Two Superb New Roses and Distinct now offered for the first time.

Originated and for sale only by The Dingee & Conard Company.

By patient, persistent efforts in hybridizing we have been fortunate enough to originate two ideal Roses, which are fully described below and truthfully illustrated on the front cover page of this book. In habit and vigor of growth, profusion of bloom and in the color and fragrance of flowers, "Princess Bonnie" and "Pink Soupert" are undeniably superb. For home cultivation they possess such qualities as will commend them at once. They will bloom the first and every year, and with slight protection during the Winter they can remain permanently in the open ground, where they will increase in beauty and vigor year after year. As absolutely new Roses, showing marked improvement over existing sorts, we ask that our customers give them a trial, which is an inexpensive matter. They will delight both the connoisseur and the novice alike.

Rose

Bon Silene
William Francis Bennett.

ITS PARENTAGE.—In our list of almost five hundred Roses there are none more deservedly popular than William Francis Bennett and Bon Silene. The latter, since 1839, the year of its introduction, has not been superseded by any newcomer of its class or color, certainly a distinction which bears ample testimony of its sterling qualities. The fact of the "Princess Bonnie" being the result of a cross between these two favorites, inheriting the fragrance and beauty of the Bennett flowers and the floriferousness and vigor of Bon Silene, is sufficient evidence of its superior excellence. It is indeed a royal Rose.

A CONTINUOUS BLOOMER.—"Princess Bonnie" is a stupendous bloomer. It commences blooming before the plant is three months old and continues throughout the entire year. Every shoot produces several flowers; there is hardly a day when it is without buds and blooms. The flowers are produced on strong, erect stems, and, with the exception of color, strongly resemble William Francis Bennett. They are large, semi-double and in bud are not surpassed by any Rose we know. The buds are long, perfectly rounded and retain their shape well after cutting.

ITS COLOR AND WONDERFUL FRAGRANCE.—In color it is a rich solid crimson, far deeper and more vivid than Bennett. The color of the outside petals is as brilliant as a "Jack," while the inner side of the centre ones is streaked with white, which at their base becomes more general. In the fragrance of its flowers it perhaps surpasses any Rose in existence; the fragrance is rich and subtle—we doubt if the genuine Attar of Roses is any sweeter. The odor is not as strong or pungent as that which characterizes the flowers of the Hybrid Perpetual Roses, but is rather a delicate, refined scent so peculiarly its own that if it did not produce but a single crop of flowers a year its fragrance would entitle it to a place among the Roses of distinction. A leading grower makes the statement that a sweet-scented red Rose for forcing purposes is needed. We think "Princess Bonnie" will fill the vacancy. We have had ample opportunity to test it for general purposes, and are confident that as a choice New Rose for the amateur grower it will prove exceedingly popular.

PRICE.—Strong pot-grown plants, ready for immediate blooming either in open ground or indoors, 50 cts. each; 2 for 90 cts.; 4 for $1.60, postpaid by mail.

SPECIAL OFFER.—We will send one strong pot-grown plant, ready for immediate blooming, of each of the splendid New Roses described above, "Princess Bonnie" and "Pink Soupert," postpaid by Mail for 90c. Address

New Pedigree " Pink Soupert."
Rose

Clotilde Soupert
Lucullus.

THE PRICE PAID FOR IT.—Four years of constant effort, over three hundred crosses with almost as many disappointing effects, was the price paid for this one triumphant result. It is a source of the keenest gratification, however, to know from expert Rosarians who have seen it in bloom that it is the most notable and valuable New Rose of the many recently introduced.

A CONTINUOUS BLOOMER.—It is a continuous bloomer; even the seedling plants, when but two inches high, produced perfect flowers of good size. Each branch terminates with a cluster of buds. Its floriferousness is remarkable, single plants only six months old producing, as a rule, more than fifty perfect flowers. It blooms equally as well both indoors and in open ground; its adaptability for outdoor culture will alone make it popular, as it is fully as desirable in this respect as its famous progenitor, Clotilde Soupert.

THE COLOR OF THE FLOWERS.—"Pink Soupert" produces flowers of various shades of pink, sometimes almost red, then again a bright pink flower is seen, almost identical in color with that of the grand old Rose, Hermosa. Then again the same bush will produce light pink flowers, suffused with lilac. The colors are altogether new. While our illustration on the front cover gives a general idea of the form and color of the flowers, it is only when one sees them that their uniqueness and true worth is properly appreciated.

THE FORM OF FLOWERS.—When partially open the flowers are flat, with the outer petals symmetrically curving back as the flowers expand, while the centre petals gradually shorten, as do they in the C. Soupert flowers. The flowers are large and have a delightful tea scent; in short, with the exception of color, they are identical with C. Soupert. This similarity will of itself make "Pink Soupert" a most popular Rose, and as a companion-piece to its seed-parent it cannot fail to meet with instant approval. The effect when "Pink Soupert" and C. Soupert are grouped is decidedly fine.

ITS HARDINESS.—Lucullus being very hardy, naturally this valuable essential is imparted in a certain degree to its progeny. We have not thoroughly tested it in this respect, but we think it will prove far more vigorous and hardy in the open ground than its seed-parent, C. Soupert, which, with proper protection, will stand severe Winters.

PPICE.—Strong, pot-grown plants, ready for immediate blooming, 50c. each; 2 for 90c.; 4 for $1.60, postpaid by mail.

TEN SUPERB PREMIUMS

FOR EVERY SUBSCRIBER IN A CLUB OF FIVE OR MORE.

Never before in the history of Success with Flowers has it enjoyed such prosperity as the past year brought it. Its unparalleled progress—thanks to our generous friends—is the best reason in the world for us to maintain the high standard of excellence it has attained as a magazine giving practical hints and instructions—not “growing flowers on paper,” but the personal experience of hundreds of successful cultivators, with whose assistance the publishers feel well able to lead the amateur flower-grower to successful results.

It will perhaps be of interest to know that during the dullest season of last year—from April 1st to September 1st—over 20,000 NEW subscribers (not renewals) were enrolled. It looks as though flower-growers believe in us, and appreciate the only magazine devoted to them—shows better than we can describe what can be expected from this, our greatest premium. Seldom have so many good things been offered as a premium, but buying large quantities in the “nick of time” tells why we can give away such a diversity of new and rare flowers. Nerine Japonica alone cannot be bought for less than twenty cents per bulb. Those who know its beauty would accept it individually as a sufficient inducement to subscribe.

Every person subscribing to Success before June 1, 1895, for one year, 30 cents, in a club of five or more, will receive, postpaid and free of all cost—

- 1 Nerine Japonica

OUR ANNUAL MESSAGE TO FRIENDS AND PATRONS.

*"A little learning is a dangerous thing.
Drink deep or taste not the Pierian Spring."* —POPE.

With the history of 1894 and its financial depression before us, we welcome the coming year, and with its advent extend our sincere thanks to kind friends in every quarter of these United States who entrusted their orders to us not only last year, but also in other years. More than a half million persons, many of whom have been buying from us for a quarter of a century, know the merits of the D. & C. Roses and our methods of doing business. As the first to send Roses by mail, we have during the long years of experience "tasted deeply of the Pierian Spring," gaining knowledge and extending the fame of the D. & C. Roses into every home where they are loved and grown—and there are few homes indeed where they are not; our lives, large capital and all our best energies have been invested in the work of creating this present great industry, until now the product of seventy spacious greenhouses is required to meet the demand for "Roses by mail on their own roots that go and grow everywhere." Those who have never grown them will, after the multitude of old custom-legion, that they are the best

The pioneer business principles that have made us the largest Rose Growers in America are to-day predominant in our establishment; wherever it has seemed wise they have been improved to keep pace with the rapid advances that are constantly going on in all branches of industrial commerce. Never before have we been equipped to give better service—and, what is more important, finer plants, bulbs and seeds such as are offered in this book—than at the present time, and we propose that every order sent out will bear corroborative testimony to our well-earned reputation for honest goods and square dealing.

There will not be found in this country, and probably not in Europe, a more complete collection of Roses than is offered in this Catalogue. New and old—all the Roses worth having—are here waiting to be called for at prices consistent with their quality. The two new Roses illustrated on the cover are gems of the first water. They are the pick of almost one thousand seedlings, and are absolutely the most distinct varieties introduced in many years. In the galaxy of beautiful new Cannas, "Flamingo" stands out as the triumphant result of ten years' careful and intelligent effort in hybridizing.

Now, with the disappearance of the financial stringency, leaving, we trust, with all our friends nothing but history to mark its visit, we confidently look for renewed animation in business, brighter prospects and the privilege of serving the flower wants of all the persons into whose hands this book may fall.

A careful perusal of its pages will show that nothing is exaggerated, either illustrative or descriptive; it is by far the most complete, valuable and ornamental Guide we have ever sent out. With the firm assurance that every order, large or small, will have prompt and careful attention, we solicit your valued patronage.

Yours,
faithfully,

AND GROW EVERYWHERE.

4 The D. & C. Co's
FAMOUS ROSES
6 FOR 50 CTS.

Famous Offer of

SET 100.

Six New and Choice
Roses for..... 50 cts.

WITHOUT exception this is the most popular and widely appreciated offer we have ever made. The steadily growing demand for this set is the best incentive we need have to select for it the finest Roses; varieties such as we know will give pleasure and satisfaction to those securing them. A pertinent fact, one that we are ever mindful of, is that our success necessarily depends upon our customers' success; the plants we send out must give entire satisfaction.

We have selected six well-known meritorious Ever-blooming Tea Roses described below, and have grown one hundred thousand (100,000) plants in 2½ and 3-inch pots, which we are willing to send out to thousands of friends who will take advantage of this offer, as fit representatives to establish and prove our assertion that the D. & C. Roses are the best and most reliable Roses grown. They are on their own roots.

Each variety is first-class and will stand upon its individual merits. Those who appreciate and take advantage of this unsurpassed offer of New and Choice Roses need have no fear of disappointment. We have been careful to select kinds particularly adapted to outdoor cultivation, and the mass of bloom they will produce continuously from June until severe frosts will be a constant delight. They are half hardy, and if left in open ground during Winter they should be protected by a covering of leaves, straw or evergreen houghs.

PERLE DES JARDINS. (1)

This magnificent yellow Tea Rose still retains its position as one of the very finest Roses of its color ever introduced. The flowers are unusually large, finely formed, and in color are a clear golden yellow; entirely distinct; richly perfumed.

BRIDESMAID. (4)

Perhaps the most popular and meritorious new Rose sent out recently. Its parentage is sufficient guarantee of its excellence; it is a sport from that highly-thought-of favorite, Catharine Mermet, but differs from it inasmuch that the color is more desirable, being a clear dark pink, much darker and more constant than Mermet.

LUCIOLE. (3)

"O blessed nature, O rus! O rus!
 Who does not sigh for the country thus,
 Absorb'd in a worldly torpor—
 Who does not yearn for its meadow-sweet breath,
 Untainted by care, and crime, and death,
 And to stand sometimes upon grass or heath—
 That soul, spite of gold, is a pauper!"—Hood.

So much has been written upon the subject of Floriculture in general by professionals and amateurs that the theme has become somewhat hackneyed, and the neophytes, who turn to the subject with awakening interest and enthusiasm, are apt to contemplate with a westrucked wonder and dismay the mass of miscellaneous literature appertaining thereto with which they are mentally confronted; quite naturally taking it for granted that in order to attain success all these elaborate details as set forth must be apprehended and observed, else failure will necessarily follow. This conclusion is quite erroneous. Roses may be cultivated with a gratifying degree of success by any one who is sufficiently interested to give to the effort a little thought and attention, without reference to the experience of others. We do not mean to assert that the knowledge thus acquired is not helpful and valuable; what is to be condemned is the apathetic spirit of dependence which it tends to inculcate and foster. We often marvel at the skill displayed and success attained by persons of only moderate abilities and resources; their knowledge of methods seems to be largely intuitive, and whatever aptitude they possess to have been acquired in the great kindergarten of Nature by contact and by observation. We are apt to encumber ourselves entirely too much with prolix details, without attempting to exercise the mind upon the realities of Nature, thereby rendering it alert, perceptive and receptive with reference to the objectivity of its environment. It should always be borne in mind that our cultivated plants are adaptations to certain natural laws and conditions of growth to which they necessarily respond. Temperature, light, soil and moisture form a summary of these elementary conditions, which, as they combine in their proper and natural relationship, promote activity and perfection of growth, and measure the degree of success to be attained. These are the cardinal points of the compass; the known quantities given to find the unknown; the first principles of the art to be considered under whatever circumstances the cultivation of plants is attempted.

Outdoor...
 of Roses...

Select, if possible, the most sheltered sunny location for planting, avoiding the close proximity of large trees, whose dense foliage and divergent roots monopolize the immediate surroundings to the exclusion of almost everything else; the presence of young trees and dwarf shrubbery will not be hurtful.

 of Soil.....

Roses may be grown to perfection in the ordinary garden soil. In cases where the natural surface earth has been removed by grading, or has been covered by a clayey or sandy subsoil thrown from the excavation made for the cellar, it will be necessary to restore at least a part of the original fertility by substituting a quantity of loam, which may readily be obtained under the sod by the roadside or from the fields; in the absence of this, street dirt or sweepings will answer the purpose. To each wheelbarrow load of loam add about one-third its bulk of well-rotted stable manure, also some sand, if there is a lack of this constituent; select the spot where you wish to locate the bed, spread the new soil and manure evenly upon it and spade altogether to the depth of twelve inches or more, thoroughly mixing and mellowing. If street dirt or sweepings are used the composition may be sufficiently rich in fertilizing matter.

Fertilizers.

Fine, well-decomposed stable manure is the best for general purposes, and the results obtained from its use will be highly satisfactory. If this cannot conveniently be obtained, fine ground bone or other commercial fertilizers may be employed, but require judgment in their application; if used too freely they are likely to injure the plants. The manure may be applied late in the Fall, Spring or Midsummer; if in the Fall, as a surface dressing, it will serve as a partial protection over Winter; if in the Spring and Summer, it will be beneficial as a mulch.

Planting...

After the ground has been thoroughly prepared, manured and mellowed, with the hands make holes in the soil about twelve inches apart; set the plant a little deeper than formerly, arrange the roots in their natural positions, cover with fine earth, pressing it firmly down upon them and in around the stem. After planting, water freely, and if the weather is hot and the ground dry continue to water at intervals, and throw some newspapers over them during the extreme heat of the day to shield from the effects of the sun until they become somewhat established. Do not plant if the ground is wet, as it will afterwards bake around the roots and interfere with their growth. If, for this or other reasons, it is not desirable or convenient to plant at once, place the box in the cellar or some other moderately warm place, remove the cover, set the plants upright to give them air and water freely from time to time. In this way they may be kept fresh for some time. Should they have a withered appearance, caused by some unusual delay while in transit (which seldom occurs), soak them in lukewarm water for an hour or so before planting to restore their vitality. If any branches or twigs are broken the plant is nowise injured; cut out the broken parts and new growth will shortly appear. The plants received from our establishment have been grown in a warm temperature, and therefore should not be exposed to extreme cold. The most favorable season for planting in most localities is during the Spring, about the time when the work of Spring gardening is being prosecuted. Of course, this refers more especially to those sections of the country where, owing to prolonged and severe Winters, Fall planting is attended with considerable risk. In our more southern States, and where mild Winters usually prevail, many prefer to plant in the Fall.

Cultivation | The soil around the plants should be kept loose and free from weeds and grass to insure their vigorous growth. The moisture supplied by the rain and dew is ordinarily sufficient, but during protracted droughts the plants should be watered daily in the evening. When the dust begins to accumulate and the grass has a parched appearance it may be taken as an indication that the soil is becoming dry, and the supply of water should be regulated accordingly. Use water judiciously; too much will be more or less injurious.

*.*

Pruning... | No absolute rule can be laid down for the guidance of the inexperienced; plants differ so with respect to constitution and habits of growth. Many are neat and compact, requiring little or no attention; others are vigorous and straggling, sending out long shoots which tend to outrun the limits assigned them, giving to the bush an unsightly appearance. Pruning should be regulated somewhat as regards the habits of growth of the different varieties under cultivation. The most persistent growers may be cut back each Spring or Fall from one-half to two-thirds the last season's growth. Trim so as to give the shrub a well-balanced, shapely appearance, cutting out all dead or unthrifty wood and removing diseased or imperfect blooms as they appear from time to time. In cases where plants are apparently healthy and profuse bloomers, and their buds blight or fail to mature, remove a large percentage of them as they begin to develop and trim severely. Should they exhibit a prolonged condition of debility, and shed their leaves after being planted, the tops should be cut back at least one-third. In transplanting field-grown stock the roots will suffer curtailment to the extent of about one-half, and therefore the tops should be reduced proportionately. Varieties of delicate habit, which are by nature coy bloomers, need to be pruned rigorously.

House..... Culture....

Keeping in mind our previous remarks with reference to the conditions of plant growth—soil, light, temperature and moisture—no difficulty whatever should be experienced in propagating within doors. Plants intended for Winter blooming should be purchased from a reliable florist during September or October, and when received the plants, if one year, should be repotted into four-inch pots; if two year, into six-inch pots. Boxes specially constructed for the purpose may be substituted for pots. These should be made ten inches wide, ten inches deep and as long as required; at the bottom place evenly a three-inch layer of broken crockery or porous cinders, covering with a few sheets of coarse brown paper to afford drainage. Fill to within an inch of the top with good, rich potting soil, which should consist of three parts loam and one of sand. Liquid manure or fine ground bone are excellent fertilizers. A warm, light situation near a window where the plants can get as much sun as possible should be selected. After planting, shade for a few days until they have become in a measure established. Should they become infested with insect parasites, use some good insecticide or remove the plants outdoors or to the cellar and give a thorough drenching with tepid water, cleaning and airing the window stands or shelves. A temperature ranging from 50° at night to 75° during the day should be maintained; this is not difficult. The damage to plants usually occurs at night, when the fires are low, during extreme cold weather. Worms that sometimes infest the soil may be expelled by a weak solution of lime water.

Insects and Insecticides

There are quite a number of different species of insects which prey upon the foliage and blossoms of the Rose. Their ravages are worse in some localities as compared with others; some years they are numerous—others, conspicuous by their almost entire absence. Thorough cultivation should be resorted to in order to secure a healthy and vigorous growth of the plants, in which state they are equipped for the struggle for existence, and if attacked by insect parasites the effects will be slight and not sufficient to despoil them of much of their beauty of foliage or bloom. At their very first appearance a good insecticide should be used, a few applications of which is usually effectual in exterminating them at the outset, after which very little or no trouble may be experienced.

The following recipes and preparations are recommended as being superior for the purpose, and should be applied in solution both to the upper and under surface of the leaves by means of a spraying syringe or whisk broom.

Kerosene Emulsion.—To two parts of kerosene add one of slightly sour milk; agitate until the compound unites in the form of a white jelly; dilute with twenty parts of soft water.

Tobacco Solution.—Made by boiling the leaves or stems of tobacco; the liquid should be made about the strength of weak tea.

Paris Green and London Purple.—Dissolve a teaspoonful of either in a gallon of soft water and mix thoroughly just before using. These compounds are effective but poisonous, and therefore care should be exercised. The solution is harmless after being applied, as it contains such a small proportion of poisonous matter.

Tobacco Insecticide Soap.—This preparation is put up in tin cans, with directions for use printed on labels. It is a standard remedy and one of the best. Price, 30 cts. per can, by Mail, postpaid.

Winter.... Protection

This is not deemed of so much importance as formerly, as plants that fail to survive, or whose vitality has been impaired by the rigor of Winter, can now be replaced so readily and at such trifling expense that it is thought by many scarcely worth the time and trouble involved to secure their preservation.

Each Fall a large percentage of our correspondence with customers in all parts of the country has reference to the hardness of the different varieties of Roses received from us. To those of our customers and friends who have not been properly informed, a few remarks will suffice.

Among the numerous types contained in the lists of Teas, China, Bourbon, Noisette and Polyantha classes, we would not be warranted in saying that any particular variety was absolutely hardy. In this respect they represent all shades of differences, so that it is impossible to determine with any degree of certainty, especially when extreme climatic and other conditions have to be taken into account.

It is obvious, then, that in order to Winter your collection of Roses securely the safe plan would be to claim the benefit of the doubt and give them all liberal shelter. This may be done with the material most conveniently at hand, such as leaves, hay, straw, light manures, street sweepings, pine or cedar boughs, etc.; corn-fodder stacked over the beds affords an excellent protection. Do not cover the beds or clumps until Winter has fairly set in, and be careful that, whatever the material used, it shall admit the air freely and not be allowed to become sodden, nor to decay or ferment. When standing alone, Roses may be protected by driving a stake alongside the stem; the plant should be firmly fastened to this, place long straw neatly around and tie with cord to hold in position. Another plan is to place an old truck barrel over the bush, filling loosely with leaves or straw, displacing some of the staves so as not to exclude the air. Hardy Climbers, Hybrid Teas, Hybrid Perpetual and Moss Roses need no protection.

If it is thought desirable or more convenient, Roses may be cut back about one-third and taken up at the approach of Winter before the ground freezes, placed in shallow boxes in the cellar and the roots covered with moist earth, in which situation they should be watered sparingly, just sufficient to keep the soil damp. If treated properly they should be in excellent condition for transplanting in the Spring.

The Utility of Flowers.

We are conscious of the presence of a large class of persons to whom the problem of life and its functions all resolve themselves into a question of mere utility. We are met at the outset with the query, "Of what use is this, that or the other?" A happy retort is found in the comprehensive language of William Cobbett: "Of what use is anything?" As a matter of fact civilization and refinement are attained by a sacrifice of many primitive enjoyments peculiar to the life of the savage. Our age, our impulses and our self-respect require that we shall surround ourselves, as far as possible, with the evidences of modern progress and refinement, with everything that contributes to the happiness and comfort of ourselves and those dependent upon us.

What more charming and refreshing sight can be imagined than a modest cottage embowered in a labyrinth of climbing Roses and Vines; its fore-yard with its neatly clipped sward; its beds and borders of fragrant flowers and foliage plants interspersed with tastefully arranged groups of dwarf Ornamental Shrubbery? Or, in the absence of yard, a window garden with its wealth of attractive verdure? Is not its influence on the home life exalting, appealing as it does to the artistic sense which unconsciously tends to the formation and development of character? Does it not afford a healthful recreation for the leisure moments, especially for those engaged in sedentary pursuits, and at the same time rewarding the outlay of effort and money many times by the enhanced value resulting thereby? Surely, here the argument of the Utilitarian counts for nothing!

There is nothing that will so contribute to the enjoyment and contentment of the family as well-ordered home surroundings; it bespeaks for the possessors a degree of intelligence and culture which tend to increase their usefulness and influence as factors in the social life with which they are identified. The instincts once aroused to the extrinsic charm and beauty of the countless objects which have been fashioned by the divine creative hand of Nature, life becomes invested with new charms, interests and possibilities.

At the present day plants are so inexpensive, so easily obtained, and the many improved strains so desirable, that it is within the means of all to possess at least a few with which to embellish their homes. If properly cared for, Roses will subsist for many years to gladden the home circle by their cheering presence with each return of the happy June days. We have dwelt on this subject somewhat at length, because we should like to see our famous Roses gracing the home of every citizen of this favored land. Will you embrace the opportunity afforded? If not, why not?

General... Remarks.

Our Roses are all grown at our establishment here, on their own roots, from cuttings, in pots, under glass, in ordinary field-soil and at a natural temperature of 50 to 75 degrees, no stimulating fertilizers or heat being applied at any stage of their development to accelerate their growth. They are inspected from time to time and all inferior specimens rejected. The results of this original method of propagation and treatment is to impart a healthy constitution, which insures vigor and vitality of subsequent growth. They are all on their own roots, and in transplanting these roots are preserved intact, so that temporary arrest of growth is reduced to a minimum. They may be planted in the Spring, in any particular section, after all indications of killing frosts have disappeared, and as late as July and thereafter; but it is desirable to plant as early as practicable, as the conditions prevailing during April, May and June are more favorable to growth. If deferred as late as July, or afterwards, the results will not be so pronounced the first year. We claim that our stock is second to none, the varieties being distinct and perfectly true to name and much superior to field-grown, grafted or budded plants, as with the former there is more or less mutilation of the roots in transplanting, while the latter are apt to sucker up from the stocks upon which the scions are implanted.

We do not offer Fruit or Shade Trees, our business being confined to the production and sale of Flowering and Ornamental Plants, Shrubbery, Small Fruits, Bulbs and Seeds. This Catalogue and the Autumn Edition contain complete lists of everything that we have to offer.

Information for Customers.

How to Send Money Safely.

Our Terms are Cash.—To insure dispatch the proper remittance must be enclosed with the order.

Please remember that admirable and safe as our mail facilities are, some vexatious losses to the senders of letters are liable to occur; that careful as Uncle Sam is, some letters are lost in transit; some mails are burned up in great railroad wrecks. Prudence dictates that remittances be made so that in case of loss duplicates can be had. Therefore we say money may be sent at our risk, by P. O. Money Order on West Grove, Bank Draft, Express Money Order, Money (not stamps) in Registered Letter. We will be responsible for the safe carriage of money sent us in either of the above ways, and if lost will give full value; and in addition will present the sender with an elegant Rose, to offset the cost of obtaining the remittance, thus paying you to take care of your own money.

Canada Customers can remit by International Money Order on West Grove, Bank Draft, or currency in Registered Letter. Canada postage stamps have no value here.

Please do not send stamps for money; they often come stuck together or stuck to the letter that they cannot be taken out except by soaking the whole. Silver in small sums, if carefully wrapped, will carry just as safely, and is far more acceptable.

We Guarantee Our Roses

We do not guarantee that Roses we send out will not be killed by drought, insects, accidents or frost after they are planted.

But we do guarantee that all plants we send shall reach their destination in good growing condition; if they do not, inform us by return mail and we will replace at once. When we deliver them to you in good order our responsibility ends.

Orders by mail are sent postpaid to all post-offices in the United States or Canada, and we guarantee they shall reach the purchaser in good growing condition.

When so directed we ship by express, or when the order is of a size or character that it cannot be safely sent by mail, the purchaser paying express charges. But we are on the constant lookout to save purchasers all needless expense, and to that end, especially on long distances where goods are ordered by express, we send them by mail, knowing that it is to our customer's decided advantage to do so.

We guard against errors in filling orders as carefully as we can, but occasionally, in spite of best care, some mistakes will creep in; when they do, notify us at once, and we will correct by return mail. We cordially invite customers for our goods, and do not intend they shall regret coming to us if we can possibly by fair dealing prevent it. But do not blame us for not promptly filling your order, if you have (as hundreds do every year) given no name or address; if you live in a city please be careful to give street and number. If your letter is lost on the way and does not reach us, it will of course cause delay and often vexation.

Our Roses are all on their own Roots.—No budded or grafted Roses are sent out. Only a few years ago a great authority on Roses said that Hybrid Perpetual and Mosses could not be grown that way; he was mistaken; we grow all classes of Roses on their own Roots, and such only are sent out.

Our Roses are all grown in pots, in good fresh soil without stimulants; are strong, healthy plants, kept from blooming here by cutting the huds off as they appear, and with any fair treatment on your part will be sure to grow; and the Ever-blooming class will bud and bloom as soon as they start to grow vigorously.

Do not expect all varieties to be of the same size. Some under the same conditions make much larger and stronger plants than others, but many of the weakest growers produce the most beautiful flowers. Exquisite beauty of form, color and sturdy vigor are seldom combined in Roses.

Please Observe Carefully.—In ordering please use the sheet which we provide for the purpose whenever possible. Simply fill up the blanks, giving the number and name of the varieties wanted, with the price; we will understand. Do not interline or make other notations thereon having reference to the order. If you wish to communicate with us at the same time use a separate sheet of paper. Do not mix your plant and seed orders; observe that space has been provided on last page of the blank for seeds. Write neatly, giving your name and address plainly. When ordering out of season always state when you wish the things shipped, else they will be sent you at once. Attention to these details will greatly facilitate our work and prevent confusion, errors and misunderstandings.

Our aim is to do even better than we promise, so when the order will at all afford it, we add to it some plant or plants gratis; they are marked P. on the back of label, and are often choice new kinds; several of the Roses now so eagerly sought after were first introduced to our customers in that way—Presented with their order.

Orders to foreign countries can only be sent by mail to the few places with whom we have a parcel post exchange. To all others they go by express, but the party ordering must give the name and address of some one in New York who will receive the goods, and prepay ocean charges and forward to them.

When large lots of Roses, Shrubbery, Vines, etc., are wanted for Cemetery, Lawn or Hedge planting, send us a list of stock wanted to price; growing it in large quantities as we do, we can make for such very advantageous prices. Ordinary orders are invariably at prices given in Catalogue.

"Success with Flowers," a bright, instructive and interesting floral monthly, published by us and devoted exclusively to the culture of Flowering and Ornamental Plants. The tide of its popularity is steadily rising. Two years ago its circulation was 53,000, to-day it is 100,000. The figures 200,000 begin to outline themselves in the distance. "Many hands make light work," and therefore we earnestly invite the co-operation of all who worship at the shrine of "Queen Flora," to assist us in making this the representative journal of the age in this particular field. We are determined to make it more useful, interesting and brilliant than ever. Send for a sample copy.

NEW ROSES

FROM OVER THE SEA

ence, prominent among which are Baronne Berge, Maman Cochet, Turner's Crimson Rambler, etc. The entire list is unusually good, and the varieties have many excellent qualities and points of distinctive merit to commend them. The true Rose enthusiast is always anxious to secure the very latest acquisitions in the realm of the Queen of Flowers. The first cost of these European favorites is excessive, but at the price we have put them the matter of giving them a trial is quite inexpensive. We are constantly on the alert to get things new and novel to place before our vast army of customers, but before commending them they are rigidly examined, and to pass muster they must possess indications of merit, adaptability and permanency.

BARONNE BERGE.

Baronne Berge.

After careful test and trial we recommend this beautiful Rose as one of the best in the entire list of new varieties for general purposes. The flowers are medium to large size and are produced in large numbers. The plant commences blooming when quite young and continues throughout the season. The color is exceptionally fine and unique—a vivid rose, with bright yellow in the centre, which is altogether remarkable in a Rose. The foliage is clean and healthy. It is a vigorous and thrifty grower and will surely take a place among the best Roses. 30 cts. each; 4 for $1.

New Ever-blooming Tea Roses.

This year's importation of new Roses from Europe is very noteworthy, several of the subjoined varieties possessing superior excellence.

Comtesse Festetics Hamilton.—Large flowers, full, well formed, nearly always solitary; color brilliant carmine red, with reflected copper hue in the centre; back of petals more highly colored. 30 cts. each.

Comtesse O. Gorman.—Middle-sized flowers, half full, well formed, having a good appearance; color china-rose, golden in the centre. 30 cts. each.

Comtesse Dusy.—Vigorous, bushy plant; flowers large, full, of beautiful imbricated form; color magnificent white, very fine buds, elongated and well formed. 30 cts. each.

Comtesse Livia Zichy.—Flowers large, full, imbricated; buds very well formed; color marble white, in the centre bright ochre shading to very light satin rose. 30 cts. each.

New Polyantha Rose.

Turner's Crimson Rambler.—The introducer says: "This remarkable Rose, now offered for the first time, was originally received from Japan. The plant is of very vigorous growth, making shoots from 8 to 10 feet in height during a season, and is consequently a most desirable climbing variety, and, when pegged down or grown as a bush, a marvelous head of bloom is the result, the two-year-old wood producing trusses of flowers on every growth. It is also exceedingly hardy, having successfully withstood the test in exposed situations of two very severe Winters in England. The bright green glossy foliage with which the plant is covered very early in the Spring forms a pleasing and striking contrast to the flowers, which are produced in large trusses of pyramidal form and of the brightest crimson color, the blooms remaining on the plant for a great length of time without falling or losing their brightness. The foliage is also retained to a great extent during the Winter, making the plant almost evergreen." Strong pot plants, 40 cts. each.; 3 for $1.

New Hybrid Tea Rose.

Madame Joseph Combet.—Nearly spineless; large, very full and very well-formed flowers, perfectly imbricated and always blooming; beautiful cream-white color, shading to rose; saffron-yellow in the centre; this is a beautiful variety. 30 cts. each.

New Climbing Tea Rose.

Jean Andre.—Sarmentous (full of twigs); middle-sized flowers, full, of perfect shape; color orange yellow, deep in the centre; in the intermediate parts between that of Ma Capucine and William Allen Richardson. 30 cts. each.

MAMAN COCHET.

Splendid New Tea Rose, Maman Cochet.

Certainly one of the finest New French Roses, if not the best. The flowers are very large, full and double. They are produced in great profusion, its floriferousness being one of the many points that will commend it for amateur culture. The beautiful, big, elongated buds and full-blown flowers are exquisitely charming, while the fragrance is decidedly rich and subtle. Our illustration does it but meagre justice. Upon first seeing it in bloom, the unusual grace and form of the flowers excited our admiration at once, and now, after thorough trial, we highly recommend it to our customers. The color is fleshy pink, with the inner side of petals a silvery rose. Mons. Cochet, the originator of this magnificent variety, refused a thousand dollars for the mother plants three years ago. It is a vigorous grower and possesses so many distinct qualities that those who wish a New Rose of merit will do well to give it a trial. Price, 30 cts. each; 4 for $1.

Six Superb New Roses.

INTRODUCED BY THE DINGEE & CONARD CO.

*"Full many a flower is born to blush unseen
And waste its sweetness on the desert air."*

Among the vast number of Roses produced during the past decade, how many have been "born to blush unseen?" Their names are legion! Hundreds of types whose appearance has been heralded in laudatory phraseology and assigned unpronounceable names by their introducers, have suddenly appeared and as suddenly disappeared. The law of the "survival of the fittest" prevails here as elsewhere. If, among the large number of fine varieties under cultivation to-day, we could only name the Perles des Jardins, La Frances, Papa Gontiers and the Clotilde Souperts of the future, the broad highway to fame and fortune would be literally strewn with Roses.

The skill of the Rosarian is continually being exerted in the effort to produce or secure specimens that shall embody some new features that the already existing sorts do not possess, and to accomplish this, recourse has been had to hybridization or the blending of kindred varieties in order to combine in the resulting type the more desirable and pronounced features of both. The outcome has been a complex intermingling of the once distinct families, so that a strict classification is no longer possible. These remarks will suffice to explain the origin of the many Hybrids under cultivation at the present time, among which we have had the good fortune to discover and introduce the following eight distinct and representative varieties. With the exception of Virginia (now catalogued for the second time), the others are well and favorably known to flower cultivators everywhere, who speak in the highest terms of their pronounced characteristics and importance, which entitle them to first place as candidates for popular favor. We do not hesitate to give them our unqualified endorsement, and feel assured that a trial will convince all of their genuine merit and wondrous beauty of bloom and foliage.

* White Tea Rose, The Queen.

This grand white ever-blooming Tea Rose was introduced by us in 1889, and was received with great favor both in this country and in Europe. The Queen is a large, pure white, free-blooming Tea Rose, the offspring of that fine old Rose, the Souv. d'un Amie, whose many good qualities it possesses to a remarkable degree; it is a continuous bloomer, producing successive crops of buds and flowers in great profusion; the buds are beautifully formed, with large petals of best substance, shows the centre but slightly when fully open; color, pure snowy white; exquisitely scented; a vigorous and healthy grower; altogether we consider the Queen one of the best, if not the best white Tea Rose now in cultivation. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 7 for $1.

* Golden Gate.

This magnificent Rose is the result of a cross between those old and greatly admired varieties, Safrano and Cornelia Cook. The flowers are extra large, very full and finely formed, and of excellent substance; the buds are long and of the most desirable form; the color is rich creamy white, beautifully tinged with fine golden yellow; the petals are large and broad, and exquisitely bordered and tinted with clear rose, making altogether a Rose of the rarest and most indescribable beauty. The Golden Gate is a strong, healthy grower, and most profuse and continuous bloomer; it is excellent for bedding, also for house culture and forcing; in short, we can heartily recommend it as one of the finest and most beautiful Tea Roses ever grown. 20 cts. each.

* Henry M. Stanley.

This elegant new ever-blooming Tea Rose makes a beautiful contrast with Golden Gate; the color is a rare and remarkably beautiful shade of clear amber rose, delicately tinged towards the centre with fine apricot yellow; the petals are beautifully edged and bordered with rich carmine, and on the outer or reverse side pass to a lovely shade of salmon or buff rose; the flowers are large, fine full form, excellent substance and deliciously fragrant, having a rich tea scent. 20 cts. each.

* Pearl Rivers.

This fine variety is the result of a union between Devonensis and Mad. de Watteville. It partakes of the leading characteristics of both parents, but resembles the latter most closely; the flowers are large and quite full, with fine peachy-red buds; the ground color is ivory white, having the petals delicately shaded and bordered with pale rose; very beautiful; deliciously sweet. 20 cts. each.

New Rose The Queen

Varieties marked with an asterisk (*) can be furnished in two-year-old plants at 30 cts. each; these plants, owing to their size, cannot be sent by Mail, and will be sent by Express at purchaser's expense.

* New Crimson Tea Rose, Marion Dingee.

This grand new Rose was raised from seed of the beautiful Countess de Casserta crossed with Duchess of Edinburgh. It is a strong, vigorous grower, making a handsome graceful bush, with large, thick, deep green leaves; the flowers are large, beautifully cup-shaped, moderately full, and borne in wonderful profusion all through the growing season; in fact, we scarcely know of any other Rose that will produce so many perfect flowers in a given time; the flowers are borne nearly upright on long straight stems, and are of excellent substance, having thick, leathery petals which hold their form and color for a long time; it is deep brilliant crimson, one of the darkest, if not the very darkest and richest colored Tea Rose in existence. Its flowers can be seen in great profusion and wonderful perfection in the open ground, where it is particularly valuable. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 7 for $1.

* Virginia.

This elegant Rose, which we introduced last year for the first time, is the result of a cross between Safrano and Marechal Niel. We consider it one of the most promising Tea Roses of modern introduction. It is a vigorous grower of bushy habit; the blooms are large, double, finely formed, lasting and of excellent substance, often remaining on the bush until dried up; color a light yellow with a tinge of saffron at the centre, and reverse of petals a pinkish cast; perfume, a delicate and delightful tea scent. Price, 25 cts. each; 5 for $1.

Hybrid Tea Roses.

This small group forms a comparatively new class, the result of a union between the Teas and Hybrid Perpetuals. The different varieties are conspicuous for their vigor of growth, profuseness and brilliancy of bloom as well as their exquisite fragrance; they flower the first year planted and at intervals throughout the season, and are quite hardy in latitudes south of Philadelphia; north they will be benefited if given slight protection.

This is a superb new Rose resembles La France, but is more vigorous in growth and much deeper in color, hence the name Red La France seems very appropriate. It is a continuous and very free bloomer, producing a great abundance of lovely buds and flowers all through the season. The flowers are extra large, elegant in form, very double and full, and remarkably fragrant; color brilliant rose pink, exquisitely shaded; it is highly recommended as one of the largest, sweetest and best Roses for general planting, both in open ground and for greenhouse culture; it belongs to the Hybrid Tea class, but is usually placed with the Hybrid Perpetuals, because it resembles them in form and habit of growth, etc.; it is reasonably hardy, but should have a good covering of leaves or straw before severe weather. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 7 for $1.

Varieties marked with an asterisk (*) can be furnished in two-year-old plants at 35 cts. each; these plants, owing to their size, cannot be sent by Mail, and will be sent by Express at purchaser's expense.

Excellent for open-ground planting; reasonably hardy, but requires covering in cold localities. 20 cts. each.

This one is pale canary yellow—sometimes almost pure white—with just a tinge of gold; the flowers are cup-shaped and semi-double, almost every one showing the centre very distinctly when fully open. It is richly scented and very floriferous, and as the plant is evidently a strong healthy grower, it will doubtless make a charming climber where the Winters are not too severe. 20 cts. each.

Henri Brichard.—The flowers are borne in great profusion; they are of fine, regular form, with narrow imbricated petals; very full and delightfully tea scented; color

 Roses shown on this Plate for 75 cents. 4 collections for $2.75.

--- GREAT --- Five Hybrid Roses for 75 cts.

(See Colored Plate opposite side.)

We have named the subjects of our colored plate THE AMERICAN BEAUTY SET, from the fact that this famous and highly prized Hardy Hybrid Perpetual Rose is included in the collection. A collection of this sort is something entirely new. Five of the most famous Roses in cultivation—the most distinguished of the family—which we have grown in large quantities, and are able to offer at a very modest price that discounts all competition. The beautiful colored plate on preceding page will give an idea of the diversity of color which can be had by planting these charming Roses. Each variety is a vigorous grower and a constant bloomer. The flowers are deliciously fragrant. Their merits are by no means few, and to those wishing the very choicest and most expensive Roses we would recommend this set most highly.

The American Beauty Rose is a Hardy Hybrid Perpetual, the remainder of the collection being Hybrid Teas. During severe Winters all should be protected with a litter of straw or evergreen boughs.

American Beauty.

Many of our friends know all about this grand Rose, and value it accordingly. To others we would say it is well known as one of the best and most valuable Roses, both for garden and house culture. Color rosy crimson, exquisitely shaded and very handsome; extra-large, full flowers, exceedingly sweet; makes magnificent buds; is a good bushy grower and a constant bloomer. 35 cts. each; 4 for $1.

La France.

Perhaps no Rose is better known or more highly valued for general planting, both in open ground or under glass, than La France. It is a Hybrid Tea, but usually classed with the Hybrid Perpetuals; very beautiful in form and color; an early and constant bloomer, producing a wonderful profusion of buds and flowers all through the growing season; it is exceedingly sweet and handsome, and altogether one of the loveliest and most desirable Roses one can plant; both flowers and buds are of grand size; the color is a lovely shade of peach blossom, changing to amber rose, elegantly tinged with crimson; delicious tea fragrance, exceedingly sweet, very full and wonderfully beautiful; commences to bloom soon after planting out, and continues until stopped by freezing weather. Moderately hardy, but requiring protection in Winter. 15 cts. each; 4 for 50 cts.; 8 for $1.

The New Hardy Perpetual Blooming Climbing Rose

Empress of China.

Blooms Early, Late
and all the Season.

HIS remarkable new variety has been thoroughly tested, and its great excellence is guaranteed. A distinctive feature apart from its entire hardiness, is that it is a true Perpetual Bloomer, an extremely desirable feature that places it far above any Climbing Rose, as no others possess this valuable essential in so marked a degree as does "Empress of China." It commences to flower about the first week in May in this latitude, and from that time until late in the Fall it blooms continuously. Another feature that will make it popular is, it blooms the first year; no other Climbing Rose does this.

Hardy and Vigorous. It is entirely hardy, having withstood a temperature of sixteen degrees below zero unprotected and without injury. In habit of growth it is vigorous, and in this respect it is unsurpassed; small pot-plants will make a growth from 6 to 8 feet in a single season. The foliage and habit is not unlike Marechal Niel.

The Blossom. The flowers are of medium size, very graceful in form and highly fragrant. It is a profuse bloomer and produces flowers the first and each successive year. The bud is very pretty, being pointed, very shapely and is borne on long stiff stems. The open flower is nearly double, and in appearance strongly resembles the Tea Rose.

The Color of the Flowers. In the bud the color is soft dark red, and as the flower expands the color changes to a lighter red or pink, somewhat similar to the color seen in an apple blossom.

In Conclusion. The variety was originally brought from China. It is a rampant grower; the original plant now covers the entire front of a good-size dwelling.

Think of Roses from May until December! It is surely the Rose for amateurs, as it needs but slight attention and no protection whatever. It is the most notable introduction in the climbing class, not only this year but for many years past. Its fine flowers are produced in the greatest profusion during seven out of the twelve months of the year; is perfectly hardy, and will, we think, thrive in any locality. Price, strong well-rooted plants, 40 cts. each; 2 for 75 cts.; 5 for $1.50, postpaid by Mail.

Ever-blooming Tea Roses.

Standard List for General Planting.

The Ever-blooming Teas form a very important group and are universally regarded as the most desirable and valuable Roses for general culture; the demand for them far exceeds that of any other class. They commence to flower almost as soon as planted and continue throughout the entire season, the blooms increasing in size and beauty until Autumn. They are noted for their exquisite delicacy of coloring which embraces all the lovely tea shades of yellow, fawn and cream; also for their delightful fragrance, which exceeds that of all the other families; they are only semi-hardy, and therefore one or the other of the methods suggested under the head of "Cultural Directions with Reference to Winter Protection" should be resorted to. It is from this class of Roses that we get all the better sorts, especially those best adapted to house culture and growing under glass. The varieties included in the following Standard List are recognized as the leading sorts for general culture; they combine all the more pronounced features of the class with reference to qualities of vigor, profuseness and brilliancy of bloom. The harvest of blossom during the first year will more than compensate for the trifling outlay and effort expended. We would call especial attention to the fact that many of the varieties included in the list are of the later introductions.

THE Polyantha OR Fairy Roses.

The Polyanthas are a lovely and distinct class of ever-blooming Roses, distinguished by their dwarf, bushy habit of growth, medium size and very double flowers, which are delightfully fragrant and are borne in large clusters and masses, frequently seeming to cover the whole path with a sheet of bloom. They are good, vigorous growers and constant and most profuse bloomers, very pretty and highly recommended for general planting, also for edges and borders to beds of the larger growing varieties. They are regarded as being reasonably hardy; but as a precaution against extreme conditions of rigorous Winters, it is advisable to give them a slight covering.

We offer 12 Varieties of Polyantha or Fairy Roses.

Tea and Noisette Roses.

This class includes some of our most beautiful and valuable Roses. They are unusually free and continuous bloomers, producing flowers of rare and striking beauty. As they are mostly climbers, they should be planted near porches, pillars or trellises, where they can have support.

Hardy Hybrid Perpetual Roses.

These constitute a very striking and distinct family of Roses, the members of which are distinguished from all others by their luxuriant foliage, prodigious blooms and vigor of growth, a bush during the course of a few years attaining considerable proportions. As a class they do not bloom until thoroughly established, which is usually not until the second year after planting. The flowers are highly fragrant. They are quite hardy and succeed well in all localities where the conditions are favorable to the growth of other vegetation. Owing to their robust habit they are suitable for outdoor culture only, in which situation they will thrive with very little care or attention, but are improved by liberal manuring and by cutting out dead and unthrifty wood. If permanency is the principal characteristic desired, that quality is a feature of the class. Many of the varieties contained in the following list are Autumnal bloomers, a few of which are: Alfred Colomb, Caroline de Sansal, Barones Rothschild, Baronne Prevost, General Washington, John Hopper, La Reine, Louis Van Houtte, Mad. Charles Wood, Mabel Morrison, Paul Neyron and Victor Verdier. These kinds are entirely hardy.

Two-Year Roses FOR PRONOUNCED EFFECT.

We have propagated an immense stock of Two-Year Roses for the season of 1895, to supply the enormous demand that we have reasons for anticipating from a large class of customers, for plants of larger growth than the one-year mailing sizes afford. These Roses are particularly desirable on account of the estimable varieties and choice individual sorts selected, and the care and attention bestowed at every stage of their development; they are trim, shapely plants, ranging from 12 to 18 inches in height, healthy and robust; they are all pot-grown, and therefore plentifully supplied with working roots, which assures vigor of subsequent growth. Although prepared with a much larger stock than formerly, our experience is that the demand keeps pace with the supply, and consequently, towards the end of the season, should we run short of a few of the varieties listed, in order to avoid delay in corresponding at a time when we are extremely busy and the customer in a hurry, when such varieties are ordered we shall exercise the privilege of substituting others of equal and greater values, unless our instructions are to the contrary. In dilating on the features of these larger plants, it is not to be inferred that we detract in the slightest degree from the merits of the smaller; the difference is mainly in size, and therefore in the comparative yield of bloom. In accepting the smaller plants it is not to be understood that the purchaser gets an inferior grade; these will grow and bloom profusely. No matter how you may decide to invest, the results will be highly satisfactory.

NOTICE.—These Two-Year Roses cannot be sent by Mail, they must be forwarded by Express at the customer's expense; but as the Express Companies now make a special and reduced rate on plants, the charges on an average order will be inconsiderable.

Positively the Finest and Most Distinct Varieties in Existence.

At the greatest of all flower exhibitions—the Grand World's Fair Chrysanthemum Show—held at Chicago in '93, the varieties described below were among the great winning set of forty-eight. As the best among thousands, together with the fact of their securing the highest award at the greatest show yet held, is sufficient evidence of their superior excellence. Much expense was attached to the securing of this collection; we have been successful beyond our most sanguine expectations in growing a large stock, hence we are able to offer them individually at a very reasonable price, while the collection entire is placed at a price so exceptionally low that every one who admires this popular flower whose rare beauty is the crowning triumph of the year, can secure the cream of the family in finely rooted plants without a serious outlay. The entire collection, 39 varieties in all, by Mail, postpaid, $7.50; or by Express for $6.50.

☞ When the complete collection is wanted please order as the "World's Fair Set."

CULTURE.—The Chrysanthemum is a voracious feeder and thrives best in a rich, loose soil composed of loam and sand in proportions of about 3 to 1. In planting it is advisable to select a somewhat sheltered situation, such as the southern exposure of a hedge or wall sometimes provides. Choose young, thrifty specimens and plant outside during the Spring after all indications of late frosts have disappeared; set the plants about two feet apart; keep the soil loose and free from weeds and water freely in dry weather. After the plants have attained some size stake them and train to any particular form desired by curtailing subsequent growth. If desired to reserve some particular plants for house culture during the Winter months, the clumps should be carefully lifted when the first buds attain the size of a pea and transferred to 10 or 12-inch pots or boxes of equal capacity, taking care to disturb the roots as little as possible. Cut away all diseased wood or foliage and shade carefully for a few days until somewhat reestablished, and expose to light and sun gradually. The best fertilizers consist of well-decomposed manures, in solid or liquid form, and fine ground bone.

OUR PEERLESS COLLECTION OF Choice Chrysanthemums.

The varieties included in this set are among the best specimens, carefully and judiciously selected from a wide range of leading varieties that comprise the most pronounced and desirable features of the newer creations in the development of this royal plant; they are all adapted to the requirements for general cultivation wherever the growth of other plants is attended with reasonable success. Chrysanthemums are among the easiest plants to propagate, and the gorgeous display of Autumnal bloom the most inviting. Among the many varieties Mrs. E. G. Hill stands in the front rank. It is an unusually prolific and early bloomer, both enhancing features that will be appreciated at once by all amateurs.

MRS. E. G. HILL.

Mrs. E. G. Hill.

This grand acquisition possesses all the characteristics that go to make an ideal Chrysanthemum for amateur culture—earliness, size, form, color and vigor of growth. With us it came into bloom in the open ground about October 15. This is extremely early, and so much earlier than any others that this feature alone will insure its future. In size the flowers are certainly magnificent, in fact the finest we have ever seen on our grounds—a grand incurving sphere, full and deep. A single plant produces a mass of flowers many of which measure 5 and 6 inches across. In color it is a beautiful clear pearl pink—a "La France" pink would express it more forcibly. It was the only variety that received a Columbian Medal previous to the great Chicago show. Unquestionably a most valuable acquisition, and we commend it to our customers as particularly worthy of trial. 25 cts. each; 5 for $1; $2 per dozen.

Amber Queen.—Soft amber with deeper shadings; of exquisite form and very full; petals reflexing till the depth is wonderful, while the centre is still finely rounded. Of fine, free habit, and of easy cultivation.

Beau Ideal.—A variety of great excellence. Color beautiful bright rose pink. Flowers of large size and good substance. Petals broad, outer ones horizontal with centre incurving. A prize winner at the World's Fair exhibition. 25 cts. each.

Golden Wedding.—The grandest yellow offered. This fine variety swept everything before it at the New York and Philadelphia shows. In color it is deep bright gold of shining texture; it is very large in size; the petals are both long and broad, and channeled lengthwise; a perfect Japanese incurving of most beautiful form; very free in growth; a first-class exhibition variety.

Inter-Ocean.—At the Chicago show this superb variety took first premium as the best of any color. The color is a delightful glistening, pearly white with a light suffusion of pink. Flowers extremely large, of good substance. Very fine. 25 cts. each.

Jennie Williams.—Creamy white with yellow shadings; extremely double; petals upright and somewhat incurving; outer petals broader; massive and grand in build; a splendid exhibition variety; good grower.

Marie Louise.—Flowers are large in size and in color the purest white. Recurving and interlacing petals fall closely around the stem, centre high, forming a plummy globe of rare beauty. 25 cts. each.

Major Bonnafon.—Soft clear incurving yellow, full in the centre; 6 to 7 inches across and nearly as deep. In form and finish it is perfect—like ivory at its best. Will take front rank. Awarded a Columbian Medal. 25 cts. each.

Miss Lydia Hopkins.—Flowers extremely large, perfectly double, whorled and incurving in form; broad petals, gradually becoming erect; color white, irregularly suffused with bright pink: no two flowers alike.

Mrs. Chas. Duhme.—A beautiful large flower, with a full curly incurved centre, while the lower petals keep the horizontal form. Color pure white. National certificate at Cincinnati.

Mrs. J. Geo. IIs.—A very large pure white variety with incurving interlacing petals, forming a massive high-built flower of great substance; growth very vigorous. Was awarded a Columbian Medal. 25 cts. each.

Mrs. Wm. H. Joyce.—Color pale rose; petals long and straight; flowers large, forming a ball; a fine keeper when cut. This is the only variety with the fragrance of the Violet.

Sarah Hill.—A very strong stocky variety; flowers of a bright, golden yellow, very large and full; petals broad, standing erect, making the form globular; rather early. Certificate at Cincinnati.

Price, except where noted, 20 cts. each; 6 for $1; "Peerless Collection," 13 varieties in all, postpaid by Mail, for $1.75.

E. G. Hill.—Extra-large, full double flowers of brightest golden yellow; lower petals sometimes shaded fine Indian red; a strong, healthy grower and immense bloomer; a great prize winner.

Frank Thompson.—Thick petals and slightly incurved form, standing erect on stout stems; color creamy white.

H. F. Spaulding.—A Japanese variety; color rich apricot yellow, shading to rose, centre petals clear yellow; bloom solid and double, similar in shape to a pineapple.

Harry May.—Flowers very large and double, forming a massive sphere; color deep old gold, occasionally veined red; petals broad and thick; a prize winner.

Price, 10 cents each; 6 for 55 cents; 12 for $1.05; the collection of 24 varieties for $2.

Ivory.—Fine, round, fully double flowers, borne in great profusion; color pure ivory white; a strong, vigorous grower and free bloomer; unsurpassed for general culture, both in pots and open ground.

John Bertermann.—A vigorous, clean-growing variety, with large, perfectly modeled flowers, showing pure white to a cream centre; upper petals horizontal; centre petals short and nearly upright; a grand variety.

J. S. Fasset.—Immense Japanese variety; lilac crimson, shading pink; a bold flower, in shape of Mrs. Irving Clark, but much brighter and larger. Grand for exhibition blooms.

Jessica.—It is the earliest large white in existence, flowering by the 9th of October; flowers average 6 inches in diameter, and when grown to a single flower, 10 inches.

J. N. May.—Extra large, deep dark red, color of Mrs. J. T. Emlin, but much larger and more double; reverse of petals shaded copper bronze; full and solid bloom.

Lillian Russell.—A beautiful broad-petaled, clear silvery pink, incurved and forming an immense round ball of largest size; an early flowering variety, suitable for all purposes.

Michigan.—It is of strong, compact and uniform habit of growth, and is remarkably floriferous; the stupendous number of buds and blooms, by actual count on an average plant grown on our grounds, was over 400. The flowers are perfectly double; the color is deep magenta, with reverse side of petals magenta. Among the many strong points of this superb variety, when planted outdoors, is the earliness and hardness of bloom—the flowers retaining their form and color after the most severe frosts—which will strongly commend it. Michigan is deserving of the highest praise and most extensive cultivation.

Mermaid.—Clear bright pink, passing to silver rose and white; broad waxy petals, fine incurved form; beautiful.

Mrs. Lewis Childs Madeira (Golden Ball).—A perfect compact globe of bright orange color; petals upright, like unopened pointed quills; constitution strong; stems stiff; flowers large and of the heaviest substance.

Robert S. Brown

Many a good plant of more than usual excellence is "born to blush unseen" for reasons innumerable. We have a striking example of this in Chrysanthemum Robert S. Brown. It is not a new variety, which fact does not make it the less worthy of praise. After careful observation of its growth, earliness and profusion of flowers during the past two years in open ground, its preeminent fitness for amateur culture leads us to call special attention to it. The flowers are magnificent, a rich dark crimson in color and of immense size. Our illustration gives a general idea of their splendid form with but one exception, the outside petals measure about one-fourth inch in diameter. It blooms long before severe frosts; in fact is one of the earliest bloomers. It grows in a sturdy upright habit, forming a compact tree-like bush. This desirable feature is very noticeable. As a Chrysanthemum that will give satisfaction in every particular we recommend it most highly.

Rose Queen.—An early and profuse bloomer; extra-large, round, full flowers, measuring 4 to 5 inches across; petals curiously quilled for half their length and then flattened out; color clear rosy amaranth, passing to rich pink.

Ruth Cleveland.—Beautiful acquisition of large size; petals broad and cup-shaped, outer rows reflex, inner ones incurved, forming a high-built centre of delicate silvery pink.

Sugar Loaf.—Noted for its vigorous growth and immense bloom; large, finely formed flowers; rich canary yellow, sometimes shaded bronze.

OSTRICH PLUME
CHRYSANTHEMUM

"Wm. A. MANDA"

The Famous Ostrich Plume Set.

The Finest Ever Offered { Five new and charming Chrysanthemums of the Ostrich Plume type; each variety distinctly famous.

OUR SPECIAL OFFER of five New Chrysanthemums, all Ostrich Plume varieties, for $1, postpaid by Mail, has probably never been equaled; any three for 65 cts.

W. A. Manda.

(The New Golden Yellow Ostrich Plume Chrysanthemum.)

This is the ideal Chrysanthemum; new, distinct and beautiful. We recommend it after thorough test and trial as the finest variety of its color for outside cultivation. The habit of growth is the best; fine, uniform, vigorous and perfectly erect, with flowers borne upright on stout stems; this grand variety is unusually floriferous, we having counted the remarkable number of 843 buds and flowers on an average plant among hundreds, planted in open ground in July on our grounds. The flowers are large, and in color magnificent—the purest golden yellow we have ever seen; the outside petals are broad and long, rather incurved and streamy, but as they near the centre the form changes to slender petals, almost round, which are whorled in the most beautiful manner and perfect uniformity; the numerous petals are covered with a downy growth of fine hairs, presenting a charming and unique appearance. This variety has attracted widespread attention, and is the most valuable acquisition introduced from Japan for many years. Should be included in every order. 25 cts. each.

Miss Annie Manda.

This is another valuable new variety, having for a special recommendation the sweet-scented qualities of its flowers, which are perfectly double, compact, and a beautiful clear white in color; petals incurved and unusually well furnished with long hair-like outgrowths. This remarkable variety is a strong and healthy grower and produces its abundance of blooms erect on strong stems. Flowers make a lovely contrast when bunched with W. A. MANDA. 30 cts. each.

Wm. Falconer.

This superb variety is a sport from the famous Louis Boehmer and has all its good qualities. The flowers are large, borne on stiff, vigorous stems, with beautiful incurved petals and a pronounced "Ostrich Plume" outgrowth. The color is a pleasing shade of rosy blush, changing to a delicate pink as the flowers mature. 30 cts. each.

Louis Boehmer.

The splendid New Pink Ostrich Plume Chrysanthemum. Grand flowers, extra-large size, splendid globular form, petals broad and lasting and thickly covered with the fine, downy hairs so much admired, and from which the name Ostrich Plume is derived; color, deep rich pink; solid and fine. The plant is a remarkably strong and vigorous grower, blooms quickly and profusely, especially in open ground; the flowers are of excellent substance and endure severe frosts without wilting or changing color; we regard it as one of the most desirable of Chrysanthemums. 20 cts. each.

Mad. Alpheus Hardy.

The famous white Ostrich Plume Chrysanthemum; flowers extra large and globular, with feathery, plume-like petals, giving the appearance of great balls of pure white downy feathers; remarkably curious and handsome. 20 cts. each.

Hardy Flowering Pinks.

Unsurpassed for Borders, Bedding and Edging.

HARDY Pinks stand today without a peer in the field of hardy blooming plants. We do not know of any other class of plants that possess as many points of genuine merit and superior qualities, hence we call particular attention to their adaptability for bordering, bedding, etc., and strongly urge their more general planting, knowing full well that they will greatly please and produce most satisfactory results.

The varieties offered and described below are entirely distinct from any others produced from seed, as these varieties but rarely seed; their profusion of bloom is something remarkable, single clumps bearing 100 to 150 blooms, embracing a great variation of color; flowers perfectly double, deliciously sweet scented and of good substance. One of the most distinct and salient features of Hardy Pinks is their foliage, which does not change in Autumn, but remains evergreen throughout the Winter in open ground, making them extremely valuable for outdoor culture. Habit of growth vigorous and very compact.

New White Hardy Flowering Pink Her Majesty.

—Our stock of this splendid New Pink, which originated in England, was secured direct from the originator, and we offer it this season, with renewed confidence, as the best hardy Pink of its color of recent introduction. A compact and healthy grower with beautiful and distinct foliage of a charming Nile-green color which retains its attractive evergreen appearance throughout the Winter, whether planted in open ground outdoors or grown for house culture. Flowers a lovely clear white in color, very double, and produced on long, stiff stems exhaling an exquisite clove-scented fragrance; rivaling the finest Carnations in size and substance; very prolific bloomer, producing immense masses of flowers in latter part of May and early in June. A striking contrast can be had by bunching flowers of Her Majesty with Emperor. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 7 for $1.

New Scarlet Hardy Perpetual Flowering Carnation Emperor.—One of the finest and most valuable of its class ever introduced. In flowers, foliage and fragrance it closely resembles the finest varieties of Carnations; it is a true perpetual bloomer, and commences blooming the first year of planting, flowering constantly all through the season, from June to December. The flowers are dark, rich scarlet, elegantly fringed and delightfully clove-scented; the flower stalks are strong and erect, requiring no support whatever; this feature will strongly commend the Emperor. The plant is entirely hardy in all ordinary situations, needs no protection, and is sure to bloom continuously all through the season. It is largely planted by those who know its value. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 7 for $1.

Alba Fimbriata (White-Fringed Pink).—A beautiful white garden Pink, elegantly fringed; clove-scented; very double; blooms profusely; perfectly hardy, needs no protection in Winter; very pretty, compact habit; nice for edging or border. 15 cts. each; 4 for 50 cts.; 9 for $1.

SPECIAL OFFER.—We will send postpaid by Mail one each of the beautiful Hardy Pinks described above, including the grand new varieties Her Majesty and Emperor, 7 in all, for $1.

Ever-blooming Carnation Pinks.

FEW other flowering plants present such an array of intense and gorgeous coloring, beauty of form and exquisite fragrance as the Carnation. They are not entirely hardy and, therefore, at the approach of cold weather should be transferred from the open ground to pots or boxes; and if given comfortable quarters within doors will continue in bloom indefinitely. Upon the return of Spring they may again be transplanted outside. The varieties which we catalogue have been selected as representing the ne plus ultra sorts in demand at the present day.

Four New Carnations. Helen Keller.

One of the very largest and most beautifully formed Carnations ever introduced; does not burst its calyx; exceedingly free flowering, and produced on extra-good long stout stems. A strong, vigorous and healthy grower. Color clear, white ground, delicately and very evenly marked with bright scarlet, giving it a very pleasing and effective finish. By all odds the prettiest of the white variegated sorts (see cut). 30 cts. each; 4 for $1.

William Scott.

Recently introduced and decidedly meritorious. The large finely formed flowers are supported by long stiff stems; color a rich Grace Wilder pink; very sweet scented. HELEN KELLER.

Sweet Brier.

A splendid new variety whose merits have won for it a place at the very head of the list. The color is a clean pink—absolutely distinct—between a Daybreak and Wm. Scott.

The flowers are of nice form, sweet scented and produced in great profusion. We add our highest recommendation to the many given it by expert Carnationists as one of the best Carnations of recent introduction. 30 cts. each; 4 for $1.

The True Magnolia-scented Moon Flower.

(Ipomœa Noctiflora.)

This magnificent flowering climbing vine has given such universal satisfaction, and has attained such great popularity that we cannot commend it too strongly, as it is undoubtedly the best all-around flowering vine of its type grown. We have again prepared an enormous stock of splendid plants, all propagated from well-ripened blooming wood, grown in the open air on our grounds. We, therefore, guarantee every plant we send out as being the TRUE MAGNOLIA-SCENTED MOON FLOWER, sure to bloom the first season. The plant is a remarkably strong and rapid grower; a single vine has been known to cover twenty-five square feet in a very short time. It is a wonderfully profuse bloomer; upwards of a thousand Buds and Flowers are frequently seen on a single vine. It will grow in any ordinary situation. The flowers are quite large, being four to six inches in diameter, and of a beautiful silvery or moonlike whiteness; they are delightfully perfumed, with a rich magnolia odor, and are open in greatest profusion in the evening and on cloudy days. A Moon-Flower Vine, in full bloom on a moonlight evening in Summer, is indeed an object of lovely beauty; the illustration gives a good idea of the general effect, but it must be seen to be fully appreciated. At the low price offered, we expect this Superb Novelty will be included in every order.

Price, strong plants, 15 cts. each; 4 for 50 cts.; 8 for $1; 16 for $2.

NOTICE.—In answer to the numerous inquiries received every year in regard to the hardness of Ipomœa Noctiflora and Leari, we say that neither variety is hardy; after the first frost, the top should be cut back within about one foot of the ground; then remove the roots indoors to living-room. If desirable it can be utilized as a pot plant throughout the Winter; at the arrival of Spring can be planted again in open ground after all danger of frost is past.

THE TRUE MAGNOLIA-SCENTED MOON-FLOWER, IPOMŒA NOCTIFLORA.

The Manettia Vine.

This lovely vine thrives for all with small care; grown in the open ground during Summer it will attain a good height, branching freely, while in the house or conservatory it will train beautifully, presenting lovely wreaths and garlands of brilliant scarlet and orange-colored flowers, interspersed with clean, bright, oblong foliage. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.

SMILAX.

Smilax.

A very graceful climber, possessing the rare qualities of delicate and tolerably dense foliage and vining habit, admirably adapting it to climbing or drooping, as may be required. It is also fine as a parlor or window plant. 15 cts. each; 4 for 50 cts.

Clerodendron Balfourii.

We can safely recommend this grand Clerodendron as one of the most satisfactory plants for window culture now known. It is a vigorous, rapid and healthy grower, and produces an abundance of blooms, which are bright crimson surrounded by pearly-white petals, producing a striking contrast against the dark-green foliage. It can be used for a fine specimen pot-plant, and can be grown to fine form by cutting off the ends of the growing shoots. A partially shaded position is conducive to rapid growth. We have an extra-fine stock of well-grown Clerodendron plants which we are positive cannot fail to give the utmost satisfaction. Good strong plants from 3-inch pots, 25 cts. each; extra-large plants, by Express only, 40 cts. each.

Grand New Cannas, Illustrated

GOLDEN STAR (D. & C. Co.).—A bloom-spike of this great novelty is shown on color-plate. It has indeed proved a gem, and now ranks as the BEST YELLOW CANNA IN COMMERCE. It is a seedling of Star of '91, and is as dwarf and compact as its parent, seldom growing over 18 inches high, and is far superior in vigor and floriferousness. Foliage rich green, of a peculiar tough, leathery consistence. The flowers are large, of good substance, and in color are away ahead of the many so-called yellow Cannas—a rich, deep golden yellow, absolutely solid, with the exception of a few scarlet points in the throat of the small petals. Our artist has endeavored to show one of the distinguishing characteristics of the flowers—each large petal is noticeably fimbriated, giving the flower a unique and pleasing appearance. They are freely produced in compact, massive trusses, an established plant constantly carrying four or five trusses at the same time. It has proved most effective for bedding, and, from its peculiarly compact habit, makes an ideal pot plant for decorative purposes. We predict an immense popularity for this splendid Canna, and have grown a large stock, and consequently make the price very low for such a sterling novelty. Price for strong, potted plants, 50 cts. each; 3 for $1.20, postpaid.

Cultural Notes.

Cannas will thrive and make a brilliant showing in any soil or section that will produce ordinary garden vegetables. Of tropical origin, they will not endure frost, and therefore should not be transplanted in the open ground until the indications of late Spring frosts have disappeared. Select, if available, a warm, sunny situation for planting, somewhat sheltered from high winds; work a few forkful of well-rooted stable manure or a handful or two of wood ashes, or some good fertilizer, into the soil, covering a space two feet in diameter and ten inches in depth; in the centre set the Canna, pressing fine earth closely and compactly about the roots and stem, not permitting the close contact of the manure; should the weather be clear and warm and the ground somewhat dry, water freely after planting and continue to do so daily until in a measure they are well established. After the plants are well established, keep the soil moist by frequent watering, but do not overwater. We have observed with the keenest interest the almost magical development of this majestic plant during the past few years, and the rapidity with which it has grown in popular estimation. sure established. Subsequent cultivation on soil loose and free from weeds and in sun in cases of severe and prolonged droughts. If no bloom is desired, remove the seed pods as they form, and when the last flowers are faded, cut the stem away close to the ground; the plants will spring up and a constant succession of the plants in the meantime increasing in luxuriance throughout the entire season. They have been killed by frost, cut away and discarded, and, after shaking off a large portion of the soil, and store in a frost-proof cellar, giving from time to time to keep moist. If treated properly they should be in the best condition to transplant again in the Spring. If required for a house plant during the Winter months, the entire clump may be transferred to a box of rich, sandy soil, having several small holes bored at the bottom to afford drainage, placed in a warm, light room, in which situation new shoots will shortly make their appearance, and in a few weeks the clump will be blooming as profusely as ever; or the clumps may be divided and each growing point—amounting in many cases to twenty or thirty—potted singly, using four or five-inch pots. Plenty of warmth and sunlight and a copious supply of tepid water to the foliage and roots will insure a wealth of attractive verdure and brilliant bloom.

A BEAUTIFUL
NEW ACQUISITION

Caryopteris Mastacanthus.

(Blue Spiræa.)

We have thoroughly tested this lovely new plant the past year, and our trials, together with the strong testimonials of European Horticultural Journals—two of which deemed it worthy of a color plate—leads us to bring it before our friends in a conspicuous manner, and in so doing we ask for it a trial.

As a new candidate for public favor we are aware that its merits as a plant for amateur culture are yet to be demonstrated. We certainly do not intend to abuse the confidence of our trade in exercising the privilege of giving it the first description, which we write from notes taken at different times during its growth and flowering period. It is of Chinese origin, and was introduced originally by James Veitch & Sons, England, which in itself is a sufficient guarantee of its great value.

It is extremely floriferous, plants in 2½-inch pots, blooming profusely, and continuing to do so throughout the season until they reach a height and width of three feet. The dense flower heads are of a rich lavender-blue, a rare color among flowers. It is a clean and healthy grower, and we think will prove quite hardy. Blue Spiræa it a fitting name for it. One feature particularly noticeable in it is that during the entire season in open ground the bushes were continuously covered with honey bees. From this it is evident that it will be a valuable plant for bee keepers as well as a beautiful new variety that will unquestionably meet with the approbation of all who give it a trial.

Strong pot-grown plants 30 cts. each; 3 for 80 cts., postpaid.

Otaheite Orange.

No plant has been introduced during recent years that has attained such widespread popularity as has this unique Orange. We have devoted particular attention to its propagation and have tested it more fully than ever during the past year. The more we see it the better we like it. We recommend it as a plant that will give absolute satisfaction in every particular. It is a dwarf reproduction of the genuine fruit-bearing Orange tree, the flowers being identical. The fruit measures about three inches in diameter, and while not so strongly flavored as an ordinary Orange it is quite edible, the difference being but slight.

It is a dwarf, compact grower, with glossy, deep green foliage, which has the exact odor of that of the Southern Orange trees. It flowers and fruits in pots, and is exceedingly floriferous, producing a wonderful profusion of pure white flowers that are delicately tinged with pink, and whose fragrance is simply delicious, and is identical with the much-sought-for blooms of the Southern Orange groves.

Otaheite after flowering produces a number of beautiful golden yellow fruits. It blooms almost continuously, and with one or two pot plants one can have a generous supply of the highly prized and much coveted Orange blossoms whose rich fragrance is always noticeable and pleasing.

Its manifold virtues are now fully established, and we have grown many thousands of strong, well-rooted plants, believing that its charm as a pot plant, if brought before our customers in a special manner, hardly one will hesitate to give it a trial, and a trial we know means a confirmation of our strong endorsement. Its numerous points of superior excellence cannot be duplicated in any plant we know; by all odds it is one of the best pot plants in our collection. The prices given below are the lowest such plants as we shall send have ever been offered for.

Fine, strong plants, 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts. Extra-large plants, 30 cts. each; 2 for 50 cts.

daily until in a measure established. Subsequent cultivation consists in keeping the soil loose and free from weeds and in supplying water freely in cases of severe and prolonged droughts. If a constant succession of bloom is desired, remove the seed pods as soon as they begin to form, and when the last flowers of a particular truss have faded, cut the stem away close to the ground; as a result new shoots will spring up and a constant succession of bloom maintained, the plants in the meantime increasing in size, beauty and luxuriansness throughout the entire season. After the leaves have been killed by frost, cut away and discard the tops, lift the clump, and, after shaking off a large portion of the earth, place in a box and store in a frost-proof cellar, giving just sufficient water from time to time to keep moist. If treated properly they should be in the best condition to transplant again in the Spring. If required for a house plant during the Winter months, the entire clump may be transferred to a box of rich, sandy soil, having several small holes bored at the bottom to afford drainage, placed in a warm, light room, in which situation new shoots will shortly make their appearance, and in a few weeks the clump will be blooming as profusely as ever; or the clumps may be divided and each growing point—amounting in many cases to twenty or thirty—potted singly, using four or five-inch pots. Plenty of warmth and sunlight and a copious supply of tepid water to the foliage and roots will insure a wealth of attractive verdure and brilliant bloom.

NEW ACHELIA—THE GEM.

New Achelia—The Gem.

The Gem is a decided improvement on the old variety, A. Alba, and is entirely distinct in its habit of growth; a sturdy, erect and compact plant attaining the height of 18 inches or more; perfectly hardy; producing a profusion of pure white blooms from early Summer until frost, and its adaptability to any situation or soil will strongly commend it. Extremely valuable for bouquets and designs; also unsurpassed for cemetery planting (see cut). 15 cts. each; 9 for $1.

Cissus Discolor.

A beautiful climber for hanging baskets, with mottled and marbled foliage, the under side of which, together with the stems, is a reddish purple. Very fine. 25 cts. each; 3 for 60 cts.

Cape Jessamine.

(Gardenia Florida.)

This splendid plant is a great favorite with all who know its true worth. The blooms are pure white and measure 2½ inches across and are delightfully fragrant. The flowers are extremely fashionable, and for this reason, together with its ease of culture, we feel sure of a lively demand for it. The frequent requests received for it has led us to propagate a large number of strong, well-rooted, blooming plants (see cut). 30 cts. each; 4 for $1.

CAPE JESSAMINE (GARDENIA FLORIDA).

Choice Begonia Plants.

White Dewdrop.—Of a superior type, possessing many advantageous qualities, notably a free continuous bloomer and easily grown. It is an unusually fine blooming plant, producing great numbers of delicate white flowers during the year; in the Spring it can be planted in the open ground, and will be a mass of bloom the entire Summer. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.

Hybrida Multiflora.—A lovely variety, producing a profusion of rosy pink flowers. Good vigorous grower and a valuable acquisition. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.

Metallica.—A shrubby variety, good grower and free bloomer; leaves triangular; under side of leaf and stem hairy; the surface of a lustrous metallic or bronze color; veins darker; flowers white. 15 cts. each; 4 for 50 cts.

3 Begonias named above for 50 cts.

Strobilanthes Dyerianus.

(Royal Purple.)

A new house and bedding plant sent out this year by Messrs. F. Sander & Co., of England, at $2 each, and to which was awarded the Gold Medal offered by the King of Belgium at the Ghent Exhibition. It forms a compact bush 18 inches high, with leaves 6 to 9 inches long, 3 or 4 inches wide, and of the most intense metallic purple color, shading into light rose with a light green margin, a combination unapproached by any other plant. The flowers are a lovely violet-blue, very beautiful. Mr. Pfister, of the White House, Washington, put it in the open border, where it grew and colored up beyond all expectation in a very exposed position. It has created a veritable sensation wherever exhibited. 50 cts. each.

STROBILANTHES DYERIANUS.

The Yellow Jessamine.

"Almost every one has either read or heard of the famous Southern Yellow Jessamine. Tourists go into ecstasies over it, and carefully press sprays of the exquisite blooms to carry to their Northern homes as mementoes of a Winter spent in 'The Land of Flowers.' There is not an easier grown or more beautiful climber in cultivation for the window, succeeding in almost any situation. It is quick growing, has beautiful shining evergreen foliage, and completely loads itself with its beautiful golden-yellow, exquisitely sweet-scented, funnel-shaped flowers. We have seen a spray 8 inches long containing over forty buds and open flowers. A well-grown vine in full bloom is a sight never to be forgotten, and beyond the power of pen to describe. As a trellis plant for the window, nothing can be more desirable, as it flowers in February and March—when flowers are so scarce—begins blooming very young and is always ornamental." Fine pot-grown plants, sure to live and grow rapidly, only 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.

Solanum Rantonetti.

The True Blue Solanum.

For this new Solanum we are indebted to our friend, Mr. Brunt, of France, a guarantee of its value. It is to be regretted that S. Seafortianum should have been called Blue Solanum, when really a lavender color, while our plant is of the very deepest and clearest blue, which is brought out more vividly by a yellow centre. It is not a climber, but forms a neat little bush two feet high, which is covered with bloom during the entire Summer, and almost until Christmas. Sure to become popular as soon as known, being as easy to grow and bloom as a Geranium, in pots or in the garden. Fine plants 30 cts. each; 3 for 80 cts.

Nymphaea Odorata.

The well-known Water Lily, famous for the fragrance of its beautiful double white flowers, which under proper treatment attain a size of 5 to 6 inches in diameter. This variety is a free bloomer, strong grower and easily cultivated; fill any tub or half barrel with muck or loam and cover with about two inches of sand or fine gravel, to prevent the muck from rising to the surface; plant the roots in this, barely covering them, and place in position on the lawn or wherever desired, where they will have the advantage of plenty of sunshine. 25 cts each; 5 for $1.

NYPH. EA ODORATA.

Giant Persian Cyclamens.

The new Giant-flowered Persian Cyclamens are considered by experienced florists the most beautiful and decorative of all pot-plants when in bloom. The foliage is broad, massive and graceful, of a dark olive-green, beautifully variegated with silver and rose colors. The immense fairy-like blooms are carried on long stems and are produced in boundless profusion for several successive months, and are delightfully perfumed. We offer large plants, just ready to bloom. Our plants are grown from seed specially imported from the most celebrated grower in Europe, and we believe is the best strain the world produces; we have two colors— each.

- Dark Red, 3 for 60 cts. . . . . 25 cts.
- and the celebrated variety,
- Rose of Marienthal, 3 for 60 cts. . . . . 25 cts.

New Compact Torenia.

This beautiful annual (see cut) is incomparably superior in habit to the old Torenia Fournieri. Instead of a straggling growth, each plant forms a compact, upright little bush, as shown in the illustration, completely covered with a mass of bloom; indeed, its profusion of bloom is most remarkable.

NEW COMPACT TORENIA.

It is a splendid plant for house culture. The exquisite flowers are winged cup-shaped, and the color clear lavender-blue, spotted intense rich purple, with yellow throat. It is very easily grown, and its fine, regular habit and rare beauty make it equally attractive for pots or baskets. 15 cts. each; 4 for 50 cts.

Fuchsia Speciosa:

This is really one of the most charming and desirable Fuchsias in cultivation, and should be better known. It is a genuine Winter bloomer, and all who know it value it very highly for this quality. The habit of the plant is erect and compact, presenting a decidedly neat and attractive appearance as a pot plant. The fine star-shaped flowers are produced in profusion, and begin when the plants are quite young; indeed, the plants in our houses in all stages are rarely seen without flowers from late Summer until Spring. The flowers droop beautifully; they are large, elegantly shaped and of good substance; the calyx is rosy carmine and the corolla brilliant carmine, a lovely combination. This variety is of strong constitution and easily grown. Fine plants, 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.

A STRIKING NOVELTY.

Clerodendron Fragrans.

(Fragrant Clerodendron.)

It causes us no little pleasure to be able to offer for the first time this meritorious new plant. It is a native of China, and is most desirable in every way. Our illustration gives an excellent idea of its great beauty. The exquisite waxy white flowers are produced in wonderful profusion in dense compact clusters like a Geranium, and their fragrance is simply delicious; fully as sweet as a Gardenia or Jessamine. A single bunch could well form a bouquet in itself. A no less important feature that will enhance its value for amateur culture is its ease of growth in pots or open ground. It is a dwarf sturdy grower, and is almost hardy. But little more is needed to make it one of the most valuable plants of recent introduction. It will surely attain widespread popularity. Those who desire something absolutely new and distinct will be highly pleased with Fragrant Clerodendron. Well-rooted pot-plants, 30 cts. each; 3 for 80 cts.

Anemone.

Japonica.—A lovely variety noted for the grace and beauty of its flowers, which are produced on long slender stems; color shining rose. Very desirable. Pot plants, 25 cts. each.

Japonica Alba.—The daintiness of the flowers of this variety is inimitable. Color purest white, large yellow disk, resembling a Water Lily. Blooms in late Fall. Splendid for bouquet work. Pot plants, 25 cts. each.

CLERODENDRON FRAGRANS.

New Perpetual-blooming Sweet Violets.

These favorite plants continue in large demand; unsurpassed for Winter culture indoors and extremely desirable and attractive when grown in open ground. The modest beauty and delicate fragrance of their flowers have made for them hosts of friends and admirers. They are quite hardy (especially the New Hardy Double Russian), particularly in sheltered situations, but should have a light covering of leaves or garden litter in Winter. Easily grown; free and constant bloomers.

Argentiaflora.

A fine Russian variety; entirely hardy and very satisfactory; very pretty and fragrant light-blue flowers. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cents.

Miss Cleveland.

This is a very free-blooming variety of unusual merit; beautiful, large, clear blue flowers, distinct and finely formed; highly fragrant; moderately hardy. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.

Marie Louise.

This splendid Violet, in lovely contrast with Swanley White, is fine, deep bluish purple; the flowers are very double and sweet; plants are quite hardy and bloom as freely as Swanley White; equally desirable for pot culture and open ground. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.

New Double Russian.

A beautiful new double Violet, of strictly first-class qualities, and by far the finest of its color recently introduced. A strong and healthy grower; perfectly hardy, and undoubtedly the most free flowering of all Violets, producing in the greatest abundance lovely deep blue flowers, very double, of delicious fragrance, and borne on long stems. We heartily recommend this splendid new acquisition. All who plant it will be pleased with its superior excellence. 25 cts. each; 5 for $1.

Swanley White.

This lovely Violet is undoubtedly the best of all; it is equally desirable for house or garden culture. Grown in pots or boxes it is a beautiful sight; vigorous and healthy and bearing in great profusion pure snowy white, perfectly double flowers, exquisitely fragrant. For Winter flowering keep the buds pinched off during Summer; lift and place in pots during September, and it will bloom elegantly during Fall, Winter and Spring. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 7 for $1.

PERPETUAL-BLOOMING SWEET VIOLET, SWANLEY WHITE. 20 CTS. EACH.

SPECIAL OFFER.—The entire set of 5 beautiful Violets described above for 75 cts.

Acres of Shrubs.

"'Tis sweet to listen as the night-winds creep
From leaf to leaf."—Byron.

THE list of Shrubbery which we catalogue is made up of the finest and standard sorts in most common request for general planting because of adaptability to diverse climatic and other influences. The different varieties are extremely floriferous, and while in full bloom are exceedingly attractive and ornamental in effect. Shrubbery requires very little care or attention after having been planted, although vigor of growth and neatness of habit are attained as a result of good soil and careful pruning. As the many varieties are hardy, transplanting may be done either Spring or Fall with uniform results. We send the smaller plants by mail postpaid; in cases where the larger are wanted, by express or freight at the purchaser's expense; but as the express companies now make special rates, the cost of transportation will be inconsiderable; when ordered in considerable quantities, shipment may be made by freight for long distances at trifling cost. Fine Shrubbery properly disposed about the yard or lawn is an indispensable auxiliary in harmonizing the necessary details, in order to give to the general effect a degree of completeness without which feature it would be sensibly lacking. Its cultivation for purposes of ornamentation has not received the attention in a general way that its possibilities suggest. Very pretty and imposing effects may be obtained by planting singly and in clumps, selecting varieties with reference to their flowering periods so that a succession of bloom may be obtained from early Spring until late Fall. The following data will aid the customer who wishes to profit by these suggestions in making selections; of course, the information is given approximately, as neither the height that a certain shrub will attain at maturity or its period of bloom will be exactly uniform in different localities.

	Height.	Period.		Height.	Period.
Althæas, . . . . .	9 to 12 feet,	Aug., Sept.	Forsythias, . . . . .	3 to 4 feet,	March, April.
Berberis, . . . . .	2 to 3 "	May, June.	Jasminum, . . . . .	5 to 8 "	Feb., March.
Calycanthus, . . . . .	6 to 8 "	June.	Hydrangea, . . . . .	8 to 10 "	Aug., Sept.
Cercis, . . . . .	6 to 8 "	April.	Lonicera, . . . . .	3 to 5 "	June.
Chionanthus, . . . . .	15 to 25 "	May, June.	Philadelphus, . . . . .	8 to 12 "	June.
Clematis, . . . . .	3 to 4 "	Aug., Sept.	Rhus, . . . . .	10 to 12 "	July, Aug.
Cydonia, . . . . .	9 to 12 "	April.	Styrax, . . . . .	2 to 3 "	June.
Deutzias, . . . . .	4 to 6 "	June.	Syringa, . . . . .	4 to 6 "	May.
Diervilla, . . . . .	5 to 8 "	June, July.	Tamarix, . . . . .	3 to 4 "	May.
Exochorda, . . . . .	4 to 6 "	April.	Viburnum, . . . . .	6 to 8 "	June.

It will be observed that none of the several varieties catalogued are of very large habit, and therefore will not interfere with the growth of Roses or other diminutive plants in proximity; on the contrary, their presence will be beneficial, inasmuch as they serve to modify the effects of wind and extreme heat, and, in a measure, afford a degree of protection during the Winter to the more tender sorts. For a small, select collection of shrubs, varieties such as the Weigela, Deutzia, Spiræa, Hydrangea, Cydonia, Syringa, Viburnum and the Althæa are among the best and most popular. In transplanting field-grown shrubs, the roots will suffer curtailment to a large extent, and therefore the tops should be reduced proportionately. The results of this treatment will be apparent in the facility with which they become reëstablished and in subsequent vigor of growth. Pruning should be done either in Spring or Fall, while the sap is down.

New Double White Japan Snowball.

This grand New Double White Japan Snowball is undoubtedly one of the most superb hardy flowering Shrubs ever introduced; it blooms in June, when the whole bush is completely covered and loaded down with great compact balls of pure white double flowers, like miniature Roses. These magnificent balls of flowers are borne in such great profusion that they almost completely hide the leaves and branches, and the whole bush appears one dense mass of bloom; the tree is of erect bushy growth, with deep glossy green leaves having a peculiar crimped and crinkled appearance; grows 6 to 8 feet high, and is entirely hardy, needing no protection of any kind. We have grown it for a long time, but have only lately succeeded in raising a large stock. Our stock this year is large and finely grown, and our artist has made a fine illustration, which, though not nearly as handsome as the plant itself, gives some idea of its wonderful beauty. We can cordially recommend it as one of the very best Hardy Ornamental Flowering Shrubs for dooryard, lawn, and park planting; it is also very suitable for cemeteries, as it is vigorous and hardy, and sure to bloom, and being quite scarce and rare, it always attracts a great deal of attention wherever seen. It is one of the things you don't want to miss getting, and ours is the true genuine variety, propagated from large old blooming plants here on our own grounds.

Fine Plants, 12 to 15 inches, 25 cts. each; 5 for $1; by Mail or Express.
 Strong Plants, 18 to 24 inches, three years old, 40 cts. each; 2 for 75 cts.; by EXPRESS ONLY.

Hydrangea Paniculata Grandiflora.

THE HYDRANGEA PANICULATA GRANDIFLORA (an illustration of which we give below) is the most desirable, effective and popular ornamental shrub extant, and its many distinct and striking qualities at once commend it to general favor for yard or lawn decoration. The bush comes into bloom in July and August, yielding profuse, massive cone-shaped flowers of the purest white, which, as the season advances, change to delicate pink and later to rich coppery red, some of these blooms measuring 10 to 12 inches in length and 8 to 10 inches in diameter. It is of a dense and uniform habit of growth, and its general appearance trim and shapely; seen in the yard or on the lawn while in full bloom it is truly an imposing spectacle, the prodigal display of white affording such a charming contrast with the green of its surroundings. The period of bloom being late, and prolonged for two or three months, at a season when other flowers are scarce and inferior, serves to impart a degree of Summer freshness to the landscape.

Treatment.—The shrub is perfectly hardy and requires no special care or attention; it is a remarkably vigorous and persistent grower, and readily adapts itself to circumstances and conditions whether or not the most favorable. It may be planted either Spring or Fall, and, like other things, will show the effects of a little attention in the matter of cultivation. It should be cut severely back each Spring at least one-half the season's growth, dug around and manured liberally.

STRONG ONE-YEAR PLANTS.—By Mail or Express, 20 and 30 cts. each; 2 for 40 and 50 cts.; $2 and $2.75 per doz.

STRONG TWO-YEAR PLANTS.—Cut back ready for planting, by Mail or Express, 40 and 60 cts. each; 2 for 75 cts. and $1.10; $4 and $5 per doz.

EXTRA-STRONG THREE-YEAR PLANTS.—Cut back ready for planting, by EXPRESS ONLY, $1 each; 2 for $1.75; 6 for $4.50; $8 per doz.

Hydrangea Paniculata Grandiflora for Hedges.

Of late years the Hydrangea has been employed extensively for Ornamental Hedges, many thousand plants having been ordered each year for this purpose alone; so that we have decided to offer it in quantities at a considerable discount. Now, it must occur to the reader that a hedge of these shrubs would be a most desirable acquisition, especially for extensive yards or lawns. Planted in the background, with irregular clumps of other shrubbery and plants intervening, the vista thus afforded is impressively effective and charming. The shrub may readily be kept within assigned limits by skillful pruning. They should be set in line 12 inches apart, the soil having been first prepared by thorough digging and manuring. We have the largest and most carefully selected stock of this grand shrub to be found in the country, and are prepared to fill all orders at the proper seasons, in any quantity and in the different sizes specified, to the entire satisfaction of our customers. ## Althæas (Rose of Sharon).

NEW BANNER ALTHÆA.

THESE beautiful flowering shrubs are always satisfactory, and are deserving of more general planting. They require but little attention after once planted and respond readily to pruning and training, and bloom profusely the first season; as the flowers are produced on the young wood, the plants can be trimmed at any time in Winter or Spring, thereby increasing the size of the bloom. This class embraces many distinct double varieties that produce flowers of various brilliant and striking colors. Especially valuable, as their profusion of flowers at a season when few other Shrubs are in bloom is a distinct feature, making them very desirable. The plants have dark green foliage; are of regular, compact and vigorous growth; of the easiest cultivation, thriving in almost any soil or situation, and are hardy. They make fine ORNAMENTAL HEDGES, growing to a uniform size. We have an enormous stock of Althæas in selected hedge plants, 5 years old, strong, 4 to 5 feet in height. For price, etc., see page 67, "Extra Large Shrubs for Immediate Effect."

ANDROMEDA MARIANA.

Andromeda Mariana.

This beautiful Andromeda is certainly one of the prettiest and best hardy flowering shrubs for all proper kinds of ornamental planting, and we believe we are doing a real service in bringing it into more prominent notice and urging its more general use. It grows easily, is healthy and vigorous; makes a neat, compact, shapely bush from 2 to 3 feet high, and produces great sheaves of graceful sprays covered and laden to the tips with lovely bloom. The individual flowers are long and tubular, and of nearly even size at each end; they are delightfully fragrant, and of a peculiar waxy white that is very beautiful and attractive. The wood and foliage are both curiously marked, and it is in every way a highly interesting and desirable plant for use about the home, dooryard or shrub border; also for planting in parks, lawns and cemeteries, in fact wherever hardy and beautiful shrubbery is wanted. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.

Berberis (Barberry).

Calycanthus (Caroline Alspeice).

Floridus.—This beautiful sweet-scented shrub is very widely known; flowers purple, quite double, exquisitely fragrant and borne in profusion during the entire season; the foliage and wood are also sweet-scented. 15 cts. each; larger size, 20 cts.

New Hardy Orange (Citrus Trifoliata).

The New Hardy Orange is certainly a most remarkable and unexpected novelty for us to have growing vigorously here in the North; but it has now been pretty thoroughly tried, and has been found to do well and bear the Winter as far North as Boston, and perhaps further; it is a true Citrus, and has all the characteristics of the real Orange Tree, which it closely resembles. The tree is of dwarf symmetrical form, and is rather a slow grower until fully established; the leaves are thick and glossy, deep shining green, looking as if varnished, and of beautiful trifoliate form; the flowers are lovely, pure white, real orange blossoms, deliciously sweet, just like those which are sent North from the orange groves of Florida, and are borne in constant succession all through the growing season; the fruit is small, bright red in color, very curious and pretty, but not eatable. Good, strong, pot-grown plants with an abundance of roots, sure to grow with ordinary fair treatment. 25 cts. each; 5 for $1.

Cercis (Japan Judas).

Japonica.—A rare and exceedingly beautiful, hardy flowering shrub; grows 6 to 8 feet high; blooms early in Spring before the leaves show; flowers are deep rosy crimson, and borne in such profusion that the whole bush is entirely covered and loaded with bloom. CLETHRA ALNIFOLIA.

Cydonia (Japan Quince).

Snow White.—Fine bushy shrub, with glossy green leaves and sharp thorns. This is the only pure white flowering Japan Quince grown, and should not be confused with the old white, the petals of which are tinged with rose. It bears a profusion of exceedingly large flowers very early in the Spring. 15 cts. each; larger size, 20 cts.

CYDONIA JAPONICA.

Japonica (see cut).—Foliage and growth resemble Snow White; flowers beautiful bright crimson and of good substance. Large plants, by express only, 20 cts.

Clethra Alnifolia (Sweet Pepper Bush).

This is a highly interesting and very desirable dense-growing shrub, with dark green foliage and handsome upright spikes of creamy white, deliciously fragrant flowers, which continue in bloom a long time, and much later in the season than most other flowering shrubs. The flowers have a peculiarly rich, spicy odor, very attractive. It blooms the first season, and will grow in almost any soil; makes a pretty, graceful mass of foliage and bloom; valuable for lawn and dooryard (see cut). 20 cts. each; larger size, 25 cts.

Catalpa (Indian Bean).

Stans.—Of low spreading growth and blooms profusely in late Fall; flowers are pure white, borne on long pendulous stems, and somewhat resemble the Lily of the Valley blooms in form and fragrance. 20 cts. each; larger size, 30 cts.

Diervilla (Weigela).

This valuable family of Japanese shrubs can be used to advantage for single lawn specimens or for massing with other shrubs; strong vigorous growers, drooping slightly when matured. We strongly advocate a more general planting of these shrubs, as they are of the easiest culture, grow in any good soil, and produce masses of beautiful flowers.

WEIGELA ROSEA.

Candida (The Best White Weigela).—Very fine light green foliage and handsome pure snow white flowers, borne in great profusion during the latter part of June, and continue in bloom until Autumn; very desirable. 15 cts. each; larger size, 20 cts.

This family is deservedly one of the most popular in our collection. We specially recommend Gracilis as a Winter-blooming variety, for forcing in the house.

DAHLIA SUNFLOWER.

good substance that they keep a long time after being cut, and are greatly admired. It blooms in July and August (the first season), and is altogether one of the most striking and handsome flowers of its season. ### New Hardy Hibiscus.

Crimson Eye.

After eight years of careful trial and selection by the originator, this grand hardy Hibiscus is the result, and was offered last year for the first time and immediately met with hearty public approval. It is entirely safe to say that it is undoubtedly one of the most satisfactory and valuable of the hardy flowering Shrubs. It blooms the first and every year; the top dies down in Winter, but sends up a strong new growth every Spring, which is crowned with magnificent blooms in August. The stems and wood are deep red, and the foliage is beautifully veined and tinged with red; the flowers are immense, with broad flat petals, making each flower as full and round as a large-sized dinner plate. The color is a clear snow white, with an intensely brilliant crimson spot at the base of each petal, making a crimson eye two or three inches in the centre of an immense white flower.

Our illustration of a single bloom, greatly reduced, will give a faint idea of the striking beauty of this distinct acquisition. The plant is healthy and vigorous, grows well in ordinary soil, entirely hardy, needs no protection in Winter, and increases in size and beauty year after year. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; $2 per doz.

HIBISCUS CRIMSON EYE.

We ask special attention to our offering of the choicest specialties in Hardy Perennials. The genuine value of this class of plants for permanent ornamentation is gradually being found out, and they are becoming very popular; in fact, quite the fashion with the most fastidious and careful planters. All the varieties we offer are entirely hardy, and no more trouble to grow than hardy shrubbery. In the extreme Northern States and Canada some protection in Winter will be an advantage.

Blooms in early Spring and is altogether a charming plant (see cut, page 66). 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; $2 per dozen.

Dahlia Sunflower.

It grows from 3 to 4 feet high, is of bushy and compact habit, and is covered from top to bottom with splendid golden-yellow flowers, the size of Dahlias, and perfectly double. They have strong, woody stems, and are of such

We make the price of these plants extremely low, and feel that they will prove very satisfactory. 12 cts. each.

Collection of four named Phlox as above, 75 cts.

Plumbago Lady Larpent.

Unquestionably the most distinct and valuable hardy herbaceous plant now in cultivation. The plants are strong, upright in habit, growing to a height of 12 to 15 inches in compact clumps, and from the middle of July until severe frost are covered with lovely rich violet-blue colored flowers borne in close terminal heads. (We have had thousands in bloom on our grounds as late as October 25.) The foliage is unique, finely serrated and fringing the stems. We heartily recommend this fine variety for edging walks, beds or borders, or single specimens set in mixed flower vases or beds, where they appear in lovely contrast with other flowers.

Price, 15 cts. each; 2 for 25 cts.; 6 for 50 cts.; 12 for $1.

Special quotations on larger quantities furnished upon application.

PERENNIAL PHLOX CROSS OF HONOR.

Ornamental Grasses.

For ornamental purposes these grasses are strikingly original in effect and impart a degree of tropical brilliance to the landscape. They are among the most available of plants where quick growth and attractive verdure are required for hedges, particularly in towns or villages where it is desired to obstruct the view of unsightly objects, such as out-buildings, fences, vacant lots, etc., or they are unexcelled for planting singly. The clumps enlarge in size yearly, each season's growth dying to the ground every Winter, but is supplanted by newer, denser and more vigorous increase. In the Fall the grass may be cut and utilized for the Winter protection of tender plants and Roses. The plumes which these grasses produce are large and beautiful, having a feathery appearance, and are useful for interior decoration.

NOTICE.—The Express Clumps priced below are extra large, being 4 to 5 years old, for immediate effect, and can be shipped by Express only. When ordering, please order as Express Clumps.

The graceful narrow foliage is beautiful shining green, with midrib of silvery white. We strongly recommend this superb ornamental plant. Price, by Mail, 25 cts. each; 5 for $1. Express clumps 40 cts. each; 3 for $1.

Japonica Zebrina.—This fine Ornamental Grass is the finest of all Eulalias for single lawn specimens or clumping. It grows 4 to 7 feet high, perfectly hardy, needs no protection during Winter and greatly improves with age. The leaf-blades are deep green, distinctly striped crosswise with large bars of pure white, as shown in engraving. The artist has failed to do justice to this splendid variety in portraying the number of plumes; we had on our trial grounds, as late as November 1, thousands of Japonica Zebrina with 50 to 100 plumes on single clumps. All our plants are propagated from the root, and hence more valuable than seedlings which do not come true. Price, by Mail, 25 cts. each; 5 for $1. Express clumps 40 cts. each; 3 for $1.

Japonica Variegata.—A standard old sort of distinctive value; blades are striped lengthwise in a handsome manner, being a combination of creamy white in the centre with a broad margin of bright green. SARACENIA PURPUREA.

Eulalia.

EULALIA JAPONICA ZEBRINA.

Saracenia Purpurea.

The Pitcher Plant.

We have all heard of the wonderful Pitcher Plant, whose pretty pitchers always contain water, even in the driest weather. This is one of the hardest and best varieties and well adapted to general culture; it likes a damp, moist place, partially shaded, and is particularly suitable for rockeries and shady damp places in beds or borders; it also does well in pots for house culture, and is a never-ending source of interest and curiosity. The Pitchers—which are also the leaves—are from 8 inches to 1 foot long, and are deep red, or green and red deeply veined and variegated; they generally contain more or less water, which is thus stored up for the use of the plant, and when filled each one will contain a good-sized tea-cupful of water. Each Pitcher has a large, well-defined and handsomely shaped spout. The flowers of this variety are quite large, and deep purple in color. The plant is evergreen and quite hardy, but should have a covering of leaves or light garden litter during Winter. Price 20 cts. each; $2 per doz.

Beautiful Hardy Climbing Vines.

The climbing Ivies are used extensively for covering old buildings, dead walls or other unsightly objects, for which purpose they are superior to other species of vines. The American varieties, Ampelopsis Veitchii and Ampelopsis Virginica, are deciduous; while the English is evergreen. They are all desirable and their general appearance and habit very much the same. The former are of exceedingly rapid growth, the latter somewhat the reverse. They are extensively employed for ornamental purposes, and also for the protection of disintegrating brick or stone walls of old buildings from the effects of dampness, as their leaves, overlapping each other like tiles, serve to break the force of driving rains and the tendrils to absorb the redundant moisture. The different varieties are all extremely hardy and possess remarkable vigor and vitality, often surviving for ages and attaining immense proportions, draping large buildings, churches and cathedrals in mantels of living green. The list of climbing vines that we catalogue are all exceedingly choice, popular and desirable for purposes of ornamentation and will thrive under conditions apparently rather unfavorable.

AMPELOPSIS VEITCHII.

Ampelopsis Veitchii. (Boston or Japanese Ivy.)

A most satisfactory and beautiful climber; it is entirely hardy and can adapt itself to any locality or exposure; clings fast to stone, brick or wooden walls, and is extensively used on residences, churches, factories, etc., where in Summer it covers all with a perfect mat of dark green leathery foliage, which changes as Autumn approaches to brilliant crimson; the foliage serves as a great protection to buildings, the leaves lapping over like tiles on a roof, preventing effectually the rain from penetrating the walls. 15 cts. each; 4 for 50 cts.; 9 for $1.

Akebia Quinata. (Japan Akebia).

A new twining climber, suitable for pillar or trellis; handsome and distinct foliage, and chocolate-colored, fragrant flowers, very desirable. 15 cts. each; larger size, 20 cts.

Ampelopsis Virginica.

We had a large number of this variety covering the fence surrounding the "Rose Garden" on the World's Fair Grounds, in Chicago, where it was greatly admired. Preëminently one of the very finest ornamental indigenous climbers, and really worthy of more extensive planting; a strong, rapid grower, adapted to any locality or soil, and perfectly hardy; very tenacious, clinging firmly to stone, brick or wooden walls, and specially valuable for disguising unsightly objects or running over verandas, porches, trunks of trees, etc.; large dark-green foliage, changing in Autumn to a brilliant scarlet and orange. 15 cts. each; 9 for $1. Extra-large plants, by Express only, 35 cts. each; 3 for $1.

Bignonia Grandiflora (Trumpet Creeper).

A hardy, fast grower, suitable for covering dead walls, back buildings, fences, etc.; produces in August large, orange-red, trumpet-shaped flowers in clusters; very handsome. 15 cts. each; larger size, 20 cts.

ENGLISH CLEMATIS—JACKMANII SUPERBA AND JACKMANII ALBA (Engraved from a Photograph).

Fine English and other Clematis.

Those who have seen the magnificent masses of exquisite flowers produced by Jackmanii Superba and other choice varieties of English Clematis do not need to be told that these Clematis are undoubtedly the most beautiful of all flowering vines. The flowers are grandly beautiful and of very large size, often measuring from 4 to 6 inches in diameter, and are borne in gorgeous wreaths and clusters of bloom that hang in graceful festoons from the vine during July and August, forming an array of entrancing beauty that delights every beholder. The colors run from intense sky blue to royal purple and pearly white, making a most agreeable contrast. The vines are of slender wiry growth and require support that they can twine around, like a rod, pole or wire. They like good rich ground, and if somewhat damp and moist and partially shaded, so much the better. The north side of a house or portico is often the best place for them. They succeed particularly well in the Eastern and Middle States, and are quite hardy, but it is generally desirable to place a thick coat of leaves or litter around the plants before severe freezing—at least until fully established. As they are quite difficult to propagate successfully, the price is necessarily pretty high, but they are richly worth all they cost. The pretty illustration made by our artist represents two fine Clematis in bloom—one Jackmanii Superba, the most exquisite violet purple, and one pure white, either J. Alba or Lanuginosa Candida, the finest varieties of their respective colors, and perhaps the most beautiful of all. Fine strong roots are sent safely by Mail or Express on receipt of price.

The Best English Clematis.

Jackmanii Superba.—Immense flowers, 4 to 5 inches in diameter; exquisite color, deep violet purple, very rich and handsome; bears great masses and wreaths of flowers; comes into bloom quickly, and continues a long time; exceedingly beautiful. 60 cts. each, or with one good white variety, your choice, the two for $1.

Jackmanii Alba.—Immense pure white flowers, very fine. 60 cts. each. With Jackmanii Superba, the two for $1.

Lanuginosa Candida.—Silvery white. 60 cts. each.

Star of India.—Reddish violet purple, with plum-colored markings; very fine, large flowers. 60 cts. each.

Fairy Queen.—Beautiful pale flesh color, shading to delicate pink. 60 cts. each.

Henryii.—Extra-large flowers, rich creamy white, very fine. 60 cts. each. With Jackmanii Superba, the 2 for $1.

Duchess of Edinburgh.—A very fine shade of white with double flowers; very attractive. 60 cts. each.

Countess of Lovelace.—Bluish lilac; double; exceedingly lovely in effect; robust habit; very select and choice. 60 cts. each.

Set of 8 fine English Clematis named above for $4.25.

Rare Miscellaneous Clematis.

Sweet-scented (Clematis Crispi).—This is a decidedly pretty ornamental trailing vine, quite recently introduced to the trade. It is a domestic species and quite different from all others. The vine produces an abundance of pretty bell-shaped flowers continuously from June until frost. The color is a delicate lavender blue, very fragrant and sweet. It is suitable for borders and low trellises, etc. 20 cts. each.

Paniculata.—A lovely variety with medium-sized pure white flowers borne in great profusion. The fragrance is delicious. It blooms in the latter part of September, when few flowers are in bloom. Perfectly hardy. Price, 35 cts. each.

New Coral (Clematis Coccinea).—Grows 8 to 10 feet high, suitable for veranda or trellis; a constant bloomer, bearing a great profusion of rich coral scarlet, tulip-shaped flowers all through the season, from early Summer until Fall; very pretty and desirable. 30 cts. each.

The 4 varieties Clematis above for 75 cts.; with set of 8 English Clematis, 12 in all for $5.

GOLDEN-LEAVED AND HALLIANA HONEYSUCKLES ON A FENCE.

Honeysuckles and other Hardy Vines.

Honeysuckles.—For real home vines, to be near you, climbing over your windows and doorways, there is nothing prettier than fine, sweet-scented Honeysuckles; the foliage is pretty, neat and clean, the flowers almost continuous, and their fragrance delicious. The varieties described below are the very best.

Honeysuckle Hedges.—Some of our friends have conceived the idea of planting Honeysuckles along the division fences, and it is wonderful what pretty hedges they make. Iron or wire fences are the best, but almost any kind is soon covered with a mantle of living green, making a very pretty and cheap border for lawns, drives, parks, cemeteries, etc. Other climbing vines will answer the same purpose, but the sweet-scented Honeysuckles are both fragrant and beautiful. They should be planted two feet apart. Price, strong plants, by Express, $1.50 per doz.; $12 per 100.

Wistarias.

For training over buildings, piazzas, verandas or trellises, the Wistaria is of superior excellence, and the decorative features which their long, graceful, pendent blossoms afford, particularly pleasing and effective. The foliage is exceedingly rich and attractive and not too dense—half concealing and half revealing the object which it covers, which feature admits of a fine artistic effect of detail. The different varieties are entirely hardy, rapid growers and easy to cultivate. They may be trained to a shrub form of habit by attention to pruning by cutting away the new growth for several seasons. The illustration given will convey an idea of the possibilities in the way of decoration which these superb plants offer and their general appearance. Our stock is of the best and consists of strong healthy plants of the finest varieties in cultivation.

New Chinese White Wistaria.

Plant Wistarias whenever you want a good tall-growing vine to shelter high porches or second-floor fronts. It grows strong and high, makes a pretty leafy screen, not too dense, and is loaded with bloom in the early Spring, just when you seem to need flowers and shade most. There are several varieties of Wistarias; this is the finest of all; immense clusters; pure white flowers, very sweet; extra-fine plants, grown in pots; sure to bloom the first season. Price, 35 and 60 cts. each; latter should go by Express when convenient, or, if by Mail, must be cut back. The most beautiful effect is produced by planting the New Chinese White with either of the rich Violet Blues described below.

Chinese New Double Purple Wistaria.

We offered this magnificent new variety for the first, three seasons ago. It is entirely distinct, and the handsomest Wistaria now in cultivation; produces a profusion of splendid large racemes of double flowers, exquisitely fragrant; color deep shining purple. Price, 75 cts.

∴ SUMMER FLOWERING BULBS ∴

THE enormous number of Summer Flowering Bulbs we sell every year is the best evidence that our bulbs give complete satisfaction—proving successful where others fail. This class includes many of our most gorgeous and elegant flowers. Our collections offered in the following seven pages embrace the most popular and useful varieties that can be grown successfully in this country. All are of the easiest cultivation, requiring little care. They cannot, however, bear freezing; but at the approach of Winter must be taken up and stored in a dry, cool place, secure from frost. The best way to keep bulbs is in a box filled with loamy soil; no water is required.

We offer only the best varieties. All large, sound, picked Bulbs of Superior Quality, warranted sure to bloom the first season. All Bulbs Postpaid, by Mail, at prices named.

A RARE PLANT Alocasia Arborea.

This gigantic member of the Caladium family is extremely scarce and difficult to obtain, the stock heretofore having been under the almost exclusive control of European growers. We have succeeded, however, in growing a limited number of fine healthy bulbs. Unlike other varieties it knows no dormant state, growing equally well in Winter indoors as it does in the Summer. It sometimes attains a height of six feet in one season, and with its large tropical leaves—often three feet in diameter—it is an imposing and magnificent plant. The leaves are tough and leathery and impervious to wind storms. In the South it produces beautiful flowers—that strongly resemble those of the Calla family—which in color are a soft salmon.

The Magnolia-like fragrance of the flowers is strong and pungent; on a warm morning the whole air in the immediate locality is loaded with the delightful odor. We are not certain that it will produce flowers in the North, where the growing season is not as long as it is in the South; we think it will; but if it never produced a flower it is still the king of massive decorative plants. The bulbs taken up in the Fall will make splendid Winter plants, requiring the same treatment as a Calla. It likes rich soil and a fair amount of moisture. This noble plant is not new, but is exceedingly scarce, our supply being limited.

Those who desire something unique will do well to secure it. Price for bulbs, monster size, postpaid, 75 cts. each.

Amaryllis Formosissima (Jacobean Lily).

A splendid variety with crimson velvet flowers which appear early in the Summer. The Lily-like flowers are extremely graceful and present a most charming aspect. Likes rich, sandy loam with plenty of moisture when growing. They are preserved like Dahlias during the Winter. Large bulbs, 25 cts. each.

ALOCASIA ARBOREA.

Alstroemeria (Herb Lily).

Of this splendid family of hardy tuberous-rooted plants, F. Sheppard, in Gardeners' Chronicle, writes: "How rarely one meets with these, and yet how beautiful and easily managed they are. For supplying cut flowers during the Summer months there is nothing to equal them either for beauty or lasting qualities. Many of the best varieties rival some of the Orchids, which they closely resemble, both in the singular form of the individual flowers as well as in their delicately marbled or spotted petals. The flowers, too, are of great substance and the stems are very open and soft; this accounts for their great lasting properties when cut. In the herbaceous border they are unrivaled, and a stand of cut flowers without Alstroemerias is deficient in one of the choicest and most attractive of the many choice things belonging to that class of plants."

The splendid flowers are of great beauty; free blooming and of easy culture; flowers valuable for bouquets and vases; very desirable for pot culture, also hardy in open ground; 2 to 4 feet.

Aurantiaca.—A superb variety, the flowers of which are strikingly beautiful and unique; orange-yellow streaked and spotted red; very floriferous. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 7 for $1.

Psittacina.—Finely formed flowers, uniquely colored; crimson and purple. 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 7 for $1.

Chiliensis.—Fine seedlings, all colors. 15 cts. each; 4 for 50 cts.; 9 for $1.

Best Mixed Varieties.—10 cts. each; $1 per dozen.

ALSTROEMERIAS.

Antholyza.

This is an ornamental family of half-hardy bulbs bearing a close resemblance to Gladiolus. They have not, however, been so popular as they merit. The prevailing colors are orange and scarlet, and the plants have consequently a striking effect among plants of more sober hues. Grown indoors they come in useful as pot plants for the decoration of rooms, window gardens, etc., as well as for cutting. Their blooming may be more extended by potting and starting the bulbs at different times, and in this way they may be had in flower from January to July or August. They produce rare and beautiful flowers, and should be in every collection.

Fine Mixed.—Large-sized bulbs, 15 cts. each; 4 for 50c.

Tuberous-Rooted Begonias.

Tuberous-rooted Begonias are new and distinctly beautiful flowers, which can be grown and cared for as easily as Geraniums. The large and healthy American-grown bulbs we send out produce all Summer, in profusion, gorgeous and brilliant flowers, 3 to 5 inches in diameter. An entirely new effect.

These splendid new Begonias are very beautiful, and unsurpassed for bedding or pot culture. As will be seen by our illustration, the plants present a striking appearance, being covered with magnificent showy flowers. The bulbs or tubers can be easily grown, succeeding best, however, in light, loamy soil and a somewhat shaded situation. After blooming all Summer, the bulbs, if in beds, should be taken up in November, dried off like Gladiolus or Tuberoses, and packed in a box of coarse sand or saw-dust, placed in a dry place, secure from cold; they will then be ready for the next season. If in pots they can be gradually dried off in November by withholding water; when well dried out put the pots containing bulbs in a dry warm place, until the next April, when the roots can be shaken out and replanted for Summer flowering as before.

Superb Mixed Colors.

Our superb collection of Tuberous-rooted Begonias, Mixed, embraces the most gorgeous array of colors ever seen in this magnificent new race of flowers. A bed of a dozen bulbs costing but $2 will excite admiration and attract great attention in any locality, while single bulbs, planted in the mixed flower beds or pots, vases or boxes, will appear in exceedingly handsome contrast. 20 cts. each; 3 for 55 cts.; 6 for $1; 12 for $2; 25 for $4; 50 for $8.

Tuberous-Rooted Begonias Under Color.

Begonia—Superb Scarlet.—Intense flame-colored flowers, very large size. 30 cts. each.

The leaves are immense, often measuring 4 feet in length by 2½ feet in breadth; very smooth, bright green, beautifully veined with dark green; should not be planted in Spring till ground is warm. HEMEROCALIS DUMORTIERI.

Hyacinthus Candicans.

This new species of Hyacinth blooms during August, September and October, growing from 18 inches to 2 feet high, with long spikes of pure white, pendulous, bell-shaped flowers. Bulbs perfectly hardy, flourishing in any situation. Price of large bulbs, sure to bloom the present season, 15 cts. each; 2 for 25 cts.; $1.25 per doz.

The Cinnamon Vine.

A very rapid grower. We recommend and consider it to be extremely desirable as a Winter-blooming vine for window and house culture. It is entirely hardy, therefore a splendid outdoor climber. The foliage is heart-shaped and a cherry glossy green in color. The delicate white flowers are produced in profusion and are deliciously sweet, emitting a delightful cinnamon odor. Roots 15 cts. each; 4 for 50 cts.; 8 for $1.

Calla.

Lily of the Nile.

Calla Lily or Lily of the Nile are the names under which Recardias are commonly known. They bloom at almost any season of the year, but are especially valuable for Winter blooming. Dry bulbs may be potted and planted in rich soil, and abundance of water should be given at all times while growing. No novelty of recent introduction has created such a furore as Little Gem. It has created a sensation, and the many points of superior merit have placed it in the foremost rank of the Lily family.

Dwarf Calla, Little Gem.

It is indeed a pigmy, scarcely ever exceeding the height of one foot, yet producing good-sized flowers, which are snowy white in color. It will be found exceedingly useful for cut flowers. The bulbs of the genuine Little Gem are very scarce; our stock has been procured direct from headquarters (see cut). 25 cts. each; 2 for 40 cts.; 5 for $1.

Spotted Calla.—The leaves of this popular and beautiful novelty are deep rich green, exquisitely ornamented with pure white marks; the plant therefore is highly ornamental even when not in flower; in all other respects it is like the favorite old Calla. The pure white color of the flowers is lovely in contrast with the deep black throat; it is easily grown, very distinct, free to bloom and will give satisfaction; we would advise growing two bulbs in a five-inch pot; the culture is very simple. We have a fine stock of large, solid bulbs, that cannot fail to give the best results. 15 cts. each; 2 for 25 cts.; 5 for 50 cts.

Lily of the Nile.—Is the favorite old White Calla that always gives satisfaction. We offer well-ripened corms suitable for 5-inch pots; no other Calla will give such an abundance of fine flowers and foliage as the California-grown corms we offer. 30 cts. each; 2 for 50 cts.

CALLA, LITTLE GEM.

The True Black Calla, Arum Sanctum.—A native of the Holy Land, and truly a magnificent and stately plant. The flowers of this rare bulb are sweet-scented and often measure more than a foot in length by 5 to 8 inches in width; the inside color is of the richest velvety purplish black, while the outside is a pleasing green. The centre spadix rises to the height of 10 to 12 inches and is of the deepest black. The bulbs we shall send you are the genuine stock, strong and positively sure to bloom if planted in rich soil 2 inches below the surface and given plenty of light, heat and moisture. Every order should include at least one bulb of this great Oriental novelty, for it is one of the rarest and most desirable bulbs of the year. We make the price exceedingly low and within the reach of all. 30 cts. each; 4 for $1.

In the Fall the bulbs can be lifted and stored like Gladiolus or Tuberoses, and will be ready for planting out again the following Spring. We have a large stock of strong bulbs, sure to bloom. 15 cts. each; 2 for 25 cts.; 4 for 50 cts.; $1.25 per doz.

Montbretia Crocosmiæflora.

This extremely brilliant and graceful Summer-flowering bulb throws up several flower stalks, which are loaded with slightly droopy spikes of blossoms from 5 to 10 inches long;

Planted in the open ground it will produce a number of trusses of delicate pinkish flowers, with long undulated petals coruscating like jewels under a bright light. Our bulbs are home-grown and thoroughly acclimated. They may be considered hardy south of Washington, but in the North should be planted several inches deep and well protected during Winter. Very fine for pot culture.

NERINE JAPONICA.

New Hybrid Kniphofias. A Splendid Mixture.

As a special surprise to our customers we have imported and tested many of the new hybrid varieties of Kniphofias, lately produced in Europe. The Kniphofia is well known under the name of Tritoma, or the Blazing Torch Plant, of which only one variety (the Vivaria Grandiflora) has been offered in this country. We find the new hybrids to vary in color from dark crimson scarlet to orange, but not to be distinct enough, in our opinion, to offer under the names by which they are sold abroad. In habit, however, they are infinitely superior to anything before seen, being compact, sturdy and floriferous to a remarkable degree. To those who have never seen these new Kniphofias, words cannot convey an idea of their brilliant effect as a bedding plant. The foliage is abundant and graceful, and the multitude of spikes of glowing bloom produce an effect not rivaled by any other plant of its season. As a cut flower, nothing attracts more attention or excites greater surprise in those who behold them for the first. We have concluded to throw the many-named varieties into one superb mixture. They may be considered entirely hardy south of Washington, and will often survive hard Winters in the North with slight protection. The clumps may always be taken up after frost, placed in a box with the adhering earth and wintered in the cellar. A most excellent method is to plant them out in rough baskets made of wire poultry netting buried in the earth at the proper place. The basket will confine the roots to some extent and may be lifted in the Fall and stored in the cellar, to be replanted next Spring. A large and well-grown stock enables us to offer these fine novelties at an exceedingly low price.

Price, 25 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 6 for 75 cts.; $1 per dozen, postpaid, by Mail. By Express, 75 cts. per dozen; $5 per 100.

NEW HYBRID KNIPHOFIAS.

Zephyranthus.

These beautiful Lily-like plants are comparatively unknown in many localities; they are easy to cultivate, and their blooms resemble the Lily somewhat, being produced freely and for long periods. They are suitable for house plants where three or four bulbs may be grown in a six-inch pot. For the garden they should be planted in the Spring and the bulbs lifted in the Fall and stored in a dry, warm place. Planted in beds, borders or clumps, they are very pretty and effective.

Candida.—The old-fashioned sort, and very fine. 5 cts. each; 6 for 25 cts.

The Choicest Varieties of Hardy Grapes.

We offer a splendid stock of the most desirable Grapes for family use. Our Grapevines are carefully grown by our own special methods from thoroughly well-ripened wood, and cannot be surpassed for health, vigor and early bearing. The vines are strong, heavy-rooted plants, sure to grow and come quickly into bearing, and can be sent by Mail or Express. Grapes should be planted in good, well-drained soil, exercising care to have all the roots spread out and firming the soil well around them. We would advise that only one shoot be allowed to grow the first year, keeping the remainder pruned back as they appear; this will be the foundation for a strong, vigorous vine.

Small Fruits

The demand for small fruits has so rapidly increased that it has proven beyond a doubt that they are indispensable for the family garden, requiring but little trouble after once planting and producing such abundant results that we have organized a department under this head, in which will be found only the choice and leading varieties of each fruit, which by the large demand and our careful tests have thoroughly attested that they are THE BEST. We would call special attention to the Ohmer Blackberry, now offered for the first time, and which is by far the most meritorious Blackberry yet sent out.

Blackberries.

Blackberries can be planted in Fall or Spring; in the garden, plant about five feet apart and four feet apart in the rows.

A New Blackberry—Ohmer. The Best Blackberry Now Known.

We now offer for the second time this valuable new Blackberry, which is recommended by the introducers "as the best Blackberry now known." We have carefully investigated its origin and history, and fully endorse all that is claimed. It originated in Champaigne county, Ohio, with Mr. Arrowsmith, and so impressed Mr. N. Ohmer, President of the Ohio State Horticultural Society, that he purchased all of the original stock, and planted it on his own grounds, where he compared it three successive seasons with the leading older varieties of Blackberries which he grew in large quantities. The new Blackberry proved superior to them all, including such varieties as Lawton, Taylor, Snider, Erie, etc., being larger than any, black when ripe, an immense bearer, of the finest flavor; extremely hardy and free from disease and rust; no drying up on the stems, and no nubbins. It is decidedly superior to any other variety in cultivation in hardiness, healthfulness, quality, size and productiveness. It ripens after Raspberries are gone, and lasts until late in August when Blackberries are high. The flavor is superb; firm, no core, and sweet before fully ripe.

Our plants are propagated from the original stock received by us; we therefore offer reliable home-grown plants, postpaid, for 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 6 for $1. Large plants, by Express, for 30 cts. each; 6 for $1.50; $2.75 per doz.

Childs' Ever-Bearing Tree Blackberry.

This distinct Blackberry grows five to seven feet high, branching freely into a fine tree-form, straight and erect, requiring no stake. The berries are of enormous size, borne in great clusters, which commence to ripen early in July and continue into September. The finest Blackberries we ever ate we picked about September 1st from some of these plants, which had been ripening fruit since July 8th. They are the finest quality of all berries, exceedingly sweet, juicy and delicious, melting in the mouth without a particle of hard core. Its delicious flavor, great productiveness, enormous size, long season of bearing, and perfect hardiness in the coldest parts of the country, make it the most valuable of all Blackberries for family use.

Price, 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts. Large plants, by Express, 30 cts. each; 6 for $1.50; $2.75 per doz.

BLACKBERRY OHMER.

Currants

Either Fall or Spring planting can be adapted to Currants; being perfectly hardy, they do not suffer injury from Winter. Currant worm can be destroyed by dusting bushes with powdered White Hellebore when they are wet with dew.

Victoria.

Fine large red berries, excellent quality; plants vigorous and very productive; thought by some to equal Fay's Prolific. 10 cts. each; 6 for 50 cts.; 12 for $1.

Fay's Prolific.

This well-tried new variety of Currant is undoubtedly one of the very best in cultivation, both for market and home use. It is a very heavy cropper; the large uniform berries are less acid than any other sort; large, handsome strings of cherry-red fruit; unexcelled for the family garden or market. 15 cts. each; 6 for 75 cts.; 12 for $1.50. Larger size, 20 cts. each; 6 for $1; 12 for $2.

Red Dutch.

This excellent and well-known old variety is as popular as ever. 10 cts. each; 6 for 50 cts.; 12 for $1.

SPECIAL OFFER.—One each 5 Currants described above, by Mail, for 60 cts.

Crandall Tree Currant.

"It is perfectly hardy in every respect, and as the roots run deep, heat and drought do not affect it like other small fruits; a remarkably strong grower, producing canes four to five feet long in a single season. It ranges in size from Delaware Grape to the Concord Grape. Berries  $\frac{3}{8}$ -inch in diameter are very common, while many measure  $\frac{3}{4}$ -inch, and a few were found that were about  $\frac{7}{8}$ -inch, and on bushes that were only one year transplanted. It is wonderfully productive, yielding more than any other small fruit whatever. When fully ripe it is of a shiny bluish black, and from their size and color they have often been taken for Grapes at first sight."

The plants we offer of the Crandall Currant are grown from short cuttings by our own special methods, made from stock plants of the genuine variety which we procured of the original introducers. 30 cts. each; 4 for $1.

White Grape.

A very large, creamy-white, sweet Currant, capital quality; one of the best for the table; plants low and spreading; very productive. 10 cts. each; 6 for 50 cts.; 12 for $1.

*Small Fruits (Continued)Elæagnus Edulis.

This is the true fruit-bearing Elæagnus, the stock of which is very scarce; we offer a limited number only. Of dwarf compact habit, with dark-green foliage above, silvery white beneath; small yellow flowers, fruit oblong, bright red, covered with small white dots, and is edible and highly ornamental. $1 each.

Russian Mulberry.

This fine Mulberry was originally brought to this country from Northern Russia. It is a very valuable tree, either for shade, fruit or timber; it will grow quickly and thrive in any part of the country from far North to the arid plains of Arizona; when young it is a rapid grower and will live to a great age, attaining large size. It is an abundant bearer, the fruit hanging in fine clusters; very juicy, luscious and of fine flavor, remaining in good eating condition a long time. For a good, all-around tree for the home acre we strongly recommend the Russian Mulberry. We offer well-grown transplanted trees, cut back for planting, by Mail, postpaid, at 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 6 for $1. Larger size, by Express only, 30 cts. each; 4 for $1.

Special Prices for larger quantities quoted upon application.

Japanese Golden Mayberry.

Of this new berry, which sold last year at $5 each, the introducer says: "It is the most remarkable of all fruit novelties ever introduced, and like the Wineberry belongs to the Raspberry family. It grows in sturdy tree form 6 to 8 feet high, and ripens its fruit before the Strawberry, a month before the earliest Raspberry, and before some of them have hardly wakened from their Winter's rest. The large handsome blossoms are followed by great glossy berries, which are a golden yellow color and are sweet and luscious beyond description. There is nothing like it in cultivation." It is entirely hardy. The stock as yet is very scarce. Price, 75 cts. each.

Gooseberries.

Gooseberries should be planted three to four feet each way and be manured well annually to keep up their vitality. Houghton and Downing need close pruning after fruiting. Industry needs but little pruning.

Downing.—This well-known variety is unsurpassed for cooking and table use; fruit, handsome pale green. A vigorous grower, free from mildew and very prolific. 15 cts. each; 4 for 50 cts.; 9 for $1. Larger size, 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 12 for $2.

Houghton.—Pale red in color, very sweet, tender, and one of the best. Plants of branching, spreading habit; enormously productive. 15 cts. each; 4 for 50 cts.; 9 for $1. Larger size, 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 7 for $1.

New Industry.—This superb new English variety is certainly the best Gooseberry ever introduced. It has been thoroughly tried in this country and found to succeed in all localities. The habit of growth is upright; it is by far the heaviest cropper yet known, and is entirely free from mildew. As shown in illustra-

NEW INDUSTRY GOOSEBERRY.

tion, the berries are of the largest size, 1 to 1½ inches in diameter; the flavor is exceedingly rich and pleasant. The fruit, when fully ripe, is handsome dark red. We have a fine stock of STRONG PLANTS, which we imported direct from the introducers. We strongly recommend the extensive planting of this unequalled new Gooseberry. Price, 25 cts. each; 5 for $1; 10 for $2. Larger size, 35 cts. each; 3 for $1.

—THE—

NEW JAPANESE WINEBERRY.

We think quite favorably of this great novelty. Prof. Georgeson, of the Japanese Agricultural College, found it while traveling in the interior of Japan, and he was so much impressed with it that he sent seed to this country to be grown, as he considered it would be a valuable addition to our hardy fruits. We quote from the description of the introducer:

NEW JAPANESE WINEBERRY. (Much reduced in size.)

"It belongs to the Raspberry family; is a strong, vigorous grower attaining the usual height of a Raspberry, and is perfectly hardy in all positions without protection. It is, in fact, more hardy and vigorous than any Raspberry or Blackberry. It stands alike the cold of the northern Winters and the heat of the southern Summers, without the slightest degree of injury. Its leaves are of the darkest green outside, and silvery white underneath. The young shoots and branches are covered with a reddish brown hair or moss. The fruit is borne in large clusters, often 75 to 100 berries in a bunch. These berries are, from the time of formation and bloom until they ripen, enclosed in a 'burr,' which is formed by the calyx covering them entirely. When ripe the burr opens, exhibiting a large berry of the brightest, light, glossy scarlet or sherry-wine color. The burrs and stems are covered with a heavy reddish moss, LIKE A MOSS ROSE BUD. The flavor of the fruit is entirely different from any other berry, being very sprightly, sweet and juicy, having no disagreeable sour, but a delicate and luscious flavor peculiar to itself and superior to other berries. It is very juicy and makes the finest quality of wine. It commences to ripen early in July, and continues in bearing for a long time. It is the most prolific berry known, the bushes being literally covered with its luscious fruit."

PRICES.—We offer by Mail, postpaid, plants that will fruit next season, 20 cts. each; 3 for 50 cts.; 7 for $1. Extra size, 30 cts. each; 4 for $1.

Special Offer.—One each of the thirteen Small Fruits described on pages 84 and 85, by Mail, postpaid, for $2.25.

A BED OF NEW SALVIA BOUQUET AND NANA COMPACTA.

Superb New Salvias.

New Salvia Bouquet.

This entirely distinct and superb new variety was introduced by us last year for the first time. Careful comparison with other sorts demonstrates that it is unquestionably the finest thing yet seen in Salvias. "Bouquet" is absolutely certain to grow from seed and quickly attains a height of three feet; it branches freely from the ground, forming compact plants of uniform height, making it desirable for bedding purposes. It yields a wonderful profusion of bloom that lasts from early Summer until severe frosts. The flowers are a trifle smaller than the ordinary varieties, and in color a deep scarlet, an emphatic new shade in Salvias. The flowers in their gorgeous brilliancy present a striking aspect, and we think they are one of Nature's most cheerful creations. The individual blooms of "Bouquet" cluster closely and make dense spikes of unusual size. The foliage intermingles with the flower spike—a new departure as regards flowering; this gives the plant a pleasing appearance, and makes the resemblance to a large bouquet very striking. This new feature is so unique and noticeable that we consider the variety appropriately named "Bouquet." We cannot too strongly urge our customers to sow at least one packet of "Bouquet." The only thing needed to make this the most popular novelty of the year is to see the plant in bloom; nothing we can say will bear as strong testimony of its worth as this, hence we ask for it a trial.

Full cultural directions on each packet. Per pkt., 15 cts.; 2 pkts., 25 cts.; 4 for 50 cts.; 9 for $1.

New Bright Scarlet.

As the name indicates, the flowers are the brightest scarlet imaginable; in size they are extra large, and perfectly double. Very profuse bloomer. Per pkt., 20 cts.; 3 pkts. for 50 cts.; 7 pkts. for $1.

Salvia Splendens Nana Compacta.

A splendid new and distinct acquisition. We have secured our stock of this new variety direct from our special grower, and offer it with the utmost confidence as the finest type of its class now extant, having four times the blooming capacity over the ordinary Salvia. Habit of growth very compact, branching freely and producing the greatest profusion of gorgeous miniature scarlet flowers; flower spikes very erect and all above the foliage, forming a plant two feet high and two and a half feet in diameter. A foot high of almost solid flowers, far surpassing in beauty all other varieties of Salvias. Full cultural directions on each packet. Per pkt., 15 cts.; 4 pkts., 50 cts.

Salvia Splendens Compacta.

This is a greatly improved strain of the old sort, the plants being more compact, branching right to the ground and producing numerous spikes of vivid scarlet-crimson flowers; remains in bloom until frost. Per pkt., 10 cts.; 3 pkts., 25 cts.

Orange Curled and Crested Zinnia.

The flowers of this unique and charming new Zinnia are of perfect form, large, round, full and double, the petals being twisted and curled into the most fantastic contortions and graceful forms, rendering them entirely free from the stiffness which was heretofore the characteristic of this family. Instead of offering the mixed sorts as generally offered, we selected this deep orange yellow as the best individual color, and our special grower has rogued out all inferior types. It is well known that the first flowers of double Zinnias do not always come perfect. The curled and crested strain is no exception to the rule, but they will come 90 per cent. true. This variety forms compact bushes about 2 feet high by 2 feet through, and is unusually floriferous. It is totally distinct, and does not resemble a Zinnia at all, nor is it similar to a Marigold. It stands alone as a pleasing result of a freak of Dame Nature. This variety should be given a trial by every one, and we feel sure it will become at once popular. Price per pkt., 15 cts.; 2 pkts., 25 cts.; 4 for 50 cts.; 9 for $1.

NEW IMPERIAL GERMAN PANSIES.

Our Large Flowering New Imperial German Pansies are the best in existence for general planting. They are the labor of many years' careful selection and cultivation, and the originator takes such pride in keeping his strain up to a high standard, that none of the crack strains recently offered are equal to it for general planting. The plants are entirely hardy in all ordinary situations; of fine size and compact growth; blooming profusely all through the Summer. The magnificent flowers are extra large, perfectly shaped, and embrace the rarest and most beautiful vivid colors, superbly mottled, veined, marbled and spotted on backgrounds of every shade; also striped and fancy flowers of unique beauty, and flowers with distinct eyes and contrasting rims of striking novelty. Our Imperial German Pansies will thrive splendidly with little care in almost any situation, while they richly reward the amateur who cultivates carefully and in the most approved manner. Price of the entire collection offered below, 25 varieties in all, 7 packets each, for $1 75. This is a complete collection of Pansies, at a low price, that cannot be equaled.

New Dwarf Double Carnation, Marguerite.

CARNATION MARGUERITE, or as some call it, Carnation Margaret, came prominently before the flower public four seasons ago for the first time, and made a marked impression both in this country and Europe. This truly royal novelty originated in sunny Italy, and was so remarkably attractive that it was named after the lovely Queen Marguerite of Italy. The principal points of value combined in this new Floral Wonder may be summed up as follows: First. It grows as readily from seed as a China Pink, and is in full bloom twelve to sixteen weeks after sowing the seed. Second. The plants grow subject to the most ordinary conditions and cultivation, and succeed alike in flower beds or pots. Third. The habit of the plant is so vigorous that no supports are required. Fourth. The flowers are produced continuously and in great profusion throughout a long season and are extremely fragrant; the range of colors is marvelous and includes yellow; full 90 per cent. of the flowers are double, of splendid substance, and the calyx does not burst, as is often the case with the best varieties of Carnations grown from cuttings. Fifth. From the packet of seed we send out can be raised a fine collection of the choicest varieties, fine strong plants. The surpassing mixture of seed of Marguerite Carnation we offer is fresh, and was received by us direct from original sources; we make the price very low, and hope every one who receives our NEW GUIDE will send for at least one packet. Per pkt., 10 cts.; 3 pkts. for 25 cts.; 6 pkts. for 50 cts.; 14 pkts. for $1.

NEW PANSY ROSY MORN.

FOR some years past we have steadily advised our friends and customers to grow their Verbenas from fresh seed each season. This is a matter of the greatest importance, as plants raised from cuttings seem to be more subject to disease and rust than ever, while plants raised from our SUPERFINE MIXED SEED, sown in March, are a mass of healthy flowers and foliage, almost as dense as Sweet Alyssum Little Gem, and nearly as fragrant. To easily grow the best Verbenas from seed it is of prime necessity to have fresh seed, saved from perfectly fertilized flowers. We have given this point our most exacting attention, and are satisfied that in our "VERBENA SUPERFINE MIXED COLORS" here offered, we have the best and most carefully selected strain of Verbenas ever sent out. This superb race of Verbenas embraces a remarkably large number of colors, shades and markings; our illustration above was carefully drawn from nature; the trusses or heads of flowers are very large, and are produced in great abundance from early Summer till late Fall. Verbenas raised from seed are quite fragrant, particularly so after sunset. The seed should be sown early in pots, boxes or hotbeds, and transplanted when 3 or 4 inches high.

The seed should be sown early in pots, boxes or hotbeds, and transplanted when 3 or 4 inches high.

Price of Verbena Superfine Mixed Colors, per pkt., 15 cts.; 4 pkts. for 50 cts.; 9 pkts. for $1.

~~~~~New White Branching Aster~~~~~

This sterling novelty is easily grown from seed and possesses characteristics that make it entirely distinct from all other varieties. Flowers are borne on very long stems and pure white, of extraordinary size, being 4 inches or more in diameter. The petals are broad and long, and many of them more or less twisted and curled in such a manner as to give the blooms the appearance of large, loose and graceful Chrysanthemums; they are exact counterparts and the resemblance is so perfect that nearly every one would so consider them when seen as cut flowers. Its tendency to form numerous branches is very marked. It commences to grow earlier in the season than any other variety, and produces a crop of flowers in late Autumn when there is always a scarcity of bloom. They lead the Chrysanthemum season by a month or six weeks. Every one who gives this lovely plant a trial cannot fail to be pleased with the results. Per pkt., 15 cts.; 2 for 25 cts.; 4 for 50 cts.; 9 for $1.

NEW WHITE SWEET PEA
...Emily Henderson...

In its color, earliness and profusion, its short stocky growth and the immense size of its long-stemmed flowers, it easily excels all other varieties. It is absolutely pure white, as clear as alabaster and glistening as satin; the fragrance is most delicious and distinct. A highly popular variety that is worthy of the strongest words of praise. Per pkt., 10 cts.; per oz., 25 cts.

Beautiful New French Cannas.

Originated by a skillful and celebrated French grower, Mons. Crozy. They are entirely distinct. The foliage is luxuriant and varied in color; the plants grow 3 to 4 feet high. The profusion of bloom is something remarkable, shoot after shoot coming up covered with richly colored orchid-like flowers. The colors range through crimson, rose, scarlet, yellow, salmon, etc., many flowers being beautifully striped and spotted. 15 cts. per pkt.; 2 for 25 cts.; 4 for 50 cts.; 9 for $1.

NEW WHITE BRANCHING ASTER.

--OUR--
GRAND Success Coleus

THIS valuable selection has attained widespread popularity, and to all has proven a success, surprise and delight. In our picture we had the artist show single leaves of four of the most distinctly colored and marked varieties; but every variation, color and marking we have ever seen in the finest assorted Coleus is included in the "Success Coleus." The directions for culture are extremely simple, as this strain of Coleus seed germinates easily, and success is as sure as with an ordinary annual. Start the seed in pots, boxes or pans, whichever is the most convenient, just as you would seed of any other tender plant that is usually started indoors. When the little plants show four leaves, thin out by transplanting a proportion to other pots, etc., and thus "Success Coleus" can be grown until the season for planting out in the open ground, which should not be done until all danger of frost is past. The most fancifully designed beds and borders can be readily constructed of "Success Coleus," as the plants can be safely transplanted after the colors and markings begin to show. We have thoroughly graded and mixed "Success Coleus," and put it into liberal packets, so that a single packet can be depended on for a complete collection of colors and markings, and sufficient plants for a medium-sized bed. Per pkt., 20 cts.; 3 pkts., 50 cts.; 7 pkts., $1.

~ Rare and Beautiful Celosias ~

....NEW CELOSIA....

Ostrich Feathered Mixed.

Is a strong, erect-growing plant and attains a height of 2½ to 3 feet. The foliage is dark brown and makes a pleasing effect against the brilliant red and deep maroon flowers. The profusion of bloom is a strong and remarkable feature, single plants producing 25 to 50 perfect plumes, averaging in length 6 to 8 inches. The quickness of growth and absolute certainty of bloom will enhance its value; plants bloom three months after sowing the seed. The unusual profusion and brilliancy of the flowers will make it preëminently the most admired of all decorative plants. Specially attractive when used in massing with "Golden Feathered" in the foreground. Full cultural directions on each packet. Red and maroon mixed. ## Centrosema Virginica (Grandiflora).

Of this lovely new plant the originator says: "It is a hardy perennial vine of rare and exquisite beauty, which blooms early in June from seed sown in April, and bears in the greatest profusion inverted, peashaped flowers from  $1\frac{1}{2}$  to  $2\frac{1}{4}$  inches in diameter, and ranging in color from a rosy violet to a reddish purple, with a broad feathered white marking through the centre, while the large buds and backs of the flowers are pure white, making it appear as if one plant bore many different-colored flowers at one time. Occasionally plants produce pure white flowers, while others are broadly margined with a white feathering. The flowers are produced in the greatest abundance, sometimes six to eight in a cluster. The stem and foliage are very graceful and of a delightful odor. It is well adapted for every garden purpose, and especially as a climber, running from 6 to 8 feet in a season. It will bloom until frost, and if potted will no doubt flower freely in the house. One of the most attractive features is the way in which the flowers look up at you in the face. I certainly predict for it a great run and immense popularity. Flowers last five days when cut and placed in water. Seed should be soaked in warm water before planting. Price per pkt., 15 cts.; 2 pkts. for 25 cts.

NEW BALSAM Double Dwarf White.

The entire absence of that pink tinge peculiar to the accepted White Balsam of the present is one of the many distinctive features of this superb new variety. The plant attains a height of about 20 inches, and is the most compact flowered of all Balsams. It is a prolific flowering variety, and produces numerous spikes of purest white flowers which are perfectly double. We counted on an average plant growing on our trial grounds 58 perfect flowers on a single spike. Altogether, Double Dwarf White is a Balsam of rare merit, and we strongly recommend it as one of the valuable acquisitions of the year. Full cultural directions on each packet. 10 cts. per pkt.; 3 pkts. for 25 cts.

Shirley Poppies.

Shirley Poppies are of good substance, double and single. The individual flowers are of the largest size, frequently measuring over 4 inches in diameter. The colors range from pure white, through the most delicate shades of rosy pink and carmine, to deepest crimson; some of the most intensely colored flowers being margined with white or beautifully flaked and marbled. The plants are of vigorous, healthy habit of growth, and bloom with profusion from July to October. They can be readily raised from seed sown in the open ground. Per pkt., 10 cts.; 3 pkts. for 25 cts.

Poppy The Bride.

"Of late years the various types of Poppy have become very popular, leading to the introduction of new varieties of exceptional beauty. The present novelty is a pure white, single selection from Papaver Somniferum; the flowers are of extra-large size and the petals nearly entire at the margin. The spotless white, single flowers waving in the breeze present a magnificent appearance in beds or groups." Per pkt., 10 cts.; 3 pkts. for 25 cts.

Zinnia Tom Thumb Mixed.

The best Zinnias in the world are raised in this country. Therefore the Tom Thumb Zinnia we now offer is the result of this careful growing and selection, and cannot fail to give Flower People the most complete satisfaction. The perfect dwarf plants grow 4 to 6 inches high—circular mat-like, twice as broad. The habit of growth of this new type is very vigorous, robust and free flowering. The flowers are about as large as those of tall Zinnias, symmetrically shaped and of good substance; in short, this is a perfect Dwarf Zinnia. Our mixture includes all the best colors known in Zinnias. Per pkt., 10 cts.; 3 pkts. for 25 cts.

Zinnia Tom Thumb White.

New Begonia Vernon.

Comes absolutely true from seed, and, as it will stand our hot Summer sun, will prove of the greatest value for bedding and culture in the open ground. From seed started in February or March, plants can be had that will begin to flower in early Summer, and continue in most striking effect until Autumn. The flowers are of an intense brilliant deep-red color, which is magnificently set off by the abundant and vigorous foliage, which is stiff, glossy and of fine green color, partly margined with bronze purple. So easily raised from seed that we unreservedly recommend it both for bedding and pot culture. Pkt., 15c.; 2 for 25c,

Dahlias from Seed

In 1886 we first called attention to the fact that Dahlias for Summer and Autumn flowering could easily and successfully be grown from seed sown in the Spring, and the expense of purchasing bulbs thereby be saved. For best results start the seed indoors early and transplant when all danger of frost is past. We make a great specialty of Dahlia seed, and our selections cannot be surpassed.

The Pansy is deservedly the most popular flower of the time. The plants bloom in great profusion from early Summer until after frost, and the truly royal colors are a constant surprise and delight. We devote special attention to the selection of Pansy seed, and the stock of every variety we offer is the best that can be had, regardless of expense. Our celebrated strain of Imperial German Pansy still holds its own; a splendid collection of which will be found on page 87. Below we offer the good old standard kinds you all know; they cannot fail to give satisfaction. Pansies may be sown in the open ground or hotbed as desired; the seed may be sown from early Spring until July for Summer and Fall blooming plants, also in August and September for blooming early the next Spring. Our extra-sized packets have full cultural directions printed on each.

For a splendid mass of color and constant display, Phlox is unrivaled; the profusion of bloom is remarkable, and a ribbon bed of it is a dazzling sight; it grows with little trouble, but likes rather rich ground. As it comes true from seed, a showy and attractive bed can be had at slight expense; in fact, we know of nothing where one can get as much display and beauty for as little trouble and money. ### OUR NEW FANCY.....

Flowering Petunias.

This is the most costly and scarce seed we have, and, until used, the stock is kept in our fireproof safe; as, in case of accident, it could not be replaced at any price. Every year the crop is graded to a certain high type, which is few seeded, and the minute seeds carefully gathered by hand. The cost of production is so great that the crop is actually worth more than the same weight of gold. It is unquestionably the finest and most thorough selection of Petunias in existence. In nature the flowers are fully twice as large as they appear in our illustration above, which shows one of the most distinct types. The colors range from pure white, through delicate shades of rose, to deep pink; some flowers being marked and stained in the most beautiful manner, while the purple and dark colors are particularly rich and striking. Our mixture of seeds is made with care, so that a fine collection of distinct varieties can be raised from a single packet; also a good percentage of the most perfect double and fringed varieties is included, making altogether a selection that cannot fail to satisfy and delight all lovers of flowers. In order to fully introduce this magnificent class of Petunias we make the price very low. Per pkt., 20 cts.; 3 pkts. for 50 cts.; 7 pkts. for $1.

We offer the best selected home-grown American seed, which is far superior to the imported seed usually sold. Per Pkt.

- New Giant Mixed Zinnia.—This is by far the largest Zinnia in cultivation, making well-balanced bushes, with luxuriant foliage 3 to 4 feet in height, 2 to 3 feet in diameter; the flowers are borne in great profusion and are of immense size, frequently 5 to 7 inches across, and perfectly double; the petals being of great consistency, they are not affected by heat, remaining in good condition for weeks; the colors are clear and vivid and of many striking shades. . . . $0 10

The Foliage Moon Flower.

The Foliage Moon Flower is supposed to have been originally brought from India. It grows from seed sown where the plants are to grow. We consider this variety the most rapid growing, handsome and useful ornamental climbing vine in existence. Do not plant it for flowers, as it frequently does not bloom north of Washington; D. C., but for porches, arbors, screens, or any place where a dense shade is wanted in a short time, nothing is equal to this variety. The large, handsome, bright-green leaves are thick and leathery, vines wonderfully luxuriant and very tough, standing storms, winds or abuse well. The leaves are borne on long stems, allowing a free circulation of air, while they overlap so perfectly as to keep out all glare and heat of the sun. Too much cannot be said in praise of this handsome ornamental climbing vine. It should be included in every order. Per pkt., 10 cts.; 3 pkts., 25 cts.

Vegetable Seeds.

ON this and page following will be found a few good new Vegetables that we recommend as varieties that will give pleasing and profitable results. Our New Tomato "Best Yet" is offered this year for the first time, and only by us. As the name implies, it is unquestionably the best yellow Tomato for all purposes. A trial will show it to be far ahead of anything yet seen in its color.

Two Grand Tomatoes NEW AND DISTINCT.

NEW YELLOW TOMATO "BEST YET."

For sale only by The Dingee & Conard Company.

Large, Solid, Fine Quality, Very Productive.

It is not often that we have the pleasure of introducing a novelty in Vegetables—not because of the want of opportunities but rather the lack of merit and distinctness in the specialties that have been offered to us for introduction. In this new Tomato we have a variety that is absolutely distinct and one that possesses real merit. It originated in Tasmania five years ago, and the entire stock which we secured has been grown under our personal supervision. It has so many points of superior excellence which were freely developed during our trials that we give it our strongest endorsement, feeling confident it will take its place as a first-class Yellow Tomato—if not the best—for all-around cultivation.

Our special grower—a veteran Tomato grower, and the introducer of Matchless—says in comparison with the standard yellow sorts, "Best Yet" is far superior in every respect—particularly in substance, size and productiveness.

In color it is a bright golden yellow, has but little core and is smooth, remarkably solid, a good keeper, and its quality splendid—entirely distinct and different from other yellow kinds.

Our illustration gives the exact size of a fruit taken from an ordinary vine that bore fifty-three perfect Tomatoes; they are produced in clusters of six to eight and as a rule are of uniform size.

We are proud to introduce such a worthy New Tomato, and recommend our customers to give it a trial. For table use it cannot be excelled. Per pkt., 15 cts.; 2 for 25 cts.; 3 for 60 cts.; 10 for $1.

NEW MATCHLESS TOMATO.

Since the introduction of this grand Tomato it has achieved a national reputation, won on its merits of superiority over all other varieties, and we strongly recommend it as the best red Tomato for family and market use now in cultivation.

The vines are healthy and luxuriant in growth, enormously prolific, and are loaded down with fruit until checked by Autumn frosts. The fruit is cardinal red in color, of the largest size, and its flesh is singularly tender and of the richest quality. It is almost without core, and the skin is exceedingly pliable and will not crack. A splendid keeper, and will remain in marketable condition for twelve or fifteen days after picking. The Matchless is preëminently the finest all-around Tomato yet sent out. Our supply of stock seed is direct from the introducer and is put up in liberal packets. Per pkt., 10 cts.; 3 pkts., 25 cts.; ½ oz., 25 cts.; oz., 40 cts.; ¼ lb., $1.25; lb., $4.

SPECIAL OFFER.—One pkt. each of our superb New Yellow Tomato "Best Yet" and one pkt. of the brightest red—Matchless—for 20 cts.; 2 of each for 40 cts.; 4 of each for 75 cts.

WE recommend our Extra Early Pea as the earliest of all, and best for the family garden. This superb variety is our own tested stock, and we stake our reputation on it. As will be seen by our illustration, the pods are of fine size and borne in the greatest abundance and perfection; indeed, the yield is extraordinary for an Extra Early Pea, and it ripens up evenly, allowing the crop to be cleared away promptly, which is a strong point in its favor.

We are confident that all who once plant The Dingee & Conard Company's Extra Early Pea will have no other. Large pkt., 10 cts.; pint, 20 cts.; quart, 40 cts. By Freight or Express,  $\frac{1}{2}$  peck, 75 cts.; peck, \$1.40;  $\frac{1}{2}$  bushel, \$2.25; bushel, \$4.50.

BURPEE'S BUSH LIMA BEAN.

"BURPEE'S BUSH LIMA comes absolutely true from seed. The bushes grow 18 to 20 inches high, of stout growth and always erect, yet branching so vigorously that each plant develops into a magnificent circular bush from two feet to three feet in diameter. The bush character is thoroughly established, not one plant in a thousand showing any disposition to 'run.' Bears large crops and is also a sure cropper. It is an immense yielder, each bush bearing from 50 to 200 of the handsome large pods, well filled with very large beans, which are identical in size and luscious flavor to the well-known large Pole Limas. By the introduction of this most valuable novelty the largest and best Lima Beans can now be raised in quantity at small cost, without the expense and labor attached to the use of poles." Per pkt., 10 cts.; 3 pkts., 25 cts.; per pint, 40 cts.; per quart, 75 cts., by Mail, postpaid.

HENDERSON'S BUSH LIMA BEAN.

Henderson's New Bush Lima grows without the aid of stakes or poles in compact bush form, about 18 inches high, and produces enormous crops (a prize plant at one time showing 271 pods) of delicious Lima Beans, which can be as easily gathered as the common garden Bush sorts. Henderson's New Bush Lima is at least two weeks earlier than any of the climbing Limas. This fact alone would stamp it as the most valuable novelty of recent years, but when, in addition to this, we consider that it is a true Bush Bean, requiring no supports, some idea of its great value can be realized." The New Bush Lima produces a continuous crop from the time it comes into bearing (it is fit for the table in the latitude of New York middle of July) until frost, and being enormously productive, a very small patch will keep a family supplied with this splendid vegetable through the season. The beans are the size of the Sieva or Small Lima, and of that delicious quality that has made the Southern Lima so famous. Every order should include this valuable new variety. Large pkt., 10 cts.; 3 pkts., 25 cts.; pint, 35 cts.; quart, 60 cts.

LONG CARDINAL RADISH.

This we regard as the best novelty in Radishes introduced for many years. Its extraordinary earliness is remarkable, the roots being fit for use in twenty-five days after sowing the seed. Crisp, tender flesh of first quality, and bright, attractive appearance; shape very regular, smooth and conical; intermediate between the long and half-long sorts, will certainly become very popular in private gardens and valuable to the market gardener, whose success depends on having the earliest vegetables. Per pkt., 10 cts.; oz., 15 cts.;  $\frac{1}{4}$  lb., 35 cts.; per lb., \$1 25, by Mail, postpaid.

The Dingee & Conard Co.'s Lawn Grass Seed.

A Special Mixture of the best Natural Grasses for Making New Lawns and Renovating Old Ones.

This mixture of Lawn Grass Seed is the result of careful experiment and comparison, and we regard it as one of the best combinations for general sowing. It produces a smooth, even, velvety green sward that is particularly attractive and pleasing.

In preparing the ground for seeding, break to the depth of 10 to 12 inches with plow or spade and pulverize thoroughly; be careful to see that the surface grading admits of free upper drainage so that the water will not collect in pools after heavy rainfalls. Sow the seed carefully and evenly in quantities of about one quart to each 300 square feet [15 x 20 feet], or five bushels to the acre; then with a fine harrow or rake cover and give a top dressing of animal manure, ground bone or some other good commercial fertilizer. Seeding may be done at any time during the Spring, Summer or Fall months; but the best results are obtained by sowing during April, May, September or October; if the work is done during the Fall months, a heavy top dressing of stable manure may be applied; in the Spring, the gross matter may be removed, leaving the surface clean. If manure is used in preparing the soil, in the Spring it should be incorporated with the earth. To renovate lawns where the grass has disappeared in places—with a steel rake scratch the surface thoroughly and after sowing a liberal quantity of seed rake the spot over well in order to cover. In cases where the surface earth has been removed or covered by a clayey or sandy sub-soil it will be necessary to restore at least a part of the original loam. The use of manures and compost in liberal quantities will be of great assistance.

OUR PEERLESS PEDICREE CANNA.

Originated and for sale only by The Dingee & Conard Co.

THOSE of our customers who are readers of SUCCESS WITH FLOWERS, and their names are legion, are familiar with the remarkably successful contest for a suitable name for our magnificent new hybrid Canna "No. 1900," inaugurated in April, 1894. From the thousands of names sent in by contestants, the committee appointed to decide the matter selected the name "FLAMINGO" as the most suggestive and available among the number, and consequently the Cash Prize of $100.00 was equally divided among the six contestants who were fortunate enough to suggest that name.

CANNA FLAMINGO needs no praise; wherever seen it will sell itself. It is justly regarded as one of the horticultural triumphs of the century, and will remain a landmark in the development of these beautiful decorative plants.

History. . . . .

FLAMINGO is an indirect descendant of the well-known dwarf American Canna "Star of '91," crossed with a vigorous seedling, now lost, and again hybridized with Canna Noutonii, which is a hybrid descendant of the Peruvian species, Canna iridiflora. It is the triumphant result of careful thought and skillful hybridization.

Description. . . . .

FLAMINGO is sturdy and vigorous, carrying its broad, massive dark-green foliage in symmetrical form. It has never exceeded four feet in height under the highest cultivation, and usually begins to show bud when only six or eight inches from the ground. The immense trusses of bloom are borne aloft on strong, tapering stems, in a firm, erect and yet most graceful manner. The expanded truss forms an almost perfect oval, approaching a foot in length and seven or eight inches in diameter. Two or more side spikes are usually provided, which replace, in succession, the main truss as soon as its bloom has faded.

The individual florets are uniformly more than four inches in diameter, and are of the most refined circular form, evenly reflexed and arranged about the stem with the grace and finish of the most perfect Hyacinth. Of the color it need only be said that it is an intense, glowing crimson, without spot or blemish of any kind. A well-established plant of Flamingo will develop at once from three to six of these splendid spikes of bloom, thus presenting an array of gorgeous color unequalled by any other plant now known. Its rugged constitution allows it to produce bloom in constant succession, whether grown in the border or house, and its compact, dwarf habit especially fits it for culture in the latter. In conclusion, it may be truthfully said that this Canna has a mission, and that mission is to produce grace, beauty and glowing color under all reasonable circumstances.

The Use and Value of Flamingo. . . . .

No bedding plant whatever can produce the brilliant, yet refined and pleasing color effects characteristic of a group of Canna Flamingo. From early June until the killing frosts of October, it is constantly surmounted by a glowing crown of perfect blooms, gracefully relieved by the green and luxuriant foliage. The familiar bedding Geranium, even in its best and most highly improved varieties, looks cheap and tawdry beside it. For pot culture, none of the myriads of costly exotic plants can surpass it, if beauty and richness of color, grace of outline, vigor of constitution, ease of management, and earliness, profusion and certainty of bloom are factors in making a choice. We predict for this choice plant a great and increasing use, in company with the Palm and Lily, for refined decorative use.

In Conclusion. . . . .

NEW USES, that cannot be anticipated now, will be found for a plant combining so many points of sterling excellence, and we can assure those who secure their plants of Flamingo now that they will not only enjoy the pleasure of witnessing the development of this floral gem during the coming Summer, but will possess in the increase of stock during the coming season an article of standard and growing value.
