POETRY.

THE SABBATH.

BY SIR E. BULWER LYTON.

Fresh glides the brook and blows the gale.
Yet yonder halts the quiet mill;
The whirling wheel, the rustling sail,
How motionless and still!

Six days to toil, poor child of Cain,
Thy strength the slave of Want may be;
The seventh the limbs escape the chain—
A God hath made thee free!

Ah, tender was the Law that gave
This holy respite to the breast;
To breathe the gale, to watch the wave,
And know—the wheel may rest!

But where the waves the gentlest glide,
What image charms, to lift thine eyes?
The spire reflected on the tide
Invites thee to the skies.

To teach the soul its nobler worth
This rest from mortal toil is given;
Go, snatch the brief reprieve from earth,
And pass a guest from heaven.

They tell thee, in their dreaming school,
Of Power from old dominion hurled;
When rich and poor, with juster rule,
Shall share the altered world.

Alas! since Time itself began,
That false hath but fooled the hour;
Each age that ripens Power to Man
But subjects Man in Power.

Ye' every day in seven, at least,
One bright republic shall be known;
Man's world while hath surely ceased,
When God proclaims his own!

Six days may Rank divide the poor,
O! Divides from the banquet hall!
The seventh, thy Father opens the door,
And holds his feast for all!

ROSANNA, THE UGLY ONE.

"But look, then," said Mrs. Moore, to her husband, "how ugly that little one is. Is she not, William?"

And Mr. Moore, who was sitting in a rocking-chair, amusing himself with poking the fire, laid down the tongs he held and gravely answered his wife.

"But my dear, you have already said so one hundred times, and were you to say it one hundred times more, Rose would not become less ugly for your saying so."

Rosanna was a little girl of about fourteen. She was their only child, and, to do her Mother justice, was really very ugly—nay, almost revolting; with her little gray eyes, flat nose, large mouth, thick protruding lips, red hair, and, above all, form remarkably awry.

Rose was then, very ugly—but she was a sweet girl, nevertheless. Kind and intelligent, she possessed a mind of the highest order. Nature seemed to have compensated her with every good quality of the heart for the want of every beauty of person.

The poor little thing was profoundly hurt, as she listened to her mother's observation. "Oh, you little fright, you will never get a husband."

"Eight o'clock struck; Mrs. Moore was sorely vexed.

"Go to bed Rosanna."

Trembling the little girl approached her mother, to give her the kiss of a good night.

"Tis useless, you little monster," said her mother.

A tear rolled from the little one's eye. She hastily wiped it away, and turned to her father, presented him the yet numid cheek.

He kissed her tenderly.

"I am not altogether miserable," she murmured, leaving the room.

Retiring to her chamber, she commenced embroidering a scarf, and worked thus, part of the night, for she desired to be able to present it to her mother, when she rose in the morning.

The clock struck twelve. She had just finished, and putting it by, the little girl calmly resigned herself to rest. Her repose was undisturbed.

On the morrow Rose presented the scarf to her mother. What was the pain the little one experienced, when her mother received it coldly, and expressed none of those tender sentiments which wher to have been the sweet little one's reward.

Her eyes, by chance, glanced over a neighboring mirror.

"Yes," she said, internally, "I am ugly—they are right," and she sought in her young heart to find a remedy for ugliness.

And then in the world—new pangs wounded the little ugly one's heart. A first impression alienated all the young girls of her own age—but then she was so good, so amiable, so amusing, that they approached, then listened and then loved her. Now, indeed, our little one was happy.

One day Mr. Moore went home in a violent passion, and became, in consequence of some trifling prevarication, highly incensed against his wife. Their domestic felicity was troubled for eight long days—for eight long days Mrs. Moore was continually crying. Rosanna in vain racked her young brains to discover why—but her father still continued angry, and her mother was still continually weeping. At last she reflected in her mind how to reconcile them.

They were all three seated in the parlor—Mr. Moore was arranging the fire—when this was concluded he threw the tongs from him, snatched a book from the mantel, and opened it abruptly; but after a moment's perusal, he closed it again in a violent humor, cast a fierce glance at his trembling wife, and hurriedly rose from his chair.

Rosanna deeply moved, clasped her arms about his neck, as he was about to rise, and affectionately caressed him.—He could not reject her innocent coaxing and the little girl, thinking she had succeeded in touching his heart, took in her hands the moistened handkerchief wherewith her mother had been drying her weeping eye, and dried them a second time therewith; she then tenderly embraced her mother, who returned her affectionate caress with all a mother's fondness.

The parties being now favorably disposed, naught remained but to establish the peace. This was no easy matter—neither would make the first overture—and without the penetration of little Rose the reconciliation would not then have taken place.

She took her father's hand between her own little hands, and pressed it to her bosom; she then took her mother's hand, and joined it to her father's as it lay near her heart. Human pride could resist no longer—the alienated parents rose at the same moment and cordially embraced each other.

From that hour Rose was the idol of them both.

Six years after this, Rosanna, the ugly Rosanna, was the ornament to every society to which her mother presented her. Amiable, witty, and observing, her conversation was universally courted.

One summer evening, the sun, which, during the day, had shed over nature an intense heat, had just disappeared, leaving the horizon covered with long, white bands of red—clouds more and more dark were heaping themselves on the eastern sky—the atmosphere was suffocating, and one would deem the earth was returning to the sun the heat she had been receiving from the latter during the day. All was heavy and weary—the air inhaled seemed rather to suffocate than nourish. A drowsy languor overcame every one.

In a saloon, whose every window was thrown open, might be seen gliding, here and there, in the darkened light, groups of young females, whose white dresses, slightly agitated by the rising breeze of the evening, offered something mysterious and poetical whereon the imagination loved to dwell. A low languishing whisper was then heard, like the s'othing murmur of some distant rivulet. A young woman, seated before a piano, was expressing her heart's sentiment by an extemporaneous melody, now smooth and tender, now deep and trembling.

No more whispering, but a general silence took place, for hers was a celestial symphony, a seraph's song.

Lord Underwood, a fine blue-eyed young nobleman, was so deeply touched by the melody, that his frame seemed agitated by a momentary convulsion.—He listened to the angle's voice, so softly harmonizing with the sweetest tones of the instrument, and felt an indescribable sensation thrill through his frame.

The music ceased, but the sweet voice still vibrated on Underwood's ear, and there was a charm in the witty and original trifle to which he listened, that trans fixed him where he stood.

"How beautiful must that young girl be," thought Underwood. "Happy the man on whom may fall her choice," and he involuntarily sighed.

Suddenly lights are brought in. The young woman was the ugly Rosanna.

Lord Underwood was stupefied—he closed his eyes, but the charm of that voice haunted his memory. He gazed on her a second time, and he found her less ugly. The beauties of her mind seemed transferred to her person; and her gray eyes, small as they were, expressed, wonderful well, her internal sensation.

Lord Underwood wedded Rosanna, and became the happiest of men in the possession of the kindest and most loving of women.

Beauty deserts us, but virtue and talents, the faithful companions of our lives accompany us even to our grave.

An old gentleman, on retiring from business, gave the following sage advice to his son and successors: "Common sense, my son, is valuable in all kinds of business—except love-making."

HINTS ON WASHING HANDS.—Some philosophy is useful even in so simple a matter as washing the hands. If any lady doubts it, let her with a microscope examine the surface to be cleaned by water, and she will be interested by the discoveries made. Instead of a smooth surface of skin, presenting when unwashed a dingy appearance, there will be seen a corrugated surface, with deep irregular furrows, in which the foreign particles are deposited like earth among the rough paving stones of a street. If they lie loosely, it would be an easy matter to dislodge them with a little cold water; but the pores, and the waste-pipes of the body, are continually discharging into these open drains prospiration and oil, which by evaporation become a cement to hold the particles of dust, etc., and to remove them requires both chemical and mechanical action. Warm water softens this cement, expands the furrows, and makes the skin pliable; so that by rubbing the soil is disturbed and partially removed. But chemistry must aid a little before the process is complete; soap is therefore added, the alkali of which unites with the oily matters, and the whole is easily disposed of. The towel is useful, because its soft threads or fibers work down among the furrows like so many little brooms, sweeping them out, hence it should be soft and pliable.—Flannel is preferable to cotton for this purpose, and a sponge is best of all—Harsh, strong alkaline soap should be avoided, as it abstracts all the oil from the upper layer of the skin and makes it chap or crack. Cold cream soap is best, being neutral. Where a sponge is not obtained, a good and serviceable wash-clath may be knit of soft cotton twine, either with a crochet or with coarse wooden needles, knitting backwards and forward as garters are knit. A mitten knit of this cotton with a crochet needle is very handy for this purpose, and makes a neat article for the wash-stand. The washing clath may be had of most the perfumers.

AN UNFOUNDED CHARGE.—A leading officer in one of the courts was charged with never going to bed sober. Of course he indignantly denied the soft impeachment; and he gave the particulars of a particular night in proof. We quote his own words:

Pretty soon after I got into bed, my wife said:

"Why, husband, what is the matter with you? You act so strangely."

"There's nothing the matter with me," said I: "nothing at all."

"I'm sure there is," said she; "you don't act natural at all. Shant I get up and get something for you?"

"And she got up, lighted a candle, and came to the bedside to look at me, shading the light with her hand.

"I knew there was something strange about you," said she. "Why, you are sober!"

"Now, this is a fact, and my wife will swear to it. So don't you slander me any more by saying that I haven't been to bed sober in six months, cause I know I have."

Such testimony was considered reliable, and the man now enjoys his new found reputation.

HORSES LOVE LADIES.—An English lady of rank, now in Egypt writes home as follows: "I fear you may deem me rather boastful of my horsemanship, when I tell you that two Arab horses which threw their cavaliers did not throw me. The cause, however, was not in my skill, but in the very remarkable predilection these intelligent animals feel toward the weaker sex. Let the wildest Arabian be mounted by a woman; you will see him suddenly grow mild and gentle as a lamb. I have had plenty of opportunities to make the experiment, and in my own stable there is a beautiful gray Arab, which nobody but myself dare ride.

He knows me, anticipates my wishes, judiciously calculate the degree of fatigue I can bear without inconvenience. It is curious to see how he manages to quicken his pace without shaking me, and the different sort of step he has invented to remedy contradictory purposes. Horses being as liable to forgetfulness as other organized beings, my incomparable gray would allow his ambition to overcome his galantry, and if another horse threatened to pass him, would start off with the speed of the whirlwind. Wo, to me, if, under such circumstances, I were to trust the strength of my arm, or the power of the bridle! I know the gallant charger better. Leaving my hand loose, and abandoning all thoughts of compulsion, I would take to persuasion; pat him on the neck, call him by his name, beg him to be quiet, and deserve the piece of sugar waiting for him at home. Never did these gentle means fail. Instantly would he slacken his pace, prick up his ears as if comprehending his error, and come back to a soft amble."

A NEW DICTIONARY.—Mr. Epaminondas Scroggs' says he is about to publish a new edition of Johnson's Dictionary, which will exclude every word calculated to hurt any one. The following is a specimen:

Murder.—An eccentricity or accident, frequently done from the pursuit of motives.

Treason.—The loftiest effort of patriotism.

Abuse.—Liberality of epithet.

Miser. A man who knowing that money is the root of all evil, nobly sacrifices himself for the good of his fellow-creatures by hoarding all he can.

Burglar.—A man who visits another man's house without a formal invitation.

Wife.—One who halves our sorrows and doubles our joys—or vice versa, as the case may be.

Marriage.—A mutual delirium, or double swindle.

Bible.—A disinterested compliment, or the reward of virtue.

BLUE HEN'S CHICKENS.—The Rev. Dr. Combe, of Philadelphia, a native of Delaware, furnishes the explanation for the American Agriculturist, as follows: In the olden time there were in that State a breed of fighting cocks, noted for their pluck and endurance. They never knew when they were whipped, but would fight as long as there was a feather left. The only account of the origin of this breed was that they sprung from a blue hen. In the revolutionary war, (1776-1783), Delaware furnished a regiment of soldiers, which in numerous marches and battles became distinguished for persistent bravery. On this account they came to be called the "Blue Hen's Chicken." The name thus becoming an honorable one, was afterwards assumed by the people of the State.

A witty young rascal, passing through the town of—, in Alabama, not long since, wanted some whisky, and knowing it could only be obtained by physicians, wrote himself an order, signing it with his own name, to which a learned M. D. was attached. He presented it at the drug-store of a gentleman, who, though unrecognized by him, proved to be an old acquaintance. "Hallo Frank," said he "when did you get to be a doctor?" "I'm not a doctor." "Why, what's this M. D. to your name for then?" Frank saw that he was caught; but, determining to make the best of it, put on a very innocent look, and meekly answered—"Oh, that's for Mighty Dry!" Of course he got the whisky.

THERE SHE HAD HIM.—A gentleman, one evening, was seated near a lovely woman, when the company around were proposing conundrums to each other.—Turning to his companion, he said: "Why is a lady unlike a mirror?"

She gave it up.

"Because," said the rude fellow, "a mirror reflects without speaking—a lady speaks without reflecting."

"Very good," said she. "Now answer me.

Why is a man unlike a mirror?"

"I cannot tell you."

"Because the mirror is polished, and man is nat!"

"WHERE'S my wife?" inquired a gentleman in Newburyport, on returning home early one evening and missing his better half. "She has gone to bed with the toothache," was the reply of some member of the family. "Well," said the indignant Nie, "if she had rather go to bed with the toothache than to go to bed with me, let her go;" and he forthwith settled himself to the perusal of the latest war news.

ONE of our soldiers who was in the Pittsburg Landing battle, happened to be inordinately fond of card-playing.—During the fight he had three of his fingers shot off. Holding up his mangled member, he gazed at it with a look of ineffable sorrow, and exclaimed, as a big tear stole into the corner of his eye, "I shall never be able to hold a full hand again!" Poor fellow.

"I am indebted to newspapers for more than half my education," was the remark a short time since, of an intelligent young farmer of Maine, as he was about leaving his home to take part in the war, and he continued, "whatever plans of economy must be adopted at home until the close of the war, do not undertake to get along without the newspaper."

"PADDY, where's the whiskey I gave you to clean the windows with?" "Ooh, master, I just drank it, and I thought if I breathed on the glass it would be all the same!"

Declaration of Homestead.

Persons wishing to procure a correct legal form for making out a Declaration of Homestead, as required by the Act of the last Legislature, with the acknowledgement attached thereto, will find printed blanks, on application to the KNIGHTS LANDING NEWS OFFICE. NEWSPAPERS.—We are under obligations to J. W. Sullivan, of San Francisco, for full files of Atlantic Papers and Pictorials.

THREE TRIPS A WEEK.—On and after Tuesday next the California Steam Navigation Company will make three trips a week from Sacramento to Red Bluff—leaving Sacramento on every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, at 7 o'clock, a.m. from the foot of K street.

THE LAWS OF CALIFORNIA, FOR 1863 We have received a copy of the Acts of the last Legislature for 1863, from B. P. Avery, State Printer. It is the largest one ever published in this State, and credit is due to the above for getting it out in such a short space of time, more than half has been printed since the adjournment of the Legislature. We understand Mr. Avery will be a candidate for re-election.

UNION PRIMARY ELECTIONS.—The Union Primary Elections will take place this day (Saturday), at the different precincts, for delegates to the County Convention, to be held at Woodland, on Saturday next, June 6th, at 1 o'clock, p.m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the Union State Convention, to be held in Sacramento, on Wednesday June 17.

ROBBERS CAUGHT.—About a month since the house of Mr. John Meyer, San Francisco, was robbed of $6,000 in coin and jewelry. An old house breaker, Onsworth Francis, and Nicholas Mons, the latter an employee of Mr. M., have been arrested on the charge. Mons confessed at once. The jewelry was recovered.

It is stated authoritatively by Phelps' friends that he was withdrawn from the canvass for Congress to save his strength for next senatorship.

The balance in the State Treasury on Saturday, May 23d, was $362,868, 34, of which amount nearly $47,000 was in the General Fund.

The sum of $2,000,000 in gold has been received in San Francisco since last steamer day.

The total expense of our efforts to capture Charleston are put down at $150,000,000.

The Wine Growers Convention holds its next session in San Francisco June 23d.

THE PIRATE CHAPMAN AND HER CARGO.—This vessel and all she contained was offered for sale last Saturday by the United States Marshal. The schooner brought $7,100 in coin. The rifles sold at $8; navy pistols and accoutrements at $20 50; about 15 M caps for $8 50, and the powder at 17½ cents per pound, all of which except the powder, were purchased by Hobbs, Gilmore & Co.—The chronometer sold for $100 to the purchaser of the schooner. The two 12-pounder brass howitzers, with all of the shells, fuses and accoutrements, were knocked down to the United States Government at $1,950, each, in legal tenders.

NO DUEL.—A difficulty recently occurred between two residents of Sacramento county which resulted in a challenge being sent from one to the other as follows: "I consider you my mortal enemy, and that you have betrayed me as a man of honor I challenge you to an exchange of shot until either you or I am dead. Set your time, weapons a place." The challenged party, it is said, made no other response than to advise the challenger to go to school long enough to learn to spell dead.—Union.

THE VILEST DAY OF THE SEASON.—Sunday last was voted by all parties concerned, the dirtiest and meanest day of the season. A raw, cold wind, swept clouds of dust through the streets unceasingly, making overcoats outside and fires in doors a positive necessity, and completely destroying the hopes of excursionists to the different suburban retreats, the Camp of Instruction, and other places across the Bay.—S. F. Call.

The Crops.

From present indications the crops in this county is almost an entire failure, and judging from what we see, and hear the farmers say, there will be little more raised than enough to supply her home demands, many farmers have gone to a heavy expense to plough up large tracts of land, stimulated with the hope of a rich harvest, who will not get pay for the seed sown upon the ground; if it was only a few farmers in this fix, we could hope for good times this fall, but as it is almost a general thing, we can see nothing to brighten the prospects of the unfortunate—the good crops of last season had invigorated the farmer to a spirit of improvement, and many of them had already made large calculations upon building dwellings, barns, fencing, &c., but the failure in the crops this season will deprive them of successfully carrying out their designs.

Hay will also be very scarce this season, and were it not for the old crop we might expect to see poor stock next spring, and even with the over average supply of that, there will not be more than enough saved to meet the demands at home; what a falling off from last year.

COUNTY COURT.—The County Court of Yolo County met at Woodland, pursuant to law on Monday, May 18th, R. L. Hopkins Judge; E. Giddings, Clerk, Chas. H. Gray, Sheriff.

The following Docket was disposed of.

Covell vs Simmermacker Judgment for plff. $113, 32 and cost of suit, Sprague and Burnett for plff., Edwards for deft.

Wright vs Rackerby, Jury trial, verdict for plff. for $90 and cost, Sprague & Burnett & Jacobs for plff. Daly for deft.

T. Wright vs S. Glascock, on motion of Sprague & Burnett Attorneys' for plff. cause continued until next term of this court.

Rich vs Rich, tried by the court, judgment for plff. for $107, and cost of suit, Taylor for plff. Welty for deft.

Fisks vs Spear, on motion of Sprague & Burnett, att'ys for plff. appeal dismissed at def.'s cost.

Adjourned for the term.

Union Meeting at Woodland.

On Saturday pursuant to a Call of the Union men of Yolo, for the purpose of forming a Union League, was very largely attended, a number of Ladies being also present, the meeting was held in front of the Academy Building.

I. N. Hoag, was elected president of the meeting and C. P. Sprague, Secretary, I. N. Hoag after explaining the object of the meeting, several letters were read from Messrs. Conness, Low and Sargent. The meeting was then addressed by Messrs Upton, Harmon, Vinton and Holl—J. B. Harmon in his speech said:

Although he had been a democrat from his youth up—had never voted a republican ticket, and had fairly hated the abolitionists of the Garrison school—yet he now declared himself an abolitionist of the strongest character while this rebellion lasted. He was for the proclamation and for employing negroes to work or arm them to fight rebels. The war had become by the rebels an abolition war, and he thanked God that the work would go on while the rebellion continued. He declared himself ready to give up all for his country, and assumed that those present were equally ready to make the sacrifice for their country. He gave some statistics from the census of 1860, and declared he believed that the National Government possessed the resources to carry on this war twenty years if necessary to continue it so long to put down this rebellion. This sentiment was applauded loudly, and so was the speech generally. It was an unconditional union speech, and those who listened to it exhibited evidence of being unconditional union men. At the close of the meeting the pledge was read, and then numerous signed. It was an enthusiastic union meeting, and one well calculated to gladden the hearts and raise the spirits and hopes of the union voters of Yolo.

The attention of grape cultivators abroad has been attracted to California and the West as wine producing regions. An application has been received at the Department of the Interior from a Parisian, a dealer in fine wines, who contemplates emigrating to this country, and requests detailed information as to the mode of obtaining a farm under the homestead Act. This gentleman served five years in Algeria as a Zouave.

DISCHARGED.—Burnett, who was arrested at Red Bluff, for carrying a Confederate flag, was released from Fort Alcatraz, May 23rd, on taking the oath and giving bonds for good behavior.

Knights Landing Democratic Club.

Pursuant to notice, the Democracy of Knights Landing, Yolo county, Assembled at Knights Landing on Saturday the 9th day of May to organize a Democratic Club. J. W. Baldwin was chosen President and J. W. Snowball Secretary.

The following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS, The present Administration, in administering the government has assumed powers dangerous to the liberties of a free people, and

WHEREAS, By the forceable Logic of recent events we believe more firmly than ever in ancient axiom, that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, therefore

Resolved, That we reaffirm our adherence to the principles of the Declaration of American Independence to which guarantees to every citizen the enjoyment of civil political and religious liberty, foremost among which are freedom of speech, Liberty of the Press and the unrestrained exercise of the elective franchise.

Resolved, That the constitution of our country is a pledge of the Strong to the Weak, that their Rights and Liberties Shall be protected equally with their own, and that a violation of this most sacred obligation of freemen to freemen, has ever been productive of disaffection anarchy and civil war.

Resolved, That the Constitution of the United States is fully adequate to all the purposes of government, in time of war as well as in time of peace, and that we do not comprehend the anomaly of violating the constitution in order to preserve the same.

The meeting was then addressed by Dr. J. L. Downing and W. W. Pendegast Esq., who both delivered eloquent addresses, which were received with enthusiasm.

The meeting then organized itself into a Democratic Club. Adopted a set of Bye Laws, and enrolled fifty seven members before adjourning.

The regular meetings of the club will take place every two weeks at Knights Landing, commencing on Monday June 1st and every two weeks thereafter.

It was moved and carried that a copy of these proceedings be sent to the Knights Landing News Marysville Express and Sacramento Republican.

The meeting then adjourned.

J. W. BALDWIN Pres.

J. W. SNOWBALL Sec.

Cache Creek Democratic Club.

A meeting held in Cache Creek Canon May 9th 1863 for the purpose of organizing a Democratic club. Mr. G. Milsap was called to the chair, and M. G. Bowles elected Secretary.

On motion a committee of three was appointed to draft resolutions expressing the sense of the meeting. Viz. Messrs D. C. Hubbard E. L. Clark and B. H. Pendegast.

On their return they presented the following resolutions, which on motion, were unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS, The exigencies of the present crisis demand, that citizens living under a written Constitution should freely and fearlessly exercise their rights as freemen, to freely canvass the official conduct of their rulers and public servants, and

WHEREAS, Attempts by legislative enactments and otherwise have been, and are still being made to deprive a large and respectable portion of the people from the exercise of that privilege, thereby forcing them into a despotic political Vassalage and

WHEREAS, The policy inaugurated by the present administration for the prosecution of the present civil war, is subversive of the constitution, calculated to overturn a republican form of government, and prevent a reconstruction of the Union. Therefore,

Resolved, That we reaffirm our adherence and unflinching fidelity to the constitution of the United States, and the principles of American Independence (The faith of our Fathers), which have formed the bases of our government, and furnished to every citizen a guarantee from civil, political, and religious liberties.

Resolved, That foremost among these principles are the freedom of speech, the liberty of the press, and the free and unrestrained exercise of the elective franchise which are the boast of freemen, and formidable to tyrants only.

Resolved, That it is the duty of every citizen to yield obedience to the Constitutional authority, and that cheerfully, yet at the same time, we would say to the party in power, you cannot and shall not, under the pretense of subjugating the South, deprive us of our liberties, guaranteed to us by the constitution, and sealed by the blood of our fathers.

Resolved, That we desire no better government, nor other union, than that our fathers gave us, and our motto is THE UNION AS IT WAS, AND THE CONSTITUTION AS IT IS, and that true patriots desire nothing else.

Resolved, That we do now constitute ourselves into a Democratic club, and pledge ourselves to labor for the success of the foregoing principles, and send greetings to the Woodland, and all other Democratic clubs throughout the Country.

G. MILSAP, President.

M. G. BOWLES, Sec.

BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.—Broome county, New York, has agitated for some time past by the trial of a breach of promise case—Eliza J. Outerson vs Eugene B. Nash—which resulted in a verdict for all the damages claimed, $1,000, for the plaintiff. The plaintiff is a member of the Episcopal church and a communicant in good standing, and her pastor and other highly respectable citizens rather turned the tables on the defendant, whose chief reliance was to impeach her veracity.

The candidates for next Governor, are Stanford, Low and Machin.

TEACHER'S OATH.—An Act concerning Teachers of Common Schools in this State.

Section 1. No certificate of qualification shall be granted by the State Board of Examination to any teacher or person proposing to become such, unless such teacher or person shall have first taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation: I do solemnly swear (or affirm as the case may be,) that I will faithfully support, protect and defend the Constitution and Government of the United States against all enemies, whether domestic or foreign; that I will bear true faith, allegiance and loyalty to the said Constitution and Government, and that I will to the best of my ability teach those under my charge to love, reverence and uphold the same, any law or ordinance of any State Convention or Legislature, or any rule or obligation of any society or association, or any decree or order from any source whatever, to the contrary notwithstanding; and further, that I do this with a full determination, pledge and purpose, without any mental reservation or evasion whatsoever; and I do further swear (or affirm, as the case may be,) that I will support the constitution of the State of California.

THE UPSHOT.—Some time since, Jack McKenty and R. D. Ferguson deposited with Wells, Fargo & Co, the sum of $4,000 each, that the former should furnish the latter, within thirty days, two hundred feet of Bajazette and Golden Era at $35 per foot. The time for fulfilling the contract expired yesterday, and the feet were delivered during the afternoon.—The present market value of the stock, we believe, ranges somewhere in the vicinity of $70 per foot, but which it will be easily seen who has the best of the transaction. The Bajazette people considered it a big triumph on their part, and the manner in which the champagne flew has never been equaled in our city. The office of the company was densely crowded during the afternoon, and basket after basket of wine was poured indiscriminately down throats and on the floor. The services of a brass band were procured, and for a time there was a perfect confusion of toasts, music and cheers. Later in the evening we received a dozen of champagne, with the compliments of Mr. Ferguson, which, as in duty bound, we drank with a devout wish that in all contests between bulls and bears, the former might always win.—Territorial Enterprise.

PROGRESSIVE.—By telegraph from their agent, C. P. Huntington, the officer of the Central Pacific Railroad company are advised of the purchase by him of 2,000 tons of railroad iron, in addition to the 5,000 tons heretofore bought. This purchase completes the entire material and equipment for 70 miles of the pacific railroad. It furnishes, too, a complete answer to all the charges which have been made by interested parties, that the company intended only to build 50 miles, in order to improve the stock of the wagon road. The company has bought 7,000 tons of iron, and rolling stock sufficient to put 70 miles in running order. This is making encouraging progress, and in connection with the county subscription voted by the people of San Francisco, Sacramento and Placer, this purchase will place the company in a position favorable to the completion of the 70 miles within the next two years.—Union.

We received a note from John W. Phillips of North Fork, last Saturday night, announcing that the store and residence of John McCammon, at Cedar Flat, had been attacked and robbed by a large band of Indians, and afterwards burned. McCammon and another man who was with him escaped. It was feared for several days that the residences of Brainard, Tinsley and Winslett, on lower Trinity, might have shared the same fate, but at last accounts they had not been attacked. A party from North Fork and Big Flat went to their relief in the early part of this week, and no fears for their safety are entertained. Supervisor McCammon has lost everything—the accumulation of years.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Symptoms of Disease should never be disregarded. They are warning indications that the vital functions of nature have been interrupted in their healthful action, and that serious evils must inevitably follow, unless the system be again set right by the timely use of proper remedies.

Bear in mind that nature is ever endeavoring to expel disease when it invades the animal economy, and only needs the assistance of some genial restorative—thorough, yet mild in its action—that will give tone to the system, and act upon the blood—which is the principal of life.

Guyot's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. As a purifier of the blood, a renovator of the system, and a supporter and preserver of the powers of life, it has no equal. Take it on the first indication that disease is upon you, and you will avert perhaps weeks and months of sickness and suffering.

BY OVERLAND TELEGRAPH.

The following dispatches are from the Sacramento Union of May 27th:

CAIRO, May 25th.—A steamer which left the mouth of the Yazoo at noon May 21st, says: All the steamers at Millikens Bend had been sent up the Yazoo, in order to be prepared for every possible contingency. The battle still raged, and the forces in the rear, the gunboats below and mortar boats above were all engaged. It was asserted that Grant had taken the batteries on Walnut Hills. The rebel force at Haines Bluff had evacuated it and fallen back inside the fortifications at Vicksburg before our forces came up. Johnston had evidently intended to do the same thing, but was prevented by Grant's rapid movements, who got between him and the fortifications, and Johnston was left out in the cold. It is possible the rebels may hold us at bay for a few days or even a week.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Dispatches have been received from Admiral Porter, detailing the operations of the fleet since Grant commenced the movement to the rear of Vicksburg. The Admiral says: "As soon as the capture of Haines Bluff became known to me, I directed the gunboats from below to open fire on the hill batteries, which fire was kept up for two or three hours. At midnight they moved up to the town and opened on it for an hour, and continued at intervals during the night to annoy the garrison. On the 19th of May I placed six Monitors in position, with orders to fire night and day. The works at Haines Bluff were of the most formidable kind. They covered many acres of ground, the fortifications and rifle pits proper extending about one mile and a quarter. The rebels were a year in constructing them, and all were rendered useless in an hour. The gun carriages were burnt. The magazine was blown up. The works generally were destroyed. The rebels had ammunition enough there to last during a long siege." The Admiral speaks in warm terms of Grant's successes thus far, and says the fall of Vicksburg is a mere question of a few hours.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The World's special dispatch says: Private letters from substantial citizens of Louisiana states that she will willingly re-enter the Union, as soon as the armed borders of the Confederacy are driven from her border.

CINCINNATI, May 26.—The rebels crossed the Cumberland yesterday at Fishing creek and Hartford (Ky.) but were driven back by our forces, after slight skirmishing.

ST. LOUIS, May 26.—A band of guerrillas captured Richmond, Clay county (Mo.), on Tuesday night, May 19th. A small Federal force was captured and the town robbed of everything. The same band plundered Plattsburg, Clinton county, robbing the court house of $11,000 belonging to the State.

NEW YORK, May 26.—A Murfreesboro dispatch says: The indications are that large bodies of rebel cavalry are going southward. Breckenridge's force has fallen back, and there are now no rebel troops between Murfreesboro and Manchester.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The latest advices from Vicksburg are to Friday night, May 22d. The city was not taken, but great advantages had been gained. The enemy offered a firm resistance. It was thought we would take the city next day. Our men had their colors planted in the enemy's works, and were lying on the extreme slope. We had captured 6,000 prisoners and 74 pieces of artillery. Our troops were within a mile and a half of the court house. The mortar boats and gunboats were in front of Vicksburg, and were hard at work.

PHILADELPHIA, May 26.—The Washington Stars says of the New York Tribune's report of the capture of the whole rebel army at Vicksburg, that the facts within our knowledge satisfy us that it is entirely unfounded.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The Richmond Enquirer of yesterday has the following:

MOBILE, May 23d.—A courier reports that Yazoo City (above Vicksburg) was captured by the Federals, and the Navy Yard was burned by the Confederate troops.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The Richmond Enquirer has Mobile dispatches of May 23d which claim that the Federals made three assaults on Vicksburg the day before, but were repulsed. To offset this, General Halleck received to-day a dispatch from Memphis containing the substance of a letter, dated May 22d, from ordnance officer Lyford to General Hurlbut, which says: Our loss was not very heavy for the position we have gained. The rebels make a firm resistance. We think we shall have the place to-morrow.

CHICAGO, May 26.—A private dispatch received in this city to-day, dated near Vicksburg, May 24th, suggests the inference that the city was not captured up to that time. The dispatch says nothing whatever as to what was done on Saturday May 25d.

HANGED AT OROVILLE.—Adlerk Acken, convicted of the murder of Jurgen Jansen, near Morris Ravine, Butte county was executed at Oroville on 22d May.—He protested his innocence to the last, and said the name of the murderer would soon be revealed. Few persons witnessed the execution.

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System. Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutritious blood, and nutritious blood a healthy frame. Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System. The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution, which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Debility, from whatever cause arising, may be cured; strength, in whatever manner it may have been wanted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthful invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A Word to the Aged. In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits.

For Females. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances & derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and enlightens the oppressed mental powers, as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.

Dr. Guyssott's Improved EXTRACT OF Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla Will Cure without Fail

Sore Throat or King's Evil, Cancer, Favus, Eruptions of the skin, Erysipelas, Chronic Sore Eyes, Ringworm or Tetter, Scald Head, Rheumatism, Pains in the Bones and Joints, Old Sores and Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Diseases of the Kidneys, Loss of Appetite, Disease arising from the use of Mercury, Pain in the Side and Shoulder, General Debility, Dropsy, Jaundice, Lumbago, &c.

Dr. Guyssott's Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla, out up in the largest sized bottles, contains more of the Honduras Sarsaparilla than any other preparation extant, which is combined with the extract of Yellow Dock, the extract of Wild Cherry and the Balsam of Fir, thus making the remedy more thoroughly efficient than any other Sarsaparilla before the public. At the same time it is perfectly free from ALL mineral poisons, which can not be said of any other of the Sarsaparilla compounds. The invalid should beware of poisons. Mercury, Iron, Quinine, Potash, Iodine, Sulphur, Arsenic, and many other mineral and metallic poisons enter into and form the active basis of most of the Sarsaparilla and panacea of the day. Guyssott's Compound Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla does not contain a particle of the substances; as any one can ascertain by applying the necessary tests.

These poisons may occasionally remove disease, but they so vitiate the blood and impregnate the whole system with their baneful effects, that the first cold or the first attack of disease, prostrates the patient's strength and subjects him or her to the most excruciating torture, and renders another cure almost impossible and hopeless. Let all poisonous Sarsaparilla preparations alone, and use Guyssott's Improved Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla, which is thoroughly efficacious, perfectly harmless and purely vegetable. All kinds of diseases yield to its genial influence.

Caution.—Beware of counterfeits. All genuine Dr. Guyssott's Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla has the name of JOHN D. PARK, Present Proprietor, Cincinnati, O., on the label.

Remember this fact when buying, all without the name of "JOHN D. PARK, Cincinnati, Ohio," on the label are counterfeits. Sold by all Druggists. HOSTETTER, SMITH & DEAN, sole Agents for Pacific Coast, San Francisco.

ALSTROM & CO.—The undersigned, formerly proprietors of the Oriental Hotel, respectfully inform the public that they have purchased the Lease and Furniture of the Lick House.

It is conceived that the Lick House, has far superior advantages over all other hotels in California.

The house being but three stories high, the rooms are easy of access, well lighted, and contain all the modern improvements; the staircase and halls are wide, spacious and airy.

The Kitchen and Pantry are being enlarged, and we are certain of being able to give complete satisfaction in the Dining hall department.

At the mouth of the San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers. Title a patent from the United States. On Wednesday, July 1, 1863.

The full wing farms, cottage houses, and home-stead lots will be deeded to the purchasers of the certificates being only five acres each, which is the expense of making and acknowledging the deed.

The object in distributing this valuable property at the mere expense of the deed, is to induce settlers to go to the new City, and by so doing it will enhance the value of property, more than any other way.

Already, at and around Collinsville, there is a large number of inhabitants. They have also a Post Office, Store, large Warehouse, Hotel, School House and a magnificent wharf 300 ft. long by 10 ft. wide, which cost the present proprietors upwards of $10,000.

The farming country in Solano county cannot be surpassed. Fine soil, springs of pure water, &c. &c. A city with such a situation, surrounded by so magnificent a country, cannot but have a great and glorious destiny.

A ferry is established between this port, Antioch and New York, making the distance only 35 miles by land, to San Francisco, being a saving of over 100 miles to those who drive stock to that market.

On the opposite side of the river, at Antioch, there is located one of the largest Copper Smelting Works in the United States, with a capital of one million of dollars, and giving employment to a great number of men.

We have a number of Farms for sale varying from 40 to 160 acres each. Persons wishing maps, or plans, or any information, will please address us by mail or express.
