GERMANS HAVE PAID BIG PRICE BUT FRENCH STILL HOLDING COMMANDING POSITIONS ALONG THE AISNE FRONT

No Substantial Results for Germans Have Followed Efforts Directed by Wilhelm's Son; Enemy Leaders Fear Renewal of Heavy Blows by Petain's Forces

London, June 23.—Heavy attacks by the Germans are continuing along the Aisne front, with the fighting at times assuming almost the proportions of a general engagement. No substantial successes have attended the Crown Prince's efforts. The latest bulletins from the front, indeed, indicate the fighting to be turning more favorably for the French, whose artillery is proving that it has lost none of its effectiveness in breaking up attacks.

The Crown Prince's primary purpose apparently is to forestall the renewal of the French offensive movement expected in this important sector, southwest and south of the fortress of Laon, the German key position, which would be seriously menaced by any further French advance. So far General Petain has lost none of his commanding positions, while the Germans have sacrificed heavily for such small gains as they have been able to effect.

The plan of the Germans seems to be to launch heavy forces on comparatively narrow fronts in the area under attack. They penetrated a salient in the French line yesterday on the Chemin-des-Dames in the neighborhood of Epine-de-Chevregny in such an attack.

Last night they tried to debouch from the ground thus gained but found all their efforts broken up by the French fire. Other attacks in the region of Vauxaillon, to the west, and near Chevreux and other points, to the east, likewise were futile.

No Advantage.
Paris, June 23.—Continuing their offensive in the Aisne front, German forces last night made repeated attacks in the region of Vauxaillon and southeast of Flain. They also multiplied their efforts against the French positions north of Preidmont, where they failed yesterday. An official report issued here this afternoon says the Germans made considerable sacrifices without gaining the slightest advantage.

German Statement.
Berlin, June 23.—A French position southeast of Flain on a front of 1½ kilometers and 500 metres deep was captured yesterday by German troops, army headquarters announced today. Prisoners to the number of 300 were taken.

RUSSIANS FORMING STORMING UNITS

Soldiers Anxious to Fight
Given Red and Black
Arm Bands

Petrograd, June 23.—One of the most favorable features of the situation on the Russian front is the formation of "storming battalions," which are newly created army units composed of soldiers who favor a policy of active fighting. Soldiers who wish to fight are transferred to battalions composed entirely of men holding this view. These men receive red and black arm bands to distinguish them from shirkers. Their function is to lead in attacks.

The movement started in the extreme south wing of the army, but now there are storming battalions everywhere. Dr. Eugene Hurd, of Seattle, who has been with the central army since the beginning of the war and is now in Petrograd, says the idea is spreading like wildfire.

Before starting for this city Dr. Hurd saw two splendid new divisions composed of storming battalions. He also met several trains of soldiers on the way to the front, all wearing the red and black arm bands and in excellent fighting mood. Dr. Hurd predicts that nearly all the soldiers will join the storming battalions and regard the movement as a signal for the regeneration of Russia's fighting forces.

MAYOR OF CHICAGO STORM CENTRE; MAY BE IMPEACHED SOON

Chicago, June 23.—The possibility of action by the city council on resolutions calling for the resignation and impeachment of Mayor William Hale Thompson, introduced at a boisterous session yesterday, occupied the attention of political circles here to-day. The resolutions followed the mayor's attempt to adjourn the council meeting in the course of a fight about his school board appointments. After the mayor had called an adjournment and left the chamber dodging books hurled at his head by aldermen and followed by cries of "Robber," the session was reconvened and adopted the resolutions attacking the mayor. Police reserves to-day were held ready to protect the mayor's school board appointments.

BRITISH COLUMBIA INVESTIGATION IN UNITED KINGDOM

London, June 23.—Representatives of both the "wet" and "dry" interests of British Columbia express themselves as satisfied with the trend of the investigation now proceeding in regard to the prohibition referendum. So far the auditor has only issued a report on the checking of the electoral roll with the ballots.

W. D. Bayley, the "dry" scrutineer, who gave evidence on Wednesday and Thursday, says that so far he is satisfied with what the investigation has disclosed. Representatives "wets," on the other hand, declare Bayley's testimony has failed to support any of his allegations. The commission met in the Canadian Records office to-day and will proceed to the Epsom convalescent hospital, where irregularities are alleged to have occurred.

UKRAINE MILITARY LEADERS WORK FOR SEPARATE SYSTEM

London, June 23.—Reuters' Petrograd correspondent reports that the Ukrainian military conference has called upon the Ukrainian national assembly to cease its relations with the Russian Provisional Government and proceed immediately to effect an independent organization of the Ukraine.

MINISTER ENDORSED BY CONSTITUENTS

HONORABLE JOHN HART
Minister of Finance in the Brewster Administration.

MINISTER SECURES HIS RE-ELECTION THROUGHOUT THE CITY

Hon. John Hart Endorsed as Member of the Brewster Govt. by Good Majority

SMALL VOTE POLLED THROUGHOUT THE CITY

Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, was re-elected in Victoria yesterday as one of the representatives of the capital, by the majority of 153, the vote being 1,799 for the Minister and 1,646 for Dr. Ernest Hall, out of a total poll of 3,445, of which 3,445 votes were good. The vote by wards was:

Ward	Mr. Hart	Dr. Hall
Ward One	229	228
Ward Two	403	363
Ward Three	399	297
Ward Four	295	239
Ward Five	491	419
Total	1,799	1,646

E. J. Bawden, returning officer, will make his official return on Monday. With the apathy usually shown at by-elections the electors did not turn out as they did at the general election and the majority obtained by the Minister was not, therefore, as large as it would otherwise have been. In addition there is a feeling that there have been so many elections in the city in the course of the last year or so, and quite a number of people expressed themselves as so sick and tired of elections that they refused to go to the trouble of going out to vote.

The Minister of Finance got a majority in Wards Two, Four and Five, of very respectable proportions in each case, while the majorities given for Dr. Hall in Wards One and Three only aggregated fifteen. Ward Five polled by far the largest vote and gave the Minister the biggest majority of any of the wards.

There was excellent organization on the part of the Liberal workers in all the wards, and throughout the day there was a great number of volunteer workers busy. Scrutineers were placed in every division of each of the five booths.

Women Scrutineers.
For Dr. Hall the chief organizations that were at work were the remnants of the Beaver Club and kindred bodies on the side of the late Government. There were only two scrutineers for him in all the polls for some hours in the forenoon, and it was late in the day before he got a number of women workers to act for him. Several of these showed themselves quite efficient but as a rule they were entirely unacquainted with the duties they were supposed to perform.

The poll officials were all very efficient and the work of the day was carried through without a hitch. Only thirty ballots were rejected as spoiled, about one per cent. of the total vote. With such excellent officials and a small vote the counting of the ballots was a short matter, and the result was known soon after half past seven o'clock, which is remarkably early for an election in Victoria.

It is asserted by Dr. Hall's supporters that they were handicapped by not having voters' lists until the day before polling. If there was any handicap it was of their own making, for inquiry from the King's Printer to-day elicited the information that he received no application from that side for copies of the lists until Thursday, when he supplied forty out of the forty-two that were left of the November revision, the last one made.

Minister of Finance Thanks Constituents and Pledges Service

To the Electors of Victoria:
I appreciate more than I can say the honor my constituents have done me in re-electing me as one of their representatives and endorsing the action of the Premier in inviting me to join his cabinet.

It is well-known to all that the issue was not a political one; that the policies and record of the Government were not in question; but I do not wish to make any further reference to the arguments made use of in the campaign.

To-day I am once more representing the entire community, irrespective of its political divisions, and I think my record in this city will justify my constituents in believing me when I pledge myself anew to serve their best interests and those of the province at large. I have undertaken a heavy task and I have to ask of the people that they give myself, as well as Mr. Brewster's Government, a fair chance to do the work which is before us. I know I can appeal to my fellow-citizens for a continuance of their support.

JOHN HART.

TO FRANCE.

AMERICAN CONGRESS GREET'S BAKHMETIEFF; NO SEPARATE PEACE

Head of Russian Mission to the States Declares His Country Will Be Worthy Partner in Great League of Honor

Washington, June 23.—Ambassador Bakhmetieff, head of the Russian Mission to the United States, emphatically declared in an address to-day before Congress assembled in the hall of the House that the Russian people themselves oppose a separate peace with Germany.

The Ambassador's declaration came at the end of the most remarkable and demonstrative reception yet given any of the Entente Missions in either House of Congress. Shouts and cheers came from floor and galleries. Members of Congress, who on previous visits of Entente Missions had applauded or remained quietly in their seats, cheered loudly. Men, women and children in the galleries caught the sweeping wave of patriotism, shouting and waving handkerchiefs. The applause and cheering were renewed when the Ambassador added:

VENIZELOS WILL LEAD IN GREECE

Jonnart, Representing Entente, Bringing About Fusion of Two Parties

London, June 23.—The Athens correspondent of The Times cables in connection with the report that two members of the late Greek Cabinet had been designated to negotiate, under Commissioner Jonnart, with two members of the present Ministry, says:

"This means a fusion of the two parties in Greece under the government of Venizelos. Venizelos has arrived at Piraeus. There was a pro-Ally demonstration, with cries of 'Long Live Venizelos!'"

"King Alexander's letter to Zaimis," the correspondent says, "in which he describes himself as a faithful guardian of the constitution, has given general satisfaction and is considered as dictated by a praiseworthy intention to repair the mistake made in his first proclamation, in which he spoke of following in his father's footsteps."

Athena, June 23.—Charles C. A. Jonnart, the high commissioner representing France, Great Britain and Russia in Greece, has approved the Greek mixed commission, consisting of two Ministers each from among the followers of Premier Zaimis and former Premier Venizelos, in order to bring about a unification of Greek policy. The attitude of M. Venizelos to this proposal is not yet known.

SELECTION OF MEN FOR AMERICAN ARMY

Numbers Will Be Drawn in Washington; Training by September 1

Washington, June 23.—Regulations for drafting the new national army now awaiting President Wilson's approval contain provisions for every step in the great undertaking except the actual method of the draft itself.

No official announcement has been made and official confirmation is being withheld, but it has been stated that the Federal Government itself will do the drafting, probably here in Washington, so there will be no opportunity for local favoritism, political or otherwise. As the regulations stand now, every registered man bears a number. The numbers will be forwarded to Washington and the drawing will be entirely by number. The identity of the numbered men will be unknown to those in charge of the draft machinery, and the name of any man may be established only by comparing his number with a printed list of the man's home district.

The question of exemptions will go before the local boards. If a man is exempted the man bearing the number which was drawn next in order will take his place and so on until the first increment of 625,000 has been assembled. The others will be called as the need develops.

It is hoped to have all the men in training by September 1.

"Timors of a separate peace are without foundation in fact. Russia's endeavor is for a lasting peace between democratic nations. Triumph of the German autocracy would render such peace impossible. Russia will not fail to be a worthy partner in the league of honor."

Brazil's Attitude.

Washington, June 23.—The diplomatic exchanges in which Brazil notified the United States of the revocation of her neutrality in the war between the United States and Germany and spoke of her action in the interest of Pan-American solidarity, and the Washington Government acknowledged the notification, were published by the state department.

Ambassador Da Gama explained that he had been instructed by President Brax to say that his Government "recognized the fact that one of the belligerents is a constituent portion of the American continent and that we are bound to that belligerent by traditional friendship and the same sentiments in the defence of the vital interests of America and the accepted principles of international law."

"I still now the Monroe Doctrine, he added, had been divested of its true character because of a comparative lack of reciprocity; but the present events had resulted in a greater solidarity among the American nations."

ENEMY'S DEFENCES ARE CRUMBLING NOW

Germans Have Tried to Retake Ground Won by Canadians

Canadian Army Headquarters in France, June 23.—(By the Canadian Overseas Press Correspondent.)—The furious resistance offered by the enemy to any further advance along the Souchez Valley in the direction of Lens indicates his intention to hold that city at all costs as the sole remaining outpost protecting Lille and the great industrial region of which Lille is the centre. A little over two months ago the enemy's hold appeared to be as secure as at any other time since the beginning of the war. The two ridges, Messines, about 10 miles northwest of Lille, and Vimy, about 18 miles southwest of Lille, were held in such strength that their impregnability was the subject of frequent enemy boasting. Now both Vimy and Messines ridges are firmly in our possession, and to the northeast of Lille the advance has been pushed almost to the bank on the Lys, which is a poor defensive substitute for the commanding heights surrendered to the impetuous assault of Field-Marshal Haig's army.

The progress in the south has been less spectacular, but nevertheless important. Unquestionably the enemy's defenses are crumbling beneath the unceasing shell fire. One officer uttered the following picturesque phrase: "We have been throwing foundries and munition plants at the Boches."

The capture by Canadian troops early in the week of a small triangle of German trenches west of Reservoir Hill has been followed by most persistent efforts on the part of the enemy to recover the lost ground.

On the front south of the Souchez stream the enemy has been equally unquiet. Gas shells have been used freely by both sides. This involves the frequent use of gas masks. The gas shells are more often discharged by night than in the day time.

On other parts of the line prisoners have been captured who recently were serving in eastern Europe. There is a marked increase in the number of young lads in the enemy's trenches. Recently a few boys have been captured of the 1919 class—that is, immature lads of 18.

DISCUSSION OF CONSCRIPTION HAS DIVIDED COMMONS AT OTTAWA INTO THREE SECTIONS; PRESENT POSITION

Ottawa, June 23.—The first week's debate on the manhood conscription bill ended last night with the House of Commons divided into three fairly distinct sections. They are described by the Ottawa Citizen (Independent) as follows:

"A large number of the Government members favor compulsory military service without a referendum and a number of Liberals agree with them. Another party composed of French and English-speaking Liberals favors conscription with a referendum. The third party is made up exclusively of Government supporters and it is absolutely opposed to conscription with or without a referendum. It is this third party which elected the Government in 1911 and has helped since to maintain it in office and it has been an active force in the Conservative-Nationalist coalition Government since 1911. For the first time in our political history a large and influential body of supporters of the Government proposes a six months' hoist for a Government measure.

Above, as nearly as possible, is about the situation at the end of this week. It may be added, however, that in the Liberal members who agree with the Government members favoring compulsory military service go further and include wealth and resources. There really should be four classes.

Three more Liberal members added their support yesterday to the conscription bill—Hon. George P. Graham, Mr. Nesbitt and W. A. Buchanan. Mr. Graham did so after laying down the principle that any man who voted against the Laurier amendment was "not severing the ties which bind him to his grand old chief, nor was he slinking away from the great Liberal party." He favored the bill, but he did so on the assumption that the Government would undertake an extension of the principle to the wealth and resources of the country and go about co-ordinating and organizing the industries of the country toward the winner of the war.

Mr. Nesbitt based his support of the principle of conscription on the theory that every man has the right to protect his country. He declared that he would vote for the bill on the second reading, but would reserve judgment and his right to vote contrarywise on the third reading "if the Government should attempt to bring in legislation widening the effect of the conscription proposal by taxation of wealth and better organization of labor and industry in interests of war."

Support Required.
W. A. Buchanan, in a very serious speech, came out flat-footed in favor of the bill on the principle that the men at the front must be supported.

So far Messrs. Guthrie, Pardee, Graham, McCranes, Nesbitt and Buchanan on the Liberal side have come out in favor of the bill and against a referendum. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Messrs. Oliver, Murphy, Gauthier and Demers have stood together for a referendum. On the Government side all the members who have spoken, with the exception of Mr. Barrette, Berthier, Quail, who moved for a six-months' hoist, have stood for the bill. The followers of Barrette have not yet been heard from, but there will be a fairly substantial number of them. On the Liberal side every man who has spoken in favor of the bill has spoken also in favor of a widening of its principle. On the Government side only two members have referred to that side of the question. W. S. Middlebro, North Grey, Ontario, contended that at the present time there was no lack of money to carry on the war.

ESTERHAZY STATES READINESS FOR PEACE

The New Hungarian Premier Speaks of Terms "Acceptable to Adversaries"

London, June 23.—A dispatch to the Central News from Amsterdam says: "The new Hungarian Premier, Count Moritz Esterhazy, and his cabinet met for the first time officially yesterday. In a temperately-worded speech Count Esterhazy declared that the Government's foremost desire was to reform the suffrage, and in the event of the present majority in the Diet failing to co-operate in effecting this reform the Diet would be dissolved and new elections held.

"The Premier added that the Hungarian Government would remain faithful to its alliance with Germany, Bulgaria and Turkey.

"Our military situation is favorable," said Count Esterhazy, "and the new knowledge of our military and economic strength permits us without any appearance of weakness to reaffirm our willingness and readiness to conclude a peace which will be acceptable to our adversaries."

MRS. BESANT GAVE TROUBLE IN INDIA; IS BEING WATCHED

London, June 23.—Telegrams from Bombay say that the restrictions placed by the Indian Government on Mrs. Annie Besant and her colleagues are the sequel to a violent home rule agitation which was distinguished by a vilification of everything British and western. The restrictive measures evoked a storm of adverse comment in the native press and protest meetings were organized.

Mrs. Besant was forbidden by the Indian Government to participate in any meetings, deliver lectures or publish her writings. She and her associates also are prohibited from residing in Madras City and must remain within certain areas. Their correspondence also has been placed under censorship. Mrs. Besant is head of the Theosophical Society and was expelled from the Presidency of Bombay last year for preaching revolt in India.

HON. GEORGE P. GRAHAM SAYS WEALTH MUST ASSIST AND THE COUNTRY BE ORGANIZED; WHITE GIVES HIS VIEWS

Mr. Graham Says Conscription Must Go Further Than Man-Power; Finance Minister on Taxation; E. W. Nesbitt Urges All Members of Parliament Go Out on Two-Week Recruiting Tour

Ottawa, June 23.—It is expected that the vote in the Commons on the second reading of the conscription bill will be reached by the middle of next week. Thereafter in committee the provisions of the bill itself will come under the survey of the members. That the measure will pass second reading is not doubted here to-day.

Discussing in the Commons yesterday afternoon the resolution of which he had given notice some days ago, in which he recommends conscription of the wealth and resources of the country, Hon. George P. Graham said he could see no earthly reason why the men of large incomes had not contributed generously to the carrying on of the war. He suggested that every man of capital in the Dominion should be compelled by law to invest a large portion of his capital in bonds for the carrying on of the war.

The Government would be warranted in making every acre of vacant land in Canada which is held for speculation pay taxes during war time. That would have a double result. If the owners of such vacant land wished to escape taxation he would have the land cultivated, and this would bring greater good to the country as a whole and would furnish traffic for the systems of transportation. Any system of distribution of labor that did not in a measure provide the farmer with assistance would not be complete. There were thousands of people who were not able to go to the front but who would willingly go on the farm if there were some co-ordinated effort to get them there. This bill should contain provision for something of that kind.

No Proper Organization.
Mr. Graham then referred to the classes of Canadian citizens who ought to go to the front. That, he said, brought him to the conscription bill. He repeated his belief that if there had been proper organization the country would not be face to face with the present necessity. He believed, however, that the need for reinforcements is great. The bill unfortunately had been thrown into the arena in a most irritating manner. Even subsequently to the return of the Prime Minister to Canada, Hon. Robert Rogers had stated in an interview that he did not think conscription would be necessary. Then it had been announced without notice and in a very awkward manner. There were, he believed, thousands of men starting from those in Quebec province who should go to the front, and this bill would have some effect in filling up the battalions. He could not bring himself to vote against a measure which would help to do this. Referring to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's referendum amendment, Mr. Graham

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER AFTER THE WAR

ONE OF GERMANY'S METHODS

that it is the will of the Canadian people."
Mr. Pugsley: Why not leave it to the people?

As to Wealth.
Sir Thomas, replying to Mr. Graham, declared that mobilization of man-power in order to reinforce troops at the front was one thing and that taxation for the purpose of raising funds for the prosecution of the war was another, and a very different matter. They could not properly be discussed together.

"Taxation," he said, with an air of profundity, "must be wisely imposed. Men who are reputed to be wealthy may have no ready cash. Let us say that they are engaged in a great industry that employs thousands of men. Shall the state seize part of the capital engaged in that industry? Financing of the war must be carried by drawing from the liquid funds of the nation—from new wealth, so to speak, created through the war. Otherwise essential industry is likely to suffer. The Minister of Finance therefore must be sagacious in his imposition of taxation or he may defeat the very purpose he has in view."

Only $12,000,000.
It would appear that the Minister lays down the principle that the war must be financed from "new wealth" created by the war. A billion and a half dollars' worth of war orders has been placed in Canada since the war commenced. This constitutes "new wealth," but the Minister of Finance has tapped it so far only to the extent of $12,000,000.

The Minister hinted that an income tax "probably" might be imposed, but generally speaking his undertaking along the lines of widening the principle of conscription was vague and uncertain. The Minister was willing at another time to justify his heavy borrowing. In this regard Mr. Graham intimated that the system of piling up the bonded debt would create burdens of taxation after the war which the soldier at the front will have to bear when he comes back.

"We will continue to take the steps necessary to find the money needed to finance this war," Sir Thomas went on to declare. "This Government may be depended upon to bring in such measures of taxation as will be necessary to accomplish that end—income taxes, succession duty taxes or taxes on real estate or anything that may be necessary to win the war. When I say that I want to qualify it with this statement, that taxation should not be imposed with the purpose of punishing anybody. Regard has to be paid to the fact that many wealthy men have given unparagonably to Red Cross and other patriotic organizations."

In Every Town.
He believed that the agitation for the conscription of wealth had arisen from the fact that in every town and city there were to be found a few men who were both rich and close, and who were not contributing.

"And I will say to this House that if I can make the control of I will do so," said the Minister. "I am not sure that it would not be well in connection with income taxation if we were to bring it down that men should be exempted to the extent of their contribution to the Patriotic and Red Cross funds, because, if you impose such taxation you will stop—not altogether, but to some extent—the free flow of voluntary giving to these funds."

Sir Thomas, in closing, appealed for a united stand in the House in order to counsel the people to accept the bill loyally.

E. W. Nesbitt.
E. W. Nesbitt, Liberal, North Oxford, Ontario, did not think that the voluntary system had failed and considered that Canada had done wonderfully well. So far as the falling down of enlistment was concerned, he could not help blaming the Government. One of the worst deterrents to recruiting was the continued series of graft and corruption and of wasteful extravagance on the part of the Government, which appeared in the press from time to time. Another thing which had had a bad effect upon recruiting was the appointment of husky captains and majors drawing high salaries who stood on platforms and called upon men to go to the front when they had no intention of going themselves.

Mr. Nesbitt did not refer to the referendum amendment but said that he proposed to vote for the bill on its second reading. He would reserve the right to vote otherwise on the third reading should the Government fail to bring in legislation widening the effect of the conscription proposal by the taxation of wealth and the better organization of labor and industry in the interests of the war. He urged the desirability of Parliament adjourning for a fortnight in order that all the members of both Houses could unite in an appeal to the country for recruits. He could not help but feel that the enforcement of this bill might bring about disunion that would last for years. He believed that from the democratic standpoint conscription was the proper thing, but if it could be avoided by an appeal to the people it would be a good thing.

W. F. Cockshutt.
W. F. Cockshutt, Conservative, Brantford, declared that this was the first real out-and-out war measure that he had seen proposed in Canada since August, 1914. If the Government did not mean business and delayed the operation of the bill it would not get his support for very long. He would criticize if there were any holding back in regard to this measure, or in regard to the matters of food and fuel control. These were real war measures introduced at the request of the people, and they must be carried out without fear or favor. He believed the Government was honest in introducing these measures and that they would be enforced.

W. A. Buchanan.
W. A. Buchanan, Liberal, Medicine Hat, said he intended to avoid discussion of any matter except the bill itself. He did not feel that he had any right to cast reflections upon any other province, although his own province of Alberta had done well in recruiting, but he pointed out that no poison had been spread broadcast in the Western provinces as had been done in the province frequently referred to in the debate, and if that poison had not been spread in the other provinces the situation with regard to recruiting might have been very different.

"I am in favor of conscription," he said, "because this is Canada's war and we are fighting for our own defence and our own existence. We must have the last man and the last dollar if necessary to win this war."
Mr. Buchanan uttered warnings as to what would happen if Germany should win the war. When Britain went into the war, Canada was a part of the British Empire and could be looked upon as a prize to the victor. If Germany could have reached Canada she would have done so and possessed it. The only thing that had prevented Germany from reaching Canada was that Great Britain had a power Germany did not possess. If Germany was able after three years to defeat great powers like France, Great Britain and the United States, Germany would not only dominate, but rule the world; and he would say to those not in favor of conscription that under Germany it would not be conscription for a few years, but military service for all time. It was worth while to fight to maintain the liberties and the democracy the people of this country loved.

He wished the members were imbued with the spirit of the young men at the front. They were proud of the part they were playing.
"I can not conscientiously do anything but back up those men who have gone to the front," declared Mr. Buchanan, "because I have stood on platforms and told them to go. If I did not back them up I could not face them when they came back home."

Another Trial.
Mr. Buchanan said that as far as he was concerned he was willing to give voluntary recruiting another test, but there should be no delay.
On the question of a referendum he differed with his leader. He did not believe in a referendum on this question. He considered conscription necessary and he wanted to declare himself absolutely in favor of conscription. He would face his people on this issue and take the consequences. He thought the men who were sent forward on conscription would be thankful in the end that they had been forced to enlist in the war to save liberty, justice and democracy.

Coming to the question of taxation, Mr. Buchanan said Canada must have taxation which would hurt the people and force them to realize they were undergoing a strain. The people should be taxed until it hurt. The Government should deal with the men who were shirking their duty at home. He strongly favored a heavy income tax.
In closing he said it was Parliament's duty to try to establish a government which would represent all classes. There should be a government with a labor man in it and a real representative of the farmers. There could not be a successful prosecution of the war unless there was a government which had the confidence of the whole people.

BOURASSA BLAMES QUEBEC MEMBERS

Says They Did Not Make Plain at Ottawa the True Position

Montreal, June 23.—Henri Bourassa, in an anti-conscription address here, did not spare the representatives of the French-Canadian people at Ottawa, whom he accused of having misrepresented their compatriots before the present English-speaking conference. Either the French-Canadian M. P.'s were "hard" or the French-Canadians were "cowards" in permitting the misrepresentation. The members of French-Canadian origin had not only betrayed their race, he said, but had deceived the English-Canadians, telling them that the French-Canadians were as one with the English in wanting to die for England and France, and when the time had come for proof the result naturally was disappointing to the English-speaking people of the other provinces. It was time for the truth, he said, to be told, and nothing but the truth would succeed.

The French-Canadians had but one country, and that country was Canada. France they looked to with gratitude for the French thought; to England they owed the obligation of loyalty according to the constitution agreed upon, and that was all.
"Take the attitude of our chiefs at Ottawa, protesting always that the French-Canadians are ready to die for England, the same as the other races," he said in elaborating his claim that the division between the races in Canada is caused by the penetration of imperialism. "They knew that it was not true; it was a lack of loyalty towards the King, a lack of loyalty to our English fellow-citizens, for our deputies to fool them that way."

Turning directly to the conscription issue, Mr. Bourassa said that if it was desired to oppose the conscription to-day and of to-morrow, it was necessary to get rid of the tentacles, not only now, but with an eye to the future.
"Conscription," he said, "defeated perhaps to-day, will come back in six months, and may come just as well from a Liberal Government as from a Conservative Government," he said. "The same day that Laurier proposed the referendum he did not declare whether he was against conscription or no. ## A VANCOUVER DEATH.

Vancouver, June 23.—The death of George C. Armstrong, for the past 39 years with the Ogilvie Milling Company, occurred here yesterday.
Deceased was a brother of W. H. and Robert Armstrong, of the local contracting firm of Armstrong & Morrison, and for the past four years was manager for the Ogilvie Milling Company at Medicine Hat. He was born at Paris, Ont., 57 years ago. In addition to his two brothers he leaves a sister, Margaret, residing here, and a wife and four daughters at Medicine Hat and one son, who has been in the trenches in France for the past two years.

CANADIANS TO RUSSIA.

London, June 23.—The American committee of engineers in London, a body of prominent engineers organized to render advisory and practical assistance to the United States Government and the Allies during the war, has sent to Russia a committee of two military railway experts to offer advice and aid in reorganizing the railroads already built. The London committee's representatives are Lieut.-Col. J. W. Boyle, of the Canadian forces, and Lieut.-Col. J. A. Macdonnell, of a Canadian pioneer and railway battalion.

DRAYTON AT WINNIPEG SPEAKS OF RAILWAYS

Winnipeg, June 23.—Sir Henry Drayton, addressing the Winnipeg Canadian Club on the country's railway problems, reviewed some outstanding points of the recent report on the condition and future of the Canadian roads.
"The difficulty," he said, "lies not in public ownership, but in political operation—in displacing business methods with those demanded by the party caucus—in operating systems not for the benefit of the country as a whole, nor in the interests of the general taxpayer, but in the interests of some particular locality whose votes are of more importance. Mr. Acworth and myself frankly recognize the evil result of such management and directly condemn it. What we propose is that the business methods of companies should be applied to railways owned by the Government."

RUSSIAN REPORT.

Petrograd, June 23.—The following communication was issued last night: "There have been fusillades and aerial operations in the Western and Rumanian theatres.
"Caucasus front—West of Kalkik our detachments attacked a Turkish position on the northern heights of the Hamur Ridge. All the defenders were bayoneted with the exception of a few men who succeeded in making their escape.
"North of Serzesht, after a minor engagement with Kurds, our troops occupied a summit and continued to advance.
"Captain Kruten, who in the course of numerous air fights had brought down six aeroplanes, was killed descending at an aerodrome."

MEMBER OF THE AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

THE ELECTION.

The Times congratulates the Minister of Finance upon his election and believes he will do his utmost to justify his selection for the important post which his leader has called him.

The election was unique in many ways. It had numerous cross-currents which baffled the political prophets and cut clearly across party lines.

Dr. Hall was a strong second. While he was favored by certain currents he had to operate with an organization which, while industrious, was limited.

SHOULD NOT DELAY.

A provision of the compulsory military service measure says: "This Act shall come into force on such day, after the passing thereof, as the Governor-in-Council may fix by proclamation."

The Times believes it would be a mistake to defer the enforcement of the measure after its adoption, under any circumstances. Apart from the fact that the additional men for the army are required at once, economic conditions, the emergent food situation, the vital need of more production, in our opinion demand that they be raised by a process of selection, which is impossible under the voluntary system.

scrape and save as it never did before. Thus, unless the compulsory selective process is pursued in the enrollment of soldiers from now on the country might make the mistake of weakening the foundation of its strength by enlisting men who should be kept at home, as in many instances has been done under the voluntary system.

These circumstances of which far-sighted men are taking note show the urgent necessity of a thorough organization of the country for war. There should be a complete registration of all its human resources. Dependence upon a census taken seven years ago is extremely faulty.

THE WAR TAX.

Sir Thomas devoted a good deal of attention to Hon. Mr. Graham's remarks about the mobilization of wealth. The Government had not been slow in taxing wealth.

"The Government had not been slow to tax wealth," Does Sir Thomas White actually believe that? Certainly nobody else does, for it is transparently incorrect.

The Government had not been slow to tax wealth. The $200,000,000 special war taxes received from the commencement of the war up to the end of the present fiscal year have been wrung from those least able to pay.

Sir Thomas White's affiliations and environment no doubt influence his point of view, but this will have to be altered, and the sooner he realizes it the better for himself, the Government and the country.

THE RUSSIAN FRONT.

Major-General Maurice, Director of Military Operations at the War Office, contradicts the report that there has been a considerable diversion of German troops from the east front to France and Belgium.

weaken their line from Riga to the Danube to any considerable extent. They would be courting suicide in doing so, for the theory, which seems to be entertained in certain quarters in the Entente countries, that the Russian army has been paralyzed beyond hope of reorganization is not entertained by the German high command.

Nobody knows better than the Germans that their schemes to turn the Russian revolution to their permanent advantage through the activities of paid agents, irreconcilable visionaries who formerly congregated in Switzerland, and Romanoff sympathizers, who are largely responsible for the various internal disturbances which have broken out from time to time, have failed.

Germany's leaders know the submarine campaign will not achieve its purpose, that her front in France and Belgium cannot be maintained indefinitely, and that within a short time the resources of the United States will be operating in full swing.

A WONDERFUL SECRET SERVICE. The sensational disclosures of Hun conspiracies in the United States which were made from time to time by the Providence Journal led many to believe that the newspaper was the mouthpiece of the British secret service, which received high praise for this evidence of its remarkable efficiency.

One interesting feature was that an agent of the newspaper was for seven months in the Ambassador's office as assistant secretary, and his identity was not known to Bernstorff until he remained behind on the dock when the Frederick VIII. left for Halifax.

The chief difficulty was in securing their codes. "We found some of the codes," he said, "and we were able in a short time to place our own men in German and Austrian Consulates all over the States and even in the German Embassy itself.

While the girl was one day casually sitting on the box, then ready for shipment, von Papen, on watch, sat down beside her, asked if he might share her lunch, and made some sentimental flirting advances to the girl.

work we tried to do has been accomplished.

"We have been aided in this work by a certain degree of fatuity, a green blubber taking place of grey matter in the brain which the Lord has seen fit to deposit in the head of every German diplomat.

The substitution of a leather bag on one of the overhead railways by a man in the service of The Journal enabled them to get from Dr. Heinrich Albert a most valuable bundle of papers, which showed that Sir Roger Casement's effort to land in Ireland and to rouse the Sinn Feiners had been hatched and financed in Germany.

For romantic detail, however, none of the adventures equalled that of the girl stenographer who had for some years been employed by The Providence Journal.

While the girl was one day casually sitting on the box, then ready for shipment, von Papen, on watch, sat down beside her, asked if he might share her lunch, and made some sentimental flirting advances to the girl.

In some respects the contest which ended yesterday hardly could be described in the words of one of Robert Louis Stevenson's gallant characters as a "bonnie fecht," but it was fiercely fought over a field of somewhat limited proportions, and it will be a good thing for the community if some of the side-issues raised are permanently buried.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, June 23, 1912.

Joe Payne, manager for the Douglas Lake Cattle Company, the largest ranching concern in the province, came over on the Islander last evening. He brought down from Kamloops 250 head of beef cattle for Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria.

James Stewart, who for the past 30 years has been farming on Vancouver Island, in the vicinity of Victoria, died at his residence on the Sea View farm this morning. The deceased came to Victoria with the Mackenzie & Langford's, of the Puget Sound Company, and lived for nine years at Grandfather. In 1862 he took charge of a piece of land on Esquimalt harbor for Dr. Helmcken. He was a native of Gifford, Waddingtonshire, and was 84 years of age.

Cooper. A fine of $5 was imposed and the accused was told that he must comply with the law immediately. A fine of $10 was the sentence passed on F. Moore for allowing his son, who is under the prescribed age, to drive a motor car. A charge of having driven this car at an excessive rate of speed was not proven. K. Price, a boy of the district, was fined $1.50 to cover damages caused by a stone that he had thrown.

An application has been received from the Trades and Labor Council to be represented on the Board through this channel.

VAUDEVILLE SHOW ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Viny Ridge Club and Committee of Returned Soldiers Give Entertainment

The vaudeville show so admirably presented at the Princess Theatre on Thursday night in aid of the Returned Soldiers' Amusement Fund was a great success, playing to a large and enthusiastic audience almost insatiable in its interest. The full proceeds, $74.50, have been diverted to the fund for which it was devised, and Mrs. Newbury, chairman of the Viny Ridge Club, and Pte. W. K. Symes, of Resthaven Convalescent Hospital, who worked so untiringly to see the thing through, are to be congratulated on the result of the undertaking.

The various parts in the different numbers were splendidly carried. Special favorites were Sgt. Gutteridge's vocal solo, a parody on "The Soldiers in France," which was sung to a noisily appreciative house; and the song and dance given by Elsie and Dave Dumbleton, two of the cleverest amateur performers in their line that the city can boast. Mr. Dumbleton, who has joined for overseas service and expects to leave at almost any time, will be greatly missed from among the entertainers, having appeared frequently in amateur performances in aid of one or other of the patriotic funds. The applause which greeted the numbers was a part tribute to his popularity.

Mrs. Williams very kindly came down from Nanaimo in order to appear in the first number of the evening, "Japahese Love Song," in which Mrs. Hallett also appeared as a lead. The number was excellent. Mr. Menclaw, the "Irish Canadian," brought down the house with applause. Mr. Swain and Miss Dumbleton made a great hit with "Mary Never Mind the Dairy," being assisted by a chorus. "Dreamy China Lady," with Miss McMillen and chorus, was very pretty. A clever little dancer is Miss Queenie Ball, and with her usual grace and charm she delighted everyone in her dance of the Butterfly. Mr. George Swain was the soloist in "A Basket of Roses," a chorus of pretty girls assisting in making this one of the outstanding numbers of the evening. Mr. Webster's first appearance on the stage as leading man in "Follow the Lady with the Sunshade" was a great credit to him and won hearty applause.

For sheer prettiness and charm nothing took the fancy of the audience more than the Dance of 1866, in which the participants were Mesdames Ozaud, Gombason, Williams, and Miss Sturton. Casey and Thorn entertained the audience for a short time with some very clever tricks of magic. Mr. Casey escaping from a mail bag, double padlocked and bound securely with rope. Mr. Thorne is one of Victoria's youngest magicians, and no doubt the cleverest, and his ledger-main was finished and subtle.

"When the Girls Go Marching By," led by Capt. Mrs. Proctor and a brigade of girls was very well staged, and was one of the spectacular effects of the evening, the flags of the Allies being displayed by some of the young artists.

The National Anthem concluded the splendid entertainment.

The Columbia Gramofona with its incomparable tone entertains while it educates. It does not give an approximation of the accomplishments of the world's greatest artists; it produces their works with a smoothness and naturalness of tone unknown in other makes. ### WIN MOTOR YACHT

Raffle of 30 H. P. Boat to Take Place at Royal Victoria Theatre.

The motor yacht "Th Away," which the Red Cross Society is to raffie on July 5 is the finest boat of her class in our waters. Built of teak with oak frames, he has a 20 h.p. engine, is 37 feet 6 inches in length, and 9 feet 3 inches beam, and can be easily handled by one man, the engine being controlled from the cockpit. She is beautifully fitted, has sleeping accommodation for eight persons, and is found with anchors, cables, dinghy, running lights, kitchen and electric lights. Mr. Fitz-Herbert Bullen, the donor, has just had the boat thoroughly overhauled. She came from the ways the first month after being scraped and painted, and can be inspected at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club's anchor. She has not been anchored in the harbor as the committee does not wish her soiled. The sale of tickets up to date has been far less than expected. The Red Cross Society had an offer of $2,750 for her, but refused it as she is worth $4,000. It is not often that one can give one dollar to the Red Cross funds and at the same time stand a chance to win $2,750 in cash. Those still wishing to procure tickets can purchase same at Superfluties. The raffle is to be Thursday, July 5 at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

WOMAN WITH HOE FULLY EQUIPPED

Farming and Gardening Call Forth Overalls and Practical Working Clothes

New York, June 19.—The familiar, age-old saying tells us there is a time for everything, and just now there is no doubt that the time has come to shoulder the hoe and cultivate the land. Women as well as men are joining the great army of the soldiers of the soil for which the country calls, for this is one of the ways in which we are urged to "do our bit" in giving helpful service.

Women who are seriously taking to farming and gardening have had to decide on suitable clothes to work in. They have adopted practical overalls and simple uniforms consisting of a short skirt and a plain, practical waist. When we talk of overalls, however, it does not mean that we must give up all those fascinating summer clothes we have been planning to wear just as soon as the weather would be warm enough to allow us to indulge in them. For, of course, there will still be times to dance, and then we shall wear those ravishing frocks of net and organdy, chiffon and tulle, and those other airy nothings which are so necessary to the happiness of women. Then, too, there will come the times to play when we shall revel in those wonderfully attractive sports clothes with gay striped and plaid skirts and the smart belted middie blouses.

But, to go back to the overalls. Whether women are really going to devote a great deal of time to farming in earnest, or whether they are simply going to cultivate the small plot in the backyard to raise the vegetables for the family supply, an overall suit is the thing to get.

The sketch shows a suit of very practical overalls. This is the kind that is worn with any separate blouse, the top of the overalls being made in jumper effect. The bloomers are roomy and comfortable. They are gathered at the lower edge and securely tucked under the tops of the high lace shoes, which are the correct shoes to wear for gardening. No dirt or twigs will get in and make the feet uncomfortable when the bloomers are arranged in this way with the shoes laced up over them.

Some overalls are made all in one with waist and sleeves sewed in, forming a complete costume which eliminates the necessity of wearing a waist underneath. This style is preferred by some women. The overalls illustrated have been adopted by the National American Woman Suffrage Association whose members use them in the agricultural department.

ails for women since the agricultural field has been opened up to them as it never has been before, but not alone for this purpose are the overalls used. In many factories skirts have been discarded and the women workers have donned overalls, as they have found much more satisfactory than the handicapping skirt which is often the cause of accidents.

Women in the home are also taking to overalls for performing the rough duties about the house. When used for this purpose, they are usually made up in the lighter materials such as percale, chambray and gingham.

Ward Off Freckles With a Sun-Fat! While women are cultivating the soil, they surely do not want to be cultivating freckles as well, so the gardening outfit is not really complete without a sun-hat or a sun-bonnet to protect the head. An excellent type of sun-hat with a brim which may be rolled up or down is shown with the overalls illustrated. This is just as essential to the gardener as the hoe, rake or spade, not to mention the important overalls. The overalls and hat are usually made of the same material, and one of the most practical materials to use is khaki or heavy khaki-colored materials. This color is the best to use for the obvious reason that it does not show the dirt as much as any other.

Women's overalls are also made up in blue jean, that practical fabric which has always been used for men's overalls.

Another very practical costume in use now for outdoor work consists of a tailored shirtwaist and a short khaki skirt with bloomers and detachable leggings. The illustration above shows this costume. The waists are made of heavy linen, percale, madras, poplin and all practical shirting materials. The skirts are provided with large pockets, not merely a fashion feature, but decidedly utilitarian.

AT THE THEATRES

THE VARIETY.

In "The Valentine Girl," her latest Famous Players picture on the Paramount Programme, Marguerite Clark receives the able support of several of the screen's best known artists such as Frank Losee, Adolph Menjou, Richard Barthelmess, Katherine Adams, Maggie Holloway Fisher and others. This picture was directed by J. Searle Dawley, and the excellent photography, together with the splendid cast make it one of the best Miss Clark has done. It may be seen at the Variety Theatre to-night.

PANTAGES THEATRE.

An all-star bill is coming to the Pantages next week—one of those comfortable and enjoyable bills of variety such as is particularly refreshing in the opening of the summer season. This is the bill which opened the fine new theatre in Vancouver under the personal direction of Alexander Pantages last Monday. There are five unusual and striking feature acts in addition to the fascinating pictures of travel and manufacture which are now being shown on the Pantages screen.

Mlle. Blanca, for seven years premier danseuse of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York, will head the bill with her elaborate series of spectacular dances, with appropriate settings for each, in the presentation of which she is supported by M. Korakoff and Wilhelmina Barnhill. Mlle. Blanca will present four numbers, three of which are in two parts each, each presented with special costumes, scenery and effects.

Menlo Moore is responsible for the creation of the added attraction which is entitled "The Magazine Girls," a musical comedy featuring a very good comedian, Doc Baker, and a pretty soubrette, Elaine Juliette, assisted by a sextette of beauties, in songs, dances, a display of costumes of the latest degrees of fashion, special scenery and a lot of fun, facts and fashions.

Will Morrissey will contribute the surprise act of the bill, one that will have to be seen to be appreciated.

Then Ed. F. Reynard, the famous ventriloquist, is back with a new act—he is the ventriloquist who always has a production. This time he shows his ever-funny-rube character as a judge in a "court room" scene with half a dozen other funny character dummies, all working in a setting that is rich. The novelty of the act is the introduction of a dancing specialty by Miss Katherine McConnell.

Alberta is an accomplished and versatile young man who offers an unusual combination of talent. He is not only a xylophone artist, but he also performs the feat of dancing an intricate and difficult soft shoe dance while playing.

Mrs. Margaret Sanger, the New York birth-control advocate who suffered prosecution and imprisonment for her convictions, has just been tendered a luncheon at the Hotel Plaza of that city by the members of the National Birth Control League. On the committee on arrangements were such well-known women as Mrs. Chas. Tiffany, Mrs. C. G. She made many friends while living in Victoria last year, preceding her husband to England in order to take up nursing.

A dispatch from London states that orders of chivalry open to women will be one of the outcomes of the war. The King has been pleased to institute two manifold services rendered in connection with knighthood styled "Order of the British Empire." It will follow the precedents of other similar orders and will consist of five classes or grades and will be awarded both to women and men for services rendered to the Empire at home or abroad. The first two classes will be the case of men, carry the honor of knighthood, and in the case of women the privilege of prefixing the title "Dame" to their name. The second order, which will be entitled "Order of Companions of Honor." It will consist of one class only, to which women will be eligible equally with men. It will carry no title.

An exceptional feature of the wedding of Miss Olive Lloyd George, daughter of Premier Lloyd George, is the fact that it is the first instance in history of a Premier's daughter being married in a non-conformist place of worship, and the chapel selected is one of the smallest and least known in the metropolis. Originally the wedding was planned to take place at Criccieth, where both the bride and bridegroom were born in Wales. The bridegroom is Capt. Thomas Carey Evans, who has been serving as a surgeon in Mesopotamia.

Miss Mabel Keyes Babcock, for four years in charge of the department of Horticulture and landscape architecture at Wellesley College, has been chosen to design the great formal garden which is to be a feature of the new residence of the president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston, and which is to be an impressive part of the magnificent new extension of that institution. Miss Babcock is one of the most distinguished landscape gardeners of her sex and has done notable work in landscape effects for the Wellesley grounds as well as for some of the big estates near Chicago and Boston.

A party of eighteen girl-students of the University of British Columbia, including Miss Westbrook, daughter of the president of the university, came down on the afternoon boat from Vancouver yesterday. The young ladies, all of whom appeared here a few weeks ago in the cast of "Merely Mary Anne," are going out to Mrs. Peter McNaughton's ranch at Gordon Head for some weeks, having volunteered for fruit-picking to relieve the shortage of men which is being so severely felt in all the agricultural districts throughout the country. Not one of the girls ordinarily but would have enjoyed the summer holidays in the free and easy luxury of camping, motoring, yachting, or travelling, and should the war continue for more than the year an exemplary precedent has been established which will give the young women students of the University, a definite propaganda of usefulness for the summer. All are full of enthusiasm for the work, glad to be able to "do their bit" to win the war. In a week or two an additional thirty girls from the university will come down from Vancouver to take part in the fruit-picking on the island, and it may be anticipated that intelligence and good health combined will be splendid assets in the work which is being undertaken by these practical young patriots.

Sentiment on the question of woman suffrage has radically changed since the time, five years ago, when Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was first in the city. On that occasion the eminent English suffragette's visit provoked no small amount of verbal opposition, although the few enemies of the movement who were induced to attend the meeting subsequently admitted the lady's eloquence and force of argument. It is this power which she is now putting into use once more, having just arrived in Petrograd, the Russian capital. A conference with Elzhu Róot and Chas. Edward Russell at the Winter Palace regarding ways to assist Russia in the struggle with the common foe was held yesterday. Mrs. Pankhurst stating that she had gone to Russia to explain to the men and women of that free republic the attitude of the British democracy toward the war.

Mrs. Pankhurst was in Victoria a second time about a year ago, and spoke to one of the biggest and most enthusiastic audiences ever gathered within the four walls of the Old Victoria Theatre. Since then women of British Columbia have been given the ballot, and a day or two ago the British House of Commons adopted the principle of woman suffrage by a majority of 229 votes.

Following annual customs pupils of the Model School at the Normal, Mount Tolmie, yesterday entertained as their guests at a delightful garden party the boys and girls of the special class under Miss Winn and the boys in Miss O'Keefe's class at the Children's Aid. At 11 o'clock sharp private motors lent very kindly by Mrs. T. W. Paterson, Mrs. MacPhillips and Mrs. Jas. Flett, called to take the children from the city to the Normal School. Arriving there the little folks sat down at most immediately to a luncheon served in the garden, the guests and their hosts entering into the business of disposing of the delicious viands with hearty young appetites and unspiced palates. After luncheon the youthful hosts, the Model Class, numbering about eighty, engaged their twenty or more visitors in games, story-telling, etc., the entertainers showing a very fine sense of hospitality in their attention to their little guests. In the middle of the afternoon older visitors arrived, among them Mrs. Jenkins, of the City School Board, and great interest was shown by these in the wonderful display of work in the Model School. The boys of the Children's Aid sang a number of pieces very prettily, and before leaving each of the small visitors was presented with some souvenir of the occasion. The kind friends who lent their motors in the morning again called for the children, and each of the little guests was conveyed to his home, safely after the happiest of outings, grateful alike to their young hosts of the Model School and the teachers, Miss Barron and Miss Scanlon, and to those who had given them the enjoyable drive to and from Mount Tolmie.

RED CROSS WORK

McKenzie Avenue Branch. A garden party in aid of the McKenzie Avenue Red Cross Funds will be held at "Alderley," Glanford Avenue, on Wednesday, July 27, the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers. There will be fancy work and candy, ice cream and raffles, and a musical programme will consist of music, both vocal and instrumental. Afternoon tea will be served all during the day, and afternoon-noon will be served later in the day. It is hoped and expected that all who are genuinely interested in Red Cross work in the community will make an effort to be present.

Hollywood Branch. Hollywood branch apron sale, held Thursday in the Presbyterian Sunday School, Wildwood Avenue, under Mrs. Gibbs' direction, assisted by several ladies, cleared $22.50 for the work. The bags and aprons supplied for the sale were attractively displayed on tables in the Sunday School, and sold rapidly, not an article being left by the time the rooms closed at 5 o'clock. The fish pond, in its drapery of moss and fern, was a favorite rendezvous of the small folk, and cleared about $18. Tea and refreshments were patronized by the majority, and at 15 cents per head cleared $7.65. Mrs. Gibbs wishes to thank all for the donations and help received from the different ladies.

Victoria Club Red Cross. The ladies of the Victoria Club will give a garden party on Tuesday afternoon and evening, the Misses Tolmie having kindly lent their nice old gardens at "Cloverdale" for the event.

Half the proceeds will go to the Cloverdale Red Cross. The affair will be formally opened at 2.30 by Mrs. T. W. Paterson, and many attractions have been planned to make the thing enjoyable as well as successful. Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Keith will be in charge.

Victoria West Branch. The regular monthly meeting of the Victoria West Branch will take place on Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the work rooms, when arrangements for the sports to be held on June 29 will be discussed. There are 60 members on the Victoria West Red Cross books, but only three or four attend regularly at the work rooms. It is hoped that the interest in the sports day arrangements will be better than this, and that everyone will be ready to lend a hand. At the same meeting there will be discussed arrangements for an excursion to Goldstream on Saturday, July 7. A representative of the Esquimalt branch will be present to join in the making of the day's plans, sports programme, etc. Arrangements have been made with the E. & N. to carry adults for 60c, and children for 20c, return. Refreshments will be procurable at the picnic grounds, and there will be dancing besides the sports.

Cloverdale Red Cross will benefit to the extent of $91.50 from the garden party held last Saturday afternoon and evening at "Cloverdale," the home of the Misses Tolmie so kindly lent for the event. The total net proceeds of the undertaking were $152.50, half of the amount going to the Red Cross and the other half to the Graduate Nurses' Association, under whose auspices the event was organized. The nurses and the Cloverdale Red Cross are particularly grateful to Mrs. Ivel, Miss Jean Cameron and Miss Sargent for their assistance with the candy stall; to the boys of Miss Grace Cameron's class, Kingston School, for making the candy boxes; to Miss Cameron and H. Kirkham for arranging a tennis tournament; to the friend who lent the war trophies for the exhibit, and to Frank Sehl for lending his car to bring out some returned soldiers, patients at St. Joseph's and the Jubilee Hospitals.

Fernwood Branch. A special meeting of the Fernwood Red Cross was held on Thursday for the committee, and was well attended. Arrangements were made for the celebration on June 30, and several ladies offered their services to assist in any way possible.

The building which has been occupied by the branch up to the present has now been rented, and on Monday next new workrooms will be opened in the large house at the corner of Fernwood Road and Grant Street, this having been generously offered, rent free, by the B. C. Land and Investment Agency. The branch extends sincere thanks to Mr. Shirk, who so kindly allowed the use of the previously occupied rooms for the past six months.

The afternoon tea-cloth which was given by Mrs. W. Renouf was raffled at the meeting on Thursday. Mrs. Green, Fowl Bay Road, being the holder of the lucky ticket, No. 126, in connection with this raffle the committee wish to thank Gordon Drysdale, Ltd., for displaying the tea-cloth and disposing of the tickets.

Lake Hill Branch. Lake Hill Red Cross will hold a Military Five Hundred and dance in the Woman's Institute, Lake Hill School on Thursday, June 23, at 8 p. m. There will be a raffle of a box of Stevenson's Chocolates and a Crochet Bag. The prizes are to be seen in the window of the Diagon Printing Co.

THE WAR SITUATION

Demands Universal Thrift and Economy in National Life.

Individual thrift and individual sacrifice will win the war. The upheaval in Russia and the extent of the latest German submarine campaign have increased the necessity for concerted national efforts by the rest of the Allies against the Central Empires. The obligation upon every man and woman in the Dominion to exercise their full powers for the successful prosecution of the war is not relieved by the entry of the United States into the struggle. Canada must have more men for the firing line and it must have more money to support its military effort. The amount which the Dominion is expected to raise in the present year is estimated on good authority at $600,000,000. Every dollar that the country can spare is needed to support the war burden. National thrift is essential to meet financial obligations and provide for the struggle that lies ahead. There is a direct war work for everyone to do. Practise thrift and invest your savings in Government War Savings Certificates. B-2

LABOR DAY SPORTS ARE BEING PLANNED

Beacon Hill to Be Scene of Festivities Aiding the Red Cross Society

Enthusiasm in Red Cross work in Victoria is ever increasing, and the City Council last evening pledged its support to the committee that is working to arrange a Red Cross festival on Labor Day. The date is yet a long way off, but the extent of organization that will be required to put into effect the programme that is being contemplated will necessitate a small period of time.

As yet nothing definite has been decided upon and no fixed plan of procedure has been adopted, but on Tuesday of next week a meeting will be held at which preliminary details will be considered. It is planned to hold the event under the auspices of the entire union of all the Red Cross branches of Victoria and district. The scene of the celebration is to be Beacon Hill Park, and the day is to commence with baseball, lacrosse and cricket matches. It will be the endeavor of the committee in charge to develop a plan whereby hot water may be supplied on the field free of charge, so that families may go to the Hill with their picnic baskets and be supplied with water for tea, coffee or cocoa.

At 1 o'clock it is expected that there will be a parade through the streets of the city to the picnic grounds. Each branch of the Red Cross Society will be asked to provide a float for the procession, and on arriving on the scene of the festivities these floats will form the headquarters of each of the several societies. From these the young ladies of the various branches will be sent out among the holiday-makers with all kinds of confectionery, and ice cream, the proceeds from the sales of which will be devoted to swell the funds of the Red Cross organization.

From 2 o'clock until 6, sports will be held, featuring contests that may be participated in by any present who may wish to do so. This will be followed by a band concert and several short addresses on the subject of the purposes and accomplishments of the Red Cross Society. At 7:30 o'clock it is thought that a vaudeville show will be held in conjunction with a continuation of the band concert, and at 9:15, if permission can be obtained, a demonstration of fireworks will be given with which to close the day's events.

TY COBB DRAWING AWAY FROM SPEAKER

Twenty-Five Points Separate Two Great Players in Baseball Contest

Chicago, June 23.—Ty Cobb is drawing away from Tris Speaker in the race for batting honors in the American League. Averages released to-day show the Detroit leader with 368—twenty-five points ahead of Speaker. A week ago three points separated them. The averages include games of Wednesday.

Weaver, of Chicago, has scored more runs than any player in either league, having crossed the plate forty times. Chicago has nipped out Boston for twenty hits with 242.

Leading batters are: Cobb, Detroit, 368; Speaker, Cleveland, 343; McInnis, Philadelphia, 315; Chapman, Cleveland, 310; Sisler, St. Louis, 310; Wambans, Cleveland, 306; Rice, Washington, 297; Jacobson, St. Louis, 287.

Cruise, of St. Louis, shot into the lead among the National League batters with an average of 356. Cruise made 11 hits in seven games.

There was a general shakeup among the leaders in the other departments. Robertson, of New York, deposed Zelder, of Chicago, as the leading base stealer with 17; Stengel, of Brooklyn, took the lead in sacrifice hitting with 14 and Hornsby, of St. Louis, tied Cravath, of Philadelphia, for home run honors, each having six; Heinle Groh, of Cincinnati, dethroned Burns, of New York, as the leader in runs scored with 38.

Leading batters are: Cruise, St. Louis, 356; Roush, Cincinnati, 341; Jack Smith, St. Louis, 338; Fischer, Pittsburgh, 327; Burns, New York, 326; Griffith, Cincinnati, 322; Hornsby, St. Louis, 314; Zimmerman, New York, 313; Whitted, Philadelphia, 307; Kauff, New York, 304; Groh, Cincinnati, 302; Wheat, Brooklyn, 301; Rawlings, Boston, 300.

HANS WAGNER HAS A REMARKABLE RECORD

Pittsburg Veteran Enters Twenty-First Season in the Majors

Twenty years a star in the National League and starting on his twenty-first season, that's the record of Hans Wagner, the Honus of the Pittsburg Club. Only two men in baseball history have done more years of baseball—Cap Anson was up there twenty-two years; Napoleon Lajoie was a star for twenty-one years. The return of the famous Pittsburg player probably means that before he quits the diamond he will have equalled or perhaps eclipsed the stretches left by those other stars.

Wagner's 20-year record.

Wagner's record shows a greater total of hits and runs than ever was scored by another player. Even Anson and Lajoie, with their longer terms of service, rank behind him in these two columns. The complete figures on Wagner since he began his work as a major leaguer with Louisville in 1897 follow:

Year	A. R.	H.	Ave.
1897	241	58	.253
1898	301	80	.266
1899	519	102	.275
1900	525	102	.291
1901	526	100	.282
1902	528	105	.277
1903	525	102	.282
1904	490	97	.249
1905	548	144	.263
1906	515	108	.267

1915	508	68	.150
1916	432	61	.141

Slows Down on Paths.

His last year before deciding to retire (the Bernhard or Patti kind) was his poorest on the paths, but his batting showed an improvement over the few years just previous. He confided while going through the rigors of the last campaign that his eyes were dimming considerably and that his legs wouldn't carry him as far as they formerly did. "I expected to lose speed gradually," he complained, "but I don't see why most of the strength shouldn't stay." Playing on the damp ground of the Pittsburg baseball field probably was to blame for this. He developed rheumatism which bothers him to a great extent in the early spring and late fall.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT PROGRESSING WELL

If all these are completed the list of games will have been brought almost to a close, only a few remaining to be finished on Monday afternoon. Matches may be arranged this afternoon between any of the players in the tournament whose names do not appear below if such a course is found to be convenient.

The following are the contests that are being played to-day:

LACROSSE: CANADA'S NATIONAL PASTIME

Game Originated With the Indian Tribes of the "Great Dominion"

VICTORIA TEAM OF 1893, GREAT SQUAD

Defeated Eastern Canada in Three Games of Series; One Contest Drawn

Lacrosse, the national ball game of Canada, derives its name from the resemblance of the chief implement used in the play, the curved netted stick, to a bishop's crozier. The game itself had an origin which is indeed appropriate for the pastime of a people who now inhabit the vast extent of territory composing the Dominion of Canada, where only a few hundred years ago wild herds of the forest and mountain were diligently hunted for food by the now almost extinct Red Man. The game, lacrosse, was first played, according to history, by the Indian tribes of North America.

Many on Teams. In the old days the warriors of two tribes garbed in their scanty war dress and bedecked with the many hued war-paint with which they sought to distinguish their appearance, formed the two teams often 800 to 1,000 strong. The goals were placed 500 yards to half a mile apart, and the field itself was supposed to have really no side boundaries so that the players might make excursions into the districts bordering on either side of the actual centre of play.

Braves Work Hard. Before commencing the game all the players engaged in a solemn dance after which the ball was frantically tossed high into the air and the two teams rushed madly to catch it on "crosses," implements similar to those which are now used in the modern game of lacrosse. The medicine men were accustomed to act as umpires of the play, and the braves themselves were urged on to exert themselves to the utmost by the hundreds of squaws who encouraged them to gain the victory over their opponents by beating them with switches.

A game such as this naturally aroused the attention of the French settlers in the early days of colonization of Eastern Canada, and in 1763, after the Dominion had been taken under the British flag, an interesting incident in history occurred by which the aborigines used the game to accomplish a rather clever piece of treachery. On June 4, when the garrison of Fort Michilimackinac, now known as Mackinac, was celebrating the King's birthday, it was invited by the Ottawa who at the time were under their chief, Pontiac, to witness a game of "bagataway," or to use our modern term, lacrosse. The invitation was cordially accepted by the unsuspecting garrison of the fort, and all proceeded out of the gates to the plain before the station to view the event. The contest commenced, and for some time was carried on in the usual dramatic style of the Indian tribes, when suddenly on hearing the gates of the fort the players dropped their sticks and seizing their tomahawks which were quickly produced by the squaws from under their blankets, they rushed through the open gates of the fortress and massacred the entire inhabitants, with the exception of a few Frenchmen.

National Game. The popularity of the game soon became pronounced among the early British settlers, but it was not until 1867, the year in which Canada, by confederation became a Dominion that the prominent player, G. W. Beers, suggested that lacrosse should be made the national game, and that the National Lacrosse Association of Canada was formed. From that date on the game prospered widely throughout the northern division of the continent and to a lesser degree in the United States. An English lacrosse association was formed in 1868, but although a team of Indians had visited the United Kingdom in the previous year, it was not until many seasons had passed that the national game of Canada was able to take a strong foothold in the Old Country.

Victoria's Team. The position that lacrosse, the national game, has held in Victoria is by no means a new story to many of the residents who have made this city their home for any particular number of years. There are many in fact who can look back through the annals of sporting history that centred around Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster, and recall with a certain degree of pride the many pleasant times which were spent in the days when the young men of the West first began to form well organized athletic clubs for the promotion of all kinds of clean out-of-door sport.

In this respect it will be remembered that it is just twenty-five years ago this summer that Victoria began to figure in a prominent manner in the world of lacrosse. Prior to that year of course the game had been played somewhere extensively, but for the most part its existence in the West was by no means based on such a sound footing as that under which it thrived in the Eastern provinces. In 1892, however, the position held by the Victoria team was one that placed it in some prominence before the sporting circles of the Dominion. During that season there was an unprecedented influx of Eastern players who joined with those already in Victoria, thus forming what was possibly the greatest aggregation of individual lacrosse talent ever collected together. No great developments were forthcoming in that year, however, owing to the fact that the players were to a great extent unfamiliar with each other. The summer was spent in playing games with Vancouver and New Westminster, which added much to the general efficiency of the local boys. The following list of players who were actively before the public at that time will be of interest at this time. The collection cannot be termed absolutely complete, but it includes those who were most prominent at the time:

Victoria—Jimmie McLeod, Billy, Charlie and Frank Cullin, Frank Doherty, Fred Grant, Art Berry, Geo. Whitlaw, Collie Blaine, Geo. Tite, Billy Ditchburn, Pete Blight, Charlie Van Allen, Dan and Geo. Tudhope, Bob Frost, Ross Eckhardt, Archie Macnaughton, Jimmy and Bill Drysdale, with Bill Clark, Tom Cosack, Billy Burns, Billy Carmichael, Stone Lowe, Bill MacKenzie and the late R. L. Foster MacEburn and Dave Latton as "boosters."

New Westminster—Billy McKenna, Charlie Stewart, Geo. Caldwell, Billy McEvey, Herb Ryall, "Tohey" Allen, Stuart Campbell, Archie MacKenzie, Jake Cambridge, Dalgleish and others, under the captaincy of Bob McEburn, now postmaster at Vancouver.

Development of Team. By the spring of the following year Victoria had developed a combination of play that gave them considerable confidence in their ability as players, and before relating some of the incidents of that year it might be mentioned that the May 23 game of 1892 was a most exciting event for this city. The Victoria lads were scheduled to meet New Westminster at the Caledonia Park in one of the city's first big games. Every one in the province practically gave all the odds to the visitors, whose record and past experience prophesied well for their prospects. In spite of the fact that the sport was entirely amateur there was a considerable amount of betting indulged in by a goodly proportion of the fans, and when the game commenced the odds favoring the visitors were 3-1. The Victoria line-up was represented by Billy and Charles Cullin, Doherty, Jeffrey, Whitlaw, Van Allen, Blight, Ditchburn, D. Tudhope, G. Tudhope, Frost and Home. To say that the game was fast and furious would, however, be inadequately to describe the energetic manner in which the players fought for supremacy, and the enthusiastic fashion in which the 4,000 spectators who crowded the lines cheered on their respective heroes. To make a long story short the result was a victory for Victoria by a score of 2-0, a victory that was but the first of a long succession of triumphs that were to follow.

Season of 1893. The season of 1893 was a memorable one for Victoria in more senses than one. Not only did the capital city team win for itself the provincial title of British Columbia but it also carried off with sweeping honors a tour which was subsequently made to the centres of lacrosse then played in Eastern Canada. For some months prior to taking the trip, the matter of an eastern tour had been given some consideration by the executives of the western lacrosse teams, and it was finally resolved that the winners of the coast and provincial championship should make a tour to Ontario and Quebec for the express purpose of demonstrating to the amateurs of those towns the proper manner in which lacrosse should be played.

Victoria Wins on Coast. Events which followed during the season soon showed that Victoria was to be the fortunate team that should thus in brotherly manner instruct their fellow-players of the east. The local boys were entirely victorious in the western championship series, the final standing of the league being as follows:

	Pld.	Won.	Lost.	Point.
Victoria.....	8	6	2	75
Vancouver.....	8	4	4	50
New Westminster.....	2	2	0	25

It therefore fell to the lot of the local boys to take their hats and coats, shoulder their lacrosse sticks and hit the trail for Eastern Canada. The first week of September was spent on the road east, and on reaching Montreal the westerners were given a royal reception.

The whole of the Dominion was watching keenly the actions of the coming champions and the press throughout the country published widely prophecies concerning the defeat that was awaiting "those westerners" who made so bold as to invade in haughty manner the domains of the eastern champions. But prophecies, favorable or unfavorable, could affect in no manner the onslaught that was shortly to be delivered by those same westerners.

Smashing Defeat. On September 13, 1893, the first eastern game was played in Montreal, Victoria defeating the easterners by a score of 6-0. The loss was a staggering blow to the old veterans of the eastern game and the effect was correspondingly productive of enthusiasm in Victoria, where large crowds gathered before the bulletin boards as the results were flashed across the Dominion. On this memorable occasion of Victoria's first world championship victory the local line was represented by Z. Ketchum, C. L. Cullin, S. Campbell, G. Tite, W. F. Blight, W. E. Ditchburn, F. Cullin, A. E. Macnaughton, Ross Eckhardt, R. Cheney, R. J. Frost, H. Mortyn (spare) and W. H. Cullin, field captain.

crucers were the victors by a 4-2 score. Four days later the third contest was staged in Ottawa against the Shamrocks, where the decision of the referee was a draw. Nothing baffled, however, by the stiff fight that was put up against them, the Victoria lads continued their journey to Quebec, where on September 23 they vanquished the team of the old French city to the merry pace of 4-3.

It was thus that Victoria lacrosse team commenced its career as the champions of the world.

MANY SPORTSMEN HAVE PERFORMED "COME"

Sometimes they do "come back" and their somebody takes an awful bump to the theory promulgated by old Ben Jeff that fourth day of July in Rep.

At the present moment they are talking about the validity of the famous walking record established by the famous old veteran of the cinder-path, George V. Bonhag. The other day Bonhag staked a "come-back" and walked a mile in 6 minutes 28.35 seconds, breaking the American record. The remarkable part of it is not the time made, but the fact that Bonhag is thirty-five years old, and began as a winning participant in athletics seventeen years ago!

Wagner is "Come-back." Old Honus Wagner "came back" the other day and the lovers of baseball the country over are glad. Honus is greeted with affectionate applause that comes from the heart wherever the forty-three-year-old veteran appears.

However, the greatest of all baseball "come-backs" is Jack Coombs, of Brooklyn. Coombs was out of the game in 1912-14 with an injury to his spine that laid him on his back in a hospital with weights attached to his head and feet. It seemed doubtful if he would recover, and for playing baseball again impossible! But Jack's indomitable spirit triumphed—his come-back.

Welsh Also Came Back. Most persons do not know that Freddie Welsh, the former lightweight champion, retired from the game six years ago. It is a fact, Welsh thought himself through as a fighter as long ago as 1911, after he was beaten for the English championship by Matt Wells. He suffered an injury to his neck, and was in such poor form that he decided to retire from the game rather than be a mark for second-raters. As you know, he "came back" and won the English title and the championship of the world, which he held against all comers for three years, until the youthful Benny Leonard got him a few weeks ago.

CUMBERLAND BEATS TOWN OF COURTENAY

Close Baseball Game in Which Coal City Nosed Out Farmers

On Sunday last the Courtenay baseball club, accompanied by a number of baseball nuts, visited Cumberland and pitted their skill on the diamond against that of their old time rivals at the coal town, says the Courtenay Argus. Courtenay went to bat first but made no score. Cumberland felt fine and dandy because of this shut-out and injected some pep into the game by taking the lead.

The Courtenay bunch got busy with the stick, and aided by one or two basketed players on the home team began to make the locals look like a bunch of rank outsiders. The visitors kept the lead until the last half of the final inning, when Cumberland stepped out, and with a terrific burst of speed, did things that made their supporting fans believe they could have done it at any time. This ninth inning rally was the climax to an interesting game, and although no Cobles, Speakers or Bakers were in evidence it showed that the baseball season of 1917 stands an excellent chance of going down in the sport history of the district as one that produced some stubbornly fought games.

Considering the fact that this was the first game of the season, the few bobble that were made can readily be excused. The final score was 12 to 11 in favor of Cumberland. The teams were as follows: Courtenay—Dickson, Little, Buck, McKay, Shepherd, Millard, Miller, Benson and Donnelly. Cumberland—E. Hunden, Conh, Marochi, Parks, Westfield, Bannerman, Jones, D. Hunden, Rickson, Umpire—Mr. McNeil.

HUTCHINSON WINNER OF NATIONAL GOLF

Philadelphia, June 23.—Maintaining the fine form that has marked his play throughout the tournament, Jack Hutchinson, the professional caddie from the Allegheny Country Club, but now of the Glenview Club, Chicago, has won the national open patriotic golf tournament at White Marsh over a field of nearly 100 contestants. His total for the 72 holes was 292, seven strokes better than Tom McNamara, of Taplow, who finished second. Because of the war, Hutchinson's victory did not bring him the usual title, the United States Golf Association having decided to award only medals and certificates for the best ten scores.

JIMMY WILDE NOW TEACHING OFFICERS

According to a cable from London, Eng. Jimmy Wilde, the world's fly-weight boxing champion has recovered from his breakdown through a severe strain and returned to his quarters at Aldershot. Wilde's fragile physique hardly seemed fitted to withstand the strenuous military exercises and he has now been appointed boxing instructor to the officers of the Military College at Sandhurst. This will be more in keeping with his natural talent and will make no demands upon his physique that he will be unable to meet.

"They issued over a hundred invitations." "Did they get many valuable presents?" "No; they barely made expenses."

THE "BONNIE BROOM."

To the Editor:—May I use your columns to suggest to the visitors to Victoria that they should not leave the place without a visit to Beacon Hill, where the broom is now in its prime.

From a scenic point of view this broom is one of Victoria's chief assets, and well merits a photograph of its own in the booklet, as there is no place across the whole American continent where such an effect can be obtained as by these acres of golden flowers massed against the purple or blue of the Olympics.

It grows so rapidly, however, in this soil, and needs so prolifically that it should be thinned out or it will soon become impenetrable. One should be wary of following the attractive looking pathways, as they mostly end in a cul de sac and he must retrace his steps for his pains. These pathways should either be closed together or cleared right through, as they are at present a danger to the public.

We venture to hope that at some future date in the hands of one who knows how, the bushes will be weeded to allow the fine views from the summit to be seen to advantage without "disturbing" any of the wild beauty.

The possibilities are endless for Beacon Hill. T. F. L.

HOME WORK.

To the Editor:—I am now quite sure that both Mr. F. Andrews and Mr. K. Symons have arrived at the conclusion that parents are "moral cowards," since two letters only have appeared in print up to date since the above gentlemen so kindly, but forcibly, gave their views to the public concerning the cruel system of "ramming the young."

I am also convinced that all parents who have had the pleasure of reading that splendid letter from Mr. Grey, of Wychbury Avenue, Esquimalt, which appeared in your issue of June 16, must confess that all his statements are true to the letter. This would be a proposition to put before the Women's Council, for now is the time to act, otherwise this cruel practice will start again in full force with the opening of the fall term. I could give a number of instances and prove that the system of "home study" or "home work" is detrimental to the health and ruinous to the eyes, as in nearly all cases it must be written, or rather scribbled.

As to the arithmetic problems, they are seldom worked out by the child, but rather by the parents or some friend. If I may encroach upon a little more space I would like to quote the following from an American paper:

"Home study, under any conditions, defeats the very end it is designed to bring out. It should be absolutely forbidden by parents. Then it will be abolished—the school curriculum will be changed and our children will be the gainers, both mentally and physically. But the conviction must first be sure, and their stand must be firm and resolute."

M. ROBSON.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any druggist under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

COUNCIL DISCUSSES NUMBER OF SUBJECTS

Will Support Proposed Citizens Picnic at Beacon Hill, Labor Day

Warm approval was given by the aldermen in Civic Streets Committee yesterday to a deputation composed of J. A. Howard Chapman and David Leeming, who came to ask the support of the city towards a sports gathering and citizens picnic on Labor Day at Beacon Hill Park.

They indicated that they hoped to raise $4,000 to $5,000 for the funds of the Red Cross Society, and to concentrate all celebrations in one gathering at the park, which could be attended by everyone, and where all could picnic if necessary, provision being made to supply water, and certain refreshments for which a charge would be made.

It was desired to make an immediate start, so that the only celebration of the day will be concentrated in aid of the funds of the society.

The proposal was strongly supported by the members present, Alderman Fullerton offering the suggestion that it might be possible, with assistance from the Street Railway Company, to use the Willows Park.

His worship pointed out that it was still under military rule, and believed the better course would be for the committee promoting the sports to make the necessary arrangements.

Sixth Street. A delegation was introduced with regard to the vexed question of Sixth Street, where the residents have no definite means of access.

The members felt they could not interfere in view of the sub-division being registered without any allowance for a street, and therefore recommended the owners to get together and secure a price on a lot to give access to Mount Talmie Road.

Boulevard Maintenance. The City Engineer reported upon the cost of boulevard maintenance. At present it is one cent per square foot. Last year expenditures were made that the amount was too high.

The aldermen approved a recommendation to continue the rate as it is at present. With regard to the strip for boulevarding on Rockland Avenue, the work was approved, the same terms also to apply to a strip on Pemberton Road.

With the expected advance in wages, it was considered unwise to change the cost of maintenance during the present year.

Fire Protection. The aldermen, on the Mayor's suggestion, declined to entertain a proposal to improve the water service at the Cameron Mills, by extending a 12-inch main in the vicinity. Verbally the City Engineer stated that the City was also protecting its own property at Garbally Road Yards, there being a considerable amount of water

A Woman's Rights

THE field for the exercise of women's gifts and energies will never be so narrow in the future as it was in the old days "before the war."

More and more women are becoming the financial support of those about them, for new opportunities mean increased responsibilities.

This means an increased necessity for life insurance for women—for example, on the lives of mothers who support daughters, or daughters who support their widowed mothers.

But not only is insurance necessary for the woman of to-day who has others dependent upon her—it is the right of every woman who is at the head of a household to be protected herself by means of life insurance.

Carrying on the work of the home is just as vital to the family life as the work of the husband in his office. It is the right therefore of every woman who conducts a home to be fully protected.

Write for booklet, "Life Insurance for the Women of Canada."

SCHOONER IS MAKING VERY LONG PASSAGE

William E. Burnham is 84 Days Out From Balboa for Vancouver

Some anxiety is being felt for the safety of the little schooner William E. Burnham, which was recently acquired by the Pacific Line Company for operation in the lime trade between its plant at Blubber Bay and San Francisco and other points on this coast. The William E. Burnham is reported to have sailed from Balboa, the western entrance to the Panama Canal 84 days ago, an unusually long passage, even for a sailing vessel. There is a possibility that the schooner may have been "beached" and "beached she has met with mishap, this is the only reason that can be advanced for her long passage. The Pacific Line Company, since acquiring the William E. Burnham, has purchased a number of vessels to engage in its coasting trade, among them being the Hawaiian steamer Iwaki, the Vancouver sternwheeler Barran and the C. P. R. steamer Queen City. The Iwaki is being converted into a barge and will be towed by the Queen City when the latter is again made ready for commission. The Queen City was partially destroyed by fire in the Inner Harbor last year. Her new owners anticipate that she will make a good vessel for towing purposes.

JUDGMENT RESERVED IN COLLISION SUITS

Mr. Justice Martin, sitting in Admiralty Court at Vancouver, has reserved judgment in the actions brought against the steamers Empress of Japan and Prince Rupert. The owners of the oil tanker Belridge were the plaintiffs in the action against the Empress of Japan. The action arose out of a collision of that vessel in a snowstorm on January 21 last, in which both vessels were damaged.

It is alleged by the owners of the Belridge that the Empress of Japan, which had just left Victoria for Vancouver, was proceeding too swiftly in the blinding snowstorm and could not avoid colliding with the Belridge, which was proceeding at two knots an hour with her whistle blowing. E. C. Mayers, of Victoria, appeared for the Belridge, and J. E. McMullen for the Empress of Japan.

In the action against the Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince Rupert, the claim was made by the owner of the tug Cleve for $1,100 damages arising out of a collision between the vessels off the G. T. P. dock at Vancouver last December. C. M. Woodworth appeared for the Cleve, and C. B. McNeill, K. C., for the Prince Rupert.

GERMAN SUBMARINE SUNK BY AMERICANS

Washington, June 23.—Confirmation of the sinking of a German submarine by the naval gunners on an armed American merchantman, mentioned in yesterday's dispatch, was received today by the Navy Department in a report from Chief Boatwain's Mate O. J. Gullickson, commanding the gunners.

TANKER CADDO DUE

The tanker Caddo, of the Imperial Oil Company's fleet, which left Vancouver at 11 o'clock this morning, is expected to reach here this afternoon with a consignment of gasoline. The tanker will go alongside the company's wharf at McLaughlin Point to discharge her gasoline into the tanks located there.

PILOT'S LEG AMPUTATED

Pilot Andy Christenson, of Vancouver, who for many months past has been suffering from a badly lacerated leg, sustained in an automobile accident, has had his left leg amputated below the knee. At first the doctors hoped to save the injured member, but this was found to be impossible and amputation was decided upon.

MAY ESTABLISH SHIPYARD HERE

Grant Smith & Co. Expected to Start Ship Construction in Near Future

HAVE IDEAL SITE AND PLANT AT ESQUIMALT

An important addition to the ever-increasing number of shipbuilding plants located at Victoria is looked for in the near future. It is understood that Messrs. Grant Smith & Co., one of the biggest engineering and contracting firms on the continent of America, has under consideration the establishment of a shipyard at this port, but up to the present time the plans of the company have not materialized beyond preliminary investigations.

The concern is represented here by Grant Smith & Co., and McDonnell, Ltd., contractors for the Government piers now fast nearing completion at Ogden Point, and which will provide about 10,000 feet of berthing space for the largest ocean-going vessels. These two immense concrete piers, which will be equipped with spacious warehouses and modern cargo-handling facilities, are expected to be completed within three months, and by that time it is expected that Messrs. Grant Smith & Co. will be prepared to go ahead with their plans for the establishment of a modern shipbuilding plant at Victoria.

Grant Smith, the head of the big engineering company, when inspecting progress on the piers, recently, approached H. W. Bassett, who is in charge of the pier contract, regarding the establishment of a shipyard here, but the matter was left in abeyance for the time being, as the company desires to get the pier contract off its hands before launching upon a new venture in this district.

Rosebank Favored.
The site which the Grant Smith Company may look upon with favor as a shipbuilding location is one at Rosebank, Esquimalt Harbor, where for two years past the company have been operating a large tidewater plant in connection with the construction of the gigantic reinforced caissons used for the foundations of the Ogden Point piers.

This plant was closed down several months ago, but as a considerable quantity of the original equipment still remains, the property could easily and quickly be adapted for the construction of vessels. Grant Smith & Co. already have a number of shipbuilding plants in operation in the United States and are also interested in the Western Canada Shipyards, Ltd., of Vancouver, which company is building six hulls for the Imperial Munitions Board.

Across the border, Grant Smith & Co. have shipyards established at Tacoma, Portland and Aberdeen. A considerable number of contracts have been placed with this company by the United States Shipping Board, and in the event of shipyards being developed in British Columbia by this concern, additional contracts will doubtless be placed with them by the Munitions Board.

SHIPBUILDING PROBLEM IN THE UNITED STATES

Washington, June 23.—President Wilson today authorized Secretary Tamm to say that the President has not yet settled the difficulties between Mr. Denham, chairman of the Shipping Board, and Major-General Goethals, head of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, over the wooden shipbuilding programme. The President, Mr. Tamm said, was waiting for further information which he expected to obtain in a few days.

PEOPLE HELD IN QUARANTINE NOW SEEK DIVERSION

Local N. Y. K. Agent Having Troubles in Catering to Needs of Tamba's Passengers

W. R. Dale, local agent for the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, is having his troubles in providing for the wants of the sixty-one first and second class passengers who were detained at the William Head Quarantine Station owing to the discovery of a slight case of small-pox aboard the Japanese steamship Tamba Maru.

In the case of the detention of a steamer in quarantine the cost of feeding and catering to the amusement of the persons confined within the quarantine limits, falls upon the transportation company, and consequently the bulk of the work entailed thereby rests upon the shoulders of the agents at the port where the detention occurs.

Included among the 61 passengers held at William Head are a number of Russians who appear to be very dejected because of the fact that no newspapers printed in the Russian language are available to peruse at their leisure. If there is such a thing as a Russian newspaper anywhere within a reasonable limit of this city, the owner of such would be doing a great favor to the N. Y. K. if they would help him out of the predicament in which he has been placed.

Unfortunately Russian newspapers cannot be purchased in this city, but it is a hard matter to explain this to the temporary Russian captives, who persistently demand that a supply of reading matter in a language that they can understand, be supplied them.

Other passengers are inclined to athletic exercise, and have put in a requisition for tennis rackets. Now there is ample ground for this pastime at William Head, so despite the inclemency of the weather, Mr. Dale met out this morning to acquire these necessary implements of summer sport. He expects to have other calls made upon him within the next few days, but his cheery smile has not yet been completely obliterated.

In addition to the 61 first and second class passengers held in quarantine, there are 22 members of the Tamba's crew who were put ashore to minister to the dietary needs of this cosmopolitan crowd. The party will be held at William Head for a period of two weeks, under the Canadian quarantine regulations. All those whose purses permitted the luxury of first class accommodations are forced, much against their will, to eat off quarantine tables, while the ordinary folk who sail the seas below deck were allowed to travel in triumph to their destinations. They had not the price to permit them to associate with the rich and as a result were denied the privilege of being detained in quarantine.

LAYING KEEL OF SIXTH SCHOONER

Cameron Genoa Mills Shipbuilders Make Start on Last of Old Contracts

Preparations for the laying of the sixth keel at the yards of the Cameron Genoa Mills Shipbuilders, Ltd., were completed today, and the actual splicing of the big timbers will be started on Monday. This will be the last vessel laid down at this yard to the order of the Canada West Coast Navigation Company, two vessels, the Margaret Haney and the Laurel Whalen, having been completed, while three others are in advanced stages of construction. Two shifts are being worked at the Point Ellice shipyard in order to bring about the completion of the contracts in hand within the shortest possible time.

The schooner Esquimalt, launched on June 13, is being fitted out and within a week or two she will be ready to go to sea. The Holinder engine for this vessel are expected here next week and the installation of the machinery will be proceeded with immediately it arrives.

On the ground where the masts and spars for the Esquimalt have been fashioned the company is laying down a new building ways which will be utilized for the laying of the keel of the first of the four contracts for wooden steamers placed with this concern by the Imperial Munitions Board. The company proposes to go ahead with the government contracts at once. The shipyard is being extended further south and machinery is on the way for the new plant.

THE TIME BALL

The time ball on the Belmont Building will be raised half-mast high at 12.45 p. m. to the top at 12.55 p. m., and will be dropped at 1 p. m. daily.

FREIGHT INCREASE AS WAR MEASURE

Prairie Branch of Manufacturers' Association Agree Railways Entitled to More

Winnipeg, June 23.—Despite strenuous efforts on the part of officers of the Winnipeg Board of Trade, the Retail Merchants' Association and Isaac Pihlback, K. C., representing the Manitoba Government, opposition to the proposed 15 per cent increase in freight rates on the Canadian railroads was considerably weakened at the hearing before the Railway Commission here today when J. E. Walsh and W. R. Ingram, of the traffic department of the prairie province branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, speaking for their organization, practically agreed that the transportation companies were entitled to higher rates. Both Mr. Walsh and Mr. Ingram agreed to the advance with the understanding that it should be temporary, a war measure only, and that the prevailing classification should not be changed. They made exceptions in the cases of such articles as coal, coke, crushed stone, sand and gravel.

P. G. Bedson, representing the implement dealers, said that the entire question could be left safely with the Commission believed a 15 per cent increase to be necessary, he expressed the hope that better service would result from the increase. Horace Cheyette, Dominion president of the Retail Merchants' Association, was strongly opposed to any change in the classification of rates.

E. H. Phippen, general counsel for the Canadian Northern Railway, read from a lengthy report statistics covering the increased cost of all railway materials. He told of the early condition surrounding the construction of the C. N. R., declaring it was not built strictly as a business venture but with the idea of opening a vast territory to civilization.

J. D. Martin, chairman of the shipping section of the Winnipeg Board of Trade, registered a strenuous objection to the proposed increase in rates, declaring it would be an additional burden added to the present high cost of living.

Members of the executive committee of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association said it had practically been agreed at conferences between the railroads and various trade organizations that the various items of classification proposed in Tariff No. 72 would continue for the next nine months and that the carriers would not ask for a re-classification until these conferences had been completed.

CONTROL OF GRAIN.

Winnipeg, June 23.—That it is possible for Canadian grain to find its way to enemy countries under the present marketing conditions was a statement made by F. W. Young, manager of the Lake Shippers' Clearance Association to the Board of Grain Supervisors yesterday. He said there should be no clearance of grain except by special license and maintained that there should be close co-operation between Canada and United States in controlling grain movements.

RESUMPTION AT MINES.

Butte, Mont., June 23.—The mines of the Butte district are expected to be closed early next week because of strikes called by the metal mine workers' union and the electricians' union, and the endorsement of the strikes that are being given by other trades unions, according to an official of the big mining company to-day. Both strikes were called to obtain higher wages and better working conditions. W. H. Rodgers, mediator for the Department of Labor, conferred to-day with a committee of the metal mine workers.

News of the Province

Assessment Confirmed.—The assessment placed upon the lands owned by the C. P. R. in the municipality of Port Alberni has been confirmed by Mr. Justice Clement.

Must Have Full Conscription.—In Great Britain 25 per cent. of the total revenue of the Government was produced by conscription of wealth, 25 per cent. of the total revenue by conscription of war profits. In Canada there is no taxation on income and accumulated wealth, and the pretense at taxing war profits has resulted in furnishing only the insignificant percentage of 2.58 of the Canadian revenue. This forceful statement was the pith of the address of Raymond Leighton, Liberal candidate for Cariboo, at the picnic held under the auspices of the Pritchard Liberal Association.

Transportation Afforded.—In order to furnish additional facilities to the settlers living around the various arms of Shuswap Lake, and so enable them to trade to better advantage and ship out their produce, it is announced that the steamer Maud Annis, which has been running for a number of years between Sicamous and Seymour Arm, will make weekly trips to Salmon Arm, with the possibility, if the patronage warrants, of a further extension of the service.

Ladysmith Hospital Report.—The May report of the Ladysmith General Hospital shows a balance on hand of $1,139.30 at the end of the month. The number of days spent in the hospital by patients during the month was 456.

Wind Does Damage.—The heavy wind-storm of Saturday last did much damage in Ladysmith, and many fruit and shade trees were blown down.

Boring For Coal.—The Ladysmith Chronicle reports that there is more boring for coal in that vicinity at present than at any time in the past, and that it is rumored that a considerable body of coal has been found not far from Chemainus.

Removing His Residence.—It is reported that J. H. Hawthornthwaite, who is a candidate in the pending by-election in Newcastle, is arranging for the purchase of a piece of land close to Ladysmith on which he will erect a residence.

Domestic Science Pupils.—The pupils of the domestic science classes of Miss Davidson in the Nanaimo public schools have had an exhibit of their work this week and this shows the advance made by them under the skillful tuition of their teacher.

Nanaimo Public Health.—The City Council of Nanaimo sat on Monday evening as a Board of Health and discussed the condition of the drainage of certain buildings and stores in the city, in relation to the presence of several cases of diphtheria in the city.

Sanitary Inspector Appointed.—There were five applicants for the position of scavenger and sanitary inspector of the city of Port Alberni when the matter came up for action, and P. Vradenburg was appointed, his duties to commence at once.

Funeral of Mine Victim.—There was a very large attendance at the funeral of John D. Brough, one of the victims of the explosion at Cumberland, which took place from the home of his parents in Nanaimo. Rev. W. E. Cockshutt officiated at St. Paul's Church and at the graveside. Many beautiful flowers testified to the regard in which the young man was held. The local lodge of the Brotherhood of Elks took part in the services.

Police Officer Resigns.—J. H. Gregory has resigned as a police officer for the city of Cumberland and his resignation has been referred to the Police Commissioners.

School District Assessment.—A warning to the City Council of Cumberland that it may endanger the validity of its assessment roll for the year if it adds to it after being closed by the Court of Revision properties outside the municipality included in the school district, as it proposed to do, has been forwarded to the Council by Robert Baird, Inspector of Municipalities.

School Children Contribute.—The Red Cross Society, Cumberland branch, has transmitted to Victoria, to be devoted to the prisoners of war fund, a sum of $11.50 subscribed by the children of the public schools.

Kootenay Ranch Sold.—Michael Monahan, the pioneer rancher of the Kootenay Valley west of Nelson, has disposed of the eighty-four acres which he located in 1892 to C. W. Curtis, Rupert, Idaho, for $12,000. Mr. Monahan planted the first small fruits in the valley, bringing them from Spokane in 1894.

Women Endorse Conscription.—The feature of the June meeting of the Creston and District Women's Institute was the passing by a standing vote of 63 to 2 of a resolution favoring selective conscription for Canada. A copy of the resolution is to be forwarded to Premier Borden and the Minister of Militia.

Workman Injured.—Andrew Galant, one of a bridge gang working on the G. N. R. trestle at the south end of the Fraser River bridge, fell off the trestle and sustained injuries to the head and shoulders. He was taken to the Royal Columbian Hospital, New Westminster.

Lighting Mines by Electricity.—Arrangements are under consideration with a view to the installation in the Coal Creek mines of an electric light system, which it is believed would do much to reduce the dangers of explosions. If electric lighting is found to be feasible, a safety lamp of a type especially designed for use in collieries will be used instead of the ordinary oil lamp.

Engineer Knocked Down.—James Scott, engineer on the steamer Shecha, was knocked down by an auto on Twelfth Street, New Westminster, and had a narrow escape from death or serious injury. As it was, he was severely bruised, being dragged by the auto for a considerable distance.

Fraser Valley Fruit Crop.—Although there was a tremendous show of blossom on fruit trees throughout the Fraser Valley, indicating a bumper crop, later reports are to the effect that these anticipations are not likely to be realized, for the reason that owing to the late cold spring and general tardiness of the season there have not been nearly as many bees at work as usual and the process of pollenization has been greatly hampered.

Telephone Service Extended.—Government telephone service is now established between Castlegar and Renata. This will prove a great boon to the various settlements along the lake and river front, as hitherto the Large Yield of Fruit.—A yield of 20,000 crates of strawberries and other small fruits, 15,000 at Wynndel and the same number at Creston, and 20,000 boxes of apples are expected by the fruit growers of Creston Valley this year. It is proposed to enlist the services of boys to aid in the harvesting of the fruit crops this year. The growers estimate that $12,000 will be paid out in pickers' wages.

Fish-Packing Company.—Prince Rupert has an opportunity to get another fish-packing plant, as R. C. Lowry, New Westminster, and W. E. Green, Vancouver, are there now negotiating for the lease of a site.

Minister in North.—Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, was cordially welcomed on his arrival in Prince Rupert last week. He addressed a large meeting of his constituents in the Empire Theatre on Friday evening last, in company with A. M. Manson, M.P.P. for Omineca, and F. H. Mobley, M.P.P. for Atlin.

Suicide at Port Essington.—A fisherman named Anker Stenerson, who for some time had had the hallucination that some person or persons were persecuting him, ended his life at Port Essington recently by shooting himself. He had not long before been discharged from the mental hospital at New Westminster. The day after he arrived at Essington he dug a grave with great deliberation, lay down in it and shot his head off.

TOO OLD AT FORTY?

That is a wall that always goes up throughout the country. But a writer in the June American Magazine says it could be disregarded if people made themselves more useful as they grew older. He writes:

"For man to be too old at forty is not natural. Scientists tell us that the life periods of man compare with the life history of the race.

"In most businesses and professions the period of manhood is commonly the period of great skill. The body still retains its elasticity; previous training and acquired good habits count in daily work; experience now begins to return dividends. The individual develops common sense, conservatism and deliberation. He is less likely to be swayed by the primitive emotions of younger life. Well-laid plans mature; returns from previous investments in time, labor and money begin to come in.

"But it is during this period that the competition of newer workers in the same field begins to be felt. The apprentices in the trades, and students in the schools begin to get a foothold in competition with the established worker. And—what is of vital importance—the beginner is willing to work much cheaper than the experienced man. Thus, experience must guard against the under-cut.

"It is in this period that the greatest displacement occurs. The unprogressive, the dissipated, the timorous, are pushed aside to make room for those having more enterprise."—Montreal Journal of Commerce.

There was quite a crowd of people on the Strand, causing a partial block in the traffic. The lagging of a particularly pompous old gentleman roused the ire of a held-up caddy. "Now, then, 'arry up there, can't you?" he shouted. "Am I not hurrying, cabman?" was the mild expostulation. "Urryin," snorted caddy, with a flick of his whip, "you're a 'jumpin' about like a bit o' sickin' plaster." Exchange

THE TENT CATERPILLAR

Short Sketch of Its Life History, With Methods of Control.

By E. W. White, District Fruit Pest Inspector.

The infestation of tent caterpillars, which is so prevalent in the district at the present time, is causing considerable anxiety and worry to city and municipal officials, fruit-growers and amateur gardeners, and it might not be out of place at this time to give a brief outline of the life-history of this insect.

There are several species of the insect recorded, and it is supposed to be native of the Northern Atlantic States, but it has now spread to almost all parts of the United States and Canada.

The Moth.—The adult of the insect is a moth of a dull-reddish or reddish-brown color, crossed by two oblique parallel whitish lines. When fully expanded, the wings of the female will measure an inch and a half or more across; the male is smaller. The adults have no way of taking food and only live for a few days in the winged state, merely long enough to deposit eggs, to provide for the next generation.

The moth is rarely seen in the daytime, as it remains at rest concealed; but at night it becomes very active. It is attracted by the bright lights in the house, and will fly in through open windows and be seen to dart hither and thither in a very bewildered manner, finally retreating to some obscure corner. The moths are most abundant during the latter part of June and early in July, according to the season.

The Eggs.—The eggs are laid at this time on the smaller branches of the caterpillar's food plants. They are laid in ring-like clusters composed of from fifteen to twenty rows, containing about two hundred eggs. All are firmly cemented together and covered with a tough varnish which is impervious to rain.

The Caterpillars.—The young caterpillars hatch out during the first warm days of spring, usually appearing during the month of April. At this time, the buds are beginning to burst, providing large quantities of tender food for the young larvae.

Some after the larvae begin to feed they form a web or tent in the nearest fork of the twig on which they were hatched. This tent affords shelter for the young larvae at night and during stormy weather. As the larvae grow and extend their feeding areas they increase the size of the tent, constructing additional layers of silk, and leaving space between the layers for the caterpillars to pass. Openings are left at the extremities of the tent to allow the caterpillars to pass out during the daytime to feed.

Very Voracious.

In five or six weeks the caterpillars are full grown and then measure about an inch and three-quarters in length. The caterpillars are supposed to have regular times for feeding. They are very voracious and eat the foliage with great rapidity; it is estimated that a single caterpillar when reaching maturity will devour about two leaves per day. At this stage they leave the tents and wander about hunting for a suitable place in which to spin their cocoons. In the cocoon the larva changes to a pupae and in about two or three weeks emerges as a moth.

The caterpillars feed on many kinds of food, but they are especially fond of apple, wild crab and wild cherry. They are also found quite commonly in this district on the wild rose or briar and different species of willows.

Methods of Control.—Since the tent caterpillar is so easily detected by its conspicuous nest, it can readily be destroyed by one of several methods, while sheltering within its web. The best time to perform the work is early in the morning, after sundown, or on a cold, cloudy day, while all the caterpillars are within the nest. With a gloved hand the nest may be seized and crushed in a moment or it can be torn or cut from the tree and trampled underfoot.

Burning the caterpillars off with a torch is not a suitable means of destruction, because as soon as the heat strikes them they drop to the ground and are lost.

Spray Effective.—In city garden orchards and commercial orchards the most suitable and economical way of controlling tent caterpillars is to spray the trees with arsenate of lead at the rate of 2 lbs. to 40 gallons of water, just as the blossom buds are showing pink. An excellent demonstration of this method could be seen in the Keating district

VACANT LOT CULTIVATION

The battle with the cut worms has been waged incessantly during the past few days, and it is a nocturnal struggle which tries the patience of the combatant. Curious tales are told of the number of predatory worms which have had their careers of devastation checked by the energies of the cultivators, lists of many hundreds destroyed for a few hours' work being related by those who have fought the battle of the unhappy gardener against his foes. Weeds seem to grow faster, and there are more insect pests to the square inch this year in Victoria than previously known—strange irony for a greater production year. Patience and effort appear to be the only method of saving the vegetable crops, which are particularly wanted when the surplus of last year's produce has run out. The weather, however, seems to be destined to follow the same course as a year ago, when there was a very changeable season. Four or five weeks of rain, however, will save a great deal of irrigation.

It may be mentioned that the city witnessed this week the passage of the new noxious weeds-by-law. It is hoped that before the chief weeds, thistle, burdock, etc., reach their seeding season they will be enforced against those people who have done nothing with their lots, and are merely waiting for nature to cut them down. The infection meanwhile spreads, causing damage everywhere. A prosecution or two would probably have some effect in protecting those citizens who look after their lots.

As The Times indicated some days ago, the Prize Committee have selected two professionals and an amateur to adjudicate on the Greater Production garden competition in the city. The professional judges are chosen from the Government Department of Agriculture, the other from the Parks Department of the city. The first inspection will give some idea how the scheme is to go ahead, and also assist in the sub-division of the classes, as some are well filled, and others are not so popular. The judges have already started their work.

The Ward II. Cottage Garden Association, of Saanich, is also entering this competition, and will have a considerable number of entries. A meeting has been called for the 29th inst. to make the necessary arrangements.

Mrs. Walter McNab Miller, first vice-president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association and chairman of the Suffrage Thrift section, has just returned from a trip through the South. "In the larger places, she says, 'we have established community canning centres under the direction of experts. Local organizations have raised money in various ways to finance the undertaking. In many places they have arranged to take charge of the entire output, and to secure a market. Last year, through lack of organization and poor management, girls' canning clubs, under the direction of state bureaus, often found that their products brought much less than the market price. Suffragists propose to bring about a readjustment, put the canning industry on a business basis, and through a 'buy-at-home' campaign, to capture the home market, automatically releasing for consumption elsewhere large quantities of imported foodstuffs. In smaller towns, where it is impracticable to form canning clubs, demonstrations will be given at suffrage headquarters and a similar effort at marketing will be made."

HENLEY 208 ATHLETE BAL

In the spring of 1916, where on a block of 30 acres of orchard this spray was applied, not a single nest of tent caterpillars was observed, but on an adjoining orchard which was not sprayed several nests full were cut off and destroyed.

Destroy Eggs.—The egg clusters may be sought for during the winter or early spring months and a practised eye can easily detect them; a cloudy day is most suitable for this work.

Several parasites attack this insect, among the most beneficial being species of the Ichneumon and Tachina flies.

At the present time the tent caterpillars in this district are very heavily parasitized and next year, we may hope to see a very light infestation.

TWENTY PER CENT. OF MASONS ARE OVERSEAS

Grand Lodge of British Columbia Concluded Session Last Night; Many Present

The Grand Lodge of British Columbia, A. F. and A. M., will hold its next meeting at Victoria. The selection was made at the concluding session of the 16th annual communication at New Westminster yesterday. Dr. Douglas Corsan, of Fernie, was elected grand master for the ensuing term in succession to Grand Master William Astley, of Vancouver, who occupied that exalted position for the last year.

Other grand lodge officers elected were: Deputy grand master, John Shaw, Nanaimo; senior grand warden, Samuel J. Willis, Vancouver; junior grand warden, Charles A. Welsh, New Westminster; grand treasurer, Harry H. Watson, Vancouver (re-elected); grand secretary, Dr. W. A. DeWolf Smith, New Westminster (re-elected); grand Tyler, J. H. Hughes, New Westminster.

There were nine past grand masters present at yesterday's session, including Messrs T. J. Armstrong, Hon. W. J. Bowser, H. N. Rich, Ladner, W. C. Dittmars, Vancouver, the preceding grand master; Jas. Stark, Vancouver, and E. B. Paul, Victoria—Grandmaster William Astley delivered his annual address reviewing the work of the order throughout the province during the past year. Grand Secretary Dr. DeWolf Smith presented his annual report as did Grand Historian W. Burns, of Vancouver.

Active Service Members.

Nearly two battalions of members of the Masonic order in British Columbia are now away on overseas service, nearly 20 per cent. of the membership of the order. The Grand Lodge passed a resolution expressing sympathy for relatives of those who have fallen in the war and congratulating Canadians on their brilliant work overseas.

Disillusioned Canadians at the front who are members of the Masonic order include Major-General Sir A. W. Currie. Owing to the war the annual Masonic banquet was abandoned this year and the surplus funds of the Grand Lodge are being devoted to charitable and patriotic purposes. At yesterday's session $50 was voted in aid of Tranquille Sanitarium, Kamloops, and $1,000 in aid of the Y. M. C. A. overseas military work.

Reports of grand officers and district deputies, grand masters indicated that in spite of wartime conditions the order was in a satisfactory condition in British Columbia, both as regards membership and finances. There were 227 voting delegates registered yesterday, which is about the equal of former grand lodge sessions. Mayor Gray delivered an address of welcome to the delegates yesterday and extended to them the freedom of the city.

MINISTERS ADDRESS ASSEMBLED LIBERALS

Premier and Colleagues Thank the Electors for Re-election of Hon. John Hart

The Liberal rooms in the Arcade Building were crowded last evening with men and women after the result of the poll was known, and congratulations showered upon the Minister of Finance and the Premier, as well as upon the campaign manager, Joshua Kingham.

There were resounding cheers for Hon. Mr. Hart when he entered the room, and these were renewed when he began a short speech of thanks to his supporters and the workers. The services of the women were not forgotten by the Minister, who thanked them heartily for the work that had been done in his behalf by them. He assured the electors of Victoria that he would continue to consider himself as the representative of every person without regard to politics. He was behind Premier Brewster in cordial support of all his policies, and would ever keep the interests of the people at large before him.

Hon. Mr. Brewster expressed his pleasure at the re-election of his colleague and friend, in whom he had the most implicit confidence, he said. The Premier commented very severely on the contemptible and dirty tactics adopted by the opposition and the attack made upon the Minister on account of his religious faith. There had been an undercurrent through the week which was not a credit to Dr. Hall or anyone connected with his campaign. The Government would now be free to go on with its work and he could assure the Minister of Finance that he had work for him which would keep him busy for some time.

Mr. Kingham thanked the workers for the splendid way they had rallied and spoke of the cleanness of the campaign on the Liberal side.

H. C. Hall, M.P.P., was delighted at the re-election of his friend and colleague, and congratulated the people of Victoria and the province on having the services of Hon. John Hart.

Hon. Dr. MacLean, Provincial Secretary, also spoke a few words of congratulation to the electors and his colleague.

The gathering broke up with the singing of the National Anthem.

SEEKING TO LOCATE PRESERVING PLANT

Development Association to Use Prairie Berry Shipments for Advertising Medium

Efforts are being made to establish a jam preserving and canning plant in the Victoria district. Commissioner Armstrong states. While it is not expected it will be in a position to operate in the current season, should the proposed materialize, the prospect for an industry of this character would be very welcome. At present the fruit growers sell their surplus material to a Vancouver organization, which has large contracts for army supplies, and is ready to absorb the total output. This condition may not continue indefinitely, and therefore an assurance of a local opportunity to sell surplus fruit each year would be welcome. The advent of the glass factory here is also an important auxiliary to a scheme of this nature.

The Victoria and Island Development Association is alive to the opportunity for publicity work in connection with the large shipments of strawberries to be made to the prairie markets. In addition to providing the banter for the first car which goes out probably in the latter part of next week, as was done twelve months ago, a leaflet is to be included in each crate briefly referring to the district where the fruit is grown, and recommending a visit to the Island for prairie people.

A meeting of the executive of the association will be held on Tuesday afternoon. One of the objects sought is to make the rooms more popular to the public, and to render them more representative of the industrial interests of Victoria.

One important convention, to take place early next month in Portland, Oregon, that of the National Association of Teachers, is engaging the attention of the Commissioner, as a large body of travel might be directed this way after the gathering. At the meeting next week steps will be taken with a view to influence favorably opinion to the securing of a convention of national scope here next year.

A Government investigator who has made a report on the Mount Union collision on the Pennsylvania railroad explains the engineer's failure to observe the signal light on the interesting theory that he was expecting to find it white and therefore "observed what he was expecting to see." One fancies that there is a good deal of sound psychology in this, but it is at least worth noting, as a fact possibly of significance in connection with the engineer's state of mind, that he had slept only 4 hours and 46 minutes after his previous day's work of 14 hours and 56 minutes—Springfield Republican.

PREMIER PLEASED AT MEMBER'S RE-ELECTION

Condémns Campaign Waged by and on Behalf of Dr. Hall

Hon. John Hart is receiving many letters and telegrams of congratulation today on his re-election.

It is being recalled by many of the older residents that several years ago, on the occasion of Hon. Mr. Hart's first speech at a political meeting, held in the old Liberal rooms on Government Street, the late senator Riley prophesied that he would be heard from in future and would travel far. No one would have been more delighted at the fulfilment of the forecast than the late Senator.

Hon. Mr. Brewster is naturally greatly pleased with the re-election of his colleague in his own city, but he regrets the campaign that was waged against Hon. Mr. Hart by and on behalf of Dr. Hall.

"It is rather amusing," he said to a Times representative today, "to hear Dr. Hall talk and then to see this exhibition of high political morality with the power of the machine elements of the Conservative party behind him and assisting him in every way, with other elements. There was a subtle campaign and an attempt, cleverly disguised, to represent the issues as being high moral ones, when in reality it was a religious prejudice and a stooping to campaign tactics which were unworthy of a man of his profession."

"Without wanting to give the Government an opportunity to show its good faith by its actions—and, after all, it is only the actions of a Government that count—he allowed himself to be used by a discredited party which dare not itself openly face a contest. It was a most improper thing to profess that the opposition to the Minister of Finance was being carried on on one issue, when the real issue was submerged and was one which is most discreditable to him."

"I notice that the Colonist states that patronage must be done away with, yet when the Government appoints some one who has been a Conservative the same element tries to make trouble for the Government in the Liberal ranks, and if a Liberal is appointed to any position there is at once a clamor that patronage still exists. In one breath patronage is condemned and in the next the Government that is honestly trying to bring that reform about is attacked and attempts made to break it down."

"Everything taken into consideration, with the unpopular actions which the Government has to take to meet the abnormal conditions left by the late Government, the Conservative machine element, which Dr. Hall's party being connected with in this election, and the undercurrent which was running I take it as a high tribute to the Minister and the Government that he was returned as he was yesterday."

"I have every confidence in the ability, integrity and honor of John Hart, and I have no doubt that he will make a splendid Minister and that when again he faces his electors he will be once more returned by a large majority. The Government has many serious problems to deal with, and we intend to meet them and solve them in the best interests of the people of the province."

LABOR IN BRITAIN VOICES SUSPICION

London, June 23—A highly important conference of the triple industrial alliance of miners, railwaymen and transport workers has opened in London to consider a resolution passed by the executive committee of all three unions, declaring:

"We observe with misgivings the attempt to introduce the principle of conscription. We warn the responsible officials of the danger of efforts to destroy trade unionism by labor conscription, declaring that for every reason favoring conscription of men, ten reasons exist for favoring conscription of wealth and property."

The delegates present represent 3,000,000 organized workmen. The addresses indicated profound dissatisfaction because of the suspicion that plans are being perfected contemplating the wholesale conscription of labor. The following resolution was adopted unanimously:

"This conference considers that the conscription of wealth should have preceded the conscription of human life, and accordingly it demands the registering of wealth and property in order to prepare for real equality of sacrifice."

WOULD DO AWAY WITH COUNCIL OF EMPIRE AND THE DUMA TOO

Petrograd, June 23—Dissolution of the Council of the Empire is declared for in a resolution passed to-day by the Pan-Russian-congress of Councils of Deputies of Soldiers and Workmen after a prolonged debate. The elimination of the Duma is asked.

The resolution was proposed by the Minimalists. It is proposed to abolish the Duma by annulling the mandates of the deputies and cutting off the credits voted for the upkeep of that body as well as those for the support of the Council of Empire.

The result was that this morning the sum of $34.65 was sent over to the Fairfield Red Cross to further their work. The affair was wonderfully well organized, and event succeeded every wish with a rapidity which kept the interest of the spectators, and won for Miss Williams, the sports and games mistress of the school, the congratulations of all. The tennis finals were played off in the course of the afternoon, and were a very important and exciting feature of the day's proceedings. Greta Dunn won from Nellie Dundas in the last set of the senior singles, and after two sets Myr Campbell won from Margaret Campbell in the junior singles. The tenth annual prize-distribution is to be held next Friday at 4.30 p. m. the prizes to be given away by the Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Columbia, assisted by the Dean. LEUT. P. A. BRENNAN SUCCUMBS TO WOUNDS

Went Overseas With Western Scots as Private; Was Born in Minnesota

Information was received from Ottawa yesterday afternoon announcing the death from wounds received in action on June 6 last of Lieut. P. A. Brennan, who left Victoria with the Western Scots in March last year.

Born in St. Cloud, Minnesota, twenty-eight years ago, Lieut. Brennan was educated at the High School at Elk River, Minn., where he created for himself an excellent record and was a keen devotee to football and baseball.

When war broke out Lieut. Brennan was ranching at Watch Lake in the Lillooet district, responding to the call of the flag during the latter part of 1915, when he came to Victoria and enlisted in the ranks of the Western Scots. His work at the front was soon recognized and from a private he won his stripes and within a year of arrival at the front he was granted his commission as lieutenant.

He is survived by his father and mother in Minnesota, as well as three sisters and four brothers, one of whom, J. B. Brennan, is a resident of Sidney.

TOO HEAVY TO FLY

Frank L. Sweeney Returns to the City From Toronto; Medical Officer Particular About Weight.

Frank L. Sweeney has returned to the city from Toronto, where for the past four months he has been undergoing training for service with the Royal Flying Corps. Taking his course in aerodynamics at Toronto University he was sent to Camp Borden for his tests in the practical branches of the service.

He was successful in mastering the art of flying and was eagerly looking forward to an early trip to the other side to take his share in the grim process of war. To his utter dismay and intense disappointment, however, his final medical examination was disastrous.

He was told by the examining officer that his somewhat superabundance of bulk would deny him the opportunity to strafe the Hun as he would have wished.

Mr. Sweeney is well-known to Victorians as a prominent lacrosse and rugby player. He speaks well of the opportunities offered to candidates joining the Flying Corps.

Of the Western Scots fell on June 6. His brother, Private James Duffield, succumbed to wounds received on April 22 a few weeks ago.

His cause on the battlefields of France.

Enlisting with the Western Scots soon after the authorization of the unit for service overseas, Private Duffield had been in the trenches for about twelve months. Before donning the uniform he was in the employ of the Melrose Company. Besides his widowed mother, who resides with her only remaining son at Cloverdale, other relatives of the late soldier are Mr. and Mrs. A. Klobout, of Austin Avenue.

A near-sighted man was passing along a country road when his hat was whisked off by the wind and carried over a stone wall. He gave pursuit, but each time he thought he had it, it got yet another move on. Then a woman's angry voice rang out. "What are you doing there?" she demanded sharply. He explained mildly that he was only trying to retrieve his hat, whereupon the woman said: "Your hat? There it is over there under the wall—that's our little black hen you've been chasing."

One of the principal things that the Canadian boys miss is the opportunity of following closely the activities of the baseball world. In spite of the fact that they are now army and navy men they have lost none of their old-time interest in the American National pastime.

FOR THIRD TIME

Gave Up Position in San Francisco to Join Overseas Troops.

Private William G. Reid gave up his position as a ship draughtsman in San Francisco to join the Canadian Expeditionary Force, and now to hand yesterday stated that he has been wounded for the third time since he landed in France.

Leaving the city with the C. M. R. in the summer of last year, he went into the trenches with a reinforcing draft and was first hit in the eye in January and a second time his hurts were not sufficiently serious to necessitate hospital treatment.

He was through the Vimy Ridge fight and soon afterwards had to be treated for "trench feet." Three days after return to the firing line he was hit a third time, and is at present in hospital.

His wife and three children are now living on Lang Street. He was born in Port Glasgow, Scotland, and a brother, Malcolm McCormick Reid, formerly of the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders, was wounded at Gallipoli and has since received his discharge from the army.

For three successive nights the new and proud father had walked the floor with the baby. On the fourth night he became desperate, and on arriving home from the office unwrapping a bottle of soothing syrup. "Oh, James," exclaimed his wife, when she saw the label, "what did you buy that for? Don't you know it is very dangerous to give a child anything like that?" "Don't worry," was the husband's tired reply; "I'm going to take it myself!"—Tit-Bits.

The human body is an electric battery. The power of the nerves is electricity. The organs won't work when that power is lacking. Experiments on man being have proved that the energy from a nerve, if cut and properly attached to a galvanometer, will move the needle. It has been further proved that weakened nerves can be strengthened permanently. With a proper Electro-medical appliance the current can be cheaply supplied to the neuro-muscular centre, the small of the back and transmitted through all the vitality-producing organs to any part of the body where the weakness is. The weak nerves seem to absorb this energy like a sponge absorbing water. The strong nerves are not affected except that electricity acts as a tonic to the entire system; in fact it is the greatest nerve energizer and tonic ever discovered. All that is felt when using a Dr. Bell Electro-Appliance is a soothing glow. You can feel it cure. When every organ is well and strong, your health is perfect. ## NEW MILK BY-LAW HAS BEEN DRAFTED

Will Consult With Adjacent Municipalities First; Food Screening Regulations

The amendment to the Milk Regulation By-law will not be ready for introduction to the City Council on Monday, it is stated, although the draft has been prepared. It is framed to provide regulations to cover the alteration of the law at the last session, as to the character of the dairies which are to be allowed to supply milk.

Last year all the municipalities got together and passed milk by-laws, after conferences with officials of the Department of Agriculture, based on Grade A of the Contagious Diseases of Animals Act. While the measure was never enforced, a boycott of Victoria was threatened by some up-island milk shippers if the regulations as to dairies were enforced. On taking office the Minister of Agriculture considered the regulations too stringent, and promised new legislation, which has since been enacted.

Before the dairymen's license system could be enforced municipal regulations based on the alteration of the law were essential. As a result of discussion, the new by-law suggests Grades A and B, with six months' option for Grade C dairies; to give farmers with temporary buildings an opportunity to qualify.

Doubtless before the by-law is enacted, consultation with the neighboring municipalities, through the inter-municipal committee, will be recommended, to avoid conflict of regulations in the Victoria area.

The administration of the milk regulations in Spanish has caused a great deal of trouble, particularly with Hindus, and as a considerable quantity of Victoria's milk originates within the municipal limits, the co-operation of this municipality particularly is necessary to enforce the rules.

It was proposed last year to make the license system interlocking, so that the license of one municipality would be recognized by others.

Another by-law which it is expected will be ready for the consideration of the aldermen shortly is an amendment of the Food Regulation By-law, providing for the registration of bakeries, and the screening of food which is not to be cooked again. The legislation empowering the municipalities to deal with this subject was strengthened at the last session.

Before reaching a decision, the by-law has been sent on to the City Prosecutor for an opinion, as to the enforcement of the regulations proposed in case of police court prosecutions.

The stores offering food for sale have already shown a willingness to meet the suggestions of the Health Department.

COMMITTEE DISCUSS IMPORTANT MATTERS

Consideration Asked by Board of Trade From Railway Freights Association

At the meeting of the Agricultural Committee of the Victoria Board of Trade, held yesterday, the proposal on the part of the railway companies to increase the freight rates on pure bred cattle was fully gone into. For the purpose of encouraging the introduction of pure bred stock the railways have hitherto carried such at half rates. The proposal now provides for the full rates to be charged, the new scale to become operative on and after August 1 next.

Realizing the great importance of this matter to the agricultural community the committee sought and secured the approval of the Railway Freights Committee, as well as the sanction of the President of the Board, to instruct the secretary to write to the Canadian Freight Association asking their indulgence in the matter by allowing the half rate to remain in force, at least until the termination of the war.

On the subject of milk rates the secretary was instructed to ascertain, for comparative purposes and for the information of the Board, the rates in operation with the railway companies both in the State of Washington and also in the neighboring province of Alberta.

Attention of the committee had been called to the great increase in the growth of Canada thistles, more in particular between Duncan and Campbell River. It was decided to advise the Government of the fact and ask that the Noxious Weed Act be enforced and a better maintenance of the roads in question, as a preventative measure, exercised.

Blasting powder, it was declared, had so much advanced in price since the commencement of the war that the amount of land under the process of clearing had dwindled considerably. To the committee this presented a serious situation and an endeavor will be made with the powder companies to secure some concession with a view of a more favorable figure.

EVANGELISTS COMING

Will Meet Ministerial Association at Lunch and Address Evening Meeting.

Since May 20 undenominational evangelistic meetings have been held in Vancouver in a big tabernacle building, erected on the old Court House Square for the purpose and attended by thousands every day, and will continue for a month or more longer. The chief missionaries in this campaign are Dr. French E. Oliver, who is a logical and forceful speaker, and Professor J. Raymond Hemminger, who is a remarkable soloist and choir conductor.

The General Ministerial Association of this city has invited these workers to visit Victoria for a day, and they have agreed to do so next Monday, the 25th. On that day a luncheon meeting will be held at the Y.W.C.A. at 12.30 noon, so as to give the clergymen of the city an opportunity of meeting Dr. Oliver and Prof. Hemminger, and of conferring with them regarding special methods of religious work.

Arrangements are also being made for a public mass meeting to be held in Metropolitan Methodist Church on Monday evening, when Dr. Oliver will give a special address and Prof. Hemminger will conduct a song service and sing himself.

Great interest is being taken by many of the local ministers and church workers in the one-day visit of these successful leaders in Christian service.

BANK OF VANCOUVER VERSUS LIM BANG

F. C. Elliott Wants Court to Strike Out Action; Important Point Raised

The case of The Bank of Vancouver versus Lim Bang has been spoken to several times of late in Supreme Court Chambers here. In Vancouver, before Mr. Justice Murphy yesterday, an important point of law for liquidators has been under discussion. F. C. Elliott, of this city, applied on behalf of Lim Bang for a declaration that the liquidator of the bank could not maintain an action against him for $21,900.

The claim was made on a covenant in a deed, but as the action was brought without the liquidator first obtaining leave of the court to bring suit, Mr. Elliott argued that the action could not proceed. A further objection was taken that the solicitor for the liquidator at Victoria had not been appointed by the court. In reply, the liquidator applied to the court to ratify the action, and Mr. Justice Murphy reserved his decision on both applications.

A. H. MacNeill, K.C., retained by Gowen, Ritchie and Grant, appeared for the liquidator; R. Knox Walker for the creditors and F. C. Elliott for Lim Bang. Should the contention of Mr. Elliott be upheld and relief be refused, it is said the effect would be to make liquidators personally liable for the costs of unsuccessful litigation, begun without the leave of the court, and for any judgments which intervening claimants might recover before the necessary leave is obtained.

In Tennessee they tell of a judge, a man well versed in the law but entirely self-educated, who had to contend with the difficulties of orthography all his life. In the old days he lived in Knoxville, and for a long time he insisted upon spelling it "Noxville." Finally his friends educated him up to the point of pronouncing a K; so thoroughly, in fact, was the lesson learned that, a few years later, when he moved to Nashville, nothing could prevent him from spelling it "Knoxville." Then, some time later, the lawyer moved again, this time to Murfreesboro. On the day that he began to write his first letter on this paper he scratched his head in perplexity, and finally exclaimed: "I give it up! How on earth can they spell the name of this place with a K?"

FORMER VICTORIAN

Mr. Henry Young, for Many Years Resident Here, Succumbs in California.

The death occurred very suddenly yesterday at Long Beach, California, of Henry Young, for many years a resident in this city and very well known here. At one time he was in business in Victoria, his offices occupying a part of the present site of the Arcade Building before the fire which destroyed the Five Sisters' Block. After the fire Mr. Young retired from business and removed to California, where he had lived for the last five or six years.

A son, W. L. B. Young, of Cowichan Bay, and two daughters, Mrs. Richard Nash, Pemberton Road, Victoria, and Mrs. W. W. B. McInnes, of Vancouver, all left yesterday afternoon for Long Beach, where the funeral is to be held. Mrs. Young, the widow of the deceased gentleman, will probably return to Victoria with Mrs. Nash to remain here for the summer months. She, too, has a host of friends in the city who will extend very sincere sympathy.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE LIEUT.-GENERAL

Still Further Advancement for the Commander of Canadianians in France

"On behalf of the City Council and citizens of Victoria I extend to you our warmest congratulations on your appointment to the high command of the Canadian Army Corps."

"In the success you have achieved in the field, in the advancement you have made in rank since you left us to engage in the greatest war in history and for the noblest cause for which men could fight, in the honors bestowed upon you by the Sovereign, and in this last distinction you have won, you have not only brought lustre to your own name, but the greatest satisfaction to your friends and renown to the place which is proud to own you as its citizen."

"We have followed your successes with extreme gratification, and we have unshakable confidence that under your leadership the Canadian troops will make further glowing pages in a record which for valor and achievement has never been surpassed."

In the terms quoted above Mayor Todd, as the representative of the municipal administration of Victoria, called the congratulations of the City of Victoria to Major-General Sir Arthur W. Currie on his appointment to the command of the Canadian Forces in France.

ANOTHER PETITION IS FORECAST NOW

Market Patrons Will Protest Against Change of Dates; Fish Crate Question

It is reported that the City Council will be memorialized in the near future by a very influential petition against any attempt to change the market days. Not that there is any immediate prospect of the aldermen yielding to an application for a change, but the subject was freely debated when the aldermen received a deputation from the Retail Merchants' Association recently. Some weeks ago a petition was hastily signed by some 1,700 people at the market opposing a change to Friday, upon which no action was taken. Now the Times is informed that a monster petition with the same object in view is in contemplation to bring home emphatically to the council that the stallholders have the customers of the market behind them in the stand taken.

The question of fish crates has been the subject of much discussion, and a warm exchange of compliments between two aldermen a few days ago, as a consequence of which it was suggested that the Health Department should amend the by-law. A draft has been prepared, and after the opinion of the City Prosecutor has been obtained the amendment will be ready for the attention of the City Council.

In another petition attention is made to the new milk amendment by-law. Mayor Todd announces this morning that he has invited the members of the inter-municipal committee of the four municipalities to meet on Friday afternoon to discuss the details of the measure fully. Pending that conference, no action will be taken with the measure.

His Worship this morning attended the committee meeting to arrange for the celebration of the jubilee of Confederation, to be held at Beacon Hill Park on July 2.

In spite of the cold weather for the time of the year, the alterations at the George bathhouse are being thoroughly appreciated, and while there are some minor improvements yet to be introduced, the building is being well patronized by both sexes. It is hoped to exceed the good record made last year in the aggregate list of persons who use the bathing facilities at this point.

TO GATHER DATA ON BY-PRODUCT VALUES

Alderman Johns Has Important Motion, as Auxiliary to Checking Cinder Nuisance

"Whereas the daily loss in the burning of mill refuse in the city of Victoria amounts to a very large sum of money, and

"Whereas gas, oil, tar, acetate of lime, turpentine, charcoal, electricity, and other by-products can be extracted from this waste,

"Therefore be it resolved - that the City Engineer and City Electrician be, and they are hereby instructed to ascertain the following information and submit the same to this Council in writing at the earliest possible date:

"A. As to the quantity of mill and other burnable waste or refuse now being produced in the city of Victoria.

"B. As to the amount of gas or other by-products possible of being distilled or extracted from this waste.

"C. As to the amount of electrical energy possible to be generated from this waste.

"D. As to the practicability and possibility of extracting the by-products from the said waste.

"E. As to the approximate cost of a plant to convert this waste into by-products."

This important resolution, standing in the name of Alderman Johns, will be considered by the City Council on Monday evening, notice of motion having been posted.

It is a corollary both to the long controversy concerning the nuisance caused by waste from the saw mills polluting the atmosphere and a practical effort to promote conservation. The discussion has brought out the fact that the material is not only of the nature of a nuisance to neighbors when it has not been combusted in the burners, but that the industries are daily destroying material which would be of great value in by-products.

An investigation is to be conducted next month by the Honorary Advisory Council for Scientific Research into the by-products from the Nicola Valley coal and coke, and it is not impossible that the investigation of an eminent scientific man, may be induced to extend his visit to the Coast.

The resolution, it will be observed, contemplates individual treatment by the city authorities, as is the case in some cities in the United States. By-product treatments of carbonizing materials have been engaging a large measure of attention in the past two years in many research bureaux established to aid industrial expansion, and Alderman Johns hopes to see the principle introduced here.

NEW ORGANIZATION AGAINST COMPULSION

Canadian Freedom League of Victoria Asks Mr. Barnard to Vote Against It

Under the title of "Canadian Freedom League, Branch No. 1, Victoria, B. C.," an organization has sprung into being here, with W. E. Peirce as president and Phil R. Smith as secretary-treasurer. At its meeting last night a resolution was passed and a copy of its terms has already been sent to G. H. Barnard, M.P., the sitting member for Victoria in the Dominion House.

The accompanying letter points out to Mr. Barnard the fact that pressure is being brought to bear on members of the House by Boards of Trade, Financial Institutions, Patriotic Societies, and Administrative Bodies to secure the passing of the conscription measure introduced by Sir Robert Borden.

It goes on to quote the resolution, the clauses of which Mr. Barnard has been asked particularly to observe when a vote is called on the measure in its present form. The following observations are included in the resolution:

"Should Be Rejected.

"1st. That in almost every instance the call for 'conscription of men' is coupled with a call for the 'conscription of wealth.'

"As there is not the slightest indication in the bill of any intention of any such combination of conscription, it should be rejected.

"2nd. In the resolutions being sent you favoring conscription of manpower, there is one of two things plainly evident:

"Either the men forwarding them are not of military age or fitness, or being of military age they do not care to take advantage of the opportunity of voluntary service, which would obviate the need of conscription. In either case their attitude is, 'send the other fellow first.'

"3rd. That the petitions favoring conscription do not represent a very large proportion of the general public who, owing to the position taken by the press and military authorities find difficulty in voicing their views on the matter."

"4th. That the organized workers of Victoria and the whole of British Columbia are absolutely opposed to this Act and are thoroughly determined to prevent it being operative."

Mr. Barnard is further asked to record his disapproval of the bill at the proper stage and to insist upon the measure being placed before the electorate for their approval.

many smaller implements such as paper knives, penholders and inkstands. These were artistically arranged by the students under the direction of their instructor and added very much to the general appearance of the exhibit.

In view of the age of many, in fact of the majority of the students in the medical training department, ranging in the advanced grades around 14 years, the work which they have accomplished must be extremely gratifying to both themselves and their parents, who will find many of the special models to be most useful articles of furniture.

About two hundred people visited the exhibit, among them being Mrs. Jenkins, George Jay and Mr. Kyle (Director of Technical Education). The work of Tom Liddell, Fred Hurley, Bert Dresser and Cyril Walburn excited special comment.

MANUAL TRAINING

Exhibit at George Jay School a Credit to Pupils and Instructor.

The pupils of the George Jay School yesterday afternoon held an exhibit in the school building at which were displayed the models of the manual training department that have been completed during the year. The general standard of the work was good, many of the articles showing special ability on the part of the young mechanics.

A special feature of the display was in the form of the principal articles of furniture required for a library. Among these were a central table, bookcase, writing desk, large arm-chair and foot-stools, a beautiful settee, besides
