"I was attacked last May by appendicitis. An eminent surgeon of my city advised me to have an operation, which I refused. I began to feel better, but as a result, we fell upon 'Force,' which has been a wonderful boon to me. I have eaten almost three cases." H. H. MILLER.

THE MOTHERS KNOW

A growing, active boy puts clothing to its supreme test. It is the mother of such a boy who understands, as nobody else does, whether materials hold their color, are properly put together, and stand wear as they should.

Hundreds of mothers have told us how absolute is the satisfaction which gives to them, in all respects, as worn by their sons.

We cannot conceive of a higher endorsement—can you?

Laboratory

JAYNES & CO.
GIVE GREEN TRADING STAMPS

A word of many meanings.

But it's the Jaynes Laboratory, at 48 Washington Street, we are talking about.

It covers a quarter acre of floor space. It is a busy place all the year round.

It keeps eighteen girls and nine men hustling all the time—manufacturing, bottling, labeling, and wrapping the various preparations which the people demand.

These preparations are all sold at one profit only, and then if they fail to cure, you get your money back.

All the latest up-to-date machinery is used to facilitate the work—bottling machines, tablet machines, mixers, sifters, pressure filters, etc. We also have a complete malt plant for turning out Jaynes' Liquid Extract of Malt—the only malt plant in the world owned and operated by a retail druggist.

All these things, combined with the efforts of the most skilled chemists and the very highest quality of materials, enable us to fully guarantee our preparations, and to refund the money in case they fail to cure.

A trial purchase by you is our best advertisement.

HEARD AND READ

Heavenly! I have just refused to marry a girl named Helen. Well, I can't help it, but I am a little incoherent in my remarks. —Town & Country.

"Colonel," said the fair hostess to her guest, "I have just read a very interesting article in the 'Ladies' Weekly' about a woman who had been married seven times. 'Madam,' replied the guest, "I am not afraid of it. —Chicago Daily News.

"What is it now, sergeant?" "Sergeant," said the new recruit, "I would like to mark time in the 'Ladies' Weekly' and have my own article about a woman who had been married seven times. —Princeton Tiger.

"ONLY ONE MORE." A certain merchant, almost worried to death by persistent attention of a local insurance agent, suddenly vanished round in a flash and demanded, — "Is your life insured?" "Of course, sir." "In the case of your death who would insure your wife, sir?" "I'm! Send your wife to me!" "Father puzzled, the agent wished that he was a man who did not suffer from the prevalence upon his wife to the merchant, who was sure, he would do something in the end." "Mr. Z," remarked the merchant, "I understand the merchant's life is insured?" "That is so."

"And that you would be entitled to the estate in the event of his death?" "Certainly."

"Then, madam, if you can prevail upon your husband to visit me once more, I will only one, mind—I'll see that you have long to wait for your money!"

"Good morning!"

Z didn't call again—Waverly Magazine.

WOOL SCOURING.

Business Was Established Nearly Twenty Years Ago and Many Improvements Have Been Made Since That Time.

Of Weymouth's many industries, perhaps as little is known of any as of the business conducted in the building formerly owned by the Weymouth Iron Foundry, and which is now used by the East Weymouth Wool Scouring Company. While the name tells the story to the man versed in the business, the layman is caught asking himself, "What is wool scouring, how is it done and where is the money in it?" While the writer will not guarantee to give the reader an expert opinion concerning the business, he will try to tell him something about it.

In the first place, when the wool comes from the sheep it isn't always as clean as it looks when the shearer sheds a pet lamb on the lawn with a red or blue ribbon about its neck. On the contrary, some of the wool, to judge by samples shown the writer, is several degrees removed from any semblance of cleanliness. To put it in the right condition for use, is the province of just such a business as the one under discussion.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON

Presents his Ideas of Duty in the Present Trials of the Colored Race.

Advocate Equal Justice for White Men and Negroes—Would Have Same Law for Both.

In an address delivered at a meeting in Louisville, Kentucky, during the recess session of the Afro-American convention, Dr. Booker T. Washington of this town, spoke in part as follows:—

"In the midst of the present deep interest growing out of matters connected with our race, it can be stated that recent events, as respects the negro, are, however they may be regarded, a step in the right direction at least. The events to which I refer show that the questions pertaining to our race are daily more and more becoming national ones, rather than local ones. When we can carry the question up into the atmosphere where men of all races, North and South, will discuss it with calmness, with absence of passion, and sectional feelings, I believe we shall have made a distinct advance."

"While my remarks tonight will relate to the race in the national aspect, I speak also as one who was born in the South, who loves it, and expects to abide here permanently. I am glad that this great meeting is held South of Mason and Dixon's line. It is in the South that the great masses of our people dwell, and will abide in the future as now. It is fitting that this body should have its being, and perform its work, in the section of our country where the negro race lives; it is equally important that this organization speak its words and perfect its plans in the midst of the white people who are most directly concerned about the future of the race."

"Whatever progress is made in the years that are to come will result largely from open discussion and a sympathetic co-operation between the highest types of whites and the same class of blacks. One thing of which I feel absolutely sure is this, that without mutual confidence and co-operation, there is little hope for the progress which we all desire. In the present season of anxiety, and almost of despair, which possesses an element of the race, there are two things which I wish to say as strongly as I may.

"First—Let no man of the race become discouraged or hopeless. Though their views may not be often or loudly lifted, there are in this country, North and South, men who mean to help see that justice is meted out to the race in all the arenas of life. Such a man is Judge Thomas G. Jones of Alabama, to whom more credit should be given for blotting out the infamous system of poonoo than to any other. Judge Jones represents a very large type of southern manhood, and there are hosts of others like him. There is a class of brave, earnest men at the South, as well as at the North, who are more determined than ever before to see that the race is given opportunity to stand on its feet, and to be able to take care of itself, and to be able to do so as well as to ourselves to see that no act of ours causes them embarrassment.

"Let us keep before us the fact that, almost without exception, every race or nation that has ever not taken its place in the world has done so through struggle and trial and persecution; and that, out of this struggle against odds, they have gained strength, self-confidence and experience, which they could not have gained in any other way.

"And not the least of the blessings of such struggle is that it keeps one humble and nearer to the heart of the Giver of all gifts.

"No one should seek to close his eyes to the truth that the race is passing through a very serious and trying period of its development, a period that calls for the use of our ripest thought, our most sober judgment and frequent appeals to Him who has promised strength to the weak."

JAYNES' MALT

A summer tonic. An ideal appetizer. A food medicine. It strengthens and nourishes. The doctor says it rests tired mothers and cures sickly children. It contains most malt and least alcohol. It is not a temporary stimulant. It is a permanent strength giver. A happy combination of Pure Barley Malt and Fresh Hops. We brew it in our own malt-plant and bottle it in our own laboratory. We sell it for 17c. per bottle. We sell three bottles for 50c. We sell a dozen bottles for $1.84. And we allow you three cents each for empty bottles. Wouldn't you like to see a little of the glow of health in your wife's pale cheeks? Don't the little ones need something to coax an appetite to give them strength to get through the summer? Perhaps you need Jaynes' Malt yourself. What's the matter with investing 17 cents, and then if you're not satisfied with the trial, bring back the bottle and we will give you the 17 cents that you paid for it. Now is the time.

CHIT-CHAT.

ABOUT REAL ESTATE AND HOUSES. I do not know what has pleased me so much as the editorial in last week's Gazette regarding the pay-roll of the Fore River works.

Does it not make you tired to see a young man whom you know is merely earning a nominal salary, apparently spend at least half of it on a Sunday's outing?

Have you noticed that the successful stockholder is the one who keeps his money looking neat and clean. He is the man who tags all of his goods before he shelves them.

Do not be surprised if you could enter the home of some of these hard working men. Their homes, in many instances are models and would put many of the old traditional settlers to shame.

THE MOTHERS KNOW Our Clothing

A growing, active boy puts clothing to its supreme test. It is the mother of such a boy who understands, as nobody else does, whether materials hold their color, are properly put together, and stand wear as they should.

Our Clothing gives to them, in all respects, as worn by their sons. We cannot conceive of a higher endorsement—can you?

FRIDAY, JULY 24, 1903.

With the close of the fiscal year, the United States has paid out about $3,000,000 in pensions.

In the matter of railway mileage, the United States leads all Europe by 27,000 miles.

"There's many a true word spoken in jest," and John Bulling's timely allusion "It would be a good trade for every man if he could swap that that he knows, for what he don't know."

Through the courtesy of the management of the Fore River Ship & Engine Co., the people of Weymouth will be enabled to entertain their Old Home Week guests in a manner that will not soon be forgotten.

The attacks in this country which have recently been made by certain German newspapers, indicate that in his own favor of the United States and its allies, at the recent demonstration at Kiel, Emperor William offended some of the papers of his country.

Last Saturday afternoon, while ex-president Cleveland was down at Gray Gables trying to amuse the baby, now-president William Jennings Bryan, was occupying a lecture platform out in Chicago, and saying all the happy fatherly words which the above named gentlemen derived the greatest amount of enjoyment from the afternoon's diversion?

If house cleaning in the home was as profitable a job as it is in the assay office at New York, the heads of households would probably look upon the event with more favor than the case at present.

President Roosevelt has asserted his independence of labor unions by his attitude as usual, the president's position in regard to the matter, in replying to certain labor leaders who raise objections to the readjustment of a government employee, who was discharged at the request of a union.

Weymouth's street lights have been conspicuous this week on account of their absence, and a small amount of inconvenience has been caused thereby.

The eight members of Congress who are craning their necks in the nation's interest are said to have performed the following heavy work: Friday, attended a clam-bake; Saturday, visited the Charlestown Navy Yard; and Sunday, rested.

We have all of us read with more or less amusement the account of the father of the small marriagable daughters in his household, and the trouble he had in getting them off his hands in due season.

There is a difference in men, so is there a difference in their methods. This is illustrated by recent events at Lowell. For some time the law-abiding citizens of this popular summer resort, have been complaining that the place was a veritable paradise for gamblers.

Drowned at Whitman's Pond.

Roxbury Boy Lost His Life Thursday Next Week Many of Weymouth's Sons And Daughters will Revisit The Scenes of Their Childhood.

While William Moritz of Roxbury, in company with George L. Wirth, Max Wirth and Peter Ahlenski, was enjoying a swim in Whitman's pond, near Lake View Park, Thursday afternoon, he was seized with cramps, and sank. Although he went down in but six feet of water, his companions were unable to rescue him.

Medical Examiner Fraser was called and pronounced it a case of accidental drowning. Young Moritz was 10 years of age and was spending a part of his vacation with friends in one of the summer cottages at the pond. His parents reside on Chestnut street, Roxbury.

The exercises will commence on Sunday and on this day, in addition to the general recognition of the week and its lessons by the pastors of all the churches, there will be special services in historic Old North Church, Rev. Ralph J. Houghton, pastor, in the afternoon, Rev. Frank B. Cressey, pastor, in the evening. The program as arranged for these services are as follows:

SUNDAY. Services at 10 o'clock and 7 o'clock. Text: "The Word of the Lord is Established for Ever." (Isaiah 40:8.)

OLD NORTH CHURCH. Mother Church of Weymouth, The Oldest in New England.

Organized in the Year of the Town's Settlement, 1630. One of the most interesting edifices in town, and one the history of which is closely identified with that of the town itself.

Thomas Paine of Barnstable became the next pastor of the society and was ordained in 1719. After four years of his pastorate, the south part of the town was set aside as a separate parish, and Rev. Mr. Paine was dismissed at his own request in 1724.

William Smith of Charlestown, father of Abigail Smith, wife of President Adams, was the next pastor. He ministered to the wants and needs of this society for a period of 40 years. He was 77 years of age at the time of his death.

During Rev. Mr. Norton's pastorate, the west part of the town united with East Braintree, and formed the Union Congregational parish. During his ministry in the society, Rev. Mr. Bent was 134 members added to the rolls, and during the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Emery, 143 have been added to the church.

The later pastors of the church have been Rev. Frank P. Chapin, 1871-1883; Rev. Frank H. Palmer, Rev. Robert H. Kendall, now dean of Hollis college at Winter Park, Wis., and the present pastor, Rev. Ralph J. Haughton, who came to the church in 1901.

An important event took place in the parish in 1875, when it fell heir to a legacy of $10,000 by the will of Mr. Joseph Ledy, for years a member of the society.

This ancient church has suffered greatly from circumstances beyond its control. In 1822 its membership was depleted by many of its members leaving to form the First M. E. Church at East Weymouth.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY THE GAZETTE PUBLISHING COMPANY, INC. (INCORPORATED) WEYMOUTH, MASS. CHARLES H. WILLOBY, Manager and Editor.

FRIDAY, JULY 31, 1903. Next week's issue of the Gazette will contain the remainder of the Old Home Week reports.

Old Home Week is a good time in which to announce the tax-rate for next year. It is a pretty steady, but it is a good time to announce it.

Chief-of-Police Fitzgerald and a squad of "Weymouth's finest" patrolled the gallery court on Wednesday in full uniform and were the objects of much favorable criticism.

The beautiful collection of paintings on exhibition at the Tutts Library, is worthy of the highest commendation. Miss Blanchard, the librarian, has done a most gratifying job.

The spirit of helpfulness and kindly interest in Old Home Week, as generally exhibited throughout the town, was finely shown by the patriotic action of the local chapters.

The twenty-first annual General Conference of Christian Workers, will continue in session until August 10.

A Surgical Operation. It is always dangerous not to submit to the surgeon's knife until you have tried the WITCH HAZEL SALVE. It will cure in every case.

East Weymouth opened the week-day celebrations on Monday, with a firemen's parade and a concert by Burke's Band.

The exercises took place in the rear of the Humphrey estate in the afternoon, and were attended by fully 5,000 people.

The parade proceeded through Broad, Main, Commercial and Cottage streets to Jackson square, and thence to the music field on Commercial square to Center street.

The official town observance of "Old Home Week" occurred on Wednesday afternoon. The exercises consisted of a grand mass meeting at the High School grounds with a concert by the Weymouth band, singing of patriotic airs by the children of the public schools.

The festivities of the day commenced at 2 o'clock, and from that hour until 3 o'clock, a concert was given by the band.

The afternoon exercises were attended by more than 3,000 people, while almost 5,000 were present in the evening.

The people of North Weymouth celebrated the home life of New England, and the great moral qualities characteristic of the men of New England.

Later, special cars were taken for the great gathering of people to the music field, where a substantial spread awaited the several hundred invited guests.

At 2 o'clock, Mrs. Josiah H. Pratt, the chairman of the "committee of fifteen," called the vast assembly to order in the large dancing pavilion and requested that the National Anthem be sung in unison.

Wouldn't This Make You Dry?
The soda season is with us. The time of the year when you crave for a hot old thirst quencher. There are various kinds of thirst quenchers. We are going to tell you about one kind—the kind served at the Weymouth Pharmacy. We prepare all our fruit syrups from the fresh fruit, and also make our own Ice Cream. Ice Cream by the plate, pint or quart.
