By A. H. DECKER. Special Cable to The Duluth Herald and Chicago Daily News, Nov. 23.—The Turkish government has announced its intention of breaking its silence "there is a united front against us and we are opposed to any united front," they say. Having heard that terms are to be dictated to them, they have decided to ease their lot with the Russians, who will arrive in Lausanne on Sunday.

In the following article, the first of a series written exclusively for The Herald and the sixty-eight other members of the North American Newspaper Alliance, Georges Clemenceau breaks a silence which has been the subject of the treaty of Versailles. Not since then has the "tiger of France" expressed himself more openly in the pages of his own journal, Le National, and although M. Clemenceau has been a member of the cabinet since 1917, he has remained as solidly a national figure as when he was signing the treaty of Versailles. In the following articles are being released simultaneously for publication.—Editor's Note.

BELIEVE U. S. MAY TAKE ACTIVE PART

Likely to Depart From the Observing Policy at Lausanne.

By the Associated Press. Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 23.—Eighty-four lives were lost and sixty persons were injured as a result of the accident and explosion yesterday in Dolomite No. 2 of the Woodward Iron mine, a coal mine of the Woodward Iron company, according to a statement issued at noon today by Frank H. Crocker, president of the company. Of the injured, thirty-five were removed to their homes and twenty-five were in hospitals. Work of identification had been completed but it was believed there were thirty-eight white dead and twenty white injured.

By J. C. ROYLE. (By Special Leased Wire to The Duluth Herald. Copyright, 1922.) New York, Nov. 23.—Basing, not baseball or poker, is the great American game, and merchants in marketing centers declared today that buyers in the Lausanne conference today played a poor hand well. As a result business conditions in the cities are somewhat better today. High wages and universal employment have not led to a repetition of the extravagant buying of 1919. Merchants declared, but they have countered unbalanced buying in certain lines. Goods with a spectacular appeal have taken precedence as many instances over the stable articles, and the probable fact that retailers are not whether customers have money to spend but whether they have money to get for it. There undoubtedly is a tendency on the part of some shoppers to buy for show rather than use. This is shown by the fact that while high priced suits and overcoats are in demand, low priced shirts and underwear are being bought by the same customers. A number of stores reported that they were short of goods to sell. A saleswoman in a local department store, outlined the wearing qualities of goods to a customer today when she said: "You may not wear a pair of those shoes at $5 once if they last you five years."

By the Associated Press. Moscow, Nov. 23.—M. Balovsky and M. Molotov, delegates representing the Soviet government, departed for the Swiss city today. They were accompanied by a corps of interpreters. Foreign Minister Tchicherin is expected to leave for Lausanne next week.

By the Associated Press. London, Nov. 23.—The question of Thracian was again before the commission on military and territorial matters at the Lausanne conference today. Iambert Jassas was expected to make a statement on Turkey's claim for a plebiscite in Western Thrace. The enthusiasm of the Turkish delegates, who yesterday had been considerably dampened by the discovery that England, Italy and France are solidly united against the claims of the Turks in Western Thrace. The Nationalists are also considering the significance of a meeting of the Balkan delegates last night, at which it is understood there was a discussion of the policy to be adopted by the Balkan states on the question of Western Thrace.

CHINESE SEEK TO OUST YUAN HUNG

Political Chaos in China Worse Than for Years.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 23.—Citizens of the state are urged to remember the spirit of the first Thanksgiving day, which was one of the more than 300 years ago by the Pilgrim fathers, and give thanks that the government established in 1789 still lives and flourishes, in a proclamation by Governor J. A. G. Preuss, setting Thursday, Nov. 23, aside as Thanksgiving day. The proclamation follows:

"Three hundred years ago the Pilgrim fathers set aside a day for public thanksgiving for an abundant harvest and material welfare. In 1789 Washington proclaimed a day of thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by the knowledge with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity seasonably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness. In 1790 Washington issued another proclamation in thanksgiving for the final treaty of peace with England. President Madison recommended a day of thanksgiving for peace in 1816. President Lincoln several times called the attention of the people to the day of the victories of the Union armies and since his proclamation of 1863, the day has been observed as an annual national holiday.

"In conformity to law and custom, I, J. A. G. Preuss, governor of Minnesota, do hereby designate Thursday, Nov. 23, as Thanksgiving day, to be observed by all the people of the state.

"Our first thought, as we assemble annually for thanksgiving, is usually the same as that of the Pilgrim fathers, to give thanks to God, who is entirely fitting that we do so this year, for although many residents in Minnesota have not enjoyed the same degree of prosperity as in some past years, we are infinitely better off than the people of the war-torn countries of Europe, where the ravages of the World War, mercantile and industrial, are causing intense suffering and death of thousands.

"But let us also give thanks for the spirit of the first national Thanksgiving day, proclaimed by Washington, let us give thanks that the government of this country has made possible the political and religious freedom, educational advances and the material prosperity which we enjoy. Let us also give thanks, as Madison Lincoln did, that in all conflicts for the preservation of this government we have been successful.

"But let our day of thanksgiving also be a day of prayer; prayer that political and religious freedom may never be lessened, prayer that

DUFFY WILL GET HIS SHARE OF PROFITS IN LANDS FROM M'RAE

James Duffy, plaintiff in an action against C. J. McRae, was awarded a sum between $25,000 and $30,000 in the findings filed yesterday in district court by Judge W. A. Cant. The sum is awarded as Duffy's share of the profits in mineral land dealings, and an accounting will be made immediately to determine the amount which is due Mr. Duffy. H. A. Carnichael, attorney for the plaintiff, said.

The case was taken under consideration during the May, 1920, general term of district court. Duffy and McRae, employees at the Superior shipyards, having entered into an agreement to deal in mineral lands on the Cuyuna range, the profits to be divided equally. McRae refused to give Duffy his share of the earnings, the complaint stated.

In a nineteen-page memorandum attached to the findings, Judge Cant characterizes testimony given by certain witnesses as "flagrant violation of the court rule."

"Difficulties have been encountered in searching for the truth," the memorandum says. "The plaintiff testified without evasion and with evidence of sincerity. The defendant went far on the road to destroy his own claims, and uncertainty concerning the matter with the citizens of their respective communities. Further respect of the lines to the villages of Iron Mountain, Erskine and Fostertown is contemplated, according to Mr. Brown, who says that the policy of the company is to first build up a load and then put in the necessary equipment to supply it.

Red Lake Falls, Minn., Nov. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Loring of the Minneapolis office of the Northern States Power company and W. H. Brown, manager of the Grand Forks office, were in Red Lake Falls conferring with representatives from the villages of Oklie, Plummer and Brooks relative to the extension of light and power lines to their villages. The company officials made their proposition to the representatives, who in turn, will take up the matter with the citizens of their respective communities. Further respect of the lines to the villages of Iron Mountain, Erskine and Fostertown is contemplated, according to Mr. Brown, who says that the policy of the company is to first build up a load and then put in the necessary equipment to supply it.

SEEK $30,000 PAID IN ON TIRE STOCK

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 23.—Thirty-seven preferred stockholders of the Iriston Manufacturing company, a South Dakota corporation, organized for the manufacture of tires, have filed suit in district court, demanding that the company return to them sums aggregating more than $30,000.

The petition, which are identical but filed as separate suits, allege that Ole A. Iriston, named as president of the company and who is now under Federal indictment for using the mails to defraud, acquired control of the company by fraudulent means, and that he obtained $4,000,000 of common stock, $1,000,000 of preferred stock, and $2,000,000 of selling to the company an alleged worthless patent.

The petitioners allege that they bought stock in the company with the understanding that a plant was to be built and operated in Omaha, but no plant developed. District Judge Leslie issued a writ of attachment against the company's property here following the filing of the suits. Iriston had maintained headquarters in Minneapolis recently.

CONGESTION IN CITIES OF FOREIGN GROUPS IS A CRITICAL PROBLEM

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—The serious and critical situation confronting American cities is the presence of large and congested groups of foreign-born people whose assimilation has been slow, Dr. R. D. Forsyth, corresponding secretary of the board of home missions and church extension of the Methodist Episcopal church, declared at the annual meeting of that board here today.

"Luminous have not been evenly distributed throughout our country," he said. "Some cities have two per cent are in some cities. Some cities are almost entirely foreign-speaking, and some are left in others, great colonies have been developed, known to all citizens and little known to the world and standards of the Old World are prevalent.

"These people are crowding into our schools, colleges and universities in great numbers. They are in every field of commercial and professional life. They constitute the great body of American voters. They are to make up in a very large way our citizenship and outside the influence of the industrial and political and religious freedom that has made us a nation, the Christian church.

"While a surprisingly large per cent of these people is not Protestant, a large per cent is not Catholic and not Jewish. They have broken with every faith."

During 1922 the board has assisted in 1,220 building enterprises, he said. Three hundred and eighty-one have been erected in cities of 10,000 or more. Eight hundred and twenty-five were in rural communities. Eight hundred and eighty-two were in white English-speaking annual conferences, and 247 in negro annual conferences. Ninety-one were in foreign-speaking neighborhoods, and twelve were at student centers.

Old Parties Blamed. Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 23.—In an editorial call issued here last night for a State Farmer-Labor convention here Nov. 25, the Republican and Democratic parties are held responsible for "the intolerable economic conditions that are making tens of millions of our population and bringing the working classes to the verge of industrial slavery. It further states that the object of the meeting is to take independent political action in South Dakota and to elect delegates to the national Farmer-Labor meeting to be held in Chicago Nov. 28.

THE MYTH OF FRENCH MILITARISM DISCUSSED BY CLEMENCEAU

of attempted conquest of Alsace and Lorraine hearts only met with check upon check, that fact was due to German stability and brutality of method and unwavering and disinterested devotion of Alsace and Lorraine to France.

The republic was the issue of our misfortune. It was born of our desire for peace, the first task after the War of 1870 was the elaboration of the Constitution of 1875, which had as its main purpose the freeing of the French people that might thereafter be repeating the same.

The nation itself, speaking through its representatives, should have decided on war or peace. No war is today possible unless it is willed by the majority of the nation. France desires peace and peace work no period in our history proved more fertile than that beginning in 1871 and ending in 1914 in the very marrow of our disasters.

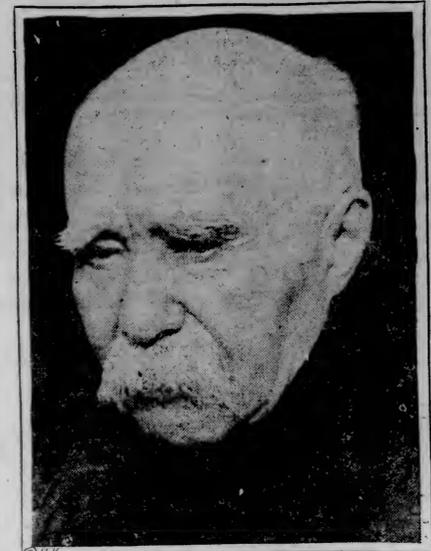

Our commerce and industry began to prosper in the intellectual field in the domain of science, art and letters no epoch in our national history was more fruitful than the period between 1871 and 1914.

The treaty of Frankfurt once signed, she turned upon her that France was dead and was actually following in her destiny, Germany thereupon determined to complete her work of world violence.

CAMERA CATCHES CLEMENCEAU IN SERIOUS MOOD FOR MOMENT

Georges Clemenceau, snapped since his arrival in the United States.

That "Tiger" Georges Clemenceau can revert to that serious, bulldog vein into which he threw himself during the war is shown by the photograph above. The great French statesman is usually smiling when he appears on his tour of the United States, but the camera here has caught him in a serious mood.

at bottom from one and the same human impulse, the incessant struggle for existence and well-being. For that it would have been necessary that the conditions, the methods of solidarity imposed by the war, should have continued in peace, and that, the last gun fired, people should not have of an emotional memory of suffering endured in common. There is not only war. There are great people who should march shoulder to shoulder toward human realization of the ideal today, tomorrow, always, though the road will be long and rough, leading toward magnificent ends and through unknown ways.

because confronted by a Germany that refuses to discuss, which will not execute the treaty of Versailles or repair the damage done or rebuild the ruins made by her, before an ally which today refuses France the military guarantee which she offered yesterday. France does not wish to die. Come what may, German brutality and bad faith, injustice from her allies, France will proudly bear her burden. France desires to live. France will survive.

the situation as a victorious and strong power permitted her to refuse, yet which her government considered it their duty to accept in the interest of world peace. France does not wish for war, because she has suffered more from the rule of force than any other nation, and because, whether conqueror or conquered, she would only come out of the conflict with new ruins. Startling Good News For Phonograph Owners!

Columbia discovers a process which produces records free from objectionable Surface Noise!

As a phonograph owner you have always been annoyed by the swish and grinding and scratching noises of records. This "surface noise" has been considered impossible to remove. After years of experiment, the Columbia Graphophone Company to-day presents to the world a record that is virtually noiseless.

This record has been made possible by the discovery, in Columbia laboratories, of a process by which we are able to produce a material so fine in texture, so marvelously smooth, so free from friction that the phonograph needle travels over it almost inaudibly and with imperceptible wear.

The playing-result from the use of this new material is actually astounding—no other word can describe it. Melody unmarred by penetrating, obtrusive surface sounds, harmony without disconcerting scratch or scrape—think what this means to you and every phonograph owner in the world.

This is made practical by Columbia's patented laminated, or three-ply, construction. The core or center leaf in Columbia New Process Records, because it is absolutely distinct from the playing surfaces, is made of a harder, more durable substance. Over this rigid backbone are laid the two playing faces made of the new, ultra fine, ultra smooth surface fabric.

This laminated construction gives greatly increased strength and longevity plus the most noiseless surface ever perfected. The invention of this new process record by the Columbia Graphophone Co.—for it is the genius-creation of Columbia engineers and chemists—marks the greatest outstanding improvement since the invention of the universally used disc record.

With New Process Columbia Records you get all the real beauty of voice; all the exquisite, delicate tones of the cello and the violin! You get melody uncontaminated by objectionable surface noise that has been considered impossible to remove UNTIL COLUMBIA REMOVED IT!

So great is our confidence in the enjoyment New Process Columbia Records provide that we ask you to tear out the list of records in this advertisement, take it to a Columbia Dealer and have him play them! Possibly he can play the same selections by other makers! Each comparison test will be a greater Columbia triumph!

You will be thrilled by the Columbia reproduction of every note, every inflection; of the most delicate phrasing—shades of harmony exquisitely expressed that have previously been LOST IN SURFACE NOISES!

In comparison with ordinary records, as made by other manufacturers, New Process Columbia Records will prove immediately preferable. No other record can be like New Process Columbia Records. No one can produce anything even resembling them, for they are fully protected by broad basic patents.

France Now Isolated. France is isolated. With her finances in disorder, with her industry but slowly recovering from the turmoil, with a merchant marine demoralized by the war, she faces a Germany which says, "I will pay" and does not pay, because she was permitted to escape even commencing to pay when she was well in the position to do so. France is isolated for having since 1919 annoyingly continued on the automatic execution of a treaty, at the foot of which Germany and the president of the United States signed and without the strict application of which there is no hope for France of restoration. The will of the people won the war. The will of all was no less necessary for the establishment of peace. Justice, with its inevitable procession of quarrels without issue.

France in 1914 had grouped around her almost unanimously the other nations, because she was recognized as sincerely desiring of peace. Today she is accused of wishing to continue the war in peace terms. She is accused of wishing to introduce the argument of the sword into international conversations and to be dependent upon those same methods of force upon which she had gone to cease the Bismarckian peace; that

Sherlock Holmes Stories

"THE ADVENTURE OF THE SOLITARY CYCLIST"

By Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

THE STORY THUS FAR.

Miss Violet Smith, tall, beautiful and somewhat eccentric, had been seen by her neighbor, Mr. Watson, on a bicycle in the early morning. She was wearing a dark dress and a wide-brimmed hat. Mr. Watson, who was a doctor, was curious to see her and followed her. He saw her enter a house and saw her go out again. He was puzzled to see her go out again. He was puzzled to see her go out again. He was puzzled to see her go out again.

FOURTH INSTALLMENT.

The Thursday brought us another day of rain. Mr. Watson was surprised to see Mr. Holmes sitting at his breakfast table. He was looking at a newspaper. Mr. Watson asked him what he was reading. Mr. Holmes said it was a newspaper. Mr. Watson asked him what he was reading. Mr. Holmes said it was a newspaper.

TRAIN YOUR HAIR AS AN ACTRESS DOES

No class of people devotes as much time to beauty as do actresses, and no class must be more careful to retain and develop their charms. Inquiry develops the information that in hair care they find it dangerous to shampoo with any make-shift hair cleanser. The majority say that to have the best hair wash and scalp stimulator at a cost of about three cents, one need only get a package of carbox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to the hair instead of just the top of the head. After its use the hair shines brightly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are quickly dissolved and entirely disappear when shampooed in this way. After this hair will be so fluffy it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

Mrs. Sherman Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lake Michigan.—"About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and a weakness and at times was obliged to stop my work. I doctored with our family physician and finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken several bottles I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish."

WELCOME TO TOYLAND

Dolls of Every Kind

In the first place, we want you to know that the population of Toyland—speaking from the doll standpoint—is simply enormous. And, as with all other populations, there are people of all dimensions, of all nationalities, of all colorings. There are those of the "husky" type, who can stand most anything and not show sign of wear, just like some people; there are others who cannot stand quite all the hardships of life and might be apt to go to pieces—sort of a sawdust breakdown—under too much strain. Those last mentioned are here for the very careful mothers, who understand the rearing of such china children. The rag children and the celluloid babies are more for the untrained mothers.

The dolls themselves hail from various parts of the globe—some are made right here in our own America—big, healthy, all dimensions, of all nationalities, of all colorings. PORT WILLIAMSON

Port Williamson, Ohio, Nov. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The delay at the elevators at Buffalo will keep a large number of boats from arriving at the head of Lake Superior to load grain. Many of the boats are under charter to come by Nov. 29, but will be unable to comply. Two large steamers that expect to have worked out today are being held up by the waiting list for twenty days and will have to make the trip back light for storage grain. Other boats will not be unloaded until late next week according to notice received by local owners. Storage boats are expected for arrivals at a rapid rate and tomorrow is not very likely. These steamers are expected to load at the head of Lake Superior for the remainder of the week. The delay at the elevators will keep the boats from being unloaded at the rate of 30,000 a day for all the time they are held at the unloading. The other will receive derailing of 15,000 a day. It was reported that a steamer cargo for November loading was taken for Buffalo on Monday. The Michigan State bank is practically idle.

NEGROES WILL NOT BECOME TOOLS OF THE BOLSHEVIKI

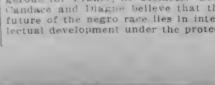

Special Cable to The Duluth Herald and Chicago Daily News, Copyright, 1922. Paris, Nov. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The delay at the elevators at Buffalo will keep a large number of boats from arriving at the head of Lake Superior to load grain. Many of the boats are under charter to come by Nov. 29, but will be unable to comply. Two large steamers that expect to have worked out today are being held up by the waiting list for twenty days and will have to make the trip back light for storage grain. Other boats will not be unloaded until late next week according to notice received by local owners. Storage boats are expected for arrivals at a rapid rate and tomorrow is not very likely. These steamers are expected to load at the head of Lake Superior for the remainder of the week. The delay at the elevators will keep the boats from being unloaded at the rate of 30,000 a day for all the time they are held at the unloading. The other will receive derailing of 15,000 a day. It was reported that a steamer cargo for November loading was taken for Buffalo on Monday. The Michigan State bank is practically idle.

'Tiger of France' Captures New York

Georges Clemenceau reviews guard of honor at New York city hall, after arrival in United States. Inset, latest photo of the "Tiger," taken after his arrival.

Georges Clemenceau has won another victory. The aged "Tiger of France" took New York by storm. It is estimated that a million citizens took an active part in giving Clemenceau a rousing welcome that exceeded all expectations. His was the arrival of a conqueror. After a parade through the streets, Clemenceau reviewed the "guard of honor" before the city hall and stood, head bowed in reverence, as the military band played the "Star Spangled Banner."

Both cars got out and she heard screams. She could not tell how many people were in the group but she heard women's voices. She heard two shots and then the cars sped away.

A new union passenger station. An intelligent city plan.

THE TIGER SPEAKS

The Herald is glad to be able today to place before its readers the first of a series of articles in which Clemenceau, the vendor of France, is shown in his true colors.

American readers will find these articles eloquent, vigorous, luminous, poignant. They will be like Clemenceau, who during the dark moments of the war, was the banner of France, and who, at an age when most men live that long are dreaming of the past by a comfortable fireside, starts off on his own initiative to tell America what he believes America needs to know.

France is entitled to a fair hearing. Clemenceau, the grim old fighting tiger, there is a good champion to represent her. There is none better. Surely there is none more certain of a cordial and sympathetic hearing than the Herald.

He speaks of a France that has lived for generations across the boundary from a neighbor that it knew to be dangerous because, in 1871, that neighbor had leaped across that boundary and seized two provinces of France—Alsace and Lorraine. He says that France never nourished schemes of revenge, and yet yearly she Strasburg statue in Paris was leaping across the boundary.

The purest treasure mortal things afford, Is spotless reputation; that away, Men are but gilded loam or painted clay.

A jewel in a ten-times barr'd-up chest Is a bold spirit in a loyal breast. Mine honor is my life; both grew in one; Take honor from me and my life is done.

privileges of ambassadors. The capitulations complained of extend analogous privileges to other classes. For instance an American sailor who committed a crime in Constantinople could claim exemption, in a measure, from Turkish law and jurisdiction, and demand and obtain a trial by a special court made up wholly or in part of Americans, or supervised by Americans.

Under capitulations which are usually written into a treaty, Americans in Turkey are not subject to Turkish law in various other matters, civil and criminal.

A capitulation granted by any government in derogation of its sovereignty. It is a brand of inferiority, a sort of manacle which the great powers for generations have inflicted on weaker powers, usually of another color, but to which they themselves would never submit.

These capitulations, at times inflicted as an evidence of superior strength, nevertheless in many instances rested on a humane and reasonable basis. This would be the case where the weaker or backward power practiced cruelty on alleged lawbreakers, where it inflicted barbarous punishments, where its courts were venal and incompetent, its prisons pest holes and its practice variable.

But Kemal Pasha demands equality. He would uplift Turkey, and break these manacles. He would have Turkey sovereign on her own soil. His contention should be granted provided his new state is fitted to administer equal justice and not punish a foreigner simply because he is one.

Japan only recently has been relieved of capitulations. China is plastered with them. So with Persia, and Turkey until now. Little can be said for the abstract justice of these concessions, but much may be said for their practical value. If they are canceled, it is up to the Turk to be decent or suffer the consequence. There is a limit to forbearance.

THE COMMUNITY FUND A SUCCESS.

The directors of the Duluth Community Fund have adopted resolutions thanking the public for its cordial and generous response to the appeal to provide money for the operations of twenty-three agencies for the relief of human suffering.

It is, indeed, a splendid start for this new and better way of financing charitable and welfare work in Duluth. It is true that the full sum required was not raised, but the work is not yet complete.

The Periscope

Flings at Folly. Too darned many of America's activities are post-mortem.

The pork barrel is run on the ancient eye-for-an-eye system.

The three R's of our modern educational system are Raw, Raw, Raw.

A snif no longer means contempt, but only hope and expectant eulority.

The best-known methods of quieting a radical are a soft snaf and soft soap.

You can't expect very much of the human race. It began in the Near East.

As we understand France, when a debt gets just so big it cancels itself.

Woman offers to sell herself for five thousand. Many do it for less, and call it romance.

It is getting so that the boss hesitates to fire anybody lest the fired one publish his memoirs.

The north wind doth blow, and we shall have snow, and what will the golfer do then, poor thing?

There is something peculiarly touching about a king's frantic efforts to show how democratic he is.

Any one of the Allied nations could handle its enemies if it didn't have to bother with its friends.

The funny thing about a business revival is that those who have faith are not the ones at the mourners' bench.

Honor Law's complaint seems to be that there is too little understanding on the continent, and too much standing from under.

It is now maintained that the actual number of children in the United States are unburied, never go to church, know nothing about church, and are already in a state of decay.

Another method of conducting a funeral and employing a minister to conduct a funeral service is to receive the advertisements of undertakers who notify the family in which a death occurs that all they have to do is to press a button and the undertaker will not only take care of the body and provide a grave, but he has also arranged a chapel in which any form of service can be conducted if only the minister should be notified.

And I am also told that this method is extensively prevailing, and that many American families find it wholly unnecessary to employ a minister in any way when there is a death in the family.

What shall we say of these things? Do we not all know? Doesn't each one of us recognize that religion is the motive force which has made this country what it is? And has always will be?

How can religious teaching be given in every public school? It is wholly unnecessary to employ a minister in any way when there is a death in the family.

Eliot on Religion in Public Schools

From an Address of Dr. Charles W. Eliot in Boston.

Many religions exist and are loved in this country by many groups of the population. There is dispute as to which is the largest group. We don't know really whether the Roman Catholic church has the largest number of communicants, or the Methodist, while some believe that the Baptist has the largest number.

But what has been the consequence in the American public school—where we call the free schools of the country? No religious instruction. That is the ultimate consequence. It was sent by my father, who might have sent me anywhere to any school in the country, to the Boston public Latin school. At that time, in 1844, the school was filled chiefly with boys of what we called American descent.

It was Anglo-American boys that filled the school. Now, religion was not excluded from that school at that time. On the contrary, the master in each room at the school read from the Bible at his pleasure for two or three minutes, and he then offered a prayer, his own prayer, or read a prayer, just as he preferred.

Now I was in that school as I was in the school up to 1848, that was the practice in a free Boston school. It has been the practice of my father, and he never forget the impression produced on me when I was in the highest class of the school, at 15 years of age, by the reading of the headmaster of the school.

He read from the first chapter of Genesis, perhaps twenty verses, that filled the book and said: "Boys, that first sentence in Genesis is the most superb sentence in the English language. It is the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. I never forgot that remark."

But that has all disappeared from the free schools of the country. It is the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. I never forgot that remark.

What is the result? Most of our children go out into the world without any knowledge of religion. They may have acquired some in their churches, though that is a doubtful proposition.

It is now maintained that the actual number of children in the United States are unburied, never go to church, know nothing about church, and are already in a state of decay.

Another method of conducting a funeral and employing a minister to conduct a funeral service is to receive the advertisements of undertakers who notify the family in which a death occurs that all they have to do is to press a button and the undertaker will not only take care of the body and provide a grave, but he has also arranged a chapel in which any form of service can be conducted if only the minister should be notified.

Breezy Comments on Current Topics by State's Live Newspapers.

Grand Forks Herald: We have occasional instances of men who have prospered by a generation raising wheat and scarcely anything else. There are a few who have prospered by raising scarcely any wheat at all. But for the majority of our farmers wheat offers possibilities as a main crop which are not equalled by any other.

Must Change Gradually. Grand Forks Herald: We have occasional instances of men who have prospered by a generation raising wheat and scarcely anything else. There are a few who have prospered by raising scarcely any wheat at all.

Smart Aleck Ladies. Valley City Times-Record: The new women voters—in some places—are proving an asset to everything good. This, however, does not obscure the fact that we are suffering from a plague of "smart aleck" ladies in politics.

Consolation. Fargo Forum: For those who think the country is headed for the demotion below zero because of the election of La Follette, Shipstead, Frazier and Brookhart there might be some comfort in the thought that the same combination was about the same back in 1892 when Grover Cleveland was elected.

Women and Their Rights. Minot News: If there is discrimination against women in public positions or in the civil service process connected with them, it should be ended. Women, as entitled voters and taxpayers, are entitled to exactly the same consideration as men provided they can offer equal proof of ability and dependability.

In a "Class by Itself". Powers Lake Echo: One thing needed in North Dakota is a state historical society to write an unbiased political history of our state. If such a one can be found, such a document would be of interest to every citizen.

Need Fairer Freight Rates. Bismarck Tribune: Freight rates have been built around centers of distribution, and as the Twin Cities of Minnesota have been the chief distribution points of the Northwest for many years, freight rates have been built up to favor the shippers of those cities.

This Goes Everywhere. Minnetonka Farmer's Press: Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country, forget politics and get down to business.

Your Favorite Bible Passage. The Herald will publish on this page daily a selection from the Bible. If you will write to the editor of The Herald telling him your favorite Bible passage, it will be published, if it has not already appeared.

Right and Proper. American Legion Weekly: There had been an unusual number of killings during a feud in a certain Western state and the crowd gathered in front of the general store had plenty of material for gossip and discussion.

John 14: 6. Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

Breaking It Gently. Kansas City Star: "Good afternoon, Mrs. Brown," exclaimed Mr. Smith. "What a goldmine, meeting you. I ran into your husband an hour ago."

A Serious Case. Milwaukee Journal: "The man," said the first hospital surgeon to the second, "I ran over to where it lay on the pavement, as when I ran it was at once that its ribs were smashed, while a gaping hole was torn in its side."

The Real Issue. New York Sun: "Mamma! Mamma! The baby just 'quack' while for the doctor!" "See! What! Ain't you got another nickel?"

Can the Modern Girl Love?

"Too Selfish, Too Self-Centered to Abandon Herself to That Self-Sacrifice Which is Love at Its Best," Says Gilbert Frankau—But—Does He Really Know the American Girl?

By Fay Stevenson
Copyright, 1922.

"Can the modern girl love?" That is the question Gilbert Frankau, the well-known English novelist and author of "The Seeds of Emancipation," asks in the current issue of the Forum.

And promptly Mr. Frankau proceeds to prove that the modern girl cannot love. Personally I will not admit Mr. Frankau proves a single point of course, the modern girl loves. She loves very well, say we, out being modern, girls are always willing to read what others say about them.

For instance, Mr. Frankau, who admits he is nearly forty and a bit of a sentimentalist, starts off like this:

"Can the modern girl love?" The query is asked by the modern young woman laugh. She will say, arrogantly curling those lips so which the rouged-lips, which was once reserved for the light-lipped ladies has since been taken over by the modern girl. "Why should I love? Love after all, is mere selfishness."

"Your modern girl is very fond of that word 'selfish' she uses it, in fact, to describe most of these modern, rational, emotions which her mid and late Victorian predecessors were so proud to discuss.

"For there is nothing grand about your modern girl, her frankness demotes the middle-aged and par-alyzes the old. She reads the most outspoken books. She attends the most outspoken lectures. She dances from early morn to dewy eve in a way which would have turned that extinct animal, the chaperon of the address-memoirs, the deepest pink of outraged decorum. She has to sum up, to reticence either of thought, speech or action.

"I do not feel that among these things which the modern girl most supremely, wastes love in the best sense finds much place. She is rather a creature of passion and desire, and early broken, than of that deep, enduring affection which, for her, their fault was the best ideal of her Victorian predecessors.

"You have to watch the modern girl, to see the modern girl at her most self-revealing. Regard her carefully, this he-painted, he-powdered, he-manufactured product of our hectic age, as she circles the ballroom. She dances emotionally, but her emotions are for the rhythm and the music, not for the mere male, her partner. Even in a man's arms she is nearly as restless as the ladies of the 18th century. Regarding her thus, one cannot help answering the question which stands at the head of this article in the most emphatic negative: 'No. Give her all her good qualities, her sense, her efficiency, her intelligence, and you will still be forced to admit that—judging her superficially—the modern girl is not capable of a great and enduring love. To begin with, she is too selfish, too self-centered, too set on the pursuit of what she considers pleasure, to abandon herself to that self-sacrifice which is love at its best. And then, perhaps, she is too wise.

"To me it seems that the remedy lies almost entirely with the modern young man. The modern young man has got to rid himself of the hallucinations of his mid-Victorian and late-Victorian predecessors. He will have to realize that his legal undertaking when he marries a self-supporting or an independent young woman is not confined purely and simply to housing her. The modern woman, you see, is something more than a mere domesticated pet. She requires her leisure, her pleasures and more perhaps even than these her full partnership rights."

And she does realize all this but as to the modern girl loving—well, my own wish is that Mr. Frankau could have been to a frat dance which I witnessed a few nights ago. I might also read certain signs of love quite as certain and true as in the mid-Victorian or late-Victorian days. Girls run come and girls may go, but they may bob their hair and lengthen their skirts, but love—love is forever!

HOW TO REPLACE A BROKEN WINDOW CORD

Windows move up and down easily because their weight is counter balanced by iron bars hanging inside the window sill. When you lift the window, the bar inside, connected with a pulley, does most of the work. These ropes wear out and break in time. They can be replaced without difficulty.

Remove the wooden strips from each side of the window sill. You will then see a small board extending eighteen or twenty inches above the sill. These boards, one each side, are held in place by a screw which should be removed. The weight, the pulley and the broken rope will then appear.

Get a bundle of window cord from your hardware dealer. Tie a small

A Band for Your Evening Hair.
Copyright, 1922.

This season the hair band or ornament is almost essential with evening clothes. Your dress, no matter what its character, is not complete in the general scheme of fashions unless you have this tight banding of your hair.

The best idea is to have a silver or gold ribbon and to draw that tightly about the coiffure after it is all fixed and in place. You can have a bow at the side, if you wish, or you can have some flowers or grapes drooping over the ear, or you can have the band drawn perfectly plain and caught at the back under a huge cascade of a slender hairpin.

The point is that so many of the new frocks are plain to the point of severity and that they need a certain fussiness injected somewhere about the costume as a whole. Now the hair band offers the best medium with which to accomplish this end. It is most certainly becoming and it adds that touch of fanciness for which the whole gown seems to be sending up an appealing cry.

You need not have the ribbon of silver or gold. It can be any color you fancy, so long as it conforms with the general contour of your gown and the design that sets the standard for the line and the draping.

Nothing is easier to do than this effective under the present-day scheme of dressing. It adds to a lavish headpiece and it also manages to cover up one that is not quite so good. It is, when all is said and done, a happy idea which will add much to the measure and the beauty of the appearance of any girl dressed in her best.

THINGS FOR BOYS TO MAKE

AFTER DINNER TRICKS

The Balanced Card

A card is placed on a table or on the hand. It may be viewed from both front and back while it stands balanced (figure 1).

A playing card is made in two layers, carefully spread the layers near the bottom with a pin point and insert small-headed thumb tack. The card can then be placed on the table (figure 2) provided no one is too close. If it is stood on a mantelpiece the edge of the mantle will prevent the tack from being seen.

By inserting a pin (figure 3) instead of the thumb tack, the card can be balanced on the back of the fingers, the head of the pin being placed between the knuckles of the fingers. The pin or the tack can be quickly and secretly removed at the conclusion of the trick.
