

PRESIDENT MAKES GAIN IN BATTLE AGAINST PNEUMONIA

HARDING HAS FAIRLY COMFORTABLE NIGHT AND FEELS STRONGER

Attending Physicians, After Consultation Lasting For Nearly Two Hours, Issue Bulletin In Which They Indicate Progress In Patient's Fight For Life, But He Is Not Yet Out Of Danger

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 31.—President Harding is markedly better, it was officially announced at 10 o'clock this morning, by five physicians who are attending him. There has been no extension of the pneumonic condition which gave the doctors so much concern last night. It was this pneumonic condition and the fear that today would see it spreading, which caused the physicians to pronounce the president's condition to be grave.

The fact that it has now been successfully combated for twenty-four hours made them plainly optimistic concerning the whole case today. The president's heart action was also greatly improved today. He felt less exhausted and there was an appreciable drop in his temperature since the last bulletin issued at 10 o'clock last night. His pulse had slackened, too, and on the whole, the general improvement over night was so marked that last night's deep gloom gave way to a more cheerful atmosphere around the presidential suite.

At noon it was learned that President Harding was sitting up in bed and reading with enjoyment the papers which had been brought to his room earlier in the day. The news that the president was sitting up was greatly cheering to his friends.

Admiral Hugh Rodman, U. S. N., leaving the presidential suite at 12:25 p. m., after calling to pay his respects to members of the party, said that he had found optimism reigning. He was given to understand, he said, that the president's condition this afternoon was even more favorable than when the 10 a. m. official bulletin was issued.

The official bulletin issued at 10 a. m. today was as follows: "The president had a fairly comfortable night with considerable restful sleep. His temperature at 9 a. m. was 100; pulse 120, respiration 40 and regular. There has been no extension of the pneumonic area and the heart action is definitely improved. Nourishment and fluids are being taken regularly. He expresses himself as feeling better and less exhausted.

Signed—"C. E. Sawyer, Ray Lyman Wilbur, C. M. Cooper, J. T. Boone, Hubert Work." The physicians would make no comment outside of the brief bulletin. This in itself, they said, told the story. They were greatly gratified over the general improvement in Mr. Harding's condition, the decreased temperature and pulse action, the improvement in the heart action and the decrease in exhaustion, but it was the decrease of the pneumonia patches in the right lung that pleased them most. Dr. Sawyer summed up the situation when he said:

"I feel I am justified in saying we feel we have reached clearer sailing." Satisfaction was also found in the fact that Mr. Harding is now taking some nourishment regularly and retaining it. This will do much to remedy his extreme weakness, which has been considered a dangerous factor in his condition at the start. The weakness and exhaustion were primarily induced by the general fatigue of the arduous trip, and the continuous flushing with purgatives administered in order to rid his system of the poisonous matter left by the ptomaine attack. The principal task of the doctors, now, it was said, is to build up the president's strength and at the same time prevent the further spread of the pneumonic area in the lung. And the stronger he becomes the more resistive power he will have to combat the pneumonic condition.

President Harding showed marked improvement after the most restful night he has had since his illness began four days ago. Dr. Charles Sawyer, his physician, was smiling when he emerged from the president's suite in the Palace hotel at 8 o'clock. He was obviously optimistic and gratified by the president's condition.

PRESIDENT HAS RESTFUL NIGHT "I am glad to be able to announce," said Dr. Sawyer, "that the president has had, comparatively speaking, the best night and the most restful night he has had since his illness. This augurs well. I believe that conditions warrant my saying that apparently we have reached slightly clearer sailing."

The good night's rest which Mr. Harding obtained resulted in an atmosphere of optimism that pervaded the entire eighth floor of the hotel, where heavy-eyed reporters and secret service men had held vigil all night. Dr. Sawyer's brief announcement made after a cursory examination of Mr. Harding between 7 and 8 o'clock, shattered a good deal of the gloom that stalked the corridors of the Palace hotel all night after the discovery that the president was suffering from bronchial-pneumonia. The president's condition is still grave, but the fact that he succeeded in sleeping six consecutive hours, and that he felt better this morning, were taken on all sides, and particularly by the doctors, as "auguring well" as Dr. Sawyer phrased it.

Foreign Policy Speech May Be Put Into Print

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—President Harding's speech on foreign relations, which had been scheduled for delivery by the chief executive in the auditorium tonight, probably will be published in the form of an official statement of administration policy, it was said here today. The speech has been prepared for some days, and is understood to be a comprehensive review of the administration's foreign policy from 1921 on to the present world court program. Whether the speech should or should not be published as a statement has been undecided, it was learned today, was the subject of keen political dispute among some of the president's assistants and California politicians. Those who favor its publication do so on the grounds that it is an important statement of foreign policy. There are others, however, who feel it will be inadvisable to publish an appeal in the home state of Hiram Johnson—the court's implacable foe. Some prominent Californians have advised against it from the start.

BALDWIN TO RECONVENE COMMONS

British May Make Separate Pact With Germany on Reparation Issue

By DAVID M. CHURCH For International News Service LONDON, July 31.—After presiding at a long cabinet meeting when the Franco-Belgian replies to the British reparations note was discussed, Premier Stanley Baldwin announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that resolutions have been made to reconvene parliament as the Ruhr situation demands such action. It was intimated that Great Britain might enter into separate negotiations with Germany. It is obvious that officials are taking more serious views of the reparations issue since the receipt of the French and Belgian notes last night.

Favors Discussion Premier Baldwin was understood to favor a discussion of the reparations problem with France and the making of an immediate British reply to the French reparations note. The pro-French element in the cabinet is strong and is attempting to force a continuance of the diplomatic conversations.

The Italian reply to the British reparations note is also under scrutiny. France refuses to yield to Great Britain's suggestion on the Ruhr, although it is understood the French note leaves the door open to further negotiations. France contends that Germany must cease passive resistance and that French troops must not be molested. Adjournment was at 1:45 o'clock after a session of two and one-half hours. No statement was issued.

Harding Reads Details About Fight For Life

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Once a newspaper man always a newspaper man! President Harding is an example of this declaration. Despite his serious illness, the president, formerly a country publisher, one understanding the business of issuing a newspaper from front office to back, this morning sat up in bed and demanded the San Francisco morning newspapers. And being a newspaper man, as well as the president, he got them. After his valet attended him, the president sent out for the morning papers, shortly after 7 o'clock, and, propped up by a pair of pillows, he read with interest the gloomy account of his illness as they appeared here. The news of his last night's condition was conveyed to him in double decked headlines of large type, strung across eight columns. "President Has Pneumonia, His Condition Grave," said one. "Harding's Condition Serious," said another. And, down the center of the pages ran in heavy blackface type the story of last night. If Mr. Harding had any comment on the news he must have withheld it.

ARCHITECT IS CHOSEN FOR BUILDING OF NEW HOTEL

Alfred F. Priest Will Have Charge of Construction, Directors Decide

ALFRED F. PRIEST, prominent architect and resident of Glendale, has been selected to prepare the plans and specifications for the $500,000 hotel to be erected at the northwest corner of Brand boulevard and California avenue, is the announcement made by J. B. Burn, secretary of the Glendale Hotel Company, who will own and operate the hotel. Mr. Priest will in addition supervise construction of the building, which will be started within twenty days, or as soon as plans are completed. It was decided at last night's meeting of the board of directors of the Glendale Hotel company.

Directors Meet The meeting was held at 7:30 o'clock, at the company's offices, 16 South Brand boulevard, with the following directors present: E. H. Parker, Mattison B. Jones, J. A. Endicott, D. H. Smith, H. C. Jensen and J. B. Burn. R. F. Kitterman, now on an eastern vacation trip, was the only director absent from last night's meeting. The hotel is to be of the H type, four or five stories high, with a half basement, of Class A or Class construction, brick and stucco exterior, with wings about forty to five wide, joined by twenty or so of wood, and to be erected upon lots 37 and 38 of the Glendale (Continued on page 4)

10 Killed, 70 Hurt, in German Train Wreck

BERLIN, July 31.—Thirty persons were killed and many injured when a Hamburg-Munich express was wrecked near Krefeld today. Later advices from the scene put the seriously injured at seventy. The train was proceeding towards Munich when it crashed into a suburban train. All the dead and injured were of the suburban train, the last three cars of which were demolished. It was reported the engineer of the express ran by a "stop" signal, where were some Americans on board the express. Some of the injured were reported to have died, bringing the death list to 10.

Harding's Secretary To Address Templars

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—It was learned this afternoon that George Christian, secretary to President Harding, will leave tomorrow for Los Angeles to deliver Thursday afternoon before a gathering of Knights Templar, an address which had been prepared for the occasion by President Harding. The decision of the president's secretary to leave San Francisco was taken to indicate how favorably President Harding's condition is regarded this afternoon among his intimates.

New Rates Will Save Livestock Commission

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Producers and shippers patronizing the federal controlled livestock markets at Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City and St. Paul will have approximately $750,000 a year through new commission rates to be put into effect by the packers and stockyards administration, the department of agriculture announced today.

THREE SLAIN WHEN TRAIN HITS CAR

Three More Probably Fatally Hurt When Auto Stalls In Flyer's Path

PUEBLO, Colo., July 31.—When his auto stalled directly in the path of the Denver & Rio Grande passenger train No. 2, west of this city J. B. McDonough was probably fatally injured, his wife, Mrs. J. B. Donough, and daughter, Julia, 17, were instantly killed, and Dorothy Dean, aged 4, so badly hurt that she died three hours later at a hospital. Jackie McDonough, a son, aged 6, and Mary, 9, are suffering from critical injuries and are not expected to live. The automobile was carried a distance of 1,800 feet by the fast moving passenger train.

Beaten by Bandits In Presence of Wife

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 31.—Failing to respond quickly to the command of bandits to "stick 'em up," L. O. Thomason, who was riding in his automobile early today with his wife near Rosecrans street and McKinley avenue was struck over the head with a revolver and rendered unconscious by two armed highway-men. White Thomason was unconscious the bandits robbed him of several dollars, after which they escaped, warning Thomason's wife not to try and pursue them.

Underwood Willing To Run for President

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 31.—With President Harding's possible opponent in the next presidential election, seriously ill on the western coast, Senator W. Underwood, the "south's hope for president" today formally announced before the Alabama legislature, that he will, if nominated, accept the candidacy for the 1924 presidential election.

EDITOR ENDS LIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Thomas E. Flynn, 60, former publisher and editor of The Washt, a San Francisco periodical, shot and killed himself yesterday in the locker room of the Olympic club. He left a note saying that illness was the cause of his act.

LADY HUNTS FOR MAYOR ROBINSON

She Searches for City Executive Only to Fall In Police Hands

The honor of being the first guest in the new "municipal hotel" in the city hall was claimed yesterday by Lady, chief dog of Mayor Spencer Robinson. In order to confer with Mr. Robinson on some weighty matter of dogdom—probably about "the canine ordinance"—Lady called at his office at 612 East Broadway about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Failing to find him there, she made her way across the street to the city hall. Lady was invited into the "hotel lobby" by Detectives W. J. Royle and J. H. Simmons to wait for the commencement of last night's council meeting in order that she might present her grievance in person. Mayor Robinson, who arrived on the scene about 5 o'clock, maintained that her place was home with her family. Other members of the City Council agree that it's mighty hard to find the mayor of the fastest growing city in America, sometimes. However, they think it is heck when even his own dogs can't find him.

Ex-Captain Heath to Charge Invisible Rule

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—Charges tending to indicate that the Chief of Police Oaks does not entirely command the police department, but that an "invisible government" is behind the force was presented today. The charges will be made tomorrow by R. L. Heath, captain dismissed by Chief Oaks last Saturday. Reports were current today that when Captain Heath's charges are made, his friends will prove that the force is dominated by power outside of Chief Oaks and Mayor Cryer. Disregarding the reports Chief Oaks today was reported to have under "investigation," a sergeant of police and a patrolman.

SET FIRE TO ASSAILANT OF WOMAN

Mob Pursues Second Suspect in Axe Attack After Dash for Freedom

YAZOO CITY, Miss., July 31.—After burning one negro to death, a mob of more than 100 men today was scouring the woods near here for another who is believed doomed to a similar fate, according to reports reaching here. The men are charged with attacking with an axe Mrs. Wm. Russell, wife of a prominent citizen. Reports reaching here have been vague. The mob was said to have found the victims in the thick woodlands near Myrtleville, Miss. The two negroes were burning bloody clothing. According to the reports, Menifee was burned immediately by the mob, while his companion, Buster Demus, was forced to witness the punishment. Then, with the noose already around his neck, Demus was said to have exerted almost superhuman efforts, freeing himself of the rope and dashing into the thicket to freedom. Search immediately was started for Demus. Mrs. Russell was brought to a hospital here, where she has been near death since the attack. Physicians said today she had very slight chances of recovery. Neighbors of the woman declared no attempt was made at criminal assault and the motive of the attack was unknown.

Girl Violinist Dead In Automobile Crash

SEATTLE, Wash., July 31.—Miss Helen Bebb, 17, well known Seattle violinist is dead, and Ralph Engberg, 18, is in the hospital suffering from probable internal injuries as the result of an automobile accident last night when the car in which they were riding crashed into another, skidded and overturned, pinning the occupants beneath it. R. C. Ragon and his wife, occupants of the other car, were uninjured. Miss Bebb was being driven to the home of Madame Davenport Engberg, director of the Seattle Civic Symphony Orchestra, where she was to display her talent before a select musical gathering, when the accident occurred.

Summer Luncheon
Mrs. H. C. Nicholas of 337 West Wilson avenue, was hostess Friday at a summer luncheon to the members of the L. F. F. club.

Bouquets of flowers carried out a floral color scheme in pink and white. The luncheon table appointments were also carried out in the same tints.

During the afternoon Mrs. Nicholas was presented by the members of the club with a beautiful silver sandwich and check tray as a birthday gift in the celebration of her birthday, which occurred during the early part of July.

Those present were Mesdames, Tucker, Hewitt, Priddy Reynolds, Mackenzie, Miller, Griffin, Osterholt, Smoot, Arlingst and Scalfie.

High Tea Sunday
Mrs. Charles A. Parker of 212 North Orange street was hostess Sunday afternoon at high tea, entertaining as guests a group of former residents of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada. She was assisted by her daughter Winifred.

Guests were Mrs. Emma Rubles, Miss McDougall, Cleland Rubles, Mrs. Wade, Miss Gertie Wade, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Meadows and Mrs. Mary E. Cowan.

A happy feature of the affair was that it marked Mrs. Parker's birthday.

Entertain Board
Tuesday Afternoon Club board members enjoy a beach outing Saturday, when they will motor to Hermosa Beach to be the guests of Mrs. John C. Dunn and Mrs. A. P. Findlay.

One of the features of the club board is the informal sociability enjoyed by the officers, and the day at the beach on Saturday promises to be a most delightful event.

Postpone Meeting
The regular meeting of the Women's Bible class of the Tropic Presbyterian church, which was to have been held Friday, August 3, has been indefinitely postponed on account of so many of the members of the class being away on vacations.

E. G. Warren Is Back From Big Bear Lake
E. G. Warren, whose real estate office is at 300 1/2 South Brand boulevard, returned yesterday from an eight-day outing to Big Bear lake. He reports a most enjoyable trip, stating that fully 12,000 motorists and camping parties were scattered around the lake, which is booming as never before.

With Mr. Warren went Mrs. Warren and their son, Dwayne R. Warren. They left Glendale Saturday, July 21, returning Monday, July 30. Carter's camp was their headquarters while at Big Bear, where they had a cabin and enjoyed hiking, fishing, and had a thorough rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sanders and daughter Ethel of 1320 North Brand boulevard returned to their home Sunday night, after having spent a delightful vacation at Big Bear lake.

Local Elks Receive Five New Members
There were 150 Elks out for the regular lodge meeting last night at the clubhouse on East Colorado street. The big feature was the initiatory work directed by Exalted Ruler James A. Appfel and other officers of the local lodge.

Five new members were initiated: Harry E. Bus and C. W. Flanders of Glendale, W. R. Denman of Eagle Rock, John Johnston of San Fernando, and Sidney A. Taylor for the lodge in Lubbock, Tex.

A vaudeville entertainment followed the lodge meeting.

Russians Seek Way Into United States
VANCOUVER, B. C., July 31.—One hundred and three Russians, arriving here yesterday on the Empress from Asia are today awaiting word as to whether they will be permitted to enter the United States under the August Immigration quota or be compelled to return to Shanghai.

'Hookey' Addicts See Liberty Now In Peril
COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 31.—Playing "hookey" is going to be in big form for Putnam county boys this year.

David Reese of Vaughnsville was county trustee officer last year, at a salary of $1,000. He was willing to take the job again at the same pay.

Grove cut in with an offer to take the job at $600 a year.

Herman Reid of Leipsic next caught the fever and offered to do the work for $440.

But when it looked like the board was about to accept Reid, Goodwin came to bat with an offer to serve for $390. There the matter rested.

Putnam county kids are fearful of the county gets a trust officer whose only pay will be the fun of chasing them around to make sure they attend school.

Conscience Stricken, Pays Up Forged Check
COLUSA, July 31.—"I was homesick and didn't have money enough to pay my carfare home. I forged a check on C. H. Merrill for $75 and left for the east. I'm sorry I did such a thing and I'm sending the money to you to straighten it out for me."

This letter, with the $75 enclosed, came to Rev. Father Vaughan from a conscience-stricken young man in Philadelphia, who was employed by C. H. Merrill in Colusa in 1915. Father Vaughan straightened it out for him.

MAYOR DECLARES PUBLIC HOLIDAY

Local Business Houses Are Asked to Close for Merchants' Picnic

Mayor Spencer Robinson's action in issuing an official proclamation asking that the business men of Glendale close their places of business on Wednesday, August 15, is regarded as putting the finishing touch to the success of the annual picnic of the Glendale Merchants' association, which is to be held on that date, and all the members of the association will accede to the mayor's request. A committee consisting of M. M. Butts, City Manager W. H. Reeves and F. C. Butler was appointed at the weekly meeting in the Citizens' building yesterday, to call on the managers of the main stores in Glendale to ask them to close on the day of the picnic.

Among the high lights of the picnic will be a ball game between merchants of the east and west sides of Glendale, and managers, captains and players will be selected within the next day or two. The program that is being prepared already includes close to thirty events to be staged at the Haddock-Nibley Verdugo park, and this number will be increased until the program embraces at least fifty numbers. Anyone who wishes to have a special stunt included on the program can have it included by taking the matter up a once with secretary Frank Pilling at his office in the Citizens' building.

Secure Elks Band
The Elks band, which has been playing at the Friday night concerts at the Glendale Union High school grounds, has been secured for the picnic, through the courtesy of the city officials, and will under a specially selected program at the park.

The guests at the picnic are expected to bring their own dinners, but for those who are unable to do so, there will be abundant opportunities to purchase lunches at the various concessions that have been granted for the occasion.

Following the resignation of Archie Parker, of the Quality recovery, and William Moore, who recently disposed of his interest in the Irish Lincen store as trustees, two new trustees were chosen yesterday. These are Charles A. Stuart, of the Glendale Pharmacy, and Olaf W. Andresen, auditor of the J. A. Newton Electric company.

W. R. Brown, manager of the Glendale Manufacturing company, and Omar S. Goetz, of the Home recovery company, 1303 North Central, were admitted to membership in the association.

Third Grandson for Mrs. Ella Richardson

Mrs. Ella Richardson of 317 North Brand boulevard is going to have to add one more chair to her "family row" she purchased in the auditorium of the new Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, for a new member has been added to the Richardson clan.

He is the new son of Mr. and Mrs. Shivers Mitchell of King City, and he arrived yesterday morning, Monday, July 30, 1923, and is the third grandson of Mrs. Richardson.

Mrs. Richardson, who has been spending the past week in King City at her daughter's home, was present to greet the new son and was accompanied by her two-year-old grandson, Fergie Mitchell, left for Glendale, arriving this morning.

When questioned as to the name of the new arrival Mrs. Richardson said the family was in a quandary as to what to name him. The "big" brother, Fergie favors Jack, so it is possible that Jack it will be, and this will honor "Uncle John" or "Johnnie" Richardson, who is home from the University of Virginia, visiting his mother on North Brand boulevard.

BIDS ON FURNITURE

Bids for the privilege of supplying the local grammar school system with additional furniture for its new additions will be received tonight at the regular meeting of the board of education.

Establishment of a municipal playground in one district of St. Louis caused a decrease of 75 per cent in the number of juvenile court cases.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

"The Town That Forgot God," now showing at the Glendale Theatre, is a William Fox production, directed by Harry Millarde, who made "Over the Hill."

It is a story not of a great city but of a small town, a little village of one main street, a church, a school, a postoffice and general store, where congregate the types common to small towns the country over.

Here in this town the ten commandments are broken every day and the golden rule every hour. Here one finds Evil in his eternal conflict with Good, together with all his hateful spawn—avarice, hypocrisy, greed, hate, envy, jealousy, vanity, suspicion—together with their resultant brew, confusion and defeat.

In this background is placed as surpassing a story as "Over the Hill."

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The Glendale Merchants' association has perfected its plans to hold its annual picnic on Wednesday, August 15, 1923, and

WHEREAS, It is fitting that the men composing the commercial element of our progressive city should meet together for social relaxation and enjoyment, in order to cement more firmly the bonds that bind them together and to cultivate those friendly relations, one with another, that have helped to make Glendale the Fastest Growing City in America.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Spencer Robinson, Mayor of The City of Glendale, do hereby proclaim

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1923, a general holiday in Glendale and I do earnestly request that as many of the Glendale stores and places of business as can consistently do so, without detriment to their business, close their establishments on that day and assemble at Verdugo park to share in the picnic of the Glendale Merchants' association.

Given under my hand, this 30th day of July, A. D., 1923.

KNIGHTS TO HOLD BIG GATHERING

Templar Demonstration to Be Held Thursday in Hollywood Bowl

The big Knights Templar gathering planned to honor President Harding on Thursday afternoon, August 2, in the Hollywood Bowl, will not be postponed, but will be carried out as announced and the president will be represented by his secretary, George B. Christian, Jr. This message was given out to Glendale Knights Templar this morning by O. E. Von Oven, prelate of Glendale Commandery 53.

Led by Dr. Roy V. Hogue, commander, the Glendale Knights, in full uniform, will assemble at 1:30 o'clock at the Masonic temple, where the big parade will be formed at 3 o'clock.

Big Ceremonial
At 4 o'clock the big ceremonial will take place in the bowl, where the International Traveling Beausant will be presented by Marion, Ohio, commandery No. 36 to Hollywood Commandery No. 56.

Many thousands of Masons and relatives and friends will be gathered for the event. There will be 300 seats reserved for Glendale Knights and relatives and friends.

According to Mr. Von Oven, the Marion, Ohio, commander and escort, with the beausant, arrived in Los Angeles last night and final plans are being made for the ceremonial.

POSTOFFICE GIVEN O. K. BY BANKER

Pacific Southwest Official Indorses Opening of East Side Branch

The action of Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson in opening a contract postoffice on the east side of Glendale has received the following commendation from Herman Nelson, manager of the Glendale Avenue branch of the Glendale South West Trust & Savings bank: Mr. D. Ripley Jackson, Postmaster, Glendale, Calif. July 28, 1923

Dear Mr. Jackson: I wish to express to you my appreciation of your efforts in obtaining for East Glendale a contract postoffice.

I consider this a very happy solution of the postal service for this section at this time, and personally I feel that we have been especially favored through this arrangement and your efforts in this connection.

I was also very pleased to see the report on the extended carrier service which will be given to the people in the various parts of the city, all of which I know required considerable effort on your part.

Yours very truly, HERMAN NELSON.

Church Nine Beats Standard Oil Team

Last night's game of the Twilight League baseball series was won by the Methodist-Episcopal church nine from the Standard Oil delegation on a forfeit.

Tonight, at 7:30 o'clock, on the Glendale Union high school grounds, the Newton Electric and Christian church teams clash. On Thursday night the contest is between the American Legion and City Employees nine.

And on Friday night the Postoffice and Night School teams meet, in the final game of the series.

The City Employees and Night Schools are at present tied for first place, each having won six out of their seven games. Should both win this week's contests, there will be a playoff next week, to determine the winner.

A new series will start soon, with many of the former entries coming in, states R. Ernest Tucker, executive secretary of Community Service, under whose auspices the games are being played. Outfits wishing to enter the league should communicate with Mr. Tucker at once, at 150 South Brand boulevard, phone Glendale 3070.

DOCTORS IN BATTLE TO SAVE EXECUTIVE'S LIFE

Oxygen Tanks Are Lined Up In Presidential Suite for Emergency Use; Patient's Condition Is Declared 'Grave'

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Everything is in readiness here today for a battle to save the life of President Harding. The president's condition is grave. Pneumonia, the dread foe of all physicians where a patient's powers of resistance have been diminished, has developed in the president's right lung and this is considered the most alarming single factor in his case. A very great deal depends, his physicians said today, upon whether this inflammatory condition of the lung can be held in check. It is the pneumonic condition and not the abdominal symptoms resulting from ptomaine poisoning that held the attention of physicians throughout the night, on the eighth floor of the Palace hotel. Oxygen tanks were lined up in the presidential suite this morning for emergency use. The placing of these life-saving tanks in readiness is significant of the fears of the doctors.

The pneumonic symptoms appeared in the last twenty-four hours. They were not there at 11 o'clock Monday, the official bulletin signed by the five attending physicians stating: "There are no peritoneal symptoms; the lungs are clear." The slight congestion of one lung was noticeable to the experienced eyes of the doctors seven hours later, and early this morning the x-ray plates disclosed definitely the feared patches. It was then the oxygen tanks were moved in.

Needs Strength

The physicians are vitally concerned today with building up the president's shattered strength for a fight against this pneumonic infection and they found considerable satisfaction in the fact that the president during the long night was able to partake of some nourishment and to get an appreciable amount of refreshing sleep.

The president went to sleep about midnight and early this morning was still sleeping with the doctors and attendants moving quietly about the eighth floor corridors and hoping against hope that the morning examination would reveal no extension of the lung infection. It was reported early this morning that Dr. Charles Mayo of Rochester, Minn., one of the most noted surgeons in the United States had been summoned to San Francisco to stand by for a possible operation should the need for one develop as a result of the pneumonic development.

Seems Refreshed

At 5:30 a. m. the president was still resting easily and was sleeping, Dr. Boone, who was on duty most of the night in a room adjoining the president's bed chamber, entered the sick room, but seeing the president asleep he backed out as noiselessly as he had entered, with a gratified smile on his face.

A few minutes before 6 o'clock, President Harding awoke. He sent for Dr. Boone and chatted a few minutes with the physician. The president seemed to be in good spirits upon awakening and somewhat refreshed.

Shortly before 7 a. m. President Harding sent out for the morning papers. He was reported to have read with considerable interest the reports concerning his illness.

Anything May Happen

Ordinarily the president's great natural strength, and vigor could be counted upon to put up a great fight against the advances of inflammation of the lungs. However, in the present case, this great natural reservoir of strength has been subjected to constant drainage by the exertion of traveling and speaking for forty days and nights, by the digestive difficulties which was the starting point in his illness, and which was commented upon in the last bulletins issued by his physicians.

Dr. Sawyer was loud in praise of the manner in which Mrs. Harding is standing the ordeal of the president's illness.

"She is one of those creatures," he said, "that is best under pressure."

Patient's Mental Attitude Proves Help, Doctors Say

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—The physicians attending President Harding are counting as their ablest ally today the president's mental attitude. President Harding is not taking his illness particularly serious, even though he is proving a docile patient and is amenable to every decision of the doctors. He told them jocularly last night that he might "fire the whole bunch of them when they got through with him."

This sort of a mental attitude, indicating President Harding's spirits have not been affected by the physical ailment, was, his physicians believe, a long way towards his recovery.

The president's whole demeanor, according to those who have visited the sick room, is that of supreme confidence in his own ability to throw off the disease. The particular kind of pneumonia he is suffering from is known as broncho-pneumonia, as differentiated from lobar-pneumonia. In point of seriousness, there is little in the choice between the two.

Thorough Examination Shows President Better

was the second visit he had paid since midnight. About 2 a. m. he went to the president's room and found him asleep.

PATIENT READS OF OWN ILLNESS

Mr. Harding slept continuously from about midnight until shortly after 6 a. m., the most sleep he has obtained consecutively since the pains from his attack of ptomaine first began to gripe him last week. After his valet attended him, the president sent out for the morning papers, shortly after 7 o'clock, and, propped up by a pair of pillows, he read with interest the gloomy accounts of his illness as they appeared here.

The news of his last night's condition was conveyed to him in double decked headlines of large type, strung across eight columns. "President Has Pneumonia, His Condition Grave!" said one. "Harding's Condition Serious," said another. And, down the center of the pages ran in heavy blackface type the story of last night. If Mr. Harding had any comment on the news he must have withheld it.

The principal contribution of the marked improvement in the president's condition was an uninterrupted sleep of more than six hours last night—the first since last week that Mr. Harding has been able to get in so many consecutive hours of rest. The sleep did much to relieve the exhaustion that has claimed him for five days.

The president's temperature was 100 at 10 o'clock this morning, still a degree and a half fever; his pulse was 120, still far too high, his normal pulse being about 74. His respiration was 40, against a normal of 18, but it was regular today whereas it has been irregular since he became bedfast in the Palace hotel on Sunday morning.

No callers at all were permitted today and even the cabinet members and his intimates of the official party remained away from the sick room. They came regularly and inquired as to his condition but did not see the president.

There will be another consultation of the physicians at 4 o'clock this afternoon after which another official bulletin will be issued.

State Will Supervise Private Bond Issues

SACRAMENTO, July 31.—Edwin M. Daugherty, state corporation commissioner, announced today that after August 17 all bond issues by individuals will be subject to the supervision of his office and will be carefully investigated before authorization is given.

Daugherty declared that the new law, granting his office control of the bond issues, was passed because investors in bonds issued by individuals have in some cases suffered severe losses, the security on which the bonds were issued being inadequate.

Ninety-nine per cent of the failures involving bond issues are chargeable to issues put out by individuals who were not required to present their plans to the State Corporation Department, the commissioner asserted.

Flames Take Toll of $68,381 During Month

SACRAMENTO, July 31.—Fires which swept over California's grain fields, grazing lands and forests during the past month, exclusive of the national forests, burned over 18,285 acres and caused a total loss of $68,381.40, according to a report issued today by State Forester M. B. Pratt.

The greatest damage was reported from Glenn county, twelve fires in that county causing a loss of $13,752.50. Riverside county reported a loss of $11,372.50; San Joaquin, $8,210, and Fresno, $4,507.75.

Improvements, including fences, farm buildings, etc., which were destroyed during the thirty-day period, had a total value of $10,892.25.

Indians Prepare for Annual Celebration

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, July 31.—In preparation for Yosemite's annual Indian Field Day celebration, August 3 and 4, Chief Ranger Townsley has just returned from a trip into the "back of beyond" country of California and brings word that the Indians of the Mono lake and Bishop regions have been working all winter to make this year's show the biggest the park has ever known. Some of the women have worked months on baskets to be entered in the basket show, others have made elaborate bead ornaments for the bead show, and as for babies—every papoose in that region has a new and gaudy outfit with which to enter the Indian baby show.

HARDING'S WIFE PROVES GREAT AID IN ILLNESS

Her Pleadings Finally Induced President to Stop at San Francisco for Rest and She Becomes His Nurse

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Mrs. Warren G. Harding left the White House in Washington more than a month ago to accompany the president on a 15,000-mile trip to Alaska and return by the Panama canal and Porto Rico. She insisted on making the tour with her husband despite the fact that she had but recently recovered from a serious illness and was judged by some as being at that time in a condition which the hardships of the road might make disastrous, resulting possibly in a recurrence of the illness from which she recently suffered.

Sympathetic Messages Pour Into Washington

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Messages of sympathy poured into the White House today from all parts of the world as heads of foreign governments and private citizens throughout the United States expressed concern over President Harding's illness. Many of these messages will be forwarded by special wire to San Francisco to be communicated to the president when his condition is sufficiently improved. Answers in many cases will be sent by the state department.

She Acts as Nurse

Today the woman who was expected to be nursed has become the nurse. Her husband has been stricken by illness. Physicians have been called to his bedside in a hotel here in serious consultation. Mrs. Harding has cheerfully assumed the burdens of the sickroom, still smiling in the face of adverse fortune, displaying a courage that has won for her the admiration of every member of the presidential party, and, in addition, lending an effective hand in the business office, where secretaries and clerks labor with the work of canceling arrangements made at advance points, of acknowledging hundreds of messages of condolence and responding to continuous telephone calls from anxious friends everywhere in the country.

Persuaded By Wife

It was revealed today that it was Mrs. Harding who finally persuaded the president to give up hopes of continuing the journey as it was originally planned. Pleadings on the part of others of the chief executive's personal party, including the admiral of Brigadier General Sawyer, the president's physician and friend, it was learned, had failed to convince him that he must surrender the pleasures of meeting the people along the line of travel and must let them know of his ailment.

Spokesmen of the party said the president unquestionably would have proceeded further with the trip than San Francisco, fulfilling speaking engagements and lending himself to arrangements made for him, as he did in Seattle, Wash., had it not been for Mrs. Harding's standpoint.

Daugherty Hastens to Bedside of Harding

SEATTLE, Wash., July 31.—Attorney-General M. Daugherty, close personal friend and adviser of President Harding, today is hastening to the bedside of his stricken chief at San Francisco. Daugherty had planned to join the presidential party for its trip through the Panama Canal and when that was cancelled, arranged to return to Washington immediately. Upon his arrival last night he received first news of the seriousness of the president's condition and after telephoning to members of the president's party at San Francisco, announced he would proceed southward as speedily as possible.

News want ads bring results.

It was Mrs. Harding's argument that it would be better for the chief executive to halt in San Francisco, cancel the advanced itinerary and announce to the public the facts that it would be to continue the journey and risk the consequences of continued travel under the then prevailing circumstances. The logic of this plea compelled the president to yield to that course, but only after he had steadily used, in talks with Dr. Sawyer and Secretary Work, also a physician, to permit the announcement to be made that the program was to be canceled.

Complications Come

During the times these discussions were in progress, Friday or Saturday morning, none of the President's party suspected his illness would be complicated or become more serious. It was generally believed that the slight attack of ptomaine poisoning would be overcome by a day or two of rest in San Francisco and the president would be recovered sufficiently by Tuesday to go through with the arrangements in San Francisco that day and Wednesday and continue then to Los Angeles, San Diego and home by way of Panama and Porto Rico.

Developments have made this plan impossible of execution. The president failed to respond to the physicians' treatment in the manner that had been expected.

Contrary to the expectations of everyone in the party, new complications arose and then it was said that Mrs. Harding, in conference with Dr. Sawyer, Secretary George Christian, Dr. Work, finally, with the president's assent, caused the publication of the statement canceling the entire program and leaving the future to be determined by the progress the president makes in his fight for renewed health and strength.

Fire District Ruling Given by H. E. Schmidt

Bay City Abandons Harding Fete Plans

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Everywhere today in San Francisco were evidences of the hastily abandoned plans to fete President Harding upon his arrival which had been scheduled to take place at 11 a. m.

In the harbor the great fleet of merchant marine vessels that had gathered for a review this afternoon were quietly dispersing. Some departed for loading, others cleared for sea while the smaller craft took up the tasks that had been dropped to do honor to the nation's chief executive. In all more than 300 vessels had assembled for the review.

MISTAKE CAUSES DEATH OF WOMAN

Overdose of Sleep Draught Believed Responsible For Tragedy

An overdose of veronal, taken to quiet her nerves and induce sleep, is believed to be responsible for the death of Mrs. Edith Taylor Stridling of 343 West Loma Vista avenue, who died at 7:30 last night, Monday, July 30, 1923, following several hours of unconsciousness.

George Stridling, his wife and their two small children, made the trip by boat from San Francisco to Los Angeles harbor Sunday. Upon arrival, Mrs. Stridling went to a local drug store for a toothbrush and it is believed that she purchased the veronal to quiet her nerves at this time. She complained of being exceedingly tired and went to bed about 8 o'clock. Yesterday morning she was found unconscious.

King George Anxious Over Harding's Health

LONDON, July 31.—King George is deeply concerned over President Harding's illness, it was officially stated this morning. The king will send a message of sympathy and hope for improved health as soon as he receives news of Mr. Harding's sickness today. The Daily Chronicle, personal organ of former Premier Lloyd George, devoted its leading editorial today to President Harding, hoping for his early return to good health.

TITLE MATCH IS STILL IN DOUBT

Forecast on Dempsey-Firpo Bout Vary as Rickard Sticks to Guns

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, July 31.—The Dempsey-Firpo enterprise will be discontinued by the New York Boxing commission because it will ruin boxing in New York. The enterprise will not be discontinued, Harry Willis is to take precedence over Firpo in the eyes of the commission. Willis will do nothing of the kind. The Firpo affair will be postponed because of the Argentine's need of further experience. It will be permitted to go on because the Argentine is deemed to be absolutely ready.

Tex Rickard is to be denied a license to conduct the bout at the Polo Grounds because the commission and the State License commission does not care for Rickard's taste in waistcoats. Rickard's slip in the base of operations cannot be opposed because he is not, in effect, the promoter but the matchmaker.

These are a few of the reliable forecasts that will be taken by the meeting of the commission today. On the word of the promoter, who usually has a few at his disposal, the bout will neither be postponed or be declared out of order.

Bout Will Stand

"You can say for me that Dempsey and Firpo will box at the Polo Grounds September 14, as originally announced by me," Rickard declared early today. "There will be no postponement. In this connection I want to say that Firpo's lack of knowledge of our language has probably caused some one to misquote me."

Meantime, an application by Rickard or others for a license to hold the bout at the Polo Grounds on the date named is not on the calendar of business before the commission today. It is authoritatively stated. An application for a license need not be made before eight days before the bout. It is our information that Rickard intends to keep in the back ground as much as possible in order to calm the prejudices of the commission.

With old Jess Willard trying a comeback and old man Adams' boy still pitching for the Pirates, it's no surprise to hear of a few of the bearded youths of aquatic fame diving into the briny deep and clipping a few seconds off some world swimming records.

Here's old Duke Kahanamoku, the noted Hawaiian water crawler. Why, he's been in the game since time was, it seems, and just the other day he splashed his fins through the stuff that runs under bridges for fifty yards and shattered the world's record, free style, time 55 3-5 seconds. Then he swam twenty-five yards in 10 flat.

We thought the duke was back in the old home town on the retired list years ago, telling the natives how he did it when he was a boy. But evidently the spirit of the age has penetrated even the Hawaiian backwoods.

As a member of Uncle Sam's Olympic team of Stockholm in 1912, the duke took about every swimmer in the world into camp. He's had all the fish imitating his style ever since.

It used to be the correct idea to retire from active sport competition on a fellow's thirtieth birthday, but since the flapper age most of our topnotchers in every line of sport boast of two or three dozen grandchildren.

While the New York Americans seem to have a sincere in the matter of winning the pennant in that league, Manager McGrath of the New York Nationals is likely to run into a whole lot of trouble before he has plain sailing for another whack at the World's Series.

The majority of baseball players who get into an argument and mixup with an umpire do so because they haven't sufficient good sense not to do so.

There are a lot of persons who don't give a whoop whether the Dempsey-Firpo battle is held in Buenos Aires or Belochistan as long as Dempsey gets his block separated from its moorings.

A newspaper story says that Benny Leonard is peevish. Simply had the title too long.

If Fred Mollwitz had had the best interests of his club at heart he never would have gotten into a dispute with the umpire. His Sacramento team has the finest kind of a chance to oust the leading San Franciscans for the lead in the league, but it will take all the strength the Senators have to pull the trick. Mollwitz is an important cog in the machinery, and with him out of the play the chances are very much put on the bias.

The seeded draw is becoming universally into use. The Los Angeles tennis authorities will use it for the first time in connection with the Southern California championships in order to prevent the possibility of Tilden and Alonso getting together in the early stages of the tournament. Both these players expect to take part if no slip-up occurs in the meantime.

Saving Suggestions

Our Forefathers—left us a heritage of many fine American traits—but the habit of "SAVING" you must cultivate yourself. This can be done if you resist the unnecessary expenditures—practice a little self-denial and save a regular portion of your income with this bank.

All SUCCESSFUL saving, like all tough oaks at maturity, had each its beginning in a single seed of DETERMINATION, which germinated and grew despite all obstacles, until it became stronger than the forces which sought to hinder its progress.

Your Pay—may stop some day—but the necessities of life go on. Prepare NOW for your later years with a Savings Account with this strong bank.

$1.00 starts that account today—and when you think of a Bank, think of OUR bank. Then come in and get acquainted.

Middle Western Folk Flocking to Glendale

What is the attraction that is bringing everybody—or nearly everybody—in the Middle West to Glendale?

Councilman W. A. Horn of 221 North Louise street received this interrogation through the mail recently from Dr. W. C. Stratton, who is preparing to move here from Oakland. He added that his sister-in-law, Miss B. Cable, recently returned from a trip to Boston. She was surprised to find that everyone she had an opportunity to talk to upon the fifteen-car train had Los Angeles county

Indians Beat Boston In Double Header

BOSTON, Mass., July 31.—The Indians bolstered themselves yesterday when they trimmed the Red Sox in both games of a double header, capturing the final, 2 to 0. The score of the first game was 5 to 4.

Coveleskie, who was on the mound for the Indians in the twilight contest, blanked the locals throughout.

for their destination, while many of them were on their way to Glendale.

Hornsby Scores 11th Home Run of Season

ST. LOUIS, July 31.—Rogers Hornsby, Cardinal infielder, smashed out his eleventh home run of the year here today in the game with Brooklyn. The blow came in the third inning. No one was on base. Vance was the victim.

NEW ELECTROMAGNET

To avoid the use of wires, a new electromagnet for recovering lost tools from oil wells carries batteries to supply it with current, operating when an object sought is touched.

INDEX TO COMMUNITY LOYALTY PAGE

PAGE 8 OF THIS ISSUE OF THE EVENING NEWS

Of course when you want to buy merchandise of any kind you are anxious to patronize a Glendale dealer. When you wish to employ professional skill it is your desire to secure a local man. When repair work is needed it is to your advantage to have the work done by mechanics near home.

The object of this index column is to refer you to the Glendale Loyalty Page on page 8 of this issue where you will find listed a large number of merchants, tradesmen and professional men who are real boosters for Glendale. While the Community Loyalty Page will appear in The Evening News one day every week, yet readers are advised to cut it out and hold it for reference for the purpose of ascertaining names and locations of business firms in Glendale.

Memory, deceased, and for the issuance of letters testamentary thereon to Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings Bank, a corporation, will be heard at 2 o'clock p. m., on the 1st day of August, 1922, in the Court Room of Department 2 of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles.
Dated July 16, 1922.
L. E. LAMPTON, County Clerk.
By H. H. DOYLE, Deputy.
Evans & Pearce, Attorneys for petitioner.
July 19-111

SCIENTIFIC NOTE

According to a Chicago scientist, the nerve centers lose less than any other part of a human organism when a person starves to death.

CLUB'S PET CAT IS Listed As Missing

CANTON, O., July 31.—Romeo, a huge cat which has made its home at the Congress Lake Club here for eight years, is gone. Romeo was a mighty hunter. He brought into the club rabbits, mink, field mice and other animals. He had captured on the golf links. Some believe that Romeo may have succumbed to the wiles of some fair Juliet, but those who knew him well speak of him in the past tense.

Cat Blamed by Seamen

for Beaching of Ship
NORWALK, July 31.—True mariners are the crew of the steam propeller Joanna, which daily makes a round trip between Norwalk and East River points with freight. Four hours after a black cat was found on the vessel, Joanna ran ashore in a dense fog on a Sound island, and four tugs were needed to float her. "The cat did it," declared the crew as one man.

COMMUNITY CO-OPERATION COMMUNITY CO-OPERATION COMMUNITY CO-OPERATION COMMUNITY CO-OPERATION COMMUNITY CO-OPERATION

A Loyal Community Must Be a Growing Community

COMMUNITY LOYALTY

Courtesy To Strangers Wins Good Will for the Home City

Citizens Endorse a Movement to Foster Community Loyalty and Sanction a Practical Business Co-operation Between Buyer and Seller In the Building of a Bigger, Better Glendale Merchandising Center

All Should Cultivate Community Loyalty

Just as true patriotism and good citizenship fix the status of a country among the nations of the world so Community Loyalty determines the destiny of a city. If no one were true to Glendale there soon would be no city here. If every citizen were loyal to the full extent of his ability there would be no limit to the city's future and destiny.

There are many phases of Community Loyalty. Speaking a word for your home city at the psychological moment may bring worthwhile results in new residents, although shouting "Glendale" is no special mark of loyalty any more than waving the flag is a guarantee of patriotism.

Community Loyalty need not be confined to the Chamber of Commerce or to any organization or set of citizens. It is a sentiment that should appeal to all. The mere fact that you live here should give you a certain pride in the city and make you anxious to further Glendale's every interest.

Community Loyalty pays in dollars and cents, too. For, if you spend your money in Glendale (and you will if you are loyal) your dollars enrich Glendale and perhaps come back to you.

As a metropolitan business center Glendale has become widely known, so there is very little need to go out of the city to buy. Merchants were quick to recognize the fact that the class of people who were being attracted here to make their homes would not be satisfied with anything less than the best in merchandise and service, and they are meeting the people more than half way in that regard.

Two years ago only a few of the far-seeing could vision Glendale the city it is today. Community Loyalty expressed in dollars spent with the Glendale merchants will mean a city of such magnitude and importance two years hence as the most imaginative of us cannot dream.

Express your Community Loyalty in giving the merchants and professional men of Glendale a chance to prove that they are metropolitan.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Denison Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary With Friends

A HALF century of happiness has been lived by Mr. and Mrs. David R. Denison of 702 E. Harvard street, who are today celebrating the golden anniversary of their marriage, July 31, 1873 in Erie, Kansas.

This is the second event of the kind recorded in The Glendale Evening News in a week's time, Judge and Mrs. Lucien Haw, of 919 South Central avenue having celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Saturday.

COMES TO VISIT RELATIVES HERE

Miss Birdie Shropshire to Spend Vacation With Her Mother Here

Mrs. Mary Shropshire, of 1841 South Brand, was delighted to receive the announcement that her daughter Miss Birdie Shropshire, who has been in Cincinnati for the past three years with the Pacific Mutual Life insurance company, is on her way home and will be here about August 20. Miss Shropshire is one of Glendale's most popular young women and will receive a warm welcome from her numerous friends.

Leaving Cincinnati last week, Miss Shropshire spent the week-end at Danville, Kentucky, with Mrs. Ormstead Feeland, formerly Miss Elizabeth Jackson, of Glendale. She then will visit her mother Chas. Shropshire and family in London, Ohio until August 10, when she will leave for Lawrence, Kansas to visit her sister Mrs. L. W. McNamara formerly Grace May Shropshire.

The trip to the coast will be made through the Canadian Rockies, visiting Yellowstone Park and other points of interest on the way.

Miss Shropshire was the victim of a rather unusual accident recently when a glass door blew out during a wind storm. Attempting to stop it she received a cut on the arm which might have resulted seriously had not members of the office force held the door closed until a surgeon arrived. It took several stitches to close the cut.

Glendale Impresses Kansas City Visitor

Mrs. Emma Powell of Kansas City is now visiting at 409 West Brand street with Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Gilliam. Mrs. Powell is cashier for the Carnie-Gouldie manufacturing company, which Mr. Gilliam was connected with for about ten years previous to coming to California to open a tent and awning establishment at 210 East Broadway.

Before her arrival, Mrs. Powell had an idea that Glendale was a small country town. She is more than pleased and hopes some day to return here with her husband to remain permanently.

FREIGHT WRECK DELAYS TRAINS

None Killed in Crash on S. P. Here; Tracks Now Are Cleared of Debris

A spectacular wreck of a fifty-six car inbound Southern Pacific freight train at 5:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the foot of California street, Glendale, hurled twelve heavy laden cars from the track and piled them in a heap of scrambled steel, iron, wood, merchandise, canned goods and other products they had been bringing to Los Angeles from the San Joaquin valley.

A burned-out journal of a wheel on the twenty-second car, it was said, caused the dozen cars to leave the tracks. Two of the wheels of the car at fault were thrown nearly eighty feet into an adjoining field, such was the rate of speed being made by the train at the time of the crash.

Attracts Crowds

Many hundreds of homebound motorists, attracted by the wreck, parked their machines along San Fernando road and watched the wrecking crews clear the tracks.

At one point, a jagged mound of mangled freight cars and their valuable contents lifted itself forty feet into the air; while for several hundred feet a tangled mass of wreckage and merchandise lay scattered over both inbound and outbound tracks.

Though the wrecking crews and apparatus were quick to appear on the scene, and though they toiled desperately for hours to clear the way for the many stalled passenger and freight trains that waited the signal to continue their runs, it was not until 9 o'clock at night that the first track was cleared; and at midnight the crews were still removing debris.

As a result, the Daylight Limited from San Francisco, due in Los Angeles at 8:35 o'clock last night, was three hours late; and the Owl, northbound, was forced to loiter in the Arcade station for three hours before pulling out; while the Lark and the Padre were both delayed over an hour.

Trains Now Clear

The train crew of the wrecked freight, except for a guard and flagman left to protect oncoming trains from colliding with the wreckage, proceeded into Los Angeles with the engine of the luckless train, which was unharmed.

It is reported from Southern Pacific headquarters in Glendale that all tracks are now clear but that it will be some time yet before the debris is completely removed.

No one was injured in the accident, the report states. It has not yet been determined what will be the extent of the damage to merchandise and equipment but it is known that it will be large.

Three States to Join In Picnic at Beach

A joint picnic reunion of the states of Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico will be held Thursday, August 2, at Bixby Park, at Long Beach, it is announced.

County registers will be opened for each state. There will be souvenir badges, hot coffee and carry their own basket dinners. The program will include prominent speakers from each state. Everyone who has ever lived in one of this trio of "pinto" states will be made welcome.

A special round trip fare of 40 cents from Los Angeles, over the Pacific Electric line, has been arranged.

Council Favors One-Light Ornamental Standards For Use On Residence Streets

THE City Council last night adopted a resolution favoring one-light ornamental standards for all residence streets and permitting two-light standards only in definitely established business districts. Business streets approved were as follows: Broadway from San Fernando road to Wilson avenue; Glendale avenue from San Fernando road to Monterey road; Central avenue from San Fernando road to Wilson avenue; and Colorado street from Central avenue to Verdugo road.

Radio Sends Message Urging Preparedness All Over United States

It was a military leader's message of patriotism that General John J. Pershing, chief of staff and head of the A. E. F., brought to southern Californians last night, when he visited Los Angeles for a few hours to be honored guest and speaker at a banquet given at the Ambassador hotel by the various patriotic and military organizations of Los Angeles city and county.

There were 3000 persons in the banquet company, but the message of America's foremost soldier was broadcasted to many thousands more, who, by means of the radio, sat within range of his voice and heard him with military precision and in straight, simple words of a soldier, give his gospel of patriotism, not only during the time of war when the love of country and fire of emotion flames high, but a patriotism that works day and night in the ordinary life of a nation at peace.

"The preamble of the Constitution is the platform upon which this government rests," declared the General in his opening statement. "Our forefathers wisely provided that the citizens should arm for the common defense. It has been the neglect of the common defense that has been the cause of many of our dangers and most of our debts. When the World War came it took us fifteen months to prepare units fit to take their place on the battlefield. What would have happened if the Germans had been in a position to bring their full forces to bear on the western front? Had the success of the war depended then upon the American forces, I am ashamed to say what the outcome would have been.

Urges Preparedness

"My fondest hope is that every man who took part in that conflict will raise his voice in order that we may never again be caught in such a deplorable and disgraceful situation," General Pershing declared amidst a storm of applause.

"Preparedness does not breed militarism. We are all against war, but it is futile and foolish to cast all of our knowledge and experience to the four winds. As long as human nature remains as it is, both individuals and nations; as long as bitterness, hatred and selfishness exist, we must expect war, and must be prepared properly to defend ourselves."

Over 2000 persons greeted General Pershing on his arrival at the Union depot in Los Angeles. Following the banquet he left for San Diego to inspect military forces. He will then go to Monterey.

Doughnuts and Duplicity

TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

"By all ways of reckoning," said Mrs. Clupp, "them two ought to be interested in each other. And yet she never so much as gives him a nod and he doesn't know she exists. What are you going to do about it?"

"I'm going to mind my own business, that's what, Sarah Clupp!"

The landlady of the Palace Boarding House looked at Miss Forbes, privileged boarder because she was the only one who had rooms in the place.

"I suppose you would, but you see I'm not constituted like you. When I see a fine and handsome young gentleman like Feldon Treadwell and a modest and sweet young thing like Alice Lyons, I just can't help putting them into stories what keep going on in my head. They're two of a kind if ever there was."

"If some people," Miss Forbes spoke casually, "gave more of their attention to making, for instance, pies than matches, they might find the boarding house business more profitable."

For all of that, Miss Forbes shared with Mrs. Clupp and the other boarders, curiosity concerning Treadwell and Alice Lyons. The girl was so pleasant to everyone, and he was so courteous and attentive except when she was concerned, that it could not fail to be noticeable.

Lyman Dodd, portly holder of the end seat, tried to include the two in his conversation, but gave up in despair. Mrs. Clupp rearranged the place at the table to bring them together, but found they persisted in forgetting the new order.

"Like as not," she told herself, "they've had a row some time and are too proud to make up."

Mrs. Clupp caught Alice in the hall and sang the praises of Treadwell. All she was doing was polite attention. She sought Miss Forbes, and resignedly admitted defeat without noticing the suppressed excitement of her hearer.

"What would you do in a case like that?"

"And what would you do," Miss Forbes asked, her voice trembling with the triumph of one who holds a secret, "if you had discovered duplicity in this shrill cmyfpybng house?"

"Discovered who?"

"Deceit, fraud, goings-on. I was tiding up the hallway this morning—not because I have to or you allow me anything on my rent for it, but because it needed it—when who should come in but Miss Lyons. She was just about to say something when this Treadwell person follows, and I sorta shrank back behind the hatrack. Well, sir, believe me or not, he up and kissed her, and she gave him the honeyest sort of look. Imagining me gasping behind the hatrack, an unwilling witness to shameless gallivanting."

"Shameless fiddlesticks! I think it was lovely."

"And then," Miss Forbes persisted, "they walks into the breakfast room and never gives each other a look. Might think they hated each other. That sort of thing isn't right, and I dare you to say it is!"

Sarah Clupp pondered. "You're right, I'll put an end to it. You're certain you saw what you say?"

"Sarah Clupp, I may be stupid and I may be an old maid, but I know a kiss when I see it."

Mrs. Clupp approached Treadwell in a flutter. Her boarding house, she informed him, was not a business matter only, but a thing dear to her heart. She was proud of it, and the boarders were as of one family. She was sorry if he had not understood, she was sorrier yet when anyone, man or woman, tried to deceive her. In fact, she was so sorry she wept, and the puzzled man strove hard to understand what she meant.

"Never you mind," he said, "I am leaving soon, and everything will be all right."

At the dinner table that evening Felton Treadwell arose solemnly and drew the attention of all the boarders. He waved his hand proudly in the direction of Alice Lyons.

"We have decided to quit pretending any more," he said, "and it is due you to be let into the secret. You see, Alice, Miss Lyons, isn't Miss Lyons, but Mrs. Treadwell. We were married five weeks ago, the day we came here to board, and we didn't want to be made conspicuous by having you know we were bride and groom. Now we have been married so long we want you to know."

After the chorus of congratulations and comment there rose the shameless voice of Sarah Clupp. She was looking defiantly at Miss Forbes as if to dare her to challenge the statement.

"I knew it all the time!"

YOUTHFUL AND FASCINATING STYLES

When a frock is so designed that it can be fascinating, youthful and simple at one and the same time, it meets the most exacting requirements of fashion. The model to the left is also adaptable, for it is smart in any material of the season, from gingham to Egyptian crepe. It is self-trimmed as to cuffs, pocket and belt, but the buttons may be of braid, metal or crochet. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch material.

The second model might be added to the week-end wardrobe, if developed in one of the soft, supple silks. In the twills, it could do for a parlor-croch frock. It has a cape of self-material lined with bright colored crepe de Chine. Twin buckles of colorful beads and a monogram are the chief decorations of the dress, which has the left side plaited to form a draped effect. Medium size requires 4 1/2 yards 36-inch of 2 1/2 yards 54-inch material.

First Model—Pictorial Review Dress No. 1654. Sizes, 34 to 48 inches bust. Price 35 cents.

Second Model—Dress No. 1680. Sizes, 34 to 42 inches bust. Price 35 cents. Transfer, No. 12820. Blue or yellow, 25 cents. Cape No. 1063. Sizes 34 to 42 inches bust, and 14 to 20 yards. Price, 35 cents.

Miss N.: To reduce the size of the face, massage the muscles, using only enough cream to keep the finger tips from irritating the skin. Always end the treatment by an ice rub or by dashing very cold water over the face until the skin tingles. The double chin should share in this treatment, and will end to disappear as the fatty tissues are absorbed by the massage.

X. Y. Z.: Continue to keep the hair bleached on the arms if it shows badly when you are wearing short sleeves. If the peroxide does not make the skin feel drawn, it will not impair it, and even if it should draw, an application of cream will relieve this sensation. Witch hazel is astringent and should be used on the face only when there is need for it—and this will be hardly as often as every day.

Consult the doctor about the condition of your blood, as pimples should not leave scars after they have healed, unless you infect them by handling them carelessly.

Blue Eyes: For the peeling skin massage into a little olive oil or a good cream.

Edna P. and Mickey: I will be glad to mail you each a formula that covers the subject of bust development, if you send me an addressed, stamped envelope. Trim off the burned ends of the hair, and if you keep the scalp in good condition the hair will grow again.

Anxious: Fatten the legs and ankles by massaging into the tissues as much cocoa butter every day as the pores will absorb. Perhaps you are underweight.

M. E. L.: Glasses do detract, but eyes that need glasses look much worse if the glasses are not worn. But, withal, the disadvantage may be overcome to an extent, for glasses should be as inconspicuous as possible, and you should choose your hats accordingly. A big picture hat will not look well if you wear glasses of any kind, but rimless and light weight eyeglasses are not a serious drawback when wearing other hats. It is the large, round, dark rimmed spectacles that are unbecoming, and make it almost impossible to select a becoming hat aside from a sport model. There are many people who will not agree with me about this, of course. And I do think that very pale looking men with weak eyes are much improved by the added color given to them through these heavy dark rimmed spectacles.

Lycopodium will be a good choice as a powder for a brunette.

S. Smith—"Please tell me how to make Russian Dressing."

Answer—Mayonnaise salad dressing is the foundation for Russian Dressing. Any of the bottled commercial brands of Mayonnaise are good. Add to this Mayonnaise one tablespoon of tomato catsup, one teaspoon of picallini (or chopped green tomato or chopped green pepper may be substituted, instead), and one tablespoon of finely-minced raw onion. Chill and serve on crisp lettuce leaves. (This dressing is so rich and delicious in itself that it is generally served on plain lettuce or romaine—hardly ever on a fruit, vegetable or meat salad.)

Answer—Loosen the skin so that the fruit may be slipped out, but do not take it out until after baking. Bake for thirty minutes remove skin, and cover with a sauce made by boiling one-half cup of sugar and one-half cup of water together for five minutes, then adding a teaspoon of butter and the juice of half a lemon.

Camper—"What is a good game for a crowd to play when sitting around a camp fire?"

Answer—I know of nothing funnier than "Lecturing." In this game a subject, at random, is given to everybody in turn. And each person must lecture seriously on his particular subject. For instance, you might give "Fans" to someone; that person must try to talk interestingly on the topic, perhaps telling of Japanese fans, of the earliest known fans, and of the latest fashion in fans, using five minutes for his lecture. Other topics could be "Wild Animals," "Road-beds," "Music," etc. You see, any topic at all will do. That is the fun of it. Of course the more jokes the "lecturer" can get into his talk, the funnier it will be. But the chief source of amusement will be found in short-ages of information which the lecturer displays in dealing with his particular topic.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Fruits, No. II

Bananas are exceedingly good food and, if ripe, can be given to children of any age. They are not hard to digest when they are thoroughly ripe. Bananas if not thoroughly ripe can be served baked. This will destroy some of the anti-scorbutic vitamins, but it is better to do this than to eat them not thoroughly ripened. See that they are thoroughly masticated, otherwise they are hard to digest. Scraped bananas can be given to babies as early as the ninth month. Begin with about a teaspoonful and increase the amount slowly.

Apples

An apple a day won't keep the doctor away, but the popularity of the reverse sentiment shows that its health-giving qualities are known. Scraped raw or cooked apples can be given to babies very early. Apples have a relatively high content of iron as well as other valuable mineral salts.

Dried Fruits

Because a large part of the water has been evaporated, compared to fresh food, weight for weight, dried fruits are very much higher in energy value. These fruits are better for children than for adults to satisfy the sweet craving than most candy.

As dried fruits can be exceedingly dirty, it is best to wash them thoroughly, then steam a little in a colander, and then dry in the oven.

Fruits eaten raw should be very thoroughly cleaned, especially those which have been exposed to street dust.

The antiseptic properties of fruits—the ability of their acids to kill harmful germs—is one of the properties we think of when the exclusive fruit diet is advised for various disorders.

If it occasionally happens that children or adults do not seem to take fruits well, they may find they will digest them better if they take no other food with recuperation as well as pleasure and, cordial as we may wish to be, our plans cannot include much unpremeditated entertaining without its becoming a burden.

A pretty good rule to remember is that if your friends are really anxious to have you come and can arrange it conveniently they will invite you. And surely you do not want to risk finding yourself unwelcome or in the way of inviting yourself.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

MORIARTY

MISS ANNE CALDWELL

Miss Anne Caldwell has just returned from a year spent in the new republic of Czechoslovakia. She was formerly a national financial secretary for the Y. W. C. A. in Cincinnati. In July, 1922, she was sent abroad to raise money for the work of the association which was badly in need of new buildings and equipment in the countries in central Europe. Incidentally, it should be mentioned, that this was the first American campaign in the republic of Czechoslovakia. Miss Caldwell also visited the association's work in Poland, Roumania and other countries.

"The women of Czechoslovakia have been given the vote," says Miss Caldwell, "but only the upper, educated classes are able to intelligently exercise the privilege."

At present only forty-two of the city schools are lighted wholly or in part by electricity—eighty-six being otherwise illuminated. School buildings that have evening classes will give first consideration in the matter of electric installation.

WOMEN IN BUSINESS

All the business of the world will be transacted by women within a century if the trend now indicated by census statistics continues. Mrs. Alice Foote MacDougall, New York feminist, announced recently after a period of intense research.

Since 1880, Mrs. MacDougall said, she had discovered that the percentage of women in business increased from 14.7 to 21.0, while the percentage of men gainful occupied dropped five-tenths percent.

FOUR DAUGHTERS OF 1812

Four real daughters of 1812 whose fathers fought in the war were recently guests of the United Daughters of 1812 at luncheon at Washington, D. C. They are Miss J. E. Richardson, Mrs. H. W. Blundy, Mrs. J. Parko Gaillard and Mrs. C. L. Dowling.

KNITTERS HOLD MARATHON

Miss Pearl Bennett, nineteen and Mrs. Robert Staub, thirty-three, both of Milwaukee, triumphed in a knitting contest of eighty-six hours. The two women finally decided to divide the $10 prize and quit.

The gradual awakening of the whole world to the need of universal education is one of the hopeful signs of the times. Even the women of the Far East, who for uncounted centuries have been kept secluded from the world and, except in rare instances, given little or no education, are getting the benefit of the renaissance.

Miss Hausa Mehta of Baroda, Hindu woman of unusual attainments and an educator, has been attending the world education conference recently held at San Francisco. With other note-teachers she discussed plans of international education which are intended to help the whole world.

Miss Harriet Bunting of Utah claims the world's altitude record for equestriennes, she having reached a height of 11,000 feet after a daring climb on horseback.

Many stories are told of the late Maurice Barrymore, father of the distinguished trio of actors who belong to this stage generation says Judge. Maurice was a half fellow well met, and his wit was proverbial. One day he encountered an author of stage piece who was at the time furnishing the Casino with much of its material and who was grieving over something that had happened to him.

"Why so glum?" asked Barrymore.

"Glum doesn't express my feelings, Maurice. Last night my little boy, rummaging around my desk, got hold of a play I had just finished and tore it to pieces—ruined it utterly—and I have no copy of it!"

"Clever lad!" responded Barrymore.

"What do you mean by 'clever lad'?"

"Why, I didn't know the kid could read!"

TODAY—Chicago Comes to the Sea; A Ship Trade Caravan; Three Billions; Tomorrow—The Allment—Dollartitis; A Vicious Circle; Gedy—Illustrated, by S. D. Weyer, Berlin Staff.

By KENNETH HARRIS For International News Service

CHICAGO, July 31.—An special commercial movement, which is expected to focus the of the entire nation upon Chicago for a time, will be made next month, when the first of fleet of sixteen new steel-hulled ships leaves this harbor, laden with cargoes destined for all parts of the world.

The first of these vessels is scheduled to leave here on or out August 6. Plowing their way through the waters of Lake Michigan and the other Great Lakes, the ships will then make their far-distant ports on the Pacific Sea. Thus will Chicago be achieved a long-cherished ambition—the city will have become a seaport.

Fully 50 per cent of the annual ports of the nation originate in Chicago, a recent investigation by the Department of Commerce shows, and this indicates that Chicago is an important distributing center for cargoes for foreign trade. This trade annually amounts in the neighborhood of one billion dollars—for both imports and exports.

Exports from Chicago, of which the new fleet may expect a large increase, include grain, food products of various kinds, including canned goods, wearing apparel, millinery goods, hardware, and steel products, leather goods and electrical and railway equipment, including locomotives, rail cars and cars.

Approximately 1,500 of the 200 members of the local Chamber of Commerce are now engaged in foreign business almost exclusively, it was said.

Each of the new vessels is of about 2,000 tons, drawing fourteen feet laden. William Hansen, of Bergen, Norway, veteran "salt" of the seas, is owner of the new line. He is said to have a fleet of forty steamships, of which sixteen will be utilized in the Chicago Line service. Western cargoes for all ships of this fleet have already been assured, Hansen said.

Inquiries concerning the new line have been pouring into offices of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce for the past month. Letters have been received from many sections of the Middle West and from quite a number of Eastern points, including New York. A large number of these praised the project unflinchingly and predicted it would be a huge success.

"It is a great step forward," said Arthur Reynolds, banker. "For some time the idea of making Chicago a world port has been a dream. Yet every great accomplishment at first was a dream."

"I see no reason why these ships should not be filled to capacity for every Eastern trip. Such a line as this should not only be of benefit to Chicago, but to almost every other lake port and even to Atlantic seaboard ports desiring to ship cargoes westward. This line of vessels will give a new outlet for our already great and constantly increasing foreign trade," Reynolds concluded.

THE OVERHEATED ENGINE

It Is Generally the Result of Impeded Water Circulation

An engine is not overheated unless more than warm or at least up to the boiling point, lack of circulation is almost certainly the cause. In other words, the water in the jackets is practically stagnant and has time to be converted into heat-insulating steam. Under such circumstances, the question is: "What is preventing the circulation of water?" The rubber connections are the most likely cause, as they deteriorate rapidly with use and it is well to pull them right off and replace them if their inner surfaces are broken so as to form obstructive flaps, or if they are soft and flabby. Jacket passages seldom fill up with rust, but it is well to send a hose stream through them to clean out what deposit has formed. On some engines compression gaskets are used between water inlet and outlet flange connections, and sometimes these squeeze into the passages and obstruct them. An inspection of such connections is well worth while. In forced cooling systems the impeller of the water pump may be found to have become loose on its shaft and thus fail to create a circulation. It should be tested to see that it will throw a full, forceful stream. Hose water should also be run into the radiator filler opening and, if it does not come out the bottom connection with full freedom, cleaning out is obviously necessary.

TRUCK ENGINE OVER-OILS

W. W. writes: The engine of my truck is beginning to throw oil in Nos. 1 and 2 cylinders and I am figuring on putting in new rings and drilling five one-eighth inch holes in each piston. Will this remedy the trouble?

Answer: We infer that until recently there has been no trouble of this kind and, if so, fitting new rings carefully in these cylinders should stop this oil pumping, providing these cylinders are not scored nor mach out of round, without drilling oil-relief holes, but if these cylinders are scratched or much ovalized it is doubtful whether new rings will remove your over-oiling difficulty permanently, even though you drill the holes. If you decide to try the oil-return holes, we suggest that you bevel off the upper edge of the lowest rings, drill a few small holes diagonally downward through the bevel face of the ring, as well as drilling holes through the piston, in the bottom of the lowest ring groove. If you find that you cannot fit rings so

ENGINE IDLES TOO FAST

W. H. M. writes: After I have driven my car for some time and close the throttle lever fully, the engine will almost race when out of gear, running at five miles an hour. How can this be corrected?

Answer: Probably your throttle stop needs to be adjusted to allow the throttle to close more fully. You will find a screw, with a lock-nut, right at the throttle valve of the carburetor. While the engine is running, after being thoroughly warmed up, loosen the lock-nut or set-screw and turn the adjustment screw until the engine idles at the right speed, then lock the adjustment. Be sure that all connections from the throttle lever itself are tight, as lost motion there will cause irregular idling speed. Presumably your mixture is set rather lean and perhaps you will need the throttle lever open a little to keep the engine idling while it is cold.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BEACH CROW

"Come along, Nurse Jane! Are you almost ready?" called Uncle Wiggily in the hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"Ready for what?" asked the muskrat lady, who was up stairs tying a new pink ribbon on the end of her tail.

"Ready to go to the seashore beach with me," said Mr. Longears.

"The seashore!" squeaked Nurse Jane. "Do you mean we are going down to Asbury Grove to stay all summer?"

"No, just to take a short little vacation, perhaps for a few days," said Uncle Wiggily. "Come along, Nurse Jane."

Soon in his airship made from an old clothes basket, with rubber balloons to lift it from the ground the rabbit gentleman and his muskrat lady housekeeper were on their way to the beach.

It was wonderfully beautiful down at the ocean, with the green waves breaking into white, foamy crests as the wind blew them up on the sand. There they tumbled about like children playing at turning somersaults.

"I'm so glad you brought me here," sighed Nurse Jane as she sat down on the sand and opened her toadstool umbrella to keep off the hot sun. "It is lovely here."

"I like it," said Uncle Wiggily twinking his pink nose, and just as he was going to wet his paws in the salt water a voice cried most dismally:

"Kee! Kee! Kee!" "My goodness sakes alive! What's that?" asked Nurse Jane. "Don't be afraid," the voice went on. "I will not harm you. I can harm no one, for I am caught fast in a big clam shell."

Then Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane looked a little wail along the sand and they saw a black bird fluttering his wings. He was caught by one leg in the shell of a clam, which had closed fast to him.

"Who are you?" asked Nurse Jane. "First let me help him out of his trouble, and then we can be introduced to him," spoke Uncle Wiggily. So with his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch the bunny opened the clam shell and set the black bird free.

"Thank you, I feel much better," the bird said as he flitted about. "The clam didn't mean to close his shell on me, for I am an accident. But I'm glad you happened to come along."

"I am Uncle Wiggily," said the rabbit gentleman, "and this is my muskrat lady housekeeper, Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy."

"Pleased to meet you, Kee! Kee! Kee!" croaked the black bird. "I am a beach crow, if you please."

"You are a queer crow," spoke Nurse Jane. "All the crows I ever saw or heard, cry 'Caw! Caw! Caw!'"

"Well, being a beach crow, I am different," said the bird with a jolly laugh, for he felt happy, now that his leg was no longer caught.

"What does a beach crow do?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"I know what is good for rheumatism! Hot seaweed!" croaked the beach crow. "Build a fire, Nurse Jane, 'I'll drag some seaweed out of the ocean for you and we'll cure Uncle Wiggily!"

Quickly the muskrat lady built a fire. On it was spread some seaweed the crow pulled up the sands. When the seaweed was steaming warm, but not too hot, it was wrapped around Uncle Wiggily's rheumatism leg. Soon all the pain melted away and the bunny could hop to his airship with Nurse Jane.

And just as the Wolf rushed up, away sailed the rabbit and Nurse Jane, and the beach crow flew up into the air, calling:

"Kee! Kee! Kee!" "Pooled again!" growled the Wolf, as he slunk back to his den.

"Well, we had a good time and an adventure!" laughed the rabbit as he reached his hollow stump bungalow. And if the rubber ball doesn't bounce up and hit the cabbage on the head, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the hooty owl.

BILLY WHISKERS

by FRANCES TREAD MONTGOMERY

Yesterday's story told how Billy Whiskers punished the cross man. The man screamed and kicked, and in the patrol wagon again screamed, "Help! Help!" so loudly that he frightened the horses hitched to the patrol, and they ran away, carrying the man and Billy along with them. They made straight for the patrol stable, but on turning corner they upset the wagon and rolled Billy out, while the man landed right to the stable in the returned patrol wagon.

When the team had stopped and the quieted down, the men in the stable discovered a forlorn man, dully shaken up, bruised and frightened. They all asked questions at once to solve the mystery of the runaway. They wanted to know where the policeman who had gone out with the wagon, and how he came to be there.

But, as you know all this, we'll leave him telling them, and back to Billie and Nannie. As it happened, the man Nannie was chasing headed straight for the police station, so when they was thrown out as the wagon set it was only a few minutes before Nannie came along, still pursuing the man, who was by this time nearly ready to faint with exhaustion, and was out of breath. But he did not dare stop for fear of getting a butt like other policemen had received, and he had determined to run until he reached the station or fell dead.

When Nannie saw Billy roll out of the overturned patrol wagon she forgot all about the policeman she was chasing and ran to Billy's assistance. He was not hurt in the least, and so, after talking it over, both decided they'd better get a good way from here they were before new policemen were sent out to capture him.

Seeing a park in front of them, they ran into it, as Billy said it would be harder for the police to see them there, as it had so many exits. Besides there was no bad running through this big park, as it was for pedestrians only. Billy's judgment was correct, for, though the police traced them to the park and asked every man they met if they had passed white goats, and several reported that they had, they could not find them easily, as no two people had seen them going in the same direction.

(Tomorrow you hear some more of naughty Billy's doings.)

POEMS THAT LIVE

DESIDIRIA Surprised by joy—impatient as wind—

I turned to share the transport—O with whom But the deep buried in the silent tomb.

That spot which no vicissitude can find? Love, faithful love recall'd thee to my mind.

But how could I forget thee? Through what power Even for the least division of an hour

Have I been so beguiled as to be blind To my most grievous loss—that thought's return

Was the worst pang that sorrow ever bore Save one, one only, when I stood forlorn,

Knowing my heart's best treasure was no more; That neither present time, nor years unborn, Could to my sight that heavenly face restore.

—William Wordsworth.

I THINK OF THEE (From the German of Goethe)

I think of thee when the strong rays of noon Flash from the sea; When the clear fountains glimmer in the noon,

I think of thee. I saw thee when along the distant way The dust clouds creep, And in the night when trembling travelers stray

By chasm and steep. I hear thee when the tides go murmuring soft To the calm air; In lone and stilly woods I listen oft,

And hear thee there. I am with thee—I know thou art afar

Yet dream thee near; The sun goes down, star brightens after star; Would thou were here!

There is practically no unemployment in France and Belgium today.

EAGLE ROCK PLAN PLAYHOUSE FOR EAGLE ROCK

Community Players Outline Arrangements to Build Local Theatre

The Eagle Rock Community Players are planning a playhouse where ultimately they will give their productions; and at the last meeting of the board of directors, plans for such a structure were considered, states Mrs. Elgy Lowry Fischer, director of productions.

No action will be taken, however, according to Mrs. Fischer, until the zoning rules for this community are definitely decided, as a fireproof building will be required and it is not yet certain just where such a structure could be erected and comply with the zoning.

As a consequence, the Central school auditorium will continue to be used for the balance of the year. The next production of the Community Players, "All of a Sudden, Peggy," is now in rehearsal, with Mrs. Fischer in the stellar role of Peggy.

Building operations under way in Eagle Rock are not all held up by the prospective zoning changes, however, as a brick structure is now going up on South Castle avenue, built by F. S. Herman, with Fred W. Schleuter as contractor. When completed, Mr. Herman plans to move his feed and fuel business into this building.

And at the northeast corner of Colorado boulevard and Central avenue, the new home of the local Security Trust & Savings bank branch is going up rapidly, to be connected with the P. F. Schumacher two-story brick structure adjoining. And John Griemsmann, a well-known local grocer, is planning to build a one-story brick building in the west end of Eagle Rock, the building to contain several stores, one of which has already been secured for a Sam Seelig market.

It is generally believed that a flood of building permits totaling hundreds of thousands of dollars in value will follow the settling of the zoning situation.

Social and Personal Mrs. A. C. Fiske, of 293 North Castle avenue, is entertaining her niece, Miss Dorothy Ellis of New York, a designer.

Mrs. Myrtle Phinney and family of 131 North Fairmont avenue, are spending the summer in their cottage at Laguna Beach.

M. E. Becker of Ridgeway and Central avenues has returned from Madison, Wis., bringing with him Mrs. Becker.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Roth have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Harry Curtin, of Reno, Nev., and Mrs. Charles Marshall, of Gilroy, Calif. Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Curtin are sisters of Mrs. Roth. They are on a tour of Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Edwards and family of 256 North Royal drive are planning to spend their vacation at Big Bear lake, when the cabin they are building is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Marsh, of Rosemont avenue, were guests of Major S. H. M. Byers, of Wilshire boulevard, Los Angeles, recently, on the occasion of the celebration by the old gentleman of his 85th birthday. He is the author of "Sherman's March to the Sea."

Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Williams of 151 North Kenilworth avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Jones, their close friends, spent last week in San Francisco.

Mrs. M. Nichols of 1006 South Central avenue spent last week with her son, Prof. C. L. Nichols of Azusa.

TUJUNGA BUYS INSURANCE FIRM'S BUSINESS

Former Glendale Man Enters Profession With Strong List of Companies

The fire insurance agency conducted for some time by Leo L. Long has been purchased by James Blaine, former advertising manager for the Jesse Smith company of Glendale. Mr. Blaine has been a resident of Tujunga, but a few months, in which time he has established himself as a hustling, reliable business man. His first venture in Tujunga was as representative of a San Fernando automobile agency. Since then he has become associated with Mr. Lang in the insurance business and has been active in public affairs incidental to this connection.

Mr. Blaine has also been an effective fire fighter and has been appointed deputy fire warden. In the absence of Mr. Lang he is authorized to issue fire permits.

The agency just acquired by Mr. Blaine represents the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, the Connecticut Fire Insurance Company, the American Eagle Fire Insurance Company, the California Fire Insurance Company, the Westchester Fire Insurance Company, the Western Assurance company, the Hartford Accident and Indemnity company, and the Springfield Fire and Marine Insurance company. During an absence of three months planned by G. J. Fischer Mr. Blaine will handle the business.

BURBANK BIG TURNOUT ON EXHIBITION DAY

San Fernando Valley Towns Send Huge Delegations to L. A. July 26

Burbank day at the Monroe Centennial and Motion Picture exhibition, which was Thursday, July 26, was the biggest day since the great show opened at Exposition park, according to Los Angeles papers.

Not all the credit for this is taken by Burbank, naturally, her residents hasten to state; and inasmuch as it was San Fernando Valley day also, all the surrounding towns deserve a lot of credit. But, nevertheless, Burbank was there—and there strong!

Her townspeople who attended had the pleasure of hearing some very prominent speakers talk about the valley and its prospects, introspects and retrospects.

The program was in charge of B. R. Holliday, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley.

Talks were made by Charles B. Wood, Burbank real estate dealer; Fred W. Price of San Fernando and George W. Bunton of Van Nuys.

Speakers Boost Valley All the speakers tended to point out the importance of the strategic location of the valley, from agricultural, commercial and industrial viewpoints. This valley, one speaker said, was the granary of Southern California, the garden of Los Angeles.

A number of musical selections were interspersed with the speeches, among them yodeling by Mrs. Cossard of Mission Acres, violin solos by Frederick Clinton of San Fernando, and baritone songs by Albert Swenson, another San Fernando valley singer.

Many of the throng from valley points remained for the evening program, witnessing the spectacular program in the coliseum and seeing the demonstration put on by the Los Angeles fire department.

Each member of the Burbank delegation wore a little ribbon bearing the word "Burbank," given out by W. A. Thompson, president of the local realty board, while A. E. Nordyke, Mesdames Frank Clark and C. H. Wilson, in charge of the Burbank booth, gave out upwards of 3,000 pamphlets descriptive of the wonders of this city, and the San Fernando valley delegation distributed, in large numbers, cards saying: "This is San Fernando valley day. See the San Fernando valley exhibit. Plan a trip through the San Fernando valley."

Presbyterian School Opens The Presbyterian Training School at Occidental College opened today, with six delegates from Burbank among the 300 young people who from July 30 till August 6 will receive instruction in leadership, from Los Angeles, Philadelphia and New York specialists.

The local delegates are Ruth Comber, Thelma Gibbs, Myrl Sly, Fay Knox, Grace Locke and Elma Fulton. One each are being sent by the Sunday school, Young Married People's class, Women's Missionary society and Ladies' Aid society, and two are being sent by individuals.

The study course given comprises classroom work in the forenoon, rest and recreation in the afternoons, and campfires and inspirational addresses in the evenings.

Vacationists Tell of Joys of Motor Trip

A card from Mrs. David Black, dated July 25, Victoria, B. C. will give her friends in Glendale a glimpse of the wonderful auto trip she is enjoying. Mr. and Mrs. Black and their daughter, Miss Esther Black, and granddaughter, Miss Frances Van Etten, left Glendale July 2, for Vancouver B. C.

"We have had a wonderful trip, over wonderful roads. Camped in dense redwoods and pines. Have seen millions of wild flowers, jungles of ferns, Indians, deer, snow-crowned Mt. Hood, Mt. Shasta and Mt. Baker. Went up to Mt. Rainier and played in the snow and saw the glacier. We are now visiting friends at the capital."

ness of the Home Fire and Marine Insurance Company and the Fireman's Fidelity Insurance Company, for which Mr. Fischer has the agency.

Will Take Vacation No definite plans have been announced by Mr. Lang, except that he will take a vacation before returning to look after the interests of the Tujunga Valley Land Company in which he is interested.

Mr. Blaine will continue the business in the office occupied by Mr. Lang in the Tujunga Valley Bank building.

Tuesday, July 31, was the last day of demonstrations in the use of electricity for cooking by Miss Fraleigh at the Southern California Edison offices. Demonstrations in all the branches of cooking and baking have been given from 10:30 to 1 o'clock every day for several weeks, which have proven very instructive.

Harry Carr, well known newspaper man, has established a home in Tujunga near the Wells place near Manzanita drive.

The Tujunga Woman's Club gave an ice cream social at the home of Mrs. Sweet on Golondrina Drive Thursday evening. It was the first of a series of social affairs that are planned by the club for the summer months. Refreshments were served.

SUNLAND POISON PLAYERS WALLOP SUNLAND

Ptomaine Tommy's Squad Rolls Up 15 Tallies for Home Team's Five

By F. A. GRAHAM Of The Evening News Staff

Sunland is slowly recovering from a vicious poisoning handed out by Ptomaine Tommy's team at Monte Vista park Sunday. The Tommies "cut themselves a piece of cake" and began "running wild" right in the first frame. They made life a burden of great heat for Sisler, Sunland chucker, and before the inning was over he could be heard warbling "when will the sun shine for me?"

Nine times in the first inning the poisoners punched in at home. The line-up formed in line and paraded up to the plate and thence around the bases until the batting order had been turned a third of the way down on the second round for the inning. A good time was being had by all when one of the perspiring Thomases got careless and made the third out. Only nine runs.

Just why Manager Waite left Sisler in there to take the punching is a mystery, with "Slim" Bradburn available. "Slim" is the youth who wears macaroni for a sweater and plays the outfield and first base by ear. He can show considerable form on the hill, too.

Almost Tied Score However, Sunland put up a grand fight, and in their half of the second inning came within eight runs of tying the score. In the third they served the customers with a round of consternation by scoring three runs. This left Thomas and his gang only a five-run lead, and they must have become alarmed for their chances, for in their fourth they clubbed over four more runs to give Weldon a little more freedom in experimenting with his hooks.

Sunland managed to dribble over one more in the same frame, and the opposition collected two more in their seventh, bringing the grand total up to 15 to 5.

1000 Per Cent Batter King, third-sacker for Ptomaine Tommy, punched Sisler's slants to all points with great gusto, getting one home run, one triple and a brace of twobaggers in four times up. Just a little old 1000 per cent for the day's toil is all. Summers also drove out a homer. The appetite spoilers gathered eight-eighths hits off Sisler's delivery, while the best Sunland could do was eight.

Weldon whiffed nine, walked three; Sisler fooled four and passed six, most of said passes resulting in runs.

Sunland had two new men in monkey suits, but there is no alibi there, although one made two errors. Eighteen hits and six walks can't be charged to the fielders.

Manager Waite, catcher by trade, but not by inclination, held down second base for this session. He should have pitched and saved his ace chucker for some easy team.

JULIAN ALLOWED TO SELL STOCK

Controversy Between Oil Man and Commissioner Near Solution, Belief

Glendale friends and business associates of C. C. Julian of the Julian Petroleum corporation are glad to learn that a permit was issued yesterday by the state corporation commission allowing the sale of the stock now on hand in the corporation. This is said to indicate that the controversy between Corporation Commissioner Dougherty and Mr. Julian is about to be adjusted.

A warrant for the arrest of Julian on a charge of violating the Corporation Securities Act was issued several weeks ago. At that time no permit for the sale of this stock had been issued by the commission, and Julian, charging dilatory tactics, averred that the plan adopted by him on the advice of his attorneys was the only way of saving himself from ruin.

At the time of Julian's arrest Commissioner Dougherty also revoked his broker's license. This license still stands revoked. It is said that as a result of yesterday's action Julian finds himself in a somewhat anomalous situation.

It was intimated by Julian yesterday that a meeting with the commission would be held today in order that a plan for the sale of this stock might be worked out.

Whether or not the act of the commissioner in granting the refining company a permit to sell its stock would have any effect upon the charges now pending against Julian neither he nor Commissioner Dougherty would discuss.

PUBLIC MARKET WILL SOON OPEN

Experts Will Have Full Charge of Various Departments

The Glendale Public Market at 114 East Broadway, which is expected to be one of the best equipped markets in the San Fernando valley, is expected to open August 7.

On account of the fact that the automatic refrigerating machine for the three-and-a-half-ton ice-box has not arrived from the east, the opening has been delayed. This is expected in a day or two. When it has been installed and the refrigerating coils have been installed where needed, the show-cases will be built to order.

The meat and fruit department will be in charge of M. Globenfelt, L. Zeidler and H. Goldstein, who have been associated together in Los Angeles for the past twenty years. They were in the wholesale business at the Terminal Market, and later opened a retail market near the intersection of Alvarado and Pico streets. They have severed their connections with Los Angeles, however, and are making plans to move to Glendale as soon as possible.

Choice Meats, Fruits Mr. Globenfelt intends to make daily trips to the packing houses and Los Angeles wholesale markets for the purpose of selecting meats and fruits to be handled. He stated that a delivery service would be established to all parts of Glendale.

E. A. Morrison, Inc., of Hollywood, will establish the grocery department. This company has a chain of stores in this vicinity and is regarded as one of the leading grocery companies of the movie cities.

The Pastry Bakery will be moved from 207 North Brand boulevard by F. J. Malone and Mrs. J. P. Wilkinson to the new establishment. They will continue to bake delicious bakery products, they state.

Clean Up Vacant Lots Is Resident's Plea

"Don't let us lay down on the job of refurbishing up vacant lots along Brand boulevard, just because the presidential eyes are not to behold them!" That is the plea of the resident who Saturday urged civic pride to assert itself in the conquest of the unsightly weed and the awful tin can.

"And just because the old ordinance still on the Glendale city books is no longer observed, is no reason not to exercise a few muscles and a little community conscience! Besides, what must Pasadena and Hollywood think when they ride past our municipal front yard?"

CHANCE TO BUY NEW COOK STOVE

Good Housekeeping Shop Has Carload Coming; Installation Plan

All the housewives in Glendale who are anticipating buying a new cook stove are to have an opportunity when the carload of A-B gas ranges en route from the factory reaches Glendale's Good Housekeeping shop at 140 South Brand boulevard.

The A-B product is said to be of the finest type for kitchen use, and the present shipment consists of the latest models with ovens lined with rust-proof metal that will last indefinitely, and all heavily insulated to retain an even heat, so necessary for successful cooking.

Make Selection Now A suggestion by the Glendale shop is that selections be made from the stock now on hand in order that a stove may be secured from the coming shipment. In purchasing a stove it only requires $5 to install a range in one's kitchen and then $5 a month payments are required.

The purchase price also includes an auto lighter and a set of white porcelain stock stove blocks. Announcement from the shop says: "The heat control device of the oven bears the accuracy guarantee of the manufacturer for a period of five years."

PLANS NEW BILL ON IMMIGRATION

Secretary of Labor Working On Measure to Extend Restrictions

LONDON, July 31.—American Secretary of Labor James Davis who has just arrived from the continent, revealed that he will present a bill dealing with immigration. He refused to give the contents of the proposed measure but indicated it will lengthen migration restrictions.

"I have always had a strong conviction we should have selective immigration or none," said Secretary Davis. "The things have seen on the continent clinched my opinion."

"I am preparing a bill for congress, but do not want to outline that now. I may make a speech upon it. Immigration depots are passing. The United States could leave most of the deportees aboard ships in the steersage, by comparison with the steerage facilities, Ellis Island is a palace. Those ones who are sent to Ellis Island are those who do not comply with the law."

Secretary Davis said he did not think a coal strike would come in the United States. He thinks that affairs will be settled.
