EXHIBIT #

Def. Doc. 2713

Excerpt from Berlin Diary by William L. Shirer

Page 203

Berlin, September 4, 1939

The staffs of the French and British embassies got away today in two big Pullman trains. I was a little struck by the weird fact that while the killing goes on, all the diplomatic niceties were strictly observed by both sides to the very last.

頁

üsz ---

>

H

誌

(1)

被

百 几 4 几 · A MA H 16

及 失 isu 貝 K H 34 大 変 型 的 整門 n ¥ 在開 2 方列取車 最後で C 遇 去 て 蔵 70

審 打 鷲 72

詞

ح