VIENNA MINISTERS PANIC-STRICKEN

Ready to Make Concessions to Separatists, Says Bremen Paper

Amsterdam, Oct. 4.—Via London, Oct. 5.—The German newspapers are devoting much attention to the political affairs of Austria-Hungary, and say that the formation of a coalition Cabinet in each country is contemplated. According to The Weser Zeitung, of Bremen, the Austrian Ministers have become panic-stricken and, fearing that the roof will fall on their heads, are ready to make concessions to the separatist parties.

This newspaper says that Baron von Hussarek, the Austrian Premier, intends to form a coalition Ministry and carry out reforms in the direction of federalization, but says federalization would result in Austria-Hungary quitting the war and terminating the alliance with Germany and lead, in effect, to the dissolution of the Dual Monarchy.

BULGARIANS LOOTED THE CITY OF SERES

Athens, Oct. 4.—(Via London, Oct. 5.)—Greek troops this morning occupied Seres or its evacuation by the Bulgarians. The population had been reduced from 25,000 to 2,000, those remaining being mostly old men and women and children. The Bulgarians, in violation of their agreement, had removed grain and cattle, and even the furniture from the houses. The people were suffering from hunger and were clad in rags.

WORK FOR RETURNED MEN.

Edmonton, Oct. 5.—In the course of a discussion at the session of the Returned Soldiers' Commission here yesterday afternoon regarding the assimilation of the returned men, the information was given out that there are some 4,000 returned men in the Province at the present time and there are some 4,000 men in the clearing stations in England, just waiting for transportation to Alberta. The attitude of the Commission was to create employment of a suitable nature for these men to get them naturally back in their pre-war occupations. Already a survey is being made by two returned men, Lieut. Gray, of Calgary, and A. E. Nightingale, of Edmonton, as to the possibilities of getting returned men into industrial plants of the Province for training. There was considerable discussion over the land settlement scheme and a letter was read from Chairman Mayberry which implied that the land was being granted as a reward for honorable service, while from other sources it was being treated as a colonization scheme.

MIAMI UNIVERSITY ON OFFICIAL BASIS

Ottawa Makes Provision for Educational Work Among Men of Forces

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—The Khaki University has been placed on an official and permanent basis. Acting on the recommendation of the Minister of Overseas Forces, the Government has decided to establish a Department of Educational Service in the overseas military forces. The Director of Education will be responsible for the efficiency, organization and administration of educational services, including control of the personnel and will be assisted by a deputy. An advisory board will meet periodically and confer on matters of policy. The educational organizations in England and France will each be under an Assistant Director of Education, who will be responsible to the Director of Education. Such a civilian personnel will be employed as is considered necessary and will be given honorary rank on the overseas forces. The cost to the Government, not including separation allowances, is estimated as follows: Pay and allowances, $19,252; subsistence allowances, $25,000; cost of rations, $75,000; maintenance in France, per capita rates, $77,000. Total, $136,252. The Khaki University is the first of its kind to be officially established by any of the Allied Governments.

Work Done. The Order-in-Council under which it is created recites some of the educational work already accomplished among the Canadian forces overseas. From October, 1917, to July 31, 1918, 9,000 members of the overseas forces registered, in classes in England, and 1,380 registered in correspondence work in England and France. During the same period the attendance at popular educational lectures was approximately 150,000, representing at least 45,000 individuals. Springs for circumstances, statistics covering the activities in France are not available. Were this possible, it is stated, the above figures would be very materially increased. Libraries and reading rooms established for educational purposes at the various centres were constantly in use during hours free from military duty. It is intended fully to employ the entire personnel authorized by the Order, but the Order-in-Council adds, "it is desirable to have it authorized so that no delay may occur on demobilization." An allotment of $500,000 has been made by private contribution in Canada toward the work of education.

Here Is a Way to Find Out

Lately, over on the Mainland, we have canvassed the grocers to see how closely our girls' reports check up with the grocers' sales. We find that in almost every case where the grocer simply delivers the brand of milk asked for the calls for Pacific Milk run as high as ten to one of all others combined. That is, the grocers sell ten cases of Pacific Milk to one case of all others lumped into one. No one canvassed sells less than four of Pacific to one of the others. Ask your grocer how his sales record.

BOLSHEVIKI LEADER TRIED AT WINNIPEG IS SENT TO PRISON

Winnipeg, Oct. 5.—Michael Charltonoff, prominent in an alleged band of Bolsheviki flourishing in North Winnipeg was sentenced yesterday in Police Court here to three years in the Stony Mountain Penitentiary and fined $1,000 for having seditious literature in his possession. Charltonoff, who was editor of the banned Russian publication The Working People, pleaded guilty. The existence of a powerfully-organized revolutionary association in the Winnipeg district, disseminating Socialistic and anti-Allied literature and collecting money to be sent to Trotsky in Russia was revealed at the trial.

DELMONICO'S GOES INTO RECEIVERS' HANDS

New York, Oct. 5.—War-time economy practiced by wealthy New Yorkers has resulted in the appointment by the Federal Court of two receivers to take over Delmonico's famous restaurant, which has been operated under the same name and family management for approximately a hundred years. The restaurant will continue operations under the same management, but directed by the receivers, until a contemplated reorganization is effected, according to Maurice P. Davidson, one of the receivers.

DIED IN HAMILTON.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 5.—R. I. Gunn, secretary of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Canada, died here yesterday at the age of sixty-two. Mr. Gunn was a native of Hamilton and was well-known in civic circles and fraternal societies.

Mother is Well Now

Your Noise Does Not Disturb Me Any More—It is a Pleasure to Hear You Romp and Play.

"It is like a dream now to think of the long, weary months I spent in nervous helplessness. Some days I would be cheered by feeling better, but only to slip back again, and to be more than ever discouraged.

"I had always been very active. Had a wide acquaintance and did much entertaining. In addition to helping in whatever was going on at the church, there was Red Cross work to be done, and all the time I had my little family to look after and could not get help.

"I suppose I tried to do too much, for I got so I could not sleep at nights and always felt tired out in the mornings. Then I would have headaches and did not seem to care for my meals.

"Instead of the usual ambition and energy I found myself putting off the duties of the day. I got behind with the housework, and this worried me.

"I did not think that I was sick, but only tired. However, the time came when I did not get up in the morning. I simply could not. The doctor came and said, 'Nervous Prostration.' It seems I had kept on the go until the nervous system was wrung dry of all nerve force.

"Then came the long, weary weeks, and weeks dragged into months, without finding much improvement. I was completely discouraged and almost devoid of hope.

"But one day a friend told me of her experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and she was so sure that this treatment would do me good that I decided to give it a chance.

"I need scarcely say that there were some dark, discouraging days after beginning the use of the Nerve Food, but as my appetite and digestion improved I felt that I was gradually getting back the old-time vigor. Sleep became more natural and refreshing. The dark days passed and I began to take a more cheerful view of the future. Then I began to plan what I would do when I got around again. The house must be decorated and the children brought home, for I had to send them to my sister's on account of the way their noise disturbed me.

"Now I feel that I am entirely well again, and without hesitation give the credit to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I cannot tell you the pleasure it gives me to be restored to my husband and children after the long period of helplessness."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.75. All dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

THE DAILY TIMES

Published every afternoon (except Sunday) by THE TIMES PRINTING & PUBLISHING COMPANY, LIMITED. Offices: Corner Broad and Fort Streets. Business Office (Advertising) Phone 1000. Circulation Phone 3348. Editorial Office Phone 48.

THE FIRST "SHAVINGS."

The Times cordially welcomes "The Foundation Shipyard Shavings," the journalistic product of the employees of the Foundation Company, which makes its initial bow this week. It is a bright, attractively-arranged publication, generously supported by advertising patronage, and reveals all the earmarks of success.

"The main idea is to 'pull together' with the sole object of speeding up construction. Every ship put into the water means the weakening of the submarine menace. It is to be our business to deliver a series of swift punches that will cause Wilhelm and his Junkers to wince. We look to the creation of a big, happy family within our midst, all working to one end. One of the main objects of this magazine is to keep the boys smiling and happy. These columns are at your disposal, boys; if you have any kick to register, get it right home with a 'slug of type' and you can rest assured that any genuine grievance will be promptly rectified.

This is the spirit that overcomes obstacles and builds up a community. It inspires constructive ideas and makes for sanity and common-sense. We wish "The Foundation Shipyard Shavings" every success.

AN OPPORTUNE PROPOSAL.

The Victoria Branch of the Navy League of Canada could not have chosen a more opportune moment for launching their scheme for the training of seamen than the present. The Dominion Government has begun the creation of a national mercantile marine involving the expenditure of $60,000,000 on ship construction. The programme is well under way, a considerable number of contracts having been given, and it will not be long before many of the ships will have been delivered.

Trained seamen will be required to man the vessels, and these should be supplied largely from the Dominion's maritime population. In fact, the country cannot develop a distinctively Canadian mercantile marine without also taking steps to develop seamen. The backbone of a merchant service is the man, not the ship; the building of ships is the easiest phase of the plan, and no mercantile marine under Government auspices can be really national unless the men of the nation concerned are an important part of it.

The Dominion authorities, therefore, should take prompt action to provide the means of training seamen on the Pacific and Atlantic seaboard. The average cost of the scheme proposed by the Victoria Branch is $70,332, an extremely modest sum against the expenditure of many millions for the construction of ships.

Finally, it is presumed that Canada will set to work on a navy programme before long and this also means the training of men. But above all it will call for the development of a sturdy maritime spirit, and there can be no better way of promoting this than by the adoption of the Navy League proposal.

A POOR DISGUISE.

The Great General Staff makes about as good a job of disguising itself as a sudden convert to democratic institutions as it did in decorating its armor with olive branches. The appointment of Centrist Deputies Erzburger and Groeber and the "safe" Socialists Scheidemann and Bauer to the Cabinet, principally without portfolios, is a transparent burlesque which, if it is intended to impress the Allied Governments, indicates that the Prussian conception of their intelligence has not been altered by even Foch's hammering.

The new Cabinet, of course, has no more power than any of its predecessors. It is not responsible to the Reichstag and its members, therefore, remain merely so many keys of the Kaiser's organ. The Bundesrath, or House of Lords, the majority of whom are nominated by the Kaiser, still dominates the Reichstag, and Wilhelm and the Great General Staff consequently still run the German show. It will be observed that Liebknecht is still in jail and that Haase and other Socialists of the Liebknecht school are not included in the "democratic" Ministry.

The Centrists, Erzburger and Groeber, represent the clerical party, a party of scheming, thoroughgoing reactionaries. Erzburger was the father of the resolution of "no annexations and no indemnities" which arose from the German reverses on the Somme in 1916, but which was promptly shelved after the "treaty" at Brest-Litovsk and the Roumanian outrage which the Centrists supported. Scheidemann also defended the treaty of Brest-Litovsk. Last spring, when everybody in Germany was cocksure of a German victory and "no soft peace," to quote the Kaiser's message to his people, Erzburger's resolution was thrown down a well and von Hindenburg was told that he would be upheld by the Centrists and the Majority Socialists to the limit. Now we find them bobbing up every time Foch's hammer deals another blow, with the soiled and bedraggled motion for "peace without indemnities and annexations"—except in the East—and "autonomy" for Alsace and Lorraine (but not for German Poland). Verily, the worse the enemy's military predicament becomes, the more clumsy his subterfuges.

THE COAL SITUATION.

In an article in Industrial Progress and Commercial Record, Captain Nicol Thompson, Fuel Administrator for British Columbia, advises consumers, including large industrial plants as well as private householders, to secure as much as possible of their winter's supply of coal before the end of the present month. Otherwise, he points out, a sudden cold snap would create a difficult situation to handle.

Captain Thompson does not anticipate any serious shortage unless for some reason or other there should be a marked reduction of output. If the export demand were met there would be a very considerable shortage, but no coal can be exported without a permit from the Fuel Controller who thus is in a position to protect the local market. For instance, the United States navy wants 130,000 tons of British Columbia coal during the current year but it has not been found practicable to give our Ally more than 7,000 tons, the needs of the British Admiralty and British-controlled shipping entering our ports having first consideration.

Generally speaking, however, the coal situation on the continent is much more difficult than that which Mr. Thompson describes in his article as prevailing here. According to The Montreal Herald the war programme of the United States demands 80,000,000 more tons of coal this year than last. The authorities are calling for 8,000,000 tons of steel ships, and to manufacture and deliver the steel for them will take 14,000,000 tons of coal. Three million tons are needed to carry the average monthly delivery of troops to Europe, and 4,000,000 tons to transport their supplies. One hour of intensive artillery action at the front uses up 1,800 tons of steel, which it takes 7,200 tons of coal to produce. The manufacture and transport of the 60,000,000 shells that were fired by the French in the battle of Verdun called for the consumption of nearly 9,000,000 tons of coal. The demand for coal this year has increased in American industrial plants eighteen per cent., in gas and electric utilities fifteen per cent., in shipping thirty per cent., in the railroads seven per cent., and in domestic consumption thirteen per cent.

It has been impossible to provide for these increases by increased production. There have been 224 new mines opened and weekly production has risen as high as a seventeen per cent. increase over the corresponding week of 1917, but there has not been the necessary mine labor available to meet the whole demand and there have not been coal cars enough to keep the coal moving from the mines. In an attempt to meet the deficit, the Fuel Administration has carried out a thorough campaign of saving. It has undertaken to inspect the country's 250,000 steam-producing plants, and hopes to save thereby 20,000,000 tons of coal a year. As a result of this inspection, in Connecticut alone eighty plants are saving 50,000 tons annually. One plant in Syracuse is making a saving that will amount to 10,000 tons a year.

In the city of Chicago three plants are saving 74,000 tons by substituting electricity and water power for steam. By the introduction of "skip-stop" schedules on all street railways, it is expected that another million and a half tons may be saved. Further savings have been made by consolidating ice plants, small power plants, etc., by reducing outdoor lighting and advertising signs, and by obtaining greater economy in hotels, offices, apartment houses and public buildings. It is estimated that 1,000,000 tons will be saved by a campaign to substitute tungsten electric lamps for the less economical carbon filament lamps. And by a process of distillation at a low temperature, it has been found possible to extract valuable oils and by-products from coal and to make from the residue an excellent smokeless coal in briquettes, with a great saving of fuel.

GERMANY AND SPAIN.

Germany is desperate. She knows now that the submarine campaign was a costly error. But her naval authorities are as stubborn as her military authorities are in refusing to admit failure. Can the Kaiser bring himself to the point of confessing a blunder and a crime by meekly submitting to Spain's retaliatory programme? If he can't, if he still wants to posture and to rattle the much-nicked German sword in its tarnished scabbard, he must sever diplomatic relations and prepare for war. It would be wisest for him to retract and conciliate. But that is not the German manner. What is one more enemy among so many enemies? The German hand has been raised against every other man's hand. What could be more appropriate than that the German policy of naked and brutal egotism—of world power or downfall—should do its last perfect work of ruin and estrangement? It is the inevitable logic of Prussianism that all the rest of the world should join in ending its dream of depravity and madness.

UNITED STATES HAS SENT ACROSS OVER 1,850,000 MEN, CHIEF OF STAFF SAYS

Excellent News.

Summarizing the news for the past week as excellent, General March said offensives had been conducted by the Allies on three major sectors and had resulted in a forward movement of the battlefront for practically the entire stretch from the North Sea to Verdun. General Gouraud's army, just west of the Argonne Forest, had fought its way forward to a point where it also threatened German communication lines. The British drive on Cambrai and St. Quentin, which was aided by the 27th United States Regiment (New York troops) and the Thirtieth Regiment (Tennessee) troops, and North Carolina, South Carolina and District of Columbia troops, developed into a battle for the entire Hindenburg Line. The British, General March said, had broken entirely across the enemy's zone of defence, making breaches in the line which were closed by the Germans only with great difficulty.

Flanders.

In the Flanders drive the Allies had reconquered seventy-five square miles of Belgian territory and had formed a semi-circular salient ten miles deep, the general said. The British were now within five miles of Lille. Referring to the Balkan situation, General March said the Italian advance in Albania was closely following the Austrian army, retiring along the coast. He added that the recent naval attack upon Durazzo, behind the Austro-Serbian sea front, was important in connection with the Allied strategy. The American troops in the Archangel region are commanded by Col. George E. Stewart and include the 325th Infantry, part of the 316th Engineers (Michigan and East Wisconsin troops) and the necessary hospital and medical units.

FORWARD SWEEP OF PER-SHING'S MEN EAST OF THE ARGONNE CONTINUES WHILE ALLIES STRIKE ELSEWHERE

With Desperation.

West of the Argonne the Germans are fighting with desperation to stay the advance of General Gouraud's troops towards their important communication lines. Heavy counter-attacks were flung against the French line south of Montpol, but to no avail. East of the forest, after having taken important positions, American troops are pressing northward into the Kriemhild defence system. The German defence is most stubborn, especially on the American right, but on the centre and left the Americans are successfully following up their earlier gains. Villages Burning. London, Oct. 5.—American troops stormed the German lines east of the Argonne Forest yesterday. They advanced along the line, especially just east of the Argonne Forest, where they pushed east as far as Fleville. Many villages back of the German evence are reported burning. They are being burned, the enemy intends to retire farther toward the Kriemhild line, which is his main defensive position west of the Meuse.

French Report.

Paris, Oct. 5.—Under the pressure of French and American attacks in the Champagne, the Germans have retired on their left flank and given up territory east of the Monts, according to today's War Office announcement. West of the Sulpice French troops, keeping in touch with the German rearwards, have reached the heights southeast of Moronvillers. The French have maintained their gains in heavy fighting east of the Argonne Forest.

Over 2500 Prisoners.

Northwest of Rheims in the last five days the French have taken more than 2,500 prisoners and thirty-one guns. The French and American troops in Champagne have gained further ground north of Blanc Mont, in the direction of the Arnes Risce.

Along the Alsace Canal in the region of Rheims, the French are progressing vigorously and have crossed the canal at several points. French troops have reached the outskirts of Berniercourt, east of the canal. Violent fighting continues north of St. Quentin. In desperate fighting the French have driven the enemy from the heights southeast of Chadrion-Vert.

Broke Resistance.

The text of the statement reads: "North of St. Quentin the fighting continues with violence. Our troops have driven back the enemy troops, who defended themselves foot by foot on the height 112 metres southeast of Chadrion-Vert and the wood nearby. We have taken additional prisoners. "Northwest of Rheims we have resumed our vigorous pressure against the enemy along the whole front of the Alsace Canal, which we crossed at several points. Our troops have progressed to the outskirts of Berniercourt. The number of prisoners counted during the past five days is more than 2,500. Thirty-one cannon fell into the hands of our troops, including twenty of large calibre, of which five were 210's.

Champagne Front.

"In the Champagne the French and American troops continued their attacks and realized an advance yesterday in the direction of the Arnes, compelling the enemy, who is endangering his left flank and withdrawing hurriedly from part of the territory east of the region of the Monts. French troops on the sector west of the Sulpice, pursuing the enemy rearwards, reached at night the height 800 metres southeast of Moronvillers. "South of Moronvillers French troops broke up German counter-attacks against the Croix-de-Soudans and maintained their ground. The enemy with heavy reinforcements, disputed the terrain on the front between Orfeull and Monthois with extreme stubbornness."

Woods Taken.

London, Oct. 5.—A statement dealing with the operations around St. Quentin issued by the French War Office and received here says: "We have taken Chadrion-Vert, south of Sequehart, and many fortified woods. We have captured Morcourt, where we took 400 prisoners and four cannon."

Smashing Ahead.

London, Oct. 5.—French and American troops are smashing into the German positions in the Champagne and have forced the enemy to withdraw from valuable ground in the hill country near the Sulpice River.

East and west of the Argonne and northwest of Rheims there has been heavy fighting, to the advantage of the Allies. On the northern sector hostilities apparently have quieted down.

By advancing over the heights of Blanc Mont and the Meade farm, French and American troops placed the Germans in the eastern part of the hill country and Moronvillers in a dangerous position. The enemy retired hurriedly toward the river Arnes. Just west of the Sulpice French troops are moving toward Moronvillers.

Italian Advance. Rome, Oct. 5.—Italian units, aiding the French in the advance north of the Alps, it was stated to-day, have overcome stubborn enemy resistance and captured important height positions. They have taken prisoners and guns from the enemy.

Lisbon, Oct. 4.—(Via London, Oct. 5.)—Two enemy submarines to-day shelled the port of Cezimbra, eight miles south of Lisbon. The shore guns immediately replied, whereupon the submarine fled.

Pale-Cheeked Girls Tired-Out Women Quickly Built Up

WONDERFUL RECORD MADE BY NEW-BLOOD-FOOD REMEDY. Certain Results Guaranteed.

Pale people have pale blood. In other words, the blood is watery and lacks red corpuscles. The stomach is wrong. Assimilation is poor and food is not changed into blood. Naturally the system is robbed of vitality, lacks strength and reconstructive power. Don't slip from vigor into weakness. Don't allow the appetite to fail, but instead use Ferronone.

You're bound to feel rejuvenated and strengthened at once. Appetite is braced up, digestion is stimulated, vigor imparted to the stomach. Everything you eat is transformed into nutriment that supplies what your thin, weak system needs.

Vital life-giving blood that makes rosy cheeks and dancing eyes—that's the kind that Ferronone makes. The strength and buoyancy that defies depression and tiredness, that's the sort you get with Ferronone.

Every pale woman can transform her bleached-out appearance with Ferronone. Not only will it improve looks and spirits, but by rebuilding all weak, tired organs, Ferronone establishes a soundness of health that's surprising. For women and girls who want to feel well—to look well—to be well, and stay well, nothing known in the annals of medicine is so certain as Ferronone. Won't you try Ferronone? Dividend Announcement

WAR conditions, with the added strain imposed on the funds of Life Insurance Companies through increased death claims, depreciation in the value of investment securities, etc., have set many policyholders wondering what the effect may be on the dividends payable under their policies. It is with much gratification that the Directors of this Company inform the policyholders that the financial strength of the Company is such that, after making due provision for the added responsibilities arising out of the war, dividends may still be safely paid to policyholders on the same liberal scale as heretofore. It will, therefore, be a welcome announcement to the policyholders of the Company that, during the coming year, they will receive dividends on the same basis as in the past.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggly and the Pollywog

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. (By Howard R. Garis.)

It was a warm, pleasant day in October—a regular Indian summer day, one of the few that come before we have squaw winter—and Uncle Wiggly Longears, the bunny-rabbit-gentleman, was out in the woods taking a walk and looking for an adventure.

"Jack Frost, after paying us one little visit, and scattering icicles about, seems to have gone away," said the bunny to himself, as he walked along beside the duck pond. "Well, I'm just as glad, for though I don't have to wear the sweater that Susie Littlefellow knit over again for me, it will come in useful later on when it will be real cold."

So saying, and wondering what sort of an adventure he might have, Uncle Wiggly walked on and on, and pretty soon he came to where an old tin can sat on the edge of the duck pond.

"Oh, ho!" said Uncle Wiggly with a smile. "I hope none of my animal boy friends put this tin can here to tie on the tail of Jackie or Peetle Bow Wow. That would be very sad, indeed!"

"And for fear something like that may happen, I'll put the can out of sight behind the bushes."

Uncle Wiggly was just going to do this when a sad little voice seemed to come from inside the can, saying:

"Oh, dear! I'll never be able to get out! Oh, how sad it is that I must stay here while all my other friends grow big and strong and swim away to see Billy and Bawly. Oh, dear!"

"Ha! That kind of talk sounds like trouble," said Uncle Wiggly, as he twinkled his pink nose until it looked like the tail lamp of an automobile. "And whoever it is, speaking of Bawly and Bawly, must mean the frog boys whose last name is No-Tail. I must look into this."

So Uncle Wiggly looked into the tin can. He saw that it was half full of muddy water from the duck pond, and swimming in the can, was a little creature that seemed to be half head and half tail. That's all there was to it.

"Oh, ho! Who are you there?" asked Uncle Wiggly, in some surprise.

"I am a lonely little pollywog," was the answer.

"Why are you lonely?" the bunny wanted to know.

"Because some boys came along and scooped me up, all by myself, in this tin can. If I had some of my friends with me, I wouldn't be so lonesome. But they will soon all be changed and then what will become of me. Oh, dear! I wish I wasn't a pollywog!"

"What's a pollywog?" asked Uncle Wiggly. "And what did you mean by saying that your friends would soon grow big and strong and swim away to see my friends Billy and Bawly?"

"Oh, as to that," said the little black creature in the can, "I might say that a pollywog, such as I am, is a tadpole."

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

LADY OFFICER TELLS OF SOLDIERS' TASTES

Lieut. Arnoldi, of First Contingent, Lectures on Comforts Commission

What the soldier likes in his parcel and the work of meeting his requirements through the Canadian Field Comforts Commission were explained in detail by Lieut. Joan Arnoldi at a meeting held under the auspices of the I. O. D. E. at the Empress Hotel last night. Miss Arnoldi, who is concluding a lecture tour, after which she will proceed overseas to resume her former duties, left with the first contingent Commission when it had to cater to the needs of about 29,000 men. She has helped build up the organization which now cheers the lives of 150,000 men in France alone, by forwarding the acceptable tokens that remind them that their memory is still green in the minds of those to whom they said good-bye at home.

What is Accomplished. Eighteen million cigarettes were sent through the Commission to soldiers during 1917, and 69,000 magazines. Other totals of socks, sweaters, handkerchiefs, towels, newspapers and the many welcome commodities that the men would not receive in the regular military way were equally stupendous. "There is nothing we send," said the speaker, "which is more acceptable than Canadian tobacco, not forgetting the weed that is cured for chewing. When the habitual smoker is out on hazardous duties in No Man's Land, fixing the barb wire, or on patrol or outpost work and to light a pipe or

"And what's a tadpole?" asked the bunny, curious like the little creature, who was half head and half tail. "If I were to tell you—"

But before he could say any more, all at once, from the bushes on the edge of the duck pond, there sprang a big, old Parallelepipedon, which is one of the worst animals there is for biting soot off a rabbit's ears.

"Ah, ha! I have you!" cried the Parallelepipedon, as he grabbed Uncle Wiggly.

"Oh, please let me go!" begged the bunny.

"No! No! grumbled the Parallelepipedon. 'I'll not let you go."

"Please let my friend Uncle Wiggly go," said the pollywog.

"No! Never!" gurgled the Parallelepipedon.

"Will you if I do a funny trick for you?" asked the pollywog.

"Maybe. Let me see the trick first," answered the bad chap.

"Well, turn this can over, empty me out with the water so I can get in the duck pond, and I'll show you," spoke the tadpole. And when the Parallelepipedon had done this, all of a sudden the tadpole began to swell up. Then his tail dropped off, and in place of it came two feet. Then he grew two front feet. Next his head grew bigger and all of a sudden there he was, a great big bullfrog. And he splashed water from the pond in the face of the Parallelepipedon, until that unpleasant creature said: "Wouch!" and ran away, leaving Uncle Wiggly safe.

"You saved my life! Thank you!" said the bunny to the pollywog. "And now I see what you are. You are the pollywog that turns into a frog, just as Bawly and Bawly were once."

"Exactly," answered the new frog. "And if you hadn't come past the Parallelepipedon wouldn't have emptied me back into the pond, which was the only place I could turn into a frog, so we are even. Good-by!" And with that the pollywog swam away to join the other frogs. And if the table spoon doesn't try to hide in the rice pudding when the clam chowder wants it to go fishing I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and the wollypogs.

cigarette would make him a target which the eagle-eyed snipers could never miss. It is chewing tobacco that he craves for."

Victoria Lady Soldier.

Explaining the workings of the Commission, the speaker said, that from the Shorncliffe Headquarters, personal parcels were forwarded to the men, and in the cases where the packages did not conform with the official regulations they were repacked for safe postage. Supplies purchased with the funds of the Commission and sent from Canada were forwarded in bales, and the room where the supplies first arrived she mentioned incidentally, is in charge of a Victoria lady soldier, Mrs. Sarah Spencer. The amount of bales received depended upon the activities of the men. The "A" men are the men in the front line trench. "B" men are those on the lines of communication and "C" men are those at the base, and the "A" man, said the speaker, "gets three times as much as anybody else." (Applause.) The bales were sent to O. C.'s of units and company commanders for distribution, and the men used to receive them on parade.

"Now I believe," she added, "some of them draw lots for them to enthrone a spark of interest into a life the romance of which no longer exists." Thousands of personal letters are received from men for articles, and as far as possible we endeavor to reply by forwarding or what he desires without delay. "If it is an expensive thing like a baseball outfit or a gramophone," said the lieutenant, "we send it to the O. C. of the unit with a letter stating that it is forwarded by request of the —, and is for the use of the men."

No More Lonely Soldiers.

The lonely soldier idea has been eliminated as a well-intentioned but misguided kindness, according to Miss Arnoldi. The Commission has met the need of the lonely soldier class by the different units asking for the names of men who received no letters or parcels.

"To these men we sent a parcel addressed to them personally with a greeting like the other men we received," said Miss Arnoldi. "I have received hundreds of letters in reply stating how cheered they were by this little consideration. It takes a man out of the lonely soldier class instead of reminding him of his loneliness. A small Christmas present is again to be sent to the boys, the speaker mentioned. At Christmas time the men like to make the best celebration they can under the circumstances, and the officers too endeavored to help the men and render financial assistance in helping up a Christmas dinner. The Commission's most supply every man with a quarter pound of chocolate in a blue and white package, the man's favorite colors, with a picture of a pretty girl and a greeting in verse on the package. These would be enclosed a detachable card with which the men could acknowledge the gift. "Last year we received thousands of replies in prose, poetry and illustration, and there is lots of talent in the army," commented the speaker.

The success of the Field Comforts Commission had largely been due to support of the women at home, and the fact that it had always been backed by the army. An endorsement of the respect in which the names of Brigadier-General Oltum and Major-General Leckie were held by the Canadian forces was offered by the speaker, and every city in the Dominion, she said, is jealous of Sir Arthur Currie.

Deserve Recognition.

The speaker was introduced by Major-General Leckie, O.C., who was supported on the platform by Major Edwards. From his personal experience as one of the first contingent of the Commission he had accomplished. The Commission helped to introduce the human side of life into the monotony of the daily routine of a soldier, which was necessary to maintain that enthusiasm with which a soldier needed to be imbued. It was very advisable that a man in the field should receive those little luxuries and remembrances from home that linked his memory with old associations and assured him that the hearts of the people in Canada were with him in the light. The activities of the Commission had contributed in creating that spirit which had made the men from Canada one of the finest fighting forces the war had produced, and the ladies engaged in the work deserved the highest recognition the Dominion could give them.

Two notes were rendered during the evening by Mrs. McGeer, with Miss Spencer accompanying on the piano. Money is Needed.

Speaking on the necessity of funds to carry on the work of the Field Comforts Commission, Miss Arnoldi stated that the Christmas presents for the men had been ordered on trust, and she hoped that the people of Canada would respond to the appeal, as she was sure that the idea of making some little present to remind the men in France that they were not forgotten by the people at home during the Christmas season would meet with unanimous approval. There were many welcome supplies that they could add to their bales if the money necessary to purchase them could be obtained, and she hoped there would be an immediate response as the orders for supplies had to be placed in Canada owing to the difficulty of obtaining them in England, although they had to supplement the goods received from Canada with supplies purchased in England. It would be a great help if societies forwarding through the commission or contributing supplies only could devote a sum of money monthly to send to the Headquarters in Shorncliffe for the necessary purchase of comforts.

The I.O.D.E. Field Comforts Committee extended thanks to Manager Calza for the use of the ballroom.

C. H. Dickie, of Duncan, is in the city on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Lumsden, of Summerland, are guests at the Empress Hotel.

Miss L. A. M. Ferwindt, of Arnhem, Holland, has arrived in Victoria, and is staying at the Empress Hotel.

The Attorney-General and Mrs. J. W. deR. Farris returned to the city yesterday morning from Vancouver.

Col. the Rev. William Beattie, C.M.G. has gone up to Nanaimo, where he is visiting his brother, George A. Beattie, Fitzwilliam Street.

Mrs. F. T. Stanier has returned to her home in West Vancouver after spending the past four months at her summer cottage at Cowichan Bay.

After spending the past month in Victoria as the guests of Mrs. E. G. Mooton, of Pemberton Road, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Gooke left last night to return to their home at San Diego, Cal.

Capt. and Mrs. J. M. C. Johnson, whose marriage took place in Vancouver on Tuesday evening, are spending their honeymoon in the city. Before her marriage the bride was Miss Olive Elizabeth Edwards, of Vancouver.

Dr. Caroline Sandford Finley, of New York City, with two other women physicians, Dr. Anna I. von Sholly and Dr. Mary Lee Edward, was recently decorated by the French Government for excellent surgical work performed under heavy bombardment in France and received a lieutenant's commission in the French army. The three women were at the head of an overseas unit financed by the National Suffragist Association.

Dr. Finley is a Cornell graduate and was associated with the New York infirmary for women and children in East Fifteenth Street, New York City.

A meeting of the delegates from the various women's organizations of this city has been called and will be held in the G.W.V.A. rooms, on Fort Street, at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening, October 10. F. Glisma, M.P.P., will put before the delegates the aims and objects for which they have met. Any organization not yet notified will have ample time to appoint delegates, five from each being requested, with non-executive powers. Kindly telephone or write to Miss Carne, 2317L, secretary of women's committees, or Mrs. T. Palmer, telephone 223, chairman. It is hoped that as many organizations as can will take up this important work and send delegates to the meeting.

From The Vancouver World: "Mrs. Armbrister, who leaves Vancouver shortly to take up her residence in Victoria, was the guest of honor at a delightful at home given by Mrs. W. F. Cochrane yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Armbrister will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends, especially will her loss be felt by the French War Relief Society, of which she has been an active and faithful worker, and Le Cercle Francais will also lose a very capable secretary. Mrs. Armbrister having held that office for some time. The good wishes of her many friends will follow her to her new sphere of influence."

W. M. Walker, son of Alderman W. Walker, is expected to arrive in the city tomorrow from Toronto, Saskatchewan, and will take up his residence in Victoria. For the past five years Mr. Walker has occupied the position of accountant in the Yorkton branch of the Bank of British North America, and prior to his departure he was presented with a handsome travelling bag by his former colleagues as a token of their esteem and regret at the severance of his connection with the bank. The Yorkton Lodge, A. F. and M., in which Mr. Walker occupied the senior warden's chair, also presented him with a gold watch on the eve of his leaving for the West.

CROSS, SICKLY BABIES

Sickly babies—those who are cross and fretful; whose little stomach and bowels are out of order; who suffer from constipation, indigestion, colds or any other of the minor ills of little ones—can be promptly cured by Baby's Own Tablets. Concerning them Mrs. Jean Paradis, St. Bruno, Que., writes: "My baby was very ill and vomited all his food. He was cross and cried night and day and nothing helped him till I began using Baby's Own Tablets. They soon set him right and now he is a fat, healthy boy." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

RETIREMENT OF SIR FREDERICK BRIDGE

Organist of Westminster Abbey for Over 43 Years; Famous in Musical Circles

Sir Frederick Bridge, the organist of Westminster Abbey, will retire at the end of this year, having held the position since 1875. He was born at Oldbury, near Birmingham, December 5, 1844, so that at the time of his retirement he will be over seventy-five years of age. At the age of seven he was a chorister at Rochester Cathedral and at twenty-one was appointed organist of Holy Trinity Church, Windsor. While there he studied harmony under Sir John Goss. Three years later, in 1868, Bridge obtained the position of organist at Manchester Cathedral, and, strangely enough, his successor at Westminster is to be Sydney Hugo Nicholson, now the organist of that cathedral. Sir Frederick Bridge—"Westminster Bridge" they call him!—has enjoyed for many years the love and esteem of all who knew him. As organist, composer, conductor, writer, lecturer, etc., he has had a world-wide reputation. Incidentally, it may be noted that it is not so many years ago, possibly seven, since he made a tour of Canada, coming across the continent and visiting some of the cities. At that time he particularly remarked the work of Frank Wrigley, then organist of Knox Church, Calgary, and now of St. Andrew's Church, Vancouver, B.C., as demonstrating musicianship of exceptionally high order.

Of his successor, Mr. Nicholson, The Daily Telegraph says: As has been said, his successor that is to be, Mr. Nicholson, hails from Manchester, where he was appointed the cathedral organist just ten years ago. The youngest son of the late Sir Charles Nicholson, he was born in 1875—curiously enough the very year that John Frederick Bridge went to Westminster—and was educated at Rugby and New College, Oxford. He was a Royal College boy and studied there under Parratt and Stanford. Before going to Manchester he officiated as organist at Carlisle Cathedral, and, in a variety of ways, he exerted a healthy musical influence on the district. It is of interest to note, with reference to the work Mr. Nicholson has performed in his present sphere, that a writer in The Manchester Guardian remarks: "The city will have cause to regret his departure, for he has maintained the cathedral services at a very high level, and in other ways has done much for choral music in Lancashire." Mr. Nicholson takes up his new duties in January.

Local Wills.—The following probates of the wills of deceased persons were issued during the week in the Supreme Court Registry: Nicholas Arthur Logan, Lindhurst Howard Barry Hender, son McAdoo, Joseph Lowrey, Lillian Blatche Bates, Hans Helgesen, Cecil Bernard Swinhoe Phelan, Ralph H. Ensign (Ancillary probate), Joseph Stanley Lund and Sarah Ann Clark. Administrations with will annexed: John Scott, Alfred Edward Lye, both killed on active service. Administration: Harry Nesbitt, Ethel Marie Cole.

Victoria Man Wounded.—George Edward Norris, son of Mrs. Norris, of 2122 Cook Street, is progressing favorably, according to a cable received by his parents. He was wounded in the shoulder on August 11. He left Victoria in February, 1916. His brother, Lieut. T. G. Norris, having gone overseas in June, 1915. Corp. Norris will celebrate his twenty-third birthday on October 29.

THOUSANDS JOIN IN THE COMMUNITY SING OF MUSICAL CLUB DUE ON THURSDAY

Enthusiasm Marks Demonstration at Fair on Monday by Large Gathering

Had the management of the Home Products Fair decided to prolong the "sing" on Monday evening several hours later there would have been many people gathered thickly round the band stand singing and happy. Granted that there was much to attract them elsewhere, no second invitation was needed when Frank Sehl took his position on the stand, and with "Now, let's all have a sing," called the people together with "O Canada."

The spirit underlying this movement is having a leavening influence which is discernible in several musical projects which have been started, and in the organizations at present existing for the development of music in this city. Although so far the classic side of music has not been touched, is not something to be said for the songs that can produce a heart harmony such as has been shown on these occasions? However, overtures of other forms which this great movement might take. The school children of Victoria should be in this work. The school children of other cities are doing their part, as evidenced by the account of a concert at Houston, Texas, given by a mixed chorus of 1,000 school children under the direction of the supervisor of schools there. The concert, which was held in connection with the community singing movement, was composed of set songs, two and three-part arrangements, interspersed with solos. When the whole audience sang the national hymns and old favorites such as "Old Folks at Home," "The Long Long Trail," and others equally well known, the young folks joined in lustily. This all serves as a basis for musical knowledge, which will grow with the years, and fostered at the right time will have the tendency to lead children into the right environment. It is generally conceded that the refinement of a musical atmosphere is something which can be gained in no other way. A knowledge, broad and deep, of the art is an open sesame to the best that the world has to give.

Those who have received inspiration from the Easter service on Mount Rialto, at Riverside, California, bear testimony to the potency of this yearly festival as an incentive to finer ideals of living. The living Christ in every man and woman seeks expression, and "splendor within," of which Bronson speaks in his poem, seeks an outlet and in the release of that "splendor" in song the world becomes a happier place and every one in it a better man. Sacred music "speak to God," in a very real sense.

Sacred music is a very large part of the programme of future sings. Some say all music is sacred, but it would be difficult to find that statement with some of the fare that is set before us at times. The hymns that have been sung through the ages are a power on the lips of a community. The words of "Ours Christian Soldiers," "How Firm a Foundation," "Come, All Ye Faithful," "A Mighty Fortress is Our God," sung by the men of Canada and America, as they have gone to battle in France, take on new grandeur when in the remembrance of that they were sung out of the hearts of those men.

Nor let it stop there. The "Messiah" music has been sung by the Community Chorus of Oklahoma, eight soloists assisting in a city of the east the entire oratorio was sung by the Community Chorus, all solos being sung in unison. "The Soldiers' Chorus" "Hymn" seems to be a favorite in many places and many other excerpts from well-known operas. More community sings—more home songs, hymns and a good classic occasionally are to be desired.

FAHEY-SKLAREVSKI DELIGHT AUDIENCE Both Artists Score Artistic Success in Concert Here Tuesday

Mrs. Franklin Lewis, of Seattle to Play at Opening Concert

The character of the programme given at the recital on Tuesday evening last, and the personnel of the principals should have been sufficient guarantee of a large attendance. However, although the audience was not a large one, it was decidedly representative of those who appreciate the best, and the various numbers as presented were given keen appreciation.

On second glance, the programme might have contained more to test the powers of a great pianist. In the first number, Grieg's "Theme and Variations," Mr. Sklarevski proved how versatile he could be. The brilliancy and power of chromatics and chords, the gravity and melancholy, the ease with which first one and then the other hand was called into play, the remarkable control of pedalling—all made this the most outstanding number of his programme. The Russian compositions evince a tremendous amount of character, and this Mr. Sklarevski is able to portray in all its variety. Of the Chopin group, the "Nocturne" was beautifully played, although the "Polonaise" left one with an unsatisfied feeling which might be explained by the fact that although one may be a powerful interpreter of the Russian music, it is quite another matter to interpret in all their myriad phases the works of Chopin.

As an encore, Mr. Sklarevski played the "Shepherd's Song" (Chopin) as well as a charming number in a minor key, beginning with one color.

Not to be forgotten was "In the Content" (Borodin) with the tolling bell, the melody of the singing voices, the chorale of the shepherd, being an ensemble of religious atmosphere.

Mrs. Fahey, whose singing is ever a new delight, sang "Ritorna Vincitor" (Aida) with wonderful dramatic power—passion, yearning, tenderness, prayer, despair, all were there, and it may truly be said that in dramatic expression Mrs. Fahey rises to her greatest height as a singer. The more simple songs become endowed with more than they are always supposed to express when she sings them. Of these, the Russian songs—especially the "Song of the Shepherd" may be mentioned. This was illustrative of the shepherd on the hills, the suddenly approaching storm, the sheep call, the shepherd's soliloquy—all a little simple story and of such frequent repetition that it is best remembered by its simplicity. Of the French songs, Mrs. Fahey always a favorite, sweetness and beauty being expressed throughout by the singer who has made this seemingly—her very own.

The programme was apparently arranged with a view to combining the composers of the Allied lands—Italian, Russian, French, American works being represented; thereon, and was of sufficient variety to prove a most enjoyable treat.

Somebody wrote of Gounod's anthem "By Babylon's Wave," it is a valued show piece for choral societies. Any one who has sung in a choir and helped render that number or any person who knows its setting and has heard it well given knows it is much more than a show piece.

SEATTLE MINISTER TO PREACH TO-MORROW

Rev. J. William Carson Will Preach; Organ Recital at Evening Service

Rev. J. William Carson, prominent Seattle divine, will preach in the First Congregational Church to-morrow morning and evening. Mr. Carson is a very forcible preacher, and has held long pulpits in Seattle, Colorado and elsewhere. His subject in the morning will be "How Much Are You Worth" and at night, "The Power of Well Spoken Words."

At the evening service at 7:15 a community sing will be inaugurated, with the singing of well-known hymns. At 7 Miss Louise de Wolfe Moore, newly appointed organist, will give an organ recital. The following musical numbers will also be rendered: Solo, "Beyond the Dawn," Jas. Petric; anthem, "Lead Kindly Light," Tughe Evans; duet, "I Waited For the Lord," Miss Purdy and Mr. King.

Organ Recital at Christ Church.—To-morrow evening the service at Christ Church Cathedral will be preceded by an organ recital by Dr. Watson, the church organist. The numbers will include "Finale" from the First Sonata (Gulmanti); Beethoven's "Andante in G"; and Communion in E Minor (Bach). The recital will commence at 7:10.

YOLANDA MERO AND LAMBERT MURPHY

To Present Joint Programme on Wednesday, October 16

The concert to be given by these artists will be held in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel on Wednesday evening, October 16. Many inquiries come regarding the present musical status of this pianist, who several years ago created quite a furore in the few cities of Canada which she visited. Recently The New York Times said: "Miss Mero is a player of much technical equipment. She plays Liszt's works with much brilliance and variety of expression. What was most noticeable about her work, however, was its breadth and power." Musical-American, the foremost journal of music of the United States, says: "Yolanda Mero, pianist, made her second appearance in this city (Cincinnati) when she made her appearance on Tuesday. She chose for her number Liszt's Concerto in A. It was an inspired bit of playing that Miss Mero did in this number, and her artistry in all the movements was always visible. She is one of the finest pianists of our day."

Lambert Murphy is comparatively new on the concert stage, having been "discovered" while a student at Harvard. He has been one of the most admired and eagerly sought artists throughout New England. In speaking of Mr. Murphy, The New York Tribune says: "In the evocation of moods of subdued feeling, or of sentimental expression he is at his best, a best which is on a level of anyone to be heard today on the concert stage."

Organ Recital at Congregational Church.—Proceeding the community sing and service at the First Congregational Church, to-morrow evening, Miss Louise de Wolfe Moore will give an organ recital, the numbers to include "Contemplation" and "Adoration," from Gaul's "Holy City" and "The Curfew" (Horsman). The recital will commence at 7 o'clock.

BEST SELLING RECORDS

Kent's Edison Store.

Our three best sellers for the past week are as follows:

No. 59168—"Darktown Strutter's Ball," Premier Quartette. A typically old-fashioned dinky song that has made a big hit. It is as raggy as anything you can imagine, a combination of the new jazz style and the old-fashioned ragtime. The premier quartette always give a clever rendition of popular songs. This has a dialogue between verses, for instance, when the taxi is waiting and the girl not ready, that shows ingenuity in putting variety in everything they do. "The Go Wild, Simply Wild Over Me," B. Murray.

No. 50470—"Johnson Jazz Blues," Fox-Trot, Frisco Jazz Band. Did you ever hear of "Blue Music"? Perhaps you never thought there was such a thing. But there is. Don't ask what it is. Nobody can tell you. But this is it. You'll find it different, and makes as good a fox-trot as you ever danced to. "Umbrellas to Mend," One-step, Frisco Jazz Band.

Blue Amberol Record, No. 3525, Frisco, Inc. "Kiss Me Again Waltz," Watiki Hawaiian Orchestra.

Heintzman & Co., Ltd.

"Over There," Sung by Caruso.

"The Lost Chord," Sung by Alma Gluck.

WEAK BOYS AND GIRLS

It is a mistake to think that anaemia is only a girls' complaint. Girls probably show the effect of weak, watery blood more plainly than boys. Delayed development, pale faces, headaches, palpitation, and a feeling of listlessness, call attention to weak blood in the case of girls. But many boys in their teens grow thin and "weedy" and have pimples on the face, showing that they have not enough blood. The anemic boys is just as likely to become a victim of consumption as the pale, breathless girl with her headaches and worn-out look. Let the boy in this condition catch cold and he will lose his strength and his health becomes precarious.

To prevent serious disaster to those of the rising generation, let both boys and girls be given the new rich blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are famous the world over for making. When giving these pills watch how soon the appetite returns and how the languid girl or the weak boy becomes full of activity and high spirits. Remember that the boy has to develop, too, if he is to make a strong hearty man. Give both the boys and girls a fair chance to develop strongly through the new, rich blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. You will then see active boys and girls, instead of weak children around you.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be obtained by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

IMPORTANT DUTIES TO BE UNDERTAKEN BY JAMES THOMSON

As Fur Trade Commissioner for Hudson's Bay Company WILL STILL RETAIN HIS PRESENT OFFICE

The Governor and Committee of the Hudson's Bay Company authorize the following statement relative to the resignation of N. H. Bacon, Fur Trade Commissioner of the Company since 1913, and his successor in office, Chief Factor James Thomson, formerly of this city:

JAMES THOMSON.

Columbia District with headquarters at Victoria. In the dual capacity of Land and Fur Trade Commissioner Mr. Thomson will have jurisdiction over all the fur trading posts from Labrador to the Arctic Ocean, as well as sole charge of the company's land throughout Canada.

Recognition of Service. While Victorians particularly will welcome the announcement of Mr. Thomson's elevation in the service of the Hudson's Bay Company, his successor to the senior position in Canada is not only a tribute to his successful administration in those special departments over which he has wielded control for a number of years, it is also a significant recognition of more than a quarter of a century's faithful service.

During the seven years in which he has presided over the Company's Land Department he has demonstrated so marked an ability through a period of depression and world conflict that the new honor does not permit him release from that eminently important post. Moreover it would not be an extravagant claim to make in Mr. Thomson's behalf to say that, perhaps in the wide Dominion of Canada the choice of a successor to Mr. Bacon could not have fallen on a more capable official.

Knows Every Branch. There is very little Mr. Thomson does not know about the fur trade. His long association with the company has naturally provided him with an expert knowledge of almost every branch of its business. And his labors did not hold him to any one spot prior to his elevation to the Land Commissioner's position, which has since retained. He visits its Victoria periodically each spring.

Teach Children to Use Cuticura Soap

Because it is best for their tender skins. Help it now and then with touches of Cuticura Ointment applied to first signs of redness, roughness, pimples or dandruff. If mothers would only use these super-creamy emollients for every-day toilet purposes how much suffering might be avoided by preventing little skin and scalp troubles becoming serious.

Sample Each Free by Mail. Address post-card "Cuticura," Dept. S. A., Sold by dealers throughout the world.

Practical experience in furs which will now stand him in good stead. Mr. Thomson is an expert in a day of experts, and Victoria may take pardonable pride in the fact that he is the third resident of this city to rise to the senior position with the Company in Canada.

From the reference made in these columns in August it will be remembered that Sir H. M. Kidersley, Governor of the Company, in his report to the annual meeting of the company held in London in July last extended flattering compliments to Mr. Thomson for the manner in which the administration of the Lands Department had been carried out.

Comparisons of land sales during the period within the reports purview, with those of the previous years, summed up in the Governor's speech verbatim as follows: "In 1916-17 we sold 254,941 acres for $370,050, an average of $1.45 per acre; and in 1917-18 we sold 386,294 acres for $1,420,879, an average of $3.65 per acre. This discloses an increase in total gross sales of $1,045,829, 3s. 6d. over last year. The sales were distributed throughout the various Provinces as follows: Manitoba, 13,636 acres; Saskatchewan, 214,824 acres; and Alberta, 157,834 acres, making a total of 386,294 acres."

Delicate Undertakings. It should be noted also that Mr. Thomson has served the company excellently in his gradual and satisfactory disposal of the company's urban holdings in the four original posts now marked by some of the best known cities on the American continent. The remarks apply to Victoria, Edmonton, Fort William and Winnipeg. In this connection Mr. Thomson's judgment was always marked by the interests of both buyer and seller, the various deals adding proof of his ability to conduct that important branch of the company's undertakings which is now to be combined with that of Fair Trade Commissioner.

From the Orkneys. Like the majority of the company's more prominent officials, Mr. Thomson is a Scotsman. He was born in the Orkney Islands in 1859 and was intended for a legal career, five years of which were spent in reading law with John Macrae, S. C., at Kirkcaldy. He came to Canada in 1880, and entered the service of the company at Winnipeg. He was Manager at Portage in the Prairie for three years, at Calgary eight years, at Vancouver seven years, at Victoria after that, and in addition he was Manager of Fur District, Steamship Services and Lands of the Company in British Columbia. In 1911 he was appointed to the important post of Land Commissioner, which he has since retained. He visits its Victoria periodically each spring.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY MAKES ANNUAL APPEAL TO BE HELD FRIDAY NEXT

The Women's Auxiliary to the Royal Jubilee Hospital will hold the annual Thanksgiving linen shower for the institution at the Nurses' Home on Friday next, October 11, from 3 till 5 p. m.

The linen shower of the hospital is sorely in need of replenishment, the supply of pillow-slips (size thirty-four by twenty-two), and towels being particularly low, and donations will be very gratefully received. All members of the auxiliary and friends of the institution will be served during the afternoon. An attractive musical programme has been arranged by Mrs. Umbach, to which the following artists will contribute: Mrs. Arthur Gray, Mrs. J. B. Shaw, and the Misses Denise Harris, Dorothy Dorrell and Winnifred Bell.

Again Wounded.—Mrs. T. L. Ray, 2311 McBride Avenue, has received word that her eldest son, Richard Ray, has been wounded for the fourth time. Another son, Forrest, who left with the artillery on March 31, 1918, has just finished his course of training at the riding school at Milford Camp, Surrey.

BRITISH AMERICAN SERVICE ON SUNDAY

At First Presbyterian Church; U. S. Consul Mosher to Speak

Services at the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday will assume the character of a British-American service, in honor of the visit of the men of the American training ships from Bremerton.

The United States Consul, R. B. Mosher, will occupy a seat on the platform and has consented to give a brief address. The lessons will be read by J. G. Brown, while the pastor, Rev. J. G. Inkster, will preach on the subject, "The significance of the entry of the United States into the war, for the war itself and to the Anglo-Saxon people," dealing especially with President Wilson's policy.

During the service the congregation and choir will sing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and the National Anthem, while the occasion will also be marked by the singing for the first time of a Canadian national hymn composed by William L. Lozier of Victoria, and church officials the pastor has extended a hearty welcome to American residents of the city to attend the service.

PADRE FOR SIBERIAN CONTINGENT ARRIVED

Captain George Farquhar, One of the "Originals," Will Be Welcomed

Captain George Farquhar, of Winnipeg, has arrived in the city to take up his official post as Chaplain to the Canadian Siberian Expeditionary Force, with arrangements to proceed to Vladivostok with the first draft. The contingent's Padre may claim the title of an "original" for he went overseas with the memorable armada which left Canadian shores in the early days of 1915. After continuous service with the Canadians in France he returned to the Prairie city in April of the present year to take a well earned rest.

Not content, however, with the more or less uneventful labors of his pastorate of the Robson Memorial Church in his home city, he promptly volunteered his services for Siberia as soon as the announcement of the expedition was made. To his new charge he will be able to bring the experience of a veteran as well as the humanizing influence born of close association with war's horrors.

Before accepting the pastorate of the Robson Memorial Church, Captain Farquhar was an assistant to Major Charles W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), whose stirring address on the Canadian in France, before the Victoria Canadian Club will still be remembered.

RESUMES RECITALS

Mr. Parsons Commences Winter Series at Metropolitan Church. At the Metropolitan Church to-morrow evening, the organist, Edward Parsons, will resume his half-hour organ recitals. ANOTHER RETURNED MAN WANTS POSITION

City Council Now Has Two Applicants for Positions Vacated to Go to War

Another returned soldier, formerly employed by the city, has written to the City Council asking for his position back. L. J. Eckman, now residing at 1203 Hillside Avenue, forwards a copy of a letter addressed to him by former City Engineer C. H. Rust, in which it is stated: "In accordance with the resolution passed by the City Council on August 10, 1914, I beg to inform you that as a volunteer in the military or naval force your position, or a similar one, will be kept open for you until such time as hostilities cease and you are able to resume your duties." Eckman states that he is now ready to take up his duties. This previous work was that of a clerk and draftsman in the survey office from 1906 to August, 1914, when he was called up since his return to Victoria, and while and going to treatment he states that he has been taking a business course and feels competent to take any position of a clerical nature. This is the second application the council has received from such a source and under similar conditions, and no definite conclusion has been reached yet as regards what action will be taken in the matter. The city's policy has been to cut down the staff as a matter of economy, the exercise of which has become imperative owing to the financial condition of affairs.

SERGEY SHEPHERD KILLED. News has been received that Sergt. G. O. Shepherd was killed in action on September 2. Sergt. Shepherd went overseas with the 72nd Battalion in April, 1916, and later transferred to the Machine Gun Battalion. He was the only son of Mrs. E. M. Shepherd, 2421 View Street, Vancouver, who is now residing at 3 Alma Place, Victoria.

VISITING MEN OF TRAINING SHIPS ARE ENTERTAINED

Spirit of Good Feeling is Shown on Occasion of Visit of Americans

NAVY LEAGUE WELCOMES LARGE CONTINGENT

Marching to lively music by the Fifth Regiment Band and escorted by the Boys' Naval Brigade, the fine sturdy lot of civilian-sailors from the United States Shipping Board's Training Ships Iroquois and Chippewa, Captains O'Beaton and Howard Payne, respectively, paraded from the C. E. E. wharf at 7 o'clock last night to the New Armory on Bay Street, where, with some 250 local naval and military men, the evening was spent in a social way as the guests of the Victoria Branch of the Navy League of Canada.

The Y. M. C. A. moving picture machine was there, in charge of E. G. Estabrook, popular tunes were sung, and the League provided plenty of smokes. Among the entertainers were James Hunter, H. J. Davis, a quartette from the training ships, and a good deal of impromptu music was indulged in. A tasty repast was served and the men seemed to enjoy themselves immensely. The Navy League officers made excellent hosts, and "Mother" was there to look after her boys. The arrangements were in charge of A. C. Flomerfelt, Honorary Vice-President of the Provincial division; Arthur Jones, President Provincial Division; H. J. Davies, Secretary-Treasurer Provincial Division; O. Chandler, Secretary of the Executive Committee; F. A. McDiarmid, Chairman of the Victoria Branch; H. H. Rowley, Treasurer of the Victoria Branch; and J. J. Shallcross and N. A. Yarrow.

The visiting officers include the following: Captain John S. Cameron, Port Captain; C. A. Manserck, Port Paymaster; N. A. Palmer, Executive Officer at the Station; Richard Higgins, Special Enrolling Agent; Rev. Bywater, Fleet Chaplain. The ship officers, are as follows: Steamer Chippewa—Howard Payne, master; Guy Kongale, executive officer; A. B. Coffett, first; C. C. Gardner, second; F. E. Lovejoy, third; Dr. D. Henry McChesney, medical officer; Harold Hemphill, paymaster; J. J. Goss, chief engineer; John Halston, executive; John L. Reese, first engineer; R. P. Nelson, second engineer; C. L. Clausen, third engineer; I. A. Kent, junior third engineer; and Harry McKelitt, chief steward. Steamer Iroquois—O. Beaton, captain; T. Hedemark, executive officer; K. C. Lorman, first officer; F. P. McPhilly, second officer; F. Rasmusen, third officer; A. L. Windom, surgeon; R. E. McDonald, paymaster; W. J. Alexander, chief engineer; K. L. Harris, executive engineer; T. H. Daniels, first engineer; A. Hulmquist, second assistant engineer; V. T. Mower, third assistant engineer; L. B. Edwards, chief steward; Geo. Davis, assistant steward.

Realize Their Duties. Herbert A. Spalding, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., attached to the Shipping Board at West Seattle and a great favorite with the men, for whom he has done much in promoting sport and other features of entertainment, is also a visitor with the ships. The men are enthusiastic and loyal in the work they are doing for the United States. Every one of them is keyed up to a full realization of the necessity of providing ships and men to carry munitions of war to the troops in all parts of the world. Some of these sailors in the making are men who have held responsible positions, some own their own automobiles and fine homes, all are men of quiet determination and good fellows who are gladly giving their services to the country for the duration of the war.

The ship Chippewa holds particular distinction in the rating of the Fourth Liberty Loan in the United States. The total subscriptions taken on board the first day amounting to something like $15,000. "And we are still going strong," said one of the men. The Chippewa's complement is 258 men and thirty-four officers, a total of 292. The Iroquois officers are saying nothing. Paymaster McDonald says he hasn't made a count yet, but he feels

VISITING NAVAL BOYS TO ATTEND DANCE

Accept Invitation for Big Fair at Hippodrome Hall To-night

The 600 seamen of the U. S. training ships who have come to Victoria to attend the Home Products Fair, have accepted an invitation extended by Mrs. George Simpson to attend a big dance at the Hippodrome Hall to-night. The boys will go on to the dance after the conclusion of the ceremonies at the Fair, and as American men have earned a reputation as able exponents of dancing it is anticipated that the maidens of the city will experience no dearth of partners. In order that the dance shall be worthy of such an event, Mrs. Simpson is arranging appropriate decorations, while an exceptionally good programme of the latest dance music will be furnished by a specially-suggested orchestra, under the leadership of R. Rowland.

CASE STOOD OVER

Rex vs. Glenn Disposes Objections Similar to Mee Case. A parallel to the Mee case where, in the Assize Court, R. C. Lowe raised objections on the grounds that the Magistrate did not read over the depositions to accused before commitment, was heard in the County Court yesterday before Judge Lammiman, when Geo. E. Powell and J. P. Walls, appearing for accused in the case of Rex vs. Glenn, raised the same contention, and further represented to the Court that the Magistrate had never asked accused whether he wished to call any witnesses.

Judge Lammiman stood the case over until October 22 to enable counsel to bring the points raised before the Supreme Court for adjudication. If the higher court holds in favor of accused, it may result in the case as it stands being thrown out. J. S. Brandon is Crown Prosecutor.

CIVIL SERVANTS' EXHIBIT

Will Be Auctioned Off at Close of Home Products Fair To-night. Visitors to the Fair this evening are advised that the Provincial Civil Servants' exhibit of garden produce, which has attracted so much attention, will be auctioned at the close of the event this evening between 11 and 11.30. It is intended to hand the proceeds of the sale to the Women's Auxiliary to the British War Veterans' Association for the benefit of widows and orphans of sailors and soldiers. It should be remembered that the whole of the exhibit, including the fine specimens of vegetables and fruits grown in the home gardens, will be members of the Provincial Civil Service in home gardens and vacant lots.

MEMBER-ELECT TALKS TO VICTORIA MEDICOS

Advocates a Medical Service on National Lines, State-Controlled

At a meeting of the Victoria Medical Society held at the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital last night Frank Gioima, member-elect for Victoria, submitted a plan in advocacy of placing the medical service of the country under state jurisdiction. His ideas embodied the suggested existence of an irregular distribution of medical science and the inability of one-half the population to secure that attention which might very often mean the saving of lives otherwise lost. He contended that the cost of saving the health of the state should be borne by the state as a whole and the weaker relieved of the added burden of finance. In general Mr. Gioima's scheme follows the National Insurance plan of the Old Country. It will be further discussed on October 19.

Recommendations. The member-elect's recommendations follow: "Firstly: The medical profession to become State employees and to be paid by the State. "Secondly: The State, or in our case, the province, to be divided into main districts, each one of which will have a hospital as the centre. Each main district to be subdivided into smaller sections, each such section to be looked after by two or more general practitioners and a sufficient number of qualified nurses. "All major operations and cases requiring hospital treatment will be taken to the centre hospital which will be up-to-date in every regard and at which will reside the specialists. In this way no hospital case need be more than an hour or an hour and a half from the best medical attention and opinion possible. "Thirdly: The specialists at the hospitals will not only practice their profession but will also teach the medical students and nurses who will also reside at the hospital. "Fourthly: It will be obligatory for all practitioners to leave their respective fields of work at least once a year and take, so to speak, a refresher in the latest medical discoveries at the hospital, just as in the navy, army and police force members have to go through training at stated intervals so as to keep abreast of the times. "Fifthly: Examinations will be held at stated intervals in all branches of medical science, such examinations to be open to all practitioners. This will give an incentive to anyone to study as only by knowledge will advancement be made. "Sixthly: The whole to be governed by a board of doctors which shall send its recommendation to the Government."

Monthly Meeting of the Lady Douglas Chapter, I. O. O. E., will be held Thursday, Oct. 8, at 2.30, in the Arcade Bldg. Members requested to attend. Important business.

WIN MILITARY MEDALS.

For his gallant service in the war zone a military medal has been awarded to Sergeant William Francis Drinkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Drinkle, of 2314 Richmond Road. Although only twenty-one years of age, he left home over two years ago with the 83rd Battalion as a bugler, and has won his promotion to sergeant on the field. Corporal W. E. Carr, who has borne the brunt of battle for over two years, has also been decorated with the Military Medal for his attention to duty. He has resided in Victoria for eight years previous to enlisting with the 12th Field Ambulance Corps in June, 1916.

Children and Carfare.—The question of special rates for school children travelling upon the street cars in Esquimalt was discussed at a recent meeting of the Esquimalt School Board. It was pointed out at the meeting that the municipality had been generous in its treatment of the B. C. Electric Railway Company's appeal in the past by bringing into force a by-law which eliminated the jitney from competition with the street car. As a result the Board decided to ask for a concession on the part of the company for school children.

PUBLIC SAFETY.

To the Editor.—Reading in your esteemed paper of the narrow escape of the young lad, Stephen Moody, through an east-bound tram striking him as he stepped from the rear of a westbound trolley, I was reminded of a similar experience of my own which I expect, a great many others here, have also had.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY.

To the Editor.—It is a noteworthy fact that whereas in the columns of the daily press a certain section of the public, characterized by stern notions of discipline, has been publishing an agitation having for its end the more or less merciless castigation of the youthful offenders. They clamor for the application of the birch and write in glowing columns of the necessity of an agent for juvenile reformation.

and the rod—God (love), and the rod (vindictiveness); a rather incongruous combination. He takes pride in the fact that his father would continue to fog him until his mother begged of him to desist. "J. B. G." is 40, and let me assure him that I firmly believe that whatever is creditable in my fellow-countrymen to-day may be traced to those monstrous ideas and practices concerning things religious which were handed down from our Calvinistic ancestors.

Careful consideration of the question of juvenile delinquency forces one to the conclusion that the present methods of dealing with it are worse than futile. A boy is regarded as a delinquent when he is sent to a so-called reformatory, and he comes out to develop in many cases into a criminal. The present system, in effect, penalizes the effect and takes little or no cognizance of the cause.

When he has reached the stage where he desires companionship, they will exercise watchfulness and provide him with healthy exercise and entertainment. They will never take him where his ideals may be endangered. When he commits an offense, they will employ means to prevent a repetition which will be far more efficacious than the application of a strap.

There is no need to suffer the agonies of rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, aching back and muscles, toothache, earache and similar ills. Use Hirst's Pain Exterminator—

James Bay affair and similar episodes. I am the counsel of those who demand that they flag their children. Those people often belong to a class who derive morbid pleasure in acts of cruelty and whose ideas on the subject are prompted by a perverted mentality.

LEAGUE OF PATRIOTS.

To the Editor.—As a visitor to your most beautiful city, will you kindly allow me space in your valuable journal for the purpose of voicing my appreciation of the objects and aims of the Victoria League of Patriots (formerly known as the Anti-Hun League) and a meeting of which I had the pleasure to attend.

MR. BOWDEN AND THE GERMAN THEOLOGY.

To the Editor.—May I be permitted a word in reply to a letter by Ernest J. Bowden in yesterday's Daily Times? What about the birthplace of Spanish influenza? Some one may contend that the name is not suitable, that the disease is of English or some other origin. Does it matter so much where it originated? Let us rather use every precaution to protect ourselves and others against it.

Where are the sons of confessors, of the martyrs, of the Covenanters, and of the "great cloud" of Christian witnesses? We who acknowledge Christ as Lord, and believe in the Bible, as the inspired inerrant Word of God, are more than the mere sons of men.

CITY COUNCIL VERSUS FIRE DEPARTMENT.

To the Editor.—As a ratepayer of twenty-five years' standing, and a student of civic affairs, I feel it my duty to applaud the stand taken by Alderman Andros and a majority of the Council for a reorganization of said department, for the following reasons:

tons prevailing here do not justify the extravagance incurred.

THOS. H. LEEMING

Assessor and Collector, Victoria Assessment District.

Under the adverse conditions inflicted on property owners through mismanagement by their trustees, they are entitled to the practice of frugal economy, and the department is a conspicuous mark for attack.

(a) Disproportion of cost is notorious and requires no amplification.

(b) Conditions obtaining here: A superbly built city, with a magnificent view, five months mild but seven months towards the end so soggy as far as wooden structures and external surfaces are concerned, that danger from fire is reduced to a minimum.

(c) An auxiliary high pressure plant with alternative power of steam or electricity to operate, expressly provided for fire fighting only, with the ocean for a reservoir.

(d) An auxiliary gravity pressure from the Sooke Lake main (only partially developed and not as it should be).

(e) Ideal streets, second to none for operating fire apparatus. I maintain that with all their natural advantages our annual maintenance cost instead of being, I believe, the highest on the continent, should be the very lowest.

I firmly believe that the motive inspiring the Council in their attitude to every question should be to make this city ideal for its reasonable cost of living, the cost of maintenance in every civic department affects the cost of rent, one of the major costs of living.

Without discussing the aggravated question of pay, I think it is a fair proposition or principle to apply on that point to say "That there is no reason why a civic official or employee should receive a greater remuneration for a like service than a civilian ratepayer receives, who earns the money to pay the civic salary."

The fallacy of continually dealing with individual demands for increases of pay to meet the increases in "cost of living" is easily seen by a study of this conundrum: How much more pay is the first applicant settled with entitled to, after a hundred more bands of supplicants have been settled with, each band naturally increasing the "cost of living" to every other band, it is easily seen that it is interminable and a humbug.

IS OLDEST SEAMAN IN ALLIED NAVIES

Victoria Pensioner Volunteered Again for Service, After 22 Years in Navy

Petty Officer James Dupen, of 599 Esquimalt Road, Victoria West, claims to be the oldest seaman in the British Navy or any of the Allied powers serving his country at the present time, and his claim is backed by a record of service of which he can justly be proud. On Tuesday he reaches his sixty-eighth year and his first connection with the navy dates back 22 1/2 years. He took his discharge and had been a pensioner after twenty-two years' service when war broke out and he again put on the navy uniform as a member of the Royal Navy Canadian Volunteer Reserve.

He first joined the Royal Navy on June 2, 1865, and joined the royal yacht Osborne in 1876, when the late King Edward was Prince of Wales. He remained with the yacht from that time until he took his discharge in 1890. He has gladly come forward to serve his country in his present capacity so as to release a younger man for duty of a more strenuous nature.

Petty Officer Dupen's record beats by four years that of Petty Officer Edward John Hales, of His Majesty's ship Victory at Portsmouth, England, who is claimed to be the oldest sailor in the British Navy and is sixty-four years of age.

REORGANIZATION AGREED

Great War Veterans' Convention Will Hear New Plan on November 9.

At a special meeting held in Vancouver Thursday the Presidents and Secretaries of the Vancouver, New Westminster, North Vancouver and Victoria branch Associations agreed that the scheme of the Provincial organization as suggested by Victoria and Vancouver Island should be endorsed, and supported in its entirety. In order that the plan may be got under way without delay it will be submitted to a special convention of the Great War Veterans' Association of British Columbia to be held in Vancouver on November 9, next, the gathering having been called for that specific purpose.

GENERAL ELSLEY IS HIGHLY OPTIMISTIC

Calls This the Decisive Year With Germany Quite Defeated.

According to an announcement made by Major-General R. G. E. Elmsley, G.O.C. M.D. 11, this morning, Major-General James H. Elmsley, C.B., M.G., D.S.O., will arrive in the city on or about October 7 next. General Elmsley is the commander of the Canadian Siberian Expeditionary Force and reached New York on September 17 last after long service in France with the Third Canadian Division.

The Decisive Year

In an interview in The New York Times the General was disposed to say something about the war and alluded to this as the decisive year. He declared that the Germans had been defeated. They no longer had any illusions about winning the war, he continued, and it was generally expected that they would make proposals for the opening of peace negotiations in November, if not before. He thought there was no doubt that there would be some heavy fighting up till the latter part of October. "If the war goes on into 1919 we shall make preparations for the big offensive in the spring that will roll the enemy back into his own country," Major-General Elmsley said. "Hitherto the war has been fought in the trenches and now the soldiers, who have become accustomed to that method, have to learn open warfare, which is a very different thing. When I came away they were making good progress and learning how to take advantage of every bit of cover as they go along. This is where the old officers and non-commissioned officers who had their training before the war, come into their own again."

Shell Shocked Horses

The Major-General said that it was not generally known outside the army that horses suffered from shell shock. He had a big horse which he used as a charger and a small mare for lighter work. A big shell burst in their stable back of the lines one night along the western front and clipped a piece off the right ear of the horse. For three days the animal was crazy, and nothing could be done with him. Finally the big horse calmed down and gradually became accustomed to the shells. The mare, a more sensitive animal, was affected for a week afterward, and, just as she was recovering, a shell knocked the stable to pieces. She dug a hole two feet deep in the soft ground and stood in it for a few minutes, uttering strange cries, and then sprang out and kicked the debris around the camp. For four days the mare would take nothing but a little water and never recovered her proper senses again.

SPANISH CLASSES NOW OF GREAT IMPORTANCE

Why Local Effort Should Have the Support of Public

Closer commercial relations between North and South America after the war are foreshadowed by the widespread instruction in the Spanish language in the schools of this continent. Not only, it is prophesied, will the United States be more tightly bound up with the national and trade life of the South American countries, but Canada, and particularly the West Coast of the Dominion will share, to a very large extent, in this increased intercourse with Republics on the other side of the equator. A precursor of these expected conditions is the unusually successful start of the Spanish classes in the Victoria Night School, under the guidance of a instructor peculiarly suited to his position.

The Spanish classes started fourteen pupils, the largest number to attend the classes at their annual commencement in any year so far. The instruction in the language of Castile will be under the direction of G. Snyder, who, having spent a considerable part of his life in the Philippine Islands and Mexico, is well qualified for the position.

Mr. Snyder was engaged for some years as official interpreter to the American Government in the Philippines, where many of the inhabitants, as a result of the European invasion in the sixteenth century, speak the language of Spain. Later Mr. Snyder spent a period in Mexico before coming to this country.

Relations Have Improved

Since the beginning of the present war, the relations of the Allies with the Spanish speaking countries of Central and South America have, through commercial activity become firmly cemented.

Again in the Philippines, Spanish being the chief language, a large number of Europeans are constantly using that tongue, and trade with the United States has caused it to be more extensively used.

"In Canada for the most part, there is little interest in learning Spanish because trade, with the South American countries is small. On the Pacific coast, however, it is not hard to foresee a great growth in trade with the south when the commercial fabric of the world is once more woven together, for the Latin countries are the home of valuable and essential products required by the rest of the world.

With the coming of the automobile the world's supply of rubber had to be vastly added to, and in the future still more will be required. It will come largely from South America. Wheat, from the Argentine, coffee from Brazil, nitrate from Chile, all will be held to solidify relations with the Spanish speaking nations, and will bring about a demand for men who are conversant with the tongue to manage the increased volume of trade.

Accompanying are the remarks of Mr. Snyder, in introducing his subject to the students.

"The Victoria School Board having employed my services as a teacher of the Spanish language during the session of the night school, I will endeavor to interpret that language to the students as I have learned it during the period of time I have lived amongst the Spanish-speaking populace in the Philippines and Mexico.

"The importance of Spanish for business men and others of this and other countries cannot be disputed, and since transactions expand daily, and more so after the war, it is plain that English and Spanish will become a great factor, not only as far as the commercial end is concerned but in many other ways, as perhaps you know the Spanish language, for the last two or three years, has been introduced in

VICTORIA GOLF CLUB IN RED CROSS DRIVE

Details of Play for Tournament on Oak Bay Links

Judging by the enthusiasm with which the clubs affiliated with the Royal Canadian Golf Association are entering into the Dominion-wide tournament for the big Red Cross Thanksgiving drive, golfers will help to swell the efforts of the society considerably as a result of their efforts.

The prizes offered consist of life membership in the Red Cross Society, all of which have been donated. It is understood the membership is transferable in cash of those who are already life members of the society.

First Day. The committee in charge of the tournament have drawn up the following programme: Play will begin Friday, October 11, with a ladies' two-ball forenoon Calcutta elimination 18-hole handicap match play.

Second Day. On Saturday, October 12, the first round in the men's two-ball forenoon 18-hole Calcutta handicap match play.

Thanksgiving Day, Monday, October 14, 9 to 11 a. m., Royal Canadian Golf Association, men's single 18-hole handicap, medal play.

Ladies Serve Tea. The ladies of the club will serve both lunch and tea in the club-house on Thanksgiving Day to both players and visitors.

TELLS HOW BASEBALL IS KING OVER THERE

Speaking at the Empress Hotel last night Lieut. Joan Arnold, of the Soldiers' Comfort Commission, told how baseball is apparently the favorite sport of the boys in the war zone.

CHANCES ARE GOOD OF ENTERING LEAGUE

That Victoria's prospects are good of entering the Pacific Coast Hockey League is gathered by a dispatch from Seattle. President Frank Patrick with other league directors, have gone over the situation and while no action was taken the officials were optimistic as to the future of the game.

AMATEUR HOCKEY IS IN FOR GOOD SEASON

Vancouver, Shipyard Workers Are Also Talking of Organizing League

Vancouver, Oct. 5.—The amateur hockey game is in for a good season if one is to judge by the enthusiasm the boys are displaying. There is already talk of several new leagues being organized in the city and Frank Patzick will have his troubles when he starts to allocate them practice nights at the arena.

Norman Fowler, former crack goal-keeper of the Seattle Metros, who left Vancouver to undergo training at Toronto with the Royal Air Force, failed to make the grade for the flying service and is now in the Canadian Expeditionary Force which will go to Siberia.

PLUM WARNER FAVORS MINISTRY OF SPORTS

London, Oct. 5.—The Referee says: And here is Capt. P. Warner advocating the establishment of a national ministry, a ministry of sport, an off-shoot of a ministry of health! One of his governing motives if he were at the head of it, as he says he would like to be, would be, needless to say, the furtherance of cricket, not, however, to the detriment of other games.

YOUNG PETER JACKSON TRYING TO COME BACK

Young Peter Jackson, who was a fighter when a lot of the young fellows now watching scraps were just taking a peep at old Mother Earth, tells the San Francisco promoters he wants a fling at the four-round game.

"I'm no kid," he told the boys down South, "but I reckon I can get by with the four-round game. I haven't felt as well in years as right now. Any of these heavyweights will suit me, and I'm not going to do any picking."

ATHLETE WOUNDED

A Y.M.C.A. footballer, basketball player, swimmer and all round athlete, Pte. Roy Wellington Hatch has been admitted to hospital in Cardiff with wounds in the knee. He left Victoria with the 162nd Battalion in July, 1916, and before going overseas took part in many sporting events of the city.

FOUNDATION RUGBY MEN.

The Foundation Company players are getting busy on the oval ball game. Billy Kennedy, acting captain in the handling code, has called a meeting for Monday night of all interested in the Rugby game to line up players enough to get the practice started with a view of selecting players to represent the Foundation Athletic Association in the fight for the trophies.

FOUR VARIETIES OF SPORT ON SCHEDULE

Men of U. S. Training Ships Take Part in Various Events

Soccer, boxing, baseball and tug-of-war make up the Saturday sporting fixtures of the city. A scratch cricket game was originally on the schedule, but was struck off on account of the weather prospects, which were far from encouraging overnight for the summer game.

At the Royal Athletic Park, the programme was opened by the ladies' baseball club, which made a reappearance against the American officers, and basketball will be the chief feature of the athletic activities for the present.

GREAT MONEY RAISER.

New York, Oct. 5.—"Chick" Evans tops all amateurs in raising funds for the American Red Cross, having been instrumental in collecting more than $100,000 in forty matches. Jim Barnes leads the professionals with $75,000 in thirty-five contests.

NEW LEASE OF LIFE FOR GRIDIRON GAME

Universities of U. S. A. Will Carry Out Programme Originally Planned

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Football schedules of the "Big Ten" universities were given new life instead of a death sentence at a special meeting yesterday of western conference faculty representatives.

Prof. Thomas E. French, of Ohio State University, who presented the athletic situation to Col. H. T. Ross, in charge of the student army training corps, told the faculty representatives that the War Department was strongly in favor of intercollegiate athletics, particularly football, because of its value in military training, and desired to encourage competition.

WOMEN OF SHIPYARDS ORGANIZE FOR SPORTS

Nearly all of the twenty women employees of the Foundation Company were enrolled at a meeting held this afternoon in the sports section of the Foundation Company Ladies' Social Club, which was formally organized, and basketball will be the chief feature of the athletic activities for the present.

BOYS ARE URGED TO REGISTER EARLY

Conference Delegates Will Arrive From Vancouver on Friday; Mass Meetings

Delegates' registration forms are already beginning to reach the secretary's office for the Provincial Boys' Work Conference to open in this city next Friday.

The Conference boat will leave Vancouver at 10.30 a. m. on Friday, bringing both speakers and delegates for the opening sessions on Friday night. The visitors will be billeted in local homes from Friday afternoon to Monday morning.

Metropolitan Methodist Church. On Sunday afternoon mass meetings will be held in St. John's Anglican and First Presbyterian Churches. Boys of fifteen and over will attend the Metropolitan Methodist Church. Addresses to older girls will be given in the First Presbyterian Church, and a special meeting of the parents and adults will be held in St. John's Anglican Church.

HEAVY SCORING IN FRIENDLY BASKETBALL

Playing at the James Bay court, the home team obtained the decision by 100 goals to 41 against the Crusaders at the 15-m. weight. The James Bay men who have been practicing hard have a speedy clever bunch of boys, who are anticipating carrying everything before them in the intermediate league if also organized, and judging from their play yesterday they have good reason for their optimism.

SKATING CHAMPION DEAD. Montreal, Oct. 5.—The death is announced of Archie Mason, former international amateur backward skating champion, after a brief attack of typhoid fever. Mason was a popular member of the M. A. A., a wonderful backward skater and a noted long-distance swimmer. It was only on Labor Day that he swam over a mile in Lake St. Louis, and it is thought that the great exertion on a cold day had something to do with his attack of the illness which laid him low. He was only twenty-nine years of age and has one brother, Stewart, in France. Another brother, Thomas E., is married in this city. He was a great friend of Russell Wheeler, another amateur skating champion.

DIVER CAPTAIN HAD KNOWLEDGE OF COAST

Skipper Recognized Submarine Commander as Former Tug Wheelman

Vancouver, Oct. 5.—A special dispatch to The Province from its Ottawa correspondent says an interesting story has been reported to Ottawa by the skipper of one of the fishing schooners, which was sunk by a German submarine in the Bay of Fundy. This particular skipper was taken on board the submarine before being set adrift. To his surprise he recognized the submarine captain as a former wheelman on a tugboat at St. John, N.B. The submarine captain was kind to his old friend, and even showed him the machinery and operations of the submarine.

Apparently the submarine captain had been sent to Canada to operate on account of his knowledge of the Nova Scotia and New Brunswick coastline. The authorities in Ottawa believe he was likely sent to Canada for the particular purpose of becoming acquainted with the Canadian coast.

BOILERS FAILED AT CRITICAL TIME

Steamer War Nootka Forced to Put Into an Atlantic Port for Repairs

Boiler trouble appears to be a chronic malady with the initial ships of the I. M. B. fleet sent to sea.

Following the reports reaching here that the War Selkirk had been towed into a southern port in a crippled condition, it has been learned that the War Nootka, the second vessel to be completed, experienced similar trouble on the Atlantic side.

An engineer resident in this city has received the following letter from one of the engine-room staff on the War Nootka, which tells its own tale: "We arrived here (name deleted) a few days ago, you will then see, if your imagination is any good, that we have not had a very pleasant voyage."

"Of course it was only the expected that happened, but I don't think anybody expected it to happen so quickly, or so often.

Tubes Stopped Up.

"I won't worry you by giving you details of what we have gone through. The time we have been on the voyage, putting into (name deleted) on one boiler, and that absolutely done and ten days' hard work there with short help, tells its own tale to you. At first we had engine trouble, main and auxiliary. Before seven days we had been at every part of her. Then we began to have trouble. The boilers started, we have twenty tubes stopped up now, and I can tell you the times we went into those boilers, and the heat of them nearly cost three of us our health."

The letter goes on to say that the ship will not be allowed to proceed until she has been made O. K. The letter contains reference to the War Yukon, which "has since been reported at her destination, and concludes with "We don't see the War Songhee yet."

COMOX AS FIREBOAT

Famous Little Craft, Recently Sold, Offered to Vancouver for $6,000.

Vancouver, Oct. 5.—The hull of the old steamer Comox, which was sold to the Vancouver Machinery Depot by the Union Steamship Company some months ago, has been offered the City Fire and Police Committee by the owners to be used as a fire boat, the price being $6,000. The matter was referred to the joint fireboat committee.

The Comox is 101 feet long, 18 feet beam and 6.5 feet deep. She is one of the first passenger boats that ever plied out of this port, having been assembled on Coal Harbor over twenty-five years ago. Recently her engines were taken out and placed in another hull, the intention of the owners being to make the Comox a gasoline craft.

SHIPYARD NEWSPAPER CREATES INTEREST

"Shipyard Shavings," Official Organ of the Foundation Employees, Makes Appearance

"Glad to know that Victoria intends to publish a paper. Nothing helps so much to promote the get-together spirit as a paper of this kind. We have every reason to feel proud that the French Government has placed this contract with us and depends on us to give them the ships they are so badly in need of. No better place exists for the budding of wooden ships than British Columbia. I wish you every success with the paper."

Shipyard Shavings, the Foundation Company's weekly newspaper, published with the object of boosting fellowship and enterprise, made its initial appearance to-day, and the above is the message of encouragement forwarded to Manager H. B. Pickering by President Franklin Benetson.

It is the object of the Foundation Company, according to Manager Pickering, to make the shipyard periodical a bright and breezy news source for the "special benefit" of the shipyard workers who are expected to take a personal interest in and contribute to its columns.

The first issue of Shipyard Shavings is brightly illustrated and has a newsworthy appearance. It contains a list of the several hundred employees of the Foundation Company knocked-off work at midday to-day each one packed away with him a copy of the newspaper. Great interest is being taken in the paper by the workers, which assures its future success.

REPAIRS COMPLETED TO STEAMER BROMELA

Yarrows, Ltd., Making Good Progress on Canada Maru Contract

Repairs to the American-United steamship Bromela, of the United States Shipping Board, which put into Esquimalt on Wednesday with her engines disabled, have been completed at Yarrows, Ltd. The Bromela is now continuing her passage from Comox to Honolulu with a cargo of coal. For the return passage she will load sugar at the Hawaiian port for San Francisco.

Yarrows, Ltd., have the Canada Maru repair contract well in hand. Practically all the damaged plates have been removed from the forward part of the ship. The work, however, is of such an extensive nature, that it is at present impossible to predict when the big steamship will be ready for commission. It is probable that the original estimate of three months from the start of the contract, will be lowered.

MUTINOUS SEAMAN SHOT BY MASTER OF PERUVIAN SHIP

Capt. Caidenos, of Schooner Falcon, Used His Revolver in Self-Defence

Port Townsend, Oct. 5.—While the Peruvian schooner Falcon, bound from Seattle to Seattle, was being tossed by a tempestuous sea, a mutiny was prevailing aboard the craft, as a result of a sailor named Luan Villanueva attempting to run the vessel and create discord among the crew.

When the mate attempted to enforce discipline Villanueva assaulted him with an iron bar, compelling the mate to take refuge in the captain's cabin. Later, when Villanueva was at the wheel he refused to steer the course given him by the master, who upbraided him for disobeying orders.

Villanueva drew a knife and made a rush at Capt. P. Caidenos, who, realizing that his life was in danger, shot Villanueva, the bullet piercing his heart. The knife which he held in his hand grazed the captain's shoulder as the sailor fell. After the death of Villanueva no more trouble occurred aboard the schooner.

According to Capt. Caidenos, from the time the schooner left port until the tragedy, forty-seven days later, Villanueva had caused trouble aboard the vessel, and on several occasions nearly succeeded in causing the crew to mutiny.

Upon arriving here yesterday morning he reported the matter to the United States quarantine officers and also forwarded an official report to the Peruvian consul at Seattle, who upon the Falcon's arrival at that port will make an investigation.

Capt. Caidenos regrets the killing of the sailor, but says that he was compelled to do so to protect his own life.

DEATH OF PIONEER

New Westminster, Oct. 5.—A real pioneer of British Columbia died on Thursday of heart failure on his ranch at Hall's Prairie in the person of Donald McPhaden, who came West in 1862 by the Panama route, dug for gold in the Cariboo and then opened a general store at Kamloops.

Coming to New Westminster in 1884, he started a store, and later was elected to the City Council. Lately he had a ranch at Hall's Prairie. Besides his widow he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. George Woods and Laura McPhaden; four sons, Charles, of San Diego; Alfred, of Vancouver; Duncan, serving overseas; and Victor.

SCHOONER RETURNS FROM ARCTIC CIRCLE

Bendor Brothers Brings Word That Polar Bear Reached Nome in Bad Condition

FURS DELIVERED TO HUDSON BAY COMPANY

Having penetrated the icy waters of the Arctic to 71 degrees north, the American auxiliary powered schooner Bendor Brothers, Capt. S. T. L. Whitlam, arrived in port this morning from Herschel Island with a valuable consignment of furs for the Hudson's Bay Company.

The Bendor Brothers, under charter to the Hudson's Bay Company, left Vancouver on July 19 last laden with supplies for the company's trading posts in the frigid zone. After a series of exciting adventures, the little vessel having been frozen in on several occasions while in the Behring Sea, the Bendor Brothers made a fair run down the coast, arriving here just two weeks out from Akutan.

Point Barrow was the most northerly point touched at by the vessel which got away from there on August 22, on the return trip, touching at Point Hope, 300 miles south of Point Barrow, Nome and Akutan.

Coming to Esquimalt.

The Bendor Brothers sailed from Nome on September 11, and Capt. Whitlam brought word that the Polar Bear, Stefansson's exploration ship, was there on her way to Esquimalt. The Polar Bear, which is commanded by Captain Hadley, had been damaged by the ice, her keel sheared off by the ice, and seams opened, and it was proposed to effect repairs before continuing the voyage south. She had just arrived from Barter Island.

When the Bendor Brothers left the Arctic no word had been received from Storker, Stefansson's party, which Stefansson has reported drifting on the ice in the northern latitudes. Captain Whitlam stated that Storker had three white companions and a party of Eskimos with him, and he is of the opinion that the party may be marooned for many months.

Jammed in Ice.

"We struck plenty of ice," said Capt. Whitlam, in making reference to the voyage of the Bendor Brothers, "and got jammed several times. The vessel was in a ticklish position on more than one occasion, but she got away whole. Capt. Whitlam is a seasoned navigator of Arctic waters, and he looks upon his most recent trip as a very ordinary cruise."

The Bendor Brothers is a 75-horsepower gas engine. She is owned by the Kuskokwim Fishing and Transportation Co., of Seattle.

Seven passengers came down on the vessel, N. E. Frankley, from the Hudson's Bay trading post at Herschel Island; Olaf Hansen, a fur trader from Point Barrow; John Swinson and Wm. Olsen, from Akutan, and Chas. H. Miller, John Venters and A. Sheftin, who boarded the craft at Nome.

Fifteen boxes of Arctic furs, numbering some 2,900 skins, and valued at approximately $40 apiece, were delivered by the Bendor Brothers this morning at the local branch of the Hudson's Bay Company. This valuable shipment included white fox, blue fox and silver grey skins.

Five Years in Arctic.

Among the passengers was Olaf Hansen, a typical Scandinavian, who has been at Point Barrow for the past five years trapping fur-bearing animals.

"Five years is sufficient for any man in the Arctic," commented Hansen, "so I sold out my trading post and headed for the South. It is never more than 50 below up there," he went on "but that is as cold as anybody wants it."

After the Karluk was lost in the ice in January, 1914, Stefansson, accompanied by Wilkins, Jenness, Burt Connelley, and other members of his party, was driven to Point Barrow, a distance of about 200 miles, and put in a few weeks at the most northerly Alaska point.

Entertained Stefansson.

At that time Hansen entertained Stefansson and his party at his trading post. He never saw Stefansson after that, although he intended to catch the Polar Bear at Point Barrow when the explorer came out of the Arctic. For some reason Hansen altered his plans, and took passage on the Bendor Brothers. Point Barrow village, according to Hansen, is peopled by eight white men and about 500 Eskimos.

Herschel Island, where the Bendor Brothers also touched at, is 400 miles east of Point Barrow. From here the Bendor Brothers this afternoon proceeded to Seattle.

MR. BURRELL AIDS VERNON CAMPAIGN FOR VICTORY LOAN

Vernon, B. C., Oct. 5.—Hon. Martin Burrell and Mrs. Burrell arrived here yesterday from Grand Forks. Last night Mr. Burrell addressed a meeting in the Board of Trade room, called to organize local committees for the Victory Loan campaign. Mayor S. A. Stratford presided, and the meeting also was addressed by W. T. Shatford, campaign manager for North and South Okanagan and part of the Similkameen district. Strong committees were formed, and no doubt it is anticipated that these districts will easily attain the objective of $1,000,000 set by the provincial executive.

ROOSEVELT VISITS BILLINGS, MONTANA

Billings, Mont., Oct. 5.—Nearly 19,000 out-of-town persons are here to-day for the programme incidental to the visit of Theodore Roosevelt. The colonel, escorted from the train to a hotel by a large number of cowpunchers and pioneers, was the guest at a trout breakfast. Following his speech this afternoon, a "chuck wagon" dinner will be served. Colonel Roosevelt was a stockman in Eastern Montana thirty years ago.

WAS PRISONER ON GERMAN RAIDER WOLF

Visiting American Officer From Training Station Was Master of Barque Beluga

Captain John S. Cameron, Port Captain at the West Seattle Training Station, is an affable and youthful looking officer whose unassuming manner would never lead anyone to believe that he had undergone one of the most trying experiences of the war. He is one of the guests of Victoria and the Home Products Fair in company with the American vessel's master, Captain Cameron, with his wife and little daughter, aged six, were prisoners on board the German raider Wolf. He was skipper of the barque Beluga, bound from San Francisco to Sidney with case oil. The vessel, one of 1,400 tons, was fifty-two days out from San Francisco and 900 miles to the eastward of Sydney, N. S. W., when, unknown to anyone on board they were spotted by an aeroplane from the Wolf, whose raddling activities were first reported by the Japanese on March 13, 1917.

Reported by Aeroplane.

The aeroplane flew back to the Wolf, and reported the small unarmoured vessel, and it was not long before Captain Cameron saw what he supposed to be a Japanese tramp steamer approaching, but it was soon disclosed to be a heavily armed auxiliary cruiser. A shot was fired across the Beluga's bows, and she was commanded to heave to. After taking Captain Cameron and his family and the crew of the Beluga aboard the Wolf, the little vessel was sunk by gunfire, but not before the Germans had repossessed their ship and taken a good supply of petrol for their flying machine. "The way of the thing was that the petrol was for the Flying Corps in Sydney," said the skipper to The Times yesterday.

Witnessed Captures.

The Beluga was the first American vessel captured by the Wolf, and also the first American ship taken after the United States entered the war. Captain Cameron witnessed the capture or destruction of fourteen vessels during the time he was held prisoner, the most notable of which was the Japanese steamer Hitachi Maru, valued at $5,000,000 sterling, and carrying zinc, copper, rubber, silk and tea. In capturing her, the Germans killed sixteen of the crew, as the ship started to run away and was shelled.

During the nine months' cruise Captain Cameron states that the Wolf roamed the Southern Pacific, Indian Ocean, Java Sea, mixed the Port of Singapore, and paid a visit to the South Atlantic. She got stuck in the ice while trying to get around the north end of Iceland.

Finally Captain Cameron and his family were transferred to a Spanish prize vessel, the Egrotz Mendt, taken in the Indian Ocean, the latter being supposed to follow the Wolf to Germany, but was wrecked off the north end of Iceland, Denmark. The Danes took the eleven prisoners off the vessel, and treated them with extreme kindness. The 450 prisoners on the Wolf were taken on board that vessel to Germany.

Spies Captured.

Captain Cameron and his family arrived in the United States in due course, travelling by way of Halifax. He spoke very highly of the wonderful alertness of the Canadian authorities at the latter port. Word had been received in advance that there were German spies on board.

When the liner docked the officials literally tore the ship to pieces to find evidence, and not a single article was overlooked. One woman had an innocent-looking Bible in which officers discovered pages cleverly replaced with others bearing messages which to all appearances might have been of scripture.

Up to the time of the capture of the Hitachi Maru, Captain Cameron had the run of the berth deck on the Wolf, as he was one of those referred to as "topside prisoners," but after the capture of the big vessel there were about fifty other "topside" prisoners, and they were therefore restricted to certain districts.

Prisoners Starved.

Captain Narzer was commander of the Wolf, and the treatment of prisoners under him was considerable. But the treatment under Lieut. Hoyer, of the Egrotz Mendt was of the Hun brand. The prisoners were starved and ill-treated. From a weight of 186 pounds, Captain Cameron on reaching Denmark had dropped to 124, and Mrs. Cameron from 134 to 92 pounds.

The officers on the Wolf laughed at the idea of the United States entering the war, and would not believe that the country was in earnest, as they figured that it would take three years to train any sort of an army, and that when trained there would be no ships in which to get them overseas.

BORNEO MARU HAS BIG LOCAL CARGO

O. S. K. Freighter Will Reach Here To-morrow With 1,000 Tons

Bringing in approximately one thousand tons of general cargo manifested for delivery at this port, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha freighter, Borneo Maru is now expected to arrive to-morrow morning from the Orient.

The Borneo Maru was due to reach here to-day from Japan, but according to the latest reports she will not be able to make quarantine before sundown to-day.

The Borneo Maru will be the fifth vessel flying the houseflag of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha to arrive at this port within two weeks. The steamers Kofuku Maru and Kureha Maru arrived on September 22, and on Thursday last the new freighter Altai Maru were in port.

CONSTRUCTION WORK PROGRESSING Apace

Hopeful Outlook for Freight Traffic Over P. G. E. Clin- ton Extension

According to advices reaching Premier Oliver this morning, construction on the Pacific Great Eastern extension to the north of the Clinton section is progressing apace.

Eight miles of track have already been laid and distribution of 25,000 ties effected. Nineteen miles of telephone poles are now being erected and incidental matters providing for connecting links throughout the whole stretch have been attended to.

The structure known as Bridge 132 has been completely on its full length of 300 feet. Thirty per cent. of the construction work on Bridge No. 133 has so far been completed. Two bridges are all of the pile and bent variety.

Twelve boarding cars are already at the point of activity and some two hundred men engaged on the work. Contracts for the manufacture of ties have been let to some half dozen local mills along the line of the railway.

Similarly has the contract been let for the erection of freight sheds and station at the Seventy-Mile crossing of the Cariboo road.

A glimpse into the future possibilities of cattle shipments over the line of the P. G. E. is the conservative estimate furnished to the Premier indicating that between 4,000 and 8,000 head of beef stock will be shipped from the contiguous ranges during this fall season.

Other sources of freight for the Government line are suggested by the fact that a railway siding from Mons to a deposit of bog iron a mile distant is now under course of construction, while at Clinton there are some eight hundred tons of Epsom salts, recovered from one of the nearby lakes, waiting shipment.

An Atlantic merchant has frequent occasion to rebuke Ike, his darky porter, for his tardiness in reporting for duty in the morning. Ike is always ready with a more or less ingenious excuse, relates The Atlantic Journal. "You're two hours late, Ike," exclaimed the employer one morning. "This sort of thing must stop. Otherwise I'm going to fire you. Understand?" "Deed, Mistah Edward," replied Ike, "it wasn't mah fault dis time. Hones. I was kicked by a mule." "Kicked by a mule? Well, even if that were so, it wouldn't delay you for more than an hour. You'll have to think of a better excuse than that," Ike looked aggrieved. "Mistah Edward," he continued, solemnly, "it might have been all right, ef dot mule kicked me in dis direction, but he didn't—he kicked me de odder way."

GALLANT NAVAL COMMANDER'S HOUSE MAKES APPROPRIATE REFLECTION

18COYD PARK, THE HOME OF THE LATE COMMANDER GODSAL

It is a coincidence, and an appropriate coincidence, if such a thing is possible, that the photograph published above of the west front of 18coyde Park, the home of the late Commander Alfred R. N. Godsall, who gave up his life for his country on the deck of the Vindictive, should show the stately residence reflecting in the waters running in front of the house, a realistic picture of a battleship forging ahead at full speed with the sea dashing over amidships and even a lighthouse is included in the optical illusion which can be seen in advance of the natural looking funnels. The grass on the far side of the water when the picture is reversed gives an appearance of cliffs in the background.

The picture has been received by his uncle in Victoria, together with clippings which show with what gallantry the commander participated in the daring attacks on Zebrugge and Ostend Harbors. He volunteered for service in the attempt to Ostend and Zebrugge and on the "Britannic" he was the leader of the Ostend operation. He came through this trying ordeal with a slight wound, and again volunteered for the second attempt on Ostend and was given the command of the Vindictive, in which he met his death, just as the ship had been brought to her position. The ship became a target for the German guns and was hit repeatedly. Upper and lower bridges and chart-room were swept by bullets. The conning tower, where the commander was, was struck by a shell, and it is presumed killed Commander Godsall for a second time. The ship before being left to rest on the bottom of the channel failed to discover his body. The French Croix de Guerre had been conferred upon the commander, and it is thought he would also have been decorated with the D.S.O. had he lived.

An Advertisement by Charles Dickens

CHARLES DICKENS is one of the world's great teachers. Here is what he has to say in one of his books:

"My other piece of advice, Copperfield," said Mr. Micawber, "you know. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £19.19.6—result, happiness. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £20.0.6—result misery. The blossom is blighted, the leaf is withered, the God of Day goes down upon the dreary scene, and—and in short, you are forever floored. As I am."

The saving of a part of one's income was always a good policy.

Prudent men and women have always maintained a margin of saving.

But to-day we must go farther in our efforts to save than ever before.

To-day it is a matter of the gravest importance that each Canadian seek ways and means to economize by cutting down expenditures for unnecessary things, saving the money he spends on things he could do without, so that when the Nation needs to borrow money he will be in a position to do his full duty.

There is war-shortening work waiting for every dollar that can be saved.

If CHARLES DICKENS were writing to Canadians to-day he would probably give us advice to this effect:

"My other piece of advice, Canadians, you know. No matter what percentage of your annual income you have previously saved, your efforts to-day should be to save more. The advantage of so doing is threefold: By the practice of economy you conserve the material and labor which must be devoted to the grim task before us; you cultivate the priceless habit of thrift; you gather more and more money to lend to the Nation for the prosecution of the war to a quick and certain Victory."

ISLAND CONSTRUCTION TO COMMENCE EARLY

C. N. R. Will Collect More
Rails From Squamish on Monday Next

An end to the delay in the laying of steel on the Canadian Northern Railway extension between Luxton and Nitinat would appear to be in sight, if the telegram received by Premier Oliver this morning may be taken as any indication.

General Manager Courtenay, of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, informs Mr. Oliver that arrangements have been made between himself and the officials of the Canadian Northern Railway Company for the removal of P. G. E. rails on loan to the Dominion Government—to be commenced on Monday next.

The supply of steel will be taken from the Squamish stocks and will be brought direct to the Patricia Bay sidings for disposition as required.

Several cars have already arrived there from the diverted consignments originally intended for construction on the P. G. E. in accordance with the arrangements entered into between the Province and the Federal Government. The rails in question are on loan to the Dominion, and, under the agreement reached by Mr. Oliver and Dr. Reid a few weeks ago, will be replaced either in cash or steel at the earliest possible moment.

Although Mr. Oliver has had no reply to his wire forwarded by the Hon. Frank Cochrane, in his capacity as acting Minister of Railways and Canals, to D. B. Hanns, Chairman of the Executive of the Canadian Northern Railway Company, he interprets the suggestion of prompt action contained in Mr. Courtenay's advice this morning as the desired movement leading to the early fulfilment of the Dominion Government's pledge in connection with the Island line.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

Major-General Newburn is Expected to Reach Vancouver on Monday Next.

According to information reaching Major General Leckie this morning Major General E. C. Ashton, Adjutant General of the Forces in Canada, will pay an official visit to the headquarters of this Military District early next week.

As already stated in these columns Major General Biggar will accompany Major General Leckie, on his trip to British Columbia and it is expected that the distinguished officers will reach Vancouver on Monday next.

General Leckie, G.O.C., M.D. 11, accompanied by Major M. V. McGuire, General Staff Officer, will go over to the Terminal City on this evening's boat to meet the Minister in Vancouver on Monday.

Corporal Bilkins had arrived in France after a few days in England. "How much money have you got left?" asked Corporal Wilkins. "Well, I've got six shillings, a quid, two farthings, nine pence, a franc, half a pound, four sous and fifty centimes, but I've only got two dollars in cash."—Camp Dodgers.

NOW OVER TWENTY CASES OF SPANISH GRIPPE IN SEATTLE
Seattle, Oct. 5.—Twenty cases of influenza have been reported to the city health authorities up to this morning, according to Dr. J. H. McBride, health commissioner. One death attributed directly to the disease was reported yesterday.

GREAT DISASTER IN NORTH NEW JERSEY
Fire and Explosions in Munitions Plant; About 150 Persons Killed

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Oct. 5.—After more than eighteen hours of terror, a dozen towns in Northern New Jersey were in a battered condition this afternoon as a consequence of the munitions disaster which visited the district last night with a trail of tremendous explosions and raging fires which continued throughout to-day.
At the $18,000,000 shell-making plant, one of the greatest of its kind in the world, of T. A. Gillespie & Company, situated at Morgan, N. J., an explosion started the fire. Detonation followed upon detonation, and these repeatedly shook the terrain for a radius of fifty miles, including New York City.
With the situation at Morgan such that firemen, soldiers, sailors and civilian workers found it impossible to penetrate to a zone within two miles of the Gillespie plant, no definite estimate can be made of the number of persons who perished. The flames,

BIRTHS, MARRIAGES AND DEATHS

DIED.
HILL—Officially reported killed in action on Sept. 2. Somewhere in France, while serving with the Tenth Battery, Signalers, R. F. Hill, only brother of Mrs. A. O. Noakes and Mrs. R. H. Simmons, of this city.
BROWN—On October 2, 1918, at the residence, 1328 Balmoral Road, William James Worsfold Brown, a native of London, England, aged 29 years. The deceased was a member of the staff of the Provincial Lands Department, and had been a resident of the city for five years.
The remains will repose at the B. C. Funeral Chapel until Tuesday morning. The funeral will take place on Tuesday, Oct. 8, at 2.30, from the residence, and 2.15 from St. Barnabas Church.
MACLACHLAN—At St. John's, Que., Military Hospital, on September 29, 1918, Albert Roy MacLachlan, aged 27 years, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. MacLachlan, 72 Bloss Street.
Funeral will take place from residence on Monday, October 7, at 2 p. m. Interment in Ross Bay Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. E. I. Sommerville and family take this opportunity of expressing their heartfelt thanks to their many friends for kind and loving words of sympathy during their recent sad bereavement in loss of a loving husband and father. Especially to officers and members of Columbia Lodge, No. 2, L. O. O. F., for constant attention and help during this long illness.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. D. Tough and son, of 378 Portage Avenue, wish to thank their many friends for the sympathy and many beautiful flowers sent during their recent sad bereavement.

burning unopposed, threaten two great munitions plants in the vicinity.
Unofficial estimates place the dead at upward of 157. The night shift is known to have numbered 2,000 persons.
Fourteen bodies are reported to have been identified. That others are in the ruins is believed likely. It is feared some men were destroyed and that no trace of them will be found.
Communities surrounding Morgan with populations totalling more than 60,000 were evacuated almost as completely as if they were in the European war zone.
Homes have been ruined and the roads leading out of the devastated districts were thronged all last night and all to-day with men, women and children fleeing to points of safety.
The Atlantic division of the American Red Cross dispatched ambulances, motor canteens and automobiles containing physicians, nurses, and social workers into Northern New Jersey. Hot soup, sandwiches and other food were served to the hungry and tent colonies were put up.
More than 500 of the Gillespie employees were accounted for this afternoon.
Mr. Gillespie placed the damage to his property at $12,000,000 and said that the explosives, owned by the Government, were worth $20,000,000. He estimated the damage in the vicinity to be another $10,000,000.
"Probably the disaster was caused by the explosion of a kettle in one of the units," he said.

Subways Closed.

New York, Oct. 5.—Upon receiving information shortly before 2.30 o'clock this afternoon that further explosions at the Morgan, N. J., munitions plant were imminent, Mayor Hylan and the Public Service Commission, after a conference with the fire department authorities, ordered the closing of the subways under the East and North Rivers. The order went into effect immediately.
The East River bridges, carrying subway, elevated, trolley and vehicular traffic, were closed temporarily, isolating Brooklyn from connection with Manhattan, except by ferry.
The city was shaken again at noon by another series of terrific explosions at Perth Amboy.

LEADER OF FAMOUS STORK ESCADRILLE IS KILLED IN FRANCE

Paris, Oct. 5.—Captain Raymond, commander of the famous "Stork" escadrille, has died in a hospital at Chalons-sur-Marne of injuries received in an accident.
JAMES S. STOKES DEAD.
New York, Oct. 5.—James S. Stokes, banker, lawyer and philanthropist, died last night at his summer home in Ridgefield, Conn., according to word received here. Mr. Stokes was widely known for his work in the Y. M. C. A. both in America and abroad, and had been decorated by France, Russia and Italy.

DIED IN OLYMPIA.

79,000 Turks Taken By Allied Forces In Palestine Field
London, Oct. 5.—4.30 p. m.—About 71,000 Turks have been taken prisoner by General Allenby's forces since the commencement of the British operations in Palestine and Syria, according to a statement issued to-night by the War Office. This is in addition to 8,000 prisoners claimed by the Arab army.
Three hundred and fifty Turkish guns were taken.

TRANSPORTATION OF AMERICAN TROOPS
Figures Prove Failure of U. Boats to Interfere With Movement
London, Oct. 5.—(Reuters.)—Of the more than 1,800,000 American soldiers transported to Europe up to the end of September, nearly 1,000,000 were carried in British or French-controlled ships. American vessels carried 786,000, and the remainder were brought across the Atlantic on French and Italian ships.
To ensure the safety of this enormous amount of work for the Allied fleets, the British navy has done seventy per cent of the conveying, the American fleet twenty-seven per cent, and the French fleet three per cent.
During September 311,219 American troops, 4,000 United States bluejackets and 5,000 Canadian troops were brought across the Atlantic. American vessels brought 121,547, or thirty-nine per cent of the total of the 311,219 American troops reaching Europe in September, 153,246 landed in France. The remainder came to England.
July was a big month, with 317,000 arrivals, but September ran it a very close second, and actually topped it when the Canadians and the American bluejackets are taken into account. The largest single convoy reaching France from the United States last month numbered 21,108, and the largest September convoy reaching British shores numbered 25,873.
The figures help to emphasize what is being realized more fully here, and doubtless in Germany also—the enormous contribution the United States is making to the common cause of the Allies. They also bring out the strength of the British navy and the failure of the German submarines to prevent the arrival of American troops.

CHICAGO GRAINS WERE IRREGULAR
(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.)
Chicago, Oct. 5.—Sentiment in the corn trade was mixed; the crowd was cautious, being disposed to even up. Receipts were liberal and shipping demand slow. Country consignments and requests for permits were large. Forecast and climatic conditions were favorable. The undertone in oats at the close was firm. Spot oats was in good demand. Receipts were light and are expected to continue so, as farmers show no signs of being alarmed over the break in corn, but are holding out.

WEEK-END REALIZING IN NEW YORK
Oil and Shipping Shares Weak; Steels Comparatively Firm
(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.)
New York, Oct. 5.—The active week's trading closed with profit taking. The market to-day saw recessions in the oil and shipping shares which have been most favored by the speculative following. The weakness in these stocks caused dullness in the steel group from which week holders were inclined to retire. American International Corporation has been attracting considerable attention of late, the careful investor looking with favor on the strong personnel of the company.

LAST NIGHT'S GALE CAUSED SOME DAMAGE

Fruit Suffered When Wind
Rose to Sixty Miles an Hour

Though nothing really serious resulted, considerable damage was done by last night's gale, which sometimes reached the high intensity of sixty miles an hour. The gardens and trees of the city seem to have been the chief victims of the storm's fury, and much fruit, it is feared, was destroyed. The storm, as Victorians have reason to know, began between 5 and 6 o'clock, and the worst hour was from 6 to 7, when the average speed of the wind was fifty-one miles an hour. Later on in the evening, during squalls and occasional five-minute gusts it reached the mile-a-minute point, but its average rate from 6 o'clock to 7, according to the records compiled by the Meteorological Observatory was forty miles an hour. Last night's gale ushered in the winter season, say the weather authorities, but it also probably began a period of uncertain length during which Victoria will, it is hoped, enjoy some sunshine. The storm has not en-irely passed over the city, however, as the varying conditions to-day show. It has notwithstanding cleared the air. The storm was by no means confined to Victoria, but extended from Prince Rupert all along the coast southward, and now it is proceeding inland right across the province. Early this morning the barometer stood at twenty-nine, and the centre of the storm was then over the Island. The chief damage last night in Victoria seems to have been in the gardens, many of which suffered very seriously, whole beds of chrysanthemums, dahlias and asters being rooted up, and scattered about. A large oak tree was torn from its position on Burdett Avenue, breaking the electric light and telephone wires in its fall. The boulevard trees in different parts of the city, were also severely damaged, and in the business section awnings and windows were the chief prey of the gale.

W. A. JAMESON SAYS ORGANIZATION IS SECRET OF SUCCESS

Speakers at Exhibitors' Luncheon Praise Spirit of Co-operation

AMERICAN DAY ENDS FAIR; RECORD CROWD

To-day will furnish the record attendance for Victoria's 1918 Home Products Fair. The attractions for this afternoon and evening are ahead of anything staged during the week, and special arrangements have been made with the Fifth Regiment Orchestra for a programme of music from 7 until 11 p. m.

As hundreds of school children attended the Fair this afternoon the management arranged for the little Davies twins to put on a sparring exhibition, and the demonstration of the manly art of self-defence was cleverly executed to the delight and appreciation of the large audience.

This is American Day at the Fair, and this evening the men from the U. S. Training Ships Chippewa and Iroquois will take part in the programme, including Instructor Holly, a whistler of extraordinary ability, a Hoopa Hoopa dance by A. B. Harry T. Cowan, violin selections by A. B. Craig, of the Iroquois, and a vocal quartette consisting of Messrs. Norwood, Moore, Berstrum and Carson. The Fair will not conclude until 11 o'clock this evening.

Exhibitors' Luncheon. An exhibitors' luncheon this afternoon was served by the King's Daughters. L. D. Rines acted as Chairman, and after a roll-call of those present W. A. Jameson gave a short address on "Organization."

Mr. Jameson favored a "Get together" spirit. The result of the Home Products Fair was a tangible proof of the benefits to be derived therefrom. The Board of Trade had taken the matter up, and the Manufacturers' section of the Board was determined to reach out and get in touch with all other bodies having the interests of the city at heart. There was such a thing as too much overlapping, and overlapping meant loss of efficiency, needless expense and hampered effort.

CHAPLAIN DEPARTS

Captain S. A. Martin, Chaplain for the Victoria Military Area, Leaves for Overseas To-night.

Captain S. A. Martin, Chaplain for the Victoria Military Area since June last, will leave the city to-night en route for Ottawa and overseas service.

After taking official instructions at the National Capital he will proceed direct to London and report at the headquarters of the Canadian Chaplain Services, Oxford House, London.

Prior to June of the present year Captain Martin was the pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Dauphin, Manitoba, and the Victoria charge was his first acquaintance with military duties.

Mrs. Martin and family will continue to reside in Victoria during her husband's absence overseas.

Fire Report—Loss by fire in Victoria during September, amounted to $762, buildings being damaged to the extent of $488, and contents $274. The buildings and contents were covered by insurance of $3,700. During the month eleven Fire Prevention Notices were served, 101 rubbish burning permits were granted, and 361 buildings were inspected by the Fire Prevention Squad. The Department received twenty-eight box alarms.

For Thrift

TO win the war, Money is needed. So that—Thrift is a War Service. Every dollar you save instead of spending thoughtlessly, releases labour in some form—labour sorely needed for war purposes.

Thrift is enforced in the use of many things today, such as flour, sugar, and coal, by the simple expedient of limiting the amount one may buy.

But thousands of extravagant habits flourish unchecked, and these are contributory hindrances to an early peace. Such habits are accomplices of the Kaiser.

For instance, there is no excuse for a man hiring another man to shave him. It wastes time, money and vital labour. You can shave yourself better with a Gillette Safety Razor in five minutes.

Buy a Gillette and wipe out the dollar a week expense. At the end of a year you have saved practically $52.

With such a saving you can buy a $50 War Bond (the purchase of which enables the Government to produce 15,000 cartridges), and you still have the finest razor in the world, good for an unlimited number of inimitable daily shaves—shaves that leave the skin perfectly smooth. The touch of the Gillette is thoroughly agreeable to the most tender skin.

Thrift will help to win the war. Gillette Razors are doing their share—at home and at the front.

THE BOYS "OVER THERE"
Don't forget the boys "over there" use and lose more Gillette Blades than you would. Make a practice of enclosing a packet of blades in letters going overseas. Keep a CARTON of packets handy.

Any jeweler, druggist, or hardware dealer will be glad to show you his assortment of Gillette Razors today. The price is five dollars.

Mr. Jameson, as an illustration, pointed out that he belonged to about twenty-four organizations, the fees in each case amounting to about twenty-five dollars, and the objects of each organization were to a great extent the same. He advocated the union of all smaller associations into one powerful institution.

"Before the war we could get along alone with a certain amount of assurance, but under the present uncertain conditions it is difficult to cope with the situation without co-operation," said Mr. Jameson. "The secret of success to-day in any line is organization and co-operation. You find it even in the beehive and the anthill. If organization we learn to know each other and understand the worries to be contended with and to sympathize with them," he remarked, concluding with an appeal for all interests to get together, with the Board of Trade organization as a nucleus.

A number of speakers followed in the same strain, and the meeting concluded with a determination to get down to practical working organization methods. Mayor Todd and Alderman Andros were guests at the luncheon at the request of the exhibitors.

Removal of Exhibits. The announcement is made that the Bridge Doll, donated by Mrs. Postgate Fowler of the Bee Hive, which has been on exhibition at the Fair, and is raffled for the benefit of the James Bay Red Cross, will be drawn for at the James Bay Red Cross Rooms, Menzies Street, at 10 o'clock Monday morning, and the result will be announced in the press on Monday afternoon.

In connection with the prizes awarded in the Women's Competition at the Fair, it is announced that they will be given out at the City Treasurer's Office, City Hall, beginning Monday morning. Exhibitors will find the Hudson's Bay Building open on Monday for the removal of exhibits.

The Vocational Branch of the Invalid Soldiers' Commission is very gratified at the kindly interest taken by the thousands of visitors to their exhibit. It has been a source of great pleasure to the Returned Soldiers to place on record some tangible proof of the work that is being carried on under the direction of the I. S. C. in the various hospitals on this Island.

Local Patriotic Overseas.—Not only as a shipbuilding centre and port in the fame of Victoria spreading, but her reputation as an agricultural city is also being noised abroad. The Home Products Fair has contributed to this result through more than one channel, the latest occurrence calculated to enhance the reputation of local vacant lot cultivators being the vegetarian triumph of Constable Wood. Some travelers from Tasmania saw Constable Wood's "Million Dollar" potatoes at the Fair, and decided that there were none like them in the Antipodes. They therefore purchased a sample and carried them away across the equator where, it is hoped, they will perpetuate the fame of Victoria.

RECORD ENTRIES FOR JUBILEE FAIR AT SAANICHTON

Fine Showing in Agricultural, Livestock and Women's Classes

FORMALLY OPENED BY F. A. PAULINE, M. P. P.

A fall fair representing practically every grower in Saanich and having among its exhibits some of the finest produce from this fertile section of Vancouver Island forms a fitting hallmark of the prosperity to which the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society has attained during the fifty years since its inauguration. In quality and number the exhibits are worthy of the jubilee occasion, and evidence of the rapid strides made in the past two years may be judged by the comparison between the number of entries. The total number in 1918 was 752; in 1917, 791, while up till 5 p.m. yesterday, 1918 entries had been received and more were expected in the cattle, swine and poultry classes.

Among the most striking features of the exhibition were the district exhibits, ranged around the walls of the agricultural hall at Saanichton, where the fair was formally opened to-day by F. A. Pauline. The introduction of this new feature necessitated the relocation of the Dominion Experimental Farm exhibit and the electrical display of Hawkins and Hayward to the smaller hall, which was last year reserved for the serving of refreshments. The general excellence of the root crops, in which class there were a surprising number of entries, calls for comment in view of the dryness of the past season, while the display of Scotch Peninsula as a fruit country, as in previous fairs of recent years the women's classes are well represented. The fine display of bottled fruits, fish and meat, would have brought joy to the heart of the most pessimistic and existing food-controller. In the Realm of Red Cross work, too, Saanich proves that the busiest farmer's wife can still find time to work for the men overseas. Of peculiar interest was the bundle of knitted socks of beautiful workmanship, made by Mrs. M. Ferguson, who, although over eighty years of age, has never once relaxed her efforts for the Red Cross since the outbreak of hostilities.

A creditable showing of the work of the children, both in their school studies and in the matter of profit from the school gardens occupies much of space in the galleries. Particularly interesting are the collections from the gardens of the Prospect Lake, Saanichton, Keatings, West Saanich and North-Dairy Schools.

Cattle, swine, horses and poultry were judged to-day. In the former class Holsteins and Jerseys predominate, Dr. S. F. Toimie, M.P., exhibiting several fine head of Holsteins. General purpose horses were the chief entries in the equine classes, while in the poultry, the number was far ahead of last year. In spite of the shortage of labor and the ever-increasing cost of feed the livestock exhibits are more numerous than ever, and indicate that this branch should be one of the strongest features of the Saanich fall fairs of the future.
