EXTRACT FROM THE ADVERTISEMENT TO THE SECOND EDITION.

*In preparing the second edition of Jacobs' Latin Reader, the work has undergone a thorough revision; notes have been added, and many words, which had been omitted in the Dictionary, are here inserted in their respective places. The editor, in publishing this work in America, was influenced by a belief, that it forms an easy introduction to the language and character of the Roman world. He selected it as the best from among many similar works, and is happy in finding his judgment confirmed by that of many instructors. * * * * The Second Part of the Latin Reader has in the mean time been published.*

ADVERTISEMENT TO THE STEREOTYPE EDITION

The following are the most important changes, which have been made in the stereotype edition:—The accents have been used in all parts of the work; the emphatic words and sentences, which, in the two former editions, were designated by spaces between the letters, are now printed in Italics, thus rendering them more distinct; the model of the Dictionary has been entirely altered, and more than 1500 words, principally proper names, passive verbs, and participles, have been inserted.

3. Otos et Ephialtes, Aloëi filii, mirâ magnitudine fuisse dicuntur. Nam singulis mensibus novem digitis crescebant. Itaque quum essent annorum novem¹ in cœlum ascendere sunt conati. Huc sibi aditum sic faciebant, ut montem Ossam super Pelion ponerent, aliosque præterea montes exstruerent. Sed Apollinis sagittis interemti sunt.

4. Dædalus, Euphemi filius, artifex peritissimus, ob cœdem Athenis² commissam, in Cretam abiit ad regem Minoëm. Ibi labyrinthum exstruxit. A Minoë aliquando in custodiā conjectus, sibi et Icāro filio alas cerā aptavit, et cum eo avolavit. Dum Icarus altius evolabat, cerā solis calore calefactā, in mare decidit, quod ex eo Icarium pelagus est appellatum. Dædalus autem in Siciliam pervenit.

5. Æsculapius, Apollinis filius, medicus præstantissimus, Hippolyto, Thesei filio, vitam reddidisse dicitur. Ob id facinus Jupiter eum fulmine percussit³. Tum Apollo,

6. Alcestim, Peliae filiam, quum multi in matrimonium peterent, Pelias promisit, se filiam ei esse daturum, qui seras currui junxisset. Admetus, qui eam perditè amabat, Apollinem rogavit, ut se in hoc negotio adjuvaret. Is quum ab Admeto, dum ei serviebat, liberaliter esset tractatus, aprum ei et leonem currui junxit, quibus ille Alcestim avexit. Idem gravi morbo implicitus⁴ munus ab Apolline accepit, ut præsens periculum effugeret, si quis sponte pro eo moreretur⁵. Jam quum neque pater, neque mater Admeti pro eo mori voluissent, uxor se Alcestis morti obtulit, quam Hercules, fortè adveniens, Orci⁶, manibus eripuit et Admeto reddidit.

7. Cassiōpe filiæ suæ Andromedæ formam Nereidum formæ anteposuit. Ob hoc crimen illæ a Neptuno postularerunt, ut Andromeda ceto immani, quod oras populabatur, objiceretur. 9. Ceyx, Hespēri filius, quum in naufragio periisset, Alcyōne, conjugis morte auditâ, se in mare præcipitavit. Tum deorum misericordiâ ambo in aves sunt mutati, quæ Alcyones appellantur. Hæ aves pariunt hiberno tempore.

Ob id crimen dicitur apud inferos in aquâ collocatus esse, semperque sitire. Nam, quoties haustum aquæ sumturus est, aqua recedit. Tum etiam poma ei super caput pendent; sed, quoties ea decerpere conatur, rami vento moti⁷ recedunt. Alii saxum ejus capitum impendere dicunt, cuius ruinam timens perpetuo metu cruciatur.

11. In nuptiis Pelei et Thetidis omnes Dii invitati erant praeter Discordiam. Hæc irâ commota malum misit in medium, cui inscripta erant verba: Pulcherrima me habeto. Tum Juno, Venus et Minerva illud simul appetebant; magnâque inter eas discordiâ exortâ, Jupiter Mercurio imperat, ut Deas ad Paridem, Priami filium, duceret, qui in monte Idâ greges pascebatur; hunc earum litem direm turum⁸ esse. 63. Scipio dicere solebat, hosti non solum dandam esse viam fugiendi, sed etiam muniendam. Similiter Pyrrhus rex Epiri, fugienti hosti pertinaciter instandum esse negabat: non solum, ne fortius ex necessitate resisteret, sed ut postea quoque facilius acie cederet, ratus, victores fugientibus non usque ad perniciem instatueros esse.

64. Metellus Pius, in Hispaniā bellum gerens, interrogatus, quid postero die facturus esset? tunicam meam, inquit, si id elōqui posset, comburerem.

65. L. Mummius, qui, Corintho captā, totam Italiam tabulis statuisque exornavit, ex tantis manubiis nihil insuum usum convertit, ita ut, eo defuncto, non esset unde⁴¹ ejus filia dotem acciperet. Quare Senatus ei ex publico dotem decrevit.

66. Scipio Africanus major Ennii poētæ imaginem in sepulcro gentis Corneliæ collocari jussit, quod Scipiōnum res gestas carminibus suis illustraverat.

67. M. Cato, Catonis Censorii filius, in acie, cadente equo prolapsus, quum se recollegisset, animadvertissetque gladium excidisse vaginā, rediit in hostem: acceptisque aliquot vulneribus, recuperato demum gladio ad suos reversus est.

68. Q. Metellus Macedonicus in Hispaniā quinque cohortes, quæ hostibus cesserant, testamentum facere jussas, ad locum recuperandum misit; minatus, eos nonnisi post victoriam receptum iri⁴².

69. Publius Decius consul, quum in bello contra Latinos Romanorum aciem cedentem videret, capite pro reipublicæ salute devoto, in medium hostium agmen irruit, et magnâ strage editâ plurimis telis obrütus cecidit. Hæc ejus mors Romanorum aciem restituit iisque victoram paravit.

70. L. Junius Brutus, qui Romam a regibus liberavit, filios suos, qui Tarquinium regem expulsum⁴³ restituere conati erant, ipse capitatis damnavit, eosque virgis cæsos securi percuti jussit.

71. Q. Marcius Rex consul quum filium unicum, juvenem summæ pietatis et magnæ spei, morte amisisset, dolorem suum ita coërcuit, ut a rogo adolescentis protensus curiam peteret, ibique muneric sui negotia strenue obiret⁴⁴.

72. In bello Romanorum cum Perséo, ultimo Macedoniæ rege, accidit, ut serenâ nocte subitò luna deficeret. Hæc res ingentem apud milites terrorem excitavit, qui existimabant, hoc omine futuram cladem portendi. Tum verò Sulpicius Gallus, qui erat in eo exercitu, in concione militum causam hujus rei tam disertè exposuit, ut postero die omnes intrepido animo pugnam committerent.

73. L. Siccius Dentatus ob insignem fortitudinem appellatus est Achilles Romanus. Pugnasse is dicitur centum et viginti præliis; cicatricem aversam⁴⁵ nullam, adversas quinque et quadraginta tulisse: coronis esse donatus aureis duodeviginti, obsidionali unâ, muralibus tribus, civicis quatuordecim, torquibus tribus et octoginta, armillis plus centum sexaginta, hastis duodeviginti. donatus est quinque vicesque. Triumphavit cum imperatoribus suis triumphos novem.

74. Hannibalem in Italiam proficiscentem tria millia Carpetanorum reliquerunt. Quorum exemplum ne cæteri quoque barbari sequerentur, edixit, eos a se esse dimissos, et insuper in fidem ejus rei alios etiam, quorum fides ipsi suspecta erat, demum remisit.

75. Hannibal quum elephantos compellere non posset, ut præaltum flumen transirent, neque rates haberet, quibus⁴⁶ eos trajiceret, jussit ferocissimum elephantorum sub aure vulnerari, et cum, qui vulnerasset, se in flumen conjicere illudque tranare. Tum elephantus exasperatus ad persequendum doloris sui auctorem tranavit amnem, et reliqui quoque eum sequuti sunt.

V. OUTLINES OF ROMAN HISTORY FROM THE EARLIEST TIMES TO THE EMPERORS.

LIBER PRIMUS.

1. Antiquissimis temporibus Saturnus in Italiā venisse dicitur. Ibi haud procul a Janiculo arem condidit, eamque Saturniam appellavit. Hic Italos primus agriculturam docuit.

2. Postea Latinus in illis regionibus imperavit. Sub hoc rege Troja in Asiā eversa est. Hinc Aeneas, Anchises filius, cum multis Trojanis, quibus ferrum Græcorum pepercera¹, aufugit, et in Italiā pervenit. Ibi Latinus rex ei benignè recepto filiam Laviniam in matrimonium dedit. Aeneas urbem condidit, quam in honorem conjugis Laviniam appellavit.

3. Post Aeneae mortem, Ascanius, Aeneae filius, regnum accepit. Hic sedem regni in alium locum transtulit², urbemque condidit in monte Albano, eamque Albam longam nuncupavit. Eum sequutus est Silvius, qui post Aeneae mortem a Laviniā genitus erat³. Ejus posteri omnes, usque ad Romanam conditam, Albæ regnaverunt.

4. Unus horum regum, Romulus Silvius, se Jove maiorē esse dicebat, et, quum tonaret, militibus imperavit, ut elypeos hastis percuterent, dicebatque, hunc sonum multò clariorem esse quàm tonitru. Fulmine ictus et in Alba-num lacum præcipitatus est.

5. Silvius Procas, rex Albanorum, duos filios reliquit, Numitōrem et Amulium. Horum minor natu, Amulius, fratri optionem dedit, utrū regnum habere vellet, an bona, quæ pater reliquisset. Numitor paterna bona prætulit⁴; Amulius regnum obtinuit.

6. Amulius, ut regnum firmissimè possideret, Numitoris filium per insidias interemis, et filiam fratris, Rheam Silviam, Vestalem virginem fecit. Nam his Vestæ sacer-dotibus non licet viro nubere. Sed hæc a Marte geminos filios, Romulum et Remum, peperit⁵. Hoc quum Amulius comperisset, matrem in vincula conjecit, pueros autem in Tibērim abjici jussit.

7. Forte Tiberis aquâ ultra ripam se effuderat⁶, et quum pueri in vado essent positi, aqua refluens eos in sicco reli-quit. Ad eorum vagitum lupa accurrit, eosque uberibus suis aluit. Quod videns Faustulus quidam, pastor illius regionis, pueros sustulit, et uxori Accæ Laurentiæ nutrien-dos dedit.

8. Sic Romulus et Remus pueritiam inter pastores transegerunt. Quum adolevissent⁷, et fortè comperissent, quis ipsorum avus, quæ mater fuisset, Amulium inter-fecerunt, et Numitori avo regnum restituerunt. ante quum mœnibus circumdaretur, Remus occisus est, dum fra-trem irridens mœnia transiliebat.

9. Romulus, ut civium numerum augeret, asylum pate-fecit, ad quod multi ex civitatibus suis pulsi⁸ accurrerunt.

Sed novæ urbis civibus conjuges deerant⁹. Festum itaque Neptuni et ludos instituit. Ad hos quum multi ex finitimiis populis cum mulieribus et liberis venissent, Romani, inter ipsos ludos, spectantes virgines rapuerunt.

10. Populi illi, quorum virgines raptæ erant, bellum aduersus raptiores suscepérunt. Quum Romæ appropinquarent, fortè in Tarpejam virginem inciderunt, quæ in arce sacra procurabat. Hanc rogabant, ut viam in arcem monstraret, eique permiserunt, ut munus sibi poscere. Illa petiit, ut sibi darent, quod in sinistris manibus gererent, annulos aureos et armillas significans. At hostes, in arcem ab eâ perducti, scutis Tarpejam obruerunt; nam et ea in sinistris manibus geregant.

11. Tum Romulus cum hoste, qui montem Tarpejum tenebat, pugnam conseruit in eo loco, ubi nunc forum Romanum est. In mediâ cæde raptæ processerunt, et hinc patres, hinc conjuges et soceros complectebantur et rogabant, ut cædis finem facerent. Utrique his precibus commoti sunt. Romulus sœdus icit, et Sabinos in urbem recepit.

12. Postea civitatem descripsit. Centum Senatores legit, eosque cùm ob ætatem, tum ob reverentiam iis debitam, Patres appellavit. Plebem in triginta curias distri-
A. V. buit, easque raptarum nominibus nuncupavit. Anno inter tempestatem ortam¹⁰, repente oculis hominum subductus est. Hinc alii eum a Senatoribus intersectum, alii ad Deos sublatum¹¹ esse existimaverunt.

13. Post Romuli mortem unius anni interregnum fuit. Quo elapsò Numa Pompilius, Curibus, urbe in agro Sabinorum, natus, rex creatus est. Hic vir bellum quidem nullum gessit; nec minùs tamen civitati profuit. Nam et leges dedit, et sacra plurima instituit, ut populi barbari et bellicosi mores molliret. Omnia autem, quæ faciebat, se nymphæ Egeriæ, conjugis suæ, jussu facere dicebat. Morbo decessit, quadragesimo tertio imperii anno.

14. Numæ successit Tullus Hostilius, cuius A. V. avus se in bello adversus Sabinos fortem et strenuum virum præstiterat. Rex creatus bellum Albanis indixit, idque trigeminorum, Horatiorum et Curiatio-rum, certamine finivit. Albam propter perfidiam Metii Suffetii diruit. Quum triginta duobus annis regnasset, fulmine ictus cum domo suâ arsit. 81.

15. Post hunc Ancus Marcius, Numæ ex filiâ A. V. nepos, suscepit imperium. Hic vir æquitate et religione avo similis, Latinos bello domuit, urbem 114.
ampliavit, et nova ei mœnia circumdedit. Carcerem primus ædificavit. Ad Tiberis ostia urbem condidit, Ostiamque vocavit. Vicesimo quarto anno imperii morbo obiit.

16. Deinde regnum Lucius Tarquinius Priscus A. V. accepit, Demarati filius, qui tyrannos patriæ Co-rinthi fugiens in Etruriam venerat. Ipse Tarquinius, qui nomen ab urbe Tarquinii accepit, aliquando Ro-mam profectus erat. Advenienti aquila pileum abstulit, et, postquam altè evolaverat, reposuit. Hinc Tanaquil conjux, mulier auguriorum perita, regnum ei portendi intellexit. 137.

17. Quum Romæ commoraretur, Anci regis familiari-tatem consequutus est, qui eum filiorum suorum tutorem reliquit. Sed is pupillis regnum intercepit. Senatoribus, quos Romulus creaverat, centum alios addidit, qui minorum gentium¹² sunt appellati. Plura bella feliciter gessit, nec paucos agros, hostibus ademtos¹³, urbis territorio adjunxit.

¹² The descendants of the older senators were called majorum gentium. ¹³ adimo.

Primus triumphans urbem intravit. Cloacas fecit; Capitolum inchoavit. Tricesimo octavo imperii anno per Anci filios, quibus regnum eripuerat, occisus est.

A. V. 18. Post hunc Servius Tullius suscepit imperium, genitus ex nobili feminâ, captivâ tamen et famulâ.

176. Quum in domo Tarquinii Prisci educaretur, flamma in ejus capite visa est. Hoc prodigio Tanaquil ei summam dignitatem portendi intellexit, et conjugi persuasit, ut eum sicuti liberos suos educaret. Quum adolevisset, rex ei filiam in matrimonium dedit.

19. Quum Priscus Tarquinius occisus esset, Tanaquil de superiore parte domûs populum allocuta est, dicens; regem grave quidem, sed non letale vulnus accepisse; eum petere, ut populus, dum convalescet, Servio Tullio obediret. Sic Servius regnare cœpit, sed bene imperium administravit. Montes tres urbi adjunxit. Primus omnium censum ordinavit. Sub eo Roma habuit capitum octoginta tria millia civium Romanorum cum his, qui in agris erant.

A. V. 20. Hic rex interfactus est scelere filiæ Tulliæ et Tarquinii Superbi, filii ejus regis, cui Servius 220. successerat. Nam ab ipso Tarquinio de gradibus Curiæ dejectus, quum domum fugeret, interfactus est. Tullia in forum properavit et prima conjugem regem salutavit. Quum domum rediret, aurigam super patris corpus, in viâ jacens, carpentum agere jussit.

21. Tarquinius Superbus cognomen moribus meruit. Bello tamen strenuus plures finitimorum populorum vicit. Templum Jovis in Capitolio ædificavit. Postea, dum Ardeam oppugnabat, urbem Etruriæ, imperium perdidit. Nam quum filius ejus Lucretiæ, nobilissimæ feminæ, conjugi Tarquinii Collatini, vim fecisset, hæc se ipsam occidit in conspectu mariti, patris et amicorum, postquam eos obtestata fuerat, ut hanc injuriam ulciscerentur.

22. Hanc ob causam L. Brutus, Collatinus, aliqui nonnulli in exitium regis conjurârunt, populoque persuaserunt, ut ei portas Urbis clauderet. Exercitus quoque, qui civitatem Ardeam cum rege oppugnabat, eum reliquit. Fugit itaque cum uxore et liberis suis. Ita Romæ regnum est per septem reges, annos ducentos quadraginta tres.

A. V.

23. Hinc consules cœpere pro uno rege duo creari, ut, si unus malus esset, alter eum coërceret. Annuum iis imperium tributum est, ne per diurnitatem potestatis insolentiores redderentur. Fuerunt igitur anno primo, expulsis regibus, consules L. Junius Brutus, acerrimus libertatis vindex, et Tarquinius Collatinus, maritus Lucretiæ. Sed Collatino paulò pôst dignitas sublata est. Placuerat enim, ne quis ex Tarquiniorum familiâ Romæ maneret. Ergo cum omni patrimonio suo ex urbe migravit, et in ejus locum Valerius Publicola consul factus est.

24. Commovit bellum urbi rex Tarquinius. In primâ pugnâ Brutus, consul, et Aruns, Tarquinii filius, sese invicem occiderunt. Romani tamen ex eâ pugnâ victores recesserunt. Brutum Romanæ matronæ quasi communem patrem per annum luxerunt¹⁴. Valerius Publicola Sp. Lucretium, Lucretiæ patrem, collegam sibi fecit; qui, quum morbo extinctus esset, Horatium Pulvillum sibi collegam sumsit. Ita primus annus quinque consules habuit.

25. Secundo quoque anno iterum Tarquinius bellum Romanis intulit, Porsenâ, rege Etruscorum, auxilium ei ferente. In illo bello Horatius Cocles solus pontem ligneum defendit et hostes cohibuit, donec pons a tergo ruptus esset¹⁵. Tum se cum armis in Tiberim conjecit et ad suos transnavit.

26. Dum Porsēna urbem obsidebat, Qu. Mucius Scævola, juvenis fortis animi, in castra hostis se contulit, eo consilio, ut regem occideret. At ibi scribam regis pro ipso rege interfecit. Tum a regiis satellitibus comprehensus et ad regem deductus, quum Porsena eum ignibus allatis¹⁶ terneret, dextram aræ accensæ imposuit, donec flammis consumpta esset. Hoc facinus rex miratus juvenem dimisit incolumen. Tum hic, quasi beneficium referens, ait, trecentos alios juvenes in eum conjurâsse. Hâc re territus Porsena pacem cum Romanis fecit, Tarquinius autem Tusculum se contulit, ibique privatus cum uxore consenuit.

A. V. 27. Sexto decimo anno post reges exactos, populus Romæ seditionem fecit, questus, quòd tributis 259. et militiâ a senatu exhaustur. Magna pars plebis urbem reliquit et in montem trans Aniènem amnem secessit. Tum patres turbati Menenium Agrippam miserunt ad plebem, qui¹⁷ eam senatui conciliaret. Hic iis inter alia fabulam narravit de ventre et membris humani corporis; quâ populus commotus est, ut in Urbem rediret. Tum primùm Tribuni plebis creati sunt, qui plebem adversum nobilitatis superbiam defenderent.

A. V. 28. Octavo decimo anno post exactos reges, Qu. Marcius, Coriolanus dictus ab urbe Volscorum Co- 261. riolis, quam bello ceperat, plebi invitus fieri cœpit. Quare urbe expulsus ad Volscos, acerrimos Romanorum hostes, contendit, et ab iis dux exercitus factus Romanos sœpe vicit. Jam usque ad quintum milliarium Urbis accesserat, nec ullis civium suorum legationibus fleti poterat, ut patriæ parceret. Denique Veturia mater et Volumnia uxor ex Urbe ad eum venerunt; quarum fletu et precibus commotus est, ut exercitum removeret. Quo facto a Volscis ut proditor occisus esse dicitur.

29. Romani quum adversum Vejentes bellum gererent, familia Fabiorum sola hoc bellum suscepit. Profecti sunt trecenti sex nobilissimi homines, duce Fabio Consule. A. V. Quum sæpe hostes vicissent, apud Cremē-^{274.} ram fluvium castra posuerunt. Ibi Vejentes, dolo usi, eos in insidias pellegerunt. In prælio ibi exorto omnes perierunt. Unus superfuit ex tantâ familiâ, qui propter ætatem puerilem duci non potuerat ad pugnam. Hic genus propagavit ad Qu. Fabium Maximum, illum, qui Hannibalem prudenti cunctatione debilitavit.

30. Anno trecentesimo et altero ab Urbe conditâ Decemviri creati sunt, qui civitati leges scriberent. A. V. Hi primo anno bene egerunt; secundo autem dominationem exercere cœperunt. Sed quum unus eorum Appius Claudius virginem ingenuam, Virginiam, Virginii Centurionis filiam, corrumpere vellet, pater eam occidit. Tum ad milites profūgit, eosque ad seditionem commovit. Sublata est decemviris potestas, ipsique omnes aut morte aut exilio puniti sunt.^{302.}

31. In bello contra Vejentanos Furius Camillus urbem Falerios obsidebat. In quâ obsidione quum ludi literarii magister principum filios ex urbe in castra hostium duxisset, Camillus hoc donum non accepit, sed scelestum hominem, manibus post tergum vincitis, pueros Falerios reducendum tradidit; virgasque iis dedit, quibus proditorem in urbem agerent.^{A. V. 358.}

32. Hâc tantâ animi nobilitate commoti Falisci urbem Romanis tradiderunt. Camillo autem apud Romanos criminis datum est, quod albis equis¹⁸ triumphasset, et præ-borabat, et in eo erant¹⁹, ut pacem a Gallis auro emerent, quum Camillus cum manu militum superveniens hostes magno prælio superaret.

rant, et quarto milliario trans Anienem fluvium con- sederant. Contra eos missus est T. Quinctius. Ibi Gal- lus quidam, eximiâ corporis magnitudine, fortissimum Ro- manorum ad certamen singulare provocavit. T. Manlius, nobilissimus juvenis, provocationem accepit, Gallum occi- dit, eumque torque aureo spoliavit, quo ornatus erat. Hinc et ipse et posteri ejus Torquati appellati sunt. Galli fü- gam capessiverunt.

A. V. 2. Novo bello cum Gallis exorto, anno Urbis quadringentesimo sexto, iterum Gallus processit, 406. robore atque armis insignis, et provocavit unum ex Romanis, ut secum armis decerneret. Tum se M. Valeri- us, tribunus militum, obtulit; et, quum processisset armatus, corvus ei supra dextrum brachium sedit. Mox, commissa pugnâ, hic corvus alis et unguibus Galli oculos verberavit. Ita factum est, ut Gallus facili negotio a Valerio interfice-retur, qui hinc Corvini nomen accepit.

3. Postea Romani bellum gesserunt cum Samnitibus, ad quod L. Papirius Cursor cum honore dictatoris profectus est. Qui, quum negotii cujusdam causâ Romam ivisset, præcepit Q. Fabio Rulliano, magistro equitum, quem apud exercitum reliquit, ne pugnam cum hoste committeret. Sed ille, occasionem nactus, felicissimè dimicavit et Samnites delevit. Ob hanc rem a dictatore capitatis damnatus est. At ille in Urbem consûgit, et ingenti favore militum et populi liberatus est; in Papirium autem tanta exorta est seditio, ut pâne ipse interficeretur.

4. Duobus annis pôst T. Veturius et Spurius Postumius Consules bellum adversum Samnites gerebant. Hi a Pontio Thelesino, duce hostium, in insidias inducti sunt. Nam ad Furculas Caudinas Romanos pellexit in angustias, unde sese expedire non poterant. Ibi Pontius patrem suum Herennium rogavit, quid faciendum putaret. Ille ait, aut omnes occidendos esse, ut Romanorum vires frangerentur, aut omnes dimittendos, ut beneficio obligarentur. Pontius utrumque consilium improbavit, omnesque sub jugum misit. Samnites denique post bellum undequinquaginta annorum superati sunt.

5. Devictis Samnitibus, Tarentinis bellum indicatum est, quia legatis Romanorum injuriam fecissent. A. V. Hi Pyrrhum, Epiri regem, contra Romanos auxilio poposcerunt¹. Is mox in Italiam venit, tumque primùm Romani eum transmarino hoste pugnaverunt. Missus est contra eum consul P. Valerius Lævinus. Hic, quum exploratores Pyrri cepisset, jussit eos per castra duci, ostendi omnem exercitum, tumque dimitti, ut renuntiarent Pyrro, quæcunque a Romanis agerentur.

6. Pugnâ commissâ, Pyrrhus auxilio elephantorum vi-

cit. Nox prælio finem dedit. Lævinus tamen per noctem fugit. Pyrrhus Romanos mille octingentos cepit, eosque summo honore tractavit. Quum eos, qui in prælio interfici fuerant, omnes adversis vulneribus et truci vultu etiam mortuos jacere videret, tulisse ad cœlum manus dicitur, cum hâc voce: Ego cum talibus viris brevi orbe terrarum subigerem.

7. Postea Pyrrhus Romam perrexit; omnia ferro igneque vastavit; Campaniam depopulatus est, atque ad Prænestē venit, milliario ab Urbe octavo decimo. Mox terrore exercitūs, qui cum consule sequebatur, in Campaniam se recepit. Legati, ad Pyrrhum de captivis redimendis missi, honorificè ab eo suscepti sunt; captivos sine pretio reddidit. Unum ex legatis, Fabricium, sic admiratus est, ut ei quartam partem regni sui promitteret, si ad se transiret; sed a Fabricio contemtus est.

8. Quum jam Pyrrhus ingenti Romanorum admiratione teneretur, legatum misit Cineam, præstantissimum virum, qui pacem peteret, ea conditione, ut Pyrrhus eam partem Italiae, quam armis occupaverat, obtineret. Romani responderunt, eum cum Romanis pacem habere non posse, nisi ex Italiâ recessisset. Cineas quum rediisset, Pyrrho, eum interroganti, qualis ipsi Roma visa esset; respondit, se regum patriam vidisse.

9. In altero prælio cum rege Epiri commisso, Pyrrhus vulneratus est, elephanti interficti, viginti millia hostium cæsa sunt. Pyrrhus Tarentum fugit. Interjecto anno, Fabricius contra eum missus est. Ad hunc medicus Pyrrhi nocte venit, promittens, se Pyrrhum veneno occisurum, si munus sibi daretur. Hunc Fabricius vincatum reduci jussit ad dominum. Tunc rex, admiratus illum, dixisse fertur; Ille est Fabricius, qui difficilius ab honestate, quam sol a cursu suo averti potest. Paulò pòst Pyrrhus, tertio etiam prælio Susus, a Tarento recessit, et, quum in Græciam rediisset, apud Argos, Peloponnesi urbem, interfectus est. A. V. 481.

10. Anno quadringentesimo nonagesimo post Urbem conditam Romanorum exercitus primùm in Siciliam trajecerunt, regemque Syracusarum Hieronem, Pœnosque, qui multas civitates in eâ insulâ occupaverant, superaverunt. Quinto anno hujus belli, quod contra Pœnos gerebatur, primùm Romanī, C. Duillio et Cn. Cornelio Asinā Coss., in mari dimicaverunt. Duillus Carthaginienses vicit, triginta naves occupavit, quatuordecim mersit, septem millia hostium cepit, tria millia occidit. Nulla victoria Romanis gratior fuit. Duillio concessum est, ut, quum a cœnâ rediret, pueri funalia gestantes et tibicen eum comitarentur.

11. Paucis annis interjectis bellum in Africam translatum est. Hamilcar, Carthaginiensium dux, pugnâ navali superatur; nam, perditis sexaginta quatuor navibus, se recepit; Romani viginti duas amiserunt. Quum in Africam venissent, Pœnos in pluribus præliis vicerunt, magnam vim hominum ceperunt, septuaginta quatuor civitates in fidem acceperunt. Tum victi Carthaginienses pacem a Romanis petierunt. Quam quum M. Atilius Regulus, Romanorum dux, dare nolle nisi durissimis conditionibus, Carthaginienses auxilium petierunt a Lacedæmoniis. Hi Xanthippum miserunt, qui Romanum exercitum magno prælio vicit. Regulus ipse captus et in vincula conjectus est. A. V. 499.

12. Non tamen ubique fortuna Carthaginiensibus favit. Quum aliquot præliis victi essent, Regulum rogaverunt, ut Romam proficisceretur, et pacem captivorumque permutationem a Romanis obtineret. Ille quum Romam venisset, inductus in senatum, dixit, se desuisse Romanum esse ex illâ die, quâ in potestatem Pœnorum venisset. Tum Romanis suasit, ne pacem cum Carthaginiensibus facerent: illos enim, tot casibus fractos, spem nullam nisi in pace habere: tanti non esse, ut tot millia captivorum propter se unum et paucos, qui ex Romanis capti essent, redderentur. Hæc sententia obtinuit. Regressus igitur in Africam crudelissimis suppliciis extinctus est.

A. V. 13. Tandem C. Lutatio Catulo, A. Postumio Coss., anno belli Punici vicesimo tertio, magnum 513. prælrium navale commissum est contra Lilybæum, promontorium Siciliæ. In eo prælio septuaginta tres Carthaginiensium naves captæ, centum viginti quinque demersæ, triginta duo millia hostium capta, tredecim millia occisa sunt. Statim Carthaginenses pacem petierunt, eisque pax tributa est. Captivi Romanorum, qui tenebantur a Carthaginiensibus, redditи sunt. Pœni Siciliâ, Sardinîâ et ceteris insulis, quæ intra Italiam Africamque jacent, decesserunt, omnemque Hispaniam, quæ citra Ibérum est, Romanis permiserunt.

LIBER TERTIUS.

A. V. 1. Anno quingentesimo undetreesimo ingentes Gallorum copiæ Alpes transierunt. Sed pro Romanis tota Italia consensit: traditumque est, octingenta millia hominum ad id bellum parata fuisse. Res prosperè gesta est apud Clusium: quadraginta millia hominum interfecta sunt. Aliquot annis post pugnatum est contra Gallos in agro Insubrum, finitumque est bellum M. Claudio Marcello, Cn. Cornelio Scipione Consulibus. Tum Marcellus regem Gallorum, Viridomarum, manu suâ occidit, et triumphans spolia Galli, stipiti imposita, humeris suis vexit.

2. Paulò pòst Punicum bellum renovatum est per Hannibalem, Carthaginiensium ducem, quem pater Hamilcar, novem annos natum, aris admoverat, ut odium perenne in Romanos juraret. Hic annum agens vicesimum ætatis, Saguntum, Hispaniæ civitatem, Romanis amicam, A. V. oppugnare aggressus est. Huic Romani per legatos denuntiaverunt, ut bello abstineret. Qui quum 536. legatos admittere nollet, Romani Carthaginem miserunt, ut mandaretur Hannibali, ne bellum contra socios populi Romani gereret. Dura responsa a Carthaginiensibus reddita. Saguntinis interea fame victis, Romani Carthaginiensibus bellum indixerunt.

3. Hannibal, fratre Hasdrubale in Hispaniâ relichto, Pyrenæum et Alpes transiit. Traditur in Italiam octoginta millia peditum, et viginti millia equitum, septem et triginta elephantes adduxisse. Interea multi Ligures et Galli Hannibali se conjunxerunt. Primus ei occurrit P. Cornelius Scipio, qui, prælio ad Ticinum commisso, superatus est, et, vulnere accepto, in castra rediit. Tum Sempronius Gracchus conflixit ad Trebiam amnem. Is quoque vincitur. Multi populi se Hannibali dediderunt. Inde in Tusciā progressus Flaminium Cos. ad Trasimēnum lacum superat. Ipse Flaminius interemtus, Romanorum viginti quinque millia cæsa sunt.

4. Quingentesimo et quadragesimo anno post Urbem conditam L. Æmilius Paullus et P. Terentius Varro contra Hannibalem mittuntur. A. V. 540. Quam intellectum erat, Hannibalem non aliter vinci posse, quam morā¹, Varro tamen, moræ impatiens, apud vicum, qui Cannæ appellatur, in Apuliâ pugnavit; ambo consules victi, Paullus interemptus est. In eâ pugnâ consulares aut prætorii viginti, senatores triginta capti aut occisi; militum quadraginta millia; equitum tria millia et quingenti perierunt. In his tantis malis nemo tamen pacis mentionem facere dignatus est. Servi, quod nunquam antè factum, manumissi et milites facti sunt.

5. Post eam pugnam multæ Italæ civitates, quæ Romanis paruerant, se ad Hannibalem transtulerunt. Hannibal Romanis obtulit ut captivos redimerent; responsumque est a Senatu, eos cives non esse necessarios, qui armati capi potuissent. Hos omnes ille postea variis suppliciis interfecit, et tres modios aureorum annulorum Carthaginem misit, quos manibus equitum Romanorum, senatorum, et militum detraxerat. Interea in Hispaniâ frater Hannibal, Hasdrubal, qui ibi remanserat cum magno exercitu, a duobus Scipionibus vincitur, perditque in pugnâ triginta quinque millia hominum.

6. Anno quarto postquam Hannibal in Italiam venerat, M. Claudius Marcellus Cos. apud Nolam, civitatem Campaniæ, contra Hannibalem bene pugnavit. Illo tempore Philippus, Demetrii filius, rex Macedoniæ, ad Hannibalem legatos mittit, eique auxilia contra Romanos pollicetur. Qui legati quum a Romanis capti essent, M. Valerius Lævinus cum navibus missus est, qui regem impediret, quod minùs copias in Italiam trajiceret. Idem in Macedoniam penetrans regem Philippum vicit.

7. In Siciliâ quoque res prosperè gesta est. Marcellus magnam hujus insulæ partem cepit, quam Pœni occupaverant; Syracusas, nobilissimam urbem, expugnavit, et ingenitem inde prædam Romam misit. Lævinus in Macedonia cum Philippo et multis Græciæ populis amicitiam fecit; et in Siciliam profectus, Hannonem, Pœnorum ducem, apud Agrigentum cepit; quadraginta civitates in ditionem acepit, viginti sex expugnavit. Ita omni Siciliâ receptâ, cum ingenti gloriâ Romam regressus est.

8. Interea in Hispaniam, ubi duo Scipiones ab Hasdrubale interficti erant, missus est P. Cornelius Scipio, vir Romanorum omnium ferè primus. Hic puer duodevigiinti annorum in pugnâ ad Ticinum patrem singulari virtute servavit. Deinde post cladem Cannensem multos nobilissimorum juvenum, Italiam deserere cupientium, auctoritate suâ ab hoc consilio deterruit. Viginti quatuor annorum juvenis in Hispaniam missus, die, quâ venit, Carthaginem novam cepit, in quâ omne aurum et argentum et belli apparatus Pœni habebant, nobilissimos quoque obsides, quos ab Hispānis acceperant. Hos obsides parentibus suis reddidit. Quare omnes ferè Hispaniæ civitates ad eum uno animo transierunt.

9. Ab eo inde tempore res Romanorum in dies lætiores factæ sunt. Hasdrubal a fratre ex Hispaniâ in Italiam evocatus, apud Senam, Piceni civitatem, iu insidias incidit, et strenuè pugnans occisus est. Plurimæ autem civitates, quæ in Bruttiis ab Hannibale tenebantur, Romanis se tradiderunt.

10. Anno decimo quarto postquam in Italiam A. V. Hannibal venerat, Scipio consul creatus et in Africam missus est. Ibi contra Hannonem, ducem 550. Carthaginiensium, prosperè pugnat totumque ejus exercitum delet. Secundo prælio undecim millia hominum occidit, et castra cepit cum quatuor millibus et quingentis milibus. Syphacem, Numidiæ regem, qui se cum Pœnis conjunxerat, cepit, eumque cum nobilissimis Numidis et infinitis spoliis Romam misit. Quâ re auditâ, omnis ferè Italia Hannibalem deserit. Ipse a Carthaginiensibus A. V. in Africam redire jubetur. Ita anno decimo septimo Italia ab Hannibale liberata est. 553.

11. Post plures pugnas et pacem plū semel frustrā tentatam, pugna ad Zamam committitur, in quā peritissimi duces copias suas ad bellum educebant. Scipio vicit; Hannibal cum paucis equitibus evadit. Post hoc pr̄elium pax cum Carthaginiensibus facta est. Scipio, quum Romam rediisset, ingenti gloriā triumphavit, atque Africanus appellatus est. Sic finem accepit secundum Punicum bellum pōst annum undevicesimum quām cœperat².

LIBER QUARTUS.

A. V. 1. Finito Punico bello, sequutum est Macedonicum contra Philippum regem. Superatus est rex 556. a T. Quinctio Flaminio apud Cynosecephalas, pax que ei data est his legibus: ne Græciae civitatibus, quas Romani contra eum defunderant, bellum inferret; ut captivos et transfugas redderet; quinquaginta solum nares haberet; reliquas Romanis daret; mille talenta præstaret, et obsidem daret filium Demetrium. T. Quinctius etiam Lacedæmoniis intulit bellum, et ducem eorum Nabidem vicit.

A. V. 2. Finito bello Macedonico sequutum est bellum 563. Syriacum contra Antiochum regem, cum quo Hannibal se junxerat. Missus est contra eum L. Cornelius Scipio Cos., cui frater ejus Scipio Africanus legatus est additus. Hannibal navali pr̄elio vicit, Antiochus autem ad Magnesiam, Asiæ civitatem, a Cornelio Scipione Cos. ingenti pr̄elio fusus est. Tum rex Antiochus pacem petit. Data est ei hâc lege, ut ex Europâ et Asiâ recederet, atque intra Taurum se contineret, decem millia talentorum et viginti obsides præberet, Hannibalem, concitorem belli, dederet.

Scipio Romam rediit et ingenti gloriâ triumphavit. Nomen et ipse ad imitationem fratris Asiatici accepit.

3. Philippo, rege Macedoniæ, mortuo, filius ejus Perseus rebellavit, ingentibus copiis paratis. Dux Romanorum, P. Licinius Consul, contra eum missus, gravi prælio a rege victus est. Rex tamen pacem petebat. Cui Romani eam præstare noluerunt, nisi his conditionibus, ut se et suos Romanis dederet. Mox Æmilius Paullus Cos. regem ad Pydnam superavit, et viginti millia peditum ejus occidit. Equitatus cum rege fugit. Urbes Macedoniae omnes, quas rex tenuerat, Romanis se dederunt. Ipse Perseus ab amicis desertus in Paulli potestatem venit. Hic, multis etiam aliis rebus gestis, cum ingenti pompâ Romam rediit in nave Persei, inusitatæ magnitudinis; nam sedecim remorum ordines habuisse dicitur. Triumphavit magnificentissimè in curru aureo, duobus filiis utroque latere adstantibus. Ante currum inter captivos duo regis filii et ipse Perseus ducti sunt.

4. Tertium deinde bellum contra Carthaginem susceptum est, sexcentesimo et altero anno ab urbe conditâ, anno quinquagesimo primo, postquam secundum bellum Punicum transactum erat. L. Manlius Censorinus et M. Manlius Coss. in Africam trajecerunt et oppugnaverunt Carthaginem. Multa ibi præclarè gesta sunt per Scipionem, Scipionis Africani nepotem, qui tribunus in Africâ militabat. Hujus apud omnes ingens metus et reverentia erat, neque quidquam magis Carthaginiensium duces vitabant, quam contra eum prælium committere.

5. Quum jam magnum esset Scipionis nomen, tertio anno postquam Romani in Africam trajecerant, Consul est creatus et contra Carthaginem missus. Is hanc urbem, a civibus acerrimè defensam, cepit ac diruit. Ingens ibi præda facta plurimaque inventa sunt, quæ multarum civitatum excidiis Carthago collegerat. Hæc omnia Scipio civitatibus Italiæ, Siciliæ, Africæ redditidit, quæ sua recognoscebant. Ita Carthago, septingentesimo anno postquam condita erat, deleta est. Scipio nomen Africani junioris accepit.

6. Interim in Macedoniâ quidam Pseudophilippus arma movit, et P. Juvencum, Romanorum ducem, ad internecionem vicit. Post eum Q. Cæcilius Metellus dux a Romanis contra Pseudophilippum missus est, et, viginti quinque millibus ex militibus ejus occisis, Macedoniam recepit; ipsum etiam Pseudophilippum in potestatem suam redegit, Corinthiis quoque bellum indictum est, nobilissimæ Græciæ civitati, propter injuriam Romanis legatis illatam.

A. V. Hanc Mummius consul cepit ac diruit. Tres igitur 608. Romæ simul celeberrimi triumphi fuerunt; Scipio ex Africâ, ante cujus currum ductus est Hasdrubal; Metelli ex Macedoniâ, cujus currum præcessit Andriscus, qui et Pseudophilippus dicitur: Mummii ex Corintho, ante quem signa ænea et pictæ tabulæ et alia urbis clarissimæ ornamenta prælata sunt.

A. V. 7. Anno sexcentesimo decimo post Urbem conditam Viriathus in Lusitaniâ bellum contra Romanos excitavit. Pastor primò fuit, mox latronum dux; postremò tantos ad bellum populos concitavit, ut vindicta libertatis Hispaniæ existimaretur. Denique a suis interfectus est. Quum interfectores ejus præmium a Cæpione Cos. peterent, responsum est, nunquam Romanis placuisse, imperatorem a militibus suis interfici.

8. Deinde bellum exortum est cum Numantinis, civitate Hispaniæ. Victor ab his Qu. Pompejus, et post eum C. Hostilius Mancinus Cos., qui pacem cum iis fecit infamem, quam populus et senatus jussit infringi, atque ipsum Mancinum hostibus tradi. Tum P. Scipio Africanus in Hispaniam missus est. Is primùm militem ignavum et corruptum correxit; tum multas Hispaniæ civitates partim bello cepit, partim in ditionem accepit. Postremò ipsam Numantiam same ad ditionem coëgit, urbemque A. V. evertit; reliquam provinciam in fidem accepit. 621.

9. P. Scipione Nasicā et L. Calpurnio Bestiā Coss. Jugurthæ, Numidarum regi, bellum illatum est, quod Adherbalem et Hiempalem, Micipsæ filios, patrueles suos, interemisset. Missus adversus eum Cos. Calpurnius Bestia, corruptus regis pecuniā, pacem cum eo flagitosissimam fecit, quæ a senatu improbata est. Denique Qu. Cæcilius Metellus Cos. Jugurtham varijs præliis vicit, elephantes ejus occidit vel cepit, multas civitates ipsius in ditionem accepit. Ei successit C. Marius, qui bello terminum posuit, ipsumque Jugurtham cepit. Ante currum triumphantis Marii Jugurtha cum duobus filiis ductus A. V. est vincens, et mox jussu consulis in carcere strangulatus. 648.

LIBER QUINTUS.

1. Dum bellum in Numidiâ contra Jugurtham geritur, Cimbri et Teutones aliæque Germanorum et Gallorum gentes Italiæ minabantur, aliæque Romanorum exercitus fuderunt. Ingens fuit Romæ timor, ne iterum Galli Urbem occuparent. Ergo Marius Cos. creatus, eique bellum contra Cimbros et Teutones decretum est; belloque protracto, tertius ei et quartus consulatus delatus est. In duabus præliis cum Cimbris ducenta millia hostium cecidit, octoginta millia cepit, eorumque regem Theutobochum; propter quod meritum absens quintò Consul creatus est. Interea Cimbri et Teutones, quorum copia adhuc infinita erat, in

A. V. Italiā transierunt. Iterum a C. Mario et Qu.
Catulo contra eos dimicatum est ad Veronam.

653. Centum et quadraginta millia aut in pugnā aut in fugā cæsa sunt; sexaginta millia capta. Tria et triginta Cimbris signa sublata sunt.

A. V. 2. Sexcentesimo quinquagesimo nono anno ab Urbe conditā in Italiā gravissimum bellum exarsit.

659. Nam Picentes, Marsi Pelignique, qui multos annos populo Romano obedierant, æqua cum illis jura sibi dari postulabant. Perniciosum admodūm hoc bellum fuit. P.
Rutilius Cos. in eo occisus est; plures exercitus fusi fugati-que. Tandem L. Cornelius Sulla cùm alia egregiè gessit, tum Cluentium, hostium ducem, cum magnis copiis fudit.
Per quadriennium cum gravi utriusque partis calamitate hoc bellum tractum est. Quinto demum anno L. Cornelius Sulla ei imposuit finem. Romani tamen, id quod priùs negaverant, jus civitatis, bello finito sociis tribuerunt.

A. V. 3. Anno Urbis conditæ sexcentesimo sexagesi-mo sexto primum Romæ bellum civile exortum est;

666. eodem anno etiam Mithridaticum. Causam bello civili C. Marius dedit. Nam quum Sullæ bellum adversus Mithridatem regem Ponti decretum esset, Marius ei hunc honorem eripere conatus est. Sed Sulla, qui adhuc cum legionibus suis in Italiā morabatur, cum exercitu Romam venit, et adversarios cùm interfecit, tum fugavit. Tum rebus Romæ utcunque compositis, in Asiam profectus est, pluribusque prœliis Mithridatē coëgit, ut pacem a Romanis peteret, et Asiā, quam invaserat, relictā, regni sui finibus contentus esset.

4. Sed dum Sulla in Græciā et Asiā Mithridatē vincit, Marius, qui fugatus fuerat, et Cornelius Cinna, unus ex consulibus, bellum in Italiā reparârunt, et ingressi Ro-mam, nobilissimos ex senatu, et consulares viros interfecirunt; multos proscripterunt; ipsius Sullæ domo eversâ, filios et uxorem ad fugam compulerunt. Universus reliquus senatus, ex Urbe fugiens, ad Sullam in Græciam venit, orans, ut patriæ subveniret. Sulla in Italiam trajecit, hostium exercitus vicit, mox etiam Urbem ingressus est, quam cæde et sanguine civium replevit. Quatuor millia inermium, qui se dediderant, interfici jussit; duo millia equitum et senatorum proscripsit. Tum de Mithridate triumphavit. Duo hæc bella funestissima, Italicum, quod et sociale dictum est, et civile, consumserunt ultra centum et quinquaginta millia hominum, viros consulares viginti quatuor prætorios septem, aedilios sexaginta, senatores ferè ducentos.

LIBER SEXTUS.

1. Anno Urbis conditæ sexcentesimo septua- A. V. gesimo sexto, L. Licinio Lucullo et M. Aurelio Cottâ Coss., mortuus est Nicomèdes, rex Bithyniæ, et testamento populum Romanum fecit hæredem. Mithridates, pace ruptâ, Asiam rursus voluit invadere. Adversus eum ambo Consules missi variam habuère fortunam. Cotta, apud Chalcedönem victus prælio, a rege etiam intra oppidum obsessus est. Sed quum se inde Mithridates Cyzicum transtulisset, ut hâc urbe captâ totam Asiam invaderet, Lu-cullus ei alter consul occurrit, ac dum Mithridates in obsi-dione Cyzici commoratur, ipse eum a tergo obsedit, fameque consumtum multis præliis vicit. Postremò Byzantium fugavit; navalí quoque prælio ejus duces oppressit. Ita unâ hieme et æstate a Lucullo centum ferè millia militum regis extincta sunt. 676.

A. V. 2. Anno Urbis sexcentesimo septuagesimo octavo novum in Italâ bellum commotum est. Septuaginta enim quatuor gladiatores, ducibus Spartaco, Crixo et Oenomao, e ludo gladiatorio, qui Capuae erat, effugerunt, et per Italiam vagantes paene non levius bellum, quam Hannibal, moverunt. Nam contraxerunt exercitum ferè sexaginta millium armatorum, multosque duces et duos Romanos consules vicerunt. Ipsi victi sunt in Apulia a M. Licinio Crasso Proconsule, et, post multas calamitates Italiæ, tertio anno huic bello finis est impositus.

3. Interim L. Lucullus, bellum Mithridaticum persequutus, regnum Mithridatis invasit, ipsumque regem apud Cabira civitatem, quo ingentes copias ex omni regno adduxerat Mithridates, ingenti pœlio superatum fugavit, et castra ejus diripuit. Armenia quoque minor, quam tenebat, eidem erepta est. Susceptus est Mithridates a Tigrane, Armeniae rege, qui tum ingenti gloriâ imperabat; sed hujus quoque regnum Lucullus est ingressus. Tigranocerta, nobilissimam Armeniae civitatem, cepit; ipsum regem, cum magno exercitu venientem, ita vicit, ut robur militum Armeniorum deleret. Sed quum Lucullus finem bello impone pararet, successor ei missus est.

4. Per illa tempora piratae omnia maria infestabant ita, ut Romanis, toto orbe terrarum victoribus, sola navigatio tutta non esset. Quare id bellum Cn. Pompejo decretum A. V. est, quod intra paucos menses incredibili felicitate et celeritate confecit. Mox ei delatum bellum 687. contra regem Mithridatem et Tigranem. Quo suscepto, Mithridatem in Armeniâ minore nocturno pœlio vicit, castra diripuit, et quadraginta millibus ejus occisis, viinti tantum de exercitu suo perdidit et duos centuriones. Mithridates fugit cum uxore et duobus comitibus, neque multò pòst, Pharnacis filii sui seditione coactus, venenum hausit. Hunc vitæ finem habuit Mithridates, vir ingentis industriæ atque consilii. Regnavit annis sexaginta, vixit septuaginta duobus: contra Romanos bellum habuit annis quadraginta.

5. Tigrani deinde Pompejus bellum intulit. Ille se ei dedidit, et in castra Pompeji venit, ac diadema suum in ejus manibus collocavit, quod ei Pompejus reposuit. Parte regni eum multavit et grandi pecuniâ. Tum alios etiam reges et populos superavit. Armeniam minorem Deiotâro, Galatiæ regi, donavit, quia auxilium contra Mithridatem tulerat. Seleuciam, vicinam Antiochiae civitatem, libertate donavit, quòd regem Tigranem non recepisset. Inde in Judæam transgressus, Hierosolymam, caput gentis, tertio mense cepit, duodecim millibus Judæorum occisis, ceteris in fidem receptis. His gestis finem antiquissimo bello imposuit. Ante triumphantis currum ducti sunt filii Mithridatis, filius Tigranis, et Aristobulus, rex Judæorum. Prælata ingens pecunia, auri atque argenti infinitum¹. Hoc tempore nullum per orbem terrarum grave bellum erat.

vincendo usque ad Oceanum Britannicum processit. Domuit autem annis novem ferè omnem Galliam, quæ inter Alpes, flumen Rhodanum, Rhenum et Oceanum est. Britannis mox bellum intulit, quibus ante eum ne nomen quidem Romanorum cognitum erat; Germanos quoque trans Rhenum aggressus, ingentibus præliis vicit.

8. Circa eadem tempora M. Licinius Crassus contra Parthos missus est. Et quum circa Carras contra omina A. V. et auspicia prælium commisisset, a Surenâ, Orodis regis duce, victus et interfectus est cum filio, clarissimo et præstantissimo juvene. Reliquæ exercitûs per C. Cassium quæstorem servatæ sunt.

A. V. 9. Hinc jam bellum civile successit, quo Romani nominis fortuna mutata est. Cæsar enim, victor e 705. Galliâ rediens, absens cœpit poscere alterum consulatum; quem quum aliqui sine dubitatione deferrent, contradictum est a Pompejo et aliis, jussusque est, dimissis exercitibus, in Urbem redire. Propter hanc injuriam ab Arimino, ubi milites congregatos habebat, infesto exercitu Romam contendit. Consules cum Pompejo, senatusque omnis atque universa nobilitas ex urbe fugit et in Græciam transiit; et, dum senatus bellum contra Cæsarem parabat, hic, vacuam urbem ingressus, dictatorem se fecit.

10. Inde Hispanias petit, ibique Pompeji legiones superavit; tum in Græciâ adversum Pompejum ipsum dimicavit. Primo prælio victus est et fugatus; evasit tamen, quia nocte interveniente Pompejus sequi noluit; dixitque Cæsar, nec Pompejum seire vincere, et illo tantum die se potuisse superari. Deinde in Thessaliâ apud Pharsalum ingentibus utrinque copiis commissis dimicaverunt. Nunquam adhuc Romanæ copiæ majores, neque melioribus ducibus convenerant. Pugnatum est ingenti contentione, victusque ad postremum Pompejus et castra ejus direpta sunt. Ipse fugatus Alexandriam petiit, ut a rege Aegypti, cui tutor a senatu datus fuerat, acciperet auxilia. At hic fortunam magis, quam amicitiam, secutus, occidit Pompejum, caput ejus et annulum Cæsari misit. Quo conspecto, Cæsar lacrymas fudisse dicitur, tanti viri intuens caput, et generi quondam sui².

11. Quum ad Alexandriam venisset Cæsar, Ptolemæus ei insidias parare voluit, quâ de causâ regi bellum illatum est. Rex victus in Nilo periit, inventumque est corpus ejus cum lorica aurea. Cæsar, Alexandriâ potitus, regnum Cleopatræ dedit. Tum inde profectus Pompejanarum partium reliquias est persequutus, bellisque civilibus toto terrarum orbe compositis, Romam rediit. Ubi quum insolentiis agere cœpisset, conjuratum est in eum a sexaginta vel amplius senatoribus, equitibusque Romanis. Præcipui furerunt inter conjuratos Bruti duo, ex genere illius Bruti, qui, regibus expulsis, primus Romæ consul fuerat, C. Cassius et Servilius Casca. Ergo Cæsar, quum in curiam A. V. venisset, viginti tribus vulneribus confossus est. 709.

12. Interfecto Cæsare, anno Urbis septingentesimo nono, bella civilia reparata sunt. Senatus favebat Cæsaris percussoribus, Antonius Cos. a Cæsaris partibus stabat. Ergo turbatâ republicâ, Antonius, multis sceleribus commissis, a senatu hostis judicatus est. Fusus fugatusque Antonius, amisso exercitu, confugit ad Lepidum, qui Cæsari magister equitum fuerat, et tum grandes copias militum habebat; a quo susceptus est. Mox Octavianus cum Antonio pacem fecit, et quasi vindicaturus patris sui mortem, a quo per testamentum fuerat adoptatus, Romam cum exercitu profectus extorsit, ut sibi juveni viginti annorum consulatus daretur. Tum junctus cum Antonio et Lepido rempublicam armis tenere cœpit, senatumque proscriptis. Per hos etiam Cicero orator occisus est multique alii nobiles.

13. Interea Brutus et Cassius, interfectores Cæsaris, ingens bellum moverunt. Profecti contra eos Cæsar Octavianus, qui postea Augustus est appellatus, et M. Antonius, A. V. apud Philippos, Macedoniæ urbem, contra eos pugnaverunt. Primo prælio victi sunt Antonius et Cæsar; 712. perit tamen dux nobilitatis Cassius; secundo Brutum et infinitam nobilitatem, quæ cum illis bellum suscepserat, victam interfecerunt. Tum victores rempublicam ita inter se diviserunt, ut Octavianus Cæsar Hispanias, Gallias, Italiam teneret; Antonius Orientem, Lepidus Africam acciperet.

14. Paulò pòst Antonius, repudiata sorore Cæsaris Octaviani, Cleopatram, reginam Ægypti, uxorem duxit. Ab hâc incitatus ingens bellum commovit, dum Cleopatra cupiditate muliebri optat Romæ regnare. Victus est ab A. V. Augusto naval i pugnâ clarâ et illustri apud Actium, qui locus in Epiro est. Hinc fugit in Ægyptum, et 723. desperatis rebus, quum omnes ad Augustum transirent, se ipse interemit. Cleopatra quoque aspidem sibi admisit, et veneno ejus extincta est. Ita bellis toto orbe confectis Octavianus Augustus Romam rediit anno duodecimo quâm consul fuerat. Ex eo inde tempore rempublicam per quadraginta et quatuor annos solus obtinuit. Antè enim duodecim annis cum Antonio et Lepido tenuerat. Ita ab initio principatûs ejus usque ad finem quinquaginta sex anni fuêre.

VI. OF THE GEOGRAPHY AND THE NATIONS OF ANTIQUITY.

1. Universus terrarum orbis in tres partes dividitur, Europam, Asiam, Africam. Europa ab Africâ sejungitur freto Gaditano, in cuius utrâque parte montes sunt altissimi, Abyla in Africâ, in Europâ Calpe, qui montes Herculis columnæ appellantur. Per idem fretum mare internum, quod littoribus Europæ, Asiæ et Africæ includitur, jungitur cum Oceano.

2. Europa terminos habet ab oriente Tanaim fluvium, pontum Euxinum et paludem Mæotida; a meridie, mare internum; ab occidente, mare Atlanticum sive Oceanum; a septentrione, mare Britannicum. Mare internum tres maximos sinus habet. Quorum is, qui Asiam a Græciâ sejungit, Ægæum mare vocatur; secundus, qui est inter Græciam et Italiam, Ionum; tertius denique, qui occidentales Italiæ oras alluit, a Romanis Tuscum, a Græcis Tyrrhenum mare appellatur.

3. In eâ Europæ parte, quæ ad occasum vergit, prima terrarum est Hispania, quæ a tribus lateribus mari circumdâta, per Pyrenæos montes cum Galliâ cohæret. Quum universa Hispania dives sit et fœcunda, ea tamen regio, quæ a flumine Bæti Bætica vocatur, cæteras fertilitate antecellit. Ibi Gades sita, insula cum urbe a Tyriis conditâ quæ freto Gaditano nomen dedit. Tota illa regio viris, equis, ferro, plumbo, ære, argento, auroque abundat, et ubi penuriâ aquarum minùs est fertilis, linum tamen aut spar-tum alit. Marmoris quoque lapicidinas habet. In Bæticâ minium reperitur.

4. Gallia posita est inter Pyrenæos montes et Rhenum; orientalem oram Tuscum mare alluit, occidentalem Oceanus. Ejus pars illa, quæ Italæ est opposita et Narbonensis vocatur, omnium est lœtissima. In eâ orâ sita est Massilia, urbs a Phœcæis condita, qui, patriâ a Persis devictâ, quum servitutem ferre non possent, Asiâ relictâ, novas in Europâ sedes quæsiverant. Ibidem est campus lapideus, ubi Hercules dicitur contra Neptuni liberos dimicâsse. Quum tela defecissent, Jupiter filium imbre lapidum adjuvit. Credas pluisse; adeò multi passim jacent.

5. Rhodanus fluvius, haud longè a Rheni fontibus ortus, lacu Lemâno excipitur, servatque impetum, ita ut per medium lacum integer fluat, tantusque, quantus venit, egreditur. Inde ad occasum versus, Gallias aliquamdiu dirimit; donec, cursu in meridiem flexo, aliorum amnium accessu auctus in mare effunditur.

6. Ea pars Galliæ, quæ ad Rhenum porrigitur, frumenti pabulique feracissima est, cœlum salubre; noxia animalium genera pauca alit. Incolæ superbi et superstitionis, ita ut Deos humanis victimis gaudere existiment. Magistri religionum et sapientiæ sunt Druidæ, qui, quæ se scire profitentur, in antris abditisque silvis docent. Animas æternas esse credunt, vitamque alteram post mortem incipere. Hanc ob causam cum defunctis arma cremant aut defodiunt, eamque doctrinam homines ad bellum alacriores facere existimant.

7. Universa Gallia divisa est inter tres magnos populos, qui fluvii terminantur. A Pyrenæo monte usque ad Garumnam Aquitani habitant; inde ad Sequänam Celtæ; Belgæ denique usque ad Rhenum pertinent.

8. Garumna amnis, ex Pyrenæo monte delapsus, diu vadosus est et vix navigabilis. Quanto magis procedit, tanto fit latior; ad postremum magni freti similis, non solùm majora navigia tolerat, verùm etiam more maris exsurgit, navingantesque atrociter jactat.

9. Sequāna ex Alpibus ortus in septentrionem pergit. Postquam se haud procul Lutetiâ cum Matrōnâ conjunxit, Oceano infunditur. Hæc flumina opportunissima sunt mercibus permutandis et ex mari interno in Oceanum transvehendis.

10. Rhenus itidem ex Alpibus ortus, haud procul ab origine, lacum efficit Venētum, qui etiam Brigantiae appellatur. Deinde longo spatio per fines Helvetiorum, Mediomaticorum et Trevirorum continuo alveo fertur, aut modicas insulas circumfluens; in agro Batāvo autem, ubi Oceano appropinquavit, in plures amnes dividitur; nec jam amnis, sed ripis longè recedentibus, ingens lacus, Flevo appellatur, ejusdemque nominis insulam amplexus, fit iterum arcutor et fluvius iterum in mare emittitur.

11. Trans Rhenum Germani habitant usque ad Vistulam, quæ finis est Germaniae ad orientem. Ad meridiem terminatur Alpibus, ad septentrionem mari Britannico et Baltico. Incolæ corporum proceritate excellunt. Animos bellando, corpora laboribus exercent. Hanc ob causam crebrò bella gerunt cum finitimis, non tam finium prolatandorum causâ, aut imperii cupiditate, sed ob belli amorem. Mites tamen sunt erga supplices et boni hospitibus. Urbes mœnibus cinctas, aut fossis aggeribusque munitas non habent. Ipsas domos ad breve tempus struunt, non lapidibus aut lateribus coctis, sed lignis, quæ frondibus tegunt. Nam diu eodem in loco morari periculosum arbitrantur libertati.

12. Agriculturæ Germani non admodum student, nec quisquam agri modum certum aut fines proprios habet. Iacte vescuntur et caseo et carne. Ubi fons, campus nemusve iis placuerit, ibi domos figunt, mox aliò transituri cum conjugibus et liberis. Interdum etiam hiemem in subterraneis specubus dicuntur transigere.

13. Germania altis montibus, silvis paludibusque, invia redditur. Inter silvas maxima est Hercynia, cuius latitudinem Cæsar novem dierum iter patere narrat. Insequent tempore magna pars ejus excisa est. Flumina sunt in Germaniâ multa et magna. Inter hæc clarissimum nomen Rheni, de quo supra diximus, et Danubii. Clari quoque amnes, Mœnus, Visurgis, Albis. Danubius, omnium Europæ fluminum maximus, apud Rhætos oritur, flexoque ad ortum solis cursu, receptisque sexaginta amnibus, in Pontum Euxinum sex vastis ostiis effunditur.

14. Britanniam insulam Phœnicibus innotuisse, eosque stannum inde et plumbum pellesque petivisse, probabile est. Romanis eam Julius Cæsar primus aperuit; neque tamen priùs cognita esse cœpit, quàm Claudio imperante. Hadrianus eam, muro ab oceano Germanico ad Hibernicum mare ducto, in duas partes divisit, ut inferiorem insulæ partem, quæ Romanis parebat, a barbarorum populorum, qui in Scotiâ habitabant, incursionibus tueretur.

15. Maxima insulæ pars campestris, collibus passim silvisque distincta. Incolæ Gallos proceritate corporum vincunt, cæterùm ingenio Gallis similes, simpliciores tamen illis magisque barbari. Nemora habitant pro urbibus. Ibi tuguria exstruunt et stabula pecori, sed plerumque ad breve tempus. Humanitate cæteris præstant ii, qui Cantium incolunt. Tota hæc regio est maritima. Qui interiorem insulæ partem habitant, frumenta non serunt; lacte et carne vivunt. Pro vestibus induiti sunt pellibus.

16. Italia ab Alpibus usque ad fretum Siculum porrigitur inter mare Tuseum et Adriaticum. Multo longior est quàm latior. In medio se attollit Apenninus mons, qui, postquam continentis jugo progressus est usque ad Apuliam, in duos quasi ramos dividitur. Nobilissima regio ob fertilitatem soli, cœlique salubritatem. Quum longè in mare procurrat, plurimos habet portus, populorum inter se patentes commercio. Neque ulla facilè est regio, quæ tot tamque pulchras urbes habeat, inter quas Roma et magnitudine et nominis famâ eminet.

17. Hæc urbs, orbis terrarum caput, septem montes complectitur. Initio quatuor portas habebat; Augusti ævo triginta septem. Urbis magnificentiam augebant fora, templa, porticus, aqueductus, theatra, arcus triumphales, horti denique, et id genus alia, ad quæ vel lecta animus stupet. Quare rectè de ea prædicare videntur, qui nullius urbis in toto orbe terrarum magnificentiam ei comparari posse dixerunt.

18. Felicissima in Italiâ regio est Campania. Multi ibi vitiferi colles, ubi nobilissima vina gignuntur, Setinum, Cæcubum, Falernum, Massicum. Calidi ibidem fontes saluberrimi. Nusquam generosior olea. Conchylio quoque et pisce nobili maria vicina scatent.

19. Clarissimi amnes Italiæ sunt Padus et Tiberis. Et Padus quidem in superiore parte, quæ Gallia Cisalpina vocatur, ab imis radicibus Vesuli montis exoritur; primùm exilis, deinde aliis amnibus ita alitur, ut se per septem ostia in mare effundat. Tiberis, qui antiquissimis temporibus Albulae nomen habebat, ex Apennino oritur; deinde duobus et quadraginta fluminibus auctus, fit navigabilis. Plurimas in utrâque ripâ villas adspicit, præcipue autem urbis Romanæ magnificentiam. Placidissimus amnium raro ripas egreditur.

20. In inferiore parte Italiæ clara quondam urbs Tarentum, quæ maris sinui, cui adjacet, nomen dedit. Soli fertilitas cœlique jucunda temperies in causâ fuisse videtur, ut incolæ luxuriâ et deliciis enervarentur. Quumque aliquamdiu potentia florerent copiasque haud contemnendas alerent, peregrinis tamen plerumque ducibus in bellis utebantur, ut Pyrrho, rege Epiri, quo superato, urbs in Romanorum potestatem venit.

21. Proxima Italie est Sicilia, insula omnium maris interni maxima. Antiquissimis temporibus eam cum Italiam cohæsisse, marisque impetu, aut terræ motu inde divulsam esse, verisimile est. Forma triangularis, ita ut litteræ, quam Græci Delta vocant, imaginem referat. A tribus promontoriis vocatur Trinacia. Nobilissimus ibi mons Ætnæ, qui urbi Catænæ imminet, tum ob altitudinem, tum etiam ob ignes, quos effundit; quare Cyclōpum in illo monte officinam esse poëtæ dicunt. Cineres e crateribus egesti agrum circumiacentem fœcundum et feracem reddere existimantur. Sunt ibi Piorum campi, qui nomen habent a duobus juvenibus Catanensibus, qui flammis quondam repente ingruentibus, parentes senectute confectos, humeris sublatos, flammæ eripuisse feruntur. Nomina fratribus Amphinomus et Anapus fuerunt.

22. Inter urbes Siciliæ nulla est illustrior Syracusis, Corinthiorum coloniæ, ex quinque urbibus conflatâ. Ab Atheniensibus bello petita, maximas hostium copias delevit; Carthaginienses etiam magnis interdum cladibus affecit. Secundo bello Punico per triennium oppugnata, Archimedes potissimum ingenio et arte defensa, a M. Marcello capta est. Vicinus huic urbi fons Arethusæ Nymphæ sacer, ad quam Alphæus amnis ex Peloponneso per mare Ionium lapsus comissari dicitur. Nam si quid ad Olympiam in illum amnem jactum fuerit, id in Arethusæ fonte reddi¹. De illâ fabulâ quid statuendum sit, sponte apparent.

23. In mari Ligustico insula est Corsica, quam Græci Cyrnum vocant. Terra aspera multisque locis invia, cœlum grave, mare circè importunum. Incolæ latrociniis dediti, feri sunt et horridi. Mella quoque illius insulæ amara esse dicuntur corporibusque nocere. Proxima ei est Sardinia, quæ a Græcis mercatoribus Ichnusa vocatur, quia formam humani vestigii habet. Solum quām cœlum melius. Illud fertile, hoc grave ac noxiū. Noxia quoque animalia herbasque venenatas gignit. Multum inde frumenti Romam mittitur; unde hæc insula et Sicilia nutrices Urbis vocantur.

24. Græcia nominis celebritate omnes ferè alias orbis terrarum regiones superavit. Nulla enim magnorum ingeniiorum fuit feracior; neque ulla belli pacisque artes majore studio excoluit. Plurimas eadem colonias in omnes terræ partes deduxit. Multùm itaque terrâ marique valuit, et gravissima bella magnâ cum gloriâ gessit.

25. Græcia inter Ionium et Ægæum mare porrigitur. In plurimas regiones divisa est, quarum amplissimæ sunt Macedonia et Epirus—quamquam hæ a nonnullis a Græciâ sejunguntur—tum Thessalia. Macedoniam Philippi et Alexandri regnum illustravit; quorum ille Græciam subegit, hic Asiam latissimè domuit, ereptumque Persis imperium in Maceđones transtulit. Centum ejus regionis et quinquaginta urbes numerantur; quarum septuaginta duas, Perseo, ultimo Macedoniæ rege, superato, Paullus Æmilius diripuit.

26. Epirus, quæ ab Acrocerauniis incipit montibus, desinit in Acheloo flumine. Plures eam populi incolunt. Illustris ibi Dodona in Molossorum finibus, vetustissimo Jovis oraculo inclyta. Columbæ ibi ex arboribus oracula dedisse narrantur; quercusque ipsas et lebētes æneos inde suspensos Deorum voluntatem tinnitu significâsse fama est.

27. Achelōi fluvii ostiis insulæ aliquot objacent, quarum maxima est Cephallenia. Multæ præterea insulæ littori Epiri adjacent, interque eas Corcyra, quam Homerus Scheriam appellâsse existimatur. In hâc Phœacis posuit ille et hortos Alcinoi. Coloniam huc deduxerunt Corinthii, quo tempore Numa Pompilius Romæ regnavit. Vicina ei Ithäca, Ulyssis patria, aspera montibus, sed Homeri carminibus adeò nobilitata, ut ne fertilissimis quidem regiouibus cedat.

28. Thessalia latè patet inter Macedoniam et Epirum, fœcunda regio, generosis præcipue equis excellens, unde Thessalorum equitatus celeberrimus. Montes ibi memorabiles Olympus, in quo Deorum sedes esse existimatur, Pelion et Ossa, per quos Gigantes cœlum petivisse dicuntur; Æta denique, in cuius vertice Hercules, rogo consenso, se ipsum cremavit. Inter Ossam et Olympum Peneus, limpidissimus amnis, delabitur, vallem amœnissimam, Tempe vocatam, irrigans.

29. Inter reliquas Græciæ regiones nominis claritate eminet Attica, quæ etiam Aththis vocatur. Ibi Athenæ, de quâ urbe Deos inter se certâsse fama est. Certius est, nullam unquam urbem tot poëtas tulisse, tot oratores, tot philosophos, totque in omni virtutis genere claros viros. Res autem bello eas gessit, ut huic soli gloriæ studere videretur; pacisque artes ita excoluit, ut hâc laude magis etiam quâm belli gloriâ splenderet. Arx ibi sive Acropolis, urbi imminens, unde latus in mare prospectus patet. Per propylæa ad eam adscenditur, splendidum Periclis opus. Cum ipsâ urbe per longos muros conjunctus est portus Piræus, post bellum Persicum secundum, a Themistocle munitus. Tutissima ibi statio navium.

30. Atticam attingit Bœotia, fertilissima regio. Incolæ magis corporibus valent, quam ingenii. Urbs celeberrima Thebæ, quas Amphion, musices ope, mœnibus cinxisse dicitur. Illustravit eam Pindari poetæ ingenium, Epaminondæ virtus. Mons ibi Helicon, Musarum sedes, et Cithæron, plurimis poëtarum fabulis celebratus.

31. Bœotiae Phocis finitima, ubi Delphi urbs clarissima. In quâ urbe oraculum Apollinis quantam apud omnes gentes auctoritatem habuerit, quot quamque præclara munera ex omni ferè terrarum orbe Delphos missa fuerint, nemo ignorat. Imminet urbi Parnassus mons, in cuius verticibus Musæ habitare dicuntur, unde aqua fontis Castalii poëtarum ingenia inflammare existimatur.

32. Cum eâ parte Græciæ, quam hactenus descripsimus, cohæret ingens peninsula, quæ Peloponnesus vocatur, platani folio simillima. Angustus ille trames inter Ægæum mare et Ionium, per quem cum Megaride cohæret, Isthmus appellatur. In eo templum Neptuni est, ad quod ludi celebrantur Isthmici. Ibidem in ipso Peloponnesi aditu, Corinthus sita est, urbs antiquissima, ex cuius summâ aree (Acrocorinthon appellant) utrumque mare conspicitur. Quum opibus floreret, maritimisque valeret copiis, gravia bella gessit. In bello Achaico, quod Romani cum Græcis gesserunt, pulcherrima urbs, quam Cicero Græciæ lumen appellat, a L. Mummo expugnata funditusque deleta est. Restituit eam Julius Cæsar, colonosque eò milites veteranos misit.

33. Nobilis est in Peloponneso urbs Olympia, templo Jovis Olympii ac statua illustris. Statua ex ebore facta, Phidiæ summi artificis opus præstantissimum. Prope illud templum ad Alphei fluminis ripas ludi celebrantur Olympici, ad quos videndos ex totâ Græciâ concurritur. Ab his ludis Græca gens res gestas suas numerat.

34. Nec Sparta prætereunda est, urbs nobilissima, quam Lycurgi leges, civiumque virtus et patientia illustravit. Nulla ferè gens bellicā laude magis floruit, pluresque viros fortes constantesque genuit. Urbi imminet mons Taygētus, qui usque ad Arcadiam procurrit. Proximè urbem Eurōtas fluvius delabitur, ad cuius ripas Spartani se exercere solebant. In Sinū Laconicum effunditur. Mercatus in Delo celeberrimus, quòd ob portūs commoditatē templique religionem mercatores ex toto orbe terrarum eò confluebant. Eandem ob causam civitates Græciæ, post secundum Persicum bellum, tributa ad belli usum in eam insulam, tamquam in commune totius Græciæ ærarium, conferebant; quam pecuniam insequentī tempore Athenienses in suam urbem transtulerunt.

Fretum, quo a Græciâ sejungitur, vocatur Euripus, sæcum et æstuosum mare, quod continuo motu agitatur. Nonnulli dicunt, septies quovis die, statis temporibus, fluctus alterno motu agitari; alii hoc negant, dicentes, mare temerè, in venti modum, hue illuc moveri. Sunt, qui narrent, Aristotelem philosophum, quia hujus miraculi causas investigare non posset, ægritudine confectum esse.

37. Jam ad Boreales regiones pergamus. Supra Macedonia Thracia porrigitur a ponto Euxino usque ad Illyriam. Regio frigida et in iis tantum partibus fœcundior, quæ propiores sunt mari. Pomiferæ arbores raræ; frequentiores vites; sed uvæ non maturescunt, nisi frigus studiosè arcet. Sola Thasus, insula littori Thraciæ adjacentis, vino excellit. Amnes sunt celeberrimi Hebrus, ad quem Orpheus a Mænadibus disceptus esse dicitur; Nestus et Strymon. Montes altissimi, Hæmus, ex cuius vertice Pontus et Adria conspicitur; Rhodope et Orbælus.

38. Plures Thraciam gentes incolunt, nominibus diversæ et moribus. Inter has Getæ omnium sunt ferocissimi et ad mortem paratissimi. Animas enim post mortem reddituras existimant. Hæ omnes, viro defuncto, mactari simulque cum eo sepeliri cupiunt, magnoque id certamine a judicibus contendunt. Virgines non parentibus traduntur viris, sed aut publicè ducendæ locantur, aut veneunt. Formosæ in pretio sunt; cæteræ maritos mercede datâ inveniunt.

39. Inter urbes Thraciæ memorabile est Byzantium, ad Bosporum Thracium, urbs naturâ munita et arte, quæ cùm ob soli fertilitatem, tum ob vicinitatem maris omnium rerum, quas vita requirit, copiâ abundat. Nomen etiam habet in iisdem regionibus urbs Ænos, ab Ænēâ, e patriâ profugo, condita; Zone, ubi nemora Orpheum canentem secuta esse narrantur; Abdēra denique, ubi Diomēdes rex advenas equis suis devorandos objiciebat, donec ipse ab Hercule iisdem objectus est. Quæ urbs quum ranarum muriumque multitudine infestaretur, incolæ, relicto patriæ solo, novas sedes quæsiverunt. Hos Cassander, rex Macedoniæ, in societatem accepisse, agrosque in extremâ Macedoniâ assignâsse dicitur.

40. Jam de Scythis pauca dicenda sunt. Terminatur Scythia ab uno latere Ponto Euxino, ab altero montibus Rhipæis, a tergo, Asiâ et Phaside flumine. Vasta regio nullis ferè intus finibus dividitur. Scythæ enim nec agrum exercent, nec certas sedes habent, sed armenta et pecora pascentes, per incultas solitudines errare solent. Uxores liberosque secum in plaustris vehunt. Lacte et melle vescuntur; aurum et argentum, cuius nullus apud eos usus est, aspernantur. Corpora pellibus vestiunt.

41. Diversæ sunt Scytharum gentes diversique mores. Sunt, qui funera parentum festis sacrificiis celebrent, eorumque capitibus assabré expolitis auroque vinctis propoculis utantur. Agathyrsi ora et corpora pingunt, idque tanto magis, quanto quis illustrioribus gaudet majoribus³. Ii, qui Tauricam Chersonesum incolunt, antiquissimis temporibus advenas Dianæ mactabant. Interiùs habitantes cæteris rudiores sunt. Bella amant, et quò quis plures hostes interemerit, eò majore existimatione apud suos habetur. Ne fœdera quidem incruenta sunt. tum. Pontus ipse ingens est maris sinus, non molli neque arenoso circumdatus littore, tempestatibus obnoxius, raris stationibus. Olim ob saevitatem populorum, qui circâ habitant, Axenus appellatus fuisse dicitur; postea, mollitis illorum moribus, dictus est Euxinus.

57. Incolarum habitus moresque diversi. Lino alii vestiuntur et lanis arborum, alii ferarum aviumque pellibus, pars nudi incedunt. Quidam animalia occidere eorumque carnibus vesci nefas putant; alii piscibus tantùm aluntur. Quidam parentes et propinquos, priùs quām annis et macie conficiantur, velut hostias cædunt eorumque visceribus epulantur; ubi senectus eos morbusve invadit, mortem in solitudine æquo animo exspectant. Ii, qui sapientiam profitentur, ab ortu solis ad occasum stare solent, solem immobilibus oculis intuentes; ferventibus arenis toto die alternis pedibus insistunt. Mortem non exspectant, sed sponte arcessunt, in rogos incensos se præcipitantes.

58. Maximos India elephantos gignit, adeoque feroce, ut Afri elephanti illos paveant nec contueri audeant. Hoc animal cætera omnia docilitate superat. Discunt arma jacere, gladiatorum more congregari, saltare et per funes incedere. Plinius narrat, Romæ unum segnioris ingenii sæpius castigatum esse verberibus, quia tardius accipiebat, quæ tradebantur; eundem repertum esse noctu eadem meditantem⁷. Elephanti gregatim semper ingrediuntur. Dicit agmen maximus natu, cogit is, qui ætate ei est proximus. Amnem transituri minimos præmittunt. Capiuntur foveis. In has ubi elephas deciderit, cæteri ramos congerunt, aggeres construunt, omnique vi conantur extrahere. Domantur fame et verberibus. Domiti militant et turrem armatorum in hostes ferunt, magnâque ex parte Orientis bella conficiunt. Totas acies prosternunt, armatos proterrunt. Ingens dentibus pretium. In Græciâ ebur ad deorum simulacra tamquam pretiosissima materia adhibetur; in extremis Africæ postium vicem in domiciliis præbet, sepesque in pecorum stabulis elephantorum dentibus fiunt. Inter omnia animalia maximè oderunt murem. Infestus elephanto etiam rhinoceros, qui nomen habet a cornu, quod in naso gerit. In pugna maximè adversarii alvum petit, quam scit esse molliorem. Longitudine elephantum serè exæquat; crura multò breviora; color buxeus.

59. Etiam psittacos India mittit. Hæc avis humanas voces optimè reddit. Quum loqui discit, ferreo radio verberatur, aliter enim non sentit ictus. Capiti ejus eadem est duritia, quæ rostro. Quum devolat, rostro se excipit⁸, eique innititur.

60. Testudines tantæ magnitudinis Indicum mare emittit, ut singularum testis casas integant. Insulas rubri præcipuè maris his navigant cymbis. Capiuntur obdormientes in summâ aquâ, id quod proditur stertentium sonitu. Tum terni adnatant, a duobus in dorsum vertitur, a tertio laqueus injicitur, atque ita a pluribus in littore stantibus trahitur. In mari testudines conchyliis vivunt; tanta enim oris est duritia, ut lapides comminuant; in terram egressæ, herbis. Pariunt ova, ovis avium similia, ad centena numero; eaque extra aquam defossâ terrâ cooperiunt.

61. Margaritæ Indici oceani omnium maximè laudantur. Inveniuntur in conchis, scopolis adhærentibus. Maxima laus est in candore, magnitudine, lævore, pondere. Rarò duæ inveniuntur, quæ sibi ex omni parte sint similes. Has auribus suspendere, seminarum est gloria. Duos maximos uniones Cleopatra, Ægypti regina, habuisse dicitur. Horum unum, ut Antonium magnificentiâ superaret, in cœnâ aceto solvit, solutum hausit.

62. Ægyptus, inter Catabathmum et Arabas posita, a plurimis ad Asiam refertur; alii Asiam Arabico sinu terminari existimant. Hæc regio, quamquam expers est imbrium, mirè tamen est fertilis. Hoc Nilus efficit, omnium fluviorum, qui in mare internum effunduntur, maximus. Hic in desertis Africæ oritur, tum ex Æthiopia descendit in Ægyptum, ubi de altis rupibus præcipitatus usque ad Elephantidem urbem fervens adhuc decurrit. Tum demum fit placidor. Juxta Cercasorum oppidum in plures amnes dividitur, et tandem per septem ora effunditur in mare.

63. Nilus, nivibus in Æthiopiæ montibus solutis, crescere incipit Lunâ novâ post solstitium per quinquaginta ferè dies; totidem diebus minuitur. Justum incrementum est cubitorum sedecim. Si minores sunt aquæ, non omnia rigant. Maximum incrementum fuit cubitorum duodeviginti; minimum quinque. Quum stetere aquæ, aggeres aperiuntur, et arte aqua in agros immittitur. Quum omnis recesserit, agri irrigati et limo obducti seruntur.

64. Nilus crocodilum alit, belluam quadrupedem, in terrâ non minùs quàm in flumine hominibus infestam. Unum hoc animal terrestre linguæ usu caret; dentium plures habet ordines; maxilla inferior est immobilis. Magnitudine excedit plerumque duodeviginti cubita. Parit ova anserinis non majora. Unguis etiam armatus est, et cute contra omnes ictus invictâ. Dies in terrâ agit, noctes in aquâ. Quum satur est et in littore somnum capit, ore hiantem conspicatus ichneumon, per easdem fauces, ut telum aliquod immissus, erôdit alvum. Hebëtes oculos dicitur habere in aquâ, extra aquam acerrimos. Tentyritæ in insulâ Nili habitantes, diræ huic belluæ obviâm ire audent, eamque incredibili audaciâ expugnant.

65. Aliam etiam belluam Nilus alit, hippopotamum; ungulis binis, dorso equi et jubâ et hinnitu; rostro resimo, caudâ et dentibus aprorum. Cutis impenetrabilis, præterquàm si humore madeat. Primus hippopotamum et quinque crocodilos M. Scaurus ædilitatis suæ ludis Romæ ostendit.

66. Multa in Ægypto mira sunt et artis et naturæ opera. Inter ea, quæ manibus hominum facta sunt, eminent pyramides, quarum maximæ sunt et celeberrimæ in monte sterili inter Memphin oppidum et eam partem Ægypti, quæ Delta vocatur. Amplissimam earum trecenta sexaginta sex hominum millia annis viginti extruxisse traduntur. Hæc octo jugera soli occupat; unumquodque latus octingentos octoginta tres pedes longum est; altitudo a cœcumine, pedum quindecim millium. Intus in eâ est puteus octoginta sex cubitorum. Ante has pyramides Sphinx est posita miræ magnitudinis. Capitis ambitus centum duos pedes habet; longitudo est pedum centum quadraginta trium; altitudo a ventre usque ad summum capitinis apicem sexaginta duorum.

67. Inter miracula Ægypti commemoratur etiam Mœris lacus, quingenta millia passuum in circuitu patens; Labyrinthus, ter mille domos et regias duodecim uno pariete amplexus, totus marmore exstructus tectusque; turris denique in insulâ Pharo, a Ptolemæo, Lagi filio, condita. Usus ejus navibus noctu ignes ostendere ad prænuntianda vada portusque introitum.

68. In palustribus Ægypti regionibus papyrus nascitur. Radicibus incolæ pro ligno utuntur; ex ipso autem papyro navigia texunt, e libro vela, tegentes, vestem ac funes. Succi causâ etiam mandunt modò crudum, modò decoctum. Præparantur ex eo etiam chartæ. Chartæ ex papyro usus post Alexandri demum victorias repertus est. Primò enim scriptum in palmarum foliis, deinde in libris quarundam arborum; postea publica monumenta plumbeis tabulis confici, aut marmoribus mandari cœpta sunt. Tandem æmulatio regum Ptolemæi et Eumenis in bibliothēcis condendis occasionem dedit membranas Pergami inveniendi. Ab eo inde tempore libri modò in chartâ ex papyro factâ, modò in membranis scripti sunt.

69. Mores incolarum Ægypti ab aliorum populorum moribus vehementer discrepant. Mortuos nec cremant, nec sepeliunt; verùm arte medicatos intra penetralia collocaunt. Negotia extra domos feminæ, viri domos et res domesticas curant; onera illæ humeris, hi capitibus gerunt. Colunt effigies multorum animalium et ipsa animalia. Hæc interfecisse capitale est; morbo extincta lugent et sepeliunt.

70. Apis omnium Ægypti populorum numen est; bos niger cum candidâ in dextro latere maculâ; nodus sub lin-guâ, quem canthârum appellant. Non fas est eum certos vitæ annos excedere. Ad hunc vitæ terminum quum pervenerit, mersum in fonte enecant. Necatum lugent, aliumque quærunt, quem ei substituant; nec tamen unquam diu quæritur. Délûbra ei sunt gemina, quæ thalamos vocant, ubi populus auguria captat. Alterum intrâsse lætum est; in altero dira portendit. Pro bono etiam habetur signo, si e manibus consulentium cibum capit. In publicum procedentem grex puerorum comitatur, carmenque in ejus honorem canunt, idque videtur intelligere.

71. Ultra Ægyptum Æthiopes habitant. Horum pop-uli quidam Macrobii vocantur, quia paulò quàm nos diutius vivunt. Plus auri apud eos reperitur, quàm æris; hanc ob causam æs illis videtur pretiosius. Ære se exornant, vincula auro fabricant. Lacus est apud eos, cujus aqua tam est liquida atque levis, ut nihil eorum, quæ immittuntur, sustinere queat; quare arborum quoque folia non innâtant aquaæ, sed pessum aguntur.

72. Africa ab oriente terminatur Nilo; a cæteris partibus mari. Regiones ad mare positæ eximiè sunt fertiles; interiores incultæ et arenis sterilibus tectæ, et ob nimium calorem desertæ. Prima pars ab occidente est Mauritania. Ibi mons præaltus Abyla, Calpe monti in Hispaniâ oppositus. Hi montes columnæ Herculis appellantur. Fa-ma est, ante Herculem mare internum terris inclusum fuisse, nec exitum habuisse in Oceanum; Herculem autem junctos montes diremisse et mare junxisse cum Oceano.
Cæterùm regio illa est ignobilis et parvis tantùm oppidis habitatur. Solum melius quàm incolæ.

73. Numidia magis culta et opulentior. Ibi satîs longo a littore intervallo saxa cernuntur attrita fluctibus, spinæ piscium, ostreorumque fragmenta, ancoræ etiam cautibus infixaæ, et alia ejusmodi signa maris olim usque ad ea loca effusi. Finitima regio, a promontorio Metagonio ad aras Philænorum, propriè vocatur Africa. Urbes in eâ celeberrimæ Utica et Carthago, ambæ a Phœnicibus conditæ. Carthaginem divitiæ, mercaturâ in primis comparatæ, tum bella cum Romanis gesta, excidium denique illustravit.

74. De aris Philænorum hæc narrantur. Pertinacissima fuerat contentio inter Carthaginem et Cyrenas de finibus. Tandem placuit, utrinque eodem tempore juvenes mitti, et locum, quò convenissent, pro finibus haberí. Carthaginiensium legati, Philæni fratres, paulò ante tempus constitutum egressi esse dicuntur. Quod quum Cyrenensium legati intellexissent, magna exorta esset contentio, tandem Cyrenenses dixerunt, se tum demum hunc locum pro finibus habituros esse, si Philæni se ibi vivos obrui passi essent. Illi conditionem acceperunt. Carthaginienses autem animosis juvenibus in illis ipsis locis, ubi vivi sepulti sunt, aras consecraverunt, eorumque virtutem æternis honoribus prosecuti sunt.

75. Inde ad Catabathmum Cyrenaica porrigitur, ubi Ammonis oraculum et fons quidam, quem Solis esse dicunt. Hic fons mediâ nocte servet, tum paulatim tepescit; sole oriente fit frigidus; per meridiem maximè riget. Catabathmus vallis est devixa versùs Ægyptum. Ibi finitur Africa. Proximi his populi urbes non habent, sed in tuguriis vivunt, quæ mapalia vocantur. Vulgus pecudum vestitur pellibus. Potus est lac succusque baccharum; cibus caro. Interiores etiam incultiùs vivunt. Sequuntur greges suos, utque hi pabulo ducuntur, ita illi tuguria sua promövent. Leges nullas habent, nec in commune consultant. Inter hos Troglodytæ in specubus habitant, serpentibusque aluntur.

76. Ferarum Africa feracissima. Pardos, pantheras, leones gignit, quod belluarum genus Europa ignorat. Leoni præcipua generositas. Prostratis parcere dicitur; in infantes nonnisi summâ fame sœvit. Animi ejus index cauda, quam, dum placidus est, immotam servat; dum irascitur, terram et se ipsum eâ flagellat. Vis summa in pectore. Si fugere cogitur, contemtim cedit, quâm diu spectari potest; in silvis acerrimo cursu fertur. Vulneratus percussorem novit, et in quantâlibet multitudine appetit. Hoc tam sœvum animal gallinacei cantus terret. Domatur etiam ab hominibus. Hanno Pœnus primus leonem mansuetum ostendisse dicitur. Marcus autem Antonius, triumvir, primus, post pugnam in campis Philippicis, Romæ leones ad currum junxit.

77. Struthiocameli Afri ci altitudinem equitis equo incidentis exæquant, celeritatem vincunt. Pennæ ad hoc demum videntur datae, ut currentes adjūvent; nam a terrâ tolli non possunt. Ungulæ cervinis sunt similes. His in fugâ comprehendunt lapides, eosque contra sequentes jaculantur. Omnia concōquunt. Cæterùm magna iis stoliditas, ita ut, quum caput et collum frutice occultaverint, se latere existiment. Pennæ eorum quæruntur ad ornatum.

78. Africa serpentes generat vicenorum cubitorum; nec minores India. Certè Megasthenes scribit, serpentes ibi in tantam magnitudinem adolescere, ut solidos hauriant cervos taurosque. In primo Punico bello ad flumen Bagradam serpens centum viginti pedum a Regulo, imperatore Romano, ballistis et tormentis expugnata esse fertur. Pellis ejus et maxillæ diu Romæ in templo quodam asservatæ sunt. In Indiâ serpentes perpetuum bellum cum elephantis gerunt. Ex arboribus se in prætereuntes præcipitant gressusque ligant nodis. Hos nodos elephantî manu resolvunt. At dracones in ipsas elephantorum nares caput condunt spiritumque præcludunt plerumque in illâ dimicatione utrique commoriuntur, dum yictus elephas corruens serpentem pondere suo elidit.

Adam's Latin Grammar.

Price $1,00.

ADAM'S LATIN GRAMMAR, with some Improvements, and the following Additions : Rules for the right Pronunciation of the Latin Language ; a Metrical Key to the Odes of Horace ; a List of Latin Authors, arranged according to the different Ages of Roman Literature ; Tables showing the Value of the various Coins, Weights, and Measures, used among the Romans. By B. A. Gould, Master of the Public Latin School in Boston.—This edition is adopted by the University at Cambridge, Mass. and is recommended to the use of those preparing for that Seminary. Second Edition. Stereotyped.

EXTRACT FROM THE PREFACE.

The experience of twenty-six years, and the united approbation of the most judicious instructors in our country, give ample testimony to the excellence of Adam's Latin Grammar. And it is worthy of remark, that, amidst the changes of almost every thing connected with education, this work has maintained its popularity throughout the country since the year 1799, when it was recommended by the University of Cambridge. But several typographical errors, which were adopted from that Edinburgh edition, from which the first American edition was copied, have been transmitted through subsequent editions to the present time with such scrupulous exactness, that they have now become canonized, and are received as authority. Besides these, other errors have been creeping in, till a thorough revision of the work has become necessary. At the time this book was first compiled, the state of education in Scotland may have been such as to render the connexion of the Latin with the English necessary, in the manner they were blended by Dr. Adam ; but that necessity does not exist in this country, where English grammar is separately taught from the more complete systems of Lowth and Murray. For this reason, and because what is not used in a manual becomes a hinderance, the portion pertaining exclusively to English grammar has been omitted in this edition ; and some few additions and alterations have been made which were deemed important. But in all cases, where it was practicable, the words of the original grammar have been preserved.

Gould's Virgil.

Price $3,50.

PUBLIUS VIRGILIUS MARO. Bucolica, Georgica, et Æneis. Accedunt Clavis Metrica, Notulæ Anglicæ, et Questiones, nec non Index Vocabulorum Uberrima. Cura B. A. Gould. In Usum Scholæ Bostoniensis.

THIS edition of Virgil is printed without the usual order of construction, or interpretation. The use of these pernicious helps not only prevents the pupil from ever acquiring the power of reading with ease and pleasure without them, but it is utterly subversive of one of the principal objects of studying the language.—that mental discipline which is acquired by the practice of critical and exact analysis.

To aid the scholar in overcoming the real difficulties in understanding this author, copious English notes are added at the end. In preparing these notes, free use has been made of all the materials within the editor's reach. In the vast variety of materials presented, it has been found difficult to be sufficiently concise. For it is easy to say much upon Virgil, but difficult to say little to the point.

A list of the verses most difficult to scan is subjoined, with the method of scanning each. A few questions are also added, which may expedite the labour of the teacher in ascertaining whether the pupil has been thorough in his preparations.

The work is published on a fine paper, and beautiful type ; and is, altogether, far superior to any other edition of Virgil in use.

Gould's Ovid.

Price $1,25.

EXCERPTA EX SCRIPTIS PUBLII OVIDII NASONIS, being a Selection from the Metamorphoses, Epistles, and Elegies of Ovid, with English Notes, and Questions at the end, for the use of Schools. By B. A. Gould, Master of the Public Latin School of Boston.

This work is printed with a beautiful, new type, on fine paper, and in the same style with the Virgil recently published by the same editor.

EXTRACT FROM THE PREFACE.

In preparing this little volume from the writings of Ovid, great care has been taken to admit nothing in the slightest degree indelicate, or improper for the study of youth. One object has been to furnish examples of the different kinds of measure used by this polished and fascinating writer. It is not a little surprising, that, in the whole course of studies preparatory for, and pursued at, our colleges, not a verse of Pentameter measure is included. This is the more surprising, since, in addition to the frequency with which this kind of versification occurs, it may be considered one of the most easy and graceful which the ancient poets used. This book is intended as a kind of introduction to Mythology ; and the questions are designed to direct the student's attention to the subject of the notes, as well as to that of the text ; for a knowledge of the characters here introduced will greatly facilitate a proper understanding of all subsequent studies in Latin and Greek.

The Latin Reader, Part Second.

Price 75 cents.

THE LATIN READER, Part Second, chiefly from the Fourth German Edition of F. Jacobs and T. W. Doering. Edited by George Bancroft.

THE present continuation of the Latin Reader has for its object, to provide a work suited to the purposes of instruction in the Latin language, of a classic character, interesting to the young mind, and conveying useful information. The first part of this little volume contains select fables from Phædrus ; these are followed by extracts taken almost entirely from Cicero and Livy ; the volume closes with an abridgment of Justin, for the excellence of which, the name of Jacobs is alone a sufficient guarantee. Most of the "Short Narrations" were selected by Doering, who acted in concert with Jacobs. A few more have been added from the twelfth German edition of an elementary work, compiled by Broeder. But it is not by the authority of celebrated names that a school book must be supported. If the present one has any excellence, it consists in this ; that, by means of judicious and easy selections, the pupil is at once introduced to the fine passages and pure writers of antiquity, without encountering difficulties beyond his strength.

The teacher, in giving instruction, will perceive the necessity of directing his main attention to the language. The rules of grammar, in their various application, need to be explained ; and it is especially important to illustrate each individual word with philosophical method and accuracy, with reference to its derivation, its primary signification, and the meanings which it subsequently acquires.

Price $2.25.

THE GREEK READER of Frederic Jacobs, Professor of the Gymnasium at Gotha, and Editor of the Anthology. From the seventh German edition ; with an English Lexicon.

At a meeting of the Corporation of Harvard College,

Voted—“That this work be made use of in examining candidates for admission into the University, after the year 1826, instead of Græca Minora”

EXTRACT FROM THE PREFACE.

The Greek Reader, in the collection of sentences in the first part, arranged according to the rules of the Grammar, is designed to enable the learner to begin immediately to exercise himself, in putting to practice the principles and rules which he has learned in the Grammar. To direct his attention, the word, in which the rule is exemplified in each sentence, is distinguished in the printing.—These sentences, forming the first course, are succeeded by a few fables, and a choice of the best anecdotes and apothegms contained in the Greek writers ; which will not present undue difficulties to the learner well acquainted with the grammatical exercises that precede them.—The extracts in the department of natural history are from easy authors, and designed, in continuing the progress of the learner in the language, to afford him also amusing and instructive information.*

A chief object of the editor, in preparing this work, has been to furnish an elementary book to our schools, in which the Greek may be learned through the medium of the English. No learner, at school or elsewhere, can be as well acquainted with the Latin, as with his mother tongue. The practice of learning Greek through the medium of Latin has descended to us from a time when the Latin was a common language among scholars, when lectures at the universities were exclusively given in that tongue, and commentaries on authors and lexicons published in no other. For schools, however, there is no one circumstance to recommend the continuance of this practice, not even that of becoming more familiar with the Latin. The Latin of grammars, commentaries, and lexicons, is not that, which the learner ought to acquire ; and, while the Latin language should be studied in the purer sources of the ancient writers, the learner of Greek ought not to be embarrassed by having his attention diverted to any thing else, or his perceptions rendered difficult or indistinct by the foreign medium through which they are made, and with which he must of course be less familiar than with his native language. In Germany and France editions of Latin and Greek authors, for the use of schools, are furnished with notes in the vernacular tongue ; and the best lexicons of the Greek, in those countries, are also respectively in French and German. In this country, the opinion of scholars appears to be decided in the same result, and the Greek and English lexicon, on the basis of Schrevelius, recently published, is considered a great acquisition by the friends of Greek studies, and of an improved system of conducting them in this country. The quantity of matter contained in this work will be perceived to be considerably greater than in the Collectanea Græca Minoræ. The editor has been led to give it this extent, from the opinion that, in the improving condition of our colleges and schools, more Greek might be advantageously studied in the latter.

Buttmann's Greek Grammar.

Price 62½ cents.

GREEK GRAMMAR, principally abridged from that of Buttmann, for the use of Schools.

PREFACE.

THE superiority of Buttmann's Greek Grammar over any other is acknowledged; but it appears to many instructors, whose judgment deserves the highest respect, that the work presupposes, in those who are to make use of it, more maturity of mind than is to be expected of beginners. A desire has, therefore, been repeatedly expressed, that a small grammar, in accordance with Buttmann, might be prepared for those entering on the study of the Greek language. Such a grammar is now offered to the practical teacher.

This abridgment is designed to contain only the accidente and first principles of the language. All matter that is not of immediate importance and utility has been rejected; and it has uniformly been endeavoured to unite simplicity in the arrangement with clearness and conciseness in the expressions. In preparing the work, the best school grammars of the Germans and the English have been carefully consulted on every point, and the judgment of the editor, in what is retained and what is omitted, has been directed by a comparison of the best manuals. Particular assistance in these respects has been derived from the smaller grammar of Thiersch. The chapter on adjectives, the account of the contract verbs, and the remarks on the Homeric dialect, are entirely, or partly, from him. Still, there is nothing, which is not either contained or implied in the grammar of Buttmann, from which this professes to be taken.

The practical instructor has here, in a small compass, all that is essential to be taught in preparing a pupil for any of our colleges. The attention of the youngest can be directed without difficulty to those things, which should sink deeply into the memory. Too much care can hardly be taken to make the learner familiar with the forms of the nouns, and the paradigms of the verbs. These should be as familiar as are the Latin declensions and conjugations. In analyzing a sentence, the attention must first be directed to the finite verb. That is always a key to the rest; and it will not then be difficult to discover by degrees the subject and object, and their respective qualifications.

Price 75 cents.

CORNELIUS NEPOS, de vita Excellentium Imperatorum. From the third edition of J. H. Breini. With English Notes.

Nepos is, more than any other Roman writer, suited to be put into the hands of boys, who have made sufficient progress to be able to read a Roman author in course. The simplicity and classical character of his style, the separate lives, full of interest, and not long enough to weary; the extent of history, of which he gives a pleasing outline, by presenting, as in a gallery, those illustrious men, who directed the fortunes of antiquity; the general purity of the moral tendency of his writings; and the favourable moral influence which always follows from the true history of great men.—are circumstances, which sufficiently explain why he is so universally adopted in the European schools, and is beginning to be introduced in so many of our own.

The few notes which accompany this edition are selected and abridged from the commentary of Breini. In some instances, the phraseology of Bradley, an English editor, has been adopted, where his remarks coincided with those of the continental editor. The notes would have been selected much more freely, but for the fear of making the volume too large. They almost all of them relate to questions of grammar and language. These are the points to which the attention of boys is to be directed.

It is an evil, too common among us, to lead boys at an early period to the study of the poets; and to put Virgil into the hands of those who cannot readily explain an easy prose writer. Now, though the style of Virgil is plain, and his narration interesting, still he cannot be properly understood, except by one already practised in the language, and well accoustoined to mark peculiar uses of words; and it is an act of injustice to the young scholar, to put into his hands poems so full of the highest beauties of art, before he is exercised in all that is requisite in order to interpret them to advantage. It is for this reason, among others, that it is so well to read Nepos in schools. After him, it is not difficult to find writers suited to a continuance of methodical instruction; and Cæsar, Livy, Cicero, and Sallust, offer a rich variety of prose, much of which should be read, before Virgil can be attempted with real delight and advantage.

HILLIARD, GRAY, & Co's CATALOGUE OF IMPROVED

School Books.

HILLIARD, GRAY, & CO.

BOSTON,

ARE EXTENSIVELY ENGAGED IN PUBLISHING A GREAT VARIETY OF

THE MOST VALUABLE

ELEMENTARY BOOKS.

IT is their aim to publish only such as possess superior merits; and that every work shall be well printed on good paper, and well bound. Several of the School Books, which they have heretofore published, have been revised and re-modelled, and are now presented to the public in an improved form. They have also an Extensive Assortment of Valuable Works in all the Departments of Literature and Science. They solicit the patronage of the Public, and invite Instructors and Literary Gentlemen to examine these Books.

The following are among those which they have recently published.

Cummings' Ancient and Modern Geography
Improved.

Price of Geography, 62½ cts.

Do. Atlas, 75 cts.

THE very liberal patronage which has been given to this work in its original form, has imposed on the proprietors an obligation to improve it as much as possible. It is confidently believed that the public will be satisfied that this obligation has been faithfully fulfilled in the present edition. The work is considerably reduced in size, by excluding such tables and abstract statements as are uninteresting and unimportant in an elementary treatise; but it contains more than the preceding editions of such matter as is useful to children.

In Cummings' Geography Improved, the questions are placed at the end of the several chapters. This is more convenient for the scholar than the former arrangement. Instead of adding a pronouncing vocabulary at the end of the book, most of the difficult names have their true pronunciation given where they occur; this will be found a very valuable improvement, and it is peculiar to this Geography.

A great number of cuts, very neatly engraved, ornament the work, and end to illustrate the subjects, and render them interesting.

The simplicity of style and interesting manner of description, by which his work is characterized, have enabled it to sustain a high rank, and secured it a very extensive circulation. It is not to be forgotten that the public are indebted to Mr. Cummings for the general system of instruction in this science which now prevails, and which has been found so useful. The editor of the present edition has endeavored to retain the peculiar excellences of the original work ; to correct its errors ; and to make such improvements as will render it worthy of a still more extensive patronage. A great part of the work has been newly written, and it is interspersed with such instructions to scholars and teachers, as will facilitate the study of it, and render it permanently useful.

The ATLAS for the Improved Edition is newly engraved, contains a chart showing the comparative height of the principal Mountains, and of the comparative length of the principal Rivers in the world, and is intended to be as perfect as a work of the kind can be made.

Cummings' Pronouncing Spelling Book.

Price 25 cents.

THE extensive sale of this work, and the numerous testimonies of instructors and literary gentlemen, are sufficient proof of the excellence of its plan and execution. Indeed, those who consider the importance of teaching their children the correct pronunciation of the English language, while they are learning to read it, cannot but highly appreciate the plan of this Spelling Book. How frequently do we find that the errors in pronunciation, into which persons are allowed to fall in their childhood, continue to be repeated through life. It is certainly much easier for a child to acquire a correct pronunciation, than for an adult to reform a bad one.

In using Cummings' Spelling Book it requires but little pains to render the child able to determine the precise sound of every letter, and to make it more natural and easy for him to pronounce the words correctly than incorrectly. A little embarrassment is experienced at first, from the small letters which are used to designate the sounds of the others, but this is readily overcome, and the scholar is then possessed of a system which will enable him to pronounce all the words in his book correctly, and the instructor is saved the labor and frequent interruption which are suffered by the necessity of pronouncing words for the scholar.

In this edition a selection of very interesting reading lessons has been added, making it, it is believed, altogether the best Spelling Book in use.

First Lessons in Geography and Astronomy.

Price 25 cents.

IT is hardly necessary to say any thing in commendation of a work which is so extensively known, and so generally esteemed.

The public are not, however, sufficiently aware of the ease and advantage with which such simple lessons, in these important sciences, may be learned by small children. The time which is nearly wasted in the study of Grammar, if employed in acquiring the elements of more exact sciences, would give the scholar not only a taste for them, but important information. Geography is so simple a science, that children of six or seven years of age may begin to understand it ; and when a few of its elements are acquired, something may also be profitably taught them of the worlds around us.

Cummings' First Lessons is known to be far preferable to any other work in use, for introducing these subjects to the minds of children. The proprietors have taken great pains to render the work correct, and deserving of a still more extensive patronage.

Cummings' Testament.

Price $1,00.

THE NEW TESTAMENT of our Lord and Saviour

Jesus Christ, with an Introduction giving an account of Jewish and other sects; with Notes illustrating obscure passages, and explaining obsolete words and phrases; for the use of Schools, Academies, and Private Families. Questions on the New Testament.

Price 37 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents.

CUMMINGS' QUESTIONS on the New Testament, for Sabbath Exercises in Schools and Academies, with four Maps of the countries through which our Saviour and his Apostles travelled.

Colburn's First Lessons in Arithmetic.

Price of Book 37 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents.

Do. Plates 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents.

THE merits of this little work are so well known, and so highly appreciated in Boston and its vicinity, that any recommendation of it is unnecessary, except to those parents and teachers in the country, to whom it has not been introduced. To such it may be interesting and important to be informed, that the system of which this work gives the elementary principles, is founded on this simple maxim; that, children should be instructed in every science, just so fast as they can understand it. In conformity with this principle, the book commences with examples so simple, that they can be perfectly comprehended and performed mentally by children of four or five years of age; having performed these, the scholar will be enabled to answer the more difficult questions which follow. He will find, at every stage of his progress, that what he has already done has perfectly prepared him for what is at present required. This will encourage him to proceed, and will afford him a satisfaction in his study, which can never be enjoyed while performing the merely mechanical operation of cyphering according to artificial rules.

This method entirely supersedes the necessity of any rules, and the book contains none. The scholar learns to reason correctly respecting all combinations of numbers; and if he reasons correctly, he must obtain the desired result. The scholar who can be made to understand how a sum should be done, needs neither book nor instructor to dictate how it must be done.

This admirable elementary Arithmetic introduces the scholar at once to that simple, practical system, which accords with the natural operations of the human mind. All that is learned in this way is precisely what will be found essential in transacting the ordinary business of life, and it prepares the way, in the best possible manner, for the more abstruse investigations which belong to maturer age. Children of five or six years of age will be able to make considerable progress in the science of numbers, by pursuing this simple method of studying it; and it will uniformly be found that this is one of the most useful and interesting sciences upon which their minds can be occupied. By using this work children may be farther advanced at the age of nine or ten, than they can be at the age of fourteen or fifteen by the common method. Those who have used it, and are regarded as competent judges, have uniformly decided that more can be learned from it in one year, than can be acquired in two years from any other treatise ever published in America. Those who regard economy in time and money, cannot fail of holding a work in high estimation which will afford these important advantages.

Colburn's First Lessons are accompanied with such instructions as to the proper mode of using them, as will relieve parents and teachers from any embarrassment. The sale of the work has been so extensive that the publishers have been enabled so to reduce its price, that it is, at once, the cheapest and the best Arithmetic in the country.

Colburn's Sequel.

Price $1,00.

THIS work consists of two parts, in the first of which the author has given a great variety of questions, arranged according to the method pursued in the First Lessons; the second part consists of a few questions, with the solution of them, and such copious illustrations of the principles involved in the examples in the first part of the work, that the whole is rendered perfectly intelligible. The two parts are designed to be studied together. The answers to the questions in the first part are given in a Key, which is published separately for the use of instructors. If the scholar find any sum difficult, he must turn to the principles and illustrations, given in the second part, and these will furnish all the assistance that is needed.

The design of this arrangement is to make the scholar understand his subject thoroughly, instead of performing his sums by rule.

The First Lessons contain only examples of numbers so small, that they can be solved without the use of a slate. The Sequel commences with small and simple combinations, and proceeds gradually to the more extensive and varied, and the scholar will rarely have occasion for a principle in arithmetic, which is not fully illustrated in this work.

Colburn's Introduction to Algebra.

Price $1,25.

THOSE who are competent to decide on the merits of this work, consider it equal, at least, to either of the others composed by the same author.

The publishers cannot desire that it should have a higher commendation. The science of Algebra is so much simplified, that children may proceed with ease and advantage to the study of it, as soon as they have finished the preceding treatises on arithmetic. The same method is pursued in this as in the author's other works; every thing is made plain as he proceeds with his subject.

The uses which are performed by this science, give it a high claim to more general attention. Few of the more abstract mathematical investigations can be conducted without it; and a great proportion of those, for which arithmetic is used, would be performed with much greater facility and accuracy by an algebraic process.

The study of Algebra is singularly adapted to discipline the mind, and give it direct and simple modes of reasoning, and it is universally regarded as one of the most pleasing studies in which the mind can be engaged.

Wilkins' Astronomy.

Price 87 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents.

ELEMENTS OF ASTRONOMY, illustrated with Plates, for the use of Schools and Academies, with Questions. By John H. Wilkins, A. M. Fourth Edition. Stereotyped.

THE design of this work is to exhibit the leading facts and to illustrate the leading principles of Astronomy in a manner interesting and useful to those scholars who do not intend to pursue the subject to great extent. It may be studied without a knowledge of the higher branches of mathematics; and contains familiar illustrations of the most striking phenomena of nature. The work passed to a second edition in a few months, and is used in the principal schools in Boston and the vicinity; and is coming into very general use.

The numerous testimonies to the excellence of this work and the rapid sale which it has received, have already given it a reputation far above any other work of the kind in this country. Mr. Wilkins' method of illustrating the facts and principles belonging to this science, is uncommonly happy. The scholar is made to appreciate the value of his subject, and to feel that he is aided by an interesting and competent instructor. The difficulties which are continually annoying and discouraging him while studying other treatises on Astronomy, are not even imagined to exist while pursuing the simple and lucid illustrations of Mr. Wilkins. This work is peculiarly adapted for the use of academies and the higher classes in common schools.

When it is considered how well the science of Astronomy is calculated to expand and enoble the human mind, and how naturally and intimately it is connected with our highest duties and our highest hopes, we cannot doubt that an enlightened public will soon regard it as an essential branch of education in all our schools, and we are confident that this work will be found worthy of being generally adopted.

ELEMENTS OF GEOGRAPHY, Ancient and Modern, with an Atlas. By J. E. Worcester.

IN this Geography scholars are examined for admission into Harvard and other Colleges. It is also, by order of the school committee, used in all the public Grammar Schools in Boston, and to great extent through the country.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The Corporation of the University in Cambridge, being of opinion that Mr. Worcester's "ELEMENTS OF GEOGRAPHY" is a work of peculiar merit as an elementary system, have adopted it as the book to be used in the examination of candidates for admission into that seminary.

J. T. KIRKLAND, President.

"Mr. Worcester's Geography appears to us a most excellent manual. It is concise, well arranged, free from redundancies and repetitions, and contains exactly what it should, a brief outline of the natural and political characteristics of each country. The tabular views are of great value."

North American Review.

"We consider the work, in its present state, as the best compend of Geography for the use of schools, which has appeared in our country."

Monthly Literary Journal.

"From a careful examination of thy Geography, and a comparison of the work with other productions of like character, I am led to the opinion that it is the most valuable system of elementary geography published in our country."

Roberts Vaux, Esq.

"I have no hesitation in expressing it as my opinion, that it contains more valuable matter, and better arranged, than any similar work of its size I have ever met with."

Professor Adams.

"I cannot hesitate to pronounce it, on the whole, the best compend of geography for the use of academies, that I have ever seen."

Rev. Dr. S. Miller of Princeton.

"Of all the elementary treatises on the subject which have been published, I have seen none with which I am on the whole so well pleased, and which I can so cheerfully recommend to the public."

Worcester's Epitome.

Price of Epitome, 50 cents.

Do. of Atlas, 75 cents.

AN EPITOME OF GEOGRAPHY ; with an Atlas.

By J. E. Worcester.

THE object in preparing this Epitome has been to furnish a manual adapted to the use of pupils of an early age, preparatory to entering upon the study of the larger Geography, published by the same author.

The most striking features and characteristic particulars relating to the different countries, are distinctly brought into view ; and with regard to cities, towns, &c. the circumstances to which they are indebted for their importance or notoriety, or the memorable events with which their names are associated, are mentioned.

All the sections or subdivisions are broken into short sentences or paragraphs, which are carefully numbered ; and at the bottom of every page are placed questions with corresponding numbers ; so that a glance of the eye will direct the pupil to the appropriate answers.

The Epitome and Atlas are made to correspond to each other, and are to be studied throughout in connexion. The natural divisions of the Globe, the prominent features of the different parts, and the situations and boundaries of countries, are, in the first place, to be learned from the Atlas ; recourse is then to be had to the Epitome for such information as cannot be given by Maps ; and after this, the Maps are again consulted for more minute information respecting the situation of cities, towns, &c. Questions for examination on the Maps are inserted throughout in their proper order.

The population of counties, cities, and chief towns, together with other statistical information, is given in a series of Tables, contained in the Atlas. By this method the book is made considerably smaller in size, than it otherwise could have been, and the information is given in a form which will greatly facilitate the acquisition not only of exact knowledge, but also of interesting comparative views of the matters presented.

As some knowledge of Ancient Geography is of essential importance to all who would have even the slightest acquaintance with History, or who would read the Bible with advantage, the Maps of the Roman Empire and Palestine, and a brief outline of Ancient Geography, are added for the use of such students as have not opportunity to study a larger treatise.

Words of difficult pronunciation, have the pronunciation or accent given according to the best authorities.

The book is embellished with forty eight cuts, which exhibit a view of a variety of interesting objects of nature and art, and of the manners and customs of different countries.

MAPS CONTAINED IN THE ATLAS.

Map of the World—do. North America—do. United States—do. South America—do. Europe—do. British Isles—do. Asia—do. Africa—do. Roman Empire—do. Palestine—Comparative Heights of Mountains—Comparative Length of Rivers—Statistical Summary of U. States—do. do. of Europe—do. do. of the Globe.

ELEMENTS OF HISTORY, Ancient and Modern, with Historical Charts. By J. E. Worcester.

THE Historical Atlas accompanying this volume, comprises a series of Charts, formed on a new plan, and will afford means of facilitating the study of History, similar to what are afforded by Maps in the study of Geography. It contains the following Charts :

1. A General Chart of History.
2. A Chart of Ancient Chronology.
3. A Chart of Modern Chronology.
4. A Chart of European Sovereigns since the year 1000.
5. A Chronological, Genealogical, and Historical Chart of England.
6. A Chronological, Genealogical, and Historical Chart of France.
7. A Chart of American History.
8. A Chart of Biography.
9. A Chart of Mythology.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

We have examined the "Elements of History, Ancient and Modern, with Historical Charts," by Mr. J. E. Worcester, and can cheerfully recommend it for general use, as being the best elementary work of the kind with which we are acquainted, and peculiarly calculated to allure the attention of young pupils, and impart a general knowledge of the subjects which it embraces.

The Charts, which are in a great degree novel, afford a facility in imparting and fixing in the memory historical facts, similar to that which is afforded by Maps in the study of Geography.

FREDERICK BEASLEY,

Provost of Pennsylvania University.

As an apparatus for gaining a general knowledge of History, both expeditiously and effectually, the "Elements," and the accompanying "Atlas," have so much merit, that I cannot but hope they may find their way into all our academies and higher schools, as well as into numerous private families; and that the result will be a new era in the state of historical knowledge in our country.

JAMES MURDOCK,
Prof. of Ecclesiastical Hist. Theo. Sem. Andover.

I have seen no elementary work which appears to me so well calculated for a text-book as the "Elements." It is well arranged, and is very happy in giving every subject the space that is due to it. For a work so much condensed, it possesses, in a remarkable degree, the interest of a copious narrative.

With the "Atlas" I am still more pleased. I am persuaded that in no other way can the outlines of History, the succession of empires and kings, be so easily and perfectly attained, as by the help of charts.

BENJAMIN HALE,
Principal of Gardiner Lyceum.

I have carefully perused your "Elements of History," and I give it the decided preference to every work of the kind with which I am acquainted. The "Historical Atlas" will prove eminently beneficial to the student of History.

PHILIP LINDSLEY,
President of Cumberland College.

I have examined the "Elements of History," and the accompanying "Atlas," and am of the opinion that they are adapted to supply an important deficiency, which has heretofore existed in the means of instruction. They have been adopted as manuals in the High School connected with this Institution, and will form a most useful introduction to the study of History.

Hedge's Logic.

Price 87½ cts.

ELEMENTS OF LOGIC; or a Summary of the general Principles and different Modes of Reasoning. By Levi Hedge, A. M. Professor of Logic and Metaphysics, in Harvard College. Fourth Edition.

EXTRACTS FROM THE PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION.

MOST of the treatises of Logic in common use have been formed on the model of the ancient systems, and are encumbered with many scholastic subtleties and unimportant distinctions. The instructions which they furnish on the subject of ratiocination, consist of very little more, than a description of the syllogism, and a few general principles of demonstrative reasoning. They contain no elements nor rules to assist us in reasoning on subjects of probability, or on the ordinary events of human life. The manner in which these books are written is ill adapted to the comprehension of young minds. In explaining the operations of reasoning, many technical terms and arbitrary forms are employed, of which the tendency is rather to embarrass and perplex, than to instruct the learner.

The writer of this compend has pursued the following plan. After passing through the customary distinctions of terms and propositions, he has given a brief account of moral evidence, and pointed out the circumstances, which distinguish it from demonstrative. A concise view is then given of the different forms of reasoning, with the principles on which they respectively proceed.

American First Class Book.

Price $1,00.

THE AMERICAN FIRST CLASS BOOK, or EXercises in Reading and Recitations, selected principally from Modern Authors of Great Britain and America, and designed for the use of the highest Class in public and private Schools. By John Pierpont, Minister of Hollis-street Church, Boston. Author of Airs of Palestine, &c.

A DEMAND for a book of this kind for the use of higher Classes has long been felt both in our public and private Schools, and its almost unexampled sale is some evidence of its adaptation to the end for which it was designed. It has, as will be seen by the certificate which is subjoined, been adopted by the School Committee of Boston, instead of Scott's Lessons, and its circulation is fast extending.

EXTRACT FROM THE PREFACE.

This Book has been compiled with a special reference to the Public Reading and Grammar Schools of this City. It is the result of an attempt to supply the want, which has long been a subject of complaint among those whom the citizens of Boston have charged with the general superintendence of their public schools, as well as with those who are appointed to the immediate instruction of them; of a book of Exercises in Reading and Speaking, better adapted than any English compilation that has yet appeared, to the state of society as it is in this country, and less obnoxious to complaint, on the ground of its national or political character, than it is reasonable to expect that any English compilation would be, among a people whose manners, opinions, literary institutions, and civil government, are so strictly republican as our own.

EXTRACT FROM THE RECORDS OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE, BOSTON.

At a meeting of the School Committee, held July 18, 1823, it was ordered, that the American First Class Book be hereafter used in the public reading schools instead of Scott's Lessons.

Attest, WILLIAM WELLS, Secretary.

The Friend of Youth.

Price 75 cents.

THE FRIEND OF YOUTH, comprising a great variety of useful and interesting lessons in prose and poetry, adapted to the use of schools. By Noah Worcester, D. D. Second Edition, revised and improved.

THE peculiar excellencies of this work consist in the purity and simplicity of the style and sentiments. In a great proportion of the reading books in our schools, there is too little regard in the selection of lessons to a natural and easy style of expression; and they are not only calculated to corrupt the taste of children, but to give them an artificial and pompous mode of reading. In the Friend of Youth the beauty and simplicity of nature have been carefully regarded, while a pleasing variety has been preserved.

But the principal object of the author seems to have been to render the work totally destitute of such expressions and sentiments as flow from the corrupt passions of men, and engender discord and strife. It is not too much to say, that in this respect, this book is eminently distinguished from most of those now in use. If any Christian will keep in mind, that love to our fellow-men is our first duty as social beings, and compare the amiable spirit, and the just and benevolent precepts which abound throughout this work, with the selfish and contentious effusions of selfish and jarring statesmen, of warring heroes, and of licentious poets, which so frequently disgrace the pages of others, we think he cannot hesitate in deciding which will afford him most aid in training up his children in the way they should go.

Adams' Latin Grammar.

Price $1.00.

ADAMS' LATIN GRAMMAR, with some improvements and the following additions; Rules for the right Pronunciation of the Latin Language; a Metrical Key to the Odes of Horace; a list of Latin Authors, arranged according to the different ages of Roman Literature; Tables showing the Value of the various Coins, Weights, and Measures used among the Romans. By B. A. Gould, Master of the Public Latin School in Boston. This edition is adopted by the University at Cambridge, Mass. and is recommended to the use of those preparing for that Seminary. Second Edition. Stereotyped.

EXTRACT FROM THE PREFACE.

The experience of twenty-six years, and the united approbation of the most judicious instructors in our country, give ample testimony to the excellence of Adams' Latin Grammar. And it is worthy of remark, that amidst the changes of almost every thing connected with education, this work has maintained its popularity throughout the country since the year 1799, when it was recommended by the University of Cambridge. But several typographical errors, which were adopted from that Edinburg edition, from which the first American edition was copied, have been transmitted through subsequent editions to the present time with such scrupulous exactness, that they have now become canonized and are received as authority. Besides these, other errors have been creeping in, till a thorough revision of the work has become necessary. At the time this book was first compiled, the state of education in Scotland may have been such as to render the connexion of the Latin with the English necessary, in the manner they were blended by Dr. Adams; but that necessity does not exist in this country, where English Grammar is separately taught from the more complete systems of Lowth and Murray. For this reason, and because what is not used in a manuel becomes a hindrance, the portion pertaining exclusively to English Grammar has been omitted in this edition; and some few additions and alterations have been made which were deemed important. But in all cases where it was practicable, the words of the original grammar have been preserved.

Jacobs' Latin Reader.

Price 75 cents.

THE LATIN READER, from the fifth German edition, by Frederic Jacobs, Editor of the Greek Anthology, the Greek Reader, &c. &c. Edited by George Bancroft.

THE Latin Reader, which is here published, was compiled by Professor Frederic Jacobs, of Gotha, who having long been engaged in the cares of instruction and the pursuits of a scholar, is in every respect qualified to make judicious selections for the purposes of teaching.

The pupil may be employed upon the easiest lessons in the Reader, as soon as he has become familiar with the declension of the nouns and the regular conjugations. The exclusive study of grammar retards the learner. He must soon begin to read, and while he is thus exercising all that he has learnt, be made to continue the study of the elements. He will find his progress in reading attended with no increasing difficulty, as the work is so carefully arranged that there exists no rapid transitions.

The editor, in publishing this work in America, has been influenced by a sincere belief, that it forms an easy introduction to the language and character of the Roman world. His duties as a teacher led him to the comparison of many similar works now used in England and on the continent. This seemed to him the best; and having already used it in the school with which he is connected, he has found his opinion confirmed by his experience. The German publication is composed of three parts, of which the first is exclusively the work of Jacobs, and is here offered entire. To give opportunity for exercising the pupil in the declensions and conjugations, a few introductory lessons, which have been taken from different sources, are annexed to the preface.

This work is very fast taking the place of Liber Primus, Historiae Sacrae, Viri Romae, &c.

The Latin Reader, Part Second.

Price 75 cents.

THE LATIN READER, Part Second, chiefly from the Fourth German Edition of F. Jacobs and T. W. Doering. Edited by George Bancroft.

THE present continuation of the Latin Reader has for its object, to provide a work suited to the purposes of instruction in the Latin language, of a classic character, interesting to the young mind, and conveying useful information. The first part of this little volume contains select fables from Phædrus; these are followed by extracts taken almost entirely from Cicero and Livy; the volume closes with an abridgment of Justin, for the excellence of which the name of Jacobs is alone a sufficient guarantee. Most of the "Short Narrations" were selected by Doering, who acted in concert with Jacobs. A few more have been added from the twelfth German edition of an elementary work, compiled by Broeder. But it is not by the authority of celebrated names that a school book must be supported. If the present one has any excellence, it consists in this, that by means of judicious and easy selections, the pupil is at once introduced to the fine passages and pure writers of antiquity, without encountering difficulties beyond his strength.

The teacher, in giving instruction, will perceive the necessity of directing his main attention to the language. The rules of grammar in their various application need to be explained; and it is especially important to illustrate each individual word with philosophical method and accuracy with reference to its derivation, its primary signification, and the meanings, which it subsequently acquires.

Cornelius Nepos.

Price 75 cts.

CORNELIUS NEPOS, de vita Excellentium Imperatorum. From the third edition of J. H. Bremi. With English Notes.

Nepos is, more than any other Roman writer, suited to be put into the hands of boys, who have made sufficient progress to be able to read a Roman author in course. The simplicity and classical character of his style, the separate lives, full of interest and not long enough to weary, the extent of history, of which he gives a pleasing outline, by presenting as in a gallery those illustrious men who directed the fortunes of antiquity, the general purity of the moral tendency of his writings, and the favorable moral influence which always follows from the true history of great men, are circumstances which sufficiently explain why he is so universally adopted in the European Schools, and is beginning to be introduced in so many of our own.

The few notes which accompany this edition are selected and abridged from the commentary of Bremi. In some instances the phraseology of Bradley, an English editor, has been adopted, where his remarks coincided with those of the continental editor. The notes would have been selected much more freely but for the fear of making the volume too large. They almost all of them relate to questions of grammar and language. These are the points, to which the attention of boys is to be directed.

It is an evil, too common among us, to lead boys at an early period, to the study of the poets; and to put Virgil into the hands of those, who cannot readily explain an easy prose writer. Now though the style of Virgil is plain, and his narration interesting, still he cannot be properly understood except by one already practised in the language, and well accustomed to mark peculiar uses of words, and it is an act of injustice to the young scholar, to put into his hands poems so full of the highest beauties of art, before he is exercised in all that is requisite in order to interpret them to advantage. It is for this reason among others that it is so well to read Nepos in schools. After him it is not difficult to find writers suited to a continuance of methodical instruction, and Cæsar, Livy, Cicero and Sallust offer a rich variety of prose, much of which should be read, before Virgil can be attempted with real delight and advantage.

Gould's Virgil.

Price $3,50.

PUBLIUS VIRGILIUS MARO. Bucolica, Georgica, et Aeneis. Accedunt Clavis Metrica, Notulae Anglicæ, et Questiones, nec non Index vocabulorum Uberrima. Cura B. A. Gould. In Usum Scholæ Bostoniensis.

THIS Edition of Virgil is printed without the usual order of construction, or interpretation. The use of these pernicious helps not only prevents the pupil from ever acquiring the power of reading with ease and pleasure without them, but it is utterly subversive of one of the principal objects of studying the language,—that mental discipline which is acquired by the practice of critical and exact analysis.

To aid the Scholar in overcoming the real difficulties in understanding this author, copious English notes are added at the end. In preparing these notes, free use has been made of all the materials within the Editor's reach. In the vast variety of materials presented, it has been found difficult to be sufficiently concise. For it is easy to say much upon Virgil, but difficult to say little to the point.

A list of the verses most difficult to scan is subjoined, with the method of scanning each. A few questions are also added, which may expedite the labor of the Teacher in ascertaining whether the pupil has been thorough in his preparations.

The work is published on a fine paper, and beautiful type; and is, altogether, far superior to any other edition of Virgil in use.

Selections from Ovid.

In press, and will soon be published, SELECTIONS FROM OVID, with English Notes. By B. A. Gould.

Buttmann's Greek Grammar.

Price 62½ cents.

GREEK GRAMMAR, principally abridged from that of Buttmann, for the use of Schools.

PREFACE.

THE superiority of Buttmann's Greek Grammar over any other is acknowledged; but it appears to many instructors, whose judgment deserves the highest respect, that the work presupposes in those who are to make use of it more maturity of mind, than is to be expected of beginners. A desire has, therefore, been repeatedly expressed, that a small Grammar, in accordance with Buttmann, might be prepared for those entering on the study of the Greek language. Such a grammar is now offered to the practical teacher.

This abridgement is designed to contain only the accidente and first principles of the language. All matter that is not of immediate importance and utility has been rejected; and it has uniformly been endeavored to unite simplicity in the arrangement with clearness and conciseness in the expressions. In preparing the work, the best school grammars of the Germans and the English have been carefully consulted on every point, and the judgment of the editor in what is retained and what is omitted has been directed by a comparison of the best manuals. Particular assistance in these respects has been derived from the smaller grammar of Thiersch. The chapter on adjectives, the account of the contract verbs, and the remarks on the Homeric dialect, are entirely, or partly from him. Still there is nothing, which is not either contained or implied in the grammar of Buttmann, from which this professes to be taken.

The practical instructor has here in a small compass all that is essential to be taught in preparing a pupil for any of our colleges. The attention of the youngest can be directed without difficulty to those things, which should sink deeply into the memory. Too much care can hardly be taken to make the learner familiar with the forms of the nouns, and the paradigms of the verbs. These should be as familiar as are the Latin declensions and conjugations. In analyzing a sentence the attention must first be directed to the finite verb. That is always a key to the rest, and it will not then be difficult to discover by degrees the subject and object, and their respective qualifications.

Valpy's Greek Grammar.

THE ELEMENTS OF GREEK GRAMMAR, with Notes, by R. Valpy, D. D. F. A. S.

“ Nequaquam me paenitet hujus studii, quod per hanc recensionem in tractatione veterum Grammaticorum consumsi. Imo tan-tum eo me adjutum sentio, non modo ad hoc opus, sed ad omnem facultatum optimas rationes examinaverit. WOLFIUS, PROLEG. AD HOMER.

FROM THE AUTHOR'S PREFACE.

The great object of the author has been utility. He has endeavored to explain the meaning of terms, and the causes of constructions, and to enliven the rules by analogical allusions to the other languages; a mode of comparison best calculated to illustrate and familiarize the subject. If his explanations are not always satisfactory, they will at least engage the reflecting mind of an attentive student to investigate the origin, to trace the progress, and to extend his knowledge of the purest and most copious of languages.

Jacobs' Greek Reader.

Price $2,25.

THE GREEK READER of Frederic Jacobs, Professor of the Gymnasium at Gotha, and Editor of the Anthology. From the seventh German edition; with an English Lexicon.

At a meeting of the Corporation of Harvard College,

Voted—“ That this work be made use of in examining candidates for admission into the University after the year 1826, instead of Graeca Minora. ”

EXTRACT FROM THE PREFACE.

The Greek Reader, in the collection of sentences in the first part, arranged according to the rules of the Grammar, is designed to enable the learner to begin immediately to exercise himself, in putting to practice the principles and rules which he has learned in the Grammar. To direct his attention, the word, in which the rule is exemplified in each sentence, is distinguished in the printing.—These sentences, forming the first course, are succeeded by a few fables and a choice of the best anecdotes and apothegms contained in the Greek writers; which will not present undue difficulties to the learner well acquainted with the grammatical exercises that precede them.—The extracts in the department of natural history are from easy authors, and designed, in continuing the progress of the learner in the language, to afford him also amusing and instructive information. *****

A chief object of the editor, in preparing this work, has been to furnish an elementary book to our schools, in which the Greek may be learned through the medium of the English. No learner at school or elsewhere can be as well acquainted with the Latin, as with his mother tongue. The practice of learning Greek through the medium of Latin, has descended to us from a time when the Latin was a common language among scholars, when lectures at the universities were exclusively given in that tongue, and commentaries on authors and lexicons published in no other. For schools, however, there is no one circumstance to recommend the continuance of this practice, not even that of becoming more familiar with the Latin. The Latin of grammars, commentaries, and lexicons is not that, which the learner ought to acquire; and while the Latin language should be studied in the purer sources of the ancient writers, the learner of Greek ought not to be embarrassed by having his attention diverted to any thing else: or his perceptions rendered difficult or indistinct by the foreign medium through which they are made, and with which he must of course be less familiar than with his native language. In Germany and France, editions of Latin and Greek authors for the use of schools, are furnished with notes in the vernacular tongue; and the best lexicons of the Greek, in those countries, are also respectively in French and German. In this country, the opinion of scholars appears to be decided in the same result, and the Greek and English lexicon on the basis of Schrevelius, recently published, is considered a great acquisition by the friends of Greek studies and of an improved system of conducting them in this country. The quantity of matter contained in this work will be perceived to be considerably greater than in the Collectanea Græca Minora. The editor has been led to give it this extent from the opinion that, in the improving condition of our colleges and schools, more Greek might be advantageously studied in the latter.

Collectanea Græca Minora.

Price $2,25.

An improved edition of Collectanea Græca Minora, with explanatory Notes collected or written by Andrew Dalzel, A. M. F. R. S. E. Professor of Greek in the University of Edinburg. Sixth Cambridge edition, in which the Notes and Lexicon are translated from the Latin into English.

EXTRACT FROM THE PREFACE.

It has long been a complaint, that the notes of Collectanea Græca Minora, being written in Latin, were not so useful as they might be to beginners, for whose use they were prepared. In this edition therefore the Notes and Lexicon have been translated into English; so that the work may be used without any previous knowledge of the Latin Language. In this edition also a few notes have been added, particularly upon the most difficult part—the Extracts from Tyrtæus.

The text also has been diligently compared with the latest and best editions of the works from which the extracts were made, belonging to the Library of Harvard University, and a few new readings have been introduced which throw light on obscure passages. It is hoped, therefore, that those who have heretofore used and approved the work, will be still better satisfied with it, now that it is more free from errors, and more easy and instructive to young students.

EXTRACTS FROM A REVIEW OF THIS EDITION.

“THE best criterion by which to estimate the value of works designed to facilitate the purposes of education, is actual experiment. The present selections from Greek literature have been many years before the public, and have constantly been coming more widely into use. Of the first volume there have appeared in England and Scotland at least eight, we believe nine, several editions, and five or six of the second; and in the United States, we have now the fourth edition of the whole work from the press of the University at Cambridge. A book, to meet with such success, must be well adapted to its end.”

“Of all the editions which have thus far appeared in Great Britain or America, we do not hesitate to pronounce this to be the most correct. It exhibits the clearest marks of indefatigable diligence and conscientious accuracy on the part of its learned and unassuming editor. Instead of vague and indiscriminating praise, we will endeavor to explain its peculiar advantages.

Our account will be a short one, though the labors which we commemorate extended through years."

"The chief object of the American editor, Professor John S. Popkin of Cambridge, was to make the book a correct one. It had gone through so many editions, and each new one had repeated so many of the errors of the last, and made so many of its own, that both the text and the notes had become very much disfigured. Not only accents and letters were often wanting, but words, and sometimes whole lines were omitted; especially in the notes. In the third American edition, these were in a good degree amended; in the fourth the same purpose has been most assiduously pursued. To do this the original sources of the notes and text were consulted, and these, together with other good editions of the several writers, were diligently compared. Not a few fractures and dislocations were repaired by means of an early edition of the Collectanea. When the sense was found broken and obscure, it appeared on examination that words, lines, and sometimes several lines had been omitted; particularly where a word was repeated at no great distance, the intervening words were sometimes passed over in printing."

"We hope we have said enough to justify our preference of Professor Popkin's edition of the Graeca Majora over any other. To give a more distinct idea of what he has accomplished, we venture to affirm, after a close computation which may be relied upon, that of errata in the copy greater and less, he has corrected as many as ten thousand. If after all his care and pains, he has made any or left any, they can be easily marked and corrected, as the present edition has been made on stereotyped plates. It was an undertaking of long and toilsome diligence to correct the press and the copy of a work of this kind, collected from so many sources, and referring to so many authorities.

"Not less than five hundred volumes were of necessity consulted."

Pickering's Lexicon.

Price $5,50.

The GREEK LEXICON of Schrevelius translated into English with many additions.

EXTRACTS FROM THE PREFACE.

IT is a remarkable fact in the history of education, that we should have so long continued the practice of studying the Greek language through the medium of the Latin; and that until very recently we have not had Greek, as well as Latin dictionaries, with explanations in English; and it may justly excite our wonder, that we should, till within about three years past (long since the prospectus of the present work was published) have been destitute of the most important of all books for the acquisition of the language in question—A Greek and English Lexicon for the use of schools.

The fact seems the more extraordinary, because in the case of the modern languages we always begin our studies with dictionaries explained in our own tongue: nor should we think it practicable, in any other way, to master the niceties and peculiarities of a foreign idiom. Who for example, would sit down to the study of French, or Italian, or German, with dictionaries written in Latin? And yet, what essential difference (except as to pronunciation, which must be learned from the living instructor) can be imagined between the proper methods of studying a modern and an ancient language? For our part, we can entertain no doubt, that one principal reason, we will not say the only one, why Greek is so much less familiar to us than Latin, is the circuitous and awkward practice of studying it through the medium of a third language.

Under a strong conviction, therefore, that it will be rendering an essential service to the interests of sound literature in our country, to promote the study of the language of Greece—which an accomplished scholar characterizes in glowing terms as “the finest ever spoken by mortals,” and whose authors will be models of writing, as long as the works of her sculptors and architects shall be models in the fine arts—under this conviction, the Editors offer to their countrymen the present work; of which they will now give a brief account.

The basis of the work is Schrevelius's well known Lexicon; which, on the whole, in the present state of Greek studies in this country, was thought preferable to any other manual adapted to the use of schools. Schrevelius's work was originally extracted from that of Scapula (an edition of which he superintended), and seems to have been first published in 1654. It was more particularly intended for the Old and New Testaments, Homer, Hesiod, Musæus, Theognis, Pythagoras and other Gnomic Authors, Isocrates, Æsop, &c.; the author also made use of Portus's Ionic and Doric Lexicons and the Lexicon to Pindar and the other Lyric poets. It was published several times on the continent of Europe during the author's life; and within that period was also republished in England by Hill, who enlarged it considerably, more particularly with words from the New Testament, the Septuagint, and the principal poets and orators, as well as the school books of the day. He also added many of the aorists and other tenses, which are so profusely and unnecessarily scattered through the work. Besides the editorial labor bestowed upon it in England, it has received improvements in France, where a valuable edition of it was published in 1779 by the celebrated scholar Vauvilliers; who, as the late editor Lecluse observes, ‘mercilessly retrenched all the expositions of the anomalous words and other parts of the work.’ These retrenchments have been restored by Lecluse, whose edition of 1819, is the latest French one that happens to have come to our knowledge. Of the other editions, we have before us the Italian one in folio, and a German one, reprinted from the Paris copy, at Vienna in 1822, under the editorial superintendence of Kritsch; who justly observes, that the Lexicon, as now published, is very different from the ancient editions both in copiousness and explanations; and, he adds, that in its present state it may with propriety be recommended to the student in Greek literature. It may now be proper to give a brief account of the labor which has been bestowed upon the present publication.

This work was originally planned many years ago, and was begun by the original Editor in 1814; but the ordinary avocations of a professional life so frequently interrupted its progress, that the editor, for that and other reasons, some years afterwards engaged the assistance of his associate, Dr. Daniel Oliver, Professor of Moral and Intellectual Philosophy at Dartmouth College. A prospectus of it was accordingly issued by them a few years ago, and the work has been in progress to this time.

In the execution of their task the Editors have not contented themselves with being translators of Schrevelius's Latin interpretations, which are often ambiguous and unsatisfactory; but they have, to the best of their ability, rendered the English explanations from the original Greek. It will be at once perceived, that the significations given are more copious than the Latin ones of Schrevelius. This has been occasioned partly by the difficulty of always finding single English words, which would correspond to the Greek so exactly as many of the Latin terms do; but principally from a desire to obviate the embarrassment arising from the ambiguity of the general terms used in the Latin, by substituting for them English significations less general and of course more precise. It has been the intention of the Editors, that the work should comprehend all the words which are to be found in Professor Dalzel's Collectanea Majora and Minora, Jacob's Greek Reader, and the other books now studied in our schools and other seminaries of learning.

Among the improvements, as the Editors hope they may be called, in the present work, they would state—that upwards of two thousand articles in it are either wholly new, or have new additions, of more or less importance; these articles are distinguished by a bracket placed at the end of them. Besides the additions thus marked, very numerous references to authors have been inserted without being thus designated. The prepositions have been a particular subject of attention; and the uses of the article are explained with as much minuteness as would be advantageous to that class of students for which the work is chiefly designed. Another improvement, and one which was not adopted in any edition of Schrevelius till a long time after the present work was begun, is the marking of the quantities of the doubtful vowels. This has been done for the most part without sacrificing the accents; and in those instances, where the accent does not appear, the student will know that it has been displaced in order to make room for the quantity; and he will without much difficulty decide by the place of the syllable, what kind of accent should be supplied. The Editors may here observe, that their work is printed with the accents; for they cannot but consider them to be as much a part of the language as the breathings, or the alphabetic characters themselves are, whatever opinions may be entertained by some scholars as to the particular use of them. But, besides being a constituent part of the language, they are of real utility in the study of it.

The Editors will now make a few remarks respecting the manner in which they have endeavoured to execute their task. In the progress of the work almost all the Lexicons extant have been occasionally consulted; those which have been most frequently resorted to are Hedericus, Planche's excellent Dictionnaire Grec-Francois, and Schneider's admirable Griechisch-Deutsches Wörterbuch; and, for Scriptural words, the highly valuable edition of Wahl's Lexicon to the New Testament, by Mr. Robinson, of the Theological Institution at Andover. The learned Lexicon of Dr. Jones was not received, until so much progress had been made in the present work as to prevent much use of it; and, just before the last sheets were printed off, a copy of the London translation of Schrevelius reached this country; which, till the Editors had looked into it, made them regret that they had not sooner met with it. A slight examination, however, made it apparent, that although it contained many additional words, yet it was a hurried performance, upon which it would not have been safe to rely.

Of the authors in the Collectanea Majora, those which have been a particular subject of attention on the part of the Editors are, Herodotus. Thucydides, Longinus, and Aristotle; the last of whom, from the abstruse nature of his discussions and his condensed manner of writing, presents very great difficulties to the young student. But, to adopt a remark of the poet Gray, "he has abundance of fine uncommon things, which makes him well worth the pains he gives one;" it was, therefore, thought useful, that a portion of the editorial labour should be allotted particularly to his language; in the hope, that those young men, who are ambitious of thinking profoundly, reasoning closely, and judging correctly, may be incited to study the works of one of the greatest masters of thinking and reasoning that the world has ever seen.

Greek Testament.

Price $2,25.

THE FOUR GOSPELS OF THE NEW TES-

TAMENT, in Greek, from the text of Griesbach, with a Lexicon in English, of all the words contained in them designed for the use of schools.

ADVERTISEMENT.

THIS edition of the Four Gospels has been prepared in consequence of the new arrangement of the studies in Greek, preparatory to admission in the University at Cambridge. The Corporation have substituted Jacobs' Greek Reader and the Four Gospels for the Collectanea Graeca Minora, and the whole of the New Testament. It has been deemed expedient to publish a separate edition of the Gospels. The text used is that of Griesbach, with the omission of the marginal readings, as not being appropriate to a School Book. A lexicon of all the words in the Four Gospels, prepared with great care by a gentleman highly qualified for the task, is subjoined. It is hoped that the execution of the work will be found such as to merit the approbation of instructors and render it useful to learners.

French Language.

Price $1.00.

New Elements of Conversation, in English and French.

A work composed upon the plan of that of Dr. Wanstrocht, by Professor G. Poppleton at Paris; followed by the Manual of Idiotisms of Madame de Genlis. Second American edition, revised, improved, and corrected by an Instructer in Languages.

NOTICE FROM THE WORK.

"THE publishers present with satisfaction a second edition of this useful collection of French and English Dialogues and Idiotisms, because they feel assured that it will prove more worthy of the approbation of a discriminating public than was the case with the first, the publication of which having been necessarily hurried, did not allow time duly to observe and rectify many errors of the original European copy.

"The English part of the Manual of French Idiotisms of Madame de Genlis particularly required and has undergone a thorough reform, and has been made to comport, as far as possible, with the easy, chaste, and polished style of that celebrated lady.

"This edition will be found enlarged with the classical vocabulary of Professor Poppleton, which addition may be considered as advantageous, especially to the younger part of students whose principal faculty is memory; and what should recommend this publication to all descriptions of learners, besides the utility of the contents, is the entire absence of offensive and obsolete words and phraseology, too frequently met with in books of this kind.

"It may also be confidently asserted, that this work will be found as free from typographical errors, as any ever printed in America in a foreign language; consequently it is presumed, that it will meet with a good reception in all schools and seminaries where the French language is cultivated.

French Phrase Book.

Price 37½ cents.

The FRENCH PHRASE BOOK, or Key to French Conversation. Containing the chief idioms of the French Language. By M. L'Abbe Bossut.

Extract from the Advertisement to the London Edition.

THE Editor feels no hesitation in asserting, that after Students have perfected themselves in the contents, even of this small Tract, they will have no difficulty in reading any French book, as far as depends on the peculiar idiom or construction of the language.

By learning these familiar and Idiomatic Phrases, the young English scholar will acquire the French language and idiom exactly in the same manner as it is acquired by a Native—by Practice, and Example, and not by Rule. Rules are not to be despised; but they are rather adapted to perfect than to initiate.

If the compiler were asked, what should be the first thing to be learnt when a person begins to study any foreign tongue? He would reply, WORDS—If what next? He would still reply, WORDS—And, if what next? He would still answer, WORDS as they are used relatively to other words; that is, in the simple Idiomatic Phrases of the language, such as those which compose the present Work.

Worcester's Primer.

Price 12½ cents.

A PRIMER of the English Language, for the use of Families and Schools. By Samuel Worcester.

THE design of this work is to furnish Children with a First Book—to teach them the Alphabet, and the elements of Spelling and Reading. It is executed on fine paper—the letters are large and distinct—and the cuts, which are numerous, are finely engraved.

The principles on which this work is executed are new, and important in developing the mind of the pupil.

Rational Guide.

Price 25 cts.

The Rational Guide to Reading and Orthography, being an attempt to improve the arrangement of words in English Spelling Books, and to adapt the reading lessons to the comprehension of those for whom they are intended. By William B. Fowle, Instructor of the Monitorial School, Boston.

"Not as though I had already attained or were already perfect."

PREFACE.

IN presenting this stereotype edition of the Rational Guide to the public, the author would acknowledge the assistance of several critical friends who have kindly pointed out many errors in classification and orthography which escaped his notice in the former edition. A continuance of such favors will enable the author to make the book as perfect as anything of the kind can be; for, by the process of stereotyping, all that is right is fixed, and all that is wrong may be permanently corrected.

Some easier reading lessons have been added, at the request of the Committee of Primary Schools. In dividing the words into syllables, the author endeavoured to make such a division as would lead children (who usually study the spelling lessons before they have heard the words pronounced,) to a right pronunciation. Hints at improvement in this part of the book will be candidly considered.

W. B. F.

The American Speaker, or Exercises in Rhetorick,

Price $1.25.

Being a new and copious selection of Speeches, Dialogues, and Poetry, from the best American and English sources, adapted to the use of Schools and Academies. "Ex his cæterisque lectione dignis auctoribus, et verborum sumenda copia est, et varietas figurarum, et componendi ratio, tum ad exemplum virtutum omnium mens dirigenda: neque enim dubitare potest quin artis pars magna continueatur imitatione."

"THE obvious want of interesting and modern extracts for the use of schools in which Rhetorick is taught, has produced the present compilation. Although several old and approved pieces are retained, it may be said with truth that this is a new selection, embodying the best of what has heretofore been published and much which has never before appeared in any school book. The friends of eloquence will be gratified to possess so many brilliant extracts in so small a compass, and the American patriot will be glad of an opportunity to compare the eloquence of his countrymen with that of the mother country."

Linear Drawing.

Price $62\frac{1}{2}$ cents.

An Introduction to Linear Drawing, translated from the French of M. Francoeur, and adapted to the use of Public Schools in the United States. By William B. Fowle, Instrucuter of the Monitorial School, Boston.

FROM THE TRANSLATOR'S PREFACE.

AN elementary treatise on Drawing, adapted to the use of common schools, cannot but be well received. Besides the professions which make the art of drawing their particular study, anatomists, naturalists, mechanics, travellers, and indeed all persons of taste and genius, have need of it, to enable them to express their ideas with precision, and make them intelligible to others.

Notwithstanding the great utility of this branch of education, it is a lamentable fact, that it is seldom or never taught in the public schools, although a very large proportion of our children have no other education than these schools afford. Even in the private schools where drawing is taught, it is too generally the case that no regard is paid to the geometrical principles on which the art depends. The translator appeals to experience when he asserts, that not one in fifty of those who have gone through a course of instruction in drawing, can do more than copy such drawings as are placed before them. Being ignorant of the certain rules of the art, (and they are the most certain because mathematical,) they are always in leading strings, and unless endowed with uncommon genius, never originate any design, and rarely attempt to draw from nature. It is to remedy this defective mode of teaching, that the translator has been induced to present this little work, on the elements of drawing, to the American public.

English Composition.

Price $1.25.

The Elements of English Composition; serving as a sequel to the study of Grammar. By David Irving, LL. D. Author of the Lives of the Scottish Poets. Second American from the Sixth London Edition.

EXTRACTS FROM THE PREFACE.

"THOUGH it was my principal object to treat of prose composition, yet a few observations on poetry incidentally occur. The remarks which have been suggested with regard to the nature of figurative language, apply equally to prose and to poetry; but the poets have furnished me with the most copious and beautiful illustrations.

"The rules of criticism are more successfully inculcated by particular examples than by general precepts. I have therefore, endeavored to collect abundance of apposite quotations, in order to illustrate every branch of the subject.

"It may, perhaps, be alledged that in my critical strictures I have often betrayed too much severity of censure, and that in general I have been too solicitous to expose the faults of eminent writers. But let it be remembered, that in a work of this kind it was necessary to expose defects, as well as to extol beauties.—Those errors which have received the sanction of great names are always dangerous; as they frequently become the object of absurd imitation.

"In exhibiting examples of the faults, as well as of the beauties, of composition, I have invariably had recourse to such works as seemed in some respect entitled to praise. If I have not treated living authors with all the delicacy and tenderness recommended by St. Real, I have at least restrained from every wanton attack."

Gardner's Globes.

Price $26,00 Per Pair.

A PAIR OF NEW AND ORIGINAL GLOBES, constructed differently from any other work of the kind now before the public, and from the best authorities, to the present time. By J. W. Gardner.

THE Sciences of Geography and Astronomy are becoming so popular in our schools, that whatever will facilitate the study of them, must be regarded as a great benefit to the public. Maps give so imperfect an idea of the form of the earth, and the bearing of its several parts, that their value is comparatively small without the aid of Globes. Charts of the stars are uncommon, and expensive; and they are greatly inferior to Globes in illustrating the position and motions of the heavenly bodies.

The object in studying any science, is to acquire the greatest amount of information in the least time. In studying, time is not only money, it is more,—it is knowledge,—it is expansion and elevation of the mind,—it is the ability of being useful. The study of Geography and Astronomy is so much facilitated by the use of Globes, that several months of the scholar's time are actually saved; and were we to consider only the saving in the expense of tuition, parents would find it good economy to purchase Globes for their children. Besides, it is scarcely possible to give, without Globes, the illustrations for which they are designed.

The price of Globes is now so much reduced, as to come within the means of a great portion of society. All our common schools may be provided with them. Where a single family is unable to meet the expense, several families in the same neighbourhood may combine in the purchase; and their children will still be so well accommodated, as to render the possession highly valuable.

The Publishers believe that they are fully justified in asserting, that no other Globes constructed in this, or in any other country, will bear a comparison, as to accuracy and elegance, with those which they now offer to the public; and these are much cheaper than any others which have been constructed.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. J. W. GARDNER appears to have made himself acquainted with the best methods of constructing artificial globes, and to have used all due care in the construction of his work. The stars are laid down singly, and the number and outline of the constellations are given, according to the latest and most approved catalogues and charts of the heavens. The terrestrial globe is understood to have been constructed in a similar manner, by means of the best tables of the latitude and longitude of places.

These globes are accordingly recommended as well adapted to the purposes of elementary instruction in geography and astronomy.

JOHN FARRAR,

Prof. of Math. and Phil. in Harvard University.

I have examined, with a great deal of care, Mr. Gardner's Terrestrial Globe, and find it very accurately executed according to the latest discoveries and the best tables. The coasts are carefully laid down, with an extraordinary degree of minuteness, from the best established authorities. The outlines are consequently very exact. All important places in the interior of continents, where the latitude and longitude have been well ascertained, are also laid down with the same care.

GEO. B. EMERSON.

I have examined Mr. J. W. Gardner's Celestial Globe, and find it very correct. The constellations are given from the best authorities, and the places of the stars from the latest and most approved catalogues. I have examined several hundred stars upon this globe with respect to their right ascension and declination, and find that their places are given with great care and fidelity.

JAS. HAYWARD.

Harvard University, Cambridge.

SIR,

After the opinion expressed by Professor Farrar of your ability and fidelity in the construction of your Globes; and after the testimonial of Mr. George B. Emerson, who has examined your Terrestrial, and of Mr. James Hayward, who has paid particular attention to your Celestial Globe, (one of these gentlemen having been lately and the other being now in the department of Mathematics, Natural Philosophy, and Astronomy in this University, and both well known for their accurate acquaintance with these branches of science,) I can have no doubt that these productions of your skill and labour are fully entitled to peculiar favor and patronage.

I am, Sir, with esteem, your obedient servant,
MR. J. W. GARDNER. J. T. KIRKLAND, President.

Gardner's New 4 inch Globes.

IN consequence of the increased demand for Gardner's 12 inch Globes, the author has been induced to publish a pair of 4 inch Celestial and Terrestrial, corresponding in every respect with the 12 inch, except the omission of the names; which present an entirely new and interesting exercise in Geography and Astronomy. Price $2, each.
