But the Council shall not be obliged to recommend any Studentship to be awarded if the result of the Examination be such as, in their opinion, not to justify such recommendation. Where any Candidates appear to be equal or nearly equal in merit, the Council may, if they think fit, divide the Studentship between them equally or in such proportions as they consider just.

52. Only members of an Inn not called to the Bar shall compete for a Studentship.

57. The Inn of Court, to which the holder of any Studentship or of a Certificate of Honour belongs, may, if desired, dispense with any Terms not exceeding two that may remain to be kept by such Student previously to his being called to the Bar.

58. The Examiners shall submit their Examination Papers to the Committee or Board of Studies, for approval at such time as the Committee or Board shall direct; and the number of marks to be attributed to each paper shall also be submitted to the Committee or Board for their approval.

59. Previous to each Examination the Committee or Board shall give such notice as they shall think fit of the Books and branches of subjects in which Students will be required to pass at such Examination in order to be entitled to a Certificate.

60. One Examiner at least shall be present during the whole time of the Examination in writing.

61. The Board of Examiners shall, after each Examination, report the result thereof to the Committee or Board of Studies, who shall submit to the Council the names of those Students (if any) who are in their opinion entitled to receive Pass or Honour Certificates or to obtain Studentships.

62. All Students shall be bound by such variations as may from time to time be made in these Regulations.

LEADING CASES IN MODERN EQUITY

BY THOMAS BRETT,

Of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law, LL.B.; London University, B.A.; late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitor in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Joint Author of Clerks and Breve Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1833; and Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"Specially recommended as a text-book for 'The Final'."—Solicitors' Journal, Jan. 21, 1888.

"Deserves high praise for the care and judgment evinced in its execution. Mr. Brett's index appears to be copious and complete."—Law Times.

"We have laid Mr. Brett's book down with none but favourable and pleasurable feelings at the excellent manner in which he has accomplished his task. It is of the very first importance both to the student and the practitioner to have the principles of Equity collected in a handy form, and this want Mr. Brett has supplied. The notes to the cases are admirable in manner and lucid in language; and no little pains seem to have been bestowed in the arrangement of the cases themselves."—Law Magazine.

"Must prove of immense value to the profession. Mr. Brett has done all in his power to help students and practitioners by as far as possible grouping together cases dealing with the same classes of subjects. Among the more important matters dealt with will be found cases relating to trusts and trustees, mortgages, partnerships, relations between solicitors and client, a married woman's property, and the religious education of children. A good index adds considerably to the usefulness of the work."—Daily Chronicle.

"The manner in which most of the cases are stated is admirable, being clear, concise and well expressed. As it is, we have no hesitation in saying that there is no book, or one so good, from which the student can learn the most important decisions of courts of equity during recent years."—The Jurist.

THE HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH CONSTITUTION. By Dr. RUDOLPH

GNEIST, Professor of Law in the University of Berlin. Translated by PHILIP A. ASHWORTH, of the Inner Temple, Barrister-at-Law.

"No Foreigner has done more than Professor Gneist to examine and make clear the history and nature of the English Constitution. . . . He discusses such vital questions as, Whither are we drifting? How far do recent changes in the franchise accord with the whole spirit of the Constitution? What is in store for us with democracy? On such questions as these the opinion of a foreigner, who is a scholar, but no bookworm, and who has sedulously studied our institutions, is certainly much more valuable than that of most Englishmen. . . . At this time these volumes are especially instructive. They cast light on almost all the great questions of current politics."—Times.

THE ROYAL PHRASEOLOGICAL FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French by M. Tarver.... His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf and important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has contrasted the phrase of the two most influential of modern tongues can be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns phrases proverbiales undreamt of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

“Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver. . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelves—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocabularies fresh from the camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns à la mode—overseas and underground—forty”—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson.”—Quarterly

THE ROYAL PHRASEOLOGICAL
 FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.
 By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver. . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading of the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or linguette, and lively audacious turns φωκισμα συνερισμ undreamt of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

ELEMENTARY LAW CLASSES, 1891-92.

BY

EDWARD HENRY BUSK, Esq, M.A., LL.B.

The instruction given in the Classes is specially designed for Articled Clerks who have not passed the Intermediate Examination. The work selected by the Examiners for the Intermediate Examinations in the year 1892, is Stephen's "Commentaries on the Laws of England," with the exception of Books IV. and VI. 11th edition. The text-book of the classes will be so much of the 11th edition of Stephen's Commentaries as is required for the Intermediate Examination.

The Classes will be held from 5.30 to 6.30 every Tuesday and Friday (except during Vacations) from October to June, according to the annexed Table.

At the Classes held on Tuesdays the Reader will treat of the following subjects:—

Stephen's Commentaries:

Introduction.—

- Sect. I. The Study of the Law.
- Sect. II. The nature of Laws in general.
- Sect. III. The Laws of England.
- Sect. IV. The Countries subject to the Laws of England.
- Sect. V. The Kingdom of England itself.

Book II. (except Chapters 6 and 7). The Rights of Property, both Real and Personal, and Conveyancing; and the Law of Contracts.

At the Classes held on Fridays the Reader will treat of the following subjects:—

Stephen's Commentaries:

- Book I. Personal Rights.
- Book II. Chapters 6 and 7. Bankruptcy Law and Practice, and Probate and Administration.
- Book III. Rights in Private Relations (such as parent and child, husband and wife, guardian and ward, master and servant, principal and agent, &c.)
- Book V. Civil Injuries and their redress, including proceedings in Civil Actions in all branches of the Supreme Court of Judicature and in the Inferior Courts of Justice.

Conclusion in Volume 4.

Students are expected themselves to read the text-book, as the Reader, owing to the time at his disposal being limited, must confine himself to pointing out, elucidating, and illustrating such difficulties as the subject may present, and emphasizing what is of special importance.

Students who attend on Tuesdays and Fridays will be able, in one year, to prepare for the Intermediate Examination. But those students who have it in their power to give a longer time to the study of Elementary Law are recommended to attend the first year, the Classes on Tuesdays only, and those on the Fridays in the following year; and, as will be seen below, they will incur no additional expense in fees by so doing.

Printed papers of questions similar to those given at the Intermediate Examination will be set by the Reader from time to time, and the answers will be corrected by him and returned to the Students.

The subscriptions payable for the Elementary Law Classes are as follows:—

	For the Classes on Tuesdays or Fridays.	For all the Classes.
By Clerks of Members	£ s. d. 3 3 0	£ s. d. 5 5 0
By Clerks of Non-Members	4 4 0	6 6 0
By all other persons not being Members	5 5 0	7 7 0

N.B.—Students who have attended the Class held on Tuesdays for one year may attend the Class held on Fridays in the following year on payment of an additional fee of £2 2s.

THE ROYAL PHRASEOLOGICAL

FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French by M. Tarver... His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has read and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are so late in taking this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocabularies fresh from the mint of camp or ginguette, and lively audacious turns φωστρα υπερβολικη undreamt of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson.—Quarterly Review.

By THOMAS BRETT, B.A., LL.B., Author of "Leading Cases in Modern Equity," and Joint Author of "Clerke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts, 1881-82."

"A main idea of this book is to bring into special prominence the present and living law, and only to deal with past law, or that which is practically obsolete, so far as it is necessary to enable the reader to understand the present."

The Law Journal says, in the course of an exhaustive review:—"We are able confidently to recommend these Commentaries to Students, with whom we venture to predict they will become deservedly popular. . . . Mr. Brett's Commentaries are thoroughly comprehensive, and we have little but praise for the manner in which he has discharged his self-imposed task. . . .
