

CARE OF MILK CANS

E. M. MOORE OF CASA VERDUGO DAIRY SAYS CLEANLINESS ESSENTIAL FOR MILK

E. M. Moore of the Casa Verdugo dairy, who has a fine herd of Jersey cows, some of which are famous as milk givers, thinks that one of the great secrets of having milk which the public appreciates and will demand is cleanliness. In a moderate-sized dairy like the Casa Verdugo establishment just as in the mammoth herd, it is essential that every part of the equipment necessary for the production of good milk be kept scrupulously clean.

Cans, bottles, everything must be sanitary. Sanitation is the last word in the modern dairy. In a circular letter recently sent to milk dealers by the Dairy Division of the Department of Agriculture, it was pointed out that bacterial counts made from cans which had been washed and rinsed in the ordinary manner showed that there were from 300,000 to 18,000,000 bacteria in each can, with an average of 4,500,000.

If ten gallons of milk were put into one of these cans there would be added more than 100 bacteria to each cubic centimeter of milk. "That," said Mrs. Moore, "is practically true; yet a little steaming of these same cans could have rendered them practically sterile. We always steam our cans thoroughly. It does not do to trust to washing alone. The aim of the sanitary milk seller is to cleanse cans by means of washing powder, and water, rinsing, cleansing with steam and rapid drying so that after the empty can has been carefully covered there can be no fear of contamination.

"Every precaution that can be brought into use for the improvement of the sanitary condition of our dairy we have and we are willing to do this for the benefit of the public. To take these precautions is necessary and we do not grudge any expense to which they may put us.

"We do not keep unprofitable cows. All our animals are well-bred high producers and for the milk of one cow we have been offered as high as 15 cents a quart. Plenty of light, carefully considered and well balanced feeding, carefully screened stables, and constant personal supervision are the secrets of our success in dairying. By similar practice all other dairies can keep up to date. Glendale is fortunate in having a number of excellent dairies sufficient for the supply of all its local needs, delivering milk that has not made a long exposed journey but is fresh at the moment of delivery.

"By economy of management the local dairy manages to make a reasonable profit and is able to furnish a first-class product at a price that rarely corresponds to the quality of the article produced; while too often the public is badgered into purchasing inferior products at the same price.

"We are all deeply interested in our dairy and in our animals. We do not let our business drive us. We do not merely keep the cows, but we also let the cows keep us. There is both pleasure and profit in a business managed on such terms. Glendale is famous throughout the valley for the high quality of its milk and if it is so it is simply because its dairymen all strive to obtain the highest-testing milk they can produce."

STREET CAR-AUTO ACCIDENT

Glendale & Montrose passenger car No. 101 collided with a Ford automobile driven by D. S. Kinney of the Sparr Fruit company about 6:10 Wednesday evening on Broadway near Glendale avenue. The street car was in charge of Conductor Betts and Motorman Anderson. The street car step was torn off and the radiator and one wheel of the auto were considerably damaged but luckily no one was injured.

REGISTER AT ONCE

Those who have not registered since January 1 of this year are reminded that they must do so before October 7 or they cannot vote at the coming election. Those who attain the age of twenty-one before the November election may register now. Miss Sarah Pollard, at the Glendale Book Store, 413 South Brand; Mrs. Sidney Dell, 622 North Louise street and Miss Ethel F. Wilde, 328 Cedar street, who may be found at the office of the Crystal Ice & Cold Storage company, 126 East Third street, through the day or at her home in the evening, are all ready to take the names of those desiring to register.

WELLS-HOPKINS WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Harriet M. Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harter Wells of 1504 West Broadway, to Robert Hugh Hopkins of Morenci, Arizona, was solemnized Wednesday at noon in Holy Trinity church of Alhambra by Rev. Milton S. Runkle, pastor of the Holy Trinity church and formerly of St. Mark's church in Glendale.

It was a quiet wedding, only the immediate family of the bride being present. The bride wore a light gray suit of heavy silk, and carried a white kid prayer book. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. James Luther Flint, who also wore gray, with a corsage bouquet of pink moss roses, baby-blue-eyes, forget-me-nots and valley lillies, caught in a rosette of silver lace. The groom was attended by Dr. James Luther Flint.

Miss Gertrude Champain of Glendale presided at the piano. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for a short honeymoon, after which they will return and spend a few days in Glendale and Los Angeles before leaving for their future home in Arizona.

CELEBRATES GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. W. Goodridge, 1440 West Broadway, celebrated their golden wedding Wednesday. They were married in Chicago in 1866 and have lived a life and ideal happiness ever since. Recently Mr. Goodridge has been in poor health and has been confined to the house. At present he is considerably better and welcomed his guests with heartiness and vigor.

The family dinner was held at which the guests were Lieutenant Whipple and Mrs. Whipple, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Goodridge, Arthur Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. J. Goodridge Gould of Los Angeles, Mr. Charles Radford of Glendale Heights and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. W. Goodridge. The rooms were tastefully decorated with golden flowers and ferns; sunset roses and marigolds being used in the living room, while a beautiful center piece of coveopsis and fern graced the dining table.

During the day Mr. and Mrs. Goodridge received the congratulations of their large circle of friends.

MUTUAL BENEFIT READING CIRCLE

Continuance of the very interesting work, "The Dawn of Character," was the work in hand yesterday at the meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading circle. "The Place of Punishment in Education" was found to be a most helpful chapter, as it bristled with practical suggestions as to the nature and extent of punishments. "Freedom Within the Law" was found to be a natural sequence to the preceding topic, and no less interesting. Thirty women were in attendance yesterday, among whom were three new members, Mrs. A. D. Dunlop, Mrs. William Kohl of Torpico, and Mrs. F. B. Nay. Mrs. E. T. Morgan and Miss Gies were visitors of the circle.

"KELLY" ASSEMBLY

Indicating the loyalty to the man they have chosen "to get something for Southern California" some thirty-five men and women prominent in political circles met at Randolph and Louise streets, Casa Verdugo, the home of W. B. Kelly, Democratic candidate for legislature in the Sixty-first Assembly district, Tuesday night.

Mr. Kelly's constituents are confident of his success and will do everything in their power to send a Glendale man to Sacramento. The willingness of these followers to work for and with their man is shown by the acceptance of W. I. Sprows, Mrs. Alex Mitchell and Mattison B. Jones as chairmen of the campaign, "Kelly for Assembly club" and advisory committees respectively.

It is significant of the caliber of the man when it is known that influential citizens of all parties are uniting in their efforts to elect Mr. Kelly.

MOTHERS' CLUB MEETING

The Mothers' club of the Acacia street school will hold its first fall meeting Friday, September 22, at 3 o'clock. Miss Swift of the State Normal school will give a talk on nature study. Professor Lowinsky will give two violin selections. All old and new patrons are urged to be present. Refreshments will be served.

FIERCE STRUGGLE FOR BRITISH "TANK"

ONE OF NEW WAR MACHINES TOPPLES OVER WHEN HIT AND BRITISH FIGHT FOR POSSESSION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Sept. 21.—One of the new British "caterpillar tanks" which have been working so much damage on the German lines, was hit by a shell this morning between the lines at Borleaux. It toppled over on its side and immediately the Germans sprang forward in great strength to seize it. The British also sprang to defend it and a desperate struggle is now going on over the prostrate monster of war.

FRENCH GAIN LARGELY ON TWO FRONTS

GEN. NIVELLE'S MEN WREST SEVERAL TRENCHES FROM GERMANS AT VERDUN—WIN ALSO IN SERVIA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Sept. 21.—The French troops under the direction of Gen. Nivelle had considerable success this morning. With great vigor they sprang forward on the German trenches around Dead Man's hill, driving them out of their positions and retaking the ground captured and other trenches also. The Germans are giving signs that they will soon abandon Verdun, where they have fought for eight months in a vain attempt to break through.

MILITIAMEN RIOT IN SACRAMENTO

POLICE OF CAPITAL ARE ABOUT TO DEAL STERNLY WITH GUARDSMEN WHO WRECKED SALOON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 21.—Militiamen from the big camp finding time heavy on their hands went into town and began drinking in various saloons. They then decided to beat up the negro quarters and finally landed in a big fight in a negro saloon. After the police had interfered and quieted the rioters it was discovered that the place had been completely wrecked. The police say that they will take stern measures to stop the constant trouble they have had since the militiamen went into camp.

TROOPS ON THE FRONTIER REVIEWED

BIGGEST REVIEW OF INFANTRY EVER HELD IN UNITED STATES TAKES PLACE AT FORT BLISS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, Sept. 21.—The biggest review of regular infantry ever held in the United States took place this morning at Fort Bliss, when 26,000 troops, constituting a full regular division of the army, marched in full equipment before the reviewing stand. The review was witnessed by a large number of Americans and the Mexicans crowded the heights across the border to, and got as close as they could to witness the imposing spectacle.

CARRANZISTAS MAY PATROL BORDER

NEW LONDON CONFERENCE TRIES TO AGREE ON SOME MINOR POINTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW LONDON, Sept. 21.—The joint commission now in session here is not much farther advanced than it was three weeks ago. It is feared that the Mexicans will delay any decision long enough to make the commission of little use as campaign matter. Today the discussion was made on the point of patrolling the border. By noon it was almost settled that the Carranzistas should undertake this duty.

CHARGE GERMAN INTRIGUES IN AMERICA

BRITISH OFFICIALS STATE THAT TEUTON INTRIGUE IS AT BOTTOM OF MAILS DISPUTE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The British foreign office, which has been investigating the sudden agitation in the United States against the action of the British censor in handling American mail matter and in the action of the British naval department in handling freights, states that there is no doubt the agitation in the United States has come from German instigation. They say that, despite the recent revelations of intrigue even in the German embassy at Washington, the Teutons still maintain a highly organized and extremely able bureau of intrigue.

PROHIBITIONISTS TO QUERY WILSON

DRYS OF CALIFORNIA AND NATIONAL DETERMINED TO GET DECLARATION FROM PRESIDENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—The Prohibitionists of California at the instance of the National Prohibition officials now touring this State have sent a telegram to President Wilson asking him, "Are you wet or dry?"

OUR PLATFORM

EVENING NEWS ALWAYS STANDS FOR TEMPERANCE MEASURES

That it may be clearly understood by those who have located in Glendale recently and who are readers of The Glendale Evening News, the management will state that The Evening News stands for a Dry California, a Dry Los Angeles County and a Dry Glendale. There has never been a time in the career of the editor of The Glendale News but that he has worked for and voted for all temperance or dry propositions.

Concerning the literature the saloon organizations are sending out and the notices they have posted on bill boards, it is our opinion that the more of that kind of work they do, the greater is the argument in favor of prohibition. The very nicely colored pictures representing girls at work in the vineyards, with printed matter beneath stating that these vineyards will be destroyed if the state declares for prohibition, has a background to the thoughtful reader which shows clearly the bartender dealing out the damnable stuff that is sold from the saloon and it is the saloon that is asking for protection instead of the grape grower.

When a sign is placed on a brewery or distillery that prohibition will throw out of employment 200 people what does that argument amount to if those 200 people are engaged in the manufacture of something that is ruining the lives of two million people? The argument of the saloon supporters has no foundation on which to stand as viewed by respectable citizens. And by the way, it is in place to state here that citizens are becoming quite respectable as to their way of viewing the effects of the saloon and its supporters.

It is not the intention, nor has it at any time been the intention of the editor of The Evening News to take a disagreeable or unpleasant stand upon this question as relative to those who do not at present see things just as he sees them. There are many good citizens whose eyes have not been opened to the evils that the saloon is causing, and their methods of handling the question is not as radical as that of the local optioners, but it is their wish that a course be pursued to put out of existence the saloon.

It is a well known fact that the Prohibition party as a political organization worked honestly and diligently for many years without accomplishing great noticeable results more than to keep up the flame of enthusiasm, which was very necessary. When the local option question came before the people several years ago it was not very kindly received by the politicians of the Prohibition party, but we have all learned that it was the introduction of the local option system of handling the temperance question that has been the means of closing thousands of saloons in the United States.

It brought from all of the political parties the united temperance strength and that was something that it seemed impossible to do so long as the Prohibition party remained as a distinct political organization.

Now what is greatly needed is to so conduct the local option campaign as to get on our side all good citizens, those who are not now in favor of local option, but who are in favor of good government will be easily made to see that it is their duty to line up on the side of decency; and the only way to get these men, who are many of them well-meaning citizens, on the dry side, is by logical and kindly argument. The man or woman who goes out in the world for the purpose of doing good and uses any other means than kindly persuasion, is not able to accomplish anything. The minister who preaches sermons that are bitter and criticizing in their character, will drive away his congregation and soon be preaching to empty pews.

The minister who can accomplish the greatest good is the one who is first able to interest the people and draw them within his hearing. So in our effort to get a dry California, we, as dry workers, will accomplish more by treating kindly the well-meaning citizen who is not at all identified with the saloon, but who has not yet espoused the local option or dry cause. We must forget all selfishness in a campaign that is for good and conduct it in the way in which the greatest results will be obtained.

There is a tendency occasionally for candidates for office to make capital of the dry question and ride into office on the tide of dry enthusiasm. Such attempts on the part of candidates and their friends works an injury to the cause.

HIGH CLASS HOLSTEINS

W. H. GINN HAS VALUABLE HERD OF WELL-BRED STOCK AT CORCORAN

W. H. Ginn, of 128 Orange street, returned to Glendale this week to visit his family. He has been spending some time on his ranch at Corcoran, Kings county, Cal., and will return thither, Saturday morning, to spend another month among his Holsteins.

While in Glendale just now Mr. Ginn attended a sale of high-class registered Holstein cattle at Rivera, Cal. California is quite famous for its Holsteins and some very valuable cattle were to be found among the animals for sale. One youngster three and a half months old was sold to John Jeffries of Burbank for $2000. Quite a number of cows went for prices ranging from $1000 to $1600.

"This looks well for the registered Holstein business in California," said Mr. Ginn. "I have about eighty head of high-class Holsteins on my ranch at Corcoran and they are thriving and increasing. I started in the registered Holstein business some two years ago. I purchased at first thirty-two head and this October I sold $3000 worth of stock out of that herd. At present I have seventy-two head.

"This shows what can be done with stock in the fertile valley of the San Joaquin. In the sale of which I have just spoken three-fourths of the cattle were bred and raised in the San Joaquin valley. If cheap land can be obtained and cheap feed the business cannot fail to be profitable. Some complain that land is too high.

"When I see what prices can be obtained for high-bred stock I am convinced that it is best to handle that kind of stock. My own experience proves that the business is profitable. The Holstein is a good milker. It gives large quantities of excellent milk of fine quality. You will find these picturesque and noble-looking cattle throughout California where they have always been and always will remain a favorite breed."

NOTED SINGER COMING

Mrs. E. W. Kinney, music orator of the Tuesday Afternoon club who in that capacity has been instrumental in bringing many good things to the club and to Glendale has secured the services of Madame Constance Dalfour for the afternoon of November 28. This is General Reciprocity day for the Tuesday afternoon club. Members of the club and their friends will enjoy a rare treat in hearing this gifted woman. She is among the foremost singers of the day and has a voice of wonderful smoothness, range and power. She has studied under Sbriglia in Paris, Hernemann in Berlin and Hugo Heinz in London and has achieved wonderful success in concert and operatic work. Her repertoire is very extensive including song and operatic literature of Germany, France, Italy, England and America. Music lovers will anticipate Madame Dalfour's appearance here with much pleasure.

AMERICAN FOOTBALL

The High school is to have a strong football team this season if present indications are of value. This will be a team for the regular American football game. The boys have played several practice games already and are getting their material into shape. By and by there will be a compact team with picked men for each position. Following are the names of the players and their positions:

Johnny Sharpe, lb; Kenneth Jackson, qb; Wayne Smith, lb; Bill Gower, lg; Dutch Eccles, re; Tom McIver, rg; Don Barager, rt; Chile Pomeroy, lh; Galen Gould, lt; Jamie Shea, c; Claude Norton, rg; George Crist, rg; Don Wieman, fb; Orville Williams, rg; Ed Seay, rg; Hill McGillis, rg; Fred Nichols, rg.

There will be practice right along and a game will be played at San Fernando, Saturday, September 30.

ATTENTION WOMEN OF THE VALLEY

Please do not forget that every one of you, and the men folks too, have an engagement to come to the First Baptist church next Tuesday at 10:30 a. m., to the Women's Rally in the interests of California dry.

One of the prominent speakers is to be Mrs. Seward Simons, president of the Friday Morning club. The full program will be announced in the Saturday Evening News. Every woman who expects to be present at noon is asked to bring sandwiches for two. The committee in charge will provide the remainder of the lunch.

PROTECTION OF LIFE AT SEA.

One of the chief reasons for a loss of ships and life at sea has always been the practice of overloading. There is a limit to the load which a vessel can carry, whether that vessel be seaworthy or not. To overload a vessel is to take chances on the time when a strong wind will blow and the vessel will careen so much that the center of gravity falls outside the keel and then she goes down.

This system of overloading vessels and taking a chance, or of overloading unseaworthy vessels with the deliberate intention of losing them and collecting the insurance, was formerly a favorite trick of the trade in Britain. It prevailed there until one wise man bethought himself of a plan whereby he might prevent the casting away of thousands of lives annually.

That man was Samuel Plimsoll, a member of parliament, who introduced a bill by reason of which every British vessel or vessel of British register must have a line of safe loading determined for it by government experts. On the center of this line on each side of the vessel there is painted a small circle with two diameters passing through the center. This black and white mark is known as the Plimsoll mark and the vessel must not be so loaded that this mark is submerged. That is the test and one of the most bitter sentences of reproach one sailor can hurl at another is that which accuses him of having altered a Plimsoll mark.

Samuel Plimsoll was not a genius. He was something better, he was one who loved and served his fellowmen. The United States has not yet produced a man who has taken such a kindly interest in the welfare of American vessels and American sailors and therefore the ships, sailors and passengers of this land are still at the mercy of the unscrupulous overloader.

It seems possible that in William Redfield, the secretary of commerce, such a man may have arisen, however, as he has just summoned to Washington representative ship owners, shipbuilders, naval architects and other qualified persons to take up this matter of load lines.

There is not a season that passes that accidents do not happen on both the Pacific and the Atlantic coast by reason of this habit of overloading. Several accidents of recent origin were mysterious simply for the reason that there was no telling how much the vessels were overloaded and there will never be an end to the losses at sea for this reason until the United States adopts a load line mark similar to that forced upon Britain by Samuel Plimsoll.

Of the original fleet of vessels that rushed to Nome, Alaska, in the early days of the great gold rush but few are left. Overloading, craziness of the vessels themselves and the perils of the Alaska coast have disposed of a great many of them; but undoubtedly under a load-line law many of them would never have been allowed to sail with the loads of passengers they carried. That any of the year 1900 boats ever reached their destination was about as close to a miracle as any event of that kind could come.

The United States needs a merchant marine of its own and it needs to protect that marine by means of load line regulations and other precautions.

STUDY HANDICAPPED BY WEALTH.

It used to be the boast of the universities of Europe that their students cultivated the Muses "tenui avena" on a little oatmeal. That has become untrue of some of them. In others there has always been a determination to frown on unnecessary expense in the university career, as tending to keep out worthy students, unable to afford the expense of a fashionable university and also on account of the bad effect luxury always has on study.

In the universities of Oxford and Cambridge in England there are colleges that have been noted for the rich living of their students. There are colleges to which a poor student could not go unless he obtained a sizarship and became, as it were, a pensioner or menial of the college, in return for which he obtained the coveted education and degree.

To a greater or less extent that used to be true of most of them and is still true of some. A moderately wealthy student could not vie with the sons of men of rank and fortune. In the matter of rank alone there was a great difference between the colleges, although there was also a democracy in them that fiercely resented the encroachments of the aristocracy. The four Scotch universities are pure democracies, intellect and acquirement alone being valued.

Yale and Harvard started in as democracies pure and simple and yet the presence of the sons of men of wealth could not fail to alter the simpler modes of university life and the faculties have had a difficult time in controlling the situation. In California Leland Stanford university has taken a most commendable stand against extravagance in university life. Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of the university, in a recent statement says that students with too much money are not desired at the school if they are inclined to spend their money in pursuit of pleasure.

The wise president urges parents not to give their children too liberal allowances and warns them that as a matter of fact the number of entrants this year is limited and that those students who fail to show they are doing honest work will not be permitted to remain.

Leland Stanford university is not seeking particularly for poor boys and does not discourage the entrance of the sons of the wealthy. Experience, however, has shown that the poor boy has, on the whole, made a better record, both as a student and afterward. The president of Leland Stanford wishes to save the rich man's son from his own particular dangers.

There is no doubt that it takes time to run an automobile and it often leads to life off the campus, extravagance and foolishness. The university presents much to do that is interesting and profitable. There are athletic fields, gymnasiums, fine walks. There is no reason why a student should not be content in such a place. San Francisco with its many temptations is no place for young students. Orchids and taxis are not necessary parts of a curriculum. It would indeed be far better for parents to keep their sons and

CHILD'S EXPOSITION LETTER

We have just returned from San Diego, where we spent our vacation and what a delightful time we had. First we went to the exposition grounds and wherever you would look there was beauty to be found. The exhibits that interested me the most were the French, Canadian and Philippine exhibits. In the latter the most interesting thing was a miniature bungalow school, the window panes of which were made of thin shell; this was made by children.

The Canadian exhibit was made mostly of grains and grasses, and it seemed so wonderful and real to me that I asked the manager how they were made. They also had four baby bears which attracted much attention. The French exhibit was also beautiful. What I liked best were the little French dolls, some were dressed in colonial costumes and some in the latest styles.

The botanical gardens were beautiful. There was a very large pond which had water lilies of all kinds and descriptions, and a very large assortment of ferns. We took a trip to Point Loma and the Theosophical grounds; while at Point Loma we saw the old Spanish lighthouse. We also took a trip to Mission Cliff Gardens. It was a very beautiful place; but most beautiful of all were the birds. There must have been more than 300 of them, large and small, many were foreign birds. There was also a beautiful pond there where I took some pictures.

A SUGAR SCHOOL

The Audubon Sugar School of Louisiana State University teaches facts and theories relative to sugar chemistry and production. The course takes five years and students come from all over the southern states, and from Cuba, Porto Rico and the Canary Islands. The equipment of the experiment station consists of a sugar house, fields of cane and large chemical laboratories for experimenting and testing.

The student is required to do actual work in the fields, during two full sugar seasons, under the direction of supervisors, planting, cultivating and harvesting the cane. The fifth year must be spent on a plantation or in a sugar factory. Such schools in Europe have accomplished a great deal in devising new processes.

daughters at home than to send them to the university and give them money for such extravagances. It appears to be the intention of Leland Stanford university to put an end to these practices and those who are not content with a life of study and reasonable amusements had better keep away from that particular university.

F. E. Alexander of the Glengarry Studio has now recovered from a week's illness.

Mrs. Flora Pixley of 509 Columbus avenue has returned from several days spent at Hermosa Beach.

Miss Bess Phillips of 710 West Fifth street entertained at a dinner party recently Miss Caroline Maxwell of Los Angeles.

Geo. Williams returned Wednesday evening of this week from a week's vacation in the Northern part of the State.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Priest of 1442 N. Central avenue, Casa Verdugo, motored to Oxnard today, where Mr. Priest will attend to business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl R. LaCom returned Sunday evening from an auto tour throughout the Northern part of the State and Yosemite park, and are now at home at 1422 W. Seventh street.

Mrs. W. L. Andrews of 1552 Pioneer Drive motored to Los Angeles yesterday, where she attended a very charming luncheon given by Mrs. R. H. Reynolds of 1755 West Twenty-Fifth street.

The occupants of the H. E. Royston home, 335 Orange, are mourning the absence of a pet kangaroo which strayed from the premises Thursday morning. Anyone knowing of the little animal's whereabouts should phone Glendale 376-J.

Warren Woods of 1630 West Broadway left Monday to resume his studies at the San Diego Army and Navy Academy at Pacific Beach. This is young Woods' Junior year at the academy. He has won the distinction of holding next to the highest office possible in the school which is unusual for those below the Senior year.

Word has been received that Mrs. C. S. Westlake of 1458 Oak street, who has been visiting her sister in Logansport, Indiana, for several weeks, has gone on to Muncie, Indiana, for a short time. She will then return to Logansport, where Mr. Westlake will join her early in October and they will then go to Washington, D. C., for a few weeks, returning to Glendale in the winter by way of Florida and other southern states.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Budway of 1432 West Fifth street entertained with a delightful luncheon on Wednesday in honor of their guest, Rev. G. C. Van Goethen of Sacred Heart church, Nogales, Arizona. A profusion of flowers and ferns graced the table and living rooms and a most enjoyable time was spent by all present. Covers were laid for Rev. G. C. Van Goethen, Mrs. E. G. Burlingame, Mrs. Frank Patch, Frank Budway, Jr., and the host and hostess.

Miss Edith Lindsay, formerly of Alameda, is to open classes in grace culture, classic, interpretive, character and social dancing for children up to sixteen years of age, Saturday, September 23rd, at 10:30 a. m. Butler hall. Miss Edith will be remembered for her excellent work in the peace pageant given under Mrs. Wayland Brown. She is a pupil of Mlle. Louise le Gai, San Francisco, with whom she appeared the entire season at the P. P. I. E. Mlle le Gai was instructor of dancing, Berkeley university of California, summer of 1914. The last summer she has been a student at Denishawn under Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn. All persons interested are invited to attend the opening class for which there will be no charge. Regular classes start Saturday, September 30, 10:30 a. m.

LINEN WEDDING

Pierre V. Potter and Mrs. Potter of 1541 Pioneer Drive, celebrated their Linen wedding, the twelfth anniversary of their marriage Wednesday evening. The house was beautifully decorated with pink and white carnations, roses and lillies. The pink and white color scheme was carried out through all the rooms. The guests after dinner amused themselves with guessing games and music. Mr. and Mrs. Potter received many beautiful presents in the way of household and personal linen. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Vinton, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Tyler, Mrs. Nettie Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Hoagland, Mr. and Mrs. C. Brubaker, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rathbone, Mr. and Mrs. John Andree, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. H. Whittaker, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Faye, Miss Marie Albers and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Smith, all of Glendale. Outside guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Fees, Monrovia; Miss Fanny Blatenburg, Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Moore, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Baldrick, Gardena; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Duncan, Gardena.

OPENING OF EGAN SCHOOL

There is every promise of a large attendance at the opening of the Egan school, which will be inaugurated Friday afternoon, at Butler's hall, when a pleasing program will be given concluding with a dance. There will also be a dance in the evening at the same hall. The afternoon program will inaugurate the children's classes.

GLENDALE HIGH

The first big affair of the year will be the stunt party to be given by the Senior girls on September 29.

Following the prevailing custom, this party given by the twelfth year girls will be a welcoming of the incoming class to the activities of Glendale High school. The glad hand, it is promised will be extended to the Freshman girls in such a way that they will never forget this, their first taste of the many good times which are to follow.

Already committees are working hard to make this year's send-off the best in the history of the school, and with over a week more to accomplish their class, they seem assured of success. Every high school and alumni girl will do well to keep in mind the date, Friday, September 29, as every one is invited and urged. Every boy is invited and urged to stay away.

The committee on entertainment is as follows: Aileen Preeman, Catherine Phillips, Helen Harden, Lillian Schick and Ernestine Lyons. The committee in charge of the refreshments is: Esther Schremp, Marjorie Imler, Katherine Kolts, Evangeline Hunchberger.

Woman suffrage, judging from the results of the election of Junior class officers, held yesterday afternoon in the west study hall, plays an important part in the Junior class. Katherine Lord, a well known and very popular society maiden was elected president of the class by a large majority.

Other Junior class officers elected are: vice president, George Lamoreau; secretary, Margaret Lusby; treasurer, Dolliver Webb.

Lots of pep was shown by a meeting of the Senior boys, the second Senior class meeting of the year. Athletic officers were elected as follows: basketball captain, Carleton Tennis West; basketball manager, Olin Wilson; tennis captain, Howard McGillis; tennis manager, Miller Fischel; track captain, Maxwell Sherrigu, track manager; baseball captain, John Sharp; baseball manager, Irv Westwood; yell leader, Olin Wilson.

The session was closed by a rousing yell practice led by the newly-elected yell leader, Olin Wilson.

Miss Maybel Newcomb, office secretary, being away yesterday, the position was ably filled by Miss Clara Armstrong, her assistant.

There will be a Senior class meeting Friday at 3:05 p. m. Every Senior must be present.

GLENDALE FEDERAL RESERVE

Under the direction of First Lieutenant Nicoles and Second Lieutenant Griffin the Glendale company of Federal Reserves assembled in the drill hall at the corner of Glendale avenue and First street, Wednesday evening. There was a large attendance. A number of new men who had never been drilled were present. Lieutenant Nicoles urged the men to be present at the muster-in on Friday, when the examining officer, Lieutenant Colonel Fay of San Diego, will be present, to examine the men. In this work he will be assisted by several medical men. Members of the reserve are particularly notified that this examination will be held in the Fire Hall, on Broadway and not in the drill hall as formerly intimated. The examination will begin at 2 p. m. and will last till 9 p. m.

At the close of the explanations made by Lieutenants Nicoles and Griffin Lieutenant Nicoles moved a vote of thanks to A. T. Cowan, proprietor of The Glendale News for his consistent and valuable support of the volunteer movement in Glendale, through the columns of The News. He stated that the publicity given the movement by The News had been of the greatest assistance to the company and had resulted in the establishment of the present fine organization. The vote of thanks was cordially given.

KANGAROO CAUGHT

A kangaroo that desired liberty made a sudden break for freedom this morning from his comfortable home at 335 Orange street, where he has been cared for by his owner, H. E. Royston, for some time. He is a young animal and entirely unacquainted with the ways of a city. After wandering about for some time, he found his way to the vicinity of 1543 Sycamore avenue, where he was pursued by dogs. The kangaroo showed wonderful agility in his flight, easily jumping high chicken houses in his endeavor to shake off his pursuers. In his encounters with the dogs he was badly bitten and when Chief Herald finally came up to him it was with difficulty that the frightened animal was secured and taken to the Fire House, whence he was taken home by his owners.

RECOMMEND LOT PURCHASE

At a meeting of the council of the First Lutheran church held Wednesday evening, at the residence of R. W. Mottern, pastor of the church, the matter of the purchase of a lot for church building purposes was taken up. It was finally resolved to recommend to the trustees of the church the purchase of a lot at the corner of Maryland avenue and Fifth street. Other important matters concerning the building of a church on the lot were discussed and the pastor instructed to take such steps as may be necessary in the matter.

TUJUNGA

The following is taken from the Alexandria Topics and is from the pen of the editor, Charles M. Frey, who was a recent sojourner in Tujunga:

Comparatively few people of our city are aware of the fact that one hour's ride by stage or car would bring them into the very heart of Southern California's most picturesque locality.

Tujunga, formerly called Littlelands, is situated in the Vale of Monte Vista, nineteen miles from Los Angeles. It lies four miles west of La Crescenta, and two miles east of Sunland, and has an altitude of 2,000 feet. It would be difficult indeed, even for the experienced world traveler, to conjure up a memory of a prettier picture than that formed by this peaceful community of 500 souls in the heart of the Vale of Monte Vista, surrounded on all sides by ranges of hills and mountains, the largest (Sister Elsie) being over 5,000 feet in height.

Tujunga possesses two great advantages over most of the other localities in Los Angeles county; it is absolutely free from fog and it has pure mountain water. It is an ideal spot for the vacationist. As soon as the Montrose & Glendale railway system is extended to Tujunga, the latter will serve as a haven of rest for many suburban homeseekers who prefer a quiet and peaceful existence to living in a noisy city. If a traveler afoot, after having tramped all day through the beautiful Vale of Monte Vista, was to come upon this peaceful community in the evening when the golden sun goes down beyond the hills, he would indeed be tempted to call it the perfect ending of a perfect day. He would be inclined to change the slogan "Back to the land" and have it read "Back to God." For He certainly dwells among these pleasant and peace-loving people.

Tujunga is preparing for the boom which will surely come upon it when the carline is extended, and low commutation fare established between Los Angeles and their town. The Tujunga Board of Trade, composed of eighty-three members, is ably presided over by P. J. Blake. Postmaster F. M. Ashby is its indefatigable secretary; the latter is also the moderator of the town meetings. The energetic C. W. Dean is the advertising agent of the Booster's club; this young man is the son of D. C. Dean, one of the most public spirited citizens of the town. Tujunga also boasts of a Colonial Dancing club, which holds its affairs Thursday nights; and the women's club which meets once each month.

When the commuters begin to flock to Tujunga, they will find themselves in good company. The sublime creator of the world-famed Mission play, John S. McGearty, is happily situated on the hills overlooking the town. James T. Fitzgerald, of the Fitzgerald Music company has acquired the "Fitzgerald Canyon," and is now building himself a mansion there. Other prominent residents are H. F. Hatch, former Warden of the Michigan state penitentiary, and one of America's foremost authorities on prison reform; and M. V. Hartranft, president of the Western Suburban Farms association. Mr. Hartranft lives on Lazy Lonesome ranch.

Here's good luck to the sturdy citizens of Tujunga, the coming Pasadena of the Vale of Monte Vista.

Surprise Party

Mr. and Mrs. Kirschman were taken by surprise Monday night of last week when their friends to the number of about twenty-five invaded their home without the formality of an invitation. Nevertheless, the hosts arose to the occasion and a very pleasant evening resulted to all concerned. The time was spent with cards and other social diversions with refreshments served by the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carr and little son Charles, of Laguna Beach, visited Thursday and Friday of last week with postmaster Ashby. Mrs. Carr is the daughter of Mr. Ashby.

Miss Elizabeth Bland, an old friend of Miss Mary Lewis when both ladies were living in Mexico City, came walking up the path to Miss Lewis' house last Saturday and gave that lady the surprise of her life. In fact the surprise was mutual as neither knew that the other was anywhere near. They had a delightful visit renewing old friendship and Miss Bland remained over Sunday as the guest of Miss Lewis.

Miss Zoe Gilbert was away from Thursday morning of last week till last Monday evening. She had a very enjoyable visit with her friends, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Darling at Ocean Park and also with friends in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Dunning and daughter Miss Jessie, expect to go Saturday to Venice to the home of health where they will probably remain for about a month. They have left their home on El Centro street to Mrs. McNeer for the time during their absence.

Mrs. Richards and mother who have been here for about a week, have been called home to Los Angeles on business, after the transaction of which they expect to return and stay perhaps several months.

Miss Lillian Richardson who has been absent some months is now at her home on Pine street taking a needed rest from her professional duties as nurse.

Board of Trade

The regular monthly meeting of the board of trade was called to order at 8 o'clock last Monday evening by President P. J. Blake. After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting the secretary, Fred M. Ashby, reported that the different commercial bodies of the valley were working towards a plan to consolidate in some action for measures pertaining to the mutual welfare of the communities interested. It was reported that the net expense of the Harvest Home Festival amounted to $3.91, leaving a balance in the treasury of $34.53. The president mentioned some measures of congress that are of interest to us, namely—post roads appropriation and county road department appropriation for flood destruction of roads. The subject of a dairy route for the benefit of the community was canvassed, and it was suggested that those desiring to patronize such a concern might leave their names at the postoffice store. It will take forty names to establish a dairy route. The matter of registering was again brought forward and every voter who has not registered was urged to do so at once that he might be eligible to vote in November. Mrs. Marston is registrar.

No report from the railroad committee. A committee consisting of Miss Arthur, Miss Lewis and Miss Meyer was appointed to attend to the club house flag. The storm drain committee submitted their report which was adopted. It is as follows:

Report of Storm Drain Committee
We, your Committee on Storm Drain, beg leave to report as follows: We have gone over the ground carefully and it is our opinion that it is absolutely necessary that some storm protection work be done before the rainy season sets in. If no work is done no one can tell where the storm waters of next winter will flow as there is absolutely no channel at present.

We find that the old storm drain which was made by the county is well cleared to a point near the large oak tree north of El Centro street. It is our opinion that if the county would clean out the channel from the oak tree south no more trouble would be experienced by its clogging up with sand and gravel, as very little of that material is left above.

South of El Centro street a channel should be opened, not only to protect property holders, but to protect the roads which are now in excellent condition. With a little expense the county could avoid all trouble from wash-outs.

We would recommend that action be taken at once in this matter of storm water protection as very little time is left before the winter rains are due.

The report is to be embodied in a letter and sent to the proper authorities.

The matter of the proper repairing of El Centro street which is a post road, was discussed at some length and the committee consisting of Mr. Dunn, Mr. Woodruff and Mr. Darlington were urged to get busy. Mrs. Slavinsky was elected to membership in the board of trade.

Mrs. Humphries was up from Los Angeles last Wednesday on business. She reports that Mr. Humphries, who was seriously hurt in an auto accident some time ago, is lying in a perfectly helpless condition without any indications of improvement. The Humphries who were former residents of Tujunga have the sympathy of this community in their great trial.

Town Meeting

At the town meeting last Tuesday evening a very interesting poem written by Miss Rodeheaver of El Centro street, was read by Miss Jessie Dunning. The poem was a description of the beauties and advantages of Monte Vista Vale. Theodore Payne of Los Angeles was present and delivered a very interesting lecture on the wild flowers of California illustrated by lantern slides. Mr. Payne spoke of the wild flowers in Exposition park where there are five acres devoted exclusively to the cultivation of wild flowers alone and to which botany classes from the University of California and other educational institutions repair for the study of this fascinating subject. Mr. Payne had on sale the book entitled Wild Flowers of California.

It was announced that there was work for five men for a month at La Crescenta, laying water pipe. Apply to Mr. Scott, corner of New York and Michigan avenues.

A sixty-five gallon can of honey was stolen recently from a place on Michigan avenue. Someone must surely have a sweet tooth.

Mr. Waterhouse is about to build a house on Blanchard Canyon road, opposite Mr. Cluge's place.

Mr. Westell's house on Stephens Way has been rented to parties who will occupy it at once.

An Accident

One of the men working at the gravel pit just off Michigan avenue, had his hand hurt by a dynamite blast going off prematurely last Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Huse commanded the use of Mr. Fisher's automobile to hurry the man to Dr.

Electricity is Life!

HAVE you ever realized the part electricity plays in your daily life? Have you ever thought how valuable it is in promoting your health and efficiency?

Nor is its use confined alone to strictly commercial lines. Modern scientific research has succeeded in harnessing this force and making it a most useful curative agent. When properly applied, electricity will produce any effect desired—ranging from a powerful, stimulating tonic to a soothing, sedative effect.

The sinusoidal, galvanic and faradic currents adapt themselves to many diseased conditions. They are extremely valuable in treating obesity, various forms of rheumatism and neuritis, high blood pressure, chronic backache, nervous disorders, various affections of the skin, joint inflammations and swellings—to mention just a few. They are used also to remove superfluous hair, warts, moles, and other blemishes.

To be sure—everything depends on the way these treatments are administered. This is why we have a specially equipped Department for this work. It is under the personal direction of an expert who devotes his entire time to the practical application of Electrotherapy.

Our Electrotherapy Department is open from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. daily except Saturday. Specially trained nurses in attendance. For rates and appointment telephone Glendale 2 or Home 1213

COLD LIGHT

Cold light, as devoid of heat as a moonbeam and yet as brilliant as a ray of noonday sun, has been made possible by a French scientist and inventor, Francois Dussaud.

He makes use of a series of lamps arranged so that they are called successively into play. Each lamp flashes but a short while, and yet the succeeding one comes into action so quickly that the eye is not conscious of the least flicker.

A searching light is produced so unlike other illuminants that its comparative coldness amounts to entire absence of warmth. The inventor has been able to cast upon a screen the images of tiny living insects, and to project them so that they appeared as large as full-grown men.

APARTMENT ON WHEELS

One of the latest inventions for the tourist is a telescope apartment, which is in reality a complete house on wheels. It is extremely light and is designated particularly to be hauled by Ford cars.

There is a mattress on the floor of the compartment large enough to hold three people, and when desired this may be pulled back so that it extends into the open, and thus provides perfect ventilation on the hottest nights.

Cooking utensils, food, and a stove are carried in a cabinet located on the left side. The side of the cabinet is hinged so that when it is opened it forms a table.

MAGNETS LOAD A SHIP

Shippers have been much interested in a freight ship, the Cicoa, which was loaded with pig iron at the docks at Ashland, Wisconsin, for Buffalo, using powerful magnets to lift ore on board and doing away with long-shoremen labor.

The Cicoa is equipped with three nets each capable of lifting 1500 pounds. The motive power is a dynamo of 250 volts capacity. Only four men were engaged in loading the ore, one at each dynamo and one at the motor.

LIFELIKE EYES

A Philadelphia taxidermist, who is a naturalist and hunter as well, has noted the fact that hitherto little attention has been given to the expression of the eye in the stuffed animals prepared at great expense for the large museums.

He is now employing a skilled portrait painter to go to the Philadelphia Zoo and make studies of the eyes of various kinds of animals. These eyes are to be carefully mounted, and glass eyes will be copied from them with the certainty of securing for each animal the eye having the distinct characteristics of its species.

ATMOSPHERE TRANSFORMED

A remarkable new electric fan has been patented which removes ninety nine per cent. of the dust or bacteria in the air, it is said. It transforms a bedroom into a sleeping porch, furnishes a supply of pure and humidified air every hour and eliminates the dangers of poor ventilation in large buildings.

The sixteen-inch fan handles an air volume of about 2600 cubic feet a minute. When in action a few minutes it will never allow a temperature to rise above sixty-five degrees, although it may have been as high as 100 degrees before the fan began to work.

The auxiliary blades of the fan run through a tank of water which vaporizes into the air. If hot water is put into the tank a few minutes after the fan is started it will become ice cold.

PRIZES FOR BIRDHOUSES.

The executive committee of the Glendale Garden society which met Monday adopted the report of the Birdhouse committee, of which C. J. Orff is chairman. Twelve attractive prizes have been promised through Mr. Orff for the best birdhouses to be sent in not later than November 30.

One Glendale resident has offered to buy a dozen birdhouses selected from those on exhibition; so boys desiring to make money or to win prizes had better get busy. A few simple rules to be observed in the construction of these birdhouses will be issued within a few days, and can be obtained from Miss Thayer, Third street school, from headquarters, 1111 Broadway, Glendale, from Tropic Grammar school and Eagle Rock Grammar school.

Trip to the Yosemite

Mrs. M. E. Zarrs, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Zarrs, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Moore and son Morton have just returned from a twelve-day motor trip to Yosemite. The trip was made over the Tawona Road, and several stopovers were made enroute, at the Big Trees and other points of scenic interest. One exciting and rather unusual event occurred one night, just after the party had pitched their tents and were making ready for the night. An immense brown bear came strolling leisurely through camp, and gave them the once over. The member of the party who was not looking for a tree to climb was little Morton. He seemed to think it was a regular thing to have a bear in camp. The party reports the trip was grand and the wonders of this beauty in California called "Yosemite" cannot be surpassed.

Mrs. M. E. Zarrs most heartily urges everyone that possibly can to visit the Yosemite and enjoy its many sights. The trip by machine is one to be remembered. There is no doubt that before long this place will be one of the many popular places for travelers in the world.
