

R. R. MEN CONVICTED OF CONSPIRACY

8 Found Guilty of Plotting Santa Fe Tie-up

Los Angeles—Eight railroad men, including engineers, trainmen and others, were convicted of conspiracy to obstruct interstate commerce for their activities in connection with a strike last August against the Santa Fe, by verdict of a jury in the United States District court here.

The defendants, C. I. Fox, E. Arkbauer, E. H. Reynolds, L. E. Woodbeck, E. F. Frazur, R. H. Clements, C. E. Holly and John A. Steeklein, are all of Needles. Their attorneys announced an appeal would be taken.

Rail Tie-up Charge. The accusation against the men was that they plotted to bring about a tie-up of Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe trains to assist the railroad shopcraft men who have been on strike since July 1 last.

LIFE TERMER BREAKS JAIL

Sawed Way Out of Cell in San Francisco City Prison

San Francisco—All efforts to obtain a clue to the hiding place of William John Huff, a paroled life-terminer awaiting trial for burglary, who gained freedom by sawing his way out of a cell in the city prison, have proved futile.

Chief of Police Daniel O'Brien is searching for two women, one of them Huff's wife, who are suspected of complicity in the escape. Huff carefully arranged a dummy in his cell cot, using an overcoat and four books.

ARSENAL SHELL EXPLOSION

Five Injured in Shrapnel Blast at Benicia.

Benicia—Five men were injured, two perhaps fatally, by the explosion of a shrapnel shell at the Benicia arsenal, the scene of a half-million dollar damage blast last summer.

The injured: Clarence Thomas; condition critical. W. E. Fox; condition serious. Arthur Harris; condition serious. Tony Butra; slightly injured. Joe Morgan; slightly injured.

The men were employed gathering up and destroying debris of the big explosion last summer. They were loading apparently discharged shrapnel shells on to a trailer pulled by a tractor when one of the shells exploded.

DASTARDLY MURDER IN L. A.

Aged Grocer Shot to Death by Hold-Ups

Los Angeles—Joe Jugman, 63 years old, was shot and killed by one of two bandits who held up his grocery store. Neither the grocer nor his wife spoke much English and they laughed when they were told to "stick up their hands."

Chicago Depot Burned. Chicago—Fire has destroyed the Dearborn Street railroad station, formerly known as the Polk Street depot, and left eight railroads homeless in Chicago.

The building was valued at $200,000, but would cost more than $100,000 to replace.

LOST AVIATORS BELIEVED FOUND

Cowboy said to Have Discovered Charred Bodies

San Francisco—The charred bodies of the missing aviators, Colonel Francis C. Marshall and Lieutenant Charles Webber, are said to have been found on the Papago Indian reservation, about seventy-five miles southwest of Tucson, Ariz., the Southern Pacific Railroad offices here have been advised in dispatches from Tucson.

A cowboy, the advices stated, came upon the bodies near what is known as Indian Oasis. The bodies lay in the wreckage of the flyers' airplane.

The message to the Southern Pacific said: "Some cowboy found those two aviators near Indian Oasis. Both apparent incoy incoy of panning area of seventy-five miles southwest of Tucson, on Papago reservation. No railroad there. It is on a wagon track. Suppose airplane fell to ground and aviators burned to death."

Colonel Francis C. Marshall, attached to the staff of the chief of cavalry at Washington and a Brigadier-General who served with distinction in the World War, and Lieutenant Charles L. Webber of the air service left San Diego at 9:15 o'clock Thursday, December 7, for a flight to Fort Huachuca, near Tucson, Ariz.

Colonel Marshall had been on an inspection tour of cavalry camps throughout the country and had used airplanes extensively on this mission. He commanded a brigade of the First and Second Divisions in France from 1917 to 1919 and received the Croix de Guerre with palm for distinguished services.

Lieutenant Webber was an experienced cross-country pilot and was instructed to report by wire on his arrival at Fort Huachuca. Webber was 27 years old and a native of Denver, Colorado.

BUCKLE BAN IS REMOVED

Comment is Widely Expressed and Most Adverse in Los Angeles

Los Angeles—Rules of conduct for Will Hays, written on the flyleaf of a pocket Bible his father gave him on his seventh birthday, have won a "paragon" for Roscoe Arbuckle as a Christmas gift.

Hays announced the lifting of the ban on Arbuckle from the films, issued a year ago, after Arbuckle's third trial and acquittal on a charge of manslaughter in San Francisco.

The revocation will take effect January 1, and Arbuckle will begin acting in new comedies. Several films ready for release when he got into trouble will be withheld until he has worked for several months, and there probably will be no releases until the fall of 1923.

Protests in Los Angeles over the prospective reappearance in motion pictures of Roscoe C. Arbuckle are strongly expressed in various circles, and comment throughout the country is adverse.

Protestants, including clergymen, demonstrated their opposition in several ways, and the comedian's friends rallied to his defense.

HYDES AND MILLERS STAGE FAMILY REUNION

There are family reunions and again family reunions, and of the latter type was the one staged by Mrs. Ralph Hyde and Mrs. Leon Miller for Christmas day.

The dinner was served in the Hyde Cafeteria which was gay with Christmas greens and holiday decorations. Two long tables were set at which fifty-two plates were laid. The feast, for it was one literally, was a community affair, each family contributing its quota.

R. H. Hyde constituted himself as toastmaster and everyone was called upon to add his bit, more or less, to the entertainment, and some interesting experiences and humorous stories were propounded.

An adjournment was then made to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hyde, where games, both indoor and out, music and family chat passed the time quickly until 6:30 when the party again assailed the tables at the cafeteria, which had been rearranged in their absence.

The following families were among those present: Judge Brown, H. Byerly, Fred Husted, of San Jose; Dr. G. B. Husted, Modesto; Dr. C. E. Hyde, San Francisco; Ralph Husted, Saratoga; J. D. McLaughlin, Sunnyvale; L. Emery and Henderson Emery, Dallas, Ore.; Dan Foster, Salem, Ore.; Emma Miller, Palo Alto; Katherine Shadle, Geo. Husted, R. H. Hyde and L. S. Miller of Campbell, and W. Horworth of San Jose, the latter the only non-relative.

At the conclusion of the very everyone present gathered around the Christmas tree, which looked very beautiful standing on a mound of artificial snow and decorated with tinsel and tiny electric lights.

The presents were distributed by Edward Webb and Miles Standish and were interspersed with several beautiful carols played on the Victrola. Miss Betty Mumma gave two very pleasing recitations and Miss Charity Webb sang very sweetly, "Have A Smile."

The evening was concluded with an old fashioned sing around the piano, the guests departing at a late hour after having enjoyed a truly happy neighborly evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Berry went to Sunnyvale Christmas morning to spend the day with their son Millard and family.

CALL FOR BIDS

NOTICE is hereby given that the Board of Trustees of Cambrian School District of the County of Santa Clara will receive bids for a heating plant for the Cambrian School House up to and including the 5th day of January, 1923, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P. CAMPBELL MAN WEDS OAKLAND YOUNG LADY

Miss Beatrice Randall, daughter of Mrs. Erma Randall, of Oakland, was married to Mr. Robert P. Dunphy of Los Angeles, Sunday December 24th, at one thirty, at the home of the bride's mother.

The ceremony, was performed by Rev. J. E. Badger, pastor of Grace Methodist church of Oakland. Miss Thelma Randall, sister of the bride, and Miss Lois Pollard were the bridesmaids. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Mr. Nicholas Dunphy. The wedding march was played by his sister, Miss Harriet Dunphy. Following the ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was served.

The bride wore a gown of changeable pale blue and silver taffeta and carried a lovely bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids were gowned in pastel shades and carried pink carnations. The home was decorated in keeping with the Christmas season. Redwood boughs and Christmas holly filled the rooms, giving them a freshness and mountain odor.

Mrs. R. P. Dunphy has been the very efficient private secretary for the K. L. Hammons Advertising Company for the past four years. Mr. Dunphy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dunphy of Campbell, and is the head chemist for the Sperry Flour Company at Los Angeles. The couple left Christmas morning for Los Angeles, as Mr. Dunphy's business is such that he could not leave it longer.

Members of the families and intimate friends only were present. Among those were Mrs. Erma Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Banta, grandfather and grandmother of the bride, of Calistoga, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dunphy, Mrs. O. Brown, Miss Thelma Randall, Miss Lois Pollard, Miss Harriet Dunphy, Miss Lois Brown, Mr. N. R. Dunphy, Mr. Dan O'Connell, Mr. William Brown and Mr. Milton Wright.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Campbell friends of Rev. H. C. Langley and his daughter, Mrs. Grace Fish, were greatly distressed to read of his unfortunate accident last week when he was struck by an automobile, and watched the papers anxiously for reports of his condition. It was with deep sympathy for the bereaved daughter that they read of his death which occurred Sunday morning at the O'Connor sanitarium.

Mr. Langley and Mrs. Fish are well known to many of the older residents of Campbell as they made their home here for some time occupying the home for retired ministers which the Methodist church maintained for many years on North First Street.

Rev. Langley was a G. A. R. veteran from Ohio, serving in the Civil War before he entered the ministry. He was chaplain of the Santa Clara Post and interment was made in their plot in the Santa Clara Cemetery, services being held Wednesday morning from the Santa Clara M. E. church.

Mrs. Fish and sister, Mrs. Alice Collis, both of whom live in San Jose, are extended the sympathy of the Campbell community.

The editor's Christmas dinner was topped off and made complete this year by a real old fashioned plum pudding. The pudding was a roof of the culinary artistry of Mrs. W. T. Alexander, and it was her thoughtfulness that it graced the festive board on "the day of days." Served with a good sauce—oh, boy! it sure is easy eating—a wonderful climax to a perfect meal.

Mr. R. E. Dunphy received word Tuesday of the death of his only sister, Miss Mary Dunphy, of Omaha, Nebr. Miss Dunphy had visited her brother here, several times, and had made a number of acquaintances.

CHRISTMAS FITTINGLY OBSERVED IN CAMPBELL

Christmas was very fittingly observed in Campbell by school and churches. The entertainment at the grammar school Friday afternoon was a very happy occasion. The program was entertaining and the boys band covered itself with glory. The tree and treat provided by the Home and School Club was no small part of the success of the afternoon.

Saturday evening the Congregational Sunday School held its exercises at the I. O. O. F. Hall.

The first feature of the program was a story read by Miss Merriam and interspersed with songs and carols.

Following that a party was held in the dining hall with games and the distribution of apples and candy. Sunday evening the Endeavorers went carolling after their meeting.

The Methodist Sunday School held their annual "Stocking Filling" early in the week and observed the day for their own people on Sunday evening, reverting to the earlier manner of celebrating the event.

The idea of Santa Claus was relegated to the back ground and the Christ child made prominent. The usual remembrances were given, but the usual spirit of hilarity was lacking.

The singers from that church also went about as customary singing carols for the shut-ins.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED

At eight o'clock on Christmas Eve, the Rev. W. E. Eckles performed the ceremony which united Elmer H. Hoerler and Lucile Strong in marriage.

The home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Martha Wade, was the scene of the wedding which was solemnized in the presence of relatives.

The bride was attractively gowned in brown silk with silver lace bertha, and brown satin slippers. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and maiden-hair fern.

The bridal attendants were Miss Lily Stallman of Oakland and Rudolph Hoerler, brother of the groom. The Lohengrin wedding march was played by Mrs. Florence Cottell, cousin of the bride.

Refreshments of cake and punch were served with the traditional wedding cake.

The happy couple were the recipients of a great variety of useful and ornamental gifts.

They have begun housekeeping on a ranch and plan to enjoy a trip later when weather will be pleasant.

Both of the young people are graduates of the local high school, and widely and favorably known.

Mrs. Hoerler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Strong who are old residents of Campbell and the groom has lived in the Union district.

Their extensive circle of friends extend the best of wishes for future happiness and prosperity.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

The Regular Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Campbell Building and Investment Company will be held at the office of the Growers National Bank, Campbell, Cal., on Wednesday, January 10th, 1923, at 2:30 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of electing a board of directors to serve for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of any other business that may properly come before the meeting.

James Turner, President. Geo. S. Robson, Secretary. Campbell, December 27th, 1922.

Chas. Townsend, of Hollister, was here for a short time Tuesday, calling on former friends. Miss Violet Ottorman, of the High School faculty, is spending her vacation in Berkeley.

"Builder of Homes not Houses"

Home Town Helps

LOOK FIRST TO THE HOMES

City Beautification Does Not Merely Mean Construction of Immense Public Improvements.

"When we think of city beautification we are accustomed to think of a great park or square," H. Merle Smith said in a speech at Kansas City recently. "We think of velvety stretches of greensward, flowers blooming and fountains playing in the sun. If our vision be large, we think of many parks, scattered over the city and readily available to all the people. To some city beautification means a civic center, with noble public buildings arranged in a great composition. The plan of the city of Washington, with the capitol, the White House and the Lincoln memorial related to each other by the Washington monument, illustrates the point.

"But in our desire to do something great and fine to bring beauty into city life we have sometimes overlooked the simple, perhaps the most effective thing. We have forgotten to make our homes beautiful. May I suggest that city beautification, like charity, should begin at home?"

"A man's home is his castle." You've heard it said a hundred times. The sentiment sounds a note of independence for the man and his family. It harks back to the Middle Ages, the military Middle Ages, when rights were obtainable only by the sword. While we may exult in the thoughts that a man is secure in his unfortified home today as he once was in his castle with its drawbridge and its towers, let us not forget that when the creator made man he placed him in a garden.

"The garden home—and all that is required to convert a mere house and lot into one is planting—offers enjoyment in home life that cannot be obtained otherwise. The garden really adds a room to the house. Since no room in the house is left unfurnished the garden will not be neglected.

"The average person thinks of a garden as an expensive sort of thing, one that is within reach of the rich alone. Yet the bungalow or cottage on a 45-foot lot can boast of a garden that is just as worthy the name as the mansion on the boulevard. Given the desire to have a garden, the way always can be found. It is not to be thought that gardening is a simple task. There is real science about it. Experience is the best teacher and work with patience will richly reward everyone who tries."

URGES MORE TREE PLANTING

Forester of the University of Illinois Points to Necessity for Action in Immediate Future.

That silent symbol of beauty and utility, the tree, once respected above all other inanimate things of the farm, is passing from its high estate. R. B. Miller, forester at the University of Illinois, fears.

A windbreak in winter, a friendly shade in summer, a protection to both man and beast in and out of season, the tree was planted around the farmhouse and wherever else it could do good by the industrious farmer of fifty years ago.

But today, Mr. Miller says, he has noticed "that these trees are reaching quite an age and many are beginning to fall into decay, as trees will, in spite of the best of care."

And the question is asked, how will Illinois country lands look in another fifty years unless reinforcements are made?

In his travels over the state Mr. Miller declares he has become convinced of the necessity of calling attention to the benefits which may come from tree planting on the farm, leaving out for the moment the farm woodlot, which should be utilizing the waste land on every farm. In many parts of the state beautiful windbreaks and ornamental trees were noticed, such as Norway spruce, the white pine and the European larch, or tall hedges of cedar.

The Old Gardener Says—

A little water in a garden is worse than none at all. It helps form a crust on the surface and coaxes the roots to the top of the ground. If you can give water in abundance it will increase the size and quality of your crops. The moisture ought to reach a depth of at least two inches. There are several inexpensive irrigation devices on the market which are a great boon to the amateur, but much can be done by making little trenches along the vegetable rows and filling them with water, time after time, until the ground is saturated.

Right City Standard.

Writing under the title of "Making Towns Fit to Live In" in the Century Magazine Mrs. Gilman says: "It's time to quit asserting that the home town is the grandest little place on earth and begin to take stock of 'Main Street' to find out just how the home town measures up to the standards of a really fit place in which to live."

Set Good Example.

To be effective care must be universal. One sloppy yard can ruin an otherwise fine block of homes.

WHAT BANK ADVERTISING MEANS TO YOU

Consider that my lady has just issued invitations to her party. Now, if not before, she has out the vacuum cleaner, the O' Cedar mop and the bottle of furniture polish. And be sure that when it comes to that evening of evenings she will show her cheeriest smile and all her highest arts of hospitality. 'Tis her wish to create a good impression by making her guests comfortable and happy.

In business, too, there is use for invitations. One kind is newspaper advertising. No sooner does a business start print-publicity than the executive head naturally turns his thoughts to the appropriate welcoming of his guests, his customers. He will have an eye to appearances, and two eyes to the more important question of the quality of his services—of making them acceptable. To all this he is stimulated, if he is prudent, by his public invitation, his advertisement. Ladies of society should be no wiser in their day and generation than men of business.

But prompting the advertiser to look more and more closely to his patrons' welfare is only one of many public benefits of advertising. Perhaps most valuable of all results is that of mutual understanding—that as business makes progress, as advanced methods and higher and higher ideals replace the old, the customer may know the reasons why, and approve.

Read advertisements, then, to find who the advertiser is. The one who is giving you an invitation is probably making the best preparations to receive you. Read advertisements, again, for information, for up-to-the-minute business education. It was Roger Babson, business authority, for whose opinions business leaders pay high prices, who said a few weeks ago, "The influence of the advertiser will soon rank as high as that of the preacher or the teacher."

Particularly resolve, for 1923, on reading all the advertisements of the Mercantile Trust Company. We shall do our best to present subjects that will contribute to your happy and prosperous New Year.

Groceries and 1923

Good food will contribute mightily to making 1923 a happy New Year. Generally, whatever tastes good is good for you. The eating proves the worth of many things besides pudding. Nevertheless, inferior foods are always with us, and to know what to avoid and what to buy takes much experience. Moreover, there is value in simple variety. In all these points the grocer, by reason of his daily contacts, has many opportunities to learn and use helpful influence. He has a charge to keep. Good food and greater variety is the gospel preached in Blaine advertisements.

WHEATENA: Have you tried Wheatena? We have up a card in which we term Wheatena "the new cereal," and a customer called us to task for that. She said she'd been looking for Wheatena in local stores for nine years. She'd been going to San Francisco for it. That was a strong recommendation. You try it, too. In packages, 25c.

DE LUXE Assortment of PACKAGE CAKES is something else new to the store. It's an assortment of 12 kinds: Tokens, Vanilla Wafers, Cameo Sandwich, Coconut Taffy Bar, Social Tea Biscuit, Chocolate Wafers, Fruitana, Coconut Dainties, Five O'Clock Tea Biscuit and Doris Sandwich. From the National Biscuit Company. Delicious. One-pound package, 37c.

ABALONE DIRECTIONS: Salad—To the meat of one can of abalone add a little celery and onion. Mix with mayonnaise. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves. Croquettes (Del Monte style)—Take the meat of one can. Season with red pepper, salt and a little finely chopped onion and parsley. Mix with cream sauce. Let cool. Shape and dip in egg. Fry in deep fat. Abalone also makes fine chowder, one can providing the fish element for enough chowder to serve a sizable family. The special is still on. It's 10c.

AUTO BANDITS KILL VICTIM
 His Companion Brings Body to San Jose

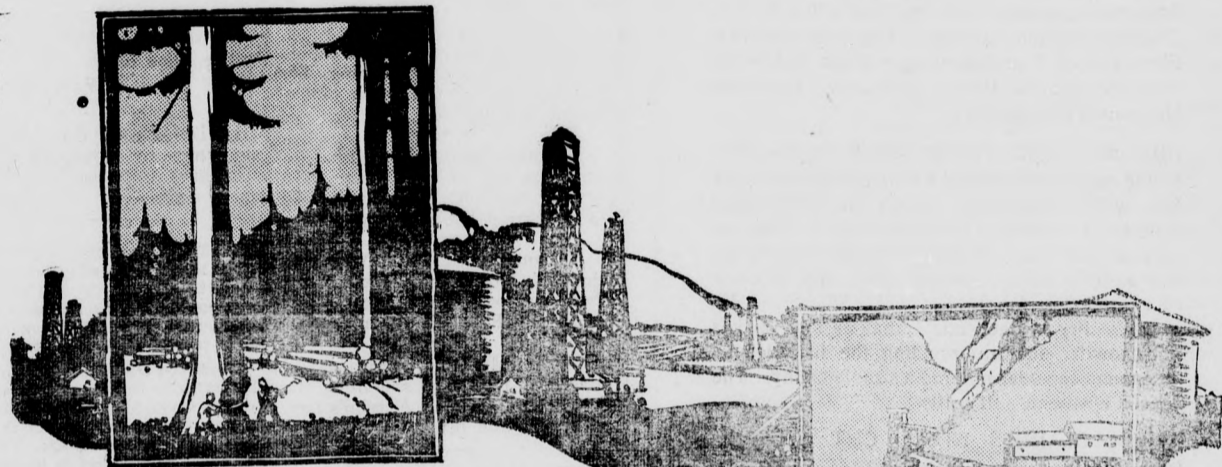

San Jose—Walter R. Dowdy, a Palo Alto garage owner, living at Palo Alto, was beaten to death by two men on the State highway, near Milpitas. The men took all his money, the amount of which is not known.
 Dowdy was in his own automobile with Harry Allen of Redwood City. Allen told the police the bandit car crowded Dowdy's automobile on the highway. Dowdy pulled a revolver and began shooting. Allen jumped from the automobile and said he lay in a ditch while Dowdy was beaten to death. When he put Dowdy's body in the automobile and brought it to San Jose.
 Dowdy was returning from Livermore when the holdup occurred. The bandits, who were riding in an automobile, placed their car directly across the road.

More Than a Half Billion Dollars Annually from California's Natural Resources

California has a large area in the Sierra Nevadas, much of it more than a mile above the sea. The towering mountains are vast storehouses of mineral wealth. Their streams provide enormous power.

On their slopes stand billions of feet of timber and some of the trees are older than any other living thing.

And dotted over California's surface are oil wells which pour out millions of barrels of "black gold" every month. Such is the natural wealth of this great Commonwealth.

California's Principal Minerals

In the days of '49 California became known as the "Golden State." She still leads in the production of gold, which is produced in thirty-two counties and exists in others. Last year the production of gold in California reached $15,800,000.

But now many other minerals take their place with gold as sources of the State's wealth. More than one-fourth of the nation's output of petroleum last year came from California. Its value was $182,400,000.

More plebeian, but contributing largely to our wealth, were brick, cement, building stone and crushed rock, which aggregated $27,000,000.

And in lesser quantities we find that California's mineral production included also silver, copper, lead, zinc, quicksilver, platinum, natural gas, magnesite, salines, including borax, potash, salt and soda, and miscellaneous industrial minerals. California has the largest iron ore deposits west of the Missouri River.

The total value of all these products taken from California's natural storehouses last year was $244,856,910.

Valuable Timber Resources

To the great wealth of minerals which California's bounty provides must be added $90,000,000 for the lumber cut annually.

Great forests of white, yellow and sugar pine and fir sweep southward from the northern boundaries of the State to the San Jacinto Range. In the Coast Range are great forests of redwood.

California contains twenty National Forests, whose total area is more than 24,000,000 acres.

It is estimated that these National Forests contain 120,000,000,000 board feet of standing timber, mostly pine, redwood, fir and cedar. The value of this timber is $250,000,000.

Water Power

And finally are tremendous and valuable resources in water power, partly developed and partly undeveloped.

It is estimated that there is available about 5,000,000 horsepower in California. This figure includes only the power which is now looked upon as practical—power which may be obtained by the type of plants which is now being installed.

About 1,250,000 horsepower has already been developed in the State and plans are now under way for the development of large amounts of additional power.

How You Can Serve Your State

This advertisement is one of a series of three, the first devoted to telling of California's agricultural wealth, the second to California's natural resources, and the third to California's industries. These are facts of which you can well be proud.

Beautiful booklets and descriptive literature about California have been prepared by such organizations as Californians, Inc., San Francisco, by the All-Year Club of Southern California, Los Angeles, and by the San Diego-California Club, San Diego.

There are thousands of people in other states who have no conception of California's greatness. Some of them are your friends. Help us tell them.

If you will send to the Southern Pacific Company a list of the names and addresses of your friends, living elsewhere, whom you would like to have receive this series of advertisements as well as the California literature prepared by these organizations, which have for their sole purpose the advertising of California, we will see that your friends get this California literature.

Send Your List Today

Your friends will be glad to know these facts. The list of names you send us will be turned over to your own Chamber of Commerce or other civic organization, and literature will be sent telling them interesting facts about your own particular community.

Simply attach your list to the coupon below and send it to us—no obligation on your part. Do it today before you forget. In this way you will help to spread this message of California's greatness throughout the land and perform a valuable service not only to your State but to yourself and to your community.

 NEW EMERGENCY AMBULANCE SERVICE

HOW human it is to be grateful to the defenders of our country in time of war, and to give scant appreciative thought to the soldiers and sailors who serve in time of peace.
 A similar attitude is sometimes taken toward the services of the funeral director. Yet the very fact that he is professionally trained, modernly equipped and fully prepared to serve us in the crisis we could in nowise face without him is in itself a service to us all.
 In the time of need he answers every call, no matter at what hour of the day or night it comes, no matter how far it takes him, to what dangerous or disagreeable tasks it leads him, or what suffering he must witness and, being human, must share.
 Then it is that you find in him a friend and counsellor, and because he has been called so many times into homes where sorrow has called first, he understands just what to do in the way that makes the last tribute a comforting memory.
