

THE DAILY BEE

By Telegraph

The Grand National Convention

A CARD

General Commission Agency

AMUSEMENTS

Published by G. P. WELLS & CO. at No. 88 CHARTRES ST.

Subscription by the Week... by the Month... by the Year...

Washington, Dec. 18.—Mr. Fisher, of Pennsylvania, replied to the criticism of Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...

Mr. Tilden's speech, upon the late report of the House on the subject of the late session of the Senate, was a masterly performance, and it is believed that the public will find it well worth the perusal...