NEWS BRIEFS

SUTHERLAND WILL DEVOTE FULL-TIME TO TEACHING -- Professor Hecktor H. Sutherland, director of the School of Printing, has asked to be relieved of his directorship in order to devote full time to teaching and counseling of students, according to an announcement by Dr. Lothar K. Engelmann, dean of the College of Graphic Arts and Photography.

The change will be effective July 1, 1971. "During his five years of service as Director," Dr. Engelmann stated, "Professor Sutherland has helped greatly to establish and maintain the reputation of the School of Printing and of RIT. Many programs now offered in the School are based directly on his efforts.

"His excellent relationship with industrial leaders in the printing field has helped to secure many grants, gifts and scholarships. We who work closely with him have come to appreciate him not only as a professional but also as a good friend," Dr. Engelmann stated.

RIT COLLEGE UNION BOARD CINEMA ARTS PRESENTS

Monday, Oct. 26

The Talisman Film Festival presents MORGAN and THE CRITIC at 7:30 and 10 p.m. in the College of General Studies Auditorium, admission $.50.

MORGAN (black and white, 97 min.): A young London painter escapes the pressures of daily living by fleeing into an often touching and always hilarious world of his own. Starring Venessa Redgrave, who was nominated for an Academy Award for her performance, and David Warner.

THE CRITIC (color, 4 min): Academy Award-winning cartoon by Ernest Pintoff and Mel Brooks.

Friday, Oct. 30

The Talisman Film Festival presents KING KONG and THE ADVENTURES OF AN ASTERISK (short) at 7:30 and 10 p.m. in the College of General Studies Auditorium, admission $.50.

KING KONG (black and white, 105 min.): Famous monster movie. Despite improved technical facilities in the nearly 40 years since KING KONG's production, its power, skill and sheer ability to thrill, excite and terrify, remain unimpaired. Whether regarded as a horror film, a trick film or a fantasy, KING KONG remains a masterpiece by any and all standards.

THE ADVENTURES OF AN ASTERISK (color, 10 min.): Animated color cartoon is a condensed account of the life of an average contemporary human being who is symbolized by an asterisk.

Saturday, Oct. 31

The Talisman Film Festival presents ALICE'S RESTAURANT and A CHAIRY TALE (short) at 7:30 and 10 p.m. in the Booth Auditorium of the Frank E. Gannett Memorial bldg., admission $1.00.

ALICE'S RESTAURANT (color, 110 min.): On the verge of being drafted, Arlo Guthrie, a young folk singer, enrolls in college, but college and Guthrie do not agree. Deciding to quit he visits his friends Ray and Alice who have just bought a church in Stockbridge, Mass., as a haven for their drop-out friends.

A CHAIRY TALE (black and white, 9 min.): A fairy tale in the modern manner, told without words by film artist Norman McLaren. The film is a "pas de deux", of a youth and a chair that declines to be sat upon.

Sunday, Nov. 1

The Humanitarian Film Festival presents IT HAPPENED HERE and PRESSURE POINT at 7:30 p.m. only in the Booth Auditorium of the Frank E. Gannett Memorial bldg., admission $1.00.

IT HAPPENED HERE (black and white, 95 min.): Incredible account of what could have happened had the Nazis crossed the English Channel and subjugated Britain. The Germans have successfully invaded England and have set up a new government headed by collaborators. Such things as the operation of a minor bureaucracy under the domineering direction of the British bosses, parades of Nazi garrison troops through the streets of London and a lecture by a British officer on the glories of nationalism, including the slaughter of Jews, are made to appear liberal happenings by the camera.

PRESSURE POINT (black and white, 89 min.): The vicious, fanatical, murderously anti-Black, anti-Jew, anti-Christian Nazi Bundhists that plagued America in the 1930's were brothers under the skin to racists everywhere. This is the tense, engrossing, shattering drama of such a Bundist -- in prison -- and the prison psychiatrist who tries to straighten out his twisted, distorted, hate-filled mind. The psychiatrist is Black -- and that is the explosive point.

CHAPPELL DELIVERS GOUDY LECTURE -- The second annual Frederic W. Goudy Award from Rochester Institute of Technology will be presented Oct. 30 by Warren Chappell, an internationally known book designer, illustrator and typographer.

Chappell will deliver the Goudy Lecture on Typography at award ceremonies starting at 8 p.m. in the Booth Auditorium of RIT's Frank E. Gannett Memorial building.

The Goudy Award, made possible by a grant from the Mary Flagler Cary Charitable Trust, is a silver bowl designed and hand-crafted by noted silversmith Hans Christensen of RIT's School for American Craftsmen. The bowl is inscribed, "The Type Speaks," the title of an essay by Frederic W. Goudy, the best known of all American type designers.

FREE UNIVERSITY TO OFFER FIRST COURSE -- A basic course in sign language and finger spelling is the first course in an extensive program being sponsored by RIT's FREE University (First Relevant Education Experience).

The course, which is open to the public and free of charge, starts Oct. 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the Kate Gleason Residence Hall Library. Richard C. Nowell, an instructor with NTID, will teach the course which will be held every Monday and Wednesday throughout the fall quarter.

An independent group of eight RIT students are responsible for the establishment of the FREE University concept, which was formerly called "Alternate University." The FREE University, under the direction of Meredith Gould, a sophomore art and design major, and Richard Erts, a senior business administration major, has solicited several RIT faculty members to teach subjects.

"Although five or six programs will be offered this fall, full programs won't get underway until the winter quarter," Erts reports. "We are, however, pleased with the enthusiasm of the RIT faculty for this new program.

"For many faculty members this is an opportunity to teach special interest subjects that are not possible for them to teach under their normal teaching schedule," he said. "And for the student, it is a great opportunity to learn. As a College of Business student, it is impossible for me to take a course in an area like photography. But this is now possible with the FREE University."

Courses in yoga and astrology are planned along with lectures on topics such as pollution and crime. The RIT housing area will be used for the meetings which will be scheduled for evenings and weekends.

"In addition to utilizing the facilities at RIT, the FREE University can provide a cultural exchange for the entire Rochester community," Erts concludes.

SPORTS

LARGE CROWD TURNS OUT FOR HOMECOMING GRIDIRON CONTEST --

Despite bitter cold weather, a crowd of over 2,000 turned out at the Miller Road Field for the RIT - Niagara Homecoming football game. In a contest dominated by defense and marred by seven fumbles and three interceptions, Niagara prevailed, 12 - 6. RIT's passing game was non-existent, as injured quarterback Rich Knaack watched the game from the sidelines. The top RIT receiver, Gary Wood, was also out with an injury. Knaack's replacement, Tom Ryan, set up the only RIT score with a 20-yard run, and then scored the TD himself with just two minutes left in the game.

The halftime festivities, the first in RIT history, saw an outstanding performance by the Greece Cadet Junior Drum and Bugle Corps, and the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Barbara Kowalczyk, a junior Art and Design student from Herkimer, N.Y.

In other Homecoming athletic activities, Pete Todd's cross country legions survived a record-breaking performance by the University of Buffalo's Ed Fuchs to defeat the Buffs (24-31) and LeMoyne (18-37). Fuchs' time, 32:28 for the six and one-quarter miles, was 20 seconds better than the previous standard, set by Dave Kosowski.

LeMoyne gained a 2-2 tie with the RIT soccer team on a late penalty kick. The penalty was called when the ball rolled over the hand of a downed RIT player in the penalty area.

On Friday night, the RIT Sports Hall of Fame admitted Harold E. "Ed" Baucum (PR '59) and Edward A. Pike (ME '32) to its membership at the second annual induction banquet. Baucum, the second leading scorer in RIT basketball history, led RIT teams to a four-year record of 66-10. Pike, a heavyweight wrestler during his undergraduate days, returned to RIT as the sport's coach before and after World War II. He is credited with keeping the sport alive after the war.

RIT GOLFER FINISHES THIRD IN ECAC CHAMPIONSHIPS -- Jim Kuntz, RIT's standout golfer, carded a 78 at the Bethpage Country Club (Farmingdale, L.I.) on Saturday (Oct. 17) to earn third place in the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference fall golf championships. Kuntz, who was shooting for a second straight title, won last year on the same course. He led the RIT golf team to a perfect 5-0 record this fall, and in the process, extended his personal win streak to 20 matches. John Giehl, an RIT freshman, also qualified for the championship round and his 80 gave him sixth place.

For his third-place finish, his long winning streak, and his leadership in quiding the team to a perfect season, Kuntz was accorded Athlete of the Week honors by the RIT Athletic Committee.

The following is published as a correction to a news story which appeared in last week's issue of "News and Events."

SEMINAR SERIES PLANNED BY MECHANICAL ENGINEERING -- A series of seminars by outside speakers is being sponsored by the Mechanical Engineering Department, College of Engineering. The general topic of the seminars is "Recent Trends in Mechanics." The series is supported by a grant received from the New York State Science and Technology Foundation to sponsor a Visiting Distinguished Professorship Program in Mechanical Engineering.

The series includes lectures on: "Torsional and Coupled Bending - Torsional Theory of Waves and Vibrations in Thin Walled Open Section Beams," by E. T. Cranch, Cornell University, on Wednesday, Oct. 28; "A Theory of Miscible Displacement and Dispersion with Applications to Societal Problems," by W. N. Gill, Clarkson College of Technology, Wednesday, Nov. 11; "Dynamics of Kordylewski Cloud Satellites," by F. V. Pohle, Adelphi University, Friday, Dec. 4; and "Modern Prospects for Controlled Thermo-Nuclear Fusion," Wednesday, Jan. 13, 1971.

The first of the Seminars was held on Wednesday, Oct. 14, on "Classical and Modern Continuum Theories," by C. Truesdell, John Hopkins University.

The seminars are being held in room 2109 of the College of Engineering's James E. Gleason Memorial building, and are open to the general public. Preceeding each meeting, receptions will be held in room 2211, College of Engineering.

TO: All Institute Personnel

FROM: Dr. Paul A. Miller
President

SUBJECT: Community Involvement

It has been brought to the attention of the Institute that a new community action group called FORESIGHT has been organized by Henrietta citizens for the expressed purpose of exploring effective ways of improving the community.

Objectives of the Henrietta FORESIGHT group are: participation in civic board meetings such as Town Zoning Board; Rush-Henrietta School Board and Rush-Henrietta Citizens Committees; assisting in the organizing and development of neighborhood groups and coalitions; cooperation with the Henrietta Jaycees in the development of a community council; development and maintenance of relationships with community action and training groups at the metropolitan level; calendarizing of activities of community groups; and study of a proposed Town Master Plan, looking toward its adoption in whole or in part.

To train members for effective organization and action, a training program for twenty-five persons will be conducted with an all-day session (9 a.m. to 4 p.m.) Saturday, October 24 at the Henrietta United Church of Christ. Subsequent sessions will be shorter and will be spread over a four month period.

Since Henrietta is the immediate community of R.I.T., participation of some Institute personnel in the Henrietta FORESIGHT program, beginning with the training program, would appear to be something that would further the concern of the Institute in stressing communications and creative relationships with our immediate community.

I am aware and pleased that many of you are already involved in community groups that are committed to the improvement of your respective communities. I fully encourage your continued participation in such activities.

If you are interested - or would like further information on the Henrietta FORESIGHT group - contact William E. Gibson, Protestant Campus Minister, 464-2137.
