Nationalist Reporter Declares He Was Beaten up by Street Gang

Evidence That Feeling Runs High in Local Chinatown Over War News

From the city news beat of a reporter on a Victoria Chinese daily newspaper to the troubled city of Canton is a far cry but it was bridged in one jump this morning by a witness in the City Police Court who claimed fellow-ship with Dr. Sun Yat Sen, president of the provisional government of South China, now reported sheltering in an arsenal in Shanghai. A high state of tension in factional feeling arising out of late war news from Shanghai was in evidence in a hearing attended by crowded Chinese galleries.

The point arose during the trial of Chon Kee and Harry Hing Foo, mutually charging each other with assault and battery occasioning actual bodily harm. Joe Wong, local insurance agent, commission broker told the court that he belonged to the same organization as Harry Hing Foo. This was the Chinese Nationalist association which Dr. Sun Yat Sen was the head. Harry Hing Foo, said witness, was a reporter on The New Republic, a nationalist Chinese daily.

MINIATURE RIOT Witnesses for Harry Hing Foo told the court of a miniature riot on the streets of Chinatown when a body of men attacked the Nationalist reporter, belabored him with fists clenching iron weights and finally knocked him to the pavement in the centre of a body of cheering men. The details of the engagement are denied by the defendant Chon Kee who himself charges Harry Hing Foo with assault.

On opening the case for the nationalist complainant, W. C. Moreby stated that it was evident from the high in Chinatown that which no vindictive punishment was sought the prosecution wished to give the accused Chon Kee a lesson that would stop other outbreaks in the native quarter. The affair, to his mind was a serious one, that luckily ended without much more serious consequences than a few black eyes.

COVERING BEAT Harry Hing Foo, said counsel, was covering the city news beat for his newspaper, The New Republic. He had gone on Friday evening last to look at a building pointed by the Chinese Benevolent Society from Board of Trade sources in Hongkong. The report on the bulletin told of the $7,000,000 fire in Canton, it was intimated.

While Foo was copying this data, continued counsel, he was spoken to by Chon Kee, who called him hard names. Foo returned the nature on the head of Kee, and nothing more happened at that stage. Some hours later Foo, emerging from a poolroom on Government Street, was accosted by the accused Kee, submitted counsel, and the fight was on. It ended in Foo receiving a black eye, swollen lip, various contusions to the head and face, and the loss of his pair of horn-tipped spectacles.

Foo had been accompanied by two friends at the time, but he lost sight of them in the scuffle. Later he (concluded on page 2)

YOUNG MAN TRIED ON SPY CHARGES IS CITIZEN OF U.S. NOW

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 22.—Baron Herman Buderus von Carlshausen, known as the young spy during the Great War, when he was arrested eight times at the age of thirteen for alleged complicity in the blowing up of the Welland Canal in Canada and ammunition factories around Lake Hopacon, N.J., to-day will receive his final examination before being made a citizen of the United States. The young baron was cleared of all spy charges last year after he had fought six years to clear his name of the charges.

GIRL ON SHIP AWAITED IN QUEBEC IS MISSING

Montreal, Oct. 22.—Police on both sides of the Atlantic to-day began to search for thirteen-year-old Jeanne Vivant, whose inexplicable disappearance either in Cherbourg, where she is said to have boarded the steamship Empress of Scotland, or from the liner itself, caused her distracted father, who was at the dock in Quebec to meet her when the ship arrived, to appeal to the authorities.

Henry Vivant, the father, who expected his daughter on the steamship, was told by the officers of the ship and immigration authorities that the child had not sailed from France, while a travel agency, which was to have put her on board, insisted that she had.

All the passenger liners that have arrived at Quebec and Montreal during the last few days have been searched and the crews and officers questioned, but no trace has been obtained of the missing girl.

SECTIONS OF BRITISH LIBERAL AND CONSERVATIVE PARTIES NOW REFUSE TO SUPPORT AGREEMENT

London, Oct. 22.—Traditional rivalry and their dread of another coalition seems to be intensifying the opposition to the pact between the Liberals and Conservatives on the part of the more extreme members of those parties.

Distrust and suspicion find loudest voices among the Liberals, notwithstanding that Mr. Asquith, their leader, has given his blessing to the reciprocal arrangement whereby Liberal or Conservative candidates in some divisions are standing aside so as to avert three-cornered contests which might work for the benefit of the Laborites.

ASQUITH'S STATEMENT "I can see nothing which violates the most rigorous code of public honor and political consistency in the two old political parties making reciprocal sacrifices in the face of a common danger," said Mr. Asquith, but many members of the party find their leader's dictum extremely distasteful and are not hesitating to say so.

Some of them hint that he takes a roseate view because the Conservatives not only have withheld a candid look at the agreement, but a straight fight against the Labor candidate, but are also canvassing for him, and are reported as intending to support him on the platform.

The disgruntled ones say this is all very well, but that the Liberals are not getting a square deal, as far more Liberal candidates are standing aside for Conservatives than Conservative candidates are standing aside for Liberals, namely, that the Liberal ranks in Parliament for the benefit of their enemies.

MANY WILL VOTE LABOR The bulk of the Liberals seem satisfied with Mr. Asquith's attitude, but some degree of nervousness appears to have arisen in the Conservative organization in the last few days. At any rate the exhortations to the party workers to beware of over-confidence have increased to a noticeable extent.

FREE TRADE ISSUE The atmosphere of uneasiness in the Conservative camp is probably engendered by fears, particularly in the north of England, that the free trade issue will cause Liberals to regard Conservative candidates as unacceptable, even in face of the pact between the two parties.

CONSERVATIVE OPINION "On the whole, the atmosphere is good," says Col. F. S. Jackson, Conservative, who was re-elected by acclamation for Howden, Yorkshire, in speaking of the prospects of the Conservative Party winning at the polls last Wednesday. "But there must be real hard work everywhere during the week that remains."

Colonel Jackson is chairman of the Conservative Party organization. Some degree of nervousness appears to have arisen in the Conservative organization in the last few days. At any rate the exhortations to the party workers to beware of over-confidence have increased to a noticeable extent.

GOODWILL AND HOPE GROWING IN EUROPE NOW

Operation of Dawes Reparation Plan Comes as Dawn of New Period

Howard, British Ambassador, Addresses the New York Board of Trade

New York, Oct. 22.—Although the Dawes reparation plan has been in operation but a short time, there is "more hope, more goodwill, aye, and more charity abroad in Europe than there has been for ten years at least, if not almost from time immemorial," Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador to the United States, declared in an address here to-day at a luncheon of the New York Board and Transportation.

Speaking on the general subject of economics in international politics and international trade as a factor for peace, the Ambassador also referred to past activities of certain concession hunters and company promoters in world fields which sometimes have threatened the peace of the world. He declared there is "only one way to eliminate this possible danger to peace and goodwill, and that is by the strict application of the United States doctrine of the 'open door.'"

DANGER OF UPSET "If there is one thing we have learned during the last few strenuous and terrible years," he said, "it is the necessity of recognizing the value of economics in international politics."

C. E. McPherson Optimistic For Season of 1925 in Northwest

That the tourist season of 1925 will exceed the splendid record of 1924 is the anticipation voiced by C. E. McPherson, of Winnipeg, assistant passenger traffic manager, Canadian Pacific Railway, who reached here this morning on a periodical inspection visit.

He places this optimistic construction on prospects by the heavy demand which has already been made on the company for special trains to convey convention parties through the Pacific Northwest, and by inquiries for summer parties in the mountain resorts. He says the situation is most promising, and that Victoria will get her full share of the business offering.

With regard to the winter travel from the prairies, Mr. McPherson thinks that it will be satisfactory. He alluded to the lateness of the harvest, some weeks behind the corresponding period of 1923, and says on that, and the marketing of the crop depends largely the extent of business coming to the Coast cities.

Mr. McPherson is well pleased with the general trend of tourist prospects in this section of the continent.

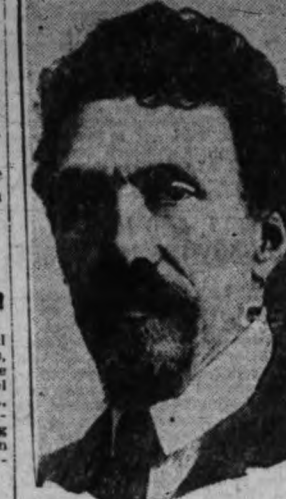

Attack in France on Bobbed Hair Gathers Strength

Paris, Oct. 22.—The attack on bobbed hair opened at Deauville now is being fully developed at the start of the Paris Autumn season. To overcome this obstacle the hair dressers are making a special show of devices for camouflaging scanty locks.

DEFENCE WINS FINAL ROUND IN CHINESE CASES

To be Charged Under Chinese Immigration Act Does Not Confer Chinese Nationality

Ten Chinese Freed From Jail Term, But Will Return to China

The failure of the prosecution to insert the words "of Chinese origin" in charges of fraudulent entry into Canada, brought against Chong Sang and nine other Chinese under the Chinese Immigration Act, led to the quashing of convictions and prison terms against the accused to-day in a Supreme Court motion here.

Chong Sang and nine other Chinese were tried and convicted by Magistrate Jay of charges of entering Canada upon forged papers purporting to show them as men who had already obtained domicile in this country. A term of six months' imprisonment with deportation was imposed on each case.

For the Crown it was contended by J. B. Clearburn and M. B. Jackson, K. C., that the accused had actually made use of forged return cards to gain admission in the role of returning trippers from the Orient. For the defence T. M. Miller and W. C. Moreby held that the accused had acted without wilful intent to defraud, were themselves the dupes of a ruse which engineered the plan, and had not yet "landed" in Canada.

Glasgow, Oct. 22 (Canadian Press Cable)—The Glasgow Housing Committee is circulating the tenants of municipally-owned houses with a view to ascertaining the truth or otherwise of the assertion that many of the tenants are receiving salaries of from £1,000 to £1,500 a year. The convener of the committee states the houses in question are intended for artisans, not millionaires. He says the council will refuse to re-let the dwellings if the assertion as to the tenants' salaries prove to be true.

GOODWILL AND HOPE GROWING IN EUROPE

The Dawes reparations scheme, which brought the whole question out of the murky atmosphere of sentiment and politics down to the bedrock of hard economic fact, has proved to those interested that it is, when you come to dealing in sums required for reparations, almost as difficult to receive them without upsetting the economic apparatus as to pay them.

There is not one of us, I venture to say, who did not wish from his whole heart that France might be completely and fully indemnified for the great and terrible losses she suffered in the war even though we might not agree exactly as to the method. Well, now thank God, we have had the best financial doctors in council, and they have prescribed a remedy and the different patients have had the good sense to try the cure prescribed.

NANAIMO WATER WORKS LOSE MONEY

Nanaimo, Oct. 22.—At Monday's meeting of the City Council Alderman

Smith, chairman of the waterworks committee, produced figures to show that the city's water system was a losing proposition to the extent of upwards of $500 a month. In presenting his statement Ald. Smith remarked that the figures showed the cost of upkeep of the system was far in excess of the receipts, and as the time had come when consumers demanded more water the council had better prepare a plebiscite to submit to the ratepayers at the next municipal election, and at the same time it would be necessary to devise some plan of increasing the revenue. It was business, remarked Alderman Smith for the people to think that the waterworks was a paying proposition, when as a matter of fact it was losing money every year. There were 1,355 consumers of water inside the city limits, and 527 outside the city, which showed the ratepayers of the city were using money from other departments in order to carry on the waterworks, and supply water to outsiders.

COUNCIL BUSINESS HEAVY AT NANAIMO

Special to The Times

Nanaimo, Oct. 22.—The City Council met in regular session Monday evening the full board being present, Mayor Busby presiding. A motion was carried from P. F. Brown, engineer for the Bastion Street Bridge, advising the Council take diamond drill borings of the approach to the bridge in order to make sure of a solid foundation for the supports, the communication, on motion of Alderman Handie, being referred to the Council in committee for the whole for consideration. Oliver Eiby and six other residents of Oliver Street petitioned the council to extend the street pavement to the curb in the vicinity of their property which they would pay the cost estimated at $60, the request of the petitioners being granted on motion of Alderman Handie, seconded by Alderman Smith. The public works manager reported the cost of repairing the culvert in the Cat Stream at the foot of Albert Street would be $109.50; the estimated cost of installing 315 feet of six-inch sewer on Pine Street north of Victoria Road was $586.60; the cost of laying 750 feet of four-inch cast iron pipe on Victoria Road from Needham street to the Gordon Estate subdivision would be $1,159.90 and the estimated cost of installing a six-inch sewer on Hecate Street from Cavendish Street to the foot of Cavendish Street would be $434.95. On motion the Council decided to have the several works reported upon by the manager proceeded with at once.

Sanitary Inspector Murdoch reported thirty nuisances and complaints attended to during the week, one house quarantined for scarlet fever and one house released from quarantine and three cows and one horse impounded. The public works manager reported an expenditure during the week of $274.90 on streets and $117.65 on cemetery work. Alderman Smith moved that incandescent lights be installed at Union Avenue and on Mabley Street near the Catholic Cemetery, the motion being adopted. Alderman Barby reported in connection with the proposal to erect a public convenience on the Crescent, and expressed the opinion the project was going to cost more than at first anticipated. On motion it was decided to take up the matter in committee of the whole council. City Medical Health Officer Dr. Drysdale reported on the health of the city, the only cases of a quarantine nature during the past month being eight of scarlet fever.

The regular monthly meeting of the Local Council of Women was held last evening with representatives from seven affiliated societies present. The Cedar Women's Institute recently affiliated had four representatives present. On motion of Mrs. F. Reynolds a hearty handclap was accorded Mrs. Rutherford, captain of the local Ladies First Aid team, winners-up for the Lady Drummond trophy, emblematic of the championship of the Dominion of Canada.

It was decided to appoint a committee to work in conjunction with the civic committee in an effort to place a large number of voters on the civic voters' list.

Mrs. (Dr.) Drysdale of the health committee stressed the importance of a central milk depot and a properly organized garbage system for the city.

Mrs. T. Barnard of the moral and education committee, reported certain important work being done by her committee.

In a junior football game played here Sunday the locals defeated Park Rangers of Nanaimo by 5 to 1. Lady-smith had a two-goal lead when half time came, and secured the remaining goals and secured the remaining goals and secured their lone tally in the second half. As the score indicates, Lady-smith easily had the advantage over their opponents, and the game was rather one-sided.

At Nanaimo the Senior football team went down to defeat to Nanaimo City by the score of 1 to 0. Lady-smith had the most of the game throughout, but were unsuccessful in registering the needed goals to win the game. A couple of the regular players of the Lady-smith team were off through injuries. This week Lady-smith meet Cumberland at Lady-smith, and a great game is looked forward to.

Under the combined auspices of the Loyal Order of Moose and the Women of Mooseheart Legion a whist drive will be held on Mooseheart Day, Monday, October 27, at the K. of P. Hall, Lady-smith, commencing at 8 p.m. Arrangements are being made for a couple of short addresses on Mooseheart during the evening of refreshments, which will not hinder the playing of the game at all. October 27 is observed in all Moose lodges throughout the world in some manner, and Lady-smith Lodge contemplates holding it as above. This, of course, is open to all.

Last Saturday evening a meeting of the Firebosses Association was held in the K. of P. Hall and a very pleasant evening was spent in singing, with suitable speeches and refreshments. There were probably thirty members present and a number of guests were present. Mayor W. W. Walkem, A. P. Glen, Dr. Maxwell and T. Collinge, Representatives were also present from East Wellington and Lantzville.

Special to The Times Sayward, V.I., Oct. 22.—Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, secretary of Women's Institutes of B.C., spent several days in the district last week, and acted as one of the judges at the recent Agricultural Fair. While here Mrs. MacLachlan gave a demonstration in home canning and rug making, also explaining how local wool could be made into comforts and quilts. This meeting was held at the home of Mrs. H. A. Dr. J. D. Macdonald, Provincial Veterinary Inspector of Victoria, is in the district on week-end business, and is busy testing the dairy cows in the valley.

CONDEMNED MAN TAKING EXERCISE

Hull, Que., Oct. 22.—A condemned man keeping physically fit to meet his doom on the gallows is the paradox in the drama to be enacted in the Bordeaux jail, Montreal, Friday morning, when the five Hochelaga Bank bandits are to be hanged, according to a Hull citizen and former "trusty" who has just returned from the Bordeaux jail after completing a sentence.

Louis Moret, former star athlete, does his "daily dozen" the former trusty related and once he heard a remark that "they won't have to carry me to the gallows." "Abies cold is better and we've still got a box of cough-drops left." "Ow! not extravagant!" Tell him to go out and get his feet wet."

LAND TAXATION ELECTION SUBJECT

Lloyd George Says British Land System is Worst in World

No Liberal Put Forward in Any of Sheffield Ridings

London, Oct. 22.—"Ours is the worst land system in the world," David Lloyd George asserted last night in a speech at Rochdale. "There is no security for enterprise and no ladder for two-thirds of those who work on the soil. You will not find one per cent of the agricultural laborers, before they die, ever getting a holding of their own. "We buy from £2,000,000 to £3,000,000 worth of food from abroad which could be grown here if we followed the methods of Denmark and parts of Germany and Belgium."

WAR AND LIBERALISM

"Every war for a time shattered Liberalism," declared Lloyd George. "After the Napoleonic wars Liberalism was in low water. You also have them among the reactionary and triumphant die-hards of to-day, while, on the other hand, you have revolutionists by the million. The same thing will happen again, for Liberalism can not die."

SHEFFIELD SITUATION

Conservative circles which have no desire for any working agreement with the Liberals, even under present conditions, are pointing to the spectacle at Sheffield, where for none of the seven seats was a Liberal even suggested, although the city is returned at least a couple of Liberals.

FREE TRADE ISSUE

Despite Conservative denials, free trade is the issue in the present election. The Manchester Guardian declares.

Alluding to Stanley Baldwin's statement that "the general tariff is no part of our programme," The Guardian says that while this is not literally untrue, it means nothing substantial, means protection for the farmers as well as for industries and an increase in the prices of both food and raw materials. The Guardian says, and it asks, "Is there any single article of food or manufacture which Mr. Baldwin could not protect consistently with his election promises?"

The Guardian refers to Prof. W. A. S. Hewins, ex-M.P., chairman of the Tariff Reform League, formerly Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, as the arch-priest of protection and says Prof. Hewins explains that dropping the general tariff is of no consequence since the same purpose can be achieved by more round-

STRIKE DECISION WELCOMED IN U.S.

But Gompers Says Injunction Right Should be Swept Away

Washington, Oct. 22.—The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, holding strikers to be entitled to jury trial on a charge of violating a court injunction was greeted as "constructive and progressive" in a statement to-day by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. Construing the decision as a "recognition by the court, in some degree, that the growing tendency of the courts to assume autocratic powers must be curbed if the whole court system is not to be impaired," Mr. Gompers added, however, that it must not be thought that the decision "cures all the evils of the judiciary." "It may well be," he said, that this decision marks a great turning-point in American court procedure. A great cloak of autocratic power is torn away. But the injunction remains. It may still be issued in labor disputes where no such injunction would lie if there were no labor dispute in progress. The injunction is a final vindication and made supreme in our court system."

MISS D. BROUGHAM WAS LOVELY BRIDE

Many Victoria Guests at Smart Vancouver Wedding Yesterday

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—St. Paul's Church was the setting for one of the season's most interesting and picturesque ceremonies yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the marriage service of Daphne Veronica, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard F. Brougham, 2087 Pendrell Street, and Mr. Jocelyn Arthur Hobday, youngest son of Col. E. A. P. Hobday of England, was read.

An artistic arrangement of Michaelmas daisies, chrysanthemums, palms and brilliantly-colored autumn foliage decorated the chancel and altar, while white satin ribbon streamers and clusters of the same flowers marked the pews, to which the guests were conducted by Major S. C. Sweeney, Capt. Pritchard, Mr. Patterson and Mr. H. E. Molson. Rev. Harold King officiated, and to the modulated strains of Gounod's "Roméo and Juliet," played by Mr. F. W. Robinson, the bridal party entered the church.

BEAUTIFUL BRIDE
The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was beautifully gowned in a wedding robe of brocade silver cloth, made on long straight lines and finished at the low waistline with a girde of orange blossoms. A train of rare old Limes crick lace fell from the shoulders of the gown, and a flowing tulle veil caught to her coiffure with a coronet of orange blossoms completed her costume. Her flowers were white chrysanthemums arranged in sheaf fashion.

Mrs. A. W. Stevenson was matron of honor, and Miss Eileen Morton maid of honor. They wore quaintly fashioned bouffant frocks of pame violet shot taffeta, ribbon trimmed. Their hats were French models of silver lace and violet velvet, from which streamers of the same shade fell to the hem-line. Miss Clara Malins and Miss Dorothea Sweeney were the attendant bridesmaids and wore rose pink shot taffeta also made on bouffant lines, their hats being of silver lace and rose velvet. All four attendants carried sheaves of dawn pink gladiol and mauve Michaelmas daisies, and French beaded bags, the gifts of the groom. Master James Humphreys in a suit of white satin and flannel, and little Miss Joan Humphreys in a French frock lace-trimmed, were the train-bearers. Capt. R. H. Rooke acted as groomsmen.

Following the service a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Pendrell Street, where Mrs. Brougham received with the couple, and was attired in a chic gown of black crepe de chine and black picture hat. Her wrap was of ermine trimmed black marocain. The rooms were effectively decorated with standards of Autumn foliage and chrysanthemums, and the tea table was centered with a wedding cake surrounded by lighted tapers in silver sconces and white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Hobday left later for Vancouver Island, where they will spend their honeymoon motoring. The bride traveled in a three-piece costume of dove grey marocain banded in Russian squirrel, with which was worn a turban of grey duvetyl trimmed with silver cloth. On their return they will make their home in Douglas Lodge.

Miss Daphne Brougham, who yesterday became the bride of Mr. J. A. Hobday in Vancouver, is very well known in this city as a frequent visitor at Hatley Park. A clever dancer and singer, Miss Brougham appeared with considerable success in a number of the revues produced in this city by the late Harry Pooley for patriotic and philanthropic purposes. Mr. Hobday was a former resident of Victoria and lived here for some years after his return from overseas.

EXHIBITION IS OF VERSATILE NATURE

Eighty-three Artists and 25 Craftsmen in Club Collection

An analysis of the collection of pictures and crafts now on view at the annual exhibition of the Island Arts and Crafts Society is of timely interest. Of the eighty-three artists exhibiting, eighteen are represented in the oils section, forty are in the water color, miniature and pastel section, with a total number of pictures amounting to 212. In the section devoted to crafts, there are twenty-five exhibitors, representing a total of thirty-eight different crafts, showing the versatile nature of the collection.

A wedding of interest took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Lepper, on Saturday evening, when Mrs. Elizabeth K. Waller became the bride of Mr. Charles Francis. The rooms were prettily decorated with flowers, the ceremony taking place beneath a beautiful arch of roses. Rev. B. E. Spurling officiated. The bride wore a smart costume of navy blue, and carried a bouquet of roses and clematis. Mrs. George Lepper was matron of honor, and Mr. George Lepper supported the groom, and also gave the bride away. Twenty-one guests sat down to a supper table centered with a large wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Francis will reside in Chemainus.

Ladies' Guild For Sailors Hold Annual Bazaar

The anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar was commemorated as customary by the members of the Ladies' Guild for Sailors yesterday afternoon by holding their annual bazaar in the ballroom of Alexandra House, the proceeds of which, amounting to $167.54, will augment the funds of the Seaman's Institute. Promptly at 3 o'clock Mrs. R. B. McMicking, a life member of the guild, in words fitting the occasion, pronounced the sale open and was presented by Mrs. Alice Thomson with a corsage bouquet of roses.

During the afternoon the pleasure of the patrons was enhanced by the rendering of a programme arranged by Miss Long, consisting of Highland dancing by Jean and Willie MacLean, two artists in their work who have recently come to reside here, and of daintily executed fancy dancing by Miss Allison Mitchell.

In the guessing of the weight of the cake donated by Mrs. W. H. Rowlands, Mrs. Finmore was the fortunate winner, her estimate of six pounds twelve ounces, the actual weight was six pounds twelve and one-quarter ounces.

Softly shaded lights made a pleasing effect in the ballroom, in which were arranged and decorated the various stalls, as follows: Fancy work, Mrs. Gordon Smith and Mrs. S. Swaine; candy, Mrs. Fisher; miscellaneous stall, Mrs. and Miss Jardine; aprons, Mrs. Kingham; woolies, Mrs. Thomson and Mrs. Sayer; home cooking, Mrs. Hunsbury; art gallery, Mrs. R. B. McMicking, while Miss Betty Newton, in Chinese costume, disposed of various wares.

Mrs. Gillat, Mrs. Snowden and Mrs. Vernon Thomas were responsible for the afternoon tea arrangements.

LOOKING OVER THE GROUND

Latour made his adieu to Julie shortly after the arrival of Anna Denniston. "I know who you are, m'sieur," the latter smiled graciously as he bent over the hand she offered him. "I heard you lecture before the Alliance Francaise several weeks ago. I am glad of this opportunity to tell you how much I enjoyed your talk."

He bowed deeply. Mademoiselle is very kind—Mademoiselle speaks French, then? "Un peu," she laughed consciously. "Tres un peu. By the way, I have heard that you conduct a fashionable class. Will you take me on for a pupil?"

He bowed again. "I regret that my class is filled for the season. A private lesson perhaps—but no, Mademoiselle speaks French too well to require that!" "Indeed no," Anna protested swiftly. "I should prefer private lessons. Then I shall have to ask Mademoiselle's indulgence until I consult my schedule. I have little time at my disposal and I fear that all my hours are engaged."

He made the evasion neatly and bowed himself out without being committed.

He had heard the gossip linking Anna's name with Blake's. He had seen Julie's ears. But it was not solely because of the latter that he had conceived an instant aversion for the modish stranger.

After his departure, Julie brewed fresh tea for Anna, while the latter watched her narrowly.

Julie was coming on, Anna was forced to admit. Not even she herself could have handled the tea things more gracefully, made a prettier picture behind the fragile old plate and singing brass kettle.

"May I smoke?" Anna asked, when she had drunk her tea.

Julie drew forward a quaint carved box containing a varied assortment of cigarettes.

"My visitors like these. I don't smoke myself."

Anna selected a gold-tipped one, lit it, and exhaled a puff of smoke reflectively.

"I dare say you have a host of callers—such a pretty apartment with such a pretty hostess."

Julie bowed to offer the impromptu Peter a morsel of buttered muffin.

"I have few friends, Miss Denniston." She could never bring herself to call Anna by her first name.

"Then you must come to see me often," urged the other. "I've met a great many people who've made a habit of afternoon tea in my apartment. There are some charming boys, too, from the embassies. You'll like them."

"Thank you," Julie smiled politely. "I should like to come. But I have so little time. I am very busy, really."

"Not too busy to give tea to that delightful chap who just left?" Anna said banteringly. "Tell me—is he a beau of yours?"

Julie denied it calmly, but in spite of herself, a tiny flush rose in her cheeks. Anna read it as a snuff. It was really resentment at the inquisitiveness of a stranger.

"And John—Mr. Blake—he comes often, does he not?"

Julie regarded her coldly. Her yellow eyes were dangerous at that moment.

"No, Miss Denniston."

"This was what Anna wanted to hear. But she didn't believe Julie. She extinguished her cigarette and leaned forward earnestly.

"May I talk to you frankly, Julie? There is something I have wanted to say for a long time."

Julie inclined her head. But there was a nervous gleam in her eyes. Anna continued swiftly:

"You are aware, I am sure, that John and I were once sweethearts. We were not married—because of a family feud. Then—you came. John married you. I—I was desolate. I felt that I had nothing more to live for. Now, you and John are separated. Julie, is there any reason now why you can't give him back to me?"

There was a long silence. Anna leaned back in her chair, breathing deeply.

Julie said slowly:

"I can't give back what was never mine, Miss Denniston. The future lies between you and my husband. I shall not stand in your way. In fact, I sanctioned a legal separation only because a divorce at this time would ruin Mr. Blake's political prospects."

"Then you really want to marry again?" questioned Anna quickly.

"You want an actual divorce?"

"No," Julie shook her head. "I want only what is best for John."

Stupid little fool, thought Anna. Or was it possible that this was only a clever pose, a scheme to throw her enemy off guard?

OSMAN DIGNA IS FREED FROM PRISON

Man Who Fought British During Mahdist War in Sudan Released

Montreal, Oct. 22.—A special cable to The Montreal Star announced that Osman Digna, famous in the days when the Mahdi was waging his Holy War against the British in the Sudan and who was captured three years after the Battle of Omdurman, when Lord Kitchener finally subdued the fanatical Dervishes, the followers of the Khalifa, was released recently from a cell at Wadi Halfa after twenty-two years of solitary confinement. Osman is now on a pilgrimage to Mecca.

According to The Star's cable, the British Foreign Office had forgotten all about Osman until the question was raised at the last session of Parliament.

During Great Britain's Sudanese troubles in the last quarter of the Nineteenth Century, Osman was one of the most fanatical, most persistent and cunning of the British enemies.

It is said he is now nearly 100 years old.

Chamber of Commerce Representations Meet With Success

TOOK WHALE TAILS

GOVERNMENT SHIPS BRING CARGO HERE

Canadian Freighter and Canadian Farmer Docked Late Last Night

Two Canadian Government Merchant Marine vessels arrived here last night, and unloaded general merchandise at this port. The Canadian Freighter brought a cargo of liquor, steel plates and toys from the United Kingdom. She arrived about 10.30 o'clock and docked at the Ogden Point pier, dropping 500 tons during her stay. She is expected to move to Vancouver this afternoon.

MAKURA LEAVING OUTBOUND TO-NIGHT

Victoria Man, Who Returned Aboard Her, Likes Home More Than Hawaii

The Canadian-Australasian Line steamship Makura will sail this morning from Victoria after loading a considerable cargo, with a large passenger list for Australian, New Zealand, Hawaii and other points. The vessel will leave at noon today and arrives here about 5.30 p.m., sailing from this port at about 11 o'clock.

Her cargo consists largely of British Columbia fruit, and is an indication of the growth of reciprocal trade, now that Canada and Australia have entered into an agreement whereby each patronizes the commodities raised in the industrial plants or on the soil of the other.

A POPULAR PASSAGE

The passage on the Makura is an ever-popular one but the Aurangi will be an even greater attraction. The Niagara, another giant of the Pacific service, is due to receive the trans-Pacific cable of plaintiff company operating the Makura and Niagara. J. E. B. Dickson of this city who came back to Victoria on the Makura on her last voyage, has many words of praise for the Union Steamship Company and this very trip.

"Hawaii is everything that anyone says about it," said Mr. Dickson to The Times this morning, "but the best part of my trip was when the vessel came into port here. Victoria is a beautiful city, and the place had a general air of prosperity. The roads there are not as good as they are in the vicinity of Victoria," said Mr. Dickson. "I motored all around Honolulu, and it is every inch a beautiful city, but not so beautiful as Victoria."

BIG SHIPS COMING TO LOCAL DOCKS

Transpacific Vessels Arriving Within Next Few Days

Word of the arrival of the Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Australia on Monday morning, given out at the company's offices today. The Empress carries a large passenger list, it is understood, as well as a valuable cargo of freight. Before Monday, however, there will be considerable activity along the Victoria waterfront with the outgoing ships docking here. The Empress of Russia leaves Vancouver at noon tomorrow, and will arrive here shortly after 5 o'clock.

COMMERCIAL CABLE COMPANY CLAIMS HEAVY DAMAGES

Allegation Made Ss. Prince Albert Hooked on to Trans-Pacific Cable at Sea

Claim Denied by Owners of Vessels Which Now Held on Marshal's Plaster

When Deputy Marshall Robert Sangster stepped up to the mast of the Ss. Prince Albert on Thursday last and affixed there a small white piece of paper with official arms, he made the "arrest" of the ship on a warrant issued by the Admiralty Division of the Exchequer Court of Canada, at the behest of the Commercial Pacific Cable Company, plaintiffs in a claim for $99,134.33 against the vessel's owners.

The Ss. Prince Albert lies at Yarrow's ways pending the next move by the defence. The posting of a bond to cover the amount and the recourse to trial of the issue in the Admiralty Court is said to be the next move expected. William E. Aceton of San Francisco, noted counsel for the cable company, is expected to appear in the city to-day after a conference with E. C. Mayers, counsel for the Pacific Cable Company.

To The Times to-day Mr. Aceton stated that plaintiffs' allegation was that the Ss. Prince Albert severed the trans-Pacific cable of plaintiff company between San Francisco and Honolulu, thereby shutting off all cable communication by that route. The damages claimed in the sum of close on $100,000 are in part the cost of repair of the cable and the loss due to the break-down of the message traffic. In the period that the cable was under repair, stated counsel, messages were routed through the northern cables via Honolulu.

The Commercial Cable Company, according to Mr. Aceton, will assert that the Ss. Prince Albert cleared from Vancouver in November 1922, hooked on to the cable at a point fifteen miles off shore at a spot twenty miles south of Monterey Point. The cable was severed, it is alleged, and all communication by that route was brought to a standstill.

The Ss. Prince Albert, say plaintiffs, cleared from Vancouver for Ensenada—but in the middle of the month of November hooked up to the trans-Pacific cable off the southern coast. Technically the vessel is under arrest until the claim, which is denied by the owners of the vessel, is tried in the Admiralty Court. The vessel could secure a release for operation by the posting of a bond, but this has not yet been done.

Hal Winkler Will Guard Calgary's Nets This Season

Edmonton Goalle is Sold to Tigers, According to Announcement To-day

New Montreal Club Makes Huge Offer For Boucher; Signs Other Players

Edmonton, Oct. 22.—"Duke" Keata, captain of the Eskimos, and in the absence of Kenny McKenzie, acting manager, last night announced the sale of Hal Winkler to the Calgary Tigers.

Calgary, Oct. 22.—President Fred Johnston of the Calgary Tigers confirms the Edmonton report that Hal Winkler, goalkeeper, has been purchased by the Tigers. He also states that Goalkeeper Charlie Reid, will be given his release outright, in appreciation for past and good services, so he can make the best possible deal for himself with any other club.

This deal will cause some interest here as both goalies have performed on local ice. The inside story of the deal would be interesting as well. Last year Winkler was let out by the Edmonton club and after being out of the line-up for several games was taken back by Manager McKenzie.

Charlie Reid has played good hockey for Calgary, although he has always been troubled with his eyes. Two seasons ago he played a number of games for Vancouver owing to the fact that Hughie Lehman could not report for the opening. He turned in some fine games and his appearances here last year his showing was very creditable. He had a lot to do with Calgary's success in winning the Western Canada championship.

Whether Winkler will serve Calgary better than Reid is a question. Edmonton will now have to secure a new goalie and it is rumored that the club has Hec Fowler under consideration.

Montreal, Oct. 22.—Announcement was made last night by officers of the new Arena Hockey Club that an offer had been made to Frank Patrick for the purchase of Frank Boucher's contract, held by the Vancouver club.

Although the amount offered was not made public, it was said to be the largest offered in recent years for the contract of a professional hockey player.

It was also stated that the signed contract of Clint Benedict, former goaltender with the Ottawa Senators, and Punch Broadbent, wing player for the Senators, have been received. Sammy Rothchild, who played with Sudbury, has also returned his signed contract.

Cecil Hart, who is seeking players, is now in Western Canada and reports that he has three outstanding players ready to sign up with the club.

Toronto, Oct. 22.—The Mail and Empire to-day in a dispatch from Stratford, Ont., says Howard Griffith has just received an offer from Cecil Hart, manager of the Montreal Wanderers, to play for them this season.

The Wanderers are also desirous of securing the services of Ted Graham, who starred with the Owen Sound Greys last winter when they won the world's junior hockey championship. It is understood an agreement likely that Graham will go to Montreal.

Basketball Season Will Get Underway Early Next Month

Opening Game in Sunday School League Set For Either Nov. 1 or Nov. 4

Fifty Teams Will Compete This Year; Four Hundred Players Interested

Sunday school basketballers are now practically ready for the opening of the season, which takes place early next month. Seven divisions will run this season as follows: Senior boys, Intermediate A, Intermediate B, Senior girls, Intermediate girls, Junior girls and Junior boys. Over fifty teams and 400 players will compete in the various divisions.

All teams are now ready for action, and the schedule of games will be drawn up at once. All arrangements also be well represented. The first Memorial Hall Gymnasium, and some keen competition is expected. This season will see the passing of the famous First Presbyterian championship team, which has carried everything before it for many years. Three years ago the team was composed of McKinnon, Whyte, Webster, Forbes and Little, and was then at the peak of form, being considered one of the finest teams in the Dominion. Last season, despite the absence of Webster and Little, the Firsts were able to annex all the local championships, and finally to put a big surprise over on the Vancouver Y.M.C.A. champions of the Mainland. Their victory over the mainlanders, fighting "Bill" Hudson, Harry Sargison, "Tom" Smith, "Joe" Streeter and possibly Pete McKeechne will endeavor to stage a come-back this year, and they will be right there when the whistle blows.

OLD-TIMERS COME BACK

"Bob" Whyte is the only member of the old squad available for this season, and "Bob" finds it necessary to call up several of the old-timers to uphold the honors of the champions. Fighting "Bill" Hudson, Harry Sargison, "Tom" Smith, "Joe" Streeter and possibly Pete McKeechne will endeavor to stage a come-back this year, and they will be right there when the whistle blows.

C.C. GIRLS AMBITIOUS

Christ Church girls, who have made good in the games of the championship, but always seem to land in second place, will make a stronger effort to capture the honors this year. Florrie Gates, Grace Weiburn and Kathy Weiburn will be the mainstays of the team once more. Metropolitan and St. Andrew's will turn out fast teams in this division, and Senior girls' basketball will be the big drawing card this season.

FINAL HERE THIS YEAR

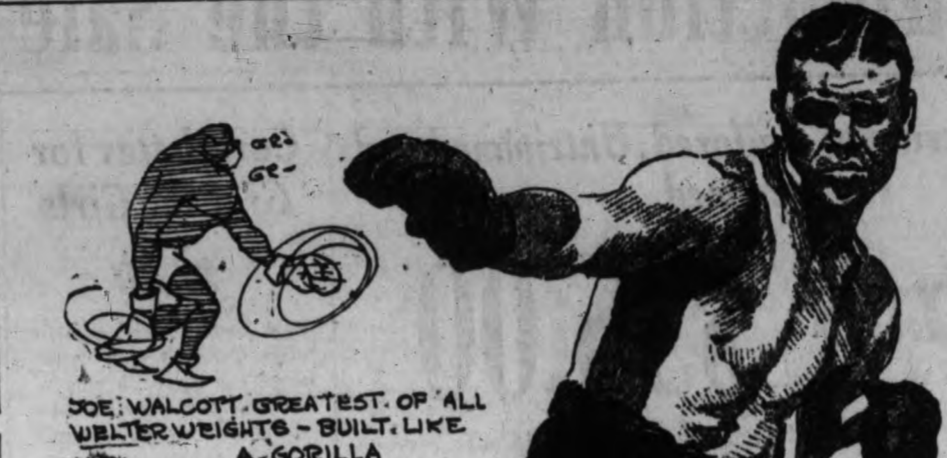

Vancouver Sunday school leagues got under way this week, and as yet Victoria at the close of the season, when the provincial Sunday school championships will again be at stake. Victoria should have some strong teams this season to meet the invaders from the Mainland, although the First Presbyterian Senior men's championship aggregation will be broken up, after representing the Capital in many exciting games.

PLAYERS ARE ASKED TO HAVE THEIR REGISTRATION FORMS HANDED IN TO THE SECRETARY BEFORE OCTOBER 25, SO THAT SCHEDULE MAY BE DRAWN UP AT ONCE. GAMES WILL BE PLAYED ON TUESDAY AND SATURDAYS EACH WEEK. Overshadows All Battlers in His Division, And Is Best Welterweight Since Joe Walcott

SOE, WALCOTT, GREATEST OF ALL WELTERWEIGHTS - BUILT LIKE A GORILLA

ONLY FIVE FEET ONE INCH TALL - HE KNOCKED OUT JOE CHEVYSKI - LEAPING FROM THE FLOOR

MICKEY WALKER - GREATEST TWO HANDED PUNCHER

New York, Oct. 22.—It is neither simple nor sane to single out a modern fighter and present him as a counterpart of one of the old immortals. Who is there to say, for instance, that Fitzsimmons could hit harder than Dempsey, or that the present champion would have whipped the old one?

It is our opinion that young Edward Walker of Elizabeth, N.J., is one of the greatest fighters of our present times. You know him better, no doubt, as Mickey Walker, welterweight champion.

Walker is fast, game an explosive hitter and revels in a boxing contest. A stinging punch fires him to redoubled fury. That is the unfailing mark of the thoroughbred fighter. Dempsey has it. So has Leonard, McTigue, Tunney and Goldstein haven't. And they aren't thoroughbreds.

Gray-bearded gentlemen, who look on to-day's events through the mighty glasses of retrospect, tell us that Mickey Walker is the greatest title holder the welterweight division ever knew. Walcott was just a trifle over five feet tall and a gorilla for strength.

KNOCKED OUT HEAVYWEIGHTS

Walcott fought welterweights, middleweights and heavyweights. He knocked out Joe Choyakis, who towered over him like a granite spire. Walcott leaped from the floor to land the punch that brought the heavyweights down to the canvas.

WOULD KNOCK OUT LEONARD

Benny Leonard is probably the only man within whispering distance of the weight capable of extending Walker and the feeling is strangely widespread that Leonard would not go far. Gentlemen of the fist who have fought both men unhesitatingly predict a victory for Walker by a knockout.

Walker has every weapon that Leonard can show. Says Jack Britton, from whom the champion won his title, "and besides he is a harder hitter, with youth on his side."

Philadelphia Mogul Purchases Portland Club; Lewis as Boss

Portland, Oct. 22.—Tom Turner, scout for the Portland Baseball Club, and John T. Shibe, part owner of the Philadelphia Athletics, last night purchased the Portland Baseball Club of the Pacific Coast League from William Klepper, principal owner, and other stockholders, it was announced. It was understood that the purchase price was close to $300,000.

It was intimated that Duffy Lewis, of Seattle, Lake would be named as manager of the Portland club for next year.

Montreal, Oct. 22.—A new Canadian record in pistol shooting was made by M. H. Watson of Montreal in the Canadian Revolver Association championship events, results of which were announced yesterday. Mr. Wilson, with a total score of 496, won the Dominion medal for pistol matches.

Second Match at Victoria Golf Club

The second monthly competition of the Victoria Golf Club will be played on Saturday next. The competition will be match play against par, three-quarters of the full handicaps being allowed. Amateur Union Is Winner In Tussle With Diamond Head

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—Hammond Cedars will not meet the Brooklyn Dodgers this afternoon. Manager Munro found himself obliged to call on Waters, Miron, Kaye and Simons, of Young Liberals, in order to round out a team, and this threw a monkey wrench into the works, because Simons, Waters and Miron play basketball and rugby, and would stand automatically by the amateur authorities if they took part in the game.

Tom Davis Forced to Give Way Before Edict of Amateur Officials

Bellingham will come north to meet the professionalists, and the attitude on the subject was unchanged. "Circumstances proved too strong for us," he said. "We don't feel like asking the boys who play two or three games to suspend themselves. We do feel that the attitude of the union heads is most unfair. It is a foregone conclusion, too, you can say for me, that the annual meeting of our body next March will see us break absolutely with the A.A.U. of C. The concession we made was a small one."

Ball Players Did Not Want to Injure Their Standing; Will Write Letter

"It would have done our boys a lot of good to play against such as Jack Fournier's crew. It could have done them no conceivable harm. We do not forget the action of Percy Watson in refusing us a concession in Vancouver which he was given when a Vancouver man occupied the Mr. Davis is writing Mr. Watson a letter to-day setting forth his views.

Ag Khan Spends Fortune Building Up Great Stable

London, Eng., Oct. 22.—Salmon Trout was the second "classic" winner to carry the colors of H. H. The Aga Khan, he having lifted the Two Thousand Guineaes this year with Diophon. Remarkable success has attended the Aga Khan's ventures on the English turf in the past three seasons. In 1922 he won thirteen races of the value of £13,135; last year his winnings in stakes amounted to £28,400, as the result of twenty-two successes, and up to date this season his horses have won thirteen races worth more than £100,000.

Heavy Purses Have Been Won by New Entry Into English Turf Circles

He has spent large sums in the quest of the highest class bloodstock. Two years ago he created some sensation by going to the Muntias Mahal, a substitute of the Aga Khan, in the same period he gave 4,000 guineas for Diophon and 300 guineas for Salmon Trout.

POOLS GET BUSY AS MARKET RISES

New York, Oct. 22 (By R. P. Clark & Co., Ltd.)—More activity was registered in to-day's session and the turnover was naturally increased. The general market with but few exceptions trended in an upward direction but in the last hour some of the initial gains were cancelled chiefly as a result of a little profit taking indulged in by some of the floor professionals who were active on buying side in the earlier dealings. The Iron Age Review indicated that conditions in the steel industry would seem to be marking time and rather hesitant but apparently new business is held in check awaiting the results of the November election. The oil stocks were the leaders in to-day's upward movement. It seems as though the impression is gaining ground that conditions within the industry itself are showing a marked trend toward betterment and on this supposition quite a little new buying of oil stocks is being transpired. The low priced rail issues were again foremost in the upward in prices, and merger possibilities together with prospects of dividend declarations in certain cases being the stimulating factors behind the buying in this group. Political sentiment if anything seems to be much more cheerful and this has been a factor in the improving prices in the stock market this week. There seems to be a more bullish feeling around at the present time about the general sentiment in this direction may serve to further enhance the price level.

New York, Oct. 22 (By B.C. Bond Corporation)—Stabilizing of money at the low levels of midsummer, continued improvement in sentiment regarding the election and the optimistic trade advices, combined to bring about generally higher prices for both rails and industrial shares. Although the stock market displayed acute weakness, this weak development was ignored by the main body of stocks which have showed the greater vitality seen the break a week ago.

Accelerated by urgent short covering, the upward movement swept ahead vigorously in the morning trading. Rails gave their most impressive performance since they began to mark time about six weeks ago, awaiting assurance that the results of the political campaign would not threaten their permanence of prosperity. Weekly reviews of the situation again emphasized the importance of the market being kept by railroads of equipment. In addition to Reading stock, the carriers have purchased large tonnages of steel for their roads covering their requirements of this product through the first few months of 1925.

Structural steel was also in good demand. September figures showing an increase over August, and the nine months' figures indicating that more structural steel will be used this year than last. The Iron Age intimated that buyers of other steel products have reduced the stocks down a minimum, and in consequence looks for a fair run of buying for replacements shortly after November 3. Operations were maintained at the satisfactory rate of September, while prices showed practically no changes. Schutte Steel Stores announced a high dividend rate. Sears-Roebuck around 111 held its six-point gain of the previous session, which reflected the expectation of an important addition to the personnel of its management.

Pools in a number of stocks are getting active. Some of these pools have been doing little for the last two months. They stopped aggressive operations pending more definite information as to the outcome of the election. They are now confident that Coolidge will be elected and this accounts for their revival of activity. It is known that several new pools in certain stocks are in course of formation and indications are for a strong and active market in November. Manufacturers of steel before the standpoint of incoming orders, this belief being based on reluctance of buyers to make commitments before the election. American stocks appeared definitely headed for lower prices and a big short interest was built up in this stock. Howard Wellington, floor trader, was a heavy buyer of Can on the breaks.

Chicago, Oct. 22 (By R. P. Clark & Co., Ltd.)—Wheat: The news was bullish in regard to the export trade, in reference to the Argentine situation and on the foreign conditions, generally, but the market lacked sustained buying power, and there was enough pressure on the swells to check the advance and to cause fair setbacks. However, prices closed a little better for the day.

Export business 1,500,000 was reported, with Duluth reporting higher bids, with a big demand. Argentine weather has cleared, and the rains were insufficient, while the disposition according to private cables to lower estimates of the plate crop. September export was 35,000,000 of more than a year ago, with October clearances especially heavy so far. The action of the market is rather discouraging at the moment, but conditions are bullish, and we advise purchases on the setbacks. Corn: Declines of moderate extent were made in corn, but the market was not particularly weak, and there was not a great deal of pressure. The

Fitting the Investor's Needs

No one type of investment can possibly suit all cases. Investors have needs which are widely varied.

Some who have act made a specialized study of investments desire securities which will need a minimum of attention and which will afford, at the same time, the maximum of safety — investments which will never occasion a moment's worry, and which will retain their dependability.

Some require investments that will mature in a short time. Others require investments that can be instantly marketed. Some desire to invest large amounts at one time; others, small amounts at frequent intervals.

The business man, in constant contact with business and investment problems, may like a wider range of securities and may need them for a great variety of purposes, either personally or for his business, managing or special funds. These indicate but a few of the needs.

continent of Europe, and even as far afield as Cuba and India, has now been filmed and the only wonder is that a story so full of excitement and drama has not reached the screen ere now.

The part of Juliette de Marry—the girl sworn on her brother's dead body to avenge his murder—is played with exquisite charm and spirit by Miss Flora Le Breton; Pedro de Cordoba is her victim and lover; while Holmes Herbert, another popular player on both sides of the Atlantic, carries off the part of the Scarlet Pimpernel with great dash.

Produced by so capable a director as Henry Kolker, "I Will Repay" is at every inch a romantic revival in the Capitol building at the Columbia.

YOLANDA DOLL WAS NAMED AFTER BIG SCREEN SHOW
From the time that "Teddy Bears" won such popularity, each succeeding year has brought with it, some new novelty in the way of a doll. Last year it was the "Jackie Coogan Doll" which is now succeeded by the "Yolanda Doll," on sale in leading toy shops and is already achieving great popularity among youngsters.

"Yolanda" is named after a super-film which the Cosmopolitan Corporation is presenting at the Capitol Theatre all this week. In the picture, Miss Davies plays the dual role of Princess Mary of Burgundy, the latter character from which the doll is patterned.

"Yolanda" is a massive and magnificent picture of Charles Major's famous romance of the same name. Robert O. Vignola directed from the scenario by Luther Reed, and Joseph Urban designed the settings. In support of the star is a cast of prominent players from stage and screen, including Lyn Harding, Holbrook Hill, Macklyn Arbuckle, Johnny Dooley, Leon Errol, Mary Kennedy, Thea Maxine, Conover, Ralph Graves, Paul McAllister, Roy Applegate, Arthur Donaldson, Gustav von Seyffertitz and others.

FIFTY THOUSAND MILES COVERED TO MAKE FILMS

The H. A. Snow African Expedition of 1919-1922 brought back to America the most complete collection of Dark Continent fauna ever assembled, and a series of pictures that widely disseminate a true knowledge of Africa. Under the title of "Hunting Big Game in Africa," these pictures are now being presented at the Coliseum Theatre.

The pictures give many interesting views of the native life as well as of the animals and their haunts. Mr. Snow's wide opportunities for observation may be judged by the fact that his party traveled more than 50,000 miles through the British Central Africa, comprising the British, Portuguese and former German possessions on that side of the continent. He encountered all kinds of tribes from the Christianized ones of the Coast to the savage Merus who are assega warriors and lion-hunters.

Aided by the colonial governments, he obtained the necessary permits to advance carriers of his automobile "gas" supplies far into the interior, where for the first time his motor cars penetrated.

The picture was shown for three months at the Lyric theatre in New York City, establishing a record by playing during that time to audiences of from 29,000 to 25,000 persons a week. Only prior contracts for the Lyric theatre, ordinarily one of the homes of the legitimate drama, caused the film's run to be ended after twelve weeks.

BUCCANEER AND PIRATE DEFINED IN "CAPTAIN BLOOD"

Two words which are used extensively in Rafael Sabatini's popular novel, "Captain Blood," which will be shown at Dominion Theatre on Monday, are frequently used as synonyms, although there is quite a shade difference in meaning. The words are pirate and buccaneer.

The story deals with the adventures of Peter Blood, a pirate after he had been condemned by King James as a slave to the Barbadoes. A pirate has been regarded by all nations to be an enemy of the human race. Piracy is a crime against nations which may be brought before any court, no matter what the nationality of the plaintiff or the origin of the pirate may be.

VALUABLE PRIZES IN LIGHT CONTEST

School Boys and Girls of This City Will Have Chance to Win

All school children over ten years of age in this city will have an opportunity of winning very valuable prizes which are offered in an Home Lighting Contest being conducted by the electrical interests of this district. The contest, which will be held here, is part of a great international contest that is being held in all of the important cities and towns in United States and Canada. In this city a number of prizes will be given to the children and the winners of these prizes will be entered in the international contest along with the winners of prizes from the other towns. The winners of the big contest will get free, a $15,000 home or one of ten scholarships.

The Home Lighting Contest will open here on November 1 and on that day the school children who are eligible to enter can get a copy of the Home Lighting Primer, which gives all the rules of the contest.

Four things must be done by the children who enter the contest. First, they must read the lessons on home lighting that are printed in the primer so that they will learn the principles on which the contest is based. Then they are asked to visit the homes of two of their friends and inspect the fixtures that they have. In a chart in the back of the primer notation must be made of the fixtures in their neighbors' homes as well as in their own. This is very simple and is the easiest part of the contest.

On two of the pages in the primer each type of fixture belongs to as he is told what fixtures belong to each type of room. The main thing is to get the most attractive arrangement with the best lighting results.

The next and last duty of the contestant is to write a six-hundred word essay on how to relight his own home so that it will be in accordance with the principles of good lighting. This is not difficult, as by this time the child will have a good knowledge of lighting conditions and rules that he has obtained in doing the other things. His ability to do this well depends mostly on his own ability to write an essay.

When the entrant to the contest has done all of this he folds the essay around the primer and seals it in an envelope. Then he writes his name and address on a piece of paper and puts this in an envelope, which he seals and puts in the envelope containing the primer. When the contest committee receives this material they will put a number on the primer and the envelope containing the name and address. In this way the judges will not know whose primers and essays they are judging, and there will be no favoritism shown.

The judges of the international contest are Franklin T. Griffith, president of the National Electric Light Association; William McAndrew, Superintendent of Schools, Chicago; William Brown Melone, editor The Delinquent; Miss Sarah L. Rhodes, Brooklyn, N.Y.; George D. Shephardson, Professor of Electrical Engineering, University of Minnesota; and Professor G. R. Anderson, Professor of the University of Toronto, Toronto, Ont.

with the result that work has already started on the North Star mines, the Stenwinder and the Ontario.

Mr. Mitchell of the International Diamond Drill Company, Spokane, which is to be pushed vigorously during the winter on the North Star group. Shaft drifts and cross-cuts, with all modern appliances is to be used in the development of the Ontario and the Stenwinder. The development of these mines is to be pushed with the same shifts during the winter months, and it will be necessary to employ a large number of men.

The Canadian Ingersoll Rand Company is to supply the new machinery, while the East Kootenay Power Company is to supply the power.

A brother of O. Thompson, Capt. G. Thompson, is employed as consulting engineer for the electrical appliances.

A grade has already been constructed which connects the Stenwinder with the North Star siding and a track is being laid. This is connected with the Canadian Pacific Railroad.

A prominent geologist, Charles C. Starr, has been engaged to prospect the property and to block out a body of ore. As soon as this is done a concentrator will be built in Kimberley to take care of the ore, for which considerable machinery has already been obtained.

BLACK SAND

Though considerable installation work has been completed, the plant at Massett for the extraction of gold from the black sands of Graham Island is not yet in operation, states George W. B. Fletcher, president of the P. B. C. Mines (Ltd.), on a visit to Prince Rupert after having spent six weeks at the scene of operations. Herman Block, vice-president of the company, has given a three months' option to C. E. Cabrera, manager of the company, for his interest and, until the deal is completed, further construction work will be delayed. In the meantime, the company is buying up all the black sand it can secure.

By Howard R. Garis

"What do you think will happen you to-day, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning, as the rabbit gentleman pinkinked his twink nose, which is almost the only thing he has.

"I'm sure I can't tell," answered Mr. Longears, as he put on his tall silk hat and his red, white and blue striped rheumatism erutch down off the clock shelf, where it was learning to tell time.

"Well, I hope you have a jolly adventure," said Nurse Jane, kindly like.

"Thank you," replied the bunny, and then he hopped over the fields and

MINING NEWS

NORTH STAR

O. G. Thompson has been in Cranbrook to purchase part of the development of the mines, the North Star, the Stenwinder, the Ontario, and others, which are to be started up again at once.

Kimberley was originally built for the North Star mines. This property was closed down in 1910 by its original owners, and was leased in 1913 by Mr. Thompson, who started shipping ore immediately. Until 1921 about 25,000 tons of crude ore was shipped to the smelter at Trail. In 1921 the price of ore was reduced to the state where a concentrator was needed.

During two years of this period the North Star was second in the production in lead shipments, the Sullivan being first. In 1919 a forest fire destroyed all the surface work, which Mr. Thompson immediately rebuilt and continued to develop for the next two years.

Along with operations at the North Star he began prospecting and regular work on the Stenwinder and search work on the Ontario, and believing that development was worthwhile he managed to interest capital, while he managed to interest capital, through the woods until, all of a sudden, near an old year's spider web, he heard a buzzing voice crying: "Oh, dear! I guess this is the end of me!"

"That's what I've thought, many a time when the Fox or Bob Cat have been after me," said Uncle Wiggily. "But, whoever you are, don't fret and despair. Perhaps I can help you. Where are you and who are you?"

"I am a cold honey bee," was the answer, "and I am caught in this old spider web. The spider isn't here, so I am in no danger of being eaten. But I am so cold and stiff, and so tangled up by my wings and legs being caught in the web, that I can't get out."

"I'll help you," kindly offered Uncle Wiggily. "But I should think, being a bee, you could buzz your wings and wiggle your legs and so get out by yourself. Not that I mind helping you, though."

"That is very kind of you," buzzed the bee. "But you see the trouble I am in. I am cold and stiff. I need a warm blanket. We bees love warm weather, you know. And when we are cold we get stiff. We can't buzz our wings or wiggle our legs. We can't even sting, though I'd never sting you, Uncle Wiggily."

"Thank you," said the rabbit. "I'll help you out of the spider web, and then I'll put you in my snug little pocket until you get warm. Then I'll let you fly back to your hive."

"Thank you," buzzed the bee. "The bunny gentleman gently broke the strands of web from the bee's wings and legs and got the cold insect free. Then Uncle Wiggily put the bee down inside his snug little pocket to get warm."

Soon after this, while Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the woods, on his way to the five and six cent store to buy Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy a tin of molasses candy, all of a sudden the Dushy Bear jumped out

With that the bee stung the bad Bushy Bear on the end of his snout and tender nose. "Oh, what a sting!" "Gurra! Geopie!" howled the Bear, and, letting go of Uncle Wiggily, away off in the woods ran the bad chap.

"Thank you, Bee," said the Bunny. Then he took the buzzing insect to its hive and the bee gave the bunny some honey for Nurse Jane as Mr. Longears didn't need to buy any candy. Ottawa, Oct. 22.—W. D. Scott, who retired as Assistant Deputy Minister of Immigration and Colonization on June 30, was yesterday afternoon presented with a solid silver tea service and tray and an illuminated address by all the employees of the departments in Canada, the United States, Great Britain and on the continent of Europe.

Mr. Scott played a prominent part in the colonization of Western Canada, his first active work being when he sold the first section of Canadian Pacific Railway land near Brandon for $2.50 an acre, subject to a rebate of $1.25 an acre for the area brought under cultivation within three years. The purchaser was the late Charles Whitehead, father of the present editor and owner of The Brandon Sun.
