INTRODUCTION

The 1954 Census of Business, along with the 1954 Census of Manufactures and Mineral Industries, was authorized by law under Title 13, United States Code, section 131. These 1954 Censuses covered businesses operated in continental United States, Alaska and Hawaii. The 1954 Census of Business covered Wholesale Trade, Retail Trade, Selected Service Trades and Public Warehouses. Separate Censuses of Business and Manufactures for 1954 were also conducted in Puerto Rico jointly with the Commonwealth Government. Public warehouses, however, were not covered in the Puerto Rico Census.

Findings presented in this report are for that portion of the 1954 Census of Business pertaining to Public Warehouses.

The term "public warehouses" as used here, encompasses the following industries of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual, Volume II, May 1949, a manual developed under the auspices of the Bureau of the Budget, Executive Office of the President.

Industry Number	Title
422	Farm product warehousing and storage
423	Refrigerated warehousing
424	Household goods warehousing and storage
425	Special warehousing and storage, not elsewhere classified
428	Terminal facilities for handling freight
429	General warehousing and storage

The various classes of warehouses for which data are presented separately in this publication are described below under "Description of Classifications."

METHOD OF ENUMERATION

Data in this report, as well as in other 1954 Census of Business publications, were obtained by means of a mail canvass. Report forms were mailed to all business firms included in the active records of the Internal Revenue Service as subject to payment of Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA) taxes (i.e., employers of one or more persons) and which were classified in the records of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors' Insurance (BOASI) as wholly or partially engaged in public warehousing and storage, wholesale, retail, manufacturing,

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

At the end of 1954 there were 7,565 establishments, with one or more paid employees, in continental United States primarily engaged in the public warehouse business as defined below under "Description of Classifications."* Revenue for the year amounted to $757 million. Employees of the industry numbered 94,444 during the workweek ended nearest November 15, 1954, on a weekly payroll of $6,170,064, or an average of $65 per employee. Payroll for the year amounted to $304 million, or 40 percent of the total revenue. Owners of unincorporated firms, even though they may have been engaged in the business, are not included in the count of employees nor is their compensation included in payroll.

Public warehouses, as the term is used here, includes general merchandise warehouses, household goods warehouses, refrigerated warehouses, food locker plants, farm products warehouses, special warehouses and storage facilities, and freight trucking terminals. As indicated in the "Description mineral industries, and in major groups 70, 72, 73, 75, 76, 78, and 79 of the Service portion of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual. In addition, report forms were mailed to all establishments which BOASI had not classified by kind of business prior to mailing Census report forms. Each establishment was mailed a report form appropriate to its BOASI classification (for those cases for which BOASI classifications had not been established, a general purpose form was used), but its 1954 Census classification was determined by replies to questions on the Census report form. Each establishment enumerated in the 1954 Census of Business was classified as a public warehouse, retail store, wholesale establishment or service business according to its major activity.

Two special report forms, designed in cooperation with industry representatives, were used in enumerating public warehouses in connection with the 1954 Census of Business. (See Report Forms BC-42A and 42B reproduced on pp. 11-15 thru 11-18). This publication presents information developed from those forms.

PREVIOUS CENSUSES OF PUBLIC WAREHOUSES

Public warehouses were included in the 1935 and 1939 Censuses of Business, but not in the 1948 Census. A separate bulletin was issued in connection with the 1935 Census entitled Public Warehousing. Data for 1939 were included as a part of Service Trades for that year, and were published in Sixteenth Census of the United States 1940, Census of Business, Volume III, Service Establishments, 1939.

In addition, the Bureau of the Census, as statistical collection agent for the Transportation Division of the National Defense Advisory Commission, conducted a survey of the Nation's public storage space in 1941. The findings were published in a Census Bureau release of December 6, 1941, entitled Survey of Public Storage Space as of July 1, 1941. This survey was limited for the most part to general merchandise and household goods warehouses.

CONFIDENTIALITY OF DATA

In accordance with Census law, any data which would disclose the operation of an individual establishment or business organization are not published. The number of establishments in a kind of business is not considered a disclosure by Census rules, so that this item is shown in instances where other items of information for the same establishments are suppressed.

of Classifications," data in this report are limited to establishments primarily engaged in performing warehousing and related services for the public. Plants primarily engaged in other activities but which also conduct some public warehouse business (e.g., ice plants with some public refrigerated space and food lockers, poultry dressing plants having some public refrigerated space, wholesale warehouses providing some public space, etc.) are excluded.

General Merchandise Warehouses.—Of the 7,565 establishments in the public warehouse classification, 1,197 were primarily engaged in warehousing general merchandise with annual revenue of $172 million. Employees of this segment of the warehouse trade numbered 22,283 on a weekly payroll of $1,576,442 as of mid-November 1954, or a weekly average of $71 per employee. Annual payroll amounted to $82 million or 47.6 percent of revenue.

General merchandise warehouses reported a total of 108 million square feet of floor space at the end of 1954, 102 million of which was assigned to the storage of general merchandise, 2 million to household goods, and 4 million to other purposes. In addition they reported 21 million cubic feet of refrigerated space. Net piling floor space averaged 90,000 square feet per establishment.

Of the floor space assigned to general merchandise, 72.3 percent was occupied as of the end of the year compared with 72.1 percent of the household goods space and 72.6 percent of the space assigned to other purposes. Occupancy of general merchandise space ranged from 65.0 percent in New England to 83.4 percent in the South Atlantic Division.

States recording the largest volume of general merchandise warehouse revenue in 1954 included New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, New Jersey, Ohio, and California in the order named, each with $10 million or more. Together these six States accounted for more than one-half (52 percent) of the total revenue for the country. New York led all other States with $26 million.

A total of 3,043 buildings were used for general merchandise warehouses at the end of 1954, 243 of which were not more than five years old. The remaining 2,800 were built (completed) prior to 1950. Gross floor space in warehouses less than 5 years old averaged 32,000 square feet per building compared with 48,000 square feet of floor space in the older buildings. A tendency toward single story buildings is noted in the fact that 81.4 percent of the gross floor space in warehouses constructed since 1949 was in one-story structures, compared with only 22.3 percent in those more than five years old. Stated differently, 77.7 percent of the floor space* of the older buildings was in multi-story structures compared with only 18.6 percent in the newer ones. The tendency toward single story buildings was most pronounced in the New England, Mountain, Pacific, and East South Central divisions where more than 90 percent of the newer space was in this type of structure.

Revenue for this type of warehouse is analyzed by source in Table 2E as follows: general merchandise revenue (storage, handling and miscellaneous accessorial services), household goods revenue, special storage revenue, freight trucking terminal revenue, sale of merchandise, and other revenue. Total revenue from all sources amounted to $172 million. Of this amount, $139 million was from storing, handling and other services related to general merchandise; $10 million was from storage of household goods; $2 million represented special storage revenue; $4 million was from freight trucking terminal business; $1 million was from sale of merchandise; while the remaining $16 million represented miscellaneous revenue. "General merchandise revenue" was derived as follows: 60.8 percent from storage; 30.6 percent from handling of merchandise; and 8.6 percent from accessorial or other related services.

General merchandise warehouses are measured by revenue size in the accompanying text Table A. Only 18 of the 1,197 establishments reported revenue of $1 million or more. Their revenue amounted to $26 million for the year, or 15 percent of the total for general merchandise warehouses. Forty establishments each reported revenue of $500,000 to $999,000, and 113 were in the $250,000 to $499,000 revenue-size bracket. The 171 establishments with annual revenue of $250,000 or more accounted for slightly more than one-half of the total revenue of all general merchandise warehouses. Revenue averaged $1.58 per square foot for the year 1954. It is interesting to note, however, that it increased with revenue size from 39 cents per square foot in the "less than $10,000" bracket to $1.85 per square foot in the $250,000 to $499,000 bracket, after which it showed a tendency to decline. Payroll as a percent of revenue, on the other hand, was relatively independent of revenue-size. It ranged only moderately from a low of 45.1 percent in the $25,000 to $49,000 revenue bracket to a high of 49.1 percent in the $500,000 to $999,000 size class. For all size classes combined, payroll averaged 47.6 percent of total revenue.

As shown in the accompanying Table B, 30 of the 1,197 general merchandise warehouses had 100 or more paid employees in mid-November 1954. An additional 64 were in the 50 to 99 employment size bracket, making a total of 94 each with 50 or more employees. On the other extreme 248 establishments each employed fewer than 4 persons.

Annual revenue averaged $1.58 per square foot of floor space and increased with employment size. For example, revenue of those in the 1 to 3 employee bracket amounted to $.90 per square foot. From this low it increased, except for a drop in the 50 to 99 employee bracket, to a high of $1.92 per square foot for those with 100 or more employees. The ratio of payroll to revenue also increased with employment size from a low of 28.0 percent in the 1 to 3 employee group to 58.4 percent for the largest employment size class. These ratios, however, may have been influenced, particularly in the smaller brackets, by the fact that compensation of owners of unincorporated firms is not included in payroll.

Warehouses were requested to report their employees by occupation class according to the following groups: supervisors, engineers and office employees; warehouse and platform employees; drivers and helpers; and all other employees. Of the total 22,283 paid employees of general merchandise warehouses, 20,732 were reported by occupation class as follows: supervisors, engineers and office employees, 5,926; warehouse and platform employees, 9,436; drivers and helpers, 3,004; and all other employees, 2,366.

Household Goods Warehouses.—A total of 1,816 of the 7,565 public warehouses were primarily engaged in storing and handling household goods. Revenue from all sources amounted to $202 million for the year 1954. This segment of the trade employed 25,640 persons as of mid-November 1954 and reported a payroll of $1,859,418 for the workweek ended nearest November 15, or a weekly average of $73 per employee. Payroll for the year amounted to $92 million or 45.5 percent of the total revenue.

These warehouses reported a total of 51 million square feet of occupiable floor space assigned to public storage as of December 31, 1954, of which 42 million square feet were devoted to household goods; 7 million to general merchandise; and 2 million to other public storage use. Net occupiable public floor space averaged 28,000 square feet per establishment.

States reporting the largest volume of revenue during 1954 were: New York, California, Texas, Illinois, and Ohio in the order named, each with more than $10 million. Revenue for the five States as a group amounted to $93 million, or 46 percent of the national total. The five leading standard metropolitan areas, in the order named, were: New York-Northeastern New Jersey, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, and Washington, D. C.

A total of 2,947 buildings were used primarily for public storage of household goods. Of this number 2,689 were more than five years old, while the remaining 258 were constructed (completed) subsequent to 1949. Newer buildings—those not more than five years old—reported an average of 13,000 square feet of gross floor space per building, compared with 22,000 square feet for the older ones. A tendency toward single story operations is noted among the newer buildings. In fact 58.2 percent of the gross floor space in newer buildings represented one-story operations compared with only 15.3 percent in those more than five years of age. The tendency toward single story buildings was most pronounced in the South Atlantic, East South Central, West South Central, and Mountain divisions.

Public floor space was assigned at the end of 1954 as follows: 42 million square feet to storage of household goods, 7 million square feet to general merchandise, and 2 million square feet for other public storage purposes. Of the total household goods space 70.2 percent was occupied at the end of the year, compared with 67.6 percent of the general merchandise space and 80.3 percent of the other space. Geographic divisions recording the highest occupancy of household goods space were: Pacific, Middle Atlantic, South Atlantic, and West South Central.

Revenue is analyzed by source in Table 3E, as follows: household goods revenue (storage, labor, trucking, packing and crating, and commission); general merchandise revenue; special storage revenue; freight trucking terminals revenue; sale of merchandise; and other revenue. Revenue from all sources amounted to $202 million. Of this amount, $172 million was from storage, handling, and other services related to household goods; $7 million from storage of general merchandise; $2 million, special storage revenue; $2 million from freight trucking terminals services; and $4 million from sale of merchandise; while the remaining $15 million represented revenue from other sources. Of the total household goods revenue, 53.1 percent was from trucking; 18.2 percent from storage; 17.0 percent from packing and crating; 6.8 percent, commission; and 4.9 percent from labor.

Some interesting facts are noted when household goods warehouses are classified by revenue size as in the accompanying text Table C. For example, 43 had annual revenue of $500,000 or more. On the other extreme, 47 reported less than $5,000 revenue in 1954, and 77 were in the $5,000 to $9,000 group. The most numerous size classes were the $50,000 to $99,000 bracket with 415 establishments and the $100,000 to $249,000 bracket with 456 establishments.

Annual revenue per square foot of floor space varied with revenue size from a low of $.38 in the smallest class to a high of $4.99 in the $250,000 to $499,000 bracket after which it declined moderately. The ratio of payroll to revenue, on the other hand, showed little variation by size class. Excluding the two extremes, it ranged only from 43.8 percent to 47.5 percent.

INTRODUCTION

Household goods warehouses are classified by employment size in the accompanying text Table D where it is shown that 12 of the 1,816 warehouses each employed 100 persons or more and 58 were in the 50 to 99 employment size class. These 70 largest employers reported $40 million in revenue or 20 percent of the total for all household goods warehouses. They also reported 8.8 million square feet of floor space assigned to public storage, or 17 percent of all occupiable public space. The 8 to 19 employment-size bracket embraced the largest number of establishments, 633. Revenue varied with employment size from a low of $1.86 per square foot of floor space in the 1 to 3 employees bracket to a high of $5.67 for the largest employers. Establishments in the 50 to 99 employees bracket averaged $4.22 per square foot, slightly lower than in the next larger or next smaller employment size class. The ratio of payroll to revenue also varied with employment size from 19.8 to 54.3. The fact that the compensation of owners of unincorporated firms is not included in payroll may have had a significant influence on the ratios among smaller employment-size groups.

Household goods warehouses were requested to report their paid employees by occupation class according to the following groups: supervisors, engineers and office employees; warehouse and platform employees; drivers and helpers; and all other employees. Of the 25,640 paid employees as of mid-November 1954, 24,184 were reported by occupation class as follows: supervisors, engineers, and office employees, 6,213; warehouse and platform employees, 3,627; drivers and helpers, 12,751; and all other employees, 1,593.

Refrigerated Warehouses.—Establishments primarily engaged in providing refrigerated space for the public numbered 577 at the end of 1954, with revenue for the year totaling $125 million.

This segment of the warehouse industry employed 13,215 persons on a payroll of $993,407 for the workweek ended nearest November 15, 1954, or an average of $75 per employee. Payroll for the year totaled $50 million, 39.8 percent of the total revenue.

Net piling space assigned to public storage measured 304 million cubic feet as of the end of the year, 133 million of which was classified as cooler space and 171 million as freezer space. In addition the industry provided for use by others 10.1 million square feet of floor space, 60 thousand frozen food lockers, and 105 thousand cubic feet of locker bulk freezer space. These figures do not include public refrigerated space at ice, poultry dressing, ice cream, and similar manufacturing plants as measured in text Table J.

Leading States from the standpoint of revenue included New York, California, Illinois, New Jersey, Missouri, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, and Texas in the order named, each with $5 million or more. Revenue for the eight States as a group totaled $79 million, or 62.9 percent of the national total.

Data are presented separately in Table 4B for the 14 standard metropolitan areas with 1,000,000 or more inhabitants. The New York-Northeastern New Jersey area with revenue totaling $15 million, Chicago with $11 million, and Los Angeles with $6 million led all other areas. Together these standard metropolitan areas contributed one-fourth of the national total.

An analysis of revenue (Table 4E) reveals that $102 million, or 81.7 percent of the total of $125 million, was from refrigerated space, $5 million from dry storage, $2 million from food locker rentals and service, $11 million from the sale of merchandise, and $5 million from other sources.

Refrigerated warehouses are grouped by revenue size in the accompanying text Table E, where it is noted that 22 had $1,000,000 or more revenue in 1954. An additional 44 were in the $500,000 to $999,000 bracket, or a total of 66 each had revenue of $500,000 or more for the year. Revenue for the 66 warehouses amounted to $57 million or 45.3 percent of the total for all size classes. Revenue averaged $.41 per cubic foot for the year 1954, and increased consistently by size bracket from a low of $.19 in the less than $10,000 bracket to a high of $.55 in the $1,000,000 and over classification.

INTRODUCTION

Forty-six refrigerated warehouses each reported 1.5 million or more cubic feet of occupiable public refrigerated space. Together they contributed more than one-third of the space of all size classes. Those in the largest size classification reported an average of $.34 annual revenue per cubic foot compared with $.41 for all size classes combined. Payroll for this group amounted to 40.5 percent of revenue, slightly higher than the 39.8 percent for all refrigerated warehouses.

¹Not shown because of undue influence of food locker business and of sales of merchandise included in revenue.

Food Locker Plants.—Of the 7,565 public warehouses and related facilities, 2,467 were classified as food locker plants. This number is limited to establishments with one or more paid employees, primarily engaged in rendering locker service to the public. Locker plants operated by unincorporated firms without paid employees are shown only in text Table H of this bulletin. Locker plants operated in conjunction with and as part of retail stores, service business, etc., are excluded from these data.

Revenue of the 2,467 "primary" plants amounted to $91 million for the year 1954. This industry employed 8,162 persons on a payroll of $361,893 for the workweek ended nearest November 15, 1954. Payroll for the year amounted to $17 million, or 19.0 percent of revenue.

Individual lockers installed at the end of 1954 numbered 1,301,903 and the industry reported 2,321,472 cubic feet of additional bulk freezer space—space not in lockers. Locker plants also provided 3 million square feet of public dry storage space and 13 million cubic feet of refrigerated space.

States recording the largest number of individual lockers installed were Illinois, Iowa, Texas, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, California, Wisconsin, and Kansas, in the order named, each with more than 50,000. Illinois and Iowa each had more than 100,000 lockers. The combined total for these nine leading States numbered 699,779 lockers, or over one-half of the country's total.

Food locker plants are grouped in the accompanying Table G by the number of individual lockers installed at the end of 1954. Of the 2,467 plants, 990 were in the 500 to 999 locker bracket, with an average of 603 lockers per plant. The 990 plants in this size group reported $43 million in revenue or almost one-half of the total for all size classes.

The ratio of payroll to revenue declined consistently with an increase in the number of lockers installed, from a high of 27.2 percent in the "under 300 lockers" bracket to a low of 10.6 percent in the "2,000 and over" classification. For all size classes combined, payroll averaged 19.0 percent of revenue.

Farm Products Warehouses.—There were 1,081 warehouses—other than refrigerated—at the end of 1954 primarily engaged in storing farm products. These warehouses reported revenue for the year totaling $127 million, and an annual payroll of $46 million or 36.6 percent of revenue. This segment of the warehouse industry employed 20,643 persons on a payroll basis as of mid-November 1954. It provided 122 million square feet of public storage space and 132 million bushels of grain bin space as of the end of the year.

Cotton warehouses constituted the most significant portion of this segment of the warehouse industry with 634 of the 1,081 establishments and $87 million, or almost 70 percent, of the total revenue. Grain elevators primarily engaged in public storage were second most numerous with 232 establishments and $26 million in revenue. The remainder was made up of 63 tobacco warehouses, 16 potato warehouses, and 136 warehouses of other farm products.

States with the largest farm products warehouse revenue were Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi, California, Louisiana, Tennessee, and Georgia in the order named, each with revenue of more than $5 million for the census year. This revenue for the seven leading States amounted to $92 million or almost three-fourths of the national total.

Of the $127 million total revenue, $89 million was from warehouse and storage (except refrigerated); one million from trucking; $22 million from compressing, packing, crating, baling, etc.; $8 million from sale of merchandise; and $7 million from miscellaneous sources.

Special Warehouses and Storage Facilities.—This classification encompassed 270 storage facilities with revenue for 1954 totaling $28 million. It employed 2,881 persons on an annual payroll of $11 million or 39.2 percent of revenue.

Included in the 270 establishments were 26 fur warehouses, 50 facilities for storing bulk petroleum products, 4 tank facilities devoted to storing vegetable oils and syrups, 5 other bulk liquid facilities, and 185 other special products facilities.

OTHER 1954 DATA FOR WAREHOUSE AND STORAGE SPACE

Data in this report, except for text Table H, are limited to establishments, with one or more paid employees, that were primarily engaged (at the end of 1954) in the public warehouse business as defined below under "Description of Classifications". Unincorporated firms operating public warehouse facilities without paid employees are excluded. The significance of this segment of the industry is measured for continental United States in the following table.

Information for this group of establishments was furnished by the Internal Revenue Service and was derived from 1954 tax returns. The data were compiled from only one-half of the cases and the accompanying results for this group were established by multiplying such findings by two. As information available for this type of establishment is limited, only the number of establishments and total revenue for 1954 could be shown.

Many plants primarily engaged in manufacturing activities also conduct some public warehouse business. Public and private refrigerated storage space for specified manufacturing industries in continental United States are shown separately in text Table J which follows. This information was compiled in connection with the 1954 Census of Manufactures.

Special warehouses and storage facilities provided 10 million square feet of public floor space, 5 million cubic feet of refrigerated space, and 405 million gallons of bulk liquid storage space as of the end of 1954.

Freight Trucking Terminals.—This classification is limited to companies primarily engaged in the operation of freight trucking terminals and which do not operate trucks. There were 157 establishments of this type at the end of 1954 with revenue for the year amounting to $12 million. This industry employed 1,620 persons as of mid-November and reported an annual payroll of $6 million, or almost one-half of total revenue.

CENTRAL ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICES AND AUXILIARIES

Data in the accompanying tables are limited to establishments or places of business primarily engaged in storing goods and rendering related services to others. For purposes of the 1954 Censuses, respondents were asked to report separately any central administrative offices or auxiliaries that were at different general locations from the establishments managed or served, or that were at the same location as one of these establishments but not operated as an integral part thereof. Fourteen central administrative offices and auxiliaries were reported as primarily engaged in servicing public warehouses. These fourteen reported payroll for the year 1954 totaling $1,213,000 and 198 employees as of mid-November 1954.

Other warehouse and storage space information developed in connection with the 1954 Censuses—but not included in this bulletin—is outlined below:

- a. Warehouse and cold storage space of wholesale establishments—published in Warehouse Space, Bulletin W-2-5 of the 1954 Census of Business.

This bulletin presents information on floor space and refrigerated space of the various classes of wholesale establishments by kind of business and by area.

- b. Bulk liquid storage space of petroleum bulk plants and terminals.

This information is included along with data on sales (dollars and gallons), employment, payroll, etc.) in Petroleum Bulk Plants and Terminals, Bulletin W-2-8 of the 1954 Census of Business. Storage capacity information is presented by product (gasoline, kerosene, distillate and residual fuel oils) at the State and county levels.

- c. Grain bin space of selected manufacturing industries.

Information on bin space is included in Grain-Mill Products, Bulletin MC-20D of the 1954 Census of Manufactures. Data are presented for States and geographic divisions as well as for the country as a whole.

- d. Public warehouse space in tobacco manufacturing establishments.

Data covering this subject are included in Tobacco Manufactures, Bulletin MC-21A of the 1954 Census of Manufactures.

DESCRIPTION OF CLASSIFICATIONS

General Merchandise Warehouses—(SIC Industry 4291).—This classification consists of establishments primarily engaged in the public warehousing and storage of a general line of goods in commerce. General merchandise is defined as material or goods of many varieties which are packaged (in boxes, cartons, crates, bags, bales, barrels, kegs, etc.) or are readily handled and do not require refrigeration controlled humidity, or other special facilities. As shown in the accompanying tables, general merchandise warehouses frequently do some household-goods warehouse business. However, warehouses whose primary receipts are from the latter business are classified as "Household Goods Warehouses."

Household Goods Warehouses—(SIC Industry 4241).—These warehouses are devoted primarily to the public storage of household goods, usually for the home-owner or user of the goods. Companies performing local trucking service as well as warehousing household goods are included in this classification. Many establishments in this classification also conduct some general merchandise warehousing business.

Refrigerated Warehouses—(SIC Industry 4232).—This classification includes establishments (except food lockers) which are primarily engaged in the public storage of perishable goods at artificially low temperatures. Refrigerated warehouses operated for private use are not included. Likewise, ice plants, poultry dressing plants, and other similar facilities whose principal receipts are from processing goods, but which provide some public refrigerated space, are not covered in this report. Refrigerated space, public and private, is measured in Table J for a number of the more important manufacturing industries to which it is common.

Food Locker Plants—(SIC Industry 4233).—Establishments with one or more paid employees primarily engaged in the renting of artificially cooled locker space for the storage of food products for individual households are included here. Establishments which also provide services for processing, preparing, or packaging of such food are included.

Farm Products Warehouses—(SIC Industry 4221).—These are establishments primarily engaged in the public storage of grain, cotton, tobacco, or other unmanufactured farm products. Cotton warehouses, with or without compresses are included except where operated as secondary to other businesses such as cotton gins.

Special Warehouse and Storage Facilities—(SIC Industry 4251).—These are warehouses which are primarily engaged in the storage of special products, not elsewhere defined, such as automobiles (dead storage only), furs (for the trade), textiles, works of art, office records, bulk petroleum products, bulk chemical products, whisky, goods in bond, and goods in foreign trade.

Freight Trucking Terminals—(SIC Industry 4281).—Included here are companies primarily engaged in the operation of freight trucking terminals, but not operating trucks. Facilities operated by trucking companies are omitted as they are considered part of the Trucking Industry, SIC Industry Group 421.

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

Establishments.—Census of Business figures represent a summary of reports for individual establishments rather than companies. A separate report was obtained for each establishment, including each establishment operated by multiunit organizations. In general, each location was counted as a separate establishment. However, in the case of public warehouses, where a company operated as a unit two or more buildings in a single city or metropolitan area and these buildings were all used for the same type of warehousing, the total operation was counted as one establishment.

Where two or more activities were carried on at a single establishment, the entire establishment was classified on the basis of its major activity and all data were included in that classification.

The count of establishments does not include those places which conducted business at some time during 1954 but which went out of business before the end of 1954; however, revenue, employment and payroll for such establishments are included.

Revenue Terms

Revenue.—Included here are all receipts from customers during 1954, after deductions of returns, allowances, and discounts. It includes receipts from storage, trucking, and other services performed by the warehouse; merchandise sales, including sales and excise taxes; and commissions from customers. Revenue figures therefore represent total receipts from warehouse storage and related services, including any retail or wholesale sales made by them.

Revenue from food locker rentals and services.—Included are revenues from locker rentals plus receipts from slaughtering, processing, smoking and curing, freezing, blanching, and other food processing services.

Sales of merchandise.—Amounts shown under this category represent the net sales value of merchandise (gross sales less returns and allowances).

General merchandise revenue.—This is revenue from storage and handling general merchandise, including such accessory services, where required, as labeling, stenciling, collection services and miscellaneous services to general merchandise.

Household goods revenue.—This is revenue from handling and storage of household goods—including trucking, packing and crating, labor and commissions.

Special storage revenue (general merchandise and household goods warehouses).—This is revenue from refrigerated and food locker space, storage of bulk liquids, storage of grain, and storage of products not elsewhere classified.

Personnel and Payroll Terms

Payroll, entire year.—All forms of compensation (salaries, wages, commissions, bonuses, and vacation allowances) paid during the year to all employees are included. For corporations, payroll includes amounts paid to officers and executives; however, it does not include compensation of proprietors or of partners of unincorporated businesses. Payroll is reported before deductions for Social Security, income tax, insurance, dues, etc.

Payroll—workweek ended nearest November 15.—This item consists of payroll as defined above, which was paid to persons on the payroll in the pay period ended nearest November 15, 1954. Establishments whose payroll period was other than a week were requested to adjust the figures to a weekly basis.

Paid employees—specified workweek.—Paid employees consists of the number of employees, including salaried officers and executives of corporations, who were on the payroll for the workweek ended nearest November 15, 1954. Owners of unincorporated businesses, however, are not included in the count of employees even though they may be actively engaged in the business.

Warehouse Space Terms

Gross floor space.—This item represents the overall area of buildings (computed from outside measurements) in which public storage activities are conducted, including storage space, nonstorage space, space leased to others, office space, etc.

Warehouse space leased to others.—This is space leased to others on a landlord-to-tenant basis, regardless of whose employees handled the goods stored.

INTRODUCTION

Occupiable public warehouse space.—This is warehouse net piling space which was assigned to the storage of commodities for the public. Space leased to others on a landlord-to-tenant basis, nonstorage space or space consumed by exterior and interior walls, aisles, elevator shafts, stairways, offices, receiving and delivery rooms, platforms, or other obstructions, is not included. Space is measured as of the end of 1954.

Floor space.—This is square feet of under-roof public warehouse floor space assigned to the storage of commodities which do not require refrigeration—such as household furnishings, furniture, general merchandise, packaged goods, cotton, tobacco, lumber, and the like.

Refrigerated space.—This is cubic feet of refrigerated (net piling) space 50° Fahrenheit or below assigned to public storage of commodities such as dairy products, fruits and vegetables, meats, and other perishable items.

Bulk liquid storage space.—This is tank storage space in gallons (shell or water capacity) for handling bulk liquid products.

Grain bin space.—This is bin space, rated capacity in bushels, for storing loose grains, feed, etc.

Number of individual frozen food lockers installed.—Included here are installed individual lockers having storage capacity of less than 25 cubic feet each.

Frozen food locker bulk freezer space.—This is cubic feet of freezer space in locker plants not being utilized for individual lockers.

Legal Form of Organization Terms

Individual proprietorships.—These represent unincorporated businesses owned by one individual or person who may not actively participate in their operations.

Partnerships.—Included here are unincorporated businesses owned by two or more persons, having a financial interest in and a responsibility for the business. Each partner may or may not actively participate in the operation of the business.

Corporations.—These are businesses (except cooperatives) owned by legally incorporated organizations or companies. Incorporated cooperatives are included under "cooperative associations," not here.

Cooperative associations.—All forms of cooperative associations are included here, corporate or noncorporate.

Other forms of organization.—Included here are establishments reporting some other form of ownership than those described above.

Ownership not reported.—Included here are establishments that failed to indicate their form of ownership.

Size Terms

Employment size of establishments.—Establishments are classified according to the number of paid employees as of November 15, 1954. Owners of unincorporated firms, even though they may have been actively engaged in the business, were not counted as paid employees in determining employment size, nor was their compensation included in payroll. These omissions may be particularly significant in smaller size brackets as they tend to understate total employment, and their services are not taken into consideration in relating payroll to revenue.

Revenue size of establishments.—Establishments are classified according to total revenue during 1954. Revenue figures were rounded to thousands of dollars before establishing the size classification.

Establishments that operated only a part of the year, as well as those operating the full year, are included in size classes according to 1954 revenue. For those not in business at the end of the year, revenue is included in the table, but not the number of establishments nor space information. Omission of space information tends to overstate the relationship of revenue to space, particularly in the smaller brackets.

APPENDIX A

PROVISIONS OF LAW RELATING TO THE 1954 CENSUS OF BUSINESS

(From Title 13 United States Code)

SECTION 131. The Secretary shall take, compile, and publish censuses of manufactures, of mineral industries, and of other businesses, including the distributive trades, service establishments, and transportation (exclusive of means of transportation for which statistics are required by law to be filed with, and are compiled and published by, a designated regulatory body), in the year 1954 and every fifth year thereafter, and each such census shall relate to the year immediately preceding the taking thereof: Provided, That the censuses of manufacturers, of mineral industries, and of other businesses, including the distributive trades and service establishments, directed to be taken in the year 1954 relating to the year 1953, shall be taken instead in the year 1955 relating to year 1954. The censuses provided for in this section shall include the United States and its Territories and such Possessions as the Secretary may determine.

SECTION 224. Whoever, being the owner, official, agent, person in charge, or assistant to the person in charge, of any company, business, institution, establishment, religious body, or organization of any nature whatsoever, neglects or refuses, when requested by the Secretary or other authorized officer or employee of the Department of Commerce or bureau or agency thereof, whether such request be made by registered mail, by telegraph, by visiting representative, or by one or more of these methods, to answer completely and correctly to the best of his knowledge all questions relating to his company, business, institution, establishment, religious body, or other organization, or to records or statistics in his official custody, contained on any census or other schedule prepared and submitted to him under the authority of this title, shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than sixty days, or both; and if he willfully gives a false answer to any such question, he shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

SECTION 9. (a) Neither the Secretary, nor any other officer or employee of the Department of Commerce or bureau or agency thereof, may

(1) use the information furnished under the provisions of this title for any purpose other than the statistical purposes for which it is supplied; or

(2) make any publication whereby the data furnished by any particular establishment or individual under this title can be identified; or

(3) permit anyone other than the sworn officers and employees of the Department or bureau or agency thereof to examine the individual reports.

APPENDIX B

Classification of Wholesale Establishments by Type of Operation and Kind of Business

Each wholesale establishment was assigned trade classifications for purposes of preparing summary totals by type of operation and by kind of business. Although kind-of-business classifications assigned by the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance were used as a basis for distributing appropriate Census report forms, establishments are classified in the Wholesale Census on the basis of information contained in their Census reports. Each wholesale establishment was classified on two bases: By type of operation according to ownership of the business, ownership of the goods sold, or the character of transaction; and by kind of business generally according to lines of merchandise sold. Classification in the 1954 Census is in accordance, but in more detail, with the Standard Industrial Classification system developed under the auspices of the United States Bureau of the Budget, except that separately incorporated sales affiliates of manufacturing and mining companies have been classified in the Census generally as sales branches or sales offices, rather than as merchant wholesalers.

Wholesale establishments are divided into 5 major type-of-operation groups (A, Merchant wholesalers; B, Manufacturers' sales branches, sales offices; C, Petroleum bulk plants, terminals; D, Merchandise agents, brokers; and E, Assemblers of farm products) and 20 subclasses, or a total of 25 types of operation as outlined below. In table 1A, United States Summary, data are presented separately for each of the 25 classifications. In other tables however, data are generally limited to the 5 type-of-operation groups.

- A. Merchant wholesalers
 - 1. Wholesale merchants, distributors
 - 2. Terminal grain elevators
 - 3. Importers
 - 4. Exporters
 - 5. Cash-carry wholesalers
 - 6. Wagon, truck distributors
 - 7. Other limited-function wholesalers
- B. Manufacturers' sales branches, sales offices
 - 1. Sales branches (with stocks)
 - 2. Sales offices (without stocks)
- C. Petroleum (including LP gas) bulk plants, terminals
 - 1. Refiner-marketer bulk plants, terminals
 - 2. Other bulk plants, terminals
 - 3. Wholesale LP gas facilities
- D. Merchandise agents, brokers
 - 1. Auction companies
 - 2. Brokers (merchandise)
 - 3. Commission merchants
 - 4. Export agents
 - 5. Import agents
 - 6. Manufacturers' agents
 - 7. Selling agents
 - 8. Purchasing agents, resident buyers
- E. Assemblers of farm products

Each wholesale establishment was assigned a kind-of-business classification for purposes of preparing summary totals by trades, or kind of business. Establishments were classified according to the business in which they were primarily engaged during the census year. The term "primarily engaged", as used in this connection, generally means the classification in which the majority of the business (sales) of the establishment fell.

Each Census wholesale report form provided for reporting information on lines of merchandise sold. In addition, respondents were afforded an opportunity to self-designate their trade classification—the "designation by which the business is known to the trade or public." The self-designated classification was accepted where it conformed to the predominant activity of the establishment as shown by an analysis of the merchandise line data on the report. Otherwise, the classification was changed to conform to the predominant merchandise line or lines. Doubtful cases and those for which merchandise line information was not available were usually resolved in favor of the self-designated classification.

TYPE-OF-OPERATION DESCRIPTIONS

A. MERCHANT WHOLESALERS

This major-type group consists of establishments usually known as wholesalers, distributors, jobbers (except those in the clothing trade which are included in the Census of Manufactures), foreign trade merchants, limited-function wholesalers, etc.—distributors primarily engaged in buying, taking title to and, where customary, physically storing and handling goods made by others and selling the goods at wholesale principally to retailers or to industrial, institutional, and commercial users. Some establishments in this group perform operations on the goods incidental to the wholesale trading and delivery, such as installing machines, equipment, and fixtures; servicing merchandise sold; and collecting and baling waste materials.

Merchants primarily engaged in buying and selling raw materials and industrial goods are included as well as those marketing consumer goods.

1. Wholesale Merchants, Distributors

Merchant wholesale establishments primarily engaged in buying and selling in the domestic market who perform most of the principal wholesaling functions. They buy and sell merchandise on their own account; sell principally to retailers or to industrial, commercial, or professional users; usually carry stocks; assemble in large lots and generally redistribute in smaller quantities, usually through salesmen; extend credit to customers; make deliveries; service merchandise sold; and render advice to the trade.

2. Terminal Grain Elevators

Grain elevators of grain merchants that receive grain primarily from country grain elevators, local stations, or other assembly points rather than direct from farmers. Grain generally is received by rail rather than by wagon or truck. This classification is confined to merchandising terminal elevators and excludes mill elevators and public storage warehouses.

3. Importers

Merchant wholesale establishments whose chief distinction lies in the source of their purchases which is primarily foreign.

4. Exporters

Merchant wholesale establishments primarily engaged in selling in the foreign rather than the domestic market.

5. Cash-Carry Wholesalers

Merchant wholesale establishments that generally carry a limited line of products, mostly staples and fast moving items, who usually do not extend credit to their customers nor make deliveries. Cash-carry depots owned by service wholesalers and operated as separate establishments are included here.

6. Wagon, Truck Distributors

Merchant wholesale establishments distinguished by the fact that they combine sales and delivery functions, and that they normally carry a limited assortment of fast moving items of a perishable or semiperishable nature.

It might be noted in this connection that only those wagon distributors who have one or more paid employees are included in this census classification.

7. Other Limited-Function Wholesalers

This classification includes several types of limited-service wholesale establishments such as drop, or direct mill, shippers; retailer-cooperative warehouses, and wholesale establishments of consumer cooperatives.

B. MANUFACTURERS' SALES BRANCHES, SALES OFFICES

These establishments differ from merchant wholesalers in that they are owned by manufacturers or mining companies and maintained apart from manufacturing plants, primarily for selling or marketing their products at wholesale. Branch stores selling to household consumers or individual users are classified in Retail Trade. Sales offices located at manufacturing plants or at general administrative offices of manufacturers or mining companies are excluded unless operated as separate establishments. Manufacturers' sales branches are distinguished from sales offices by the fact that the former maintain facilities for the physical storage, handling, and delivering of at least a portion of the merchandise sold. Sales branches frequently install machinery, equipment, and apparatus sold by them and sometimes are engaged in leasing or renting machinery or equipment on a royalty basis.

Separately incorporated sales affiliates owned or controlled by manufacturers and selling the manufacturers' products generally are included here. Exceptions occur in the wholesale electrical goods trade, oil-well supply houses and steel warehouses where such businesses are generally considered as distributors (merchant wholesalers). Wholesale establishments owned by manufacturers but principally engaged in buying and selling merchandise of other manufacturers are classified, for Census purposes, as merchant wholesalers.

Sales, as recorded for sales branches, include direct deliveries from plants on orders from the branches as well as deliveries from branch stocks. Sales, as shown for sales offices, generally represent the value of orders written, or "booked", by employees at the offices including salesmen working out of the office. In the absence of such records, however, some companies credited sales offices with all sales made to customers located in the sales territory covered by the office.

C. PETROLEUM BULK PLANTS, TERMINALS AND WHOLESALE LP GAS FACILITIES

This group of establishments is distinguished by their facilities for physically receiving, storing, and marketing gasoline, kerosene, distillate and residual fuel oils, liquefied petroleum gases, and other bulk petroleum products at wholesale. The facilities are divided into two general groups, (1) bulk plants and terminals primarily engaged in marketing petroleum refinery products, and (2) wholesale LP gas facilities.

Bulk plants and terminals selling petroleum refinery products may be independent (merchant wholesalers), or they may be operated directly or indirectly by petroleum refining companies (manufacturers' sales branches). Wholesale establishments primarily engaged in selling packaged, rather than bulk, petroleum refinery products and those without stationary storage facilities, which sell in bulk from tank trucks, are classified as "merchant wholesalers."

1. Bulk Plants and Terminals of Petroleum Refinery Products

a. Bulk Plants.--These establishments possess bulk storage capacity up to 2,100,000 gallons, receive their supplies primarily by truck or rail--rather than by tanker, barge, or pipe line--and are primarily engaged in marketing products to retailers, to industrial accounts, and to farmers for power equipment.

b. Bulk Terminals.--Two types of facilities engaged in marketing gasoline, kerosene, distillate and residual fuel oils are included: (1) those having total storage capacity of 2,100,000 gallons or more; and (2) facilities, regardless of storage capacity, which receive their supplies by tanker, barge, or pipe line.

2. Wholesale LP Gas Facilities

These wholesale establishments are primarily engaged in selling liquefied petroleum gases (LP gas) either in bulk or bottles, to dealers, wholesale distributors, or to industrial and commercial accounts--including Government and the Military.

Petroleum bulk plants and terminals are also classified (table 1A, United States Summary,) as "refiner-marketer bulk plants, terminals" or "other bulk plants, terminals." "Refiner-marketer bulk plants, terminals" are those owned and operated by petroleum refining companies primarily for marketing their products, and in this respect are similar to manufacturers' sales branches.

D. MERCHANDISE AGENTS, BROKERS

This group includes establishments whose operators are in business for themselves and primarily engaged in selling--or buying--goods for others. They negotiate sales and/or purchases in domestic or foreign trade but they do not, as a rule, take title to the merchandise. Their compensation is in the form of commission or brokerage. "Sales," as shown in Census publications, for agents and brokers represent the sales--or purchase--value of the goods in the transactions negotiated. They include some approximation as many agents and brokers do not maintain accurate records of dollar sales. In such cases carefully prepared estimates are included.

This major type-of-operation group is confined to agents and brokers primarily engaged in the marketing of merchandise at wholesale. Agents and brokers primarily engaged in dealing in futures, options, real estate, securities, financial transactions, etc., are not included in the 1954 Censuses.

Merchandise agents and brokers are subclassified on the basis of type of operation as outlined below. Assignment of establishments to the more detailed type classification was primarily on the basis of usual trade designation.

1. Auction Companies

Establishments primarily engaged in selling merchandise by the auction method at wholesale. These establishments generally provide places for public inspection and sale of merchandise consigned to them. Auction selling is most common in the marketing of leaf tobacco, livestock, fruits and vegetables, and related products. Livestock auction barns are included here.

2. Brokers

Establishments which negotiate transactions between buyers and sellers generally without having direct physical control of the goods and without taking title to or assuming the risk of price fluctuations. They act as agents for their principals who are usually producers or manufacturers.

Some brokers are primarily engaged in representing buyers rather than sellers, hence "buying brokers" are distinguished from "selling brokers."

In some trades it is difficult to distinguish brokers from selling agents and manufacturing agents, the terms frequently being used to describe similar methods of operations. This is particularly true in the food industries where brokers generally represent producers (sellers).

3. Commission Merchants

Establishments primarily engaged in handling commodities or merchandise consigned to them for selling on a commission basis. As commission merchants, they do not take title to the goods they sell. When the goods require it they maintain places of business suitable for handling, conditioning, warehousing, and selling the merchandise. Only merchants selling principally on a consignment basis are included here, those selling principally on their own account, but who do some consignment business, are classified as merchant wholesalers.

This classification also includes factors who specialize in the raw farm-products trade, notably cotton. Factors, as a rule, are located in central markets and receive the goods on consignment from producing areas.

4. Export Agents

Agency or brokerage establishments specializing in the purchase of goods for, or sale of goods to, foreign buyers.

5. Import Agents

Agency or brokerage establishments primarily engaged in representing foreign sellers in the domestic market, or acting as purchasing agents buying foreign goods for domestic firms.

6. Manufacturers' Agents

Establishments selling, on an agency basis, a part of the output of manufacturers, usually two or more, whose goods are noncompeting. Their principal duty is selling, although some of them warehouse goods for their principal. A segregation is made between manufacturers' agents with stocks and those without stocks.

Manufacturers' agents differ from brokers (representing sellers) in that the former are found principally in the industrial and durable goods trades, whereas brokers are most numerous in the food, farm products, and related trades. Also many manufacturers' agents carry stocks of sample items and parts and supplies.

7. Selling Agents

Establishments which sell merchandise on an agency basis and generally sell the entire output of a given line or lines of goods of one or more manufacturers.

8. Purchase Agents, Resident Buyers

Purchase agents, resident buyers, and syndicate buyers in business for themselves and primarily engaged in buying merchandise, on a commission basis, from clients. They are distinguished from buying brokers primarily on the basis of self-designation. These types of operation are particularly significant in the dry goods, apparel, and general merchandise trades.

E. ASSEMBLERS OF FARM PRODUCTS

This group consists of establishments primarily engaged in purchasing from farmers and assembling farm products in local producing markets and in the cities of producing regions.

They are engaged principally in concentrating farm products on a relatively small scale and assembling larger lots for shipment to central markets. In addition to the actual buying and assembling of farm products, establishments in this group frequently grade, pack, store, and, in some cases, finance the commodity handled. Included here are such types of establishments as fresh fruit and vegetable packing houses, country grain elevators, cream stations, and livestock buyers.

KIND-OF-BUSINESS DESCRIPTIONS

A. MERCHANT WHOLESALERS

Merchant wholesalers are classified into some 160 kinds of business. These detailed classifications are grouped into 56 trade classifications, which are further combined into 17 major groups as outlined and described below. Data are presented for all trade classifications in table 1A, United States Summary.

Establishments in this type-of-operation group are characterized by the fact that they are primarily engaged in buying and selling merchandise, rather than selling merchandise produced by them, or selling on an agency basis.

1. Grocery, Confectionery, Meat Wholesalers

Bulk plants and terminals selling petroleum refinery products may be independent (merchant wholesalers), or they may be operated directly or indirectly by petroleum refining companies (manufacturers' sales branches). Wholesale establishments primarily engaged in buying and selling packaged, rather than bulk, petroleum refinery products and those without stationary storage facilities, which buy and sell in bulk from tank trucks, are classified as "Merchant wholesalers."

1. Bulk Plants

These are establishments engaged in marketing gasoline, kerosene, distillate and residual fuel oils, having bulk storage capacity up to 2,100,000 gallons, and receiving their supplies primarily by truck or rail--rather than by tanker, barge, or pipelines. They are primarily engaged in marketing products to retailers, to industrial accounts, and to farmers for power equipment.

a. Commission Bulk Plants.--Owned by multiunit concerns--firms operating more than one bulk plant--but operated by a commission agent who has a proprietary interest in the business. Operators of these plants are usually paid commissions which include unspecified amounts to cover overhead, delivery costs, and payroll. Commission agents are included, for Census purposes, in the count of "active proprietors."

¹Standard Industrial Classification Manual, Volume II, Nonmanufacturing Industries, Executive Office of the President, Bureau of the Budget, 1949 (as amended to 1954).

²Wholesale dairies were included in the 1954 Census of Manufactures. Dairy products distributors were transferred to groceries, confectionery, meat wholesalers.

³A new kind of business derived chiefly from electrical goods trades.

⁴Classified elsewhere in 1954 Census.

⁵Comparability at the four digit level of Census and SIC classification of manufacturers' sales branches and sales offices is qualified by the fact that the 1954 Census classification of this type of establishment was in conformity with the manufacturing industries serviced by them. For further explanation see Appendix B.

⁶Coal agents and brokers are included in Census classification "Other merchandise agents and brokers," but in SIC Industry 5137.

APPENDIX E

KIND OF BUSINESS DETAIL FOR WHOLESALE TRADE AREA STATISTICS

Complete kind-of-business detail is shown in the 1954 Census of Business reports only at the United States level. Data for States, standard metropolitan areas, and counties are presented at six different levels of kind-of-business detail. The amount of detail shown at each level is determined by the number of wholesale establishments in 1954 in the particular area, in accordance with the following plan:

- Stub A.—306 trade classifications—United States summary (table 1A).
 Stub B.—159 trade classifications—States (table 101) and standard metropolitan areas (table 103) with 5,000 or more wholesale establishments.

- Stub C.—102 trade classifications—States (table 101) and standard metropolitan areas (table 103) with 1,000-4,999 wholesale establishments.
 Stub D.—27 trade classifications—States (table 101) with fewer than 1,000 wholesale establishments.
 Stub E.—37 trade classifications—standard metropolitan areas (table 103) with 400-999 wholesale establishments.
 Stub F.—21 trade classifications—standard metropolitan areas (table 103) with fewer than 400 wholesale establishments—counties (table 104) with 150 or more wholesale establishments.
 Stub G.—5 trade classifications—counties (table 104) with 100-149 wholesale establishments (data are presented in table 102 for all counties in the State regardless of size).

APPENDIX F

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

(Types of operation and kinds of business are described in Appendix B)

Active proprietors of unincorporated businesses.—Active proprietors include owners or partners of unincorporated businesses who devoted the major portion of their time to the operation of the business for the workweek ended nearest November 15, 1954.

Auxiliaries.—See Central administrative offices and auxiliaries

Bad-debt losses.—See Credit terms

Bin space of grain elevators.—The rated capacity of elevators or bins used for storing loose grain, feed, ear corn, etc., by country grain elevators and terminal elevators of grain merchandise firms is measured in Table 9H.

Brokerage or commission received.—Merchandise agents and brokers were instructed to report amounts received by them on transactions negotiated for others during 1954. These amounts usually appear in the table under the heading "Operating expenses (including payroll)," footnoted accordingly.

Central administrative offices, and auxiliary units of wholesale establishments.—These are locations of a multiunit organization which service or are auxiliary to the wholesale establishments within the organization. They do not ordinarily sell merchandise. They are classified into the following groups:

Central administrative offices.—These are locations such as central offices, executive offices, and district offices which are engaged in performing administrative functions for the wholesale establishments within the same multiunit organization. Locations having other functions in addition to administrative functions are included in this group.

Other auxiliaries.—These are locations such as warehouses, buying offices, garages, receiving or shipping offices, etc., which are engaged in performing auxiliary functions other than administration for the wholesale establishments in the same organization.

City size.—Each establishment included in the 1954 Census of Business was classified into one of five city-size groups, based on the number of inhabitants in the city in which the establishment was located. City size was determined by the 1950 Census of Population count, except for places which had special censuses taken by the Bureau of the Census between April 1, 1950, and September 15, 1954. The group entitled "Remainder of United States" includes all establishments located in incorporated cities of less than 5,000 inhabitants, and in rural areas.

Class of customer.—See Sales by class of customer

Cold storage space.—See Warehouse and storage space terms

Commodity-line sales.—See Sales terms

Cooperative associations.—See Form of ownership terms

Cooperative bulk plants.—These are bulk plants (single unit or multiunit) owned and operated by cooperative associations. Many of these establishments are primarily engaged in marketing products to farmers.

Corporations.—See Form of ownership terms

Country grain elevators.—These are distinguished from terminal grain elevators in that they buy grain direct from farmers primarily in trucks or wagons. Included here are establishments handling grain through properties commonly referred to as "elevators" and which are primarily engaged in buying and selling grain or in buying and assembling grain for shipment to central markets. Many country grain elevators sell feed, seed, fertilizer and other supplies to farmers in addition to buying and shipping grain. Establishments primarily engaged in selling supplies to farmers, however, are classified as retail establishments.

Country grain elevators are classified as independent, line or cooperative elevators:

Independent elevators.—These are country elevators operated by firms other than cooperatives, with only one such establishment in 1954.

Line elevators.—These are distinguished from independent elevators in that two or more were operated by the same ownership.

Cooperative elevators.—These are country grain elevators owned, and operated cooperatively by farmers.

Credit terms:

Bad-debt losses.—Respondents were instructed to report as bad-debt losses the amount of receivables written off during 1954 as uncollectible.

Credit sales.—Respondents were instructed to report as credit business all sales except those on a strictly cash or c.o.d. basis.

Receivables, end-of-year.—Respondents were instructed to report accounts and notes receivable, derived from the sales of merchandise or services, on their books at the end of the year—before deducting reserves for bad-debt losses. Notes and accounts sold or discounted to banks, finance companies, or factors are not included.

Employment-payroll terms:

Employment size.—Wholesale establishments are classified on the basis of the number of paid employees during the workweek ended nearest November 15, 1954. Establishments with one or more paid employees sometime during the year but none during the workweek ended nearest November 15 are included in the "1 paid employee" size class.

Paid employees.—Paid employees consist of the number of employees, including salaried officers and executives of corporations, who were on the payroll for the workweek ended nearest March 15, May 15, August 15, and November 15.

Payroll, entire year.—Payroll includes all forms of compensation (salaries, wages, commissions, bonuses, and vacation allowances) paid during the year to all employees. For corporations, it includes amounts paid to officers and executives; however, it does not include compensation of proprietors or of partners of unincorporated businesses. Payroll is reported before deductions for Social Security, income tax, insurance, dues, etc.

Payroll—workweek ended nearest November 15.—This item consists of payroll, as defined above, which was paid to persons on the payroll in the pay period ended nearest November 15, 1954. Establishments whose payroll period was other than a week were requested to adjust the figures to a weekly basis.

Establishments.—Census of Business figures represent a summary of reports for individual establishments rather than companies. A separate report was obtained for each location where business was conducted, including each location of multiunit organizations. Each report in the Census was tabulated in accordance with the physical location at which the business was conducted.

Where two or more activities were carried on at a single establishment, the entire establishment was classified on the basis of its major activity and all data for it were included in that classification.

The count of establishments does not include those places which conducted business at some time during 1954 but which went out of business before the end of 1954; however, sales, employment, payroll, etc., of such establishments are included.

Locations of multiunit organizations which service or are auxiliary to wholesale establishments of the organization, such as separate storage warehouses, administrative offices, etc., are not considered as wholesale establishments. Information for them is presented separately in Tables 9K and 9L.

Export sales.--See Sales terms

Form of ownership terms:

Individual proprietorships.--These are wholesale establishments of unincorporated firms owned by one individual or person. The owner may or may not actively participate in the operation of the business.

Partnerships.--These are wholesale establishments of unincorporated businesses owned by two or more persons. Partners may or may not actively participate in the operation of the business.

Corporations (except incorporated cooperatives).--These are wholesale establishments owned by corporations, other than cooperative, legally incorporated under State laws. Wholesale establishments operated by incorporated cooperative associations are included under cooperative associations.

Cooperative associations (including those incorporated).--Included here are wholesale establishments operated by cooperative associations, whether incorporated or unincorporated.

Other forms of organization (including not reported).--Included under this classification are two classes of wholesale establishments: Those having ownership under legal forms not defined above--State operated wholesale businesses, special forms of trusts, etc.; and establishments for which no legal form designation was reported.

Gallon sales.--See Sales terms

Independent (single unit) petroleum bulk plants.--These are bulk plants (except cooperative) owned and operated independently of other wholesale establishments. This classification includes bulk plants operated under the same ownership with retail service stations but not under the same ownership with other bulk plants, or terminals.

Individual proprietorships.--See Form of ownership terms

Inventories, end-of-year, at cost.--Inventories consist of stocks, at cost value, of merchandise owned and on hand for sale at the end of the year. Goods owned by the reporting establishments but held by others on consignment basis are included, but not goods owned by others.

Iron, steel scrap processing equipment.--Such scrap processing equipment as shears, presses, torches, cranes, crushers, etc., of iron and steel scrap dealers.

Legal form of organization.--See Form of ownership terms

Line elevators.--See Country grain elevators

Multiunits.--See Single units and multiunits

Operating expenses.--Operating expenses include payroll as well as other overhead expenses, but not the cost of merchandise nor withdrawals by owners of unincorporated businesses. The term covers such items as administrative, selling, warehouse, delivery, occupancy, and miscellaneous expenses.

For merchandise agents and brokers, and for commission petroleum bulk plants, entries under the heading "Operating expenses" represent the amount of brokerage or commission received rather than total expenses incurred.

Paid employees.--See Employment-payroll terms

Partnerships.--See Form of ownership terms

Payroll, entire year.--See Employment-payroll terms

Payroll, workweek ended nearest November 15.--See Employment-payroll terms

Product class sales.--See Sales terms

Purchases for the account of others.--Buying goods, on a commission basis, for others.

Receivables, end-of-year.--See Credit terms

Sales terms:

Commodity line and product class sales.--Provision was made in the 1954 Census of Business for wholesale establishments to report their sales by broad commodity, product, or merchandise line classification. Two different classification systems were used; one for merchant wholesalers, farm product assemblers and petroleum bulk plants and terminals; and one for manufacturers' sales branches and sales offices.

The classifications into which merchant wholesalers and farm products assemblers reported their sales are referred to in this report as "commodity lines," a complete list of which appears on Pages 6-166 and 167.

In order to maintain comparability, and to assist in measuring flow of manufactured goods, manufacturers' sales branches and sales offices were requested to report sales analyses according to broad "product classes" (five-digit classifications) of the 1954 Census of Manufactures. A list of these product classes for which data are shown separately appears on Pages 6-168 to 6-171.

Sales.--Sales are defined to include total receipts from customers during 1954, after deductions of returns, allowances and discounts. They include the amount of local and State sales taxes or Federal excise taxes which are collected by the establishments directly from customers and paid directly by the establishments to a local, State, or Federal taxing agency. Excise taxes and import duties paid by wholesale establishments are also included. Sales include receipts from repairs and from other services to customers but exclude amounts not received from customers, such as income from investments, rental of real estate, etc.

The sales figures, therefore, represent total sales and receipts of all establishments primarily engaged in wholesale trade including any retail sales made by them. They do not include sales at wholesale accounted for by manufacturing plants, retail stores, and other business establishments whose primary activity is other than wholesale trade.

In the tables in this volume sales are presented for the various types of operation and kinds of business of wholesale trade, but no total sales figures are shown for all types of operation combined.

Totals were not provided as such amounts become difficult to interpret because the sales of different operating types represent significantly different inputs of labor, services, etc. (e.g., sales of merchant wholesalers compared to sales made by agents and brokers) and because of the fact that wholesale firms frequently make sales to other wholesale firms.

Sales by Class of Customer:

Sales to industrial, commercial, etc., users.--Although the wording varied with the report form, the respondent was instructed to report under this classification sales to industrial, commercial, professional, and institutional users (except the Federal Government), and other similar types of business concerns that normally buy for their own use rather than for resale of the goods in form purchased.

Forms used in enumerating "machinery, equipment and supplies distributors," "metals, metalwork distributors," "scrap, waste materials dealers," and "coal wholesalers" made no provision for reporting sales to consumers and farmers separately from sales to industrial, commercial and similar users. For these kinds of business all sales to users and consumers, except those to the Federal Government, are included in the accompanying tables in the column headed "To industrial, commercial, etc., users."

Sales to consumers and farmers.--Instructions provided for reporting under this classification all sales to household consumers, farmers and to individual users, including sales to respondents own employees.

The form used in enumerating construction material distributors provided for combining sales to contractors and builders with sales to consumers and farmers. For this kind of business sales to contractors and builders are included with sales to consumers, farmers, etc., are under the heading "To Consumers and Farmers."

Sales to Federal Government.--Instructions provided for reporting here sales direct to the Federal Government, including the armed services.

Sales to retailers.--Instructions provided for reporting here sales to retailers of all types (chain stores, independent stores, department stores, etc.).

Forms used in enumerating "Automotive wholesalers" and "Electrical, electronic, appliance distributors" provided for reporting separately sales to repair shops. Such sales are included in the tables under the heading "To Retailers."

Sales to wholesale organizations.--Respondents were instructed to report under this classification sales to organizations that normally purchase for resale at wholesale.

Export sales.--Instructions provided for reporting here all sales made direct to buyers in foreign countries or through their agents in this country. Firms operating foreign branches were instructed to include all transfers from the United States to such branches. Sales to Puerto Rico and the Territories are excluded.

Sales for own account (merchandise agents and brokers).--The amount of merchant wholesale business done by merchandise agents and brokers for their own account in contrast to sales or purchases negotiated for the account of others.

Sales from stock (manufacturers' sales branches with stocks).--Sales from stocks at sales branches, as distinguished from direct shipments by producers to customers of sales branches.

Sales size.--Each merchant wholesale establishment was classified by the 1954 Census of Business with "establishments operated entire year" or "establishments not operated entire year" on the basis of the period of time covered in the Census report. Classified with "establishments operated entire year" are those which operated 10 or more months during the census year and which were in business at the end of the year. "Establishments not operated entire year" includes establishments that reported less than 10 months operations, together with other not in business at the end of the year. The count of establishments as shown for "not operated entire year," as well as for other classifications, represents only the number in business at the end of the year. However, data on sales, employment, payroll, etc., are included for "establishments not operated entire year" that were not in business at the end of the year, even though not included in the count of establishments. It is for this reason that it is possible for sales, payroll, expenses, etc., to appear for some classifications, but without a corresponding count of establishments. Comparisons of sales-size classes between 1954 and previous censuses should take into consideration the exclusion of establishments with no paid employees in 1954. This change has the greatest impact in the lower sales-size classes.

Sales-size tabulations are limited to merchant wholesalers, "establishments operated entire year," as defined above. Establishments were classified by sales-size group after the reported sales and receipts figures had been rounded to the nearest thousand dollars.

Sales to retailers, users and consumers (petroleum bulk plants, terminals).--Gallon sales by petroleum bulk plants and terminals to retailers, users and consumers (gasoline service stations, service shops, governmental bodies--including the Military--industrial and commercial accounts, exports and sales to truck distributors without bulk storage facilities, etc.). Sales to jobbers and distributors who have bulk plants or terminals are omitted.

Single units and multiunits.--Wholesale establishments are classified according to the total number of wholesale establishments under a single ownership regardless of kind of wholesale business conducted.

Standard metropolitan areas.--In addition to those for States, counties, and cities, Census of Business statistics are presented for standard metropolitan areas. These are areas which have been defined and established cooperatively by a number of interested Federal Agencies under the direction of the Bureau of the Budget for purposes of compilation and presentation of a wide variety of statistical data on a uniform area basis.

The general concept adopted in defining a standard metropolitan area was that of an integrated economic area with a large volume of daily travel and communication between a central city of 50,000 inhabitants or more and the outlying parts of the area. This resulted in an area considerably more restricted, especially for the larger cities, than the "market" or "trading" area. Each area (except in New England) consists of one or more counties. In New England, metropolitan areas have been defined on a town basis rather than a county basis. A complete statement of the principles adopted as a guide in applying this general concept to the definition of individual areas will be found in a document issued by the Bureau of the Budget, Executive Office of the President, dated June 8, 1954, entitled "Standard Metropolitan Area Definitions."

The 173 standard metropolitan areas in the continental United States and Hawaii for which 1954 Census of Business data are included in this volume are those defined by the Bureau of the Budget. (See list and maps in Appendix G.)

Storage capacity.--See Warehouse and storage space terms

Type of operation.--See Appendix B

Vending machines.--Coin-operated automatic machines vending such merchandise as cigars, cigarettes, candy, soft drinks, etc., operated by food, tobacco, and related products wholesalers. Establishments primarily engaged in operating vending machines are classified as retail.

Warehouse and storage space terms:

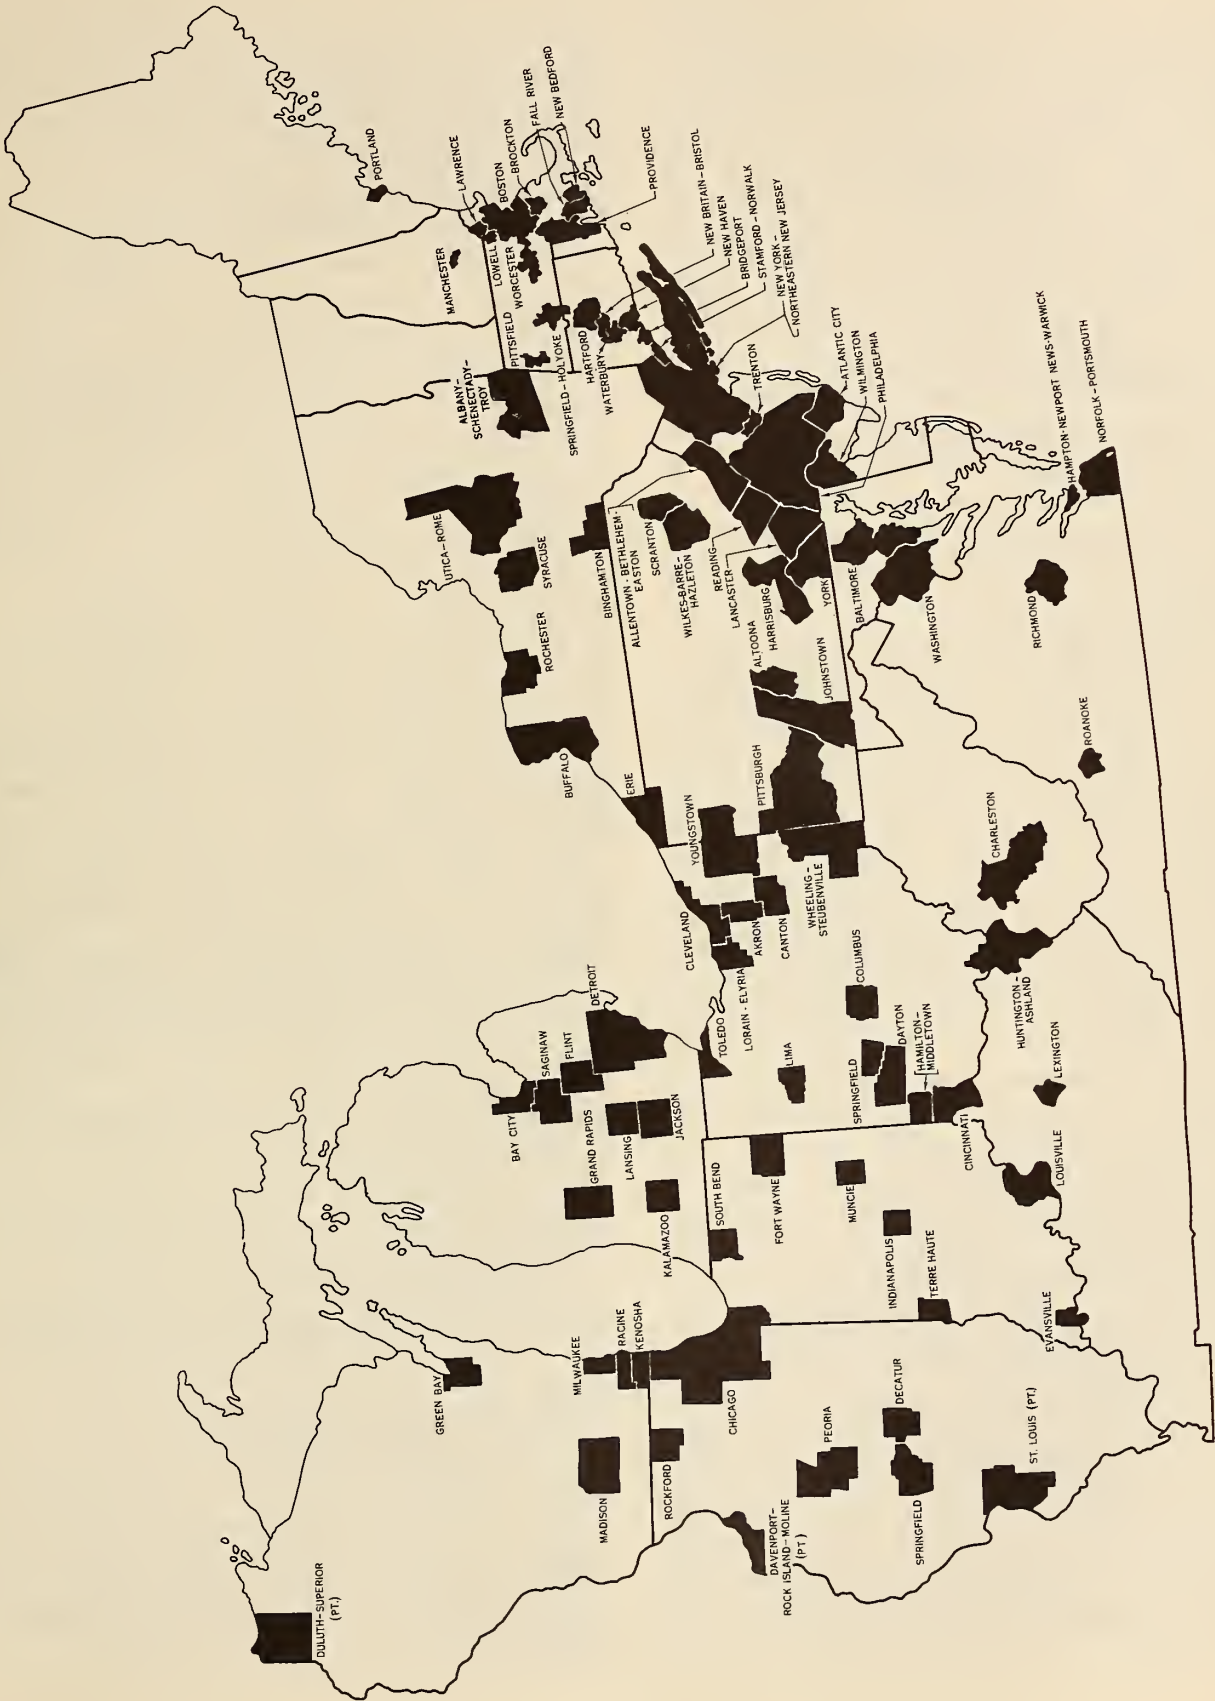

Cold storage space.--Forms used in enumerating wholesale establishments primarily engaged in marketing food and related products provided for reporting net piling cold storage space, in cubic feet, as of the end of 1954. Net piling space was defined as space for storing commodities--inside space measured from wall to wall and from floor to ceiling less space for ventilation (outside of piling), coils, aisles, posts, sprinklers, etc. Forms used by merchant wholesalers of food, by sales branches of food processors and by assemblers of edible farm products provided for segregating cold storage space into: cooler space (20°-50°F); and freezer space, including food lockers, 19°F., and below. Food brokers and agents, types of marketers that normally do not carry stocks, were requested to report only their total cold storage space, not the break between cooler and freezer space.

Storage capacity (petroleum bulk plants and terminals).--Storage capacity represents the bulk liquid storage space at establishments primarily engaged in marketing refinery products and LP gas at wholesale. Establishments operated as bulk plants or bulk terminals and located at refineries are included. Facilities operated as integral parts of refineries, however, are not included in the accompanying tabulation as they are covered in the Census of Manufactures. Likewise space in pipelines, tankers, tank cars, tank farms, public warehouses and space leased to government, including the military, is excluded.

Warehouse floor space.--Respondents were instructed to report, in square feet, the net occupiable warehouse, stock room, and other inventory under-roof floor space as of the end of 1954, occupied or unoccupied. Floor space was reported net--inside occupiable space exclusive of walls, permanent aisles, elevator shafts, stairways, offices, receiving and shipping platforms, etc.

All report forms except the one used in enumerating merchandise agents and brokers provided for segregating space in single story buildings from that in multiple story buildings. However, some respondents were able to provide information on total floor space, but not the break between single and multiple story. Only total floor space is shown for merchandise agents and brokers, as no break between single and multiple story buildings was called for on the report form for this type of operation.
