REV. JOHN C. MCKEE

John C. McKee was born in Pittsburg, Pa., August 10, 1844, and passed to the beyond in Glendale, California, January 24, 1917. He had been in feeble health for some time and had never fully recovered from an operation performed four weeks previous to his death. He bore his sufferings with great fortitude and was ever under the watchful care of his loving wife.

Rev. McKee was a man of unusual education and culture. He was a devout Christian man and the twelfth minister in the McKee generations. He received his early education from his father, a man of wide knowledge, and at the age of six he was studying Latin. He became a great linguist and could read and speak twelve languages. In his early youth he attended the best schools and colleges and received his training for the ministry at the Theological seminary at Washington, D. C. He collected a library of thousands of volumes and spent much of his time among his beloved books.

Rev. McKee was actively engaged in the ministry in the Presbyterian church for fifty years at Bridgen, Ontario, and other points in Canada and later at Coachella, Cal. He was married in the seventies at Wardsville, Ontario, Canada, to Mary Margaret Dykes, who died shortly after coming to Glendale in 1911. Three children were born to this union, Mrs. Gordon Brown of Bridgen, Ontario, Mrs. S. S. Neighbors of Glendale and John J. McKee of Tampico, Mexico.

Rev. McKee was married in March, 1912, to Miss Bessie Grant of Bridgen, Canada, who survives him.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Jewel City Undertaking parlors, Dr. Livingston of South Pasadena, an old friend of the deceased, officiated. Interment was in beautiful Forest Lawn cemetery.

DEATH OF DEWEY HOMER

Dewey W. Homer, a young man 21 years old, who came to Glendale a month ago from Illinois, died at 147 E. Third St. January 23. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Gartha Homer, to mourn his death. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Pulliam Undertaking parlors. Burial in Forest Lawn cemetery.

HOUSEHOLD SALVATION

TOPIC OF EVANGELIST HABBICK IN FINAL ADDRESS IN GLENDALE

Preliminary to the regular address of the evening Rev. W. E. Edmonds offers a word of warm and heartfelt thanks to all those who have co-operated in the work of the past few weeks and contributed so largely to the success of the meetings. He forgot none, mentioning the names of many whose outstanding efforts have been so singularly blessed. Mr. Edmonds personally and for his congregation especially thanked the Glendale News for its uniform kindness and courtesy in the use of its columns during this series of meetings.

Rev. John Habbick opened his remarks by saying that he was a little tired, somewhat scarred and battered, but still in the ring, after the almost constant effort put forth for the last few weeks; the days that have been passing have been good days to me; for seventeen days we have been in a close and peculiar intimacy brought about by our mutual interest in the salvation of souls. As one might think I would bring you a word tonight from sunny skies, blossoming flowers or singing birds in this our last meeting together for some time. But this gospel that I preach is a blunt gospel and it is the only gospel that is going to save men. And what we need is the proclaiming of the true gospel of the Son of God, which is bold, fearless and powerful as a two-edged sword. I have little respect for the soft-peddling, emaculate gospel that is being preached from so many pulpits today.

And now I am going to preach to you tonight with the help of God upon my preaching, upon a text taken from the life of the Shumanite woman, found in 2 Kings 4:26, "Run now, I pray thee, to meet her and say unto her, Is it well with thee? Is it well with thy husband? Is it well with the child? And she answered, It is well."

That is a remarkable statement for a woman to make about her home. Very few women can make such a statement, and it is wonderful because so exceptional.

First of all, mark her faith. For the surroundings were against her. It is one thing to say all is well when everything seems to be in your favor, when you have plenty, when you have your loved ones well and about you. But to stand out and say it is well when the clouds are lowering, when things seem to be going against you, that is faith. "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, not seen. Faith sustained by hope. That is what brings her before you so vitally. You cannot kill her. She will live forever, both in your memory and that of untold myriads, because of her faith. And in order to be saved you have got to have evangelical faith in Jesus Christ.

Fifty-three miles north of Jerusalem, eight miles from Tabor and four miles from Jezreel, there once stood the famous and unfortunate city of Shunam, situated in one of the most beautiful spots on the globe. Surrounded by olive orchards and fields of waving grain, with babbling springs and shaded groves; an ideal place for an ideal home; and in that place was such a home presided over by a famous woman of antiquity.

And she was indeed a woman of great faith. She had been led into the thought that things which are seen are temporal, and the things which are not seen are eternal.

Even though there lay dead her well-loved son, when asked how it was with her, she answered that all was well. For she had faith in God. She knew what the Holy Spirit expression meant, to wit: Romans 8: 28, "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to His purpose."

A woman some years ago living on a farm in what was then the far west, lost first her husband, then one of two children; still her faith in God never wavered; the last child, a son, fell into temptation in a large city, was killed; she brought him home and buried him beside the husband and child; still her faith was unmovable. But this sorrow only drew her nearer to God, and in the years that followed, she was referred to as the "trouble woman," being sent for from far and near in time of sorrow and perplexity. She was a comfort and solace to all, pointing them to God. God permits sad experiences in the lives of his children that they may be a

SATAN'S FALL

ONCE THE HIGHEST ANGEL IN HEAVEN PRIDE FILLED HIS HEART

Satan, the tempter and tormenter of human beings, and according to Evangelist Philip L. Knox, the cause of the great war now raging in Europe and of all the trouble that ever has come upon the human race, was once the highest angel in heaven, standing before the throne of God next to Christ. So the evangelist said last night in his discourse at Evangel hall, 115 South San Fernando road, on "The Origin, History and Destiny of Satan." Tonight at 7:45 Evangelist Celia Andross will speak on "Nature's Testimony to Christ."

"Thou art the anointed cherub that covereth; and I have set thee so; thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire," are the words found in Ezekiel 28:14, which the speaker read to his audience.

"In many places the Scriptures tell us that the covering cherubs are the two angels standing on either side of the throne in heaven as guardians," said Mr. Knox. Psalms 99:1 says: "The Lord reigneth, let the people tremble. He sitteth between the cherubims." Lucifer was once one of these angels, a leader of the myriad hosts of heaven. That he was very beautiful is shown by the words of Ezekiel 28:12, "Thou sealest up the sum, full of wisdom and perfect in beauty. Thou hast been in Eden, the garden of God. Every precious stone was thy covering." Satan was at that time, before his fall, arrayed in all manner of precious stones and bathed in the glory of God. The Bible tells us it was because of this being's visit to Eden that our first parents sinned, and we find ourselves in a world filled today with violence and all the results of man's disobedience.

"Satan, created by God to stand in his presence, and being next to Christ, the most honored of the angelic host, allowed pride to fill his heart and endeavored to usurp the throne of God. Ezekiel 28:17 tells us, 'Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness.' Again we read in the same chapter, 'Thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God.' Isaiah 14: 13, 14 says of Lucifer, 'Thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God; I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north. I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the Most High.'

"After thousands of years of faithful service, pride caused the downfall of this highly honored being. His heart was lifted up in pride until at last we hear him saying, 'I am God.' We are surprised that with the honors showered upon him he should become dissatisfied with his creator's plan. Yet it is more strange that puny men should think of themselves as gods. We find individuals today who make the claim that 'the soul or mind of the spiritual man is God.' This very self-exaltation caused the downfall of the highest angel in the universe.

"It has been left for John the Revelator in the 12th chapter and 7th verse of the Apocalypse to describe the closing scenes in connection with the fall of Satan. We read of the result of Lucifer's deceiving a third of the angels of heaven. 'And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels, and prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven. And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent called the devil and Satan which deceiveth the whole world; he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.'

"Others of the New Testament writers speak of this great company of fallen angels that attended Lucifer in his flight from heaven. Peter, warning us not to spurn the mercies of God, reminds us that 'God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down.' Judge 1:6 tells us that 'the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation he hath reserved unto the judgment of the great day.' John, describing the loyal angels in heaven said he saw 'ten thousand times ten thousand and thousands of thousands. He was shown one hundred million besides millions more. If two-thirds of the angelic host remained loyal, the third who fell must have numbered more than fifty million. We can understand from this why we are visited so of-

AT GLENDALE HIGH

HARVARD MILITARY ACADEMY BASKETBALL TEAM DEFEATED BY GLENDALE

Harvard Military Academy's basketball team received a severe beating yesterday at the hands of Glendale before a fair sized group of Glendale rooters.

The first half of the game was not very fast. Glendale seemed unable to get started. Poor support was given the team. When the half way whistle blew the score was 9 all.

In the second half Glendale led from the start. Time after time the ball was passed with little difficulty down the field. Had the local team not had an off day at shooting goals the score would have been even more one sided. The final score was 13-31.

The lads who so worthily upheld Glendale's laurels in this game were Hagin, West, Fischel, Williams, Fansett and the McIver brothers. Fragments of the band furnished lots of noise and some music.

Our lightweights dropped a game Tuesday to Whittier on the latter's court. The boys were not heart broken over their defeat, however, as Whittier is known as the strongest team in the southern part of the state.

On the return trip the players had another thrill. The rear light on the machine in which they were riding went out. Not knowing this, "Curly" Williams drove through Los Angeles and there was halted by an officer.

In the rear seat was "Dutch" Reid, with a stocking cap over his ears and a coat over his chin. The officer mistook his angelic face for that of a girl, and was in the midst of a lecture when "Dutch" pulled down his coat. The lecture stopped. Was the joke on "Dutch" or on the officer?

Mr. Sawyer has completed a bookkeeping system for the Explosion. Many other improvements have been installed during the past week, including desks, typewriters, etc.

Miss Knepper, head of the English department, is visiting other schools today in an effort to keep Glendale High School in the lead in matters of English.

With the All-Stars and the Midgents tied for first place in the noon indoor league, Manager Wight yesterday ordered a new start in the schedule, owing to the many protests. The management failed to provide competent umpires, with the result that the entire season will have to be played over. The Tigers beat the Angels in the first game of the series.

Hasty Bidwell was a visitor at the school the first of the week. He received a hearty welcome.

IRISH LINEN'S NEW MANAGER

W. L. Moore has arrived in Glendale to take charge of the Irish Linen Store at 337 South Brand Boulevard, of which J. B. McBratney is the proprietor. The store is well known to the ladies of this section for the choice line of goods carried. Mr. Moore understands this line linen thoroughly and it is a foregone conclusion that he will make this a more popular store than ever. He has been in the linen business for ten years, part of the time as a salesman, having been on the road for five years for Mills & Gibb, importers and manufacturers of New York. He was engaged in the business for five years in Belfast, and so has a thorough knowledge of this industry. He has taken up his residence in Glendale and we are glad to welcome him as a citizen.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Friday. Heavy frost Friday morning. Light westerly winds.

ten by the devil, for Satan is merely the great leader of a vast host of beings similar in form and wickedness with himself.

"The demons cast out of human beings by Christ realized that some day they would be destroyed, for some of them asked Christ, 'Art thou come to destroy us before the time?' Ezekiel 28:18 says of Satan, 'I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all them that behold thee.' This being, once angelic in form and in harmony with the universe in thought and action, will one day be blotted from existence. The record concerning him is 'Never shalt thou be any more.'"

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 25, 1917

THE FUTURE OF THE GLENDALE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Just what the future of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce will depend largely upon the course taken by the citizens of this place. An association of this kind will be what the people make it and never any better. The people of Glendale have the deciding as to the future of the chamber. Men who have resided in this city for a number of years know what has been accomplished by the influence of the Chamber, and now the past should not concern us so much as the present.

A Chamber of Commerce is nothing more than a body of men banded together for the purpose of building up the community in which they reside.

Men, individually, can aid greatly in building up a city, but there are advantages to be gained by men working together, so the organization formed for this purpose is commonly called a chamber of commerce, board of trade, improvement association or some such name. The name by which the organization is called does not count for much, but the work accomplished by the organization is of vast importance.

A chamber of commerce is a community institution. It is not a one-man organization, nor should it be left to be run by a few men. The responsibility of successfully conducting a chamber of commerce or a board of trade should rest upon the shoulders of all the citizens of a community.

The Evening News management has been identified with the Glendale Chamber of Commerce since locating in this place, and will continue to be identified with the local chamber so long as there is one.

The Evening News prefers to have such harmony connected with the organization that it will be possible to have all citizens represented at the meetings.

PLAN TO PUT ARGENTINA ON ONE MONEY BASIS

The plan suggested by Dr. De la Plaza, just retired as president of Argentina, of putting the republic on a "one money" basis has not met with a very enthusiastic public reception.

Some time ago the Argentines grew tired of transacting business in a depreciated and fluctuating paper currency. They accordingly took an accounting and found that they had enough gold on hand to redeem their outstanding paper issues at the rate of 44 cents on the dollar.

A law was accordingly passed fixing 44 centavos as the legal value of a paper peso. A gold peso was worth 100 centavos, or the merest trifle less than $1 United States money. Gold pesos were and still are so scarce, however, as to be practical curiosities. The gold to redeem the 44-centavo paper pesos was religiously kept at the Caja de Conversion, however, and whenever any more paper money was issued, a corresponding amount of gold was deposited in the caja.

The result of this was to stop the fluctuation of Argentine money but it left the country with two kinds of pesos, at least nominally, gold and paper. It complicated bookkeeping and caused more other incidental inconveniences.

Just before his term as president expired, Dr. De la Plaza sent a message to congress saying he considered this a poor arrangement. He proposed that, as the 44 centavos paper pesos wore out and were presented for redemption, in a volume sufficiently smaller to allow the gold reserve still to cover it.

There were other incidental features to his plan, concerning coinage and various minor details but, essentially, the scheme was to end the system of having two varieties of the same kind of money.

The public view is that this would be a good thing in theory but that it would cause more temporary inconvenience and confusion than the country likes to submit to. Furthermore it is asserted that the change would unsettle prices for a long time and that the consumer would get the worst of it.

Congress has the matter still under consideration but the plan has so many opponents that its adoption seems doubtful.

BRITISH AMBULANCE SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the Glendale Branch of the British Ambulance Society was held Monday as usual in the guild hall. There was a good attendance. Mrs. Bannock was the hostess of the afternoon. The plans for the carnival of nations, to be held in the Shrine auditorium, Los Angeles, Feb. 16 and 17, are progressing rapidly and the Glendale contingent will play a prominent part, as was stated last week. This society is to give a representation of St. George and the Dragon. The management is having great difficulty in preparing the dragon and the animal seems to be almost extinct in these parts, but there will be a dragon even if it has to be manufactured in Glendale. The Sons of St. George of Los Angeles will march in uniform beside the dragon and a number of Glendale's pretty girls will follow in its wake, costumed as roses for England, shamrocks for Ireland and thistles for Scotland. Some of Glendale's pretty girls are requested to report and help. There will be a fish pond and candy booth. Master Laurence Smith and little Miss Naudain are to give some fancy dancing in costume. All performers are to be in fancy dress. The opening of the grand march will take place at 8 o'clock on Friday evening, February 16, and Saturday the carnival will be devoted to the children. A grand ball will be given on Saturday evening. About fifty performers from Glendale will take part and everyone is cordially invited to co-operate and urged to attend the meeting in Guild hall next Monday at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Henry Harrower is to be the hostess for the afternoon. For further information apply to Miss Whitaker, Glendale 394 or Home Blue 2672.

CONGRESS OF MOTHERS

Among those who attended the Congress of Mothers meeting in Los Angeles Tuesday from Glendale were Mrs. Florence Kurtz, Mrs. Laura Sampson, Mrs. Harry Ducey, Mrs. N. C. Kelley, Mrs. B. Nichols, Mrs. Fred Sternberg, Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. Ward and Mrs. R. T. Burr. The ladies report a very interesting meeting. The morning was taken up with recreation talks, Mrs. Willoughby Rodman of the playground commission being the principal speaker on this subject. Several speakers then gave short talks on child hygiene and Dr. Hoag gave a very practical talk on the teaching of sex hygiene to children, stating that it would be better if the mothers were instructed to teach the children rather than allowing the children to read books on such subjects for themselves. Mrs. F. Kurtz, chairman of patriotism, spoke in connection with the subject of patriotism a talk on birds and flowers was given by Mrs. Meyers, the thought brought out being that the love of birds and flowers fostered in the minds of children tends to make them peaceable and gentle and considerate. A medley of national airs was beautifully played by Miss Ger-base upon which God lifts the entire comfort to others.

A saved unit in a family is the household to Himself, and that base is oftener than otherwise, the mother. An unsaved mother is one of heaven's saddest sights. A worldly mother grieves the heart of God. Mother, because of the close relationship existing between her, the home and the children, is the great factor in God's policy for reaching the man and the child. Man is a human animal like the mother, but he is a strange entity when it comes to absolute surrender to Christ. Business and politics and lodge and everything else keeps him at home from God's altar.

Most of the conversions are because of Christian wifehood and motherhood; therefore, I repeat that a careless and worldly mother is the saddest sight below the skies because of its consequences. The hand that rocks the cradle does indeed rule the world.

Let the home go to pieces on the Christian basis and the nation has gone to the bow wows.

2nd: Is it well with thy husband? Let all the men in the nation arise and testify to the fact of the means being that of consecrated wifehood, consecrated motherhood, being that which turned their erring steps from hell to heaven, and a vast regiment will confront us under the banner of the Cross. When father and mother get right with God, get well with God's touch, then the children run a mighty slim chance of going to ruin. I say, get well with God, and that is more than church membership. More than profession. More than a little religious discussion. It means let father and mother know for themselves that their sins are forgiven by the precious act of faith in the shed blood of Jesus; let them get well enough to purge their own hearts, and the home life of all doubtful things, and this nation will come to God. Children are running to ruin pretty fast nowadays and many a man and woman will arise on the judgment day to know that their boys and girls were lost because there was no earnest, vital Christianity in the home. A praying mother is a queen. A praying father is a king.

We blame churches and ministers and professing Christians for keeping us from God because of their laches, but I tell thee sin keeps thee from Christ, and that, not the church's sin, nor the preacher's sin, nor the professor's sin, but thine own sin.

Some men say that the strictness of a Christian home kept him from Christianity. The Devil may have blinded him to believe that, but the real issue is sin in his own life. It is marvelous how many sinners like to boast when the hearse is backed up to the door and the body of the mother is being carried out that she was as noble a Christian woman as ever lived. There is no use of hedging. We owe, as husband and wife, not alone surrender to God for our own salvation, but also that of our dear ones.

"Is it well with thee? Is it well with thy husband? Is it well with thy child?" A mother and wife, professing Christ for years, but never having spoken of it to those in her home, made up her mind to do so one night when father and son should return from their work; everything in readiness she waited, but that evening the engine on which they worked ran into a ditch and both had been killed, brought home to her dead. Her grief and remorse for her neglect was unbounded. God says "Now." "Now is the accepted time. Now is the day of salvation." We are not promised bodily health here. We are promised a perfect body in the resurrection, but we are promised soul health now.

Oh, that now. My, how the face of things change suddenly! Take the old home of our childhood. Some of us visited them but lately for the first time in many years, and yet it seems but yesterday since we lived and wrought there. Scenes had changed about the place; faces known yesterday cannot be found today; some are in distant parts; some changed to dust. The old house is there, but the family is scattered. Mother used to be there, but she is gone; father used to be there but he is gone; sister used to be there, but she is gone.

As thoughts of by-gone memories flood the soul, tears come and we turn away. It is no longer home. Things, persons and places change; and we can never get them together as they once were. But God does not change. This old book does not change.

Are you willing to be the shuttle that weaves in and out of the loom that makes the pattern of the home for God?

"Is it well with thee? Is it well with thy husband? Is it well with thy child?" Are all the children in?

OFF FOR EUROPE

Miss Irene E. Blanchard of 405 West Ninth street, Glendale, will leave next Tuesday for New York city by way of New Orleans and Washington, D. C. She will visit relatives in Philadelphia and New York City for a short time and will sail in February for Europe. She will visit relatives in Denmark, Norway and Sweden, among them her grandparents who live in Denmark and whom she has never seen as she is a native daughter, Los Angeles being her birthplace. She will go to Europe with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Hannevig, who recently came from there. Mrs. Hannevig is her mother's sister. Mr. Hannevig has shipyards in the old country as well as in Philadelphia, and formerly owned a large fleet of merchant vessels. He was anxious to have Miss Irene return with them to Europe to finish her education, where she will have the advantage of the best of teachers and will take a course in vocal and instrumental music. Being very fond of their young niece and amply able to give her the best of everything her parents consented to her taking the trip. Mrs. Blanchard will go to Europe a year from this February to be in attendance at the celebration of her parents' golden wedding anniversary, which will occur on April 30, 1918. She has not seen her parents for 20 years and in that time her father has received the honor of being knighted by the King of Denmark, who has been a close friend for 45 years.

Miss Irene Blanchard gave a farewell dinner last Sunday to her immediate relatives, among those present being Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Hannevig, Mrs. Mattie L. Shorb of Hollywood. Mrs. Frank Barnes and daughter Audrey were ill with la grippe and unable to be present, but are expected to spend the week end at the Blanchard home on West Ninth street. Miss Irene was attending the Glendale high school when this change was decided on and was quite a favorite with her teachers and classmates. Many friends have called to wish her a pleasant voyage and a safe return.

BENEFIT TEA

Mrs. Colin Cable entertained the members of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Pacific avenue school at her home, 755 Columbus avenue, with a benefit tea for the school on Wednesday. The Cable home was very beautifully decorated with roses and carnations and a big grate fire added cheeriness to the scene. A very elaborate tea was served by the accomplished hostess and the Victrola and Mrs. Bosserman, whose talent as a pianist is so well known, contributed greatly to the pleasure of the afternoon. The ladies had brought their fancy work so while their needles flew they enjoyed the pleasures of congenial companionship and conversation. This was the first in a series of teas that the members of the Pacific avenue Parent-Teacher Association are to give weekly. A silver offering was made for the benefit of the school. An all-day meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ella Richardson next week, when the ladies will bring a box luncheon and will tack comforters, receiving money for their work which they will in turn donate to the benefit fund for the school. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Cable's hospitality yesterday were Mrs. Ella Richardson, Mrs. Frank Ayars, Mrs. LeRoy W. Bosserman, Mrs. L. V. Ashton, Mrs. S. D. Warner, Mrs. Burnham, Mrs. Poscoe Puffer, Mrs. J. W. Begg, Mrs. J. P. Hilbert, Mrs. Stephen Packer, Mrs. A. S. Chase, Mrs. Von Oven, Mrs. John Frazier, Mrs. R. M. Yost, Mrs. S. Woodyard, Mrs. F. DEATH OF MRS. ANNA T. HINMAN

Mrs. Anna F. Hinman, a widow aged 87, whose residence was on Lorraine street, Casa Verdugo, died at Thornycroft Hospital on Tuesday last. Mrs. Hinman had been very feeble for many months, but her death was probably caused by a serious accident which she suffered on New Year's Day when she fell and fractured the hip bone. Funeral services were held at the Pulliam Undertaking parlors Thursday morning, after which the body was shipped to San Diego for burial, where the deceased has two brothers living and where her husband and a son are buried.

Mrs. Hinman had resided on the coast for the past twenty-five years or so and was a lady of unusual amiability of character whose acquaintances were all her friends. For many years she had been greatly interested in securing a collection of minerals, shells and rare objects in nature and art, and the result of this work constitutes a very valuable collection, which remains in possession of her son, Mr. Burrill W. Hinman. She was born at West Chester, Pa., a member of the Townsend family, and is survived by three brothers, Mr. T. E. Townsend of Somerset Farm, Glendale, and Robert A. and W. H. Townsend of San Diego, and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth T. Hinman, of Moline, Ill.

PIONEER CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Hiram Ogden, who resides with his daughter, Mrs. M. O. Ryan, principal of the Broadway school, at 1322 Hawthorne street, celebrated his 87th birthday Wednesday. Mr. Ogden is one of the pioneers of this district, having lived in Los Angeles county for 42 years and in this valley for 22 years, and has witnessed a good many changes in that time. He has lived in Glendale for the past twelve years, living on a ranch at Burbank for a number of years previous to that time. Besides Mrs. Ryan he has another daughter, Mrs. Grace Tilden, who lives in Los Angeles, and four grandchildren and one great-grandchild. We think he is the oldest Boy Scout on record, having been made an honorary member of the Boy Scouts of Glendale at a recent meeting of Camp No. 2 at the Congregational church, when he made an address before the boys. Mr. Ogden crossed the plains in '51, going to Oregon. He is an Indian war veteran, serving during the years of '51 and '52. He had many interesting experiences during the early days and on his trip across the plains. The trip took him just six months to a day from the time he left his home in Iowa until he landed in Portland, Oregon. Mr. Ogden was born in Illinois.

SECOND TERM OF SCHOOL

The second term of school will open on Monday, February 5, 1917. It is very important that every child should enter school on the first day and should thereafter be regular and punctual in his attendance. Any absence may be a serious menace to the child's standing in his classes. Also, since the state and county apportionments of funds are based upon the average daily attendance, absence on the part of the child means a direct financial loss to the district.

School Age

The legal age for entering school is six years. However an allowance of three months is made. This means that in order to enter the first grade a child would have to be six on or before May 5, 1917. No beginners will be admitted after the close of the first month of the term.

Kindergartens

Kindergartens will be opened at the Columbus Ave., Colorado Blvd. and Broadway Schools. Each of these kindergartens will take care of two school districts as follows: Columbus Ave., its own and Central Ave. district; Colorado Blvd., its own and the Pacific Ave. district; Broadway, its own and the Doran St. district. This law is interpreted to mean that the child will have to be four and a half before the end of the third month of school i. e. in this case on or before May 5, 1917. No allowance is made for over age. Any child who is six years old or older on the day the term begins will not be admitted to the kindergarten. Such child may of course, enter school if the parents so desire. In order that the parents may have a choice between the kindergarten and the school, the child must be between five years and nine months and six years old on the day the term begins.

Parents are advised not to send their children to kindergarten until they are at least four years and nine months old for the following reasons: first, we have a kindergarten course of only one year and if a child finishes that before he has attained to school age he will either have to drop out for a half year or take the same work over again in the kindergarten; second, a child of five will get much more out of the kindergarten work than a child of four and a half.

MUTUAL BENEFIT READING CIRCLE

The forty-second regular weekly meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle was held yesterday morning and afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Toll, 1635 Kenneth road. There was an attendance of thirty women. As visitors Mrs. F. W. Denny, Mrs. Julius Kranz and Miss N. E. Dewey were in attendance, while Mrs. Zella Gibbons and Mrs. H. D. Lockwood enrolled as new members.

"Studies in Child Development" by Julia Clark Hallam was finished and a large number of typewritten questions on the text of the book were distributed to all present to be considered throughout the week and answered at the next meeting by those to whom they were given. This has been found to be a very satisfactory method to be used in review, as much discussion is stimulated by the replies.

Patterson Du Bois' small volume, "Beckonings from Little Hands," was partially read. This book is full of heart interest, telling as it does of actual occurrences in a family of four children, whose father Mr. Du Bois was. "The Fire Builders," a study of an experience of the father and a small son, in which the father carelessly blundered; "The Victory of Struggle," another experience between the father and another son, in which the keynote is the thought, "He who accomplishes his purpose with ease may have accomplished less than he who has striven for that purpose and failed;" "A Problem Solved," showing how "A little child shall lead them;" "Back of the Dream," a study showing how necessary it is to add wisdom to love in dealing with children; and "Two Tunes from a Music Box," the dominant thought of which is that parents must strive to put themselves in their children's places, and try to see things from their viewpoint in order to be just. These readings constituted the day's work.

At the next meeting this little volume will be completed and William McKeever's intensely practical and helpful book, "The Training of the Boy," will be begun. No mother of boys of any age should fail to read this volume, as it treats the boys from all sides of character, disposition and habits.

Mrs. A. M. Beamon was appointed corresponding secretary of the Circle, her duties to consist in writing the brief notes of congratulation or condolence which help to make the Circle a true circle of friendship and common interest, and to draw the members into a community of feeling.

UTILIZING VACANT LOTS

Since the recent rains the plowmen are in great demand in Glendale and Casa Verdugo. Last year a great many vacant lots were cultivated and either sowed to grain or planted to vegetables, which not only added to the beauty of these lots, but also was a source of income to the tender. Present indications are that every available vacant lot will be cultivated. Two places in particular which have always been an eyesore to visitors will be cultivated, one of these being vacant land along Colorado street and the other is the vacant ground on Glendale avenue between Third and First streets. These two sections are being set to carnations which promise to be very remunerative and will add greatly to the beauty of these places. Colorado street is the most traveled street in Glendale and with its numerous fruit stands and carnation fields will present a very slightly view to the many tourists who pass that way. It is hoped that every person in this city who has a vacant lot will either cultivate it himself or let it to some deserving person who will be glad to take care of it.

Look at the other fellow as you would wish the other fellow to look at you, and by so doing you will treat the other fellow about right. Be fair with the other fellow.

STUDIES IN PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

By Walt. Le Noir Church

STUDY VIII—WHAT IS ABILITY?

In yesterday's study it was shown that there are four and only four essential factors in personality, ability, reliability, endurance and action.

There are several alleged derivations for the word ability.

In an old book found by accident while browsing around through the Boston Public Library I was surprised to see the statement that all language is composed, or built up from monosyllables that are each either an ancient name of Deity or of some alleged quality of Deity. The language of Indians, Arabs and certain Teutonic tribes show this more plainly than our own, as usually spelled and syllabed. The building up plan of coining words is carried almost past the pivotal point in such words as Zenophon's an-te-par-as-ku-as-tot-e-tos, and likewise in Shakespeare's hon-or-if-i-ca-bil-i-tu-din-i-tat-i-bus. Each individual syllable has its primary significance, and yet the aggregation has its definite word meaning.

Ad-on-is, practically the same in significance as Or-reg-on (Oregon) contains the three names of the sun at morning, noon and eve, given by the priests who worshipped the sun as God. The average savage is much more poetical than our best-loved poets. He comes nearer than we to finding sermons in stones, books in running brooks, and good in everything—wherein his fear does not see evil.

So we find that according to one derivation Ability is from able, Abel, literally from God—therefore, knowing, powerful, competent, able, the same originally as able, for in word building the letters were frequently transposed. Beside, in some language, the pen wrote from left to right and back from right to left. So El (God) in one direction would appear as le in another. Note the Arabic word Al-lah, same as Alla or the name Ella.

Then we find ability to mean the limit of ableness, or the condition of being able, including all forms and degrees of knowledge. We expect any one having ability to a marked degree to be generally "posted" about whatever subject is under consideration so that he is supposed to answer any question about it, capable of being answered at all. You can see how this applies to personality as a basic factor, the first essential.

To have all knowledge is of course impossible for a finite mind in this finite span of life. But that is no good reason why one should not gain as much useful knowledge as is possible. All knowledge is useful for some good purpose, if rightly applied. But there is so much to learn and so little time to learn it in, we are at our wisest when we concentrate our limited efforts on learning the comparatively few things which will, in the judgment of those best qualified to know, best enable us to accomplish the particular object we have in view. That is why the writer believes in special education along what seems the line of least resistance. Then differentiate as one may be able.

Ability then has to do with developing, educating and training the mind, and the numerous mental qualities or such of them as we are likely to need most in achieving a given purpose.

On memory alone one could spend a lifetime and yet not attain to a perfect memory. On numbers alone think how little is accomplished in one short lifetime. You could spend a lifetime learning all there is to know about one kind of the countless kinds of insects.

The kind of knowledge needed to attain to that ability which is the first essential of personality is knowledge which may be used by you in acquiring the other two essentials, and finally expressed in ultimate action.

Training, developing and educating the mind is your primary work, your intermediate work, your ultimate work. Such work will never cease. To be "graduated" from such work means only to extend your field of endeavor. Wherever you arrive in the acquisition of knowledge you will be but the center of a circle whose circumference is everywhere and nowhere. Infinity has no circumference. Nor has knowledge.

Alexander Pope advises: "Presume not God to scan, the proper study of mankind is man."

Strange to say yourself is about the last individual of the human species you study. It ought to be the first—and the last—doing what you can to understand others between times. What a job you undertake, just to study your mind alone.

The word job like the name Job suggests great patience.

Do you know the beginnings of knowledge so far as your mind is concerned? Do you know the next step and the next and the next? Till you can know that you accurately know what you think you know?

If you are uncertain about all this you will probably require considerable coaching before you can satisfactorily acquire that ability which is the first essential of personality, the admittedly paramount attainment in the achieving of marked success in this life.

But the fact that you read such an article as this with even a limited degree of interest proves that you are on your way.

UNIVERSITY'S FARM ADVISERS WORK FOR PROSPERITY AND WELFARE

Nine thousand times did California farmers last year send for the university's county farm advisers and ask them to visit their farms and give advice on their problems, 5142 farms were thus visited on invitation from the farmer and 94,000 farmers attended 1902 different meetings conducted by the farm advisers—such are some of the results told in their reports for the year ending December 31, 1916, by the farm advisers now stationed by the University of California in counties where one-fourth of the farmers will join the farm bureau and the supervisors will provide two thousand dollars a year for local expenses the university and the United States providing the adviser's salary.

Here are some other features of last year's results as reported by the University's farm advisers:

Thirteen thousand cows are being tested monthly to see whether they earn enough to pay for their board, by cow-testing associations organized by the farm advisers the University of California is maintaining in fourteen different California counties; drainage work has been planned for fourteen thousand acres as a result of the work of the farm advisers; thirty-five hundred animals during 1916 were tested for tuberculosis and forty-two hundred for blackleg, at the suggestion of the farm advisers; hundreds of farmers have for the first time sown alfalfa or winter vetch; five thousand tons of lime have been applied to improve soils.

Here are some typical things the farm advisers have reported to the university as part of the past year's work:

"Farm doctor" aid is what the farmers of Alameda county ask of them from their farm adviser—advice on the diseases of plants and animals. A thousand head of cattle were vaccinated against blackleg by the Alameda county farm adviser or at his suggestion.

The grain sorghum acreage was tripled in Glenn county and the yield was worth a hundred thousand dollars. Fifty-five demonstration plants of alfalfa were planted in Humboldt county, more than fifteen hundred calves treated with a chloroform cure for lung worm suggested by the farm adviser, with only one calf reported lost.

The largest cow-testing association in the world was organized last September by the farm adviser in Imperial county, with over four thousand cows to be tested, and a popular campaign launched to persuade the national government to stabilize the water supply of the Imperial valley.

To improve the heredity of the hogs of Kern county, twenty-four farmers are going to buy co-operatively a carload of pure-bred Berkshire hogs. New plans of crop rotation have been proposed for mountain farms in Madera county which are expected to double the yield of those farms without cash outlay for their improvement, and a cream pooling plan has been joined in by seventy dairymen who milk fifteen hundred head. Demonstrations of improved methods of pruning have been given in Napa county, and farmers on 122 different farms have been led to install septic tanks costing less than $35 each, and safeguarding the health of the farm home. Certain vines in Placer county doubled their yield when pruned by the farm adviser. The farmers' organizations of San Diego county have been helped by the farm advisers, the vegetable and small fruit growers, for instance, being aided in solving their marketing problems.

The result of the formation of a cream-pooling association in San Joaquin county, the dairymen combining to sell their cream under contract to the highest bidder, is that now a single cream-collecting wagon has replaced six wagons from six competing creameries. How to restore old orchards to fertility through supplying humus has been shown by demonstrations in Solano county, and a method worked out for destroying, by distillate, a wild artichoke which had become a dangerous pest. During the year only a single hog died in Solano county from hog cholera, thanks to a hog cholera prevention campaign, whereas two years ago thousands of dollars were lost by the swine raisers by this preventable disease. How to control grape mildew was demonstrated to the farmers of Stanislaus county, and the number of silos tripled and brought to 306. The farmers of Ventura county have saved about six thousand dollars a year by buying their squirrel poison co-operatively, and have greatly lessened their losses from squirrels by killing off more than sixty per cent of them. Successful co-operation has been developed among the lima bean growers in the marketing of their crops. The seedless raisin yield of a number of demonstration plots in Yolo county has been increased from fifty to a hundred per-

WAR AND NAVY DEPARTMENTS TO FURNISH INSTRUCTORS TO AMERICAN COLLEGES

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Following the general program of "preparedness," instructors in military sanitation and medicine furnished by the war and navy departments probably will be placed in 95 of the foremost medical colleges of the United States February 1.

This action is intended to equip our institutions of medicine and surgery with a course of training that will fit the future medical profession of the country to promote betterment of health in times of peace, and to prepare it for its duty in any untoward crisis.

It followed a conference in Washington January 6 in which deans of medical schools in all sections of the country, members of the advisory commission of the council of national defense, members of the committee of American physicians, and high officers of the army and navy participated.

The invitation to the conference was extended by Secretary of War Baker following the suggestion of the council of national defense which had the hearty endorsement of the committee of American physicians. The latter organization is strong in advocacy of medical preparedness and desired to co-operate with the government to prepare the profession for their patriotic duty in times of stress.

It is the idea of the council to furnish the graduating classes of medical schools with a rudimentary military training and it is estimated that this action will furnish 3000 young medical men fairly well equipped for the medical military service on June 1, the date of their graduation this year. The secretaries of war and navy will supply the necessary instructors.

This move in medical preparedness has the unique distinction of claiming the support of both militarists and pacifists in that the physician and surgeon is engaged in the humane efforts of life saving throughout the horrible destructions of war.

Such a course of training is not contemplated with the sole thought of war, but also that future members of the profession may be prepared to face the problems arising from national calamity and catastrophe in times of peace.

HAVE NEITHER CONGRESS NOR PRESIDENT MARCH 4TH

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—A nation without an executive and without a legislative body is what this United States may be March 4th unless constitutional sharks trying to prevent it, succeed.

Sunday, March 4th, is the death day of the 64th congress and of President Wilson's first term.

Three precedents are found in American history—in 1821, 1849 and in 1877—for adjourning congress on March 3d at noon, as Sunday fell on the fourth. No precedent is found for continuing its sessions until the fifth.

A resolution introduced by Sen. Walsh of Montana declares it is the sense of the senate that the present session expire on March 4 at noon. It has been referred to the senate judiciary committee.

No decision has yet been reached as to when President Wilson and Vice President Marshall will take their oaths of office. Either could, if necessary, take it the third, or again, be sworn in on Sunday the fourth, and then again on Monday, as a "guarantee" against a fault in doing it on Sunday.

Constitutional experts say the oath administered on Sunday would be completely legal and binding.

MAYOR OF SANDUSKEY, OHIO, TRIED

(By United Press.)

SANDUSKY, O., Jan. 25.—R. A. Koegle, president of the city commission, performing the duties of mayor of Sandusky, is scheduled to go to trial today charged with neglecting to complete transcripts in criminal cases. The indictment against Koegle was returned following a grand jury investigation instigated by Judge Roy Williams of common pleas court.

NO USE FOR THEM

"Look here, Snip," said Slowpay indignantly to his tailor, "you have not put any trousers in these pockets."

"No, Mr. Slowpay," said the tailor with a sigh: "I judged from your account here that you never had anything to put in them."

cent by new methods for trellis pruning.

San Luis Obispo and Sacramento counties have completed farm bureau organizations and have asked their supervisors to launch the county farm adviser plan, and Fresno, San Bernardino, Tulare and Santa Cruz counties are all actively at work organizing county farm bureaus, in order to obtain farm advisers who will help them to greater prosperity and to better co-operation of all the forces for the advancement of country life in California.

Facts and Comment

Monrovia's Orange avenue school bond issue of $300,000 sold Monday at 8 1-4 cents above par, bringing a premium of $2458. Twelve firms bid for the bonds and every offer carried a premium of more than $2000.

Final arrangements have been completed for the removal of the McAfee Woolen Mills from Albuquerque to Santa Ana. A concrete building will be erected at once upon a 150-acre tract of land donated to the reorganized company by the Santa Ana Industrial fund, to cost $10,000.

At a quarterly session of the Southern California Editorial association, held in the Hotel Clark, Los Angeles, Monday a resolution was adopted favoring increased rates for advertising and subscriptions, owing to the high cost of print paper. During the recess for luncheon Monday the Los Angeles County Press association, many members of which are also members of the Southern California Editorial association, elected the following officers: L. R. Moorehouse of the Huntington Park Signal, president; E. O. Wickizer of the South Pasadena Record, vice president; Jay E. Randall, secretary-treasurer, being re-elected.

A hearing will take place at the office of County Superintendent of Schools Mark Keppel on February 1 on a petition asking that portions of the Alhambra, Pasadena, San Gabriel and Sunnyslope school districts adjoining San Marino be set over and named as San Marino school district. The territory taken from Alhambra would be in the northeast portion and would comprise about $500,000 of property taxable for school purposes. The citizens of Alhambra do not feel disposed to surrender any of their school territory to San Marino or any other section for school purposes, according to the Advocate.

One of the largest mass meetings ever held in Alhambra was the one held Monday evening in response to the call of the committee having in charge the campaign to secure the Moreland Truck factory for that city. Senator Newton W. Thompson presided over the meeting and the speakers included Alhambra's most prominent business and professional men. Twelve of the sixteen offers of sites by as many cities have been eliminated by the Moreland company, leaving Alhambra as one of the four from which it will make its selection. One of the speakers stated that factories were a crying need in Southern California and that more payrolls were essential to further growth and development. Other speakers said it would fill up the vacant homes and the city could be run just as cheaply with twice the population and that it takes diversified pursuits to make a city. A whirlwind campaign to raise the money required will begin the end of this week.

The new city directory of South Pasadena, just issued by the Record Publishing company, gives the names of 4644 persons who are residents of that city. By the usual method of estimating population from the names in the directory—multiplying by two and a half—it would make the total population of South Pasadena 11,610. Anyway, it is a certainty that South Pasadena is now in the ten thousand class, the Record states. Fifteen professional instrumental musicians and several vocal teachers are listed. There are 16 physicians and eight osteopaths, 14 dressmakers, 14 contractors, 12 money loaning individuals and firms; 17 real estate dealers, eight notaries, nine grocery stores, five restaurants and lunch counters, 11 nurses. The Smiths are the most populous family, there being thirty-eight, including the wives but not the young children, and ten of their German cousins, the Schmidts and the Schmitz. There are 24 Thompsons, 22 Browns, 20 Woods, 19 named Thomases and 15 Jones. In the South Pasadena directory issued three years ago last August there were only 2969 names, the present one showing an increase of 1675, and an actual gain in population of 4188, which brings the present number up to over 10,000.

LAUNDRIES

A man in Mexico, the department of commerce bulletins, "is desirous of purchasing machinery for a small laundry." What anybody wants with a laundry in Mexico is more than we can understand, but since it is so we append a partial list of things he should get:

Above all, he must have a button smashing machine; any laundry worthy the name lets no guilty button escape.

Then he will need a collar ripper and cuff frayer. This indispensable little contrivance will utterly demoralize the strongest shirt that was ever built.

Next, a clothes mixer. In these days of predigested food and vest pocket bungalows by mail, every man expects his laundry ready mixed. He's sore if you send him the same colored pajamas two weeks in succession.

Some authorities claim you can't run a laundry without a machine or two to wash the clothes, but this really isn't necessary.

DIDN'T WANT TO SHINE

The old folks had come to New York to see their son, who had secured a room for them at one of the most expensive hotels. The father, particularly, was very much impressed with the manner in which everything was gilded.

"Lot of gilt they have used here, son," he said.

When the old folks retired the son suggested to his father that if he would put his shoes outside of his door they would "be shined."

"No, thank you, boy," he returned. "I'll keep 'em in my room."

"But why not?" persisted the son. "No," answered the father, "they'll put gilt on 'em."

WHAT IS PATRIOTISM?

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Famous men and women Americans gathered here from all parts of the United States to discuss "What Is Patriotism?"

Included in the list are such personages as Elihu Root, Former War Secretary Stimson, Rear Admiral Fiske, Theodore Roosevelt, Medill McCormick, Mayor Mitchell, Alton B. Parker, Howard E. Coffin, Samuel Gompers, William Roscoe Thayer, Hermann Hagedorn, Senator Borah, Prof. Edward A. Steiner and others.

This meeting is called the Congress of Constructive Patriotism, is under the auspices of the National Security league and is aimed at better military, naval and industrial preparedness in the United States. There are seventy-three delegates from New York City alone.

The subject is to be discussed in a non-partisan, non-political spirit. Women are to take an important part in the discussions. There are expected to be about 1000 delegates present.

"The object," said S. Stanwood Manken, chairman of the league's committee on congress, today, "is to establish a lecture system by experts who will take up the matter of preparedness at points throughout the country in a non-partisan, non-political way. Professor Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard has this branch of work in charge."

THE VALUE OF HOME TEACHING

"Ethel," said her mother, "have you been at my preserves again?"

Ethel at once became very busy arranging her doll's hair. "Mother," she replied, "when you were a little girl didn't grandma teach you, same's you have me, not to be too 'quisitive'?"

NOT DEPRAVED

Miranda Miller took the seat in a street car which 'Rastus Robbins had offered her with a great flourish. "Thank you evah so much, Mistah Robbins," she said, "but Ah don't like to deprive you of youah seat."

"Oh," said 'Rastus with a greater flourish, "no depravity at all, Miss Millah, none at all."

TAKING NO CHANCES

Two little girls were told by their teacher to design a specimen of millinery. When both drawings were finished, one child whispered to the other: "How do you spell millinery?"

"I ain't taking no chances," came the whispered response. "I'm just a-goin' to put down h-a-t."

HIS CHIEF END

"Now, children," said the teacher, "let us review our catechism; let us see what we have learned. Now, then, Sadie Brooks, what is the chief end of man?"

Without a moment's hesitation there came from Sadie: "Why, ma'am, his legs."
