Technical and Bibliographic Notes/Notes techniques et bibliographiques

The Institute has attempted to obtain the best original copy available for filming. Features of this copy which may be bibliographically unique, which may alter any of the images in the reproduction, or which may significantly change the usual method of filming, are checked below.

L'institut a microfilmé le meilleur exemplaire qu'il lui a été possible de se procurer. Les détails de cet exemplaire qui sont peut-être uniques du point de vue bibliographique, qui peuvent modifier une image reproduite, ou qui peuvent exiger une modification dans la méthode normale de filmage sont indiqués ci-dessous.

The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

New Brunswick Museum
Saint John

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

New Brunswick Museum
Saint John

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

MORNING AND EVENING PLANETS.

MERCURY, the least of the six old Planets, is but seldom seen by the naked eye, and is not, even under favorable circumstances, visible more than two hours before the rising or after the setting of the Sun, but when seen it appears at a little elevation like Antares or Arcturus, red stars of the first magnitude. The following will be the most favorable opportunities for observing this planet in Nova Scotia during the year 1843:—

Jan'y. 20 to Feb'y. 6, in the evening after sunset, bearing W. by S.

May 9, to June 6, do do do W. N. W.

Octr. 23, to Nov'r. 13, in the morning before sunrise do E. by S.

For the conjunction of this and the other planets see Calendar pages.

VENUS, will be visible in the morning, in the East, before sunrise until Octr. 2, the day of her superior conjunction, and then in the evening, in the West, after sunset. In the month of January and February her brilliancy will be so great, that she may then be seen at noon by the naked eye, without much difficulty, even amidst the strongest sunshine.

MARS, will be in opposition to the Sun, or nearest to the Earth on the 6th of June, about which time he will shine with great splendour, his distance from us then, being but little more than one fifth of his distance when in conjunction.

The four small planets, VESTA, JUNO, CERES and PALLAS, are seldom, if ever, seen by the naked eye, even when nearest to the Earth. JUPITER will be in conjunction on Jan'y. 25, and in opposition Aug. 15. This planet is always easily distinguished by his beautiful white light, which though inferior to that of VENUS, is by far the more brilliant than that of any other planet or star.

SATURN, which shines with a pale red light, will be a few degrees to the west of Jupiter the whole year, and therefore easily distinguished.

URANUS will be in conjunction March 19, and in opposition Sept. 23, but seen without a telescope.

ECLIPSES IN 1843.

Three Eclipses will happen this year, of which that in the evening of Decr. 6, will only be visible here.

I. June 27, an annular Eclipse of the Sun, visible in the South Pacific Ocean, Mexico, and throughout South America.

II. Decr, 6, a small Eclipse of the Moon, visible :—

III. Decr. 21. a total Eclipse of the Sun, visible throughout Asia, part of Africa, and the Indian Ocean.

OCCULTATIONS.

The most important occultations probably visible in Nova-Scotia, in 1843, are those of June 11, Sept. 1, and Aug. 21, but there will not this year be any visible occultation of a planet or of a star, of the first or second magnitude.

EXPLANATION OF THE CALENDAR PAGES.

LEFT HAND PAGE.

- COLUMN, 1st and 2d, contain the days of the month and of the week.
- 3d and 4th. The rising and setting in mean time of the highest point, or of the upper limb of the sun, corrected for refraction.
- 5th. Days length in hours and minutes.
- 6th. The Equation of Time (or quantity by which the Sun is slow or fast of the clock), at noon, apparent time (not mean) at Greenwich, or at a quarter before eight in the morning at Halifax.
- 7th. The Sun's declination, for the same as the Equation, 6th column.
- 8th. The rising or setting of the Moon. The setting being given from the New Moon to Full, and her rising from Full to New Moon.
- 9th. The Place of the Moon in the Ecliptic.
- 10th. The time of the Moon's southing, or passing the meridian.
- 11th. Days increase or decrease in hours and minutes.

The top of the columns of each month shows the moon's phases, or the times of new and full moon, and of the first and last quarters, or two quadratures with the sun.

The FARMER'S CALENDAR is placed at the foot of the columns of each month.

of that tide which immediately precedes the southing of the moon. These four columns being computed on the supposition, that the time of High Water on the days of New and Full Moon, (L'establissement du port) is at Halifax, 7h. 15m.—at Annapolis, 10h. 45m.—at Charlotte Town, 10h. 15m.—and at Windsor, and St. John, N. B. 11h. 45m. The tides of January 27, February 15, March 17, August 26, September 24, April 15, May 14, October 24, and November 22, will be the highest of all this year, uninfluenced by wind, and in like manner the tides of January 30, March 31, April 30, May 30, June 29, July 12, October 9, November 19, and December 8, will be very low for spring tides.

* * It will be particularly noticed that all the calculations in this Almanack have been adapted to mean solar time; a mode of computation which has recently come into very general use, and which will probably soon entirely supersede the old mode of reckoning, as a clock regulated to apparent solar time, must, in consequence of the inequality of the solar days, be frequently adjusted. To those persons, however, who may prefer to use apparent time the calculations will be equally useful, as mean is easily converted into apparent time by subtracting the quantity in the sixth column of the left hand calendar pages, when the Sun is slow of clock, and adding it when fast of clock.—Thus, on 1st February the Sun rises in mean time at 7h. 20m. and sets at 5h. 8m. from which (if we subtract 14m. the quantity by which the Sun is that day too slow,) we obtain 7h. 6m. and 4h. 54m. the apparent time.

ALMANACS.

The history of Almanacs, and even the etymology of the word Almanac, are involved in considerable obscurity. By some, the name is derived from the Arabic al manach, to count. Verstegan, the author of "The Restitution of Decayed Intelligence concerning Britaine," makes the word of German origin, Almonat; and says that our Saxton ancestors were in the practice of carving the annual courses of the moon upon a square piece of wood, which they called Almonaught—(al-moon-head). There are several very splendid English Almanacs, of the 14th Century, existing in MS., particularly in the British Museum. A very curious specimen of these early Almanacs is in one of the Colleges at Cambridge. Almanacs became generally used in Europe, within a short time after the invention of printing; and they were very early remarkable, for the mixture of truth and falsehood which they contained. In 1759, their effects in France were found so mischievous, from the pretended prophecies which they published, that an edict was promulgated by Henry III., forbidding any prediction to be inserted in them relating to civil affairs, whether those of the state or of private persons—no such law was ever enacted in England.

One of the most important truths that can be impressed on the mind of the farmer, is, that whatever is worth doing at all, is worth doing well; and, by acting upon this principle, he will rarely find that he has laboured to no purpose during the year. The winter months to the farmer, are months of comparative leisure, negligence is no more to be tolerated in January than in July; and inattention to the interests of the farm now, will frequently add materially to the labors of the year, and seriously reduce, if not wholly destroy, the profits of a season. If any of your animals exhibit symptoms of falling off, such as growing poor, neglecting their food, &c., they should immediately receive extra

23. A fine party morning - Steamer Calcutta arrived all part m. - at 10 pm. Sunday walking as usual.
- 24 Wind from the S, ground whitening, cold, with snow
 down the slope - Miss. a sprinkling of snow from a shower very fine. H. P. A. S.
- 25 Cloudy & snow looking, a raw cold dusty wind N by E.
- 26 A sprinkling of snow again, low high - Morning cloudy - wind from the S, flow but not very cold - N by E dust, by snow.
- 27 A fine morning - white frost seen on high hills
 a very fine pleasure of yesterday, then N by E by N more like light than snow.
- 28 A very beautiful morning, but fine weather
 - rather of being a low cold day.
- 29 Remains toward cold part, rather cold but a fine lake morning - a beautiful day.
- 30 Another like at seven last night changes to partly white frost on the shore - all the sun out bright - lovely weather.
- 31 Dark morning - atmosphere heavy, the snow on the road - when we left a heavy fog kept part and here covered with snow.
 In the night, however, the appearance the wind in from the south - a very fine day and the month July, I fear will hardly be pleasant.

attention, and a stop at once, if possible, be put to further decline. Cows should have mash of bran, or more nutritive food, and all kinds of stock so conditioned should be carefully protected from the severities of the season. Keep your stables and pens well littered with straw, and if you have plenty of it, keep your yards in the same condition. Littering adds to the comfort of your animals; it increases the quantity of manure, and it adds to their quality, as it absorbs and retains the fluid parts that are otherwise mainly lost. Be certain to keep your diseased animals, no matter of what kind, if you have any, away from the rest of your stock. Diseases are frequently contagious, and the sickly or weak can be better cared for, when separate from the rest.

February is a good month to ascertain the condition of your farming implements, your Waggon, Ploughs, Harrows, &c. &c. to see what needs repairs, and what new ones are wanted. Never undertake to be a farmer without tools. Without such as are necessary, a farm cannot be worked well, or kept in order. If proper care was taken of farming implements, if they were kept from exposure to the storms of Winter, and the rain and suns of Summer, they would on an average last one third longer than they now do. There is no surer sign of a slovenly farmer, than to see his Waggon, Carts, Ploughs, Harrows, &c. strung about the streets or fields, and left as they were at the approach of Winter, for the season. It is from this and similar instances of improvidence, that farmers sustain losses, that materially diminish their profits, if they do not swallow them wholly. This is a good month to secure a supply of wood, if this important item of domestic economy has not been already attended to. Trees may be pruned this month; and if orchards are subjected to this operation, as they should be, the fruit will be greatly improved. It will do cattle and sheep good to have the privilege of browsing the prunings as they fall from the trees. Cattle must be salted frequently; it aids their appetites, and is essential to their health. Cattle will do with much less food if kept in comfortable stables, than if allowed to run at large, and are exposed to the cold and storms. Warmth is essential to all domestic animals. Change of food is useful. Roots, hay, corn-fodder may be advantageously alternated or mixed, and a good stack of straw for them to amuse themselves upon, will do them no harm. Cut up a few potatoes or turnips for your sheep, and sprinkle on them some salt; it will keep them in good heart and condition.

It is well for the farmer to be looking ahead, and securing such seeds as he is intending to plant or sow the coming season. He who has noticed the difference in the crop between plants produced from good ripe, perfect seed, and those from inferior, unripe, or perhaps injured seed, will understand the propriety of attention to this point. Fences must be looked to this month, as animals are apt, unless cared for, to be strolling about the fields, and will do much mischief on newly seeded grass lands, and nearly destroy such wheat fields as they can obtain access to. Trees may be transplanted this month, and if every farmer would see the roads to the extent of his farm, were planted with trees, it would require but a few years to change the whole aspect of the country for the better. The maple, elm, ash, and in suitable soils the locust might be profitably used, and if these were not to be had, fruit trees, such as the pear, cherry, or apple, might be substituted. At this time your Ewes will require daily some cut turnips or potatoes with a little salt. It will also be an excellent plan to allow them once a day, a few oats in the heap, instead of their hay; and all your sheep will be the better for such a course. Give your horses once a week a handful of clean ashes with their oats, and they will rarely be troubled with the belly-ache, or bots. It is much easier to keep animals in condition, than to restore them after they have once become poor.

Repairing and putting in complete order every fence on the farm, and particularly road and division fences, is one of the first and most essential of spring labors. If it has not been done in March, don't neglect it in April. Good fences prevent eruptions of bile among neighbours, contribute much to the good appearance of the farm, prevent the destruction of crops, and check in the bud that disposition to live at large which exists in most animals. As a general rule, the farmer will find it to his advantage to put in his spring grains, such as wheat, barley, oats, &c. as early as the soil can be fitted for their reception. The grain from early sown crops, when properly put in, is always more valuable than from later ones; being better filled, heavier,

For months we have been in the land the same as in the winter, so far as the weather is concerned but the quantity of the produce is much less than it was in the winter, and the quality is not so good. The reason of this is, that the soil is not so fertile as it was in the winter, and the weather is not so good. The quantity of the produce is much less than it was in the winter, and the quality is not so good.

and of a finer quality in other respects. It suffers less, also, from the injurious effects of our dry summers, by which later sown is prematurely ripened. Manures may now be drawn upon the fields for the crops to which they should be given. The kitchen garden will require much attention this month; as all plants which are not liable to suffer from spring frosts should now be set out or sown. If you wish to raise your calves, you may do it without keeping them on new milk—diminish gradually the quantity of new milk sucked by them, or feed to them, and substitute skimmed milk with a little meal stirred in—treated in this way, very good calves may be grown, and the new milk saved for butter. Advice to Loungers.—Call on business people, in business hours, only on business;—do your business, and go about your business, that other folks may be able to do their business.

May is a very busy month with the teams of the farmer, and they should therefore receive extra attention. The farmer who expects his horses or oxen to wear well in work, must give them grain; otherwise, their flesh will be of a quality that will not endure; and however well they may look at the commencement of labor, their flesh, without muscular consistence and firmness, will go like a spring frost. May is the month in which Indian corn should be planted; and the importance of this crop to the farmer should induce the greatest care to secure a good growth. Perhaps more failures from bad seed occur with corn than any other crop; and proportionate care should be used in the selection. The sugar beet has of late received much attention and commendation as an object of field culture for feeding sheep and cows, and it promises to take the place of the turnip, the latter not being so well adapted to our hot, dry summers as the beet. The seed should be drilled in rows 2½ feet apart, the plants 6 inches apart in the rows, kept clean, thinned if required, and the crop may be estimated at from 600 to 1000 bushels per acre. The sugar beet is good for all store animals, and for milch cows is probably unrivalled, increasing the quantity of the milk, and making butter of the best quality. The Carrot should be sown this month, or as early as the ground is fit for the seed. It is one of the very best roots for horses, keeping them in fine health and condition.

Every one imagines they know how to make bread, and almost every one can wet up flour and bake it, but it by no means follows they know how to make bread. To make good bread, good flour, good yeast, and good management are requisite. One of the simplest processes of making good bread is as follows:--To 8 quarts of flour, add 3 ounces of salt, half a pint of yeast, and three quarts of water, of a moderate temperature, and the whole being well mixed and kneaded, and set by in a proper temperature, will rise in about an hour, or perhaps a little more. It will rise better and more equally if the mass is covered. It must undergo a second kneading before it is formed into loaves for the oven—the more bread is kneaded, the better it will be—be careful not to allow your bread to become sour in rising. Milk is by some used instead of water in mixing their bread. Milk will make white bread, but it will not be as sweet, and dries quicker than bread made with water. If loaves are slightly gashed with a knife around the edges, before they are put in the oven, cracking will be avoided in baking—from an hour to an hour and a half is required to bake bread fully. Bread should never be put on the table till 24 hours after baking, where health and economy are consulted. Wage an unceasing warfare with weeds in every form—they are continually increasing on most farms, and new ones are yearly added to the catalogue of nuisances. The sunny days have come—short nights leave no room for dismal dreams.

Much hard work must be done by the farmer in July, and hay-making is one of the most important farming operation this month. Too many begin before they are ready—they have not examined and put in order their implements—their scythes, forks, rakes, are some in one place and some in another; and when wanted, some will come up wanting a thorough repair, or perhaps be missing in toto. Don't begin then to make hay till you are ready, even if the sun shines. All grass should be cut in the morning, and it will cut easier if the operation is performed while the dew is on—the raking and putting up should be done before the dew falls. If your hay is to be made of timothy or herds grass, let it stand until the seeds in the earliest heads are sufficiently matured to grow: if it is principally clover, as is the case on most farms where wheat is the main crop attended to, it should be cut when the the heads of perhaps one-half are turning brown. If clover is allowed to stand too long, the heads and the leaves fall off in curing, and the value of the hay is much lessened.—Keep the corn free from weeds, stir the surface often, thin the corn in the hills, and with a good soil you can scarcely fail of a crop. Some farmers hill up their corn so extravagantly that it looks as if planted on the summit of ridges—this is a bad practice in any season, and in dry ones is most injurious. Indian corn demands much of the farmer's care and attention.

Most of our farmer's make their hay in July, but still much is made in August, and it is a good plan for those who have already completed their hay harvest to examine their barns and stacks, and see that all is right with them. Harvesting is the most important labor this month, and one which requires the utmost attention of the farmer. The period of harvesting grain of all kinds, is much influenced by the time of sowing; other things being equal, early sown grain always coming to maturity soonest, and being also generally much less liable to the attacks of insects, disease, &c. There is a great waste by many in harvesting grain from using bad implements, not paying attention to putting it up properly in the field when cut, and performing all parts of the work in a slovenly and unfarmer like manner. There is a vast deal of wheat and other grain, put into the barn or stack after rains, or before the straw or green matters the sheaves may contain are cured, in such a state that the central parts of the sheaf heat, mould, and become nearly rotten—the result is bad wheat, musty and poor flour, all which might be avoided by care in the several processes through which the crop passes. Every farmer should make calculations to raise some of the common or ENGLISH TURNIP, for the table they are unequalled, are cultivated with great ease, and while they remain in good condition, are excellent food for sheep, cattle, &c. One thing must not be forgotten, and that is, unless your lands are clean, it is idle to expect a crop of turnips.

September is the month in which our most important crop, wheat, should be sown, as experience proves that putting the seed into the earth in this month, is preferable to any earlier or later sowing—if sown earlier, there is great danger that hot dry weather, such as frequently prevails in August, will prevent the seed vegetating, or give only a weak, spindling plant; while late sowing prevents the plants getting sufficient root, and by making the harvest late, renders the crop more liable to the attack of the rust or mildew. The selection of seed for the wheat crop is not sufficiently attended to, and the losses consequent on this loose practice is immense—to this it is owing in a great measure, that our wheat fields are covered with the multitude of vile weeds that exhaust the crop, and not unfrequently destroy all profitable cultivation. The state of the soil, and the manner of putting in the seed, exercises a great influence on the growth of the plant, and the success or failure of the crop. Wheat should never be sown while the ground is wet from recent rains—taking all things into consideration, it will be found that from the 12th to the 20th of this month will be as good a time as any for sowing wheat. As far as possible, every farmer should save his own seeds—if he is careful and selects none but the best, if he gathers them at the proper time, he is more sure of their kind and quality than if he purchases, or as is too frequently the case, begs them and is, of course, less liable to failure and disappointments in his crops.

Securing crops constitutes the principal labor of this month, and of these corn and roots are the most important. Potatoes should not be dug before they are ripe, unless they are so late as to be in danger of being frozen in the ground—potatoes not fully ripened may answer for seed but are poor things for the table—potatoes, if it is desirable to have them in all their excellence, should never have the sun shine on them after they are dug, and be exposed to the air and light as little as may be. If your pigs have had the run of your orchards in September, they will be found doing well in October, and afford proof that apples are worth something when not made into cider—the cheapest mode of fattening hogs is with apples and potatoes steamed, always finishing with good sound food, such as corn, peas, or barley. All food given to hogs should be cooked; fruit and roots by steaming, grain or meal by boiling. October is the month for saving winter apples, the best time is indicated by the mature ones beginning to fall from the trees, but in all cases the fruit should be suffered to hang on the trees as late as is consistent with safety from frost, or the danger of being blown from the trees—they should be carefully picked by hand in small baskets, and as carefully deposited in barrels or bins in which they are to be kept. The wheat fields should now be occasionally examined to see that the water furrows are open, and that no water accumulates after rains on the surface.

Farm work must be considered as mostly suspended during the winter months; the most that can be done is to prevent past labor being undone, and make such arrangements for the future, as circumstances may demand. Horses should always have plenty of litter in their stables.—All animals should, if possible, be housed, or provided with shelter. Cattle require much less food when stabled, than when allowed to run at large, as they waste little or none, and comfort is essential to their thrift. More manure is also secured, an object of great consequence to every farmer that understands his true interests. Winter is the season that among the children of the farmer, is particularly devoted to education, and every parent should take a deep interest in the common school—it is there the first impulse is given that makes or mars the man; and it is all-important that what is done here should be done well and effectually. To keep up the interest of all, parents, teacher and children, it is necessary that the first should occasionally visit the school, and watch the conduct and progress of the scholars. Children like to see others take an interest in them, and such attention will not be without its influence on the instructor. Every farmer should remember that he is under obligation to add something to the common stock of agricultural knowledge, by communicating the results of his experiments, or his experience for the benefit of others—the winter season is the time for this work.

earth; for the poor there must be employment; for the destitute there must be a supply; and the honest and industrious, or the unfortunate poor, have claims on the more fortunate, that may not be disregarded. Well directed charity is one of the few arts of life in which both the giver and the receiver are blessed; let no one then forget the poor. Last, but not least, in the work to be performed this month, is the duty of extending the circulation of Agricultural Journals and Papers. The man who reads one will feel that every farmer should receive one or more, and will endeavour to make those who do not read, sensible of the loss they sustain. There are many excellent Agricultural Journals now published well worthy the attention of the Agriculturalist.

Capital One Million Sterling.

This Company, established by act of Parliament, and whose Rates will be found on the lowest scale of any offered to the public. affords the most perfect security.

The easy and ready mode for a person of moderate income to secure by such an arrangement a provision for his family, is obvious,—for instance, a man of 25 years old, may, by an annual payment of £28 16 3, for the first five years, and afterwards the full premium of £57 12 6 yearly, secure to his widow and children at his death, the payment of no less than £3000, subject only to the deduction of £144 1 3, being the amount of premium unpaid.

This Company holds out in various other respects, great inducements to the public and when such facilities are afforded, it is clearly a moral duty in every man, who is not possessed of a fortune, but of an income however limited to Insure his Life for a sum which may yield a comfortable provision to those who during his life have been dependant on him, or who at his death would be rendered destitute or in want.

In case of persons Insuring for the whole term of Life by the Table of Rates which allows a participation to the extent of two thirds of the profits, in preference to that of the reduced rates, their share of profits will be added to the amount of their respective Policies, or deducted from their future Premiums, at periods of not less than five and not exceeding seven years.

The high opinion entertained of this Office from the commencement of its business, March 1834, and its progressive prosperity and stability was manifest at the first General Meeting of the Proprietors of this Company, held at their Office, London, 1st July, 1841, William Plasket, Esq. in the Chair, the persons
