MACKENZIE KING TOURS PRAIRIES

The Liberal leader will also with Senate appointments and characterized the appointment of Brigadier-General Macdonnell in the place of Claude Macdonnell as cold-blooded and heartless action. It had been made now, he said, because there was little likelihood of Hon. Claude Macdonnell recovering from his illness and the government wanted to fill all possible Senate seats with its supporters before it was too late.

Mr. King Declared the Country was Sick of Coalition

Mr. King declared the country was sick of coalition. "There is talk at present of Mr. Meighen and certain Liberals coalescing," he said, "but I can tell you as far as the Liberals are concerned there will be no coalition."

Crerar's Lively Meeting

Oshawa, Ont., Nov. 10.—(Canadian Press Correspondent)—In the industrial town of Oshawa to-night Hon. J. A. Crerar, a Crerar battle with hecklers. It was a mixed audience of farmers and industrial workers who he met and from the outset it was evident that the hecklers intended to make the meeting a lively one. As the interruptions came faster and faster, Mr. Crerar warned to the conflict and joined in sharp retorts to the hecklers. A question he would give a sharp reply, following it up with a question for the heckler. Now it was a case of the heckler being heckled and following on the heels of the heckler's query would come the counter observation of some indignant farmer.

The Trouble Began when Mr. Crerar was dealing with his tariff policy

The trouble began when Mr. Crerar was dealing with his tariff policy. He was claiming that the argument of a home market for the Canadian farmer would not stand examination when a questioner wanted to know if it was not a fact that the cities of Montreal and Toronto together contained 40 per cent of the population of Canada. If so, should not the Progressives, instead of passing "class legislation" for farmers, pay attention to the cities of Montreal and Toronto, but the total was considerable. "One of the effects of protection," he added, "is to build up big populations in cities."

Good Humored

The battle, while sharp, was good humored, and Mr. Crerar afterward continued to speak without further trouble. He charged that Canadian manufacturers in their demand for protection were like "timid children, afraid of the dark."

Prohibition and Gambling

MANY LEPROS FREED BY NEW TREATMENT

Chaulmoogra Oil Said to be Success in Curing Dread Disease

Honolulu, T. H., Nov. 11.—The chaulmoogra oil treatment for leprosy, evolved by Dr. A. L. Dean, president of the University of Hawaii, has produced "remarkable results" in checking the disease in Japan, according to Dr. R. Hoyoshima, director of the medical college of the Imperial University of Kioto, Japan, in an address here to leading members of the Japanese community.

Dr. Hoyoshima, who is here studying the latest developments in the specific, said that when the report of Dr. Dean's discovery reached Japan, chaulmoogra oil was prepared at the medical department of the Kioto university immediately and experiments were made on thirteen leprosy patients. Two months of treatment with the oil was not possible for laymen to recognize that the patients ever had been afflicted with leprosy.

"Our experiments resulted so favorably that the medical department of Kioto University has received numerous requests from leprosy patients to have the treatment administered to them, but our department has been unable to meet the demand. A large number of leprosy patients ask eagerly for the treatment, and this very day a great many of them are waiting for my return."

100,000 Lepros in Japan

Dr. Hoyoshima estimated that there are 100,000 persons in Japan afflicted with leprosy. The fact that chaulmoogra oil is a curative for leprosy was known in Japan before the discovery of Dr. Hoyoshima, but the effect of taking the oil prior to Dr. Dean's experiments was so terrible that many persons preferred to suffer with leprosy rather than submit to the treatment.

A start has been made here on the chaulmoogra plantation which is intended to increase the chaulmoogra oil production in order that an adequate supply might be furnished to the territory and the experiment station of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association and the territory has planted at Waialae, this island, the Charles S. Judt, superintendent of forestry, and will be the nucleus of the plantation.

Development of the Cure

The pamphlet, published by the American Medical Association, said that there had been a well defined development not only in method but also in the synthetic production of the fatty acids of chaulmoogra oil. "As has been pointed out there is no way of demonstrating that any person has been cured absolutely of leprosy, but the ninety-four patients who have been treated are believed to be free from the disease," the pamphlet said. "Up to the present time not one of the patients paroled since Oct. 1, 1918, has shown a recurrence of the disease."

ROOSEVELT PAPERS GO TO MEMORIAL

Lusitania Article, Ranch Ledger and Diary Included in Collection

New York, Nov. 11.—Theodore Roosevelt's ledger, which he kept as a young ranchman; the diary of his Brazilian trip; the manuscript of his article on the sinking of the Lusitania; and a letter written as Governor of this State to Mayor Robert A. Van Wyck saying that if the municipal forces failed to protect voters at the city election in 1899 the States forces would assume the duty, are among the latest relics of Col. Roosevelt to be added to the collection of the Roosevelt Memorial Association.

The ranch ledger contains the accounts he kept of William Merrifield and Sylvanus Ferris, his two ranch managers on the Chimney Butte ranch on the Little Missouri River, and shows that he agreed to put in 1,600 head of cattle at a cost not to exceed $52,000. Merrifield and Ferris were to take charge of the cattle, the arrangement was to run for three years, and the partners were to divide the increase of the herd.

Answers to Correspondents

MARTHA—Housework and washing is quite an excuse for real and useful hands. I know of many women who do all their own housework and yet have beautiful white hands. They use what is called CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM. It is the most wonderful thing in the world for preventing chapping and redness of the hands. I wouldn't be without it. Keep a bottle of CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM on your bathroom shelf and rub a little on your hands every time you have them in water to do cleaning. It will soften and whiten them and protect them from the wear and tear of housework. You can buy CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM at any drugist. See a large bottle. MARGARET.

FORUM ENDORSES CIVIC CENTRE PLAN

Heartly endorsement of tentative plans for a community centre in Victoria together with a recommendation that the scheme be laid before the main body of the Chamber of Commerce followed an enthusiastic meeting of the members' forum last night, when C. T. Cross, chairman of the amusement centre committee, outlined the plans drawn up by the committee.

After dealing exhaustively with the advantages accruing to the city from such a pavilion, Mr. Cross showed drawings of the plans, together with sketches of the building when finished, emphasizing the fact that such plans and sketches were necessarily tentative. Conservative estimates of expenditure and receipts of such a building, which estimates had been compiled with the assistance of experts, showed that with the financing carried out by means of 25-year serial bonds, the revenue after the first five years would easily cover the overhead expense and provide sufficient surplus to meet the interest and make an annual payment on the bonds.

Alfred Carmichael gave detailed estimates of the expenditure and revenue and moved the resolution calling for the endorsement of the scheme in general and its recommendation to the Chamber.

Considerable discussion ensued, including suggestions that the proposed centre be named a "casino" or "Crystal Palace." F. Landsberg made a recommendation that the Chamber offer prizes for suggestions of the best name.

A question from the directors asking for an expression of opinion from the Forum as to the part to be played by the Chamber of Commerce in the forthcoming civic election, elicited several objections to any attempt by the Chamber to run a "slate," in which the meeting heartily concurred. Alderman Atkes, who was present with other representatives of the City Council, urged the Chamber to start a campaign to educate the public in the advantages of a managerial form of government.

On the motion of R. A. Plassair the Forum will recommend to the Chamber of Commerce a campaign of education in civic government with a view to enlightening the public as to the best system. In the unavoidable absence of Chairman J. Scott, R. P. Clark presided at the meeting, which was attended by about one hundred members.

TO "BOBBY."

(58th Victoria Fusiliers.)

Is there a Land where souls may meet
And where I may find my true love?
A Spirit-land, where Love and Thought,
And Preference, still hold sway?
Where you and I may sit the whole
long day,
Hecking all else as naught.

Only that you and I
Are, as we were, some days on earth,
Your heart to mine, Your lips upon my lips.
We found each other's love slaked all our thirst
We felt the joy, which gives all things new birth.

Never again from War's wild clasp you came,
Never again.

Would I could feel that such a Land must be,
Where I shall know the joy of your embrace
And kiss again your soft lips and your face,
And still be yours, should you desire me.

Ah, would that such a Faith as this were true!
That there could be a Land and Life like this!
Where I could give you answering kiss
for kiss
And after death, our mutual Love renew.

Could I believe that such a Land must be,
My heart would lighten, and my sighs
would cease,
And in the thought of such Eternity,
My Spirit wait in Peace.

THE CONFERENCE.

One of the inspirations which mankind will derive from the gathering of delegates to the Washington conference to-day will come from the knowledge that they will take up their gigantic task in the peaceful atmosphere of the New World and not in the powder-laden air of the Old.

For the first time in the history of the world the minds of men are beginning to realize something of the divine scheme of things. A desire for peace has begun to outgrow international temptations. It matters little if that conversion has been helped by the material influences of economics.

The world must be patient and not expect too much from the conference table. It is not a gathering concerned with formulating a new set of rules for the conduct of warfare or a gathering that is merely to agree upon the number of soldiers or battleships the nations of the world may retain and utilize under given circumstances.

Most important of all he must be the spokesman of those who play an important part in the destiny of nations and it must be their demand that he shall make upon his colleagues—and that demand must be for peace. Thus if the gathering shall commence its deliberations with a complete disarmament of the mind there will follow such other disarmament—one cannot attempt to say what form it shall take—as will permit of the success expected of the conference.

As we have already pointed out there is no precedent for this further attempt to cure the world of its greatest malady. But it is worth while recalling the fact that the originator of the idea is a President of the United States and the meeting place is the capital of that country. Here in itself is an important and significant factor in that it associates the great Republic with the rest of the world in an undertaking which had been the ultimate aim and object of the League of Nations whose constitution and method of operation did not conform to the traditional policy of the United States.

We shall be told by the idealists that any result of the conference cannot be interpreted as successful unless it shall pre-empt the total elimination of all engines of war at once. Others will visualize the wreckage of past attempts and exclaim in despair that there is no cure for war. But the people of the world will do well to pay heed to these false and doleful prophecies. Each delegate understands the impelling motive which underlies the conception of the conference. Each delegate knows that failure cannot be thought of if only from a material point of view. On the other hand each delegate recognizes that the people of the world are groping for something of which they have but a hazy understanding. This is the unspoken peace for which humanity craves and each delegate must know that a psychological conversion already has taken place upon which he may successfully negotiate the permanent remedy.

And above all these considerations there is the inspiration which flows from the co-operation of the two great English-speaking nations. These two children of a common mother, speaking the same tongue, enjoying the freedom of similar institutions—does not their participation side by side at the conference table mean more than the higguribus outlook of hopeless pessimism? One may say with confidence that Anglo-American sentiment will prevail at most of the deliberations. What better augury for peace! And what better day could have been chosen for the first assembly than that upon which the forces of civilization celebrated their victory over oppression three years ago?

THE LAST GASP.

As we pointed out the other day the Soviet Republic has discovered that it has been on the wrong track ever since Lenin and Trotsky established themselves at Moscow four years ago. But one of the chief organs of the Government still tries to continue the bluff in the face of Foreign Minister Tchitcherin's definite announcement that Russia's policy is now directed only by economic interests and not by doctrines. Says The Pravda in seven column captions:

"The poor, ragged, famine-stricken Labor Republic celebrated her great birthday. For four years she has been tied to the point of death—millions of her sons are in the clutches of hunger; her factories are idle; her iron horses have degenerated into wrecks. But with a firm footing the Red Republic stands on her own free soil. Laugh enemies, at the break of day on the Babylon Kingdom of capitalists. At the first day of the international rising against your power we shall laugh at you, and laughing, shall conquer."

If this outburst by The Pravda suggests nothing else it enunciates a new brand of optimism that would almost out-stoicize the stoics of old. If Tchitcherin required anything to underline Russia's new policy this last post of Bolshevik idealism from the editorial columns of Communism's chief protagonist has supplied it in abundance.

H. M. S. HOOD "ILL."

Every time H. M. S. Hood fires a salvo from her fifteen-inch guns she is compelled to go into dry-dock to receive "medical" treatment. This information comes from London to-day and ought to inject an ironical broadside into the armaments conference. Very naturally the British Admiralty is not disclosing the amount of damage which follows the blasts of the Hood; but the news item referred to once more encourages speculation upon the worth of the great capital ship as the first line of defence. The Hood went into commission as the last word in construction and armament. In a few months afterwards she seems unable to stand the strain. Let the nations represented at Washington resemble the Hood and end the controversy about fifteen and eighteen-inch guns.

FARMING EDUCATION.

While he was discussing agricultural education yesterday the Hon. J. D. MacLean expressed the view to the Legislature that resolutions aimed against farming by Orientals would accomplish very little, but that a well-balanced and co-ordinated system of instruction for the sons and daughters of farmers would go a long way towards securing the agricultural future of the Province. Unfortunately the argument is not as conclusive as it might be. There would be a large number of British Columbians following rural pursuits in this Province if conditions of obtaining land and preparing it for the plough were made a little easier than they are. It can also be said of the dry belt areas where the Oriental agriculturalist is undoubtedly in the majority that irrigation would be just as effective as legislation in remedying the state of affairs complained of. Preaching to the converted may assist the standard of farming of the few; but the broader, and naturally more expensive policy, would be the more effective and cheaper in the long run.

LIBELLING LADYSMITH.

Ladysmith does not object to publicity as long as those dispensing the gift with a liberal hand are correct in their statements. A case in point is the legislative discussion upon the cost of property and rentals associated with the operation of the Liquor Control Act. The Chronicle takes both the Leader of the Opposition and the Attorney-General mildly to task and properly suggests that when honorable members are discussing Ladysmith they "should be a little more careful as to the facts." By reason of our closer proximity to the scene of these political interchanges we would remind our contemporary that a large number of statements are made in the Legislature that would not be made under the awesome injunction contained in the Canada Evidence Act. And were either Mr. Farris or Mr. Bowser, or both, approached upon the case in point Ladysmith would be overwhelmed by apologetic warmth.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Those Victorians who feel that they can afford even the smallest sum should not delay in sending it to the fund which is being raised to make the lot of the flood sufferers a little more bearable.

The "Unionist" up-rising in the House of Commons makes interesting reading for students of British politics; but to suggest that the Coalition is in any danger of a really serious attack from the "back-benchers" of the Carlton Club is to dwell upon the most unlikely turn of events.

Dr. Chow Tzi-chi objects to Lord Northcliffe's suggestion that the Chinese delegation to Washington will be dominated by the Japanese representatives. He should remember that it was Lord Northcliffe who said that Mr. Lloyd George was not fit to represent the British Empire at the same gathering.

Colonel W. W. Foster has come to the conclusion that the Oliver Government "has lost its head" and because of its "reckless extravagance" it is unfit to remain in office. That is all very well; but Colonel Foster must remember that a majority of the people of this Province have other views and felt it essential to the welfare of British Columbia last December to send Mr. Oliver and his colleagues back to office. There is no fundamental change in the situation since then. What does he propose to do about it?

OTTAWA REGIME UNDER HEAVY FIRE

(Continued from page 1.) A spirit of revolt in the hearts and minds of the people. Carried On Too Long. "They have carried on their game far too long, yet they want the people to give them a further chance to carry it on," said the speaker. The millions spent in railway projects, which had sunk the nation in debt, the huge deficits, the increased taxation and numerous other hardships which had been brought upon the people in consequence of a government acting without the mandate of the people, were then referred to by Mr. Booth.

DETROIT BOY PROWLER WAS SHOT AND KILLED

Detroit, Nov. 11.—John Sennissav, nine years old, was fatally shot, and George Rick, ten, was seriously wounded last night by Mrs. Anna Cavado, who told the police she fired because she believed the boys, who had entered her back yard, were burglars. The Rick boy told the police it was said that he and his companion were on a chicken-stealing expedition, when they were fired upon.

Increased Postal Rate. "They talk about Britain first, but what about the increased postal rate to the Old Country, and a favored rate to their friends in the 'United States?' While they wave the flag why do they not seek preferential trade relations within the Empire?" demanded Mr. Booth. The neglect of the wonderful natural resources which should be developed for the benefit of Canadians and not conserved and parceled out to outside interests was condemned by the speaker. The interests of the people of the West were entirely overlooked, and ignored, Mr. Booth said. The Oriental factor in the fishing industry, the non-protection of the natural resources and the inequitable freight rates were charged to the neglect of the Government. "In the Yukon, two judges cost $10,000 a year, and try one case a month," said Mr. Booth in detailing a lengthy list of Government extravagance. The Oriental menace in all lines of industry, to the detriment and endangering of the very existence of white people, with no attempt on the part of the Federal authorities to deal with the situation, was next referred to. "The reason for British Columbia not progressing is that Eastern manufacturers are dictating the policy," said Mr. Booth.

The cost of the Mounted Police in 1911 under Liberal rule, when the country was more orderly than today was $778,257. In 1920 it was $3,527,520. Though the war has been over three years the Government for 1921-22 wants over $5,000,000 for the Militia Department. "Millions have been spent from the public funds from which there is no return. Fraud was even practiced in payment to soldiers overseas, who were entitled to payment on the basis of Canadian currency," he observed. "Are the people of Canada going to prolong this sort of administration? I think not. On December 6 they will declare themselves in no uncertain manner by electing every Liberal candidate in the Province," declared Mr. Booth. Mr. Booth will speak at Loxton tonight, assisted by William Marchant. To-morrow night he will speak at James Island, and Monday night at Esquimalt.

POLITICS The Kind of Leaders Canada Needs. Mobilizing the Drawing Room. Where to Make Speeches. Meighen's "Bone-Head Play" Shaking Up the Tariff.

Canada is looking for real leaders to-day. What qualifications must Canadians demand from the men who will assume control of her affairs after December 6? Neither rank nor wealth, neither business capacity nor social prestige, is any guarantee of accurate knowledge or sound judgment in politics. The Toronto Globe answers. Even education and culture are not sufficient, unless accompanied by careful study and thought upon public affairs. It used to be said that farmers were better acquainted with politics than city people, because they were free from the distractions of city life; a farmer would stay at home and spend his evening reading a speech, while the city man would be at the theatre or some social function.

For the same reason it was said that earlier generations were better informed than our own because there was not the lure of the automobile and the moving picture, and because business was not so engrossing in the day of small things. The important part played by the Maritime Provinces in public life may be ascribed to the same cause. Then people had more leisure for politics. Business capacity is a valuable quality in a public man, but it will not suffice without study of public affairs. It requires special ability and experience to understand the procedure and atmosphere of Parliament, and to interpret public opinion.

Here is the very latest in Federal fight. The fashionable drawing rooms of eastern Canadian cities are to be mobilized in support of the Government. Circular letters have been issued to "Conservative women of the upper educated class" by a lady who says her services have been requisitioned by the Conservative party. The Toronto Globe announces. Accordingly "a series of drawing room meetings is being arranged all over the city" to bring together "women of refinement and culture." This piquant epistle, which one of the recipients sent to The Farmers' Sun, goes on to say: "The coming election, so far as the future of our country is concerned, is as serious as the war. Women of the upper class cannot afford to stand still. . . It is not our intention to be governed by a group of crude, inexperienced farmers."

The Government's literary bureau has flesh-creepers for all grades of society, notes The Globe. The horny-handed son of toil is told that he will lose his job, and that only soup kitchens will flourish, if the wicked enemies of the Administration triumph. And now a thriller is provided also for the leaders of the smart set.

Political leaders are choosing some of the most out-of-the-way places for their important speeches these days. To those who are not familiar with the game, a writer in The Montreal Herald observes, it may seem a waste of good oratory for the head of a great party to speak for an hour to a dozen farmers in some stuffy country school house. As a matter of fact, an address delivered at the North Pole to a group of Esquimaux would be quite as valuable as most of the speeches which the three party leaders are making to-day.—provided competent newspapermen were present and were connected by wire with the outside world.

Mr. Lloyd George is celebrated for the quaint opportunities he chooses for some of his most important speeches, says The Herald writer. He is not alone in this respect as the Mr. Gladstone was even less particular when and where he made a speech. The only thing he wanted was the assurance that Walter Hepburn, of the Press Association, was present with his book, Mr. Hepburn, who was quite rotund in his appearance, followed the G. O. M. a good deal. "Is my fat reporter here?" Mr. Gladstone used to ask, and when assured on this point, he would orate for an hour to two or three railway porters or a group of Sunday School children.

When Sir Henry Drayton was touring Canada to "put over" the 1919 Victory Loan he often faced audiences so small that local Victory Loan Committees were embarrassed. This new, worried Sir Henry, however, "There is the audience," he used to tell the chairman, pointing to the newspapermen.

It seems generally agreed now that Mr. Meighen—to use an expression universally approved in sporting circles—"pulled a bone-head play" when he said they "the soil from which the Wood-Creer movement has grown is not so wholly Canadian as the soil from which you and I have sprung." The Premier's remark has simply pushed a number of people into Mr. Creer's arms, Georges Pelletier declares in an article in Henri Bourassa's paper, Le Devoir: "It is a strange attitude, to try and rally the electors by telling them, after naturalizing them, they are not Canadians and therefore have a false conception of Canadian matters."

He goes on to point out that it is a great lack of ability on the part of both Liberals and Conservatives to refer to the American origin of a large group of people in the Canadian West, as that very same element was brought to the West by those very Liberals and Conservatives.

Those immigrants from the United States became naturalized and they voted from 1904 to 1917 for one or the other party. They were under the impression that since they had been given the franchise they were entitled to vote as they thought best. They were right as long as there were only two parties in this country, but now that there are three, it would appear they are mistaken.

Canada's tariff policy should not be fixed for all time like the law of gravity. It should be revised occasionally. The Toronto Star urges. Yet one of the election boasts of the Conservative party is that the present tariff is practically the same which Mr. Fielding made when the Liberals were in power. The Star points out: In those days Conservative admiration for that tariff was expressed in whispers so low that nobody could hear them. But now all is changed. The Meighen forces appear to regard the Fielding tariff as one which has ripened and improved with age. Common sense should tell them that customs duties which were designed to meet the conditions of fifteen years ago may have been ideal at that time, yet quite in need of a general overhaul to-day. And such an overhaul being necessary, who could be more suitably entrusted with the task than Mr. Fielding himself. Since he made a tariff which has been endorsed by both parties, why experiment with some new hand who might make a bungle of the job?

Manitoba is to proclaim polling day, December 6, a public holiday, The Belleville Daily Ontario notes with some alarm. "We question the wisdom of such a course," says the Belleville paper. "It is an inducement to crowds to gather round the polling booths and perhaps make trouble as in the old days of open voting. A bill to enact this holiday idea into Dominion law was introduced in Parliament in 1919, but the sense of the House was against such unnecessary and incendiary legislation."

"As between Western Liberals and Western Progressives there is no real gap," The Saskatoon Star assures us. "There is a wide gulf between the Liberal party as a whole and the Progressive party as a whole. It rests with the people to say whether they want the sentiment of this constituency, or any other, to be expressed through the Liberal party or through the Progressive."

HART PLANS B.C.'S FINANCES FOR ANOTHER YEAR

Mr. Hart Suggests Cures For Trials Of Municipalities

Tells What Commission Learned During Its Probe Of Civic Finances; Checks Proposed to Avoid Extravagances of Boom Days; B. C. City Taxes Not High Compared With Cities Elsewhere.

Taxation of improvements up to 50 per cent. of their value, and having assessed values of properties approximate the cash values were urged on British Columbia municipalities to-day by the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, in his budget speech in the Legislature.

He also urged the employment of more expert assessors and that courts of revision should be independent of municipal councils.

He came out in favor of the city manager plan, and proposed that the Government act as trustee for municipal sinking funds to help the municipalities conquer the temptation to run short in these funds.

Hon. Mr. Hart went into a review of the whole municipal financial situation.

"A couple of years ago requests were made to the Government by certain municipalities in this Province that, on account of the heavy burden of taxation on the land—about half of them do not tax improvements—we should grant them some financial aid," he said.

"Eventually these requests assumed the nature of a demand common to all the municipalities expressed through the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, and a concerted drive was made upon the Government for additional sources of revenue.

"These demands grew so persistent through the medium of deputations to the Cabinet and through a propaganda in the public press conducted by representatives of the municipalities that the public became convinced a most serious situation existed in regard to municipal finances and that it affected every organized community in the Province. The matter was almost elevated into a political issue in the course of the last provincial general election.

"It will be remembered that at the close of the last session of the Legislature some members were so impressed by the statements of the municipalities that they considered the House should remain in consultation until it had evolved measures of relief.

To Show Way Out of Trouble.
"The representations made to the Government and to the House were such that we decided that there should be a complete survey of the whole situation in order that the exact financial position of the municipalities might be ascertained and this House and the country put in possession of information which would show what amount of relief was required and what steps ought to be taken to ensure that the municipalities would not drift back into the same troubles.

Standardizing Accounting.
"Another recommendation is that municipal accounting should be standardized. I do not mean by this that their book-keeping system should be the same in every case, but there should be a standard form of balance-sheet which would be simple and explicit and which would show clearly the financial position of the municipality. This is not only desirable in itself but would be found helpful to a municipality in many ways. I should mention in passing that several instances have been found where the Municipal Act has been ignored by failure to keep a separate account for sinking funds.

City Manager Urged.
"It is also recommended that city managers should be employed by all cities with a population of ten thousands or over. These men should be experienced in financial matters. The mayor and council could act as a board of advisors.

Control of Expenditure.
"The present position of the cities and the district municipalities as shown by the facts brought out in the questionnaires is most encouraging. With a few exceptions their financial condition is sound and very much better than the public has been led to believe by the demand made on behalf of the exceptions, as I have already made clear when speaking of the sinking funds.

Check for Own Good.
"The Government realizes that some assistance should be given to municipalities, or at any rate is required by some of them, but it is beyond question that there is no use giving further assistance from the Provincial Treasury unless more direct control of municipal expenditures is exercised, otherwise there is nothing to prevent a recurrence of the present situation within a very few years. Perhaps the best way to control municipal affairs would be through a public utilities commission composed of three experts—a financial man, a legal man and an engineer—or failing that through a department of municipal affairs such as they have in some of the other Provinces.

Oversees Sinking Funds.
"In regard to the matter of Sinking Funds I believe that the Government should act as trustee for the municipal bondholders and should see that all sinking funds are fully paid into the Provincial Treasury annually. I also consider that further borrowings should, as far as possible, be on the serial plan.

Safeguard Local Improvements.
"The Local Improvement Act should be changed so that councils would not have authority to initiate local improvement schemes without the sanction of a majority of at least three-fifths of the owners both in number and value of the property, and with rigid restrictions upon the limit of expenditure based upon the assessed valuation of the property affected. Ratepayers claim that local improvements have been forced into improvement schemes by the ratepayers.

Which ever may have been at fault in particular cases there is no doubt that many improvements were carried out without any thought as to the ultimate ability of the property to pay the cost. Consequently we find instances of local improvements costing so much more than the properties chargeable that the properties have reverted and are no longer tax-paying.

Check for Own Good.
"The Government realizes that some assistance should be given to municipalities, or at any rate is required by some of them, but it is beyond question that there is no use giving further assistance from the Provincial Treasury unless more direct control of municipal expenditures is exercised, otherwise there is nothing to prevent a recurrence of the present situation within a very few years. ## Income Tax Swells Total; Collections Grow

"It is customary each year for the Minister of Finance to bring in a statement of the receipts and expenditures for the first nine months of the fiscal year in which the Legislature is meeting," said Hon. Mr. Hart.

"As we are still two months from the end of the calendar year that is impossible at this session, but instead, I have presented a statement of receipts and expenditures for six months, being half of the current fiscal year. This shows a marked improvement in the collection of revenue by comparison even with recent years, and, on the other hand, shows just as markedly the result of the general effort to economize in all Departments.

"But for the increase in public debt charges the Department in the latter regard would have been about half a million dollars more."

"The total receipts received up to September 30 was $9,522,128.18 out of an estimated revenue for twelve months of $17,010,595.13. The most striking feature in the collection of income taxes from which source we estimated that we would receive $2,000,000 during the year. As a result largely of the closer collection and our system of auditing returns we collected in six months not less a sum than $2,551,442.17.

"The receipts on account of land taxes and personal property taxes disclosed a very considerable measure of prosperity in the Province. On real property we collected $74,159 for six months, an estimate of $1,050,000 for twelve months; on wild lands, coal and timber lands we collected $595,281 out of $974,000, and on personal property we collected $550,000 out of $560,000.

"From the two sources of revenue generally the returns give promise of receipts for the full year which will exceed estimates.

"The actual expenditure of current account was $7,566,654.17 out of an estimate of $16,975,598.33 for the twelve months.

"The expenditure on capital account chargeable to income $1,479,043.21 out of an estimate of $2,958,765.26, or a total actual expenditure for six months of $4,745,688.38 out of an estimated expenditure of $19,334,724.29.

"The expenditures out of income taxes and personal property taxes amounted, as I have said, to $1,479,043.21, including $595,798.72 for sinking funds, and $288,347.55 interest on Pacific Great Eastern Railway guarantee bonds.

"The reason for this early session was given last April by the Premier and is explained in the Speech from the Throne.

"It is due to the position in which some of the municipalities of the Province find themselves, requiring a larger revenue than they have been able to obtain under existing powers if they are not to raise taxes on land higher than they are. In fulfillment of the Premier's promise the House is to be asked to consider proposals in the direction of assisting the municipalities, and these proposals I intend to outline before I sit down. Later on they will be placed on the table in the form of legislation.

"Honorable members will be gratified to learn that the finances of the Province continue in a satisfactory condition and that the credit of British Columbia is still improving in the markets of the continent. Although we have heavy obligations to shoulder and the demands of development are extensive the money which we have to borrow for reproductive enterprises, for railway construction and for highway purposes—is obtainable by us at rates which compare favorably with the prices bid for the bonds of sister Provinces.

"That state of the Province's credit is well shown in the loan which we negotiated shortly after this House met. Some twenty of the foremost bond houses of this Continent, representing all the financial centres in Canada and in the United States, tendered on existing and the price which we obtained was an exceptionally good one. The bonds were sold by the Province at one o'clock in the afternoon of October 26 last, and the following morning I was advised by the representative of the successful bidders, the Dominion Securities Corporation, Ltd., of Toronto, that the entire issue had been disposed of by them and that if we had any more for sale they were quite ready to purchase. This happy position is due to the manner in which the business of the Province is being conducted, and the economical and prudent administration of its finances.

"British Columbia is coming through the troublous period of post-war reconstruction with less friction and greater success. I think I can claim, than any other portion of the Dominion. That this is so is a tribute to the Government of the day."

"The total expenditures on current account was $15,236,931.35, $17,687 greater than the revenue.

"Had it not been that it was economy to borrow heavily during the year for various purposes entailing an outlay on account of Public Debt, $283,761 greater than was estimated, we should have been able to show a surplus of current account of well over $250,000.

"Services which show an increase over 1919-20 are $449,000 on account of education, including $267,000 for school buildings, $80,000 for per capita grants, and $32,000 for the University; $333,000 on account of lands, including $125,000 on account of surveys, $12,000 for forest protection, $222,000 on account of the Provincial Secretary, including $99,000 for mental hospitals, $25,000 in grants to hospitals and charities, and $15,000 in grants for patriotic purposes; $574,000 on account of Public Works, $583,000 of which was spent on roads, streets, bridges and wharves. $23,254.59, the chief items of which were sinking fund, $1,143,822.23, interest on Pacific Great Eastern Railway Guarantee Bonds $591,124.52, interest on Pacific Great Eastern guarantee note $175,515.55, advance to P. G. E. for construction and operation $750,000, expended under the 'Soldiers' Land Act, 1918' on the development of the Southern Okanagan tract $444,388.57, main highways and industrial and settlement roads $297,857.47, Boys' 'Sub-Normal' School buildings $265,888.20, advances to municipalities for the relief of unemployment $123,000.

"The total expenditures of all accounts aggregated $19,522,658.55, showing a net saving of $2,018,959.78, every Department being able to effect economies in the expenditure of their appropriations.

"The total appropriations for 1920-21, including expenditure made by virtue of Statutes and authorized by special warrants, amounted to $21,645,080.73.

"The balance sheet for the year ended March 31, 1921 shows an increase in our capital liabilities of $12,439,500 by the issue of further securities on account of:

Public Works ..... $ 500,000.00
Land Settlement Board ..... 500,000.00
Soldiers' Land Act ..... 700,000.00
Water Conservation ..... 820,000.00
Better Housing ..... 611,500.00
P. G. E. Construction ..... 4,000,000.00
P. G. E. Note Payment ..... 4,828,000.00
Total ..... $12,439,500.00

Assets Grow; Borrow Only For Capital Outlay

"The balance sheet for the year ended March 31, 1921 shows an increase in our capital liabilities of $12,439,500 by the issue of further securities on account of:

Public Works ..... $ 500,000.00

P. G. E. Construction ..... 4,000,000.00
P. G. E. Note Payment ..... 4,828,000.00
Total ..... $12,439,500.00

"It will be noticed that capital assets over liabilities have in this section of the balance sheet decreased by $7,798,022.22. This, however, is not in reality the case, as the capital assets shown in this section have increased by the following amounts:

Sinking Funds ..... $1,142,822.23
Lyking District (Assessment) Act ..... 142,088.69
Former Indian Reservations ..... 25,123.80
Properties acquired under 'Soldier Land Act' ..... 1,108,887.82
Provincial Buildings and Furnishings ..... 650,861.28
Trunk and Main Roads ..... 1,486,624.27
Bridges ..... 60,232.11
Total ..... $4,631,766.41

"The reason for the apparent decrease in the excess of capital assets over capital liabilities is found in the fact that in order that strict accounting may be kept of the different classes of assets making up the total balance sheet, while still maintaining a concise statement of the funded debt of the Province, the assets for Land Settlement Board and Water Conservation are shown under 'Current Assets,' those for public works (roads) and 'Soldiers' Land Act' under 'Capital,' and those for P. G. E. construction and P. G. E. note payment under 'Deferred.'

The excess of all assets over total liabilities as shown by the consolidated balance sheet amounts to $22,373,774.24, or $33,619.94 less than shown in 1919-1920 reports, much more than accounted for by the writing off of certain old balances, a reduction in tax arrears and arrears of succession duties, and the over-expenditure on current account as compared with current receipts.

"This is the first over-expenditure on current account during the administration of this Government and is due to the heavy statutory disbursements made on account of mother's pensions. It nevertheless proves the sound policy of this Government in borrowing only for capital expenditure as otherwise our assets would be so reduced that we would again be forced to issue deficiency bonds as was the case when this Government took office.

"It will be interesting to note, that the balance of assets of the Province over its liabilities has made a steady increase, instead of the steady increase of a balance of liabilities over assets as shown by the records of the previous Government. In 1915 the excess of liabilities over assets amounted to $31,192,907.78. This increased in 1916 to $14,782,616.65. Upon the present administration taking office the position was reversed, and in 1917 the excess of assets over liabilities was shown as $17,477,345.70, the excess of assets over liabilities increasing in 1918 to $18,260,022.52, in 1919 to $22,181,252.63, and in 1920 to $22,407,291.45.

LOOK FOR GENEROUS SUPPORT FOR V.O.N.

Drive for Memberships Opens To-morrow; To Aid Community Work

Acting on the principle that every child born in a civilized country should be surrounded by conditions which shall enable it to develop every capacity that it has brought into the world; those interested in the Victorian Order of Nurses are making a special appeal for generous support for the V. O. N. drive next week on the grounds that the organization is primarily an organization to help the child.

While the Victorian nurses bring the comfort of practiced service to the sick and poor generally it is among the kiddies that it perhaps, does its best work. Its workers are constantly seeking the under-developed children and by treatment and advice are waging a campaign against disease. The V. O. N. nurses assist Dr. Price at his weekly clinic and are generally striving in every way that human agency, aided by trained nursing skill, can do to improve the chances of the little ones to become healthier, with the prospects of becoming better citizens.

The officials of the order and its friends are expecting generous support of the financial drive which opens to-morrow and continues until November 12. A member of the committee will be at David Spence's, 1111 Douglas St., every day and at the Hudson's Bay store on November 12 and 13 to receive new members for the fee of $2.

Every family in the city will be given an opportunity to contribute to a community service, that medical men and social workers claim is doing a tremendous amount of good among the children and the sick, by becoming a member of the V. O. N.

Plans for the drive are in the hands of the committee, while a strong committee of business men representing the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Rotary and Gyro Clubs, The Medical Association and insurance companies will look after the business section.

SHE SANG TO SOLDIER BOYS DURING WAR; TO SING IN CONCERT HERE

Gertrude Hollinrake Brick, who will be a leading contributor to the programme of the band concert which the Great War Veterans' Band will stage in the Capitol Theatre Sunday night. An Armistice Day falls in this week the programme will be marked by patriotic numbers and Mrs. Brick has been asked to sing "Land of Hope and Glory," which is admirably suited to her rich mezzo-soprano voice.

Mrs. Brick is perhaps better known in Eastern Canada than in Victoria, although she has many friends and admirers here. A graduate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, she was for many years a leading figure in the musical world of the eastern city and led choirs in two of the largest of Toronto's churches. In Winnipeg also she was the leader of several large choirs, and was known also as a concert singer of rare talent.

During the war Mrs. Brick was engaged for several years in war work in London while her husband was serving at the front. She found time, however, to sing in many military hospitals and her beautiful voice is well known to Canadian soldiers who heard her then. When she came to live in Victoria she succeeded Mrs. Macdonald-Pahey as soloist in the First Christian Church. She was first heard here in concert last year when her voice was greeted with unprecedented enthusiasm and she was asked to answer numerous encores. The committee which is arranging Sunday night's concert is congratulating

RITHET'S NEW SOCIAL CLUB HELD DANCE

The employees of Rithet's Consolidated, Ltd., recently formed a social club for the purpose of holding social events during the Winter. A very enjoyable dance was held on Wednesday evening at the Orange Hall, Courtney Street, when about fifty couples turned out for the opening event. Dancing began at 9 p.m. continuing until 12.30 p.m.

Dainty refreshments were served by a very capable committee, and music was provided by an orchestra composed of Mrs. Sherwood, Arthur Hole and Sidney Hole. Everyone present had a thoroughly enjoyable evening and the committee have received so many requests for a continuance of these events that in all probability another similar gathering will be held in the near future.

The employees of Rithet's, Ltd., turned out in full force, while there was also a large representation from the other wholesale houses of the city.

day's meeting of the Municipal Chapter yesterday afternoon when criticism, was made concerning the alleged objectionable manner in which the name of the L. O. D. E. was being used in a circulation campaign by the publishers.

The Chapter heartily endorsed a resolution emanating from the Pride of the Island Lodge, Sons of England, calling upon the Government to establish an Industrial Home for juvenile delinquents over sixteen years of age, on the lines of the Industrial School system of England, to which youths can be committed, where they may learn some vocation and be trained to become useful citizens and an ornament to society.

In response to a request, a box of holly and evergreens will be forwarded to the Soldiers' Hospitals in Regina and Qu'Appelle, to assist with the Yuletide decorations. An appeal was received from Mrs. Deaven for books and magazines for distribution among the soldier patients.

Mrs. David Miller, municipal secretary, read her excellent report of the proceedings at the recent Provincial Chapter meeting. Much interest was also taken in a questionnaire dealing with matters pertaining to the constitution of the Order and proposed amendments.

Bazaar and Concert—A bazaar and concert will be held at the Temperance Hall, Keating, on Wednesday next under the auspices of the W. A.

THE STORY OF CAROL KENNICOTT
By SINCLAIR LEWIS

It was twenty minutes later when Mrs. Bogart finally oozed out of the front door. Carol ran back into the living room and jerked open the windows. "That woman has left damp finger-prints in the air," she said. Carol was extravagant but at least she did not try to clear herself of blame by going about whimpering. "I know I'm terribly extravagant but I don't seem to be able to help it."

Kennicott had never thought of giving her an allowance. His mother had never had one. As a wage-earning spinster Carol had asserted to her fellow librarians that when she was married, she was going to have an allowance and be business-like and modern. But it was too much trouble to explain to Kennicott's kindly stubbornness that she was a practical housekeeper as well as a flighty playmate. She bought a budget-plan account book and made her budgets as exact as budgets are likely to be when they lack budgets.

For the first month it was a honeymoon. Carol was so pretty, so coquettish, "I haven't a cent in the house, dear," and to be told, "You're an extravagant little rabbit." But the budget book made her realize how exact were her finances. She became self-conscious; occasionally she was indignant that she should always have to petition him for the money with which to buy her food. She sought herself criticizing his belief that, since his joke about trying to keep her out of the poorhouse had once been accepted as admirable humor, it should continue to be his daily bon mot. It was a nuisance to have to run down the street after him because she had forgotten to ask him for money at breakfast.

But she couldn't "bury" his feelings," she reflected. He liked the lordliness of giving largesse. She tried to reduce the frequency of begging by opening accounts and having the bills sent to him. She had found that staple groceries, sugar flour, could be most cheaply purchased at Axel Egge's rustic general store. She said sweetly to Axel: "I think I'd better open a charge account here."

"I don't do, no business except for cash," grunted Axel. She flared. "Do you know who I am?" "Yah, sure, I know. The doc is good for it. But that's 'oost a rule I made. I make low prices. I do business for cash."

She stared at his red impassive face, and her fingers had the undignified desire to slap him, but her reason agreed with him. "You're quite right. You shouldn't break your rule for me."

Her rage had not been lost. It had been transferred to her husband. She wanted ten pounds of sugar in a hurry, but she had no money. She ran up the stairs to Kennicott's office. On the door was a sign advising a headache cure and stating, "The doctor is out, back at— Naturally, the blank space was not filled out. She stamped her foot. She ran down to the drug store—the doctor's club.

As she entered she heard Mrs. Dyer demanding, "Dave, I've got to have some money."

Carol saw that her husband was, there, and two other men, all listening in amusement.

Dave Dyer snapped, "How much do you want? Dollar be enough?"

"No, it won't! I've got to get some underclothes for the kids."

"Why, good Lord, they got enough now to fill the closet so I couldn't find my hunting boots, last time I wanted them."

"I don't care. They're all in rage. I've got to give me ten dollars—"

Carol perceived that Mrs. Dyer was accustomed to this indignity. She perceived that the men, particularly Dave, regarded it as an excellent jest. She waited—she knew what would come—it did. Dave yelled, "Where's that ten dollars I gave you last year?" and he looked to the other men to laugh. They laughed.

Cold and still, Carol walked up to Kennicott and commanded, "I want to see you upstairs."

"Why—something the matter?"

"Yes!"

He clumped after her, up the stairs, into his barren office. Before he could get out a query she stated: "Yesterday, in front of a saloon, I heard a German farmwife beg her husband for a quarter, to get a toy for the baby—and he refused. Just now I've heard Mrs. Dyer going through the same position! And I—I'm in the same position! I have to beg you for money. Daily! I have just been informed that I couldn't have any because I hadn't the money to pay for it!"

"Who said that? By God, I'll kill any—"

"But it wasn't his fault. It was yours. And mine. I never criticise you to give me the money with which to buy meals for you to eat. And hereafter to remember it. The next time, I shan't beg. I shall simply starve. Do you understand? I can't go on being a slave—"

Her defiance, her enjoyment of the role, ran out. She was sobbing against his overcoat. "How can you shame me?" she sobbed. "I was a shabby, dog-gone it, I meant to give you some, and I forgot it. I swear I won't again. By golly I won't!"

He pressed fifty dollars upon her, and after that he remembered her money regularly. . . . sometimes.

Daily she determined, "But I must have a stated amount—be business-like. System. I must do something about it." And daily she didn't do anything about it.

Mrs. Bogart had, by the slithering viciousness of her comments on the new furniture, stirred Carol to economy. She spoke judiciously to Be about left-overs. She read the cook-book again and, like a child with a picture-book, she studied the diagram of the beef which gallantly continues to browse though it is divided into cuts.

But she was a deliberate and joyous spendthrift in her preparations for her first party, the housewarming. She made lists on every envelope and laundry-slip in her desk. She sent orders to Minneapolis "fancy grocers." She pinned patterns and sewed. She was critical when Kennicott was jocular about "these frightful big doings that are going on." She regarded the affair as an attack on the Good Housewife's timidity in measure. "I'll make 'em lively, if nothing else. I'll make 'em stop regarding parties as committee-meetings."

Kennicott usually considered himself the master of the house. At his desire, she went hunting, which was his symbol of happiness, and she ordered porridge for breakfast, which was his symbol of morality. But when he came home on the afternoon before the housewarming he found himself a slave, an intruder, a plunderer. Carol yelled, "Fix the furnace so you won't have to touch it after supper. And for heaven's sake take that horrible old door-mat off the porch. And put on your nice brown and white outfit. Why did you come home so late? Would you mind hurrying? Here it is almost supper-time, and those friends are just as thick as not to come at seven instead of eight. Please hurry!"

She was as unreasonable as an amateur leading woman on a first night, and he was reduced to humility. When she came down to supper, when she stood in the doorway he snapped. She was in a silver sheath the calyx of a lily, her piled hair like black glass; she had the freckly and coolness of a Viennese sozzlet; and her eyes were intense. He was stirred to rise from the table and to hold the chair for her; and all through supper she said, "Why, Dave, because he felt that she would think him common if he said "Will you hand me the butter?"

B. C. TO HAVE SOIL SURVEY

New Agricultural Representatives Appointed, Dr. Warnock Says

Dr. Warnock, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, told the agricultural committee of the Legislature under Dr. K. C. MacDonald, chairman, Thursday, that a soil survey of British Columbia is to be made. The Province is to operate with the Dominion Government in this effort. Representatives of the United Farmers of B. C. and the Vice-President Laidman and of the Farmers' Institutes attended the session. Referring to the $50,000 appropriated last year for land clearing work and the question of obtaining of costs and other data on it, Dr. Warnock said that it was not proposed that the Department should undertake it now, as it would be duplicating the work of the Land Settlement Board. Dr. Warnock told the committee that there are now eight district agricultural representatives in the Province. One has just been appointed for the Kootenay district, and it is proposed to appoint another for Central B. C.

ARMISTICE DAY.
The Light of Love still burns.
And though the years pass on,
And the Beloved One gone,
No more returns.
He lives within my heart—
The heart which held him dear.
His image ever near—
Still of my life, a part.
Part of my life, is he,
Dear Soldier, mown by Death,
And he who gave his breath,
On the wild sea.
"No more they come," we say,
But when the years have flown,
Spirit to Spirit known
We meet our Own.
In Regions far away,
Dawns the "Uniting Day."

VICTORIA SKATING CLUB AGAIN FORMED

Forty Enthusiasts at Initial Meeting of the Club.

Upwards of forty skating enthusiasts attended the meeting called Wednesday afternoon to discuss the question of formation of the Victoria Skating Club and judging by the keen interest shown, the coming season should be a most successful one. By a unanimous vote, E. A. George took the chair, while J. H. Dunsford was once more persuaded to look after the secretarial work and he has promised to carry on for a month to get the wheels moving when a permanent secretary will be appointed at some remuneration.

The hours of skating have been increased through the kindness of Lester Patrick from 7 p.m. Monday afternoons and the first meeting will be held on Monday next. The meeting decided to allow juniors to join and the age and number of same will be controlled by the skating committee, which will be appointed at the next business meeting of the club on Wednesday, Nov. 16, at 5 p.m. in room 405 Sayward Building, at which the same good attendance of all who are keen on skating and desire to join the club is to be hoped for.

The Victoria Skating Club is to become a permanent organization from now on and rules and regulations are being drawn up and will be available as soon as completed by the printers. A nominal entrance fee is being charged.

Mr. Patrick has secured the services of an instructor who will be at the rink constantly and patrons of the club will be able to make their own plans with regard to instruction. There has been a doubt in the minds of a few people in Victoria as to whether the skating club is open to

FAST STEAMING BY SILVER STATE ON PACIFIC RUN

Admiral Liner Crossed From Yokohama in Nine Days and Twenty-four Hours

Average Eighteen Knots an Hour on Her Trans-Pacific Voyage

Nine days and twenty hours between Yokohama breakwater and William Head quarantine station was the splendid steaming time of the Admiral liner Silver State, which docked here last night from the Far East.

The ship has established her position as the speediest of the fleet, and has shown consistent speed from the time she was put into commission.

On her trip from Yokohama the Silver State averaged eighteen knots an hour.

After a stay of two and a half hours in port the Silver State left for Seattle.

Capt. W. Dixon-Hopcraft, R. N. R., held his command off the breakwater until the Silver State pulled out, after which the big Empress steamed to her berth.

Transferred Outside. Prior to this a transfer took place between the two passenger ships by launch.

ANOTHER LINK IN EMPIRE CHAIN

Cunard Line Will Resume Canadian Service in May of Next Year

Five New Liners Will Give Weekly Service Between Canada and England

Welding another strong link in the chain tying the Dominion with the homeland, the Cunard Steamship Company will re-inaugurate its Canadian service with the resumption of regular sailings between Montreal and Liverpool and London with the sailing of the liner Albania from Montreal May 6 next for London.

Five Ships. The Cunard Line, it is announced by A. C. Whitehead, British Columbia manager for the company, will operate five new passenger steamships in the Canadian trade.

The magnificent and powerful fleet of new steamships is the result of a supreme effort heretofore unknown in maritime history.

The Albanian will inaugurate the new service, sailing from Montreal for London May 6, 1922. The Albania will be followed by the Andania from Montreal for Liverpool, May 13.

Major A. H. Hilton-Johnson Returning to East After Studying Police System

Among the 250 saloon passengers sailing by the Canadian Pacific steamer Empress of Russia last night for the Orient was Major A. H. Hilton-Johnson, deputy commissioner of police of Shanghai, who has been spending a fortnight studying police systems on this continent and in Europe.

Deputy Commissioner of Police Hilton-Johnson has three hundred constables under his supervision and these are men of almost every nationality.

China closed this section to Europeans to live in and to govern, and it is therefore governed by an international settlement.

The police force is modeled on the London system and carries exactly the same standards as the height limit, being smaller to allow of major constables being employed.

Dr. Chow Tze-Chi, Financial Wizard of China, Says Country Is Developing Industrially; Conference Shortly At Shanghai to Settle Internal Disturbances

China is waking up. China has a population of four hundred millions and the great masses of her people are beginning to take an interest in public affairs in the realization that the internal problems of the country must be successfully grappled with and harmony restored among her people in order that China may take her place among the nations of the world.

China has wonderful natural resources and within the next few years tremendous strides will be made in the development of the country along industrial lines.

The foregoing were the tenor of observations made to The Times by Dr. Chow Tze-Chi, four times Minister of Finance in the Peking Government, and now a "patriotic citizen," following his arrival here last night from China aboard the Admiral liner Silver State.

Dr. Chow proposes to reduce the debt of China by the floating of domestic loans, and in this connection he has been particularly successful in the past.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness.

By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly.

Just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared.

After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant as you appear years younger.

Top Teams in First Division Clash With Those in Lower Half—No Stellar Attraction Billed, But Games Should Be Close

Another full card of soccer games is slated for to-morrow afternoon and the fans can pick their favorites. The following in the First Division will be pretty well split up as the three leading teams are drawn to meet the eleven that are occupying the bottom half of the league standing.

There is no classic to-morrow as was the case last week-end when the Old Metts and Wests settled their old score.

The Wests, the new league leaders, must defend their position against the Garrison at Work Point. The Tommies were able to give the Wests a stiff argument in their previous encounter, the leaders still winning out by an odd goal. At that time the Garrison gave promise of being a ascendant contender but they have slipped a little since and the Wests are not expected to experience a very big snag.

The Metts, who are now in second place two points behind the Wests, are billed to clash with the Thistles. The Scotties are anxious to cop this game as they have not been successful in any matches to date. The Metts, although crippled, will be a hard nut for the Thistles to crack.

Yarrows are meeting the Sons of England and this match should prove fairly close. The Shipbuilders have not been showing the class that they exhibited last season and are not up to the mark as much as was their previous custom. The Sons are coming along well and look for a win to-morrow.

The complete draw for to-morrow's games is as follows: First Division: Yarrows vs. Sons of England, at Beacon Hill; referee, Brown. Metropolis vs. Thistles, at Royal Athletic Park; referee, Payne. Garrison vs. Wests, at Work Point; referee, Faulstich.

Second Division: C. P. R. vs. Native Sons, at Beacon Hill lower ground; referee, Wilcox. Metropolis vs. Sons of England, at Central Park; referee, Hopkins.

Junior Division: George vs. East, at Central Park; referee, Armstrongs. Bays vs. Wests, at Stadium; referee, Laurence.

The Teams: Some of the teams that will play to-morrow are as follows: Wests—Shandley, Whyte and Copas; Thomas, Chester and Baker; J. Sherritt, Allan, Pedep, Muir and Christie.

Yarrows—Bridges; Ord and Rickinson; Mesher, Roe and Brown; Flann, Henderson, Bloom, Barrie and Hampton. Reserves: Wilkinson, Watson and Anderson. Players are to meet at Veterans of France at 2 o'clock.

Metropolis, seconds—Buckett, Dawds and Murray; Gillingham, Chester and Dryborough; Gigham, Tostevin, Toddy, Hayward and Clunk. Reserves: Barrie and Ester. Sons of Canada—Robertson, Alex. Watson and Anthony. Copas, Lorenz and Ryan; Kenny, Roskamp, Tommy Moffat (Capt.), Campbell and Waddington.

Sons of England, Firsts—Hetherington, A. Petch and Tuckwell; Carlege and Savidant; Bryson, Price, McGympsey, Blacklock and Shanka. Reserves: Lewis, Kerr.

Thistles—Rodgers, Miller, Munroe, Fitcher, Pitts, Potter, Howden, Sandison, Wright, Newman, A. Mulcahy, Brass, Bredner, Hewitt, Moulton. All players are asked to meet at Stadium at 2 o'clock.

Colonist Basketball Score Win Over Bays. Last night at the J. B. A. A. gymnasium The Colonist basketballers took the Bays into camp, by 40-36. The game was fast and exciting from start to finish, and when half-time was called the Bays were leading 24-22. Resuming in the second half, The Colonist boys staged a rally, and with fast playing soon overtook the Bays and won by a small margin.

The game was clean throughout. Bothwell replaced Grice in the second half, owing to a slight accident. Yeitch was responsible for 13 points. Horold 14 points, Bothwell 6, Grice 2. The Bays' points were scored by Allen, Heigland and Watson.

The teams were: Bays—Allen, Hartley, Watson, McLaughlin and Heigland. Colonist—Horold, Veitch, Bothwell, Grice, Caldwell and Thomas.

On Saturday night, November 19, The Colonist team will journey to Saanichton to meet the Saanichton all-stars. After the match the visiting team will be entertained to supper, and a dance will follow later. The game will commence at 8 o'clock sharp.

COLLEGIANS WORRY LITTLE

The Collegians are not worrying over a little bit. They have a three-quarter line that will make the world sit up and think. The naval boys, although young and light have a wonderful burst of speed and surprising kicking ability and by making the best use of these qualities they are able to hold their more experienced and heavier opponents.

The game will be a rip-roister from the start until the final whistle. There will be plenty of speed and action provided the rain does not turn the field into a quagmire.

The Selection Committee of the Victoria Rugby Union will attend the game for the purpose of selecting the Collegians in action. So far the committee has been able to look over the talent in the other three senior teams but they have not yet given the nod to any one.

Immediately after the game the Selection Committee will pick the rep. fifteen which is to travel to Vancouver next Saturday to play its first match in the McKeechie Cup series. Victoria will undoubtedly have the best line-up that has carried the red and white for many years.

Two Other Games. There will be two other rugby features to-morrow and both will be exceptionally close. For the series Thursday in the afternoon and Old Boys will battle for supremacy. The teams went to a scoreless tie last week-end but it is expected that a win will be recorded one way or the other to-morrow.

In the Intermediate League Wanderers and Bays are to meet. This will prove a close struggle as neither team has been beaten to date. The Intermediates are close rivals to the senior teams for playing ability.

The Draw. To-morrow's rugby programme is as follows: Senior League: J. B. A. A. vs. Royal Naval College, at Oak Bay; referee, Carew and Savidant; Bryson, Price, McKinnon vs. Old Boys, at Mt. Tolmie; referee, Mr. Strichan.

Intermediate League: J. B. A. A. vs. Wanderers, at Cranmore Road; referee, Mr. Loveland. The J. B. A. A. senior team will line up as follows: Back, Boss Johnson; three-quarters, McKenzie, McInnes, Heyland, Webster; halves, Anderson, Lumden; five-eighths, Ellis; forwards, Brynolfson, Sanson, Travis, Miller, Moneth, McKee, Johnson; reserve, Norris.

Friedman Wants Chance. Sailor Friedman, who beat Eric Rice the other evening at the Garden, is keen after Leonard. The Chicago brawler didn't show so well. He apparently got a crack at the crown, in his fight with Rice the other night Friedman didn't show so well. He apparently should have knocked out Rice. The reason for being so timid was due to Rice's bad eye. It was really sportsmanship on the part of the sailor.

On the other hand, Rice was terribly handicapped by the bum glim. A wild, awkward swinger, he makes it annoying for his rival. Rice will look more over here than will kick him. The defeat will put the English champion back, but he will undoubtedly be seen in action around here again.

Saskatoon Puts In Plea For "Hec" But It Is Of No Avail

Fowler Must Come to Victoria, Manager Patrick Announces: Local Fans to Be Catered to Before Those in Saskatoon; No Other Good Goalies Loose and Lester Refuses to Loose His Sole Cage-Minder.

Hec Fowler, Victoria net guardian, by playing the role of a holdout, is giving the telegraph offices a little extra work. A number of wires have passed back and forth between Lester Patrick, manager of the Aristocrats, and both Fowler and Bob Pinder, leader of the Saskatoon Crescents.

Lester has made it quite plain to both Fowler and Pinder that no swaps are to be made and that Hec must come to Victoria or remain out of organized hockey.

Their Two Angles. Yesterday a wire came through from Hec in which he explained to Lester that it would be more profitable for him to show off before his own folks, and then Pinder came to bat with a wire which said that the presentation of Fowler to the Saskatoon club would be greatly appreciated through the fact that it would help to boost professional hockey in that city and would assist the club along.

Unfortunately for both Pinder and Fowler Manager Patrick isn't interested in their worries. He has plenty of his own. If good goalkeepers were as plentiful as ducks Lester may saw off on a bargain, but when they are as scarce as icebergs on the equator, the local mogul says "Hallo."

Hec Has Ability. Fowler looked a little dizzy out on the ice at times last season and slipped up on some easy goals, but it is generally conceded that it was his off-season. Previously he had been a star equal to Huggle Lehman. When he played with Seattle he led the league goal-tenders. Hec has the ability and for that reason Lester does not want to let him go.

"Saskatoon puts up a very sympathetic plea when it asks that Fowler be allowed to stay there for the purpose of helping along the game and also to please the fans," remarked Lester this morning. "That doesn't go far with us. We have got to look after our own fans. We are not interested in Saskatoon. Fowler is the best goal-tender that I can get. There are no good ones floating around just now. We developed Fowler and made him the goalie that he is to-day and no one needs to think that we are going to turn him over to another club and then go out and try to develop another, not knowing what we might land. Our fans are going to be cared for before any outside fans are given our assistance. We are in the game to provide the best hockey that is within our power. This has been our policy in the past and it will remain the same in the future."

Developments Due. Some new developments should occur in the matter within a few days. Fowler must notify Manager Patrick as to what he intends to do. If he refuses to play here he will simply be ruled out of organized hockey and will not be allowed to sign with the Saskatoon Club, which has held an agreement with both the P. C. H. A. and the N. H. L.

If Fowler decides that he does not want to play hockey this winter then Manager Patrick will have to do some very smart scouting in order to fill in the gap in front of the post.

Guess He'll Come Along. Lester has a hunch, however, that Hec will send in his signed contract when he finds out there is no chance of Victoria yielding to the protestations over the wire from Saskatoon.

BENNY LEONARD OUT OF HIS LAIR WITH ROAR OF DEFIANCE

Lightweight Champion Is Ready to Fight: Is Willing to Meet Britton

New York, Nov. 11.—Benny Leonard has been heard from. The lightweight champion has emerged from his cell of silence and solitude and has let loose a roar of defiance. Many figure that Benjamin is through with the fighting game. Not for Benjamin, however. He is getting ready to fight, and probably will be seen in action the early part of next month.

His return will take place in Philadelphia and the best obtainable. Leonard is in the peculiar position of being so good that he has no real rivals. Nevertheless he must give them all a chance. As to his victim, that will be announced later.

Benny Wants Money. With that fight and a few more under his belt, Leonard will be willing to step around here. His presence will depend upon the liberality of the promoters. As he and a good opponent would bring in over $10,000 Leonard naturally would demand a fair sum. That ridiculous rule of the commission calling for 50 per cent. of the main bout would have to be overlooked.

Another fight in which Leonard will participate will bring him in action against Jack Britton. The welterweight champion wants a good fight before he quits the ring. If he and Leonard hitch up, it will mean oodles of kopeks for both. Britton doesn't intend to let any of these fighters slip. He is really sportsman-like and he will get a battle with the rival.

Friedman Wants Chance. Sailor Friedman, who beat Eric Rice the other evening at the Garden, is keen after Leonard. The Chicago brawler didn't show so well. He apparently got a crack at the crown, in his fight with Rice the other night Friedman didn't show so well. He apparently should have knocked out Rice. The reason for being so timid was due to Rice's bad eye. It was really sportsmanship on the part of the sailor.

On the other hand, Rice was terribly handicapped by the bum glim. A wild, awkward swinger, he makes it annoying for his rival. Rice will look more over here than will kick him. The defeat will put the English champion back, but he will undoubtedly be seen in action around here again.

TWO GAMES IN "Y" LEAGUE TO-MORROW

Pleanty of Excitement Being Aroused Over House League Matches

In the Y. M. C. A. House Basketball League to-morrow evening, the Ramblers will meet the Tigers in the opening game at 8 o'clock. This will be the first game for each of these teams, and as there is considerable rivalry between the classes they represent, the outcome will be watched with interest.

In the "A" League match at 9 o'clock, the Wasps meet the Wanderers. As both of these teams lost last Saturday evening, they are each out with a determination to register to-morrow night. The management in each case claims that he had difficulty in fielding his best team last week, but will have no excuse to-morrow evening.

At the moment the Stars are leading the "A" section with two wins and no losses. Tillmans have won their only game, and in the "B" League the Young Men's Division Hornets downed the Argos to the tune of 21-3, in their match played Wednesday last.

Players are urged to be ready on the floor promptly in order that the games be staged in the best possible manner.

WRESTLER KNOCKED OUT IN HARD BOUT

Lemarine, of Belgium, Gave Montreal Grappler a Hard Bouncing Last Evening. Montreal, Nov. 11.—Constantine Lemarine, of Belgium, threw Jack Leavitt, a local wrestler, in the match which took place last evening. Leavitt was unconscious in the feature bout of the wrestling card at the Mount Royal here last night, and ended with a backward throw which put Leavitt out. The second fall came in three minutes, when Leavitt was beaten with a deadlock. Each man weighed about 224 pounds.

Men!—See These Wool Sweaters at New Low Prices

You won't want to miss such an opportunity to purchase a warm, pure wool sweater at such a low price. The local board will communicate its decision to the B. C. A. U. U. The Vancouver board of the union is meeting to-morrow night and was desirous of having local representatives, Arthur Manson, in attendance. However, Mr. Manson will remain at home as he made known his views to the board when he was there a few days ago. The meeting last night decided to send a wire to the Vancouver heads, reaffirming our decision to adhere to the present definition of an amateur.

CORN COB SETS UP NEW JUMP RECORD

Pony Which Performed Here During Fair Week Makes Great Leap at Portland. Portland, Nov. 11.—One world's record was broken in the first show matinee yesterday at the first pure-bred breeding stock sale of the Livestock Exhibition, according to announcement by show officials.

Corn Cobb, ridden by his owner, I. Jarvis, of Edmonton, Alberta, topped the pole at six feet two inches. The record, that of the pony high jump for horses under 142 hands, was broken on the fourth trial.

The former record holder, in the event, The Tank, owned and ridden by Hilda McCormick, of Vancouver, B.C., went out at five feet six inches. More than $13,000 changed hands among Shorthorn breeders at the first pure-bred breeding stock sale of the exposition. Fifty-two Shorthorns, 26 bulls and 26 cows, picked up from some of the finest herds on exhibition, were disposed of, many fine animals being far below figures of former years.

Corn Cobb performed at the Willows during the Fall Fair and was acquired with a world's record for the high jump for ponies on clearing the bar at six feet two inches.

"BIG FIVE" CHANGES NAME; FOUR CLUBS IN

Circuit to Be Known as Western Canada Hockey League; Season Opens Dec. 12

Edmonton, Nov. 11.—The name of the Saskatoon, Calgary and Edmonton professional hockey loop was yesterday changed from "The Big Five" to the "Western Canada Hockey League" at a meeting of delegates from the three cities interested. The change was necessary owing to the fact that the loop now has only four clubs. The league will consist of Edmonton Eskimos, Vancouver Canucks, Calgary Hockey Club and Saskatoon Crescents.

The playing season will open December 12, with Dominions at Saskatoon and Calgary at Edmonton. The first game will be played in Saskatoon, a like number in Calgary, and twenty-four in Edmonton. The season will close March 3.

'VARSITY PAID BIG PRICE FOR VICTORY

Five of Its Players Injured in Game With Vancouver Rep. Rugby Squad

Vancouver, Nov. 11.—Although the Varsity McKechnie Cup team won their first game against the Vancouver Rep. team last Monday at the Brockton Point oval, they did it at a cost. No less than five of their players suffered minor injuries. The first-ought to fall was Pete Palmer, the speedy outside right of the three-quarter line. He was forced out of the game early in the first half with a torn ligament in his right ankle. At present he is confined to his home, and will not be able to get around for at least a week. Harry Lurdy, playing inside three-quarter, sprained his ankle, and was out until the whistle blew for time. He will be out in a day or so, according to word just received.

Time to Recover. Claire Domoney, full-back extraordinary, sustained a broken rib in a Miller cup game two weeks ago and in Monday's game injured himself again in the same place, besides sustaining a tendon in his leg. The injuries are not serious enough, however, to keep him from attending "Varsity." George Terman and George Cross also sustained minor injuries—the former straining a ligament in his hip and the latter injuring his leg.

As the next McKechnie Cup game for Varsity does not come until near Christmas, there will be ample time for the players to recover from their injuries.

Girls, Don't Wash Your Face

Use Laska cold cream instead you have never used anything like it. Just try it once, and you will never be without it. Soap and water has a tendency to make the skin rough, and does not cleanse the skin as thoroughly as Laska cold cream. To prove it, make this test: Wash your face with soap and water, dry thoroughly, then apply Laska cold cream, massage it well into the skin, then wipe off the superfluous cream with a soft white cloth; examine the cloth and see how much dirt has accumulated thereon. Laska cold cream cleanses, softens and beautifies the skin. For sunburn or after a dusty auto trip there is nothing like it. Its fine after shaving too. Let hubby or brother try it. Just compare Laska cold cream with any other you have ever used, and you will need no further argument to convince you that it's the best. It's put up in tubes, the only sanitary way. Try it to-night. You will be delighted. At toilet counters everywhere including Owl Drug Co., Vancouver Drug Co.

EIGHT-HOUR BILL PUT BEFORE HOUSE BY MAJOR BURDE

Talks About Lobblies of Various Kinds

Shorter Hours, More Men Employed, He Argues

For an hour and a half Thursday afternoon Major R. J. Burde, independent member for Alberni, held the floor of the House, discussing the merits of his eight-hour bill.
 He spoke of the "determined lobby" made Wednesday against the bill by lumbermen and representatives of large business interests from all over the Province, and expressed wonder that these men found it necessary to come to Victoria every time someone was endeavoring to "do something for the workers."
 He said he had been intimidated; that the Premier had been reported "for or" on the floor as soon after the visit of the interests referred to, but was shown by the Premier that the rules of the House provided that such bills had right-of-way on Thursday afternoons.
Expected-Farris To Act.
 Dealing with working hours generally, Major Burde said he had expected the Attorney-General to bring in an act providing for shorter hours of labor for various classes of labor. He anticipated this, he explained, because of the fact that last session a group of bills had been introduced by Hon. M. Farris, as Minister of Labor, dealing with employment problems. These were said to have been the outcome of the concerted action of international delegates to the Versailles Conference following the cessation of war, and the declaration was that the acts would become operative in British Columbia when the other provinces of Canada took similar action.
Wants Liberals to Head.
 The Alberni member predicted that there would be a long wait before the other Provinces acted, and he urged Liberal members to show consistency, explaining that there existed a plank in the Federal Liberal platform promising, if elected on December next, to provide an eight-hour day for workers in general.
 British Columbia Liberals might lead the way, he urged.
About Deputations.
 Major Burde spoke of "some half-dozen prominent, prosperous looking gentlemen" coming to Victoria to "fight the workers' interests." He maintained that a decrease in the hours of labor would not affect the situation at all, since the men were paid by the hour.
 "He wondered what the Premier would do if the 15,000 members of lumberworkers' associations, camped on the steps of the Legislative Buildings. Would the Government leader tell them 'to go to it,' as he had the business men Thursday?" he queried.
 Premier Oliver said he had made no such statement, whereupon Major Burde said he had seen it in the newspapers, and since the press seemed to be always getting Hon. Mr. Oliver into trouble, he should do something to control the reports.
"Always An Excuse."
 He read letters which he said had passed between men employed in the lumbering industry and the Premier. These, he asserted, showed that the Premier had little sympathy with the men employed in the camps.
 He argued that Oregon and Washington paid higher wages for shorter hours than British Columbia and still managed to enter the world markets a little ahead of "these protected interests" of this Province. He contended that his bill had been killed a year ago on the plea that there was a big demand for lumber and it was necessary to have the men work longer hours. Now the plea was that the export trade was going to increase. There was always an excuse he charged.
"Something For Workers."
 He referred to a resolution passed by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, wherein he had been condemned for introducing the bill in question. He also read the resolution submitted by the Vancouver delegation and prepared by the B. C. branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. He maintained that inconsistency marked these documents.

 "Something should be done for the workingman, added the Major, and he maintained that this provided a good opportunity.
How Printers Worked It.
 The Major went on to tell how thousands of printers were thrown out of work and were walking the streets when typesetting machines came into general use, but the International Typographical Union helped them all out and stabilized conditions in the trade by cutting down the hours printers were able to work and even the number of days a week. In some centres printers were able to work only three or four days a week. This made it possible for the trade to absorb all the unemployed men.
Lumber Industry Manipulated.
 In the same way, the Major said if the hours the Japanese and Hindus are employed here were cut down, it would be possible for the lumber Canadian to absorb all the idle lumber workers in the Province.
 He charged that the lumber industry of B. C. is manipulated with the idea of bringing down the wages of mill and logging workers by starting them into submission. He said that there are now idle men in Vancouver who are willing to work for 12 hours and eight hours a day, although out of this they have to pay $1.60 to $1.80 a day to the camps for board.
 Mr. Bowser adjourned the debate.

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE.

The charter of Victoria Lodge 1390 L. O. O. M., which has been open for some time will close definitely on November 21. A large class of candidates will be initiated on this date, and intending applicants are advised to get their applications in at once. Candidates for this special class must be balloted on at the meeting of November 19, and as certain other preliminaries are necessary prior to that date, quick action is advisable. A ballot will follow the initiation ceremony, and a capable committee is now busy making arrangements.
 The Loyal Order of Moose is an international fraternal society with a membership of nearly 1,000,000, and has branches in all parts of the English speaking world. The Protestant, Catholic, and those of the Jewish faith mingle in one common brotherhood, and at Mooseheart, where the orphan children of deceased Moose are cared for, there are at the moment nearly 10,000 little ones being fed, clothed, and educated. The cost of looking after these wards of Moosehood is about $800 per child annually.

good comedy and a topical film, Eddie Polo in "The King of the Circus." No advance in prices.

PRINCESS

Little folks, be all cordially invited to the reception which Miss Page will give at the Princess Theatre after the matinee of "A Stitch in Time" on Saturday. If the right guess is received in the best-guessing contest the winner will receive $75. "A Stitch in Time" is a beautiful comedy drama, and Miss Page has a part which all her little friends will like to see.

This being the last week of the Mildred Page Players the management warns the regular Saturday night patrons to book their seats early, the last performance is just about sold out; don't leave it too late and then be disappointed. Tickets that have already been booked and not called for will not be held later than 7:30 on the night of performance.

DOMINION

An actor with the shrewdness of a stockbroker—the most "capitalistic figure" on the screen—that is a ticker impression of Joseph Kilgour, who plays a leading role in Thomas H. Ince's drama, "Mother O' Mine," at the Dominion Theatre all week. Some years ago Kilgour owned a seat on the Chicago Stock Exchange, and when he appears on the silver-sheet as a financial king, which he does more often than not, he is playing at what was once a serious business with him, just as when he first appeared in amateur theatricals in famous Chicago clubs he was playing at what has since become his most cherished work and study. The films secured a hold on Mr. Kilgour when he was engaged to play the part of George Washington in a version of the first President's life then being filmed by Vitagraph, because of his remarkable ability to approximate the postage stamp likeness of him. Mr. Kilgour did not appear again on the screen for more than five years. The last stage play in which he took part lasted only five nights, and numerous and persistent attractive offers influenced him to definitely cast his lot with the "silent drama."

CAPITOL

Director Tom Forman broke all outdoor "shooting" records for pictures made in the East when forty-six scenes were made in one day for Thomas Meighan's Paramount picture, "Cappy Ricks," which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre all week. In the sea scenes which predominate a five-masted schooner, a three-masted schooner and two tugs were used. Some of the ocean scenes were taken in Massachusetts Bay beyond Graves Light, and the Commo-

To Present Three Plays Here

Mrs. Marie Lohr will present three plays at the Royal Victoria Theatre next week, opening on Monday and Tuesday with "The Marionettes"; on Wednesday and Thursday she will present "The Voice from the Minaret" and on Friday and Saturday "Her Destiny." Miss Lohr has decided not to play "Fedora" in this city.

wealth Pier, Boston, was used for the dock scene. The company made a reverse-up-the-Maine coast to film the shipwreck scenes. The Meighen company remained in Boston for ten days more before returning to the Paramount Long Island studios where the interior scenes for the picture were photographed. Mrs. Wallace Courtenay is delighting Capitol audiences this week with her rendering of "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier."

VARIETY

In this drama, Miss Frederick is seen in two distinctly different characterizations as Bernice Ridgeway, a woman of strong character and powerful personality—and as Kate Martin, a pitiful wreck of humanity, sodden, bitter, with every fine instinct of real woman crushed and obliterated, living out her existence in a great city's slum.

TO HOLD PERFECT PACKAGE MONTH

The Railways of Canada and the United States have joined in a nation-wide effort to stimulate greater and universal interest in good packing of shipments by freight. November has been selected as the "Perfect Package Month," during which an active campaign will be conducted to induce all shippers by freight to give their attention to the manner in which their goods are packed, the kind of containers used, and to marking. This is of great public interest for the reason that it has a decided bearing on the safe and expeditious movement of traffic. A carrier cannot give good service and eliminate loss and damage unless shipments are "packed right" and marked right. In the last analysis, the public and particularly the shippers, should be deeply interested in the movement which will tend to reduce the losses and improve this class of transportation service generally. During the month of November, railway agents will report to shippers exceptions noted in shipments offered. These exception reports will contain valuable information in sufficient detail to enable the shippers receiving them to take such measures as may appear necessary. Commercial organizations are asked to co-operate in this campaign to reduce the loss and inconvenience to shippers and consignees, as well as to the railways, by improving methods of packing and marking of freight shipments. The matter will be kept prominently before members of the Commercial organizations during the month's campaign.

Catarrh Of The Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician. Frequently Mistaken For Indigestion—How to Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furred, coated tongue, bad breath, sour-burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician. Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition soon breeds deadly disease in the fermented, unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer. In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a half glass of pure Bismarck Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucous from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach walls. The Bismarck Magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover the Bismarck Magnesia will serve as a powerful neutralizer of gastric hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and weaken its food contents. Bismarck Magnesia, without distress of any kind, should be taken after each meal. Bismarck Magnesia is not a laxative, is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bismarck Magnesia with other forms of Magnesia, milk, citrate, etc., but get it in the BUREAU of Pure Bismarck Magnesia, especially prepared for this purpose.

From Your Grocer

he said, closing with an appeal for support of Mr. Peirce.

Chairman Smith then introduced R. H. Neelands, M.P.P., who asked, "You appear to be convinced of the condition of affairs, what are you going to do about it?"

He claimed that "the gentlemen over the Bay are doing the work they are there for, and doing it well for those who have put them there. Why don't you workers take a tip and send some men over there to work as well for your interests?"

Candidate Speaks. W. E. Peirce, Labor candidate in Victoria, said a candidate should possess three qualities, and lacking those should be scrapped.

Claiming he had the qualifications, he said there were ability to see the world's condition, knowledge of the cause and possession of a remedy.

The situation between Liberals and Conservatives is comparable with two men sitting on a sinking ship and blowing soap bubbles," said Mr. Peirce, who then paid personal compliments to both Mr. Ivel and Hon. Dr. Tolmie, but declared that it was no true man or woman who would vote for a man because he was able to do some particular service for his constituency at the expense of the country as a whole.

"Certainly if I am elected I shall not be pledged to bring you any big plum such as a dredge," he said, appealing for workers to jump in and help him carry on the campaign both by work and contributions.

Unemployed Wanted. President Smith then noted that, while the unemployed of Victoria could not be expected to give money they had a considerable amount of time upon their hands, and would be welcomed if they would undertake and organize the canvassing work and distribution of literature.

The meeting closed with the announcement that Richard, Bourde, M.P.P., would be the principal speaker at the Trades Hall next Tuesday evening, when the next meeting in Mr. Peirce's interest will be held.

LABOR LEADERS

HEARD IN FAVOR

OF W. E. PIERCE

Tom Richardson Principal Speaker Last Night

Opening the campaign of W. E. Peirce, now running in the Federated Labor interests in Victoria constituency for the Federal Parliament, Chairman Phil R. Smith last night adjured a gathering of about seventy men and women at the Trades Hall to remember "the fight is not for candidates, not for Peirce or Pritchard, but for yourselves and your own interests, and it is up to you to work as you never have done if you wish to see yourselves represented in truth at Ottawa."

Charges Pressure Used.

Sam Guthrie, M.P.P., was the first speaker, making a slashing attack upon the method his Compensation Act amendments were handled at the last session of the Provincial Legislature. "Had there been more representatives of the working class present in the Legislature these amendments would have been passed instead of shelved," he declared, asserting the suppression of his amendments was due to J. O. Cameron and others who formed a delegation of British Columbia manufacturers, who put heavy pressure upon the Premier. "This is going to continue as long as you workers send to represent you men, who really represent the employing class."

Irremediable Condition.

Tom Richardson, of South Vancouver, who has had eight years' experience as a Labor member of the British House of Commons, and now running on a Federated Labor platform in Vancouver South, called attention to what he termed "one of the most appalling facts in connection with the present election. "Civilization is faced with a condition unparalleled in the world's history. We not only have unemployment in Canada, all over the world, but a Federal Government of men and women in need of the bare necessities, we also find financial matters in chaos, which justifies my description," he said. "What then is your opinion of these so-called statesmen, either Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen or Hon. H. H. Stevens or any other of them?"

"Therefore we should recognize the fact that, if the present system is to continue, we can have no remedy, on the contrary, as each cycle comes around, conditions will become intensified," said Mr. Richardson. Japanese Advancement. Touching upon Japan, he said that within a generation that country had changed from being one of the most valued customers of Britain or the United States, and is now so industrialized as to become a formidable competitor, and said he feared that unless a change comes "all the nations will be in the ring," a condition to be obviated by the national adoption of a policy of collective ownership of the means of production.

Slush Funds.

Prefacing his remarks with "just a word about slush funds," Mr. Richardson declared that one of the city aldermen of Vancouver had informed him that the Liberal campaign was expected to cost $25,000, while the expenses incurred by the Government side, with a Cabinet Minister in the running, were placed at $40,000 at the least. "It is the working class that is destined to raise politics from the mud and dirt which at present exists," and what it has done for

THESE are the testing days, the days that put the acid test on every business. Sound businesses will survive and the unsound will pass off the map entirely, or start afresh with the bitter lessons of experience as a guide and a warning. When there was business for everyone in the happy post-war period, sound businesses swept along with big turnovers and satisfactory profits, and there was enough left to keep unsound businesses trailing happily along behind. Everybody was happy.

And then!—The fresh breeze of prosperity died down and the calm of stagnant business fell like a pall.

It was a dead calm for unsound businesses, and they drifted hopelessly and helplessly about.

The sound businesses were equipped, as it were, with an auxiliary motor, the motor of quality, and a reputation built up by years of faithful service to the buying public.

That motor has kept them moving steadily along, and some business skippers wonder where they get their momentum from.

It's no secret. Twenty-one years ago we decided to build this business on quality. In those twenty-one years there have been four periods when the little bird of expediency whispered, "drop quality and depend on wind alone."

We were tempted, but we did not fall. The stronger the temptation, the stronger our determination to hold fast to quality and keep that equipment up to full strength and efficiency.

How fortunate for us that we did not waver! When thousands are crying "cheap, cheap," and "price, price," we find that our reputation for quality is carrying us right along, and that in this year of grace 1921 our volume of business in cold dollars and cents will be as great as in any year previous to the abnormal post-war period.

That's what quality has done for 20th Century Brand Fine Tailored Clothes for Men.

And we're so grateful that we have decided to put more quality into our garments. We're doing so right now. Not less quality to meet the cry for cheap goods, but more quality to meet the demand for value and service.

Quality has been the one big factor in the success of our business. Watch and see what more quality will do for us.

DEMANDS INVESTIGATION.

To the Editor: I notice by this morning's paper that another city official has been outlawed from his position, by the autocratic decree of the Mayor, and the question suggests itself, "are we importing German methods into our administration?" The official in question is Mr. George MacKenzie, Assistant Sanitary Inspector, whom I have known for years as a thoroughly conscientious officer, fair and consistent in his dealings with all those with whom his duties have thrown him into contact. There are two sides to every question, and it is nothing more than British fair play (and nothing else should be tolerated) that to give the person charged an opportunity of explaining or repudiating an accusation. This has not been done. Instead, a valued servant is made the

NERVOUS, IRRITABLE, SUFFERING WOMEN

Mrs. Britten Tells How She Was Restored To Health After Suffering for More Than A Year.

Another Triumph for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dimondale, Mich.—"I had inflammation and a displacement and weakness, and it had been neglected so long that it caused great pain, and this affected my mind and nerves so that I was very irritable. I had severe pains every month, so that I was often obliged to lie in bed for two days at a time. I suffered for more than a year before my friends said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' So I purchased one bottle after another until I had taken ten bottles, then Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I received so much benefit from this treatment that I am now able to do my own work."—Mrs. W. D. BRITTEN, R. No. 2, Dimondale, Mich.

Another Michigan woman says: "I was bothered for a long time with female troubles and I felt almost afraid at times. I also had a pain in my right side and was certainly in a bad way. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has relieved me of these nervous feelings and pains and I am much better in every way. I don't know just how many bottles I have taken, but I took it for nearly a year and it has done me a world of good."—Mrs. JESSIE GRANGES, R. No. 2, Box 51, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Good health is a woman's greatest asset. With it she may be the inspiration of her husband, a happy mother, and the life of the home. Without it she suffers agonies herself, household duties are a burden, and her family is made miserable by her condition.

Is it any wonder that these women were nervous and irritable after suffering so long from such deranged conditions? Such ailments act directly upon the nerves, and it has been said that a large percentage of nervous prostration, nervous dependency, "the blues," and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement of the female organism.

If women who are in this condition would only profit by the experience of others and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, much suffering and unhappiness would be averted, as everyone knows a nervous, irritable, ailing mother makes the home unhappy and her condition irritates both husband and children.

LADIES OF COLWOOD CLUB DISCUSS PLANS

Will Hold Monthly Medal Competition; Miss Sayward Elected Captain

Twenty-five lady members of the Colwood Golf and Country Club met yesterday afternoon to formulate plans for the holding of competitions and so stimulate interest in the game. Miss Sayward was elected captain, with Miss Noonan secretary, and Mrs. Graham, Graham, Mrs. F. C. Abell and Mrs. C. H. Willis on the committee.

It was decided to hold a monthly medal competition, the first on Tuesday, December 13. For the purpose of arranging handicaps, members are required to hand in three score cards not later than December 7. Those to hand in cards will play from scratch.

On the suggestion of Miss Sayward, it was also decided to inaugurate a ladder competition as soon as the handicaps are arranged.

The meeting, on the motion of Mrs. Angus Campbell, decided to approach the club committee with a request for the erection of lockers in the ladies' quarters.

PRINCESS PATS WIN

The Princess Pats gained another two points in the Garrison soccer league yesterday when they defeated the—4-0. In one of the best games yet played in this league. The score at half-time was three to one in favor of the artillerymen, but after half-time the Pats came back strongly and succeeded in winning by a one-goal margin, four to three. Play was fast right from the start and the spectators were treated to a battle royal. Anderson, Gibson and Poccock played good football for the losers, while Spiers and Waggart played a fine game at back and Cummins again shone as outside right for the winners. Bill Faulkner handled the game in a very satisfactory manner.

The league standing is now as follows:

P. P. C. L. I.	3	3	0	6
Departmental Corps	2	1	1	2
R. C. G. A.	3	1	2	0
Machine Gunners	2	0	2	2

NEW TAXES OUTLINED BY HART; B. C. BUDGET CALLS FOR $21,000,000

Lighter On Merchants.

"At the present time the Government collects one per cent. on personal property if the amount of such tax is greater than the tax on income would be. Sometimes it has been argued that the Government has no right to this tax, which is in effect a service tax, inasmuch as it gives no service to the property, while the municipality renders to the property certain services such as police and fire protection, streets, sidewalks, and so on, for which it should receive some remuneration. This point of view has been put forward by councils and others interested in civic affairs, and persistent demands have been made by municipalities during the past couple of years for the handing over to them of this source of revenue.

How Personal Property Tax Will Work.

"So far as the merchant is concerned he will be in a better position than at present if he has not a profitable year. Now he has to pay one per cent. on personal property to the Government, even though a loss in the operation of his business is shown, but under the new proposal he will only be required to pay not more than one-half of one per cent. for a maximum of fifty per cent. of his present payment.

"If, however, a profit is shown after having charged up this service tax among other operating expenses the Government will ask for an income tax, but this is in keeping with many suggestions made to the Government that ability to pay is the soundest basis for a Government tax.

Expect It To Yield $1,000,000.

"It is not an easy matter to estimate what this service tax will amount to within the municipalities, but the Government's figures show that an amount of approximately $1,000,000 was collected last year from this source. Many estimates have been put forward by boards of trade and chambers of commerce but a reasonable estimate of the revenue at the rate suggested would be, say, $1,000,000.

$250,000 From Poll Tax.

"It must not be forgotten that two years ago we gave the municipalities the right to levy a poll tax upon those who do not contribute to the revenue in any other way, which should reach a large section of the population not now paying anything for the benefits they enjoy. I estimate that this should bring in at least $250,000 yearly.

$2,500,000 More For Cities.

"Therefore the municipalities may reasonably be assured of an income from present or former Government sources of $2,500,000 more in 1922 than they received in 1920. This contribution, of course, will immediately put most municipalities in first-class shape, and will be a very material assistance to others, but those which have become seriously involved cannot expect the Government to lift them out of debt at one stroke.

To Increase Succession Duties.

"It is proposed to introduce a new schedule of rates for the collection of succession duty, which will materially increase our revenue from that source. The rates suggested will be approximately the same as those used by the Manitoba Government.

Tax On Pari-Mutuel Winnings.

"It is also proposed to submit legislation during the present session imposing a tax of five per cent. upon all bets made through the pari-mutuel system. The Dominion and the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario tax the pari-mutuels and in addition to this tax Quebec charges a license as high as $1,000 per day for the privilege of holding a race meet, dependent upon the length of the track. New Zealand also has a tax on the pari-mutuel system which produces a large revenue for that Commonwealth.

"It has been estimated that the total amount passing through the machines during the four months held in Vancouver and Victoria this year was not less than $7,500,000, consequently a revenue of $250,000 seems a conservative expectation from that source.

To Raise Motor License Fees.

"A review of the receipts from motor license fees brought to light that the new rates, although supposed to have been much greater than the previous tax, worked out about the same in the matter of revenue. It is proposed, therefore, to introduce legislation increasing these fees by fifty per cent.

Cutting Down Arrears of Taxes.

"The arrears of taxes for income and personal property have been considerably reduced, and although there were some arrears under these headings outstanding going back nearly twenty years the Department hopes that before the end of this fiscal year all sums due up to 1917 will have been paid.

Taxpayers Made More Careful.

"This department of the Taxation Branch continues to show splendid results. To date the cost of the department for salaries, traveling expenses and everything amounts to $48,540.98, and for this expenditure it can show that it has been responsible for bringing to the Treasury the sum of $1,815,651 which otherwise would have escaped.

"The Department has a good effect on persons making returns, as they are more particular in fulfilling this duty knowing that eventually the auditors will make a full examination.

Must Produce More, Save More.

"The demands upon the Provincial Exchequer are so heavy that the most rigid economy must continue to be observed in every branch of the public service, and the estimates have been framed with that in mind. It must be recognized by the municipalities also that the same strict economy must characterize all their operations.

"This Province as a whole and the people of this Province must produce more and save more. With such a course of action and with the resources in men and material which we have to develop our future prosperity is not in the least doubtful.

"The total revenue estimated from all sources for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1922, is placed at $19,945,515, an increase of $2,935,213.97 over the estimated increase for the current fiscal year. This gives an estimated surplus of $1,108,517.54 over the expenditure which is anticipated on current account, thus continuing our policy in that regard.

"The revenue looked for through the several departments is as follows: Department of Agriculture, $30,000; Department of the Attorney-General, $4,761,500; Department of Education, $76,000; Department of Finance, $5,731,115; Department of Fisheries, $25,000; Department of Labor, $27,500; Department of Lands, $3,818,000; Legislation, $2,000; Department of Mines, $163,000; Department of the Provincial Secretary, $495,200; Department of Public Works, $42,500; Department of Railways, $45,000.

"Adding this amount to the increased sums for per capita grants to schools, teachers' salaries, mothers' pensions and free text books, also $12,330,000, we have $22,245,450 of uncontrollable expenditure, which did not appear in the last estimates. As the expenditures estimated for the current year, as compared with the estimates presented last session, are $1,377,735.33 greater than for the present year, there is actually a net saving in the departmental administration of the Government of $888,711.47.

"In services, the expenditure of the coming year, as compared with the estimates presented last session for the current year, is as follows:

Public debt, $1,032,233.08 vs. $2,325,623.08; Premier's office, $15,180.00 vs. $15,180.00; Dept. Agr., $79,670.00 vs. $86,778.00; Dept. Ag., $1,795,518.00 vs. $1,659,201.00; Dept. Edu., $3,514,962.00 vs. $3,418,227.00; Dept. Fin., $15,254.00 vs. $90,456.00; Dept. Fish., $10,000.00 vs. $10,000.00; Dept. Ind., $25,000.00 vs. $25,000.00; Dept. Labor, $164,420.00 vs. $6,744.00; Dept. Lands, $1,454,422.00 vs. $1,774,000.00; Dept. Mines, $268,004.28 vs. $206,004.00; Dept. Prov. S., $2,222,230.00 vs. $2,386,170.00; Dept. W., $2,000.00 vs. $2,000.00; Dept. Rail., $74,500.00 vs. $74,500.00; Capital Ac., $3,075,165.26 vs. $2,958,763.26; Total, $21,312,462.82 vs. $19,945,724.29.

"The expenditure for the coming fiscal year shows an increase over the present one of $961,238.53 on current account and of $416,400 on capital account.

"Generally speaking all the departmental appropriations are less than for the present year with the exception of the Legal, Education and Public Works Departments.

"County goals will cost $74,015 more—an increase of $100,000 is found in mothers' pensions, and the development of the insurance branch increases its cost by $16,500, against which there is to be placed an additional revenue of $68,000.

"These increases come to $140,615, but as the increase for the Department is $135,509 it is to be seen that there is a saving of over $15,101 in the other activities of the Department presided over by my honorable friend the Attorney-General.

"The total increase in the Department of Education is $96,735, but as five items of increase amount to $132,850, there is a reduction of $36,000 in the operation under the other headings. The item I refer to are $52,500 for greater per capita grants to schools, $12,850 more for the 'Free Text Book Branch', $9,000 more for industrial education, $30,000 more for increased salaries to teachers in advanced schools and an additional $28,000 for conveying children to central schools.

"More For Public Works. There is an increased expenditure

One-Tenth All Revenue Has To Go To P.G.E.

"I have prepared a comparative statement of the statutory fixed and semi-fixed charges which have to be met out of the revenue before any other expenditures can be considered. The growth in these and the percentage of the coming year's income which will be absorbed in meeting appears in tabular form thus:

Table with 5 columns: Year (1910, 1914, 1921, 1922-23, 1922-23), Item (Education, University of B. C., Industrial Schools, Hospital Grants, Mental Hospitals, Public Debt, Civil Service, Legislation, Administration of Justice, P. G. E. Interest, Mothers' Pensions, Department of Labor, Department of Industries), Amount, and Percentage of total revenue.

"Included in the public debt charges above are the interest and redemption charges on account of Provincial securities issued for the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, amounting to $1,157,688.20.

"If we add to this the $773,884 which will have to be paid as in-

Net Debt $55,000,000; Latest Loans Detailed

"The funded public debt of the Province as shown by the public accounts at March 31, 1921, amounted to $46,511,436, against which sinking funds have been provided amounting to $6,981,432.75, leaving the net debt of the Province at that date $39,530,003.25.

"Since then up to November 1, 1921, further sums have been borrowed by the issue of debentures for the following purposes:

Pacific Great Eastern Construction Loan Act, 1921, $3,000,000; B. C. Highway Act (Loan Act, 1920), $3,000,000; Department of Industries Act, 1919, $1,000,000; Land Settlement Board (Loan Act 1917, 1919 and 1921), $1,705,000; Consolidated Revenue (capital expenditure 1918, 1919), $3,000,000; Public Works (roads), (Loan Act, 1915), $600,000; Soldiers' Land Act (Loan Act, 1919), $100,000; Conservation (Water Act, 1914, Loan Act, 1919), $350,000; Better Housing Act and amendments to Loan Act, 1919, $340,000; Soldiers' Land Act, Chapter 80 Loan Act, 1921, $1,000,000; P. G. E. Railway and Consolidated Revenue (54,300), Loan Act, 1916, $245,000; Soldiers' Land Act (Loan Act, 1921), $445,000; Water Act, 1914, Loan Act, 1919), $250,000; $200,000; for purposes of the act, unappropriated (Loan Act, 1921), $250,000.

"In addition to this the temporary borrowings by Treasury bills on account of South Vancouver Aid Act against which a trust account is set up by the municipality, amounts to $790,000.

"Treasury bills outstanding with the Canadian Bank of Commerce; Land Settlement Board (Loan Act, 1917), $145,000; Department of Industries (Loan Act, 1919), $25,000; B. C. University (Loan Act, 1920), $100,000; or in all $270,000.

"The total net debt as at November 1, 1921, is thus $55,011,436.

"In presenting the 1921 budget of March 17 last I submitted a statement showing that the total borrowings of the Province, both permanent and temporary, amounted to $52,661,436, since which time our total debt has increased to $62,911,436. While the Province has floated $17,340,000 of securities on the open market since the close of last session our debt has only increased by $17,250,000, the additional $7,000,000 representing the conversion of Treasury bills held by the Bank of Commerce in debentures.

"These borrowings bring our total

The Man Who Saves can be more easily saved than most people imagine

If you look ahead you can easily picture how useful $30,000 would be to you. If you were to start in and save $200 each six months and let it compound at 5 1/2% you would have that substantial sum in 30 years, but—you know of many people who could have set aside this amount, yet who are still 'drudging along.'

You know yourself how hard it is to save cash. Human nature is such that very few people allow ready money to remain untouched for any length of time.

The Canada Life Plan Provides that any sum you name will be delivered to you in cash at any age you desire, or to your beneficiary should you die in the meantime.

You see by this Plan how an IMMEDIATE ESTATE is created in event of death—the full face value of the insurance policy. At one stride you anticipate years of effort, you capitalize your present health and earning power, you make certain of many years of progress now. Take, for instance, an Endowment at 65 issued by the Canada Life. It makes saving money attractive, systematic and very profitable.

You can be certain that the full amount will be paid in any case whether you live or not. Other investments may fail—the Canada Life Endowment is a certainty. It will take care of your home, your business, your children's future, or yourself, as nothing else can.

Profits Will Hasten Maturity If the profits are allowed to remain each year instead of being withdrawn and spent, a special clause provides that the face value of the policy will be paid some time well in advance of the due date.

Regular saving, an immediate estate, substantial profits, absolute safety—this is a combination that you should look into today.

Ask for particulars.

U. S. UNKNOWN WARRIOR BURIED

thought of a world awakening; and we are here to testify and by gratitude and reverence for this thought of a wider freedom.

"On such an occasion as this, amid such a scene, our thoughts alternate between defenders living and defenders dead. A grateful republic will be worthy of them both. Our part is atone for the losses of heroic life by making a better republic for the living.

"Ours are lofty resolutions to-day as with tribute to the dead we consecrate ourselves to a better order for the living. With all my wish, I would say to the defenders who survive, to mothers who sorrow, to widows and children who mourn, that no such sacrifice shall be asked again.

"It was my fortune recently to see a demonstration of modern warfare. It is no longer a conflict in chivalry, no more a test of military quality. It is only cruel, deliberate, scientific destruction. There was no contending enemy, but the theoretic defence of a hypothetical objective.

Reason. "As this panorama of unutterable destruction visualized the horrors of modern conflict, there grew on me the sense of the failure of a civilization which can leave its problems to such cruel arbitrament. Surely no one in authority with human attributes and full appreciation of the patriotic loyalty of his countrymen could ask the manhood of kingdom, empire or republic to make such sacrifice until all reason had failed, until justice itself, through understanding had been denied, until every effort of love and consideration for fellowmen had been exhausted, until freedom itself, in violation of honor had been brutally threatened.

"I speak not as a pacifist fearing war, but as one who loves justice and hates war. I speak as one who believes the highest function of government is to give its citizens the security of peace, the opportunity to achieve and the pursuit of happiness.

"The loftiest tribute we can bestow to-day—the heroically earned tribute—fashioned in deliberate conviction, out of unclouded thought, neither shadowed by remorse, nor made vain by fancy, is the commitment of this republic to an advancement never made before. If American achievement is a cherished pride at home, if our unselfishness among nations is all we wish it to be and ours is a helpful example in the world, then let us give of our influence and strength, yes, of our aspirations and convictions, to put mankind on a little higher land, exulting and exalting, with war's distressing and depressing tragedies barred from the state of righteous civilization.

United Effort. "There have been a thousand defenses justly and patriotically made; a thousand offences which reason and righteousness ought to have stayed. Let us beseech all men to join us in seeking the rule under which reason and righteousness shall prevail.

"Standing to-day on hallowed ground, conscious that all mankind has halted to share in the tribute of heart and mind and soul to this fellow American, and knowing that the world is noting this expression of the republic's mindfulness in fitting to say that his sacrifice and that of the millions dead, shall not be in vain. There must be, there shall be, the commanding voice of a conscious civilization against armed warfare.

Prayers. "As we return this poor clay to its mother soil, garlanded by love and covered with the decorations that only nations can bestow, I can sense the prayers of our people, of all peoples, that this Armistice Day shall mark the beginning of a great and lasting era of peace on earth and goodwill among men. Let me join in that prayer:

"Our Father who art in Heaven, hallowed by Thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, forgive our sins, our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us, and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For Thine is the kingdom and the power and glory forever. Amen."

The Wonderful BREATHEABLE REMEDY. B.C. BEST COUGH RELIEF. FARRIS TELLS HOUSE. But Conditions Now Not So Bad As Expected. Premier, Bowser and Others Debate Unemployment.

Unemployment occupied the attention of the members of the Legislature nearly all afternoon yesterday, as a result of R. H. Neelands' motion to have the House consider it. Premier Oliver took the floor when the House assembled and said that unemployment was probably more marked in South Vancouver than anywhere else in the Province.

Mr. Bowser, leader of the Opposition, said that after hearing the Premier he was as much in the dark as ever regarding the Government's proposals for Government relief. He said that the Government deserved no great credit for going to the relief of South Vancouver, but he did feel that the Premier had no right to criticize the Mayor for taking up homes in that part of the Province.

Mr. Bowser declared it was impossible to carry on public works during the months of snow, ice and heavy rain. So what was the use of deceiving the people in this way, he asked. "We cannot look into the future," continued the Opposition leader. "We must face the situation as we find it, and I regret very much that the Government is not doing a better job of covering the situation this Winter."

Under the three-way split put forward by the Dominion Government, by which the Dominion, the Province and municipalities each contribute one-third for relief work in their borders, the Government had contributed to Vancouver alone since last January $121,000. Hanes: Was that a loan or a gift? Mr. Farris: That was a direct contribution for necessitous cases.

Mr. Neelands in closing the debate on his resolution declared that as long as present conditions obtained, it was impossible to bring in any cure for unemployment, but that since the industry had failed it is the duty of the Government to do all in its power to remedy conditions. "I submit that it is an utter impossibility for me to do an average family to set aside anything as a nest egg for a rainy day," he added.
