1835.

Ed. L'Hope is alone empowered to settle the accounts of the partnership.

He improves this opportunity to inform the public that he has recently opened in Bay St. Louis, opposite the wharf an establishment known by the appellation of Bel air Hotel.

The advantageous situation of this hotel, its proximity to the wharfing place are well known to require further explanation.

Madame L'Hope is greatly appreciated, by the great care she always took of her borders, and by the attention she paid to her visitors in all the public houses she has superintended as lately the Marine Hotel in New Orleans, will take charge of the interior department of the establishment.

Mr. L'Hope will endeavour to give satisfaction to persons visiting his hotel, when he places himself they will find him courteous, cleanliness, good fare and attention.

He has engaged a good French cook, transient and permanent bakers, waiters, Table d'hôte with wine at very reasonable rates.

MANDEVILLE HOTEL.

July 9.

This unengaged informs his friends and the public that on the 3d June, he will be ready to receive his establishment all persons who may favor him with their visits, and receive boarders.

To persons acquainted with the rumpus among the cabarets, the Marine Hotel in New Orleans, a description of it is superfluous, but the subscriber thinks proper to point out to the public its many advantages.

Mandeville is situated about 20 miles distant from New Orleans on the borders of Lake Pontchartrain.

The ground is level, the soil well suited for a water mark, and the purity of the air exceeds all other disease.

There is abundant fishing and plenty of game.

All provisions, wines, liquors &c. of the 1st quality, and no trouble will be spared to afford comfort and pleasure to visitors. To that end the subscriber has provided boats, prigues, fishing seine, horses, and a place for pistol shooting. Families may be accommodated with private apartments. Two steam boats plying alternately between New Orleans and Mandeville, will make the convenience of a daily call.

The steamer leaving New Orleans, immediately after the arrival of the steamer, will keep up a constant communication.

Boats on necessary in the heat of summer have been provided. A large wharf makes the landing easy and safe.

For the time of starting of the boats, see the advertisement of the steamboat Delta.

June 17. JOHN DAVIS.

MARIGNY HOTEL.

Corner of Victory street and the Pontchartrain.

The proprietor begs leave respectfully to invite the attention of the public to this establishment, which is fully equalled in a new and splendid style, unequalled in the country.

No pains or expense have been spared, and the utmost exertions will be used by all employed in the house to afford as much convenience and comfort to its patrons, as any plan of the kind possibly can.

Boarders and lodgers will be accommodated in the most splendid style, and the rooms are delightfully pleasant.

There is a nobly furnished saloon expressly for the accommodation of ladies in the second door, connected with the saloon where the ladies are to be found.

Concerts are to be given in an evening promenade, every evening.

This splendid establishment has been fitted up with great expense; and the proprietor has only been induced to incur the responsibility, from the knowledge of the fact that the citizens of New Orleans are accosted to none or earlier certainty of rewarding laudable exertions.
