Second or third installments. The undersigned is of a contrary opinion, and thinks that the treasurer could not refuse the payment of them, not ouly the second draft, which was accompanied by a certificate as required by the law of 1830 as is proved by the testimony of Wm. Hawes (the superintendent appointed by the commissioners;) but he was bound to may the third draft, because the law does not say that a certificate should accompany every draft.—All that was necessary to authorise the treasurer to pay the two last drafts, was to prove to him, to that the work had been commenced, and was in a stage of progress. Now the certificate, which accompanied the second Monday in the month of December in the vear one thousand eight hundred and company every draft.

There is no doubt, but that the funds of the state hive been misused; but the fault is with the comme sioners; who signed the three drafts at one and the same time, while signed the three draits at one and the same time, while they aught to have issued them as the works progressed.— It is palpably evident, that there are no other means of re-covering the $3,333 34 than to institute a suit against the treasurer of the commissioners and his securities.—There-fore, I will aubinit, most respectfully, the following resolu-

act, and to obtain judgio: nt against the said Wm. Winfree and Wm.
