BISLEY AGGREGATE
AT RIFLE MEETING
Scores at D.R.A. Event; Canada Will Be Well Represented at Meeting.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—Following the finish of the Governor-General's match on Saturday, the concluding day of the Dominion Rifle Association meet, the Rockcliffe Ranges have gone out of commission and future meetings of the Dominion Rifle Association will be held on the new Connaught Ranges.
The finals of the Governor-General's match proved a keen contest, and Major Mortimer, who led with 101 in the first stage, only lost out at the very last shot. Lieut. J. A. Steele, C.A.S.C., finally winning the honor in the shootoff.

TRADE OF CANADA IN HEALTHY STATE
Monthly Statement of Bank of Commerce Sums Up Situation
Toronto, Aug. 23.—The Canadian Bank of Commerce, in its monthly statement, says:
"There is no sign of a general slackening in external or internal Canadian trade, although political developments in Europe do not press an early resumption of normal trading between at any point that continent. Further decline in the prices of wheat, wool and a few other commodities have naturally made buyers more cautious, but in the domestic situation there is no lack of confidence. Manufacturers in many centres report improved efficiency on the part of labor, indicating trend in the direction of more normal conditions. By relinquishing its control of the wheat market, the Dominion Government has shown its belief that the usual method will be found adequate for the handling of this season's crop of cereals, which promises to be above the average.

TANLAC BEST OF ALL MEDICINES, SAYS RIGBY
After 15 Years Suffering Vancouver Man Was Ready To Give Up In Despair—Is Hale and Hearty Now burst. My back, also, hurt me terribly. I was so nervous the least thing would make me jump, and it was next to impossible for me to sleep at night. I was all run down, as weak as a kitten, with no energy and no interest in anything.
I was just about ready to give up in despair when I noticed a statement about Tanlac given by a man I knew, whose case seemed to match mine exactly. Well, I started taking Tanlac, and I had not finished the first bottle before I noticed a great change for the better, and now my indignation has absolutely disappeared. My appetite is tremendous, and no matter what I eat nor how much I eat, I never suffer a particle afterwards. I have gained several pounds in weight, my nervousness, my headaches, and all my other pains have left me, and I sleep fine every night. Nobody could convince me but what Tanlac is the best of all medicines for those who suffer from indigestion, and I am recommending it wherever I go.
Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas, and Lang's Drug Store, Esquimaux Road.
"Before I began taking Tanlac I had suffered so long and taken so many medicines without benefit that I was just about at my wits' end. My appetite was poor, nothing tasted right to me, and even the little that I did eat formed gas which bloated me up until I had to actually fight for my breath. There was a burning like fire in my stomach, and at times I was almost deathly sick. I had violent attacks of palpitation of the heart and such a swimming in the head I felt like I was falling over. I never knew what it was to be free from headaches, and there were many times when my head felt like it would burst immediately to Villa's command.

SWEDES GLAD TO GET BACK TO SWEDEN FROM SOVIET RUSSIA

London, Aug. 22.—A dispatch from Stockholm says 148 Swedes, including thirty women and children, have arrived there by steamship from Russia.

Workers in the party were unanimous in saying that it is impossible to exist in Soviet Russia. Despite the extravagantly high wages paid they said they were insufficient to purchase necessary food and clothing. The arrivals included a number of Swedish Bolshevik metal workers who, some months ago, set out for Russia amidst the cheers of their friends. Some of their countrymen, they said, had been detained in Russia against their will.

The only food ration now distributed, the men said, is half a pound of bread. Fish, horsemeat, sugar, butter, tea and other food can only be obtained they said, through illegitimate trading at incredible prices. A daily income of 1,000 rubles, one returned worker declared, would not be sufficient to avert hunger. Most industries have practically ceased, it was said, the great Pullow works having closed months ago after vain attempts to keep them going.

HOW WEAK WOMEN ARE MADE STRONG

Mrs. Westmoreland Tells in the Following Letter.

Harrison, N.Y.—When my first child was born I did not know about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had a very hard time. I read in the newspaper about the Vegetable Compound and when my second child came I took it and was well during the whole time, and childbirth was a hundred times easier. Ever since then I have used it for any weakness and would not be without it for the world. I do all my work and am strong, healthy. I am nursing my baby, and I still take the Vegetable Compound as it keeps a woman in good health. You may publish my testimonial for the good of other women, if you choose to do so.—Mrs. C. WESTMORELAND, Harrison, N.Y.

Women who suffer from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, headache, nervousness should lose no time in giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

PUGET SOUND SALMON INDUSTRY FALLS OFF

Portland, Ore., Aug. 22.—Improper methods of artificial propagation used by Washington State fish hatcheries are said by Oregon State Fish Commission members to be responsible for a noticeable decline in the salmon industry of Puget Sound.

The Oregon commissioners point out that the salmon industry in Puget Sound decreased from more than 3,000,000 cases in 1913 to some 42,000 cases in 1919, while the pack on the Columbia River increased from 225,000 cases in 1913 to 600,000 in 1919.

The salmon in Puget Sound are now practically annihilated, says Master Fish Warden R. E. Clanton, of the Oregon Fish Commission.

NEW COTTON SERVICE BUREAU IN BRAZIL

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 22.—Increased and improved production of cotton, especially in Northeast Brazil, a great potential producing centre which is at present quite undeveloped. The Bureau will investigate the

ed. is the object of a Cotton Service Bureau just established by Presidential decree.

Properties of the soil and climatic conditions, and establish experimental stations to study the culture of cotton and preventive measures against pests and plant diseases. Planters in the cotton zones will be provided with machinery, implements and fertilizers at cost price, and establishments will be installed for preparing cotton for market.

A representative of the big British cotton combine is now in the northern states making a special study of conditions.

THOSE MONEY BYLAWS.

To the Editor:—The municipality has in no mistaken way expressed its opinion on the proposed money bylaws, and in view of all that has been said these past ten days it is now up to the Council to put their house in order.

After having spent several months in the consideration of the Sewer bylaw it would have been much better had the councillors formed a decided opinion "yes" or "no" not to start wavering in view of adverse criticism.

At each ward meeting, both the reeve and his councillors impressed upon the municipality the terrible unsanitary conditions that prevailed in Wards 2 and 7. Pointing out the serious possibilities of an epidemic and the consequent results to the municipality as a whole.

In order to obtain the sanction to spend a million or more dollars on a sewerage scheme for these two wards, it is presumed that the statements of both the reeve and his followers were based upon information supplied by their officials, and that the councillors had themselves carefully sifted this data in order that the ratepayers might have the true facts upon which to make their decision.

Apparently Wards Nos. 2 and 7 must have a water-carriage system, and having such it is up to the individual owner to keep his premises sanitary, and in such a condition as will not endanger their own lives or the lives of the neighbors.

If there are seepages from these so-called septic tanks, and both the reeve and councillors say "there are," then the duty of the Council is very clear. They have their bylaws, and they have the legislation of the Province behind them. Issue legal notices on the several owners, through whose neglect the municipality was called on to endorse a million dollar bylaw, calling on them to provide adequate accommomodation in the form of a properly constructed septic tank, failing which the council need not "sanctificate" the property, but can close the property until such time as the bylaw has been complied with. Don't dilly daddle for votes, you are the trustees of the public.

Regarding the agreement with the City of Victoria entered into by the present Council, rightly or wrongly the ratepayers must stand by the seal of the municipality. If the Council has committed the municipality to an unjust settlement, then there is a remedy. Personally in view of the unsatisfactory nature of earlier proceedings I think the Council has acted in good faith, and in this instance have done the act they should for the municipality.

However, seeing that the bylaw must appear in the near future I would suggest that the Council communicate with various cities and municipalities, ascertain their borrowing powers, the amount of their commitments in regard to sewerage disposal. Obtain information as to methods adopted in their suburban districts. Get copies of their bylaws in regard to septic tanks and subsides arising therefrom, and see which could be made into one report, and would then enable the Councillors to form an unbiased opinion as to the merits or demerits of their proposed expenditure of a million dollars of other people's monies. It would also be instructive if a report were tabled showing just how the several Councillors voted on the bylaw in Council.

ERIC G. KINGWELL.

THAT STRANGE COUGAR.

To the Editor:—It was with something like a pang of terror that we read in your paper to-night the article the "Cougar Chases Honey-mooners" at Sooke.

You can understand our feelings when you know that we also are just out from Scotland where the wolf we knew was the fear of "The wolf at the door."

We have heard all sorts of tales about cougars since we arrived at Sooke, and have good reason to know that they have a great love for Scotch people, and it appears, particularly for honeymooners. Therefore, we can readily appreciate the horrible position of the adventurers.

Presently we are living in a shack similar to that in which the honeymooners spent that awful night, and being very close to the scene of this daring cougar's activities, we very naturally are afraid that the fierce creature may shadow some of us, and may even venture to taste of a Scotch lassie's blood—for we are just very shy and timid Scotch people.

Willingly we would be convinced that the panther and the cat were only hunting for mice, and were it not for this fact and the knowledge that Sooke offers so many advantages to the settler, we would pack up and go home to bonny Scotland. "SCOTTY."

RAILWAYMEN'S WAGES.

To the Editor:—In Friday's Times Mr. Kelly, president of the Canadian Railway Association, is quoted as saying we must knuckle under to the demands of the railway men or take the consequences, the consequences, in his opinion (being pressed by Mr. Carvell) being a general strike. Mr. Coyne is quoted then as saying the railwaymen would be receiving wages 25 per cent. in advance of pre-war wages.

A singular coincidence, on the same page of The Times, Sir George Perley, just returned from Britain, says, discussing Britain's problems: "Last year when a railway strike broke out, the British just set to work and became their own railway men and soon the strike was ended."

Now, there is the cue for our weak-kneed jelly-fish Commissioners. There are enough Britishers and unemployed soldiers, many of whom drove locomotives in France (not five hours a day) to operate all the Government railroads, with the help of a certain number who well know on which side their bread is buttered, and who will stick to their jobs if adequate protection is afforded them.

The public ought to know what some of our railway employees are demanding in the matter of wages, especially those who are classified as railway employees, yet merely sit on a stool and perform clerical work. In the current issue of The Labor Gazette, which is the biggest and most expensive piece of farce printing in the Dominion, some of these demands may be perused on page 781 and are as follows:

- |                  |        |
|------------------|--------|
| Invoice clerks   | $ 205 |
| Stenographers    | 190    |
| Clerks           | 190    |
| Freight clerks   | 215    |
| Fuel clerks      | 210    |
| Storeman         | 205    |
| Asst. storeman   | 180    |
| Stores inspector | 210    |
| Junior clerks    | 160    |
| Office boys      | 65     |
- As regards clerks, here is the definition of same in article 2, on page 767: "Employees who regularly devote not less than four hours per day to the writing and calculating incident to keeping records, etc."
- In other words, the farmer shall work from ten to fourteen hours per day producing food for the clerk who will condescend to "work" not less than four hours writing invoices for the farmer's wheat.
- In addition to the four hours "work" the harassed clerk, and all office employees shall be granted all legal holidays and two weeks' vacation, with pay.
- To cap the farce, employees are to be granted free transportation and leave of absence to attend all labor union meetings.
- When the Hon. J. Reid was in Victoria a few weeks ago he was kind enough to say that we, the common people, were the owners of the railroads. If that is so, why is the scale fixed in the United States without referring to the owners?
- A few months ago there was a letter in The London (Eng.) Times complaining that at a certain suburban railway station there were five employees where there were only two in 1914, and "the five can be seen playing cards in the ticket office almost any hour of the day." Probably card playing is defined as clerical work in the labor-union code.
- The proposed increase will give car conductors plying out of Victoria a matter of $9 for a "day" of five hours, two hours of which are spent reclining on velvet cushions. What do the "owners" say. Especially those who get $4 for eight hours' real work, and on whom the $45,000,000 increase will be an immediate burden?
- WALTER FOSTER,
Strawberry Vale P. O.

THE SAANICH BY-LAWS.

Every municipality in British Columbia has suffered reverses in submitting money by-laws to the employers this year. The defeat of the Saanich sewerage by-law was expected, in view of the fact that the members of the Council were not united on the policy, but the surprise of the poll was the rejection of the scheme by the electors of the Cloverdale and Gorge districts, for which it was planned. Under its agreement with the city of Victoria the Council will be compelled to re-submit a sewerage by-law in 1921, and therefore before that time an opportunity will arise to revive the scheme which met defeat by a two to one majority on Saturday.

The water by-law was on quite a different plane. The Council was unanimous, and the electors of Cedar Hill and Gordon Head, who stood to benefit most by the improvement voted by a large majority in its favor. Yet the poll failed by the narrowest margin of the requisite three-fifths majority of the valid votes cast to carry.

A PRACTICAL REMEDY.

We are told that in an interview given by him in Ottawa a few days ago, Sir George Perley, Canadian High Commissioner in London, "strongly counselled Canadian merchants to buy every possible dollar's worth of goods in Great Britain rather than in the United States."

The best way to promote the purchase of British goods by Canadian merchants is to restore the British tariff preference to what it was before Sir George Perley's high protectionist friends whittled it down to futility on the excuse of "war necessity."

There is not much likelihood of Premier Meighen's Government, which has inherited the fiscal policy and frame of mind of the Borden Government, restoring the British preference to the point fixed by the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, much less to the point urged by the United Farmers, whose platform calls for a preference of fifty per cent. as a prelude to free trade within the Empire in five years.

MR. BALLANTYNE HERE.

No doubt long before this newspaper left the press the Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, who reached Victoria this morning, was reminded of the various duties and performances which the Dominion Government owes to this port. One of these, for instance, is the early commencement of work on the new drydock, for which Parliament has made an appropriation in the last two sessions, and which, we have been informed several times, is to begin on September 1. It is generally known, of course, that this particular work falls immediately under the Department of Public Works, of which the Hon. F. B. McCurdy is Minister, but as Mr. Ballantyne also happens to be Minister of Naval Service the drydock project has a special association with Canada's naval activities, and therefore it should be a subject of the Minister's personal concern.

The ocean dock situation is another subject which should be of peculiar interest to Mr. Ballantyne, because he, as Minister of Marine, has charge of the Dominion's programme of ship construction and the development of a Canadian mercantile marine. Port development naturally is an important aspect of that policy, and it is to be hoped the head of the Department of Marine will cooperate with Mr. Reid, the head of the Department of Railways and Canals, in some scheme for the proper utilization of the fine ocean piers constructed by the Government in conjunction with the railway terminals on the former Reserve. Otherwise, both terminals will be left more or less in the air, a condition which will be profitable to neither the Government nor the port of Victoria.

ARCHBISHOP MANNIX.

That eminent British writer and wit, Mr. Gilbert K. Chesterton, claims that the manner in which the Government in London has treated the Mannix affair has been ludicrous to a degree. He reminds the British public that there are approximately one million people in Ireland openly defying the British Government to the point of revolt, in which case he sees no earthly reason why the Archbishop from Australia should be treated to such an undue amount of publicity when his landing in Ireland would have added just one more voice to the odd million. There is a great deal to be said for Mr. Chesterton's contention. If the visiting prelate was not to be allowed to go to Ireland he should not have been permitted to land anywhere in the British Isles; but having gone so far as to let him put the Admiralty to the trouble of dignifying his reception by the dispatch of a flotilla of torpedo boats, he might as well have been taken up the Liffey so that Dublin might give him a real Sinn Fein reception, whatever that sort of a reception might be.

OTHER PAPERS' VIEWS

A COMING BUSINESS MAN. (The Louisville Courier-Journal.) "Half a dozen 'black hens' eggs," said the grocer. "You've got me! I can't tell 'black hens' eggs from any other kind."

A GERMAN COMPLIMENT.

In Princess Blucher's interesting book I read that, towards the end of the war, the Germans took to praising the English. One who did so with extreme cordiality was Baron Von Mutzenbecher, the censor of correspondence at Ruhlleben. He was looking on, one day, at a football match between two barracks teams. It was a very hotly contested match; and at the end of it, the Baron turned to the captain of the camp, who was standing near him, and remarked genially: "When I see the way your fellows play football, I cease to feel any surprise at our failure to beat the contemptible little army."

SINN FEINERS AND THE IRISH HOTELS

Dublin, Aug. 22.—Hotels catering to the tourist trade are receiving letters demanding that they refuse to shelter "enemies" of Ireland. The proprietress of the famous Wooden Bridge Hotel in the Wicklow Mountains has just received such a letter, but refused to recognize the demand unless it bore the stamp of "The Irish Republic."

WATER BY-LAW FAILS MAJORITY REQUIRED BY LAW

Saanich Measure Overwhelmingly Endorsed; New Vote Will Be Taken

When the last return came in from Ward Seven, Saanich, Saturday evening, Reeve Watson learned that the water by-law lacked only nineteen of securing the requisite three-fifths majority, the vote cast being 425 for and 448 against. He stated to The Times that the council would be fully justified in view of the overwhelming endorsement of the measure given in Wards One and Three, those to be directly benefited, in re-submitting the by-law at an early date.

Table with 2 columns: Ward, For, Against. Ward One: 192, 31; Ward Two: 139, 83; Ward Three: 130, 39; Ward Four: 70, 59; Ward Five: 41, 69; Ward Six: 23, 412; Ward Seven: 129, 75.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES TO MEET IN NELSON

Problem of Broadening Basis of Taxation For Schools To Be Debated

Nelson this year has captured a number of the leading Provincial conventions, mining, fraternal and other organizations. This year also, in the month of October, the Union of British Columbia Municipalities is due to hold its meeting, when the subject of school taxation is certainly to be an important theme of discussion. Under the circumstances it is not surprising that the British Columbia Association of School Trustees should desire to put its views before the public immediately afterwards. The annual convention is set for Nelson on October 12, and as an inducement to stimulate attendance is called in the convention circular to the amendment of the School Act this year, which permits the payment of the expenses of delegates, just as the expenses of delegates to the Union meetings are paid by their Councils.

FAMILY MOUNTING

Alderman Patrick Donates $100 To Aid Family of Late Wm. King

The Times fund for the immediate relief of the destitute family of the late William King, who with his daughter, Louise, lost his life in the drowning tragedy at Goldstream, is gradually growing. This morning the fund received an appreciable impetus by the gift of $100 from Alderman Joseph Patrick, which with other donations brings the total of The Times fund to $380.50. It is sincerely hoped that other generous readers will contribute to this fund so that Mrs. King and her tiny children will not have to face destitution in addition to their recent double bereavement and the troubles of the past year.

SAANICH REFUSES TO CONSIDER SEWER PROJECT PRESENTED

Vote of the Ratepayers Apparently Against Large Capital Expenditure

A rejection of the Saanich sewer by-law, which received 258 votes against 708 cast against it on Saturday, occasioned no surprise to those who had followed the campaign.

The Council members were divided upon its merits, and a strong sentiment prevailed adverse to it in the rural wards. However, the astonishing fact was that the two wards, Two and Seven, which it was designed to benefit, both voted against the measure, and only in the rural ward, No. Three, did the measure have anything like a fair break.

The Council will be compelled, under its agreement with the city of Victoria, to re-submit a by-law in 1921 to cover the cost of the connection to the City Northwest Sewer.

Voting by wards on the sewer by-law, to authorize the borrowing of $870,000, was as follows:

Ward	For	Against
Ward One	62	72
Ward Two	82	132
Ward Three	76	65
Ward Four	43	86
Ward Five	11	98
Ward Six	20	124
Ward Seven	64	130
	358	708

CLARENCE OLDFIELD ELECTED TRUSTEE

Saanich Selects By Large Majority Opponent of Extra Subjects In Curriculum

Trustee-elect H. Clarence Oldfield was elected to the vacancy in the Saanich School Board on Saturday by a vote of 416 against 339 cast for David S. Tait.

Mr. Oldfield was the candidate of the Central Ratepayers' Association, who opposed the continuance of extra subjects in the school curriculum, while Mr. Tait was the candidate of the Parent-Teachers' Association and the Women's Institutes, who as a former teacher favored the continuation of these subjects.

Both sides were well organized, and worked hard during the day, the fact that nearly 1,000 votes were cast on an old register being proof of the interest taken. Mr. Tait only carried the ward in which he resides, and that by a narrow majority, while Mr. Oldfield polled astonishingly well throughout the suburban districts, whereas it had been expected he would scarcely break even in them.

The result gives the "anti-frill" party two seats on a board of five members and practically assures a contest next January to secure control of the board by one or other of the two parties.

The poll by wards was as follows:

Ward	Oldfield	Tait
Ward One	53	66
Ward Two	127	68
Ward Three	85	51
Ward Four	82	46
Ward Five	81	12
Ward Six	116	17
Ward Seven	87	79
	616	339

The number of ballots spoiled were 27.

Necessities Committee.

The following statement is made by the Necessities Committee, which handled Mr. Tait's campaign:

The Necessities Committee recognizes the seriousness of our defeat, but we are assured of a great deal of kindred feeling in Saanich to-day. We have had but a brief time to organize, and to overcome the effects of the persistent propaganda of the opposing forces for the last eight months. We have carried on a clean and orderly campaign in which we have endeavored to lay before the public the most approved and modern methods in education.

The value of this, although eclipsed for the moment by other methods, we believe will not be lost.

While trying to explain to ourselves the reason for defeat, we do not believe it has been lack of faith in the necessities, otherwise called "frills." Nor do we believe that the electorate has been blinded by Trustee Holloway's cloud of dust. We do think, however, that the supporters of the water bylaw wanted $20,000 so much that they could not hear to see $5,000 being spent for anything else. There was a distinct and recognized alliance between these two forces, and they succeeded so well in convincing the public that we could not spend $5,000 that sufficient electors saw, therefore, we could not spend $200,000.

The supporters of the water bylaw, in defeating the children's cause, have defeated themselves. It has come as a veritable judgment of the Almighty, that if the child shall not be considered, our crops and fields will spoil and lie waste.

For the present, both strawberry plant and child will have to look forward to desert conditions in Saanich as far as "necessities" are concerned when blossoming into the fruitage of life.

As a committee we still believe in the value of these "necessities" and look forward to the rapidly approaching day when Saanich will enthusiastically change its decree of yesterday.

R. E. COLLIS, Chairman of Committee.
ALFRED E. HALL, Secretary.

Wedding

The marriage of Ethel Mary, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blakey, 1479 Fort Street, to Robert Mabon, only son of R. Mabon, Burdett Avenue, was solemnized by the Rev. Dr. Campbell, at Bredalbane, on Saturday. The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly attired in a navy blue suit, with silk toque to match. Mrs. R. Wallace Whidden, matron of honor, was prettily dressed in an old rose suit with large picture hat. George Mabon attended the groom. The bride's mother was smartly gowned in navy blue silk with black toque trimmed with ostrich feathers. A large number of friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony and afterwards attended the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, where the happy couple received the felicitations of their friends. Following the service of a delicious buffet supper and the cutting of a three-tier wedding cake, which was beautifully surrounded by pink streamers and bows, the evening was spent in singing and dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Mabon left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, where the honeymoon will be spent.

In the presence of an assembly of friends at "Bredalbane," the minister's residence, a pretty wedding took place on Saturday afternoon, when the Rev. Dr. Campbell celebrated the marriage of William Henry Jones and Mrs. Mildred Beatrice Harvey, both of Seattle, the former being a native of England and the latter of St. Paul, Minnesota. The bridegroom was accompanied as best man by Alfred Jones. The bride, who wore a traveling suit with hat to match, was attended as matron of honor by Mrs. Emily Robson. After touring the island Mr. and Mrs. Jones will make their home in Seattle, where they have many friends.

A most enjoyable party was given by Mrs. Geo. Whims and Mrs. R. J. Hood, of Ganges, Salt Spring Island, in honor of Mrs. J. Hudson and Mrs. J. Oldnall, of Victoria, who with their families and B. Alexander are spending their summer holidays on the island. The evening was passed in cards and dancing. A delicious supper was served at midnight, after which the merry company left for their homes, many coming from the farthest parts of Salt Spring Island to attend the merry gathering.

Lieut.-Col. George Randolph Parkes, V.C., is visiting his mother at her home on Cedar Hill Road. This is the first time he has been back to Victoria since he left here as a corporal with the 2nd C.M.R. At the end of the war he took a special military course in England, and when he came to Canada a year ago he was appointed to the Calgary military district.

In honor of her cousin, Mrs. Glade, of Oakland, Cal., Mrs. Chas. E. Rhodes, entertained at luncheon at her residence, Terrace Avenue, on Friday. Her guests included Lady Barnard, Mrs. E. G. Prior, Mrs. R. P. Butchart, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Mrs. G. H. Barnard, Mrs. Little, Mrs. Ambery and Mrs. Hamilton, of Winnipeg.

Mrs. Henry Crane, of Leonard Street, had the misfortune to meet with an accident while holidaying at Crescent Beach, rather badly spraining her ankle, and is at present resting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christie, Shaughnessy Heights, and will return to her home at Victoria when well enough to be moved.

Mrs. F. Allbutt, of this city, with her two daughters, Gladys and Iris, is now in England visiting her parents, and will be returning about Christmas time. The Misses Emily and Joyce Allbutt are on a week's visit to their brother Clifford, at Tacoma, staying at the DeKoven.

Miss Gladstone, of Victoria, daughter of the Rev. T. W. and Mrs. Gladstone of this city, had the honor of planting the Union Jack on Mount Garibaldi on the formal dedication of Garibaldi Park on Friday, August 13. Miss Gladstone is an enthusiastic alpinist and botanist.

Miss Betty Gray, Miss E. M. Pemberton, Miss Nora Jones and Miss Dorothy Gordon are all visiting friends in Vancouver and were among the guests at a dinner dance at the Jericho Country Club on Saturday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Eberts, who left on Thursday for the East, will spend a week at Banff as the guests of Lady Loucheud, after which Mrs. Eberts will return to Victoria, and Dr. Eberts will continue his journey to Montreal.

Mrs. C. S. Cowan and Mrs. Grace Cameron, of this city, were among the out-of-town guests at a delightful tea given by Miss Mary Duff-Stuart at Shaughnessy Heights, Vancouver, on Friday afternoon.

E. M. Tranter, Mrs. Tranter, Dr. H. E. Hall, E. D. Jones, H. Hirst, Mrs. Hirst and Mrs. J. C. Hall, comprise some of the visitors from Calgary now registered at the Dominion Hotel.

Miss Edna Brieuhaupt, of Kitchener, Ontario, came over from Vancouver to-day on a visit to Miss Sara Spencer. She intends leaving on Thursday for a year's travel in Japan and China.

Mrs. E. R. Buckenfield, of Vancouver, is spending the week with Mrs. Wm. D. Carter at Mount Edwards Apartments.

F. N. Miller and Mrs. Miller of Everett, are touring the Georgian circuit and making the Dominion Hotel their quarters.

Mrs. H. W. Gregory and Miss N. G. Gregory, of Fredrickton, N.B., are visiting Victoria and stopping at the Dominion Hotel.

Among the arrivals at the Empress Hotel are Mrs. George Pauling, and

HAVE TRIBAL TOTEM

First Scout Totem Pole Presented To James Bay Lads on Saturday

On Saturday afternoon the first totem pole to be presented to British Columbia Boy Scouts was entrusted to the James Bay Troop and Wolf Cubs, the ceremony taking place in the grounds of Captain and Mrs. Jones-Evans's residence on Michigan Street.

Starting at 3 o'clock the parents and friends of the Scouts arrived in a steady stream, and when the display commenced at 3.30 a large number had assembled. The first item was a very pretty boxing exhibition by Troop Leader Turner and Patrol Leader Jacobs of the James Bay Troop, followed by an excellent athletic display by members of the Troop under Assistant Scoutmaster L. Sykes. Four of the Wolf Cub Pack next gave a smart little signalling display which, after a rather hot two rounds of boxing by younger members of the Troop, was followed by the presentation of the totem pole to the Wolf Cub Pack.

The totem pole was presented to the Pack, on behalf of the donor, by Mrs. E. P. Girdwood, and was received on behalf of the Pack by Pack Leader James Moffitt. The pole itself is a handsome Wolf's head, fashioned in wood, on a pole some five feet high. The large ears constantly remind the Cubs of their two laws, and the double promise which they take upon enrolment, while the glowing eyes remind them that they must have both eyes open, gain both the First and Second Star badges, before they are full grown Wolf Cubs. And eligible to gain badges for the Pack. There are twelve of these badges which may be gained by Cubs, and when one is gained the name of the Cub gaining it is placed on a ribbon and fastened to the pole; thus the pole forms the record of the Pack, just as the Indian totem poles used to form the record of the tribe.

Bridge and five hundred tournaments have been arranged, for which tables may be reserved by telephoning Mrs. Hassell, 5571, or Mrs. Jones, 323. A "The Dances" will be held at five o'clock, and numerous other attractions have been arranged for the entertainment of patrons. The proceeds will be devoted to the War Memorial Fund of the Order.

A married couple were looking into a shop window. A handsome tailor-made dress took the lady's fancy, and she left her husband's side to examine it more closely. Then she went back to where he had been standing and took his arm.

"You never look at anything I want you to look at," she exclaimed. "You don't care how I dress. You don't love me now. Why, you haven't kissed me for three weeks."

"Indeed, I am sorry; it is not my fault, but my misfortune," said the man.

Turning round she looked at him and gave a shriek. She had taken the arm of the wrong man!—Tit-Bits.

A clergyman who had recently taken charge of the parish was warned by a kindly lady that he was making a mistake in assuming in his sermons that the people of St. Stevens were sinners. "When you have been here longer, doctor, you will learn what good people they are."

"Age there no sinners among them, minister," he asked gravely. The reply was unflinching. "At least not among the pewholders."

WILLIAM FAVERSHAM
 NOW PHOTOPLAY STAR

"The Man Who Lost Himself"
 At Royal Theatre This Week

Every man has his double somewhere. They may be thousands of miles apart, but it is quite possible that the long arm of coincidence may some day stretch its length and bring them together.
 Such a case occurs in "The Man Who Lost Himself," a Seznick Picture, starring William Faversham, which will be shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre for six days, beginning to-night.
 When Victor Jones, of Philadelphia, and the Earl of Rochester met in a London hotel, they were exactly alike physically, but in character, in soul, in all that contributes vitally to the make-up of men, they were as far apart as the poles. One was dissolute, thoughtless, a weakling; the other—poor in purse—was rich in character, splendid, courageous.
 The Earl saw in Jones an easy escape from the accumulation of entanglements—marital, financial, and social—that were making life unbearable for him. So it happened that Jones was Jones one night, and the next morning he was the Earl of Rochester, with all of the Earl's relatives to face and all of the Earl's troubles to conquer.

How he mastered one situation after another, how he drove swindlers and blackmailers to rout and removed the spots from the Earl's sullied reputation, makes what is described as one of the most remarkable photoplays—romantic, amusing, dramatic—ever presented.

The story was written by the popular novelist, H. de Vere Stacpoole, and pictured under the direction of George D. Baker.

"The Man Who Lost Himself" points a moral—always be a better man than your double. The two of you may never meet, but if you do, and there's trouble in the wind, the man with the greater strength of character will win out. So be better—be as good as you can. It's worth while.

 JIMMY VALENTINE

Paul Armstrong's Famous
 Crook Play To Be At Dominion

So consummately skilful an actor is Bert Lytell that with each successive appearance there is necessary in the spectator's mind a process of readjustment. One says to himself, "He's not at all like his last self, but it must be Bert Lytell, for the title in the pictures says so."

Which is all by way of saying that in "Alias Jimmy Valentine," Metro's screen version of the famous Paul Armstrong crook play, which is as well-known as the movies themselves, Mr. Lytell has a role utterly different from either his characters in "Lombard, Ltd." or in "The Right of Way," and he enacts the popular part of Jimmy with such extraordinary cleverness that one never stops to think that it is acting at all. Probably many have seen the play done on the stage; and no doubt many of the throng that is sure to crowd that motion picture playhouse throughout the run of "Alias Jimmy Valentine" at the Dominion are in a measure familiar with the story.

The photoplay starts with Jimmy Valentine a prisoner in Sing Sing on a charge of burglary, who has earned the enmity of the warden there by his refusal to acknowledge that he can open safes without burglar's tools, and because too Jimmy has always "played the gentleman." Immediately upon the prisoner's release, which is effected through influence brought about by a girl's interest in him, the young and, as the newspapers would put it, alleged crackman, finds himself dogged by Detective Doyle, who threatens to bring fresh evidence against Jimmy unless he gives a clue to the whereabouts of a pal of his, Jimmy's refusal, and being offered a chance to make a fresh start in another and distant city, eludes the plain-clothes man. What follows after this forms one of the most engrossing stories of the underworld and love and mental quickness ever conceived. One might imagine this for the play itself was based upon a short story by that American genius, O. Henry.

Mildred Harris was chosen to star in a "Universal" production. She was never on the stage, and the speaking medium had nothing to do with molding Miss Harris for pictures.
 The story of "Forbidden" smacks of the old myth of Pandora who opposed the forbidden box and let loose all the troubles of the world. In the photoplay Mildred Harris has the role of Maddie Irwin, a simple country girl. She meets a young city man, surfeited with the emptiness of metropolitan life and marries him. They live in the country, much to the girl's disappointment. Finally her longing becomes so strong that in order to satisfy the girl her husband takes her to the city in an attempt to sicken her of the life there. The result almost ends in disaster, but the telling of the story makes one of the most interesting photoplays of Miss Harris's career. Henry Woodward plays opposite the star, and Fred Goodwin is in the supporting cast. "Forbidden" will be shown at the Variety Theatre to-day.

Conway Tearle, according to the press agent's announcement, has been taken on by Jack Dempsey as a sparring partner at the champion's New York training quarters. Conway is playing the leading role in an R. A. Walsh production for Mayflower, but manages to steal away twice a week for a bout with Jack in the old days, while in England. Tearle was a professional boxer, but until recently he has kept this fact a dark secret.

MILDRED HARRIS STARRED AT VARIETY

Old Theme of Restfulness In Country Strikingly Portrayed By Star

A gripping story of a country girl who longed for the gay life and white lights of the city, and a man who was tired of them all and craved the peaceful life of the countryside, is told in "Forbidden," the latest Universal Jewel production, in which Mrs. Charlie Chaplin (Mildred Harris) has the leading role.

The story itself was written by E. V. Durling, put in scenario by Lois Weber, one of the foremost women producers in the country, and was directed by Lois Weber and her husband, Phillips Smalley.

Miss Weber is a sort of a fairy godmother to many of the screen's most popular favorites, among whom is Mildred Harris. Miss Weber was attracted by the girl's beauty. She saw the immense possibilities of her talent for acting during some of the smaller pictures in which the girl had taken parts. The result was that

ROBBERY IS THEME

Columbia Offers Unrivalled Spectacle; Charlie Chaplin Feature

One of the most remarkable settings ever conceived for use in a motion picture was used in "The Great Air Robbery," the epochal Universal photodrama, the feature of the big double bill at the Columbia Theatre this week.

A United State Aerial postoffice building was constructed on the Universal City flying field from specifications now being considered by the government. The building was outlined in brilliant incandescent lights. A battery of searchlights played from the roof and the entire field was illuminated by arc-lights and flares.

The squadron of aeroplanes used in the remarkable photodrama took-off from the field in the glare of colored lights given off by long-burning flares attached to their frame-work. As they soared for altitude over the shadowy bulk of the Hollywood mountains they suggested nothing so much as a Mardi Gras of giant fire-flies.

The exact landing spot was marked on the field by an unusual device. Imagine, if you will, four immense man-holes with a cross piece connecting the four circles. Then imagine these four holes and the cross piece connecting, illuminated by gigantic arc lights placed in four deep pits in the ground. That was the unique night landing guide constructed on the Universal flying field for Lieutenant O. L. Locklear and the players who supported him in "The Great Air Robbery."

Charlie Chaplin in his latest picture, "A Day's Pleasure," will be the added attraction at the Columbia Theatre, commencing to-day. This is Chaplin's fourth million-dollar production from his own studios and made for distribution by the First National Exhibitors' Circuit.

At advance showings this comedy angle devised by Chaplin has never failed to shake the most non-laughable person into the heartiest gale of laughter.

The best points of Chaplin's many pictures serve as his guiding basis for the production of this picture. Although not sacrificing a laugh, he has confined this production to strictly legitimate comedy and I can candidly say that it is the cleanest comedy that has ever been brought before the public.

The most suave villain on the screen, is the verdict on Ray Watson, the actor who plays the part of Paul Horton, the deceitful lawyer, in "Elmo, the Fearless," the new aerial attraction at the Columbia Theatre, and in which Elmo Lincoln, the strongest man in moving pictures, is starred.

Watson brings to the serial the experience of many years. He has been billed in every theatre from Bangor, Me. to Tampa, Florida, in such old stage favorites as "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," "In Missouri," "Piney Ride," and "The Usurper."

Immediately upon the completion of her latest production, "The Broadway Bubble," Corina Griffith left for Galveston, Texas, where she will spend about three weeks to get rested up for her next picture. Miss Griffith is a southern girl, and never saw snow until a couple of years ago.

"OUT YONDER" IS SEA
TALE OF MYSTERY

Production at Pantages Theatre Presents Olive Thomas In Big Drama

When Olive Thomas is seen at Pantages Theatre to-day and to-morrow in her new Selznick Picture, "Out Yonder," local fans will see the dainty artist in a role which is in striking contrast to anything she has done before.

As the daughter of a lighthouse keeper on a lonely reef "somewhere in the Atlantic," Miss Thomas is called upon to display her versatility and dramatic talents in a most impressive and unusual way.

The play tells of the love of Edward Eimer, a wealthy society man, for "Flotsam," a little waif of the sea, whom he has met by chance. Flotsam returns his love but many obstacles must be overcome before the two win ultimate happiness.

"Out Yonder" is said to be replete with colorful atmosphere and thrilling situations. There is a death-struggle in the lighthouse which, by sheer realism, holds its audience spell-bound. This is said to be one of the most realistic scenes that the master hand of Director Ralph Ince has yet brought into being.

Pauline Phelps and Marion Short are responsible for the screen version of "Out Yonder" and it is believed that they have created a vehicle in every way worthy of the superb art of Olive Thomas.

In making "Out Yonder," Olive Thomas' fourth Selznick picture, that popular star and her director, Ralph Ince, converted the Selznick studios into a storm-swept area, creating a number of highly realistic rainstorms for the scene. They were made to represent the elements at their worst in a bleak New England seacoast town, and nothing was omitted to make the effect as stormy and natural as possible. Wind and rain making machines were everywhere.

Director Ralph Ince was overjoyed at the realism of the effects. The studio were a wreck when finally the scene was ended, but the results merited the efforts and expense.

"LINGER LONGER LETTY" NEXT WEEK

Charlotte Greenwood Will Be Attraction Here For Two Days

Charlotte Greenwood will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre Monday and Tuesday, August 30 and 31 in Oliver Morosco's latest musical comedy, "Linger Longer Letty."

The fair Charlotte, who was last seen here in the famous song and dance show, "So Long, Letty," comes direct from the Fulton Theatre, New York, where the new show was proclaimed superior to the former big success.

The book, by Anna Nichols, who has written many successful comedies, has to do with the trials and tribulations of Letty, who, Cinderella-like, has been made the drudge of her five ambitious sisters until she finally rebels, goes on a strike and starts on a special campaign of her own with side-splitting results.

The music, by Alfred Goodman, is of the whistley kind, and includes several genuine song hits, among which may be mentioned—"Linger Longer Letty," "Ladder of Love," "The Twentieth Century Lullaby," "My Lady Fair," "My Little Highland Highball," and the juiciest of all jazz songs, "Slowtown is Jazz Town Now."

The cast, headed by Miss Greenwood, is composed of musical comedy favorites, including Chas. P. Morrison, Robert Higgins, Olga Roloff, J. Arthur Ryan, Valerie True, George Sweet, Curtie Engler, Frances Bendsten and Faith Belmont, while the chorus is of the Broadway variety, who display numerous gorgeous gowns to the greatest advantage. Mr. Kingston, Ont.

Morosco has furnished a production of beauty.

TOURNEUR SIGNS MCINTYRE

Maurice Tourneur has signed Robert B. McIntyre to manage his coast studio. McIntyre arrived in the West last week and promptly took charge. He has had a wide experience in theatrical and film circles, having been associated with William A. Brady in both stage and screen activities. He was with Goldwyn for the past year as production manager of the eastern plant. Tourneur is engaged in producing "The Last of the Mohicans" for early Fall release on the new Associated Producers' schedule. He is now organizing the Tourneur studio along the lines that he learned and used while connected with the larger organizations, and is fast getting things into ship-shape order.

The coachdrivers of a certain American resort near which there are some boiling springs, are bothered considerably by the foolish questions asked by their passengers, and after answer sarcastically. Once a lady tourist, who seemed deeply interested in the hot springs inquired: "Driver, do these springs freeze over in winter?" "Oh, yes, yes. A lady was sitting here last winter and broke through and got her foot scalded."

The discovery of a skull protruding from a marsh at Markinch, Firth of Forth, Scotland, led to the unearthing of a tomb of a man named Arnot, aged 80, who had been missing for nine months.
