Tomb Encompasses Mortal Remains of Warren G. Harding

Funeral Services at Marion To-day Marked By Extreme Simplicity When Late President of the United States Was Laid to Rest in Cemetery of Ohio City Where He Was Born.

Marion, O., Aug. 10.-(Associated Press)-The casket con-aining the body of Warren Gamaliel Harding, twenty-ninth President of the United States, was placed in the vault prepared for it in the Marion Cemetery at 3.18 p.m. to-day. It will rest there until his fellow townsmen decide on the form of the memorial they will erect to honor Marion's "Greatest Son."

Marion, O., Aug. 10.—Warren G. Harding rejoined to-day in the quiet cemetery just over the way from the place of his youth and manhood, the dear ones and the boyhood friends gone before. Iron gates of a stone vault shut softly after he had passed within. He was alone at last with the memories of his triumphs and sor-rows. And from sea to sea, as the nation stilled its busy life a moment in reverence, there seemed to breathe a message from his countrymen saving:

'Well done, thou good and faithful servant." In life he was President, but in death he became again Warren Harding, of Marion, plain, honest, upright American gentleman. And he was entombed with simple service as he had told the loving woman who turned away from the vault to day to take up again the things of life he would no longer share, he wished to be.

Marion, O., Aug. 10.—The day when human eyes would look their last on the face of Warren G. Harding, twenty-ninth President of the United States, dawned with many who loved him still waiting to pass slowly be-side the bier, resting in his father's home.

In gracious kindliness, the sorrow-ful woman who longed for the end of public ordeal that has stretched into more than a week of ceremonial and pageant. that the people of the na-tion, the State and the town that claimed him as its som might testify to their grief, set aside her own wish to be alone with her dead, at the last. Throughout the hours of darkness has night the casket which held him hay open in the humble home, and all were freely welcome to pass beside it again. To-day the face of the dead chief was made visible for the last time to the "boys" who knew him as "the Boss" in the offices of The Marion Star, when he sat there as editor. A few others came privately to the casket because of their close association of their bygone years with the dead. Thoughtful in Sorrow

Mr. McGeer maintained. Frank Ford, K. Vancouver, Aug. 10.—It is under-stood that the street railway men's union has given its advisory board full power to act in negotiations with the B.C. Electric Railway Company for an increase in wages. A refer-endum on this point was taken on Thursday. The men gek a scale of 65 cents an hour for motormen and conductors as compared with the existing rate of 53% cents. The men's advisory board is in session to-day and armed with the authority conferred by the referendum, will probably apply to Ottawa for a con-ciliation board. Faces New Ordeal.

To-morrow in Washington Mrs. Harding faces a new and terrible ordeal, when the intimate family treasures, cherished by her dead hus-band and herself must be dispersed to new surroundings that the man-sion can be made ready for the new President sion can be made ready for the man-President. President and Mrs. Coolidge have assured Mrs. Harding days ago that the might continue to consider the White House her home, but she would not have it so for more than the prief time required to ship away the bersonal things that surrounds her here during her brief time as first idy of the land. In her decision to ave for Washington immediately ing humanity, Marion was a city of silence in her sorrow. a silence that would not be broken until the simple funeral train gathered late in the day to bear the late President to the tomb that awaited him. Then there must come an added stir and move-ment that could not be avoided, then would voices be raised in prayer or sacred hymns as the last rites were peaceful and caim and as un-troubled as the sleep of the man thus honored. ial Office .....

News from the Old Country indicates that there are literally thousands of men just jumping at the opportunity that is being offered them to come to Canada. Nearly fifteen hundred workers for the farms sailed yesterday and another nineteen hundred will be on their way by to-morrow afternoon. Of this number there are many skilled workers from the shipbuilding yards at Glasgow and quite a large percentage is made up of miners from Wales and Yorkshire. Their job in this country will be to make themselves useful in the harvest fields.

We have been told that it is the intention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada to present to Great Britain's fraternal delegate to Vancouver convention a report intended to convince him and his colleagues on the other side of the Atlantic that it is not fair to send skilled workers to Canada at this time-neither fair to the emigrant himself nor fair to union workers on this side. The document in question will be described as friendly advice and will represent the official view of organized Labor in this Dominion.

It is not necessary to repeat our contention that this advice is foolish in itself and actually detrimental to Canadian workers and Canadian industry alike. We will content ourselves with the suggestion that if the only candidates worth considering as future citizens of this country are British and Continental farmers and agricultural laborers the prospect of decreasing the Canadian debt and of making the people's railway system pay its way are very thin indeed. And why should the field be thus narrowed? For it has been said time and time again-in spite of the fact that tmosphere and experience count for much-that it is no more true that none but sons of farmers succeed at farming, than that none but sons of lawyers succeed as lawyers. And in this connection it may be pertinent to quote a reference to the training of the "green 'un" which appears in the report of the Ontario Unemployment Com-mission of 1916. It says:

The number of farmers and agricultural laborers in the United Kingdom is not excessive, but it should be feasible to utilize other elements in the population in the development of our natural resources. In the opinion of many who have studied the situation at first hand, it will be found practicable to train dwellers in British cities, towns, and villages, for successful careers on the land.

Take one or two statements which witnesse before the Royal Commission on the Natural Resources of the Dominions when that body held ssions in Australia in 1913. Here are a fav that will serve to illustrate the contention of Ontario Commission:

My experience is that the town lad will learn his work quicker than the country lad will, if he wants to go on the land. He is smarter. . . Practically all the lads that come to us are from the cities. . . In Lancashire I met an enormous number of young fellows who could drive a horse or a couple of horses, and who were a bit handy and had a bit of go in them.

What of those who came to this country years result of some inquiries which a writer in The Round Table made last Summer. "On one side of Lloydminster lives the owner of Wee Donald, he international Clydesdale champion; and he was a dairyman outside Manchester. other side lives an owner of pure-bred dairy stock, the pioneer of the 'accredited herd' system in this district; he started life as an engineer in London. Take a group of the best farmers in North Battleford—a Scottish family who have farmed all their lives, a Yorkshire shoemaker, a London busman and a farmer, now retired, who was formerly in commerce in the States. other recently arrived group-by no means typical, because they are trying the hazardous exeriment of a community farm—comprised an istant manager of an Old Country 'co-op.', biner from the north of England, and an detrician from the south."

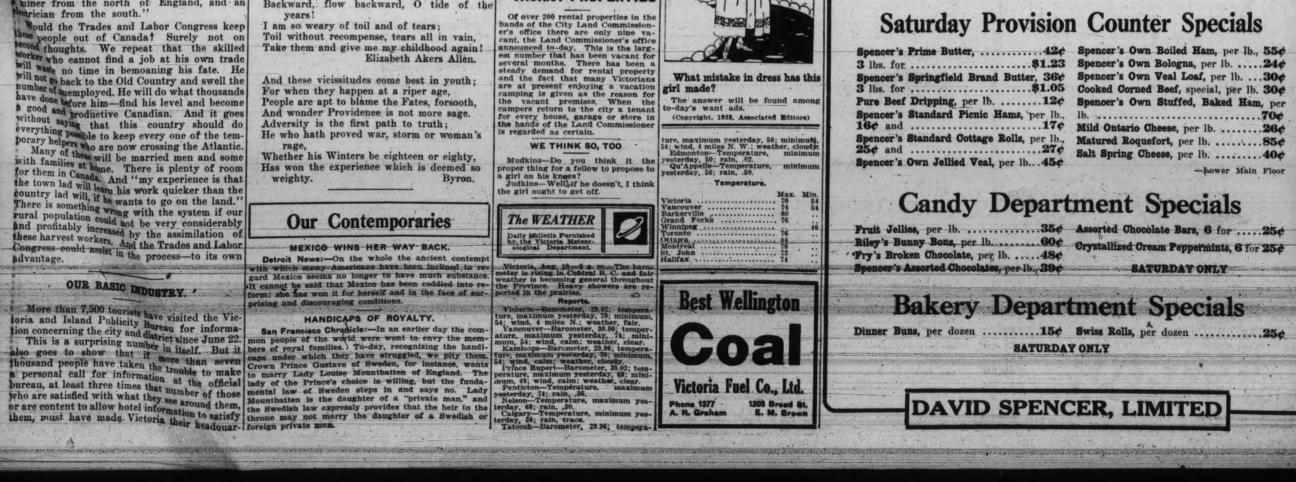

No spicy fragrance while they grow; But crush'd or trodden to the ground, Diffuse their balmy sweets around. Carlyle.

Under the title "Colonial Accounts -a Lesson for England," The Muni-cipal Journal says: "British Columbia is a typical ex-ample of efficiency and loyaity in colonization. From the, accounting point of view it is also a good in-stance of that freedom and elasticity which youth so freely impatts into. the rigidity of the home systems of an Old Country. There is al-ways, of course, the element of pub-lic benefit not to be expressed in cash form, to be derived from the outlay of a department like the Public Works, which has to be borne in mind and which ho formal ac-counts can satisfactorily illustrate. This, however, is a difficulty in-herent in local government accounts and can only be tested, even approx-imately, by statistics as to the volume of work done, docks and har-bors built, streets and roads con-structed, and so on.

AWARDED CONTRACT Lack of Funds Causes Hos-

Lack of Funds Causes Hos-pital Board to Modify Original Plans Parfitt Brothers were declared the successful tenderers for cement work in the new Jubilee Hospital, at a special meeting of that board last night under Chairman George Mc-Gregor. The contract for cementing the corridors, private wards, stair-ways and some tiling work was awarded to that firm at the figure of 817.842.

$17,842.

This ends the second set of tend-ers called for this work. The first tenders, based on a tiling plan throughout, had to be rejected as the board it is stated had not the money to meet the cost of that work.

Marvel of Silence. Marvel of Silence. The awarding of the contract for cement adds another chapter to the completion of the work in making the new building a marvel of silence. The cement in the corridors and pri-vate rooms will carry battleship lin-oleum inlaid. This, while springy to the feet, will deaden all sound and render the new building practically noiseless in this respect, it is expect-ed. The cement is of a special style, called "colornix," and will present the appearance of tiling, with a smooth, readily washable surface. The board is now well on its way preservative work, as each stage of construction is reached. To the Times to-day Mr. McGregor intimated that the hospital had not the money in sight that it could have wished to proceed with the building according to plans. In many cases the cost of what was desired was found too, prohibitive and a modi-fication of specifications for tenders had to be brought about. The cement in place of tiling is one case in point, and here the board was happy in finding a substitute that will be equally effective, it is stated. The board last night accepted with pleasure an announcement of a gift of $1,000 from the Brackman-Ker Milling Co. Half of this money is is earmarked for the completion of a room to bear the name of the firm, and the remainder placed at the dis-posel under the guidance of Mrs. Charles Rhodes, and the chairman. The board last night decided to use the latter $500 in tiling the nursery. The Women's Auxiliary was warmly thanked for dynishing the new wait-ing room in the administrative wing of the building.

The awarding of the cement con-tract was carried out though not all sight. This is the first contract let by the board for work, the money for which was not ready to hand. How the Grains are Puffed

To the invention of Dr. A. P. Anderson, we owe the unique Wheat and Puffed Rice by shooting the grain from guns. The selected grains are first cleaned and then sealed in searce and then searced in huge guns of heavy iron. The guns revolve for an hour in a fierce heat. This cooks the grain and turns all its the grain and turns all its moisture to high pressure steam. When the guns shoot into a great room of fine wire mesh the grains are exploded. Each grain is puffed to 8 times its normal size, and 125 million steam explosions take place in each kernel. Every food granule is thus broken into minute fragments and the whole grain becomes easy to digest and delicious to cat

What a satisfaction to the mother to have her children prefer these wholesome steam ex-ploded foods to anything else she can provide! At any hour of the day when children are hungry, puffed dainties are always ready and always joyously welcomed. Children love to carry the crisp grains in their pockets, and nibble them as they would nuts.

Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are nourishing, whole grain foods in the appetizing form of light, delicate, nutty morsels. Served with milk, they provide ideal nourishment, because they supply the food elements which milk lacks. They are delicious with berries and cream, or sprinkled with melted butter.

 < Total Fall of wickets: 1 for 38, 3 for 54, 3 for 84, 4 for 84, 5 for 95, 6 for 146, 7 for 164 8 for 174, 9 for 175.

Two Wickets Down Quickly. After the interval Lowe sent down the first over to Bullen, who made a single Wight bowled at the other end. Only seven had been added since lunch when Lowe upset Wil-kinson's wicket and Leighton came in. With just a single added the left hander was bowled by Wright. Two good wickets thus falling in fifteen minutes for eight runs. Jerry Peel now became associated with Bullen, who was playing a really sterling game. The score was taken steadily to 194, at which time Peel was out. Bullen played beautiful cricket, and although he hit but few boundaries. his inning was a very valuable one. The innings closed half an hour after the resumption. The entire side batted for two hours and fifty minutes. Manicoba Goes In. On B. C. taking the field Manitoba
