VOLUNTEERS AT DRILL

GOOD TURNOUT OF ENLISTED MEN AT THE HALL FOR PRACTICE

While the war situation has somewhat settled the determination of the recently enlisted volunteers of Glendale not to be found unprepared when the time comes that their services may be required has not waned in the smallest degree. The first practice drill in the hall so generously lent by Mr. Thom was attended by fifty men who manifested the greatest desire to learn the drill.

Those present were divided into squads and started in learning the latest drill of the United States army. Quite a number of the men have undergone training in the past, but they find that in quite a few particulars the drill has been changed. It was not long, however, before the squads were going through their evolutions with some approach to that precision that is the acme of army drill.

E. M. Polley, athletic instructor in the schools, had a large squad under his charge and managed to bring them into pretty good shape before the close of the evening. Captain Johnson had charge of another squad and licked them into some knowledge of the evolutions. H. D. Nicholds, formerly of the Illinois National Guard, had charge of another squad.

At the close of the squad drill company was formed and company drill undertaken with a considerable deal of success. The men are willing and learn quickly. Before long Captain Johnson will have a well drilled company under his command. Just before the close of drill the company proceeded to the election of a captain. Captain Johnson was chosen by acclamation. By his experience in the Philippines and his natural aptitude for this work he is assured of success.

After much discussion it was agreed that the company should meet two days in the week—Wednesday and Friday. On Wednesdays the company will drill in the Thom packing house at the corner of First and Glendale; on Fridays the drill will be in Tropic, where there are already nearly thirty recruits.

The following new volunteers enlisted Thursday night:

Charles A. Fromm, 249 E. Third street.
Alfred Knight, 317 E. Second St.
Winthrop Jackson, 418 Adams St.
E. A. Laurance, 420 Cedar St.
Ernest Thede, 221 S. Isabel St.
W. F. Richardson, 511 W. Broadway.

Men desirous of enlisting may sign their enlistment cards at the office of the Glendale Evening News throughout the week by applying to J. A. St. Clair; or at Johnson & Lyons grocery store, 572 W. Broadway, by applying to Captain Johnson; or they may enlist at the drill hall, Wednesday, next week.

TO PUT TRACKS IN SHAPE

Under the management of W. J. Bohonthe, Glendale-Montrose railway has undertaken the putting of its tracks in shape. The work of leveling up and consolidating the road will begin Monday. Engineer Wright and Roadmaster Mulligan will have the work in charge and a big gang of men will start the reconstruction. When this work has been completed passengers on the Glendale-Montrose line will find an immense improvement.

The company also intends to start work on the Eagle Rock line the moment the Montrose-Glendale line has been finished. That line will be changed to standard gauge and the cars will then run down Glendale avenue to Broadway and thence to Brand. Other improvements at the La Crescenta end of the line are in contemplation.

KALEM FILM COMPANY

In connection with the production of the fifth picture in the series of "The Girl From Frisco," the Kalem company goes to Randsburg, Cal., this week, to get the proper setting for the picture, "The Gold Plunderers." The pictures will be taken in the Yellow Astor mine, which is one of the most famous of the gold-mining properties in Southern California. The vast underground tunnels, the forests of timber props, the underground railway and the honey-combed workings, as well as the picturesque situation of this famous mine, which is perched up at the top of a mountain 5000 feet above the level of the sea, should make this one of the most effective pictures in the series.

STRENGTH IN UNION

WITH CONSOLIDATION COMPLETED WHAT WILL HAPPEN ASKS MR. BURCH

Tropico, July 6, 1916.
In one respect, if in no other, the people of Tropico are specially favored of Providence. Few, if any, are burdened with the riches, the Bible teaches, are a bar to an abundant and joyous entrance into the Kingdom of Heaven.

True, they have a taxable wealth of a million, or an average taxable wealth per capita of about $27. But, balanced against their liabilities per capita for taxes, bonds, municipal and street, mortgages, water and electric light rates, and other living expenses, what becomes of their per capita of taxable wealth? Probably sinks into insignificance.

In other words the divine injunction as an alternative to entrance to the Kingdom of Heaven by way of the "needle's eye" may not apply in Tropico.

But that the people of Glendale are any worse off in that respect is doubtful, and, if they are, the people of Tropico are not so poor that they need to borrow shelter from the storms of adversity of either Glendale or Los Angeles. They can struggle along alone if they choose. But is such a choice a wise one?

That a more judicious exercise of its trusts by the board of trustees would have resulted in a better financial showing is perhaps incapable of proof. Of the several treasury depleting events with which the city has been visited all are due to circumstances beyond the board's control and beyond the power of the board now or in the future to remedy, no matter how excellent in ability or resourcefulness.

Facts are stubborn things and must be faced and braved in one way or another, by the people themselves.

The simple question is: Can the people of the two cities work together in double harness to the better advantage of both communities than in single? And, if not, why not?

We must look for an answer into the face of present facts. Those of pioneer days have lost their force, and are meaningless with the masses of today. What are the rivalries and jealousies of a dead past to them? It is not a matter of sentiment with them but of sense. Concern for the perpetuation of the name and place of Tropico in local history is wasted worry. Consolidation with either Glendale or Los Angeles does not mean the old town's consignment to oblivion. Hollywood is still Hollywood and Verdugo is still Verdugo with undimmed identity though the affairs of each are under changed administration.

So with the Atwater, Angeles Park and Park avenue tracts. They are still a part of Tropico though annexed to Los Angeles. There is not a balmy spot on earth than Tropico. Its gateway from the Pacific is Los Feliz (The Happy) Pass, and thither comes the ocean's invigorating breezes. It is overlooked by the high Sierras. It is in the direct line of the trade-wind and travel between mountain and sea. It is a part of God's reservation for His coming Kingdom.

But Glendale has no occasion to boast of greater riches per capita than Tropico. As to that the two cities are almost exactly alike. The people of both are neither: very poor nor very rich. They are of the common kind whom the Lord loves or he would not, as Mr. Lincoln said, have made so many of them, and, alike, are aspiring to higher and better things.

Why should not such a people be united for the common good.

"In union there is strength," runs the time-honored maxim. Strength to do and to achieve. We see its beneficent results on every hand. An example is set by the Pythians of Glendale and Tropico. United, a suitable temple follows. In every field of effort it composes higher aim. To more successfully accomplish the aims of the Master, his churches are uniting—consolidating.

Voters are naturally interested in knowing beforehand what will happen to the affairs of the two cities upon their consolidation.

In the language of the law, the first thing to happen will be that Glendale will "be deemed and taken to be, and shall be the successor" of Tropico as a municipal corporation, and the title to any property owned or held by Tropico as a municipal corporation, or in trust therefor, or by any officer or board thereof, in trust or otherwise for public use, shall, upon such consolidation being completed, ipso facto be vested in Glendale as a municipal corporation.

SEVERE FIGHTING ON THE WESTERN FRONT

BRITISH CAPTURE ONE THOUSAND YARDS OF GERMAN TRENCHES—GERMANS COUNTER ATTACK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, July 7.—The British captured 1000 yards of German trenches this morning, in pursuance of their plan of campaign to hold the offensive while the big guns are being brought up to assail the German main defensive positions where their big batteries are. Unlimited supplies of ammunition are being hurried forward. Meantime the fighting east of LaBoiselle has taken on a very serious aspect. The Germans have made heavy counter attacks but have been driven back with great loss.

ALLIED DRIVE NOW ENTERING SECOND PHASE

LULL IN FIGHTING ON BOTH SIDES OF THE SOMME INDICATES BRINGING UP OF BIG GUNS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PARIS, July 7.—The second phase of the fighting is now at hand. Today there is a lull in the fighting on the west front, on both sides of the Somme. Both the English and the French are bringing up their big guns with the intention of repeating the operation that leveled the trenches of the German first line. The Kaiser is reported to be preparing the German resistance from his headquarters at Cambrai. The French are within two-and-a-half miles of Peronne, the key to the German position.

GERMANS BOMBARD DEFENSELESS DITY

TEUTON AIR SQUADRON KILLS ELEVEN WOMEN AND CHILDREN IN TOWN OF SURE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PARIS, July 7.—The Germans dispatched an air squadron on aggressive work behind the west front this morning. A number of air craft of all kinds attacked the town of Sure, which is open and defenseless. Hovering over the town the Germans dropped a number of bombs which, besides doing some property damage fell into a group of women and children and killed eleven of them. Great indignation prevails throughout France at this act of savagery.

GERMANS SAY ALLIES' ADVANCE IS CHECKED

TEUTONS CLAIM FRENCH AND BRITISH HAVE BEEN HALTED ALL ALONG THE LINE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
BERLIN, July 7.—According to official statements here the Germans have halted the French and British all along the line administering a severe check. The artillery duels in the Ancre region have increased in strength. Counter attacks are being launched all the time by the Kaiser who is personally directing the movements. The Germans have fought the French to a standstill in the vicinity of Estrees.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS TRAVELS WESTWARD

FATAL POLYOMYELITIS GERM TRANSMITTED IN MAN—NER NOT YET LEARNED BY MEDICAL RESEARCH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.—The United States government through the public health service is offering its aid to the cities of the East where the epidemic of polyomyelitis or infantile paralysis is spreading with fatal effect. In New York city the total number of deaths is now 170 out of 715 cases. Taking in outside suburbs the deaths number 185. The Public Health Service board is now devising means for fighting the epidemic. The disease is apparently traveling westward. Cleveland, Ohio, reported its fifth case today and there have been several cases in Chicago.

CALIFORNIA CAVALRYMEN UNDER FIRE

MEXICANS FIRED LONE BULLET ACROSS THE BORDER LAST NIGHT AND DISTURBED TROOP D

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
NOGALES, July 7.—There is much amusement here at the zeal of Troop D. of the California militia cavalry, which turned out promptly last night at the alarm given by their sentries when a facetious or intoxicated Mexican fired a lone bullet over their camp. The other troops are congratulating Troop D. on having been "under fire."

RUSSIANS DRIVE TEUTONS OUT OF CZARTORY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PETROGRAD, July 7.—Advices from Berlin today state that the Germans have officially admitted that they have abandoned their lines in the Czartory region. The Russian troops have occupied Gredie Kenerove. The army of Gen. Bothmer is now hopelessly cut in two. The number of captured Teutons amounts up to date to 242,000.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

GEORGE PETERS GRANTED PERMIT TO ESTABLISH OIL STATION

The regular meeting of the board of trustees of the City of Glendale was held in the city hall Thursday evening, July 6, 1916. Present, J. S. Thompson, president of the board, and trustees Chas. Grist, R. M. Jackson, F. L. Muhleman, G. B. Woodberry. Also present, T. W. Watson, city manager; J. C. Sherer, city clerk; W. E. Evans, city attorney; Edward M. Lynch, city engineer; G. H. Herald, city marshal.

The minutes of the last regular meeting, together with the minutes of the adjourned meeting of July 1st, were read and approved.

An application was read from F. G. Lewis for permission to burn red fire and use a small gun in connection with a political meeting to be held Saturday evening, July 8. On motion of Trustee Grist, permission was granted to use the red fire only and subject to supervision by the police department.

The city attorney presented a written report in regard to legal points involved in the construction of Ordinance Number 201 as applied to special permits, the question having been brought up in connection with the application of George Peters for permission to establish a gasoline supply station on the northwest corner of Colorado street and Central avenue, which the board had formerly denied. The opinion was read by the clerk and after the reading of the same, Mr. Davis, one of the original protesters, addressed the board stating that if it had come down to a question of law, he would not insist upon his objection, being principally desirous that the action of the board should be consistent and not discriminatory. Trustee Muhleman made a statement concerning his attitude in the matter, his conclusion being that in view of the legal aspect of the case, he would be compelled to vote in favor of granting the permit. The chairman of the board coincided with the views expressed by Trustee Muhleman, and after considerable discussion, a motion made by Trustee Woodberry granting the permit to Mr. George Peters for the establishing of an oil supply station at the northwest corner of Colorado street and Central avenue, was adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Grist, Muhleman, Thompson, Woodberry.

Noes—Jackson.

Mr. Mattison B. Jones appeared before the board in regard to the lowering of the railroad tracks on Brand boulevard north of First St. and wished to be informed as to whether there is any correspondence on file showing the intention of the Pacific Electric Railway company in regard to this matter. He was informed that there was no such correspondence but that the work of lowering the tracks at First street and Doran street was the result of a conference between the Pacific Electric officials and the trustees of the City of Glendale after consulting with a majority of the property owners directly interested in the improvement, and that while a definite understanding had been arrived at concerning the railroad being brought down to grade at the crossings of the above named streets, there was no definite agreement as to lowering of the tracks between the crossings. Mr. Jones stated that he wished to file at the present time a verbal protest, and will later file a written one against granting the Pacific Electric railway company any privileges which are not given to any individual under the law. On motion of Trustee Muhleman, the city manager was requested to confer with the officials of the railway company and ascertain what can be done to secure the lowering of the tracks north of First street within the city limits.

The city attorney presented an ordinance providing for the payment of demands against the City of Glendale.

On motion of Trustee Grist, "An Ordinance regulating the presenting, auditing and paying of demands against the City of Glendale and repealing Ordinance No. 293 of said city," was taken up for first reading. On motion this ordinance was declared read for the first time and was taken up for the second reading. On motion, this ordinance was declared read for the second time and was laid over till the next regular meeting for the third and final reading.

Monthly reports were presented from the following departments: Building inspector, city clerk and

BETTER GOLF COURSE

GRIFFITH PARK LINKS TO BE SWITCHED AROUND SO AS TO ALTER DIRECTION OF PLAY

Those who passed by the Griffith Park golf course, Tuesday, July 4, must have been struck by the unending procession of players who followed each other from hole to hole with shouts of "fore." The course is exceedingly popular and the large number of Glendale golf players sent their contingent on the Fourth. Some of these played their matches for the semi-finals in the tournament.

Dan Kelly was, as in honor bound, one of those who made the round of the eighteen holes with a good score. "Between 500 and 600 players took advantage of the fine weather and the holiday," said Mr. Kelly, "to play a round or two on the golf course. There was no actual crowding of players off the course though some had to wait their turn to go on; but there was a steady stream of players all day. The course is not only popular but it is attractive. Its very environment is sufficient to draw attention and aid in that soothing mental process for which golf is famous. One comes home from a round on Griffith park course with a healing of mind and a bracing of body that gives new strength for the next week.

"Besides the list of players recently published in the Glendale Evening News there are others from Glendale who are just now struggling through the "duffers" list and who may some day rank as players. Again we have ladies who play remarkably well. There is Mrs. Warner of Chestnut street, who was at one time a well known player at Tacoma and other Washington state links. She almost reached the semi-finals in this tournament.

"The City of Los Angeles is erecting a fine new golf club-house on the south side of the links. This will be a very fine addition to the convenience of the grounds. Just at present there is no convenient place where players can deposit their goods and chattels until their game is over. This clubhouse will have every convenience and will be at the convenience of players for a nominal yearly sum.

"Another improvement also will be the switching of the course. This will be done in such manner as to make what is now hole 16 be No. 1. In every respect this will be an improvement. It will also give variety from the old line of play that has been tramped by so many feet. Should the patronage of the links keep on the way it is doing it will soon be necessary to get another strip of land and lay out another course. Why should not Glendale have its own course?"

LECTURES ON POULTRY

All persons interested in poultry raising are invited to attend the free lectures at noon daily at the Los Angeles chamber of commerce hall, 128 South Broadway, Los Angeles.

The course is preliminary to an effort being made by the chamber to establish a regular short course as a branch of the state university extension work.

During the coming week the subjects will be of exceptional interest. The value of co-operation will be told by Frank B. Smith, secretary of the Poultrymen's Co-operative association. Summer care of fowls will be the Tuesday subject, by Charles J. Brewer. Charles J. Kline of Burbank, who has a $30,000 plant built up on the egg business alone, will talk Wednesday and other addresses will be made by Albert A. Bamford and M. A. Schofield. The latter will discuss the possibility of $2.00 per hen annual profit.

Mrs. Zella Robinson and two little daughters moved Wednesday from 1542 Vine street to 1530 W. Seventh.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, JULY 7, 1916

WATER FOR AUTOMOBILISTS

According to the latest dictum of the California State Board of Health the only way to assure oneself of having pure water to drink when on an auto trip is to carry it with one. The board says that there is no guaranty that any water met with nowadays on auto trips is pure. It appears that campers and automobilists are the guilty ones themselves. They throw refuse and camp litter and pollution of all kinds into the streams and no stream is able to get rid of the pollution considering the constant stirring up of the bottom that goes on. Flowing water does not purify itself within a short distance as is popularly supposed.

Lemon juice, which used to be considered a great disinfectant for water and a regular killer of germs of all kinds and conditions, is now said to be absolutely useless for that purpose. Quiet waters in sunlight, says the board, are more apt to be pure than running streams. It adds that only pure water should be used in making lemonade. With precautions such as these and with a goodly supply of water in a desert bottle one would be comparatively safe even in the most carelessly guarded district.

Dr. Wilbur A. Sawyer, secretary and executive officer of the board, says that automobilists and campers should carry distilled or other safe drinking water with them; otherwise a burning thirst might tempt them to drink from irrigating ditches, shallow wells or streams of doubtful purity. He recommends a jug covered with moist burlap, which will keep water deliciously cool in the hottest weather.

If it is not possible to obtain safe water a supply of water properly boiled and cooled should be carried along. Each member of every party should have his own cup. A canteen and a tincup are best for tramps. Other parties will find that the paper cups are convenient. The canteen should never be passed around to all members of a party indiscriminately.

With these precautions it is possible to go on long mountain and desert trips and to come back in good health. The new conditions of such regions are not always the most healthful for inexperienced campers.

POLITENESS IN THE HOME

Many other things besides charity begin at home and if they are not practiced in the home their practice outside is hypocritical and abhorrent. The home is the place where everything that is worth learning during the early years of existence should be learned. It was for a very good reason that the language we speak was called our "mother tongue." We learned it from our mothers. In similar manner we learn all the virtues and a good many of the graces from our mothers, if they are proper mothers, and have had the advantages they should have had.

If you notice that any boy or girl is truly courteous on all occasions you may be sure that courtesy came from the home. Children are imitators. If they see their parents kind and courteous to each other they try to be the same. In homes where discourtesy and bad manners reign one need expect nothing else from the children. Politeness is as absolutely a necessity in the home as elsewhere, and as already said outside politeness that is left in the office or the store or the street is practically worthless. That is not the real man, woman or child. That is mere artificiality. Go into the homes of these people, observe them, see if they greet their wives or their children with a kind smile or a kind word. Do their children come running to meet them or do they hide away when they behold them returning? Does the merry laugh ring out or is the natural shout of the children hushed when the shadow of the parent falls on the doorstep? These are good criterions by which to judge the genuineness or artificiality of a man's or a woman's politeness.

Rudeness should never be tolerated in any family between its members. Then also there should be a presence of kind attention one to the other, a giving up of what one may desire for the sake of others. A pleasant greeting in the morning and a sweet good-night are evidences of the true relationship that should prevail between parent and child, father and mother, brother and sister.

Politeness is a habit that becomes a virtue. Children learn it by observation and imitation. Courtesy in the home gives its evidence in courtesy among all the members of that home. It is seldom that a discourteous individual is ever really courteous, though sometimes surlily assentive or slyly compliant.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

There is a move within the Prohibition party for a change of the name of that organization. The movement threatens to cause a considerable dispute when it comes up before the National convention July 17-21 at St. Paul, Minn. The younger element especially favors renaming the party in order to do away with a "name not broad enough to encompass all the policies of the party." They say that the name "Prohibition" is against, rather than for something, and that it has led to the antagonizing of many people who might otherwise have adopted many of the principles of the party and given it their support.

Some of these people favor the name "American"; others "Liberal"; others "Federal." Others, however, favor the retention of the name which signifies their stand on "the greatest issue before the American people—the liquor traffic." They say that the party name has come to be looked on with honor and respect and that it would be folly to change it now.

Those favoring renaming the party admit that one of their purposes is to cater for votes, to take over the new Women's party vote bodily, to adopt the progressive party and to draw votes from any and all of the parties.

The party convention will probably dispose of the name question in short order; for while those who advocate the renaming of the party may be sincere there is every reason to believe that

LA CANADA

The Play
 The farce-comedy, "The Elopement of Ellen," was given by the C. E. society of the Congregational church of La Canada, Saturday, July 1, 1916. A large audience, as usual on these occasions, came out to see the play. The stage was beautifully arranged for the scenes in the morning room in the home of Mrs. Richard Ford and also a garden. The garden scene was particularly attractive with its brick wall, gate and rustic seats. The evening was very beautiful with its soft glow of light and jack-o'-lanterns. The costumes were modern and lent very particular touches of beauty to the various scenes.

Leo Colburn, as Robert Shepherd, showed excellent acting qualities, and also showed how he can keep a secret.

Henrietta Horne took the part of June Haverhill, a wealthy young college girl, who was looking for material for an economics paper on the servant girl question, and who decided to get some practical experience. Her part was very cleverly worked out.

Robert Cooper, as Richard Ford, a devoted young husband, certainly did himself justice.

Rowena Green, as Molly, the wife of Richard Ford, showed many excellent acting qualities as "Lady of the House."

Robert Horne, as Max Ten Eyck, the fiancé of Dorothy March, took the part of a lover very well.

Clara Armstrong took the part of Dorothy March, doing herself justice. Edwin Cooper played the difficult part of John Hume, rector of St. Agnes, with that sufficiency of ministerial dignity and embarrassment that his part demanded. A professional actor could not have taken the part any better.

Great credit is due Mrs. Max Green, who produced the play so well. Messrs. Seright and Johnson and Miss Helen Cooper deserved great credit for managing the scenery so well.

The society feels very grateful to the Sunland band, who so kindly offered their services in making the play a success. The band, under the able direction of Miss Dorothy Maygrove, lightened the evening by selections from Edward Hazel, Huff and Ascher. The music certainly was appreciated by all that heard it. It is hoped by all the residents of La Canada that the Sunland band will come over again real soon and favor us with their delightful music. The society feel that the play was a great success.

The Misses Margaret and Lulu Green left for San Francisco and other cities in the north, on the "Congress" Monday, July 3. They expect to make quite an extensive trip in the north.

Mr. and Mrs. Asthworth and Mrs. Lea and children spent the fourth at the park in the Arroyo Seco.

The Misses Green entertained a large number of the young ladies of the valley at their beautiful home on Wednesday afternoon, June 28. The afternoon was spent in doing fancy work. Miss Lulu Lanterman gave several vocal selections which were greatly appreciated. Miss Harriet Lanterman accompanied her sister on the piano. Dainty refreshments were served later in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Colburn and son Leo moved Thursday of last week to Los Angeles. They will be greatly missed by the people of the valley.

Miss Edith Krans, who last week had a very serious operation on her skull, is reported as doing nicely.

Mr. Max Green received a letter from Mr. J. P. Anderson last week and they had reached Salt Lake city. He said that they were averaging 125 miles per day. They had had one day of 25 miles in "low" across the desert.

Mrs. Bruce Bradley and children of Pasadena spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Lea.

The topic for the C. E. meeting Sunday evening, July 9, will be "Consecration of Purpose." Acts 11:19-23. Consecration meeting. Mrs. Fannie Robinson is spending a few days at Hermosa Beach.

Miss May Lansing spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil.

Mrs. Farmuldro and sons spent a few days of last week at Newport beach.

Mrs. Swift of Pasadena spent a few days at D. J. Green's home last week.

The Misses Aldine Norton and Katherine Green spent Tuesday afternoon with Miss Edith Ewins of Glendale.

SOME NIGHTINGALE!

LONDON, June 20 (By Mail)—Mrs. Louis George's Indiana farm chickens which associated with sparrows so consistently that they learned to hop instead of walk, have created discussion in a London newspaper as to the curious traits of animal life.

Printing the Indiana chicken story, the London Star cites another strange freak which occurred in London, concerning a fish, a plaice, a flat fish peculiar to the salt water of the North Sea. "The plaice was placed in a tank of salt water in a cool place. Its guardian extracted a spoonful of the salt water each day and replaced a spoonful of fresh water. Eventually the water became all fresh and the plaice didn't notice it. Then the guardian extracted the fresh water a spoonful each day until the fish became a dry-land fish. Then he put the fish in a birdcage and it began to sing."

An esteemed citizen was rambling along when he met a friend wearing a rather doubtful cast of countenance.

"Say, Jim," remarked the friend, "I want to ask you about Dr. Syrup. Do you really think his medicines are helpful?"

"No," was the prompt rejoinder of Jim, "not unless you closely follow his invariable directions."

"His invariable directions?" returned the other wonderingly. "What are they?"

"You will find them on every bottle," smilingly answered the merry James. "Keep the bottle tightly corked."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Botanical Youth (in park)—"Can you tell me if this plant belongs to the arbutus family?"

Gardener (curly)—"No, young man, it doesn't; it belongs to the County Council."

SOLDIER WITH SHRAPNEL IN HEART

LONDON, June 26 (By Mail)—The proudest wounded "Tommy" in London today is Private Henry Pierce. Some days ago Pierce had a shrapnel bullet in his heart. Today the bullet is neatly mounted on wood and occupies a place of honor on a table by Pierce's bed in a London hospital.

British surgeons who have marveled at two similar operations in French hospitals are studying the London case at close range. Pierce has more learned visitors than any hundred wounded "Tommys." An Australian surgeon, on temporary duty in England, performed the operation. He found the shrapnel lodged in the pericardium. Making a tiny incision he picked the metal out with his fingers. The patient is rapidly recovering.

RATS, YES! BUT COCKROACHES! NEVER!

LONDON, June 20 (By Mail)—One hundred and thirty-eight women war workers who agreed to catch rats for a big London "Rat Catching and Vermin Destroying" establishment opened up a new discovery of feminine nature today. They will gladly catch rats for $10 a week but "cockroach decoying" is where they balk. It was where all but two of the rodent catchers balked today when the firm attempted to include destruction of the wily cockroach in the day's routine.

In addition to catching rats and mice, the firm also attempts to eliminate crawling members of the vermin family. When all the men vermin eradicators were forced to join the army, the firm advertised for women. There was a feminine rush for the job. The women were first taught the gentle art of snaring the rodents. Then came the course of cockroaches. "Nothing doing" was the general reply.

NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSN.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The closing sessions of the National Education association convention here today were held by the Child Hygiene association and the national conference for extension education. D. P. MacMillan, director of the department of child study in the public schools of Chicago, in an address showed how the correction of physical defects increases the rate of promotion of school children.

D. B. Armstrong, director of the department of social welfare of the New York association for improving the condition of the poor, insisted that medical inspection of school children, school feeding, sanitary conditions in the home and other forms of preventive medicine, are the best forms of community investments. More than thirty thousand teachers were enrolled at the fifty-fourth annual session of the association.

A SLANDER REFUTED

The undersigned, residents of Glendale, closely allied with the cause of prohibition, have had our attention called to a circular letter issued by Chas. L. Burger, who is said to be campaign manager for Jonathan S. Dodge of South Pasadena, a candidate for Supervisor of the Fifth District.

The circular accuses Mr. Stephen C. Packer, who is also a candidate for Supervisor in the Fifth District, of being one of the most active and influential workers against the dry amendments of 1914.

We, as neighbors of Mr. Packer, while knowing that he is not a prohibitionist, and having a knowledge of the many unselfish things he has done for the betterment of Glendale, admire his manly attitude on all great questions, desire to brand such statements as absolutely false, and assert they were published as a result of idle rumors disseminated by irresponsible parties who had the opportunity, but not the desire, to learn the facts.

We deplore that Burger and Dodge should deem it expedient to pursue such questionable methods.

1916 Version

I remember, I remember
The house where I was born;
The little window where the sun
Came peeping in at morn.
You'd hardly know the old place
now,
For dad is up to date
And the farm is scientific
From the back lot to the gate.
The house and barn are lighted
With bright acetylene.
The engine in the laundry
Is run by gasoline.
We have silos, we have autos.
We have dynamos and things;
A telephone for gossip
And a phonograph that sings.
The hired man has left us;
We miss his honest face;
A lot of college graduates
Are working in his place.
There's an engineer and fireman,
A chauffeur and a vet,
A lecturer and mechanic—
Oh, the farm's run right you bet.

SOME FACTS ABOUT KING EAGLE

For some hundreds of years the eagle has been called the king of birds, doubtless due to a certain royal appearance, a fiery, haughty spirit and the indisputable mastery of the air. Since the days of the early Romans he has been the emblem of nations. He is the emblem of freedom in our own beloved country. In three of the nations now fighting in the terrible war, on the other side of the ocean, Germany, Austria-Hungary, Russia, he appears upon their standards. On the coat of arms of that other war-torn nation, Mexico, the eagle appears.

Here we have two distinct species, the bald eagle and the golden eagle. The latter is rarely seen east of the Mississippi River, but the former ranges throughout the continent. It gets its name from the snowy white head which it acquires when four years old. The tail also becomes white at that time. The golden eagle has its legs feathered clear to the feet, while the bald eagle has not. The golden eagle is so called because of the golden-brown hue of the head feathers of the adults. The latter builds on lonely cliffs, rarely in a tree, while Baldy usually chooses the latter for his home.

Eagles mate for life, and, if undisturbed, use the same nest year after year, adding fresh material to it until it becomes immense. Rarely are more than two eggs laid, and the young are two months old before they can fly. The bald eagle prefers to be near water, and is a great lover of fish. Not being a natural fisherman himself, he exercises the royal privilege of exacting tribute, watching until a fish hawk has made a successful plunge, and then robbing him. He also feeds on rabbits, hares and birds.

On the ground he is very awkward, and clumsy because of his great curved claws, but in the air he is majestic and wonderful, as becomes a king. He will soar up and up on his broad wings until he is lost from view in the clouds. His eyesight is little short of marvelous. Each pair of birds has a recognized hunting ground on which none other may intrude. The female is slightly larger than the male. They live to a great age.—The Virginia Guide.

If your misfortune is not of your own making, you have much to be thankful for.—Uncle Philander.

STRENGTH IN UNION

poration, and all persons then occupying or possessing the city offices of Tropic shall immediately quit and surrender the same and forthwith deliver all moneys, books, papers, records, etc., to the proper officers of Glendale.

Debts, demands, liabilities or obligations of any kind for or against either Tropic or Glendale will not be affected by consolidation, and court proceedings pending at the time of consolidation shall be continued and concluded the same as if consolidation had not been effected.

Upon consolidation with Glendale will operate as the repeal of all city ordinances of Tropic, provided that such repeal shall not operate to discharge persons from civil or criminal liability, and also, that such repeal shall not apply to ordinances under which vested rights have accrued, and, also, shall not apply to ordinances relating to proceedings for public improvements or proceedings for opening streets, etc.

In the absence of any provision in the proceeding taken for the consolidation of Tropic with Glendale, to be voted on August 5, 1916, providing therefor, no property in Tropic shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of Glendale, but the board of trustees of the City of Glendale shall provide for the payment of the indebtedness or liability of Tropic as a municipal corporation and for that purpose shall be deemed the successor of the city of Tropic.

Finally, all ordinances of Glendale as a municipal corporation shall, upon completion of consolidation, ipso facto have full force and effect throughout the city of Tropic.

This summarizes the material things that will happen upon consolidation. Nothing revolutionary or particularly startling will be precipitated, farther than dispensing with the services of all of Tropic's elective city officials and such of its appointive officers as are unnecessary in its police and fire departments. Otherwise the city's matters will move on in the beaten track without perceptible convulsion of joy or sorrow.

LA CRESCENTA

The La Crescenta Hikers club, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Wetherbee, Mrs. Katherine Grey, Mrs. Ralph Haines, Mrs. C. Miller, Mrs. M. M. Cloud and daughter Dorothy, and Rev. Hopping, enjoyed their trip to Tejunga canyon so thoroughly that they decided to make a longer trip. Last Monday morning they started to Switzer's camp, from there they crossed the Sierra Madres, through Gleason, down Big Tejunga, through Littlelands, home. At the time these items were printed they had not returned, therefore the history of this trip will be given next week by one of the hikers.

Mr. Fred Hopping has left this week to spend a month with friends in Carpinteria, Calif.

Mrs. Bradley, after a two weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Grey, returned last Monday to her home in Claremont. Little Miss Frances Grey accompanied her.

Through some misunderstanding of time, the car leaving La Crescenta at 6:20 and the one leaving Glendale at the same hour crashed a little above the Verdugo switch. The motorman was painfully bruised but fortunately none of the passengers were hurt.

In Captain Herbert Bathy's company, now enroute for the border, are Mr. Aiken, the Biscar brothers, Mr. Faitharbor and Mr. Scherb, all of La Crescenta valley.

The guests at the Fairmount hotel for the past week were: J. H. Smailes of Los Angeles, Mrs. Jane Kennedy of Los Angeles, Helen Sherman of Pasadena, Adam V. Sherman of Pasadena, Marjorie Smailes of Los Angeles, Mrs. L. H. Sherman of Pasadena, Edna V. Sherman of Pasadena, Dewey Cook of Los Angeles, L. A. Richardson of Glendale, Mrs. F. A. Richardson of Glendale, Frank Richardson of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Richardson of Glendale, Ernest H. Owen of Glendale, Helen Herrman of Los Angeles, Miss Emily A. Brown of Pasadena, Mrs. L. S. Janvier of Pasadena.

Mrs. Rheinchild and son Rudolph and nephew George, with Mr. Wise, Bruce and Isabelle Thompson, spent the day at Santa Monica July 4.

Mr. Fritz Adam of Fairmount hotel enjoyed the Fourth of July at Venice. He spent the evening in Los Angeles.

TRAIN LOADS OF WASTE

Each month the supply train of a large eastern railroad goes from one place to another collecting waste metal. This method of collecting scrap is thus described in "The World's Work":

"The supply train is equipped with a powerful electric magnet, which picks up scrap metal all along the line, and deposits it in one main bin.

"Here from four to six trained operators sort the material. In this way more than a hundred tons of metal is collected. About forty per cent of this amount is reclaimed and put back into service."—Selected.
