RULES ARE VERY STRICT

CHURCH PEOPLE PUT BAN ON AUTOS, THE THEATER, DANCING AND CARDS

FRANKFORT, Ind., July 4.—The automobile has been placed under the ban by the German Baptist church, which is holding its national conference on a farm near here. Only three delegates voted in favor of the use of the machine, while 300 were against it. The resolution said: "Whereas, we realize the difficulty and unpleasantness of dealing with the automobile spirit, we advise all churches not to allow the members to own or operate an automobile, auto truck, motorcycle or any motor vehicle, at least until such a time as they become in general use, or until we get more light on the subject."

Theater going, card playing and dancing are under the ban and will not be tolerated for Baptists, according to resolutions adopted at the morning business session of the Baptist Young People's Society convention in Los Angeles Saturday. When the measure was introduced, it caused the first split that the convention has had and two factions lined up against each other on the proposition.

As introduced, the resolution states that the convention "condemns modern dancing, card playing and low-class theaters." It was brought up by the resolutions committee.

Immediately the discussion centered around the words, "low-class theaters." Some members of the delegations favored the resolution as stated. Others wanted the words, "low class," dropped and the measure to include all theaters. Some thought that simply "questionable amusement" should be barred. Others thought that the resolution would do no good and wanted it thrown out entirely.

Finally the faction under the leadership of J. B. Fox, manager of the convention, prevailed and the "low class" part was dropped, leaving the measure against all theaters.

After the resolution was passed, prominent Baptists were unable to decide what was meant by "modern dancing." Some thought that it opposed all dancing. However, the general opinion was that it condemned only such late forms as the "tango." J. Whitcomb Brougher was of the opinion that it expressed no opposition to the waltz, two-step and folk dancing.

"Furthermore it does not make a great deal of difference," he said. "The Baptist creed does not distate to people what they are to do on such moral questions. Each person must follow the dictates of his or her own conscience. The resolution merely expresses the stand that the convention takes on this question." Other leaders were not inclined to take the decision of the convention so leniently and hold that it applies to all dancing as well as all card playing.

COKER LOSES CHARM

Our townsman, H. P. Coker, 308 South Brand boulevard, unfortunately lost a 32-degree Masonic charm fastened to a leather fob this morning. Mr. Coker is very anxious to recover this much valued charm and a reward is awaiting the person who is so fortunate as to be able to return it to him at the office of the Valley Supply Company.

YOU CAN MAKE BUSINESS BETTER THIS SUMMER

"If business men lie down during the summer months, saying to themselves nothing can be accomplished in the heated season, they are taking a fatal view of business—fatal because neglect of any chance to add to the volume of their trade is a lost opportunity. The fault is their own. "Such business men forget one powerful factor in advertising—the opportunity of the public to read advertisements."

"No period of the year affords such an opportunity as does the heated season. People ensconced in comfortable spots, feeling too indolent to engage in any active pursuit, turn to reading matter for a means of enjoyment, recreation and time passing. In such a time, when business cares are laid aside temporarily, the mind is in the most receptive mood of any period of the year. Impressions made by reading are strongest, and strong, pungent advertising forces itself on the attention in a way to fix the impressions gained indelibly on the mind."

Domestic peace cannot long be maintained in Mexico so long as there are millions of landless peons.

AT THE CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Evangelistic meetings are being held at the Presbyterian church every evening this week. Speakers of note who will bring special messages are to be heard, notably among whom is Rev. J. R. Pratt of Pasadena, who will speak this evening at 7:45.

Tomorrow evening Rev. Thomas D. Walker, the new pastor of the Boyle Heights Presbyterian church, Los Angeles will be the speaker. Wednesday the pastor will speak. Thursday evening the Rev. O. S. Baum, until recently pastor of the Highland Park Presbyterian church of Denver, will speak. Friday is the special rally night, at which time every member of the church, especially the boys and girls, are expected to be present. The pastor will speak.

Sunday at the twilight hour, six o'clock, the communion service will be observed, also reception of new members by letter and confession of faith. The invitation to these services is a general one.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The pastor's sermon Sunday morning was a setting forth of the "Glorious Cross" and a contrast of the glory of which Paul spoke, with that of the greatest emperor of all time, who finally died the disgraceful death of the suicide.

The attendance and interest in the Bible school was good and no evidence of the demoralizing effects of the Fourth were apparent.

The men's class has spent two Sundays most profitably on the eighth chapter of Acts, discussing especially the work and mission of the holy spirit. The way these discussions are handled by the teacher, Mr. Francis, is admirable and they are very much enjoyed by the men. A number of these men are fine Bible students. The class is also favored temporarily, at least, with the presence of Rev. N. J. Wright, a minister of the church for years, who has a splendid interpretation of scriptures and who by his clear analysis adds much to the value of this study.

By the way, the Rev. Mr. Wright is open for a pastorate in California and would make any church an able minister. You would be safe in recommending him anywhere.

The regular monthly meeting of the church board will be held this evening. All officers are urged to be present.

The C. W. B. M. of the church will hold its monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. J. P. Alexander, 642 Acacia street, Tropic. All the ladies and friends of the church are invited.

A business and social meeting of the Endeavors will be held at the home of Mrs. Hagin on Central avenue Tuesday evening. All young people who are interested in this work, whether members of the church or society, or not, are cordially invited.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday Rev. W. H. Walker, D. D., preached on "The Silence of God." He said that we are impressed with two things in this day especially; the indifference of men toward God, and second, the apparent indifference of God toward man. When we observe the things which are allowed to be we can scarcely help asking, "Is there a God?" It would seem that God is allowing the world to go on in sin as it pleases, but this is not because God does not realize the sin. He has retired into silence because of our spiritual condition, and meanwhile he is gathering for himself a people who shall be righteous. The preacher cautioned his hearers against taking it for granted that God has forgotten our wickedness when he does not immediately punish.

The pastor is expected home from his vacation this week and will occupy the pulpit next Sunday.

NOTICE!

Owing to the wording of an article regarding the organization of a summer Shakespeare club, which was written and sent in to the Glendale Evening News for publication in the Thursday evening paper, a number of local women have confused this summer club with the Shakespeare section to be introduced into the Tuesday Afternoon Club in the fall.

This little club, be it understood, which met last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. D. Yard, 129 North Maryland avenue, has nothing whatever to do with the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale. It is simply an informal gathering of a few Glendale ladies who desire to study Shakespeare's works during the summer months.

CARPENTERS' PICNIC

EVENT DECIDED SUCCESS—PARK IS THROGGED ALL DAY BY VISITORS

The Fourth of July picnic that was held at Verdugo park Saturday under the auspices of Carpenters' Local Union No. 563, Glendale, was a great success taken from every standpoint.

To begin with, the day was favorable for an outdoor gathering, not real hot and not real cold—just a medium temperature.

The program was carried out very nearly as planned. From 8:30 to 9:00 a. m. the Glendale municipal band gave a concert on the corner of Broadway and Glendale avenue and then from 9:00 to 9:30 they gave a concert on the corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway.

Then the boys proceeded to Verdugo park, where they continued to furnish music throughout the day.

After prayer and the reading of the Declaration of Independence by Miss Alena McGee, and music by the band, Rev. Bede A. Johnson delivered the address of the day in such a patriotic manner that everyone present was pleased to acknowledge himself a citizen of the United States.

The noon hour was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The contents of many well-filled baskets were spread upon large tables and everybody present partook of the good things until satisfied.

The afternoon sports opened at about 1:30 with a foot race by girls under 12 years of age. This was followed by a race by boys under 12 years of age. Willie Verdugo was the winner. Then came the race for carpenters only. There were five or six entries, but there was only one winner and that was Wm. Warnholz. In the free-for-all footrace, John Galt was an easy first. In the footrace for boys of 12 to 16 years, Elwyn Tipton was pronounced the winner on the second trial as the judges declared the first time he tied with others.

The nail driving contest by the ladies was the attractive feature of the program. In the first contest there were six or seven ladies competing, and the lady who would first drive a nail its full length into the plank would be the winner. Mrs. J. H. Badgett was the winner.

In the second contest by another group of ladies, Mrs. Wm Warnholz was the first to put down her hammer.

In the third contest Mrs. Henry Burmeister was the winner.

In a relay race the winners were Henry Burmeister, Edw. Houser, Florella Wadewitz and Emma Long.

There was a ball game in the forenoon between the Boyle-Heights team and the Los Angeles Boosters. The Boosters won.

In a ladies' race Florella Wadewitz was first and Emma Long second.

In a men's race Harry Wadewitz was first and Fred Cordes second.

In the hop, skip and jump, Harry Wadewitz was first and Henry Burmeister second.

In the three-legged race, George Klein and Walter Zurie were first and Lawrence Lepper and Carl Romig were second.

MRS. HAZEL MORSE

Mrs. Hazel Nadine Kelley Morse passed away Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at her home, 225 South Glendale avenue, Tropic, of embolism of the lungs. She was born April 10, 1890, in Maine and had lived in California but one year.

The remains are in charge of the Pulliam Undertaking Company and will be shipped to her former home in Bangor, Maine, for burial, leaving here tomorrow morning. The body will be met in Chicago by the young woman's father's special car, he being the superintendent of an eastern railroad.

HONOR "VAN"

Miss Bessie Van Osdoll proved herself a royal hostess last Thursday evening when she entertained with a birthday party given in honor of her brother, commonly known as Van, one of Glendale's well-known baseball artists. The evening was spent in playing cards and dancing.

Those who enjoyed the pleasant evening were Messrs. Jesse Flower, Harry Coker, Al Robertson, Cleve Hartley and Misses Ada Potter, Mildred Troy, Josie Moore, Emily Van Osdoll and Veda Patch.

At a late hour all adjourned to the dining-room, where a splendid course dinner was served by the host's mother. A feature of the dinner was a wonderful birthday cake that melted in the mouth.

The guests departed wishing Van many more such delightful birthdays.

TROPICO MEETS DEFEAT

GLENDALE DEFEATS OLD FOE ON VERDUGO PARK DIAMOND

The ball game at Verdugo park proved the main attraction of the carpenters' picnic the Fourth. The contest proved to be more interesting on account of the game being between the two rival clubs, Glendale and Tropic.

Oliver, "the dusky redskin," was on the mound for the visitors and pitched shut-out ball throughout the game and seemed to have our boys hitting at the air most of the time, but for the lack of proper support was compelled to go down in defeat.

Manager Galt was on the firing line for the locals and with few exceptions pitched superb ball, which made it a pitchers' battle from start to finish and taking the different disadvantages into consideration, the game was a good exhibition of the national pastime.

The game by innings:

First inning. Tropic—Mason led off with a three-bagger to deep center. Livingston fans. Sisney hits to center, scoring Mason. Bidwell out, Galt to Eves. Oliver fans. One run. Glendale—Flores out, Livingston to Sisney. Robertson singles to right. Eves singles to short. Bidwell hit by pitched ball. Philp out on infield hit. Robertson out at third. No runs.

BETTER CAR SERVICE WANTED

A mass meeting of the citizens of Glendale, North Glendale and Casa Verdugo will be held in Butler's hall, Brand boulevard, Monday evening, July 6, 1914, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of considering asking the Pacific Electric railway company to restore the time schedule that was in effect prior to July 2. No criticism will be offered concerning the improved service on Broadway east of Brand boulevard. A full attendance is desired.

TROPICO ITEMS

HOW THEY CELEBRATED THE FOURTH—CLUB NEWS AND PERSONALS

Fourth of July morning dawned bright and clear and ere the clock chimed five, the small boy and his firecrackers were abroad and celebrating in the way young America delights in remembering the greatest holiday of the year and one that conveys to young and old alike the sacred memory of a free and liberty-loving nation. No accidents occurred—though the noise of firecrackers, torpedoes and toy pistols continued all day. At night there were many private parties held and many skyrockets, baby salutes and much red fire illuminated the darkness. Everyone was happy and on several lawns and verandas many voices united in singing "America" with a vim that none could for a moment doubt the patriotism and love of country and flag. All were happy for a glorious Fourth had been enjoyed, much powder been burned, much noise, in which young America delights, and no accidents. Everyone was happy excepting the poor old grouche or dyspeptic who long ago forgot he was ever a boy and finds pleasure only in grumbling and fault-finding. But happy young America, happy youngsters!

A merry party of campers who left Tropic Friday for El Capistrano in their motor cars, returned Sunday evening happy and rested from their delightful outing. The campers who thus enjoyed a few days' outdoor life in one of the many delightful picturesque spots of this Southland were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Betz, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Goode, Misses Lila Webster, Frances Betz, Leola Webster and Clarence M. Goode, Jr.

Mrs. Mary Edwards, chairman of the civic section of the Tropic Thursday Afternoon Club and who with Mrs. Wayland Brown as manager and stage director has been so successful in the production of Geo. Ade's farce, "Just Out of College," both in Glendale and Tropic, has arranged to produce the play in Burbank July 17.

All the beautiful pastel shades will be most effectively used in the elaborate decorations at the home of Mrs. Tom Thornton on Thursday evening when the French Fete will be given and which promises to be the most delightful social event that the lyric section of the Tropic Thursday Afternoon Club will give this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic C. Richardson picnicked at Griffith park Saturday, motoring there early in the morning. Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Richardson were Mrs. Frank I. Marsh, Miss Margaret Richardson, Neville Richardson and maid.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Usilton, who motored to San Diego Friday evening to enjoy a few days' recreation in the southern city, returned last evening, reporting a splendid trip.

Mrs. Eva M. Blain and son Merrill Blaine of Los Angeles, former residents of Tropic, spent the Fourth as the guests of Mrs. David H. Imbler of Palm Villa.

Miss Adah Van Hazelen and sister, of West Park avenue, have returned from Redondo, where they enjoyed a most delightful Fourth of July.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Sternberg of Craftonville were the week-end guests of their cousin, Mrs. Frank I. Marsh of Central avenue.

Miss Anna Anderson and sister, Miss Elsie Anderson of Virginia place have returned from a two days' visit with friends in Burbank.

THE WATER SITUATION

Someone asks why there is not more said through the columns of the Glendale Evening News on the water question. We infer that the man who makes such an inquiry favors the city owning the water systems. There has been a lull for a few weeks, probably awaiting for a definite call of a bond election by the board of trustees.

While it is generally understood that an ordinance will go on its third and last reading evening calling an election for probably July 21, yet there is nothing certain about the date or the amount until the ordinance has been officially adopted by the board of trustees. In the meantime we are ready to publish any intelligent information on the water question.

HOME CELEBRATION

MRS. KOLTS ENTERTAINS ABOUT FORTY INFORMALLY ON SATURDAY EVE

With dear Old Glory, and many of them, floating in the breeze and spirits soaring high, Mrs. Greely Kolts of 219 East Second street opened her attractive home Saturday evening in her usual charming way.

Everything was significant of the Fourth, a patriotic atmosphere having been furnished by quantities of the national colors combined with a bountiful supply of pepper boughs.

An elaborate display of fireworks was featured especially for the twenty-one children present, who at the close of the delightful exhibition stood in line, raised their voices in song to the tune of America's national air, with a grand finale of salutation to the flag.

Delicious refreshments followed and in these, too, patriotism was evidenced as much as possible.

Music, both instrumental and vocal was furnished during the evening by Mesdames Arnold, Kolts, Barrows and Mr. Taylor.

Those who enjoyed the Fourth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kolts and family, Robert, Chauncey and Donald Kolts, were Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Chase, Dr. and Mrs. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Kolts, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Barrows, Mr. and Mrs. Baron J. Moore of Los Angeles, Mrs. C. Brandt, Mr. Bert Giddings and the following children: Shirley Chase, Elanore, Ellen, Alice, Lawrence and John R. Barrows, Rebecca, Howard and David Brandt, Frank and Richard Arnold, Madge, Margaret, Olive and Catherine Taylor, Tennis Kolts, John and Fred Rand.

AN INTERNATIONAL FOURTH OF JULY GARDEN PARTY

The far-famed "spreading chestnut tree" never sheltered a more notable company, perhaps, than that which gathered under the beautiful mulberry (eighty feet in diameter), on the lawn of Prof. and Mrs. W. Darwin Root, on the morning of the glorious Fourth.

Notable from many standpoints—there were "doctors, lawyers, merchants, chiefs," as well as college professors, editors, clergymen, etc.—but that which made the personnel of the party the most interesting was the fact of the all inclusiveness of its members; their broad sympathies and their large outlook upon life.

Not only were the states represented from Maine to the Pacific coast, as places of life's activities, but one ambitious young man had found his way into the universities of continental Europe, and fully half a score of the party had lived and labored for years in the Far East, some having spent the major part of their lives there in helping to lift the world heavenward. Prof. and Mrs. Root both gave several years to Japan, so in arranging for their garden party it was not surprising that they should have called together good comrades from the ends of the earth.

The menu consisted of all available substantial and delicacies from fried chicken to ice cream; and the intellectual feast, while intended to be more witty than wise, had a peculiar spiritual significance. "For Others" was the keynote of the day.

Many distinguished themselves in responding to toasts, but the palm was awarded Mrs. Dr. Soper of Belmont street, late of Tokio, Japan, for her inimitable stories.

Evidences of patriotism were everywhere apparent, the "Stars and Stripes" in silk, that had often been unfurled to the breeze in Japan, occupying a prominent place. The flowers, the weather, the mountain view, the spirit of the company, all combined to make the day ideal.

"Root sama banzai!" "Long live the Roots!" was the united parting greeting. (By an Appreciative Guest).

MUHLEMAN FOR REPRESENTATIVE

The many friends of Frank L. Muhleman, 1211 Maple street, Glendale, will be pleased to learn that he has consented to be a candidate before the primaries for representative from this district. Mr. Muhleman is a gentleman of high standing in Glendale. He is a lawyer of marked ability, having an office in the Title Insurance building, Los Angeles.

Mr. Muhleman's name has been presented by the Democrats of his district, but his friends know that he is broad enough to get the support of every voter who wishes to have elected capable men as members of the general assembly.

TIMBER PRESERVATION

The most notable progress yet recorded in the chemical treatment of timber to prevent decay was made in 1913, according to a report recently issued by the American Wood Preservers' Association in co-operation with the forest service of the department of agriculture.

The report states that 93 wood preserving plants in 1913 consumed over 108 million gallons of creosote oil, 26 million pounds of dry zinc chloride and nearly four million gallons of other liquid preservatives. With these the plants treated over 153 million cubic feet of timber, or about 23 per cent more than in 1912. The output from additional plants unrecorded would increase the totals given.

Impregnation of wood with oils and chemicals to increase its resistance to decay and insect attack, the report goes on to say, is an industry which has become important in the United States only in recent years. In Great Britain and most of the European countries practically every wooden cross-tie and telephone or telegraph pole receives preservative treatment. In the United States less than 30 per cent of the 135 million cross-ties annually consumed are treated, and the proper treatment of an annual consumption of four million poles may be said to have scarcely commenced.

Real progress in the United States dates from 1832, when the Kyanizing process, using bichloride of mercury, was developed. In 1837 two other processes were introduced; the Burnett process, using zinc chloride, and the Bethel process, using coal tar creosote. These last processes are very largely in use today.

The idea of timber preservation at first made very slow growth in this country, on account of the large supply of cheap and durable timbers and the general disregard shown toward economy in the use of natural resources. In 1885 there were only three pressure plants in the United States, and in 1895 only fifteen. Since then, however, the industry has grown rapidly; in 1913 there were 117 plants.

NEW ZEALAND EELS

Eels can cause the death of a salmon of considerable weight by the use of strategy. One will obtain the grip between the dorsal fin and the tail and then hold on like a bulldog, while the unfortunate victim in vain throws itself backward and forward endeavoring to shake off its captor, until at length its strength is exhausted and the eel proceeds to make a meal at leisure.

Worse crimes than these are laid to their charge in New Zealand. A great number of bathing fatalities had taken place at a certain spot, where the current ran with such strength that a powerful swimmer could only just stem it. It was a favorite pastime to have a tussle with the stream, but several times a bather disappeared before help could reach him and when his body was found it had been eaten by eels.

The cause of the fatalities remained unknown for a long time, but at last it was discovered that while the swimmer was almost stationary in the rapid stream, a huge eel would seize him by the foot or leg and drag him beneath the surface. Eels attain an immense size in those waters—twenty to thirty pounds being no uncommon weight.

LENGTHENING HUMAN LIFE

The present generation of young people should live fifteen years longer than their parents. The latter lived fifteen years longer than did their ancestors of one hundred years previous.

At least, this is what Dr. V. C. Vaughn, the new president of the American Medical Association, told that body the past week at their Atlantic City convention.

The death rate was reduced in a century in London, for instance, from fifty per thousand to twenty-four. Twice as many children live to grow up now. It was formerly quite an achievement for a young person to acquire maturity. Smallpox used to kill one in ten of the population.

Still the ordinary observer of human life can hardly believe that the babies of today are going to gain any fifteen years. Diseases like cancer, Bright's disease, heart troubles, are increasing. The science of modern life saves the infants, but the pace of human life kills the old folks.

It is a good deal like a paragraph seen in some paper the other day. A young man was reported as seeking a $5 per week increase in pay and getting it. He immediately telephoned his wife that she could close the deal for another house at an increased rental of $20 a month. Added income means added outgo.

If a man through better science or physical exercise acquires increased strength, he rarely uses it in building up a reserve of resistance against troubles to come. Ordinarily he uses it in speeding up his business pace, so that he can make more money.

"READ THE ETERNITIES"

The only large values are those in which our ancestors participated. The oldest of wonders is the greatest—life. An ironclad, as such, is a commonplace beside a ship, and society merely as society is a more stupendous fact than Rome or England. The Iliad is less remarkable than speech, and the aeroplane is only a mote in the sky. Landscape, the family, the nation, religion, their origins are lost in the silence of a gray antiquity. The now—the present—is indeed sacred; but its sacredness is inappreciable to those who are circumscribed by its limits; it is reserved for minds that escape its bounds. "Do not read the times," said Thoreau, in words that became the more memorable the less they are remembered. "Read the eternities."

Doubtless the hotels at Niagara Falls regard mediation as a howling success.

"Seeing is believing, but the most valuable results of advertising often cannot be seen until weeks, months and sometimes years after the advertising has appeared."—Advertisers' Bulletin.

Women teachers in the high schools of California contend that they should receive as much salary as the men teachers holding similar positions. Is not this a fair, equitable contention? Sex discrimination in public school salaries is not a thing to be countenanced.

Motorist (to friend who has been criticizing his car)—"But I don't have to get out and turn a handle. It's a self-starter."

Friend—"Gracious! That's risky, isn't it? Why, it might start when you didn't want it to."—The Motor.

"Advertising requires confidence and time. Advertising is nothing more or less than a salesman. Probably the first advertisement may not produce the desired results, or the second, the third or fourth. Continuity in advertising is what pays."—The Mail Order Journal.

Congress should define what is good business and what is bad business so clearly that no man with acumen enough to do business could misunderstand. Then the laws framed to make these definitions effective should be enforced without fear or favor and agitation should cease, until such time as further reforms are needed. Honest, law respecting business should be immune from harassment.

A COURAGEOUS STATESMAN!

Senator Works has introduced and will press for action a bill prohibiting tips. The senator has worked out a theory which ought to operate just as well as most of the theories under which the power of congress has been invoked to regulate things.

The measure attempts only to deal with the tip as an incident to interstate traffic. It wouldn't, for instance, put the tip out of a hotel; but it would end the tip on interstate trains. The dining car crew would have to get their wages from the company, and—O, Joy! O, Rapture!—the Pullman porter wouldn't be allowed to take nor the passenger to give a tip.

Here's hoping the senator can further stretch the commerce clause so that it will make the non-tip rule apply to persons on interstate travel. For instance, suppose he writes in a definition which will define a hotel as a place where folks are entertained, presumably in interstate journeying? Couldn't the supreme court be induced to uphold that rule and thus put an end to tipping in all hotels? It doesn't strike one that the construction would be much more difficult than some of those that have been arrived at concerning hotels and their conduct under the fearful and wonderful Raines law of New York.

Meanwhile, hats are off to Senator Works, most courageous of sons. If he doesn't get ground glass in his sugar or arsenic in his coffee, it will be further proof that there's a divinity overlooking the fate of those whom humanity really needs for its service.

FOURTH OF JULY LUNCHEON AND THIMBLE PARTY

Using red, white and blue as a decorative motif, Mrs. J. W. Dutton, of 1447 Salem street, delightfully entertained the Priscilla Club at luncheon in her home on Friday last.

Daisies and pansies were clustered together and thickly studded with tiny silken American flags, furnishing effective and appropriate embellishments for the occasion. This same combination prevailed on the table, the cloth having been strewn with stray blossoms and flags and set with covers for eight, Mrs. Maude Allen of East Glendale being present as a special guest.

The afternoon was devoted to needlework and abandoned at a late hour to be renewed next Friday in the home of Mrs. W. H. Vandeburg, 1470 Salem street.

THE HORSE'S POINT OF VIEW IN SUMMER

If a horse could talk, he would have many things to say when summer comes.

He would tell his driver that he feels the heat on a very warm day quite as much as if he could read a thermometer.

He would say: "Give me a little water many times a day, when the heat is intense, but not much at a time if I am warm; if you want me to keep well, don't give me any grain when you bring me warm into the stable; just a half dozen swallows of water and some hay to eat until I am cool."

"Don't water me too soon after I have eaten my grain; wait an hour. Especially do I need watering between nine and ten at night. I am thirstier then than at almost any other time of day."

He would say: "When the sun is hot and I am working, let me breathe once in a while in the shade of some house or tree; if you have to leave me on the street, leave me in the shade if possible. Anything upon my head, between my ears, to keep off the sun, is bad for me if the air cannot circulate freely underneath it, unless it is a sponge kept cool and wet. If you treat me as you would yourself, and do not clip off my fore-top, you need not have much fear of losing me by a sunstroke."

"If on an extremely warm day I give evidence by panting and signs of exhaustion that I am being overcome with the heat, unharness me, take me into the shade and apply cold water, or even broken ice wrapped up in a cloth or put in a bag, to my head, sponge out my mouth and go over my legs with a cool, wet sponge."

He would talk of slippery streets, and the sensations of falling on cruel city cobblestones—the pressure of the load pushing him to the fall, the bruised knees and wrenched joints, and the feel of the driver's lash.

He would tell of the luxury of a fly net when at work and of a fly blanket when standing still in fly season, and of the boon to him of screens in the stable to keep out the insects that bite and sting.

He would plead for as cool and comfortable a stable as possible in which to rest at night after a day's work under the hot sun.

He would suggest that living through a warm night in a narrow stall neither properly cleaned nor bedded is suffering for him and poor economy for the owner.

He would say that turning the hose on him is altogether too risky a thing to do unless you are looking for a sick horse. Spraying the legs and feet when he is not too warm on a hot day he would find agreeable.

He would say: "Please sponge out my eyes and nose and dock when I come in tired and dusty at night, and also sponge me with clean, cool water under the collar and saddle of the harness."

CLOTHESPIN MACHINES

Making clothespins is an industry that nets handsome returns to many American factories. At Martinsville, Ind., there is a factory which has a capacity of more than 200,000 clothespins a day.

A rough log started through the mill comes out as hundreds of the shapely little wooden pins familiar to the back yard. The logs are cut into blocks about sixteen inches long, which a headlong saw cuts into boards about five-eighths of an inch thick. A gang of saws cuts these boards into strips five-eighths of an inch square and each long enough to make four pins. These strips are placed on an automatic trimmer and cut to the required length. They are then conveyed to the automatic lathes, seven in number, each with a capacity of four dozen a minute. From the lathes the pins drop to the slotting machines and from these to the dryroom, where all moisture is removed. Next they go to the polishing cylinders, which are filled about half full of pins, chips and sawdust. The cylinders revolve slowly for four hours, after which the pins drop into chutes to be conveyed to the packing-room. Each lathe has a capacity of 2400 dozen pins a day.
