A Few "Beauses"

Why we ask for and expect your grocery trade.

BECAUSE as far as it is possible to determine our stock takes in all the good kinds, and leaves the others out.

BECAUSE if you are particular about eatables, our store will appeal to you.

BECAUSE we play the game of business fair and square. We make right any mistakes that we may make as soon as we hear of them.

BECAUSE we try awfully hard to "get there on time." We appreciate the inconvenience of waiting for goods to be delivered.

BECAUSE In spite of all these advantages your dollar is as large here as anywhere, often larger.

Try and prove.

CAMPBELL FLOAT A BEAUTY

Local Artists Construct Float Which Brings Much Credit to Community

In the magnificent floral parade of Thursday afternoon the Orchard City was represented by a float that brought forth many exclamations of praise and admiration. Much credit is due to the hustle of E. R. Kennedy and his committee who were given charge of the work only last week. After all the plans of the last two or three months had failed and the few faithful ones of the Improvement Club had about lost hope, the burden of the entire work was turned over to Mr. Kennedy and he was told to "go to it," which he did, and he has "made good."

Next in order for credit is Miss Chamberlain, who, at the solicitation of Mr. Kennedy, designed and superintended the execution of the beautiful float. Miss Chamberlain has charge of the art classes at the high school, and her varied abilities make her a most valuable asset to the school faculty. If such excellent results could be produced "over night," what might have been done had the plans for a float been submitted to Miss Chamberlain a few weeks ago.

Mention should be made of the excellent manner in which the general public responded with flowers and assisted with the work of decorating the artistically arranged arch. We much regret that we can not present a photograph of the float and go into the details of its construction.

In the parade the wagon was drawn by the handsome blacks of C. B. Miracle, with the beautiful grays of Frank Custer in the lead. The teams were driven by L. L. Merrill, assisted by N. A. Blake. The four young men who acted as escorts were George Jaderquist, George L. Beaver, Edwin Kay, and Robert Kennedy. The little maids who occupied seats on the float were Laura Blaine, Emma Hook, Georgia Cochran, Olga Evans, Joyce Robson, Marian Scott, Edwina Page and Vernice Matley. Four were dressed in pink and four in white.

The Campbell booth in the pavilion was very tastefully arranged as a comfortable rest room for ladies, and was the work of the W. C. T. U.

An Interesting Series of Debates

The Santa Clara Valley Debating League was started last December by Miss A. Knowles of the Faculty of the San Jose High School and Professor J. C. Templeton of the Palo Alto High School. Miss Knowles and Prof. Templeton are both recently from Southern California where a league similar to ours has been in successful operation for some time.

The schools that comprise our league are San Jose, Santa Clara, Mountain View, Palo Alto, Sequoia Union at Redwood, and Campbell Union High Schools.

The plan of operation is as follows: A definite topic is chosen for the term, and under this topic are formulated as many specific questions as possible. These questions are debated in the schools during the first part of the fall term. The several schools designate the questions they think are the best. At an executive meeting of the league the schools are paired up by lot, the questions are assigned by lot, and the dates for the debates are also assigned by lot.

This first series of debates is held before Christmas. After Christmas a second topic and set of questions is taken up. This time the schools are paired up according to their standing at the close of the first series, but the questions and the dates are assigned as before.

At the close of the second series which must be not later than May first, championship debates are arranged between the schools having the highest scores in the series. The winning school is the champion of the year.

Each school has an affirmative and a negative team. The affirmative team remains at the home school while the negative team goes to the other school. This plan gives each school a fair chance and the decision does not rest on the merits of the question as both schools have each side of the question to debate upon. In the respective towns of the schools, there is a debate on the same evening on the selected question between the two schools which have been paired up by lot together.

The first debates of the preliminary series were held at San Jose and Redwood City last Saturday evening, May seventh, on the question, "Resolved that the federal government should own and operate the railroads within its borders." This question and all the questions of this preliminary series are the specific questions of the general topic. "The relation of the government to public utilities." The debates were a great success; Sequoia won at San Jose and San Jose at Redwood, but the total score of San Jose High School was the largest.

The second two debates of this series are to be held between Campbell Union High School and Palo Alto High School on Monday evening, May the sixteenth.

Fruit Growers Union Hold Annual Meeting

The stockholders of the Campbell Fruit Growers Union met in annual meeting last Wednesday. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, S. R. Wade; vice president, Parker Keith; secretary, S. G. Rodeck; these with Geo. E. Hyde and R. K. Thomas constitute the board of five directors. The Bank of Campbell continues to act as Treasurer.

The reports of the past year's business proved very satisfactory to the stockholders. The Geo. E. Hyde & Co. will continue the lease of the plant for another year. It is the intention of the Union to make quite extensive improvements on the buildings for the benefit of the lesor.

Against Taxation Without Consultation

Voters of Campbell Turn Down Plans to Raise $1800 for Fire Equipment Purposes—Vote 64 to 19

In view of the need of better fire protection the newly elected Board of Fire Commissioners called an election last Monday for the voters of Campbell to decide whether or not they were willing to be taxed to the extent of one per cent on property valuations to raise the necessary funds.

There were 83 votes cast, with 64 against and 19 for the proposition.

The result of the election does not necessarily indicate that the property holders are unwilling to put up money to provide better protection against fire losses. Upon enquiry we learn that the voters turned the proposition down simply because they had no idea of what the $1800 was to be used for—whether to buy hose carts, fire horses, or to construct a club house in which the firemen might hold their meetings. The election was sprung upon the people without their having any knowledge of the plans of the board. A question involving the interests of so many people should first be given publicity and proper discussion allowed. While the fire commissioners were elected by the people and are capable and responsible men, yet the property holders ask that they first be consulted before an action is taken that will necessitate an expense on them.

Campbell is a growing town. New homes are constantly being erected and fine business blocks are on the way. The next five years will see a decided improvement in various ways. We need additional fire protection. Nobody realizes the need more than those who own the property and pay the taxes.

The question of water supply, mains, cisterns, equipment, etc., should be discussed by the people at large. The proper means of getting questions of public interest before the people is the local newspaper. The editor of the Press is always ready to give proper publicity to all matters of public concern.

A New Physician for Campbell

Among the M. D.'s who have been sizing up the sick and afflicted ones of Campbell with a view of locating here, Dr. F. L. Blanchard is the coming man. Dr. Blanchard is a graduate of Cooper Medical College and for the past year has been resident physician at O'Connor Sanitarium. At the present time he is relieving Dr. Beattie of Santa Clara who is taking a vacation. The new physician will have his headquarters in the office of Dr. Cooper and will begin his practice on June 1st.

Dr. Blanchard is not only a capable and experienced physician, but a man with a pleasing personality, such as is sure to win the confidence and respect of the entire community.

Lion Fondles A Child

In Pittsburg a savage lion fondled the hand that a child thrust into his cage. Danger to a child is sometimes great when least regarded. Often it comes through Colds, Croup, and Whooping Cough. They slay thousands that Dr. King's New Discovery could have saved. "A few doses cured our baby of a very bad case of Croup," writes Mrs. George B. Davis, of Flat Rock, N. C., "We always give it to him when he takes cold. It's a wonderful medicine for babies." Best for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Hemorrhages, Weak Lungs. 50c. $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all Druggists.

The question for debate is, "Resolved that the federal government should inaugurate a postal savings bank."

The team that is to uphold the affirmative for Campbell is composed of Mr. George L. Beaver and Mr. Howard S. Bean as principals and Miss Bessie Palmer as alternate. The negative team for Campbell which will debate at Palo Alto is composed of Mr. Robert L. Pendleton and Mr. Maxwell F. Currier as principals and Mr. Floyd Bohnett as alternate.

The judges who are to judge the debate at Campbell are Judge Richards, Judge Thompson of Santa Clara, and Prof. Huntington of Mt. View.

R. W. KENNEDY HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Drives Horses in Front of Interurban Car—Horses Thrown onto Shingle Pile

Last Saturday afternoon while driving the sprinkling wagon R. W. Kennedy's team was run down by an interurban car and narrowly escaped a fatal accident. Mr. Kennedy was just driving out onto Campbell avenue from Foote avenue, just east of Mr. Miracle's house, and a car was coming from the east. At this point the orchard is very close to the track and it is impossible either for one on a wagon to see an approaching car until the horses have reached the track, or for a motorist to see an approaching team more than several yards from the track. Mr. Kennedy was aware of the danger at this place and was on the lookout but the noise of the heavy wagon so drowned the sound of the car that he did not see it until the horses were on the track. Mr. Kennedy's first thought was to back up but before the team could move the heavy wagon sufficiently the car struck the tongue of the wagon with such force that the horses were thrown against a pile of shingles on the west side of the road. The off horse was at first thought to have suffered some broken ribs but it was later found to be only badly bruised. The other horse was uninjured.

The motorman must have stopped the car very quickly as the rear end of the car was but a few yards from the horses when brought to a stand still. It is claimed by some who were near at the time that the warning whistle for the crossing was not blown as should have been done. Had Mr. Kennedy not seen the car until a second later the accident might have been a more serious one to both horses and driver.

A Neat Sum for Library

A large audience attended the entertainment given at the Congregational church last Friday night for the benefit of the library. It was feared that the big concert in San Jose would detract from the local event, but the big house here proved the popularity of Campbell's entertainers.

Each of the town's organizations contributed one or more numbers which made up the following varied and interesting program: Selection, High School Orchestra; address, Mrs. Poor; piano solo, Miss Emma Beattie; violin solo, Robert Schultz; recitation, Mrs. Ralston Alison; vocal solo, Mrs. J. F. Wilson; original poem, Mrs. Janes; vocal solo, Miss Dolly Blenkinsop; original verses, Mr. Bohnett; vocal solo, Miss Charlotte Davis; address, Prof. Janes; address, Rev. Mr. Atkinson; selection, High School Orchestra.

The results from the sale of tickets amounted to $33.20, and the cash realized from the ice cream sold by the Woman's Club amounted to $6.25. After a few incidental expenses were paid about $38 were turned over to the library fund.

Local and Personal

Owing to the Carnival celebration there will be no meeting of the Fraternal Aid next Saturday night.

F. Waldo, now of Oakland, is in town shaking hands with old friends. He is the guest of R. K. Thomas.

Mrs. Wesley Mock, of Santa Rosa, arrived Tuesday for a visit with her cousins, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hanger left this morning for Seabright where they expect to remain until about the last of next week.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a Convention Echo Meeting at the home of Mrs. Dr. Cooper on Wednesday, May 18th at 2:30 o'clock.

Roy Sawyer who has been with Curtis Henckle Drug Co., San Jose, for some months has a five-months' leave of absence and left last Monday for Hoquiam, Washington, where he has an engagement as catcher with a baseball team.

The Methodist Sunday school annual picnic was held last Saturday in a pretty grove a mile above Alma. The party left the church at 8:30 o'clock by means of teams. There were one hundred or more present, and all report a good time.

Mr. Rabun Neel, a representative of the California and Hawaiian Sugar Refining Co., and Dr. C. J. Nicolai, specialist in dentistry, both of San Francisco, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Woodhull at Hopewell. They were both so favorably impressed by the growing crops that they expressed their intention of permanently locating here.

Editor Dick and family spent Saturday and Sunday at Oakland.

Man Wants To Die

Only when a lazy liver and sluggish bowels cause a frightful despondency. But Dr. King's New Life Pills expel poisons from the system; bring hope and courage; cure all Liver, Stomach and Kidney troubles; impart health and vigor to the weak, nervous and ailing. 25c at all Druggists.

All Stars Beat Wild Cats

The All Star Base Ball Team from the Campbell Grammar school defeated the Los Gatos Wild Cats 27 to 4, last Tuesday afternoon. The Wild Cats were shut out until the last inning when two singles and a pass filled the bases. Dutch, the Wildcat pitcher, drove one into the right garden which Forbes fumbled and allowed a home run.

The feature of the game was the hitting of Goddard, Kennedy and Lancaster. Vollman played second in place of Oneel who has a hard case of spring fever. Vollman handled all sorts of hard ones without an error and was the star player of the game. Dutch pitched a fine game for the Wildcats and if he had had any kind of support the score would have read differently.

"KNOCKOUT DROPS" DRIVE COUNTRY BOY TO INSANITY

Wanted to See the Sights of Big City and Tumbled Into Pitfall.

Oakland.—Never having recovered from the effects of a drug administered to him by San Francisco robbers, Guy Grigsby, aged 23 years, has been committed to the insane asylum at Napa by an insanity commission consisting of Judge Wells and Drs. Mehrmann and Kane.

Grigsby was a resident of Woodland, and went to San Francisco on December 31, 1909, to see how the metropolis ushered in the New Year. A couple of days later he returned to his home in a dazed condition, barely able to explain that some newly found acquaintances had persuaded him to take a drink of something, and when he recovered consciousness his money was gone.

He was placed under the care of a physician, but did not respond to treatment, continuing in a dazed condition, and he was finally sent to a private sanitarium, where he has been ever since early in January until charged with insanity. The young man's father, S. H. Grigsby, said that his son was unusually bright and energetic up to the time of his visit to San Francisco, but that he returned wholly changed, apparently hardly able to comprehend anything, and that this condition had, so far, defied treatment.

California Fruit Crop Prospects.

San Francisco.—Reports received by the California Development Board are to the effect that cherries will make a lighter crop than normal, owing to the equinoctial storm, which interfered with the setting of the fruit. This is especially noticeable in the Santa Clara valley. Indications for apricots are exceptionally good, and there seems promise of a bumper crop of peaches.
Bartlett pears give promise of a crop above the average, notwithstanding the fact that early indications pointed to a shortage. The trip has done considerable damage to the prunes of the Santa Clara valley. Grapes give promise of an exceptionally large crop, both in wine and table varieties. The outlook for plums and apples is very good. Heavy crop and large size of fruit is the report from the citrus districts, with good crop movement.

To Graft 504 Inches of Skin.

Vancouver, Wash.—A skin-grafting operation of unusual proportions has been undertaken on Otto Johnson, a railroad employe of this city, who was seriously burned on the left leg because the hips and ankle some weeks ago by the explosion of an oil stove.
The area to be covered amounts to 504 square inches. About 100 of his fellow employes will contribute the skin necessary. The skin grafting will continue weekly until the whole of the burned area is covered.

In Good Health at 107.

Lakeport.—Mrs. Iley Lawson Hill, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Mary J. Arnold, celebrated her 107th birthday anniversary a few days ago. She is in fairly good health.
Mrs. Hill is a daughter of James Lawson, a Revolutionary war hero, and can remember some of the incidents of the war of 1812.

WIELDED SCEPTER WITH GENTLE HAND

Edward VII Passed Away Loved by His People, Admired by Whole World.

"I know this is the end; tell the queen."
"Well, it is all over, but I think I have done my duty."—Last words of Edward VII.

King Edward VII died in Buckingham Palace, of bronchial pneumonia, which developed from a cold. He was sick only a week.

Prince George of Wales, immediately upon his father's death, became king.

FROM THE CRADLE TO THE TOMB.
Born in Buckingham palace November 9, 1841.

Christened in St. George's chapel January 25, 1842, and baptized Albert Edward.

Created Prince of Wales and Earl of Dublin when four weeks old.

Studied at Edinburgh University, Oxford and at Cambridge.

Visited Canada and the United States in 1860.

Betrothed to Princess Alexandra of Denmark September 9, 1862; married March 10, 1863, in St. George's chapel, Windsor.

Ascended the throne on the death of Queen Victoria January 22, 1901, and was crowned in Westminster Abbey August 9, 1902.

Died May 6, 1910.
Reigned 9 years, 3 months and 14 days.

Edward VII's short reign has been a history of stirring times. It opened with the conclusion of peace after a long and trying campaign in South Africa, and concludes at the crisis of one of the most momentous political struggles of modern times between the peers and commons. In a day the political outlook of Great Britain has been revolutionized.

Public opinion will doubtless demand that the Liberals' programme for reforming the House of Lords, with a possible appeal to the crown to make the most important decision a sovereign has been called upon to make in many years, shall be laid aside for a long time. They would be opposed to trusting upon King Edward's successor at the very beginning of his reign, when he was first grappling with important routine work, a question so vital to the future of the empire.

Throughout the nine years of King Edward's reign the issue of tariff reform versus free trade, inaugurated by the famous Chamberlain speech in May, 1903, has been continuously under discussion.

The close of the year 1902 saw the end of the long Salisbury administration and the accession of Balfour to the premiership. On his accession to the throne the king announced his intention, before the privy council, "to walk in his mother's footsteps," but while Queen Victoria lived almost a life of retirement, interesting herself mainly in home affairs, the king's influence has been devoted more to national affairs by visits to foreign courts and by personal action of constitutional character in various directions. He has made every possible effort to bring the empire into the friendliest relations with other countries and his efforts were so successful he has been universally known as "Edward the Peacemaker."

Politically King Edward's reign has been chiefly notable for the inauguration of a new era of social legislation for the benefit of the people, which followed the return of the Liberals to power after a long conservative regime.

The general elections in 1906, fought on the free trade question, brought the strongest Liberal government for many generations into power, and under the Campbell-Bannerman and Asquith ministries many measures dealing with education, old age pensions, the relation of workers to employers, and cognate matters were put into successful operation, while the great Irish home rule question has been to a great extent thrust in the background.

The reign, however, closes at a period of great political unrest, with a large section of the country vigorously opposed to the new liberal policy of enfranchisement on the privileges of the landed and aristocratic classes and with the heated question of the legislation of the House of Lords, tariff reform and home rule still unsettled.

In the nine years and 105 days during which Albert Edward sat upon the throne of England and from it ruled the British Empire, he proved himself the ablest ruler and the wisest statesman of Europe.

Albert Edward was a favorite of the British people from the day he was born. Despite his lofty disregard of the conventionalities he held the love of his people all through his boyhood and all through his manhood. He was universally beloved on the day he ascended the throne and he held the affection of his people to the last moment of his life.

The death of Queen Victoria changed a social leader into a statesman, who, at the time of his death, had come to be accounted the most skillful diplomat among all hereditary rulers of modern times and a diplomat who worked for peace.

"King Edward is a traveling ambassador on behalf of international amity," wrote Sidney Brooks, the experienced journalist and observer.

The royal crown of England did not top a mere figurehead, but a ruler who devoted himself to the business of his realm and who went about from country to country visiting his enthroned contemporaries and carefully making peaceful understandings. That was his forte, the establishment of the amiable relationships in Europe. At the same time, however, he encouraged his ministers to keep a watchful eye on Germany.

Edward VII, whose habits of youth were far from elevating, became most popular of English monarchs, with the single exception of his mother, and won honors as a statesman as well as unquestioned loyalty as a king.

While Edward was said to be in appearance a typical Englishman, he had much German in his blood, being of the house of Hanover, the seventh ruler in line of descent from George I, with whom the dynasty was established in 1714. His mother had strong strains of Teutonic blood, and his father, Prince Albert, of Saxe-Coburg, was purely and frankly German.

The king was rather below average stature, of strong and heavy build.
His ruddy face betokened good health and good spirits up to a short time ago.
He wore his gray beard trimmed to a sharp point. His thin circle of gray hair diminished until he was quite bald.

Even in his latter days he continued one of the best dressed men in Europe and was regarded as a model for quiet refinement of dress and bearing.

George Frederick Ernest Albert, Prince of Wales, who now becomes king, is the second son of King Edward and Queen Alexandra. He was born in Marlborough House June 3, 1865, 17 months after the birth of his older brother, the late Duke of Clarence. He and his brother entered the navy together as cadets and he spent two years on the Britannia. He then started on a three years' voyage around the world on the Bacchante. In 1892, when his brother died, he became heir apparent and took his seat in the House of Lords as Duke of York.

He had married morganatically, a woman whom he loved and who loved him—a niece of Vice-Admiral Tryon of the British Navy, who lost his life in the Victoria-Camperdown collision in the Mediterranean in 1893. The wedding took place in the English church at Malta and two children were born to the couple. Such was the situation in January, 1892, when the Duke of Clarence died. George found himself the heir to the throne, with vast duties awaiting him. Immediately his entire life was changed. He had to give up the sea, he had to give up his retired life, he had to part from his morganat-ic wife. The heir to the throne of the British Empire faced duties inconsistent with the life possible to a Prince not in the direct line of succession.

Not only was George, when he became heir, forced to take up the public duties of the Duke of Clarence, but he was also obliged to marry his brother's fiancee, Princess Victoria Mary of Teck, or "Princess May," as she was popularly known, had been chosen as the future Queen of England, and her marriage to the Duke of Clarence was to have occurred in 1892. After the Duke's death, Queen Victoria ordered George to marry the present Queen.

In May, 1893, his engagement was announced to Princess Victoria Mary of Teck and they were married July 16, 1893. Six children were born to them.
Edward Albert, Albert Frederick, Victoria Alexandra, Henry William, George Edward and John Charles.

The prince became Duke of Cornwall when his father took the throne and soon after he started on a tour of the colonies. He opened the first parliament of the commonwealth of Australia in celebration of his safe return he was entertained by the London corporation at Guildhall on December 5, 1905, on which occasion he delivered his well remembered advice to England to "wake up."

In the fall of 1905 he went to India, and when he returned there was another celebration. On this occasion he said that "the task of governing India

SAYS JAPANESE FRUIT PACK IS OF INFERIOR QUALITY

Horticultural Commissioner Corrects Statement Attributed to Him.

Sacramento.—That the Japanese fruit pack is far inferior to that of the white growers was the comparison made by State Horticultural Commissioner J. W. Jeffrey in a public statement resenting the remarks attributed to him by a local weekly paper in reporting the official's speech at a recent meeting of fruit growers. The statement has been published in small papers up and down the Sacramento valley, holding Jeffrey up as a champion of the Japanese by saying they pick, pack and select their fruit shipments with great care, seeing that no inferior fruit gets into their cars, resulting in getting for them higher prices and greater favor with Eastern buyers.

Jeffrey indignantly asserts that such were never his remarks, adding that if the Japanese growers have taken one step toward standardization it has escaped his attention, and he is chiefly interested in directing the standardization movement. He says the little brown men have never been known to exclude inferior fruits from their packs.

Teacher's Pay Increased.

Stockton.—Hereafter teachers who have had 10 years' experience in the Stockton city schools or other city schools of equal rank, will be entitled to the maximum pay of $100 a month.
Action to this end was taken by the city board of education. Formerly it was necessary for a teacher to have 22 years' experience to get the maximum of $90 a month. For country school experience teachers will be given half time credit. This will make the pay of Stockton teachers equal to that received by any teachers in the State.

Movement for State Development.

San Francisco.—The Counties Committee of the California Development Board will meet at Grass Valley on June 4. The subjects of discussion will be "Mining in California" and "Cooperation of Local Organizations." It is hoped to make the meeting the starting point of the greatest movement ever instituted for State development.

Swift Pension Appropriation.

Washington.—In less than 15 minutes the Senate considered and passed the pension appropriation bill, carrying about $155,000,000. Senator Scott, who is in charge of the bill, stated that henceforth there would be a rapid falling off in the amount required for the payment of pensions. He said that 31,000 pensioners died last year.

Will Raise Battleship Maine.

Washington.—After 12 years the ill-fated battleship Maine is to be removed from Havana harbor and the bodies which went down with the vessel will be interred in the National Cemetery at Arlington. A bill providing for such removal and burial has been passed by the Senate.

Stockton's Tax Rate Fixed.

Stockton.—The city council passed to print an ordinance fixing the city tax rate for the coming fiscal year at $1.67 on the $100 of valuation. This does not include the school tax, which will be levied later on by the county, and will probably be 35 cents on a $100.

To Improve County Highways.

Martinez.—Contra Costa expects to call a bond election in July to improve 135 miles of roadway.

will be made the easier if we, on our part, infuse into it a wider element of sympathy."

His Indian trip was generally regarded as unsuccessful from a political viewpoint.

In 1908 he visited Canada to attend the celebration at Quebec and on that occasion met Vice-President Fairbanks.
The Prince is less democratic than was his father, and does not have such an ardent love for sports. It has been predicted, therefore, that after his accession to the throne the court gaiety that always was a feature during Edward's reign will be less marked.

The new queen is the only daughter of the late Francis, Duke of Teck. She was born May 26, 1867, and married Prince George, Duke of York, July 6, 1893. Six children—five sons and one daughter—bless the household of the new monarch.

The eldest, Prince Edward Albert, now heir apparent, is a manly lad who will be 16 years old in June. He is serving as a naval cadet.

Prince Albert Frederick, the second son and heir presumptive, also is a naval cadet. He is 15 years old.

The other boys are Prince Henry William, Prince George Edward and Prince John Charles. The daughter is Princess Victoria Alexandra Alice Mary. She was born in 1897.

WORLD'S NEWS PRESENTED IN BRIEF ITEMS

Events of Both Hemispheres Compiled in Pithy Form For Busy Readers

Here You Will Find a Resume of Happenings in Almost Every Part of the Earth.

New York.—Advances in railway wages already made, or to be made the end of the year, are estimated at $100,000,000 for the entire country.

New Haven, Conn.—Bernard White, the oldest man in Connecticut is dead at his home here of old age. He was 108. Five children, 20 grandchildren and five great grandchildren survive.

Boston.—A movement to increase passenger rates on many of the railroads between the Mississippi river and the Atlantic seaboard will become practically general in New England by June 1.

Milwaukee.—The Social Democratic party expended $5569 to elect its nominees to Milwaukee municipal offices, according to the statement of the party's election expenses, just filed with the county clerk. The largest item was printing, $2188.

New York.—Edward Heide, senior member of the dyeing firm of Edward Heide & Co., was burned to death, because he rushed back to save $100 in his coat, left behind in the dye shop from which he had been dragged after an explosion had set the place on fire.

Paris.—Count Ismael de Lesseps, son of Count Ferdinand de Lesseps and an officer of a cavalry regiment, fought a duel with Count Just de Poligny in the Parc des Princes. Six shots were exchanged, but neither was hit. The two antagonists left the field without a reconciliation.

New York.—Seven hundred enthusiastic Rough Riders, jamming the deck and crowding the bridges of a special ocean going steamer, will meet Colonel Roosevelt several hours out of New York on his return to the United States next month, and escort him, with firing of salutes and blowing of whistles, to his homeland.

Paris.—The surprising announcement was made a few days ago that there had been constructed under the direction of the War Department, and with strict secrecy, a dirigible balloon of the semi-rigid type, capable of a speed of approximately 50 miles an hour, and that the machine would be ready for participation in the approaching army maneuvers.

Rome, Ga.—All the male convicts of Floyd county have been garbed in Mother Hubbards by order of the county commissioners. This action was taken because of the numerous escapes recently. The convicts bitterly opposed the change, but the authorities found means to make them don the Mother Hubbards, and so clothed they were put to work on the streets.

Chicago.—Bands of women suffragists touring the State in automobiles will descend upon every city, town, village and hamlet in Illinois before the legislative primaries next September in an effort to make the question of "votes for women" the leading issue in the campaign that already has so many angles that it promises to be the hardest fought legislative battle ever experienced in Illinois.

Pueblo.—Announcing that he was a "ripsnortin', roarin' Texas steer," a man who gave his name as John Jones at police headquarters, terrorized the women in a residence district here until one of them, a ranch-bred woman, accorded the obstreperous "steer" proper western treatment by lassoing him with a clothes line, and tying him to a water plug, where he was kept until the arrival of the police.

New York.—An anonymous communication addressed to the Roosevelt reception committee calls attention to the fact which had hitherto escaped notice, that the date on which Colonel Roosevelt is scheduled to arrive in New York is the anniversary of the battle of Waterloo. This discovery will probably cause untold consternation among the members of the "Back From Elba Club," says the committee's correspondent, facetiously.

Washington.—The Supreme Court of the United States struck down one of the old Spanish measures of punishment in the Philippines, that of "cadena temporal." The court declared the sentence of Paul A. Weems to imprisonment for 15 years with a chain at the ankle and wrist, together with the many other penalties of "cadena temporal," for the falsification of public records to the extent of about $300, was a cruel and unusual punishment.

Lipton's Advent in America. "During the early part of my business career," says Sir Thomas Lipton in the Strand magazine, "I became imbued with the idea that it was possible to prosper quickly in America and at the age of 16 I left home and started for the United States. I had not dared tell my father and mother, so they only knew of the great step I had taken when I had gone. Had it not been for the kindness of my fellow passengers my journey would have been very miserable and once or twice, I confess, I lost heart. I had no money nor any one to go to when I arrived in New York and before we landed I cudged my brains as to what I was to do. As the steamer drew alongside the pier I took up my few belongings and rushed away to the nearest hotel before any one else had left the vessel. As it seemed a clean, well-kept place, I asked to see the proprietor and told him that I could get him forty patrons provided he would board and lodge me for a month. To this he consented. I made my way back instantly to the boat and was just in time to catch my fellow passengers and persuade them to go to this hotel, where I assured them they would get excellent accommodation. And they did."

Soap Grows on Trees. Side by side grow the soap tree and the tallow tree. The soap tree yields a product from which is manufactured the purest article of soap that is possible to be made. Indeed, the pulp of the berry is a natural soap, and will make a lather almost like the manufactured article. The soap berry tree is now creating widespread interest and the berries are being imported from Algiers and China. It will pay to plant the trees and look after their cultivation. The product of the tallow tree also enters into the making of soap, and the two together make a nice combination, and their cultivation should be looked after by those interested in new industries. Besides soap, the soap berries make a very fine oil, and when the virtues of the tallow tree are fully known, it may also yield a fine and profitable oil. The young man who now plants out a ten or twenty-acre orchard of these two trees may drop into an easy fortune. Scala (Fla.) Baffner.

Maori Suffragettes. Women of the Maori tribe of New Zealand are now appearing as features of the show at the Hippodrome in New York City, and as they are educated and cultivated persons, and have the right to full suffrage in their native land, they chose three delegates to represent them at Mrs. Pankhurst's lecture in Carnegie hall recently. They were Kiri Matao, widow of an old Maori chief; Waapi, a young political leader and a prohibitionist, and Drana, who is 21, and cast her vote for the Conservatives at the last election. Englishmen in New Zealand have extended to women all the rights they themselves have, and that Mrs. Pankhurst and the English suffragettes of all sorts ask for.—Springfield Republican.

Quite Different. "I'll have to tell you," said the man in the mackintosh, "a funny thing my little 3-year-old—" "O!" groaned the others in concert; "he's going to tell us something his bright little boy said!" The man in the mackintosh waited until the uproar had subsided. "You blamed fools," he said, "I was going to tell you a funny trick my little 2-year-old fox terrier does, but if you don't care to hear it you can go to thunder!"

No Use. "Can I interest you in the subject of noiseless sewing machines?" asked the man at the front door. "No, sir," said the man of the house; "my daughter always sings when she's using a sewing machine, no matter what kind it is." Then he slammed the door in the caller's face.

The Ruling Passion.

Dr. Charles McCormick, the brilliant Chicago physician, who says that "the man with the grouch" cannot resist disease like his more contented brother, referred again to this assertion at a recent dinner. "The man with the grouch," said he, "is gloomy, and gloominess brings on ill-health, weakness, dyspepsia. A confirmed grouch can't be got rid of. A grouchy man is governed by his grouch as a miser is governed by his meanness. And when it comes to misers—" Dr. McCormick laughed.

"A little, lean, pale miser of Pectonia," he said, "was one evening observed fighting with the town blacksmith. Though his nose was bleeding and one eye was closed, the miser fought determinedly. The herculean blacksmith planted blow after blow, but the little miser never budged an inch. "Run, ye fool!" hissed a friend. "Ye stand no chance here. Run!" "But the little miser, as he received heretically a smashing left hook, answered in a low voice: "Run? Nix! I've got my foot on a ten cent piece."

Causus Belli. Bad Dick was finding the new boy next door unaccountably peaceable. "You're mamma's pet, ain't yuh?" he said. "Yep. That's me," answered the new boy. "Don't dast to go 'way from home 'thout askin' her, do yuh?" "Nope." "If I was to tell yuh I could swaller a big red apple 'thout chawin' it you'd think I was lyin', wouldn't yuh?" "O, I don't know." "Well, I kin, darn yeh! Take that!" (Biff!)—Chicago Tribune.

The reclamation of the overflowed and swamp lands of the United States it is estimated would add at least $700,000,000 to the national assets, for there are more than 70,000,000 acres of such lands, the great majority of which would be made productive.

It Told the Truth. A countryman on a visit to Glasgow, while walking along Argyle street reading the signboards and the tickets in the shop windows, said to his companion, "Hoo can a' thea ham shops be the best and cheapest? Every yin o' them says that, and the same w' the cloths shops, tae They are jist a lot of lears."

They continued along the street until, coming opposite a plumber's shop with a big bill in the window with the words "Cast Iron Sinks" printed in large letters on it, he exclaimed: "Well, Jock, here's yin that tells the truth at any rate. But any half-witted fool kens that cast iron wad sink."—Tit Bits.

HOW IS YOUR APPETITE TO-DAY?

Is it keen and normal or do you have that "don't care" sort of feeling? Loss of appetite is one of the surest signs of inward weakness and if you are wise you will heed the warning promptly and take a few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The system requires a certain amount of nourishment every day in order to keep up health and strength and to replace the waste portions. This can only be accomplished with a keen appetite and perfect digestion and assimilation of the food. Then again Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be taken. It will stimulate the flow of gastric juices, so essential to perfect digestion, and aid in every way possible. For over 56 years it has been used with wonderful success in cases of Poor Appetite, Heartburn, Flatulency, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Biliousness and Malaria.

A PROSPEROUS COUNTRY

S. G. Rodeck and R. K. Thomas Take a Trip Down the San Joaquin Valley

ings among these are a $1,000,000 sugar beet factory a $20,000 depot, and $10,000 creamery. Many business buildings are of pressed brick. The people seem to be of the best class, all industrious and ready to boost their locality. We meet people from the North, West and South of this State and many people from the East. Who have left mercantile lines and professions to engage in ranching in California, either in farming, fruit-raising, dairying, or chicken raising; many of them have 40 or 80 acres and up to one section of this land. We met a lady—the daughter of a large retail grocery man in the east—who with her husband has settled on a few acres near Corcoran. He follows his trade while she attends to the duties of their little farm,—doing the plowing, cultivating, etc. She laughingly remarked, "Why, any one that can drive and sit still on the machinery can do that." We found all the lines of trade of an older place here at Corcoran. A fine Grammar school building attended by about 125 scholars; a Methodist and a Presbyterian Church, both fine buildings; water works, electric lights, local and long distance telephone systems, large pumping station. Standard Oil Co., bank, hotels, lumber and wood yards, department stores, groceries, hardware, butcher shop,—in fact, the people seemed to be alive to the needs of the place. We were most interested in this feature since the adjoining land was a large cattle ranch but a couple years ago. This place has an elevation of about 250 feet. There is an abundance of water, either from canals or artesian wells. A great deal of this territory near Tulare lake is sub-irrigated from the lake and does need but little if any surface irrigation if there is a reasonable rainfall in winter. We saw some immense crops of alfalfa being cut where the ground had not even been plowed when seeded, simply cleared of the growth, sown and harrowed,—no irrigation. The water from the artesian wells (of which there are about 40 on this tract) is very fine. These wells were put down by the company at an expense of $2000 per well. To each well is made a long reservoir, and the water is passed from the wells into these and on out into canals and ditches for the convenience of the farmers, where needed. One of the great advantages of this locality is the gas obtained from the wells. By putting down a 2-inch pipe to a depth of 150 or 200 feet they get a flow of good water sufficient for domestic purposes and irrigating, and all the gas which the farmer requires, for light and fuel. This is a vegetable gas, and is said to be perfectly harmless. The cost of one of these wells is about $200. This strata in which gas can be secured is within a radius of seven miles adjacent to the lake. The company has expended large sums of money in promoting this place by getting business located and standing behind the farmers to help them improve and put the land in shape to produce alfalfa, grapes, beets, etc. We were told that cotton had been satisfactorily raised.

One of the requirements made by the company in selling the land is that within 30 days after contract is made work for development shall begin and inside of one year a dwelling of not less than four rooms erected; the dwellings painted white, roof green, barns red with white trimmings. By this means an attractive and uniform appearance is given to the ranches. Many of the places now fitted up are less than one year old,—the people having come from the east last summer.

Excursion trains are run over the Santa Fe R. R. weekly from Los Angeles and the excursionists are taken in charge by the people of this place who show them what can be done in this section. Mr. Cleveland has charge of affairs for the company at Corcoran and is a wide awake and obliging assistant in looking over their vast territory. We saw between Corcoran and the lake a 450 acre asparagus patch,—a very fine farm. A little to the south of this we saw some very fine dairies. On the ranch of Mr. Smith we saw very fine pedigreed Jersey cattle. One of these we were told was imported at a cost of $10,000 and a calf claimed to be very near of kin to the world's record breaker on butter, at a cost of $2500. Bronze turkeys weighing 50 and 60 lbs., were here, and fine Polar China hogs, also fine horses. From this place consisting of 480 acres we were told $41,000 of produce and stock had been sold last year. At an other ranch of 1700 acres we saw a dairy of 250 cows, about 200 head of horses, beef cattle, and hogs, and a colony of chickens, 13,000 little snow balls just huddling down for the night around their gas heaters was no little thing to be looked at. At this place they incubate and brood by gas from the gas wells. The party expects to reach 30,000 chicks this season. Los Angeles is a fine market for all the produce from this section. Pasturized cream, butter, eggs, etc., being shipped daily.

The land is almost perfectly level, the roads good,—of course they will not compare with roads in our county or well settled places. Our time being limited we did not visit many parts which we wished to and did not get east of Corcoran. Southeast are some of the very best grain farms; one tract of 15,000 acres is planted to alfalfa. Barley crops generally look well, which we were informed would be mostly cut for grain this year; harvesting will begin soon.

On ground which produced beets last year extraordinary crops of grain are growing this year. We found the sugar factory shut down for this season, but understood it was to consider many changes. They contemplate operating next year. The sugar factory has a tract of 5,000 acres, which they operate as well as what the farmers will plant for them. Land in this section is rated at from $50 to $200 per acre, according to location, quality of land, improvements, etc.

There certainly is a great influx of people into this great valley,—once thought to be only good for stock and sheep to roam over.

Cultivation and irrigation are doing wonders all over the valley. We consider this part of the Valley Superior, in many ways, to other portions, and even has advantages that can not be found elsewhere, among which are these: a good healthy climate, fine drinking water, abundance of water to irrigate, from Artesian wells and canals, gas wells, rich soil, best of markets for produce.

We start toward going back to Hanford then through Harlow toward east side of valley on to Fresno. We had to leave out the orange section at Porterville, Linsey and places of this section also Visalia and a great section of fruit country. We pass through before reaching Fresno stations on Santa Fe line, Laton, Conejo, Bowles, Oleander and Craycroft. In and around Fresno are seen some very fine property. Not many of the large vineyards can be seen from the cars passing through. The county is rich in production and much thrift and enterprise is manifested by the people here. Fresno is getting to be a place of importance. We did not take any time here to go out to the ranches, but changed back to S. P. line and passed on over the San Joaquin River to Madera in Madera Co. A great deal of this section is yet in the grain farming industry, much of the land before reaching Madera is what is known as hog wallow; this requires some expense to level before it can be planted to vines, trees or alfalfa. Some of it is good land. This part seemed some warmer than at Hanford, all along our travel we were in sight of the snow covered Sierras.

Madera is a place of about 3,000 inhabitants. It has been a town for large grain farms for many years, is situated rather to the westward part of the county near a tributary of the San Joaquin River. We decided to remain over night here and see some of the ranches. We had the good fortune to fall in with the county surveyor and a Los Angeles man who is dividing and selling large tracts of land. We were able through the county surveyor to get many important points about the county. Grain farming is still carried on largely in many places; near the town smaller farms, orchards, vineyards, alfalfa, etc., seem to be the business. Some of these places are very productive. Irrigating is carried on here, water is secured from the canals and pumping plants; it is not necessary to go very deep to get a good well. We saw the Sly orchards and alfalfa fields (Mr. Sly owns the orchard on N. Central av in Campbell.) We did not find many dairies in this section. The roads are excellent, the main street in Madera is 100 feet wide.

Madera has many substantial buildings constructed of both brick and stone. The Court house is located here and is a very fine building made of Madera granite costing $75,000. The grounds are well kept. The county hospital is well located out a little distance from town. We saw the 60 mile flume which lands the sugar price lumber in the yards at Madera 18 hours after being put in at the mills in the mts. near the Yosemite 60 miles away. This has cost many thousands of dollars to build and maintain, has been built twice. Freight has to be taken by mule teams into the mountains requiring three and four days to reach the mills. Drying houses and mills in Madera put the lumber in shape for building box shoox trays, etc which gives employment to a large amount of people. The town is supplied with water from wells raised into tanks and distributed through the town by gravity pressure. The fire system consists of hydrants placed about on the main st. corners,

If you were Buying Eyes?

Would you buy the best or the cheapest?

You should follow the same rule in buying glasses.

The "Ladies' Home Journal" calls cheap glasses, "Ten Cents Worth of Trouble."

A few dollars spent for glasses when they are first needed often prevents results too terrible to even think about.

My motto: Glasses, Right—Just, Right.

An Ideal Husband

is patient, even with a nagging wife, for he knows she needs help. She may be so nervous and run-down in health that trifles annoy her. If she is melancholy, excitable, troubled with loss of appetite, headache, sleeplessness, constipation or fainting and dizzy spells, she needs Electric Bitters—the most wonderful remedy for ailing women. Thousands of sufferers from female troubles, nervous troubles, backache and weak heads have used them and become happy. Try them. Only 50¢ a bottle. Satisfaction guaranteed by all Druggists.

Pol. Tax is now due and payable at the Assessor's office or to a deputy. After the FIRST MONDAY IN JULY $1 will be added. It is much more satisfactory to the Assessor, well as to yourself, to have your assessment met when you go to pay your taxes.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

The law requires each and every person who owns any class of property to annually, during the months of March, April or May, file a statement with the Assessor or his deputy in the county where the property is located. You should give a statement of all property owned by you on the FIRST MONDAY IN MARCH AT 12 O'CLOCK P. M.
If you hold mortgages or trust deeds against others, send in mortgage statement early in March; so proper deductions can be made showing amount due on each mortgage or trust deed on the first Monday of March at 12 o'clock p. m.
Remember, if you fail to give in your assessment you fail to comply with the law and may cause yourself, the Assessor and Tax Collector much trouble, and very likely cause yourself expense.
Poll Tax is now due and payable at the Assessor's office or to a deputy. After the FIRST MONDAY IN JULY $1 will be added. It is much more satisfactory to the Assessor, well as to yourself, to have your assessment met when you go to pay your taxes.
