

THE BEE

PUBLISHED DAILY BY JEROME KAYON.

SPECIAL GAZETTE OF THE STATE AND CITY.

"THE UNION" must be preserved.

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 17, 1850.

The mail of yesterday brought us New York journals of the 6th and Charleston of the 8th—with "almost not quite" corresponding dates from other places.

We have vain glanced over them for matters of importance or interest.

The court martial had terminated on Captain Reed, and the report sent to the president.

Mr. Livingston had left Washington after a delay of three days—during which he was the guest of the president, and now he is to have a public dinner in New York and Philadelphia.

We are happy to see that all the eastern journals concur in the propriety and excellence of his last official letter in France; but most of them seem to think that the question is or will be settled.

A society has been established called "The South Carolina Society for the advancement of learning," under the auspices of Messrs. DeSaussure, Calhoun, Preston and Pettigrove—to attain the ends proposed by the founders of the S. C. college.

Some four weeks since a morning journal of this city had assailed the executive government for not protecting the trade hence to Mexico—asserting that in two or three instances only had national vessels ever approached the Mexican coast. At that time we had doubted the accuracy as well as the propriety of those remarks, but had not facts to combat them; prudence therefore suggested silence.

But now we are authentically informed by the Washington Globe that there have been several cruises of the national squadron during the past 12 months, not only of the Mexican coast; but that many had entered the Mexican ports. Even at the time of the remarks the sloop Faunton, Captain Rousseau, was cruising on the coasts of Louisiana, Texas and Mexico; and had made a similar cruise during last October.

During January and February of this year the sloop St. Louis had made a like cruise and also entered Mexican ports; as she had done last year in May.

The sloop Vandala cruised on the same coast during June and July of the last year; and the schooner Grampus in February and March of the present.

On the 10th of May 1850, the president received a communication from the presidents of several insurance offices in this city complaining that "no U. S. vessel of war had been cruising on the Mexican coast for seventeen months past," which he not on y answered same day; but referred to the commander of the squadron at Pensacola, who proved plainly that the statement was erroneous; and on the 21st of October last, a similar correspondence occurred; and again met with prompt attention from the president, who referred it with instructions to the secretary of the navy; at the sometime that he transmitted to the insurance companies a copy of Commodore Henley's report on their former command, and a further assurance that the subject would be properly reg'd.

With the paucity of vessels composing the squadron at Pensacola is considered, with the extensive duties they have to perform through the whole of the West India islands, the coasts of Columbia, Yucatan, Mexico, Texas, Louisiana and Florida, there are certainly no justificatory grounds for assailing the general government for neglect; when it is considered that the vessels of war had been regularly cruising in their turns ~~three~~ months over this extensive jurisdiction, there appears no reason for censure; and when it is known that the president promptly and effectively attended to the complaint of our insurance companies, he should certainly be praised rather than incurred.

The best remedy seems to us to increase the squadron at Pensacola, so that each vessel of war shall have a cruise only of two instead of three months successively in routine, and thus not only the state of the navy but of our foreign relations evidently require.

BOSTON—We see; and they addled him the are, was our reminiscent ejaculation on receiving yesterday a communication contradicting the allegation in a morning paper, that J. W. Breckinridge and his Palfrey had seized the Vickburg refuge, who attempted to steal away a negro on the board of the steamer Watchman. In attributing the street to Mr. Breckinridge, we believed that our contemporary had taken "the wrong side of the bar" and our correspondent being an eyewitness of the transaction states that Mr. Davis of the Arch House at the lake had secured the negro—Mr. B. being not at instant. But even had the collector himself arrested the fellow, we might have bumm'd.

All our pair were never seen,

So justly formed to meet by nature.

It is pleasing to find that most of the gentlemen connected with fire insurance offices, and other respectable persons connected with the subject, who have been requested to inspect the smokehouse of High and Forrestal in Barren street, are decidedly opposed to the interested petition presented to the city council against it as a nuisance.

NEW YORK—The excitement prevalent among our citizens relative to the arrival of the ejected from the towns on the Mississippi, induced us to give an abstract of the law on various and suspicious persons, passed 7th June 1850.

The first section of the act declares that all who have no sufficient means of subsistence, honest occupation, profession and pursuit—who frequent grogshops or gambling houses at disorderly places, and not able to produce certificates of their good conduct and morals—and those who beg without permission, shall be deemed idle and disorderly persons, and shall on conviction give security for their good behavior for 12 months; otherwise be imprisoned for one month and kept at hard labor.

The 2d section declare that all are vagabonds and suspicious persons who are found lurking about at night; who lodge or sleep in suspicious places, in outhouses or the open air, and are not able to give a satisfactory account of themselves—those who are apprehended with instruments and probable intent to commit burglary, or with an offensive weapon intended for assault—or who are found in a suspicious place with intent to steal, and it is enacted that they shall be imprisoned for 3 months, and kept at hard labor.

The 3rd section enacts that should any of those declared vagabonds by the 1st, or vagabonds by the 2d section, give a false account of themselves or commit second offence they shall be imprisoned from six months to 8 years: but none are to be prohibited a trial by jury, should they recieve.

The 4th section declares that warrants of arrest may be issued against any of the above persons by a justice of the peace and the 5th and remaining sections indicate the mode of examination and prosecution. Women are as amenable as men to the provisions of this act.

We have heard that the above law was ably sustained as to the propriety and efficiency of its enactment, by Major T. G. Hopper, at the meeting held on Wednesday at Banks' Arcade.

"The Moonlight," a novel by Mr. Penniman Cooper, is ready for publication. We have read the introduction to it with much pleasure—although it is in the antiquated style of some of Bonaparte's, that the subject-matter had been given or found so-and-so. We might keep to the epigraphs in a part of it, when he says of himself—"Although I am an American, I am a gentleman." This is nearly tantamount to the wanton assertion of Coleridge in his Biographical history, that "the republican of America is the antipode of a gentleman." But Coleridge afterward made the same horrible in his incalculable of Captain Hall—tory as the "Athenian Mariner" was avowedly in his politics.

Louis Philip finds himself in rather an awkward predicament from the accredited publication of his inclination to promote the interests of Den Carle; and his obligation to the quadruple treaty to protect those of the young queen. His intervention has been formally demanded; but is likely to be delayed, as Den Carle is getting the upper hand throughout Spain. Prince Talleyrand, Marshal Macdonald and others agree in opinion with the king; and the French ministry are in a quandary—waiting for events.

Every extraordinary crusade appears to have been commenced against the Roman catholics, by some members of the Presbyterian sect, in the United States. But we had hoped that such bigotry and uncomprehension would have been restricted to the polemics of the north; where fanaticism depends on ignorance.

Had the editor of the Daily News read the article on this subject which he extracted yesterday, we think that his liberality of feeling would have prevented its being inserted. Religious subjects of a sectarian nature are really not legal.

—Continued from page 1.—A passenger who arrived in the mail ship Chrysanthemum embarked the same day in the steam packet for Hamburg, which performs the run in 10 hours, where they take the stage for Lubeck, arrive there in 6 hours, and then embark in the General Steam Navigation Co.—thus making a voyage from New York to St. Petersburg in less than 24 days.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others; a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

At 11 o'clock in the mail ship Chrysanthemum embarked the same day in the steam packet for Hamburg, which performs the run in 10 hours, where they take the stage for Lubeck, arrive there in 6 hours, and then embark in the General Steam Navigation Co.—thus making a voyage from New York to St. Petersburg in less than 24 days.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pray, Environs and State. Pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride that makes us fancy that we deserve all that we are overjoyed; and pride, because all that we are overjoyed, diminishes the sum that we think due to ourselves.

Every, peddler and huckster.—If you want enemies and others;

a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a scoundrel, a thief, a swindler, a huckster, a corporative, and connoisseur—Pr