RECORD CLAIMED FOR RED CROSS AND MEN IN SERVICE

With 365 new members, the Sierra Madre Chapter of the American Red Cross wound up the membership campaign on Christmas Eve with a total of 868 members.

This is believed to be well over fifty per cent of the population of Sierra Madre, conservatively estimated.

The campaign began with 503 members on the roll, a band of enthusiastic workers under the leadership of Chairman C. W. Forman, and abounding faith that it was possible to largely exceed the 221 new members asked for by the general committee.

There may be other places with fifty per cent of their population enrolled in the Red Cross, but none has come to the attention of any of the local workers.

Honors Widely Distributed

Chairman Forman says the totals for the various teams have not been fully tabulated, but the leading teams appear to be the Eastern Star team captained by Miss Elizabeth Steinberger and the Woman's Club team captained by Mrs. Robert Mitchell. For individual honors it is a close race between C. W. Brunson and W. E. Walker.

In many cases it was difficult to determine just where credit belonged for securing the new names. Sometimes the real work would be done by one person, and the application card turned over to another. But there is glory enough for all in the total achievement.

If anyone has not been solicited for membership, says Mr. Forman, it is due to unintentional oversight, or to the difficulty of reaching them. Anyone wishing to enroll or members who have not received the Red Cross service flag may call or telephone the chapter rooms, or telephone Black 88.

The supply of Red Cross buttons ran out before the week was up. A few more are now on hand and new members may obtain them on application. Buttons of a better grade are also offered for sale at the chapter rooms.

Active Workers

Effective work was done in some cases by individuals not officially enrolled as workers. The following served as captains, team members or workers in addition to those named above:

Mrs. Amelia Jensen, Mrs. C. F. Gray, Mrs. Wm. Lees, Mrs. Minnie Kimball, F. J. Sokol, R. H. Mackerras, Miss Hilda Caley, W. C. Lynch, S. G. Harless, Mrs. J. D. Sparks, Miss Gladys Krafft, Miss P. V. Timberlake, E. C. Carhart, W. J. Lawless, A. G. Stone, Mrs. C. C. Montgomery, Mrs. C. C. Nourse, Mrs. F. L. Merrill, Mrs. J. T. Mason, Miss Edith Blumer, Cedric Tarr, Kenneth Webb.

BOY SCOUTS COLLECT SALVAGE TOMORROW

The Boy Scout organization will make their first salvage collection tomorrow. They will call from house to house, collecting papers, metals and such other articles as will aid the Red Cross chapter in its work. Other dates will be announced later.

Alterations are being made which will double the seating capacity of the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

With several more enlistments added to Sierra Madre's roll of honor, we have the remarkable showing of more than fifty per cent of our men of registration age already with the colors.

Eighty-five men registered in this town last summer. Something like half a dozen were already enlisted in the national guard and did not register. To date Sierra Madre has at least forty-seven men in the service, the list being published on page three of this issue. So the total is safely over the fifty per cent mark. Probably very few communities can boast of such a record in addition to having more than fifty per cent of the total population enrolled in the Red Cross.

Recent Enlistments

Wade Brunson left Thursday for San Diego to join the Naval Aviation service. He will spend the customary period in the quarantine stockade at Balboa Park.

Donald Tarr leaves Saturday for San Francisco, having enlisted in the wireless telegraph branch of the signal service. His father, N. W. Tarr, will go north with him.

Henry Olsen and Orville Yule go this week to San Francisco to enter the navy.

Fred Kehlet and Steve Ashton enter the army aviation service, qualifying as truck drivers or mechanics.

Holidays at Home

Several of the Sierra Madre boys were fortunate enough to secure leave for holiday visits at home.

Arthur B. Kirby came up from the Submarine base at San Pedro to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Kirby. He takes the examination for chief yeoman's rank next week.

Paul Carter came up from Camp Kearney to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Carter, the latter having come up from the ranch at Blythe for a visit.

Vinton Hoegge who is with the Camp Kearney Remount station, visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hoegge.

Littell, and Clyde Price visited with his sisters in Sierra Madre and Los Angeles.

Paul Niles came up to spend the holidays but will not return to camp, having been discharged on account of physical disability.

Charles Downs came up from Ft. McArthur for a visit with his mother, Mrs. M. O. Downs.

Hospital Squad

George Norris had the misfortune to spend Christmas in the hospital under measles quarantine. To add insult to injury, it was a case of German measles too.

Arthur Evans has been released from quarantine at Camp Cody after quite a siege.

Changes in Service

Charlie Schwartz has been enjoying a visit at home before going to Berkeley to enter the army aviation school.

Electrical Sergeant Geo. K. Whitworth has been enjoying a visit before leaving for Fortress Monroe, Va. He was one of a half dozen successful men to pass a stiff examination for assignment to a special intensive training course.

The Flag Goes By

Hats off!

Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums,
A flash of color beneath the sky:
Hats off! The flag is passing by!

Blue and crimson and white it shines,
Over the steel-tipped, ordered lines.
Hats off!

The colors before us fly;
But more than the flag is passing by.

Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great,
Fought to make and to save the State;
Weary marches and sinking ships;
Cheers of victory on dying lips;

Days of plenty and years of peace;
March of a strong land's swift increase;
Equal justice, right and law,
Sately honor and reverend awe;

Sign of a nation, great and strong
Toward her people from foreign wrong:
Pride and glory and honor, all
Live in the colors to stand or fall.

Hats off!

Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums;
And loyal hearts are beating high:
Hats off! The flag is passing by!

Letters From Our Boys Wearing Khaki

The News has another letter from Lieutenant Charles Camp and one from Corp. Raymond Adelmeyer, both in France. Lieut. Camp writes as follows:

A lot of mail has just arrived. I expect there will be mail coming now at frequent intervals and we're all dancing around in great joy,—it has been two months now without a word from home.

There is very little I can tell you. We are busy, it is cold, we are not falling off the horses quite so much, "our section" is a very peaceful one. Our instructors say we shall be ready to see a little of the "front" in a month now, and of course we are much in need of some real experience.

We have from three to five examinations a week now. They want to find out how well we are getting the French methods that we have been fed up on in large quantities. Also we are about to be graded promoted and demoted again, so it keeps us pretty well on edge all the time. Boots are worth $40 a pair and shoes $15.

Some of our comrades don't care much for France—but I diagnose that as homesickness. To me it is intensely interesting. Never tire of watching the people and traveling about the country. The curious manners and customs here are due to several obvious things. There is very little wood in the country and no trees that we would call fit for lumber. So one practically never sees a wooden house, and fuel is so expensive that they find it necessary to plant willows in the marshy places and trim them down to the stumps every year as we do our eucalyptus. Charcoal fires are used a lot too.

Under the soil in this district is a soft chalky kind of limestone that can be dug out and shaped up into big bricks (as two adobe bricks) with a sort of mattock. This rock hardens when exposed and does very well for building. Some of the castles along this river have been standing for nearly 1000 years and they are built of it. The villages are made of this stone and so are all the fences.

A good deal of the land is divided up into little plots of about one to two acres. Perhaps the same family has owned this piece of ground since Louis XIV so the old man had plenty of time to build his stone fence and plant his vineyard while the old lady drove the cows along the road to graze.

The women have all the work they can do and they work much harder than in U. S. A. Old women pile a lot of clothes into a wheel barrow, take the outfit down to the river, wheel the barrow out into the water and kneel in the cold water to wash. Little girls and old women drive cattle and herd sheep. We saw one old lady with a stool, some knitting and a loaf of bread a yard long sitting beside the road watching some sheep. Another old lady had a little cart pulled by two big dogs. She sat in the cart beside a lot of milk cans and was going along at a good trot. Some of the farmers are too poor to have horses so they use little dwarf burrows to drag their hay cars.

The people are small and solid looking, some of the old folks seem to be as old as the chateaux. The girls are rarely pretty except the very little ones. You see a good many with light hair and brown eyes in this part of France. The children are not as noisy as ours and probably they study hard. They wear little black school aprons—girls and boys. Just now all the little fellows have English conversation books and they like to corner you and make you talk English to them. "I speak English French" is their favorite expression.

Near here is an abbey where a curious sect was founded—one of the advantages of belonging to this sect was that the men obeyed the women. They say it died out for want of men. A number of famous English kings and queens are buried near here. One of these kings was killed while storming a castle in France. Nearly also is the cha-

ELECTRICAL WORK TO BE INSPECTED

Ordinance is Introduced and is Now Under Trustees' Consideration

Inspection of electric wiring and other installation is provided for in a new ordinance introduced at last night's meeting of the city trustees. The matter has been before the board for some time. City Attorney Ham has drafted the ordinance, after the Pasadena ordinance, the validity of which has been sustained by the superior court.

Inasmuch as the ordinance deals with wiring already installed as well as new work it will be of interest to all property owners. Further consultation will take place before the ordinance is adopted.

Facing Real Danger

Ordinances providing for a plumbing and general building inspection, with a system of permits, are also likely to be introduced soon. There has been a feeling for a long time among many people that laxity resulting from having no prescribed standards was resulting in shoddy work which is costly to property owners, as well as causing unsanitary conditions and unnecessary fire hazards.

New Water Accountant

Miss Laura McDaniel was appointed to the position of accountant for the water department. She takes the place made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Dickson who has resumed the outside work which he was previously doing in the water department.

Chairman Dietz was authorized by the board to audit the water accounting system monthly, without compensation.

Leave Is Granted

Trustee Sperry was granted a 90-day leave of absence. He was called east last week and will be gone indefinitely.

House Numbers

On the request of the postmaster, the trustees instructed the street superintendent to calculate the official house numbers for that portion of Sturtevant Trail road and the Canyon Park road as far as Leaming's store. These numbers will be filed with the city clerk so that residents along that road will be able to get the information in the same way as residents of other parts of town.

It was explained that mail delivery will not be commenced at any place which is not provided with the official number. The canyon Park road has never been officially numbered because of not being a dedicated street.

Mr. Wilson has announced a special New Year sermon for next Sunday night on the topic, "Religion After the War—Will Christianity Survive?" There will be special music by a quartet and a special invitation is extended to the general public.

The food administration has seized 16,000 tons of sugar that was held in New York.

INCOME TAX MAN WILL COME TO PASADENA

You won't have to figure out your own income tax all by yourself hereafter. The government is going to send men to help you. It will be up to you to hunt up these men, who will be sent into every county seat town, and some other towns besides, to meet the people.

Collector John P. Carter will have a deputy at the Pasadena Post office from January 2 to March 1, 1918, inclusive. He will answer your questions, swear you to the return, take your money, and remove the wrinkles from your brow. Returns of income for 1917 must be made between January 1 and March 1, 1918.

"The Government recognizes," Collector Carter says, "that many persons experience a good deal of difficulty in filling out income tax forms. It recognizes too, that taxpayers resident at points where collectors' offices are not easily accessible find it hard work to get proper instruction in the law. Next year, when every married person living with wife or husband and having a net income of $2,000, and every unmarried person having a net income of $1,000 for the year of 1917 must make return of income on the form prescribed, there will be hundreds in every community seeking light on the law, and help in executing their returns.

"My own and every other collection district in the nation will be divided into districts, with the county as the unit, and a government officer, informed in the income tax assigned to each district. It will be unnecessary for prospective taxpayers to ask my office for forms on which to make returns. The officer who visits their county will have them.

"It may be stated as a matter of general information that 'net income' is the remainder after subtracting expenses from gross income. Personal, family, or living expense is not expense in the meaning of the law, the exemption being allowed to cover such expenses.

"The new exemptions of $1,000 and $2,000 will add tens of thousands to the number of income taxpayers in this district inasmuch as practically every farmer, merchant, tradesman, professional man and salary worker and a great many wage workers will be required to make return and pay tax.

"The law makes it the duty of the taxpayer to seek out the collector. Many people assume that if an income tax form is not sent, or a government officer does not call, they are relieved from making report. This is decidedly in error. It is the other way round. The taxpayer has to go to the government and if he doesn't within the time prescribed, he is a violator of the law, and the government will go to him with its penalties."

According to Secretary Daniels, there was turkey for the Thanksgiving dinner of every man in the Navy. A naval supply ship arrived in European waters in time to furnish the men on the submarine hunting destroyers with the traditional Thanksgiving fare.

The strength of the naval reserve force is 49,250 men, 70 per cent of whom volunteered for general service.

SKIMMED MILK IN COOKING

Skimmed milk is usually so abundant on the farm that its value in the diet is overlooked. Quart for quart it contains a little more protein and a little more milk sugar than whole milk, but much less fat. Because of the lack of fat it should not be used in place of whole milk for children. It is, however, a most valuable adjunct to the diet on meatless days, and the cheapest protein food for the farmer's table, according to the United States Food Administration for California.

Aside from its food value skimmed milk adds much to the quality and flavor in cooking, and is a first aid in converting leftovers into palatable dishes.

WORK HUMMING

In spite of the attention required by the membership campaign and the holiday festivities the routine work of the chapter has been going forward steadily.

The 100 pillow slips for base hospitals have been completed as requested and are ready for shipment.

Several rag rugs remain for sale at the chapter rooms at prices from $1 upward, and are considered excellent value.

Another of the popular noon-day luncheons will be held in the chapter rooms next Thursday, January 3. These luncheons afford an opportunity to support the chapter on the part of many persons who cannot do war relief work at the rooms, make garments or knit. The revenue from these luncheons is a very substantial aid to the chapter work.

Several pie plates remain at the chapter rooms which are the property of persons who contributed to the cooked food table at the lawn fete. Several other plates have not yet been returned by persons who bought articles of food on plates which they promised to return. In both cases it is earnestly requested that an effort be made to help out the house committee by clearing the tables of these matters.

MRS. J. A. ADAMS CALLED

Mrs. C. A. Adams, who resided in Sierra Madre for several years, passed away December 20th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. F. Pettibone, at Pittsburg, Kansas. She was seventy-two years of age and the widow of the late J. A. Adams, the contractor, formerly residing on San Gabriel Court.

THRIFT STAMP AGENCY AT THE GAS OFFICE

Thrift Stamps and War Savings stamps can now be purchased at the office of the Southern Counties Gas Co. Miss Preston, local agent for the company, has received instructions from the main office to keep on hand a supply of the stamps for sale to employees and to the public.

The Gas Company has taken an active part in every patriotic campaign during the war, lending the assistance of its large and efficient organization to the Red Cross Drive, the Liberty Bond Campaigns and the Y. M. C. A. campaign. Each office of the company is made an agency for the sale of the Thrift Stamps. In this way the company has facilities for reaching 45,000 consumers on the company's system.

Stamps purchased from such agencies may be affixed to cards and certificates secured elsewhere. If desired, these may be taken to any post office and there registered in the name of the holder.

PAMPAS PLUMES WANTED FOR TOURNAMENT FLOAT

Preparations are going ahead rapidly for the local entry in the Pasadena Rose Tournament parade. The design will be a replica of the Statue of Liberty, with Miss Bertha Carson as the figure of "Liberty."

Chairman Topping says a quantity of pampas plumes are needed for decoration and asks that all who can supply them notify him.

Delightful Evening's

Christmas Eve was delightfully celebrated by the Congregational Sunday School with an entertainment at the Club House. The feature of the evening was a little play arranged from the story by Jacob Riis, "Is There a Santa Claus?"

Miss Gertrude Cook made a hit in the role of grandmother, Miss Dorothy Camp was the mother, and the children's parts were taken by Edwin Ward, Catherine Maull, Bobbie Mackerras, Kathleen Wilson, and Maxwell Mackerras.

The evening began with a song service, and following the play, C. W. Jones appeared in the guise of Santa Claus. Bags of good things were distributed to all the children.

For the evening's entertainment guests were requested to pay an admission charge in the form of some contribution for the children of the Maude B. Booth Home in Los Angeles. There was a large accumulation of articles and money. On the afternoon of Christmas Day these things were taken to the home by a number of the children and parents, who filled a dozen autos. The visitors had the fun of seeing the Christmas tree and the general distribution of gifts to the boys and girls of the home.

Between August 1 and December 1 the railroads transported 1,500,000 men to training camps and embarkation points. To insure the safety of the men in transit the railroads have adopted an average speed of 25 miles an hour except when freight cars needed for the transportation of equipment are included in the trains. The speed is then reduced to 20 miles.

MORE AND MORE A PEOPLE'S WAR

Distinct and world wide transition in the popular attitude toward the war is unmistakable. In its earlier stages the war was widely regarded as engineered by the forces of autocracy and big business on all sides. The forces of democracy were reluctant to get back of it. Now it is the forces of democracy which insist it shall be forced to a logical and decisive conclusion. Where there is wavering it is among the people whose sympathies or financial interests run in the other direction. The following editorial from The Public is to the point:

From the present, it is a democratic war, a united defense of free peoples. Nearly every disaster to the allied arms can be traced to feudal and particularist ambitions. But the purging is now complete. It is Lord Lansdowne who wishes to retire; it is A. G. Gardner, the democrat, who says: "I hunger for peace as much as any man, but I hope I may not live to see a peace such as that which the Kaiser may seek and our warmongers may leap at, a peace which would deliver Russia to Potsdam and turn the world into two mighty instruments of war, watching each other, tricking each other, poisoning each other's wells with their infamous newspapers and their secret diplomacy, and plunging at last to the inevitable war. Rather than that let us perish now." And this spirit, animating the great masses of the allied world, comes into flame not a moment too soon. Not since the German rush through France in 1914 has the outlook been so gloomy. An armistice with Russia even for a month means that Germany will throw every ounce of her weight upon the Western front in a desperate effort to win before America can give effective help. In all probability, in the next few weeks, our Allies will fall by the hundred thousand. Surely the time has come for Americans to discard the complacent pride in what they feel to be a great achievement in preparation for war, which in reality is only a fraction of what might have been done, and settle with grim determination to the issue of saving from destruction all that makes life worth while. When the future of the world is in the balance, must we allow shipbuilders to defeat us, or steel manufacturers to delay us because they are not squeezing all they desire out of our desperate necessity?

WAR SAVINGS CAMPAIGN WAKENS ENTHUSIASM

With Christmas over national interest once more centers on the great two billion dollar War Savings Campaign. Never since war was declared has such enthusiasm been awakened as this country-wide plan is calling forth.

The War Savings Campaign is an appeal to the masses, because it is largely in the masses that the strength of the Government lies. Every man, woman and child who invests even so small an amount as 25c in Thrift Stamps feels that he or she has subscribed more than that amount toward bringing about a victorious peace. That money carried in the pocket will bear no interest—lent to the Government by investment in these stamps it will increase in value and the individual will benefit.

War Savings stamps are an attractive investment—no savings bank in the country pays 4 per cent interest compounded quarterly. They are a wise investment—their purchase will teach the small investor the lesson of Thrift. This is the practical side of the War Savings Campaign—that through buying government stamps we can help, not alone our country, but ourselves—through saving small coin we can build a financial strength that will carry us over the rough places in our individual lives, just as surely as it will help to carry our brave soldier boys over the long, hard way they must tread to victory.

This is the individual's war. That is why War Savings Certificates should be in every home. Every dollar saved and invested in War Savings Stamps means just so much more purchasing power for the Government. Every dollar saved for the Government in its present need and every dollar spent in its aid is a dollar serving in freedom's army—serving to free our fair land from the presence of that oppression whose shadow even now, hangs low on our horizon. Not your freedom alone, but your children's freedom—that is the patriotic sentiment behind the War Savings Campaign.

Every red-blooded American will buy War Savings Stamps:

BECAUSE the money they bring will help to maintain on the battlefield some fine, upstanding American boy who is fighting for us and who needs all the help that we can give him.

BECAUSE they are the best investment in the world, secured by the wealth and honor of the United States, and earn the owner 4 per cent interest compounded quarterly.

BECAUSE they lead the way to thrift and tend to repress extravagance and release goods and services which the government sorely requires to prosecute this war.

teau where lived and died a French lady who was forced to marry an English king. The house was built before Columbus discovered America.

The most interesting thing of all and what surprised me most was to see so many underground villages. The country is full of caves and those that open along the river bluff have been enlarged for houses and stables. Chimneys lead up thru the cave roofs to the ground above and the front of the cave is often bricked up with windows and doors like a nice house. It may be unhealthy, but these French caves have been inhabited for longer than anyone knows. In some of them pictures of mammoths and reindeer have been found and skeletons of a different sort of man and crude tools of the stone age. Perhaps people have been living in some of these caves for 20,000 years. It may not be as unhealthy as it seems.

CHARLES L. CAMP

STILL OVER HERE

I am starting a job here which is going to be quite difficult for I haven't gotten onto the idea of such restrictions of speech which they are holding us to. Never-the-less I have started now and will try to finish in the best way I know how. You may not understand all that I am driving at but will leave it to you to guess between the lines which I write.

We have been on the jump from morning till night so we haven't had much leisure time. The weather here is rainy and damp all the time so haven't had much chance to go out into the surrounding country.

Harvey Steinberger has been with us all the time and I saw him often but now he is gone. The company is going out on detached service as soon as possible, and already some are out.

The Captain went on the General Staff. Harvey and one of our Lieutenants went away to school for five weeks yesterday. Also one of our other Lieutenants went to a different school. That leaves us one Lieut. in command of the company.

Wade Fallis and Bob Clark have left us and gone to another town so I don't see them very much now, but I just heard yesterday that they are all fine and dandy. That only leaves Johnnie, Ben and myself here to uphold the old Sierra Madre reputation and I don't think we will be together long.

We haven't had any mail since we have been here and are looking for it with anxious eyes for it sure means a lot to us. We haven't seen a newspaper in a month except the Sierra Madre News which I got and we all read it from start to finish.

I want to thank the Red Cross women for those woolen garments you sent us while in N. Y. They sure do come in nice over here.

Well next Thursday is Thanksgiving and there isn't a turkey in sight, so I guess we will be out of luck this year.

Sincerely,

Yours at the front

RAYMOND ADELMEYER.

HOLIDAY BOXES

MUCH APPRECIATED

Sierra Madre people who aided collectively or individually in the sending of Christmas boxes to soldiers may rest assured the effort was appreciated. Both the Sierra Madre boys to whom boxes were sent directly, and others to whom local contributions to the general holiday work were allotted, have written appreciative letters to the News, the Liberty Committee and the Red Cross.

Following is a typical letter from George Norris, written from Camp Kearney hospital:

Christmas Day

Dear Mr. Morgridge:

Your most welcome paper arrived this morning and it was certainly a regular Christmas present. I enjoyed the letters from Charles Camp and Bill Schwartz especially for we are all anxious to hear from the boys in France.

Billies' mind seems to run the same as mine for I do miss the mountains a lot and I think he would not miss Charlie and George much if he was only in the mountains again.

I am having some Christmas myself in quarantine with German measles, when I expected to be home over the holidays, but we have had a real nice Christmas here. We all got a box from the Red Cross, with all kinds of things in it, and we certainly appreciate it. The Y. M. C. A. gave us fruit and flowers and we had a regular Christmas dinner, turkey and all the trimmings. We have our tent decorated with poinsettias and it looks like Christmas all right.

The boys are all playing cards and one is playing a mouth organ, a nice way to spend a Christmas night, but we are all cheerful about it, in fact that is one thing that impresses me is that the boys all seem so cheerful no matter what the conditions are. We all know we are fighting for a great cause and that all the people are back of us, so it makes us feel good.

Well, I'll thank you again for the News, and wishing you a Merry Christmas, I am

Applications for war-risk insurance are now far past the billion dollar mark. All soldiers, sailors, marines, and nurses in active service may buy insurance from the government at the rate of from 65 cents a month at the age of 21 to $1.21 a month at the age of 51 for each $1,000.

A body of 100 surgeons has written the woman's committee of the Council of National Defense asking for war work because, she says, "My son is too old to be a soldier." A girl 9 years old wants to go to France as a messenger in the Red Cross service.
