NUMEROUS MOTIONS ARE BEFORE THE CONGRESS

Memorial Presented and Resolution Adopted Advocating Free School Books--Socialist Platform Distributed Without Label.

Promptly at nine o'clock this morning the first session of the second day of the Trades Congress convened in the Board of Trade hall. Practically all the delegates were in their places, and at once the secretary called for any fresh credentials that were to be presented.

The following delegates were then recommended to be seated by the credentials committee:

Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, A. J. Hump, Harry Nash, W. H. Reeve, Edmonton Carpenters and Joiners Local No. 225, J. A. Kenney, Chris. Cramer.

Revelstoke International Association of Machinists, Kootenay Lodge, John Russell.

Vancouver International Bartenders League, No. 672, A. W. von Kluken, Savona, B. C. International Brotherhood of Millwrights, C. W. War, Emmanuel, No. 212, J. W. Robertson.

Victoria Printing Pressmen Union, No. 79, Jas. Whyte.

Montreal Iron Molders, No. 27, Fred Johnson.

Toronto Iron Molders, John Barnett, Fred Johnson, and recommendation was accepted.

Delegate G. F. Gray, of Victoria, asked a question of precedence. He asked

A. VERVILLE, M. P.
President of Trades and Labor Congress.

that if the resolution regarding the formation of a Canadian Labor Party was defeated would it be in order to deal with the proposed plank of that party's platform?

Delegate Pettipiece, of Vancouver, thought that the first thing was to decide whether independent political action was to be taken or not. He considered no resolution on that matter had been submitted.

The president suggested waiting until the resolutions were returned by the committee.

Secretary Draper pointed out that until the reports were submitted any delegate had the right to submit any resolution and after the reports were in he could move amendment to them.

Regarding the proposed motion to seat A. R. Hoerle of Vancouver the committee reported itself unable to agree. It stated that a notice of motion had been submitted to the effect that the constitution be amended allowing one delegate to be seated on behalf of the allied council in each province. This motion was then taken up.

Delegate Pettipiece explained the matter similarly to yesterday and pointed out that some protection should be afforded to prevent the importation of English printers as had been done in Winnipeg.

E. J. Stevenson, of Moose Jaw, as a delegate objected to the motion. He thought as a printer that the Vancouver Allied Printing Trades Council should not attempt to take the position of a provincial organization.

W. V. Todd, of Winnipeg, pleaded strongly for the seating of Mr. Hoerle. He said the eight-hour law in Winnipeg and other places would have been secured without a struggle if the same as it had been in Victoria if there had been allied councils.

Secretary Draper also objected and pointed out that the Vancouver printers, bookbinders and pressmen were fairly represented. If the allied council were also represented it would be duplicate representation as pointed out yesterday. The congress could not grant a charter to such councils with

METHODISTS AND CHURCH UNION

REPORT DISCUSSED AT GENERAL CONFERENCE

The Proposal for the Admission of Women to Courts and Conferences Defeated.

(Special to the Times.)

Montreal, Sept. 17.—The general conference of the Methodist Church at its session today by a large vote negatively the proposal for the admission of women to the courts and conference of the church. The chairman ruled that a two-thirds vote was necessary. Two hundred and fifty-two were cast; necessary to carry 189 votes in favor 166; votes against 147. The debate was a lively and lengthy one, calling forth some weighty speeches. The closure was moved by Mayor Bell, of Enderby, B.C.

To-day the subject of providing an office for the church to look after the Methodist immigrants received careful consideration on a resolution by Prof. Osborne, of Winnipeg.

The report on church union was again discussed and various clauses referred back to committee for amendment.

To-night Rev. Collier, of Manchester, England, delivered his address on behalf of British Methodists. It was a splendid effort and was heartily received by the conference. Rev. Geo. Jackson, of Edinburgh Methodist Mission Hall, also addressed the conference.

THE CUBAN PROBLEM

New York Financiers Are of Opinion That Annexation Is Only Solution.

(Associated Press.)

New York, Sept. 18.—Commercial and financial men who have interests in Cuba continue to watch the situation in the island. Cables sent to Havana requesting answers to vital questions were replied to in the most unsatisfactory manner and this gave rise to comment especially in Wall street. The opinion there was that the cables were all being subjected to a strict censorship.

THE STRANDING OF PACIFIC STEAMERS

BELIEVED TO BE DUE TO CHANGES IN CURRENTS

Disturbance Which Preceded Earthquake in Chili Probably Altered Bed of the Ocean.

(Associated Press.)

New York, Sept. 18.—Shipping men were much interested to-day in a cable dispatch from Tokyo, which stated that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's steamer Empress of China, on arriving there on Sunday, reported that considerable changes have taken place in Pacific ocean currents. They regard this as accounting for stranding of so many steamers in the Pacific recently in the vicinity of the Hawaiian Islands. The steamers Manchuria and Mongolia and the United States transports Thomas and Sheridan have met this fate.

The Tokyo dispatch adds that the report of tidal changes harmonizes with the Kobe observatory's report of a great earthquake in mid-Pacific, which

ANOTHER "PRINCESS" IS FORESHADOWED

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy Has Cheering News For Victorians--Freight Steamers to Relieve Congestion.

Sir Thos. Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., arrived in the city last evening. Accompanying him are Senator Forget, R. B. Angus and W. D. Mathews, all directors of the railway company who are making a tour of inspection over the line preparatory to the meeting of the directors in the near future.

E. B. Osler, another of the directors, came westward on the special car, but stopped off at Glacier, not coming as far as the coast.

Vincent Hill, general manager of one of the great British railway lines running out of London to Dover, is also in the party, having come over as the guest of Sir Thomas. Henry Joseph, also a guest of Sir Thomas, is also staying at the Briard and will leave to-morrow morning for his home back east.

This morning a special committee of the Board of Trade met Sir Thomas in the office of Capt. Troup, superintendent of the C. P. R.'s coasting service. The committee consisted of J. A. Mann, Prior, D. R. Ker, J. Wilson and Secretary Elworthy. With Sir Thomas appeared R. Marpole, superintendent of the Pacific division of the C. P. R., Capt. Troup, R. W. Gray, general freight agent, and Geo. Courtney, the local agent of the company.

The committee had some complaints to lay before Sir Thomas which were promptly disposed of or turned over to the local and divisional officers to handle.

Questions came up regarding the handling of freight here. A complaint was made that during the last summer sometimes freight was delayed at Ladysmith and also that fast freight intended to be carried by the Princess Victoria between Victoria and Vancouver was delayed as there was not time during the season that the Princess was on the triangular run to allow of it being picked up.

In this connection Sir Thomas made an announcement which must be most encouraging to Victorians. He gave a hint that in the near future the company had in view the duplicating of the Princess Victoria in order to meet the demands of the trade. It was even hinted that satisfactory as the Princess Victoria had been it might be that a better steamer than she should be required for the local waters.

Dealing directly with the complaint as to delay in freight, Sir Thomas said that with respect to the Terry Tug to Ladysmith, the company had sent a new ferry and a tug. There had been a little delay in connection with the tug and it might be five months before it was completed.

Respecting the delay in the carriage of fast freight by the Princess, Capt. Troup explained that the company had not anticipated the passenger traffic that there was this year. The intention next year was to carry out the arrangements of the year before and have an extra freight steamer on during the season the Princess was on the triangular run. Which They Took Part.

(Associated Press.)

Mitau, Sept. 18.—Erdberg and Kent, two of the most prominent revolutionary leaders, have been arrested, tried by court-martial and executed by shooting at the scene of their last murder. In a previous attempt to capture these two men, they killed several of the policemen who were pursuing them.

Before their execution, Lyndeberg and Kent boasted of the many murders they took part in with other revolutionists from the Baltic provinces in the Swedish military. They were in receipt of a salary of 1000 marks from the bank and train robbery.

CONGESTION OF TRAFFIC.

Honolulu, Sept. 18.—As result of the stranding of the Pacific Mail steamer Manchuria and the transport Sheridan, both on their way to the Orient, and now followed by the Mongolia striking a reef near Midway Island, all within less than a month, there is much congestion of passengers here and the long interruptions of mails is causing great inconvenience. Many persons who are stranded on the Mongolia, others pending sailing on the Manchuria, others pending sailing on the Sheridan, are all here. The latter was scheduled to sail for San Francisco last night, but at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the order was given to anchor. A trip is being arranged to the steamer ship officers as the locality is most dangerous because of the reefs and currents.

The tug Iroquois, the largest and most powerful in Honolulu, will probably leave for Midway to-morrow.

THE VICE-REGAL RECEPTION.

Victoria has done her best to tians, but we think it may be assumed that His Excellency is well pleased in what he has seen and with our ure to express our opinion that if his his mind, His Excellency would not itate to say he regrets that the pital of British Columbia is not the at of government for all Canada.

ANENT DISSOLUTION.

The Colonist gives a qualified denial to the statement of the Times, made at evening, upon the subject of an pending dissolution of the provincial legislature. The denial is made upon the authority of Hon. Richard Mc-Bride, the Premier. We did not expect that the organ of the government would admit the truth of the statement. That would not be in accord with the policy of the government, which must obviously be to conceal its intentions until the latest possible moment. Nevertheless and notwithstanding, we reiterate that which has already been stated in our columns;
that the government will not again meet the legislature; that an understanding has been reached with the Lieut.-Governor and that a dissolution
will be granted when it is asked for;
that every possible preparation has
been made for a general election, and
that the constituencies will be appealed to before the end of the present year. Furthermore, regardless though the Premier may be of public opinion, lightly though he may regard his reputation for veracity, we venture to say Hon. Richard McBride will not, through the columns of his Victoria organ, proclaim in set terms his intention of again calling the House together for the transaction of public business.

DOMINION AND PROVINCE.

Immigrants coming to Canada intent upon improving their fortunes naturally gravitate towards the points which present the most favorable opportunities for making their way in life. They go to the prairies of the Northwest where land ready for the plough is to be had on easy terms. Such conditions will probably continue until nearly all the land in the immediate neighborhood of the coast and present immigration or shortly to be constructed is brought under cultivation. As along the lines of the Canadian Pacific, the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk Pacific there are millions upon millions of acres of the best land to be found in the world, land without equal as far as the production of wheat of the first quality is concerned. It is difficult to predict how long it may be before the trend of immigration is naturally directed towards British Columbia. And, suppose the Dominion government were to undertake to divert the stream in our direction, has our local government taken any measures to provide for the accommodation of such arrivals? What has it done in the way of surveying our vacant lands and finding suitable locations for prospective settlers? Supposing a hundred agriculturists, or fifty, or twenty, or even ten, were to apply at the government offices to-day for information upon this subject, what could our departmental officials do for them?

Where would they be directed to go to in the event of their application for government lands? In the Northwest the conditions are entirely different.
The Dominion government is creating the new provinces retaining the public lands, compensating the provincial governments therefor in annual cash subsidies. The immigrants who are arriving in thousands come with the fixed intention of taking up land and eventually becoming independent, not for the purpose of becoming the bond-servants of others more fortunate than they. In an indirect way they are steadily improving the prospects of the residents of British Columbia, inasmuch as they are rapidly increasing the demand for the products of this province. How long the existing situation will be maintained depends to a great extent upon circumstances. There is little doubt that if an understanding could be arrived at between the Dominion government and the government of the province of British Columbia—that if the Premier of British Columbia were to proceed to Ottawa with a bona fide intention of arriving at a reasonable understanding with respect to immigration, discarding the idea which has lamed his mind from the beginning of his public career of snaking political capital out of questions in dispute rather than arriving at a reasonable settlement of them—something might be accomplished that would prove of mutual benefit. But would any of that kind need be looked for while the present government of narrow, bigoted political horizon remains in power. We have not the slightest doubt that the attitude of our provincial representatives at the conference between the federal and the provincial authorities shortly to be held at Ottawa will bear out our views.
The Premier will proceed to Ottawa with a fixed determination to raise issues which he believes will prove of service to his government in the election that will be held some time during the present year and in obscuring the real issues which he and his band of adventurers and Socialistic allies have created during his accidental term of office. But the public should have little difficulty in fathoming his designs, and should have no hesitation in dealing with him according to his deserts.

DISSIPATION OF OUR WEALTH IN TIMBER.

On the 26th day of the present month a convention will meet in Vancouver to seriously consider the important question of forest conservation. In the eastern portion of the continent the matter of the timber supply of the future has already become a serious problem. Up to a comparatively few years ago the chief end men kept in the virgin soil for the benefit of ambitious agriculturists. Now past property is the subject of general lamentation. The value of wasted timber resources is beginning to be appreciated.
All the talk is of reforestation. No doubt some of the members of our provincial government will attend the convention in Vancouver and deliver thoughtful addresses on the necessity for economic administration of the timber resources of the province. But we should like to know what practical action the government is taking to carry out a policy of which it approves so unreservedly in the abstract. The Lieut.-Governor and that a dissolution
will be granted when it is asked for;
that every possible preparation has
been made for a general election, and
that the constituencies will be appealed to before the end of the present
year. Furthermore, regardless though

THE BANTLY CONCERT.

Interesting Event in Which Young Victorian Will Make His Debut as Soloist.
Benedict Bantly will make his debut before a Victoria audience at the theatre to-night as a soloist and virtuoso. He will be assisted in the concert by James Gordon, a "cellist," who has in late years been studying in Leipzig.
Mr. Bantly's instrument will be the piano, but during the programme both instrument will be used in a diet. In the selection of his programme, which was published in Saturday's Times, Mr.
Bantly has been particularly careful. He has endeavored to choose numbers that will please and at the same time do him justice. For that reason a few Chopin selections of the bright, catchy order have been included that should appeal to popular taste.
The concert will afford the first opportunity yet presented since Mr. Bantly's return from Europe of hearing this young Victorian in public, and as his style and ability as a soloist have been highly commended by German critics in Leipzig, music lovers of this city may be assured that the concert will be of interest to all who are in it that it is to be given by a Victorian who, having graduated in a German conservatory, has decided to make this city his home. Mr.
Gordon was a very promising performer on the cello before he left this city, and his appearance to-night, after spending a few years in Leipzig, will be of interest to the world's greatest masters, and a special interest to the concert.

LIBERAL BANQUET.

Vancouver World.
The enthusiastic reception of Hon. Mr.
Templeman by the Liberals at Victoria on Tuesday night must have been deeply gratifying to that gentleman and his friends, as well as to the people of this province at large. A marked approval of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's selection of Mr.
Templeman was expressed when the new minister was returned at the by-election by a majority of 20 in a district which, until quite recently, was one of the strongholds of Conservatism. The enthusiastic demonstration of Tuesday eveningphasized the ardor of the constituency in confirming Mr. Templeman in his seat.
The minister spoke most hopefully of the prospects of the Dominion under Liberal rule. He referred to the astonishing prosperity of the country at large. Fields of yellow grain and booming cities were in the West and it is becoming apparent to all that it is a good thing to be a citizen of Canada.
The West is rapidly becoming the centre of population of the Dominion. The hopes which certain interests in the Dominion had cherished that the tax on the Chinese would be removed or lowered, have been dispelled by the minister's emphatic statement that if the country stands in need of labor—and he admitted that it does—white labor should be procured. He favored looking to the labor-congested centres of the old world for immigrants who would assimilate with our own race in preference to bringing in hordes of Orientals who could never be part of ourselves or become permanent settlers. The statement was made amid cheers that by next session there would be a minister of mines appointed whose duty it would be to look after the mining interests of this and the other provinces. Mr. Templeman declared that the opposition had failed to counter the proposals of the government or any member of parliament with any scandalous transaction, and concluded by thanking his constituents for the warmth of their greeting and the heartiness of their manifestations.

New Tailor Suitings—
Very Height of Dress
Goods Style

Four great weaving countries—
England, France, Germany and America—have been busy for the past six months making this Fall's patterns and materials.
It seems that each maker has given most attention to devising new suitings which are after manish styles. There's not a bit of use attempting to describe them. Say there's plaids and one not yet accustomed to the new designs at once portrays stunning plaids of blocks and bars, but these plaid suitings are far from that conception.
Call them stripes, and one thinks of rigid bars traversing a vacant expanse of cloth. But visit the dress goods store and you will see tweeds that will make most artistic suits.
These stripe tweeds are varied by all sorts of hazy over and under weaves, and shot here and there with bits of color.
Handsome and effective tweeds
for coats have newly arrived.

Inexpensive Fall
Suitings

Tweeds at 50c a yard—hard to tell them from high class suitings.

"Deserted, but with some of her sails drawing, others flapping in frayed strips from the yardarm, and her wheel turning as though steered by an invisible helmsman, the Norwegian barque Servia was sighted by the French ship Ville de Mulhouse while on her way from Antwerp to Seattle," says the Seattle P.-I. "After rounding Cape Horn the bounty earner also sighted the almost submerged wreck of a large sailing vessel, which was waterlogged and which appeared to have been wrecked in a heavy gale."

NEW INDUSTRY.

Whale fishing along the coast of South America is a new industry which is built up, according to the officers of the Kiamos line steamship Assuan, which has just sailed for Hamburg.
They state that the whales come up to the South American coast near the reefs of Abrolhos and here Caravello boats (which are 400 to 500 tons) feed on the animalcule which abound in these waters.

Mr. Dawson's flower garden is a veritable bed of blossoms covering a great tract, and much of this beauty was transferred and, assisted by flowers from other yards, made a great show last night."

OFFICIAL RECEPTION OF LABOR DELEGATES

people who will lower the standard of living are a bad thing. Governments are only the phony of the people who make them and they are to blame if the government is bad. If the people have short hours of labor they have time to develop into good citizens.

"I want to urge again the sending of delegates to meet with us in connection with the Bellingham. We hope to extend to some of your number similar courtesies to those extended to me here."

Mr. Young concluded by reading Ella Wheeler Wilcox's well known lines terminating "No question is ever settled until it is settled right." He resumed his seat amid loud applause.

Mayor Morley arrived by this time and was introduced by the presiding officer in a few well chosen words. His Worship said in brief and to the point: "President and Members of the convention—I owe you an apology for being late, but must plead the excuse of other engagements. If not interfering, I would ask you to consider eight hours a day for man, woman and child, a heavy burden to bear. I am very glad to see you here and wish you every success in your efforts. We never know labor disputes here."

"I have been carefully watching the labor movement on this side of the line. There is a feeling of uneasiness in all matters British that to many of my class can lose sight of that will keep all movements within the bounds of safety—the bound of Britishness—that spirit of fair play to all that must permeate every movement and class. It was during my time in an old millstream in England when the movement began there for the first time. I had an opportunity of watching it in the United States for some years, and also in Canada. I see very little wrong in any coming from the movement. I left behind the front of fair play. I trust your stay here will be pleasant and enjoyable as well as reformed to the credit of the meetings so well begun. I hope you will leave here thinking the city a good one to settle in and enjoy life as you can find no other spot on earth." (Loud applause.)

President Verville, M. P., the president, next delivered a short address. He said: "In the name of the congress I wish to say we are assuredly pleased to have with us representatives of the federal and provincial congresses, the mayor of the city and the vice president of the board of trade. We see nearly all elements of the community centered in this hall on the first day of the convention. If we could keep them all the year it would be the best thing that could happen to the country. I was glad to hear the remarks of the minister of inland revenue and the provincial premier—they extended a helping hand to labor people in respect of proposed legislation. I hope I will always be in a position to present to you the views of the country, and that Delegate McEwen will do likewise in respect of the province of British Columbia. I thank you, gentlemen, for spending some hours of your valuable time here and trust you will recognize that this convention is not only for the benefit of the interests of the working classes, but also those of all law-abiding citizens in the Dominion of Canada."

At the request of the chairman, Vice-President Joseph Simpson, of Toronto, moved a vote of thanks to the visiting speakers. This was passed unanimously, all the delegates rising to their feet.

Resolutions were then in order, the following being introduced:

A By-Law to Regulate the Discharge of Fire-Arms—Sporting Notes

Although it has not yet been carried it is understood that it will be carried on its first and second readings, and, without a doubt, will be made law at the next sitting of the Council. The provisions of the by-law are as follows:

- I. This by-law may be cited as the "North Saanich Fire-arms By-law."

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL OFFICERS ELECTED.

A largely attended meeting of the Y. M. C. A. enthusiasts was held at the rooms, Broad street, last evening. J. G. Brown was appointed president, and R. M. Whyte was elected vice-president unanimously. The position of secretary-treasurer was tendered to H. Mason, while R. Morrison was selected captain. Two teams are being entered in the City League by the association—one senior and one intermediate. It was announced that there are about twenty-five intermediate and fifteen senior teams in the respective divisions, so that both should be sufficiently strong to do the association credit upon the field. Red sweaters with the Y. M. C. A. badge and white knickerbockers will be the team's colors. A number of special rules were adopted, and it was decided that practice should commence immediately, being held between 7 and 7 o'clock each evening at Beacon Hill. The meeting then adjourned.

AT Y. M. C. A. TONIGHT.

The organization meeting of the Victoria United Club will be held this evening in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Broad street. It is intended that the chair shall be taken at 8 o'clock promptly as business of the utmost importance will come up for consideration. Among other matters plans for the coming season will come up for discussion, and a full attendance of members is requested.

RUGBY FOOTBALL TO ORGANIZE.

A meeting of members of the Victoria United Club has been called for this evening commencing at 8 o'clock, in the parlors of the Victoria Hotel. The question of organizing for the ensuing season will be considered, while the proposed trip to California some time during the second week in October will come up for debate. A full attendance is expected.

ATHLETICS. ANNUAL MEET.

The annual field meeting of the Vancouver Athletic Club will be held on Saturday afternoon at Brockton Park. The program of events is made up of entries in the different events, and the indications are that many of the prizes offered will be captured. The program of the competition has already been published in these columns.

SHERRING COMING.

Mark Cuzner, of this city, has received a letter from W. J. Sherring, of Hamilton, winner of the Marathon and race at the recent Olympic games, stating that he will visit Victoria, probably on Sunday. Sherring, who is accompanied by F. W. Wright, has been giving exhibitions at athletic meetings, and will take part in the sports at Vancouver on Saturday.

DEATHS IN THE ALPS.

A Number of Mountain Climbers Killed. Veteran Guide Drowned.

A young Swiss named Ruit was killed recently about the summit of the Saasberg, in the Canton of Glaris, says a Geneva dispatch. While attempting to reach some ice-bergs which were growing on a difficult ledge he slipped and fell head foremost down a precipice 100 yards deep. Death was instantaneous. There is a German visitor at Montreux, who occupied in the same manner, rolled down a steep, rocky slope on the Prax, but fortunately caught a tree on the brink of the precipice. There he lay for hours, unable to stand or descend. He was saved by a party of Alpinists returning from a climb in the mountains above.

They arrived at the summit of the cord down to Videman, who was pulled up in an exhausted condition. A French tourist named M. Alexandre, 42 years of age, was traversing the narrow path that joins the Alpine hamlets of Rochets and Pissard with Savoy when he slipped in a dangerous and fatal manner, and dying in a ravine beside the steep path.

Seven Swiss Alpinists, accompanied by a guide, were descending Gode, Mountain when they were frightened by an avalanche which passed near by. Six members of the party left the party and fell into a deep crevasse, one being instantly killed, one fatally hurt and three others badly injured. The injured men lay on the ice for several hours before they were rescued.

AFTER TEN YEARS.

Mr. G. J. Stephenson, of Peterborough, says: "For over ten years I suffered constantly with Piles, first hemorrhoids, then bleeding, pain, almost unbearable, like a burden. Tried everything in vain till I used Dr. Leonard's Hem-Roid. I had taken but a few boxes when I began to notice an improvement. I decided to keep on, and now after using three boxes I am glad to say I am completely cured. My general health has also greatly improved. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Hem-Roid to all sufferers with Piles. And I feel convinced that what it has done for me it will surely do for them."

SEICHE EPIDEMIC IN PARIS.

Love and money. Commerce Impel Men to Seek Death. There was an epidemic of suicides in Paris recently. A doctor from Ripens, who has lived in Paris for the last 30 years shot himself in the Bois de Vincennes. A young man shot himself in the Square Montolieu, leaving a letter saying that he took his life because the woman he loved had rejected him. A young man of 23 shot himself opposite the Troadero, having first dressed himself in new clothes from head to foot. At the Gare de Lyon a railway employee threw himself in front of a train, and a working man killed himself by jumping from the fortifications into the dry ditch below, because he had stolen a comrade's bicycle and been found out.

THOROUGHBREDS

BY W.S. FRASER.

CHAPTER XXIV (Continued).

Suddenly the impassioned face lighted up; the narrow-lidded eyes gleamed with brightened interest. Eagerly as a boy his owner, Crane, came forward and saluted Allis. At that instant the man of many words on her left rose from his seat to chase through the interminable crowd on the lawn a new victim.

Allis had sought to be alone in this short time of grief; she was hardly sure of herself. If Lucretia failed she might break down; for what would come to her father should the message come to one of disaster? Even the little mare, won her joy might lead her to commit strange tricks; she felt that her heart would burst out of sheer joy if she did not shout in exultation, or exuberantly, as she had seen others do in the hour of victory. She was sorry that Crane had come.

"I was looking for you," he said, "I want to see you with this race, that is, if I mean, like every other man here, I have hurried back to my natural habitat of conscious acquisition and had a bet on."

"Not Lucretia?"

"No, I've bet on Diablo. Langdon thinks he'll win. Do you remember the nagging about his surcingle?"

"What was that? I've half forgotten it."

"Just a little bet on your account, you know."

"Oh, I remember; but that was only for fun, wasn't it?"

"I was sure of the bargain and it's on. You'll take it, won't you, if he wins?"

"They're off!" Some one had shouted the magic words from the head of the steps. As a second every voice of the thousands was stilled, and there was only the noise of shuffling feet, as eager watchers stood up to see the horses.

"It's a false start," said Crane, quietly, turning toward the girl. "It would have been well for you, Miss Allis, had the starter hit them so. Lucretia was well out in the lead; it was Diablo's even now the rolling beat of eagle hoofs was in the air, hushed by the mob's clamor.

Yes, Crane had spoken truly; a great striding black, along whose neck hung close a tiny figure in yellow and red, was leading the on-coming horses. Allis strained her eyes trying to discover the little mare, but she was swallowed up in the struggling mob that hung at Diablo's heels. As they opened a little, scuffling around the first turn, Allis caught sight of the white surcingle blue jacket. Its wearer was quite fifth or sixth.

"Lucretia is doing well," said Crane, "she's holding her own; she's lapped on White Moth."

It seemed strange to Allis that any other thought should come into her mind at that time other than just concern for Lucretia, but she caught herself wondering at Crane's professional words of description. For the time he was changed; the quick brevity of his utterance tokened an interested excitement. He was not at all like the Crane she knew; the cold, collected banker. "Lucretia's doing better," her companion added a few seconds later. "I were given to sentiment, I should say her gallop was the poetry of motion. She deserves to win. But honestly, Miss Allis, I think she'll never catch the black; he's running like a good horse."

Allis could not answer; the strain was too great for words. It would be all over in a minute or so; then she would talk.

"Your mare is creeping up, Miss Allis; she's second to the black now, and they've still a good three furlongs to go. You may win yet. It takes a good horse to make all his own running for a mile and a quarter and then win. His light weight may land him first past the post. There are only four in it now, the rest are beaten off, sure. Diablo is still in the lead; White Moth and Lucretia are a length back; and the King is next, running strong. It's the same into the stretch. Now the boys are riding; Lucretia is drawing away from White Moth—she's pressing Diablo. You'll win yet!"

This voice was drowned by the clamor that went up from every side. "Diablo! White Moth! Lucretia! What a babel of yells!" "He's beat! Come on!" It was deafening. All the conjectures of thousands, compressed into a few brief seconds of struggling endeavor.

Allis had sat down. There was less frenzied excitement thus.

"God of Justice!" It was Crane's voice, close to her ear; his hot breath was on her cheek; he had leaned down, so that she might hear him. "Our jockey has sold you, or else Lucretia quit. I thought I saw him pull her off. I'm sorry, Miss Allis; God knows I am, though I've won—for Diablo is winning easily." Then he straightened up again for an instant, only to bend down again and say, "Yes, Diablo has won, and Lucretia is beaten off. Perhaps it wasn't the boy, after all, for it's a long journey for a three-year-old mare. Can I do anything for you? Let me see you down to the paddock."

THE MISTRESS OF RIDEAU HALL

A recent writer in the Toronto Globe had the following appreciative speech of Her Excellency Countess Grey, at present visiting Victoria. With all the grace and charm of a gentle and lovable nature, Her Excellency the Countess Grey is rapidly winning her way into the hearts of the people of Ottawa. For one short month she has been mistress of Rideau Hall, and already she has charmed all who have come into personal contact with her.

COUNTESS GREY.

Of a family noted for artistic culture, she herself is an artist of no mean ability. Mrs. Holford, her mother, who was a Miss Lindsay, was an extremely clever artist, and her daughter, the Countess Grey, has inherited her mother's great personal charm and sympathy. Her father, too, was a great patron of the arts, and built a beautiful house in London, Dorchester House, which she filled with artistic treasures. Her mother, too, was an artist, and her daughter, the Countess Grey, has inherited her mother's great personal charm and sympathy.

Her Excellency also excels beautifully in a talent which she utilizes in the making of pretty bits of jewelry. Her dainty butterfly, which the Lady Sybil Grey sometimes wears, is a specimen of her talent in this art. She is also very fond of painting, and has painted many beautiful pictures.

SOLDIER AND SCIENTIST. Lord Belhaven and Stenton, who is sixty-six, is a soldier who has found his recreation in science. He entered the Royal Engineers, fifty years ago, and served in the Zulu war. Since he retired from the army he has devoted himself to a great deal of scientific pursuits, and is a member of the Royal Institution and of the Council of the Royal Geographical Society. He is not lacking in wealth, for his 22,000 acres in Lanarkshire contain some very valuable minerals. The Belhaven and Stenton title has gone through an unusual number of vicissitudes. The first baron was the son of a natural brother of the first Earl of Argyll, and when he died the title went to his granddaughter, the Countess of Argyll, who was married to the Duke of Devonshire.

THE LAND OF DYKES. Holland is a country of wooden piles and dykes, for the people are perpetually fighting against the encroachments of water. One building in Amsterdam rests on no fewer than 12,500 piles, though the dykes around the town, which have been erected at enormous expense, effectively prevent any chance of a flood. The streets are frequently under water in the winter, and in some parts of South Holland the people are compelled to do their shopping in boats. When the Zuyder Zee dries up, the water is pumped from the lowest level to the one immediately above it, and so on until the water has been raised again to its normal level. A large number of engineers are specially engaged to look after the dykes, and no less a sum than £200,000 is expended every year in keeping the dykes in repair against the sea in proper repair.

SUITS MADE QUICK. "The perfection of the physique type of measuring and designing for tailoring," said the manager of the Semi-ready "Wardrobe," was one of the most brilliant sartorial achievements in the world. The Semi-ready Company was perfected, the merchant tailors had it all our own way. Today most of us acknowledge the truth that the small tailor shops cannot equal the system or the workmanship of the real Semi-ready garment. I know that in nearly every town and city in Canada, merchant tailors are trying to get the Semi-ready agency.

AN EXPERT RIFLEWOMAN. The feature of the second day of the rifle meeting was the splendid shooting of one of the Empire's riflewomen, Mrs. Chapman. She scored 28 at 200 yards, 3 at 300 and 17 at 400 yards, a total of 48 points. Mrs. Chapman's rifle was a Vickers, and she is a member of the Victoria Rifle Club. She is a very expert shot, and has won many prizes at various rifle meetings. She is also a very good marksman, and has won many prizes at various rifle meetings.

THE BOY SHOTS. Noteworthy Feature of the Bisley Shoot is the Work of the Juniors. "There is going to be a big thing in the future," said Colonel Ricardo yesterday, as he stood by the 500-yards mark at Bisley and watched the young riflemen. A boy of some fourteen summers had just turned round, his face scarlet and eyes full of tears of excitement. "A bull! A bull for me, sir!" and the Grenadier sergeant with the score-book nodded good humoured congratulations. Another shot, Dunstan's schoolboy heaved a sigh of vexed envy, for the fourth time, his scorecard went "tpe a time, his own scorecard went up with an "outer" on it; even the voice of the sergeant angrily telling a fellow competitor that his last shot was a miss lay down between the same shall have been interested to the closing of all that portion of Prince's Avenue which runs between the said two blocks, and separates one of them from the other, and subject to the assent of the electors of the City of Victoria, hereinafter called "the Corporation," to the purchase of the said land and the borrowing of such moneys as may be required to carry out the said purchase.

RHEUMATISM ALMOST KILLED HER. For years Mrs. S. Stalshmidt, of Humberton, Ont., was a martyr to rheumatism. "I was so stiff and lame I could scarcely walk," she writes. "An attack striking my limbs made walking impossible. Friends and doctors gave prescriptions but I only got relief from Ferronze. I took twelve boxes and was cured. Ferronze cures rheumatism and sciatica, 50c per box at all druggists."

EXPLAINED. "A young lady who had no knowledge of nautical phrases said to a friend: "Do you know, I often wonder why a ship has to weigh its anchor every time it leaves port?" The answer of her friend was not illuminating. "Well, or the weight is constantly increasing, you know, because of the water that accumulates on the bottom of the anchor."

60 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

A persistent bad cold will run into consumption unless it is relieved in time. So it is with the little daily wants of the people—they grow serious if not promptly filled. You can afford, for instance, to have that house tenantless for a little while, but who continues tenantless month after month it becomes a serious matter. The timely "want" ad. ends the trouble.

NUMEROUS MOTIONS ARE BEFORE THE CONGRESS

(I read your paragraph.) Again Delegate Pettipiece rose to his feet and asked to be appointed a committee of one to inspect all the clothing of members and see if it bore the union label.

Delegate Anderson of Montreal suggested all non-union cigars in the room be destroyed.

Delegate McNiven—How can you tell they are non-union cigars? Delegate Anderson—I could smell them anywhere. (Laughter.)

Delegate Trotter, of Winnipeg Typographical Union, said the Congress was degenerating into "tommy rot."

Delegate Rolfe pointed out that if the union label was taken out, something else had to be submitted.

Delegate Rolfe said the principal thing that had occurred towards making the Congress a farce was the explanation of Delegate Pettipiece.

The amendment was adopted. Accordingly, the delegates retained the copies of the Socialist platform distributed to them.

Delegate Gray, of Victoria, moved that the Congress reimburse the Allied Printing Trades Council of Vancouver the expense of sending the delegate whose seating was not permitted.

After the motion had been seconded Secretary Draper said he was in favor of the motion.

Delegate Anderson moved that the Congress then proceeded to listen to the delegation from the Allied Council of Vancouver regarding the proposal they intended to lay before the provincial government.

Harry Cowah was the first speaker. He said the proposition he wished to lay before the congress was the publication by the government printing office of all school books.

What was asked was that the government appoint a commission in order to remove the misapprehension existing that matters of copyright and others prevented a province publishing its own books.

Sam J. Godhard was the next speaker. He said the agitation was started by Robert Fowler, who was hired with a large family and found, when adding up his personal expenses, this branch was more than he could rightly stand.

Mr. Fowler started out with the idea of free school books, but finally decided only to ask at present, that they be printed by the government and sold at cost. The proposal had been heartily endorsed by all the boards of school trustees and other bodies in the province that had been approached on the subject.

A sum of $150,000 was sent out to eastern provinces to purchase school books for this province, the Dominion, France and Sweden led the way with providing them absolutely free.

Great Britain and Ireland they were sold at a very small figure. The government, however, was not satisfied and up to date in every particular.

It only required an electrolyzing plant and felder to do the work. Only an expense of $100,000 would be required.

It could be borrowed at the prevailing rate of 3 1/2 per cent. The government could add 10 per cent. to the cost and this make a profit of 6 1/2 per cent.

Which could be added to the revenue. In conclusion he urged the congress not only to endorse the proposition for British Columbia, but to agitate down east with a similar object in view.

Finally, it might be hoped, the Dominion government would be induced to provide an universal school-book free to be used everywhere from the Atlantic to Vancouver.

C. J. McKay was the last member of the delegation to speak. He said the principal question considered by the public was one of cost.

It should be looked into and, if the congress found the proposal good, endorsed by them.

Delegate Landers of Hamilton, then moved the following resolution: Whereas the delegates of the 22nd session of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, having heard the request of the Allied Printing Trades of Vancouver on the question of the publication of text books for the British Columbia printing office, and being fully conversant in this matter of the lessening of the cost of text books with the ultimate aim of having them presented free to the children of the province, he it here resolved, that the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada endorse the principle of having the books of the province, and unanimously endorse the memorial as presented by that body to the congress.

This was carried unanimously amid cheers. Resolution No. 1, as printed elsewhere, was recommended for adoption by the committee on resolutions.

The report was concurred in. A recommendation was also made in respect of No. 2, but it was decided to refer it back to the committee.

After some discussion it was decided to instruct the committee to combine the resolutions on independent political action and Asiatic immigration into resolutions setting out the views at the Congress which could be adopted.

Secretary Draper pointed out that the resolutions done here would be 15 or 20 resolutions on the same subject spread over the proceedings of the convention instead of being compressed into concrete form.

Delegate Duttan, as mover of resolution No. 5, pointed out that the committee amended his resolution, which was a short one. They thought it covered all that the congress might wish to say on the subject.

Delegate Landers supported the position taken by Secretary Draper. On motion being put it was decided, therefore, to have the resolution committee combine such resolutions.

The same committee reported unfavorably on resolution No. 7, printed elsewhere. When a motion to endorse the report was put Delegate Anderson, the mover of the resolution, explained the position taken by his society, the Amalgamated Carpenters and Joiners. It had spent over two million dollars already in old age pensions.

He thought if the resolution were thrown overboard the congress would regret it. President Verville said there would be a resolution presented at the next session of the Dominion House regarding old age pensions. The proposal of Delegate Anderson could not be followed by any government, if legislation of this kind were ever introduced.

Mr. Anderson's society would be, of course, included. Delegate Anderson, chairman of the committee, said the reason given by the president was the one animating the committee in reporting unfavorably. A member had pointed out that, if the project to pay the proportion for the carpenters alone were placed before the government, it would be met by the declaration it was class legislation.

Delegate Gray, of Victoria, asked if the proposed pension scheme to be laid before the government was to be universal or only for the necessitous. President Verville said it was only for the necessitous, as far as he could see.

say at present. There was, however, some hope, yet before the session.

The object of the committee was considered. Resolution No. 8 was also agreed to upon the committee's report.

President Verville, in explanation, stated the government was doing something in the matter. The deputy minister of labor was on his way to England to press the imperial government to pass an act making misrepresentation of conditions of labor an offence.

The report was agreed to. The last business transacted was the reception of an invitation from Winnipeg for the congress of 1907 to meet there. Enclosed was an invitation from the Mayor of Winnipeg.

An adjournment was then taken until 7 p.m. this evening, when the congress will meet in executive session.

The secretary of the congress, Mr. C. J. McKay, will be present. This afternoon the delegates are being taken round the city in observation cars. They assembled at Yates and Government streets at 2.15 and returned to the school body assembled on the steps of the parliament building, where they were photographed.

There will be no sessions to-morrow, the session to be held on Thursday and Friday morning only. When the congress meets on Thursday morning it is expected that the committee on resolutions will have important recommendations to make. These will include the formation of an independent labor party, Delegate Pettipiece's resolution on Socialism, and the Asiatic question generally.

It was stated this morning that the congress will be held on Friday and Saturday morning. The Victoria members of the different unions will then have an opportunity to listen to the discussions.

ANOTHER "PRINCESS" IS FORESHADOWED

(Continued from page 1.) Sir Thomas complimented the board on the quality of complaints received and said he had a complaint to register. Although there was abundance of timber on the Island the carrying of the company had for three months back been turning out only about fifteen cars a day, whereas the capacity was thirty cars. Now it had been increased to about twenty-four cars. There was a scarcity of lumber which he wished could be filled.

"You have lots of timber, why don't you go into the business yourselves?" suggested someone.

Sir Thomas said this might be construed as competition by the company with lines of trade, and as such would not be appreciated.

The president of the C. P. R. said he had an explanation to make with respect to the Empress' calling here. It was with some difficulty the contract was obtained and the government would only permit it for two years instead of five. This called for the carrying of the mails from Liverpool to Hongkong. The company had in view the giving of such a service in this connection.

The two years as would figure in the contract, the government to be given would be such that the government could not afford to pass the company over.

On this initial trip by the Empress of China the official referred to had been very anxious to make a record. In his anxiety he had without authority cancelled the calling of the Empress at the outer wharf here. The result had been a loss of time instead of an advantage and would not be repeated.

In the new contract, entered into the company had obliterated the Atlantic time from the old contract. He hoped yet to see steamers nearly approaching the Empress of Britain on the Pacific. The steamers could not be improved upon except perhaps that the speed might be increased a little.

Mr. Thomas inspected the new hotel in progress in connection in company with the other directors and architect Raftery this morning. He was highly pleased with the work. In connection with the extension of the building by an additional wing he will take that fully into consideration.

The Sensible Thing in Card Prizes

There is no competition at cards so keen as at the "whist" or "euche" where the principal prizes are dainty, useful bits of china. The men are not averse to bits of china either—steins, pipe trays, tobacco boxes, etc.

But, an artistic chocolate pot, biscuit jar, bonbon box or tray, a pretty plate or cup and saucer, will infatuate a woman as nothing else.

There are hundreds of items here which will contribute materially to the success of your party. The summer prices will allow your prize money to go a long way.
