

FIGHTING VICE

DR. BARTON OF MORALS EFFICIENCY ASSOCIATION SPOKE IN GLENDALE.

Dr. R. C. Barton of the Moral's Efficiency Association of Los Angeles spoke last night at the High School Auditorium on "Fighting Vice in Los Angeles County." Dr. Barton said in part:

"For twenty-five years I have been engaged in moral betterment work. More has been accomplished in moral reforms in the past five years than in the previous 100 years. For centuries it has been said that the social evil was necessary, but the contrary has been found true. There are only three open cities in the United States—San Francisco, New Orleans and Cincinnati.

"There can be no lasting progress without a moral foundation based on the teachings of Jesus. Los Angeles is today the cleanest large city in the United States after two years under the Red Light Abatement Act. When we began our work in Los Angeles there were 500 rooming-houses for prostitutes. We have tried 675 cases and never lost one. In thirty-three cases a padlock was put on the door and the places could not be opened until a bond of several thousand dollars was given to conform to the law."

The doctor then gave several illustrations of what had been done through the Moral's Efficiency Association in conjunction with the District Attorney's office. He spoke of a mountain resort which was run wide open until discovered by the officials and promptly closed. He spoke of the closing of the Gondolier Hotel in Venice, where the city officials "winked" at law-breaking. Of the finding of young girls drunk on the streets of Venice at midnight "joshing" with the police officials. This association has saved 500 boys and girls from going through the courts. Two hundred and fifty boys and girls on the way to destruction were saved and are now living good lives. Dr. Barton then asked for the co-operation of parents in the work of the association.

He closed his address with these pertinent words:

"We must be unceasingly at it if we are to save our boys and girls. We must conserve the greatest asset we have—our boys and girls. Money is too often put first and children last. We are outlining a five-year campaign of education. We must inform the parents of the temptations that lie along their children's pathway. Will you help to maintain this association and its work?"

NEW HOTEL OPENS

W. H. EASTON OPENS NEW HOTEL AND RESTAURANT WITH THANKSGIVING DINNER.

W. H. Easton, well-known restaurant man of this city, opens his new European hotel and restaurant tomorrow, Thursday, with an elaborate Thanksgiving dinner.

This new hotel is a credit to Glendale and will no doubt prove a huge success under Mr. and Mrs. Easton's able management. The first floor of the building is divided into a kitchen 24x32 and the main dining-room, which is about 36x60 feet. The kitchen is modern in every respect and is equipped with the latest in a mammoth steel range, in which are two 24-inch ovens. There is also a large steam table, portable work tables, dish-washing apparatus, meat blocks and large refrigerator. In addition are several storage rooms and a pantry.

The dining-room and lunch counter has a capacity of a hundred people and is well appointed in every particular. Along one side of the room is a long lunch counter accommodating fifteen people—then a series of six private stalls, mission style, handsomely finished and complete with mirrors and electric fixtures. In the balance of the dining-room are a dozen tables so varying in size as to accommodate dinner parties of from two to twelve.

The entrance is attractive, with large plate glass windows and gives an unrestricted view of the whole dining-room.

On the second floor there are, besides the parlor and reception hall, twenty-five rooms, all prettily finished and newly furnished, with hot and cold water, heated either by steam or hot water, all wardrobe closets, outside windows and some with private baths.

Mr. and Mrs. Easton, the proprietors of Glendale's latest hotel, need no introduction to local people, as for nearly four years they most successfully managed the Jewel City Restaurant, opposite the City Hall, and they start in business tomorrow at their new location, No. 329 South Brand boulevard, in a new building, with new fixtures, new dishes, silverware, table linens and everything in keeping with an up-to-date cafe and hotel in an enterprising city such as Glendale.

JAPANESE PARTY.

One of the most delightful and unique social events of the season was the Japanese party given by Mrs. E. R. Stauffacher and Miss Ethel B. Land at the home of the former, No. 833 Campbell street, in honor of Miss Irene G. Read, whose marriage to Mr. John White Garver of Torrance will be solemnized on December 6.

Shaggy yellow and white crysanthemums graced the living-room where tables were arranged for Five Hundred, which game was enjoyed by the guests until a late hour. The dainty hand-painted Japanese score cards showed the prize winners to be the Misses Olga Purt and Clara Read.

An elaborate collation, which further carried out the decorative scheme and colors, was served at the small tables. Tiny Japanese lanterns filled with yellow and white candies were given as favors.

After refreshments had been enjoyed the guests were invited to "take a trip to Japan," and Miss Read, the guest of honor, was asked to be guide through the winding paths of the pretty garden, illuminated by Japanese lanterns swinging from the trees and pergola. Arriving at their destination Miss Read was much surprised to find a large Japanese parasol suspended from the pergola, to which was attached a shower of daintily tied packages for the bride-elect. Returning to the United States the numerous packages were opened by the happy bride-to-be, and the dainty gifts admired by all.

The invited guests were the Misses Clara Provolt, Matte Belle Provolt, Bessie Provolt, Olga and Athena Purt, Lillian and Birdie Shropshire, Gertrude Champlain, Frances Jackson, Marguerite Stauffacher, Harriet and Margaret Nichols, Clara, Charlotte and Ethel Read, Ella Wall, Frae Morse and Amy Bowrind; Mesdames J. L. Flint, Jerrod Wenger, George Bannock, Arline Hallihan, Roy Rishforth of Glendale and the Misses Matilda Thompson, Cecelia Wilson and Pauline Scholz of Los Angeles.

F. W. Griggs and family of No. 1451 Oak street will go to Van Nuys this evening to spend Thanksgiving at the home of G. G. Van Horne.

TRY TO LOWER COST OF LIVING

AGRICULTURAL, COMMERCIAL AND POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENTS TO CO-OPERATE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—The departments of Agriculture, Commerce and Postoffice will co-operate in an effort to discover some means of lowering the cost of foodstuffs and other necessary articles. This effort is in response to masses of petitions sent to President Wilson, members of the cabinet and Congressmen to relieve present conditions. The Postoffice department contemplates inaugurating a system whereby the high cost of living may be reduced by marketing by Parcels Post.

PROGRESS OF THE WAR

ALLIES CONTINUE PROGRESS NORTH OF MONASTIR WHILE TEUTONS ADVANCE ON BUCHAREST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Nov. 29.—The Allies are continuing their progress north of Monastir. The Teuton forces are progressing along the Danube and in Wallachia and are coming nearer to the important strategic point, Bucharest. With the central powers in possession of Curtea de Arges, an important railway terminus ninety miles from Bucharest and Giurgiu on the railroad forty miles southwest of the capital, the occupation of the city by the invading army is only a matter of a very short time. The Roumanian government and diplomatic authorities have left the city. It is supposed that the Roumanians are continuing their retirement, but there is a danger that this may not be swift enough to prevent an attack on their flank from von Machensen's forces at Giurgiu.

AUSTRIAN SUBMARINE SUNK CHEMUNG

INITIAL INQUIRIES INTO SINKING OF AMERICAN STEAMSHIP PLACE BLAME ON AUSTRIA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Initial official advices indicate that an Austrian submarine is to blame for the sinking of the American steamship, the Chemung. The Chemung was torpedoed near Cabo de Gato, a promontory on the coast of Spain. The steamer foundered with the American flag flying, the captain having formally refused to lower the flag. The submarine after blowing up the Chemung towed the lifeboats containing the crew to within five miles of the coast where they were abandoned, later being picked up by a Spanish steamer and taken to Valencia.

GLENDALE PATIENT FOUND AT VENICE

WOMAN WHO ESCAPED FROM CANYON CREST SANITARIUM IS LOCATED AT BEACH CITY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

VENICE, Cal., Nov. 29.—An apparently demented woman answering the description of a woman who escaped from the Canyon Crest Sanitarium at Glendale last night was found on the beach in front of the Cadillac hotel today. Her clothing was water soaked, she was hungry and in a pitiable condition. At the hotel she refused to talk and later was taken to the Venice police station where she was declared to be the missing patient and is being held pending the arrival of the Glendale authorities.

CARRANZISTAS FLEE CHIHUAHUA

OFFICIALS OF DE FACTO GOVERNMENT ADMIT THAT VILLA IS IN POSSESSION OF CITY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, Nov. 29.—Carranzista officials admit that Villa captured Chihuahua City on Monday. The defenders of the city are divided and are fleeing to the north and the south. Refugees arriving here say that Gen. Murguia's forces on the way to Chihuahua to reinforce Gen. Trevino were halted by the desertion of Indians who refused to fight Villa.

LONG BEACH FIRM RECEIVES CONTRACT

CALIFORNIA SHIPBUILDING COMPANY AT LONG BEACH TO BUILD SUBMARINES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—The Navy department has awarded to the California Shipbuilding Company at Long Beach a contract for building three submarines. These undersea boats are to cost the government $698,000 each.

FEMALE EX-SHERIFF WANTS JOB

HACKENSACK, N. J., Nov. 29.—Miss Constance Kopp, the ex-sheriff, was a loser in the recent election, but she has just announced her intention of fighting her successful opponent for the job. John W. Courter, Republican, slid into the sheriff's berth on the Republican landslide in New Jersey, and promptly fired Miss Kopp as deputy. She claims that the civil service law just adopted guarantees her her job.

AT GLENDALE HIGH

DR. WIRT SPEAKS OF HORRORS OF WAR AND PLEADS FOR PEACE.

The students of the high school listened yesterday to the best lecture ever delivered in Glendale. Dr. Wirt in his lecture on the great war held the undivided attention of his audience for over an hour, and he captured their hearts. His lecture should be heard by every American.

A splendid story teller, he took his listeners through Europe as it is today—as he saw it himself only a few short months ago. At times in the course of his brilliant and realistic narrative there was not an eye but was dimmed with tears, not a pulse that did not throb faster at the vivid pictures of human suffering. And yet, not a thing did he tell but is actually true.

Nor will the scenes he so eloquently painted and so forcefully stamped upon our minds be soon forgotten. The thought of war will always bring a shudder of horror to those who have heard him. Next to actually living in the war-stricken land, his talk leaves the most lasting impression of the horrible hell of Europe.

And then he brought the message of peace. He builded firmly his arguments for international disarmament. He declared that the rising manhood and womanhood of America would form the backbone of the noblest movement in the world's history. He disclosed our responsibilities of the future, and opened up in a slight degree the curtain of the age of reconstruction to come.

Dr. Wirt is truly doing a great work in his crusade to create a sentiment throughout America for peace by means of an international police.

Dan Hagin and John Sharpe took tickets at the main entrance yesterday. And that is the long and the short of it.

Mildred Wight returned Tuesday morning from a trip to San Diego in company with friends. Although she left only Saturday morning the stay was long enough for the bright sun of the southern beach to brown the skin of Mildred's nose. Just one of the annoying disadvantages of Southern California.

ART AND TRAVEL SECTION.

The Art and Travel section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club met at the home of Mrs. Turck, the curator, Monday afternoon. Mrs. Greenwalt talked on Naples and her paper showed careful study and preparation. She described the bay, the beautiful city on the hills, its museums, aquarium, gardens, palaces, coral and tortoise shell shops. Trips were taken to the surrounding villages and at Capodimonte, the palace of the king was visited. There they saw the cradle of the present king, an elaborately carved affair inlaid with coral, pearls and semi-precious stones. This was given to Queen Margherita by the city of Naples.

In this palace there is also a fine collection of exquisite Capodimonte porcelain which was manufactured in this village from 1743 to 1805, when it was suppressed by the French. A short visit was made to Posilipo, which is situated on a hill west of the city and affords a fine view of Naples, bay and Vesuvius.

Thalberg, the composer, owned one of the many charming villas in this suburb and here among the vineyard above the old road is the tomb of Virgil. The extinct volcano of Pozzuoli was described, its amphitheatre, Temple of Serapis and Solfatara. A drive was taken to Torre del Greco, the home of the Camorristas, where specimens of coral were purchased. The ascent to Vesuvius was successfully made and the party then journeyed on to Pompeii.

A brief resume of the history of Pompeii was given by Mrs. Turck, who has spent considerable time there and is vitally interested in this city that lay buried and forgotten from 79 to 1748 A.D., when some specimens of ancient art were discovered by some peasants in a ruined house. Excavations were then carried on intermittently until the fall of Murat in 1860. Murat made scientific but not systematic research there. But from 1860 the work has been done by the eminent Italian archeologist, Fiorelli.

Many photographs were shown as well as vases, curios and bronzes, and the ladies left feeling that a profitable afternoon had been spent.

The next meeting will be on January 8, 1917, when Sorrento, Capri, Positano and Amalfi will be visited en route to Rome, and some time spent in profitable study.

DAY FOR ARTISTS

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB RECIPROcity DAY FEATURED BY MUSICAL PROGRAM

Seldom, if ever, has the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon club had so many artists appear on a single program as were presented by the Music Section under the direction of Mrs. E. W. Kinney on Reciprocity Day, Tuesday, November 28, at Masonic Temple. The hall was appropriately decorated with autumn colors and leaves. After a word of welcome to the many delegates from clubs all over the Los Angeles district of women's clubs, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, president, introduced Mr. F. W. Blanchard, who gave a short talk on the value and needs of the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra, and made an appeal for the club women's interest in and support of that worthy organization.

The program of the afternoon was presented by Constance Balfour, soprano, in German and French selections as well as in the compositions of a Glendale artist, Julius Kranz, and in numbers composed by J. Carl Briel, who wrote the music for the film play Intolerance. Both composers shared in the hearty approbation of the audience. Among American singers today there is probably not one who possesses in a more marked degree all the attributes of the true artist than does Constance Balfour. A voice of remarkable smoothness, yet possessing ample range and power; an artistic perception gained through long association with the world's foremost artists and teachers; the poise and assurance that comes only after much experience on the concert platform and operatic stage, and the charm of Miss Balfour's personality delighted her audience.

Mr. J. Carl Briel was clearly a favorite though his modesty prevented his acceptance of as much honor as the audience would gladly have given him. Mr. Julius Kranz in his piano and violin compositions displayed a remarkable amount of musical originality, and a delicate sense of artistry. Glendale may well be proud of this promising genius. Miss Mae Orcutt Brooks and Mrs. M. B. Jones were the able accompanists of the afternoon.

Bartlett as judge of the election board for the coming election. Mrs. Emma L. Reed, vice-president of the district, also brought words of greeting. Dainty refreshments in keeping with the Thanksgiving season, were served by the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. R. W. Meeker, chairman.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1916.

ENCOURAGING SCIENTIFIC AGRICULTURE

The twenty-four prize-winning boys selected by the University of California from the 1157 members of the crop growing contest clubs organized by the University in the high schools of the state have returned from the 10,000 mile trip across the continent, studying agricultural conditions and methods in various states. The boys made this trip in a special car and were guests of the state university. They studied thirteen distinct types of agriculture: the improved methods of Pacific Coast grain farming as exemplified by the University farm at Davis; the Pacific Coast type of fruit raising at Spokane; the northern type of dry farming for grain at Missoula, Mont.; the Mississippi valley type of corn or hog raising at Manhattan, Kansas; the northern fruit farming type near Rochester, N. Y.; the Atlantic Coast type of general farming at Sparks, Md.; the Atlantic Coast type of truck farming at Norfolk, N. J.; the raising of fine stock in the Blue Grass country near Lexington, Ky.; the gulf type of sugar plantation near Franklin, La.; the gulf type of general farming near Lafayette, La.; and the southwestern type of irrigated farming near Tucson, Arizona, and the Pacific Coast type of citrus fruit raising and intensive farming in the neighborhood of Los Angeles.

There was a strenuous program of automobile trips through the country, visits to agricultural industries, factories and historic points, banquets, etc. during the entire month from Berkeley to Boston and return. At home all of the twenty-four boys live on farms, and on an average they milk three cows apiece night and morning. Two thirds of them had never been out of California. All of them had been members of the University's agricultural clubs for at least two years and had competed twice in the annual crop-growing contests. The boys brought back new ideas that will be invaluable to them in their life work. One boy made a collection of twelve varieties of corn and all collected seeds of various kinds.

Aside from the valuable information received in the demonstrations they witnessed and the lectures they heard on the trip and the education that comes from travel, the most important result of this trip is the ambition that has been kindled in every one of these champion boy farmers and in many others as well to be leaders in country life in California and to help develop to the full the profitable new applications of science to agriculture and the new American ideals of better community life in the open country.

Fred Peterman, the San Diego county representative on the transcontinental journey said he only saw one house outside of California that he would like to live in. When questioned further he said this was the White House.

CAUSE FOR THANKSGIVING

Where does there breathe a man tomorrow that has not abundant cause for being thankful. The rich have cause to be thankful that they have been of humble spirit, and the poor have cause to be thankful that they have been able to subsist on what they have. There is an abundance of everything in this world for everybody. There should be no cause for any human being to pass Thanksgiving Day in hunger. The man who goes hungry tomorrow has blundered. Tables throughout the land will groan under the weight of the fat of the land tomorrow. If anyone goes hungry it is because that one has gotten out of tune with the world. A well-tuned musical instrument is not at fault when a companion instrument gets out of tune; neither is the world at fault when one or more individuals get out of harmony with the things of the world. Then as the morrow approaches let us give thanks that we are not out of harmony with the things about.

HOLIDAY FOR EVENING NEWS

Tomorrow will be a quiet day at The Evening News printing plant. Not a wheel on a machine in this place will turn tomorrow. It will be a day of rest and recreation for those who on other days are exceedingly busy.

The great things that have been made by men in this world are the works of good management on the part of some one. Wise and careful management lies at the foundation of all worthy accomplishments. That large ranch over yonder, comprising several hundred acres, dotted with fine buildings, gives evidence that some one at some time has exercised good management. That large factory, fitted up with the best modern machinery which is operated by skilled workmen, declares that good management is the great mental force that keeps everything in operation.

The well-conducted colleges and schools of which we feel so proud have been made successful institutions of learning by wise management. Great institutions do not spring up by chance. There is a mental force back of all things visible. That mental force is exerted in the form of management.

TROPICO TRUSTEES

BAER SUES THE CITY—LIVELY DISCUSSION OVER FEES OF THE CITY ATTORNEY

The trustees of the city of Tropic met in regular session Tuesday evening at 7:30, with the following officers and members of the board present: Trustees Peters, president of the board; Henry, Alspach, Seal and Veselich; City Clerk Mrs. Coleman; City Attorney Shaw; City Engineer Wattles and Health Officer Mabry.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. A communication was received from A. S. Ryerson, secretary of the Central Development Company of Los Angeles, asking that the board pass a resolution favoring a union terminal in Los Angeles near the Plaza. The communication was placed on file.

H. C. Green of Green street addressed the board in regard to the work on Hill street bridge. Mr. Green seemed to think that the fill and the retaining supports at the Hill street bridge were not being put in to the satisfaction of himself and asked that the board see to it that the anchors were differently placed.

The City Engineer replied to his fault-finders, stating that the work was being done according to specifications and exactly similar work had been done and had stood for years and engineers all over the country were using the same system of anchorage. After some discussion the board decided to rest on the assumption that the engineer knew his business and would proceed with the work accordingly.

Attorney Van Etten addressed the board in regard to his firm representing the city in the case of Mason et al vs. the city of Tropic in the Superior Court and asked a fee of $50 for same; on motion the board voted $53 to pay said fee and court cost of $3.

City Attorney Shaw notified the board that the claim of $64.50 of Mr. Baer had been sued on and asked advice in the matter. He was instructed to appear for the city and was voted a fee of $15 for same. The City Attorney was also instructed to represent the city in the appeal cases of the jitney bus trials in the Superior Court and was allowed $25 for each appearance, Trustee Seal voting no on each proposition, stating that he thought the city was paying enough in salary without paying additional fees.

The City Engineer suggested to the board that guard rails be put up alongside the fill at the approach to the Moore avenue and Adams street bridges.

City Health Officer reported that he had investigated the goat dairy which was referred to him two weeks ago and that the dairy in question was very satisfactory and recommended that the permit to sell milk be granted.

A. H. Johnson made applications for a permit to erect a small building on Tropic avenue for a fruit stand. The application was taken under advisement for one week.

The following claims were allowed and ordered paid: Puente Oil Company, $2.99; Tropic Sentinel, $7.08; Tropic Sentinel, $7.20; C. C. Harris, $28.04; Cornwell & Kelly, $1.25. Adjournment.

THANKSGIVING. A GOOD-BY HERITAGE. (By Samuel Parker.)

Think not to find a better land Than this fair land in which we dwell. Blessings abound on every hand, More numerous than we can tell.

No Czar or King his wants make known, No cringing sycophants obey, We bend the knee to God alone, On this, our glad Thanksgiving day.

"Land of the free"—Fair heritage Bless land wherein the people rule; Two powers our future good presage—The Bible—and the public school.

Land where the starry banner waves— Land of broad farms and happy homes, Where the oppressed our kindness craves, As to our friendly shores he comes.

Land of great forests, mighty streams, Of smiling valleys, lofty hills, Land where the fruitful harvest teems, Where golden store the warehouse fills.

Land where the rich and generous soil So well the husbandman repays; Land where the fruits of honest toil Are garnered up for coming days.

Together we have met today, To lift our hearts in gratitude To God and reverently say, Praise ye the Lord for He is good.

Yea, praise the Lord for home and friends; For country where the people rule, And for each blessing that attends The Church, the Flag and Public School.

THANKSGIVING. "LET US GIVE THANKS." (By Samuel Parker.)

On every hand, throughout the land, In humble home or mansion, In harmony do all agree On doctrine of expansion.

Let voices raise in thanks and praise, That each one here is able, With appetite and weapons bright, To charge upon the table.

But e'er we charge our waists to enlarge, Our hearts have been extended, If e'er we dine, your hands and mine Some brother hath befriended;—

If those oppressed and sore distressed By some o'erwhelming sorrow, From us have heard some cheerful word, To strengthen them tomorrow.

Then louder raise our songs of praise For all his mercies given; Bright skies o'er head and daily bread And for the hope of heaven;—

For country grand, most favored land, For church and school and college; Achievements great, our high estate, Which all the world acknowledge;—

For home and friends, for all that tends Good fellowship promoting, For brave hearts true, that pledge anew To keep "Old Glory" floating;—

If here today ye truly say That life is worth the living, Pass off thy plate and celebrate This national Thanksgiving.

THANKSGIVING PARAGRAPHS.

By Samuel Parker.

In the earlier history of Thanksgiving day the family reunion feature was possible to an extent unknown today. For generations the New England farm descended from sire to son and a possible four generations settled in one small county. Today a family gathering involving four generations might draw on a half-dozen States, and involve thousands of miles of travel. For cheaper method see next paragraph. (No patent.)

Oh, dear and well beloved friends, Your absent one this message sends. You are so very far away. I cannot come Thanksgiving day! But this I promise sure to do, In spirit I will be with you. In the swift wireless of the mind I leave all other modes behind; And traverse continents to say God bless you all Thanksgiving day. How choice the blessings that He sends, Of country kind home and friends.

Sambo, having caught a rabbit, was tramping joyfully home, chuckling aloud how good "that ar" rabbit would be—roast, stew, fry, pot pie—finally summing up "good anyway"—when the rabbit, as if aware of coming doom, jerked from Sambo's grasp and sought safety in a hazel thicket. Sambo was a philosopher and ejaculated, "dry meat anyhow." The turkey (of the market) having flown to the 35-cent perch, should at once be voted dry meat, a la Sambo's rabbit, and banished from the Thanksgiving table at that prohibition price. His use is largely a fad. He is full of "dry meat." The common barn-yard chicken beats him at every point. Millions of our countrymen never tasted turkey. "Raus mit him."

If the originators of Thanksgiving day, which all know first to have been deeply religious in returning thanks to God for relief from impending famine and second, later on, to call families together in reunions, could come forth today and witness the perversion of their lofty concept, what would be their feeling, if spirits could feel. The formal call to observe by President and Governor requests the people to assemble at their usual places of worship and "give thanks for mercies and blessings." Here are always found a faithful few, while the sports run over one another in their mad haste to reach the games and races.

Oh, yonder she comes—that's Genevieve—she's found some Thanksgiving want to relieve. She's lightened her mother's cutlery shelf by the looks of that basket, big as herself. "Where are you going Genie," said I. "Just over there to that cottage near-by—the family there is very poor, at best they could scarce keep the wolf from the door. He had the misfortune to break his leg; they're really in need but too proud to beg. The girl needs clothes, and the mother is ill, and so I will give them a Thanksgiving fill. Only the other day mother said, 'No use to ask God for daily bread, if you have abundance on the side, and with the needy will not divide.' Down in your heart could you fail to say, God bless that girl on her mission today."

It does seem like ritualism and smacks of formalism to set apart a special day to wholesale, as it were, our thanks for the entire year as if we had not time to do it in any other way. And yet these special reasons run through all countries and peoples in history. Nations mark epochs in this way, but a better way for the individual would be to give thanks every day. With freedom to omit all days in which could not be found abundant reasons for doing so.

Thanksgiving is a very well established national affair and its observance for so many years ought to have brought into use a wealth of appropriate songs and music. But this has not materialized in proportion to the opportunity for it. The Puritans found in their limited hymnology compositions to fit the occasion. But church hymnals of today are not as rich as they might be in songs for this special occasion.

Lack of interest in our national thanksgiving cannot be charged to neglect of the subject on the part of the clergy. A wide range of observation will reveal the fact that these watchmen on the walls of Zion give no uncertain sound at this point and the varied topics discussed are creditable to the speakers in a wide range of human interest most certainly freeing them from the charge of narrowness or men of one idea.

W.C.T.U.

Mrs. Guy Morton of No. 112 North Isabel street will entertain the city W.C.T.U. Friday, December 1, at 2 o'clock. Special features of the program are a parliamentary drill, a hospital baby garment shower and crusade memories.

FOOTBALL GAME POSTPONED.

The Foothill Athletic Club-Pasadena football game announced for Thanksgiving day has been postponed indefinitely. The dance to be held in the evening under the auspices of the F.A.C. will receive the undivided attention of the members of the club, and will no doubt be the social event of the season.

Mr. Henderson had resided in Eagle Rock for nearly five years and was serving his second term as City Clerk.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Pulliam Undertaking Company of Glendale. Services will be held at the Congregational Church in Eagle Rock Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Henderson was a member of Glendale Commandery, Knights Templar, and this organization will form an honorary escort at the services. Mrs. Henderson will accompany the remains of her husband to Washington, Iowa, their former home, for burial.

The mother in her office holds the keys of the soul. It is she who stamps the coin of character.—Old Play

BIRDHOUSES GALORE.

Big birdhouses, little birdhouses, houses green, brown, white and red—cheap houses, expensive houses, houses made by girls and by boys—pouring in until one would think Glendale was composed of nothing but birdhouses. It does one's heart good to meet the boys, to note their sparkling eyes, and hear their eager descriptions of how they made their houses. And if anybody thinks that girls cannot make as good carpenters as boys, just let that person visit the birdhouse exhibit on Friday or Saturday and see for himself one of the most perfect of houses made by a Glendale girl, 12 years old. The exhibit is free to all, and will be held at No. 327 South Brand on December 1 and 2. Come and see what the Glendale young people can do; come and see the first exhibit of birdhouses ever made on the Pacific Coast. Aspects of the Garden Society, whose slogan is: "For Home and Civic Beauty." The exhibit is free; come and bring your friends.
