THREE CENTS

FREE RADIO SCHOOL TO BE OPENED BY THE PRESS IN RESPONSE TO DEMAND

N. D. Garver, Formerly Radio Instructor at Harvard University, Editor of Department, Will Hold Classes in Rooms of Commercial School

TUITION WILL BE ABSOLUTELY FREE TO ALL Evening Sessions Scheduled Tuesday, Thursday and Saturdays, Between Seven and Eight o'Clock, Men, Women, Boys and Girls Admitted

The Glendale Daily Press is to have a radio school which will be personally conducted by our radio editor, Mr. N. D. Garver, who formerly instructed in radio at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., and who has had thirteen years of practical experience both commercial and amateur. He is at present a resident of Glendale, where he wants to put forth his best efforts to aid in the progress of our city. He also operated a wireless supply store in the middle west with a large stock of amateur equipment, so consequently we are confident that he can fill the position.

TUESDAY CLUB SELECTS ITS NOMINEES

Mrs. Campbell Is Candidate for President, Mrs. Evans Withdraws

Mrs. W. E. Evans was nominated Tuesday night by the chairman of the Tuesday afternoon club election board that she had been nominated for president.

Mrs. Evans states that she considers this honor as a complimentary vote as she has steadfastly refused to become a candidate.

Mrs. Evans joined the Tuesday Afternoon club when she was 23 years of age and has held many positions both executive and appointive in the organization since that time.

Although she appreciates the compliment paid her, by her nomination, Mrs. Evans declares she is not physically able to become a candidate this year.

The ballot box provided for the primary election vote for officers of the Tuesday Afternoon club was closed at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in accordance with the by-laws.

Officers of the election board composed of Mesdames Mabel Rudy, O. E. VonOven, M. E. Plasterer, Walter Jones and Mrs. Mabel C. Williams, counted the ballots and have made up a slate of nominees composed of candidates who received ten or more votes. It includes the following ladies who were notified by the committee Tuesday night.

The school will be held in the rooms of the Glendale Commercial school on the second floor of the Press building between the hours of 7 and 8 p. m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays of each week, absolutely free to the residents of Glendale.

The first evening of school will be held on Thursday evening of this week which will be really an open meeting for suggestions and to form a Press Radio club. Election of officers will be held on that evening and an outline for activities in the future will be outlined. Everyone will have the privilege of asking questions which they have long been wanting an answer to, inspection of the Press's radio equipment, etc.

The formation of the club will enable the members to express their wants and will enable us as a body to get equipment desired by any one of the members and by co-operation the best prices possible will be secured.

Parents will be welcome with their children as they no doubt all wish to know all that is to be known or all the information that can possibly be gained in this new field which radio telephony has opened to all of us. Men, women, boys and girls are welcome, all alike and folks remember what a boost it will be to the city of Glendale for a town of its size to have one of the best radio organizations in southern California and there is no reason why it cannot be developed into such.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC WITHDRAWS CHARGE

At a meeting of the Pacific Electric railway officials and representatives of the city of Glendale yesterday before the state railroad commission differences between the city and the corporation over the Gardena street crossing were straightened out.

City Manager Reeves and City Attorney Hartley Shaw represented Glendale at the hearing. The Pacific Electric was represented by D. H. Fontana, general manager; Frank Karr, attorney; and E. C. Johnson, engineer for the corporation. Harry Brundage represented the commission.

Relief Bill Passes With Speed Evident in Every Direction

A million dollar relief bill introduced in the lower house of congress at noon is passed immediately, sent to the senate, immediately passed there and signed by the president before the 1 o'clock whistles blow.

There is the speed that congress can reach when necessity is apparent. That's the speed that the people look for and hope for on the part of their legislators. You will find an editorial on this subject in this newspaper tonight. You will also find a philosophical article in "The Listening Post" by James W. Foley. In it he says:

"Today's work well done justifies yesterday, glorifies today, assures tomorrow. Let us to the task."

Henry James mentions the passing of the old political boss Boss Sam Francisco, blind Chris Buckley. He speaks of the effort to rebuild Russia, of the thousands in Chicago preparing to move into tents and comments on other subjects of interest.

All the usual features are to be found in this evening. It is a page of information you cannot afford to overlook.

BUSINESS WOMEN HOLD PRIMARY

Mrs. Edgar P. Beck Nominated in Committee Report

An enthusiastic meeting of members of the Business and Professional Women's club was held Tuesday evening in the apartment of Mrs. Warner, of the Peggy Beauty Shoppe, 106 East Wilve avenue.

The forepart of the evening was devoted to a social good time directed by Laura Brown, social chairman, who put on some guessing contests as clever as the shell game of the three card monte. Several thought they had discovered the means by which the person sent from the room determined which of four matches had been touched in her absence, but their solutions did not work out in practice and it was finally explained by the doctor.

Refreshments of cocoa and hot biscuits were served by the hostesses with the assistance of members of the social committee, and then the meeting was called to order for a business session, the amendments to the constitution proposed at the previous meeting by Dr. Brown and by Miss Gibbs with regard to meeting nights and new standing committees and their duties, were again read and adopted by unanimous vote.

The report of Mrs. Matella Beck, treasurer of the Rest Room committee, was read by Mrs. Williams, chairman of the committee as follows:

Receipts for 3 months to April 1.....$1394.15
Disbursements to April 1..... 957.65
Total cash on hand..... 436.50
Inventory April 1..... 14.99
Lunch, rest room receipts..... 71.00
Total..... $ 609.09
Disbursements for lunches and rest room..... $ 80.25
Rest room balance..... $ 4.84

Introducing -- Our Buddies

The Glendale Daily Press is proud of Our Buddies, which it presents again to you on this page. They are good types of the young folks rising to control of things in America. Rising out of the worst experience that has come to a generation of young men since the earth was created.

Glendale has been called a city of Americans, in the sense of Anglo-Saxon predomination. These are good specimens of the dominant race here.

There is not a grouch in the group. They have taken their lives as they were handed back to them by our government and they are busy now, planting those lives in the firm ground of this community.

Close-up of Four Comrades of the Soldiers Five

What they will be in the future years, no one can tell. Time will heal their ills here in the Verdugo Hills, but time will not give back the years spent in your service and ours, along with your sons.

But there are compensations. A good day's work is an asset no man can lose. They have done their work, and it was good work. The pay is your part, your participation in the great demonstration, your reception of the offerings of the seriously patriotic merchants of Glendale, to be presented in the Glendale Daily Press, Friday.

The Carpenters' Local of Glendale has put over a 100 per cent patriotism. It voted to build the houses for our Buddies. Practical patriotism. They are willing to give of their skill and labor, not to give as a gift, but as the partial discharge of a debt. That other unions will follow suit is probable. That is the spirit of the Buddy Merchants and of the Glendale Daily Press—and by the same token—your spirit—Glendale!

SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS MEETING

Changes in Plans for the Schools Are Authorized

Changes in plans for the offices of the Acadia and Grand View schools was authorized at the meeting of the board of education held Tuesday.

The contracts for the Columbus avenue addition were then authorized and Superintendent R. D. White was authorized to return bidders' bonds and checks excepting those of the Southern California Gas company on the Columbus avenue addition and the J. A. Newton Electric company on the Glendale avenue intermediate.

Plans for the Acadia and Grand View schools were ordered filed in the office of the board.

The order for school desks has been placed with the Jones Book store on guarantee delivery.

MUSIC FESTIVAL SUBMITTED TO LOCAL CLUBS

Civic Committee Instructs Girard to Put Plans Before Organizations

The civic committee of the Chamber of Commerce through the chairman of the committee, Dr. Jessie Russell, reported to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their meeting yesterday on three propositions.

The committee had been asked to investigate the proposal to stage a musical week or festa in Glendale and returned the following report: "The committee recommends that, while not at this time endorsing the plan or plans of any individual or individuals, the Chamber of Commerce co-operate with any movement fostered by Glendale musicians toward developing local musical talent and promoting a musical festival for Glendale with a view to establishing Glendale as the musical center of Southern California." This section of the report was accepted and endorsed by the board of directors.

After the discussion of the report had ended the matter of a music festa for Glendale was discussed as a separate issue. Director Peter L. Ferry moved that the proposal of Harry Girard to stage a May day festival in this city be endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce. He was seconded by Jesse Smith.

During the discussion of whether or not the directors should endorse the plan of Mr. Girard to enable him to start the preliminary work of organization for a festa in 1923, Richardson D. White called the attention of the directors to the fact that this motion could not be adopted unless they rescinded their action in endorsing the report of the civic committee in which it was recommended that the Chamber of Commerce not endorse any plan or plans of any individual or individuals at this time for a festa. Director Ferry, with the permission of Director Smith, withdrew this motion.

GOVERNOR URGES STATE BONUS BILL

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—Governor William D. Stephens, addressing a luncheon at the City club here today, urged support of the soldier bond issue which will be on the ballot at the coming state election, and touched on the Japanese problem.

COMMUNITY SING IS BIG SUCCESS

At the community sing, held Tuesday evening in the First Methodist church, an excellent attendance demonstrated public interest in this form of entertainment.

The singers were divided into groups according to the states from whence they came. It was found that the middle western group had the largest representation, but in the competitive singing the Canadians won the laurels of the evening.

MORE BUDDY MERCHANTS TO ANNOUNCE SPECIAL SALES IN FRIDAY'S PRESS

265 Union Carpenters Await Arrival of Lumber on Grounds at La Crescenta to Start Building the Houses for 'Buddies Five'

OTHER UNIONS MAY JOIN FORCES, BELIEVED

Big Roof Raising Celebration to Be Given at La Crescenta the Day Movement for Buddies' Homes Is Crystallized Into Form

The labor will be ready, as soon as the timber for the homes of Glendale's Buddies is on the ground, the Carpenters' Local of Glendale announced this morning.

With two hundred and sixty-five members, the little homes will be raised within a day.

Harry Connor, with E. E. McQuivy, a committee of two appointed by the Union, have visited Thornycroft; consulted the Buddies and they stand ready to lead or follow their organization into La Crescenta.

There remains only the plumbing, labor and material, the timber and the milling.

It is probable that the matter of plumbing and electrical labor will be discussed Thursday night at the regular meeting of the Glendale trades council.

In the event the council and its constituent organizations follow the leadership of the carpenters, the homes will be union-made, the testimony of labor to Glendale's buddies.

It was the Carpenters' Union which sent 38 men to La Crescenta about a year ago to build a house for a widow, at the request of the Glendale Elks. The Elks provided the lumber and the members of the union put up a five-room house in one day.

With 265 men swung onto the job, the entire five houses will go up in a comparatively few hours.

In view of the action of the union, it is suggested that an old-time roof-raising celebration be held at La Crescenta, a picnic of all Glendale folks and all La Crescenta, a housewarming such as would have been held there 50 years ago.

New merchants who have swung in back of the plans for the buddies who will give a percentage of their sales on certain days to the fund for the buildings, are:

Syms & Brown, men's furnishings, 148 South Brand.
Ladies' Toggery Shop, 133 South Brand.
Stevens Paint Store, 219 1/2 East Broadway.
Miss Holseth's Millinery Shop, 209 East Broadway.

The first block of ten merchants to line up for the Buddy Day special edition of the Glendale Daily Press was:

DRIVE FOR HIGH SCHOOL BONDS IS STARTED

Committee of Chamber of Commerce Organizes to Get Voters

The committee appointed by the chamber of commerce directors to work on the high school bond election met last night at 5 o'clock and will meet again tonight at 7 o'clock, to perfect plans and to outline the various duties of the committee on election day, May 2.

The committee has divided the city into districts with sub-committees in charge of each district. The various improvement associations of the city will be asked to take charge of certain districts on election day as will the Parent-Teacher association and other civic bodies.

Dr. Jessie Russell, speaking for the committee, said this morning, "There is no organized opposition to the bonds, and as a two-thirds vote is required to carry the bonds for the building of a high school, a record vote is desired as an indicator to other communities of the attitude of Glendale in educational matters."

VALUABLE COINS PAID FOR FOOD

Grocer Kearne Seeks Child Who Gave Him Premium Money

During the past few days F. C. Kearne of 221 North Howard, a clerk in a local grocery store, sold some goods to a child, who gave in payment for same two valuable old coins, one of which was a 10-cent piece of 1837 and the other a 50-cent piece of 1836.

Since receiving these coins Mr. Kearne thinks that possibly the child or her parents were driven to make this sacrifice after having saved the coins for years, expecting some day to sell them for considerable more money. Not wishing to take advantage of a situation of this kind he says he will gladly return these silver pieces to their former owner providing the little lady will call at his home, 221 North Howard street, at an early date.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK IS SHY ENGAGEMENT IS DAMSEL SAYS CRAWFORD

Welcome Glendale to Parlor But Would Avoid the Arm Hold

BURBANK, April 26.—The delegation from the Glendale Chamber of Commerce which made the tour of the San Fernando valley, Wednesday, arrived in Burbank about on schedule time, 5:30 o'clock, and the band wagon halted in the shade of Olive avenue, and where the band wagon stopped everyone else stopped. Short speeches were made by Samuel Davis, councilman, Rev. Ford and Judge Emery and last but not least by our own mayor, J. C. Crawford.

The visitors said some very nice things to this city, one of them being that they had reserved the best until the last, but this Burbank knew without being told. They also said they made the trip for no selfish reasons but just in a spirit of friendliness, that they wished to get better acquainted and they further extended an invitation for Burbank to come to Glendale for anything it wanted and the idea of co-operation was put

Easter Chicks Hear News of Coming Nuptials of Eltha Harding

BURBANK, April 26.—On Monday of last week a charming announcement dinner was given by Miss Eltha Harding to 10 relatives and intimate friends. The very delightful feature of the event was the examination of a basket centerpiece which contained a large ring wrapped with yellow and two Easter chickens about whose necks were tied papers bearing the names of Miss Harding and Alger Dewey. On the upstanding ring was a tiny electric light bulb which very attractively simulated the significant diamond.

Miss Harding is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Harding of Providence avenue, and a popular young lady with many friends. She is a graduate of the Glendale high school and an active worker among the young people of the Methodist church, while Mr. Dewey is also prominent among the young men of the church. He is one of the young business men of the city, owning a transfer business. The date for the wedding has not been definitely fixed, but it will occur in the early summer.

forth, one speaker saying they did not care which side of the line a factory was built on and that what helped Burbank helped Glendale and what was good for Glendale was good for Burbank. All in all, the visitors were very agreeable and complimentary.

ROAD PROPOSAL HOLDS ATTENTION OF BURBANK

Proposition to Connect with Boulevard from Lankershim to Beach

BURBANK, April 26.—At the Wednesday luncheon of the chamber of commerce two matters of importance to Burbank were brought up for consideration. One was relative to the garbage question and the other was presented by members of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce and concerned a road which it is proposed to pave and make a connecting link, running through the valley to Lankershim boulevard and Sherman way through Van Nuys and to the beach cities and would also make a direct route through the valley to Santa Susana Pass. This road would touch San Fernando boulevard about at Central avenue. It is said this would not only be a beautiful route but that it would open up good subdivision property for home sites for factory workers and thus aid the merchants as this section which would be in the new high territory. It would, further, provide a more direct route to the beaches and permit of avoiding the congested sections as is now necessary and would make an attractive loop trip.

RABIES SHOWS IN COUNTY SAYS HEALTH OFFICE

Order to Muzzle Dogs May Be Issued by City Council

Officials of the state board of health report to the city that there is an epidemic of rabies among the dogs of the county and all dogs must be muzzled. The matter will be discussed at the next meeting of the city council Thursday and it is more than possible that an order similar to one previously in effect in this city will be adopted. This order instructs the police department to kill all dogs running at large without muzzles. If the order is issued it will be strictly enforced.

OLD BURBANK JAIL BURNED

BURBANK, April 26.—The last of the old city jail which once stood at Front street and Tulunga avenue went up in smoke the other night. It was partly destroyed by fire last summer when it was supposed to have been set on fire, and since it has become a harbor for tramps and a nuisance, and it is believed that it was set on fire a second time. The fire and police department responded when the fire broke out but made no attempt to extinguish the blaze, merely watching to see that flying sparks did no damage.

THIEVES ROB HOME OF ROY ARMHEIM

Take Clothing and Clock Before They Are Frightened Away

While the family was away from home one evening the first of the week, thieves broke into the residence of Roy L. Armheim, 719 Angeleno avenue, and took a good deal of clothing and a clock. They tore away a screen from a side window and entered by that means. Marshal Cole said they went through but one room and were apparently frightened away by the return of the family. He said it looked like non-professional work. Among the articles taken were shirts and socks, pink and white voile and blue and white georgette waists, a beaded waist and an eight-day mahogany mantle clock.

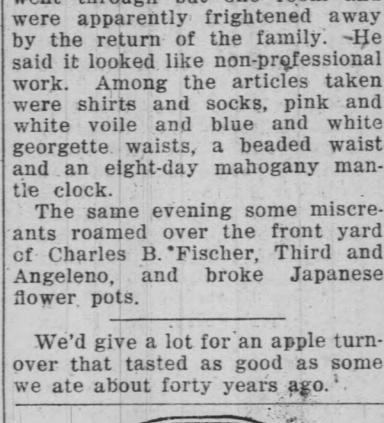

BURBANK PERSONALS

Rev. E. E. Bicker of the Holiness church attended the semi-annual assembly of the church which continued over Sunday at San Dimas. Mrs. C. B. Lane has returned from the Glendale hospital, where she underwent an operation. She is now convalescing at her home, 827 Angeleno avenue. Mrs. J. H. Cooper of Hanford, her sister, is spending some time with her. Mr. Griem has received word that Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and children of Warrensburg, Mo., started last week to motor through to this section of the state. Mrs. Anderson is a sister of Mr. Heberling. M. F. Porter, manager of the Toggery shop, was married Tuesday evening to Miss Phyllis Youngken of Los Angeles at the home of the bride's parents. They will reside in one of the Anita apartments when they are completed.

TO EXTRADITE ALLEGED THIEF

Secretary Colburn announced the banquet to be held Friday night in the Methodist church which will be attended by the governor and several other notables and he urged everyone who possibly could to attend and do justice to the governor, the city and the chamber. Next Wednesday Charles P. Bayer of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce will talk on the inter-relationship of city boards and local chambers.

RECIPES

PRESENTED DAILY BY
KATE BREW VAUGHN

BANANA COCKTAIL
Peel fully ripe bananas, and scrape off the coarse threads. Cut into balls from these with a small potato scoop and roll each ball in lemon or grapefruit juice to keep it from discoloring. Add small pieces of grapefruit pulp or canned pineapple with some of the juice or syrup. Set into cocktail glasses and finish with a cherry at the top. Serve as a first course at luncheon or dinner.

BANANA SPONGE
Soften one teaspoon granulated gelatin in three or four tablespoons cold water. Press enough banana through a ricer to fill a cup. Stir and cook the cup of pulp, the juice of half a lemon and a half cup of sugar over the fire until boiling thoroughly, then add the gelatin. Allow to cool in ice and water; and when beginning to set, fold in whites of two eggs, beaten very light. When cold enough to hold its shape, dispose in glass cups and decorate the glasses with a spoonful of whipped cream.

AFRICOT WHIP
Press through a sieve enough cooked apricots to fill a cup. Add half a cup of sugar and the juice of a half a lemon and mix thoroughly. Fold in the whites of four or five eggs, beaten very light and turn into a buttered and sugared baking dish. Bake, set in a pan of hot water, until firm in the center. Serve hot with cream.

GREEN TEMPTATION AT THE T. D. & L.

A good detective story, a colorful picture of Apache life in their underground haunts in Paris; a charming star in several beautiful dances; the regeneration of a woman who, by force of circumstances, first appears in the story as a thief; and a group of highly interesting characterizations portrayed by a cast of favorites, including Mahlon Hamilton, Theodore Kogloff, Neely Edwards, Edward Burns, Mary Thurman and others, are the features which have established "The Green Temptation" Betty Compton's new Paramount vehicle, ace high with patrons at the T. D. & L. theatre this week. Lloyd Hamilton's comedy special, "The Rainmaker," is perhaps one of the best comedies seen in Glendale in a long time.

EAST END P. T. A. EAGLE ROCK, MEETS

The East End Parent-Teacher association of Eagle Rock met Wednesday afternoon in the east schoolhouse and listened to an address by Dr. Josephine E. Platt of Los Angeles, whom the school board of trustees have appointed an examining physician for the Eagle Rock schools, without salary. Her specialty is nutrition, and the address treated chiefly of building up children, especially those who are subnormal, by means of a scientific diet.

When things go dead wrong, roll up your sleeves and go to work and try to revive them.

EAGLE ROCK GETS NEW BLOCK OF STORES

Charles B. Guthrie Starts Development on His Property

Work has begun on a block which will fill the space between the stores of J. M. Blankenship, just being completed, and the plumbing establishment of Stice Bros., at 730 East Colorado boulevard. It is the property of Charles B. Guthrie of Glendale, and will contain two stores. The real estate office which has been conducted on the front of the lot by the Guthrie Co. has been moved back and the business is now carried on at 114 East Colorado boulevard, in the handsome store of the Hancock Music Co.

EAGLE ROCK GETS NEW PHONE BOOK

Five Hundred Subscribers in Directory by Reynolds and Eberle

Residents of Eagle Rock who have telephones in their homes received a welcome surprise this week when the mails brought them a neat booklet containing the names of almost five hundred subscribers to the telephone service, in a compact, easily read arrangement. No longer will it be necessary to search through columns of names in the big book provided by the telephone company to get the number one wants in a hurry, and numerous expressions of thanks will undoubtedly be made to the enterprising undertakers' firm of Reynolds & Eberle, who at considerable labor compiled this useful Easter gift and bore all the expense of its publication. It was printed by the job department of the Sentinel office.

SHERRILL OSBORNE BECOMES MAYOR OF EAGLE ROCK

Unanimously Elected at Meeting of New Board of Trustees

The regular meeting of the city trustees last Monday evening was of special interest and importance both the retiring and new members being present for a time. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and approved, the old board canvassed the vote at the city election of trustees on April 10. May Robertson Abbot, Cromwell Galpin and M. V. Shaff then retired from the board, and Sherrill S. Osborne, George C. Mattison and Elmer Bergsvik were sworn in by the city clerk, B. B. Martsof. Immediately after they had taken their seats Mr. Mattison nominated Mr. Osborne as president of the board and he was unanimously elected. The new mayor made an earnest speech, promising that the board, though it must be guided by the powers of a city of the sixth class and the amount of money available for public improvements, would do everything possible for the interests of the people, who desire street lights, fire protection and an adequate number of policemen who shall be paid entirely from the city treasury and not by private subscription. A full report of the city's finances, stating both the income and the outlay, was due the taxpayers from time to time, he said, and would be given.

PLAYERS OF EAGLE ROCK SCORE BIG SUCCESS

'What Happened to Jones' Registers Advance in Art of Actors

The performances of George H. Broadhurst's comedy, "What Happened to Jones," in the Central school auditorium last Friday and Saturday evenings scored the biggest success in the history of the Eagle Rock Community Players. To begin with, the comedy is about the funniest thing that was ever put on the stage. Then the cast of characters had been made with admirable discernment of individual fitness, and all were letter perfect in their parts. Hence it was not strange that, as the crowd left the auditorium after the performance, the remark was heard, "I don't see how it would be possible for professionals to put on a play any better." A beautiful drawing room scene had been made possible by the kindly loan of furnishings that left nothing to be desired, the equipment owned by the players still being limited. There were very good audiences both nights and everybody was in a perpetual state of laughter. The title role was taken by Harold Ide Cruzan. Elmer Goodley, a professor of anatomy, by C. H. Griffin; Mrs. Goodly, by Elizabeth H. Morrison; Anthony Goodly, bishop of Ballarat, by Arthur Howard; Marjorie and Minerva, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Goodly, by Lois Garrett and Veta Gregory, Cissy, a ward of the Goodlys, by Mildred Lerchen, Alvina Starlight, Mrs. Goodly's sister, by Ellen Galpin, Richard Heatherly, engaged to Marjorie, by Joseph J. Moran; Thomas Holden, a politician, by Douglas Algie, an inmate of the neighboring sanitarium who thinks he is an Indian, by Walter H. Dorrance. This combination got into more predicaments in the course of one day than ever were heard of before, but of course everything came out all right. Most of the cast have had considerable experience on the amateur stage and all did so well that the performance was hesitates to name any particular person as excelling the others. This perfection of ensemble seldom occurs in amateur work. Naturally, Jones, the traveler for a hymnbook house, is the character who permits himself to be taken to see a prize fight between two women; his very precise wife; her old maid sister, most exasperatingly in love with the bishop; the young lover and his fiance, held the stage most prominently, and the bride-loving Swedish maid showed herself an important member of the household. The play was directed by Elgie Lowry Fischer of Pasadena, who has had great experience in that line. The cast director was Mrs. F. E. Rely, president of the Community Players, had a general oversight of the proceedings. Dr. L. J. Lippold's orchestra of ten pieces led on this occasion by George Wolf, was liberal with music during the evening and the numbers were greatly enjoyed. The piano was furnished by the Hancock-Music company. "The Chinese Lantern," an original comedy will be given on May 19 and 20. Mrs. Harry O. Lawrence of Long Beach, who is a piano teacher and music director and has studios in soon open a studio in Eagle Rock two days of the week, and will become a resident of the city in May, when a house being built on Eddy avenue is completed. On Tuesday evening of this week the annual recital of her piano pupils will be given here in the Central school auditorium at 7:30. The public is invited to attend.

CURRENT EVENTS AT EAGLE ROCK

Thursday of this week is "Current Events and Literature Day" of the Women's Twentieth Century club. There will also be music and a talk by Miss Margaret Goetz and her pupils, in addition to a business meeting. An automobile is a good friend, but it's a wicked enemy.

P. H. Ducker, representing the water board, presented a resignation of its members, that the trustees might proceed to appoint any persons they wished to place in that position. Trustee Bergsvik moved that the entire board—Godfrey Edwards, T. C. Mason and P. H. Ducker—be reappointed, and it was unanimously so ordered. The map of a new tract, No. 5028, on Ellis and Rock Glen avenues, in the western part of the city, was approved. The city auditor, M. T. Lee, made his report for the year 1921. In discussing this the new members of the board expressed the wish to have the audit continued to April 1, 1922, an inventory of all property to be given. They favor the adoption of a budget system. An ordinance providing that Colorado boulevard and Central avenue shall be regarded as one-way streets and that automobiles must be parked at an angle in the business part of the city was adopted. A new flag was ordered purchased for the pole at the intersection of Colorado boulevard and Central avenue.

BENEFIT IS HELD FOR LIBRARY MUSIC

Concert Arranged by Mrs. Ludlow Is Artistic Success
On Thursday evening, April 20, a benefit musicale arranged by Mrs. Aida R. Ludlow was given in the Congregational church, the proceeds to be applied to the enlargement of the music section of the public library. Mrs. Ludlow, who is a skilled pianist and vocalist, delighted her audience with interpretations of the Rachmaninoff Prelude, and also rendered two Chopin numbers and Liszt's Liebestraum, and sang a cycle of songs which were enthusiastically received. Mrs. Constance Braasch, as always, did artistic work as an accompanist. Master Bradley Ludlow, the little son of Mrs. Ludlow, played "Land of Elves" on the piano in a charming manner. Miss Esther Gleiss, a gifted violinist of Eagle Rock, played Wienianenski's "Obertass" with much musical feeling, and her talented sister accompanied her at the piano. Virgil Drengberg, a favorite with Eagle Rock audiences, rendered Wolstenholm's "Romana" on the viola in a very expressive manner. A novel feature of the program was the Bruin Duet in D Major, performed by Miss Gleiss and Mr. Drengberg. Mrs. Archibald Flisk addressed the audience with regard to the music in the public library, and Miss Ethel M. Congdon of the Thursday Morning Music club told of the new club for young musicians which is soon to be organized in Eagle Rock.

MIXED PROGRAM AT EAGLE ROCK CLUB

Thursday Morning Music Club Meet at Home of Miss Henderson
A mixed program, instead of the usual study of one of the famous composers at each meeting, was prepared by the associate members of the Thursday Morning Music club for the meeting this week at the home of Miss Agnes Henderson, 466 East Stanley avenue. Indian music was discussed, after an enlightening reading by Miss Henderson, and illustrated with compositions by Charles Wakefield Cadman and other musicians. Mrs. H. J. S. Heath, who attended the Philharmonic concerts this winter, talked interestingly about them, and stated the effect the music had upon her. Ethel Congdon sang "Shine, O Star," a song written by Miss Henderson, and Mrs. Elizabeth Morrison rendered a song composed by her sister, Mrs. Anne Hare Harrison. One of Homer Grum's piano compositions was played by Miss Leora Johnstone. The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Constance Braasch; vice-president, Mrs. Alice Horton Mills; corresponding secretary, Miss Esther Gleiss; recording secretary, Mrs. Gertrude Rose; treasurer, Miss Ruth Thompson.

APRIL SHOWER AT EAGLE ROCK

The ladies of the Congregational church announced an "April Shower" on Wednesday afternoon of this week, in the church parlor. Admission will be some small article suitable to sell at the church bazaar next winter, and a prize is offered for the one that excels all others. There will be music and tea.

Truths in Epigram

Of every noble work the silent part is best. Of all expression that which can not be expressed.—Story (1819-1895).
Silence more musical than any song.—Rossetti (1830-1894).
You can not demonstrate an emotion or prove an aspiration.—Morley (1838).

BOOSTING THE WHISKER

Sacramento presents the peculiar spectacle of a community intent upon raising an unexampled crop of whiskers. Men are informed that if they refuse to grow beards they are guilty of something only a shade less heinous than treason.

It may be necessary to explain that Sacramento is preparing to celebrate the days of '49 and wants all the accessories even to the waving facial hedge.

Perhaps when Sacramentoans see themselves bearded in lovely hirsute trimmings, they will be so charmed as never again to submit to the mandate of the splendid masculine beauty who poses in magazine razor ads.

SWEEPING BACK CRIME WAVES

Efforts to sweep back the waves of the ocean are recorded as notable among the failures of human endeavor. To sweep back a wave of crime ought to be a far simpler matter.

Men and women of Los Angeles county have called upon the governor for aid in analyzing and meeting the social conditions that have resulted in so wide and fierce a reign of lawlessness.

There are plenty of courts, but they do not function according to the spirit of the statutes.

The plain truth is that the law in this country is not respected, and by the criminal element, is not feared. The way to make it respected and feared is to enforce it.

GOVERNMENT BY INJUNCTION

The United States railroad labor board has by injunction been restrained from making public its decision in a certain case. The injunction was brought at the instance of the Pennsylvania railroad.

It appears that the Pennsylvania company had been ordered to confer with its employees concerning wages and labor conditions.

WHEN CONGRESS HURRIES

There was necessity for instant relief of the flood situation. An appropriation of $1,000,000 was asked. The bill was introduced in the house at noon it was passed by that body in two minutes. Before the 1 o'clock whistles had blown, the measure had received the signature of President Harding.

The incident is recounted because the usual habit of congress to dally and dawdle had created the impression that it did not know how to proceed in any other fashion.

In the matter of flood relief even the chronic obstacles to legislative progress could think of nothing to say. The members who are suspected of saving money only so as to expend it in some manner making stronger appeal to the voters at home.

Having demonstrated its ability to shake off slumber, and to act according to the dictates of conscience and with no relation to politics, it is hoped that congress may remain with its eyes open, and attend to some of the important business before it.

AN AMAZING LIGHT

A Princeton professor is said to have invented a cold and continuous light. It is produced without wires, absorbing the illuminating force directly from the air.

It was not many years ago that discovery of the Roentgen ray was announced. When people were told that light could be made to penetrate substances they had been wont to regard as solid, or at least as opaque.

If the new lamp really can be perfected, it is not an idle prophecy to say that the whole system of lighting will be changed. Present methods, adequate as they have been deemed, will be relegated to disuse as certainly as the tallow candle disappeared from the family reading table.

Evidently more than one scientist has been working at the problem. It was but a few days ago this paper had occasion to comment on the triumph of an Italian in making an appliance precisely similar to that now hailed as an American product.

The recent explosion at Downey was a pitiful catastrophe. The strange thing is not that such an explosion occurred, but that similar accidents are so rare.

The great explosion of ammunition stored in Serbia is another argument against war. The world hopes that the future will not be marked by occasions for nations to pile up deadly materials designed to kill an enemy, but remaining deadly when there is no enemy in sight.

FURS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A news item from Olympia, Wash., this last winter, gave some interesting information about those animals which supply mankind with furs.

No human skill has ever been able to construct any sort of clothing that will keep out the cold, and at the same time have a minimum of weight, so well as the furs of animals.

I note the following points which the correspondent made. The greatest breadwinner for the northwest trapper is the muskrat. The sale of its skin brings him more money than any other fur animal.

Those caught within a hundred miles of the Columbia river are the largest and have the best fur, although the muskrat is found from the Yukon to the Gulf states.

The skunk is a close second to the muskrat in fur value. The excellence of the skunk is that, whereas he thrives with civilization, the beaver, mink, raccoon and the like may become extinct.

The marten is found in all the forests of the northwest. In Alaska he is called Hudson Bay sable. His skin is in such demand that Alaska has established a closed season in order to re-establish the market.

The mink furnishes one of the most durable and satisfactory of furs. Mink are easy to trap.

The best are now taken from the interior of Alaska on the Porcupine river. The fisher is a large specimen of the marten family whose black coat and long tail are very handsome.

The fur of the wolverine is said to be the only kind in existence that will repel the formation of frost; and so is used largely in cold countries to protect the neck and face.

The choicest ermine skins come from northern Alaska and Siberia. The ermine is highly prized, as the black tip at the end of its tail is in striking contrast to its white coat.

The constant war upon fur-bearing animals will in time extinguish them, unless some means are taken to domesticate them. They are of such importance to the comfort of the human race that every effort should be made by the government to conserve them.

THE LISTENING POST

The Philosopher was at his task. Whatever it may have been. It was what there was to do. Whether it was weeding a garden, pruning a bush, writing an article or dreaming a dream.

Whatever it may, the Philosopher was doing it with the best spirit he had. Because he knew that that was the way the world has been advanced. And the way it will be advanced. By doing what is to be done with the best spirit we have.

And the Philosopher believed in doing the thing at hand. Provided it was wise and necessary that he should do it.

If it seemed wise to him he engaged someone skilled in certain work to do that which he could not do so well himself.

He did not believe in cleaning out a drain with his best clothes on. He believed in getting the drain man to do that.

Neither did he believe in making repairs in the plumbing or electric wiring. When he knew nothing whatever about either.

And the Philosopher thought him out a creed. Which he wrote down. And put before him where he could see it when at his work.

And it said: TODAY'S WORK WELL DONE JUSTIFIES YESTERDAY. GLORIFIES TODAY. ASSURES TOMORROW. LET US TO THE TASK.

But there were many things the Philosopher could do. And he believed in doing them. Today. And Here. For the Philosopher was a great believer in Now and Here.

SONGS OF THE POETS

In the Highlands—By Robert Louis Stevenson (1850-1894)

In the highlands, in the country places, Where the old plain men have rosy faces, And the young fair maidens Quiet eyes;

Where essential silence cheers and blesses And for ever in the hill-recesses Her more lovely music Broods and dies.

O to mount again where erst I hunted; Where the old red hills are bird-enchanted, And the low green meadows Bright with sward;

And while he was engaged with his tasks the Philosopher did not worry about tomorrow. Or regret about yesterday. He rejoiced for Today. And its work and opportunity.

All he thought about yesterday was that it was gone. He sought to profit by its lessons. But to waste no time in regrets for its sorrows or failures.

He did not even wring his hands and weep about the tragedies of the great war. But he hoped the world might profit by its horrors.

Otherwise they would have served no purpose in the world. And that so much suffering and horror should serve no good purpose he felt was a sad commentary, upon the failure of people to profit by pain and suffering.

And the Philosopher did not worry about tomorrow. It might not come. If it did come it would be met with courage and cheer.

And the only way to prepare and provide for it was by doing the work of Today well. And the Philosopher thought him out a creed.

And it said: TODAY'S WORK WELL DONE JUSTIFIES YESTERDAY. GLORIFIES TODAY. ASSURES TOMORROW. LET US TO THE TASK.

And the Philosopher thought him out a creed. Which he wrote down. And put before him where he could see it when at his work.

And it said: TODAY'S WORK WELL DONE JUSTIFIES YESTERDAY. GLORIFIES TODAY. ASSURES TOMORROW. LET US TO THE TASK.

And it said: TODAY'S WORK WELL DONE JUSTIFIES YESTERDAY. GLORIFIES TODAY. ASSURES TOMORROW. LET US TO THE TASK.

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA STEWART

It isn't very comfortable for some of us to live with ourselves any of the time. It isn't comfortable for any of us to live with ourselves some of the time. We know so thoroughly what we really are, you see!

Did you ever wonder if, anywhere, at any time, there existed the perfectly sincere and honest person, the one who not only during his better moments, but every hour, every minute, showed the real self and that real self always charming and delightful?

Maybe, though, that is just as it was intended. Maybe we really gain from trying to dissemble and put the good side out. Maybe the fact that we have to struggle and overcome if we would attract love and respect brings with it the elements of real growth.

of the appropriation bills; but few are rallying to his support. It is a job that has got to be done, and the sooner it is tackled the better, let the dispensers of party patronage groan as they may.

NON-SMOKERS IGNORED

One effect of consumption of tobacco by women is that smoking is permitted where formerly it was forbidden because it was assumed that many persons were averse to its being permitted.

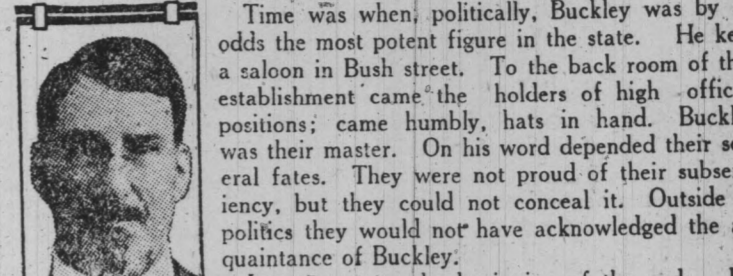

Smoking rooms still are maintained on steamers and "smokers" remain institutional on railroad trains. But smoking in restaurants, and in ball-rooms as a result of women having adopted the habit, has become quite general.

The Duke of Wellington was not chivalrous, but he was not recommending that anyone follow a course which would cause discomfort to persons obliged to submit.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Once the death of Chris Buckley would have been a great event in California. When the former "Blind Boss" passed away at his San Francisco home recently, nobody seemed to care particularly.

Time was when, politically, Buckley was by all odds the most potent figure in the state. He kept a saloon in Bush street. To the back room of that establishment came the holders of high official positions; came humbly, hats in hand.

Long ago was the beginning of the end. His influence waned. Once his enemies harassed him so that he fled to Canada. They said he never would come back, but so far as accomplishing the round trip was concerned, he did come back.

Buckley was honest in that he would keep a promise. This is the highest degree of honesty to be expected of one of his class, a class now all but vanished, and not to be regretted.

So, one time, my neighbor said, a little fellow moved over from Fulton county onto the farm that laid alongside that of his Uncle Jed.

And it came to pass that his Uncle Jed had some slight misunderstanding with this despicable little neighbor and got on his horse and rode over to have it out.

"I ain't a-going to whip you like a man," his Uncle Jed roared in that big voice. "I'm going to lick you like a dog, for that is what you are."

But he hadn't more than curled that quirt around that despicable little cuss once, said my neighbor, before his Uncle Jed was being dragged off the horse and stamped on.

"Me, too," said my neighbor. "I never let myself get all red and noisy with anger until I am certain it's sure to be safe."

That's why my neighbor managed to keep out of that lawsuit.

WATCHING THE PARADE

Accounts of rains of fishes, according to Dr. E. W. Gudger, are not necessarily "fish stories." He says such falls of fishes from the sky may be caused by high winds, whirlwinds and waterpots that draw up the fishes from the water and scatter them as their force is spent.

DO YOU KNOW THAT?

One reason for damp cellars in the summer is that the moist air in contact with the cool inner surface of the walls and floor is chilled below its dew-point and condensation results.

While it is expected that the modern office building will have a life of over a hundred years, it is probable that most of the modern structures of today will fail to suit the practical requirements of their locality a century from now.

LITERARY SECTION IS ENTERTAINED

Members of the Literary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club were entertained Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wilson on West Milford street. The varied program included a fine review of current magazine articles by the hostess, and a quite wonderful paper on "American Modes of Travel" prepared by Mrs. C. E. Stanley who gave the history of modes of travel in this country from the ox cart down to the airplane. As Mrs. Stanley was not well enough to attend the meeting, the paper was read by Mrs. Cora Dunn, who gave a review of the novel, "If Winter Comes," by Hutchinson. The reviewer expressed the opinion and others in the section agreed, that this is one of the new books which will live. Following the program tea and cake were served. Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Tuesday club, was a guest.

MATTISON JONES WELCOMES McADOO

Mattison B. Jones of Glendale delivered the speech of welcome Tuesday night for William D. McAdoo at a banquet given at Palais, Los Angeles. The banquet hall was crowded and over 100 were turned away.

Mr. Jones delivered the talk in behalf of the Democrats of Southern California and spoke of the wonderful achievements and work accomplished by Mr. McAdoo. After a response by Mr. McAdoo in which he stated that he felt his best achievement was sitting beside him, meaning his wife, she was called upon to respond, but being rather timid, only stood and bowed to the large audience.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON CLUB TO GIVE PARTY

A card party is to be given Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the branch library at Los Feliz and Brand boulevard as a benefit for the Thursday Afternoon club, the tickets being 25 cents each. Tables can be reserved by parties in advance. If desired, by telephoning Mrs. Chauncey Lake, 129-J, or Mrs. E. V. Bacon, 1279-W.

Mrs. J. L. Wilbur, chairman of ways and means, has general charge of the affair, her committee including Mrs. C. K. Lake, Mrs. Henry Moody, Mrs. Frank Peters, Mrs. W. E. Anderson and Mrs. Ed Fairfield. These ladies will be assisted by Mrs. Bacon, president of the club, and Dr. Jessie Russell, chairman of forum programs.

THE FIFES GIVE PARTY IN FRIENDS HONOR

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Fife of 517 North Jackson street entertained at a dinner party Tuesday evening in honor of John M. Johnson of Bridgeville, Pa., who is visiting his cousin, Joseph A. DeMuth of 514 West Colorado street.

A dainty color scheme of yellow and white was carried out throughout the house and a social and musical evening was enjoyed. Covers were laid for John M. Johnson, Joseph A. DeMuth, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bell, Francis Bell, Jr. of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Henderson and Lee Henderson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Fife and daughters, Margaret, Jane and Mildred.

J. O. C. CLASS IS ENTERTAINED

Members of the J. O. C. class of the Pacific Avenue Methodist church were entertained Tuesday evening by Mrs. Harry Covington at her home, 459 South Pacific avenue, 22 ladies being present. A short business session was followed by a social hour, during which games were played and the hostess was the recipient of a shower of fancy articles, useful and beautiful. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch were served and it was one of the pleasantest gatherings the class has ever enjoyed.

GILLETTE TENT HONOR INTERESTING MEETING

Mary Jane Gillette tent No. 18, Daughters of Veterans, held a very interesting meeting Tuesday night at American Legion hall, 610 1/2 East Broadway. The president, Mrs. Susie Peck, presided over the meeting, at which time important business was transacted. A report regarding the cooked food sale held last Saturday at Neale & Gregg's hardware store was read, showing that the sale was a great success.

The tent accepted the invitation to attend the birthday celebration of the Daylight tent of Los Angeles on the afternoon of Wednesday, May 3. It will be held at Patriotic hall on South Figueroa street. Mrs. S. B. Moore, a member of Mary Jane Gillette tent, will give a reading, Miss Florence Chadwick will render a piano solo and Miss Devina Wood will give a classic solo dance, on this program.

The president, Mrs. Susie Peck, leaves today to attend the 14th annual convention of Daughters of Veterans of California and Nevada departments, and she expects to be gone a week.

After the business was completed a social hour was enjoyed in which dancing was the main diversion. Music was furnished by Miss Audrey Hall, Mrs. Agnes Richardson and Harry Hall. Several old-fashioned waltzes and other dances were participated in.

TUESDAY CLUB HONORS MRS. WHITE

Plans to Raise $2000 to Start Their Building Program

The picturesque feature of the meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club this week was the little ceremony by which the club honored Mrs. Harriet M. White of 517 Raleigh street, one of its oldest members in point of years and enrollment. She is today celebrating her 80th birthday and was asked to come to the platform where she was presented with a beautiful basket of ferns and introduced as the past mistress of the club.

The chief business of the day was the adoption of a plan suggested by Mrs. A. M. Williams for the raising of $2000.

At the business session which preceded the program there were the customary announcements of sections and then Mrs. A. M. Williams, chairman of ways and means committee, explaining that the club must raise $2000, presumably to start its building program, proposed the raising of the same amount by means of a canvass of club members by teams composed of members of the ways and means committee to solicit money donations of $1 and upwards. She urged women who had said to her they would rather give $5 or $10 outright than work with a society or have a canvasser secure the funds. She asked for an expression and the plan was endorsed by Mrs. Ralph Meeker, Mrs. R. E. Chase, Mrs. L. N. Hazood, and by Mrs. John Robert White, who moved that the club instruct the ways and means committee to carry out the plan. The motion was seconded by Mrs. A. H. Montgomery and unanimously carried from April 30 to May 6, and delegates and alternates were announced as follows: Mrs. C. H. Hutchinson, delegate; Mrs. A. M. Hunt, alternate; Mrs. Stephen Packer, delegate; Mrs. Lockwood, alternate; Mrs. Mabel Rudy, delegate; Mrs. Cameron Thom, alternate; Mrs. A. W. Tower, delegate; Mrs. E. D. Yard, alternate; Mrs. Mabel Ocker, delegate; Mrs. McMullin, alternate; Mrs. C. W. Houston, delegate; Mrs. Dunn, alternate.

The president urged strong support of the high school bonds to be voted upon next Tuesday, urging every member to act as a committee to get out the vote. Dr. Jessie Russell endorsed and enforced the suggestion declaring that anything short of a big vote for the bonds would react unfavorably on the reputation of the city.

A proposition from the Mission Play company at Alhambra to set apart a day for the Tuesday club before the play ends, and make a rate of 85 cents a ticket for 25 or more, was accepted and Thursday, May 4 was the day set with instructions to those desirous of attending to communicate with Mrs. Mabel Rudy.

Reciprocity Day, when the presidents of other clubs of the district will be entertained had been announced as May 16. Because that date conflicts with another reciprocity day, it has been changed to May 23 and the drama section will have charge of the program, presenting "Every Youth."

The speaker of the day, Miss Winifred Rouzeau, gave a most interesting review of the Bible and its prophecies under the theme, "The Bible and World Events, Past, Present and Future."

In the beginning of her talk she showed the esteem in which the Bible had been held by the great men of the world, quoting President Lincoln, Andrew Jackson, General Grant, Washington and Napoleon Bonaparte, Sir Walter Scott and others.

She referred to statements made by Alfred Knight that disobedience or failure to heed the prophecies of the Bible had plunged the world in the great war. She also quoted General Pershing's prediction of a war to come which will cost more in money and men than any war the world has ever seen. Later she gave the same prediction contained in the Bible.

She referred to atheistic propaganda by Bohemian-American socialists who she said had six Sunday schools in Buffalo to teach that there is no God and that the Bible is a myth, saying further that 50 such propagandists are working in Seattle supported by a large fund.

She showed how recent discoveries in history and science have confirmed the authenticity and the accuracy of the Bible whose figurative language must always be reckoned with in making interpretations. In this connection she referred to the Rosetta stone and to the similar triple Babylonian writings discovered upon a cliff which have aided archaeologists in the reading of the picture writing of Egypt and the deciphering of the papyri found in the tombs of Egypt.

She also found prophecies which have been fulfilled and prophecies yet to be realized, as fascinating in their unfoldment as any novel and with twice the thrill. In the 22nd and 23rd verses of the 38th chapter of Job she found the prophecy of TNT, which its inventor found must be frozen with liquid air to make it pure and safe to handle.

The making of bricks without straw by the Israelites under Pharaoh has been confirmed in walls which the archaeologists have uncovered containing such bricks.

Her discourse centered around the dream of Nebuchadnezzar as interpreted in the second chapter of Daniel, wherein the king is reminded that the image which he saw had a head of gold which represented himself and his kingdom, breasts and arms of silver, thighs of brass, legs of iron and feet partly of iron and partly of clay, these separate parts representing the kingdoms which should follow him and be broken in turn.

The identification of these successive kingdoms, the Medes and the Persians, the Greeks, the Romans being made in the 7th and 8th chapters of Daniel. The feet of clay and iron she considered to represent the dominating powers of the present day, nations who are the successors of Iron Rome, whose legs were represented by its eastern and its western empires. Its western empire took in the British Isles but was bounded by the rivers Rhine and Danube. As the prophecy declares that this last kingdom shall be broken by a great stone which shall become a mountain and fill all the earth, so she argued, shall the nations of our day be replaced by a great federation, but she does not look to see it include anything beyond the confines of the Rhine and the Danube. Since Russia, as well as Germany is beyond these two rivers, she predicts an alliance of those two peoples.

She called attention to the fulfillment of the prophecies in Deuteronomy with regard to the Jews, that they should be scattered over the whole earth but not be absorbed, remaining a separate people as they are today. Said she: "America, the melting pot, has never melted a Jew."

God's promise to the Jew in the 38th chapter of Ezekiel that he shall return to the promised land, she sees being fulfilled in the occupation of Jerusalem by the troops of General Allenby representing the British lion, and the depopulation of Palestine is but preparing the way for the return of the Jew.

In Daniel 12-4 she finds of prophecy of the present as "a time of trouble such as never was when many shall run to and fro and knowledge shall be increased." In verses 2-4 she finds a reference to the automobiles in the chariots that shall rage in the streets and run like lightning. In Habakkuk 1-8, she discovers the modern aviator who shall "fly as the eagle that hasteth to eat." In the 14th verse of the same chapter she locates the submarine which makes men "fishers of the sea as the creeping things that have no ruler over them."

In Timothy 1-4 she finds vegetarianism becoming almost a religion, and the rise of the occult now sweeping the earth.

In II Timothy, the first two verses of chapter 3 she finds the prediction of the disposition of modern children to repudiate authority. In Revelations 13, verses 16 and 17 she finds the modern boycott incident.

In closing she said: "This Bible has opened up for us the past. It takes us by the hand through the pitfalls of this life and leads us out into eternity and tells us how to live here that we may live there forever in the presence of the marvelous writer of this book, God, who was and is and evermore shall be."

LYDIA CLASS HAS PLEASANT MEETING

The Lydia Class of the Glendale Presbyterian church had a pleasant social meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Eyerick at 107 East Chestnut street, about 25 of the 50 members being present.

Following a business session a few games were played and the balance of the afternoon was devoted to needlework and conversation. This class meets at 9:30 every Sunday morning at the Glendale Presbyterian church and is under the instruction of Rev. Charles Hubbard of the Bible Institute who is proving a wonderful teacher.

Mrs. Gaskin presided at the business session and a nominating committee was appointed to secure a slate of officers to be voted for at the next meeting of the class in May, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Hughes on Palm drive.

Teach Thrift The thrift habit—like any other habit—can be acquired easiest during childhood. If you want your children to grow up to be successful, prosperous men and women, you should begin now to teach them the value of money. There is no lesson more important, both to themselves and to the nation. Teaching economy is training children for better citizenship, for it is the industrious, thrifty men and women who form the backbone of every community.
