Reid died this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, according to an announcement made by the Famous Players-Lasky studio. The end came after three days of unconsciousness. The famous actor was thought to be well on the road to recovery until he became unconscious and his condition took a sudden turn for the worse.

TAKE OVER BOATS TO CARRY AWAY REQUISITIONED COAL SUPPLY

Confiscation of Property Not Part of Invaders' Plans, Is Claim

By S. D. WEYER For International News Service

ESSEN, Jan. 18.—French military authorities today seized the harbors of Ruhrort and Duisburg. Barges and boats are being requisitioned along the Rhine to carry coal and coke supplies.

The French decided to requisition coal that has already been mined and the work of taking it over for shipment to France and Belgium is under way.

The French claim that 15,000 tons of coal and an equal amount of coke is due daily to the allies. From Tuesday night until last night the French routed to France freight trains bearing 557 tons of coal and 5,812 tons of Ruhr coke.

French officers declare that the number of troops in the Rhineland and Ruhr is insufficient and that more are necessary to carry out the French program and to avoid trouble. There are about 50,000 troops on hand now. Officers said that about 25,000 more are necessary.

M. Coste, French director of operations and coal expert of the French ministry of public works, made the definite statement to International News that the French do not plan the confiscation of German property.

Russia Forms Battle Front Along Border

Detachments of red troops were reported reconnoitering in the direction of Braslau, which is now held by the Poles.

Headquarters have been established at Smolensk.

FRED MOORE IS ROBBER'S VICTIM

Loses Wallet With $204 And Diamond Stickpin Valued at $200

A wallet containing $204 and a diamond stickpin valued at $200 was the toll exacted from Fred Moore by a highwayman, at 10 o'clock Tuesday night, as he was proceeding home from Los Angeles, along Fairfax avenue, in his car.

Mr. Moore, when interviewed this morning in his office at 206 South Brand boulevard, stated that the hold-up occurred at the corner of Fairfax and Third avenues, Los Angeles, and that he was alone in the machine at the time.

Points Revolver

"I was returning from a business meeting in the city," Mr. Moore explained, "and happened to have on my person more money than I usually carry, the reason being that I had collected a sum owing me. I stopped at the corner of Third avenue to strike a match, when suddenly a middle-aged, shabby appearing man sprang from the shadows at the roadside, covering me with a large revolver as he came."

"Stick 'em up, brother!" cried the bandit hoarsely, showing his weapon into his victim's face.

And so Mr. Moore, quite naturally reached for the sky, offering as he did so the comment, "You're a fine brother!"

Returns Gold Watch

The bandit did not seem to resent this bit of pleasantry but went through his "brother's" pockets with agile fingers, confiscating the above-mentioned loot. A gold watch and chain were also taken but were returned by the "stick up" man before he left.

This latter piece of back-handed chivalry is regarded by Mr. Moore as an indication that the man was not a professional highwayman, but more probably a drug addict, who feared to take anything that could not readily be converted into cash.

The police are working on the case but are believed to have no clue as yet to the man's identity and location.

Amendment to Farm Credits Bill Loses

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—By a vote of 46 to 21, the senate this afternoon rejected an amendment offered by Senator Dial, Democrat, of South Carolina, to the pending farm credits bill to "liberalize" trading in cotton futures so as to place the cotton farmer and dealer on a fifty-fifty basis.

The senate then resumed its consideration of the Capper bill, the passage of which before the end of today's session was planned by administration leaders.

Citizens' Committee Rounds Up Strikers

HARRISON, Ark., Jan. 18.—Apparently ignoring the multi-arious rumors being circulated, the committee of citizens expected soon today to complete the roundup of strikers and sympathizers the arson plot against the M. & M. A. railroad.

The committee assisted by deputy sheriffs, is working systematically in the collection of its evidence to give the grand jury. A few homes of accused strikers have been searched, but there has been no violence here.

ONE KILLED, 7 HURT

DETROIT, Jan. 18.—One man was killed, seven injured and three are buried as the result of a sewer cave-in here today.

IMPROVEMENTS ON FOREST AVENUE MEETING TOPIC

Creation of Park in South Section of City Also Up For Discussion

The improvement of Forest avenue and the creation of a park in Southern Glendale were the two subjects discussed last night at the city hall by representatives of various civic organizations and the City Council. No decision was reached on either topic.

Upon motion of Councilman C. E. Kimlin the widening and improving of Forest avenue was referred to City Manager W. H. Reeves to work the problem out with the Forest Lawn Cemetery association, Harry E. White and the Grammar School Board of Education.

The Forest Lawn Cemetery association will not shrink from meeting its share of the improvement, according to C. B. Jackson of 117 South Jackson street, construction engineer for Forest Lawn. He said, however, that no definite action had been taken by the management.

Promises to Assist

"Regardless of any action you may take tonight," he remarked, "I think you may feel that the cemetery people will work right along with you just the same as they would for any other civic work."

When Los Feliz road is improved, there will be little travel over Forest avenue in the opinion of W. F. Small of 322 West Cerritos avenue, who said that he did not see much necessity for the widening of Forest avenue.

J. D. Hibben of 123 East Laurel street, president of the board of education, stated that the school board felt that the contribution from the Forest Lawn Cemetery association should not be applied only toward the reduction of Harry White's assessment.

Suggests Division

A suggestion was made by Councilman C. E. Kimlin that the expense of the improvement, which has been estimated at $250,000, should be divided between Harry White, the Board of Education and the Forest Lawn Cemetery association.

Inquiry was made by Councilman Sam Davis as to what objection residents in Southern Glendale had to the improvement of this street when it is proposed to pave it without cost to them. There was no response from the audience.

Another Alberta woman, Mrs. Florence Lasandra, is to be hanged February 21 for complicity in the murder of a constable.

ROTARIANS HEAR APPEAL FOR BOYS

Scout Leader in Address Urges Lads Get Chance To Make Future

"The 'Continental Divide' in a boy's life is the four-year range between 12 and 16," stated D. W. Pollard, widely known Boy Scout leader, at today's Rotary club luncheon in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Mr. Pollard is a special representative from the twelfth regional committee of the national council, Boy Scouts of America, here on behalf of the membership drive now opening.

"Give the boy a chance," spoke Mr. Pollard, in a stirring appeal for the younger generation. "The greatest national asset today is the American boy. The citizenship of the future depends upon the boy of today. Between 12 and 16, boys form ideals which form the character of the rest of their lives. In America there are 80,000 boys of scout age ready for Boy Scout training. Congress has recognized the scout movement. The American Red Cross and the Boy Scouts of America are the only two organizations which have been chartered by congress.

Complete Change

"The boys of today," said Mr. Pollard, "have a complete change of environment as compared with the boys of the older generation. They do not have so many home duties, hence have more time at their disposal in which to engage in other activities; and it is the prime purpose of the Boy Scout movement to see that this, what might be termed vacant time, shall be utilized to the best advantage.

"In California eighty per cent of the boys are crowded into the cities, where they have lost the duties which keep country boys busy."

Uncle John Says:

The other day when I was in the big city I was lookin' in the window of a hardware store and I saw the kind of a hammer I have been wantin' for a long time. So I went in and bought it, give a dollar for it. When I got home with that hammer Mary was tarnation mad, I said, "Cam down Mary, that dollar ain't goin' to make that feller rich and the loss of it ain't goin' to break up any Glendale hardware man." She says "That ain't the point. If you had spent that dollar in Glendale the hardware man could have used it to help pay his clothing bill, the tailor could have spent it with the druggist, the druggist could have purchased groceries with it, the grocery man could have spent it for dry goods. That dollar could have gone on day after day payin' bills here in Glendale forever. Now it's gone, it'll never do Glendale no more good. It's workin' now for the big city." My gosh, would you ever think a man like me could have got such a smart woman?

ADJOURNS WITHOUT ADJUSTMENT OF BIG PROBLEM

Present Settlement Is Not Possible; British Leader To Sail for Home

By W. H. ATKINS For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Official announcement was made at the treasury department today at the end of a long session of the American and British debt commission that it has been found impossible to reach an agreement for the payment of the $5,000,000,000 debt of Great Britain to the United States.

The American commission issued this formal statement: "The two commissions have given long and detailed consideration to the questions involved in the funding of the debt. Progress has been made toward a mutual understanding of the problems involved and discussions have now reached a point at which the British government thinks it desirable that the chancellor of the exchequer should return to London for consultation.

"The discussions have, therefore, been adjourned and the chancellor of the exchequer will sail on the 20th inst."

Ends Where Started

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and other members of the American commission made it plain at the close of the negotiations that there had been no violent disagreements, but that a final adjustment was impossible under present conditions.

The discussion ended today practically where they began. The British, it was stated, were not empowered to arrange a settlement at any interest rate greater than 3 per cent, and the Americans were confident and so informed the British envoy that President Harding and congress would not approve a rate so low as the United States was now paying 4 1/2 per cent on some money it had borrowed to loan to Great Britain.

Chancellor Baldwin, head of the British commission, informed Secretary Mellon that he expected to reach London a week from now Friday and on the following day will consult with the British cabinet.

Continue Negotiations

Baldwin will not return to Washington but in his absence the debt negotiations will be continued informally by Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, who, however, will not actually confer with the American debt commission until he has received definite instructions with respect to the question of interest.

Secretary Mellon said there was nothing serious in the differences between the two commissions that he stood in the way of an understanding. He believed an agreement will be reached without any great difficulty, once the American viewpoint is fully explained and understood by the British cabinet.

The identification was made from the witness stand by Fred C. Eubanks, a Collinston farmer.

EXPULSED STUDENT MAY BE TRIED FOR INSANITY

Youth Who Shot Another In Trojan Hazing Is Before Authorities

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—Expelled from the University of Southern California for having shot and wounded Philip Johnson, another student, when a group of sophomores attempted to haze him, Paul A. Banks was scheduled to appear before Police Judge Sheldon today for sentence on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Arrangements were being made today, according to H. J. Stonier, executive secretary at the University, for Banks to be examined by the county lunacy commission.

Banks was summarily expelled from college late yesterday and was remanded to jail for sentence today after entering a plea of guilty to the police court charge.

OVERPOWER NIGHT WATCHMAN AND LEAVE HIM TO DIE IN FIRE

Loses Life in Flames That Flare in Large Warehouse; Property Damage $150,000

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—Apparently overpowered by burglars or "firebugs," J. E. Koch, night watchman, was murdered and left to burn in the flames which caused $150,000 damages to the Barker Brothers' furniture warehouse, according to disclosures made today by Fire Chief Ralph Scott. Two prowlers chased from the building, are suspected of the crime.

Koch is believed to have smothered in the fire found by firemen two hours after the blaze had been extinguished.

An investigation showed Koch's head was injured and the skull probably fractured, according to Scott, indicating he had been struck with a blunt instrument. Koch's charred remains were found on the fourth floor of the warehouse, which was swept by flames.

Spontaneous combustion was at first thought to have caused the fire, but with the discovery of the watchman's injury that theory was dropped.

SEEK TO RATIFY MATERNITY BILL

F. C. Weller Will Introduce Measure to Endorse Shepard-Towner Act

Special to The Evening News SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—Assemblyman Frank C. Weller of Glendale will introduce a bill in the lower house this week calling for the ratification of the Shepard-Towner act, which provides for maternity education, and which makes an appropriation to each state accepting its provisions.

Mr. Weller is introducing the bill at the request of the Twentieth Century club of Eagle Rock and San Francisco club women, all of whom, it is said, are actively interested in this legislation. The San Francisco delegation, who called on the assemblymen yesterday, also stressed the need for better divorce laws.

Divorce Measures

While Mr. Weller as yet has formulated no bill, he is considering Judge J. W. Summerfield's suggestion that fifteen days' notice be given by contracting parties to marriages. Of course, this opens a wide field for research, as, unquestionably, the divorce evil is one of the greatest in California and the United States, according to the assemblyman.

Assemblyman Harry Lyons of Los Angeles already has introduced a bill which would make insanity a grounds for divorce, five years after a spouse has been declared mentally incompetent. The bill cares for the property rights of the defendant, and for having him, or her, represented at the proceedings.

BIG RAILROAD SAVING

Sale or Lease of Hospital Lands Urged in Bill of Glendale Solon

Special to The Evening News SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—Assemblyman Frank C. Weller of Glendale today introduced a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of three to investigate the land on which the Norwalk state hospital stands, with a view to leasing or selling the rights to the oil that is believed to underlie the hospital property.

The investigation advocated in Assemblyman Weller's resolution would be made during the constitutional recess and the report would be submitted immediately thereafter.

It is urged that the proceeds received from the lease or sale of the oil at the Norwalk hospital be used to endow the southern branch of the University of California.

Governor Richardson is also expected to make an independent investigation of the Norwalk property, and he has been urged to employ the income that may be received from the oil land there for the benefit of other state charitable and medical institutions.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Saving Power—and Lives Keep Your Eye On China Why Not Get Together? Search for Wet Spots

By Gil A. Cowan

ARRBRAKES for automobiles? Roller bearings for rail-road trains?

These are two of the latest developments in the world of transportation with automobile buses in this state now using the famous Westinghouse equipment and a Manchester, Eng., firm equipping railway engines and cars with bearings made of a new patented steel which promises to revolutionize steam and electric hauling.

With the airbrakes a motorcar driven at thirty miles an hour can come to a stop within thirty feet without the passengers being bothered, it is said. With roller bearings one man can push a twenty-ton passenger coach where it formerly took seven men to budge it.

Think of the saving of lives, the saving of power these new innovations afford. And yet with both in use for years it seems strange that no one had not thought of it before!

Home brewers in the Balkans, China, Germany, Lithuania, not to forget Louisiana, are busy stirring wars that are apt to flare forth and at any time set the world on its ear again.

Really, it seems the end of a perfect day for some section to report strife and about the time all thought things were peaceable south of the Rio Grande.

Oregon, presidente, stirs up a hornet's nest by sending an apostolic delegate out of the country. While the situation seems serious in the Balkans, watch China for there is where some real fighting may be expected. It takes the Chinese people a long time to get up courage to do or die, but when they do go into battle the casualty lists are too numerous to mention.

Perhaps the Oriental is more adept at the use of propaganda than he is with firearms. And if there is anything more insidious than propaganda, when it comes to getting the desired results, we should like to learn of it.

Therefore, may it not be suggested to Messrs. Volstead, Wright, et al., that they devote their energies to taking the color out of ink!

That Catalina Islander editor wishes there were a Luther Burbank of the sea to give us a boneless fish of the sand tab, tuna variety. His comment arises from the plant wizard's endeavor to make a watermelon seedless. While on the subject of changing things about a bit why not have a wordless job, which would compare favorably with a boneless fish.

What fun would there be in drawing pay without doing something? What enjoyment in the dog who gets a deal of satisfaction out of cleaning the bones, just as a task well done.

Thank heaven Southern California has its Mt. Wilson observatory, also its Long Beach oil fields. Otherwise there would be no points of interest to the tourists, according to an advertisement in the "California," a San Francisco publicity organization, which appeared in the current issue of a national magazine.

However, Southern California should be thankful it is included in the Californians' copy at all. For the All-Year Round club of Los Angeles and San Diego's organization for the advertising of the southern have neglected to tell about the wonderful conjunction to be acquired in San Francisco and vicinity, of the Bay Cities' rapid development, and many points of interest north of the Tehachapi.

Maybe it is time that all sections of this state get together on one great advertising scheme and include therein the San Joaquin, the Sacramento and Imperial valleys which are fast becoming the unequalled agricultural, horticultural and viticulture centers of the world.

Tourists visiting Glendale, Pasadena, Long Beach or any other southern city should avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing both San Diego and San Francisco, as well as the inland valleys and learning a great deal of their interest, be they business men, ranchers or home-makers.

"Los Angeles is bone dry," says S. F. Rutter, divisional prohibition chief. Roy Haynes, federal prohibition commissioner, is coming from Washington to find out whether it is true.

While on the coast he will visit San Francisco and Sacramento. Perhaps he will find it a little wet in the north. Indeed, from the number of drunks to be seen on the streets of these northern cities there is still enough "hoop" for the dry hounds to find.

From all evidences the seekers of "jazzy times" are turning from liquor to dope, now that the sale of the former is being made expensive for the government, as well as the bootleggers.

12 COUPLES FORM NEW METHODIST S. S. CLASS

New Organization Forecasts Plans to Widen Scope of Church Work

A large number of the young married members of the Eagle Rock Methodist church met Thursday evening at the home of Walter S. Gates, 146 Windward avenue, Eagle Rock, to organize a Sunday school class. Twelve couples comprise the charter membership. The first meeting will be held at the church next Sunday morning at 9:45. Rev. E. J. Bradner, pastor, and George L. Gustin, superintendent of the Sunday School, were present and assisted in the organization.

The officers elected are as follows: Mrs. Iva S. Burger, president; R. C. Corley, vice president; Mrs. J. M. O'Dell, secretary and treasurer. Attorney Walter S. Gates was made teacher, and Dr. C. H. Smythe the assistant teacher.

The class will hold its monthly social gatherings on the fourth Tuesday evening of each month. The organization of this class is a part of the re-organization of the school now in progress. Other classes of a like nature are being fitted up for the care of them. The school is said to be growing rapidly.

Mrs. Gates served delicious refreshments at the close of the business meeting.

Bill Would Shift Injury Liability

Local school boards are interested in the bill introduced in the state senate yesterday by Senator T. C. West of Oakland, which makes school districts instead of school trustees legally responsible for injuries received by pupils while on school grounds.

In a companion bill the district must take out insurance for all such liabilities, thus placing the financial burden upon the insurance companies.

These bills are the result of a recent court ruling which held that, under a law passed two years ago, trustees were responsible financially for the injuries received by pupils while attending school or on the grounds.

(Continued from page 1) third of them are allowed by the allies to carry rifles. The allied military control commission in Berlin personally supervised the organizing of police rifle companies.

Not Well Armed The allies allow one automatic rifle for every twenty policemen. They are forbidden the use of machine guns, artillery, airplanes, poison gas, flame throwers and armored cars.

The police army is called the Reichswehr. It is divided into ten divisions, seven infantry and three cavalry. There are about 15,000 men in the German navy. There are no German Reichswehr facing the French, although there are about 1500 of them stationed at Munster.

Deny Big Army

DORTMUND, Jan. 18.—Investigation by an International News Service correspondent of a report that a big army of German military police had been massed at Munster proved it untrue today. It is estimated that there are about 2000 reichswehr at that point, but not more than 500 other police. There has been no concentration of German police.

When General De Goutte, French commander in chief, was told of the report, sent to the United States that a great army of reichswehr had been concentrated, he asked in surprise: "Where?"

ROTARIANS HEAR APPEAL FOR BOYS

Another thought brought out by Mr. Pollard was that the boy of today does not have the association with male members of the family he did years ago, when home duties such as sawing and splitting wood and attending to chores about the farm engaged his time and gave him contacts with his father, his brothers or the hired man. Fathers today do not devote as much time to companionship with their boys as they should.

The up the boys in a worth while program under the direction of a man with high ideals, is the appeal of Mr. Pollard and the organization in which he is such an active worker.

"Many boys find their vocation in life through having engaged in Boy Scout activities," he stated. "A wonderful educational function in a boy's life, developing a boy's mentality in many ways. The Boy Scout movement is good insurance for America. We must think of the future of this country—the boys of today are the men of tomorrow."

"Boy Scouts are a good financial investment. Taxpayers must pay for the boys who go wrong. Thirty-one per cent of the inmates of San Quentin are under 21 years of age. This is an astonishing figure."

It costs about $10 a year to keep a youth in the Boy Scouts, while it costs $30 a year to prosecute a case in the juvenile court, according to the statisticians as given by Mr. Pollard.

Line of Action But beyond all these is the main line of action for the boy himself. It was brought out. Give him a chance in his "continental divide" period of his life, when the right methods of development will build him into the kind of a man needed to carry forward the work of this nation.

Mr. Pollard was introduced by Roy L. Kent, president of the Rotary club and treasurer of the Verdugo Hills district council, who voiced the value of the Boy Scout training. Character development, Americanization and citizenship training are the three ideal elements that are incorporated in the Boy Scout program. Mr. Kent pointed out in presenting the distinguished speaker.

Make Short Speeches Following the installations, many short speeches on timely subjects were made by visiting of Bolinas and comrades. Among those speaking were Past Dept. Commander Phelps, Sr. Vice Dept. Commander, Commander Vater of Pasadena, Commander Greard of Alhambra, Dept. Aide Mrs. Galbraith, National Aid, Mrs. Martens, Dept. Pres. Mrs. Grause and Past Commander Reeves.

At 9:30 National Commander in Chief A. P. Entenza accompanied by Past Commander Department of California, Galbraith was announced and received with full ceremonies by the Glendale Camp and Auxiliary.

In the nature of things the visit of a Commander in Chief is a rare event in any camp and Glendale camp felt tremendously honored by this official visit from the National Chief.

Comrade Entenza made a stirring and wonderful address concerning the work of the United Spanish War Veterans and the plans for the ensuing year. With leadership such as Comrade Entenza the organization must prosper.

Following the address a social hour was enjoyed and proved a pleasant conclusion for a profitable and notable event.

WILL CELEBRATE FIRST BIRTHDAY

Patrons of Gateway Market Will Be Firm's Guests On January 20th

Judging from the number of special events lined up by Manager C. Caswell of the Gateway Market at Brand and San Fernando road, Saturday, January 20, will be a gala day, for that date marks the first milestone in the business history of the company.

Saturday will be known as anniversary day and arrangements have been completed whereby patrons will become the guests of the market. From 4 until 7 p. m. Harold Brown's syncope orchestra will render a lively program of the latest popular airs which will be interspersed with the singing of a number of popular songs and ballads.

During the musical program, that is, between 4 and 7 p. m., refreshments in the nature of a special hot lunch will be served. This lunch is no joke—it's a real one, for hot sandwiches, made with Caswell's famous special pork sausage, and Parker House rolls, furnished by the bakery department, with coffee, will be served, it is announced.

TAKE OVER COAL ALREADY MINED

French Forces Determined To Make Germany Pay In Full Measure

(Continued from page 1) tion. It was allayed somewhat, however, by M. Coste's statement that there would be no confiscations.

France's change of attitude led to a report that secret negotiations had been opened between the French and Germans.

Denies Confiscation In an exclusive statement to International News Service, M. Coste said:

"The report that we plan to confiscate the German mines is pure fabrication. We have no such intention whatsoever. We came to the Ruhr to insure delivery of our due and to take measures necessary to this end. These measures are economic and do not include confiscation. Requisitions may become necessary, but requisitions are not confiscation."

Regarding a rumor that the French planned to march upon Berlin, a high French officer made the following statement to International News Service: "We have got a strangle hold on Germany which is all we want. There is nothing between Hamm and Berlin that would make it worth while to march upon. If the Germans refuse to obey we will stay here. If they obey, we will get out."

Take Full Control DUSSELDORF, Jan. 18.—The French this afternoon began diverting coal barges down the Rhine to Strasbourg. The French are now in a position to impose a coal blockade upon all the unoccupied portions of Germany.

The French have complete control of the Rhine-Herne canal and control coal shipments into all unoccupied districts.

Says War Inevitable CONSTANTINOPE, Jan. 18.—Mustafa Kemal Pash, commander-in-chief of the Turkish army, in reviewing his troops at Dariousa, was reported to have said: "War is inevitable unless European changes her mental attitude."

Deny Berlin Invasion ESSEN, Jan. 18.—High French army officers denied today that the French plan to march upon Berlin, even if the Germans continue their attitude of resistance.

savings to purchasers. In the meat department there will be a ham sale and with every ham sold a half pound of Puritan sliced bacon will be given, while with every whole slab of bacon sold, $5.00 in Bankee stamps will be given.

So great is the enthusiasm displayed over the celebration of the first anniversary of the Gateway Market, that the Tompkins Drug Store, the Wilson-Bell Hardware company and the Baldwin Shirt company, are lending their efforts to help make the event a big success.

During the past year the Gateway Market has enjoyed a wonderful success, every department reporting a splendid business, it is stated.

HOW TO SECURE A HOME

THE METHOD by which this is accomplished is through loan contracts of the WESTERN MUTUAL FINANCE COMPANY.

Suppose you wished to secure a $5,000 home. $30 per month invested in loan contracts of the Western Mutual Finance company will, when the loan is made, afford sufficient cash to pay down over half the cost of the home. The balance can be handled through a straight second mortgage which subsequently can be lifted with additional contracts. ON THE BASIS OF A $1000

LOAN acquired through our Loan Contracts the maximum interest you would pay over a period of eight years and four months would be $188.70. This cost applied to the amount on which you are paying interest amounts to 5½ per cent on annual unpaid balances.

HALF HOLIDAY FOR LETTER CARRIERS OF EAGLE ROCK

Postal Employees Are Granted Freedom After First Saturday Delivery

Postmaster Skiff of Eagle Rock received notice Wednesday morning that mail carriers would be granted a half holiday on Saturdays, beginning January 20, and consequently there would be but one mail delivery by carrier on that day. This would be a complete delivery and finished in five hours.

"At the present time," said Mr. Skiff, "this office is sending out mail over the city by nine regular carriers and we have two extra men on the list."

"There has been an insistent demand for an extension of the service to take on the new residential section, but so far," said Mr. Skiff, "we have been unable to get the department to see the situation from our point of view."

Mr. Skiff stated he was working hard to get the new district included in the free delivery section and had hopes of succeeding in the near future. At the present time these patrons are served by district boxes.

Stubborn Flivver Foils Auto Thief

George McClay, clerk in Judge Harold Ide Cruzan's court at Eagle Rock, says the only reason a Los Angeles thief failed in getting away with his car Tuesday evening was the fact that it couldn't be started. McClay parked between Second and Third on Spring street. When he returned a short time later he found that someone had attempted to drive the flivver off but it had a balky streak on and refused to budge. Mr. McClay found his registration papers and plate on the street. The car had been torn into shreds, evidently in an attempt to prevent recovery from that means.

BILL ASKS STATE TO BUILD HOMES

Cement Manufacture Urged In Measure Sponsored by Bay City Solon

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—Two measures, one of which is designed to put the state into the cement manufacturing business and the other the building of homes for poor people, were introduced in the senate today by Senator Daniel C. Murphy of San Francisco. The cement act provides for an appropriation of 750,000 to be handled by the state board of works, and to be used in the manufacture, distribution and use of cement and cement products.

In the house-building act, along the lines of the land settlement act, Senator Murphy would place the administration of the project in the hands of the state housing and immigration commission. A fund of $2,000,000 is provided, of which $1,950,000 is to be used as a revolving fund for home building, and the rest as an administration allowance.

Bare Campaign Funds

The wheels of the government were today set in motion to compel big power companies, the trust companies and all their financial allies who helped to defeat the water and power act, the lawyers' bill and other similar measures on the last ballot, to bare their campaign expenses.

Prospect for Debt Settlement Bright

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Additional instructions being forwarded to Washington by Premier A. Bonar Law are expected to lead to an understanding between the United States and Great Britain for the funding of the $5,000,000,000 British debt to this government. Montagu Collet Norman, governor of the Bank of England, and one of the British debt envoys, informed the International News Service.

"Whatever is done now or in the future will be entirely up to the British cabinet in London," Governor Norman said. "In the meantime, we are continually striving to get somewhere. Chancellor Baldwin and myself are not here for a dead-lock, but for a live-lock."

Norman indicated that he might remain in Washington next week to continue the discussions with the American debt commission.

Maintain Army at Present Strength

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—After turning down all proposals to reduce the size of the army by trimming the appropriations for the fiscal year 1923-24, the house has approved the provision in the war department appropriation bill fixing the strength of the military establishment at 12,000 officers and 125,000 enlisted men—the present authorized strength. It was accepted without a record vote.

SOUVENIRS OF CUPID MAKE FUEL

Crown Point, Indiana, is known as the American Gretna Green and it is asserted more people are married there yearly than in any other town in the United States. But the warmth of young love couldn't keep Justice of the Peace Howard H. Kemp, the marrying justice, warm during the coal famine, so he gathered up the hundreds of boxes that had contained wedding rings, which had been left in his office, and kept the home fires burning.

MEMBERS OF EXCHANGE CLUB TAKE COUE'S PRESCRIPTION

Well, Anyway, They Are Getting Better and Better—They Say So Themselves, What?

Pep yesterday noon in the Broadway Inn marked the weekly luncheon of the Glendale Exchange club.

"I must say that some of you fellows must have been studying Coue," remarked Harry James of 211 East Broadway in his introduction to "a few old English stories." "Day by day, in every way, you seem to be getting better and better. I am sure that we are going to hear more from the Exchange Club."

As a token of appreciation of his talent as a professional preparator, Mr. James was invited to join the caravan of local Exchangeites who are leaving the corner of San Fernando road and Brand boulevard exactly at noon Saturday for a week-end at Lebec.

Ex-President W. B. Kelly of 108 West Colorado street stated that it was up to the local club to show Exchangeites of other clubs, who will attend this affair, that Glendale is on the map.

Service of Benefit "Community Service" was the topic of a brief speech by M. Walters, a member of the firm of Francis-Barnum-Walters, subdividers of Sparr Heights.

"The idea back of Community Service," he remarked, "is similar to the motto of your own club: 'Unity for Service.' Community Service, if extended properly throughout Glendale, will be of vast benefit to all of us."

The new community building in Sparr Heights was mentioned by Mr. Walters. He said that he had recently inspected the $120,000 community building at Atascadero and expressed an opinion that any one who refused to contribute to a paltry budget of $2000 or $3000 for this year's work, locally, was a "piker."

Chicago's community centers were mentioned by Fred S. Hill of 110 South Orange street, who said that they have certainly proven useful.

Rotarian George B. Karr of 1725 South Brand boulevard called attention to the fact that no one was obligated to pay $25 toward the support of the Community Service work but that for those who wished to do so, a complimentary dinner would be held on January 28.

Black Cat Mascot The Exchange Club voted to buy one dinner ticket to be presented at the next session as the attendance prize. The brief discussion was the subject of much enthusiasm.

A black cat with his back arched into a chiropactic attitude of contempt was officially adopted as the club's mascot. Young Tom was poised to gaze into a rat hole in a strongbox in which members of the club will be expected to make contributions to the club by an infraction of the rules, they have injured the mascot's sense of pride in the club. The outside of the box bore the inscription: "Let your conscience be your guide."

The attendance prize was an order donated by George B. Karr from the Baldwin Shirt company at 1725 South Brand boulevard for a tailor-made shirt. This was won by J. C. May of 265 East Broadway. Catechisms were heard from all parts of the room and Exchangeite May was on his way to make the first deposit in the "kitty" when Sergeant-At-Arms Sutton of 112 South Maryland avenue started to auction off the shirt. He was assisted by Dr. Jim Belyea of 111 East Broadway who took a keen interest. The bidding had gotten up to four dollars and was going strong when Mr. May decided that he might need a shirt to wear to Lebec.

Harmony in Glassware Capt. D. Ripley Jackson of 1800 South Brand boulevard, orator, tenor, poet and postmaster, admitted the authorship of a song to the tune of "Jingle Bells" which was sung to the tapping of glasses both at the commencement and conclusion of the luncheon.

"Here we are again, in sunshine or rain, putting all our cares aside for an hour or so of fun," says the first verse, while the second verse continues: "Let us make these old walls ring and let our voices out. Get in the chorus good and strong and show that we can sing."

A big "wow" goes at the end of the following chorus: "Unity, unity, service for us all. Glendale first, Glendale last, and Glendale for us! Pick it up, boost it up, make it jump and pop. U. S. A. for all of us and Glendale on the top!"

THEATRES

The Glendale

The bigness in every way of Goldwyn's great picture, "The Sin Flood," cannot be expressed in a word, a phrase, or a sentence—or in a hundred words, phrases or sentences. All the old adjectives have been used until they are frayed at the edges. "Big" is no longer significant. "Great" has almost lost its meaning. "Wonderful" has been shouted out of recognition.

Manager William Howe, therefore, presents "The Sin Flood" to his patrons at its face value, leaving them to decide after seeing it just what it has meant to them in fresh inspiration and strength. All he will say is that it is a motion picture of outstanding merit, carrying a great human message. The author is Henning Berber and the director is Frank Lloyd, who made "Madame X."

The T. D. & L.

"Ebb Tide" is another strong Paramount of the all-star cast type, now showing at the T. D. & L., and breathes romance and thrills from the first scene to the last. Among those appearing are Lila Lee, Jacqueline Logan, James Kirkwood, Noah Berry, Raymond Hatton and George Fawcett. The night scenes in this picture are among the most artistic and realistic that have come to the reviewer's attention. The locale is partly Tahiti and partly a peering island far in the South Seas. Several of the sequences that are real thrillers are a fight with an octopus, a burning ship, a storm at sea. The story is a picturization of the alluring classic by Robert Louis Stephenson and Lloyd Osbourne, and there isn't a dull moment in it.

DEMOCRATIC BEE STARTS BUZZING

Mystery Shrouds Gathering Of Party Chiefs in National Capital

By GEORGE R. HOLMES For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Important conferences that may have an important bearing on the Democratic presidential campaign in 1924 are being held in Washington this week, participated in by Woodrow Wilson, William Gibbs McAdoo, William Jennings Bryan and leading Democrats in congress. No program is being followed. Apparently the conversations "just happened so." Nevertheless, they are regarded by politicians today as highly important.

Mr. McAdoo is a house guest of his father-in-law. Mr. Bryan just "happened" into Washington, he said, at the time of Mr. McAdoo's visit. It is the first time the ex-secretary of the treasury has visited the capital since he changed his residence from New York to California.

Call Upon Leaders Both Bryan and McAdoo assured all questioners their presence had to do entirely with personal and private business. It was noted, however, that this private business took them post-haste to the capital to see virtually all the Democratic leaders in congress during the first 48 hours of their visits.

One of the first results of the conversations is expected to be a stiffening of the Democratic minority in favor of an extra session of congress soon after March 4. The Democrats are going to be numerically powerful in the sixty-eighth congress. They wish to take advantage of that fact.

OPENS TENT AND AWNING FACTORY

W. T. Gilliam Picks Glendale As Business Site After Looking Over State

Another industry has been added to Glendale's constantly-growing list with the opening by W. T. Gilliam of a tent and awning manufacturing business at 210 East Broadway, where a force of several hands will be employed for the present, and, as the business grows, additional employees will be added to the payroll.

Mr. Gilliam comes to Glendale after spending the greater part of two years prospecting every part of this state for a location that could be regarded, in every respect, as suitable. His decision to settle here comes as the result of his observations, and he is convinced that this city offers an unequalled opportunity to develop his business into one of the most important in the Southland.

Mr. Gilliam has been, for the past ten years, associated with the Carnie, Goudie Manufacturing company of Kansas City, Mo., one of the largest tent and awning firms in the country, during part of which he acted as sales manager, and before going to the Kansas City firm he had spent the greater part of his business life in this line of work, mastering every detail of it. He has secured the services of several expert workmen to assist him in his new venture, one of whom has had over six years Los Angeles experience.

Mrs. Harding Shows Steady Improvement

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The recovery of Mrs. Harding is now assured, her physicians said today. The past half month has marked the most hopeful period of the "first lady's" convalescence that her physicians have noticed since last September, when her near fatal illness set in. The wheel chair to which Mrs. Harding was confined for the past few months has been virtually discarded. She is able to walk about the rooms of the White House again and almost nightly she presides at dinner in the dining room on the lower floor.

General Sawyer and Lieutenant Boone, her physicians, are greatly encouraged by the marked improvement of the last two weeks. They predicted that March 6 will find Mrs. Harding fully capable of negotiating the trip south with the President.

Asks Committee to Probe Oil Prices

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 18.—Assemblyman Charles B. Dawson of Huntington Park, Los Angeles, has introduced a resolution in the assembly calling for appointment of a committee by the legislature to make a thoroughgoing investigation of the oil industry and methods whereby prices on oil and gasoline are fixed. This is merely a preliminary. Dawson said, to legislation designed to make the oil industry a public utility, subject to the same regulation as the railroads and power companies.

SPORTS

The World Over

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE.
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Ray Archer says he'd hate to have Jess Willard get into the ring with either Floyd Johnson or Brennan because he would slaughter them. A slaughter of this pair by Willard would be the most likely thing in the world to put the public in a mood to think that he might then stand a chance with Dempsey.

Did you ever see a big bear try to do the shimmy and other delicate and tripping feats of foot work? That's about what Willard looks like when he starts off to shadow box these days. All the king's horses and all the king's men couldn't put Humpty-Dumpty up again, and the same goes with Jess instead of Humpty.

San Francisco golfers complain that the habit of passengers on the ferry boats crossing the bay who feed the gulls biscuits, tossing them out to be caught on the wing, is seriously interfering with the game. They claim that when they drive a ball on the links, gulls see it, think it is a biscuit hurtling through the air, and make a stab for it. If they don't get it, it at least deflects the ball from its proper course and spoils the shot. Golf players certainly are a finicky lot.

It is an open secret that Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion, still is nursing that bug of returning again to the ring. It is said that he visits a local gymnasium several times a week and goes through the various stunts usually employed by boxers in training. There is more than likely to be considerable truth in this by reason of the fact that Ritchie, who, of late has been a regular player on the links of the Olympic club, has been missing from the course. Willie probably is figuring that if Jess Willard is entitled to another crack at the crown, so is he. Willie is not as aged as Willard by quite a batch of years, either.

Ad Santel, the light heavy-weight champion wrestler, who used to make his home in San Francisco, has moved his domicile to Los Angeles. Latest reports are that Santel is doing a lot of wrestling with a bear that weighs several times more than he does. The inference is that Ad again is going to try and get matches out of the big fellows as men of his own weight stand no chance against him and he has wrestled himself out of all matches with the lighter men. There was a time when Santel was capable of giving Lewis, Stecher and others of the heavy division a run for their money, but he never was quite heavy enough to stand the gauntlet. He now, undoubtedly, has passed his prime in the ring, and there is less chance than ever of his being able to grab the heavyweight title. Perhaps the bear stunt may have something to do with the movie game.

WILLARD WANTS TO BATTLE CHAMP

Refuses to Meet Johnson or Gibbons in Spite of Money Offers

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—That Jess Willard is here to get a match with Jack Dempsey, and none other, was proved conclusively when it became known today that he came out on his flat feet and declined to meet either Floyd Johnson or Tom Gibbons in March, April or any other time.

Willard was the first man sought by those in charge of the local milk fund to appear in a bout here in March. He refused to do business in spite of the fact that he was offered more money than he had hoped to receive for any match, with the exception of Dempsey.

Corporations Evade Sur-Taxes, Charge

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—A resolution requesting Secretary Mellon for full information regarding what, if any, penalties have been imposed upon corporations accused of evading sur-taxes by declaring stock dividends was adopted unanimously by the senate. Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, author of the resolution, read into the record a long list of corporations he charged with such evasions.

Wardens of State Prisons Face Probe

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—Governor Friend W. Richardson announced he has received complaints that wardens of the state's prisons are violating the law by furnishing the names of prisoners about to be discharged to police officers. The governor's statement said the complaint would be referred to the prison directors who appoint the wardens.

With the indoor athletic meets coming on and the high caliber of the performers on the list of college and athletic clubs, a good many old records are not sleeping these nights. For, when these stars swing into action, there are bound to be some old marks sent into the discard.

Among the indoor sprinters Bob McAllister, the flying cop, holds a majority of the short distance indoor records. McAllister is a member of the police force of New York City and runs under the colors of the Glencoe A. C. By beating Bernie Wefers, Jr., and Jackson Scholz, former Western Conference champion, Bob proved that he was no flash in the pan. In one meet held at the 13th Regiment Armory, New York City, last season, he established new world's records for 110, 120, 130, and 150 yards. His time of 0:12 3/5 is only 1-5 of a second slower than the outdoor mark set by Charles Paddock, the California speed marvel, for 130 yards.

At the top of this form this Irish cop is some thirt years old. Things with college sprint records who try to make a get-away on foot along Bob's beat have a few surprises coming to them.

With McAllister, the Man o'War of the indoor track, and Charles Paddock, showing his heels to all competition on outdoor tracks, it would be a mighty interesting race should these two speedsters ever meet.

GOLF FANS SEE SARAZEN AT WORK

Youthful Prodigy Presents Great Array of Shots In Exhibition

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
174 Riverdale Drive, Glendale
Yesterday afternoon several hundred fans watched Gene Sarazen, the national open and professional golf champion, display his marvelous array of shots. Jack Hutchison, British champion, assisted the youthful prodigy in the exhibition.

Sarazen started the program with a mashie shot, getting some beauties for 150 yards or more. Next he showed various strokes with the mashie iron, midiron and driving iron. After these he demonstrated the uses of the mashie nible and then his world-famous stroke with the back spin mashie. This shot is played with a mashie having a ribbed face, which gives the ball a reverse spin, and causes it to stop within a foot or two of where it lands. The stroke was invented a few years ago by Jack Hutchison, and from him Sarazen learned it. During the demonstration, before each stroke was played, the various characteristics of the shot, the position, swing-back, and follow-through were explained and pointed out.

Points Out Faults
While the champion rested, Jack Hutchison demonstrated to the crowd the fundamentals of a stroke, also pointing out the average beginner's faults. He also showed more closely how the back spin shot is played.

Sarazen concluded the program with some beautiful brassie and driver shots. Some of his drives carried for nearly 300 yards, and the brassie shots were all good for 200 to 250 yards. All of the champion's strokes were played with an apparently effortless swing, which was perfectly timed and executed.

During the exhibition the spectators showed the utmost courtesy. Jack Hutchison added to the program with a few spicy remarks. Dan Tobey did the announcing.

FEEL HEAVY SHOCKS

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Jan. 18.—Mountain resorts and towns along the foothills of the Big Horn mountains reported earthquake shocks. Dishes were hurled from cabinets, utensils tossed from stoves and shelves and a loud roar accompanied the shocks, which lasted forty seconds.

SPORTS CHATTER

Back in the 1910 Pacific Coast League baseball season a record for strikeouts was made by Pitcher Vean Gregg of the Portland team that still stands today as a world record of modern baseball. During the season Gregg played a total of 51 games of which he won 32 and lost 18. He pitched a total of 395 innings and struck out 367 batsmen that being the mark for one season that still stands.

The present rule regarding the distance of the pitcher's plate from the home plate dates back to 1889 with the distance being 60 feet. Prior to that the distance was 50 feet and in 1886 during this latter reign of fifty feet pitching distance M. Kilroy of the Baltimore team set a record of strike outs for the season of 505. No one ever will in modern baseball in minor or major league play ever come up to that record.

The caliber of Gregg's record of 1910 can best be judged when it is known that the National League strike out record is 345 and was made in 1890—the year after the diteration of the pitching rule—by A. Rusie of New York. The American League record is 343 by Waddell of Philadelphia made in 1904.

In the 1910 season Van Grege hurled phenomenal ball and on August 19 against Oakland struck out 16 men in the nine innings and this is also a Coast League

Ted Thye Defeated First Time 10 Years

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 18.—Two thousand wildly excited wrestling fans saw Mike Yokel of Salt Lake defeat Ted Thye of Portland last night. It was one of the most sensational bouts ever witnessed here. Thye held the upper holds the greater part of the time but after an hour and 52 minutes of wrestling was suddenly flopped with a head chancery. It was his first defeat in ten years. Pete Sawyer, holder of the light heavyweight championship belt, will meet Yokel here next Wednesday.

OLD FRIENDS AND OLD BOOKS

I have just been re-reading a book which I have read many times before.

A friend who found me poring over the shabby volume asked me if there were not enough new books to read that I must go back and read that over for the nth time.

One might as well ask why one should enjoy being with an old friend when there are so many new people worth knowing whom one might be cultivating.

I love to re-read a book as I can stand it quite as well as I can do to read something new. Especially if it is a book that I have owned and marked on previous occasions, or that some other member of the household or some friend has marked.

Reading with a Pen

Yes, I freely admit that I have that habit, called reprehensible by some, of reading with a pencil. I love to mark or annotate favorite passages at one period of my life and re-read them at another. And as for being cruel to the book,—what is the book but the author and I don't believe he minds. Indeed, I will wager he is pleased to have me take that vital an interest in him.

Of course, a great many books cannot stand re-reading. They shrink and diminish and cheapen and leave you wondering what you cared so much for.

But other books grow more full of meaning with every year you live.

"An old picture," wrote Harriet Beecher Stowe once, "a tragedy which I knew by heart, a hackneyed romance, a talk with a friend, afforded me surprise. Such things had a new meaning. I knew then what experience is and I saw that sorrow teaches truth."

WOMAN IN $50,000,000 MINE SUIT

Mrs. Mary Eileen Cunningham Morrison

A suit involving $50,000,000 has been filed in the United States court at Tucson, Arizona, by Mrs. Mary Eileen Cunningham Morrison, her husband, John M. Morrison, a prominent Boston attorney, and Mrs. Julia C. Kenney, Mr. Morrison's sister, seeking half interest in the Calumet & Arizona Mining company and the Lake Superior & Western Development company. The story harks back to the eighties, at Tombstone, Arizona, when Patrick Cunningham formed partnership with Martin Costello, and together they discovered mines worth fabulous sums. Cunningham was killed in an accident, and Costello, it is alleged, disposed of his partner's holdings without permission. Mrs. Cunningham brought suit, and Costello committed suicide.

BEAUTY CHATS

A MISUNDERSTOOD TYPE

No girl wants to be thought mannish—no so-called mannish traits are becoming to many types and should be more common than they are.

The habit of straight thinking, which men are pleased to think is an attribute of their sex, is a habit that most women would cultivate. A woman is supposed to think vaguely, her mind is said to go round in a circle—and too often it's true. The habit of looking at a subject squarely, without taking in too many unrelated circumstances, is supposed to be "masculine"—and I notice that old-fashioned women haven't it, and that up-to-date ones have.

But we don't want to get into a deep discussion. Certain qualities of straightforward honesty, loyalty, and above all, leniency in judging others are supposed to be mannish, but every woman should cultivate them.

There's one type of girl, however, who is always called "mannish" and who isn't really, who results in this term intensely. I know one of her name—Barbara M. Barbara's men friends call her a good sport and a good pal, and don't flit with her nor hold her hand under such sentimental influences as the moon, because they know her "masculine" sense of humor will make her laugh at them. They call her "masculine" because she's efficient in her work, because she sharpens a pencil correctly—though what that has to do with it, is beyond me!—because she throws a ball well, throwing from the shoulder, not the elbow, because she walks with an easy swing, swims well

Practical Housekeeping by Florence Austin Chase

COUNCIL TABLE

Q. When should I start my Parker House rolls to have them ready for 6 o'clock dinner?

A. Since the best Parker House rolls are started with a batter, you will need to start them about noon. Start the batter with the liquid, a very little salt and sugar, the dissolved yeast and enough flour to make a batter that will heat up well. Let it get very light, then add the shortening and the remaining sugar and flour to make a soft dough.

Q. When lemon pie is made with milk, at what time is lemon juice added to prevent the mixture from curdling?

A. Cream the sugar, butter and egg yolks together, then add the lemon juice, then gradually add the milk.

Q. When I bake my cakes they always burn around the edges before they cook inside. I always have my fire turned as low as possible. Is the oven too hot when I put them in or where does the fault lie?

A. The oven should be heated to the temperature desired for baking cake before putting cake in. I suspect you light your oven heater before it is necessary. I usually light my oven when I am ready to cut and fold in the whites of eggs. If the oven is too hot the cake will crust over before it has a chance to rise to its proper height. I find 350 to 380°F about the right temperature for cakes containing both whites and yolks of eggs and this temperature should be maintained during the entire baking.

Q. Should a floor lamp be near the fireplace?

A. Floor lamps, like all other lamps, are placed for use, where they will throw light for reading, for operating the phonograph, etc.

Q. I have found your talks on "What to Eat to Gain Flesh" very helpful. Sweet milk does not agree with me; would good, rich buttermilk do as well, if so, should it be taken with the meals or between, and about how much a day?

Q. What is the name of the iron used for making the shells used for "Peas in Cases"?

A. It is known as "Patty Irons." There are two irons and a handle in these.

Q. Which is better for one, black coffee or coffee with cream and sugar?

A. Coffee is a stimulant and will agree with the average adult

Diet and Health By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Doctor:

"So far I am only 2 1/2 pounds overweight but my general trend is upward. What I want to ask is, should a person only a few pounds overweight follow the same program as a person 40 or 50 pounds overweight? I have an inclination to bronchial trouble. Otherwise I am nearly perfectly well.—P. B."

I like this, that our column is interesting persons in keeping their normal weight as well as those who are reducing and gaining their weight. You are very wise, Mrs. P., to begin to have concern about yourself now, for if your trend is upward now, for an upward trend, contrary to usual upward trends, should be discouraged rather than encouraged. It is much easier to prevent overweight than it is to get rid of it. A pound in time saves nine.

Probably one low calorie day a week, of 500 or 600 calories during the day, would keep you at normal weight, or you can cut out half your bread and butter. You can have your calories of any person. Use food value only in proportion to the amount of cream and sugar used. Bitter coffee is the better with dinner.

Q. Are the fruit rolls to be served hot or cold? They are usually served with a hot drink at the close of a meal.

A. The fruit rolls may be served either hot or cold.

Q. When do you salt chicken when frying?

A. Before frying chicken it is usually dipped in egg and meal or flour, and in that case it is salted before dipping, to insure its being well seasoned.

Q. When waffles are tough, is the trouble more likely to be in the batter or in the cooking of them?

A. Of course, to have good waffles the batter must be right. The eggs should be separated, well beaten, and the batter itself be beaten until smooth and very light. The waffle iron must be hot to cook the waffles to a crisp brown.

Q. How many minutes do you percolate your coffee after it starts to percolate?

A. After the water actually starts to boil in the percolator, five minutes is sufficient.

Q. Where do you place biscuit in the oven to cook properly and what temperature should the oven be?

A. Biscuit should be placed in shallow pan or biscuit sheet, put near top part of gas oven heated to about 400 degrees Fahrenheit.

PARIS UTILIZING NEW ART METAL

Gold and Silver Produced so Truthfully as to Defy Detection

PARIS, Jan. 18. — Proverbial French thrift together with continued high war-time prices have combined to bring the market an interesting substitute for expensive materials to be used for decoration, such as bronze, copper, silver, wood, enamel and marble.

"French genius," wrote Paul Follot, the master of artistic decoration, several years ago, "will succeed one day in discovering mechanical methods which will permit artistic objects of luxury to be enjoyed by families of most modest revenue. We must break with the old methods which have been used for centuries. The engineer, the manufacturer and the chemist must all collaborate with the artist to realize the famous adage, 'Mens agitat formam.'"

Cheap New Product

Follot's prediction has been crystallized in this new process of metallization with a plastic composition, resistant and yet light, having the same density, thickness, weight and tone of the metal to be copied. It offers the same advantages of strength and endurance as real bronze, gold, silver and copper.

The decoration of the exterior of business houses and other buildings is fast going on in Paris by this new method, as well as the interior ornamentation of cafes, casinos, banks and churches. The great cupola of the latest Parisian dry goods store, Le Printemps, which was destroyed by fire last year, is now being decorated with "bronze" scrolls and figures as beautiful as the "real thing," and architects declare they will defy time and weather for the same length of time.

Low-Priced Tiling

For floors there is an excellent composition imitating marble and tiles, in all colors and grains. There are chimney-pieces of sculptured stone and marble—chests, lampstands and innumerable objects of ornament. Wood is made by the same process—panels for doors, ceilings and furniture. The great cupola of old woodwork, which enables historic chateaux and churches to be restored in perfect taste and with infinitely less expense. Altar ornaments, old ivory crucifixes and candelabra, which give the exact reproduction of the real material in color and substance, preserve all the delicate touches of the artist.

Metallized glassware is another specialty of this house, which is introducing the new process. Large perfumeers are bringing to them their delicate flacons to be turned into handsome "silverized" ones, which are unbreakable as well as beautiful. Vases and jugs of pottery that will not break into a thousand pieces when dropped are products of the same composition; in fact, there is no end to the number of objects which are manufactured and sold to meet the needs of the artistic French people.

The MUCKER

by Edgar Rice Burroughs

"Come where?" asked Billy Byrne.

"To the camp of the liberator of poor, bleeding Mexico—to General Francisco Villa."

"Nothin' doin'," said Billy. "I am hooked up with this Pesita person now, an' I guess I'll stick. He's given me more of a run for my money in the last twenty-four hours than I've had since I parted from my dear old friend, the Lord of Yoka."

"Bat Senor Captain," cried Miguel, "you do not mean to say that you are going back to Pesita? He will shoot you down with his own hand when he has learned what has happened here."

"I guess not," said Billy.

"You'd better go with Miguel," Billy urged Bridge. "Pesita will not forgive you this. You've cost him eight men today and he hasn't any more men than he needs at best. Besides you've made a monkey of him and unless I miss my guess you'll have to pay for it."

"No," said Billy. "I kind o' like this Pesita gen. I think I'll stick around with him for a while yet. Anyhow until I've had a chance to see his face after I've made my report to him. You guys run along now and make your get-away good, an' I'll beat it back to camp."

He crossed to where the two horses of the slain marksmen were hidden, turned one of them loose and mounted the other.

"So long, boss!" he cried, and with a wave of his hand wheeled about and spurred back along the trail over which they had just come.

Miguel and Bridge watched him for a moment, then they, too, mounted and turned away in the opposite direction. Bridge recited no verse for the balance of that day. His heart lay heavy in his bosom, for he missed Billy Byrne, and was fearful of the fate which awaited him at the camp of the bandit.

Billy, by the way as a lark, rode gaily back along the trail to the camp. He looked forward with unalloyed delight to his coming in the wild, half-savage life which association with the bandit promised. All his life had Billy Byrne fed upon excitement and adventure. As gangster, thug, holdup man and second-story artist Billy had found food for his appetite within the dismal, sooty streets of Chicago's great West Side, and then he had fled to the sagebrush and shore of Yoka to find other forms of adventure where the best that is in a strong man may be brought out in the stern battle for existence against primeval men and conditions. The West Side had developed only Billy's basest characteristics. He might have slipped back easily into the old ways had it not been for her and the recollection of that which he had read in her eyes. Love had been there; but greater than that to hold a man into the straight and narrow path of decency and honor had been respect and admiration. It had seemed incredible to Billy that a goddess should feel such things for him—for the same man her scornful lips once had branded as coward and mucker; yet he had read the truth aright, and since then Billy Byrne had done his best according to the light that had been given him to deserve the belief she had in him.

So far there had crept into his consciousness no disquieting doubts as to the consistency of his recent action in joining the force of a degrading Mexican outlaw. Billy knew nothing of the political conditions of the republic. Had Pesita told him that he was president of Mexico, Billy could not have disputed the statement from any knowledge of facts which he possessed. As a matter of fact about all Billy had ever known of Mexico was that it had some connection with an important place called Juarez where running meets were held.

To Billy Byrne, then, Pesita was a real general, and Billy, himself, a bona fide captain. He had entered an army which was at war with some other army. What they were warring about Billy knew not, nor did he care. There should be fighting and he loved that—that much he knew. The ethics of Pesita's warfare troubled him not. He had heard that some great American general said: "War is hell." Billy was willing to take his word for it, and accept anything which came in the guise of war as entirely proper and as it should be.

The afternoon was far gone when Billy drew rein in the camp of the outlaw band. Pesita with the bulk of his raiders was out upon some excursion to the north. Only half a dozen men lolled about, smoking or sleeping away the hot day. They looked at Billy in evident surprise when they saw him riding in alone; but they asked no questions and Billy offered no explanation—his report was for the ears of Pesita only.

The balance of the day Billy spent in acquiring further knowledge of Spanish by conversing with those of the men who remained awake, and asking innumerable questions. It was almost sundown when Pesita rode in. Two riders in the rear of the little column and three men swayed painfully in their saddles and their clothing was stained with blood.

Evidently Pesita had met with resistance. There was much volatile chattering on the part of those who had remained behind in their endeavors to extract from their returning comrades the details of the day's enterprise. By piecing together the various scraps of conversation he could understand Billy discovered that Pesita had ridden far to demand tribute from a wealthy ranchero, only to find that word of his coming had preceded him and brought a large detachment of Villa's regulars who concealed themselves about the house and outbuildings until Pesita and his entire force was well within close range.

"We were lucky to get off as well as we did," said an officer.

Billy grinned inwardly as he thought of the pleasant frame of mind in which Pesita might now be expected to receive the news that eight of his troopers had been killed and his two "guests" safely removed from the sphere of his hospitality.

And even as his mind dwelt delightedly upon the subject a ragged Indian carrying a carbine and with heavy silver spurs strapped to his bare feet approached and saluted him.

"General Pesita wishes Senor Captain Byrne to report to him at once," said the man.

"Sure Mike!" replied Billy, and made his way through the pandemonium of the camp toward the headquarters tent.

As he went he slipped his hand inside his shirt and loosened something which hung beneath his left arm.

"Lil' ol' ace-in-the-hole," he murmured affectionately.

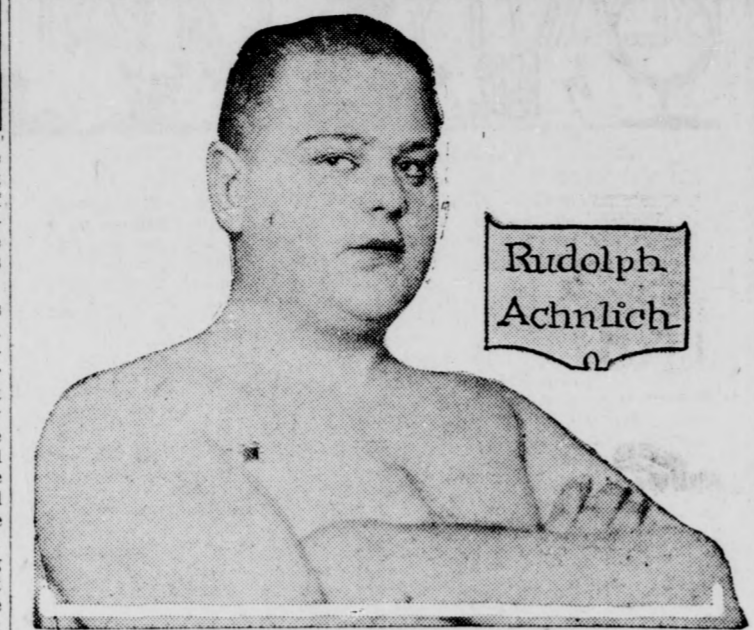

He found Pesita pacing back and forth before his tent—an energetic bundle of nerves which no amount of hard riding and fighting could tire or discourage.

Daily News Letter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad.

TODAY—Co-education, on the American plan, is strongly condemned by Chinese assemblymen, writes Edna Lee Booker.

TOMORROW—Crime is rampant in Germany, writes Karl M. Elish, Berlin correspondent.

By EDNA LEE BOOKER, For International News Service SHANGHAI, Jan. 18.—A strong protest against co-education in China has been lodged with the Kiangsu Provincial Assembly by leading Assemblymen on the grounds that the "evil system" of co-education is incompatible with the Chinese conception of morality.

Co-education, as it exists in America, was denounced also by certain Assemblymen who have studied and traveled in the States.

One of the Assemblymen is quoted as having told the staid, dignified body of Chinese officials that in the American co-educational institutions stress is not laid on learning.

"The 'co-ed' schools and colleges were 'marriage marts' rather than institutions for study," he stated, "and the young men made themselves laughing stocks by dressing up in faddish clothing, giving more time to the selection of neckties, socks and ties than history, and went through foolish antics in order to win the interest of the fair co-eds."

The co-eds were heavily scored. Certain Assemblymen painted a sad picture of the modern American girl. They said that their interest was not in their studies, but in "shaking their eyes" so as to attract a future husband.

The Assemblymen held up their long slim hands in horror. If co-education was bad for the boys and girls of America—what would co-education do to the young men and women of China?

The whole fabric of Chinese society falls to pieces with the inauguration of the co-educational system, assert the Assemblymen.

Because "it," or the sense of propriety, as taught by the Chinese sages, requires the strict separation of the sexes, they assert that the "indecent mixing up" of boys and girls in the same school room is condemnable.

They declare that the school will become, as in America, a "marriage mart," where "loose women without family backing and unscrupulous young men who are anxious to marry" will meet and that the school, instead of being revered as in the past, will be looked upon with contempt by those who understand the meaning of "Lien Ch'i," or "shame."

While admitting that the co-educational system may be sound economically, they hold that mere dollars and cents should not outweigh the moral issues involved.

The Assemblymen strongly asserted that the co-educational system in China might be taken as a preliminary step to the reform of the Chinese marriage customs which have been in vogue for centuries, but that this was not so.

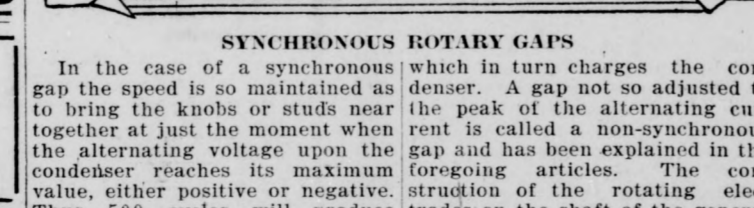

"The Chinese marriage customs are good and do not need to be reformed," asserted one Assemblyman. "Foreigners often meet their future mates in coffee houses, dance halls and school rooms, but the Chinese do not have to worry about this problem."

He declared that the prevalence of divorce cases in America and abroad indicated that the Chinese marriage system was far superior to that of any other country and that instead of the "foreigners" coming to China to reform, they should come here to learn.

The Kiangsu Provincial Assembly is a very influential body and its lead in striving to crush the movement for co-education in China, which is just making a wee start in this land of conservatism.

MODULATION TRANSFORMERS

The microphone or transmitter used in continuous wave radio telephony is connected, as a rule, to the oscillating system through a modulation transformer, which allows the C. W. to be properly varied at the voice frequencies. The transformer illustrated is suitable for this purpose; primary and secondary impedances are of the proper values to give satisfactory results. Care should, however, be observed not to overload the transformer, which under proper working conditions will not distort the speech.

SYNCHRONOUS ROTARY GAPS

In the case of a synchronous which in turn charges the condenser. A gap not so adjusted to bring the knobs or studs near together at just the moment when the alternating voltage upon the condenser reaches its maximum value, either positive or negative. Thus 500 cycles will produce 1,000 sparks per second. This regular occurrence of the discharge gives smooth and efficient operation, a pure musical note. The synchronizing is made possible by attaching the rotating element or wheel of the spark gap to the shaft of the alternator which supplies the electromotive force,

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

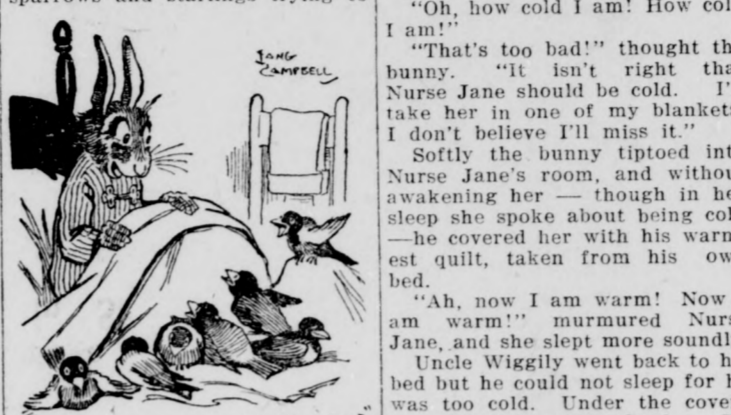

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE COLD BIRDS

Very cold was the weather in Woodland, where Uncle Wiggily lived in his hollow stump bungalow. It was even a bit cold in the bungalow, for coal was scarce and the bunny rabbit gentleman and his muskrat lady housekeeper, Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, shivered in their coats of fur.

"But it is worse for the birds than for us," said Uncle Wiggily to Nurse Jane. "The birds can not live in nests during the winter—to the warm South. Oh, the birds must be very much colder than we are, even if they have feathers."

"And they're hungry, too," said Nurse Jane, as she saw some sparrows and starlings trying to pick up a few crumbs where the wind had swept the snow from the ground.

"I'll throw them out some crumbs," offered Uncle Wiggily. And when he had scattered crumbs for the cold and hungry birds, the sparrows and starlings chirped:

"Thank you, Uncle Wiggily! Some day, perhaps, we can do you a favor."

"Pray don't mention it," begged the bunny with a polite wrinkle of his pink nose, even if it was a bit cold.

"That night it grew much colder—I mean the weather did—and of course Uncle Wiggily's nose was also cold likewise. When it came time to go to bed, Nurse Jane brought out all the blankets, quilts and comforters she could find in the hollow

Made $3,250,000 on Mammoth Oil Stock

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Sinclair oil interests realized $3,250,000, or approximately $17 a share, for selling shares of the Mammoth Oil company, a subsidiary controlling the naval oil reserve land at Tea Pot dome, Wyoming, Harry F. Sinclair, chairman of the board, testified before the senate oil investigating committee.

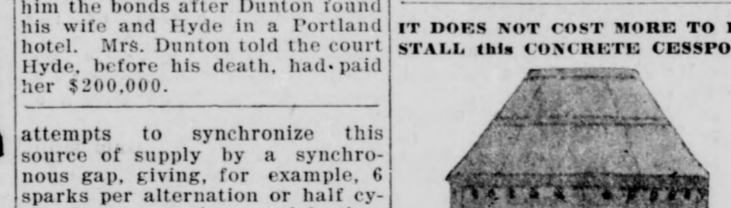

The Mammoth company was organized last February, just before Sinclair secured the Tea Pot dome lease in April, with an authorization of 2,500,000 shares which Sinclair assumed. One million shares were obtained later by the Sinclair corporation, an investment company controlled personally by Sinclair. 191,200 shares were donated to Mammoth and the remainder is held by Sinclair.

Judge Raps Husband In Suit for Bonds

AUGUSTA, Maine, Jan. 18.—In delivering a decision favorable to Mrs. Luella H. Dunton in her suit to take $1,000 bonds from her husband, Ralph, Judge Albert M. Spear today scathingly denounced Dunton for "accepting hush money" from the man he charged dishonored his wife. Dunton had testified John S. Hyde, late millionaire shipbuilder of Bath, gave him the bonds after Dunton found his wife and Hyde in a Portland hotel. Mrs. Dunton told the court Hyde, before his death, had paid her $200,000.

IT DOES NOT COST MORE TO INSTALL THIS CONCRETE CESSPOOL

attempts to synchronize this source of supply by a synchronous gap, giving, for example, 6 sparks per alternation or half cycle, have not given satisfaction, because the applied voltage is not the same at the time of the different sparks, and while the note is of a high pitch, it is not musical. Thus it is found better practice to use a non-synchronous gap in such a case, producing a large number of sparks per second and letting them occur whenever they may happen during the entire cycle. The irregularities will somewhat balance up. While sometimes the note is not strictly musical, it can, by means of the motor control or by adding more studs be made of a high pitch. In commercial practice frequencies as low as 60 cycles are being avoided and a standard of 500 cycles has been generally adopted. In amateur circles, however, the 60 cycle source is frequently the only one available, and the non-synchronous gap offers the best solution of the spark problem.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Circle's Success
 A reflection of the success of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle that meets every week at the Glendale city library, is seen in the organization of a reading club by Tujiunga women, who will meet for the first time tomorrow. The Glendale circle received a letter yesterday at the meeting from Mrs. Harry Lynch of Tujiunga inviting a representation to the meeting and asking for additional reading lists.
 Requests from all parts of California and the United States come to the Glendale women concerning the formation of the circle and its activities.
 The meeting yesterday began at the regular hour in the morning. Announcements were made of the High School Parent-Teacher association candy sale Friday and also of the school bond mass meeting tonight.
 One of the pleasurable features of the morning was the reading by Mrs. Alma J. Danford of an original sketch, "A New Year's Journey" (with apologies to John Galsworthy).
 Before the noon luncheon Mrs. Lydia Culp gave a review of an article by Dr. Crana on "Indecision," and Mrs. A. A. Barton conducted a series of get-acquainted games.
 Roll call opened the afternoon, when Mrs. Barton continued reading from Angelo Patri's book, "A Schoolmaster in a Great City."
With Mrs. Haynes
 The second regular meeting of the recently-organized home missionary society of the Broadway Methodist church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. J. Haynes, 472 West Patterson avenue. About a score of the charter members were in attendance, in addition to the following new members: Mrs. W. B. Gutschow of 210 North Dayton court, and Mrs. J. E. Morrison of 450 West Patterson avenue.
 The afternoon was spent in devotional and social services, after which the guests were served with several courses of refreshments. Prior to adjournment it was announced that the next meeting, which is to be held at the home of Mrs. E. Rumble, 111 North Central avenue on February 7, will be attended by the president, corresponding secretary and recording secretary of the Los Angeles county conference.
Utah and Idaho
 Utah and Idaho people living in Glendale are to take part Saturday, January 20, in a big rally and picnic outing of these states in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. It will be the opening event for the state societies of southern California.
 There will be the usual picnic features, county registers, office, souvenir badges and a program, in charge of H. G. Redwine and Vermeil Rapp.
 The young people of the California Mission will entertain with singing and G. O. Larson will be one of the speakers.
Section Hostesses
 Mesdames E. B. Sutton, Waldo Richardson and James Belyea were hostesses Tuesday afternoon at a most enjoyable meeting of the Matrons Young Matrons Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club of the Sutton home at 727 East Windsor Road.
 There were twenty-two club women present to enjoy the program arranged by Mrs. Julian Hayward. The feature of the afternoon was the study of Edith Wharton's "Glimpses of the Moon," conducted by Mrs. Hayward.
For Mrs. Kitterman
 Mrs. Charles L. Johnson and daughters, Misses Alice and Mildred Johnson of 314 North Central avenue, were hostesses yesterday afternoon at an informal luncheon celebrating Mrs. Frank R. Kitterman. Mrs. Kitterman assisted them so capably in decorating for the anniversary and announcement affair Tuesday night that the luncheon yesterday was a return courtesy. It was arranged to afford a group of Mrs. Kitterman's friends opportunity to see the artistic decorations.
Cousin Honored
 Mrs. Justin Cook of 712 South Pacific avenue entertained a number of her women friends yesterday with a 1 o'clock luncheon in honor of her cousin, Mrs. Sarah Crosby from Denver, Colo., who has been visiting in Southern California for two months.
 Eight covers were laid. The table was beautifully decorated, with a centerpiece of cyclamen and almond blossoms.
 The affair, which was a very enjoyable one, was in a way a Chicago reunion, as all eight women were former Chicagoans.
Plan Roundtable
 A roundtable for the presidents of all the Parent-Teacher associations in the city will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Acacia Avenue P.-T. A. meeting at the school. Mrs. Arthur Wilson, president, will preside.
 In addition Mrs. Shelton Bissell of Los Angeles, president of the First District P.-T. A. will speak and Mrs. Harry Girard will sing.
 The meeting will begin at 2 o'clock.

RICH MAN FIGHTS POWER INTERESTS

Millionaire Spreckels and Big Corporations Clash in 'Private War'

By GIL A. COWAN
Special to The Evening News

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—California today is in the midst of a little private war which has ramifications in almost every part of the state. In fact, it has become a political issue of no little consequence; an economic issue that threatens to block progress; and every day brings new developments which are closely watched by political observers, bankers and business men alike.

Briefly, it is Millionaire Rudolph Spreckels of San Francisco waging war on the power interests. And may it be known that many Bay City members of the legislature refer to him as "Our Friend Rudy." Ah, yes! Three of his employees, either directly or indirectly, were named to the railroad commission by Governor Stephens as a last minute slap at the corporations to whom he attributes his defeat for indorsing the water and power initiative act which was overwhelmingly defeated by a vote of the people.

More recent, however, was the action of the stockholders of the First National Bank of San Francisco in ousting Mr. Spreckels as president. He promptly jumped over to Sacramento and bought a string of Sacramento-San Joaquin valley institutions and re-established himself nicely.

Put to Big Expense

While Mr. Spreckels is juggling into position again and getting a great deal of pleasure out of the corporations trying to win favor from the newspapermen's governor, Friend Richardson, the power companies are put to an enormous expense of combatting the evil done by the propaganda so liberally dispensed during the last election.

Los Angeles, it was claimed by the advocates of the government ownership, operates its power projects at a profit. The corporation auditors find the southern metropolis is already $20,000,000 in the hole and the debt will have to be saddled off on the people, including any suburban districts which should be so unfortunate as to annex or consolidate at this critical moment when Los Angeles faces greater and greater bond outlay for sewage, drainage, etc. Something to think about if Mr. Spreckels keeps up the fight, and his family is noted for tenacity and financial strength.

High Cost of Living

Civil service investigations in the state of California reveal that it costs a workman $125 a month to support himself, his wife and one child comfortably. If he is a clerk not less than $173 is required.

The survey points out that its estimates are considerably higher than those of the state industrial welfare commission as it is expected civil service workers are on a higher level than the "poverty and pauper" classes.

"It is American standard," says the committee report, "for the individual to assume that his wages or salary should be at least sufficient to support him and his family group without additional source of income, whether by gift or property. We have precedent in all American life for the assumption that the husband's earnings shall be large enough not to force his wife to leave the home for wage work."

Expecting criticism, the report continues: "Any suspicion that the total allowed is large, will be dispelled by frank inspection, article by article, of the quantities assigned to each member of the family. Nothing but routine needs have been provided."

It is problematical whether the report, sensational as it is, will have any effect upon the salaries of the state employes, but certainly it has been proved that compensation provided clerks some years ago as conducive to obtaining the highest grade of help, has sunk to a level where only volunteers who already have established incomes may carry on the work of the government.

Jail for Speeders

Jail sentences for speeders are proposed in bills to be introduced in the legislature this week by Assemblyman W. J. Schmidt of the Bay City.

For the first offense he favors thirty days. Second time ninety days, to six months, and third offense permanent revocation of driver's license and a goodly number of days behind the bars in addition. Incidentally, he would examine everyone operating a car. Here's hoping Mr. Schmidt now observes all the rules he sets forth.

Power of Print

Governor Friend W. Richardson likes to see the newspapermen.

Further, he likes to read what they write. It is said he takes more interest in a clipping than he does a personal letter.

The letter represents only what one person thinks. The newspaper article reveals what anywhere from 1000 to 1,000,000 or more people are thinking.

Mr. Richardson knows the power of the newspaper. One interview usually equals a half dozen speeches. People forget that which they hear, but they can read and reread that which appears in public print.

Advertisers will well afford to follow the governor's thought in delivering messages to the people in the papers.

The News ads produce results.

ASQUITH MAY BE ENVOY TO U. S.

Herbert H. Asquith, former British premier and husband of the equally famous Margot Asquith, is reported ready to accept the post of British ambassador to the United States, taking the place of Sir Auckland Geddes, who, it is said, is ready to retire.

PLAN NEW TROOP OF BOY SCOUTS

Glendale Post of American Legion to Get Behind No. 4, Announced

"A new troop of Boy Scouts is to be organized in Glendale before another week passes," declared Col. James W. Everington, chairman of the American Legion committee this morning. "The Glendale post is going to sponsor the troop and furnish the leadership. We are going to have the best troop in the Verdugo Hills district," he added.

A meeting of the committee was held Wednesday night in the district scout office and plans were formulated for the organization of the new troop. The men selected from the American Legion to be on the troop committee are Col. James W. Everington, chairman; James F. McBryde, Chalmers Day, Drew Nicolas and Emil O. Kiefer. Eugene J. Wix was selected as scoutmaster.

Plan to Visit School

According to present plans the committee will visit the Wilson Avenue Intermediate school some time next Monday morning and tell the boys about the new troop that is to be formed and invite them to be charter members. The organization meeting will be held at the American Legion hall on Wednesday night, January 24. It is planned to have a very enthusiastic meeting at this time and several new stunts and games will be tried. This new troop will be known officially as Troop No. 4, Glendale.

SLAYERS' NAMES TO BE REVEALED

State Will Tear Mask From Hooded Mob Murderers At Open Hearing

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service

BASTROP, La., Jan. 18.—The veil of mystery surrounding the "hooded mob" which crucified Watt Daniel and Thomas F. Richards of Mer Rouge last August, was dropping today as the state of Louisiana moved to identify four of its members.

Witnesses were summoned to the open hearing to reveal the names of the first men thus far publicly linked with the black masked band which kidnaped the two Mer Rouge citizens in broad daylight on a country road. All four identifications will involve known knights of the Ku Klux Klan, it was said.

The men to be branded as kidnapers were in the mob which laid a death trap across the Bastrop-Mer Rouge road on the afternoon of August 24 last. As hundreds of Mer Rouge citizens were returning home from a baseball game and barbecue at Bastrop, they were halted in a woodland section by the black robed figures.

Five men were taken out of the passing machines. They were Daniel, Richards, C. C. "Tot" Davidson, W. C. Andrews and J. L. Daniels, father of Watt. The last three were released five hours later after Andrews and the elder Daniel had been severely flogged. Daniel and Richards were kept captives by a few members of the original mob and carried away to a Louisiana morass where they met death after barbaric torture.

COMMITTEE COMPLETES BUDGET TO PRESENT AT MASS MEETING

GLENDALE K. OF C. IS COMPLIMENTED

Visitors Have Praises for Organization Here; Program Is Enjoyable

That Glendale has one of the liveliest councils in the state was expressed last night by Hollywood, Pasadena and Los Angeles guests attending the Knights of Columbus meeting at the council house on Lomita avenue.

Grand Knight Harry Girard was in charge of the evening's program and introduced Supreme Agent Bob McKenzie of San Francisco, who gave an informal talk and entertained with some of his clever Scotch songs.

During the evening a unanimous vote was taken to Bishop John Joseph Catwell to appoint Rev. James S. O'Neill as chaplain of the Glendale council.

Past Grand Knight Cabot of Pasadena and six other Knights were present as well as other guests from Hollywood and Los Angeles.

Urge $500,000 Bond Issue for Schools

Will the mass meeting which will be held tonight in the assembly room at the Wilson Avenue Intermediate school to discuss the expansion of the grammar school system, take any definite action, or will the meeting merely be one of the present series?

This question is being asked today by members of the local board of education, parents and taxpayers.

The Citizens' Committee of Fifteen tonight will submit a revised budget and recommend the approval of a bond election to raise $500,000.

"We hope that we will either get support or a square turn down on the proposition so that we will know what to do," remarked Superintendent Richardson D. White this morning.

A. M. Kelly on Sales Force of Music Co.

A. M. Kelly of 1011 East Wilson avenue has joined the sales force of the Glendale Music company at 109 North Brand boulevard where he will spend a portion of his time teaching the violin and saxophone. Mr. Kelly is the organizer and director of the Shrine Club Orchestra.

PRE-COMMUNION SERVICES TONIGHT

Presbyterian Church People To Have Dinner and Then Start Conference

The pre-communion service tonight at the Glendale Presbyterian church will be preceded by a 6:30 o'clock dinner for officers and teachers of the Sunday school. After the dinner hour there will be a conference on the needs and problems and outlook of the school, in charge of H. L. Finlay, superintendent.

Then there will be a meeting at 7:30 o'clock with Andrew Johnson of Los Angeles as speaker. Mr. Johnson is superintendent of the Sunday school of the Open Door.

Dr. J. Marvin Dean of Pasadena will be the speaker at the meeting Friday night. His subject will be "Broken Earthenware." Dr. Dean is pastor of the First Baptist church of Pasadena. The service is known as "Family Night."

At the service Sunday morning a large number of new members will be publicly received and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed. Rev. Louis Finlay will preach tonight on "Broken Moorings." Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts, musical director, is arranging a special program for the service.

In addition to numbers by the quartet Miss Kilpatrick, soprano, and Mr. Mertins, bass, will sing. Miss Hazel Linkogel, violinist, and Eldon Benje, cornetist, will assist with the program.

Glendale Dancers Hit in San Diego

Mr. and Mrs. George Larkin of 1417 South Brand boulevard have just returned from an engagement at a theatre in San Diego, where their dancing act was very well received. Herbert Henning, also of Glendale, was at the piano and completed the trio.

The San Diego papers gave the act splendid notices, Mrs. Larkin states.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Keifer of 511 East Wilson avenue are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter, Dorothy Bell, Tuesday, January 16, 1923, at the Glendale Research hospital.

14 Bungalows Add To Housing Space

The housing capacity of Glendale will be materially increased when the fourteen attractive bungalows which are being erected by Frank R. Thomas on West Park avenue between Central avenue and Virginia Place are completed.

Each bungalow has its own garage and the court is of generous width, as the lot has a frontage on West Park avenue of 130 feet with a depth of 305 feet.

Altogether they exhibit some of the best features of bungalow building.

Radio Fans Listen To Glendale Tenor

Listeners in on the radio last night were delighted to hear the voice of Glendale's own tenor, Albert Bryant, who resides with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant of 1635 South San Fernando road.

Albert is known as the 17-year-old tenor who has made such a record among the radio fans. He has a fine lyric tenor which promises much in the future in musical circles.

His song, "That Old Irish Mother of Mine," seems to have made a hit all over the United States. There were forty calls for that song over the phone last night. One man said he had heard Mr. Bryant sing when he was in New York, Chicago and Boston, and now wanted to hear it in Los Angeles.

His program last night included this song, in which he was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Bryant, who is an accomplished musician on the piano. Other songs were "The Barefoot Trail" and "The Lamp-Lit Hour."
