

STORY OF MISSIONS

Masonic hall, beautifully decorated in a cool garb of bridal wreath and white Cherokee roses, was the scene on Tuesday of one of the most enjoyable programs ever given before the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon club. Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, president of the club, presented the speaker of the day, Mr. John S. McGroarty, paying him a beautiful tribute as a poet, historian, and author of the Mission Play.

Mr. McGroarty touched a responsive chord in the hearts of all, as in his simple, earnest way, he dwelt lovingly on the romance and beauty of California. Beginning with the history of how the word "California" was coined, he traced the unsuccessful expeditions of the Spanish explorers in search of this wonderful land until 1542, when, just fifty years after Columbus had discovered America, the immortal Portuguese, Cabrillo, entered San Diego's harbor of the sun, and the "Land of Heart's Delight" was found at last. Cabrillo fell ill, and lies buried off San Miguel, of the Santa Barbara Islands, leaving the prize of San Francisco's 250 square miles of land locked harbor to fall into the hands of Portola, a foot-sore soldier seeking the Bay of Monterey.

Portola had with him Padre Cressey, an astronomer, to whom all the honor is due of bequeathing to us the musical names by which California's rivers, mountains, and valleys are known—such as Santa Margarita, Santa Paula, San Antonio, San Bernardino, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and many more. Mr. McGroarty was heartily applauded as he denounced it "a crime and an insufferable vulgarity" that these beautiful names should become in common parlance, "San Berdoo," "Los," "Old Baldy," and "Frisco."

Mr. McGroarty told of the discouragement of Portola, and of all save Padre Junipero Serra, whose saintly life and beautiful faith are forever preserved in the story of the Mission Play. Designating it, "the greatest story in all history," Mr. McGroarty told of Junipero Serra, the great scholar, having received the degree of D. D. from the University of Spain at the age of eighteen, who was also a great executive architect, musician and poet. He could have lived in a palace as a Cardinal in Spain, but chose to give his life to the California Indian, so filthy, stupid, and degraded a creature. That in sixteen short years Junipero Serra had civilized 30,000 of these Indians, and had taught them 54 European trades through the establishment of a chain of 21 Franciscan missions, which Mr. McGroarty claims is the greatest commercial enterprise down to this day, aside from its religious significance.

To California is left the priceless heritage of the Franciscan Fathers, —the only historical monuments in America, aside from Fort Ticonderoga. Mr. McGroarty appealed to his audience "to love California not in spots, but from the mountain to the sea," and closed with one of his own beautiful poems on Southern California. Preceding the address, Miss Ethel Saunders sang beautifully two of Kate Vanner's songs. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the program by Mrs. Helen Campbell, March chairman of Hospitality, and her assistants.

During the business session of the club, Mrs. Frank Grosvenor, in the absence of the chairman, reported the work of the committee appointed by Mrs. Bartlett to further the interests of the Tuesday Afternoon club candidate for the District vice-presidency, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones. Mrs. Nanno Woods presented the Free Flower Show to be held in Glendale under the auspices of the Glendale Garden society, April 21, 22, 23, urging the support of the club women.

The president of the club, Mrs. Bartlett, announced the delegates to the District convention to be held in Hollywood next week to be: Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. C. E. Harlan, Mrs. E. W. Kinney; alternates, Mrs. Frederick Baker, Mrs. J. F. Hearshaw, Mrs. A. M. Hunt, with Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., as the president's alternate.

Reciprocity days were well reported as follows: Highland Park, Mrs. J. Glenwood Jones; Cosmos club, Mrs. W. E. Evans; Alhambra and Washington Heights clubs, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett.

The Literary section will meet Tuesday, March 21, at the home of Mrs. E. W. Kinney, 1223 West Seventh street.

The Political Science section was announced to meet at the home of Mrs. A. L. Weaver, 235 South Ken-

SUNDAY SCHOOL PLAN

GLENDALE CHURCH DISTRICT TO HOLD BOYS' AND GIRLS' CONFERENCE

Following the example of Eastern States, these young folks are planning a two-day conference, to be held next month. Sunday afternoon, April 9, four large mass meetings are being planned for the boys, girls, mothers and fathers.

The object of this conference is threefold: First—To bring before the "teen age" boys and girls their responsibility in the development of Sunday School work; Second—In reaching the large number of girls and boys not in any Sunday School; Third—In the development of their own lives in Christian service.

In this conference, addresses will be given, and discussions conducted by the boys and girls themselves. Committees have been appointed representing the various denominations of the district. The complete program and place of meeting will be given in these columns later. The chairmen of committees are as follows:

WILLIS-RANDALL NUPTIALS

A pretty wedding ceremony was very quietly celebrated Wednesday afternoon at 121 South Maryland, the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Randall, when Miss Nita G. Randall, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall, was united in marriage to Mr. Ray A. Willis of Los Angeles. The perfume of fragrant spring blossoms and singing birds added a charm to the pretty occasion, when the sweet girl bride plighted her troth to the happy groom. The living room was most beautifully decorated in pink carnations, white Iris and English ivy and here amid the radiant bloom Rev. B. Dudley Snudden read the lines that united Miss Randall and Mr. Willis.

Many fragrant Jonquills and graceful ferns nodded from tall vases arranged in the dining room. The father, M. F. Randall, gave the bride into the keeping of the groom. Miss Randall was attended by her mother, Mrs. M. F. Randall, and the groom's mother, Mrs. J. Willis of Los Angeles. The pretty bride was gowned in a dainty creation of light tan taffeta silk and all over lace; a wreath of orange blossoms and an arm bouquet of American beauty roses completed the exquisite toilet of the bride. Mrs. Randall was gowned in handsome grey silk, while Mrs. Willis wore an equally elaborate gown of black silk.

Following the ceremony the happy bride and groom and the guests left for Los Angeles, where at the beautiful new home of the newlyweds a reception was held.

Wednesday was also the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Randall, who in Mason City, Iowa, forty-five years ago, plighted their troth in the Methodist Episcopal church, when Mrs. Randall's father, Rev. J. M. Hudson, who was then pastor of the congregation, read the marriage lines.

As a pleasant reminder of her parents' connubial happiness, Mrs. Willis selected as her wedding day the same, March 15, as her mother did forty-five years ago.

WASHINGTON FEELS SITUATION INSECURE

PRESIDENT WILSON IS HOPING THAT CARRANZA'S MEN WILL CAPTURE VILLA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16.—It is felt here that the situation in Mexico is delicate and insecure. Carranza's position is believed to be precarious since he has consented to permit American troops to enter the country. He will either be compelled to act against the United States or to lose both prestige and position it is believed. Wilson hopes that Carranza's soldiers will capture Villa before the affair comes to an impasse. This would restore confidence in the "first chief" and probably settle the whole business harmoniously. Villa however is now a national hero and has many friends among Carranza's entourage.

RESIGNATION OF ADMIRAL VON TIRPITZ INDICATES THAT KAISER HAS WEAKENED ON EXTERMINATION PLANS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
BERLIN, March 16.—The resignation of Admiral Alfred von Tirpitz, German minister of the navy, is believed here to indicate that the kaiser has weakened on the policy of sinking without warning armed merchant vessels. The German troops that captured a line of lower trenches on the slope of the height of Le Mort Homme (Dead Man's Hill) are still holding their own in spite of desperate attacks by the French. Along the entire front from Belgium to the Vosges an artillery duel is going on between the big guns.

SCHOOL AND CAMPUS

HIGH SCHOOL SOPHOMORES PRESENT CLEVER COMEDY—DEFEAT BASEBALL SCRUBS

Many of the High School students enjoyed "The Fortunes of War," a clever comedy which was presented last week by a Sophomore cast consisting of Margaret Lusby, Louise Gonzales, Iris Bannock, Nettie Werve and Berna Martin. This play was an illustration of the splendid work done by members of the Dramatic club.

Two casts are now working on a farce called "The Burglar." One cast consists of Juniors and the other of Seniors. Both casts will present part of the play before the Dramatic club next Thursday afternoon. The best set of actors will then be allowed to give the farce as a pay assembly. The Dramatic club has had a surprisingly successful year for a new organization.

Sophs Beat Scrubs

The interclass baseball season started last Friday, when the Sophomores met the Freshmen on the local diamond. The Sophs played all around the infants and got an easy victory by the score of 6-1. The Soph line-up was: Rees, catcher; Davis, pitcher; Paddelford, 1st base; Milton Brown, 2nd base; Powers, s. s.; Ballinger, 3rd base; Lee, l. f.; Merrit Brown, c. f.; S. Smith, r. f. Davy surprised everyone by playing a splendid game. The Sophs say they'll take the Seniors by some such score, but—oh well, maybe they will.

Oratorical Contest

The time for the annual interclass oratorical contest is drawing near. This is the finest and most exciting event of the school year. The Seniors have the greatest number of students who will try out for the place of class representative. Nine members of that class will enter the tryouts on March 24. All the classes are beginning to get suggestions for oratorical booths. Get something original, Scrubs!

General Notes

The Occidental Glee Club will give an entertainment as a pay assembly on May 17.

Mrs. F. R. Morris is teaching Latin during the absence of Miss Donichy.

Robert Kolts, '16, has returned to school after an absence of over a week with blood poisoning in his foot.

There will be a county track meet at Alhambra next Saturday. Go over if possible and boost for our team.

Arthur Funkhouser, a former student of L. A. High, entered Glendale High School yesterday.

One of the Seniors, Eldred Marlatt, 420 W. Ninth street, who is studying architecture and manifesting a wonderful capacity for his chosen profession, has been sent to visit Alhambra and Hollywood High schools, in order to get ideas for the Glendale High School gymnasium. Eldred will draw the plans for the gymnasium and submit them to Principal Moyses.

S. OF V. INSTALLATION

N. P. Banks Camp, Sons of Veterans, held the annual installation of officers Tuesday evening at G. A. R. hall, when a pleasing program was rendered and a delectable lunch served at the close of the evening's entertainment. Officers installed for the year were R. M. McGee, Camp commander; Delos Jones, senior vice commander; J. A. De Muth, junior vice commander; Joseph V. Griffin, secretary; J. Robert Danner, treasurer; A. J. Van Wie, color bearer; Joseph V. Griffin, Will Goss and Dana Goss, Camp council.

The beautiful installation ceremonies were conducted by Fred Paugh, Division senior vice commander, of Los Angeles. Mr. Paugh, who is also a member of Rosencrans Camp of Los Angeles, was accompanied by six members of that camp who were the guests of N. P. Banks Camp.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Hazel Anderson, of 320 Cedar street, entertained a number of young people at her home, in honor of her brother Howard's twentieth birthday. The evening was spent playing games and selections on the Victrola were enjoyed. At the close of the evening light refreshments were served.

Anderson, Misses Olive Quick, Helen Stump, Marie Wailles and Lena Balthanzer; also Mrs. Helen Packard and Mrs. Cleo Hartley. Mrs. F. W. Anderson assisted her daughter throughout the evening.

RANDALL ON WAR

CONGRESSMAN TELLS WHY HE OPPOSES MILITARY INSTRUCTION IN SCHOOL

Writing to a constituent, from Washington on March 8, Congressman Randall takes a stand against military instruction in public schools and supports President Wilson in the international crisis. His letter follows:

"My Dear Friend:—
"Answering your letter of March 2, in which you request my support of certain measures providing for extensive military training in civil educational institutions, I regret to say that I must disagree with you upon that question. I hope that our Nation will not follow in the footsteps of militaristic Europe.

"Under present civilization, we must maintain a few institutions like West Point and Annapolis, where trained military and naval officers can be supplied. But let us not teach the youth in our public schools the horrible science of war, but rather train their minds in the direction of peace, as the ruling spirit of the world.

"Your further request that I support the President in his difficult task of international negotiation finds a ready echo in my heart. The past few days have been difficult ones here. Many supporters of the President felt that we should warn Americans against riding on armed merchantmen of belligerents, that they might not involve their country in war.

"But the question as it came before the House of Representatives required an answer to the question, 'Will you discredit your President in the eyes of the world, and repudiate his labors for eighteen months to keep us out of war?' The delicate intricacies of diplomatic affairs would have been wrecked beyond repair if we had rebuked the President in the House of Representatives recently, although nearly every speaker declared that foolhardy Americans should stay off belligerent vessels.

"This question was one of grave concern to me for days; I felt that my duty required me to vote for a warning resolution. In that state of mind I went to President Wilson on the morning before the vote, and with others in a few minutes of earnest conversation, I was convinced that the President is as passionately desirous of peace as any citizen of the country.

"The fact that he has just appointed as Secretary of War a man who belongs to all the peace societies in the country had its effect also. "In diplomatic negotiation there are some things which must follow technical lines, and some of them we cannot understand.

"But let me assure you that President Wilson is the genuine friend of peace, and I gave him my vote of confidence, feeling that to be the wise and patriotic course."

DELIGHTFUL LUNCHEON

One of the prettiest affairs of the week was the luncheon with which Mrs. Arthur C. Brown of Milford street entertained Wednesday. The beautiful home was artistically decorated with flowers and greenery. The place cards and table arrangements were symbolic of St. Patrick's day. Twenty-four guests from Los Angeles, San Pedro, Huntington Park and Glendale were present. A delightful program of original monologues was given by the guests during the pleasant afternoon which followed the luncheon. Mrs. Brown was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. J. D. Taylor of Los Angeles, and Dr. Jessie A. Russell.

TO TEST SECOND WELL

The Public Service department of the city will test the second new well just drilled on the pumping plant site on San Fernando road, on Saturday afternoon, March 18, 1916, at 2:30 p. m. These wells are being sunk to insure ample water during summer periods. The first well, tested about a month ago, yielded 187 miner's inches when the water stood at a depth of 38 feet.

WAR AS A NATIONAL REGENERATOR

There is no doubt as to the evils of war. They are manifest, palpable and inevitable. Devastated homes, bereaved families, fields lying waste, the destruction of much of the nation's youth and of a great part of its wealth—all follow in the wake of war.

To such a condition England was pretty closely reduced just before the war broke out. It was impossible to get a rush of national feeling out of any of the people. They would hardly respond to any sentiment higher than that of "what shall we eat? what shall we drink? and wherewithal shall we be clothed?"

These men assembling in their millions in answer to the call of their country know that they must die to preserve that which they value above all mercenary profit and they are ready to die cheerfully. The knowledge of this impending fate has suddenly raised the moral tone of the people and sobered them.

The obesity and slackness that come from the canker of a long peace will pass away from the greater part of Europe and humanity there will face the problems of existence in a new spirit. It is certain that everywhere whatever is worth preserving is worth fighting for and will probably have to be fought for some time or other.

PROGRESS OF THE WAR IN EUROPE

It is now three weeks since the great thrust on Verdun fort was begun by the Germans and they have not advanced in any appreciable degree. Their report that they had captured Fort de Vaux has turned out to be not only incorrect but possibly published for the effect it might have on the people at home.

A new thrust is being made at another quarter and as usual slight local gains are reported; but as far as having any effect on the general outlook of the war what is going on at Verdun is valueless except to the Allies. There is still a great deal of fight left in the German armies but those armies are no longer the fine bodies of stalwart and well trained men who marched so confidently across the Luxembourg and Belgian borders a year and a half ago.

Gen. Petain, the young Frenchman, who is in command at Verdun, is confident that he can hold the lines against the Germans there. He has surrounded himself with many young officers and they are able to inspire their troops with a wonderful spirit of cool and determined fighting. The result is that wave after wave of Teutonic troops is sent against the wire entanglements to perish. It is manifest that little is to be gained by this method of attack while the loss of life is so appalling that it can never be compensated for by the mere capturing of a line of trenches.

In the Balkans there are indications that Roumania is to join fortunes with the British, French, Russians and Italians. Greece is still holding out against that combination with a neutrality that manifestly leans toward the central allies. Should the French, British, Russian and Italian combination win in the long run, King Constantine and his dynasty may bid farewell to Greece as it is practically certain that that country will become a republic and shake off the monarchical rule forever.

There is no further development of the often-spoken-of German thrust at the Suez canal and Egypt. The difficulties of such a campaign as pointed out in these editorial columns, are too great to be solved without a great deal of time and trouble.

Russia is pushing her campaign against the Turks and is nearing the important city of Trebizond. At the same time a Russian body is rapidly dominating northern Persia. The British column at Kut-el-Amara appears to be taking things easy in that beleaguered fortress, communication between Gen. Townshend's garrison and the relieving column being kept up by airship. The garrison has plenty of ammunition and apparently plenty of food.

Germany's proposed submarine campaign has shown very little effect up to the present moment. At the same time it is intimated that the kaiser has not given up his intention to sink armed merchantmen on sight, notwithstanding the American protest. It is also highly significant of some change of naval policy if the news cabled just now from Germany be true, that Grand Admiral von Tirpitz, originator of the submarine policy has resigned.

Here is a hint for Southern California towns where there is about one fire a month: To while away their many leisure hours the firemen of Sandusky, Ohio, are weaving hammocks and bedspreads of twine. They get fine practice during the winter months when there are very few fires. Then they weave shawls. Each fireman made a shawl for his wife. Now they are working on hammocks and bedspreads for their homes. Five pounds of twine will make a hammock seven feet long and four feet wide. Weaving frames were constructed by the firemen themselves.

FLOWER SHOW COMPETITORS ARE ADVISED TO GET LISTS AT ONCE AND STUDY THEM

The Schedule of Exhibits for the Free Flower Show should be in everybody's hands. Copies can be obtained from Headquarters, 1111 W. Broadway; from the drug stores, the banks, the real estate offices, the Chamber of Commerce, etc. Quantities are also being distributed through the schools; and Mrs. Nanno Woods, who is to speak on the subject this afternoon at the Tuesday Afternoon club, will distribute schedules to all club members.

Every resident of Glendale and neighborhood should send in exhibits to the Flower Show; not only flowers, but fruits and vegetables of all kinds. Ribbons of honor will be awarded those obtaining first and second places in all sections. To juvenile winners, cash prizes will be given.

Two thousand schedules have been published; everybody should get one. The rules and conditions should be carefully noted; to formulate these, the rules and conditions published by the Pasadena Horticultural Society, and used at their Spring and Fall shows, have been closely followed.

Special heed should be taken of Rule No. 1. "All entries must be made at least three days before the date of show. No entry will be accepted after April 17." This means that the name and address of exhibitor, together with the class number, must be handed in at least three days before the show. This is a very necessary rule, and will be strictly enforced.

All entries are to be sent in to Headquarters, 1111 W. Broadway, where cards will be issued, bearing exhibitor's name, address and class number. This rule is enforced at all horticultural shows, and is designated to avoid endless confusion and hurry at the last moment.

Mr. Morris Caruthers, Mrs. H. C. Ackley and Mr. M. B. Hartmann are now busy drawing up plans for the interior of the tent, 60 by 100, and attending to the thousand and one details incidental to all big enterprises.

Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the fact that this Flower and Vegetable Show is planned solely for the good of the community. It will not net one penny to anyone. As no local campaign for funds has been organized, and no local firms have been approached for money or its equivalent, one can readily understand with what favor the enterprise is looked upon.

The city trustees with their appropriation of $100 and the members of the Glendale Garden society who are devoting brains, hands and time in the most unselfish and loyal spirit, are bearing the entire burden and responsibility. Those who will benefit from this unique and remarkable undertaking are the property owners and local merchants; for the Flower Show conducted on this broad and entirely novel basis will advertise Glendale in an unheard of manner among the very class of people it is desired to attract to our city.

ATTENTION MEN!

Under the auspices of the Brotherhood of the West Glendale M. E. church, Pacific avenue and Fifth street, Glendale, Tuesday, March 21, 7 p. m., a dinner will be given to which all men are invited to attend. Robert C. TROPICO

Fragrant Blanche Ferry sweet peas, with a graceful arrangement of greenery, centered a well appointed table, at which Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Griffin entertained at their home on Acacia avenue, Wednesday evening. Those for whom this gracious host and hostess entertained were Miss Lottie Warren, of Denver, Colorado; Mr. Donald Warren, Columbia City, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Weiler, Miss Emma Lee Weiler, Misses Melba and Lena Weiler of Glendale, and Major J. J. Weiler and Jim Griffin of Tropicco.

Mrs. Otto P. Snyder, Mrs. Charles H. Phillips and the latter's house guest, Mrs. M. M. Phillips of Orange, attended the Ivy club card party Tuesday afternoon at Goldberg-Bosley hall.

The memory of St. Patrick is to be celebrated quite extensively in Tropicco Friday evening. The Municipal play ground will be given a benefit at the Bijou theater. Then it will be, Hear ye, hear ye, hear ye, all folks are commanded to come to the big vaudeville and photo play show at the Bijou on that date, the 17th of Ireland. Every act will be a feature. Every performer a headliner and the usual happy throng of merrymakers and pleasure seekers will be in attendance at this Irish event.

Joseph V. Griffin will feature a big Irish comedy, while W. C. Wattles, the electric club swinger, and A. Alexander, the coon, will produce no amount of fun. Suppose they must have had coons in the good old days of St. Patrick, at least we hope so, for the sake of the program, at least.

And now comes the announcement that Dr. Wm. C. Mabry, Tropicco's health officer, has decided that in addition to his regular practice in Tropicco and Glendale he will maintain offices in Los Angeles. Friends of Dr. and Mrs. Mabry are trusting that this will in no way affect their residence in Tropicco, where they are so well known.

Mrs. Margaret R. Coleman entertained the Thimble club of the Pythian Sisters at her home, 204 E. Acacia avenue, Tuesday afternoon. Fragrant pink roses and ferns formed the pretty decorations for the delightful afternoon, which was enjoyed by Mrs. Coleman and her guests.

Mrs. Louise Purnell and Mrs. Mabel Hutchins, who with their guests motored to Tehachapi and enjoyed a few days camping, have returned to their homes. A trip to Bakersfield was also one of the pleasures of the trip.

Mrs. E. M. Bales of Glendale was the guest of Mrs. Frank Booth of Gardena avenue, Tuesday, at luncheon. Later Mrs. Booth and Mrs. Bales attended the Ivy club card party, given at Goldberg-Bosley hall, Tuesday afternoon, at which Mrs. Charles Wallace Kimberly was hostess.

INSPECTOR'S AUTO STOLEN

It seems to be comparatively easy to steal a Ford machine in Los Angeles city to judge by the number of cases of such thefts reported to the Glendale police. The latest case is that of Roy Hasson, State milk inspector who is at present inspecting dairies in this vicinity. Mr. Hasson left his Ford near the Little Theater on Pico street and when he returned a few minutes afterward he found that it had disappeared. No trace of the auto has yet been found.

SMALL BRUSH FIRE

Some member of the fair sex in the vicinity of Lincoln avenue, which is close to the northern limits of the city and two blocks south of Dryden street, took alarm at the burning of some brush in an adjacent lot and turned in an alarm of fire, about 4 p. m. Wednesday. The fire department in the person of Fire Chief Lankford was promptly on the spot, but found there was no need of action. The fire burned out of itself.

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

Mr. W. P. Anderson, 1230 Campbell street, left for New York this week. He will be gone for some time, but hopes to return to the foothills again after his business in the East has been accomplished.

Mr. Paul R. Boggs, vice-president of the Lucey Manufacturing company, has now got the grounds about the house he recently purchased at 1020 Stocker street in fine shape. The artistic gardening done by a skillful Japanese expert has improved the appearance of the property 100 per cent.

The Parents' Reading Circle met at the home of Mrs. C. H. Toll, Kenneth road, Wednesday afternoon. Twenty members were present and three new members were admitted. These were: Mrs. O. H. Ormsby, Mrs. W. C. Alvord and Mrs. T. C. Malone.

Mr. J. W. Elliott, northwest corner of Dryden, says that his chicken ranch is doing a good business in early chick and guaranteed fertile eggs. This business is growing. There is now a great market in New Mexico and Arizona for all California breeds of good stock.

TO OPEN NEW SCHOOL

LA CRESCENTA'S FINE NEW EDUCATIONAL BUILDING TO BE DEDICATED FRIDAY

La Crescanta has shown a wonderful spirit of progress in erecting a handsome and commodious new school building, which will serve the needs of the community for some time to come. The people of La Crescanta have a striking memento of the condition from which they have been delivered in the matter of education in the old schoolhouse, which served its day and generation well but now, antiquated and deserted, stands beside the fine new concrete building, the ghost of past days.

The new building is a very fine specimen of the mission style of architecture and is admirably suited to the climate of California. Fine iron mission style gates of a spacious entrance open into a large patio which will ultimately be filled with growing shrubs and flowers. Already round the borders flowers are growing. To the left is the primary department under the charge of the principal, Miss Haugh. This room is furnished with the latest style of school desk. The floors are polished and everything is in first-class shape. The cost of the building was $14,000.

Off this room is a fine lunch closet and cloak room; to the west of the cloak room is a large library well furnished with books. This room also serves as an office for the transaction of school business. There is another schoolroom where Miss Brown teaches the higher grades. There is also a fine auditorium with a stage and here the children are at present practicing two plays. The older children are putting on a play called "The Cinder Maid" and the primary department will offer "The Grown-Up Folks."

Arrangements are being made for putting the playground in first-class shape. There is already a good basketball team, both of boys and girls. Croquet and tennis will be introduced as soon as the courts are ready.

A wild flower competition will be held about May 1, when prizes will be offered for the students who send in the largest, most varied and correctly named collection.

The trustees—Mr. Hauber, president; Mr. Bissell, clerk; and Mr. Thompson, treasurer—have arranged for a formal dedication of the school Friday, March 17. It is expected that there will be a very large attendance on this occasion. The three rooms and the auditorium will be nicely adorned with flowers and open to the inspection of the public. In the evening the formal dedication of the school will take place. There will be a fine program and Deputy Assistant County Superintendent Wheat will make the speech of the evening, and there will be a picture show with the new school stereopticon.

CHARGE OF ASSAULT

A charge of assault has been lodged in Judge Whomes' court against C. W. Ingledue, proprietor of the Glendale Market, at the instance of L. Andrews, 413 E. Third street. The complaint charges that Wednesday afternoon, at the Fox-Woodsum lumber yards, C. W. Ingledue did commit a violent assault on the person of L. Andrews, striking him on the head with an iron bar or instrument and did produce great bodily injury on him. Mr. Ingledue was arraigned before Judge Whomes Wednesday afternoon, and the case was set for Thursday morning at 10 a. m. At 8 a. m. Oliver O. Clark, attorney for Mr. Ingledue, appeared and asked for a continuance of the date for pleading until Saturday morning at 10. This was granted. Mr. Andrews was attended by Dr. Young and was found to be quite

MRS. DAVID EDSTROM TELLS OF LIFE IN WALES AND IN LONDON

One of the recent arrivals in Glendale from the belligerent section of Europe is Mrs. David Edstrom, wife of the famous Swedish sculptor, David Edstrom, who is at present a house guest of Mrs. Charles E. Anderson, 201 N. Louise street. Mrs. Edstrom and her husband were resident in Paris for ten years, but went over to England shortly after the war broke out. "As the wife of a Swedish citizen," said Mrs. Edstrom, "I am not anxious to say much regarding the war in Europe, Sweden being one of the neutral nations. I did see many things and many phases of war-time in England that were interesting.

"Many of these I am not at liberty to speak about, for the reason I have just mentioned; others, however, are interesting and can be told. I am a native of Ireland myself, and am thoroughly interested in the welfare of Europe. I went to Wales along with my husband because we wanted to get into the peace and quiet of the Welsh mountains for a time. There we were brought into contact with the fact that near Dolgelly, the name of the city where we were living, there was a large detention camp for German prisoners, of whom there is quite a number in England. While we were there we learned that many of these prisoners had escaped from time to time. They got into the hills and tried to make their way south to the mining region, where it is said they would be sure of meeting friends who would aid their escape.

"It is known that in many of the Welsh coal mines Germans had bought interests before the war broke out and thus had a hand in the policy of the mines and cleverly organized and provoked the outbreaks of the miners which at one time seriously threatened to embarrass the British naval operations. All of the Germans who escaped were ultimately recaptured.

"Armaagaard, a German spy, who was instrumental in getting much information for the Germans concerning British movements and preparations, and was ultimately betrayed to the British by his employers to get rid of him, being pardoned by the British and joining their service, wrote the "Confessions of a Spy." In that volume he says 'England is the easiest country to get into; but the most difficult to get out of.' So I found it. At Liverpool, which is in the prohibited area, I had to exhibit my passport, with my signature, which I had to verify. I had also to show my certificate of registration, my photograph and my marriage certificate, before I was permitted to sail for the United States.

"That is all very necessary of course; but one thing shows the density of the English officials: They insist on internment the British-born wives of German husbands while the German wives of British men are allowed to go about at perfect liberty. Interned on this ruling a British woman married to a German is not allowed to go outside of a five-mile limit round her house without a special permit.

"In London the people are perfectly calm as far as the war is concerned. There is nothing in the way of fear there or anywhere else. The Zeppelins scarcely provoke anything beyond curiosity. I was one day walking down Piccadilly when a huge airship appeared in the sky. It was thought to be a Zeppelin. This idea was strengthened by the immediate starting up of aeroplanes as if in pursuit. The effect on the people was simply to make them stand still and gaze or rush out of their houses to have a look at the supposed impending battle. No one exhibited anything but curiosity.

"London twenty-five years ago was badly lighted. Electric lights were uncommon. An air of mystery hung over it. A haze enveloped it such as lingers in the Turner pictures. This atmosphere was dispelled by the advent of the myriad electric lights. These have all vanished once more and the streets have gone back to the old semi-darkness that conceals so much vagueness and mystery. To artists, like my husband and myself, the artistic value of the city is increased a hundred-fold. The darkness is symbolical of what is hanging over all Europe.

"Out of this war will come the salvation of Britain. That country was rapidly becoming obese and self-satisfied and foolish. The war has wakened every one up and though its present effect is a savor of death unto death, its after influence is undoubtedly to be a savor of life unto life. The men who went into this war thoughtlessly are now men serious and improved 100 per cent. So is the whole nation."

I have noticed that money conditions in California will often change in a day's time.

LITTLELANDS

Dr. R. C. Scudder of Los Angeles was the guest over Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lamson of Greely avenue. Dr. Scudder is an old friend and classmate of Mr. Lamson.

After a long absence from Littlelands Mr. Harper has taken up his dwelling once more at his place on north Sunset boulevard.

The Misses Gertrude and Edna May Van Batum were visitors last Sunday at the Sunland Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. Shiras were visitors to Los Angeles last Monday.

Mr. Lindsay and son and son-in-law, Mr. Hood, have taken up their residence in Littlelands. Mr. Lindsay, Sr., is the manager of the Peoples' Stage line, his son and son-in-law are his assistants. They are at present occupying the living room of the new office building at the corner of Sunset and El Centro.

Home Croft Meeting

A number of interesting subjects were discussed at the Home Croft meeting last Friday night. Some of the gardeners have been experimenting with the Black Windsor bean. It is the consensus of opinion that it is not a profitable crop in this vicinity. It seems to be very susceptible to the cold and the black aphid cover the plant so thoroughly that nothing seems able to eliminate them.

Mr. Hatch made a motion to suspend the Home Croft meetings for the present and after considerable discussion pro and con the motion was withdrawn and it was decided to continue the meetings and to each try to make them as interesting as possible.

Miss Stella Wieman, who is a trained nurse, was called away the latter part of the week to Los Angeles, on professional duty.

Christian Endeavor

There will be a meeting of the Christian Endeavor society next Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the club house. The election of officers takes place, after which a social time is planned for the young people and their friends, to whom a cordial invitation is extended.

Monday evening the Colonial Dancing club met at Bolton hall to practice some new dancing steps preparatory to their attendance at a social function—the opening of the dance pavilion at Ocean Park, Thursday evening.

Mr. Rocky of Pine street has been making some improvement on his house recently, which adds very much to the appearance of the place.

Mr. Wieman has built a small addition to his house on El Centro, for the convenience of his daughter, who expects to spend some time in Littlelands.

Mr. George S. Shumway of Milford, Conn., is a recent subscriber to the Tri-City Progress. Mr. and Mrs. Shumway were former residents of Littlelands and own property on Monte Vista boulevard and Stephen Way. Their absence is only temporary, as they expect eventually to make their home in Littlelands.

Spring Dinner

The following delicious menu was furnished by Mrs. Hoffman at the last Home Croft meeting: Southern fried chicken, new peas, new potatoes boiled, then browned in Crisco and butter; asparagus salad, warm rolls or Southern beaten biscuits, butter, strawberry shortcake with whipped cream, coffee.

Recipe for Asparagus Salad: For six people—Three cups of cooked asparagus, ¼ as much of English walnuts chopped fine; 1 teaspoonful of onion juice or 1 small onion minced fine; yolks of three hard-boiled eggs (½ egg for each person). Arrange on lettuce leaves, topping the salad with yolks of egg. Use any good salad dressing.

Beaten Biscuits: 1 quart flour, ¼ cup shortening, 1 tablespoonful of salt. Mix with water into a very stiff dough and pound on a slab with a heavy weight, turning and pounding till light. Make into biscuits by rolling small pieces of dough in the hollow of the hand. Bake in moderately hot oven.

Southern Fried Chicken—Cut young chicken into suitable pieces; season with pepper and salt and roll in flour. Fry in Crisco or butter rather slowly till a golden brown. Pour a cup of boiling water over, cover and cook slowly till water is absorbed. Turn the pieces occasionally. Mrs. Hoffman is a native of West Virginia and these are genuine Southern recipes.

Poultry Club

The Poultry club met last Monday evening at the school house. Mr. Hough, president, occupied the chair. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. It was decided on motion of Mr. Haverstick to hold the future club meetings the second Monday evening of each month at the school house. The subject of "Style of Brooders" was discussed and Mr. Hough gave the formula of the Oregon State College for the ration suitable for laying hens: Light bran, 4 parts; middlings, 1 part; ground barley, 1 part; corn meal, 1 part; linseed meal, ¼ part. Feed this in the morning, as much as it will take the chickens one hour to consume. At noon feed oats, all they will consume in 2 hours. At night give liberal feed of wheat, and keep commercial meat scrap before the birds all the time.

The Board of Trade meets next Monday evening, 7:30 o'clock, at the club house. Every member urged to be present. The regular meeting occurs every third Monday night of each month. Please bear this in mind.

LA CANADA

Mr. Ed. Stultz and family of Venice visited his parents Sunday.

The annual stockholders' meeting of the La Canada Water company was held in the La Canada club hall, Monday, March 13, 1916, at 2:00 p. m. A larger amount of stocks was represented than at any previous meeting of the company, 3375 out of 3600 being present. After the regular routine of business was finished a vote was taken for directors for the ensuing year. After the vote was counted, it was found that Messrs. F. D. Lanterman, H. S. Mackey, Charles B. Anderson, R. J. Lyons and A. G. Williams were declared elected directors for the following year.

The Christian Endeavor society held their regular monthly business meeting and social Friday evening, March 10, at the home of Mrs. O. J. Green. The election of officers for the next six months resulted as follows: Mr. Edwin Cooper, pres.; Mr. P. H. Johnson, Vice-Pres.; Miss Faye Crossland, sec.; Mr. Robert Cooper, treas.; Miss Helen Cooper, pianist; Miss Clara Armstrong, asst. pianist. After the business meeting a social time of unique games was enjoyed. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening's entertainment. A very pleasant evening was spent.

Miss Leta McCoy of Glendale was the week-end guest of Miss Rowena Green.

Mrs. McMullin spent Tuesday in Los Angeles and Hollywood, visiting friends.

Dr. Scott will take for his sermon Sunday: "The Broken Tables of Stone."

Miss Katherine Hegeman of Los Angeles spent the week-end with Miss Helen Cooper.

The regular meeting of the Thursday club was held in Alhambra at the home of Mrs. Walter R. Cuthbert, daughter of Mrs. E. H. Brooks, who was hostess for the afternoon. At the close of the business session Mrs. Jesse Knight presented the adobe building in which the first school in La Canada was conducted, to be used for a club house. This generous gift will enable the club eventually to enlarge its membership. Interesting papers were read by Mrs. Dwight Cooper, Mrs. Jesse Knight and Miss Helen Cooper. Following this a dainty two-course luncheon was served and the occasion was greatly enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Cuthbert and daughter Miriam of Alhambra, and Mr. Ernest King of Los Angeles, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brooks.

The meeting of the La Canada Improvement association will be held in the La Canada hall, Saturday evening, March 18. The business session will be of interest to all members. The program will be rendered by pupils of the School of Oratory at Pasadena, conducted by Miss Eleanor Miller. Vocal music will be rendered by Mrs. Dr. McDonald of La Canada.

AN EDIBLE FOUR-LEAF CLOVER

The clover plant has been cultivated to show nothing but four-leaf clovers and small red blossoms. Though pots of this make charming favors and pretty table decorations, it has a more important significance to the housewife. When the plants is put into open air culture, its roots develop to the size of a medium carrot. These roots can be used in the same manner as asparagus, and are preferable to asparagus because free of any bitter flavor.

Recently one of the large restaurants in New York had this clover as a salad. It was served with a sauce of butter and bread crumbs. To prepare it for eating, the root must be brushed with a sharp brush to take off the outer skin. The flesh is white, and when boiled the root swells a little. It should be boiled in salted water.

The leaves of the plant may be used like cress. Their taste is rather more acid than peppery. One plant during a summer will produce about two hundred and fifty leaves, and the more will grow. One bulb will also increase to twenty, if planted in the spring in a garden. Neither does the plant require arduous care. The richer the ground in which it is placed, the better, and in moist ground it fares better than in dry.

Mrs. M. E. Plasterer, 109 N. Kenwood, has made application for membership in the Tuesday Afternoon club.
