one of Glendale's rising young musicians, by the St. Cecilia club of Los Angeles, when he was asked to play for that body at a musicale, Monday afternoon. This club consists of professional musicians. About forty were present at the affair, which took place at the residence of Mrs. Anna Schulman, Grand avenue, Los Angeles. Mr. Kranz played two of his own compositions, "Chanson Tarantelle" and a "Berceuse." His work was tendered a very flattering reception.

MANY JAPANESE TOYS

The Japanese are now manufacturing yearly about $5,000,000 worth of toys, of which 40 per cent are for exportation.—Montreal Daily Star.

FOR SOUTHERN WEAR

A new material has been introduced for the walking dresses to be worn in the South. It is called cotton uncut velvet, and at a distance it looks like real uncut velvet, with a white sheen over its surface. The suits are made with full-skirted flaring coats, like the winter models, with black or white leather collars, cuffs, buttons and girdles. The hats worn with these suits are broad-brimmed Milan straws, the color of the dresses. They have eight-quartered cap crowns of leather with tassels falling from the tops, the leather matching the trimming of the suits in color.

Guernsey cloth, or knitted cloth suits, especially recommended for southern traveling suits, also appear with leather trimmings. These cloths are excellent as they do not wrinkle. The skirts of these suits are made with deep laid plaits, front and back, stitched to below the hip line, and a plain panel, flaring a little at the bottom, finishes either side. The coats are hip length, in a belted but unplaisted Norfolk model. Worn with these suits are the new straw turbans that fit the head closely and are very tall. The ribbon trimming is folded flatly around the crown and finished directly in front, or at one side, with tall slender buckles of jet, plain steel, or frosted gilt. The hats are trying in appearance, but very smart.

MIDWEEK M. E. SERVICE

Under charge of the Baraca class, the midweek services of the First M. E. church, corner Third and Dayton Court, are certain to prove interesting and profitable. The subject is "Christian Preparedness," Rom. XII:11. Those who will give short talks on the subject are Charles Moore and Dr. J. F. McBryde. The pastor, the Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, will be present and will take part in the service. Everybody is invited.

TO SOLEMNIZE SECOND MARRIAGE

Judge Whomes, who officiated at the marriage of his granddaughter in Los Angeles, Sunday night, apparently gave so much satisfaction that he attracted the approval of another young couple who happened to be present at the ceremony. At the conclusion of the marriage this couple, Harvey Nelson and Ethel Windham, expressed regret that they had already engaged a clergyman from Orange to solemnize their wedding on Tuesday night. The judge, who has known the young lady since she was an infant, expressed equal regrets. That same night after the marriage party had dispersed and the judge was back home in Glendale he was called up by phone by the bashful bride who informed him that she and her prospective bridegroom had decided to inform the Orange clergyman that they had selected the judge as the officiating official for the occasion. The wedding will take place at the bride's parental residence, corner of Eleventh and Hoover, and will be a very elaborate affair.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church will hold an all-day meeting Friday, Feb. 11, in the church parlors. The morning session, which will begin at 10:30, will be taken up with devotional exercises and the annual mite box opening. The instruction of the service will be conducted by Miss Mary Larkin, from the first chapter of the book of "Home Missions in Action." At 12 noon luncheon will be partaken of. Bring your own luncheon and be prepared to stay all day. The afternoon prayer meeting will be held in unison with the National Day of Prayer for Missions, which is to be observed by Baptists all over the United States.

A BASE FALSEHOOD

I hereby desire to call the attention of all the readers of The Glendale Evening News and the Tri-City Progress, that some one has reported "A Base Falsehood" of church news, in an item stating that Rev. M. F. Rinker, a former pastor of the First English Evangelical Lutheran Church of Glendale, was the teacher of the Adult Bible Class of said church; this is a malicious act of some one to injure me in some way. Because every individual in Glendale who is acquainted with me very well knows that because of general health conditions I do not attend the services of the Bible School, and the individual who furnished the item of church news evidently did it to injure me in some way. The individual who furnished the item very well knows that general health conditions do not permit my teaching in the Bible School. M. F. RINKER, Founder and First Pastor First English Lutheran Church. Feb. 7, 1916. 14311*

UNION HIGH SCHOOL P. T. A.

What was probably the best program given this year under the auspices of the Glendale Union High School Parent-Teacher association, was heard Monday afternoon. The Patrons' committee is to be congratulated on the excellent entertainment provided. Mrs. Dora L. Gibson excelled herself in the leadership of the Junior Orchestra, which, consisting of very young boys, yet gave evidence of careful musical training and understanding. The Glee club girls, all dressed in old Colonial costumes, made a pleasing sight and charmed the audience with their interpretation of the old songs. Miss Alice Fanny Hagin played Washington's "Inaugural March," "Hail Columbia" and "Yankee Doodle" from copies of the original music without any of the modern variations or additions. Reduced to their pristine simplicity the tunes were charming.

A number of excellent speakers thrilled the audience with patriotic addresses of rare quality that left them resolved to live for their country. In the cafeteria where luncheon was served the patriotic spirit of the day was manifested in every particular. The national colors were carried out in the dainty decorations; flags were everywhere; red, white and blue flowers figured in the decorations. Old-fashioned candelabra held candles colored red, white and blue. The cakes were decorated with the letters "P. T. A." in red, white and blue.

In every way this was a most excellent patriotic celebration. A number of new members were added to the association.

The next meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is to be the annual Willard Commemorative meeting, Friday afternoon, February 18, at the home of Mrs. P. A. C. Moore, 1543 Salem street (between Second and Third on West Side). The usual annual offering will be taken. Come prepared.

SARAH GALE NASH

Sarah Gale Nash, aged 79 years, passed away February 6 at the home of her son, Henry Nash, 202 E. Eagle avenue, Eagle Rock, where she had lived for the past three years. Funeral services will be held at the Pulliam Undertaking Parlors, 10:30 a. m., Wednesday. Interment in Forest Lawn cemetery.

PRESERVED MARROW

To five pounds marrow add five pounds of lump sugar, two ounces ginger, the rind and the juice of three lemons and preserved ginger to taste.

Cut the marrow in squares the size of a walnut, sprinkle slightly with salt and let it stand for an hour. Drain off the salt and rinse with a little water. Next add the sugar and let it stand until the sugar is dissolved. Then boil until the marrow is transparent, probably one hour.

Stew the lemon rind and ginger in a little water until it is sufficiently cooked; then shred the peel. Then add the peel, ginger and lemon juice together and boil them with the marrow for a short time before taking up. The juice may be drained from the marrow and boiled gently for half an hour; then add the marrow.

AS TO THE APRON—ITS HISTORY

Those who have looked down upon the apron may get an entirely new idea of the subject after reading a few words devoted to its history. The apron has always held a high and honored place in history, even as far back as in Bible times, when Elijah, the Tishbite, wore an ephod or apron on great religious occasions.

The full skin leather apron, with straps around the neck and the waist, is a symbol of the blacksmith's trade, being of as much importance to his occupation as his anvil and forge. The shoemaker wears a short leather apron, as a rule, tied at the waist line. Dockman and longshoremen have the hurlap or gunnysack apron as their badge; but the barber of modern days has discarded his time-honored apron of fine-striped percale for the white linen or alpaca coat, and, in many instances, the waiters in restaurants and hotels have also discarded their aprons.

The mattress-maker invariably wears an apron of ticking, and the carpenter has borrowed his idea as to material, having fashioned his apron with pockets to hold hammer, nails and ruler. The artist's apron, with high neck and long sleeves, is perhaps best known in Paris, the great art center of the world. In colonial days, ladies added full black silk aprons, as a finishing touch of elegance to their toilettes; some of these were embroidered and some were braided all over in colors. The housewives of Germany, being of a thrifty turn of mind, wear aprons of blue denim and heavy white wale linen that last splendidly. Ladies' maids have taken to themselves French, butterfly-like affairs, consisting of a bit of cambric and lace and a bow of ribbon. The flannel bath-apron, the sewing-apron made of glass toweling, with lots of deep pockets, the denim clothespin apron, and a host of others might be added to this list if further proof is needed that apron-wearing is an ancient and honorable habit, almost as old as the history of dress itself.
