POETRY.

Things to Cherish.

The eyes that look with love on thee,
That brighten with thy smile,
Or mutely bid thee hope again,
If thou art sad awhile;
The eyes, that when no words are breathed,
Gaze fondly into thine—
Oh! cherish them ere they grow dim;
They may not always shine!

The faithful hearts around thee,
That glow with love and youth,
That time and care ne'er yet have seared,
Nor ravished of their truth;
The hearts whose beatings we have heard,
When throbbing near our own—
Oh! cherish them, those beatings hushed,
Earth's dearest tones are gone!

The days when there are hearts and eyes
That throb and beat for thee;
The few brief hours when life doth seem
Bright as the summer sea!
The thrilling moments when to speak
The full heart's joy is vain—
Oh! cherish them! once gone, alas!
They ne'er return again!

Going it Blind.

The Cleveland (Ohio) Plaindealer thus chronicles the adventures and arrest of a blind man—a "gay Lutharian," as Mrs. Dodd would call him—who married three blind girls in three weeks—the best time on record—and robbed and deserted them all:

"A singular case came before Justice Foljambe this morning. A blind man named Thomas Bishop, 28 years of age, whose home is near Zanesville, has been exhibiting a remarkable propensity for marrying blind girls. He was an inmate of the blind asylum at Columbus for two years, and was expelled for bad conduct. He has never had the best reputation in the world, and those who knew him say he is given to thieving and gambling. It is alleged that he isn't as blind as he might be.

He came to the American Hotel, in this city, on the 10th of September last, with a blind girl 19 years of age, whom he brought with him from Huron. He became acquainted with her at the blind asylum. Her mother is a widow lady, with six children, three of them being blind. On the day of his arrival here he was married to the girl from Huron, by Justice Foljambe. He was married under the name of Gibeout. When at the American House he exhibited nearly $200 in gold. The newly married couple remained at the American until the 17th of September, when Bishop, alias Gibeout, was married to another blind girl whose parents reside in this city. We suppress her name by request of her friends, who are respectable people. Bishop was also acquainted with her at the blind asylum. They were married by the Rev. Mr. Starkey. She is 20 years of age.

On the 18th, the day following the marriage, Bishop went to Steubenville with his second victim. He stayed there one night, and the next day deserted her, taking with him all her dresses, jewelry, etc., and sixty-five dollars in money belonging to her, amounting in all to about $200. On leaving Cleveland he had robbed the Huron girl of all she possessed. He went from Steubenville to Marietta on the 20th, where he passed under the name of August Cook. At Marietta he met another blind girl, also from the blind asylum, named Mary Delany, 22 years of age, to whom he was married on the 25th of September. He lived with her four days and then deserted her, taking all her property in jewelry and dresses. He went to Parkersburgh, thence to Cincinnati, thence to Iowa. He came back again, reaching Columbus on Saturday last.

On Wednesday he went to Zanesville, and on Thursday he was arrested four miles from Zanesville, by policeman J. T. Stanley, of Zanesville, for bigamy. He was arraigned this morning before Justice Foljambe, and pleaded guilty to the charge, and was bound over to Court in the sum of $1,500. He is now in jail.

This blind man must be a precious rascal, and we hope he will receive his just deserts. Two months ago he buried a wife in Zanesville. She was not blind. He is of medium size, not ill-looking, and wears green spectacles."

THREE AT ONE BIRTH NOW IN ONE GRAVE.—The Stockton Independent of November 11th, has this remarkable item:

"The funeral of Paulina and Alife, infant children of Mr. and Mrs. Madden, and the remaining two of triplets born in June last, took place yesterday from the Catholic Church. They were placed side by side in a single coffin, and buried near the grave of Josephine, the first of the three, who died some three weeks since."

A legal wag calls his marriage certificate "a writ of attain'd her."

Hints for the Nursery.

The natural faculties of each child are as plain to careful observation as the sun at noonday; and it is only necessary to know the mental bias of a child to which his or her powers are best adapted.

Let every father, every mother, and all who hope to call themselves parents, forever bear this in mind. Watch the child at its play. Suffer it to play as it will, and note what sports attracts it, and wherein lies the chief pleasure.

Away with those horrors, infant phenomena. Let nature alone, and do you, ignorant man, keep your great, coarse finger out of the delicate machinery, which, working by and through Nature, will, at the proper moment, indicate the course to be pursued, the development which is sought. Permit childhood to guide you in the treatment thereof. Nature is a wise teacher.

At infancy, the healthy body, incapable of progressive motion, demands rest; give them perfect quiet. Man's early life is a mere vegetative existence; the brain, gently pulsating beneath the unformed bone, is not yet the seat of reason, but of instinct; while Nature then demands entire repose, or at the most, passive action, why should a barbarous nurse and ignorant mother array the little form in thick embroidery; display it to the admiring multitude; handle it with thumping vibration, or spin it like a boomerang in the air? Why seek the most noisy promenade to confuse it with the uproar? Why pound it up and down over hundreds of miles in the midst of smoke, effluvia, and all the rattle, noise and screams incident to railroad travel? Avoid these abominations called cradles; flee from the rocking of the crib, and all those swinging motions which cannot fail to produce, in a minor degree, those very agreeable sensations, that pleasant lethargy, which seizes upon one when he is taking his first lesson in drunkenness. What a renown would the agriculturist win for himself who should first invent a patent, portable, double action, self rocking cradle for sucking calves; what an advantage to the bovine race.

When by pure air and its natural nourishment, (the pure milk of a cow, or a goat, is far better than that of a feeble, passionate nurse, when the mother cannot nurse her offspring), the child has become old enough to creep about, down on the floor with it and let it go; give it a ball or something to creep after, and rest fully content that when tired the child will cease its play.

Don't hurry the little one to walk; do not encourage it to stand alone, lest bow legs and weak ankles be the penalty of your too assiduous care, of your selfish desire to see your child walk before Nature has decreed it. When the proper time arrives the little hands will seek the tops of chair seats, the little body will sway to and fro, erect for the first time; soon the first step is taken, and then all is plain.

Keep your books, your illuminated alphabet, your intellectual blocks, and your abortions of toys—caricatures upon Nature—toys which it is no harm to fall down and worship, since the like thereof exists neither in heaven above, nor in the earth beneath, nor in the water which is under the earth. Let the child play one, two, three; what, says some one—four years! and not know a letter. Yea, my good madam, until it reacheth the age of seven years, would we have the little mind free and unpuzzled; at liberty to observe, to desire, to construct, to play, to make out its own individuality. This is the great attribute of man—play; this divides him from the brute creation; man alone can laugh. Remember that the longer the period of youth, the period of formation, the better, the more healthful, enduring and longer-lived the man. Of all created beings, man is the most helpless at infancy.—Scalpel.

HOW TO TAKE CARE OF THE HAIR. As to men, we say, when the hair begins to fall out, the best plan is to have it cut short, give it a good brushing with a moderately stiff brush, while the hair is dry; then wash it well with warm soap suds; then rub into the scalp, about the roots of the hair, a little bay rum, brandy or camphor water. Do these things twice a month; the brushing of the scalp may be profitably done twice a week. Damp the hair with water every time the toilet is made. Nothing ever made is better for the hair than pure soft water, if the scalp is kept clean in the way we have named. The use of oils or pomatums, or grease of any kind, is ruinous to the hair of man or woman. We consider it a filthy practice, almost universal though it be, for it gathers dust and dirt, and soils whatever it touches. Nothing but pure soft water should ever be allowed on the heads of children. It is a different practice that robs our women of their most beautiful ornament long before their prime; the hair of our daughters should be kept within two inches until their twelfth year.

Jennie's Elopement.

Oh! Jennie Gray was young and fair,
With azure eyes and sunny hair,
Which gently toy'd around rare and beautiful throat, and a bust of symmetry.
Full many a lover, I ween, sighed and repined, and cursed cruel fate that they had not been one of Jennie's curls instead of a man; for strange to tell, nothing flavoring of masculinity has ever encircled Jennie's neck. If her lovers had only been curls, they could—

Upon her breast find couch of ease,
Or wander with her 'mong the trees,
And kiss her cheek with every breeze.

John Henry was a lover bold,
Tho' minus of silver and gold,
And Jennie's heart, once so cold, was melted by the first glance of his love-lust eyes. She likened him in her vestal imagination, to Apollo, because he had red hair; to Orpheus, because he was a sweet singer and played the fiddle; and to Adonis, because he was a youth of fair proportions and comely to look upon. She sighed when the beloved object of her heart's adoration was not near, like the wind through an oak tree squirrel hole. Her cruel father had sworn by the rod and mass, if he caught him with Jennie,

That he would creep behind him sly,
And let his heavy peg boot fly,
At him, a la posteriori.

Jennie bewailed his high decree,
But vowed that wedded she would be—
"By thunder, I should like to see the old man hinder me from getting married when I feel like it," was her defiant exclamation.

"Why don't you feel like it, then?" said John Henry.

"Because I dew," was the reply.
"Let's 'lope, my cinnamon, sassafras, maple sugar, corn-stalk, my paragon of sweetness," was his gallant rejoinder.

"Gosh, I'll dew it, John Henry," said she.

Great was the joy of the enamored swain when she consented, and he fairly screamed:

"Here's my boss, jump on astride,
And tew the parson we will ride,
And have the knot all firmly tied."

Upon the steed she sprang amain,
John Henry seized the guiding rein,
And fast they scampered o'er the plain toward the parsonage, some miles distant.

The old man Grey, having got wind of the affair, mounted a fleet courser and gave instant pursuit after the disorderly pair. Being mounted on a swifter horse, and not quite so much to carry, Mr. Grey soon came in sight of the fleeing party. Putting spurs to his steed, he soon had the satisfaction of overtaking them. Seizing John Henry's horse by the bridle, he cried,

In voice of anger loud and high,
That shook he nuts from trees hard by,
That she mus go back hum or die!

He seized her roughly by the waist,
And drew her from her beau in haste,
And on his prancing steed he placed her, menacing the whole her lover with summary punishment. As he was in the act of mounting, old Boreas—the north wind, feeling sorrow for the weeping maiden, blew a fierce blast to signify his displeasure, which sent the old man's hat flying far down the road. He rushed after his hat, and they whipped up their steeds and left him.

"Come back, come back!" the old man cried,
But Jennie haughtily replied:
"I will, pop—when the knot is tied."

HARD TO BEAT.—A juvenile presented himself, not long since, for admission to a school, near Dry Rock. He was shown a seat, and in the course of the morning the teacher resolved to enter into a little examination of the youth's capacities and knowledge, prior to assigning him to a class. Calling the boy to stand up, he asked:

"Do you know anything about grammar?"

"I don't know anything else," replied the boy.

"Very well. Now attend: 'In the beginning God made the world; now parse 'world.'"

All the boy knew of grammar was what he had that very morning heard from the classes reciting around him; but then he had been taught that, when fighting in the dark, he must strike straight out from the shoulder, right and left, and all would be right.

"Parse 'world,'" he drawled out inquiringly, so as to gain time.

"Yes; 'In the beginning, God made the world; ' parse 'world.'"

"Wal, 'world is the biggest kind of a noun, masculine gender, and all sorts of a tense, past, present and future, (slapping his hand down on the desk with a force that shook the building), and is governed by God! Now, fitch on your Sunday school scholars, ole boss, and see if they can beat that!"

"PA," said a lad to his father, "I often read of poor people, but honest; why don't they say, rich, but honest?" "Tut my son," said the father, "nobody would believe them."

MATRIMONIAL.—I have lived alone long enough; I want somebody to talk at, quarrel with—then kiss and make up again. Therefore I am open for proposals from young ladies and fresh widows of more than average respectability, tolerably tame in disposition and hair of any other color than red. As nearly as I can judge of myself, I am not over eighty nor under twenty five years of age. In height, I am either five feet eight, or eight feet five—forget which. Weight, 135, 315 or 531, one of the three, recollect each figure perfectly well, but as to their true arrangement I am somewhat puzzled. Have a whole suit of hair, dyed by Nature, and free from dandruff. Eyes butternut brindle, tinged with pea-green. Nose blunt, according to the Ionic order of architecture, with a touch of the Composite, and mouth between a catfish's and an alligator's—made expressly for oratory and the reception of large oysters. Ears palmated, long and elegantly shaped. My whiskers are a combination of dog hair, moss and briar brush—well behaved and fearfully luxuriant. I am sound in limb and on the nigger question. Wear boots No. 7 when corns are troublesome, and can write poetry by the mile, of double rhyme of both edges.—to read backward, forward, crosswise and diagonally. Can play the jewsharp and bass drum and whistle Yankee Doodle in Spanish. Am very correct in my morals, and first rate at tennis; have regard for the Sabbath, and never drink only when invited. Am a domestic animal, and perfectly docile—when towels are clean, and shirt buttons are all right. If I possess a predominate virtue, it is that of forgiving every enemy whom I deem it hazardous to handle. I say my prayers every night, mosquitoes permitting; and as to whether I snore in my sleep—I want some one to tell me. Money is no object, as I never was troubled with any, and never expect to be.

A MOTHER'S LOVE.—Children, look in those eyes, listen to that dear voice, notice the feeling of even a single touch that is bestowed upon you by that gentle hand. Make the most of it while yet you have the most precious of all good gifts—a loving mother. Read the unfathomable love of those eyes; the kind anxiety of that tone and look, however slight your pain. In after years you may have friends, and never again will you have the inexpressible love and gentleness lavished upon you which none but a mother bestows. Often do I sigh, in my struggles with the hard, uncaring world, for the sweet, deep security I felt when, of an evening, nestling to her bosom, I listened to some quiet tale suitable to my age, read in her tender and untiring voice. Never can I forget her sweet glances cast upon me when I appeared to sleep; never can I forget her kiss of peace at night. Years have passed away since we have laid her beside my father in the cold church-yard; yet still her voice whispers from the grave; and her eyes watch over me as I visit spots long since hallowed to the memory of my mother.

IRISH CUTENESS.—One of the sharpest tricks we have heard of being played in these parts, was that of an Irishman of our acquaintance. It certainly relieves the Yankees from the odium of driving hard bargains: Pat took the job from a prominent parson of filling up a portion of his grounds with earth. Pat was to receive six dollars a day for the services of himself, horse and cart, until the job was completed, and the parson agreed to furnish his son to help. Well, Pat tried the experiment of killing two birds with one stone. He took a cellar to dig in another portion of the town, and was to receive six dollars a day for himself, horse and cart in doing the job. But the cream of the joke is, Pat hired the parson's son out to the cellar owner at two dollars and a half a day, and pocketed the money himself. Pat had thus a mighty "fat take;" he dug the cellar and filled the parson's lot at the same time, making twelve dollars a day, and then added two fifty for the labor of the son. If the people don't let up on the Yankees now, there's no justice in the world.

"WELL, Patrick," asked the doctor, "how do you feel to-day?"
"Och, doctor, dear, I enjoy very poor health intirely. This rheumatics is very distressin indade; when I go to sleep I lay awake all night, and my toes are swelled as big as goose hon's eggs, so when I stand up I fall down immediately."

SOMEBODY describing the appearance of a man dancing the polka, says: "He looks as though he had a hole in his pocket, and was trying to shake a shilling down the leg of his trousers."

THE lays of a nightingale may be delightful to a well fed man, but the 'lays' of a hen are better calculated to satisfy a hungry one.

H. J. BIDDLEMAN, Bookseller, Fourth street next to the Post Office, Sacramento, is our authorized Agent to receive subscriptions for the KNIGHT'S LANDING NEWS.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—The Board of Supervisors will hold an adjourned meeting, at Washington, on Monday, the 2nd December.

BALL.—On Thursday evening next, a Thanksgiving Ball will be given by Wm. G. Seely, at the Union Hotel, Knight's Landing.

THE proclamation of Gov. Downey, which appears in another column, and which designates next Thursday, the 28th instant, as a day of thanksgiving, should be read by all. It is got up in good taste, and breathes a spirit of devotion and patriotism seldom equaled in a similar document.

THE HESPERIAN.—We have received the November number of the Hesperian, and as usual Mrs. Day displays great taste in furnishing interesting matter for her Magazine. It ought to be well patronized by ladies living in the country, for every number contains a valuable pattern by which Ladies can make their own dresses, etc.

GOOD EXERCISE.—Persons visiting Sacramento and wishing good exercise, would do well to call at the "Gem" Bowling Saloon, J street, between 2d and 3d. The accommodating W. H. Todd, will always be found in attendance.

NEW SPARK CATCHER.—The steamer Gem, Captain Foster, came out on her last trip up the Sacramento, with a new spark catcher, invented by Hansbrow, of Sacramento. From our observation, we consider it the best thing of the kind ever introduced—not a spark succeeding in getting through it. If it should prove as good an extinguisher of sparks as is expected, it will be indeed a great invention; as heretofore nothing has been invented that would entirely prevent the escape of sparks, and the result has been, every dry season, much property has been consumed by fire from this cause. On the upper Sacramento, the river is narrow and the bends very abrupt, and no amount of caution will entirely prevent some of the sparks setting fire to the dry wood or grain fields on the river banks. It is confidently expected this improvement is the thing so much needed. Mr. Hansbrow intends applying for a patent.

AN exchange says, the Custom House officers have subscribed $16,000 to the National Loan; and on Saturday last the officers of the Mint subscribed $10,400, although some sixty-five attaches were absent. The Mint is said to be good for $20,000.

CHEAP CATTLE.—The Placer county Advocate says that a recent stock sale near Auburn, yearlings sold for one dollar a head, and other stock in proportion. As usual, the reason is that an insufficiency of feed has obtained throughout the country.

THE steamer St. Louis arrived at San Francisco from Panama, November 16th, with a long list of cabin passengers and 465 in the steerage.

THE demonstration in honor of the memory of Thomas Wilkey will take place in San Francisco, to-morrow (Sunday.)

THE rates of meals and berths on the regular steamers plying between Sacramento and San Francisco, have been materially reduced by the California Steam Navigation Company.

On Candles.

A WORD OF ADVICE TO FARMERS.

As our community is almost wholly dependent on the products of the farm for our trade, business, and means of livelihood, we would offer a few suggestions to practical farmers, which, if followed up, will add to their comfort and independence, and at the same time, by buying less, better enable us to pay for the few necessaries we are compelled to purchase. In the first place, how? Few of our farmers but buy their candles at the stores, when they can be easily made on the farm, and with comparatively trifling cost. Scarcely any of our farmers but have a fat beef in the Fall of the year, which is not at present easily marketed at any price. Now suppose he slaughters this beef, saves all the tallow, uses a large portion of it fresh for house use, and cures and smokes sufficient for winter use. For information we will make an estimate that the beef on foot is worth three cents per pound for the meat, which at 400 pounds, would bring, if sold, $12 00. Now, suppose it is killed on the ranch and used as above described, and we have the following estimate as an offset to these $12 00, which only includes a little extra labor in accomplishing: Say

Table with 2 columns: Item, Value. Includes 40 lbs. tallow made into candles, 25 cents per pound; 50 pounds meat used fresh, at 5 cents per pound; 200 pounds corned beef, at 3 cents per pound; 75 pounds smoked beef, at 10 cents per pound; Hide; Allowance for loss in curing, 40 lbs. Total $28 00.

Here we have an offset of $28 00 against $12 00—making a gain of $14 in this little transaction. Now, suppose we lessen this by $2—the price of the hide—which goes to pay for candle wick and salt; and still there is $12 left. We will here estimate that the direct saving is only the candles; as these we have thus far almost invariably purchased at the stores, which is $10. Now, supposing there are five hundred farmers in the county who act on this advice, and each thereby save the outlay of $10, we have a total of five thousand dollars, which is now paid for this useful article by these five hundred farmers, and the money therefor goes out of the country, and not only the farmers of Yolo, but the State at large is rendered poorer by this sum, which could be better saved and kept to increase our circulating medium at home. We hope our farmers will hereafter act on this suggestion and make their own candles.

Colt Exhibition.

On Saturday last, pursuant to a notice given by D. N. Hershey, late owner of the stallion Argyle, the following colts were entered for the premiums to be awarded to the first and second best sired by Argyle and foaled in the Spring of 1861:

- Julia Davis, by B. F. Tebbs. Jeff. Davis, by A. J. Scoggins. Gen. Scott, by A. J. Scoggins. Mary Archer, by E. G. Burger. David, by John Bemerly. George, John Bemerly. Dops, John Bemerly. Young Argyle, E. Comstock. Jerry, J. I. Deming. Selim, J. I. Deming.

The colts all looked fine and displayed a degree of size and bone, accompanied with good action seldom witnessed in the same number. There was not a faulty colt exhibited. Mr. Comstock's colt was admired by everybody, and many thought him entitled to a premium, but the Judges thought otherwise. Mr. Bemerly also showed two superior colts. Altogether, the exhibition reflected much merit on the sire as a foal getter. At the conclusion of the exhibition, the following premiums were awarded:

- To Julia Davis, exhibited by B. F. Tebbs, first premium of $50 cash. To Selim, exhibited by J. I. Deming, second premium of $25 cash. JOSEPH COMBS, A. S. HUGHES, CARY BARNEY, } Com.

A VALUABLE DISCOVERY.—Prof. J. B. Turner writes to the Prairie Farmer that through a succession of experiments on himself, his children, his horses, and other cases, he has discovered that coal oil is a certain and speedy remedy for scrofulous eruptions and all kinds of local diseases, such as rheumatism, pains in the side, shoulder, back and joints, croup, sore throat, bruises, strains, cuts, and laceration on men and animals. He mentions several cases in his own family, where the application of this oil gave instant and permanent relief; and finding its effects so beneficial, he has thought proper to make the discovery known to the public.

School Census.

We have been furnished by Mr. Gaddis, the County Superintendent of Common Schools, with the returns of the school census taken in October, and a few other interesting items from his report to the Department of Instruction. The following list gives the enumeration of children by districts:

Table with 4 columns: District No., Between 4 & 18 years, under 4 years, Born in California. Total: 1262, 567, 893.

There are also 66 children between 18 and 21 years of age. Total under 21 years, 1,895. The increase of children between 4 and 18 years of age, has been 204, or 19 1/2 per cent. over the census of last year. The greatest increase has been in Cottonwood (No. 4) and Grafton (No. 7) districts—38 per cent. in the former and 30 per cent. in the last named district. There has been a decrease in Districts No. 2, 6 and 12. The apparent decrease in North Putah (No. 9) District is caused by a subdivision of its territory. Fremont (No. 15) District was formed from the township of that name during the past school year, and Monument (No. 18) District from part of Washington, (No. 3.) Of the children between 4 and 18 years, 644 are boys and 618 are girls. 792 children have attended the public schools during the past year, of whom 422 were boys, and 370 girls—the average daily attendance being 401. There have been 23 male and 6 female teachers employed, of whom 16 male and 3 female teachers are engaged at present. The highest salary paid to any teacher in the county is $100 per month, and the lowest $41, in both cases to females; the average wages is $67 70. 21 schools have been reported which have been kept open an average of a little more than six months. The valuation of school houses and furniture, as reported, is about $10,800—and the entire cost of maintaining the schools during the year, about $9,500.

The number of school districts in the county has increased during the last four years from four to eighteen, and the number of schools from five to twenty-two, and everything else connected with them in a like proportion, except the public funds, which have amounted to only $3,757 63 for the past year—but it is expected that the school revenue will be increased about $1,000 for the present year, by the additional tax for that purpose; and we have no doubt that the people of the county would cheerfully submit to a still further augmentation of this tax, if necessary, for they have manifested a disposition to sustain their schools that elicits our admiration. Notwithstanding all the disadvantages with which the schools of this county have had to contend, we apprehend that this exhibit of the condition of the schools of Yolo county, will compare favorably with that of any other county in the State, similarly circumstanced.

FROM MEXICO.—We have dates from Mexico to the 25th ult. We clip the following from the Mexico News Letter, published by Wm. Moran:

In Tampico they have had troubles respecting the newly elected Governor of the State. The Garza family are not willing that anybody else interfere with their monopoly in Tamaulipas.

A party of Government cavalry was lately defeated near San Juan del Rio by a party of Mejia's men.

A Masonic lodge has been established at Vera Cruz.

Six to eight thousand Indians are said to be in arms at Ixmiquilpan for the avowed purpose of exterminating the whites, who are flying in dismay from the surrounding villages and farms before the fury of this servile insurrection. It is difficult to predict where this movement will end.

It is reported that Zuloaga has been disowned by his party as President, and that General Almonte has been named as Chief of that faction.

The platecos hold the eastern part of the valley at their mercy, and have recently committed some horrible atrocities on the defenseless inhabitants.

The Governor of the State of Vera Cruz has signed a contract with Senor Escandon for the construction of the railroad from Vera Cruz to Orizaba, and a council of advisers has been named for the latter place.

The Sale of Swamp Lands.

The swamp lands of the State are being rapidly sold. Under the law passed by the last session of the Legislature, twenty-four districts have been organized, including 344,000 acres of land, claimed to be swamp or overflowed lands, within the meaning of the Act of Congress, giving such land to this State. Two hundred thousand acres have been sold. These districts do not include half the tule land in the State.

The first district, between the Bear and American rivers, contains 60,000 acres, of which 40,000 have been sold.

The second district, between the American and Mokelumne rivers, contains 43,000 acres, of which 35,000 have been sold.

The third district, "Grand Island," in Sacramento county, contains 17,369 acres, of which 15,074 have been sold.

The fourth district, "Tyler's Island," in Sacramento county, contains 8,000 acres, all sold.

The fifth district, south of the Mokelumne river, contains 20,000 acres, of which 13,124 are sold.

The sixth district, in the valley of the Cache Slough, in Yolo county, contains 4,519 acres, all sold.

The seventh district, west of the Cache Slough, in Yolo county, contains 7,624 acres, all sold.

The eighth district, "Andrew's Island," in Sacramento county, contains 1,925 acres, all sold.

The ninth district, in Solano county, contains 1,228 acres, all sold.

The tenth district, between the San Joaquin river and Black Slough, in San Joaquin county, contains 1,497 acres, all sold.

The eleventh district is not organized.

The thirteenth district, between the Mokelumne and Cosumnes rivers, contains 8,400 acres, all sold.

The fourteenth district, in Napa and Sonoma counties, contains 1,295 acres, all sold.

The fifteenth district, in Sacramento county, on the north side of the Cosumnes river, above Hick's bridge, contains 820 acres, all sold.

The sixteenth district, in the valleys of the Cache and Cross Creeks, in Tulare county, contains 34,765 acres. There is no report of the amount sold.

The seventeenth district, in San Joaquin county, between Walthall Slough and French Camp Creek, contains 10,911 acres. There is no report of the land sold.

The eighteenth district, in Yolo county, between the Sacramento river and Sycamore, Cache and Sutter sloughs, contains 117,320 acres, of which 75,098 have been sold.

The nineteenth district, in San Mateo county, contains 2,700 acres, of which 2,229 acres have been sold.

The twenty-first district, in Marin county, contains 2,615 acres, all sold.

The twenty-second district, in San Joaquin county, contains 6,218 acres, all sold.

The twenty-third district, in San Mateo county, north of Angelo Creek, contains 4,200 acres, of which 3,020 are sold.

The twenty-fourth district—"Sutter Island"—in Yolo and Solano counties, contains 1,891 acres, of which 1,201 have been sold.—Alta.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

We clip from the Union's dispatches, the following:

New York, Nov. 15.—The Richmond Enquirer of Nov. 14, says: "Intelligence was received in this city last night, and conveyed to the War Department, that a large force of the enemy (Federal) 40,000 strong, had invaded the eastern shore of the State, crossing from the Potomac. Our whole force there (Rebel) is not over 1,800, and it will be impossible to get reinforcements to them across the water."

Port Monroe, Nov. 15th.—The steam frigate San Jacinto, has arrived here with Mason and Slidell, Rebel Commissioners, taken from an English steamer in the channel of the Bahamas.

Boston, Nov. 15.—Captain Hunter, of the steamer Delta, from Bermuda, at Halifax, reports that when he left Bermuda, a British steam vessel and the rebel Nashville were in port, and the British vessel had transferred her cargo of arms to the Nashville, and the latter had put Mason and Slidell on the British vessel, which would take them to England, while the Nashville would run the blockade with the arms. The name of the British vessel they were taken from has not as yet transpired.

All the documents and papers of Mason and Slidell were seized. Their families were allowed to proceed.

The Captain of the British vessel delivered up Mason and Slidell under protest. This is the substance of the report by the passengers on the Old Point boat.

New York, Nov. 16.—The regulars from California left for Washington this morning.

There are 1,500 men now at Annapolis ready to embark. The current rumor is that they are to reinforce Gen. Sherman.

General Sherman is reported to have seized Pinckney Island and all the able-bodied negroes. No attempt has been made to land on the main land.

PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, SAC., NOV. 11, '61.

Whereas, it has been made my duty by two several Acts of the Legislature of this State (portions of which are hereto annexed for the direction of persons therein charged with special trusts and obligations) to give public notice, by proclamation, of the completion of the buildings of the State Reform School so far as to be ready for occupancy; and whereas, the Board of Trustees of said State Reform School have conveyed to this Department the requisite official information of the foregoing fact:

Now, therefore, I, John G. Downey, Governor of the State of California, do hereby give notice to all concerned, that the State Reform School at Marysville will be opened and ready for the reception of all youths for whom the same has been provided, as specified in the Acts herein referred to, on the first Monday, being the 2d day of December, A. D. 1861.

In testimony whereof I have hereto set my hand, and caused the Great Seal of this State to be affixed, the day and year first above written.

AN ACT for the erection of a Building for a State Reform School, and for the Regulation of the same, passed April 18, 1860.

Sec. 18. After the proclamation shall have been made, as provided in section seventeen of this Act, when any boy, or youth, between the age of eight and sixteen years, shall be convicted of any offense known to the laws of this State, and punishable by imprisonment, other than such as may be punishable by imprisonment for life, the Court (or Justice, as the case may be), before whom such conviction shall be had, may at their discretion sentence such boy or youth to the State Reform School, or to such punishment as is now provided by law for the same offense. And if the sentence shall be to the Reform School, then it shall be in the alternative to the State Reform School, or to such punishment as would have been awarded if this Act had not passed.

Sec. 19. Any boy or youth so convicted and sent to said School, shall there be kept, disciplined, instructed, employed and governed, under the direction of said Board of Trustees, until the term of his sentence shall have expired, or until he shall be either reformed or discharged, or shall be bound out by said Trustees, according to their by-laws, or shall be remanded to prison, under the sentence of the Court, as incorrigible, upon information of the Trustees, as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 20. If any boy or youth shall, upon any conviction, be sentenced to the said School, and the Trustees shall deem it expedient to receive him, or if he shall be found incorrigible, or his continuance in the School shall be deemed injurious to the management and discipline thereof, they shall certify the same upon the mittimus, by virtue of which he is held, which mittimus, together with the convict, shall be delivered to the Sheriff of any county, or his Deputy, or to the Constable of any town, who shall forthwith commit said boy or youth to the jail or State Prison, as the case may be, in pursuance of the alternative sentence provided for in the preceding section of this Act.

Sec. 21. All commitments of boys or youths to this Institution, of whatever age when committed, shall be for a term not longer than their minority, nor less than one year, unless sooner discharged by order of the Trustees, as hereinbefore provided. The mittimus shall state the age, the offense committed, the sentence, and the alternative sentence. Whenever any boy or youth shall be discharged, by the expiration of his term of commitment, or as reformed, or as having arrived at the age of twenty-one years, such discharge shall be a full and complete release from all penalties and disabilities which may have been created by such sentences.

AN ACT defining further powers and duties of the Trustees or Managers of the State Reform School, and the Managers of the Industrial School Department of San Francisco, passed May 20, 1861.

Sec. 3. Upon request of any parent, or guardian, or friend, of any boy or youth who has no parent or guardian, who may be shown to the Trustees, or Managers, and Superintendent of the State Reform School, such boy or youth shall be received therein, and shall be subject to the care, instruction, support and discipline thereof, notwithstanding such boy or youth may be guilty of no especial crime or crimes.

[Communicated.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 19, 1861.

FRIEND RAVELEY:—First, I wish to congratulate you upon the stand just taken in the NEWS—and, second, to congratulate those counties where the NEWS circulates, and particularly Yolo, upon the same point. "Better late than never." Sorry you and Col. F— didn't come out sooner; but the poor fellows in the "peace and division" ranks really needed some sympathy, though they didn't deserve it. As converts are always the most ardent contestants, we shall expect no other pen so pointed and no other sword so sharp for the Union hereafter as yours and the Colonel's. It was always incongruous that such a noble Illinoisian as he, and so loyal a — as you should be anything else than Unionists of the first water. And you were really nothing else, only a little slow and cautious in your movement—a crime for which every great and prudent man in the nation has been censured within the last six months. Well, the Colonel is himself again—has taken the oath, and I guarantee that he will lay down as many lives as were ever given to a soul, by the most enthusiastic transmigratorist, before he will violate or injure it—and so will you. We shall look for a steady light from Yolo—a banner ever in the breeze, with the Union always up. We are mighty Unionists here in the levee city; our very streets are full of Union—everything fuses and flows into the tide. Were a secession donkey to attempt, and make the voyage of any of our "principal streets" alive, the spirit of Union is so rife that his very tracks would be at once obliterated. There would be no trace of him a minute afterward. Even the original secession of the water from the dry land is not allowed here. Our Board of Supervisors have no sort of fellowship with a division. They go the whole Union. They even go so far as to "blockade the ports" and allow no vile seceding drop of water to escape.

The "coming man," the Governor elect, and his new mansion, are now the particular objects of attention (since the fusion of all parties in our streets) in this loyal burgh. The man, because he has patronage to bestow—and the mansion, because it has plenty of elegant rooms, and is presumed to be well supplied with every cheer. Stanford ran both Phelps and Staples off the track in Convention and then induced Phelps to come on behind and push him through the election, why not now call Staples to write up the Administration, as Secretary of State? Surely, the Governor can afford to be generous. And the pen of State could certainly fall into no worthier hands; and Stanford could make no move more worthy of himself and his station. As to Weeks, he is quite too young a convert, and Crocker too old an Abolitionist. No, they won't do. Staples, and only Staples, can fill things.

You may think very strange that I meddle with the affairs of the Republicans. But you must remember the strength of our Unionism, even our streets, have fused. Yours, FUSIONIST.

FAILURE.—William Hicks, who lived in the valley of the Cosumnes River, has failed for a large sum, estimated at about $80,000. It is said that he lost $100,000 by the late decision in the Chavolla case.

LEGAL NOTICES.

PROCLAMATION of Thanksgiving.

State of California, Executive Department, Sacramento, November 4, 1861.

There is a moral grandeur in the public acknowledgement of Divine goodness. Political institutions, however excellent, do not constitute the only source of happiness to the people; for underlying these are the finer moral elements essential in the creation of national greatness and individual well-being. This was well understood by the immortal men who bequeathed us this glorious inheritance of ours. It was thought to be eminently proper by those great and good men, whose fame has rendered our country illustrious, that the State should, by its public acts, pay booming respect to these observances, and thus encourage individual respect for public and private virtues, and veneration for the Supreme Being. Infused with these sentiments, the Executive of this Commonwealth takes peculiar interest in again providing for a public recognition of the divine source of all our blessings, and a public manifestation of the gratitude of the people for the same.

To be grateful is to enjoy the gifts of heaven: while the simple expression of our thankfulness is all the return we can make for the possession of these many blessings. California, in all the ardor of her youth, this day rejoices in the fullness of her prosperity. The earth has yielded forth its fruits for her in overwhelming abundance, her treasures of gold have not been exhausted, while she has enlarged her contributions to the wealth of her sister States and other lands.—The increase of her flocks and herds, luxuriating on her abundant pastures under her benign skies, animates her hills and valleys with visions of gladness. Her homes are full of peace and plenty. War, famine, and pestilence have not invaded her happy abodes; nor from any such unnatural cause is there heard the wail of sorrow, or the lamentations of the widow, or the cry of the orphan within her borders.

Multitudes have been added to her thriving population during the year, to enjoy with us the rich munificence of Heaven, and to aid us in extending the conquest of a superior civilization. No other land has been so highly favored in all the elements of material progress as this beautiful heritage of ours. And while the homes of our people are filled with contentment and peace, may they be distinguished as the habitations of wisdom, justice, charity, and love.

Now, therefore, I, John G. Downey, Governor of the State of California, do hereby appoint and set apart THURSDAY, the 28th of November, instant, as a day of Public Thanksgiving to Almighty God, for the distinguished mercies and blessings bestowed upon us during the past year. And I call upon all the people to lay aside their daily avocations, and meet in their accustomed religious assemblies, and in all suitable ways, and in all due solemnity, to pour forth their gratitude in prayer and praise to our Heavenly Father for all his goodness; remembering, at the same time, to supplicate fervently for the speedy removal of our national calamities, and for the perpetuity, in all its power and glory, of this Union and equality of states, to which, under Providence, we most cheerfully attribute the unparalleled prosperity of our people; and to the existence of which, in its former purity and justice, we look, as the main hope, the sheet-anchor of civil and religious liberty to ourselves and our posterity.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great Seal of the State to be affixed, the day and year above written.
J. G. DOWNEY, Governor of California.

THE Knight's Landing News.

The Dog Who Saved a Ship.

A TRUE STORY.

A few years ago, a sea captain from Massachusetts, who was in Havre, in France, obtained there a fine little rat terrier, which he called "Nep", as he was to make a companion of him on his voyage, and thought, I suppose, that the name of the old god of the sea would be appropriate for the little fellow. Little "Nep" soon learned to like the vessel, and he would run up ladders like a little sailor, though he could not come down without help. After the vessel had been at sea some weeks or months, when they began to approach land, before it could be seen by the men, "Nep" would mount high up on the forward part of the ship, and snuff, and snuff, and bark, and show signs of joy. His keen scent enabled him to smell the land long before it could be seen. He would also detect the approach of another ship, when he could not see it, in the same way.

When "Nep" had been to sea with his master about two years, the Hortensia (that was the vessel's name), had been to New Orleans for a load of cotton, and was on her way out of the Gulf of Mexico into the Atlantic Ocean. For some days there had been "squally" weather, with light baffling winds, and the vessel had not sailed very rapidly, but she was in a dangerous neighborhood, and a constant watch was necessary; for along the coast of Florida are long, low reefs and islands and bars, which have caused the destruction of many a vessel. It had been the captain's watch in the early part of the night—that is, the captain with a few men remained upon the deck while the rest slept, then the others, at the sound of the bell, came upon deck, the mate took charge of the ship, the men who had been watching went below, and the captain, after telling the mate to call him before three o'clock, went below and "turned into" his berth to sleep. "Nep" lay at his master's stateroom door, for that was his sleeping place. There lies in the Florida Straits a large and dangerous rock called the Double-Headed Shot Keys. A lighthouse is built upon it that vessels may be kept from running upon it in the night. "Be sure to call me by three o'clock," said the captain, "as by that time we shall be up with the Double-Headed Shot Keys, and sooner if there is a change of weather."

The night wore on, and all was still but the splashing of the water; the mate went below to get something from his chest, sat down upon it for a few minutes, and before he knew it, was fast asleep; the men on deck receiving no orders, supposed all was right, and one by one they too fell asleep; no one was awake but a small Spanish boy, whose turn it was to be at the wheel—that is, the helm, where they steer the vessel. Meantime, the wind changed, a stiff breeze sprang up, the sails were filled, and the Hortensia plowed through the ocean briskly, straight toward the Double-Headed Shot Keys. The little Spanish boy, half asleep at the helm, knew not of the danger, neither could he see ahead from where he stood, for the great sails concealed the view of the light-house; but "Nep," the good sailor that he was, had already discovered that land was near—he smelt it, and he saw the light. He rushed down to his master's stateroom, and barked, and jumped up to him as he lay in his berth. "Get down, be still, Nep," said the sleepy captain. But "Nep" would not be still—he only barked the louder. "Be still!" said the captain again, and he pushed the dog away. Again the faithful little fellow jumped up, pulled his master's sleeve, and took hold of his arm with his teeth. Then the captain, thoroughly aroused, began to think something was the matter. He sprang up, and "Nep" ran forward, barking, to the companion way; the captain's head no sooner came above the deck than he saw what was the matter. Right ahead was the fearful rock and the lighthouse, and the ship plunging toward it at the rate of nine miles an hour! He seized the helm, the ship struggled, swung round, and when her course was shifted she was so near the rock that they could have touched it with an oar; in three minutes more she would have struck and been a wreck! The sleeping sailors were roused to their duty, and the astonished mate rose up from his nap on his chest to learn that but for the faithful dog the waves might already have closed over him.

Do you wonder that the captain thinks his dog is worth his weight in gold? He has been offered large sums of money for him, but money cannot buy him. He does not go to sea now. "Nep" went as long as his master did, and now he makes himself quietly useful at home by catching all the rats in the neighborhood. He is six years old, and may live to a good old age, the pet and admiration of all who know him.
