THE INDEX now printed was compiled by the late Mr. Raithby, in pursuance of an Order made at a Board of the Commissioners on Public Records, dated 29 June 1816, which directed that a General Index to the Statutes of the Realm should be framed, in Two Parts; One Alphabetical, the other Chronological; the former including the several Matters contained in the Statutes, in Alphabetical Arrangement, in a Manner indicating only the Subject Matter of each Clause, and not professing to give the Substance of the Enactment; the latter including the several Matters contained in the Statutes under each Head succinctly, and giving the Substance of their respective Enactments, proceeding under each Head chronologically.

The Alphabetical Index was published in 1824, and it was then stated in the Preface, that at that Time considerable Progress had been made in the General Chronological Index.

Mr. Raithby proceeded with much Assiduity in the Compilation of the present Volume, until Christmas 1824, when, being attacked with severe Indisposition, his Progress was retarded, his Labours, however, never being discontinued, but carried on uninterruptedly, with all the Attention which Circumstances would permit, until his Death in August 1826, at which Time the Volume had been altogether compiled in MS. and printed as far as Page 569.

Upon Mr. Raithby's Decease, the Task of correcting the Press devolved on his Clerk Mr. Elliot, (who had throughout the whole been employed by him on both Indexes,) under the immediate Care and Superintendence of the Secretary, and by them the present Volume has been made complete.

JOHN CALEY, Secretary.

OF PROVIDORS OF ECCLESIASTICAL BENEFICES. - - - - 25 Edw. III. St. 4.

Recital of Proceedings in the Parliament of Carlisle, Stat. 35 Edw. I.; and that the Holy Church of England was founded in the Estate of Prelacy, within the Realm of England, by the King's Progenitors, to inform them and the People of the Law of God, and to do Hospitalities, Labours, and other Works of Charity; and that the King and others, Earls, Barons, &c. had and ought to have the Custody and Presentations of Benefices. Ib.

That the Pope bestowed Benefices (accroaching to him the Seigniorie thereof,) on Aliens who would never dwell in England, and on Cardinals who could not dwell there, although he was not of Right, by the Law of England, the Patron or Advower thereof; and that great Evil would ensue if such things should be suffered. Ib.

That although, in the said Parliament of Carlisle, Provision was made against such Evil, yet that the Pope continued to give such Benefices, and reserved the First Fruits to himself. Ib.

Collations and Presentations to Benefices to be free. Ib.

Where the Pope maketh Provision to a Dignity or Benefice of the Church of the King's Avowry, the King shall for that Time present, as before free Election was granted. Ib.

LORD CHANCELLOR and LORD TREASURER shall REGULATE the BUYING and SELLING of FISH and WINES. -	Ib. c. 3.	Ib.	Ib.
The Provisions of these Acts may be considered as entirely superseded by modern Statutes, particularly 23 Geo. II. c. 24. and many subsequent Acts relating to the British Fisheries. The Act was intended to prevent forestalling and undue dealing in the Fair of Great Yarmouth, for which Purpose it was enacted, by c. 1. ante, "That no Herrings should be bought or sold in the Sea, till the Fisheries were come into the Haven, and the Cable of the Ship drawn to Land;" and c. 2. ante, regulated the Order and Time of selling Herrings, and the Price thereof: it also directed that the Hundred of Herrings should be Six Score, and the Last Ten Thousand. The Superintendance of the Fair was vested in the Barons of the Cinque Ports. By cap. 3. Power was given to the Chancellor, Treasurer, and Council to regulate the Sale of Stock Fish of Saint Botolph, and Salmon of Berwick, and of Wines and Fish at Bristol, and elsewhere.
